

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
U. S. GEOGRAPHICAL AND GEOLOGICAL SURVEY OF THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN REGION
J. W. POWELL IN CHARGE

CONTRIBUTIONS

TO

NORTH AMERICAN ETHNOLOGY

VOLUME VI

WASHINGTON
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE
1890

677¹⁴

794.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
U. S. GEOGRAPHICAL AND GEOLOGICAL SURVEY OF THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN REGION
J. W. POWELL IN CHARGE

THE

CEGIHA LANGUAGE

BY

PM
1058
D67

JAMES OWEN DORSEY

WASHINGTON
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE
1890

CONTENTS.

PART I.

Letter of transmittal	Page.
Preface	xi
List of the author's Siouan publications	xv
	xvii

MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

Introduction to the Texts	1
Authorities	1
List of sounds in the Čegiha Language	4
Abbreviations	7

MYTHS.

How the Rabbit killed the male Winter	9
How the Rabbit caught the Sun in a trap	13
How the Rabbit killed the Black bears. First version	15
Second version	20
How the Rabbit killed a Giant	22
How the Rabbit went to the Sun	25
How the Rabbit killed the Devouring Hill	32
How the Rabbit cured his wound	35
The Rabbit and Ictinike	38
The Rabbit and the Grizzly bear	43
The young Rabbit and Ictinike	50
Sičemaka's adventure as a deer	57
Ictinike, the Turkeys, Turtle, and Elk	60
Ictinike and the Elk	70
Ictinike and the Buzzard	74
Ictinike, the Brothers, and Sister	79
Ictinike and the Deserted Children	83
Ictinike, the Coyote, and the Colt	96
The Puma and the Coyote	99
The Coyote and the Buffaloes	102
Wahāčicige's adventure as a rabbit	107
Wahāčicige and Wakandagi. First version	108
Second version	116
Wahāčicige and the Buffalo-woman. First version	131
Second version	140
Third version	142
The Corn-woman and the Buffalo-woman	147
The adventures of Hiŋqe-agŋe	162
The Chief's son and the Thunders	176
The Chief's son, the Snake-woman, and the Thunders	189
Two-Faces and the Twin Brothers	207

The Brothers, the Sister, and the Red bird.....	Page. 219
The adventures of Haxige. First version.....	220
Second version.....	244
How the Big Turtle went on the war-path.....	254
The Man and the Snake-man.....	277
The Bear-girl.....	287
The adventures of the Badger's son.....	294
Adventures of the Puma, the adopted son of a man.....	303
The Raccoons and the Crabs. First version.....	310
Second version.....	313
The Warriors who were changed to snakes.....	317
The Warriors and the Three Snakes.....	324
The Sun and the Moon.....	328
The Suitor and his Friends.....	329
The Orphan: a Pawnee legend.....	334
The Youth and the Underground People.....	345
A Yankton Legend.....	355
The Lament of the Fawn over its mother.....	358
A Ponka ghost story.....	359
A Dakota ghost story.....	360
The adventure of an Omaha.....	361
The Dakota who was scared to death by a ghost.....	362
The hands of the dead Pawnee.....	363
How the Chief's son was taken back.....	367

PONKA HISTORICAL TEXTS.

The war-party of Nuda'-axa's father.....	368
Nuda'-axa's account of his first war-party.....	372
The defeat of the Pawnees by the Ponkas in 1855.....	377

OMAHA HISTORICAL TEXTS.

History of Icibaji.....	384
The story of Wabaskaha.....	393
The first battle between the Omahas and the Ponkas (two versions).....	399
Battle between the Omahas and the Pawnee Loups.....	402
The second fight with the Ponkas.....	405
Battle between the Omahas and the Dakotas.....	406
How the Dakotas fought the Pawnees.....	409
How Joseph La Flèche lost his goods.....	415
Battle between the Dakotas and the Omahas in 1847.....	418
Fight between the Omahas and Dakotas (two versions).....	425
How Mawada'gi' went alone on the war-path.....	432
Ja'fi'-na'paji's War-party in 1853.....	434
Two Crows' War-party in 1854.....	452
Battle between the Omahas and Dakotas in 1855.....	462
My first buffalo hunt. By Frank La Flèche.....	466
Sacred Traditions and Customs.....	468

LETTERS DICTATED BY OMAHAS AND PONKAS.

Jahe-jap'g to Cude-gaxe and Ma'ten-wa'ihl.....	475
Yaxe-ta'ba to Ma'ten-wa'ihl.....	475
Jabe-skä to Wahe'a.....	476
Jabe-skä to Waqa-naji.....	477
Namamana to Ma'ten-wa'ihl.....	477

CONTENTS.

vii

	Page.
Uha'-jiŋga to Gaecidiŋa	478
Kicke to Ma'teu-jaŋga	478
Ma'teu-na'ba to Agitelta	479
Ma'teu-na'ba to Wēs'a-jaŋga	479
ǂizi-čingē to Mi'xa-skā, Qugahunaji, and Qiŋa-skā	480
ǂabe-ja'p'ē to Qiŋa-skā	480
ye-baha to Wēs'a-jaŋga	481
Si-ya'-qega to Eduana (Antoine Roy)	482
Waji'-skā to Ma'teu-waŋihl and A'pa'-jaŋga	483
Ca'ta'-jiŋga to Ma'teu-waŋihl	484
Maqpiya-qaga to Ma'teu-naji	485
Joseph La Flèche to his brother Frank	487
Gahige to Qiŋa-skā and Jenuga-naji	489
Caŋge-skā to Qiŋa-skā	490
Wanacekiŋabi to Waji'a-gahiga	491
Duba-ma'ŋi to Lande-naŋquge (Macdonald)	492
Maeti'-a'asa to Na'a'bi	494
Manŋŋiŋa to ǂabe-ag'ŋi	495
Ietaŋabi to Acawage	495
Gahige to Acawage	496
Maqpiya-qaga to Ma'teu-naji	497
Maqpiya-qaga to Ma'teu-naji	498
Wata'-naji to Caga-skā	499
Wata'-naji to Jiŋga-nuda	500
Maqpiya-qaga to Ceki	501
Caŋge-skā to Ma'teu-waŋihl	502
Waji'a-gahiga to Ma'teu-jaŋga	504
Jabe-skā to Gahige-jiŋga, Waqa-naji, and Acawage	505
Jide-ta to Acawage	506
Je-uxa'ba to Ma'teu si-jaŋga	507
Duba-ma'ŋi to Lande-naŋquge (Macdonald)	508
ǂaŋi'-na'paji to ǂajaŋga-naji	510
Ietaŋabi to Ma'teu-waŋihl and Acawage	511
Waŋpeca to Cahieŋa	512
Wanita-wage to Gahige	512
He-wa'jiŋga to Gahige-wadaŋŋe	514
ǂaŋi'-na'paji to ǂajaŋga-naji jiŋga	515
ǂaŋi'-na'paji to his son, Ni'daba	516
He-wa'jiŋga to Heqaga-naji	517
Cude-gaxe to Wēs'a-jaŋga	518
Caŋge-hi'-zi to Wēs'a-jaŋga	519
Duba-ma'ŋi to Jenuga-nikagahi (Macdonald)	521
ǂaŋi'-na'paji to ǂajaŋga-naji jiŋga	522
Huŋpeca to Ceki	523
Appendix	525

PART II.

ADDITIONAL MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

Ietinike and the Chipmunk	549
Ietinike and the Four Creators	552
Ietinike, the Women, and Child	559
Ietinike and the Turtle	563
The Coyote and the Snake. First version	566
Second version	568

The Coyote and the Gray Fox	Page 570
How the Rabbit lost his fat	571
How the Rabbit killed a Giant. Second version	573
The Rabbit and the Turkeys	577
The Bird Chief	580
The Buffalo and the Grizzly Bear	582
Adventures of the Orphan	586
Legend of Ukiabi	600
Ukiabi the suitor: a Ponka legend	613
Dakota story	618
Yankton story	624
Address to young men	628

ADDITIONAL LETTERS.

Jenuga-naji ⁿ to his friend, Gray Hat	629
Heqaga-sabē and Jajānga-naji ⁿ to Betay Dick	633
Heqaga-sabē to Kucena	635
Heqaga-sabē to Ceci	635
Heqaga-sabē to Dr. Potter	636
Heqaga-sabē to Kucena	637
Uhañge-ja ⁿ to Hiram Chase	638
Uhañge-ja ⁿ to Ma ⁿ ten-naji ⁿ	638
Heqaga-sabē and others to an Omaha	639
Uhañge-ja ⁿ to Cañge-skā	640
Uhañge-ja ⁿ to C. P. Birkett	641
Frank La Flèche, sr., to his daughter Susanne	642
Wapecca to Mr. Provost	643
Maqpiya-qaga to Ca-ku-ču ʔa-ki-ta-we	644
Two Crows to the Winnebago Agent	647
Cañge-skā to Wiruxra ⁿ -niñe	648
Maqpiya-qaga and others to Wiruxra ⁿ -niñe	649
Ma ⁿ ten-na ⁿ ba to Wiyakoi ⁿ	650
Ma ⁿ ti ⁿ -ʔa ⁿ sa to Jenuga-waji ⁿ	651
Ma ⁿ ten-na ⁿ ba to Pawnee Joe	652
Spafford Woodhull to John Heron	655
Wapecca to Tatañka-mani	656
Gahige to Wiyakoi ⁿ	657
Ma ⁿ ten-na ⁿ ba to Heqaka-mani and Tatañka-l ⁿ yañke	659
Wapecca to Tatañka-mani	661
Ictaṭabi to Heqaga-sabē	662
Lion to Battiste Deroin, and the Oto chiefs	663
Ckaṭoe-yiñe to Battiste Deroin	664
Maqpiya-qaga to Ca-ku-ču ʔa-ki-ta-we	665
Ma ⁿ ten-na ⁿ ba to Battiste Deroin	667
Ki-wi-gu-ti-dja-ṭi-ci to Ci-ṭe-ṭi-ta-we	668
Ma ⁿ ten-na ⁿ ba to Heqaka-mani and Tatañka-l ⁿ yañke	669
Lion to Battiste Deroin and the Oto chiefs	670
Ma ⁿ ten-na ⁿ ba to Battiste Deroin and the Oto chiefs	672
Jabe-skā to Gactagabi	673
Jāñga-gaxe to Iota-ma ⁿ ʔe	673
Duba-ma ⁿ ṭi ⁿ to Heqaga-sabē	676
Joseph La Flèche to A. B. Meacham	677
Je-uṭa ⁿ ba to A. B. Meacham	682
Huṭeṭa to A. B. Meacham	683
Mawada ⁿ ṭi ⁿ to A. B. Meacham	684

CONTENTS.

ix

	Page.
Jaŋi ¹⁰ -na ¹⁰ paji to the Pawnee agent.....	685
Huŋeŋa to Ci-qi-da-wi ŋeŋeŋu	686
Ta ¹⁰ wa ¹⁰ -gaxe-jinga to Heŋaka-mani and Ieta-ja ¹⁰ ja ¹⁰	687
Ta ¹⁰ wa ¹⁰ -gaxe-jinga to Mi ¹⁰ gabu	688
Ma ¹⁰ teu-na ¹⁰ ba to Panyi-na ¹⁰ paol	689
Ietaŋabi to Heŋaga-sabē, Maca ¹⁰ , and Mawata ¹⁰ na	690
Je-mi ¹⁰ -wa ¹⁰ u to Mary Napeca	690
Louis Sansonei to Haŋgacenu	691
Ca ¹⁰ ta ¹⁰ -jinga to T. L. Gillingham	693
Jaŋi ¹⁰ -na ¹⁰ paji to Ni ¹⁰ daba ¹⁰	695
Ma ¹⁰ teu-na ¹⁰ ba to Wiyakol ¹⁰	696
Jaŋga-gaxe to Ieta-ma ¹⁰ be	698
Lenuga-waji ¹⁰ to Waji ¹⁰ akā, an Oto	700
Ma ¹⁰ teu-na ¹⁰ ba to Wiyakol ¹⁰	701
Caŋge-skā to Battiste, the Pawnee interpreter	704
Wajiŋga-sabē to Battiste Deroin and Ke xreŋe	705
Unaji ¹⁰ -skā to Gahige	705
Unaji ¹⁰ -skā to Wā ¹⁰ a ¹⁰ -jaŋga	707
Lion to Battiste Deroin	710
Jaŋi ¹⁰ -na ¹⁰ paji to Heŋaka-mani, Ieta-ja ¹⁰ ja ¹⁰ , and Pte-waka ¹⁰ -inaji ¹⁰	713
Ma ¹⁰ teu-na ¹⁰ ba to Mato-maza	714
Louis Sansonei to William Parry	715
Ietaŋabi to Cāŋxiqowe	716
Ta ¹⁰ wa ¹⁰ -gaxe-jinga to A. B. Meacham	717
Mi ¹⁰ xa-skā to Maza-nap ¹⁰ i ¹⁰	719
Caŋge-skā to Wiyakol ¹⁰	720
Ma ¹⁰ teu-na ¹⁰ ba to Wiyakol ¹⁰	721
Cude-gaxe to Louis Roy and Ma ¹⁰ teu-ic ¹⁰ age	722
Edward Esau to Joseph Esau	723
Jaŋi ¹⁰ -na ¹⁰ paji to Ni ¹⁰ daba ¹⁰	724
Ma ¹⁰ teu-na ¹⁰ ba to Ietaŋabi	725
Richard Rush to Unaji ¹⁰ -skā	725
Jaŋi ¹⁰ -na ¹⁰ paji to Mā ¹⁰ tee-qa ¹⁰ ioe	726
Huŋeŋa to Inspector J. H. Hammond	727
Jaŋi ¹⁰ -na ¹⁰ paji to Inspector Hammond	728
Mazi-kido to Inspector Hammond	728
Waŋpeca to Unaji ¹⁰ -skā	729
Ma ¹⁰ teu-na ¹⁰ ba to Wiyakol ¹⁰	730
Jaŋi ¹⁰ -na ¹⁰ paji to Mā ¹⁰ tee-qa ¹⁰ ioe	732
Ta ¹⁰ wa ¹⁰ -gaxe-jinga to Mawata ¹⁰ na	733
Huŋeŋa to A. B. Meacham	734
John Springer to John Primeau	737
A ¹⁰ pa ¹⁰ -jaŋga and others to Inspector J. H. Hammond	738
Ma ¹⁰ e-gahi to Louis Roy	739
Two Crows and others to Joseph La Flèche	740
Fred. Merrick to G. W. Clothier	741
Homna to Heŋaka-mani, Ieta-ja ¹⁰ ja ¹⁰ , and Ma ¹⁰ atceba	742
Na ¹⁰ zandaji ¹⁰ to James O'Kane	744
Waŋpeca to Unaji ¹⁰ -skā	745
John Primeau to Rev. A. L. Riggs	746
Ma ¹⁰ teu-na ¹⁰ ba to Unaji ¹⁰ -skā	747
To Inspector J. H. Hammond, from several Omahas	750
Waŋpeca to Unaji ¹⁰ -skā	755
To the Cincinnati Commercial, from several Omahas	755
Je-je-baje to Rev. A. L. Riggs	762

	Page.
Nuda ^a -axa to Rev. A. L. Riggs.....	763
Le-je-bajo to Wajinga-da.....	765
Ma'ten dapi ⁿ to Wafiqe-qaci.....	766
Gahigo to Cude-gaxe.....	766
Wapeca to Unaji ⁿ -ska.....	767
Na ^a zandaji to T. M. Messiek.....	768
Le-je-bajo to Unaji ⁿ -ska.....	769
Betsy Dick to Wafiqe-qaci.....	770
Nuda ^a -axa to Cude-gaxe.....	772
Ze-de-gahi to Silas Wood.....	772
Mi ⁿ qa ⁿ -ji ⁿ ga to Ke-qrebo.....	773
Le-uqa ⁿ ha to Unaji ⁿ -ska and He-wa ⁿ ji ⁿ ga.....	774
Nuda ^a -axa to Miss Jocelyn.....	775
Wapeca to Unaji ⁿ -ska.....	776
Paha ⁿ ga-ma ⁿ q ⁿ i ⁿ to Silas Wood.....	777
Paha ⁿ ga-ma ⁿ q ⁿ i ⁿ to Cude-gaxe.....	778
Appendix.....	779
Index.....	781
	785

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 4, 1890.

SIR: I have the honor to submit to you the accompanying monograph, entitled "Contributions to North American Ethnology, Vol. VI, The Čegiha Language."

Yours, respectfully,

J. OWEN DORSEY.

To Hon. J. W. POWELL,

In charge of the Geological and Geographical Survey of the Rocky Mountain Region.

THE ÇEGIHA LANGUAGE.

PART I.

MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

P R E F A C E.

"The Φ egiha Language" as used in this volume refers to the speech of the Omaha and Ponka tribes of the Siouan linguistic family of North American Indians.

The author is responsible for " Φ egiha," first as the name of a group in the Siouan family, and, secondly, as the name of a particular language in that group.

Φ egiha means, "Belonging to the people of this land," or, "Those dwelling here," i. e., the aborigines or home people. When an Omaha was challenged in the dark, if on his own territory, he usually replied, "I am a Φ egiha." So might a Ponka answer under similar circumstances. A Kansas would say, "I am a Yegáha," of which the Osage equivalent is, "I am a Φ exáha." These answer to the Oto " $\mathcal{L}$ óiwere" and the Iowa " $\mathcal{L}$ óéxiwére."

The Φ egiha linguistic group may be divided as follows:

Languages.	Tribes.	Dialects.
1. Φ egiha	Omaha	Omaha (Uma"ha").
	Ponka	Ponka (Pañ'ka).
2. Yegáha	Kansa	None found.
3. Φ exáha	Osage	Five or more.
4. Name not yet gained....	Kwapa	Uncertain.

The material in this volume consists of myths, stories, and letters (epistles) obtained from the Ponkas, to whom the author was missionary from 1871 to 1873, and from the Omahas, with whom he resided from 1878 to 1880. The letters in Part I are those sent to the Ponka reservation in the Indian Territory.

After his return to Washington in 1880, the author arranged for several Indians of the Omaha and Ponka tribes to visit Washington for the purpose of aiding him in the revision of his work. From these Indians and Mr. Frank La Flèche (see page 525) he gained additional myths and stories, which, with numerous letters recorded chiefly at the Omaha Agency, form Part II. It has been decided to publish the remaining letters in a bulletin of the Bureau of Ethnology, under the title of "Omaha and Ponka Letters." This bulletin, with the present monograph and the publications named on pp. xvii and xviii, will contain all the Čegiha texts, phrases, and sentences collected by the author.

The texts will be followed by a Čegiha-English dictionary, an English-Čegiha dictionary, and a grammar. Up to July, 1885, over 16,000 Čegiha-English entries for the dictionary were arranged on slips in alphabetical order after they had been transliterated into the present alphabet of the Bureau of Ethnology.

It was decided in 1882 that the present volume, the dictionaries, and grammar should be published together. But in November, 1889, another conclusion was reached by the Director, resulting in the author's devoting most of his time to the preparation of the additional texts which form Part II. It will require at least one year, if not longer, for the completion of the Čegiha-English dictionary. In the final revision of the slips for that dictionary there will be many references to words and phrases in the texts by page and line. The English-Čegiha dictionary and the grammar must be deferred for a few years.

In translating personal names the author has proceeded according to the following rules: In compound names, such as Wajinga-sabě (bird black), capitalize each part as far as possible, thus: "Black Bird." In names which can not be resolved into two or more primitives use but one capital, as Maŋčiqta, Blackbird; Wasabě, Black bear (not "Black Bear"); Maⁿtcu, Grizzly bear (not "Grizzly Bear").

LIST OF THE AUTHOR'S SIOUAN PUBLICATIONS.

1. Ponka | A B C wabáru. | Missionary Jurisdiction of Niobrara. | New York, | 1873. Pp. 1-16, sq. 16°. Primer in the Ponka dialect. The alphabet used differs from the present alphabet of the Bureau of Ethnology in the following particulars: c of the primer = tc of the Bureau alphabet; ʃ of the former = ʃ of the latter; q of the former = k' of the latter; r of the former = q of the latter; x of the former = c of the latter. The characters for gh, final n as in French bon, and ng as in sing are wanting. No distinction is made between the surd and its corresponding medial sound, which is known for the present as a "sonant-surd."
2. The Sister and Brother: an Iowa tradition. By J. O. Dorsey. In American Antiquarian, vol. 4, pp. 286-289, Chicago, 1881-'82. 8°. Contains an Iowa song, six stanzas, with free translation.
3. The Rabbit and the Grasshoppers: an Oto Myth. By Rev. J. Owen Dorsey. In Our Continent, vol. 1, p. 316, Philadelphia, 1882. Folio.
4. Omaha Sociology. By Rev. J. Owen Dorsey. In Bureau of Ethnology, Third Annual Report, pp. 205-370, Washington, 1884. 8°. Contains several hundred Omaha proper names, words, and sentences, passim. Omaha songs, pp. 320, 322, 323, 325, 331.
5. Siouan Folk-lore and Mythologic Notes. In American Antiquarian, vol. 7, pp. 105-108, Chicago, 1884-'5. 8°.
6. An Account of the War Customs of the Osages. Illustrated. In American Naturalist, vol. 18, No. 2, February, 1884, pp. 113-133.
7. Mourning and War Customs of the Kansas. By the Rev. J. Owen Dorsey. Illustrated. In the American Naturalist, July, 1885, pp. 670-680.
8. On the Comparative Phonology of Four Siouan Languages. By Rev. J. Owen Dorsey. In Smithsonian Institution Annual Report for 1883, pp. 919-923, Washington, 1885. 8°. Languages of the Siouan Family, pp. 919-920. The Siouan Alphabet, pp. 920-921. Classification of Consonants, pp. 921-923. Vocabulary of the Dakota, Čegiha (204 words of Ponka and Omaha, Kansas and Osage), Łoiwere, and Hotcaigara, pp. 924-927. Notes, pp. 927-929.
A paper read before the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Montreal, August, 1882. Separately issued as follows:
9. On the | Comparative Phonology | of Four | Siouan Languages. | By | Rev. J. Owen Dorsey, | of the Bureau of Ethnology. | From the Smithsonian Report for 1883. | Washington : | Government Printing Office, | 1885. Pp. 1-11. 8°. (Smithsonian Catalogue No. 605.)
10. Indian Personal Names. By Rev. J. Owen Dorsey. In American Ass. Adv. Sci. Proc., vol. 34, pp. 393-399, Salem, 1886. 8°. Examples from the Omaha, Ponka, Iowa, Oto, and Missouri.
11. Migrations of Siouan Tribes. With maps. By Rev. J. Owen Dorsey. In American Naturalist, vol. 20, No. 3, March, 1886, pp. 211-222.
12. Songs of the Hečucka Society. Journal of American Folk-lore, vol. 1, No. 1, April-June, 1888, pp. 65-68.
13. Ponka Stories. In same number, p. 73.
14. Abstracts of Ponka and Omaha Myths. In same number, pp. 74-78.
15. Abstracts of Omaha and Ponka Myths. In Jour. Amer. Folk-lore, vol. 1, No. 2, 1888, pp. 204-208.
16. Omaha Songs. In same number, pp. 209-213.
17. Teton Folk-lore. American Anthropologist, vol. 2, No. 2, pp. 143-158. Extracts from a paper read before the Anthropological Society of Washington, in November, 1888. Translated from the texts recorded by George Bushotter in the Teton dialect of the Dakota.

18. Osage Traditions. By James Owen Dorsey. In Bureau of Ethnology, Sixth Annual Report, pp. 373-397, Washington, 1888. 8°. Tradition of the Teton waactaye gens, a fragment of 107 lines, with interlinear and free translations, pp. 381-390. Tradition of the Bald Eagle sub-gens, a fragment of 63 lines, with interlinear and free translations, pp. 390-395.
19. Teton Folk-lore Notes. Extracts from a paper read before the Anthropological Society of Washington. In Jour. Amer. Folk-lore, vol. 2, No. 5, April-June, 1889, pp. 133-139. Part of this paper ("Teton Folk-lore") appeared in Science.
20. Winnebago Folk-lore Notes. In Jour. Amer. Folk-lore, vol. 2, No. 5, p. 140.
21. Omaha Folk-lore Notes. In Jour. Amer. Folk-lore, vol. 2, No. 6, July-September, 1889, p. 190.
22. Camping Circles of Siouan Tribes. In Amer. Anthropologist, vol. 2, No. 2, April, 1889, pp. 175-177.
23. The Places of Gentes in Siouan Camping Circles. In Amer. Anthropologist, vol. 2, No. 4, October, 1889, pp. 375-379.
24. Ponka and Omaha Songs. In Jour. Amer. Folk-lore, vol. 2, No. 7, October-December, 1889, pp. 271-276.
25. Omaha Clothing and Personal Ornaments. By J. Owen Dorsey. In Amer. Anthropologist, vol. 3, No. 1, January, 1890, pp. 71-78.
26. Indian Personal Names. By J. Owen Dorsey. In Amer. Anthropologist, vol. 3, No. 3, July, 1890, pp. 253-268. A description of a monograph in course of preparation. It will treat of about four thousand personal names, arranged according to tribes and gentes.
27. A Study of Siouan Cults. (Nearly ready.) To appear in the Eighth Annual Report of the Bureau of Ethnology. Illustrated by numerous sketches colored by Indian artists. Referred to in the Amer. Anthropologist, vol. 3, No. 1, January, 1890, p. 50.

THE ÇEGIHA LANGUAGE.

BY J. OWEN DORSEY.

PART I.

MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

INTRODUCTION.

The myths, stories, and letters in the present volume have been obtained directly from Indians. They were dictated in Çegiha, and written in that language by the collector.

A brief account of each of the Indian authorities for these texts may not be considered out of place.

1. Joseph LaFlèche is a gentleman to whom I am indebted, not only for myths in Çegiha and Ljowere, but also for a knowledge of the latter tongue, a collection of ethnological notes, etc. I regard him as my best authority. By birth he is a Ponka, but he has spent most of his life among the Pawnees, Otos, and Omahas. He has acquired a knowledge of several Indian languages, and he also speaks Canadian French. While Frank, his younger brother, has remained with the Ponkas, and is now reckoned as a chief in that tribe, Mr. LaFlèche has been counted as an Omaha for many years. Though debarred by Indian law from membership in any gens, that did not prevent him receiving the highest place in the Omaha governmental system. He has some influence among the Pawnees, and when the Yankton Dakotas wished to make peace with the former tribe, it was effected through the instrumentality of Mr. LaFlèche, who accompanied Struck-by-the-Ree to the Pawnee village. Mr LaFlèche is the leader of the "citizens" party among the Omahas. The names of two of his children, Susette (Bright Eyes) and Frank (Wood-worker, or Carpenter), are familiar to all who have read of the Ponka case.

2 THE ƆEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

2. Mrs. Mary LaFlèche is of white descent on the father's side. She learned Oto by a residence among her mother's people. She was known in former years as "the beautiful Omaha girl," having been adopted by the latter tribe.

3. Frank LaFlèche is the eldest surviving son of Joseph. He has a fair knowledge of English, writes a good hand, and is devoted to reading. I have had many opportunities of testing his skill as interpreter, and I did not find him wanting. He is the only Omaha who can write his native dialect.

4. Susanne LaFlèche is Frank's youngest sister. She is still a child, and was not over thirteen when she gave me an abstract of a myth told her in Omaha by her Oto grandmother.

5. ƆáƆi-na-páƆi (He who fears not a Pawnee when he sees him) is a full-blood Omaha, who has passed middle age. He belongs to the "citizens" party, and is one of my best informants. His articulation is rapid; but after he repeated a sentence I had no difficulty in writing it.

6. HúpeƆa is a full Omaha, one who refuses to join either political party in the tribe. He has not given me much information.

7. Ma-teú-na-ba (Two Grizzly Bears) is the aged ex-chief of the Hanga gens of the Omahas, which keeps the two sacred tents and regulates the buffalo hunt. He has been a medicine-man, and is the head of the old men's or chiefs' party. He was always friendly to me, and was the first Omaha to pay me a visit. Owing to his rapid articulation, common to Omaha orators, I was obliged to revise his myth, with the assistance of Mr. LaFlèche, who gave me the corresponding Oto version.

8. Mawáda-Ɔi (Mandan) is a full Omaha. He is short, and of a nervous temperament (the opposite of HupeƆa), his utterance being thick at times. While he means well, his information is not equal in any respect to that given by ƆáƆi-na-páƆi. He belongs to the "citizens" party.

9. Le-úƆa (Sentinel Buffalo apart from the Herd) is head of a subgens of the Thunder and Reptile gens of the Omahas, being keeper of the sacred pipe of his gens. He is full of fire as a speaker; and his enjoyment of the burlesque was shown when he told me the myth of the turtle who led a war party. He declared that he had added a little to it, but only such parts as he thought were needed to make the myth complete. The songs in the myth point to an Oto derivation. Le-úya^ha is one of the "citizens" party and a good farmer.

10. Can'-ge-skā (White Horse) is head of the Wolf gens of the Omahas and a member of the chief's party. He understands the Kansas (Kaw) dialect of the ŋegiha as well as his own.

11. A'pa'-jan'-ga (John Big Elk), an Omaha, is one whom I regard as a dear friend, a good example to his tribe. He is the authority for several myths and most of the Omaha historical papers. The Indians call him "The man who is always thinking about the Great Spirit." He is a full Indian, a nephew of the Big Elk mentioned by Long and others. He is an adherent of the "citizens" party.

12. Le'-da-úŋiqaga (Dried Buffalo Skull) is head of the Singers, a section of the Black Bear subgens of the Omahas. He is half-brother to ŋaŋi'-na'-paŋi, but he is so far advanced in life, and his articulation is so rapid, that it was impossible to record all his words, which he would not repeat.

13. Nuda'-axa (Cried to go on the War-path) is a Ponka chief. He is head of a part of the Thunder-bird gens. I have known him since 1871, whereas I did not become acquainted with the Omahas until 1878. Nuda'-axa has furnished me with eleven myths, three historical papers, and some valuable ethnologic notes. He is a very patient man, and is deserving of sympathy and encouragement in his efforts to become self-supporting.

Among the Omahas who sent letters elsewhere are Two Crows, Lion, and Duba-ma'ŋi'.

Two Crows is now a chief; he has been a leader of the young men for several years, though he is a grand-parent. He was the leader of the tribe on the hunt and war-path, and is still feared even by the chiefs' party. He says just what he thinks, going directly to the point. He is regarded as the speaker of the purest Omaha, and one has no difficulty in understanding him.

4 THE ÇEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

Lion is the head of the first subgens of the Deer people, and is keeper of the sacred pipe of his gens. He used to be a government chief, but was set aside at the election in 1880. The Omahas do not put much confidence in him, and he is regarded by some as a mischief-maker.

Dúba-ma'çi (Four Walking) is one of the young men's party. He was elected chief in 1880, with Two Crows and five others. He was usually the first speaker when the young men had a council.

LIST OF SOUNDS IN THE ÇEGIHA LANGUAGE.

The alphabet which follows is substantially the one suggested by Maj. J. W. Powell, in the second edition of his Introduction to the Study of Indian Languages, Chap. I.

A number of sounds not used in Çegiha are given because they are found in Łoiwere (Oto, Iowa, and Missouri), Winnebago, and other kindred languages, to which occasional references are made in the explanatory notes. Therefore, the alphabet may be regarded as including all the sounds known to exist in Çegiha, Łoiwere, and Winnebago. When any Dakota word is given, it is written first in this alphabet, then in that adopted by Mr. Riggs in his Dakota Grammar and Dictionary, published by the Smithsonian Institution in 1852.

- a as in father; German, haben.
- a+ a prolonged a; always a final sound.
- aⁿ a nasalized a
- aⁿ+ a prolonged nasalized a.
- 'a an initially exploded a.
- 'aⁿ a nasalized 'a.
- ä nearly as in what; German, man.
- 'ä an initially exploded ä, as in wes'ä, a snake.
- äⁿ a nasalized ä.
- ï as in hat.
- b as in blab; French belle. Not used in Łoiwere.
- c as sh in shall.
- ç a medial sh, between sh and sh. Not synthetic.

- ʧ as th in thin (not heard in ʧegiha). Used in Loiwere.
 ʤ a medial th (not heard ʧegiha) Used in Loiwere. Not synthetic.
 ʦ as th in the, then. (See r.)
 d as in dread; German, das; French, de. Used in ʧegiha. (See r.) e as in they; German, Dehnung; French, dé.
 e+ a prolonged e.
 'e an initially exploded e.
 ð as in then; German, denn; French, sienne.
 g as in go; German, geben.
 h as in he; German, haben.
 i as in pique, machine; German, ihn; French, ils.
 i+ a prolonged i.
 'i an initially exploded i.
 iⁿ a nasalized i.
 iⁿ+ a prolonged nasalized i.
 'iⁿ a nasalized 'i.
 l as in pin; German, will.
 lⁿ a nasalized l.
 j as s in azure; j in French Jacques.
 k as in kick; German, Kind; French, quart.
 ɣ a medial k (between k and g). Modified initially; not synthetic.
 k' an explosive k.
 m as in mine; German, Mutter.
 n as in nun; German, Nonne; French, ne.
 hn a modern sound used instead of cn (shn). The initial part of this sound is expelled from the nostrils, not from the mouth, and is but slightly audible.
 ŋ as ng in sing, singer. In Loiwere it is often used when not followed by a k-mute.
 o as in note; German, Bogen; French, nos. Not used in ʧegiha.
 o+ a prolonged o. Not used in ʧegiha.
 'o an initially exploded o. Not used in ʧegiha.
 oⁿ a nasalized o. Not used in ʧegiha.
 oⁿ+ a prolonged nasalized o. Not used in ʧegiha.

6 THE Φ EGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

'o ⁿ	a nasalized 'o. Not used in Φ egiha.
p	as in pipe ; German, Puppe ; French, poupe .
'd	a medial p (between p and b). Not a synthetic sound. The modification is initial.
p'	an explosive p .
q	as German ch in ich ; Hebrew, kh .
r	as in roar ; German, rühren ; French, rare . Not used in Φ egiha; it is synthetic in $\mathbb{L}$ oiwere and Winnebago.
s	as in sauce ; German, Sack ; French, sauce . Corresponds to the $\mathbb{L}$ oiwere ç .
s	a medial ç (between s and z). Not synthetic; modified initially.
t	as in touch ; German, Tag .
t	a medial t . Not synthetic; modified initially.
t'	an explosive t .
u	as in rule ; German, du ; French, doux .
u+	a prolonged u .
'u	an initially exploded u .
u ⁿ	a nasalized u ; rare in Φ egiha, common in $\mathbb{L}$ oiwere.
u ⁿ +	a prolonged nasalized u .
'u ⁿ	a nasalized 'u; rare in Φ egiha, common in $\mathbb{L}$ oiwere.
ü	as in pull, full ; German, und
ü ⁿ	a nasalized ü ; rare in Φ egiha, common in $\mathbb{L}$ oiwere.
w	as in wish ; nearly as ou in French oui .
x	gh ; or nearly as the Arabic ghain . (The sonant of q .)
y	as in you ; j in German ja . Not used in Φ egiha.
z	as z and s in zones ; German, Hase ; French, zèle .
dj	as j in judge (rare).
tc	as ch in church , and c in Italian cielo ; Spanish, achaque .
tc	a medial tc (between tc and dj). Not synthetic; modified initially.
	Not used in Φ egiha, common in $\mathbb{L}$ oiwere.
tc'	an exploded tc .
hw	as wh in when ; Spanish, huerta . (An interjection.)
m+	a prolonged m (An interjection.)
c+	a prolonged c . (An interjection.)

ai	as i in fine, aisle .
ei	as i in ice, twice, trice, fice .
au	as ow in how ; German, Haus
yu	as in use, feud .
ui	as in German, pfui .

In one myth is given: "t-t-t-t-t."

In some cases, when u is pronounced very rapidly after a or e, an o sound is heard, resembling au in the French aujourd'hui. Thus, in gaqú ućici, when thus pronounced, the au has a sound between that of ow in how and the sound of o in no; while in ʔe-úʔa^hha both vowels are heard, being pronounced almost as if the name was ʔe-óʔa^hha.

Every syllable ends in a vowel or diphthong, pure or nasalized.

When a consonant appears at the end of a word or syllable, it is a sign of contraction.

Another apparent exception is the ʔegiha interjection wú^h, in which the final h denotes an expulsion of the breath through the nostrils.

Almost every sound in this alphabet can be prolonged; but when the prolongation is merely rhetorical, it is given in the notes and omitted in the text. Prolongations in the text are usually interjections.

One interjection of admiration, etc., is designated for the present by "t!". It is made by drawing the tip of the tongue backward from the upper front teeth, causing a sucking sound.

The reader is requested to consult the Appendix after examining each text.

Brackets mark superfluous additions to the texts, and passages which seem to be modern interpolations.

Words within parentheses were omitted by the narrator, but, in most cases, they are needed to complete the sense.

The following abbreviations are used in the interlinear translations:—

sub	subject.	mv.	moving.
ob.	object.	recl.	reclining.
st.	sitting	lg.	long.
std.	standing.	pl.	plural

8 THE ÇEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

sing.	singular.	cl.	classifier.
F.	Frank La Flèche.	L.	Louis Sanssouci.
G.	George Miller.	W.	Wadjepa. or Samuel Fremont.
J.	Joseph La Flèche.

The following sounds should be added to those given on the preceding pages:

‘ë an initially exploded ë, as in ukit’ë, foreigner, enemy.

q an evanescent h, a sound heard in some Pawnee words ny as the Spanish ñ in cañon, found in Lwiwere and Kwapa words.

Mr. Joseph La Flèche was alive when this introduction was stereotyped. He died in September, 1888.

Susanne La Flèche mentioned on page 2 is now a woman. She was graduated in 1886 at the Hampton Agricultural and Normal Institute, Virginia. She attended the Women's Medical College at Philadelphia for two years, and returned to the Omahas in 1889. She is practicing medicine among her people, paying special attention to the diseases of women and children.

10, 18, et passim. When A^hhaⁿ means consent, read A^hha^{n'}; but when assent is intended, read A^{n'}haⁿ.

223, 8. See important note on page 541.

The Appendix referred to on page 7 is that of Part I, beginning on page 525. Some time after that Appendix was stereotyped additional information was obtained from Omahas visiting Washington, and also from members of the Osage, Kansa, and Kwapa tribes. Consequently the reader is requested to consult the Appendix to Part II for a few errata, etc., which refer to Part I.

MYTHS.

HOW THE RABBIT KILLED THE (MALE) WINTER.

OBTAINED FROM FRANK LA FLÈCHE.

Mactein'ge-i^{n'} amá ꝑé amáma. Egiꝑe Usní ꝑínké'di ahí-biamá. Ahaú!
 Rabbit the was going, they say It came to Cold the-at he ar- they say. Well!
 pass
 ꝑatí-üj-qi-hnaⁿ ꝑa^{n'}ctí. Cégèdi gçin'-gä. E'a^{n'}qti ma^{n'}oni^{n'} ꝑáçí^{n'}cé ä, you have very as a rule heretofore. Those things sit. What great matter you have been walking not come á-biamá Usní aká. A^{n'}haⁿ, negíha, wiñmi mégaⁿ, wiça^{n'} aká a^{n'}aqçí-qi-a^{n'}i 3 said, they say Cold the. Yes, O mother's my father's likewise, my grand- the knocked the life out of brother, sister mother me altogether ega^{n'} waji^{n'}cte pí aci'hé há. Xagé gçin'-biamá Mactein'ge-i^{n'} aká; ua^{n'}s having in a bad humor I have been coming Crying he sat they say Rabbit the; hopping iça^{n'}çaⁿ gçin'-biamá; cka^{n'}aji ctëwa^{n'} gçin'-baji-biamá Mactein'ge-i^{n'} aká.
 suddenly and he sat they say; motionless at all he sat not they say Rabbit the.
 repeatedly
 Cka^{n'}aji égaⁿ gçin'-gä há, á-biamá Usní aká. An'kaji, negíha ꝑe égimaⁿ 6 Motionless so sit he they say Cold the. Not so, O mother's this I do it said brother
 ca^{n'}caⁿ. Egiꝑe Usní aká 'ábae aꝑé 'íça-biamá. Negíha cubꝑé tá minke, always. It came to Cold the hunting going he they say. O mother's I go with will I who pass brother you á-biamá Mactein'ge-i^{n'} aká. Téná! ꝑat'é te há, á-biamá Usní aká.
 he they say Rabbit the Why! you die will he they say. Cold the
 said
 An'kaji há, negíha, áqtaⁿ at'c tádaⁿ. Ca^{n'} cubꝑé tá minke há. Hm'daké! 9
 Not so, O mother's how pos- I die shall At any I go with will I who Let us see!
 brother, sible rate you égan gä há, á-biamá Usní aká. Usní aká áci aꝑáb ega^{n'} Hw! hw!
 so do he they say Cold the. Cold the out he went they say having Wh! Wh!
 said they say when blizzard he made they say, cold very And he went, they say when
 said
 júgçe aꝑá-biamá Mactein'ge-i^{n'} aká. Mactein'ge-i^{n'} aká wasisige-qtí-bi- 12 with him went they say Rabbit the. Rabbit the active very they amá: ita^{n'}çí^{n'}ahá-qi cti nan'ge aꝑé-hnaⁿ-biamá: qáça cti aꝑçí-hnaⁿsay: forward very too running he habitu- they say: qáça cti aꝑçí-hnaⁿwent ally back again back ally biamá: Usní cín nan'ge cti uꝑícaⁿ-hna^{n'}-biamá. Níaci^{n'}ga çín^{n'} wasisige they say: Cold the running too he went habitu- they say. Person the active around him ally

10 THE ʕEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- inahiⁿ áhaⁿ, eʕégaⁿ-biamá Usni aká. Egiʕe jáqti wiⁿ ʕihf-biamá. Uhú!
truly I he thought they say Cold the. It came to deer one he scared up, they say. Oh!
- negtha, jáqti wiⁿ euhí há. Kída-gá ha, á-biamá Mactein'ge-iⁿ amá.
O mother's deer one has reached you Shoot it he they say Rabbit the
said
- 3 An'kaji há égaⁿ uána-máji há, á-biamá Usni aká. Gan'ki indádaⁿ uré Not so indeed such I do not seek he they say Cold the. And what he seek
said
- etédaⁿ eʕegaⁿ-biamá Mactein'ge-iⁿ amá. Égiʕe níaciⁿga d'úba wéʕacan! he thought they say Rabbit the. It came to person some he found pass them
- biamá Mactein'ge-iⁿ amá. Uhú! negtha, níaciⁿga d'úba euhí há.
they say Rabbit the Oh! O mother's person some they reach brother, you
- 6 Aⁿ'haⁿ, égaⁿ-hnaⁿ uáne há, á-biamá Usni aká. Gaⁿ téwaʕá-biamá.
Yes, such habitually I seek he they say Cold the. And he killed them they say.
said
- Niaciⁿga ké wa'iⁿ agʕá-biamá. Wa'iⁿ akí-biamá xi úhaⁿ-biamá níaciⁿ-Person the carrying he went they say. Carrying them when he cooked them, per-
they say
- ga ʕanká. ʕiúcka gʕikúʕa-gá há, naⁿpehiⁿ-qti-aⁿ ebʕégaⁿ á-biamá son the Your brother's work hurriedly for him hungry very I think, he they say
said
- 9 Usni aká. Nin'deʕá-biamá uqpe uʕji-biamá níaciⁿga janúʕa té. Wi Cold the. Cooked till done they say dah she filled for him human fresh meat the. I
they say
- égaⁿ wabʕata-máji-hnaⁿ-maⁿ há, á-biamá Mactein'ge-iⁿ aká. Wéʕi-biamá.
such I eat not habitually I do he they say Rabbit the. He gave it they say.
ally said back to them
- Umaⁿ'e té ʕasniⁿ-biamá xi ci ábae aʕé 'íca-biamá. Usni aká. Angáʕe Provisions the swallowed they say when again hunting going he they say Cold the. We go spoke of
- 12 taí Mactein'ge-iⁿ, á-biamá Usni aká. An'kaji, negtha, ʕi-hnaⁿ maⁿwill Rabbit he they say Cold the. Not so, O mother's thou alone walk
said
- ʕiⁿ-gá, á-biamá Mactein'ge-iⁿ aká. Usni aká ci usni gaxáb egaⁿ ci thou he they say Rabbit the. Cold the again cold he made, having again said they say
- aʕá-biamá. Iʕé amá xi Mactein'ge-iⁿ aká Usni igáʕaⁿ ʕiⁿké ímaxáhe went they say. He had they say when Rabbit the Cold his wife the he ques-gone tioned her
- 15 biamá. ʕimiha, winégi indádaⁿ naⁿ'pe á. ʕinegi naⁿ'pe ʕingéé hé.
they say. O father's sister, my mother's brother what fears he I Thy mother's brother to fear has nothing
said
- An'kaji, ʕimiha, wíʕeté naⁿ'pe at'aⁿ há: áqtaⁿ winégi naⁿ'pe ʕingé tádaⁿ.
Not so, O father's sister, even I to fear I have how pos- my mother's brother to fear have noth- shall I (something) sible ing
- ʕinegi naⁿ'pe ʕingéé hé, á-biamá wa'ú aká. An'kaji, ʕimiha, wíʕeté Thy mother's brother to fear has nothing she they say woman the Not so, O father's sister, even I
said
- 18 naⁿ'aⁿxiʕa-hnaⁿ-maⁿ há: áqtaⁿ winégi naⁿ'pe ʕingé tádaⁿ. Aⁿ'haⁿ, ʕinegi me scared habitually I use how pos- my mother's brother to fear have noth- shall I Yes, thy mother's brother ally sible ing
- ʕactan'ga-ʕa naⁿ'pe hé. Aⁿ'haⁿ, égaⁿ éskaⁿ ebʕégaⁿ há, á-biamá Ma-Rocky Mount- head he fears it Yes, so it might I thought he they say Rah-ain sheep be said etein'ge-i^{n'} aká. Wiⁿ ícab ega^{n'} t'éca-biamá. Ħa ħaⁿ másab ega^{n'} 'íⁿ bit the. One he found, having he killed they say. Head the he cut off, having he car-they say it they say aqéá-biamá. Usní aká akí-biamá. Mactein'ge-i^{n'} wi^{n'} a^{n'} wáqa ꝑé á. ried it they say. Cold the he they say. Rabbit in which direction went he ?

 homeward reached home
 í^{n'} tca^{n'} qtei áei aqai, á-biamá wa'ú aká. Égiqé dáze xi akí-biamá 3
 New very out he went, said she they say woman the. It came to pass evening when he reached home, they say.
 Mactein'ge-i^{n'} aká. Negíha, céĥaⁿ dáctan'ga-dá wi^{n'}, á-biamá. Gia^{n'} ĥa Rabbit the. O mother's that the Rocky Mount- head one, he they say. He throw it to him ain sheep ꝑéca-biamá xi t'é-qi aqá-biamá Usní aká. Wa'ú ꝑinké ená-qi ucté he sent they say when dead very he went they say Cold the. Woman the alone very re-it forcibly remained amá. Ádaⁿ editaⁿ usní-qi-áji-hna^{n'} amá. Ceta^{n'}.
 they say. Therefore from that cold very not habitu- they say. So far.
 cause ally

6

NOTES.

The accompanying version of this Omaha myth was given me by Mr. Frank LaFlèche. Mr. Sanssouci says that it was not the Winter, but Igacude (Storm-maker), who was killed by the Rabbit.

Igacude used to go each day to a lofty bluff, and gaze in all directions till he spied a party of hunters. When he discovered as many as he could carry on his back, he used to take up a ball of snow and blow off the particles till he made a snow-storm, in which all the men were sure to perish. Then Igacude gathered the bodies and carried them to his lodge.

9, 1. Macteiñge-i^{n'}, or Macteiñge, the name of a mythical hero of the Ponkas and Omahas, answering to the Iowa and Oto Mieteñe. His other name was Siqé-makaⁿ (see myth of the Turkey, in the first version; also that of Siqé-maka^{n'}'s adventures as a deer). The distinction, if any, between Macteiñge and Macteiñge-i^{n'} has been forgotten.

9, 2. e'a^{n'}-qi ma^{n'}ni^{n'} ĥaĥi^{n'}ee á. The use of "ea^{n'}-qi" shows that there must have been some great trouble or important business which forced the Rabbit to wander from his home at such a time.

9, 10. aqá-b ega^{n'}, contr. from aqá-bi ega^{n'}.

9, 11. igacude gaxa-biama, usni hegaji ama. Frank said: usni he+gaji ama, It was ve-ry cold.

10, 7. niaci^{n'}ga ké, "the long line of men's bodies," in this case.

10, 13. gaxa-b ega^{n'}, contr. from gaxa-bi ega^{n'}.

11, 6. ádaⁿ editaⁿ usní-qi-áji-hna^{n'} ama. Before that it was much colder than it is now. Now we have the female Winter.

TRANSLATION.

The Rabbit was going somewhere. It came to pass that he reached the place where the Winter was dwelling. "Well! you made it a rule not to come hither at all in the past. Sit by those things near you. On what very important business have you been traveling?" "Yes, O mother's brother, and my father's sister! my grandmother has altogether beaten the life out of me; so I have been coming hither in a bad humor" (said the Rabbit). The Rabbit sat crying; he continued hopping to and fro; the Rabbit did not sit still at all. "Do sit still," said the Winter. "O mother's brother, I always do thus!" At length the Winter spoke about going hunting. "O mother's brother, I will go with you!" said the Rabbit. "Why! you would be apt to die," said the Winter. "No, O mother's brother! how is it possible for me to die? I will go with you at all events." "Let us see! Do so," said the Winter. The Winter, having gone out, said: "Wh! Wh!", and made a fine driving snow-storm (blizzard). It was very cold. And when he departed, the Rabbit went with him. The Rabbit was very active: he continued going and running very far ahead (of the Winter); and he was coming back repeatedly; he also went running many times around the Winter, as he moved along. "The person in motion is truly active!" thought the Winter. By and by he (the Rabbit) scared up a deer. "Oho! O mother's brother! a deer has reached you; shoot it!" said the Rabbit. "No, such I do not seek," said the Winter. And the Rabbit thought, "What can he be seeking?" After a while the Rabbit (in moving along) discovered some men. "Oho! O mother's brother! some men have come to you." "Yes, such only do I seek," said the Winter. And he killed them. He carried the (dead) men homeward on his back. When he reached home with them on his back, he boiled the men. "Hurry for your nephew; I think that he is very hungry," said the Winter (to his wife). She cooked them until they were done. They filled for him (the Rabbit) a dish with the human fresh meat. "I am not accustomed to eating such (food)," said the Rabbit. He gave it back to them. When the provisions had been devoured, again the Winter spoke of going hunting. "Let us go, Rabbit," said the Winter. "No, O mother's brother! you go alone," said the Rabbit. The Winter, having made cold (weather) again, went again. When he had gone, the Rabbit questioned the Winter's wife. "O father's sister! what does my mother's brother fear?" "Your mother's brother has nothing to fear." "No, O father's sister! even I have something to fear. How is it possible for my mother's brother to have nothing to fear?" "Your mother's brother has nothing to fear," said the woman. "No, O father's sister! even I am used to being scared. How is it possible for my mother's brother to have nothing to fear?" "Yes, your mother's brother fears the head of a Rocky Mountain sheep." "Yes, just so I thought it might be," said the Rabbit. Having found one, he killed it. Having cut off its head with a knife, he carried it homeward on his back. The Winter reached his home. "In which direction has the Rabbit gone?" "He has just gone out (of the lodge)," said the woman. After a while, when it was dusk, the Rabbit reached home. "O mother's brother! that round object by you is the head of a Rocky Mountain sheep," said he. When he had thrown it suddenly toward him (the Winter), the Winter became altogether dead; only the woman remained. Therefore, from that cause (or, from that time), it has not been very cold, as a rule.

HOW THE RABBIT CAUGHT THE SUN IN A TRAP.

OBTAINED FROM FRANK LA FLÈCHE.

Egíçe Mactcin'ge aká iqa' çínké ená-qtei úgçe júgigçá-biamá. Kí
 It came to pass Rabbit the his grand- the (st. ob.) only very he dwelt he with his they say. And ha'ega'tcē'-qtei-hna' 'ábae ahí-biamá. Ha'ega'tcē'-qtei aqá-bi ctōwa' morning very early habitually hunting he went thither, they say. Morning very early he went, they say notwith-níkaci'ga wi' sí snedē'-qti-hna' sígçe aqá-bitéamá. Kí íbaha' ga'çá- 3 person or foot long very habitu- ally had gone, they say. And to know him he wished biamá. Níaci'ga çí i' ta' wíta'çín bçé tá mínke, eçéga'-biamá. Ha'- they say. Person the (mv.) now I-first I go will I who, he thought they say. Morn-ega'tcē'-qtei yáha'-bi ega' aqá-biamá. Çí égiçe níkaci'ga amá sígçe ing very early he arose they say having he went, they say. Again it came to pass person the (mv.) trail aqá-bitéamá. Égiçe akí-biamá. Gá-biamá: ya'há, wíta'çín bçé aqáçaxe 6 he had gone, they say. It came to he reached home, they say. He said as follows, O grand- I-first I go I make for myself ctōwa' níkaci'ga wi' a' aqai aqái te a'. ya'há, uxía'çe daxe tá notwith- person one getting ahead of me he has gone. O grandmother, a snare I make will mínke, kí bçíze tá mínke há. Áta' ja' tada', á-biamá wa'újinga aká.
 I who, and I take will I who Why you do should she they say old woman the.
 Níaci'ga íçát'abçé há, á-biamá. Kí Mactcin'ge aqá-biamá. Aqá-bi çí 9 Person I hate him he they say. And Rabbit he went they say. He went, when they say çí sígçe çé té amá. Kí ha' tē íçápe ja'-biamá. Man'de-qa' çá' ukínacke again trail it had gone, they say. And night the waiting he lay they say. Bow-string the noose gaxá-biamá çí, sígçe çé-hna' tē é'di íçá'çá-biamá. Égiçe ha'ega'tcē'- he made they say when trail went habitu- ally the there he put it they say. It came to pass very early in the qtei uxía'çe çá' gíja'be ahí-biamá. Égiçe Mí' çá' çíze akáma. Ta'çín- 12 morning snare the to see his own he ar- they say. It came to Sun the he had taken, they say. Running qtei uqá agçá-biamá. Ya'há, indáda' éi'te bçíze édega' a' baaze-hna' very to tell he went they say. O grandmother what (thing) it may I look but me it scared habitu- ally há, á-biamá. Ya'há, man'de-qa' çá' agçíze ka'bçédega' a' baaze-he they say. O grandmother, bow-string the I take my I wished—but me it scared hna'í há, á-biamá. Máhi' aqí-bi ega' é'di aqá-biamá Kí eca'-qtei 15 habitually he they say. Knife he had they having thither he went they say. And he near to very ahí-biamá. Píjji ckáxe. Éáta' éga' ckáxe á. É'di gí-ada' i'çícká-gá he ar- they say. Bad you do. Why so you do There be com. and untie it for me há, á-biamá Mí' aká. Mactcin'ge aká é'di aqá-bi ctōwa' na'pa-bi ega' he they say Sun the. Rabbit the thither went they say notwith- he feared the seen having said danger, they say

14 THE ÇEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

hebe the aḡe-hnaⁿ-biamá Kí xü'ḡ' aḡá-bi egaⁿ mása-biamá man'de-xüⁿ partly he went habitu- they say. And rushing he went, they having he cut it they say bow-string passed ally bent head say ḡaⁿ. Gan'ki Miⁿ aká maⁿ-ciáha áiaḡa-biamá. Kí Mactein'ge aká ábaḡu
 the. And Sun the on high it had they say. And Rabbit the space be-3 hiⁿ ḡaⁿ názi-biamá, ánakadá-bi egaⁿ. (Mactein'ge amá akí-biamá.) Í-tei-hair the burnt they say, it was hot on they having. (Rabbit the reached they say.) Itelyellow it say house tci+! ḡaⁿhá, náḡingé-qi-maⁿ há, á-biamá. Juepaḡaⁿ+! iⁿ náḡingé'-qi-maⁿ tci+! O grand- burnt to very I am he they say. O grandchild! for me is burnt very I am mother, nothing said to nothing eskaⁿ+! á-biamá. Cetaⁿ.
 I think! she they say. So far.
 said

NOTES.

13, 7. aḡai te aⁿ. The conclusion of this sentence seems odd to the collector, but its translation given with this myth is that furnished by the Indian informant.

13, 11. haⁿ+egaⁿtci-qtci. The prolongation of the first syllable adds to the force of the adverb "qtci." The translation may be given as "ve-ry early in the morning."

14, 1. hebe ihe aḡe-hnaⁿ-biamá. The Rabbit tried to obey the Sun, but each time that he attempted it he was so much afraid of him that he passed by a little to one side. He could not go directly to him.

14, 2. maⁿ-ciáha áiaḡa-biamá. When the Rabbit rushed forward with bowed head, and cut the bow-string, the Sun's departure was so rapid that "he had already gone on high."

14, 3. Itci+, an intj., showing that the speaker was in pain, caused in this case from the heat of the Sun's rays. See myth of the Sun and Moon.

The sentence at the end of the translation was given in Çegiha by the narrator; but the collector failed to write it. Hence it has no equivalent in the text.

TRANSLATION.

Once upon a time the Rabbit dwelt in a lodge with no one but his grandmother. And it was his custom to go hunting very early in the morning. No matter how early in the morning he went, a person with a very long foot had been along, leaving a trail. And he (the Rabbit) wished to know him. "Now," thought he, "I will go in advance of the person." Having arisen very early in the morning, he departed. Again it happened that the person had been along, leaving a trail. Then he (the Rabbit) went home. Said he, "Grandmother, though I arrange for myself to go first, a person anticipates me (every time). Grandmother, I will make a snare, and I will catch him." "Why should you do it?" said she. "I hate the person," he said. And the Rabbit departed. When he went, again had the footprints gone along. And he lay waiting for him (to come). And he made a noose of a bow-string, putting it in the place where the footprints used to be seen. And it came to pass that he reached there very early in the morning for the purpose of looking at his trap. And it happened that he had caught the Sun. Running very fast, he went homeward to tell it. Said he, "Grandmother, I have caught something or other, but it scares me." "Grandmother I wished to take my bow-string, but I was scared every time," he said. He went thither with a knife. And he got very near it. "You have done wrong. Why have you done it? Come hither and untie me," said the Sun. The Rabbit, although he went thither, was afraid, and kept on passing partly by him (or, continued going by a little to one side). And making a rush, with his head bent down (and his arm stretched out), he cut the bow-string with the knife. And the Sun went on high. And the Rabbit had the hair between his shoulders scorched yellow, it having been hot upon him (as he stooped and cut the bow-string). (And the Rabbit arrived at home.) "I am burnt. O, grandmother! the heat has left nothing of me," said he. She said, "Oh, my grandchild! I think that the heat has left to me nothing of him!" (From that time the rabbit has had a singed spot on his back, between the shoulders.)

HOW THE RABBIT KILLED THE BLACK BEARS

OMAHA VERSION, BY J. LA FLÈCHE.

Mactcin'ge amá ixa' éça^{ba} édí akáma iŋge júgige. Wasábe iŋ Rabbit the his grand- too there was, they he dwelt he with his Black bear vilmother say in a lodge own lage éça^{ba} éjái-ā hě', ixa' aká egá-biamá. Wasábe amá níkaci'ga wawégaqai the to go not his grand- the she said that to Black bear the (pl.) men they are laughers mother him, they say. at them
 hě. Ē'di éjái-ā hě'. Iéiqáqa tai hě. Wasábe níkagahi éinké dáhe céhiče- 3
 There go not They laugh will Black bear chief the hill that dis-
 at you tant éan'di iŋi hě, á-biamá. Ē'ia éjái-ā hě', á-biamá. Égiče man'de gáiza-bi the (ev.) he she they say. Thither go not she they say. It came to bow he took his at pitcha said said pass own, they say his tent
 egu' é'di éçá-biamá Mactcin'ge. Wasábe níkagahi éinké'di Mactcin'ge having there he went they say Rabbit. Black bear chief the—to Rabbit amá é'di ahi-biamá. Ijébe é'di a-i-naji' xi xagé gaxá-biamá Mactcin'ge. 6 the there ar. they say. Door there he came to when crying he made they say Rabbit.
 (mv.) rived and stood at Mactcin'ge, éataⁿ éaxáge á, á-biamá Wasábe aká. Aⁿhaⁿ-negŋha—wa-Rabbit, why you cry I he they say Black bear the. Yes O mother's old
 said brother
 'újinga aká—éinégi—Wasábe—éinké'ia—ma'çi'—ā hě—af égaⁿ—aⁿçaⁿ husai woman the your moth- er's brother Black bear the—to walk thou said she having she scolded me égaⁿ—pi hă, á-biamá Mactcin'ge aká. Égiče an'de masániaja géin'-gă 9 having I have he they say Rabbit the. It came to side of the on the other side sit thou been coming said pass lodge hú, á-biamá Wasábe aká. Égiče Mactcin'ge é'di gŋiⁿ éinké amá. Haⁿ he they say Black bear the. It came to pass Rabbit there he was sitting, they say. Night
 said
 xi Mactcin'ge áci éçá-biamá. Áci ahi-bi egaⁿ iŋébe égaxé-qi já-biamá when Rabbit out of he they say. Out of ar. they having door round very danged, they doors went say about say say say Mactcin'ge aká. Hau! ingéé wiwíja, aⁿba wíuŋaⁿgu uŋagŋa'á'a tai hă, 12 Rabbit the. Well! feces my own, day as soon as you give the scalp. will yell

biamá. Níkgahi úju t'épíkíai hnankáçé, can'de çaⁿ eçé há, á-bi egaⁿ, they say. Chief princel they killed for ye who are, scrotum the that is . said they having, wétiⁿ-biamá. Haú! Mactein'ge éwaⁿi há. Çiqá-ba t'éçai-gá há, á-biamá.
he hit them with it, Well! Rabbit caused it . Chase and kill him . said they say.
Wéahidé'-qti-áyahí uqéá-bi egaⁿ t'éça-biamá. Júga beúga çiepácpa-qti 3 Far away very at it ar- overtook they having killed they say. Body whole pulled into very riving him say him him small pieces egaⁿ a'ça-biamá. Iyaⁿ çinkédi xáci kí-áji amá Mactein'ge Gaⁿ içaⁿ having threw away they say. His grand- the-to a long reached they Rabbit. And big grandmother mother say mother aká ugiñe açé gaⁿçai-biamá. Wa'újinga aká uqéúqaha çaⁿ gçíza-bi egaⁿ the to seek to go wished they say. Old woman the woman's bag the took her they having her own own say
Mactein'ge ugiñe açá-biamá. Águdi té'di t'éçai té jaⁿ'bo tégaⁿ uúne bçéç 6 Rabbit to seek went they say. In want the-in they killed the I see it in order I seek it I am her own place him him that going hç, á-biamá wa'újinga aká. É'di ahí-bi egaⁿ çiepácpai gç bahí-bi egaⁿ she said they say old woman the. There ar- they having pieces pulled the picked they having up say uqéúqaha çaⁿ úji maⁿçaiⁿ-bi té'di, Aⁿhaⁿ, Mactein'ge, naxíde-çin'ge. Jí woman's bag the sllag walked they when, Yes, Rabbit, inner-ear there-none. Lodge gáamá naxíde-çin'gai égaⁿ é'di çáji-á hç, ché çaⁿ caⁿ çí égaⁿ téççai. 9 those they are disobedient as there go not . I said in the yet you as they killed
you.
Agçá-biamá wa'újinga, uqéúqaha çaⁿ gçíza-bi egaⁿ. Aki-bi egaⁿ újila Went homeward, old woman, woman's bag the carried on they having. Reached they having sack they say her back say home say çaⁿ gamú-bi egaⁿ Mactein'ge niⁿja-biamá. Içaⁿbaⁿ çáji-á hç. Jí çaⁿ the emptied by pouring out having Rabbit alive they say. A second time go not . Village the naxíde-çin'gai hç, á-biamá. Mactein'ge aká, Bçé tá minke, eçégaⁿ-biamá. 12 they are disobedient she said they say. Rabbit the, I go will I who, he thought they say.
Man'de gçíza-bi egaⁿ açá-biamá Wasábe jii çaⁿ ahí-bi té'di Wasábe Bow took his they own say having went they say. Black bear village the arrived, when Black bear
they say they say
wí haⁿ'bça-biamá. Wasábe xagç'-qti-hnaⁿ najiⁿ-biamá. Çí, átaⁿ ajaⁿ one had a dream, they say. Black bear crying very habitu- stood they say. And why you do ally it á-biamá. Haⁿ'abçé-de píjii hçgaji içaⁿhaⁿbçé há. Bçúga-qti t'éawaçai 15 said, they say. I had a dream but had not a little I dreamed about it . All very they killed us içaⁿhaⁿbçé há. Aⁿhaⁿ, wí çti t'éçai içaⁿhaⁿbçé há, á-biamá. Úaⁿçin'ge
I dreamed about . Yes, I too me-they I dreamed about . said they say. To no purpose it killed it he haⁿ'abçé há. Áqtaⁿ bçúga t'éawaçé tába. Wasábe amá nfkaci'ga enáyou had a dream How possi- all they kill us shall! Black bear the (pl.) human beings alone
ble
qti wáçatá-biamá; ádaⁿ Mactein'ge nfkaci'ga wíukí-bi egaⁿ bçúga-qti 18 very they ate they say; therefore Rabbit mankind aided with them, having all very them they say
t'éwaçé gaⁿçai-biamá. Wasábe jii çaⁿ é'di ahí-bi egaⁿ haⁿ'daⁿ jii çaⁿ to kill them desired they say. Black bear village the there arrived, having night-during village the
they say égaçé-qti jii-biamá Mactein'ge aká. Haú! ingçé wiwíja, aⁿ'ba saⁿ tihé round very dunged, they about Rabbit the. Well! feces my own, day distant ap-suddenly

18 THE CEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- qi ugčá'a'á-gā, á-biamá. Wasábe bčúga t'éa'wa'ččé tai há á-biamá.
 when give ye the scalp-yell, said, they say. Black bear all we kill them will said they say.
- Wita'č'i'-qti wa'i'aba' tá minke há. Ékita' ugčá'a'á-gā há, á-biamá.
 I at the first very I give the attack- will I who At the same give ye the scalp- time yell said they say.
- 3 A'ba úwapaŋga wa'i'ba'-biamá Maetein'ge aká. Bčúga-qti ugčá'a'á-Day as soon as he gave the at- they say Rabbit the. All very they gave the scalp-yell tacking cry
- biamá n'aci'ga amá. Wasábe bčúga áci ahf-biamá. Bčúga-qti t'éwačé-they say person the (pl.). Black bear all out of doors they came, they All very they killed them
- biamá Wasábe-má. Núga wi' mi'ga wi' edábe ugácta-biamá. Wasábe they say Black bear the (pl.). Male one female one also remained they say. Black bear
- 6 na'ba-má Maetein'ge účá'-biamá. Maetein'ge amá úwakiá-biamá Wa-two the Rabbit them he took hold Rabbit the talked with they say Black (pl.) of, they say. (mv.) them
- súbe-má. Čipibajl ega' wagaččeka ená-qti wahnáto taité, á-biamá.
 bear the You bad being meet only very you eat shall surely, said they say.
 (pl.)
- Wanáxi čeiŋ'ge taité. I'na'há winógi edábe ččénte taité. Wasábe Spirit you have shall surely. My mother my mother's brother also they eat shall surely, Black bear
 none
- 9 ečfge taité. Ma'č'i'gā. Četa'.
 they say shall surely. Walk ye. So far.

NOTES.

15, 2. ega-biama, fr. ege: to be distinguished from ga-biama.

15, 3. dahe cehiččandi. Let A denote the place of the speaker; B, dahe cekč, that visible long hill, a short distance off; b, dahe cčá, that visible curvilinear hill, a short distance off; C, dahe cehikč, that visible long hill, reaching a point farther away; c, dahe cehičá ditto, if curvilinear; D, dahe cehičekč, that visible long hill, extending beyond dahe cekč, and dahe cehikč; d, dahe cehiččá, that visible curvilinear hill, extending beyond dahe cčá and dahe cehičá.

A (line of vision) B $\square$ ---- U $\square$ ---- D $\square$;

A (line of vision) ---- B $\square$ ---- U $\square$ ---- D $\square$;

or, A (line of vision) ---- b ---- c ---- d.

15, 7. a'ha—negiha, etc. The Rabbit spoke as children sometimes do when crying.

16, 1. hegajiqti, pronounced he+gajiqti by the narrator.

16, 2. hegactewa'ji, pronounced he+gactewa'ji by the narrator.

16, 4. bčugaqti, pronounced bču+gaqti by the narrator.

16, 5. niaci'ga-bi ečega'-bi ega'. The -bi after niaci'ga shows that the Black bear, while he thought that there were men outside, had not seen them. See the Oto version of this myth, to appear hereafter in "The Loiwere Language, Part I."

TRANSLATION.

There was a Rabbit and his grandmother, too; he dwelt in a lodge with her. His grandmother said that to him: "Go not to the village of Black bears. The Black bears are abusers of men. Go not thither. They will abuse you. The Black bear chief has a lodge on a hill extending beyond that one in sight. Do not go thither," said she. And taking his bow, the Rabbit went thither. The Rabbit reached the chief of the Black bears. When he got there, and was standing by the door, the Rabbit pretended to be crying. "Rabbit, why do you cry?" said the Black bear. "Yes,—O mother's brother—the old woman—said—'Go to—your mother's brother—the Black bear'—and, having—scolded me—I have been coming hither," he said. At length the Black bear said, "Sit by the side of the lodge on the other side of (the fireplace)." And it came to pass that the Rabbit was sitting there. At night the Rabbit went out of the lodge. Having gone outside, the Rabbit dangled all around the door. "Well, my own fieces," said the Rabbit, "you will please give the scalp-yell as soon as it is day." As soon as it was day, behold, a very great multitude of persons gave the scalp-yell. "O mother's brother! an exceedingly large number of men dislodge us," said the Rabbit. "Though I should lie here a very long period (or, for many years), who could possibly dislodge me (or, cause me to move)?" said the Black bear. But every one of a large number of persons gave the scalp-yell many times. And thinking that it was people, the Black bear went out of the lodge. The Rabbit killed (wounded) the Black bear just as soon as he got outside. "O mother's brother! they have indeed killed you," said the Rabbit. Having killed him, he went homeward. And he reached his home at the lodge. "O grandmother! I have killed the Black bear chief," said he. "How would it be possible for you to kill him? To kill him is bad (or difficult)," she said. "Grandmother, I have killed him. Let us go (thither)," said he. The old woman arrived there with him. (See Wajitska's version.) "Grandmother, this is he," "Yes, my grandchild, it will do," said she. Having cut up the body, they carried it homeward on their backs. When they reached home, the Rabbit departed, carrying the scrotum of the Black bear. When he reached the village of the Black bears, they said: "The Rabbit has come! The Rabbit has come!" They made a great uproar. "Yes, I have come to tell news," said the Rabbit. "Halloo! the Rabbit has come, he says, to tell news." All of the Black bears went thither (to the lodge where the Rabbit was). They were at the lodge in great crowds. "Come, tell us the news," said they. "Yes, I will tell the news," said the Rabbit. "A great many persons, it is said, went to the principal chief of the Black bears, and killed him," said the Rabbit. "Our chief has been killed," said the Black bears. All the Black bears cried. "Ye who have had your head-chief killed, here is his scrotum." Having said this, he struck them with it. "Halloo! The Rabbit is to blame. Chase him and kill him," said they. They got to a place at a very great distance, and overtaking him, they laid hold of him, and killed him. They tore all of his body into small fragments, and threw them away. When a great while had elapsed, the Rabbit had not come home to his grandmother. And his grandmother wished to go and seek for him. The old woman took her bag, and went to search for the Rabbit. Said the old woman, "I go to search for him, that I may see the place where he was killed." Having reached there, she picked up the scattered pieces; and as she walked along putting them into the bag, she was saying: "Yes, Rabbit, you were disobedient. I said 'Those villagers are disobedient, so do not go thither'. Yet you went, and they killed you." The old woman went homeward, carrying the bag on her back. When she reached home, she poured out on the ground the contents of the bag, and the Rabbit was alive. "Go no more. The villagers are disobedient," she said. "I will go," thought the Rabbit. He seized his bow and departed. When he reached the Black bears' village, one Black bear had dreamed (or, had had a dream). The Black bear stood crying bitterly. They said, "Why do you do it?" Said he, "I dreamed, but I dreamed about something extremely bad. I dreamed that we were all killed. Yes, I dreamed that I too was killed." "You dreamed to no purpose. How could we all be killed?" The Black bears ate only human beings; therefore, the Rabbit, siding with mankind, wished to kill all of them. The Rabbit, having reached the Black bears' village, dangled all around it during the night. "Well! my own fieces," said he, "give ye the scalp-yell at early dawn. Let us kill all the Black bears. I will at the first give the signal for the attack. Do ye, at the same time, give the scalp-yell." As soon as it was day, the Rabbit gave the signal for the attack. The whole party of men gave the scalp-yell. All the Black bears came out. All of the Black bears were killed. One male and one female were left. The Rabbit took hold of the Black bears. The Rabbit talked with the Black bears: "You were bad, so you shall eat nothing but insects. You shall have no spirits (minds). My mothers and my mothers' brothers (that is, men and women, the whole human race) shall eat you. You shall be called Black bears (wa-sabe, the black animals). Walk ye (or depart ye)."

HOW THE RABBIT KILLED THE BLACK BEARS.

OMAHA VERSION, BY WAJIBSKA.

- Mactein'ge iya^{n'} einké júgigee ahí-biamá Ga^{n'}ki, ʔa^{n'}há, ʔe-jéga Rabbit his grand- the he with his ar. they say. And grand- buffalo thigh mother mother own rived mother, (upper leg)
- ké 'in'-gá, á-biamá. Júcpa^{n'}! wakan'daxícaí áda^{n'} na^{n'}powa^{n'}qé'-qtei the carry on said they say. O grandchild! he makes himself a deity therefore dangerous very your back, he
- 3 ja^{n'}i. A^{n'}na^{n'}-qíqíxe taí. Ubéí'age, á-biamá. Ké', ʔa^{n'}há, ca^{n'} ʔe-éfti^{n'} he lies. Me with crush many will. I am unwilling, said they say. Come, grandmother, then buffalo rib his leg times she
- 'in'-gá há, á-biamá. Wíncupá! éigéa^{n'}éi^{n'}, á-biamá. ʔéé ʔa^{n'} a^{n'}biteitcfe carry on said they say. My grandchild! you are silly, said they say. Side the me pressing on your back he
- taí; skíge hē, á-biamá. Qa-i! á-biamá, áwa^{n'} ʔa^{n'}i^{n'} te, á-biamá. Ga^{n'}, will; heavy said they say. What! said they say, where-the you carry will, said they say. And, she on your back he
- 6 dá ʔa^{n'} 'in'-gá há, éi á-biamá. Júcpa^{n'}! hí ké paí, égié a^{n'}éqíqíxe taí, head the carry on agn'n said they say. O grandchild! teeth the sharp, beware, me they crush will,
your back he
- á-biamá. Na^{n'}-ape teábe, á-biamá. Ki, Haú! ʔa^{n'}há, ʔe-man'ge ké 'in'-gá said she, they I am afraid of very said they say. And, Ho! grandmother, buf. breast the carry on
say. them
- há, á-biamá. Júcpa^{n'}! eé hē, á-biamá. Ga^{n'}ki jú ké u^{n'}áha gaxá-said they say. O grandchild! that is it . said they say. And mem. the joined to it he made he she drum circle

biamá. É gíŋa-biamá wa'újīnga. Gaⁿ, ké', ɣaⁿhá, mangŋin'-gā há.
 they say. That she re-joined they say old woman. And, come, grandmother, begone

ʔin'adaⁿ mangŋin'-gā há, á-biamá Mactein'ge aká. [Égiŋe mi'daⁿbe naⁿbá carry and begone said, they say Rabbit the. [At length hour two it on your back

té'di] uqéé cakí tá minke, á-biamá. Iɣaⁿ aká ʔin' agŋá-biamá. Kí gan'ki 3 at the quickly I come will I who, said I who. His grand- the carry. went homeward, And then you home to you mother ing on they say. her back uqéŋa ɕamú édegaⁿ gasnúg ɣaⁿ agŋá gan'ki jé ké uxídhá-qi ʔin'je ɕaⁿ hollow going down but slipped suddenly went and mem. the pushed its way very vagina the hill

iqéé-hnaⁿ-biamá. U-ú+! e-hnaⁿ-biamá. Gan'ki iŋeɕa é'di agŋá-biamá.
 went habitu- they say. Oh! oh! said only they say. And her grand- there went homeward, suddenly ally

Égiŋe iŋiŋá-biamá. Giŋaⁿba-biamá. Íbetaⁿ agŋá-biamá. Páŋi ínahiⁿ 6 it came to he found they say. He saw his they say. Pacing went they say. Bad truly
 his own wa'újīnga gáxai, eŋégaⁿ agŋá-biamá. Gan'ki ɣí tŋa akí-biamá Ma-old woman did, thinking went homeward they say. And lodge the-at reached home, Rab-

 they say.

etein'ge-ʔin' amá. Gan'ki iɣaⁿ amá gaⁿté-qi akí-biamá. Gaⁿ, Étaⁿ bit the. And his grand- the (mv.) a while very reached home, And Why mother

naⁿhniⁿ, á-biamá. Júepaɕaⁿ! Éŋiŋi jín'ga ikágewaɕáɕe amá an'kipai 9 you walk, said they say. O grandchild! Pawnee young you have them for the (pl.) they met me he friends

egaⁿ juan'ge akí; waɕátankiŋai egaⁿ agŋé-máji. Gan'ki kí amá ɣí having with me they they caused me to eat having I did not come And reached they when reached home; home.

gan'ki iɣaⁿ ɕínké wakéga, á-biamá. Wamí hébe gíⁿɕa ɕéɕa-biamá.
 then his grand- the sick, she said, they say. Blood piece he threw sent they say.
 mother

Iɣaⁿ ɕínké wamí-áŋgaⁿ gíáxa-biamá. ɣaⁿhá, píŋi-ŋteí ekáxe. Áci 12 his grand- the blood disper (f) he made they say. Grandmother, bad very you did. Out of mother for her maⁿɕín'-gā. ɣaⁿhá, áci uhan'-gā. Ú-ɕaⁿ waɕáɣiⁿ ɣe-man'ge áci gŋátawalk. Grandmother, out of cook. That (ev. ob.) you carried it but breast out of doors eat your

gā há, á-biamá. Júepaɕaⁿ! t'cágiŋé-qi-maⁿ oná, á-biamá. Égaⁿ taté, own said they say. O grandchild! I kill my own very I do ! said they say. So it shall be,

ingŋaⁿ! á-biamá Mactein'ge iɣaⁿ aká.
 O first son! said, they say Rabbit his grand- the mother

15

NOTES.

The above fragment of this myth was given by Wajin'ska, an Omaha. Mr. La-Flèche admitted that there was such a part, but thought it could be omitted.

21, 2. egíŋe mi'daⁿbe naⁿba tédi. This is evidently a modern addition, made by the narrator.

21, 11. wami hebe, etc. The Rabbit took some coagulated blood from the piece of the Black bear, and threw it suddenly against his grandmother, causing thereby the first attack of the catamenia. From that time women have been so affected; and, as in the case of the old woman they have been compelled to stay out of the lodge during that period.

TRANSLATION.

The Rabbit arrived there (where he had killed the Black Bear chief) with his grandmother. And, "Grandmother, carry the thigh on your back," he said. "O grandchild! he made himself a god, therefore he is very dangerous, even when he is lying down. He might crush me with his leg. I am unwilling," said she. "Come, grandmother!" said he, "then carry the ribs on your back." "My grandchild, you are foolish. The ribs will break in my side; they are heavy," she said. "What! where is the part which you will carry on your back?" he said. And, "Carry," said he, "the head on your back." "O grandchild! the teeth are sharp, and they might crush me," she said. "I am very much afraid of them," said she. And he said, "Come, grandmother, carry the breast on your back." "O grandchild! that is it," said she. And he made the membrum virile to be with it. The old woman rejoiced on account of that. And the Rabbit said, "Come, grandmother, begone. Carry it on your back and begone." "By and by [in two hours] I will come home to you quickly," said he. His grandmother went homeward carrying it on her back. And then she would have gone down hill at a valley, but she slipped suddenly as she went homeward, and the membrum virile penetrated as far as the os tinæ. "U-ü+!" she continued saying. And her grandchild came to her on his way home. At length he found her. He saw her. He passed around (avoided) her, and went homeward. "The old woman has done very wrong," thought he as he went homeward. And the Rabbit reached his home at the lodge. And after a great while his grandmother arrived at home. And he said, "Why have you been walking?" (Or, "What was the matter with you?") "O grandchild! some young Pawnees, your friends, having met me, went home with me (that is, they took her to their home). As they made me eat, I did not come home." And when they reached home his grandmother said that she was sick. He threw pieces of blood on her with sudden force. He made a catamenial cloth for his grandmother. "Grandmother, you have done very wrong. Go out of doors. Grandmother, cook out of doors. Eat your own piece out of doors, that breast which you carried on your back," said he. "O grandchild! I have killed my own (relation or property)!" said she. "It shall surely be so, Inŋça," said the Rabbit's grandmother.

HOW THE RABBIT KILLED A GIANT.

OBTAINED FROM FRANK LAFÈCHE.

1. Jāqti-gŋkidābi akā ēdedī akāma. Wanŋa dādaⁿ t'ēwaŋaⁱ ēctēwaⁿ Deer-they-shoot-for. the there was, they Animal what they killed notwithstandhim say. ing
 2. Inaⁿpe-hnaⁿi 'i-biamā. Ki mā tŋhe amā ŋi ekaⁿŋe aŋā-biamā. Ki fearing him habitually they gave to him, And snow was lying, they when to dialogue went they say. And on account ally they say. say (game)
 3. Maectin'ge-iⁿ amā eti ōdi aŋā-biamā. Gataⁿ-ŋti t'ēwaŋe etēgaⁱ āhaⁿ Rabbit the (mv.) too there went they say. At last to kill them apt
 1

e'égá"-bi xī ō'di a'á-biamá L'áqti-gikidábi aká. Kí Macteinge-i' amá thought they when there he went, they say L'áqti-gikidabi the. And Rabbit the (mv.)
 juéí waná'a"-bí ega' ō'di a'á-biamá. Égiçe níaci'ga na'ba táqti kídé sound of he heard they having there went they say. It came to person two deer shooting t'écé akáma, dáda-báji naji' akáma. Kagéha, dádega"-i-gá há. Eáta" 3 had killed it, they say, cutting it not were standing, they say. Friend, do cut ye it Why éanájí"i á, áb ega' dáde átiáçé'-qti-a"-biamá. Kagéha, éga"i édega" do ye stand ? said, they having to cut it he began very they say. Friend, it is so but L'áqti-gikidábi amá wáa'na"paí há. Cí+ete! á-biamá Macteín'-ge-i' aká.
 L'áqti-gikidabi the we fear them Fle! said, they say Rabbit the.
 L'áqti-gikidábi úr'e çingé ada" na'çapaí á. Çádai-gá. Wáçá"i" táí há, 6 L'áqti-gikidabi death he has none there-fore you fear him ? Cut ye it up. You carry it will on your backs á-biamá. Ga'ki dáda-b ega' ú"i" xiyáxa-biamá. Çicta"-qti-bi xī L'áqtisaid they say. And cut it up, having packs hands for they say. They an- very they when L'áqtigikidábi amá atí-biamá Kí táqti dúbá mí-wagça"-máma. L'áekahi gikidabi the (mv.) had come, they And deer four he was carrying them in his belt, as he moved. Oak tree tan'ga"-qti man'dé a'á" amáma. A"çan'çana"pa-báji çanahi"i á. Wí"na"wa 9 large very he was having, they say. Are ye not afraid of me ye truly ? Which Inankáçé éoni"i á. Céká Macteín'-ge-i' aká dáde wágaji ega" a"dádai ye who ye are that ? That one Rabbit the told us having we cut it up há, á-biamá na"bá aká. Eáta" a"çac'ajé'-qte-i á, á-biamá. Macteín'-ge-i' said, they say two the. Why do ye take it in my pres-ence, without hesitation I said they say. Rabbit pèji'-qteí! ietá tan'ga pèji'-qteí! í jáma pèji'-qteí! E'a"-qti éoni"i áda", 12 had very! oye big had very! mouth forked had very! What great (person) that you are á-biamá Macteín'-ge-i' aká Qéñáji najin'-gá. Égiçe wamí uwídita" té.
 said, they say Rabbit the. Uttering nothing stand. Beware blood I press you feet.
 Cí+ete! wamí a"wa"bitan'gá. Çikúça-gá, çikúça-gá ehé há. Wamí Fle! blood press me down in. Hurry, hurry, I say Blood a"wa"bitan'gá ehé há, L'áqti-gikidábi-á. Yu'ç' a'á-b ega' wamí ubíta"- 15 press me down in I say L'áqti-gikidabi O! Rushing went, they having blood pressed him down in biamá L'áqti-gikidábi aká. Wamí áçahahá-qteí páha"-biamá Macteín'-ge-i' they say L'áqti-gikidabi the. Blood streaming from him arose they say Rabbit aká. Cí+ete! áb ega' eí ákiçá-biamá L'áqti-gikidabi aká. Çéama na"
 the. Fle! said, they having again he attacked him, L'áqti-gikidabi the. These fear çipaí ega' áçikíçan-báji-hna"i; wí na" wipa máji ega' áwikíçan tá míñke. 18 thee became they do not attack habitually I I fear the not because I attack thee will I who.
 Qéñáji naji"-i-gá. Égiçe máxe wídija" te há. Máxe a"wa"bijan'gá.
 Uttering stand ye. Beware, sky I blow ye lest Sky blow me into.
 Çikúça-gá, L'áqti-gikidábi-á. Macteín'-ge-i' çizáb ega' máxaxa bihiçan Hurry, L'áqti-gikidabi O! Rabbit he took, they having into the sky he blew him

24 THE ƆEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- ƆéƆa-biamá. Naⁿíádjé Ɔugí amá. Kí kan'gě-qtei gǫf ɣi ei bihiƆa with-and. they say. Kicking out his legs he was coming And near very he had when again he blew den force back. him
- ƆéƆa-biamá. Caⁿ égaⁿ bihiƆa ƆéƆé nájíⁿ-biamá Ɔáqti-gikidabi aká.
 with-and. they say. For some time he blew him with-and. he stood they say Ɔáqti-gikidabi the.
 den force
- 3 Ataⁿ-qti tan'de áataⁿ etéetěwaⁿ t'éwíƆé tá mínke, á-biamá Mactein'ge-iⁿ Whenever ground I tread soever I kill thee will I who, said, they say Rabbit
 on it
- aká ÉgiƆe Ɔáqti-gikidabi aká uǵéa amá. Mactein'ge-iⁿ aká tan'de kě the. It came to pass Ɔáqti-gikidabi the was weary they say. Rabbit the ground the pass
- átaⁿ-biamá. Kí man'dě kě gǫfa-biamá. Kí Ɔáqti-gikidabi kída-biamá.
 trod on they say. And bow the took his own they say. And Ɔáqti-gikidabi he shot at they say.
 at
- 6 Kí ictá-qti Ɔaⁿ 'á-biamá. Kí Ɔáqti-gikidabi t'é amá. Kí Ɔéamá taⁿ-
 And eye very the he wounded him, they say. And Ɔáqti-gikidabi was dead, they say. And these na-
 they say.
- waŋgǫaⁿ amá gíƆé-qti-aⁿ-biamá. Kí Mactein'ge-iⁿ amá agǫá-biamá.
 tions the rejoiced very they say. And Rabbit the (adv.) went homeward, they say.
 they say.
- Akí-bi ɣíɣi ɣaⁿ ak édedí akáma. ɣaⁿhá, Ɔáqti-gikidabi t'éafé há, Reached when his grand- the there she was, Grandmother, Ɔáqti-gikidabi I killed home, they say mother they say. him
- 9 á-biamá. Ietá pǵi-qtei! e t'éƆé úmaká-qtei-báǵi, á-biamá ɣaⁿ aká.
 said they say. Eye had very! that to kill easy very not, said they say his grand- mother the.
 he
- ɣaⁿhá, t'éafé-gaⁿ eƆhe há, á-biamá Mactein'ge-iⁿ aká.
 Grand- I killed him so I say that said, they say Rabbit the.
 mother,

NOTES.

This is but a fragment of the original myth, being all that Frank remembered. He said that more followed the killing of the giant; and Mr. Sanssouci related a part that precedes what is given here.

23, 3. ɖadegaⁿi-gǫ, contr. from ɖade egaⁿi-gǫ. So ab egaⁿ, from á-bi egaⁿ; ɖada-b egaⁿ, from ɖada-bi egaⁿ; aƆa-b egaⁿ, and Ɔiza-b egaⁿ, in this myth.

23, 11. aⁿƆaeⁿje, equal to ie t'é aⁿajuaǵi (in the 9th myth).

TRANSLATION.

There was (a giant called) Ɔáqti-gikidabi (He-for-whom-they-shoot-Deer). No matter what animals they killed, they always gave them to him, being afraid of him (that is, afraid not to give him the game). And when snow was lying (on the ground), they went to dislodge the game from their coverts. And the Rabbit too went thither. And when he thought "At last they will be apt to kill him (Ɔáqti-gikidabi)!" Ɔáqti-gikidabi went thither. And the Rabbit heard the sounds of shooting; so he went thither. It came to pass that two men had shot and killed a deer; and were standing without cutting it up. "Friends, do cut it up. Why do you stand?" Having said this, he commenced very quickly to cut it up. "Friend, it is so, but we are afraid on account of Ɔáqti-gikidabi." "For shame!" said the Rabbit. "Do you fear Ɔáqti-gikidabi because he is immortal? Cut it up. You can carry it on your backs," said he. And having cut it up, they made packs for themselves. Just when they had finished it, jaqti-gikidabi came. And he carried four deer in his belt. He walked, having a very large oak tree for a bow. "Are ye not truly afraid of me when ye see me? Which kind of persons are ye?" (said the giant). "That one, the Rabbit, commanded us to cut it up, and so we cut it up," said the two. "Why do ye take it before me, and that without hesitation?" said he. "You very bad Rabbit! You very bad big-eyes! You very bad forked-mouth!" "What great (man) are you (that you talk so? or, what is the great trouble that affects you, that you talk thus)?" "Stand still, else I will press you down in the blood" (said jaqti-gikidabi). "Shame on you! Press me down in the blood. Hurry, hurry! I say, you jaqti-gikidabi!" Rushing on him, jaqti-gikidabi pressed him down in the blood. The Rabbit arose with the blood streaming from him in all directions. (The Rabbit) having said, "Shame on you!" jaqti-gikidabi attacked him again. "These fear you, so they do not attack you! I do not fear you, so I will attack you" (said the Rabbit). "Stand ye still, lest I blow you up into the sky" (said the giant). "Blow me up into the sky! Hurry, O jaqti-gikidabi!" Having seized the Rabbit, he blew him up into the sky with sudden force. He was coming down (hither, to earth) with his legs kicking out repeatedly. And when he (the Rabbit) had come back very near (to earth), he (the giant) blew him up again with sudden force. And so jaqti-gikidabi stood for some time, blowing him up into the sky again and again with sudden force. "Whosoever I tread on the ground again I will kill you," said the Rabbit. It came to pass that jaqti-gikidabi was weary. The Rabbit trod on the ground. And he took his bow. And he shot at jaqti-gikidabi. And he wounded him right in the eye. And jaqti-gikidabi was dead. And these nations rejoiced very much.

And the Rabbit went homeward. When he arrived at home, his grandmother was there. Said he, "O grandmother! I have killed jaqti-gikidabi." "You very bad eyes! It is not at all easy to kill that one," said his grandmother. "Grandmother, I say that because I have killed him," said the Rabbit.

HOW THE RABBIT WENT TO THE SUN.

OBTAINED FROM NUDA^{n'}-AXA.

Pahan'ga tō'di aqā-biamá Mactein'ge amá. ya^{n'}há, máca^{n'} uáxine Before when went they say Rabbit the (inv.). Grandmother, feathers I hunt for myself béc tá mìnke, á-biamá. Íciate' íciate'é+! máca^{n'} áwaké'di úmaká-qtei
 I go will I who said, they say. (Fem. intj. of wonder, &c.) feathers in what place easy very íqāqē tada^{n'}+, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} aqā-biamá, tan'de áqitá-qtei sna^{n'}sua^{n'}-qtei 3 you find will? said they say. And he went they say ground going by very level very a near way
 ga^{n'} xagé aqā-biamá. Négi-haú+!! négi-haú+!! é-hna^{n'} aqā-biamá. Unaf so crying he went they say. Mother's brother O!! mother's brother O!! say- only he went they say Seeking
 ing
 amá Qíqé amá e ma^{n'}xe íbisande atú-qi gawí^{n'}xe amáma. Ma^{n'}qí^{n'}- the one Eagle the (pl.) that sky pressing far very were flying round and round, They walked who against (beyond) they say.

26 THE QEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- biamá akiwa caⁿ xi-ñuwiⁿxe gaⁿ maⁿñiⁿ-biamá. *Q*camá aⁿñize tá they say both and turning themselves so they walked they say. These me-take will
- amá, á-biamá. Hútaⁿ-hnaⁿ-biamá Qíça amá: T-t-t-t, é-hnaⁿ-biamá. *E*giçe the (pl.) said they say Crying they say Eagle the (pl.) said only they say. It came he to pass
- 3 áma amá iénaxíçe a-í-biamá paháciaya. Gaⁿ çizá-biamá. Gaⁿ aⁿñiⁿ agñiⁿ other the to attack was they say up above. And took they say. And having one (mv.) him coming him him homeward.
- tē. Gaⁿ aⁿñiⁿ akl-biamá. Maⁿxe kē paháciaya aⁿñiⁿ akl-biamá. *E*giçe And him they reached home, the up above having they reached home, It came they say. (horizontal) him they say. him
- ñi çededi té amá Iⁿdádi waⁿ uⁿdaⁿ ñahíⁿ aⁿñiⁿ gñí hā, á-biamá (*Q*íçalodge It was there they say. My father dome good truly having has come said they say (Eagle) mul him
- 6 jñnga aka). Gaⁿ, Jiⁿñcha, qtaⁿñiçe teábe, á-biamá Qíçajinga aká. Gaⁿlittle the. And. O elder brother, we love thee very much, said, they say Eagle the. I (mv.).
aⁿñiⁿhⁿ-hnaⁿ çaⁿja èbe qtaⁿñiçe teé, á-biamá (*M*acteiⁿge aká). Gaⁿ manⁿgçe for some only though who love me will, said they say (Rabbit) the. And erect
- jé-musnade gaⁿ gñiⁿ-(biamá). E qtiñai Qíçajinga amá, úduⁿ-qti-lmaⁿon his hind legs thus sat (they say). That they loved Eagle the (pl.) good very only
- 9 biamá. Gaⁿ gá-biamá: É áwatetaⁿ çati, á-biamá (*Q*íçajinga aká). Caⁿ guⁿ they say. And said as follows: That whence (f) have you said they say (Eagle) the. For no special they say: come he reason
- tanⁿde áçija maⁿñiⁿ-de çíadi gaⁿ aⁿñizai, á-biamá. Gaⁿ, çíadi aⁿba atuⁿ ground across by I walked when your thus took me, said they say. And, Your a near way father day what
time
- téⁿdi gñiⁿ-hnaⁿ i, á-biamá (*M*acteiⁿge aká). Iⁿdádi amá mⁿ áçaⁿabéⁿ-qti at has come habitu- I said they say (Rabbit) the. My father the son going slanting very back ally he (mv.)
- 12 hí téⁿdi éⁿdi agñiⁿ-hnaⁿ, maqpi jinⁿga búja ánaska-qteñⁿ-qtei edftaⁿ ni arrives when then has come habitu- cloud small round each one of what size (f) from it water there back ally
- wiⁿ-çaⁿñiⁿ-qtei uqpiçe-hnaⁿ égaⁿ téⁿdi agñiⁿ-hnaⁿ, á-biamá. *E*giçe one at a time very falling so when has come habitu- said they say. It came back ally he to pass
- gá-biamá: Jiⁿñcha, áwatégaⁿ xi é égiⁿ, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, á-biamá, çé said as follows, O elder brother, of what sort when that you do that said, they say. Yes, said, they say, this
they say:
- 15 aⁿetaⁿñai té *Ç*á çaⁿ iⁿñé añⁿkigçasanⁿdai, á-biamá. Jiⁿñcha, égaⁿ wáxai-gñ, me ye see the head the stone they hit me between said they say. O elder brother, so treat us, (two stones) he
- á-biamá (*Q*íçajinga aká). Wanⁿgiçe ce çagñiⁿ te, á-biamá. Égaⁿ añgeiⁿ said, they say (Eagle) the. All that you sit will, said they say. So we sit
he
- tai, á-biamá. Gaⁿ égaⁿ wáxá-biamá. Wiⁿ çink étaⁿñiⁿ gaⁿxiçe çéça-biamá; will, said they say. And so he treated they say. One the him that he crushed sent they say;
he then by hitting forcibly
- 18 isañⁿga çinké ei égaⁿ gaqñiⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ mácaⁿ wáçinudá-biamá. Ki his younger brother the again so he killed they say. And feathers he pulled them they say. And by hitting out
- uñiqaⁿçé çéça-biamá tanⁿde kéça. Gaⁿ mácaⁿ té kaⁿtaⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ cé making full by he sent they say ground to the. And fathers the he tied they say. And that pulling forcibly
- uñai etégaⁿ amá: iñadi amá agí átiáçen-biamá. Égaⁿ çisanⁿga mégaⁿ cé-they told it was as (f): his father the was com- suddenly they say. So, your younger brother him (mv.) lug back

kě ɕizáí-ga há, á-biamá. Wé's'á kě amégaⁿ aɕiⁿ akí-bi ɣi ubúhaⁿ-biamá the take yo said they say. Snake the them-like (f) having it reached when he pushed they say (lg. ob.) he (lg. ob.) home, they say ɣi gaɕixē-ɕti ɕéɕa-biamá. Gaⁿ amá ihaⁿ amá ugúhanaɕáze uhan'ge kě when crushing very he sent they say. After a while his the (mv.) darkness (first) end the him in forcibly mother ɕkitaⁿhá-ɕtei aɣi átiúɕa-biamá. ɕisan'ga mégaⁿ ɕéke ɕizáí-á, á-biamá. 3 at the same very was com- suddenly they say. Your younger likewise that (lg. ob.) take ye, said they say.
 time ing back brother
 Ci égaⁿ wé's'á wiⁿ aɕiⁿ akí-biamá. Gaⁿ gaɕéí-biamá ci ihaⁿ ɕínké.
 Again so snake one having it reached home, And he killed her, they say again his the.
 they say. mother
 Gaⁿ mácaⁿ ci ɕionúde ɕɕiⁿ-biamá, kaⁿtaⁿ ɕɕiⁿ-biamá, ki gaⁿ'ki xagé
 And feathers again pulling out of he sat they say, tying he sat they say, and also crying ɕɕiⁿ-biamá. Mácaⁿ ɕiⁿ-bi égaⁿ aɕá-biamá. Gaⁿ xagé aɕé amáma. 6
 he sat they say. Feathers he carried having he went they say. And crying he was going, they say.
 Eɕiɕe ɣi wiⁿ ɕedéí té amá. E'di nhí-biamá Gaⁿ xagé najiⁿ taⁿ amá.
 It came lodge one there it was, they say. There he arrived, they say. And crying he was standing they say.
 Wa'ú aká ugá's'ín amá; éɕiɕe iɣaⁿ akáma. Gaⁿ akáma. M! á-biamá.
 Woman the peeped they say; It came his grand- was, they say. After standing a while, M! said she, they say.
 to pass mother say.
 Éátaⁿ-ɕtei maⁿhniⁿ á, á-biamá. Gaⁿ, Mácaⁿ uáɣine áhigiáɕiɕé ki gaⁿ'ki 9 Why very you walk I said they say. And, Feathers I seek for I made many for and also she myself myself aɕéé táté akíqibé ádaⁿ axáge-hnaⁿ-maⁿ, á-biamá. M! á-biamá wa'ú
 I go shall I hesitate hear- therefore I have been doing nothing said they say. M! said they say woman homeward ing future but cry, he aká. Náciⁿga wiⁿ juáwagé-de píbaɕi. Uɕé ɕagɕé te Wanáɕiⁿ-á hě, tho. Person one I with them but bad. Quickly you go will. Hasten thou
 homeward
 á-biamá. Leɕiⁿhiⁿde ɕaⁿská-ɕtei ngɕiⁿ-biamá Maɕein'ge aká. Mácaⁿ tedi 12 said they say. Woven yarn that size very sat in it they say Rabbit tho. Feathers to the she (urban) kaⁿtaⁿ-biamá. ɕe ɕagɕé te ɕaⁿ'ja ɕnki tē'di búde iⁿɕiⁿwaⁿ'jí te, á-biamá.
 he tied it they say. This you go will though you reach when red-oak put in it for me said she, they homeward home home acorn, say.
 Tan'de kě áɕataⁿ ɣi hniⁿp'ande té, á-biamá. Gaⁿ ɕietaⁿ ɕéɕa-biamá.
 Ground the you tread when shake it by pull- will said they say. And letting him sent him back sud-on ing denly, they say.
 Akí-biamá ɣi ítaɕewaɕi-biamá Maɕein'ge amá. ɕa'ɕewaɕi ɕínké íqtaⁿ 15
 He reached home, when he was hateful they say Rabbit the (mv.). She pitied him the one he abused
 they say. she biamá, újha új-biamá. Gaⁿ'ki ɕip'an'da-biamá, gaⁿ'ki ɕéɕai tē. Ki they say, bag he dunged in, they say. And he shook it they say, and she took her own. And her gaⁿ mácaⁿ giⁿ'bi-égaⁿ ugá-biamá. Gaⁿ'ki akí-biamá. ɣaⁿhá, aɕéí thus feathers carrying his having he went homeward, And he reached home, Grandmother, I have own, they say they say. they say. come home hau, á-biamá. ɕaɕúba-biamá: íɕiate' íɕiate'ɕ! á-biamá. Mácaⁿ tē, ɣaⁿhá, 18
 I said they say. She spoke in they say: wonder said they say. Feathers the grand-
 he she mother
 aⁿ'n' aɕéí, á-biamá. Ki gá-biamá: ɕinegi áhigí-ɕti maⁿ gáxewakiɕá-á hě, I ear- I have said they say. And she said us fol- Your moth- many very arrow came them to make Red come he lows, they say: er's brothers á-biamá. Éɕiɕe gá-biamá, ɣaⁿhá, ɕátaⁿ ádaⁿ, á-biamá. Ki gá-biamá:
 said they say. It came he said us fol- Grandmother, where- I said they say. And she said us fol-she to pass lows, they say: fore he lows, they say:

28 THE PEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- Ḍahé wi^{n'} edí aká níkaci^{n'}ga ꜑é caⁿ the ꜑iⁿ ꜑ahúni-hna^{n'}i, á-biamá. Gaⁿ, hill one there the person going and passing the draws into habitu- ally said they say. And
- Gá m^{n'}be tá múnke, á-biamá. Í꜑iate' í꜑iate'e+! eka^{n'}aji g꜑i^{n'}-á hē, á-biamá.
That I see will I who, said they say, he still sit thou said they say, (unseen)
- 3 An^{n'}kaji, caⁿ m^{n'}be tá múnke, á-biamá. U꜑í'agē-qti ca^{n'} da^{n'}be a꜑á-biamá.
Not so, at any rate I see it will I who, said they say. She unwill- very still to see it he they say.
- Égi꜑e é'di ahi-biamá. ꜑é Ḍahé-wa꜑áhuni hni^{n'}, é'dí hni^{n'}ké amá, á-biamá.
It came there he arrived, they say. This hill that devours you are, there you who they say, he they say, to pass
- A^{n'}꜑ahúni-gá, á-biamá. M^{n'}ci-qti égaⁿ ꜑asni^{n'}i-biamá. Égi꜑e xihá a-f akáma.
Draw me into your mouth he said they say. A long very no he was swallowed they say. It came down he was coming, to pass
- 6 Égi꜑e níaci^{n'}ga wí꜑asni^{n'} ita^{n'}꜑iadi wahi qéga-qti, ga^{n'}ki m^{n'}ú á꜑askábē
It came to pass person he swallowed formerly lone dried very, and fish sticking to
- násage-má, ki i^{n'}tea^{n'}-qtei t'e-má efi, t'e té'di a꜑i^{n'} ahi, dī ꜑a^{n'}-hna^{n'} ní꜑a dried hard them- and lately very dead, them- too, dead unto having reached liver the only alive
- gáxe ja^{n'}-biamá. Ga^{n'}ki ní꜑a wasé꜑aⁿ amé ahi-biamá Mactei^{n'}ge-i^{n'} amá.
made lay they say. And alive (and) active ones he reached, they say Rabbit the.
- 9 Cí-ci-cí-ci! ꜑éma djúba, á-biamá Mactei^{n'}ge-i^{n'} aká. Ḍahé-wa꜑áhuni Cí-ci-cí-ci! these few, said they say he Rabbit the. Hill that devours
- ꜑é-nande waci^{n'}-qti n'é'ē-qti g꜑i^{n'}-biamá. Tēná! gágē hnáte tai-éde, buf. heart fat very dangling very it sat they say. Why! those you should have eaten
- á-biamá. Má꜑a^{n'}-biamá, ꜑é-nande má꜑a꜑á-biamá. Ḍahé ké ꜑enzi꜑e said they say. He cut it off, they say, buf. heart he cut into many they say. Hill the it split open
- 12 amá. ꜑e níkaci^{n'}ga amá wasé꜑aⁿ amá Ḍahé ké ꜑enzi꜑e ékita^{n'} wasísi꜑á-they say. This person the quick the hill the split open at the active
- biamá. Kí gá-biamá: Mactei^{n'}ge ta^{n'}wa^{n'}in'g꜑aⁿ tai, á-biamá. Nlawá꜑ai, they say. And they said as fol- low, they say: Rabbit we make a nation for will, said they say. He made us live
- á-biamá. Kí, Jí ugínai-gá, águdi ꜑atí éi^{n'}te, á-biamá. Maŋgei^{n'}i-gá, said they say. And, Lodge seek ye your own, where you have may said they say. Begone ye,
- 15 á-biamá (Mactei^{n'}ge-i^{n'} aká). Gaⁿ égaⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ ag꜑á-biamá Mactsaid they say he (Rabbit) the. And so it they say. And he went homeward, Rab-
- ci^{n'}ge amá. M^{n'}há, eakí, á-biamá. Í꜑iate' í꜑iate'é+! á-biamá. M^{n'}há hit the (inv.). Grandmother, I come said they say. he said they say. Grand- mother
- Ḍahé-wa꜑áhuni ulná ke꜑a^{n'} t'é꜑é, á-biamá. M+! eé t'é꜑é údaⁿ Hill that devours you told in the past I have said they say. M+! that to kill it good
- 18 akáma-꜑a^{n'}. Éátca^{n'}-qtei t'éwa꜑á꜑é te꜑i^{n'}te, á-biamá. Tēná! m^{n'}há, t'é꜑é, he was in the past. How very you kill them may be, said they say. Why! grand- I killed
- á-biamá. Níkaci^{n'}ga edí-hnaⁿ edí-ma Mactei^{n'}ge ta^{n'}wa^{n'}in'g꜑aⁿ tai, ai said they say. Person there only there, those who Rabbit let us make a nation for him, they
- éde ubéi'age. Jí ugíne wáagáji, á-biamá.
but I was unwill- Lodge to hunt his own I told them, said they say.

NOTES.

25, 2. íílate' íílate'e+, an interjection used by females, denoting surprise. L. Sanssouci gives íílate'e+. The corresponding man's word is qá-i-ma. L. Sanssouci makes íílate' íílate'e+, equal to the ííwíwere hínáqéíñe, or hínqéíñe, but the latter appears to the collector to be nothing but a variation of hínáqéíñe or inaqéíñe, "an old woman" (in ííwíwere). Tada'e+, is equal to tada (used by males).

25, 4. negi-hau+ equals negiha. The last syllable shows that the voice was raised to call a distant person. Sanssouci says "the Rabbit crossed level prairies, and called on the ground." Immediately after that he said "negi-hau+, refers to the Eagle." But that is inconsistent with the kinship system; for the Eaglets called the Rabbit "elder brother." Hence the Eagle must have been the Rabbit's father, and the female Eagle his "mother." Perhaps this myth originated among a people who called a "mother's brother's" sons, "brothers."

25, 5. ma'xe - - gawí'xe amama. To the eye of the Rabbit, the Eagles were pressing very close to the sky, which was supposed to be a horizontal solid, and the roof of this lower world.

26, 5. íí édedi to uma. This lodge was said to be in the Sun.

26, 7. mañg'e, etc. The Rabbit sat erect (mañg'e) on his haunches with his legs thrust out towards the Eaglets, who were looking at him. Je-musnade differs from je-muxa.

26, 9. awaté'ta, was given; but it was probably intended for awaté-gata.

26, 12. maqpi - - agéi-hna'i. "It is his custom to come home when water is falling drop by drop from small clouds of different sizes (?)"

26, 14. What follows is not expressed very clearly. It is probable that part of the conversation was omitted in what was given by Nuda-axa.

27, 1. Sanssouci gives instead of wés'a - - aki-bi qí, two expressions: wés'a kédega' aqí' aki-biamá (equal to the ííwíwere waka' íya' anyí qí, ánye ké), and wés'a améga' kéde aqí' aki-biama (equal to the ííwíwere waka' énahá-qké íya' anyí qí, ánye ké). If Sanssouci be right, the former phrase is "they say that he has come back with a snake"; and the latter "one of the class of snakes he brought home, they say."

27, 12. e'a-ska-qtei, that is, about the size of a hat.

27, 14. huip'unde, you shake the rope or cord by which I let you down.

27, 15. aki-biama qí it'aqewaqa-biama. "Ki" here denotes that the subject had returned to his native place, the earth as distinguished from the upper world, whence he had been lowered by the old woman. He did not reach his home till he had gone some distance.

27, 19. qínegi abigi-qti ma, etc. Your mother's brothers, men.

28, 5. egíqe qíha a-i akama. Sanssouci reads, ahi akama, he was going or arriving there.

28, 8. inija waseqa' ame. Sanssouci gives three ííwíwere equivalents for this: "those who were yet a little strong;" "those who stirred a little;" and "those who, as they say, stirred, or were alive, with a little strength."

28, 18. eata-qtei t'éwaqáqé tei'te, a corruption of eata-qti t'éwaqáqé tei'te. Such corruptions are frequently used by old women and children.

TRANSLATION.

In the former time the Rabbit departed. "Grandmother, I will go to hunt feathers for myself," said he. "İfiate' ifiate'e+!" said she, "in what place (do you think) you will find feathers very easily?" And he went. Going across the ground by a very near way, on very level prairie, he went crying: "O . . . mother's brother! O . . . mother's brother!" he continued saying as he went. Those whom he sought, the Eagles, were flying round and round, pressing very closely against the (top of) the sky. Both went along, and they turned themselves around as they went. "These (moving ones) will take me," he said. The Eagles were crying and saying "T-t-t-t-t." It came to pass the other one was coming (this way, to earth) from above to attack him (or, dash on him). And he seized him. And he carried him homeward. And he reached home with him. He took him home to the sky up above. And there was a lodge. "My father has brought home a very good animal as prey" (said the Eaglet). And the Eaglet said, "O elder brother (Rabbit) we two love you very much." "Though for some time I have been doing nothing but move, who will love me?" said (the Rabbit). And he sat erect on his hind legs. The Eaglets loved that; it alone was very good. And he (the Eaglet) said as follows: "Whence have you come?" "When I was just walking across the ground by a near way, your father seized me," said he (the Rabbit). And he said, "At what time of the day does your father usually get home?" "My father," said he, "is accustomed to come home when it is very late in the afternoon, and when water is falling one drop at a time from small round clouds of different sizes." It came to pass that he (the Eaglet) said as follows: "O elder brother, of what sort is it when you do that?" "Yes," said he (the Rabbit) "thus, as you see me, they strike my head with one stone, when it is resting on another." "O elder brother, treat us so," he said (the Eaglet). "You all shall sit in that place," said he (the Rabbit). "So let us sit," said he (the Eaglet). And so he treated them. The one he crushed with a violent blow, and he killed his younger brother with a blow in like manner. And he pulled out the feathers. And he made them (the Eaglets) fall violently to the ground. And he tied up the feathers. And that which they told him was apt to be the case (did occur): the father came back suddenly. "Do you and your younger brother take that," he said. When he had reached home with a snake, and pushed his way into (the lodge) he (the Rabbit) crushed him with a violent blow. After a while, precisely at the beginning of darkness, the mother came home suddenly. "Do you and your younger brother take that," she said. Again in like manner she had brought home a snake. And again he killed the mother with a blow. And again he sat pulling out the feathers, he sat tying them up. And he also sat crying. He departed, carrying the feathers on his back. And he was going along crying. At length there was a lodge. He arrived there. And he was standing crying. The woman peeped at him. Behold, she was his grandmother. After she stood a while she said "M+! on what very important business are you traveling?" And he said, "I sought feathers for myself, and have many. And moreover, I hesitate about starting homeward, fearing failure; therefore I have been doing nothing but cry." "M+!" said the woman, "I am with a person, but he is bad. You must go quickly to your home. Hasten," she said. The Rabbit sat in a bag of woven yarn the size of a hat. He tied the feathers to it. "Though you will go homeward this time, when you reach home, put a red-oak acorn in (the bag) for me," said she. "When you tread the ground, you must give it (the rope) a slight pull," she said. And letting him go, she sent him back suddenly (to the earth, his home). When he reached home (the earth), the Rabbit was hateful. He abused the one who pitied him, he dented in the bag. And pulling (the rope), he shook it a little, and she took her own. And so he went homeward carrying the feathers on his back. And he reached home. "O grandmother, I have come home--!" he said (raising his voice). She spoke in wonder. She said, "I'iate' i'iate'e+!" "Grandmother," said he, "I have brought home the feathers on my back." And she said as follows: "Cause your mother's brothers to make very many arrows." And then he said as follows: "Grandmother, for what reason?" And she said as follows: "There is a hill that is accustomed to draw into its mouth the person going and passing that way." And he said, "I will see that." "I'iate' i'iate'e+!" said she, "sit still." "No, I will see it at any rate," said he. (Though) she was very unwilling, still he went to see it. At length he arrived there. "You are this hill that draws into its mouth. They said that you were there. Draw me into your mouth," said he. He was swallowed for a very long time. At length he got down (to the bottom). And it happened that (there were) the very dry bones of the persons whom it had swallowed formerly, and those who had the flesh dried hard and sticking (to the bones), and those, too, very lately dead, brought unto the dead, lay with the liver alone made alive. And the Rabbit reached those who were alive and quick. "Ci-ci-ci! these are few," said the Rabbit. The fat on the heart of gah-wahuni was dangling very much. "Why! you should have eaten that," said he. He cut it off with a knife, he cut the heart into pieces with a knife. The hill split open of its own accord. And these men who were quick (alive, stirring) became active at the very time that the hill split open of its own accord. And they said as follows: "Let us put the Rabbit at the head of the nation." "He saved us," said they. And he said, "Seek ye your own lodges, from what-soever places ye may have come hither." "Begone ye," said he (the Rabbit). And so it was. And the Rabbit went homeward. "O grandmother, I have come back to you," he said. "I'iate' i'iate'e+!" said she. "O grandmother," said he, "I have killed the hill that draws them into its mouth, of which you told in the past." "M+! It was said that it were good to kill that one. How could you have been his slayer?" said she. "Why! grandmother, I have killed him," said he. "Of the persons that were there, there were those who said, 'Let us make the Rabbit the head of the nation,' but I was unwilling. I commanded them to seek their own lodges," he said.

HOW THE RABBIT KILLED THE DEVOURING HILL.

OBTAINED FROM J. LAFLECHE.

- 1 ḏáhe-wáḑahuni wiⁿ ǝdí ké amá. Kí Maetein'ge aká ipaⁿ aká júgigǝá- Hill that devours one there he was lying. And Rabbit the his grand- the he with his mother
biamá. ḏáhe wiⁿ ǝdí kéde píjji. Ǭgiǝe ǝ'di ǝné te hǝ; ǝ'di ǝnáji te hǝ, they say. Hill one there it lies, but. Beware there you go will there you go will not
- 3 á-biamá Kí, ǵaⁿhá, ǝútaⁿ ádaⁿ, á-biamá. Níaciⁿga amá ǝ'di hí-hnaⁿ said they say. And, Grandmother, where- I (in) said they say. Person the (mv.) there arrived only she (as a rule)
ǵan'di wáḑahuni-hnaⁿi hǝ, á-biamá. Kí Maetein'ge amá, Hmdá! ǝútaⁿ when (in) it drew them habitually said they say. And Rabbit the (mv.) Let me see! where-(the past) into its mouth she fore ǝdaⁿ. Ǭ'di bǝé te-na, ǝǝǝgaⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ ǝ'di aǵá-biamá. Maetein'ge
 I (in) There I go will (in) he thought, they say. And there he went, they say. Rabbit thought), where, fore
- 6 ǝ'di ahí-bi ǵi ḏáhe-wáḑahuni aká íbahaⁿ-biamá. Íbahaⁿ-bi ǝgaⁿ ǝ'di
 there reached, when Hill that devours the he knew they say. He knew him, having there they say (sub.) him they say hí ǵi, ḏáhe-wáḑahuni, aⁿǵahúni-gá, á-biamá Maetein'ge aká. ḏáhe-reach- when, Hill that devours, draw me into your said they say Rabbit the. Hill ed mouth, he wáḑahuni wáḑahuni-hnaⁿ amá, aⁿǵahúni-gá. Kí ḏáhe-wáḑahuni aká that devours them you draw habitu- they say, draw me into your And Hill that devours the ally mouth, mouth.
- 9 Maetein'ge íba-huⁿ-bi ǝgaⁿ ǵahúni-bají-biamá. Ǭgiǝe níaciⁿga hǝǵa- Rabbit he knew him they, having drew him not they say. It came to person by no say into its mouth pass ǝtǝwaⁿǵi á-íamamá ǵaǵaⁿ. Ǭgiǝe ǝ'di ahí-biamá. Kí ḏáhe-wáḑahuni means a few they were coming, a hunting It came to there they arrived And Hill that devours they say party.
- aká íǝǝixá-biamá, kí níaciⁿga amá upá-biamá ḏáhe í tǝ. Kí Maetein'ge* the opened its mouth, and person the (pl.) entered they say hill mouth the. And Rabbit
 they say.
- 12 aká ǝ ǝtǝ upá-biamá. Ǭgiǝe áúǵa-biamá Maetein'ge ḏáhe-wáḑahuni níxa the he too entered, they say. Onward he had gone, they Rabbit. Hill that devours stomach without say
- maⁿtaǵa hí ǵi nan'de-íabají-biamá ḏáhe-wáḑahuni aká. Gaⁿ Maetein'ge* inside arrived when heart not good by they say Hill that devours the. And Rabbit means of
- ḏáhe-wáḑahuni aká íǵǝǝbá-biamá. Cí ǵaǵaⁿ d'úba á-íamamá. ǵaǵaⁿ* Hill that devours the it vomited they say. Again hunting party some they were approach- hunting him up ing, they say, party
- 15 ǝ'di ahí-bi ǵi ǝí ḏáhe-wáḑahuni aká íǝǝixá-biamá. Cí níaciⁿga upá-biamá there arrived, when again Hill that devours the opened its they say. Again person entered, they say they say mouth
- í tǝ. Kí Maetein'ge amá ǝí upá-biamá. Ǭǝíhi ḏáhe-wáḑahuni wǝǵǝba-* mouth the. And Rabbit the again entered, they say. At that Hill that devours vomited them (mv.) time up

búji amá. Égíçé níkaciⁿga pahanⁿga hi-má t'e-má wahlⁿ ké saⁿ ké amá, not they say. Behold person before arrived, the dead, the home the (fig. dis- they were ly-once who ones who line) tant ing, they say, white qínⁿq uéñhahú-ma xáci-jínⁿga t'e-má eti ju uéñs'iⁿ-ma, ei lⁿ'teaⁿ-qtei t'e-má these adhering to the a great little dead, the too flesh adhering the again now very dead, the each one once while ones who with it ones who who eti, kí nⁿ'ja-má eti. Macteinⁿ'ge aká gá-biamá: Eátaⁿ hmáta-bajji á. 3 too and alive, the ones tno. Rabbit the said as follows, Why you eat not I who they say;

Jonanⁿ'do gágé waciⁿ'-qti onát etai-éde; wíebéiⁿ yí bēáte te, á-biamá.
buffalo heart those (un- fat very you eat shall but; I am he if I eat it will said they say.
seven and scattered) he

Kí máhiⁿ gáza-biamá Macteinⁿ'ge aká. Máhiⁿ gáza-bi yí je-nanⁿ'de máqaⁿ-And knife he took his own, they say Rabbit the. Knife he took his when buf- heart he cut with own, they say, a knife biamá. Kí áhe-wáñahuni amá, Haⁿ! haⁿ! haⁿ! é-hnaⁿ-biamá. Kí Macteinⁿ'ge 6 they say. And Hill that devours the, Haⁿ! haⁿ! haⁿ! he said it they say. And Rabbit regularly

aká, Haⁿ! haⁿ! haⁿ! á-ji-gá há, á-biamá. Kí je-nanⁿ'de waciⁿ' gē edábe the Haⁿ! haⁿ! haⁿ! say not said they say. And buffalo heart fat the (acat- also he tered)

uécwíⁿwañai Macteinⁿ'ge aká. áhe ké bēñzáñ-biamá. Níaciⁿ'ga bēña-he collected them Rabbit the. Hill the split of its own accord, Person all
they say.

qti gacibe agéá-biamá. Agéá-biamá yí níaciⁿ'ga bēña uécwínjñá-biamá. 9 very out of it went homeward, they say. Went homeward, when person all assembled themselves, they say.

Macteinⁿ'ge níkagahi angáxe tai, á-biamá. Ganⁿ'ki gá-biamá: Macteinⁿ'ge Rabbit chief we make will, said they say. And he said as follows, Rabbit
they say;

níkagahi ekáxe tai á-bi áça. Wí níkagahi kaⁿbēñ áñiⁿ'hēñte. Wíⁿaⁿchief you make will he says, indeed. I chief I wish I who move, Which
they say.

wajánⁿ'ñati éiⁿ'te mangéiⁿ'i-gá. Wí eti wíjaⁿ' waciⁿ' éñgégáⁿ áagēé ati. 12 from you have it may come be begone ye. I too my grand- mother fat had none, as I for my I have own come.

Gáⁿ agéá-biamá Macteinⁿ'ge amá waciⁿ' tⁿ'-bi egaⁿ'. tⁿ' aki-bi egaⁿ'
And went homeward, - Rabbit the (mv.) fat carried, they having. Car- he reached having they say rying home, they say áçiaja itéça-biamá. Yaⁿhá, áhe-wáñahuni t'çáçé áça, á-biamá. Híⁿ!

outside he put it, they say. O grandmother Hill that devours I have indeed, said, they say. Oh!
killed him

si-ñanⁿ'ga péjiⁿ'-qtei! i-çáçpa péjiⁿ'-qtei! cé t'çéé údaⁿ aká-enaⁿ-çaⁿ' t'éwaçáçé te, 15 foot big bad very! mouth, pieces bad very! that to kill good the one only in the you have been his out of one to slayer, á-biamá. Yaⁿhá, t'éçégaⁿ cehé há. Gúda té daⁿ'bá-gá há, á-biamá.

said they say. Grandmother, I killed him, as I said that. Beyond the see thou said they say.
she (farther off) (pile) he

Waⁿ'úñga aká áci ahí-bi egaⁿ', Híⁿ! t'çépaçaⁿ! wínⁿ'ke tedé, á-biamá.
Old woman the out of arrived, having, Oh! my grandchild!! told the truth did-but, said they say.
they say she

Waciⁿ' tē çizá-biamá.
Fat she took they say.

NOTES.

See the preceding myth: How the Rabbit went to the Sun; also, J. La Flèche's Oto version of this myth, to appear hereafter in "The ʒoiwere Language, Part I."

32, 2. kéde, contraction from kē, éde.

32, 9. hegactewaʒji, pronounced he+gactewaʒji.

33, 2. qíʒ contraction from qíʒé, dried flesh or meat next the bone. (For the speech of the men and the Rabbit's reply, see the Oto version.)

33, 11. macteiŋge . . . ábi áʒa, the words of the crier going through the camp, quoted by the Rabbit. kaʷbēa áʒiʷhéiʷte (i. e., kaʷbēa áʒiʷhe eiʷte) is not in the form of a question, though it implies one, according to Sanssouci.

33, 12. maŋʒiʷ i-gā, begone ye! "Go to your respective homes," is meant, but it is not expressed.

33, 12. áagʒé etí, I have come for my own property. The Rabbit talks as if he had a prior claim to the hill's heart, etc.

33, 14. The words of the old woman are not to be taken literally. She was proud of what the Rabbit had done, and was praising him. Even if he was deformed, he had done what should have been done long ago by others.

33, 17. wiŋke tedé, feminine of wiŋ'ke téde, contraction from wiŋ'ke té, éde, he did tell the truth but, an elliptical expression, which would be in full, wiŋ'ke té édehna ewéja ʒaʷetí, he told the truth, but I did nothing but doubt him at the first.

TRANSLATION.

There was a Hill that drew (people) into its mouth. And the Rabbit was with his grandmother. "A Hill is there, but it is bad. Beware lest you go thither. Go not thither," said she. And he said, "Grandmother, wherefore?" She said, "Whenever people go thither, it draws them into its mouth." And the Rabbit thought, "Let me see! Why is this? I will go thither." And he went thither. When the Rabbit arrived there, the Hill knew him. As he knew him when he arrived there, the Rabbit said, "ʒahe-waʒahuni, draw me into your mouth. ʒahe-waʒahuni, you who, as they say, are used to devouring, devour me." And ʒahe-waʒahuni knew the Rabbit, so he did not devour him. And it came to pass that a great many people belonging to a hunting party were coming to that place. And they arrived there. And ʒahe-waʒahuni opened his mouth, and the people entered the mouth of the Hill. And the Rabbit entered too. The Rabbit pressed onward. And when he reached the stomach of the Hill within, ʒahe-waʒahuni was not pleased by it. And ʒahe-waʒahuni vomited up the Rabbit. Again some members of a hunting-party were approaching. When the party reached there, ʒahe-waʒahuni opened his mouth again, and the people entered the mouth. And the Rabbit entered again (as a man, this time). And then ʒahe-waʒahuni did not vomit him up. And there were lying in the distance the whitened bones of the people who had entered first and had died, the dried flesh next to the bones adhering to them; also those who had been dead but a little while, with the flesh (on the bones); and those, too, who had just died, and the living ones too. And the Rabbit said as follows: "Why do you not eat? You should have eaten that very fat heart. Were I (in your place), I would eat it," he said. And the Rabbit seized his knife. When he seized his knife, he cut the heart. And ʒahe-waʒahuni said, "Ha! ha! ha!" And the Rabbit said, "Do not say 'Ha! ha! ha!'" And the Rabbit gathered together the heart and the scattered pieces of fat. And the Hill split open of its own accord. All the people went out again. When they went homeward all the people assembled themselves. Said they, "Let us make the Rabbit chief." And he said as follows: "It is said 'You shall make the Rabbit chief.' As if I, for my part, had been desiring to be chief!! (Or, Have I been behaving as if I wished to be chief?) From whatever places ye may have come, begone ye (to them). I too have come hither to get some of the fat belonging to me, as my grandmother had none." And the Rabbit went homeward, carrying the fat on his back. Having brought it home on his back, he put it outside. "O grandmother! I have killed gahe-waḥuni," he said. "Oh! You very bad big-foot! you very bad split-mouth! Have you killed him who only should have been killed in the past?" "Grandmother, I say that because I have killed him. See the pile farther away," he said. The old woman having gone out of doors, said, "Oh! my grandchild told (nothing but) the truth (though I did doubt him at first)." And she took the (pile of) fat (meat).

HOW THE RABBIT CURED HIS WOUND.

OBTAINED FROM NUDA^W-AXA.

Mactein'ge aká iya^a ɕĩnké júgigee gɕiⁿ akáma. Kĩ ugáca^a ahí-Rabbit the (sub.) his the (obj.) he with was sitting, they say. And traveling he grandmother his own arrived there biamá. Qéki wéɕixuxúí caⁿ/qti gaⁿ ákieugá-qti jaⁿ-hna^a ɕéga^a amá they say. Under the bluffs prickly-ash just as it happened very dense lay only thus they say (habitually)

(uteɕe é wakaf). Gaⁿ níaciⁿga sigɕai ké'di sí ké snedeáqti-hnaⁿi ké, 3 thicket that he meant. And person trail (?) at the foot the long very habit- the
 (fig. ob.) nally was (fig. ob.)

á-biamá. Égiɕe égasáni xi, yaⁿhá, wajaⁿbe bɕé tá minke, á-biamá.
 said they say. It came to pass the follow- ing day when Grand- mother I see I go will I who said they say.
 he

Égiɕe haⁿegaⁿtoe aɕá-biamá. Aɕá-biamá xi égiɕe agí átiáɕait came to pass in the morning he went, they say. He went, they say when it came they were returning suddenly to pass

biamá. ɕé níaciⁿga gáhiɕeamé amá, eɕégaⁿ-biamá. Uhé aɕai ukaⁿsku 6 they say. This person those who moved are they he thought, they say. Path he in a strachit line with (course) went itaⁿɕiaja jaⁿ-biamá. Égiɕe é'di ahí-biamá xi ɕeai-bají-biamá, sigɕe ké ahead he lay they say. It came there ar- rived they say when he was not they say, foot- the to pass prints (fig. ob.)

áhigi gáxe gaⁿ ɕeai-bají-biamá ákihaⁿ ááɕeai tē. Gaⁿki eí pĩ itaⁿɕiaja many he made so he was not found, they say beyond in had ther. And again anew ahead gone

aɕai tē, itaⁿɕiaja ɕaⁿ-biamá. Cɕtē wiⁿ eɕé tē hau, á-biamá Ánase 9
 he went, ahead of him they say. That (obj.) op. will come to you ! said they say. he To head him off

36 THE ČEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- naji^{n'}-gā haú, á-biamá kiáqpaqáqče. Égiče wi^{n'} amá uhañ'gaja ma^{n'}čín' stand thou I said they say walking back and forth It came one the at the end was walking.
they among themselves. to pass (mv. sub.)
- amá. Gátō cučē te haú, á-biamá, če ánasē naji^{n'} ušēa čēčai tē. Kí they say. That will come I said they say, this to head to stand telling him he sent it. And (unseen ob.) to you he
- 3 utoče baza^{n'} ačá-biamá. Égiče ga^{n'} akúma šēa-báji gáxai tē ubá-haja thicket pushing went they say. It came after standing awhile found him not he pretended at the side among to you to pass
- ínaji^{n'} kí ma^{n'} kē gēfzai tē. Ga^{n'} mándē kē ga^{n'} čida^{n'}i tē. Čē cučē of it he and arrow the he took his And bow the so he pulled it. This coming stood (lg. ob.) own.
- tē ušfida-gā, á-biamá, gactan'ka tē. Ga^{n'} ma^{n'} kē čiefbai tē Macteingē which look out for it, said they say, he tempted him. And arrow the he pulled when Rabbit he (lg. ob.) and let go
- 6 kúsandē'-qti iča^{n'}čai tē. Ga^{n'} xagē amá Macteingē. I^{n'}á! i^{n'}á! i^{n'}á!
through and he put it (the And he was crying, they Rabbit (the rabbit's cry), arrow).
- á-biamá Macteingē aká. Kagēha, t'ēčāčē, á-biamá. Kagēha, ač^{n'} tá said they say Rabbit the. O friend, you killed said they say. O friend, I carry will he him, he it on my back
- minke haú, á-biamá. Macteingē ua^{n'}si áúčā-biamá. Kí ma^{n'} kē čionúda-
I who I said they say. Rabbit leaping he had they say. And arrow the he pulled he gone out of
- 9 biamá. Kí ač^{n'} ačá-biamá. Ga^{n'} čiqá-biamá. Macteingē wamí má kē they say. And having he they say. And they they say. Rabbit blood snow the it went chased him (lg. ob.)
- jí-de ké amáma čiqai tē. Ma^{n'}can'de ugídaazá-biamá, ígat'a^{n'}-biamá.
red was lying, they say as they chased. Den the scared him they say, he grunted they say.
into his own
- Ša^{n'}há, t'ēa^{n'}čē'-qteí-a^{n'}i, á-biamá. Hā^{n'}! hū^{n'}! á-biamá. Iya^{n'} ígaska^{n'}čá-
Grand-mother, they have altogether said they say. Hā^{n'}! hū^{n'}! said, they say. His tried him (sic)
he grandmother
- 12 biamá. Naxide-čičin'ge ičanahi^{n'} eha^{n'}+. Či-hna^{n'} ušina-bi, ehé xi, čaxúgathey say. Disobedient you are you-truly I You only they sought you, I when you cry it was reported said
- jí'-qti ga^{n'} čagčé^{n'} etéde, á-biamá. Ga^{n'}, Ša^{n'}há, maka^{n'} ušne ma^{n'} čin'-gā, not at all so you sit should said they say. And, Grand-mother, medicine to seek walk have, she
- á-biamá. Wičúpa, maka^{n'} ičúpaha^{n'} da^{n'}ctē-ma^{n'} áč^{n'}hē, á-biamá. Ša^{n'}há, said they say. My grandchild, medicine I know it (dubitative sign) I who move said they say. Grand-mother, she
- 15 na^{n'}pa-hí ge-ča^{n'} wi^{n'} in'čín' gí-gā, á-biamá. Iya^{n'} aká ač^{n'}in' akí-biamá.
choke-bush the in the one bring back for me said they say. His the having reached home, they say.
cherry (pl.) past he grandmother (sub.) it
- Ga^{n'} čatá-biamá. Ga^{n'} ígini^{n'}-biamá.
And he ate it, they say. And he recovered by it, they say.

NOTES.

35, 2. wéfixúhí. Nuda^{n'}-axa, a Ponka, gave it thus; but it may be intended for wéfixúhí, as the Omahas use wéfixúhí-ké. Ča^{n'}-qti ga^{n'} is a phrase which scarcely admits of a brief translation. It seems to imply for no reason whatever, at any rate, etc.

35, 8, et passim. aiačai tē, ačai tē, niča čēčai tē, etc., denote certainty on the part of the speaker, or that he was cognizant of the acts referred to, hence it would have been better to say, "aia-ča-biamá, ača-biamá, ušča čēčā-biamá," denoting what was not observed by the narrator.

35, 7. ita^aphia ja^a-biana. The Rabbit went ahead of their trail and lay concealed, lying in wait for them.

35, 7. sigē kē ahigi gaxe, etc. He made so many tracks that the people did not know which way to turn to search for the Rabbit.

36, 3. iḡa-baji gaxai tē. This man pretended that he had not discovered where the Rabbit lay concealed. He pulled the bow in one direction to deceive the Rabbit, and then turned around suddenly and shot him, sending the arrow through his body.

36, 11. igaska^aḡē seems to be used here in the sense of chiding.

36, 14. iḡapaha^a da^acē-ma^a ḡḡi^ahé implies doubt: I may know it as I go along, and I may not know it.

36, 15. na^apahi ḡḡa^a, the choke-cherry bushes which had been (full of sap, etc.). It was winter at the time he sent the old woman after one.

TRANSLATION.

The Rabbit was dwelling with his grandmother. And while traveling he reached a certain place. At the foot of the bluff the prickly ash was very dense. It was thus all along. And he said, "Persons have been on the trail, all of whom had very long feet." And on the next day he said, "Grandmother, I will go out to see (that is, to act as a scout, suspecting the presence of foes)." And he went in the morning. When he departed, at length they were coming back suddenly. "These persons are the ones who were moving there," thought he. He lay ahead in a straight line with the path they went. It came to pass that when they reached there (where the Rabbit was) he was not found. He had made many footprints, so he was not found, and they went beyond the place. Then again he went ahead, and lay ahead of him (of one of the men). "That one thing will come to you," he said. "Stand and head him off." They were walking back and forth among themselves. At length one was walking at the end. "That unseen thing will come to you," he said. This he communicated (to those at a distance), telling (them) to stand and head him off. And he went pushing among the undergrowth, etc. And then, after standing awhile, he pretended that he had not found him (the Rabbit). He stood at the side (of the thicket) and took his arrow. And so he fitted it to the bow-string. "Look out for this which is coming to you," he said, as he tempted him (the Rabbit). And letting the arrow go he pierced the Rabbit through the body (the arrow appearing on the other side). And the Rabbit was crying. The Rabbit said, "I^a! i^a! i^a!" "Friend, you have killed him," said they. "Friend, I will carry it on my back," said (one). The Rabbit had gone with a leap. And he pulled out the arrow. And he carried it away. And they pursued him. As they chased him the Rabbit's blood was lying along (in a long line) on the snow. They scared him into his burrow. He grunted. "Grandmother," said he, "they have altogether killed me. Hū! hū!" said he. His grandmother chided him. "You were truly disobedient. When I said that it was reported you alone were sought after, you should have sat without crying at all," she said. And he said, "Grandmother, go to seek for medicine." Said she, "My grandchild, I doubt whether I know the medicine." "Grandmother," said he, "bring me back one of the choke-cherry bushes." And his grandmother took it home. He ate it, and it made him recover.

THE RABBIT AND ICTINIKE.

OBTAINED FROM NUDA'-AXA.

- Ictnike amá aƆé amáma. Gaŋ'ki Mactein'ge amá ga' amáma.
 Ictnike the was going, they say. And Rabbit the so was mv., they say.
 (mv. sub.)
- Hu+! á-biamá. Kagé! á-biamá. Uhú+! á-biamá. UƆai-daŋ waƆa'be Hu+! said, they say. O younger said, they say. Uhú+! said, they say. It was when I see it
 brother!
- 3 ka'bfégaŋ égaŋ agŋa'be áhaŋ, á-biamá. Ga' aƆi'he-hnaŋ Ɔa'ŋi 8'be
 I hoped and so I see my own I said, they say. I move for some only though who
 time
- qta' Ɔé té, á-biamá. Gí-gá, á-biamá. Eátaŋ ádaŋ, á-biamá. Ca' gí-gá, love me will said, it is said. Come said, it is said. Where-fore I said, they say. At any rate come,
 (sub.)
- á-biamá Ictnike aká. Ė'di akí-biamá. Kagé, á-biamá, edéhe etéctewaŋ said, they say Ictnike the (sub.). There he reached home, they say. O younger said, they say, what I say soever
- 6 a'haŋ ecé te, á-biamá. A'haŋ, á-biamá Mactein'ge aká. Kagé, á-biamá—you will said, they say. Yes, said, they say Rabbit the O younger said, they say—say (sub.) brother
- kagé, witeí tá múnke, á-biamá Ictnike aká. An'kaji, á-biamá, wíta'Ɔiŋ O younger (te-cum co f. bo) will I who, said, they say Ictnike the (sub.). Not so, said, they say, I first brother, (te-cum co f. bo)
- witeí tee, á-biamá Mactein'ge aká. Ná! an'kaji, kagé, na' amá edád Ictnike said, they say Rabbit the (sub.). Faha! not so, O younger adult the what
 (mv. sub.) brother, (pl. sub.)
- 9 'Ɔai uhé-hna'í, á-biamá. Ná! an'kaji há, jín'Ɔéha, á-biamá. Jín'gá amá, they they have their said, they say. Faha! not so O elder said, they say. Younger the (pl.)
 speak of way, habitually, brother,
- jín'Ɔéha, edádaŋ 'Ɔai tó'di é Ɔacta'-báji égaŋ é uhé-hna'í, á-biamá
 O elder what they when that stopping not so they have habitu-brother, they speak of talking their way ally, said, they say
- (Mactein'ge aká). Hín'dégaŋ, kagé, égaŋ-gá há. Ga' Ictnike aká bas'ín Rabbit the (sub.). Let us see, O younger do so And Ictnike the (sub.) upside brother, down
- 12 Ɔa' Ɔa-biamá. Mactein'ge aká ga' tci tó. Ɔicta'-biamá yi ua' si áiaƆahe placed they say. Rabbit the (sub.) so cum so coit. Finished they say when leaping he had it gone
- biamá Mactein'ge amá. Gí-gá, kagé, é-hnaŋ-biamá. ÉgiƆa'-hna' amá they say Rabbit the (mv. sub.) Come, O younger said habit- they say. Said to habitu- ally they (mv. sub.) brother, ally him ally say
- yi Mactein'ge amá a'he-hna' amá. Ca' uteje cúga égihe áiaƆa-when Rabbit the (mv. sub.) was fleeing they say. And thické dense heading he had into it gone
- 15 biamá. Wahu+! á-biamá Ictnike aká. Wí-hnaŋ níaci'ga iƆákte-de they say. Wahu+! said, they say Ictnike the (sub.). I only person I cheated while (sub.)
- ma'nihéaƆé ata'he Ɔa' cti. Mactein'ge peji'-qti! si-taŋ'ga peji'-qteí! ietá-
 I was putting it inside heretofore. Rabbit bad very! foot big bad very! eye-ball big bad very! strong bad very! you have made very much I said, they say odor me suffer

- Ictínike aká. Ga^{n'} a^á-biamá. Ictínike e^éfiⁿ b^éje at^é t^ébe haú, á-biamá.
 Ictínike the (sub.). And went, they say. Ictínike that one (mv. ob.) c^écare s^umeo very I said, they say.
- Ga^{n'} Ictínike aká wag^éan'g^éaⁿ amá cⁱ. Cⁱ wag^éan'g^éaⁿ-biamá. Ictínike And Ictínike the (sub.) reviled him they again. Again reviled him they say. Ictínike
- amá a^á-biamá gⁱé-a-bajⁱ-qⁱ. Gá^éu ahⁱ-bi xⁱ j^étⁱéiⁿge caⁿ já-biamá. Ja'- 3 the (mv. sub.) went they say sorrowful very. In that place he ar- they when c^éacatúrit and ca- they say C^éacatúrit
- biamá xⁱ mactⁱéin'ge jⁱn'ga wⁱⁿ naⁿ'ge-q^{te}i a^á-biamá. G^úd-í^éaⁿ-cá-q^{te}i they say when rabbit young one ran very fast went they say. It is put further very
- áha! Wuhú! á-biamá Ictínike aká. E cⁱ gá^éu ahⁱ-bi xⁱ j^étⁱéiⁿge caⁿ
 I Wuhú! said, they say Ictínike the (sub.). That again in that place he ar- they when c^éacatúrit and
- já-biamá. Cⁱ mactⁱéin'ge jⁱn'ga wⁱⁿ naⁿ'ge-q^{te}i a^á-biamá. Cⁱ ída^éai-t^é. 6
 ca- they say. Again rabbit young one ran very fast went they say. Again paperit.
- Cⁱ é^égaⁿ'i t^é, Wúhu+'a'! 'á^ég^éaⁿ'c^é t^ébe áhaⁿ, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} a^á-biamá.
 Again he said to him, Really! he has made me suffer very much I said, they say. And went they say.
- Cⁱ gá^éu ahⁱ-bi xⁱ j^étⁱéiⁿge caⁿ já-biamá. Cⁱ mactⁱéin'ge jⁱn'ga wⁱⁿ Again in that place he ar- they when c^éacatúrit and ca- they say. Again rabbit young one
- cⁱ x^u'é a^á-biamá. Cⁱ é^égaⁿ'i-biamá. Í^éaⁿ'baⁿ hⁿé t^égaⁿ'jⁱ, á-biamá. Cⁱ 9 again with a rush went they say. Again he said to him they say. A second you go not apt said, they say. Again
- é^égaⁿ' w^édá^éc^é t^éxⁱuhá-bi é^égaⁿ' é^ég^é je hⁱéai t^édi waiiⁿ' c^éaⁿ' caⁿ'
 so parére he feared they say. having, at length c^éacans he made it when reach (the ground) robe the at any rate
- u^éé^é é^égaⁿ' ána^{sá}-biamá. Waiiⁿ' c^éaⁿ' c^éaⁿ' áaⁿ'sⁱ-biamá. Waiiⁿ' c^éaⁿ' he bent if around over (the rabbit) having he hin- dered it they say. Robe the in spite of on it he they say. Robe the
- íng^éé u^égⁱnaⁿ'skábe c^éaⁿ' amá. Wuhú+! g^úd-í^éaⁿ-cá-q^{te}i aⁿ'axe áhaⁿ, 12 faeces it was made to adhere to it from his feet, they say. Wuhú+! it is put further very made me
- á-biamá (nu^éá^éiⁿ gⁱáxai t^é é waká-bi é^égaⁿ'). Hau. Ga^{n'} a^á-biamá.
 said, they say naked he made for him that he they having. Well. And went they say.
- Caⁿ'q^{te}i gaⁿ' nu^éá^éiⁿ a^á-biamá. É^ég^éé nújⁱnga d'úba maⁿ'éiⁿ'bagi a^éiⁿ máma.
 In spite of so naked went they say. It came to pass boy some were throwing sticks as they walked, it is said.
- Wákipá-biamá. Haú! kag^é, a-biamá Ictínike amá. Haú! á-biamá nújⁱnga 15
 He met them they say. Ho! O younger said, they say Ictínike the (mv. sub.) Ho! said, they say boys
- amá. Índádaⁿ'c^ét^é é^égaⁿ' c^éaná'aⁿ-báji, kag^é, á-biamá. Áⁿ, á-biamá. Caⁿ' the (pl. sub.). Whatever so you have heard not, O younger brother, said, they say. Yes, said, they say. Still
- dádaⁿ' c^ét^éte c^éaná'aⁿ é^é'te iⁿ'wiⁿ'c^éai-gá, á-biamá Ictínike aká. Aⁿ'haⁿ, what soever you heard may have tell ye to me said, they say Ictínike the (sub.). Yes
- á-biamá. T^éná! Mactⁱéin'ge amá-hnaⁿ Ictínike amá t^éf-biamá aⁱ, aⁿ'ná'aⁿ, 18 said, they say. Why! Rabbit the (mv. sub.) only Ictínike the (mv. one) c^éacatúrit it is re- they say we heard
- á-biamá nújⁱnga amá. Wuhú+! x^áci-q^{te}i aⁿ'waⁿ'na'aⁿ améde, e^éégaⁿ' said, they say boys the (pl. sub.). Wuhú+! a very long while ago of me they have heard they are the ones, but thought
- biamá Ictínike aká. Cⁱ a^á-biamá. Kⁱ cⁱ d'úba maⁿ'éiⁿ'bagi a^éiⁿ amáma.
 they say Ictínike the. Again went they say. And again some were throwing sticks as they walked, it is said.

40 THE ƆEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- Ci wákipá-biamá. Kagé, Indádaⁿ etécto iⁿwiⁿ Ɔai-gá haú, á-biamá.
 Again he met them they say. O younger brother, what soever tell ye to me I said, they say.
- Indádaⁿ aŋguíƆa taíte Ɔiŋgé égaⁿ, á-biamá. Téná! Mactein'ge amá-
 What we tell you shall there be none like said, they say. Why! Rabbit the (mv. sub.)
- 3 hnaⁿ Ietníke amá teí-biamá aí, aⁿná'aⁿi, á-biamá nújnga amá. Gaⁿ only Ietníke the (mv. sub.) cum eo it is reported they say, we heard, said, they say boys the (pl. sub.) And
- aƆai tē. Wuhu+! Ɔáci-qi-égaⁿ uná'aⁿaⁿ Ɔé áhaⁿ, eƆégaⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ eí he went. Wuhu+! a very long time ago he made me to be heard of I thought they say. And again
- d'úba áíamama. Kí eí égaⁿ wémaxá-biamá. Kagé, Indádaⁿ etécto iⁿwiⁿ-some were approach- ing. And again: so questioned them they say. O younger brother, what soever tell
- 6 Ɔai-gá haú, á-biamá. Indádaⁿ aŋguíƆa taíte Ɔiŋgé égaⁿ, á-biamá.
 ye to me I said, they say. What we tell thee shall it be nothing like said, they say.
- Téná! Mactein'ge amá-hnaⁿ Ietníke amá teí-biamá aí, aⁿná'aⁿi, á-Why! Rabbit the (mv. sub.) only Ietníke the (mv. sub.) cum eo it is re- ported they say, we heard, said,
- biamá. Wuhu+! Ɔáciqi-égaⁿ uná'aⁿaⁿ Ɔé áhaⁿ, eƆégaⁿ-biamá Ietníke they say. Wuhu+! a very long time ago he made me to be heard of I thought they say Ietníke
- 9 aká. Ci aƆá-biamá. EgiƆe jéadigáⁿ péji gƆiza-bi égaⁿ wéza-hnaⁿ aƆá-the (sub.) Again went they say. It came breech-cloth had he took they having to give the alarm, only went
- biamá. EgiƆe yi éaⁿbe ahí-biamá. Iⁿc'áge Ɔéa Ɔin iénaxiƆai Ɔin, á-they say. At length lodge in sight of ar- rived they say. Venerable man this one the (mv. ob.) he is attacked said they
- biamá. Eⁿdi ahí-biamá. Ákicuga-qi-aⁿ-biamá Ɔin'gajin'ga unⁿhe they say. There he ac- rived They were standing they say. Children a place of retreat
- 12 úwaginái-gá. AⁿƆaⁿnaxiƆai éde hégaƆéwaⁿ-báji, á-biamá Ietníke aká.
 seek ye for them. Mé they attacked but by no means a few, said, they say Ietníke the (sub.).
- Iⁿc'áge waiiⁿ Ɔaⁿ etéwaⁿ gacai taⁿ, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, égaⁿ-qtiáⁿ (á-biamá).
 Venerable man robe the even he is deprived of said, they say. Yes, so very said, they say.
- Gaskí wakan'diƆé-qi najiⁿ-biamá, wáctanka akégaⁿ. Aⁿwaⁿdaⁿbe taí há.
 Panting excessively he stood they say, a tempter he was like. We see them will
- 15 Ké, uáwagiƆai-gá, á-biamá. An'kaji há, á-biamá Ietníke aká. Waiiⁿ Come, tell us about them, said, they say. Not so said, they say Ietníke the (sub.). Robe
- gō wiⁿ iⁿ Ɔin gfi-gá, á-biamá. Wí waƆaⁿbe bƆé tá miŋke, á-biamá the (pl.) one bring ye to me, said, they say. I to see them I go will I who, said, they say
- Ietníke aká. Iⁿc'áge win'ké-qi áhaⁿ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ waiiⁿ Ɔaⁿ 'fi-Ietníke the (sub.). Venerable man tells the truth very I said, they say. And robe the was given
- 18 biamá, waiiⁿ ekúbe-qi Ɔéa 'fi-biamá. Watefeka ké uhá aƆá-biamá.
 they say, robe thick very summer was they say. Creek the follow. he went, they say.
- Haha+! aⁿba win'ƆaⁿƆaⁿ gáawakiⁿ ntaⁿhe Ɔaⁿetí.
 Hah! hah! day one by one have I been doing that to them heretofore. Nfaci'ga wiⁿ aⁿ Ɔijúctéwaⁿji, á-biamá (Mactein'ge é waká-bi égaⁿ).
 did not treat me well at all, he said they say Rabbit that he meant they say having.

NOTES.

38, 5. ēdi aki-biama. It was some place where the Rabbit had been on some previous occasion, or else it was on the way to the Rabbit's home: "he reached there again," or "he reached there on his way home."

38, 16. *ma^{ti}hea^ē ata^{he} *fa^ēcti. Hitherto, Ictinike placed his plot within his head and concealed it there. Ma^{ti}hea^ē refers to the plot, not to the victim.

39, 1. bēije atci teabe. "Bēije" is from "ēijé."

39, 4. gud-ī^aq^a-qti aha^a, a phrase occurring only in this myth.

39, 10. je hi^{ai}, a case of "hapax legomenon."

39, 12. *ugina^askabe *fa^a ama. The young Rabbit leaped upon the robe of his relation, Ictinike, soiling it with the "iūg^ē" sticking to his feet.

40, 9. jeādig^a pēji gīza-bi ega^a. He took his own breech-cloth which he had on to use in giving the signal of alarm. Hence he was not "naked" in the strict sense of the word before he took it off.

40, 12. hegactewa^abaji, pronounced he-gactewa^abaji.

40, 13. *i^ac^ago waii^a *fa^a ctēwa^a gacai ta^a. The people said, "They chased the venerable man so closely that he had to drop his robe."

40, 18. waii^a ckube-qti qcha iⁱ-biama. Though this means "a very thick summer robe," qcha (buffalo robes of animals killed in summer) were not covered with thick hair, as were the meha or winter robes.

TRANSLATION.

Ictinike was going, and so was the Rabbit. "Hu+! O younger brother! Uhu+!" said Ictinike. "When it was told, I hoped to see him, and so I see my own (relation)," said he. "Though I am only moving for some time, who will love me?" said the Rabbit. "Come," said Ictinike. "Wherefore," said the Rabbit. "Never mind, come," said Ictinike. He reached there. "O younger brother," said he, "whatsoever I say, you must say 'Yes.'" "Yes," said the Rabbit. "O younger brother, tecum coibo," said Ictinike. "No," said the Rabbit, "prior tecum coibo." "Psha! O younger brother," said Ictinike, "when the elder ones talk about anything, they generally have their way." "Psha! Not so indeed, elder brother. The younger ones, elder brother, when they speak about anything, do not stop talking about that, so they usually have their way," said the Rabbit. "Let us see, do so, younger brother." And Ictinike turned upside-down. The Rabbit cum eo coit. Coitu completo, the Rabbit leaped and had gone. "Come, O younger brother," said Ictinike repeatedly. When he was saying it to him the Rabbit was fleeing; and he went headlong into a dense thicket. "Wahu+!" said Ictinike, "While I alone cheated a person, I used to keep (the plot) inside (my head). You very bad Rabbit! You very bad big-foot! You very bad big-eyeballs! You very bad much strong odor! You have made me suffer very much." And the Rabbit departed. "Cum isto prior coit et feci ut cacaret," said the Rabbit. Ictinike reviled him again. Again he reviled him. Ictinike departed very sorrowful. When he reached a certain place cacaturit et cacavit. Ictinike cacante, a young rabbit departed, running very rapidly, "It gets worse and worse!" Again, when he reached a certain place, cacaturit et cacavit; and a young rabbit departed, running very swiftly. Iterum peperit. Again he said to him, "Really! he has made me suffer very much." Again, when he reached a certain place, cacatūrit et cacavit. Again a young rabbit departed with a rush. "You will not be apt to go again," said Ictinike. Quum iterum parēre timuit, as he stooped and caused it to reach the ground, he held the robe down on the fæces and the rabbit, to hinder the escape of the latter. In spite of the effort the young rabbit leaped over the robe. He soiled the robe with the "iūgqe" on his feet. "Wuhu+! It gets worse and worse." (He meant his being naked.) Well, he departed. In spite of (his condition) he went naked. It came to pass that some boys were playing with ma^qi^ubagi as they walked. He met them. "Ho! younger brothers," said Ictinike. "Ho!" said the boys. "Have you not heard anything at all, younger brothers?" said he. "Yes," said they. "Then, whatsoever ye have heard, tell me," said Ictinike. "Yes," they said. "Why! they say that it is reported that the Rabbit alone cum Ictinike coit. We have heard it." "Wuhu+! They have heard about me for a very great while," thought Ictinike; and he departed. And again some were playing ma^qi^ubagi as they walked; and he met them. "O younger brothers, tell me something or other," he said. "What we shall tell you is as nothing. Why! we have heard it said that it is reported that the Rabbit alone cum Ictinike coit," said the boys. And he departed. "Wuhu+! I was caused to be heard of a very long time ago," thought he. And again some were approaching. And again he questioned them. "O younger brothers, tell me something or other," said he. "What we shall tell thee is as nothing. Why! we have heard it said that it is reported that the Rabbit alone cum Ictinike coit," said they. "Wuhu+! I was caused to be heard of a very long time ago," thought Ictinike; and he departed. It came to pass that he took his bad breech-cloth and went to give the alarm. At length he came in sight of a lodge (village?). "This venerable man behind us is one who has been attacked by the foe," they said. He arrived there. They were standing very thick (around him). "Seek ye a place of retreat for your children. They attacked me, and they were a great many," said Ictinike. "The venerable man is deprived (by their chasing) even of his robe," said they. "Yes, it is just so." He stood panting excessively, as he was a tempter. "We will see them. Come, tell us about them," said they. "Not so indeed," said Ictinike. "Bring to me one of the robes. I will go to see." "The venerable man speaks very truly," they said. And the robe was given him; a thick summer robe was given him. He departed, following the stream. "Ha! ha! Day after day have I been doing that to them heretofore. One person did not treat me well at all," he said (meaning the Rabbit).

THE RABBIT AND THE GRIZZLY BEAR; OR, THE BIRTH OF THE YOUNG RABBIT.

TOLD BY NUDA'-AXA.

Maⁿteú aká Mactein'ge eínké wagidaⁿbe akí-biamá. Gaⁿ éé amá, Grizzly bear the Rabbit the (st. ob.) to scout for his reached home, And went they say (sub.) own they say.

wénaxiá-biamá Mactein'ge aká. Jé wiⁿ eiⁿ-qti t'éça-biamá Mactein'ge attacked them they say Rabbit the Buffalo one fat very he killed, they say Rabbit
 (sub.) (sub.)

aká. Úh aⁿwaⁿ'ça mañgín'-gǎ, á-biamá Maⁿteú aká. Maⁿteú ictá-jide 3 the To come to tell about begone, said, they say Grizzly bear the Grizzly bear eye red (sub.) (sub.) for the meat me

ufhe tiçábi-gǎ háu, á-biamá Mactein'ge aká. Hiⁿ+! wici'é, wiⁿaⁿ waja, to come pass ye on I said, they say Rabbit the Oh! my husband's in which place I for the meat brother

á-biamá Maⁿteú miⁿ'ga aká. Gaⁿ aça-biamá. Iⁿ akí-biamá jé ké said, they say Grizzly bear female the And went they say. Brought home they say buff lo the (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) on their backs (narr) béuga-qti. Kí Maⁿteú jin'ga aká dúbá-biamá. Gaⁿ jingá háci-qteí aká 6 all. And Grizzly bear young the four they say. And young last very the (sub.) (sub.)

Mactein'ge eñ'çéç-hnaⁿ-biamá. Waçatai té hébe éçin ahí-hnaⁿ-biamá Rabbit he pitied habitu- they say. What they ate part having he ar- habitu- they say ally ally rived ally maⁿçaⁿ-hnaⁿ. Cí égasani xi ei Maⁿteú aká ei éçiçaⁿ-biamá: Mactein'ge, by stealth habitu- Again the next when again Grizzly the again said to him, they say: Rabbit, ally ally day

únase çiçha ugípi há, á-biamá (Maⁿteú aká). Jiⁿ'çehá, hiⁿbé úagiçaⁿ há, 9 chasing place your own is full said, they say Grizzly bear the (sub.). Older brother, moccasins I put on my own

á-biamá (Mactein'ge aká). Gaⁿ wénaxiça-biamá. Cí jé wiⁿ eiⁿ-qti said, they say Rabbit the (sub.). And he attacked them they say. Again buffalo one fat very t'éça-biamá. Ê'di ahí-biamá. Úhe aⁿwaⁿ'ça mañgín'-gǎ, á-biamá (Maⁿteú he killed, they say. There arrived, they say. To come to tell of me begone, said, they say Grizzly bear aká). Gaⁿ agçé amáma Mactein'ge amá. Maⁿteú ictá-jide ufhe tiçábi-gǎ 12 the And was going homeward, Rabbit the Grizzly bear eye red to go pass on, (sub.) (sub.) they say (mv. sub.) for meat

háu, á-biamá Mactein'ge aká. Hiⁿ+! wici'é, wiⁿaⁿ waja, á-biamá Maⁿteú
 I said, they say Rabbit the Oh! my husband's in which place I said, they say Grizzly bear (sub.) brother

miⁿ'ga aká. Gaⁿ ufhe aça-biamá. Cí béuga-qti iⁿ akí-biamá. Kí é Maⁿteú female the And to go for went they say. And all very brought home on their And that Grizzly (sub.) (sub.) meat backs, they say. bear jin'ga aká ei hébe éçin ahí-biamá. Kí Maⁿteú aká gá-biamá: Hébe 15 young the again a piece having he arrived, they And Grizzly bear the said as follows, A piece (sub.) (sub.) for him say. (sub.) they say:

wéçahniⁿ ei éjaⁿmiⁿ, á-biamá. Égasani xi wadaⁿ'be agí-biamá Ma-you took for you I think, said, they say. The next day when scouting was coming back, Rabsome one went they say. they say.

44 THE ÇEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- etoin'ge, únase çiçha ugipi hā, á-biamá Maⁿteú aká. Jiⁿ'çehá, hiⁿ'bé hit chasing-place your own is full said, they say. Grizzly bear the (sub.). Older brother, me again
- úaghaⁿ hā, á-biamá Mactein'ge aká. Gaⁿ' wénaxiçá-biamá. Çi 1é wiⁿ
 I put on my said, they say Rabbit the (sub.). And he attacked them, they say. Again buffalo one
- 3 ciⁿ'-qti t'çeha-biamá. Eⁿ'di ahí-biamá. Ühe aⁿ'waⁿ'ça mangçin'-gā, á-biamá fat very he killed, they say. There arrived, they say. To come to tell of me begone, said, they say
 for meat
- Maⁿteú aká. Jiⁿ'çeha, hébe agçin' tá minke, á-biamá Mactein'ge aká. Qa-!l Grizzly bear the (sub.). Older brother, a piece I carry will I who, said, they say Rabbit the (sub.). Qa-!l
 the
- waⁿ'iⁿ'gaⁿ'ça áhaⁿ. Ühe aⁿ'waⁿ'ça mangçin'-gā, á-biamá. Gaⁿ' wamákha-bajit-to pack he wishes I To come to tell of me begone, said, they say. And he got out of patience with him
- 6 biamá hébe giⁿ'iⁿ' tē áhucigá-bi egaⁿ' Mactein'go aká. Gaⁿ' 1a gçü they say a piece to carry the he insisted on, they having Rabbit the (sub.). And meat the (pl.)
- máçnuçnuçá-biamá. Ki Mactein'ge aká wami hébe çizá-bi egaⁿ' iⁿ'çenhe cut and disjointed they say. And Rabbit the (sub.) blood a piece he took, having put it in his belt several times
- biamá. Indádaⁿ hnize égaⁿ, á-biamá Maⁿteú aká. Jiⁿ'çeha, indádaⁿ beiza-they say. What have you taken, said, they say Grizzly bear the (sub.). Older brother, what I took
- 9 máji, á-biamá Mactein'ge aká. Ábaçu çan' uçaⁿ'-bi egaⁿ' wami ubtáⁿ'taⁿ'-
 I-not, said, they say Rabbit the (sub.). Nape of the the he held him, having blood he pressed in it repeatedly
- biamá Maⁿteú aká. Xagá-biamá Mactein'ge aká. Gaⁿ' ühe uçaⁿ' f-biamá.
 they say Grizzly bear the (sub.). Cried they say Rabbit the (sub.). And to come to tell he was coming, they say.
- Ufhai égaⁿ atí-biamá. Gaⁿ' çéçan' wami çizai çan' nan'daça içaⁿ'ça-biamá To come so they have come, they say. And this (ob.) blood he took the one which at the side of he put it they say
 for meat
- 12 Mactein'ge aká. Haⁿ' amá. Égiçe Mactein'ge aká gá-biamá: Éskana, Rabbit the (sub.). Night they say. It came to pass Rabbit the (sub.) said as follows, I hope,
 they say
- winiçi, cin'gajinga uktaí fe tigçagçan-ma égaⁿ kaⁿ, á-biamá. Ki égiçan' my child, children they talk speech they begin the ones so I hope, said, they say. And said to it with each other suddenly who
- çictaⁿ'-bi yi, Aⁿ', á-biamá wami çinké cin'gajinga égaⁿ. Ki égaⁿ-biamá.
 he finished, when, Yes, said, they say blood the (one sitting) infant like. And so they say.
- 15 Ki ei çgiçan'-biamá Éskana, winiçi, cin'gajinga uktaí yi edéçanaⁿ-çif-qti-
 And again said to it they say. I hope, my child, infant they talk when they speak very plainly, making no mistakes, with each other
- má égaⁿ kaⁿ, á-biamá. Ki égaⁿ-biamá. Ki, Gaⁿ'-hniñké ç'be uçákie haú, the ones so I hope, said, they say. And so (it they say). And, You sit for a while who you talked with who
- á-biamá Maⁿteú aká. Nál' jiⁿ'çehá, ebéçetē uákie-máji, wi-huaⁿ' náçikié gaⁿ' said, they say Grizzly bear the (sub.). Why! Older brother, who at all I talked I-not, I alone I talk-d with so
 the
- 18 gçiⁿ' minke, á-biamá Mactein'ge aká. Çi égiçan'-biamá. Éskana, winiçi,
 I was sitting, said, they say Rabbit the (sub.). Again said to him they say. I hope, my child,
 the
- nújnga maⁿ'çidaⁿ wakan'dagi taⁿ'çin' tiçáçan-huaⁿ égaⁿ kaⁿ, á-biamá. Ki boy pulling the bow wonderfully well to run starting habitually so I hope, said, they say. And repeatedly ally

égaⁿ-qti átiága-biamá. Cí edhi gáhe-ⁿgaⁿ-kíen-biamá. Éskana, wi-so very became said, they say. And then he caused him to do it repeatedly, they say. I hope, say nísi, nújiga naⁿ-qti-hnaⁿ maⁿédaⁿ wakarⁿ/dagí wasisigé-qti-hnaⁿ égaⁿkaⁿ, child, hoy grown very alone pulling the wonderfully well active very habitu- ally so I hope.

á-biamá. Gaⁿ/ égaⁿ-biamá. Éskana, wínsi, cénujiga maⁿ/jha íaⁿ wapaⁿ/be- 3 said, they say. And so (it they say. I hope, my child, young man quiver then I have hnaⁿ-ma égaⁿkaⁿ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ/ égaⁿ-biamá. Kí aⁿ/ba amá Ké, Ma-habitu- the once so I hope, said, they say. And so (it they say. And day was they Come, Rab- say.

etcin'ge, únase éíéha ugípi há, á-biamá Maⁿtcú aká. Naⁿhéba-grá, jín'ééha, bit, surround- your own is full said, they say Grizzly bear the Wait, elder brother, hiⁿbé uága há, á-biamá. Wanaqéin-grá, edádaⁿ hiⁿbé éégaⁿ/ji oninké, 6 moccasin I am put- said, they say. Hasten, what moccasin you have not you who, si-jaŋga! jaⁿ/xe áhigi! icéa-siŋga! iepépa! á-biamá. Wúhu+ⁿ/a' náji!

big foot! offensive odor much! eye-bull big! mouth in splits! said, they say. Ah! O the villainy!

égaⁿ-qti in'én éskaⁿ náji! á-biamá Maectin'go ijin'go aká. Aⁿ/haⁿ, nísha, like it very he treats I think O the vil- said, they say Rabbit his son the Yes, my child, égaⁿ-qti-hnaⁿ aⁿ/én, 'úgea-qti, nísha, aⁿ/én, á-biamá Maectin'ge aká. (Pé 9 like it very habitu- ally he keeps me suffering very, my child, he keeps said, they say Rabbit the He goes té wánanúse éaⁿ damú ámusta wíjaⁿ/be ajaⁿ/ tá minke, á-biamá. Hébe the they surrounded where down hill right above I see you file will I who, said, they say. A piece qagi'ín 'éaéé té, á-biamá Maectin'ge ijin'ge aká. Gaⁿ/ wénaxíai té 16 you carry you speak will, said, they say Rabbit his son the And he attacked them when suf- falo wiⁿ/t'éa-biamá. Maⁿtcú amá é'di áhí-biamá. Úhe aⁿ/waⁿ/éa maŋgín'-gá, 12 one he killed they say. Grizzly bear the (mv. there arrived, they say. To come to tell of me begone, á-biamá. Ná! jín'ééha, an'kaji há, á-biamá. Hébe agí'ín kaⁿ/b'ea, jín'ééha, said, they say. Why! elder brother, not so said, they say. A piece I carry mine I wish, elder brother, á-biamá. Qa-i-! waⁿ/iⁿ gaⁿ/éa ínaliⁿ á. Úhe aⁿ/waⁿ/éa maŋgín'-gá, said, they say. Qa-i-! to carry he wishes truly I To come for meat to tell of me begone, á-biamá. Ná! jín'ééha, hébe agí'ín kaⁿ/b'ea, jín'ééha, á-biamá. Ná! Ma- 15 said, they say. Why! elder brother, a piece I carry mine I wish, elder brother, said, they say. Why! Rabetcin'ge íe té égijaⁿ/ji-hnaⁿ éde waéísisige, á-biamá. Ná! jín'ééha, bit speech the you have not habitu- but you are active, said, they say. Why! elder brother, an'kaji há éaⁿ/ja wí cti jín'ééha, naⁿpaⁿ/hiⁿ-hnaⁿ-maⁿ égaⁿ hébe agí'ín not so though I too elder brother, I am hungry habitu- I have so a piece I carry mine kaⁿ/b'ea, á-biamá. Ná! wíⁿ/ake, Maectin'ge uéúajiⁿ éat'aⁿ eb'éégaⁿ ádaⁿ 18

I wish said, they say. Why! I tell the truth Rabbit to depend on you have I think there- fore íe aⁿ/onajuáji égaⁿ áhaⁿ, á-biamá Maⁿtcú aká. Gaⁿ/ éi égiéaⁿ amá speech you have treated some- wíat I said, they say Grizzly bear the And again said to him they say yi maⁿ/aéaéa aéíⁿ-biamá, babéjé-qti ééa-biamá. Maectin'ge ijin'ge aká when on his back re- had him, they say, pushed him very suddenly, they say. Rabbit his son the (sub.)

46 THE ØEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- agfi tē. Gaⁿ maⁿ tē gēfaniⁿenⁿde agfi-biamá, manⁿdē kē ugmaⁿqpá-biamá was coming And arrow the pulled out several of was coming, they how the he strung his own, they say back (col.) his own any
- Macteinⁿge ijinⁿge aká. Kugé! á-biamá, dúŋaⁿ giⁿn-gá, á-biamá Rabbit his son the O younger said, they say, the (meat) on carry your own, said, they say (sub.) brother! this side of you
- 3 Maⁿteú aká. Janúŋa ŋⁿ hébe aⁿŋa ŋéŋai tē. Ubeŋage há. 'In-gá, Grizzly bear the Fresh meat the a piece he threw away suddenly. I am unwilling Carry it,
(sub.)
- á-biamá Macteinⁿge aká. Ki ijinⁿge amú ó'di áki-biamá. Naji! éŋaⁿ-qti said, they say Rabbit the And his son the (mv. these came home, they O the vil- like it very (sub.) say. say. busy!
- iⁿŋamíⁿ eskaⁿ, á-biamá Macteinⁿge ijinⁿge aká. Nà! niaŋa, ŋiádi ŋé giⁿnyou have been I suspect, said, they say Rabbit his son the Why! my child, your this carrying treating my own
- 6 te. É'i há wanⁿgiŋe, á-biamá Maⁿteú aká. Nà! 'in-gá há, á-biamá Ma-will. I have all, said, they say Grizzly bear the Boah! carry it said, they say Rab-given back (sub.)
- eteinⁿge ijinⁿge aká, Maⁿteú é waká-bi egaⁿ. Gaⁿ maⁿŋaŋa aŋiⁿ-bi egaⁿ hit his son the Grizzly bear that he meant having. And on his back he had him, having (sub.) they say
- Maⁿteú ŋiⁿ kida-biamá Macteinⁿge ijinⁿge aká. Maⁿ naⁿba 'tu-biamá Grizzly bear the (mv. shot at, they say Rabbit his son the Arrow two wounded with, they say
(sub.)
- 9 Maⁿteú. Gaⁿ t'éŋa biamá. Igáŋaⁿ ŋinké úhe uhná tē edéce-hnaⁿ á, á-Grizzly bear. And killed him, they say. His wife the one to come you told when what said habitu- I who for me ally
- á-biamá Macteinⁿge ijinⁿge iŋádi. Igáŋaⁿbi egaⁿ. Aⁿhaⁿ, á-biamá, said, they say Rabbit his son his father he asked his own, having. Yes, said, they say,
they say
- Maⁿteú ietá-jide uhe tiŋábi-gá haú, ehé-hnaⁿ-maⁿ, á-biamá. Égiŋaⁿ-biamá.
Grizzly bear eye red to come pass ye on I said habitu- I have, said, they say. He said to they say.
for meat ally him
- 12 É'di áki-biamá. Ljébe tē ubáhaⁿ basninⁿdihé amá éŋaⁿbe hí tē. Ká-There reached home, they say. Door the tent-front he passed in he ad they when he came in slight. (Sound of bow)
- biamá. Gaⁿ Maⁿteú wa'újingu t'éŋa-biamá Macteinⁿge ijinⁿge aká. Mathey say. And Grizzly bear old woman he killed they say Rabbit his son the Rab-
(sub.)
- eteinⁿge áwahnankáŋe ŋa'eiⁿŋiⁿŋakiŋaí á, á-biamá. Wí, wí, wí, á-biamá.
hit where are you who you pitied mine for me I said, they say. I, I, I, said, they say.
- 15 Za'é-qti-aⁿ-biamá. Ki jingá háci aká, Wí-hnaⁿ etē eduŋa-máji tē, á-biamá.
A great confusion they say. And young that the I alone even I did not follow them, said, they say.
(sub.)
- Gaⁿ ŋeáká ŋabŋiⁿ zani t'éwaŋá-biamá. Gaⁿ, ŋiádi ní éŋacki ŋanájiⁿ tē
And this (col.) three all he killed them, they say. And, Your water you go for you stand as father him
- tiŋá-gá, á-biamá Macteinⁿge ijinⁿge aká. Há! jīŋéŋa, á-biamá Maⁿteú pass on, said, they say Rabbit his son the O! elder brother, said, they say Grizzly bear
(sub.)
- 18 jinⁿga umúete ŋinké. Gaⁿ újawa-qti iŋádi ŋinké jūgigéŋa-biamá. Dadŋa, young left from shooting he who. And having a very his father he who he with his they say. O father, good time own
- maⁿ d'úba inŋáxa-gá há, á-biamá. Gaⁿ maⁿ gáxa-biamá, hégaŋi maⁿ ŋi-arrow some make for me said, they say. And arrow made for they say, a great many arrow in-
him
- ctaⁿ-biamá. Qiŋá-macaⁿ éna-siqti iŋáŋa-biamá. Gaⁿ gaⁿ-akáma gá-biamá:
fished they say. Eagle feathers all alike he put on, they say. And alter he sat awhile said as follows,
they say:

Dadlha, wáqaha údaⁿ-qti kaⁿ'bqa, á-biamá. Aⁿ, á-biamú Mactcin'go aká.
 O rather, clothing good very I wish, said, they say. Yes, said, they say Rabbit the (sub.).

Caⁿ' waqúge wiⁿ giáxa-biamá, dánuhu wiⁿ' amá. Caⁿ' wajin'ga ukidate júga
 And háⁿ one made for they say, owl one they say. In fact bird sewed together body béúga qti wáqaha-biamá. Ci hiⁿbé úgaⁿ dánuhu akíwa úgaⁿ'-biamá. Si- 3 all very he clothed they say. Again moreover so owl both he put on (wore) they say. a éize maⁿ'éiⁿ-bi té'di, Há! hú! hú! é-hnaⁿ-biamá. dánuhu wanaⁿ'hutaⁿstep walked, they say when, Há! hu! hu! said habitu- they say. Owl he made them hunt as nly hnaⁿ'-biamá. Caⁿ' wajin'ga béúga hutaⁿ za'g'-qti-nⁿ'-biamá.

 he walked, they say. In fact bird crying made a great noise, they say.

NOTES.

The Grizzly bear went out very early each morning in search of buffalo. Having found the game, he used to get home by sunrise, when he informed the Rabbit. The Rabbit, who was very swift, could chase the buffalo and kill them; but the Grizzly bear was unable to do this, so he kept the Rabbit as his servant, calling him his younger brother.

43. 3. uh aⁿwaⁿqa maigéiⁿ-gá. Uh, a contr. of úhe, to go out from camp to meet the hunters and help to bring the fresh meat home. "Begone, and tell them about me, so that they may come out for the fresh meat, and pack it into camp." The Bear took all the credit to himself.

43. 4. Sanssouci and F. LaFlèche gave "tiéai-gá haú" instead of tiéabi-gá haú. The Kwapa Čegiha (Kansas, etc.) uses "-hi" as a plural sign, where the Omaha Čegiha has "-i."

43. 6. bēngaqtí, pronounced bēu+gaqtí by Nudaⁿ-axa.

44. 7. wami hebe - - iigéaⁿ-biama. The piece of clotted blood was about the size of two fingers.

44. 9. abaxu qⁿ uqaⁿ-bi egaⁿ, etc. The Bear got out of patience with the Rabbit, who insisted on carrying a piece of the meat.

44. 12. eskana, winisi, etc. The growth of the young Rabbit was as follows: (1) He commenced talking, saying words here and there, not speaking plainly or connectedly. (2) Next, he spoke without missing a word or syllable. (3) He became like boys who pull the bow and shoot very well, and who run a little now and then, but not very far. (4) He was as a youth who can draw the arrow, and who runs swiftly for some time. (5) He became a young man, one of those who carry the quiver and take wives.

45. 7. naji, a word implying anger on the part of the speaker.

45. 10. hebe qagiⁿ qéqé té. "You must speak to him for a piece that you can carry yourself."

45. 16. ie té égiⁿjiⁿ-hnaⁿ, etc. "Why, Rabbit, you have not been using such language, but (now) you are active."

45. 19. aⁿanajuaⁿji, equal to aⁿéé'aje—qéiⁿ-naⁿpají. See fifth myth, 23, 11.

46. 1. ugiⁿnaⁿqpa-biama. Omahas, etc., carry their bows, when not in use, with one end of the string loose. When they wish to string the bow, they bend it with the foot, and put the string on the other end.—L. Sanssouci.

48 THE ØEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

46, 4. náji, éga^a-qti i^açalni^a eska^a. "I suspect that you have been treating my father just so."

46, 12. ubaha^a basnindihé ama. A case of hapax legomenon. F. La Flèche would read "Kída-biama, he shot at her," instead of "Ku biama," which is not plain to him.

46, 16. čiadi, etc. The Rabbit's son adopted the kind young Grizzly bear as his younger brother; hence the elder Rabbit became the adoptive father of the Grizzly bear.

46, 19. hegaji, pronounced here as he-gaji.

46, 20. içaça-biama. Instr. from açu, to stick on, as with glue.

TRANSLATION.

The Grizzly bear came home, having been scouting for the Rabbit. And the Rabbit went to attack the herd. The Rabbit killed a very fat buffalo. "Begone and tell about me, that they may come after the meat," said the Grizzly bear. "Pass ye on to the red-eyed Grizzly bear, to help him pack the meat!" said the Rabbit. Oh! my husband's brother, in which direction?" said the female Grizzly bear. And they departed. They brought home all of the buffalo meat. And there were four young Grizzly bears. And the youngest one pitied the Rabbit. He used to bring him by stealth a part of what they ate. And on the next day the Grizzly bear said to him again: "Rabbit, your chasing-place is full of game." "O elder brother!" said the Rabbit, "I am putting on my moccasins." And he attacked them. Again he killed a very fat buffalo. The Grizzly bear went thither. "Begone and tell about me, that they may come after the meat," said the Bear. And the Rabbit was going homeward. "Pass ye on to the red-eyed Grizzly bear, to help him to pack the meat!" said the Rabbit. "Oh! my husband's brother, in which direction?" said the female Grizzly bear. And they went to pack the meat. And they brought home all the meat on their backs. And the young Grizzly bear brought him a piece again. And the Grizzly bear said as follows: "I think that you took a piece to some one." The next day he was returning from scouting. "Rabbit, your chasing-place is full," said the Grizzly bear. "O elder brother! I am putting on my moccasins," said the Rabbit. And he attacked them. Again he killed a very fat buffalo. The Bear arrived there. "Begone and tell about me, that they may come after the meat," said the Grizzly bear. "O elder brother! I will carry my own piece," said the Rabbit. "Qa-i! He wishes to carry meat! Begone and tell about me, that they may come after the meat," said he. And he got out of patience with him, as the Rabbit insisted on carrying his own piece. And the Rabbit cut the meat several times with a knife, causing pieces to come off. And the Rabbit seized a piece of blood and put it into his belt. "What have you been taking," said the Grizzly bear. "O elder brother! I have taken nothing," said the Rabbit. Holding the Rabbit by the nape of the neck, he pressed him repeatedly in the blood. The Rabbit cried. And he approached to tell them to go after the meat. Having gone after the meat, they came to the lodge. And the Rabbit put at the side of the lodge this piece of blood which he had taken. It was night. And the Rabbit said as follows: "I hope, my child, that you may be as children who begin to talk suddenly, saying a word now and then." And when he had finished speaking to him, the blood said "Yes," like an infant. And it was so. And he said to him again: "I hope, my child, that you may be like children who speak plainly without missing a word." And it was so. And the Grizzly bear said, "With whom were you talking, as you sat for a while?" "Why, elder brother, I was talking with no one at all. I was sitting talking to myself," said the Rabbit. Again he said to him: "I hope, my child, that you may be like boys who pull the bow wonderfully well, and run now and then for a short distance." And it became so very suddenly. And then he made him do it repeatedly. I hope, my child, that you may be like the youth who are grown, who pull the bow very well, and who are so active that they run a great distance." And it was so. "I hope, my child, that you may be like the young men whom I have seen carrying the quiver." And it was so. And it was day. "Come, Rabbit, your chasing-place is full," said the Grizzly bear. "Wait, elder brother, I am putting on my moccasins," said the Rabbit. "Hasten, you who have not put on any moccasins, big-foot! much offensive odor! big eyeballs! mouth split in many places!" said the Bear. "Aha! O the villainy! I suspect that he treats my relation very much like that," said the Rabbit's son. "Yes, my child, he is used to treating me just so. He keeps me in great suffering, my child," said the Rabbit. "When he goes, I will lie looking at you, right above the descent of the hill where they have surrounded the herd from time to time. You must speak to him for a piece for you to carry," said the Rabbit's son. And when he attacked them, he killed a buffalo. The Grizzly bear arrived there. "Begone and tell about me, that they may come after the meat," said he. "Now, elder brother, not so indeed," said the Rabbit. "I wish to carry a piece of my own, elder brother," said he. "Qa-i! He truly wishes to carry! Begone and tell them about me, that they may come after the meat," said he. "Why! elder brother, I wish to carry my own piece," said the Rabbit. "Why! Rabbit, you have not been using such language, but you are active (at present)," said the Bear. "Why! elder brother, though it is not so, I too, elder brother, am used to being hungry, so I wish to carry my own piece (of meat)," said the Rabbit. "Why! I speak truly, Rabbit, you have some one to depend on, I think, therefore you have been abusing me somewhat in speech!" said the Grizzly bear. And when he said it to him again, he sent the Rabbit on his back repeatedly; he pushed him over very suddenly. The Rabbit's son was coming. And he was pulling several arrows out of his quiver as he was coming. The Rabbit's son strung his bow. "O younger brother, carry your own (meat), that which is on this side of you," said the Grizzly bear. He threw away suddenly the piece of fresh meat. "I am unwilling, carry it (yourself)," said the Rabbit. And his son had come back thither. "O the villainy! I suspect that you have been treating my relation just so," said the Rabbit's son. "Why! my child, your father can carry this. I have given all back to him," said the Grizzly bear. "Bosh! Carry it (yourself)," said the Rabbit's son, meaning the Grizzly bear. Having sent the Grizzly bear on his back repeatedly, the Rabbit's son shot at the Grizzly bear, wounding him with two arrows. And he killed him. "What are you used to saying when you go to tell his wife to go and carry the meat?" said the Rabbit's son, questioning his father. "Yes," said he, "Pass ye on to the red-eyed Grizzly bear, to help him to pack the meat, I am used to saying." And he said it to him. He reached home. When he came in sight, and lay stretched out (on his stomach) at the front of the lodge, he pushed in head foremost at the door. "Ku!" (sound of the shooting). And the Rabbit's son killed the old woman Grizzly bear. "Where are you who pitied my relation, the Rabbit?" said he. "I—I—1," they said, making a great uproar. And the youngest one said, "I, alone, did not join with them (in maltreating him)." And the Rabbit's son killed these three. And the Rabbit's son said, "Pass on (undisturbed), as you continue to fetch water for your father." "Thank you, elder brother," said the young Grizzly bear who was left after the shooting of the others. And the Rabbit's son was with his father, having a very pleasant time. "Father, make some arrows for me," said he. And he made a great many arrows for him. He finished the arrows, fixing eagle feathers on all alike. And after he sat awhile, he said as follows: "Father, I wish very good clothing." "Yes," said the Rabbit. And he made a hat for him; it was a great owl. Indeed, he clothed his whole body, sewing birds together. And he put on moccasins, both of which had great owls on them. When he walked a step, they used to say, "Hu! hu! hu!" He made the great owls hoot as he walked. And, in fact, all the birds cried and made a great uproar.

THE YOUNG RABBIT AND ICTINIKE.

TOLD BY NUDAN-AXA.

- Mactein'ge amá égiçe Ictinike ákipa-biamá sabáji. Wuhu+! há tucpá, Rabbit the at length Ictinike met tuc say suddenly. Wuhu+! O grandchild,
 (my. sub.)
 há tucpá, á-biamá. I'c'áge, edéce táda, á-biamá Mactein'ge aká. Jucpáha, O grandchild, said, they say. Venerable what would you said, they say Rabbit the man, say I (sub.). O grandchild, 3 wajin'ga wi' g'cé éin'ke t'ean'kiça-gü, á-biamá. Ga' kida-biamá. Kusanbird one going homeward, cause me to kill it, said, they say. And shot at it, they say. Thro:
 the one that dé'-qti iça'ça-biamá. U'páçé í amá. U'já amá. Jucpáça, fá'ean'giça-gü. and through he put it, they say. Falling coming, they Lodged they say. (in a tree) say. O grandchild, pity me.
 Há tucpá, há tucpá, pí-qti fá'ean'giça-gü, á-biamá. An'kaji, i'c'áge, aa' b'ça O grandchild, O grandchild, again very pity me, said, they say. Not so, venerable I abandon man, it
 6 tá minke; éizé ma'çin'-gü, á-biamá. An'kaji, tucpáha, ma' kē úda' tcábe will I who; to take it walk thou, said, they say. Not so, grandchild, arrow the good very (ob.)
 éde hnizaji xi é'be aqin' táda, á-biamá (Ictinike aká). Wúhu+! á-biamá, but you take it if who have it shall? said, they say Ictinike the (sub.). Really! said, they say,
 not i'c'áge uhé ga'ça inahi' áha. Ga' wáçaha tē çionúda-biamá b'çuga venerable to have wishes truly I And clothing the pulled off they say the whole.
 man his way
 9 Qabé tē áne aça-biamá. Cēçu ctē áçaskábe te há, á-biamá. Edécega' á Tree the climb- went, they say. There even stick will said, they say. What were you I ing saying i'c'áge, á-biamá. Nā! júpaça' edécha-máji. Yáci wéahide in'hi áha, venerable said, they say. Why! grandchild what I said I not. A long far he has man, time back gone for me ehé minké, á-biamá. Ga' éé améga' ci éga-biamá. Cēçu ctē áçaskábe
 I was saying, said, they say. And as he was going again so they say. There even let him stick

- te hā', á-biamá. Edécegaⁿ á i'c'áge, á-biamá. Nā! úcpaçaⁿ, edéha-máji.
 said, they say. What were you ? venerable said, they say. Why! grandchild, what I I not.
 saying man
- Yáci wéahide i'hi áhaⁿ, ehé' minké, á-biamá. Gaⁿ fé amégaⁿ cí égaⁿ-
 A long far he has I was saying, said, they say. And as he was going again so time back reached for me
- biamá. Céçu cté áçaskábe te hā', á-biamá. Edécegaⁿ á i'c'áge, á-biamá. 3 they say. There even let him stick said, they say. What were you ? venerable said, they say.
 saying man
- Nā! úcpaçaⁿ, edéha-máji. Kan'ge i'hi áhaⁿ, ehé' minké, iñg'pó, á-biamá.
 Why! grandchild, I said what I not. Near at hand has I was saying, O first said, they say.
 reached for me born,
- Gaⁿ cí fé amá cí égaⁿ-biamá. Céçu cté áçaskabe te hā', á-biamá. Edécegaⁿ And again he was again so they say. There even let him stick said, they say. What were going you saying
- á i'c'áge, á-biamá. Céçu cté áçaskabe, ehé, á-biamá (Ictínike aká). 6
 I venerable man, said, they say. There even he sticks, I said, said, they say. Ictínike the (sub.).
- Mactein'ge aká jaⁿ tē áçaskabá-biamá. Gaⁿ wáçaha tē áçaha-bi egaⁿ-Rabbit the (sub.) tree the stuck to it they say. And clothing the he put on, they having (ob.) say
- taⁿ wāngçaⁿ wiⁿ é'di ahí-bi egaⁿ nřkagahi ijan'ge wiⁿ gçaⁿ-biamá. Cé ntion one there arrived, having chief his daughter one he married, they say. This
- jingá aká wajiⁿ cte aça-biamá. Égiçe maⁿ cíaça uřtřidá-biamá ři égiçe 9 young the in a bad humor departed, they say. It came to on high she gazed they say when at length (sub.) pass
- nřaci'ga gaⁿ taⁿ amá, qçabé áçaskabe najiⁿ taⁿ řça-biamá. Gaⁿ gasá-biamá person he was stand- they tree sticking to it who was stand- she found him, And she cut it, they ing awhile say, ing they say.
- qçabé tē. Gaqřaça-bi egaⁿ jaⁿ kē řçutaⁿ-qti néça-biamá Égiçe náqpaⁿtree the Made it fall they having wood the straight towards made a fire, they At length she caused (std. ob.) by cutting say (lg. ob.) say.
- çai tē. Gaⁿ júgçe gçiⁿ-biamá dēde tēdi. Nřaci'ga wiⁿ 'ágçeaⁿ çē teábe 12 it to melt. And with her he sat they say fire at the. Person one caused me to very suffer much
- cuçé, á-biamá. Aⁿ haⁿ, é'di ahři éde wi jaⁿ çē aká áçixai, á-biamá. Gaⁿ went to said they say. Yes, there he ar- but my elder the married said they say. And you he rived sister (sub.) him she
- júgçe agçá-biamá. Ççamá wáçixe uqiⁿ a çē amaçaⁿ Mactein'ge ijin'ge with him also went they say. This one to marry a sulky about go who did, they Rabbit his son homeward man say
- júgçe agçí, é-hnaⁿ-biamá, çahíde-hnaⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ ahí-biamá. Céçin' qřçá 15 with him she has said habitu- they say, ridiculing habitually they say. And he ar- they say. That come home ally her rived (mv. ob.) eagle
- wiⁿ cuçé hau. Mactein'ge ijin'ge éçaⁿ be égaⁿ te, á-biamá. Kide ágaji-one goes to you ? Rabbit his son do let him be coming in sight said, they say. To shoot they com-at it manded
- biamá. (Mactein'ge ijin'ge aká kan'gē-qçei ahí-biamá ři wáçaha aká they say. Rabbit his son the near at hand very arrived they say when clothing the (sub.) (sub.)
- wajiⁿ ga řigídahaⁿ i tē ři tē, hutaⁿ-biamá Ictínike aká gá-biamá: Gáqtaⁿ- 18 bird knew its own coming the cried (hooted) they say. Ictínike the said, as follows, They always (sub.) they say:
- hnaⁿ i hā. Qçřaji égaⁿ gçiⁿ i-gā, á-biamá. Cuçé qřçá wiⁿ hau, á-biamá.
 do so Silent so alt yo said, they say. Goes to eagle one I said, they say.
 you

- Mactein'ge ijin'ge épaⁿbe ágajfi-gā haú, á-biamá. Ietínike amá épaⁿbe Rabbit his son to come in command ye I said, they say. Ietínike the (mv. coming in sight sub.)
- ahí-biamá. Ámustá-qi she amá. Kída-bi egaⁿ múonaⁿ-biamá. Céká arrived, they say. Directly above it passed they say. He shot at it, having he missed it, they say. This one
- 3 áma aká épaⁿbe ahí-biamá. Gaⁿté-qi xi épaⁿbe ahí-bi xi húçuga ídaⁿthe other one in sight arrived, they say. A great while when in sight arrived when tribal circle right
 they say
- beaá-qi gawiⁿxe maⁿçinⁿ-biamá qíá amá. Kíde épaⁿ-biamá xi t'épa-through the middle circled around walked they say eagle the (mv. sub.). Shot at him with force they say when he killed him
- biamá. Wuhú! t'éçai haú, á-biamá. Téná! Mactein'ge ijin'ge é aká xi, they say. Wuhu! he killed him I said, they say. Why! Rabbit his son that the one when, (f)
- 6 á-biamá. T'éçai té uckaⁿ çan'di ahí-bi xi hiⁿqpé wiⁿ uéçpaçá-bikéamá.
 said, they say. He killed it deed the (place) arrived, when fine feather one had fallen, they say.
 where they say
- Çizá-biamá. Gáké ihéça-gā á-biamá, wa'ú é waká-bi egaⁿ. Qíá íkiná-
 He took it, they say. That put it away, said they say, woman that he meant having. Eagle contended (fig. ob.) say.
- biamá nfaciⁿga beúga. Égasani xi aⁿba amá Mácaⁿ ihéçaçé ké daⁿbá-gā they say men all. The next day when day they say. Feather you put away the look at it
- 9 há, á-biamá. Daⁿbá-biamá. Hiⁿ+! á-biamá. Çaqúba-biamá. Çéçinké said, they say. Saw it, they say. Oh! said they say. Spoke in wonder, they say. This one who
- qíá beúga-qi-aⁿ çínké, á-biamá. I'e'áge éçiⁿ maⁿçinⁿ-gā, á-biamá. Gaⁿ eagle the whole the one said they say. Venerable take it to him said they say. And who, she ho
- éçiⁿ ahí-biamá. Égasani xi, Cuçé qíá wiⁿ haú, á-biamá. Mactein'ge ijin'ge having she arrived, they say. The following when, Goes eagle one I said, they say. Rabbit his son it for him day to you
- 12 épaⁿbe ágajfi gā haú, á-biamá. Ietínike amá épaⁿbe ahí-biamá. Ámustato appear command ye I said, they say. Ietínike the (mv. in sight arrived, they say. Directly
 sub.)
- qi she amá. Kída-bi egaⁿ múonaⁿ-biamá. Céká áma aká épaⁿbe ahí-above it they say. He shot at it, having he missed it they say. This one the other one in sight ar-passed say.
- biamá. Gan'té-qi xi épaⁿbe ahí-bi xi húçuga ídaⁿbeaá-qi gawiⁿxe they say. A great while when in sight arrived, they say when tribal circle right through the middle circled around
- 15 maⁿçinⁿ-biamá qíá amá. Kíde épaⁿ-biamá xi t'épa-biamá. Wuhú! t'éçai walked they say eagle the (mv. sub.). Shot at him with force, they say when he killed him, they say. Wuhu! he killed him
- haú, á-biamá. Téná! Mactein'ge ijin'ge é aká xi, á-biamá. T'éçai té
 I said, they say. Why! Rabbit his son that the one when, (f) said, they say. He killed it
- uckaⁿ çan'di ahí-bi xi hiⁿqpé wiⁿ uéçpaçá-bikéamá. Çizá-biamá. Gádeed the (place) arrived, when light feather one was falling they say. He took it, they say. That where they say
- 18 ké ihéça-gā Égasani xi aⁿba amá. Mácaⁿ ihéçaçé ké daⁿbá-gā há,
 (fig. ob.) put it away. The next day when day they say. Feather you put away the look at it
 (fig. ob.)
- á-biamá. Daⁿbá-biamá. Hiⁿ+! á-biamá. Çaqúba-biamá. Çéçinké qíá said, they say. Saw it they say. Oh! said they say. Spoke in wonder, they say. This one eagle
- beúga-qi-aⁿ çínké, á-biamá. I'e'áge éçiⁿ maⁿçinⁿ-gā, á-biamá. Gaⁿ éçiⁿ the whole the one said they say. Venerable take it to him, said they say. And having who she man he it for him

- ahí-biamá. Égasani xī, Cuçé qíçá wíⁿ haú, á-biamá. Mactein'ge ijin'ge arrived, they say. The next day when, Goes to eagle one I said, they say. Rabbit his son
- éçaⁿbe ágají-gá haú, á-biamá. Ictinike amá éçaⁿbe ahí-biamá. Ámustá-qtí to appear command ye I said, they say. Ictinike the (mv. in sight arrived, they say. Directly above
sub.)
- íhe amá. Kída-bi egaⁿ múonaⁿ-biamá. Çéaká áma aká éçaⁿbe ahí-biamá. 3 it passed, they say. He shot at it having he missed it they say. This one the other one in sight arrived, they say.
- Gaⁿté-qtí xī éçaⁿbe ahí bi xī húçuga ídaⁿbeaⁿá-qtí gawiⁿxe maⁿçíⁿ-biamá
A great while when in sight arrived, when tribal circle right through the circled around walked they say they say middle
- qíçá amá. Kíde éça-biamá xī t'éça-biamá. Wuhú! t'éçai haú, á-biamá.
eagle the (mv. sub.). He shot at him with force, they when he killed him, they Wuhú! he killed I said, they say.
say him
- Tená! Mactein'ge ijin'ge é aká xī, á-biamá. T'éçai té uckaⁿ çan'di ahí-bi 6
Why! Rabbit his son that the when said, they say. He killed it deed the (place) arrived they say (sub.) (f) where
- xī híⁿçpé wíⁿ uçíqpaçá-bikéamá. Çizá-biamá. Gáké ihéça-gá. Égasani when light one was falling, they say. He took it, they say. That put it away. The next feather (lg. ob.) day
- xī aⁿba amá. Mácaⁿ ihéçaçé ké daⁿbá-gá há', á-biamá. Daⁿbá-biamá.
when day, they say. Feather you put away the look at it said, they say. Saw it they say.
(lg. ob.)
- Híⁿ! á-biamá. Çaqúba-biamá. Çéçínké qíçá bçúga-qtí-aⁿ çínké, 9
Oh! said she, they say. Spoke in wonder, they say. This one eagle the whole the one who,
- á-biamá. Iⁿc'áge éçíⁿ maⁿçín'-gá, á-biamá. Gaⁿ éçín' ahí-biamá. Égasani said they say. Venerable take it to him, said they say. And having arrived, they say. The next
she man he it for him day
- xī, Cuçé qíçá wíⁿ haú, á-biamá. Mactein'ge ijin'ge éçaⁿbe ágají-gá haú, when, Goes to eagle one I said, they. Rabbit his son to appear command ye I
- á-biamá. Ictinike amá éçaⁿbe ahí-biamá. Ámustá-qtí íhe amá. Kída-bi 12 said, they say. Ictinike the (mv. in sight arrived, they say. Directly above it passed they say. He shot at it they say
sub.)
- egaⁿ múonaⁿ-biamá. Áma aká éçaⁿbe ahí-biamá. Gaⁿté-qtí xī éçaⁿbe having he missed it they say. The other in sight arrived, they say. A great while when in sight
- ahí-bi xī húçuga ídaⁿbeaⁿá-qtí gawiⁿxe maⁿçíⁿ-biamá qíçá amá. Kíde arrived, when tribal circle right through the circled around walked they say eagle the (mv. sub.). He shot at him
they say middle
- éça-biamá xī t'éça-biamá Wuhú! t'éçai haú, á-biamá. Tená! Mactein'ge 15 with force, they when he killed him, they Wuhú! he killed him I said, they say. Why! Rabbit
- ijin'ge é aká xī, á-biamá. T'éçai té uckaⁿ çan'di ahí-bi xī híⁿçpé wíⁿ his son that the when, said, they say. He killed it deed the (place) arrived, when light one (sub.) (f) where they say feather
- uçíqpaçá-bikéamá. Çizá-biamá. Gáké ihéça-gá. Égasani xī aⁿba was falling, they say. He took it, they say. That (lg. ob.) put it away. The next day when day they say. Feather you put away the look at it said, they say. Saw it they say. Oh!
- amá. Mácaⁿ ihéçaçé ké daⁿbá-gá há', á-biamá. Daⁿbá-biamá. Híⁿ! 18 they say. Feather you put away the (lg. ob.) look at it said, they say. Saw it they say. Oh!
- á-biamá. Çaqúba-biamá. Çéçínké qíçá bçúga-qtí-aⁿ çínké, á-biamá.
said they say. Spoke in wonder, they say. This one eagle the whole the one who said they say.
she
- Iⁿc'áge éçín' maⁿçín'-gá, á-biamá. Gaⁿ éçín' ahí-biamá. Kí, Aháú! á-biamá.
Venerable take it to him, said they say. And having arrived, they say. And, Well! said, they say.
man he it for him

- 4 čéxe-gaxú cétě i'c'áge wawáci-de i'č'i' agf te, á-biamá. Ga' en'ba amá Drum that venerable employ some one, for me let him said, they say. And that day it was (ob.) man and bring it home they say.
- 5 xi Ietniké aká jahúpezi peji'-qti ápahá-bi té amá. K1 Mactein'ge ijin'ge when Ietniko the an old, worn bad very he had put on, they say. And Rabbit his son (sub.) piece of tent-skin
- 3 e wáfaha ápahai éde gí'i tá akáma. Ga' na'onúda-biamá wan'giče. Či that clothing he wore but he was about to give it And he kicked it off, they say all. Again
 (one) back, they say.
- áhnaha tégaⁿ áhnaha gěiza-gā hā, cétě, á-biamá Mactein'ge ijin'ge aká.*
 you wear in order that you wear it take your own (ob.) said, they say Rabbit his son the (sub.).
- Ga' 'i-biamá. Če wágčizá-biamá. Ápahá-bi ega' úginaji'-biamá, hi'bc*
 And he gave it to That he took his own, they Put on, they having he stood in his own, they him, they say. say. say, say, cousin
- 6 eti uga'-biamá. Ga' Mactein'ge ijin'ge aká čéxe-gaxú uti'wakičá-bi ega' too he put on, they say. And Rabbit his son the (sub.) drum caused them to strike having
- Ietniké ma'ci čekičá-biamá. Ga' wéahide hí xi ežátaⁿ uqpačě gkikičá-* Ietniko high sent him they say. And far arrived when thence to fall caused him to be returning
- biamá. Ga' gat'é amá.*
 they say. And died by falling, they say.

NOTES.

This myth follows directly after the preceding one, in which the elder Rabbit gives his son the wonderful clothing.

Ietniké is doubtless the Iowere Ietniké. The Iowas say that Ietniké was the son of Pi, the Sun. Ietniké was guilty of the sin of Ham, and was therefore expelled from the upper world. He is usually the deceiver of the human race, and once he is the benefactor of a few persons. The Iowas say that he taught the Indians all the bad things which they know. According to an Omaha myth, he taught all the war customs. In one myth (No. 13) he is himself overreached by other animals. In the myth of Haxige Ietniké assumes the form of Hega, the Buzzard.

50, 9. ceču etě ačaskabe te ha (let him) stick even there where you are.

51, 4. iñgə, contraction by degrees from iñgəⁿ haú; iñgə hán; iñgə aú; iñgə Compare the pronunciation of gaqa-učici (almost "gaqóčici").

51, 7. Ietniké took the Rabbit's son's clothing while he was up the tree; and ran away with it, pretending to be the Rabbit's son.

52, 5. Mactein'ge ijin'ge é aká xi. Sanssouci said that it denoted the surprise of the people, who did not know that it was the Rabbit's son who had come among them: "Why, when that one is the Rabbit's son (we did not recognize him at first)!"

52, 6. hi'qpe wiⁿ učiqača-bikčamá, literally; fine feather, one, it lay (ke), they say (biamá), having been caused to fall (učiqačě).

52, 7. qiča ikina-biamá, etc. All the men contended for the Eagle, each one struggling to get the most feathers, and to keep the others away. The whole Eagle was there, the Rabbit's son having turned it into a light feather on the preceding day by magic.

54, 1. i'č'i' agf te denotes that the men who brought the drum lived in the lodge with the Rabbit's son. Sanssouci prefers to read, "i'č'i' u-i táj," let them who live elsewhere, not here, bring it to me; or, "i-~~wa~~wa~~ki~~ te ha," let him cause them to bring it to me.

54. 1. Pé-áge, his wife's father.

54. 3. ci ahnaba tega' ahnaba gēiza-gā hā, ce tē. It refers to Ictinike's old clothing, which he had left when he ran off with the good clothing of the Rabbit's son.

54. 5. úginaji^a-biama implies a plural animate object, i. e., the birds on his clothing. Ordinarily, uginaji^a-biama is the proper word.

The first day that Nuda^a-axa told this myth, he said as follows: "The old men beat the drum once, and Ictinike jumped up. When they beat it the second time, Ictinike leaped higher. Then he leaped still higher when they struck it the third time. "Stop! stop!" said Ictinike to the Rabbit's son. But the Rabbit's son made the men beat the drum the fourth time, when Ictinike jumped so high, that when he came down he struck the ground and the shock killed him." Sanssouci never heard this of the Rabbit, but of Waba^aciige, the Orphan, as Mac^awakude told me once.

TRANSLATION.

At length the Rabbit met Ictinike suddenly. "Wuhu! O grandchild! O grandchild!" said Ictinike. "Venerable man, what would you say?" said the Rabbit. "O grandchild, kill for me the one bird that is sitting down on its way homeward," said he. And the Rabbit shot at it. He shot it through the body, the arrow coming out on the other side. It came falling. It lodged in a tree. "O grandchild! pity me, your relation. O grandchild! O grandchild! pity me, your relation, again," said he. "No, venerable man, I will abandon it. Go thou and take it," he said. "No, O grandchild, the arrow is very good, but if you do not take it, who shall have it?" said he. "Really!" said he, "the venerable man truly wishes to have his way!" And he pulled off all of his clothing. He went climbing the tree. "Even there where you are, let him stick!" said Ictinike. "What were you saying, venerable man?" said the Rabbit. "Why, grandchild! I said nothing. I was saying 'He has gone far for me for a long time!'" And as he was going (up the tree) it was so again. "Stick even there where you are!" he said. "What were you saying, venerable man?" said he. "Why, grandchild! I said nothing. I was saying 'He has gone far for me for a long time!'" he said. And as he was going it was so again. "Stick even there where you are!" he said. "What were you saying, venerable man?" said he. "Why, grandchild! I said nothing. O first-born son! I was saying 'He has nearly reached it for me!'" he said. And again as he was going, it was so again. "Stick even there where you are!" said he. "What were you saying, venerable man?" he said. "I said, 'Stick even there where you are!'" The Rabbit stuck to the tree. And having put on the clothing, Ictinike went to a village, and married one of the chief's daughters. The younger one departed in a bad humor. It came to pass that she gazed on high, and behold a person was standing awhile; she found him standing sticking to the tree. And she cut down the tree. And having made it fall by cutting, she made a fire all along the (fallen) tree. And she caused (the glue?) to melt. And he sat with her by the fire. "A person who made me suffer very much went to you," he said. "Yes," said she, "he arrived, but my elder sister took him for her husband." And she went homeward with him. "This one who was sulky about marrying a man, and went away, has come back with the son of the Rabbit," they were saying, ridiculing her. And they arrived. "That moving animate object, an eagle, goes to you! Do let the Rabbit's son come in sight," they said, referring to Ictinike. They commanded (some one) to shoot at it. When the Rabbit's son arrived very near at hand, the birds on the clothing knew his coming, and cried out. Ictinike said as follows: "They always do so. Sit ye in silence," he said. "An eagle goes to you!" said they (the villagers). "Command ye the Rabbit's son to appear," they said. Ictinike came in sight. It passed directly above him. He shot at it and missed it. This other one (the Rabbit's son) came in sight. When he had been in sight a very great while, it (the eagle) went circling around at the very center of the tribal circle. When he shot at it with force, he killed it. "Wuhu! he killed it. Why! that one is the Rabbit's son," they said (or, that one ought to be the Rabbit's son). When they reached the place where it was killed, a fine feather had fallen. He took it. "Put that away," said he, meaning the woman (i. e., as the one he addressed). All the men contended for the eagle. On the morrow it was day. "Look at the feather which you put away," said he. She looked at it. She said, "Oh!" She spoke in wonder. "This is the whole eagle," said she. "Take it to the venerable man (your father)," said he. And she took it to him. On the following day, they said, "An eagle goes to you! Command ye the Rabbit's son to appear." Ictinike came in sight. It passed directly above him. He shot at it and missed it. This other one came in sight. When he had been in sight a very great while, it went circling around at the very center of the tribal circle. When he shot at it with force, he killed it. "Wuhu! he killed it. Why, that one is the Rabbit's son!" said they. When they reached the place where it was killed, a fine feather had fallen. He took it. "Put that away," said he. On the morrow it was day. "Look at the feather which you put away," said he. She looked at it. She said, "Oh!" She spoke in wonder. "This is the whole eagle," said she. "Take it to the venerable man," said he. And she took it to him. On the following day they said, "An eagle goes to you! Command ye the Rabbit's son to appear." Ictinike came in sight. It passed directly over him. He shot at it and missed it. This other one came in sight. When he had been in sight a very great while, it went circling around at the very center of the tribal circle. When he shot at it with force, he killed it. "Wuhu! he killed it. Why, that one is the Rabbit's son," said they. When they reached the place where it was killed a fine feather had fallen. He took it. "Put that away," said he. On the morrow it was day. "Look at the feather which you put away," said he. She looked at it. She said, "Oh!" She spoke in wonder. "This is the whole eagle," said she. "Take it to the venerable man," said he. And she took it to him. On the following morning it was day. "Look at the feather which you put away," said he. She looked at it. She said, "Oh!" She spoke in wonder. "This is the whole eagle," she said. "Take it to the venerable man," said he. And she took it to him. And he (the Rabbit) said, "Well! Let the venerable man employ some persons to bring the drums hither for me." And on that day Ietnikie had put on a very bad and worn-out piece of an old tent-skin. And he had worn the clothing of the Rabbit's son, but he was about to give it back to him. And he kicked off all (i. e., the Rabbit kicked off what he had on, Ietnikie's former clothing.) "Take that your own again in order to wear it," said the Rabbit's son. And he gave it to him. The Rabbit took that, his own. Having put it on, he stood in his own (clothing), he also put on (his) moccasins. And the Rabbit's son having caused them to beat the drums, sent Ietnikie up high in the air. And when he reached a distant point, he caused him to come back falling thence. And Ietnikie died by falling.

SICHEMAKA'S ADVENTURE AS A DEER.

TOLD BY IAČIN-NA¹PAJĪ, AN OMAHA.

Sičémakaⁿ iyaⁿ úgce júgigá-ⁿbiámá ená-qti. Égife wa'ú ^{Sičémakaⁿ his dwell in} ^{grandmother a lodge} ^{he with his they say} ^{own} ^{alone.} It happened woman ^{three} ^{čábc'iⁿ} ačé amáma. Sičémakaⁿ-é, wa'é angáce taí hé, á-biamá. Hiⁿ+! winaⁿ, ^{Sičémakaⁿ O!} ^{to hoo} ^{we go} ^{will} ^{said they say.} ^{Oh!} ^{first daughter}

čéke wakég edegaⁿ čáčuha-qti iⁿté hé, á-biamá iyaⁿ aká. Čajái ^{čéke (fig. ob.) sick but} ^{čáčuha-qti nearly} ^{iⁿté I to me} ^{he, á-biamá said they say} ^{hiⁿ his} ^{aká. grandmother (sub.)} ^{Čajái You doubt it} 3 daⁿbái-á hé, čéke, á-biamá. Daⁿbá-bi ^{daⁿbái-á look at him} ^{chéke (fig. ob.) this the} ^{á-biamá said they say.} ^{Daⁿbá-bi they say} ^{xi when} ^{maqude aha} ^{ha ké/di said by the} ^{qti just so} uxiⁿdaⁿ jaⁿ-biámá, xagé jaⁿ-biámá Sičémakaⁿ aká, Haⁿ! haⁿ! haⁿ! ^{uxiⁿdaⁿ turning himself} ^{jaⁿ-biámá he lay they say,} ^{xagé he lay they say} ^{Sičémakaⁿ the (sub.)} ^{Haⁿ! Haⁿ! Haⁿ!}

Daⁿbá-biamá wa'ú čábc'iⁿ aká. Hiⁿ+! ciyaⁿ, win'k'-qtei-ⁿaká wa'újina. 6 ^{Daⁿbá-biamá They saw him} ^{wa'ú they say} ^{čábc'iⁿ woman} ^{aká. three the (sub.)} ^{Hiⁿ+! Oh!} ^{ciyaⁿ husband's} ^{win'k'-qtei-ⁿaká she told the exact truth} ^{wa'újina. old woman.}

Čáčuha-qtei t'é ké, á-biamá. Ačá-biamá wa'ú čábc'iⁿ amá. Aⁿča- ^{Čáčuha-qtei Nearly} ^{t'é very} ^{ké, dead} ^{á-biamá he lies,} ^{Ačá-biamá said they say.} ^{wa'ú went} ^{čábc'iⁿ they say} ^{amá. woman} ^{Aⁿča- three the (sub.)} ^{They left him} biámá. Aⁿča ačá-bi ^{biámá they say.} ^{Aⁿča Leaving him} ^{čá-bi when they say} ^{Sičémakaⁿ the (sub.)} ^{aká arose} ^{páha suddenly they say.} ^{átiáča-biamá. Grand-} ^{čáⁿhá, mother.}

céke žaonin'gčickahá újiha iⁿ'ičá-gá á-biamá. Gíí čéča-biamá. Sičé- ^{céke (fig. ob.) that} ^{žaonin'gčickahá spotted fawn skin} ^{újiha bag} ^{iⁿ'ičá-gá hand to me} ^{á-biamá said they say.} ^{Gíí he,} ^{čéča-biamá Gave suddenly they say.} ^{Sičé- bim} 9

makaⁿ bčúga uginajiⁿ-biámá, žáqti gaxá-biamá. Égaⁿ čéic bahaⁿ-qti ^{makaⁿ the whole} ^{bčúga stood in his own} ^{uginajiⁿ-biámá they say,} ^{žáqti deer} ^{gaxá-biamá made they say.} ^{Égaⁿ So} ^{čéic side} ^{bahaⁿ-qti middle of very rounded part} čaⁿ maⁿ' wíⁿ ubáxaⁿ gaxá-biamá, i wamí gaxá-biamá. Nan'ge gaⁿ ^{čaⁿ the} ^{maⁿ' arrow} ^{wíⁿ sticking in} ^{ubáxaⁿ made they say,} ^{gaxá-biamá, mouth} ^{i blood} ^{wamí made they say.} ^{Nan'ge Running} ^{gaⁿ so} ačá-biamá Wa'ú čábc'iⁿ wa'é-ma-ja ahi-biamá. Haⁿbčin'ge wa'é maⁿč'iⁿ- 1: ^{ačá-biamá he went, they say.} ^{Wa'ú Woman} ^{čábc'iⁿ three} ^{wa'é-ma-ja those hooing} ^{ahi-biamá. to arrived they say.} ^{Haⁿbčin'ge Beans} ^{wa'é hooing} ^{maⁿč'iⁿ- walked} biámá wa'ú amá. Hiⁿ+! ciyaⁿ, žáqti wíⁿ čé t'éčé-qti-aⁿ i číⁿ hé, á-biamá. ^{biámá they say} ^{wa'ú woman} ^{amá. the (sub.)} ^{Hiⁿ+! Oh!} ^{ciyaⁿ brother's} ^{žáqti decr} ^{wíⁿ one} ^{ché this} ^{t'éčé-qti-aⁿ badly wounded} ^{i číⁿ he is com-} ^{hé, said they say.} ^{á-biamá. [fig.]}

58 THE FEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- Afi^{n'} afa-biamá. Ca^{n'} wan'giēs-qi wa'ú amá eiqá-biamá. Afi^{n'} afa-bi Having him they went, they say. And all very woman the (sub.) chased it, they say. Having him they went they say.
- ga^{n'} uti^{n'} xi gaona^{n'} mi ga^{n'} wéahidē-qi wáfi^{n'} ahí-biamá. Wiubeni agí so they hit when missed when it so far very having them he arrived, they say. Going round coming back
- 3 biamá Siēmaka^{n'} amá. Agí-bi ega^{n'} újiha gina^{n'} onuá-bi ega^{n'} ha^{n'} bēin'ge they say Siēmaka^{n'} the (sub.). Coming back, having bag pulled off they having beans they say
- itēgiē ujt-biamá újiha kē. 'I^{n'} fēēa-bi ega^{n'} agfá-biamá iya^{n'} finké putting in they say bag the Carried and they having he went they say. his the (ob.) together
- giāde. Iya^{n'} finké'di 'I^{n'} aki-biamá. Ya^{n'}há, dúaka újiha ánaqf drew near his to the carrying he reached home. Grandmother, this one here seek hiding
- 6 ihēēa-gā, á-biamá. Qáde nan'de kō'ja égh ihēēa-biamá, ánaqf ihēēa-put away, said they say. Grass side of tent at the headlong she sent they say, hiding she put it suddenly
- biamá. Ki wa'ú fábfi^{n'} agí-biamá. Nā! wa'újīnga fūēpa ha^{n'} bēin'ge they say. And woman three coming back, they say. Why! old woman your grandchild beans
- añxi'ai fa^{n'} eti wan'giēs-qi wéi^{n'} agí tē hé, á-biamá. Hi^{n'}! wina^{n'}, we hood for ourselves all very carrying was coming said, they say. Oh! first daughter,
- 9 añ'kaji'-qi-a^{n'} hé. Fēkē wakége eta^{n'} bai tē ca^{n'} ca^{n'}-qi-a^{n'} hé, á-biamá.
not so very This (lg. ob.) sick you saw na he continues very said they say. she
- Da^{n'} bá-biamá xi, Hi^{n'}! eixa^{n'}, wi^{n'} kē-qi-a^{n'} hé, náfuhá-qtei tē kē hé,
They saw they say when, Oh! brother's wife, she told the exact truth nearly very dead helles
- á-biamá. Agfá-biamá wa'ú amá. Ya^{n'}há, kē, uba^{n'} gā, á-biamá.
said they say. Went they say woman the (sub.). Grandmother, come, cook them, said they say. she homeward he
- 12 Wa^{n'} fáte júgigfá-biamá Ya^{n'}há, uágaca^{n'} bē te, á-biamá. Man'dē kē Eating he with his they say. Grandmother, I travel I go will said they say. Bow the (ob.) own
- gēfza-bi ega^{n'} afa-biamá. Ca^{n'}-qi qáde ekúbe sidúhi ekúbe úda^{n'}-qi took his they own having he went, they say. All at once grass deep siduhi deep good very
- fa^{n'} é'di ahí-biamá. Qáde fibú iēa^{n'}-biamá. Ca^{n'}-qtei agfē amá. Akí-the there he they say. Grass he made it round they say. All at once he went they say. Reached home (ob.) arrived
- 15 bi ega^{n'} xagē-hna^{n'} gáxe gēi^{n'}-biamá. Eáta^{n'} faxáge á, á-biamá iya^{n'} they having crying regularly made gēi^{n'} they say. Why you cry I said they say his grand- mother say
- aká. A^{n'} ha^{n'}, ya^{n'}há, úeka^{n'} wi^{n'} a^{n'} bahi éde téqi hégaji, á-biamá. Edáda^{n'} the (sub.). Yes, grand- mother, deed one I am picked but difficult not a little, said, they say. What he
- téqi xi ga^{n'} uoné te hé, á-biamá. Ya^{n'}há, watefaxe a^{n'} bahi, á-biamá.
difficult if so you tell it will said, they say. Grandmother, to dance I am picked said, they say. she
- 18 Éde, ya^{n'}há, úfaze júwigigfē te af, á-biamá. Áwate téqi tē ga^{n'} é'di
But grandmother, to chorus I with you will they, he they say. Where difficult the still there said, said (ob.)
- añgáfe té, á-biamá wa'újīnga aká. É'di ahí-biamá xi, ya^{n'}há, fē éde we go will, said, they say old woman the (sub.). There arrived, they say when, Grandmother, this but naⁿ'te ɕictaⁿ' ákiáɕai ke, á-biamá. Uaⁿ'-qti gaⁿ man'də jín'ga ɕéizadancing finished they have gone homeward said, they say. All at once how little took his bi egaⁿ' naⁿ'tá biamá. Iyaⁿ' ɕínké úɕazá-biamá. Iyaⁿ' ɕínké uéúgiqá-they having he danced they say. His grand- the chorused they say. His grand- the he made sport say say mother (st. one) mother (st. one) of his own biamá.

 they say.

3

NOTES.

Sanssouel said that Mactéinge-iⁿ, the Rabbit, was SiŒemakaⁿ. The latter name cannot be translated, the meaning being unknown.

57, 9. ɕaouíngɕéckaha, i. e., ɕaoti jín'ga, ha ké ɕéje, the spotted skin of a fawn.

57, 10. ɕié bahaⁿ, the projecting part of the side of an animal. The side of a human being cannot have this term applied to it.

58, 2. utiⁿ gacnaⁿ'gi to strike at an object, missing it when the weapon reaches it.

58, 3. ɕíjha ginaⁿ'onuda-bi, he pulled off his skin (or sack) by the feet.

58, 4. ɕí ɕéɕa-bi, he put it on his back suddenly. Gíade shows that his lodge was near the place where he stole the beans.

58, 8. The reply of the old woman to the three was in a quavering voice.

58, 13. síduhi. See Dictionary.

58, 14. Qade ɕibuɕ íɕaⁿ-biamá. F. La Flèche read, Qade ké'li ɕibuɕ íɕaⁿ-biamá: Grass, on the, he became round (by pulling his legs and body together as he lay down).

58, 16. aⁿbahi, from bahi, to pick up, gather up; used here instead of aⁿɕaⁿha, I am selected.

59, 3. ɕaɕíⁿ-naⁿ'paji said that the rest of this myth was "shameful," so he would not tell it.

TRANSLATION.

SiŒemakaⁿ dwelt alone in a lodge with his grandmother. It came to pass that three women were going (along). "O SiŒemakaⁿ," said they, "we are going to hoe (our ground)." "Oh! first daughter, this one lies sick and he is nearly dead to me," said his grandmother. "If you doubt it, look at him as he is lying." When they saw him, just so was he lying, turning himself by the edge of the ashes. SiŒemakaⁿ lay crying, "Ha! ha! ha!" The three women saw him. "Oh! husband's sister, the old woman told the exact truth. He lies very nearly dead," said one. The three women departed. They left him. When they went and left him, SiŒemakaⁿ arose suddenly. "Grandmother, hand to me that spotted fawn-skin bag," he said. She tossed it to him suddenly. SiŒemakaⁿ stood in the whole of it, he became a deer. He made an arrow sticking right in the middle of his side; he made his mouth bloody. So he went running. He reached the women who were hoeing. The women went along hoeing beans. "Oh! brother's wife, this deer is coming badly wounded," said one. They went along with it. And all the women chased it. Having gone along with it, they hit at it and missed it, the weapon striking in the air. So he took them to a very great distance. Going around them, SiŒemakaⁿ was returning. Having returned he pulled off his sack at the feet, and collecting the beans he put them in the sack. Putting it on his back suddenly, he went homeward to his grandmother, who was near by. He carried it home to his grandmother. "Grandmother, put this sack in a hiding-place," said he. She plunged it suddenly under the grass at the side of the lodge; she put it away and hid it. And the three women returned "Why! old woman, your grandchild was coming back hither carrying away from us all the beans that we had been hoeing for ourselves," they said. "Oh! first daughter, it is not so at all. This one lying sick continues just as you saw him," said she. When they saw him they said, "Oh! brother's wife, she told the exact truth. He lies very nearly dead." The women went homeward. "Grandmother, come, cook them," said he. He ate them with her. "Grandmother, I will go traveling," said he. Having taken his bow he departed. All at once he arrived at the very good and deep siduhi (deep grass). He became round, lying curled up in the grass. All at once he went homeward. Having reached home, he sat pretending to be crying. "Why do you cry?" said his grandmother. "Yes, grandmother, I am selected for a deed, but it is very difficult," said he. "If anything is difficult, still you will tell it," said she. "Grandmother, I am selected for a dance. But, grandmother, I must take you with me to sing the chorus," said he. "Let us go where the difficult thing is," said the old woman. When they arrived there he said, "Grandmother, this is it, but they have finished dancing and gone homeward." All at once he took his little bow and danced. His grandmother (sitting) sang the chorus. He made sport of (deceived) his grandmother.

ICTINIKE, THE TURKEYS, TURTLE, AND ELK.

TOLD BY ḌAÇİⁿ-NAⁿPAJİ.

- Zizika d'úba ēdī amáma hégactēwaⁿji. Maⁿ jedé maⁿciadī-qtī maⁿsa-Turkey some there were, they by no means a few. Ground edge very high arrow.
 qti maⁿtadī-qtī wabáhi amáma. Ictinike amá ē'dī çé amá. Wéça-bi egaⁿ weed altogether within they were feeding, they Ictinike the there went they Found them, having
 say. they say. say. they say.
- 3 cnⁿ-qtī bamámaxe qáça agf-biamá. Eátaⁿ ámaⁿ wi bçát etédaⁿ, eçégaⁿ-bi at once bending his head back he was coming. How I do I I eat apt! thought, they repeatedly again they say.
- egaⁿ wéçigçaⁿ gaxá-biamá. Caⁿ-qtī mixá-ha waiiⁿ betaⁿtaⁿ-bi egaⁿ fçin having decision he made they say. At once raccoon-skin robe rolled up several having sometimes, they say for carrying
- gaxá-biamá. 'Taⁿ-bi egaⁿ caⁿ-qtī jaⁿçinⁿ-biamá. Zizika wabáhi-ma he made, they say. Carried, having at once he ran they say. Turkey feeding the ones
- 6 wéna'ú-qtei jaⁿçinⁿ-biamá. Wuhu+! i'c'áge 'aⁿ egaⁿ. Daⁿbái-gá, á-biamá passing close by them he ran they say. Wuhu+! old man something is the matter. See him, said, they say
- Zizika amá. Nā! i'c'áge 'aⁿ ēiⁿte, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, égaⁿ-qtī-aⁿ, á-biamá Turkey (sub.). Why! venerable something may be the matter. Yes, it is just so, said, they say
- Ictinike aká. Taⁿwañgçaⁿ d'úba ewéquça te af égaⁿ, an'gi-ahí égaⁿ Ictinike the (sub.). Village some I sing for them will said having, come for me having
- 9 wa'aⁿ tē agf'in áçihé áça, á-biamá. Uhú! i'c'áge, an'gú eti aⁿnaⁿt égaⁿ song the I have been carrying indeed, said they say. Oh! venerable man we too we dance some-(ob.) mine he what taí, á-biamá Zizíka amá. An'kaji, awánaqñi' qti ma'bñi', á-biamá Ietníke will, said, they say Turkey the (sub.). Not so, I in a great hurry I walk, said, they say Ietníke aká. Angú eti i'e'áge a'na't éga' qí hné te, á-biamá Zizíka amá. Wuhu-!

the (sub.). We too venerable we dance some- when you go may, said, they say Turkey the (sub.). Wuhu-!

dada', awánaqñi' teábe pa'eti pana'te ctéctewa' ja' tai, á-biamá Ietníke 3
what, I in a hurry very much heretofore you dance notwithstanding you do will said, they say Ietníke

aká. Hau! ké, indaké, uééwi' gfi-gá, á-biamá Ietníke aká. Uééwi' the (sub.). Ho! come, let us see, collecting come ye Ietníke the (sub.). Collecting agi-biamá. Gan'ki waii' uéfbca-biamá. Ba'áwi'xe a'wa'fíca'i-gá, they were coming, And robe he pulled they say. Bounding around go ye around me, á-biamá. Lang'á-qti fáfi'cé, a'fa'na'ú-qteí she a'wa'fíca' na'tái-gá, 6 said they say, Big very ye who move passing very close to passing to go around me dance ye, á-biamá Ietníke aká. Ietú-éip'i'zúí-gá. Égiéce ictá fáfbai qí ictá said, they say Ietníke the (sub.). Eye shut ye Beware eye you open if eye éjide taí, á-biamá Ietníke aká. I' be fa' fíman'gca-ba fi'á'ani-ké, you red tent, said, they say Ietníke the (sub.). Tall the lift up and spread ye out repeatedly á-biamá. Hau! ké, na'tái-gá, á-biamá.

said, they say. Ho! come, dance ye, said they say. ho

Hé! wa-da'-be fín-ké, Ho! looker the one who

i - ctá-ji-dé, i - ctá-ji-dé Hi'-be-hna' fi'-á-ní, hi'-be-hna' fi'-á-ní.
eye red, eye red. Tail regularly flirt up, tail regularly flirt up.

Lang'á-qti-ma dá fa' úfa'-bi ega' dá fa' wa'fíqa'qa'-bi ega' újiha ují 12
Big very the head the he hold them, having head the them he pulled off re- having bag filling (ob.) they say (ob.) they say (ob.) they say gñi'-biamá Ietníke aká. Újiha gata'ha ují-biamá, usk'qti ují-biamá.

sat they say Ietníke the (sub.). Bag that high he filled, they say, full very he filled, they say.

Zizíka jin'ga snutá-bi éde íbaha' tá amáma, ictáxa'xa' gáxe ma'fí'-biamá.
Turkey small halfgrown, but was about to know it a little now and then the eyes opened he made he walked they say.

Lang'ég an'gañi' cenáwaçé a'faí. Dáda' baskífe. Ietníke aké akédega' 15 Big some- what we who destroying us he goes. What angry. Ietníke the it was he stand- ing, but á-biamá. K'ni! A'he a'fa'-biamá. Haha! ga' bada' wénandeáñíçé, á-bi-said they say. (Sound of wings.) Fleeing they went, they say. Ha! ha! how easy I fill myself to reple- said, they tion, amá Ietníke aká. Íqa gaskí wakan'díçá-biamá. Újiha ké baqtá-biamá.

say Ietníke the (sub.). Laugh- ing painted excessively they say. Bag the he bound up, they say.

Gan'ki ja'jinga náqpe gasá-biamá. Éde té égaxé'-qti wábasna'-biamá 18
And stick roasting- stick he cut they say. Fire the all around he put them to they say. roast

- Nin'dewaçé-^{qti} ^{Almost done} ^{when} ^{tree} ^{one} ^{gakiáhaⁿ} ^{égaⁿ}, ^{!a!} á-biamá. ^{Wabçáte} ^{té'ja} ^{raised by the} ^{a little,} ^{'Te,} ^{said, they say.} ^{I eat} ^{on ac-} ^{wind} ^{count of}
- wújeáji minké. ^{Eátaⁿ} ^{aja^{n'}} ^{a^{n'}çastáge} á, á-biamá ^{Ictníke} ^{aká.} ^{Çe-hna^{n'}}
^{I am roasting the collec-} ^{Why} ^{you do} ^{you cluck at me} ^I ^{said, they say} ^{Ictníke} ^{the} ^{This only} ^{tion.} ^{that} ^{(sub.).}
- 3 égi^{ja} ^{çí} ^{cubçé} ^{tá} ^{mínke,} ^{uwítiⁿ} ^{tá} ^{mínke,} á-biamá. ^{E'di} ^{ahí-bi} ^{çí}
^{you do it} ^{it} ^{I go to} ^{will} ^{I who,} ^{I hit you} ^{will} ^{I who,} ^{said they say.} ^{There} ^{he arrived} ^{when} ^{you} ^{they say}
- ca^{n'}-^{qti} ^{çiji^{n'}} ^{ji^{n'}dá-biamá.} ^{Gan'ki} ^{na^{n'}bé} ^{té} ^{ánasandá-biamá.} ^{Kagéhá,}
^{at once} ^{thrust in his} ^{they say.} ^{And} ^{hand} ^{the} ^{it closed on} ^{they say.} ^{Friend,} ^{arm repeatedly} ^(ob.)
- iéága ka^{n'}bça ga^{n'} ^{cé-ma} ^{Kagéhá,} ^{a^{n'}çictan'-gá,} á-biamá. ^{Ki} ^{çicta^{n'}-báji}
^{I laugh} ^{I wanted} ^{so} ^{those.} ^{Friend,} ^{let me go,} ^{said he, they say.} ^{And} ^{let go} ^{not} ^I ^{he}
- 6 ca^{n'}ca^{n'}-^{biamá.} ^{Cé-ma} ^{hau+!} ^{wadíagji.} ^{Gúdiheháí-gá} ^{hau+!} á-biamá, ^{continued} ^{they say.} ^{Those} ^{halloo!} ^{I put my own places} ^{Go ye further away} [!] ^{said he, they say,}
^{there for safety.}
- Ca^{n'}ja^{n'}ga é ^{waká-bi} ^{ega^{n'}.} ^{Ictníke} ^{wadíji} ^{é,} á-biamá. ^{Pahan'ga} ^{hí}
^{Big wolf} ^{that} ^{he meant,} ^{having.} ^{Ictníke} ^{he put places} ^{away for} ^{says} ^{said they, they} ^{Before} ^{reached}
^{they say} ^{safety}
- amá ^{çehúqabe} ^{içábetaⁿ} ^{çaté} ^{'çá-biamá.} ^{Iénaxíça} ^{açá-biamá.} ^{Ákibánaⁿ}
^{the ones} ^{fat on stomach} ^{wrapped} ^{around it} ^{to eat} ^{spoke of it, they} ^{Dashing} ^{they went, they} ^{Running a race} ^{who} ^{say.} ^{say.}
- 9 çéçá-biamá. ^{E'di} ^{ahí-bi} ^{ega^{n'}} ^{çeqtá-biamá.} ^{Çasni^{n'}-biamá.} ^{Çasni^{n'}-bi}
^{they went suddenly,} ^{There} ^{arrived,} ^{having} ^{they bit it} ^{they say.} ^{They swallowed it, they} ^{And} ^{let go} ^{not}
^{they say} ^{they say}
- ega^{n'} ^{çéçáça} ^{açá-biamá.} ^{Gan'ki} ^{ánasan'de} ^{té} ^{çigçéibá-biamá.}
^{having} ^{in different} ^{they went, they} ^{And} ^{closed on} ^{the} ^{it opened itself, they say.} ^{directions} ^{say.}
- Gan'ki ^{híde} ^{kí} ^{égaⁿ} ^{ca^{n'}-qti} ^{ja^{n'}ji^{n'}ga} ^{ké'} ^{çisnibe} ^{ihçéç} ^{ççí^{n'}}
^{And} ^{bottom} ^{got home} ^{having} ^{at once} ^{stick} ^{the (ob.)} ^{licked his} ^{own} ^{putting} ^{was sit-} ^{ting}
- 12 akáma ^{Ictníke} ^{aká.} ^{Çé} ^{amá} ^{niúçicaⁿ} ^{ní} ^{búbuça} ^{içá^{n'}çé} ^{ké} ^{çá^{n'}ha} ^{ké}
^{they say} ^{Ictníke} ^{the} ^{He} ^{they say} ^{lake} ^{water several round} ^{put} ^{the} ^{border} ^{the} ^{(sub.).} ^{went} ^{ones} ^(line of) ^(ob.)
- uhá ^{ma^{n'}çí^{n'}} ^{amá.} ^{Egiçé} ^{çéja^{n'}ga} ^{ní} ^{çá^{n'}ha} ^{ké'di} ^{çededí} ^{çínké} ^{amá.}
^{following} ^{he walked} ^{they say.} ^{It happened} ^{big turtle} ^{water} ^{border} ^{by the} ^{there} ^{was sitting, they say.}
- Çizá-biamá ^{sin'de} ^{uça^{n'}-bi} ^{ega^{n'}.} ^{Gacibe} ^{açí^{n'}} ^{ahí-biamá.} ^{Wénandeççíçé} ^{Took} ^{they say} ^{tail} ^{took hold of,} ^{having.} ^{Out from} ^{having} ^{he arrived, they} ^{I make myself full} ^{they say} ^{it} ^{say.}
- 15 taté áhaⁿ ^{gan'çiji,} á-biamá. ^{Jaⁿ} ^{çíqa^{n'}-biamá} ^{çí.} ^{Jaⁿ} ^{ákastá-qti} ^{u'a^{n'}.} ^{shall} [!] ^{and then,} ^{said he, they say.} ^{Wood} ^{he broke} ^{they say} ^{again.} ^{Wood} ^{piled up high} ^{he put in} ^{biamá} ^{çéde} ^{té} ^{náhegaji} ^{gaxá-biamá.} ^{Gan'ki} ^{çéja^{n'}ga} ^{maqúde} ^{té}
^{they say} ^{Fire} ^{the (ob.)} ^{burning much} ^{he made, they say.} ^{And} ^{big turtle} ^{ashes} ^(ob.)
- ma^{n'}te ^{içéçá-biamá.} ^{Jéçça^{n'}-biamá} ^{Çí} ^{çaté} ^{tá} ^{akáma.} ^{Nin'deççé} ^{ka^{n'}ge} ^{under} ^{he sent suddenly,} ^{He put in the ov. ob.} ^{Again} ^{he was about to eat it.} ^{Cooked} ^{near} ^{they say.} ^{to roast, they say}
- 18 çé ^{çíji} ^{Ictníke} ^{aká} ^{ja^{n'}tiçín'ge} ^{amá.} ^{Aja^{n'}ta^{n'}çá^{n'}çinge.} ^{Nin'de} ^{çí} ^{went} ^{when} ^{Ictníke} ^{the (sub.)} ^{asleep} ^{they say.} ^{I am asleep.} ^{Cooked} ^{when}
^{a^{n'}hniçí} ^{te,} ^{ija^{n'}xehá,} á-biamá. ^{Ja^{n'}té} ^{amá.} ^{Ja^{n'}té} ^{amá} ^{çí} ^{níkaci^{n'}ga}
^{you awaken} ^{will,} ^{O ana,} ^{said they say.} ^{He was} ^{they say.} ^{He was} ^{they say} ^{when} ^{person}
^{no} ^{he} ^{sound asleep} ^{sound asleep}
- wi^{n'} ^{ç'di} ^{ahí-biamá.} ^{Çéja^{n'}ga} ^{çizá-bi} ^{ega^{n'}} ^{çatá-biamá} ^{níkaci^{n'}ga} ^{aká.}
^{one} ^{there} ^{arrived, they say.} ^{Big turtle} ^{took, they say} ^{having} ^{ate it, they say} ^{person} ^{the} ^{(sub.).}

ʃasni^{n'}-bi ʃi ca^{n'}-qti sihi kē ʃēha ubáda^{n'}da^{n'}-biamá. Na^{n'}bé tē Swallowed, they when at once feet the (ob.) turtle he thrust them against it. Hand the say one after another, they say. (ob.)
 oni^{n'}onindé^{n'}-qti giáxa-biamá, i tē cti oni^{n'}onindé^{n'}-qti giáxa-biamá.
 greasy (smeared) very he made for him, they mouth the too greasy very he made for him, they say, say, (ob.) say, say.
 Nfakaci^{n'}ga aʃá-biamá. Ietnike ʃiʃá-biamá. Gidáha^{n'} tiéé amá. 3 Person went they say. Ietnike awoke they say. He arose suddenly they say.
 Wajéayʃi i^{n'}naubé^{n'}-qti-a^{n'} té-ana, á-biamá. Sihi kē ʃionúda-bi ega^{n'} I roasted the col- * has been cooked entirely I said they say. Feet the he pulled out, having lection for myself too much for me he say they say. they say agí-biamá. Wánadugé^{n'}-qti kē, á-biamá. Na! agéate até, é amá. Na!
 he was coming, (See note.) said they say. Why! I must have eaten said they say. Why!
 they say. he mine, he agéasni^{n'} ʃi aja^{n'} até, é amá. Na^{n'}bé tē giáa^{n'}be ega^{n'}, A^{n'}ha^{n'}, agéasni^{n'} 6
 I swallowed when I must have said they say. Hand the saw his own having, Yes, I have swallowed mine he (ob.) lowed minké, á-biamá. Níxa ʃa^{n'} gēit'a^{n'} ihéʃa-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, iʃánandé^{n'}-qti my own, said they say. Stomach the he felt his own lengthwise, they Yes, I am very he (ob.) say.
 ma^{n'} minké, á-biamá. Aʃá-biamá ʃi égiʃe A^{n'}pa^{n'} hégačtēwa^{n'}ʃi édffull indeed, said they say. He went, they say when Elk. not a few by any means were he to pass there máma. Ugás^{n'}-bi ega^{n'} wéʃa-biamá Ietnike aká. Hindá! ʃé-ma 9 they say. Peeped, they having found them, they say Ietnike the (sub.). Stop! these awáctanka té-ana, eʃéga^{n'}-biamá. A^{n'}pa^{n'} áma ʃa-bi ega^{n'}, ʃéaká
 I tempt them will I (in he thought they say. Elk the (sub.) found him, ega^{n'}, ʃéaká thought they say. they say Ietnike aké aká, á-biamá. Káge-sa^{n'}ga, wíebéi^{n'} áʃi^{n'}hé áʃa, á-biamá.
 Ietnike is the one said they, they say. Friend younger brother, I am he I who move indeed said they say.
 he
 Káge-sa^{n'}ga, a^{n'} ma^{n'}hni^{n'} tē éga^{n'}-qti júwigíʃe ma^{n'}béi^{n'} ka^{n'}béa, 12
 Friend younger how you walk the just so I with you my own I walk I wish,
 brother, say.
 káge-sa^{n'}ga, á-biamá Ietnike aká. Hau! i^{n'}c'áge, uʃáde ʃingéqtéi friend younger brother, said, they say Ietnike the (sub.). Ho! venerable man, cause for complaint none at all áha^{n'}, á-biamá. Qáde dēji p'á gē ʃiʃi áʃuta^{n'} bēate ma^{n'}béi^{n'}. Áqta^{n'}
 I said they say. Grass weeds bitter the (ob.) when straight I eat I walk. How possible ʃaté nan'de ʃéisa tabáda^{n'}, á-biamá. An'kajú há, káge-sa^{n'}ga, ma^{n'}hni^{n'} 15 to eat heart thee good shall said they say. Not so friend younger brother, you walk
 he tē éga^{n'}-qti júwigíʃe ma^{n'}béi^{n'} ka^{n'}béa áʃa, á-biamá. Uʃéthe taté ʃa^{n'}ja the just so I with you my own I walk I wish indeed said they say. You shall have your though way
 nfakaci^{n'}ga ukéʃi^{n'} cka^{n'} wécpaha^{n'} ja^{n'} ga^{n'} cin'gajinga uhé úwaʃagihnixide person common ways you understand so children path you seek for them at our request
 taté, á-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, écai tē égima^{n'} taté, á-biamá Ietnike aká. 18 shall said, they say. Yes, you say the I do that shall said, they say Ietnike the (sub.).
 he Hau! He-gázaza, ʃé-gá, á-biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá. Hau! gúduzáqé Ho! Split-horn, you try it, said they say. Oh! said they say. Ho! facing the other way
 najin'-gá, á-biamá. ʃié kē ʃi^{n'} ga^{n'} aʃá-bi ʃi á-biamá, Ietnike stand, said they say. Side the to hit so went, they when failed they say, Ietnike
 he (ob.) say

64 THE ØEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- aⁿ'ha-bi egaⁿ. Wuhú+ ! ugáxe ðíngé ínahiⁿ, iⁿ'é'áge, á-biamá. An'kaji fled, they say having. Wuhú-! to be done nothing truly, old man, said they say. Not so
- há, káge-saⁿ'ga, an'gínan'ge íçáxuhé gaⁿ aaⁿ'he há, á-biamá. Ci égaⁿ friend younger brother, running over me I feared so I fled, said they say. Again so
- 3 dubaⁿ gaxá-biamá. Wédubaⁿ tédíhi, Hau! éé xí'ji, caⁿ'-ðáxe tá míñke, four times he did it, they say. The fourth time when it arrived, Ho! this when, I stop will I who,
- á-biamá. Aⁿ'haⁿ, káge-saⁿ'ga, aaⁿ'ha-máji tá míñke, á-biamá Ietníke said they say. Yes, friend younger brother. I see I not will I who, said, they say Ietníke
- aká. Øíc ítiⁿ-bi egaⁿ ékigaⁿ'-qti júgøe açá-biamá, Ietníke aⁿ'p íçaⁿ the (sub.). Side hit on, having just like him with him he went, they say, Ietníke elk became suddenly
- 6 amá. Íyíjú-bi egaⁿ naⁿ'stástapi maⁿ'fiⁿ'-biamá, níkaci'ga wéçé gáxe they say. Proud, they say being stepped lightly, making very little noise they say, men discover made
- maⁿ'fiⁿ'-biamá 'Iⁿ! é-hnaⁿ-biamá.
walked they say. 'Iⁿ! said regularly, they say.
- Wáspegaⁿ-gá, iⁿ'é'áge, égiçe égijaⁿ-hnaⁿ te, á-biamá Aⁿ'paⁿ amá.
Do behave, old man, beware you do that regularly lest said, they say Elk the (sub.).
- 9 An'kaji há, káge-saⁿ'ga, íçáxíjú égaⁿ caⁿ' áça, káge-saⁿ'ga, á-biamá
Not so friend younger brother, I am proud us all right indeed friend younger brother, said, they say
- Ietníke aká. Kaⁿ'bça té káge-saⁿ'ga, égaⁿ-qti maⁿ'bçiⁿ' okaⁿ' té, Ietníke the (sub.). I wish the friend younger brother just so I walk dead the,
- á-biamá. Caⁿ'-qti waçáte maⁿ'fiⁿ'-bi p'a gøe çá'íi gaⁿ teúteu-hnaⁿ'- said they say. All at once eating walked they say bitter the (ob.) he spit out as he spit regularly
- 12 biamá. Wá! waçáte piájúji'-qtei çaté amédegaⁿ øduche, á-biamá. Wá!
they say. Wá! food bad not very those who did eat I follow, said they say. Wá!
- iⁿ'é'áge, edécegaⁿ-hnaⁿ á, á-biamá. Edéha-máji. Waçáte údaⁿ çaté amé-venerable man, what were you saying I said they say. I said what I not. Food good those who
- degaⁿ øduche áça, ehé açí'hé áça, á-biamá. Égiçe baxú-qti áhe açá-bi did eat I follow indeed I was saying (as I moved) said they say. It came to flat-top very want went, they
- 15 xí'ji níkaci'ga wéça-biamá Aⁿ'paⁿ amá. 'Iⁿ! á-biamá. Hau! Ietníke, when person they discovered them, Elk the (sub.). 'Iⁿ! said, they say. Ho! Ietníke,
- gídaⁿ'bú-gá, á-biamá. É'di açá-bi xí égiçe níkaci'ga akáma. É'di ahí-look at for him, said they say. There went they when it came to pass they were, there arrived
- biamá. Wáçiⁿ agfi té ece çaki te há, á-biamá jji uíça-biamá they say. Having them he is coming the you say you reach will, said they say whispering told him they say
- 18 Ietníke aká níaci'ga çánká Wá! iⁿ'é'áge edécegaⁿ á, á-biamá. 'Aⁿ Ietníke the (sub.) person the (pl. ob.). Wá! venerable man, what are you saying I said they, they the matter
- edéhe tá. Skéwaⁿ-qti mahiⁿ bazé gçiⁿ çáⁿ úcikiçat ehé açí'hé açn, what I shall! A very long time weeds clump sitting the gave needles I was saying as I went
- á-biamá. Égiçe baxú wiⁿ áhe açá-bi xí égiçe Aⁿ'paⁿ wiⁿ aⁿ'he agí-said they say. At length flat-top hill one passing went, they when it happened Elk one fleeing was coming biamá cī. Hau! Ietínike, águdi ǰiúcpa gída^abá-gǎ, á-biamá. Ē^adi they say again. Ho! Ietínike, where your grandchild look at for him, said they, they There

say.
ahí-bi ega^a éǰiǰe ní^akaci^aga akáma. Ní^akaci^aga wéǰe tē win^akē-ǰti-a^a tē, arrived, having it came men they were, Men found them the he told the truth indeed, they say to pass it is said.
á-biamá. Cī wédaji wí^a wéǰa-biamá. Hau! ǰiúcpa cī gída^abá-gǎ, 3 said they say. And elsewhere one found them they say Ho! your grandchild again look at for him,
he á-biamá. Ē^adi aǰá-biamá. Cī ní^akaci^aga akáma, wǰǰáde-hna^a amá said they, they There went they say. Again men they were, crawling up on them they say. it is said.
A^apa^a-ma. Cī win^akē-ǰti-a^a, á-biamá. Hau! Ietínike, cín gǰiǰnga uhé Elk the ones Again he told the truth said they say. Ho! Ietínike, children path who. indeed he úwagiǰixida-gǎ, á-biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá. Pahan^aga bǰi^a ǰa^aja éǰiǰe 6 look out for them, said they, they Oh! said they say. Before I am though beware
say.
u^aǰa hni^a tai. ‘A^a ma^abǰi^a tē a^aǰa^awa^aǰahé ma^ahni^a tai, á-biamá. Áǰi^a scatter- you will. How I walk the you follow me you walk shall said they say. Ridge ing he kē ádaǰage ga^a uhá-biamá. Ní^akaci^aga ákicúga ga^a wéna^aǰe ga^a the the headland so he went they say. Men standing thick so passing close to so passed along aǰá-biamá. Wíebǰi^a, wíebǰi^a, é ma^aǰi^a-biamá Ietínike aká. Bǰúga-ǰti 9 went, they say. It is I, it is I, said walked they say Ietínike the (sub.). All t’éwaǰá-biamá. A^apa^a ǰáǰǰi^a umúcta-bi ǰi Ietínike íniǰa-hna^a-biamá.
they killed they say. Elk three remained from when Ietínike took refuge only they say.
them shooting, they say
Ca^a-ǰti hé ǰa^a ǰionúde ǰǰa-bi ega^a wéti^a ǰǰa-biamá. A^apa^a eǰǰe
All at once horn the pulled off and- they having hit them sending them off, Elk they call
you
taí. Gúdiha ma^aǰi^a-gǎ, á-biamá will. Further off walk ye, said they say.
he

12

NOTES.

Some say that it was the Orphan or Siǰemaka^a who caught the turkeys with the assistance of his grandmother, and that Ietínike killed a bear and roasted it, not the turkeys. The ǰehuǰcabe shows this, as turkeys have none.—(L. Sanssouci.) The following version of Siǰemaka^a and the Turkeys is probably of Oto origin. The Dakota version of this myth makes Ūñktomi, the mythical Spider, play the part of Ietínike (see Iapi Oaye for December, 1880).

SIǰEMAKA^a AND THE TURKEYS.

[Told by Susanne LaFleche.]

Once there was a young man, named Siǰemaka^a, who lived with his grandmother. And she told him to get something to eat. “Well, I will get some food, grandmother,” said he, “if you will have the fire ready.” So he took his bow and arrows, and also a bag filled with grass. By and by he saw some Turkeys. “Ho! Siǰemaka^a, what have you in your bag?” said they. “I have songs.” “Sing us some,” said the Turkeys. “Come and dance for me, and I will sing for you,” said he. “But, while dancing, it will be necessary for you to keep your eyes closed; for if any of you open your eyes, all of you shall have red eyes." And he commenced to sing:

"Beware! he who has seen,
Eyes red! Eyes red!
Spread your tails! Spread your tails!"

The Turkeys danced while he sang this over and over; and as they danced, he grabbed first one and then another, putting them into his game-bag. But one Turkey, suspecting something wrong, opened one eye and cried out, "He is killing us all." Then the surviving Turkeys flew away. The youth took the sack home, and said: "Grandmother, now I have something. Keep the bag while I go out and get some water." But the old woman's curiosity proving too great, she opened the bag, and all the Turkeys but one got away. The old woman, who was blind, held the Turkey by both legs. When the young man returned, she called out, "Come quickly and help me. I have two of them." The young man was angry, and reproved her, not allowing her to eat any of the Turkey. And from that time Turkeys have had red eyes.

60, 3. b^éat eteda^a, contracted from b^éate eteda^a.

60, 9. a^{na}nt ega^a, contracted from a^{na}nte ega^a.

61, 13. gata^aha uji-biama. About four feet deep.

61, 14. zizika jiŋga snuta. According to L. Sanssouci, it was not the young Turkey that opened its eyes and gave the alarm, but one of the Tavi^w-si-snéde, the Long-legged ta^ai^a, a species of snipe. These birds danced with the Turkeys, and they, not the Turkeys, had their eyes changed to red ones.

61, 16. k'ū is whispered.

62, 1. gakiaha^a. Two branches rubbed against each other, being moved or raised by the wind.

62, 4. kageha, iŋaqa. . . . cema: My friend, as I wished to laugh (I said) those (words).

62, 6. ce-ma hau+. The voice is raised and prolonged, it being a call to the wolves in the distance.

62, 6. wadiagiji—F. LaFlèche; but wadiagiji—ga^{fi}na^apaji.

62, 6. gúdihehái-gá, contracted from gúdiha ihai-gá.

62, 7. pahaŋga hi ama, etc. The Wolves agreed among themselves that whoever was the first to reach the place, could eat the "jehuqabe iŋabeta^a."

62, 13. egiŋe ŋejaŋga, etc. White Eagle's (Ponka) version of this myth tells how Ietinike caught the Big Turtle. "When Ietinike saw the Big Turtle, he drew back very quietly, and went to a little distance. Then he raised his voice, and called to the Big Turtle. 'Ho, you over there!' 'What is the matter, venerable man?' said the Turtle. 'You are in great danger,' said Ictinike. 'The Wakanda have determined to make a great flood, and the ground will be covered, and you will be drowned.' 'But I can live in the water,' said the Turtle. 'But I tell you that there will be great danger this time for you,' said Ictinike. 'This time you cannot live in the water.' At length, after much talking, Ictinike persuaded the Turtle to leave the place where he was near the water, and to go to the hills. Ictinike went ahead and hid himself in a ravine. And when the Turtle came crawling along after a while, Ictinike hit him on the head with a stick as he came up the hill, and killed him."

62, 19. nikaci^{ga} wiⁿ. The person who stole the turtle meat was Miqasi, the Coyote, according to the Omaha and Ponka versions; but the Dakota version makes him Doki^{nta}, the Mink. White Eagle says that Ictinike found out who was the thief, and when he met him, he punished him—cum eo coit.

63, 4. té-ana. Te is the classifier té, which is lengthened in such expressions.

63, 5. wanadugeqti ke is the Omaha pronunciation of the Oto waqáyoqé'qteí ke, the equivalent of the Omaha nindeqti^u há. This points to a Jaiwere original.

64, 19. skéwa^{qti}, etc. "I was saying, 'A bunch of weeds was always there, and deceived them.'"—(Sanssouci.)

65, 1. ngudi qáucapa gida^{ba}gá. See for your grandchild where it (the danger) is.—(Sanssouci.)

65, 7. qáíⁿ ké áda^qage gaⁿ uhá-biama. The ridge was of a curvilinear form. The men were in ambush all around, and Ictinike led the Elk all around inside the line of amb...

TRANSLATION.

There were some Turkeys, a great many. They were feeding on the very high edge of the ground among the arrow-weeds. Ictinike went thither. Having discovered them, he bent his head at once, and was coming back again (to the place whence he had started). "How shall I do in order to eat them?" he thought. And he made a decision. Immediately he rolled up a raccoon-skin robe several times, making it a pack for carrying something. He carried it on his back, and ran at once. As he ran, he passed very close by the Turkeys who were feeding. "Wuhu+! Something is the matter with the old man. See him," said the Turkeys. "Why! venerable man, what is the matter?" said they. "Yes, it is just so," said Ictinike. "Some villagers having said that I was to sing dance-songs for them, and having come after me, I have been carrying my songs (on my back)," said he. "Oho! venerable man, we too will dance a little," said the Turkeys. "No, I go in a very great hurry," said Ictinike. "We too, venerable man, will dance a little, and then you can go," said the Turkeys. "Wuhu+! what a bother! I was in very much of a hurry, but if you wish to dance, you shall do it," said Ictinike. "Well! Come, let us see! Come hither in a body," said Ictinike. And they came in a body. And he pulled open the robe. "Turn in your course and go around me. Ye very large ones who are moving along, pass very close to me as ye go dancing around me. Shut your eyes. Beware lest you open your eyes, and your eyes become red," said Ictinike. "Lift your tails erect, and spread them out repeatedly (by opening and closing). Well! Come, dance ye," he said. Then he sang: "Alas for the gazer! His eyes shall be red! His eyes shall be red! Flirt up your tails! Flirt up your tails!" Having caught hold of the very large ones, and having twisted off their heads in succession, Ictinike sat filling the bag. The bag he filled that high; he filled it very full. A small half-grown Turkey was about to comprehend (the situation as he moved along), he walked with his eyes open a little now and then. "He is destroying the largest ones among us. There is cause for anger! It is Ictinike who is standing (here), but (we did not recognize him)," he said. "K'û!" They went fleeing. "Ha! ha! How easy it is to fill myself to repletion," said Ictinike. He laughed till he panted excessively. He bound up the bag. And he cut sticks (as) roasting-sticks. He put them (the birds) to roast all around the fire. When they were almost done, the branch of a tree raised by the wind, said, "I!" "I am roasting them on account of my eating. Why do you cluck at me?" said Ictinike. "If you do this any more, I will go to you and hit you." When he arrived there (up the tree) he thrust in his arm several times. And it closed on his hands. "Friend, I wished to jest, so those things (I did and said). Friend, let me go," said he. And it continued so without letting him go. "Ho! those yonder! I put my own pieces there for safety. Go ye further off!" said he, referring to the Big Wolves. "Ictinike says that he has put the pieces away for safety," said they (the Wolves). They promised that those who should be the first to arrive were to eat the fat wrapped around the stomach. They went dashing towards it. They went suddenly, running a race. Having arrived there, they bit it. They swallowed it. Having swallowed it, they departed in different directions. And what closed on (Ictinike) opened itself. And having reached home at the bottom again, Ictinike was soon sitting and putting down the sticks as he licked them. He departed and walked along the shores of a row of round lakes. It happened that a big turtle was sitting there, by the shore of the lake. He took it, catching hold of the tail. He took it off to one side. "I will make myself full in a while!" said he. He broke wood (branches?) again. He piled up the wood very high, and put it in (the fire). He made the fire burn very fast. And he put the big turtle very quickly into the ashes. He put it in to bake, and he was about to eat it. When it was nearly done, Ictinike was sleepy. "I am sleepy. When it is cooked, you shall awaken me, O ane," said he. He slept. While he slept a person arrived there. The person took the big turtle, and ate it. When he had swallowed it, immediately he took the feet and thrust them (in their places) against the turtle-shell. He made Ictinike's hands very greasy for him; he also made his mouth very much smeared with grease. The person departed. Ictinike awoke. He arose suddenly. "What I roasted for myself is cooked too much for me!" he said. He pulled out the feet and they were coming to him. "It is done," said he. "Why! I wonder if I have eaten mine," he said. "Why! I must have swallowed it and then slept." Having looked at his hands, he said, "Yes, I have swallowed my own." He felt his stomach lengthwise (that is, running the hand all along it). "Yes, I am very full indeed after eating," said he. When he departed, it came to pass that there were a great number of Elk. Having peeped, Ictinike discovered them. "Stop! I will tempt these!" he thought. The Elk having discovered him, said, "This one is Ictinike." "Friend younger brother, it is I. Friend younger brother," said Ictinike, "I wish to live just as you do." "Well, venerable man, there is no reason at all for this!" said one. "When the vegetation consists of bitter weeds, I eat straight along as I walk (rejecting none). How is it possible for your heart to feel good when you eat them?" "Not so, friend younger brother, I wish to live with you just as you do," said Ictinike. "Though you will have your way, you shall seek a path for our children, as you understand the ways of the Indians," said they. "Yes, I will do as you say," said Ictinike. "Come, Pronged-horns, do you be the one," said they. "Well," said he, "come, stand with your face the other way (with your back to me)." When he went to hit him on the side, he failed, as Ictinike fled. "Wuhu+! truly nothing is there to be done, venerable man," said he. "O no, friend younger brother, I fled as I feared that he would run over me," said Ictinike. Again it was done so four times. The fourth time the Elk said, "When this (is over) I will stop." "Yes, friend younger brother, I will not flee," said Ictinike. When he hit him on the side, he went with him, just like him; Ictinike had become an Elk. As he was proud, he walked making light steps, he walked pretending to discover men. He kept on crying, "I!" "Do behave, venerable man. Beware lest you do that regularly," said the Elk. "O no, friend younger brother, it is all right because I am proud," said Ictinike. "Friend younger brother, I am now living just as I desire." And eating as he went he spit out the bitter ones in large pieces; he was constantly spitting them out. "Wä! I have joined those who eat very bad food," said he. "Wä! venerable man, what were you saying?" said they. "I said nothing. I was saying 'I have joined those who eat good food,'" said he. At length when they went over a hill with a very flat top, the Elk discovered men. "I!" said they. "Come, Ictinike, look at it (the danger) for him (your grandchild)," said they. When he went thither, behold, they were men. He arrived there. "You shall go home and say that he is coming with them," said Ictinike, telling the men in a whisper. "Wä! venerable man, what are you saying?" said the Elk. "What is the matter? What should I say? I was saying as I walked, 'A clump of weeds which was there a very long time, gave them needless trouble (or, deceived them—Saussonci),' " said he. At length, when they went over a flat top hill, an Elk was coming back again fleeing. "Well, Ictinike, see for your grandchild where it is," said they. When he arrived there, behold, they were men. Said he, "He told the truth, indeed, when he said he found men." Again, one discovered them in another direction (or, elsewhere). "Well, again see for your grandchild (where the danger is)," they said. He went thither. Again they were men, who were crawling up on the Elk. Again he said, "He told the exact truth." "Come, Ictinike, look out for your children a path (by which they may escape)," said they. "Well," said he, "though I am ahead, beware lest you scatter. You must walk following me in the manner that I walk." He followed the headlands of the ridge. He went passing close by the men who were standing thick. "It is I! it is I!" said Ictinike, as he walked. They killed all (of the Elk). Three Elk remained after the shooting, and they took refuge with Ictinike. And he soon pulled off the horns, throwing them away, and hitting the Elk with them. "You shall be called Aⁿpa", Elk. Walk away," said he.

ICTNIKE AND THE ELK.

HUPEGA'S VERSION.

- Kagéha, nfkaciⁿga d'úba gútəja ɛdɛdɪ amáma. Ė'ta bɛc kaⁿbɛa, Friend, person some at that place there they are, it is said. Thither I go I wish, á-biamá Ictníke aká. Ahaú, aɛí-biamá. Aɛá-biamá ɣl ɛgíɛ Aⁿpaⁿ said, they say Ictníke the (sub.). Well, he went, they say. He went, they say when it happened Elk 3 núga ɛdɪ ɕínkɛ amá ha. Hau, ukfa-biamá. Kagéha, wawéwimáxe male there the (st. ob.) they say Well, he talked they say. Friend, to question you atí, á-biamá Ictníke aká. Kí ɛdádáⁿ aⁿɕaⁿhaxɛ tɛ á, á-biamá Aⁿpaⁿ
 I have said, they say Ictníke the (sub.). And what you question me will I said, they say Elk núga aká. Kagéha, hí aⁿwaⁿjeɕa aɛéiⁿ há, ádaⁿ aⁿwaⁿwaɛtɛ uágacaⁿ.
 male the (sub.). Friend, legs me tired I sit there whithersoever I travel 6 máji há, á-biamá Aⁿpaⁿ núga aká. Kagéha, nfkaciⁿga-ma újawaⁿ.
 I not said, they say Elk male the (sub.). Friend, the have much qti-aⁿ-biamá. Éátaⁿ ádaⁿ maⁿɕniⁿ-ájí á. Aⁿhaⁿ, kagéha, wa'ú pabaⁿga enjoyment, they say. Why therefore you walk not I Yes, friend, woman before aɛɛáⁿ ɕínkɛ iⁿnacaf égaⁿ, nan'do isaaⁿ ɕin'gegaⁿ ɕɛɕu aɛéiⁿ, á-biamá
 I took to wife the (ob.) snatched from me heart as it has nothing to satisfy it here I sit, said, they say 9 Aⁿpaⁿ núga aká. Kagéha, ɛ'di angáɕe tɛ, á-biamá Ictníke aká Kagéha, Elk male the (sub.). Friend, there we go will, said, they say Ictníke the (sub.). Friend, ɕí-hnaⁿ ɛ'di maⁿɕin'-ga, á-biamá Aⁿpaⁿ núga aká. Kagéha, áwatɛdɪ you alone there go thou said, they say Elk male the (sub.). Friend, in what place are they á, á-biamá. Kagéha, ɕétɛáí há. Ė'di maⁿɕin'-gá, á-biamá. Hau, aɛá-
 I said they say. Friend, they are at this place There walk, said they say. Well, went 12 biamá Ictníke amá. Ėgíɛ Aⁿpaⁿ ɛdɛdɪ amáma, áhigí-biamá. Ė'di they say Ictníke the (sub.). It happened Elk there they were, it is said many they say. There ahí-biamá. Iⁿɕé, ɛátaⁿ maⁿhniⁿ ɕiⁿte, á-biamá Aⁿpaⁿ amá. Aⁿhaⁿ, he arrived, they say. Venerable why you walk may said, they say Elk the (sub.). Yes, ɕepáha, aⁿba wiⁿ waɕáte onátaí bɛáte kaⁿbɛa maⁿbɛiⁿ gaⁿ adaⁿ, ɕepáha, grandchild, day one food you eat I eat I wish I walk as therefore, grandchild, 15 atí há, á-biamá. Qa-í! iⁿɕégebá, tɛqí há, waɕáte angáɕai. Dádaⁿ p'á'
 I have come he said they say. Why! O venerable man! food our. What bitter gú bɛúga aⁿɕite aⁿmaⁿɕiⁿ usní ɣl'ɛtɛ kimaⁿhaⁿ-úgaqɛs-qti angéiⁿ há, the (ob.) all we eat we walk cold oven when against the wind facing we sit á-biamá. Hau, iⁿɕégebá, nɛáde ɕiɛin'ge. Cɛna, ɕactaⁿ-gá há. Aⁿkaji, said they, they say. Ho! O venerable man! to talk of you have nothing. Enough, stop talking Not so, 18 ɕepáhá, ɕiɛdaⁿ ɕéna ɕactaⁿ-gá há. Gaⁿ maⁿhniⁿ-macɛ'di maⁿbɛiⁿ grandchild, do you enough stop (ye) talking Anyhow you walk by you who I walk

- ka'bēa hā, á-biamá Ictinike aká. Hau, win'ke é'te. Jákahi jin'ga
I wish said, they say Ictinike the (sub.). Ho! he speaks truly may be. Oak tree small
- hé giáxa-biamá. Sin'de ké ja'n-ja'n' giáxa-biamá. Hau, wupáha, usní horn made for they say. Tall the (ob.) tree root made for they say. Well, grandchild, cold
- xi, égaⁿ snia't'e té hā. Hiⁿ fíai égaⁿ in'gaxái-gā, á-biamá. Hau, waháb 3 when so me cold may. Hair your like for me make ye, said they say. Well, cat's
- ignaskaⁿ fē hiⁿ giáxa-biamá. Hau! ké, jápahi fégē fátá-gā, á-biamá. Fátá-tails hair made for they say. Ho! come, rosin-wood these eat said they, he ate
- biamá Ictinike aká. Fátá-bi xi iúp'a-biamá, teú-biamá. Wú! dádaⁿetē they say Ictinike the (sub.). He ate they when bitter they say he spit they say. Wú! whatever
- píjijíj' qteí fátáí edúche áhaⁿ á-biamá. Hau! i'e'áge, edécegaⁿ-hnaⁿ á, 6 good-not-not very they eat I go with I said he, they say. Ho! venerable man, what were you saying
- á-biamá. Indádaⁿ-qti edéche ta? Wačáte péjij'-qti fátáí edúche áhaⁿ, ehé, said they, they say. What indeed I say what shall? Food had very they eat I go with I said,
- wupáha, á-biamá Ictinike aká. Ahaú Hau! i'e'áge, úckaⁿ wíⁿ aŋguífeja grandchild, said, they say Ictinike the (sub.). Well. Ho! venerable man, deed one we tell to thee
- tan'gataⁿ. Cin'gajin'ga naxfdewačáčē te ádaⁿ úckaⁿ wíⁿ aŋguífeja tan'gataⁿ, 9 we will. Children you make them have ears will therefore deed one we tell thee we will,
- á-biamá. Hau! i'e'áge, fēamá níaci'ga wéčai té'di égaⁿ-qti té'di biⁿzé-said they, they say. Ho! venerable man, these (sub.) persons they find them when just so when they cry
- hnaⁿi, á-biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá, égaⁿ taté'áča, á-biamá. Usní amá, jadé-out, said they, they say. Oho! said they say, so shall be indeed said they say. Cold they say, hard
- sage usní-qti amá. Aⁿpaⁿ-ma bēúga-qti kimaⁿhaⁿ-úgaqfe maⁿfiⁿ-biamá. 12 wind cold very they say. Elk the all facing the wind walked they say.
- Ictinike amá kimaⁿhaⁿ gaqé'-qti wačáte maⁿfiⁿ-biamá. Ágaqfe xigéisaⁿ fái-Ictinike the against the wind apart very eating walk'd they say. With the turned himself
- biamá. Wú! píjijíj' qteí, á-biamá.
they say. Wú! good-not-not very, said he, they say.
- Hau, é gaⁿ-amá níkaci'ga wéča-biamá Ictinike aká. I-ú! á-biamá. 15 Well, that after awhile person he found they say Ictinike the (sub.). I-ú! said they say, he
- Gídaⁿbái-gā, gídaⁿbái-gā, á-biamá. Aⁿpaⁿ-ma bēúga dágahaⁿ fēča-biamá.
Look for him, look for him, said they say. Elk the all raised their heads suddenly, they say.
- Eⁿaⁿ á, á-biamá. Fēaká níkaci'ga wíⁿ, á-biamá Ictinike aká. Daⁿbá-
What is the matter I said they, they say. This one person one, said they say Ictinike the (sub.). They looked at it
- biamá xi égičē qad ičaⁿ amá. E wáčake, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, á-biamá. 18 they say when behold grease was suddenly they say. That you mean, said they, they say. Yes, said they say, he
- Hau! i'e'áge, égičēgaⁿ ckáxe-hnaⁿ te, á-biamá. Aⁿpaⁿ-ma. Égaⁿ-qti xi Ho! venerable beware lest you do thus continually, said, they say. Elk the ones who. So just when
- égaⁿ-hnaⁿi, á-biamá. Ci wabáhi maⁿfiⁿ-biamá. Égičē ci níaci'ga wéčaso regularly, said they say. Again feeding together walked they say. It had again person he found them

72 THE GEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- biamá Iet'niké aká. Gídaⁿbái-gā, á-biamá. Aⁿ'paⁿ amá daⁿbá-bi xi they say Ietniké the (sub.). Look for him, said they say. Elk the (sub.). looked, they when égaⁿ-qti amá níaciⁿga akáma, ugásⁿ'iⁿ akáma. Hau! égaⁿ-qti te, á-biamá just so they say they were men, it is said, they were peeping, it is said. Ho! just so it was, said, they say
- 3 Aⁿ'paⁿ amá. Cín'gajín'ga aaⁿ'he úwaginá-gā, á-biamá. Kí, Wíebéiⁿ te há, Elk the (sub.). Children flight hunt for them, said they, they And, I am he will á-biamá Ietniké aká. Wín'ké-qti ábaⁿ, á-biamá Aⁿ'paⁿ-ma. Hau! kégañsaid, they say Ietniké the (sub.). He speaks truly indeed I said, they say Elk the (sub.). Ho! come, do gā, á-biamá. Wíé-gā, á-biamá. Cín'gajín'ga uhé úwaginá-gā, á-biamá.
it, said they, they You be first, said they, they Children path hunt for them, said they, they
say.
- 6 Ahaú! íéngaskuⁿbéé tá mínke, á-biamá Ietniké aká. Ietniké aká aqá-Oho! I attempt it will I who, said, they say Ietniké the (sub.). Ietniké the (sub.). went biamá. Aⁿ'paⁿ bégá-qti uéúha-biamá. Gañ'ki Ietniké amégaⁿ níaciⁿga they say. Elk all followed they say. And Ietniké as he moved men wéga-biamá. É'ja aqá-biamá Níaciⁿga wénaⁿ'ú-qtei íha-biamá. Níaciⁿga discovered, they say. Thither went they say. Men right alongside of he passed, they say. men 9 wéçai xi é úwakiá-biamá: Wí ankída-bují-gā. Wíebéiⁿ há, á-biamá discov. when that talked with they say: Me shoot not at me. It is I said, they say eret them then
- Ietniké aká. Aⁿ'paⁿ-ma wákidá-biamá. Aⁿ'paⁿ-ma téwaqá-biamá. Aⁿ'paⁿ-Ietniké the (sub.). Elk the (sub.). ones who they shot at them, they say. Elk the (sub.). they killed them, they say. Elk ma múwaqíngé'-qti-aⁿ-biamá, cénawaqá-biamá. Aⁿ'paⁿ núga jín'ga wíⁿ the ones who they shot down all they say, they extermin ated them they say. Elk male small one
- 12 Aⁿ'paⁿ mín'ga jín'ga eti wíⁿ, Ietniké aká é wéçabéiⁿ nfa-biamá. Wéahide'- Elk female small too one, Ietniké the (sub.). the that the third alive they say. Far away qti aⁿ'he júwagéé ahí-biamá. Ahí-biamá xi hé ké çizá-bi Ietniké aká, very fled he with them arrived, they say. Arrived, they say when horn the took, they Ietniké the (sub.).
aⁿ'ça éçéa-biamá. Aⁿ'paⁿ jín'ga éé wagáji egaⁿ, Éútaⁿ aⁿ'çaⁿ/waⁿçahái ñ.
threw suddenly, they say. Elk small to go told them having, Why me you follow I
- 15 Janúça hébe aqídadégaⁿ te há. Gúdiha maⁿ'çín'i-ga. Aⁿ'paⁿ eéçge taf, Fresh meat piece I cut up for myself will Further off walk ye. Elk they will call á-biamá. Cetaⁿ.
said he, they say. So far.

NOTES.

70, 17. uéade çiçíñge, "You have nothing to talk about"—Joseph La Flèche; "You have no cause for complaint"—Sanssouci; syn., éçicáji eté xi, "You ought not to say it to (any one)"—Mary La Flèche; "It were good for you to say nothing to any one."

70, 18. çíedaⁿ, etc. Ietniké thought that they would not allow him to join them. So he implored them, using çíedaⁿ in his entreaty: "If you are unwilling, do not say it. Do you stop speaking. Refuse me no longer."

71, 6. piájíaji-qtei, etc. The literal meaning is the opposite of the real one. So waçate péji-qtei, is "very good food;" and waçaha péji-qtei, "very good clothing."

71, 8. ahau and hau are often used as catch-words or continuatives.

71, 9. maxidewafafê (given by Hupeŋa), "You make them have inner ears," "You teach them to use their ears so as to detect the presence or approach of danger;" but Joseph La Flèche gave náxiŋawafafê, "You annoy or alarm them": "We tell you one thing lest you alarm the children."

71, 10. biwé, syn., xaxage, to cry out as a child, or as the young of the elk or coyote. This cry, according to Hupeŋa, is i-ú; Joseph La Flèche gave u^a, said through the nose, with the rising inflection; and ǵaŋi^a-na^apajl gave in the preceding myth, i^a.

72, 4. kégañ-gā (kē, égañ-gā) "Come, do it."

72, 5. ǵié-gā, "Be thou he," imperative of ǵié, thou; syn., ǵi pahañ/ga-gā, "Be thou the foremost, the leader"—Joseph La Flèche.

72, 8. wena^aúqtei, ǵolwere, winaq^axe, to go near in one's course, to pass along-side of them.

TRANSLATION.

"My friend, there are some persons in that place. I wish to go thither," said Ictinike. Well, he went. When he went, it happened that a Male-elk was (sitting) there. Well, he talked with him. "My friend, I have come to question you," said Ictinike. And the Male-elk said, "What will you ask me? My friend, I sit tired in my legs, therefore I do not go anywhere at all." "My friend, persons are accustomed to enjoyment. Why do you not walk?" said Ictinike. "Yes, my friend, the woman whom I married formerly having been taken from me, my heart has no enjoyment, and I sit here," said the Elk. "My friend, let us two go thither," said Ictinike. "My friend, do you go thither by yourself," said the Male-elk. "My friend, where are they?" said Ictinike. "My friend, they are at this place (near by). Go thither," said the Male-elk. Well, Ictinike departed. And there were a great many Elk (in motion) there. He arrived there. "Venerable man, what may be your business?" said the Elk. "Yes, my grandchildren, I have been desiring to eat the food which you eat for one day; therefore, my grandchildren, I have come," said he. "Why! O venerable man, our food is difficult. We eat all bitter things as we go; besides, when it is cold we sit facing the wind," said they. "Ho! O venerable man, you have nothing to talk about. Enough. Stop talking." "No, my grandchildren, you (have said) enough. Do you stop talking. (Notwithstanding what you have said) I wish to live as you live," said Ictinike. "Ho! he may be telling the truth" (said the Elk). They made horns for him of a small oak. They made him a tail of the root. "Well, my grandchildren, when it is cold, I may freeze (if I am) so. Make for me hair like yours," said he. Well, they made hair for him out of cat's-tails (Typha latifolia). "Ho! come, eat these rosin-weeds," they said. Ictinike ate them. When he ate them they were bitter in the mouth, and he spit them out. "Psha! I have joined the eaters of very bad things," he said. "Ho! venerable man, what have you been saying?" they said. "What indeed could I say? I said, 'I have joined the eaters of very good food,' my grandchildren," said Ictinike. "Ho! venerable man, one custom we will tell you. You shall cause the children to use their ears (aright), therefore we will tell you one custom," said they. "Ho! venerable man, when these discover men, and it is just so, they cry out." "Oho!" said he, "it shall be so indeed." It became cold. The wind blew, and it was very cold. All the Elk walked facing the wind. Ictinike

IMAGE EVALUATION TEST TARGET (MT-3)

Photographic
Sciences
Corporation

23 WEST MAIN STREET
WEBSTER, N.Y. 14580
(716) 872-4503

1.8 20 22 25 28 32 36 40 45 50 56 63 71 80 90 100

10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100

walked apart from them, facing the wind. He turned himself with the wind (with his back to it). "Psha! it is very bad!" he said. Well, after going awhile, Ictinike discovered men. "I-! look ye for him! Look ye for him!" said he. All the Elk raised their heads suddenly. "What is the matter?" said they. "This one is a man," said Ictinike. When they looked at it, behold, it had suddenly become grass. "You mean that?" said they. "Yes," he said. "Ho! venerable man, beware lest you continue doing thus," said the Elk. "When it is just so, only so is it," he said. Again they were grazing as they walked together. And it happened that Ictinike discovered men again. "Look ye for him," said he. When the Elk looked at it, it was just so; they were men, and they were peeping. "Well, it was just so," said the Elk. "Seek a way of flight for the children," said they. "Let me be the one," said Ictinike. "Indeed, he speaks truly!" said the Elk. "Ho! come, do it. You shall be the one (to go ahead). Seek a path for the children," said they. "Oho! I will attempt it," said Ictinike. Ictinike went. All the Elk followed him. And as Ictinike went he discovered men. He went thither. He passed right alongside of the men. When he discovered the men he talked with them. "Do not shoot at me; it is I," said Ictinike. They shot at the Elk. They killed the Elk. They shot down all the Elk; they exterminated them. One small Male-elk, and one small Female-elk, Ictinike being the third, were alive. Fleeing with them, he reached a place at a very great distance (from the place of slaughter). When he arrived, he took the horns and threw them away. Having commanded the young Elk to depart, he said, "Why do you follow me? I will cut up for myself a piece of fresh meat. Walk further off. You shall be called A^upaⁿ" (Elk). The End.

ICTINIKE AND THE BUZZARD.

TOLD BY MA^uTCU-NA^uBA.

- Ègìçe Ictínike amá fé amáma. Kí Héga wíⁿ gáwí^uxe maⁿfiⁿ-biamá.
It came to Ictinike the was going. And Buzzard one going around walked they say.
pass (sub.)
- Kí Ictínike aká ní-jañ^{ga} masániaja fé gaⁿfé-biamá. Héga fiñké fahaⁿ-
And Ictinike the big water to the other to go wished they say. Buzzard the (ob.) he prayed (sub.) side of
- 3 biamá. Jígaⁿha, iⁿ'ín-gá há. Ní masániaja iⁿ'ín-gá há, á-biamá Ictínike they say. O grandfather, carry me Water to the other side of carry me said, they say Ictinike
- aká. Aⁿhaⁿ, á-biamá Héga aká, wíⁿ téinke, á-biamá. Gañⁿki gíⁿ-the Yes, said, they say Buzzard the I carry will said they say. And he carried (sub.) (sub.) you he
- biamá. Gíⁿ-bi xí jaⁿqfú^a uné gíⁿ-biamá. Ègìçe jaⁿqfú^a tē ífa-biamá they say. He carried when hollow tree seeking he carried him. At length hollow tree the he found, they him, they say they say (ob.) say
- 6 há. Íⁿ'di gíⁿ aqá-biamá xí jaⁿqfú^a tē xaⁿha-qtcí she aqé-hnaⁿ-biamá
There carrying went they say when hollow tree the border very passing went regularly, they say
him (ob.)

Héga amá, áfika^a afe hna^a-biamá. Áfika^a afaí xí: Jíga^a ha, a^awa^a-Buzzard the (sub.), leaning he went regularly, they say. Leaning he went when: grandfather me hniqápe etéga^a, á-biamá Ictínike aká. Ma^aci^a téga^a ca^aca^a bheí^a há, you make full apt said, they say Ictínike the (sub.). To walk the, so always I am á-biamá Héga aká. Égiçe xigésubeí^a-biamá xí Ictínike ma^acan^ade égi^ah 3 said, they say Buzzard the (sub.). At length twisted himself they say when Ictínike den head-around long ipeéa-biamá Héga aká. Kí Ictínike ja^aqú'a égihe eéce ma^ataja waqpani, sent him suddenly, Buzzard the (sub.). And Ictínike hollow tree headlong sent inside poor, they say the suddenly qéaqti ma^aci^a-biamá. Égiçe xí hégaetewa^aji gaqqa^a atí-biamá. Égiçe loan very walked they say. At length lodge by no means a few on the hunt have come, they At length
 say.
 uqú'a wéce xí wa'ú amá qabé té gaqáqi amá. Égiçe Ictínike aká 6 hollow sought when woman the (sub.) tree the hit and made they say. At length Ictínike the (sub.) (tree) (wood) ja^aqú'a ma^ataja gheí^a-bi ci, Níaci^aga wéce tí-biamá eéga^a-biamá. Égiçe hollow tree inside said, they say again, Person seeking have come thought he they say. It hap(wood) (see note), miqá-ha wa-i^a-biamá Ictínike aká. Sin^ade ké ja^aqú'a usné gé ubásna^a raccoon skin wore they say Ictínike the (sub.). Tall the (ob.) hollow tree split the (pl.) pushing into épa^abe-hípa-biamá. Gañ'ki wa'ú pábeí^a atí-biamá, ci qabé gaqáqi- 9 he caused to come in sight, And woman three have come, they again tree hit and they say. say sounded biamá. Ci sin^ade da^abá-biamá. Égiçe gá-biamá: Hindá! ciqa^a, miqá they say. And tail they say they say. It happened she said as fol- Stop! husband's raccoon lows, they say: sister d'úba eéaká, á-biamá. Miqá d'úba weáxié, á-biamá. Hi^a! ciqa^a, wi^a some this she said, they say. Raccoon some I have found said they say. Oh! brother's one say. she a^afaí tedi^a, á-biamá. Ja^a tē aŋgúga'úde taí hē, á-biamá. Égiçe ja^a 12 you give will! said (one), they Tree the (ob.) we cut a whole in will said they say. At length tree me say.
 té gasá-biamá, ugá'udá-biamá. Égiçe Ictínike gá-biamá: Miqá jañ'ga the (ob.) they cut they say they cut a hole they say. It happened Ictínike said as follows, Raccoon in it they say: big beí^a há. Jañ'gábeha gaxái-gá há, á-biamá. Hi^a! ciqa^a, Miqá aká jañ'ga-bi I am Large around make it he said they say. Oh! brother's Raccoon the big (see note)
 he wife (sub.)
 ai hē, á-biamá. Gañ'ki ja^aqú'a té jañ'gábeha u'úde té gaxá-biamá. 15 he said (one) And hollow tree the (ob.) large around hole the they they say.
 says they say. made Gañ'ki épa^abe akí-biamá Ictínike aká. Miqá jañ'ga aqí^a épa^abe cakí, And coming out reached home, Ictínike the (sub.). Raccoon big having coming out I come they say home to you á-biamá. Hi^a! ciqa^a, Ictínike amé améda^a, á-biamá. Gañ'ki Ictínike said (one) Oh! brother's Ictínike it is he who is moving, said (one) And Ictínike they say. wife they say. they say.
 épa^abe akí-biamá. Miqá jañ'ga áqí^ahé cagge te. Gúdiha naji^ai-gá, 18 coming out reached home, they say. Raccoon big I who move I go home will. Further off stand ye to you
 á-biamá. Épa^abe akí tédi wéqigga^a gaxe gheí^a-biamá. Áta^a áma^a xí said he, Coming out he when decision making he sat they say. How I do to it they say. reached home éga^aéda^a etéda^a, eéga^a gheí^a-biamá. Até daxe xí-hna^a úmakaúé etéga^a so I do to him apt! thinking he sat they say. I die I make if only I make it easy apt

- áhaⁿ, eé'egaⁿ-biamá. Cí égiçe ^{! he thought they say. Again it hap- pended} ^{Crow one he saw they say.} ^{Crow he saw, they say havin} ^{It hap- pended} ^{he prayed to, they say.} ^{Friend,} ^{pity yo}
- cí Wajíbe-snéde wíⁿ daⁿbá-biamá Égiçe ^{again Magpie one he saw they say.} ^{Égiçe} ^{It hap- pended} ^{he prayed to, they say.} ^{Friend,} ^{pity yo} ^{he said, they say.} ^{Bird} ^{all} ^{very} ^{called them,} ^{having} ^{there arrived, they say.} ^{And}
- 3 giçái-gá, iⁿwín'kaⁿi-gá, á-biamá. At'é ^{me, help yo me, said he, they say.} ^{I die I make will I who; help me and eat} ^{yo me, he said, they say.} ^{Bird} ^{all} ^{very} ^{called them,} ^{having} ^{there arrived, they say.} ^{And}
- tái-gá, á-biamá. Wajín'ga bəúga-qti wébaⁿ-bi egaⁿ é'di ahí-biamá. Gañ'ki ^{yo me, he said, they say.} ^{Bird} ^{all} ^{very} ^{called them,} ^{having} ^{there arrived, they say.} ^{And}
- Qíçá amá cti é'di ahí-biamá. ^{Eagle the too there arrived, they say.} ^(sub.) ^{Crow the said to him, they say.} ^(sub.) ^{Eagle the (ob.) that he}
- 6 ká-bi egaⁿ: Kagéha, máhiⁿ pái aoniⁿ. Wémabəázai-gá, á-biamá. Gañ'ki ^{mean, they say} ^{having:} ^{Friend,} ^{knife} ^{sharp you have.} ^{Send it for us,} ^{said they say.} ^{And}
- nín'de ^{rump} ^{at the} ^{Eagle the (sub.)} ^{skin the (ob.)} ^{the bit a hole in} ^{they say.} ^{Tail hollow within fat} ^{the (ob.)} ^{visible} ^{sat} ^{they say.} ^{Elk,} ^{fat} ^{not a little, it was,} ^{said he, they say.} ^{And} ^{Buzzard}
- 9 amá-ona cetaⁿ-hnaⁿ ahí-bají-biamá. Égiçe ^{the only so far only arrived} ^{not they say.} ^{At length} ^{Buzzard the there arrived, they say.} ^(sub.)
- Cí+cte! Ietníke, á-biamá Héga amá. An'kaji, kagéha, ^{File on you! Ietníke, said, they say} ^{Buzzard the (sub.).} ^{Not so,} ^{friend,} ^{hurry,} ^{read} ^{it.} ^{Kalfe sharp you have} ^{said, they say} ^{Crow the (sub.).} ^{Not so,} ^{Ietníke} ^{it is}
- 12 á-biamá Héga amá Héga ^{said, they say, Buzzard the (sub.).} ^{Buzzard he ate when} ^{Magpie within} ^{very entered} ^{reached,} ^{they say} ^{not} ^{they say.} ^{Buzzard the (sub.)} ^{to the head} ^{say} ^{tried him} ^{they say.}
- egaⁿ waciⁿ ^{having} ^{fat} ^{ate} ^{they say.} ^{Buzzard the (sub.)} ^{to the head} ^{say} ^{tried him} ^{they say.}
- Ígaskaⁿçá-bi egaⁿ ^{Tried him, they say} ^{having} ^{nostril} ^{la} ^{bit} ^{they say,} ^{not heeding at all} ^{lay} ^{they say} ^{Ietníke}
- 15 aká ^{the (sub.).} ^{At length} ^{eye-skin the (ob.)} ^{he bit} ^{they say again} ^{not heeding at all} ^{lay} ^{they say} ^{Ietníke}
- aká. ^{he (sub.).} ^{Towards the rump} ^{went, they say} ^{when} ^{fat} ^{piece} ^{there} ^{that which was} ^{he ate} ^{they say} ^{Buzzard}
- aká. ^{the (sub.).} ^{At length} ^{hole} ^{border} ^{by the} ^{fat} ^{piece} ^{there} ^{the (ob.)} ^{bit off a piece} ^{they say} ^{Buzzard the (sub.)}
- 18 Égiçe, Wín'ka-bi té, Aⁿpaⁿ kéde, á-biamá. ^{It hap- pended,} ^{They told the truth,} ^{Elk} ^{it is, but, said they say.} ^{At length} ^{within} ^{very} ^{entered} ^{they say}
- egaⁿ waciⁿ ^{having} ^{fat} ^{piece} ^{bit off a piece} ^{they say.} ^{The second time} ^{when} ^{squeezed with his hands, they say} ^{having}
- mañ'gçe ^{erect} ^{stood} ^{they say} ^{Ietníke} ^{the (sub.).} ^{You treated me ill} ^{having} ^{so I do to you} ^{will} ^{I who,} á-biamá Ictinike aká. Kagéha, aⁿ pīctan'-gā, á-biamá Héga aká. Aⁿ haⁿ, said, they say Ictinike the (sub.). Friend, let me go, said, they say Buzzard the (sub.). Yea, xáci wfbīctāⁿ-māji tá mīnke, á-biamá Ictinike aká. Gañ'ki pīctāⁿ pēpā-a long I let you go I not will I who, said, they say Ictinike the And let him go sent and-while deny biamá xi nackí pāⁿ hīⁿ pīngē'-qti-aⁿ Héga, uonúda-bi egaⁿ. Ádaⁿ héga 3 they say when head the feathers it had very Buzzard, the pulling out having. Therefore buzzard (ob.) none

 nackí pāⁿ hīⁿ pīngai, jidē'-qti-aⁿ. Cetaⁿ.
head the feathers has none, red very. So far.
(ob.)

NOTES.

The Oto version of this myth, given by J. La Flèche, will appear hereafter in "The Iowere Language, Part I."

75, 2. māⁿ pīⁿ tegaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ bēiⁿ hā. If tegaⁿ be inseparable, the meaning of it is "in order that, in order to;" and the whole phrase can be rendered: "I am always so, in order to go." But if tegaⁿ be a contraction of tē and égaⁿ, it must be translated by "I always go so." In this case, égaⁿ-caⁿcaⁿ means "so forever, so always."

75, 4. qēaqti and hegactēwaⁿji, pronounced qēa+qti, and he+gactēwaⁿji.

75, 6. gāgaqi. This word shows that the wood was hard, and that it must have been winter. Had it been warm weather, gāgaqi would have been used.

75, 7. wēpē ti-biama. "Biama" refers to the thought of Ictinike, and must not be rendered "it is said."

75, 14. mīya aka jānga-bi ai hē. She had perceived by the sense of hearing (taking direct cognizance) that he had said this, so she says "ai" instead of "a-biama." But she did not learn by direct cognizance that he was large, she learned it indirectly, so she says "jānga-bi," not "jānga."

75, 6. māhiⁿ pai aqniⁿ, "You have a sharp knife;" that is, his beak. Cf. the Winnebago name, Mahiⁿ-noⁿpa-ka, Two Knives, of the Bird Family (Foster), and the pēgiha, Māhiⁿ pīn'ge, No Knife.

75, 18. aⁿpaⁿ kéde, an example of contraction and ellipsis. It is contracted from aⁿpaⁿ ké, éde, referring to the past doubts of the speaker. The full form would be, aⁿpaⁿ kéde-hnaⁿ ewéja pāⁿetī: "It was an Elk lying there, but I doubted it heretofore."

TRANSLATION.

It came to pass that Ictinike was going (somewhere). And a Buzzard kept flying around. And Ictinike wished to go to the other side of the great water. He prayed to the Buzzard: "Grandfather, carry me on your back. Carry me on your back to the other side of the water." "Yes," said the Buzzard. "I will carry you on my back." And then he carried him on his back. When he carried him on his back, he searched for a hollow tree. At length he found a hollow tree. When he carried him thither on his back, the Buzzard kept on passing close to the hollow tree and tipping his wing. As he went tipping his wing, Ictinike said, "O grandfather! you will be apt to make me fall." "This is the way in which I always go," said the Buzzard. At length, when he had twisted himself around, the Buzzard sent Ictinike down, down, into a hole (in the tree). And Ictinike, having been sent down headlong into the hollow tree, continued poor and very thin. And a great many lodges of a hunting party came thither. And it happened that when the women found a hollow tree, they hit the tree, making it give forth the sound "ʔaqi." And it happened that Ictinike sat inside the hollow tree, and he thought that people had come to get wood. And, as it happened, Ictinike had on some raccoon-skins. He made the tails appear in sight by thrusting them through the cracks of the hollow tree. And three women approached, and they struck the tree, making it give forth the sound "ʔaqi." And they saw the tails. And (one) said as follows: "Stop! O husband's sister! this is a lot of raccoons. I have found some raccoons for myself." "Oh! brother's wife! Will you please give me one?" said (another). Said she, "Let us cut a hole in the tree." At length they cut the tree, cutting a hole in it. It came to pass that Ictinike said as follows (in a hollow voice): "I am a big Raccoon. Make ye it large around." "Oh! brother's wife! the Raccoon says he is big," she said. And they made the hole in the hollow tree large around. And Ictinike came home again, in sight (i. e., into the open air, his native element). "Having a big raccoon, I come out to you, to my home (in the air)," said he. "Oh! brother's wife! it is Ictinike (in motion)," said (one). And Ictinike got out again into the air. "I who have been a big raccoon will go home to you. Stand further off!" said he. (And the women fled.) When he had come out again, he sat forming a plan. He sat thinking, "What ought I to do to get even with him?" He sat planning. Thought he, "If I pretend to be dead, only thus shall I be apt to accomplish it easily!" And after this he saw a Crow. And having seen the Crow, he saw a Magpie. And then he prayed to them. "O friends, pity me and help me," said he. "I will pretend to be dead. Help me and eat ye me." All the birds went thither, having been called. And the Eagle, too, went thither. The Crow said to him (meaning the Eagle), "Friend, you have a sharp knife. Cut him up for us." And the Eagle bit a hole in the skin on the rump. The fat was visible inside the ham. Said they, "It is the Elk; and he is very fat." And the Buzzard alone had not yet reached there. At length the Buzzard arrived. "Fie on you! It is Ictinike," said he. "No, my friend, hurry. Cut it with your knife. You have a sharp knife," said the Crow. "No, it is Ictinike," said the Buzzard. Before the Buzzard ate any, the Magpie entered, and went very far inside and ate the fat. The Buzzard went towards the head, and tried it. Having tried it, he bit the nostrils. Ictinike did not stir in the least. And when he bit the eye-lids, Ictinike lay without stirring at all. The Buzzard went towards the rump, and ate a piece of fat which was there. And at length the Buzzard bit off a piece of fat that was there by the edge of the hole. It came to pass that he said, "The truth was told. It is the Elk lying here, but (I doubted it at first)." At length, having entered, he went very far inside, and bit off a piece of fat. When he entered the second time, Ictinike squeezed him and stood upright. "As you have injured me, so will I do to you," said Ictinike. "O friend, let me go," said the Buzzard. "Yes, I will not let you go for a long time," said Ictinike. And when he let him go suddenly, the Buzzard had no feathers at all on his head on account of their having been stripped off. Therefore, the buzzard has no feathers on his head; it is very red. The End.

ICTINIKE, THE BROTHERS, AND SISTER.

RELATED BY FRANK LA FLÛCHE.

Ukfkiji dubá-biamá, iñan'ge aká wésata^{n'}-biamá. Wakíde-pí-qi-Brothers four they say, sister the (sub.) the fifth they say. Very good marksmen biamá ukfkiji duba amá. Kí iñan'ge aká íetíwáxe-hna^{n'}-biamá. Kí they say brethren four the (sub.). And sister the (sub.) used to make the ant- they say. And mála come by calling tétiwágiçá-biamá wa'ú aká. Ké, ñinuhá, in'gahai-á hē. Ga^{n'} griha- 3 she praised them they say woman the (sub.). Come, older brother, comb for me . And he combed for her biamá, griánapá-qi-çá-biamá. Sadégçé griáxa-biamá, kí gahá iça^{n'}ça-they say, combed very smooth they say. Scaffold they made for her, and on it they placed her for her they say, biamá. Kí wan'giçé-qi háhaxíçé naji^{n'}-biamá, man dē ékina açi^{n'}- they say. And every one making I myself stood they say, bows sufficient they had ready biamá. Kí wa'ú aká ba^{n'}-biamá, kí cī ba^{n'}-biamá. Wéçabçi^{n'}a^{n'} tēdñhi 6 they say. And woman the (sub.) called they say, and again called they say. The third time occurred qí ma^{n'}-na^{n'}cude waççona-biamá. ñinuhá, wacka^{n'} ega^{n'}-á, ca-fi hē, when dust from treading visible they say. Elder brother, make an effort do they are com-
 the ground ing to you á-biamá. Wéduba^{n'} tēdñhi qí çéa^{n'}be atí-biamá. Kí Ictinike aká édi she said, they The fourth time occurred when in sight they had come, And Ictinike the (sub.) there say they say.
 naji^{n'}-biamá. Égiçé atí-biamá wanija amá ca^{n'} bēúga-qi, Jé améga^{n'}, 9 stood they say. At length had come, they say animal the (sub.) indeed all Buffalo the (sub.)
 A^{n'}pa^{n'} amé, Iáqi amé, ca^{n'} bēúga-biamá. Ca^{n'}-qi-ga^{n'} t'éwaçé naji^{n'}- Elk the (sub.) Deer the (sub.) indeed all they say. All at once killing them they stood biamá. Kí can'gaxá-biama. Ga^{n'} wacé^{n'}-qi gçi^{n'}-biamá. Égiçé uma^{n'}e they say. And they made an end they say. And rich very they sat they say. At length provisions tē çasni^{n'} aça-biamá. Kí iñnu aká 'ábae açe íçá-biamá wan'giçé. Kí 12 the swallowed went they say. And her elder the hunting to go spoke of, they say all. And (ob.) brother (sub.)
 iñnu na^{n'} aká: Níkaci^{n'}ga wi^{n'} tí taté çá^{n'}ja dáda^{n'}-qi edé ctéctewa^{n'} her elder grown the one who: Person one come shall though what indeed he notwithstanding brother who: hither says that égiçéga^{n'} çéckaxe te há, á-biamá. ñinuhá, an'ka-máji tá minke, beware you do it for him lest he said, they say. O older brother, I not so will I who, á-biamá. Iñan'ge çínké uma^{n'}e gixáxa-bi ega^{n'} griá^{n'}ça aça-biamá. 15
 she said, they His sister the (ob.) provisions made for his own, having leaving her they went, they say they say they say (their own) say.
 Aça-biamá qí Ictinike aká atí-biamá, çixesági man'dé kéde açi^{n'}-bi,
 They went, they when Ictinike the (sub.) came they say, hard willow bow the (ob.) he had, they
 say say
 çiqçé-ma ma^{n'}jíha ké ugçpi-qi açi^{n'}-bi. Wihe, indáda^{n'}-qi edéhe roads the (ob.) quiver the (ob.) full very he had, they Second daughter, what indeed I say that
 say.
 ctéctewa^{n'} éga^{n'} i^{n'}çéckaxe te há. Çá^{n'}ean'giçá-gá, çuepáha. An'kaji, 18 notwithstanding so you do for me will Pity me, your relation, my grandchild. Not so ɔiga^hhá, ubɛ́f'age hě, á-biamá wa'ú aká An'kaji, ɔucpá, ɛa'ean'giɛá-gá.

grandfather, I am unwilling said, they say woman the (sub.). Not so, grandchild, pity me, your relation.

Maⁿ ɛéťě ɛega-qtí aɔigɛictaⁿ éde ɛáigigɛaskaⁿbɛe kaⁿbɛa. Iéti-
Arrow this (col.) new very I finished for myself but I try my own I wish. Animals to come

11 wackáxe-hnaⁿ amá. Égaⁿ gáxa-gá. Wa'ú ɛínké uɛf'age ɛaⁿja caⁿ you are used to making they say. So do. Woman the (ob.) unwilling though yet ɛactaⁿ-bají-biamá. Égiɛe caⁿ-aká uhékiɛa-biamá wa'ú aká. In'daké, he stopped not they say. At length after standing awhile she let him they say woman the Let us see, talking have his way ingáhe-á hě' á-biamá wa'ú aká. Ietníke aká giáha-biamá. ɔi'an'kiɛ comb for me said, they say woman the (sub.). Ietníke the (sub.) combed for her, He made her paint herself they say.

12 ɛtəⁿ-bi egaⁿ gɛictaⁿ-biamá. Sadéɛe giáxai tē gahá ɛɛin'kiɛa-biamá.
even, they say having he finished they say. Scaffold that had been on it he made her sit they say.

Kí, Dubaⁿ abaⁿ tē'di atí-hnaⁿi hě, á-biamá wa'ú aká. In'daké, ban-gá,
And, Four times I call when they usually come. said, they say woman the (sub.). Let us see, call, á-biamá Ietníke aká Kí wa'ú aká baⁿ-biamá. ɛabɛiⁿaⁿ baⁿ-bi ɔi'ji said, they say Ietníke the (sub.). And woman the (sub.) called they say. Three times called, they when say

9 maⁿnaⁿ-cude tē waɛtəna-biamá. Hiⁿ! ea-fi hě, ɔiga^hhá, wackaⁿ egaⁿ-á dust from treading the ground the (ob.) visible they say. Oh! they are coming grandfather, make an effort do hě'. Wédubaⁿ tēdfhi ɔi' égiɛe ɛaⁿbe atí-biamá. Égiɛe atí-biamá.

The fourth time occurred when it happened in sight they came, they At length they came, they say.

Wakída-biamá Ietníke aká. ɛtqee maⁿ ké wékídá-biamá, uɛfluini
He shot at them, they say Ietníke the (sub.). Reed arrow the (ob.) he shot at them with, wabbling they say.

12 égaⁿ ɛéɛa-biamá. He-f! á-biamá Ietníke aká. Caⁿ égaⁿ-hnaⁿ wakídai like sent suddenly, they say. Why! said, they say Ietníke the (sub.). And so only he shot at them

tē múwaɛnaⁿ najíⁿ-biamá. Égiɛe maⁿjiha múɛɛu'á-biamá. Égiɛe when missing them he stood, they say. At length quiver shot empty they say. It happened háci-qtí Aⁿpaⁿ núga wiⁿ jin'gají-qtí édegaⁿ atí-biamá. Sadéɛe baqíáɛá-at the very last Elk male one not small very like, was came, they say. Scaffold pushed down

15 biamá. Kí wa'ú ɛínké hé ujáa uɛɛaⁿ aɛiⁿ ákiáɛa-biamá. Kí égiɛe they say. And woman the (ob.) horn fork in between having her he had gone homeward, And at length ɛínu amá aki-biamá. Iaa'ge ɛínké ɛingé tē aki-biamá. Uɛine ɔi'wiⁿ-xáher the reached h me, His sister the (ob.) was none when reached home, To seek his went about brother (sub.) they say.

bi ɛaⁿja ɛgiɛa-bají-biamá. Égiɛe jingá-qteí ɛínké ɛan'de áɛitá-qtí they say though he found not his they say. It happened small very the one ground crossing by a very near way

18 uɛine aɛá-biamá. Ááhe jin'gají-qtí édegaⁿ ɛ'di ahí-biamá. Kí ɛ'di seeking his own Hill small not very like, was there arrived, they say. And there gɛiⁿ-biamá. Caⁿ-qtí-aká ɛi ɛ'di jaⁿ-biamá. Égiɛe wa'ú wiⁿ xagé he sat they say. After he sat a great while again there he lay they say. It happened woman one orying na'aⁿ-biamá. Uɛixídá-bi ɔi'ji níkaciⁿga ɛtē wa'ú waɛtəna-bají-biamá.

he heard they say. Looking around for when person even woman visible not they say.

Ca' wi'a'wa téda' e'égá'-bi ega' úpíxide-hna'-biamá. Cí ja'-bi xí
 Yet which is it? thought, they say having he looked around they say. Again he lay down, when they say ci xagé na'a'-biamá. Égiçe íñ'ge éinké hú tē ígidaha'-biamá. É'di again crying he heard they say. It happened his sister the (ob.) voice the (ob.) he recognised they say. There égn'-qti ía'í'í' agéá-biamá uqé'qtei. Akí-bi xí íj'í'í' éé éánká úwagíá- 3 just so running he went homeward, very soon. He reached when his elder the (ob.) he told them biamá. Jí'í'í'ha, wíñ'ge xagé agína'a' há, íéágíé agéí há. Hau!

 they say. Elder brother, my sister crying I heard my own I found my own returned Ho!

kē, áwáçan'di éi'te angáçé taí, á-biamá. Ga' é'di a'á-biamá. Ga' come, to the place where she may be let us go, he said, they say. And there went they say. And maja' çan'di ahi-biamá. Çéçu há, á-biamá ísan'ga aká. Kē, 6 land at the arrived, they say. Here said, they say his younger the (sub.). Come, ána'a'í-gá, á-biamá. Ga' ána'a'-biamá wan'giçe. A'ha, çíñ'ge listen ye to it, he said, they say. And listened to it, they say all. Yes, your sister ñan'de ma'táa a'í'í' akí etédega' e'a' angáçai ada' angéize taí eda' ground into having he reached should have, how we do therefore we take our own may a-biamá. Hau! jí'í'í'ha, kē, ája' éga' í'te kégan-gá, á-biamá jingá-qtei 9 he said, they say. Ho! elder brother, com., you do so may come, do so, said, they say small very

aká. Ahaú! á-biamá na'-qtei aká, wíñ'ga' éga' téqi áakipá xí'í' the (sub.). Oh! said, they say. grown very the (sub.), my grand- thus trouble I meet if éégima' té é há, á-bi ega' ja'wéti' a'í'í' akáma édega' íti'-biamá

 I do thus may said he he said, having striking-stick that he had had, they say he hit with it, they say ñan'de kē. Kí na'j'í'eké'-qtei ugákiba jingá-biamá. Hau! kégan-gá, 12 ground the (ob.). And barely he made a crack small they say. Ho! come, do so, á-biamá. Cí éduáta' ta' é waká-biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá, wíñ'ga' éga' he said, they say. Again next the him he meant they say. Oh! he said, they say my grand- thus téqi áakipá kr'í'í' éégima' té é há, á-bi ega' ja'wéti' a'í'í' akáma trouble I meet if I do thus may said he he said, having striking-stick that he had édega' íti'-biamá ñan'de kē. Kí na'j'í'eké'-qtei ugákiba-biamá. Cí 15 had, they say he hit with it, they say ground the (ob.). And barely made a crack by hitting, Again they say.

wéçabéi' aká ci éga'-biamá. Jíngá-qtei aká: Wíñ'ga' éga' téqi áakipá the third the again so did they say. Small very the My grand- thus trouble I meet xí'í'í' éégima' té é há, á-bi ega' ja'wéti' a'í'í' akáma édega' íti'-biamá

 if I do thus may said he he said, having striking-stick that he had had, they say he hit with it, they say ñan'de kē. Kí dahé çá' ugásné-qti íéçá-biamá. Égiçe waníça dáda' 18 ground the (ob.). And hill the he split altogether suddenly they say. It happened animal what béçuga-qti waéçá'bá-biamá Égiçe íñ'ge éinké íjébegçá' gaxá-bi-ta'- all made them appear, they say. It happened his sister the (ob.) door she had been made amá, á kē agçan'ka'ha' ka'ta'-bi ega' ubátihéçá-bi-ta'-amá. Çí'í'í'í'í' they say, arm the (ob.) on each side tied, they say having she had been hung up they say. Your elder brother mé'gaⁿ min'ⁿga ná'ga edábe-~~ga~~ⁿ-~~ga~~ⁿ úgactái-gá. Gaⁿ' wakíde najiⁿ'-biamá.

 likewise female male also of each kind leave a remainder And shooting at stood they say.
 after hitting.
 Gaⁿ' úmuctaf-ma gaⁿ' íjájé wa'í najiⁿ'-biamá. Égiçe en'ⁿ-qti gaⁿ'
 And those who remained from shooting so name giving to they stood, they say. At length at will 3 écnakiçá-biamá. Ijan'go çinké gaⁿ' gélza-biamá. Cetaⁿ'. they exterminated them, they say. His sister the (ch.) so he took his own, they say. So far.

NOTES.

82, 2. 3. en'ⁿqti gaⁿ écnakiçá-biamá. Of course, this is not to be understood literally, as a male and a female of each kind had been spared.

TRANSLATION.

There were four brothers. Their sister was the fifth (child). The four brothers were very good marksmen. And their sister used to make the animals come by calling. And the woman prized her brothers. "Come, elder brother, comb my hair for me." And he combed it for her; he combed it very smooth for her. He made a scaffold for her, and he put her on it. And all of them stood in readiness, having bows sufficient for (every one). And the woman called, and called again. When the third time came, a dust from trampling the ground was visible. "Elder brother, exert yourself. They are coming," said she. At the fourth time they had come in sight. And Ictinike stood there. And the animals came—all of them, the Buffalo, the Elk, the Deer—in short, they were all there. And just so they stood killing them. And they made an end of it. And they dwelt with plenty to eat. At length the provisions were decreasing. And all her brothers spoke of going hunting. And her eldest brother said, "Though a person shall come hither, no matter what he says, beware lest you do it for him." "Elder brother, I will not be so," said she. Having prepared some provisions for their sister, they departed and left her. When they had gone, Ictinike came, having a bow of hard willow, and a quiver full of reeds. "Second-daughter, you will please do for me whatsoever I say. Pity me, your relation, my grandchild, pity me. I have finished these new arrows for myself, and I wish to try them. You are used to calling the animals, they say. So do." The woman was unwilling, but still he did not stop talking. At length the woman let him have his way. "Let us see! Comb my hair for me," said the woman. Ictinike combed it for her. Having even painted her (face and head) he finished it for her. He made her sit on the scaffold which had been made for her. And the woman said, "They generally come when I have called the fourth time." "Let us see! Call," said Ictinike. And the woman called. When she had called the third time, a dust from trampling the ground was visible. "Oh! they are coming, grandfather. Make an effort." At the fourth time they came in sight. At length they came. Ictinike shot at them. He shot at them with arrows made of rushes that went wabbling. "Why!" said Ictinike. And so he shot at them, missing them continually. At length he shot all out of the quiver. It happened at the very last that a very large Male-elk came. He pushed over the scaffold. He went homeward carrying the woman in the space between his horns. And at length her brothers reached home. They reached home when their sister was not there. Though they went all around seeking her, they did not find her. It came to pass that the youngest one went to seek her, making a very short cut across the country. He reached a very large hill. And he sat there. After he sat there a great while, he lay down there. It happened that he heard a woman crying. When he looked around, neither man nor woman was visible. Yet he was looking around, thinking "Which can it be?" And when he lay down again, he heard the crying again. At length he recognized the voice of his sister. Forthwith he ran home very speedily. When he reached home, he told his elder brothers. "Elder brothers, I have heard my sister crying. I have found her and have come home." "Ho! come, let us go to the place where she may be," said they. And they went thither. And they reached the land. "It is here," said their younger brother. "Come, listen to it." And all listened to it. "Yes, he has taken your sister home into the ground, but how shall we do to get her back?" said they. "Well, elder brother, do what may be in your mind," said the youngest one. The eldest one having said, "My grandfather said that I should do thus when I got into trouble of this sort," he hit the ground with a club that he had been carrying. And he barely made a small crack. "Ho! come, do so," he said, meaning the next brother. Having said "My grandfather said that I should do thus when I got into trouble of this sort," he hit the ground with a club that he had been carrying. And he barely made a crack. And the third did so. The youngest having said, "My grandfather said that I should do thus when I got into trouble of this sort," he hit the ground with a club which he had been carrying. And the hill split suddenly in two from top to bottom. And it happened that by their blows they made all the animals appear. And behold, their sister had been made into a door: having been tied by her arms on both sides, she had been hung up. "You and your elder brothers spare a male and female of each kind," said the eldest brother to the rest. And they stood shooting them. And they gave names to those which remained after the shooting. At length they exterminated them. They took their sister back to. The End.

ICTINIKE AND THE DESERTED CHILDREN.

NUDA'-AXA'S VERSION.

Ma'teú wiⁿ taⁿ'wangčaⁿ e w'g'figčaⁿ akáma taⁿ'wangčaⁿ hégabaji.
 Grizzly bear one tribe that he was governing them, it is said tribe not a few.

Uéúciaqti í akáma. I'c'áge wiⁿ Ma'teú aqiⁿ akí-biamá gaⁿ é'gíçe
 In the very center pitched his tent, Old man one Grizzly bear having reached home, and at length they say.

gá-biamá: Cin'gajin'ga b'úgaqti ígaxe éwakiçe tai, úwagiéa-gá, 3 said as follows, Children all to play they will send them tell them á-biamá Ma'teú aká. Guⁿ íéwakiéa-biamá. Cin'gajinga-mácé ígaxe said, they say Grizzly bear the (sub.), And he sent them they say. Children ye who to play

84 THE CEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

1. féwafákiŋe to af áŋa u+! á-biamá. Ga' b'úgaqti úgaxe aŋá-biamá.
 you said them will he indeed halloo! he said, And all to play went they say.
 2. úgaxe aŋá-bi ega' Ma'tcu aká i'c'áge ŋinké gíba'-biamá. Cin'gajin'ga
 To play went, they having Grizzly bear the old man the (ob.) called him, they say. Children
 3. wúteŋe-hna''i há; wan'ŋa tai éga' éga'wan'kiŋai. Waha'' tai, á-biamá.
 are troublesome to us to abandon them in order that we sent them away. Let them remove he said, they say.
 Waha'' wágají-biamá. Waŋáha'' te af áŋa u+! á-biamá i'c'áge aká. Ca''
 To remove he commanded them, You are to remove he indeed halloo! said, they say old man the (sub.). And
 they say.
 4. ŋi ké b'úga a'ŋa g'íh'éŋa-biamá, ga'' can'ge wa'i''wakiŋá-biamá. B'úga lodge the (ob.) all they threw down their own and horse they caused them to they say. All carry the tent, &c.
 5. can'ge áŋŋi''-biamá. Sigéŋe ŋingé gaxá-biamá. U'ŋaŋti a''ha-biamá, horse sat on they say. Trail none they made, they say. Scattering very much they did they say cin'gajinga wéa''há-biamá. Éŋiŋe sigéŋe ké waŋŋona tédŋhi uŋéhe binihé children they fled from them, At length trail the (ob.) visible when to follow feared, they say
 6. éŋéga'' éga'' u'ŋaŋti wéa''há-biamá. Wéahide éŋáhi ŋi uŋéwin'ŋiŋá-biamá, they thought as scattering very they fled from them, Far away arrived when they assembled themselves, they say
 7. áda'' ujan'ge ŋa'' waŋŋona aŋaf tédŋhi ŋi ga'' ŋi-biamá. ǂázéŋtci hí ŋi therefore read there is visible it went (occurred) when so they pitched tent, they say. Very late in they when they arrived 8. úgaxe amá can'gaxá-bi ega'' éga''be ahi-bi ŋi éŋiŋe úkizá-biamá.
 players the (sub.) they ceased, they having in sight they arrived, when to hold no one there, they say.
 Cin'gajinga xagé za'ŋ'qtia''-biamá. ǂúŋéŋŋéŋe ké akt-biamá b'úga. Kí Children crying made a great noise, they Old tent-sites the reached home, all And
 say. (ob.) they say
 9. mi''jinga na''-éga'' amá waŋú ŋona''i ké ŋiŋe-hna''-biamá, ǂaŋa'' cti girl grown some- what the (sub.) awl dropped the (ob.) were finding they say deer-snow too
 10. ŋiŋe-hna''-biamá. Kí nújinga amá ékiŋe amá cuxa ŋa''ŋa'' júkig'ŋa- were finding they say. And boy the (sub.) related to the by companies went with accidentally one another (sub.) one another
 11. biamá, ja''ŋa''ha gé égaxe iŋa''ŋa-bi ega'' qáde áji-biamá, ŋi aká sáta''hai they say bark the around they placed, having grass they put on lodge the in five (scattered) they say places
 12. té jin'gaji-hna'' gaxá-biamá, uské'qti-hna''-biamá. Éŋiŋe máŋe amá.
 the not small, as a rule they made they say, very full as a rule they say. At length winter they say.
 13. Nújinga na''ba na''-biamá. Kagéha, anŋúŋide te, ma'' anŋŋaxe te,
 Boy two grown they say. My friend, let us two be together, arrow let us two make for ourselves
 14. á-biamá. Man'dé pahan'ga gaxá-biamá. Man'dé ké akiwa ǂigéŋŋa- said (one) they say Bow before they made, they say. Bow the both they finished for
 say. themselves
 15. biamá. Máhi''-sí té gaxá-biamá, g'ŋébahiwi''-hna'' gaxá-biamá, aŋi'' taité they say. Arrow-head the they made, they say a hundred in a lot they made, they say what (one) shall have
 16. ékina ǂiŋáŋa-biamá. Ma''sa té gaxá-biamá. Éŋiŋe bíze amá. Áŋa-biamá a sufficient quantity they made for them- selves, they say. Arrow-shaft the they they say. At length dry they say. They glad them on, they say

(ma' en' tē āaskabe āen-biamá). Kí āma ta' eduáta' pa-i tē ugāf tē (feather the to stick they glued them And the the next sharp the he put in the other (s.d. sub.)
máhi'si tē; gēebahiwi' pīcta' i tē. Ga' ki' cī āma pē āpai tē, ga' ki' cī arrow-head the; a hundred he finished. And again the one this he glued them and again máhi'si āma ta' úgēe gēi' tē. Pīcta'-biámá. Kí ma' uji' talté há wi' 3 arrow-head the other the putting he sat the. They finished they say. And arrow they put shall skin one them in sú-biamá. Akiwaha pīxáxe pīcta'-bi ega' ma' tē ugji-biamá. Kí they all, they Both making for he finished, they having arrow the he put 'n his own. And say. himself say gá-biamá: Kagéha, ugáca' aŋgáxe te, á-biamá. Ga' apá-biamá. Égiçe he said as follows My friend traveling let us go he said, they say. So they they say. At length
they say;
ji héga'ji ededí amá. É'di ahi-biamá ugáhanadáxe tē'di. Ga' can'ge 6 long not a few there were, they say. There they arrived, they say darkness when. So horse wama' ēa'-biámá. Pē níkae'ga ukéfi'-ma íkit'āpai éga' íaháwagēe gaxáthey stole them they say. This Indians the hate each other so shield made biámá; é cti ma' ēa' i tē. É íaháwagēe itizé é íéáxisande apí'-hna' i. Ga' they say; that too they stole. That shield with it that by which it is they had as a rule. So held tight agá-biamá. Can'ge-ma edábe wáfi'-bi ega' wáfi' agá-biamá, áhigi 9 they want home- The horses also they had having, having them they want homeward, they say. them, they say ward, they say wénacai tē. Aki-biamá. Kí nújīnga na'-hna' gata'-ma can'ge ékináqti they took away They reached And boy grown only the ones that tall horse just a suffifrom them. home, they say. cient number wa'-biámá. Cí mī'jīnga-ma can'ge mī'gá wa'-biámá. Ga' ki' nújīnga they gave them, Again girls the horse female they gave them, And boy
they say.
gatca'-ma can'geajin'ga wa'-biámá. Kagéha, ca', á-biamá. Ga' 12 the ones that high colt they gave them, them say. My friend enough they said, they say. And wí'a' waja apá-bai ca' ígaxe a' pái ahi-čan'di édi-hna' ca'ca'-biámá.
to what place they went not still playing abandoned reached, at the there only always they say.
Égiçe máxe amá. Égiçe íé atí-biamá Kí pē nújīnga na'ba na' ahi
At length winter they say. At length buffalo has come, they say. And this boy two grown arrived aká akíwa wahúta' pī' apí' i tē, ma' jīha cti apí' i tē. Ga' íé-ma wénaxiá- 15 the both bow they had quiver too they had. And the buffaloes they attacked them
(sub.)
biámá Akiwa dūba-hna' t'éwaxá-biamá. Ga' akí-biamá, wa' i' kíçē they say. Both four only he killed them, they say. And they reached home, they who cause to carry nújīnga wáfi' ahi-biamá. Ga' qáde ji dēpa'ba gáxai ké ékina ugá' i tē boy having they arrived there, And grass lodge seven made the in equal they eat when them they say. numbers in janúya tē uhá uéqpaçē agí-bi ca' áhigi íangá t'éwaxē ega' janúya 18 fresh meat the following they let fall were return- in many great killed them having fresh meat
(the camp circle) ing, they say fact íangá wa'-biámá íí ké wan'giçe. Kí há pī' cī umi'je wa'-biámá ékina, great they gave them, lodge the every one. And skin the again bed they gave them, equally (quantity) they say (col. ob.) they say kí cī íaxa' cī ékina wa'-biámá íí ké.
and again deer. again equally they gave them, lodge the saw they say (col. ob.).

86 THE OEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- Ga' ci wanáse ahi-biamá. Akiwa cáde-hna' t'éwáçá-biamá. Ēdfhi
And again to surround they say. arrived Both six only killed them they say. Hence
- újawá-biamá. Ga' janúça kě ícě-qtiá'-biamá. Ga' jahánuxa uqúçingéin good spirits, they say. And fresh meat the rich in very they say. And green hide those who were lost
- 3 ma wa'íi tē há' ci. Ēgiçe nugé te amá xi nújinga amá ci na'ba without they gave to them again. At length it was summer they say when boy the again two (sub.)
- çábçi' gçéba cétan na'-biamá, ki wa'ú aká cti ékina ci na'í tē. Ki three ten so far were grown, they and woman the too in equal again were grown. And say, (sub.) numbers
- nújinga na'bá aká ukikiá-biamá: Kagéba, ná! uwígça a'çi'. Ankígçi' boy two the they talked they say: Friend alas! sufferers we are. We take wives from each other (sub.) with each other
- 6 tai, á-biamá. Ga' çé nújinga na'ba pahan'ga aká wa'ú na'ba ix. n'gewaçáwill, they said, they say. And this boy two before the woman two had them for sisters
(sub.)
- biamá. Ki é akiwaha ki'f-bi ega' wagaçá'-biamá. Ci çé ucté amá they say. And that both (on either side) gave to they having they married they say. gain this the remaining ones
- kigçá' wakiçá-biamá. Ga' é nugé tē wan'giçe na'í éga' min'gçá'-biamá, caused them to marry they say. And that summer the every one grown somewhat they took wives they say, one another
- 9 gçéba na'ba áta-biamá. Ki énaqçi í kě çicta'-bi e jé-ma há gçé íha twenty beyond they say. And (they) only lodge the finished they that the buffa- hide the skin-say say (pl. ob.) lodge
- gaxá-biamá, ucté amá é í tē uské'qti ugçi'-biamá, na' hñbaji-má.
they made, they say, the rest they lodge the very full they sat in, they say grown they who reached not.
- Ēgiçe ci nuda' aça-biamá. Ki çé nújinga na'bá aká pahan'ga nuda'
At length again on the war-path they went, they say. And this boy two the before on the war-path
- 12 ah' aká ci aça-biamá akiwa. Ci can'ge gçéba-híwi' na'ba wénacá-biamá, went he again went, they say both. Again horse hundred two they snatched they say, ones who from them
- ga' ci wáçi' aki-biamá. Ci nújinga-ma na'-ma ékináqti can'ge wa'f-and again having reached they say. Again the boys those who were equally horse they gave them
them home
- biamá. Gañ'ki ci nújinga-ma ci éga' can'ge wa'f-biamá. Ēgiçe ci they say. And again boys the again so horse they gave them, they say. At length again
- 15 máçe amá. Máçe xi ci jé wakída-biamá. Níaci'ga min'gçá' amá winter they say. Winter when again buffalo they shot at them, person took wives the (sub.)
- wan'giçe jé wakída-biamá. Ki Ēdfhi wan'giçe uqúhi éga'-biamá, every one buffalo they shot at them. And hence every one had a sufficient some- quantity what they say,
they say.
- umi'je gçé wa'íi gçé, jaça'ha gçé, ca' bçúgaqti ca' uqúhiwagiçá-biamá.
bed the they gave the deer-skin the in fact all in fact caused them (their own) to have a suf- cient quantity they say.
(pl. ob.) them (pl. ob.), (pl. ob.),
- 18 Gañ'ki ci é máçe tē wan'giçe kigçá' wakiçá-biamá ci. Ki Ēdfhi And again that winter the every one they caused them to they say again. And then ma ry one another
- e'a' çingé. Ca' nugé tē. Gañ'ki ci jé wakídai tē. Bçúgaqti ígcawhat there was none. And it was summer. And again buffalo they shot at them. All dwell in lodges
- biamá, í ítéçá-biamá, í gçébahíwi' ki é'di gçéba-çéça'-ba. Ga' gçi' they say, lodge they put them up, lodge a hundred and by it seventy. Thus they say

- biamá. Égiçe, Weánaxíçai hau, á-biamá. Φ éaka na^{bá} aká η igéstaⁿit is said. At length, We are attacked ! they said, they This two the prepared for battle
- biamá akiwa. I^{f} tē u^óciatáqti wégaxá-biamá. (Nújnga-hnaⁿ égiçaⁿthey say both. Lodge the in the very center they made for them, they say. (Boy only said it to
- biamá, Húçuga gáxai-daⁿ u^óciatá η í wégaxái-gá, á-biamá) Égiçe e 3 they say, Circle made when in the center lodge make ye for us, they said, they At length that say.)
- wénaxíçai teç. Égiçe caⁿ'ge í kaⁿ'taⁿ'i-biamá. Akiwa é'di açai tē.
they were attacked (as At length horse mouths were tied, they say. Both there they went. afore said).
- Wénaxíçai tē. Áma aká wiⁿ' uçaⁿ'-biamá, gaⁿki cì áma aká cì wiⁿ' uçaⁿ'- They attacked them. The the one he held they say, and again the the again one he held cus (sub.)
- biamá; akiwa n^íça uçaⁿ'-biamá. Gaⁿ'ki wabáaze wáçin açai tē há' cì. 6 they say; both alive they held them, they say. And scaring them having them they went again.
- Cì áma aká cì wiⁿ' t'éça-biamá, cì áma aká cì wiⁿ' t'éça-biamá. Caⁿ'ge-Again the the again one he killed, they say, again the the again one he killed, they say. Horace one (sub.) other (sub.)
- ma wénace-hnaⁿ'-biamá. Caⁿ'qti gaⁿ' naⁿ'haⁿ' wáçin-biamá. Gaⁿ', Ké, the they snatched from they say. Walking even till night they had them, they And, Come, them regularly say.
- caⁿ'aⁿgáxe taí, á-biamá akiwá. Gaⁿ' akí-biamá. Níaciⁿga-ma t'éwaçai-ma 9 let us stop, said, they say both. And they reached home, Persons the those who were killed
they say.
- naj^íha máwaçaiⁿ'-bi egaⁿ' újawaçtiaⁿ'-biamá. Wa'ú amá u^óçcaⁿ' watéçaxáhair cut off of them they say having in very good they say. Woman the around in they danced spirits a circle
- biamá. Gaⁿ' aⁿ'ba gçéba watéçaxe-hnaⁿ' caⁿ'caⁿ'i tē. Égiçe dáze hí amá.
they say. And day ten they danced continually. At length even it they say.
- Íkimaⁿ'çin atí hau, á-biamá Égiçe Ietínike amé amá. Φ é aⁿ'qtiçgaⁿ' 12 Visitor has come ! said (one), It happened Ietínike was the (mv. sub.). This head-man
they say.
- úju η í áwaté á, á-biamá. Φ etē, á-biamá. É'di ahí-biamá Atí há, chief lodge where-the ? he said, they This is it, they said, they There he arrived, I have come
say.
- kagéha, á-biamá. Hau! u^óççai égaⁿ' winá'aⁿ pí há, á-biamá. Caⁿ' nú friend, he said, they say. Ho! you have been as I hear you I have been he said, they say. And man told of (reported of) coming
- hniⁿ, wackaⁿ'i-gá, kagéha, á-biamá. Gaⁿ', Jínçcha, caⁿ'ge wiⁿ' wi'í, á-biamá. 15 you are, be ye strong. friend, he said, they And, Elder brother, horse one I give said (one),
say. thees, they say.
- Aⁿ'kaji há, kagéha, á-biamá. U^óç'agá-biamá. Maⁿ'jiha kçé-hnaⁿ' maⁿ' kçé Not so, younger he said, they He was unwilling, they say. Quiver the only arrow the brother say.
- qtáacé, á-biamá. Wabçáte tégaⁿ' aⁿ'çá'í çaⁿ' téqi há, á-biamá. Aⁿ, á-biamá.
I love, he said, they I eat in order to you gave me the difficult he said, they Yes, they said, they
say. say.
- Kí maⁿ' dáxe tá múnke, á-biamá (Ietínike aká). Maⁿ' gçébahíwiⁿ' naⁿ'ba 18
And arrow I make will I who, said, they say (Ietínike the sub.). Arrow hundred two
- gaxá-biamá, çictaⁿ'-biamá. Akiwaha wa'í tē. Jínçcha, caⁿ' há, á-biamá.
he made, they say, he finished they say. Both he gave them. Elder brother, enough they said, they
say.
- Gaⁿ' wanáçe wágçá-kiçá-biamá Ietínike.
And police to go for them they caused Ietínike.
him, they say

- Ga^{n'} wénaxiɕá-biamá. Cí Ictínike aká wi^{n'} t'éɕa-biamá, uɕa^{n'}-
 And they were attacked, they say. Again Ictínike the (sub.) one killed they say, he held him biamá. Najíha hébe máqaⁿ ɕizá-biamá Ictínike aká. Wa'ú amá they say. Hair part he cut off he took, they say Ictínike the (sub.). Woman the wéɕuɕa-hna^{n'}-biamá. Ictínike amá sáɕɕti ɕiɕáɕeɕti^{n'}-biamá, d'ɕɕe he sang for them regu- larly they say. Ictínike the (sub.) very black he made himself they say, fire
- 3 naɕɕé náɕiɕá-biamá biɕúba-bi ega^{n'} ísabɕɕiɕá-biamá. Kí é gáɕe aí, charcoal he caused to go out, they say he rubbed to powder, they say having he blackened himself And that made it they say Ictínike ɕi^{n'}. Níɕaci^{n'}ga uk'ɕi^{n'} íkit'aɕaí éga^{n'} t'ékiɕaí t'ɕi u'a^{n'}t'a^{n'} Ictínike the (mv. one). Indians they hate one another as they kill one another when cause (blame)
 áɕɕaí t'ɕ Ictínike aká é naɕɕé ísabɕɕiɕaí, naɕɕé íɕi'a^{n'}i t'ɕ, é ga^{n'}zé they as- when Ictínike the (sub.) that (one) charcoal he blackened himself with, charcoal he painted him- that taught eribe to eribe to
- 6 aké-biamá, aí. Ga^{n'}-biamá áɕi-ɕa^{n'}ɕa^{n'} jút'a^{n'}i t'ɕ, kí ɕi áɕi-ɕa^{n'}ɕa^{n'} ɕithe one who, it is they say. In the course of time, they say different ones matured, and lodge different ones were man'gɕaí t'ɕ, hégaɕtəwa^{n'}ɕi, gɕɕɕbahíwi^{n'}ɕa^{n'}ga na^{n'}bá-biamá ɕin'gajin'ga set up a great many, thousand two they say children wa^{n'}ɕaíi amá. Éɕiɕe gá-biamá Ictínike: Kagé, á-biamá, íkima^{n'}ɕi^{n'} they were the (sub.). At length said as follows, Ictínike: O younger brother, he said, they say, as a visitor abandoned
- 9 bɕé tá minke, á-biamá. Kí, Jí^{n'}ɕéha, áwakɕa hné te, á-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'},
 I go will I who, he said, they say. And, Elder brother, whither you go will, they said, they say. Yes, ɕa^{n'} ga^{n'} bɕé tá minke, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} nɕaci^{n'}ga uɕéwi^{n'}waɕá-biamá.
 just because I wish it I go will I who, he said, they say. And person they assembled them they say.
- ɕéɕinke núɕiŋga na^{n'}bá aká a^{n'}ɕtiégaⁿ aká é wémaxaí t'ɕ Ké, núɕiŋga
 This one boy two the (sub.) head man the that they were ques- tioned. Come, boy
- 12 na^{n'}-hnaⁿ ɕéma é'be íɕáɕiɕe-hna^{n'}i eté ɕi, i^{n'}wi^{n'}ɕai-gá, á-biamá Ictínike grown only these who each has for a father ought, tell ye to me, said, they say Ictínike
 aká. Kí gá-biamá, na^{n'} na^{n'}bá aká: Wí ɕti i^{n'}dáɕi ga^{n'}ɕinke, íɕáɕe the (sub.). And said as follows, grown two the (sub.): I too my father is such a one, name gɕáɕa-bi ega^{n'}. Kí uɕt'ɕ amá gá-biamá: Wia^{n'}baha^{n'}-bají-ɕtəa^{n'}i, á-biamá.
 called his, they say having. And remainder the (sub.) said as follows, they say: We do not know at all, they said, they say.
- 15 Ictínike amá aɕá-biamá. Ga^{n'} uta^{n'}nadi-hnaⁿ ja^{n'}i t'ɕ. Ca^{n'} a^{n'}baɕégaⁿ Ictínike the (sub.) went they say. And in a place regularly he slept. And as it was day uɕúagɕe dúba ja^{n'} ca^{n'}ɕti ga^{n'} na^{n'}ha^{n'}-biamá. A^{n'}ba wésatáⁿ ja^{n'} t'ɕ throughout four (day) sleep he walked even till night they say. Day the fifth sleep the ɕ'ɕi ahi^{n'}-biamá ɕi ɕan'di. A^{n'}ɕtiégaⁿ ɕi t'ɕ áwatɕ, á-biamá. Céhi^{n'}t'ɕ, there arrived, they say lodges the (circle) at. Head-man lodge the where-the, he said, they say. Yonder it is
- 18 á-biamá. É'ɕi ahi^{n'}-biamá. Íkima^{n'}ɕi^{n'} a^{n'}í hau á-biamá nú wi^{n'}. Ga^{n'}, they said, they say. There he arrived, they say. A visitor he has come I said, they say man one. And,
 Ké, ɕuɕa éga^{n'}-gá, á-biamá. Jí ákiɕugáɕti^{n'}-biamá éga^{n'} ɕa^{n'}ɕi t'ɕ.
 Come, do tell the news, they said, they say. Lodge very thick they say around in a circle they were put.
 A^{n'}ha^{n'}, á-biamá, nɕaci^{n'}ga d'úba ɕɕi amá há, á-biamá. Nɕaci^{n'}ga d'úba Yes, he said, they say, people some there were, it is said. he said, they say. People some eska^{n'} wa'fáa'hnaí, á-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, á-biamá, níaci^{n'}ga d'úba cin'gajinga it may be you abandoned them, he said, they Yes, they said, they person some children

say.

d'úba a^{n'}wa'gia^{n'}pai. KI Ma^{n'}teú aká wegáxai, na^{n'}a^{n'}wa'pai éga^{n'} éga^{n'}- some we abandoned our own. And Grizzly bear the he did it for us, we feared them as so (sub.) (the Bear)

i^{n'}win'gaxai, á-biamá. Níaci^{n'}ga na^{n'}ba a^{n'}qtiéga^{n'} aká áma éáta aká 3 we did it to them they said, they say. Person two head-man the (sub.) the left the há, á-biamá. KI a^{n'}qtiéga^{n'} aká eá-bi á-biamá. Ce wiwáa, á-biamá.
(the children) one handed (sub.)

he said, they And head-man the (sub.) his he said, they That my own, he said, they
say.

Iha^{n'} aká xagá-biamá uéíai xi. KI ci áma a^{n'}qtiéga^{n'} aká ci eáá His the (sub.) cried they say they told of when. And again the head-man the again his mother her own other (sub.)

akáma. Ga^{n'} é cti ci, Ga^{n'}éinké wiwáa, á-biamá. Ictinike gai tē: 6 was, they say. And he too again, Such a one my own, he said, they say. Ictinike said as follows:

Wa'ú wi' ga^{n'}éinké, á-biamá Ga^{n'} xagé za'etia^{n'}-biamá wagna'a^{n'}i tē.
Woman one such a one, he said, they And crying they made a very great when they heard of
say. noise, they say their own.

Ga^{n'}, Dúba ja^{n'} xi agéé tá minke, á-biamá Ictinike aká. Éna ja^{n'}
And, Four sleep when I go will I who, said, they say Ictinike the (sub.) That sleep homeward many tē'di agéai tē. Agéai tē'di gá-biamá: Gaqqa^{n'} éskui, á-biamá. A^{n'}ba 9 when he went home- He went when he said as follows, To move they have said he, they Day ward. homeward they say: camp invited you say.

ééa^{n'}ba ja^{n'} tē é'di ci tá-bi eska^{n'} eééga^{n'}, á-biamá Ictinike aká. Ga^{n'} seven sleep the there you umm will it may be they thought, said, they say Ictinike the (sub.) And waha^{n'}-hna^{n'}i tē. A^{n'}ba ééa^{n'}ba ja^{n'} tē éna ja^{n'} tē kange-qtei ahí tē.

they removed. Day seven sleep the that sleep the near very they arrived.
(when)

Ictinike amá aki-biamá. Gá-biamá: Kagé, á-biamá, i^{n'}éa-máji, kagé, 12
Ictinike the reached home, He said as follows, Younger said he, they I am sorrowful, younger (sub.) they said: brother said, brother, á-biamá. A^{n'}, jín'ééha, indáda^{n'} éi'te i^{n'}win'fahna eté xi, á-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, said he, they Yes, elder brother, whatever it may be you tell me ought, he said, they say. Yes,

say.

éiadi a^{n'}qtiéga^{n'} te xi ca^{n'} níaci^{n'}ga wi^{n'} bégíééqti éinké, á-biamá, íe tē your father was head-man when yet person one a great stranger the one said he, they word the say, who say, éna'an éga^{n'} éia^{n'}éai tē piáji gáxai. éa'éwiéai akiwa, á-biamá. Akiwa 15 listened to as he abandoned when had he did. I pity you both, said he, they say. Both for him you

nan'de-uéáti éga^{n'} éaman'gée ééi^{n'}-biamá. Wi^{n'}ke ínahin' áha^{n'}, eééga^{n'} heart he made pain as with bowed head they sat they say. He tells the indeed I, thinking by talking truth

ééi^{n'}-biamá akiwa. Ha^{n'} amá. Ictinike gíba íéá-biamá éáta aká.
sat they say both. Night was, they Ictinike to call him had gone, they left-handed the
say. (sub.)

Jín'ééha, í-gá há, á-biamá. KI é'di ahí-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, á-biamá. éisan'ga 18
Elder brother, come he said, they And there he arrived, they Yes, said he, they Your younger hither, say. brother say.

agimangéi^{n'}-gá, á-biamá. éiaháa é'di hné te, á-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, á-biamá.
he said, they Your wife's there you go please, said he, they Yes, said he, they
say. brother say.

KI é'di aéai tē. É'di ahí-biamá. Ga^{n'}, Wi^{n'}éé, áha^{n'}ha, íe teéa^{n'} nan'de-
And there he went. There he arrived, they And, My elder (sister's hus- what he has heart
say. brother band, spoken

90 THE ØEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- iⁿpi-máji, á-biamá. U^ódaⁿbá-gá, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, égaⁿ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ for me said, said he, they say. Consider it, said he, they say. Yes, so, said he, they say. And tí tédhi xi aŋáxe té, á-biamá. Gaⁿ aⁿba amá, Ietníke aká daháŋa they: it occurs when let us do it, said he, they say. And day was, they Ietníke the to the bluf rive here (sub.)
- 3 aⁿá-biamá. Égiçe aki-biamá Kagé, gaqçaⁿ amá a-i amá há, á-biamá.
went, they say. At length he reached home, Younger those who are moving are coming hither h^o said, they they say. brother, their camp
- Atí xi-biamá, watecka agçaⁿkaⁿhaⁿ xi-biamá, húçuga jaŋgáçeha. Caⁿ
They and pitched tents, creek on both sides they pitched tribal circle extended over a And came they say, tents, they say. large piece of land.
- níaciⁿga amá ciⁿgajinga ígidahaⁿ amá atí xi-bi egaⁿ caⁿ ciⁿgajinga uŋine person the child they who know their came pitched having and child seeking (sub.) (sub.) say (their) own
- 6 maⁿçiⁿ egaⁿ kiúqpagçe maⁿçiⁿ-biamá. Égiçe nújinga naⁿbá aká gíku walked having moving back and they walked, they say. At length boy two the to invite forth among themselves
- ahí-biamá. Maⁿteú çkui há, á-biamá. Aⁿá-bají-biamá. Égiçe waⁿú wíⁿ arrived, they say. Grizzly bear invites you said, they say. They did not go, they say. At length woman one
you
- ahí-biamá. Wiciⁿe+, çkui hě, á-biamá. Jíaja í-gá há, á-biamá. Gaⁿ arrived, they say. My sister's husband, you are invited she said, they say. To the lodge come he said, they say. And
- 9 íadi gçin'kiçá-biamá waⁿú çinke. Égiçe ci waⁿú wíⁿ atí-biamá. Ci in the he caused her to sit, they say woman the (st. ob.). At length again woman one came, they say. Again lodge
- égiçanⁿ-biamá: Wiciⁿe+, çkui hě, á-biamá. Jíaja í-gá há, á-biamá. Gaⁿ said to him, they say: My sister's husband, you are invited said, they say. To the lodge come he said, they say. And
- íadi gçin'kiçá-biamá waⁿú çinke. Gaⁿ gçekiçabáji tš há ci. Égiçe ci in the lodge say woman the (st. ob.). And he did not cause her to go homeward again. At length again
- 12 haⁿegaⁿtee gaⁿ-égaⁿ tš xi ci wíⁿ atí-biamá. Ci égiçanⁿ-biamá: Wiciⁿe+, morning a little while was when again one came, they say. Again said to him, they say: My sister's husband,
- çkui hě, á-biamá. Jíaja í-gá há, á-biamá. Gaⁿ íadi gçin'kiçá-biamá you are invited she said, they say. To the lodge come he said, they say. And in the he caused her to sit, they
say
- waⁿú çinke, é çáta aké-biamá, gíku aká; ki aⁿá-bají-hnaⁿ-biamá. Égiçe woman the that left. it was they say, he who was invited; and he went not as a rule they say. At length
(st. ob.), hundred he
- 15 wéduba çinke atí-biamá. Wiciⁿe+, çkui hě, á-biamá. Jíaja í-gá há, the fourth the one who came, they say. My sister's husband, you are invited she said, they say. To the lodge come
- á-biamá. Gaⁿ íadi gçin'kiçá-biamá waⁿú çinke. Kí égiçe újuqti amⁿ he said, they say. And in the lodge he caused her to sit, they say woman the (st. ob.). And at length real prin- the one say cipl
- atí-biamá Maⁿteú amá. Wahnáte tégaⁿ çihanⁿga amá aⁿçigiti çanⁿeti, came, they say Grizzly bear the You eat in order that your wife's (sub.) the came for heretofore, you
(sub.)
- 18 á-biamá Ietníke aká daⁿhęqti gçinⁿ-biamá, qtáça-bají-biamá. Gaⁿ agçáhe said, they say. Ietníke the seeing him sat they say, he loved him not, they say. And went (sub.) (sub.) plainly
- biamá Égiçe ci atí-biamá. Kagé, çihanⁿga gíwakiçégaⁿ-gá, á-biamá they say. At length again he came, they say. Younger brother, your wife's sister do cause them to come, said, they say
- Ietníke aká. Wé'e pa-i aⁿiⁿ éde éçaⁿbe ahí-biamá gaⁿ, Maŋçinⁿ-gá, Ietníke the (sub.). Hoo sharp had but in sight arrived, they say and, Begone á-biamá. Nā! étaⁿ ádaⁿ, á-biamá (Maⁿteú aká). Aⁿhaⁿ, caⁿ mangéin'-gā, said, they say. Why! wherefore! said, they say Grizzly bear the (sub.) Yes, still begone, á-biamá Égiçe isan'ga éçaⁿbe atí-biamá, éta aká wahútaⁿéiⁿ agéáéiⁿ-bi he said, they say. At length his younger brother in sight came, they say, left- handed (sub.) the gun (bow) had his own, they say egaⁿ. Áma aká ci éçaⁿbe atí-biamá wahútaⁿéiⁿ agéáéiⁿ-bi egaⁿ. Çihan'ga 3 having. The other one again in sight came, they say gun (bow) had his own, they having. say Your wife's sister wi'í hā, á-biamá Maⁿteú aká (éta éiñké é waká-bi egaⁿ). Ci áma aká

I give said, they say Grizzly bear the (left- handed the (ob.) that he meant, having). Again the other one qu'é' a-í-biamá. Maⁿteú amú aⁿ'he aça-biamá. Kí Ietínike aká é'di qu'é' with a rush was coming, they say Grizzly bear the (sub.) fleeing went they say. And Ietínike the there with a rush aça-biamá. Nackí éaⁿ gaqix iééça-biamá. Yú! yú! á-biamá. (Wawéqta xi 6 went they say. Head (he (ob.) he crushed in sud. they say. Yú! yú! said, they say. (They abuse when gaⁿ-hnaⁿi, á-biamá) Gaⁿ caⁿ'ge wagíkaⁿtaⁿ-biamá. Wéna caⁿ atí qí-thus it is, it is said, they say. And horse they tied their they say. To ask in fact came pitched tents má é cin'gajinga wagítaⁿbe ti-má é cénawacé'qtiaⁿ-biamá.

the ones that who child to see their own those that they fully exterminated they say. them

NOTES.

- Nudaⁿ-áxa said this myth was "first told by Indians living west of Nebraska."
83. 1. hegabaji, pronounced he+gabaji by Nudaⁿ-áxa.
84. 1. bəgaqti, pronounced bən+gaqti by Nudaⁿ-áxa.
84. 9. ujañge taⁿ wəñona açaí tēdihi xi gaⁿ qí-biama. Though the people scattered and went in all directions to avoid pursuit, all had some idea of the location of the place of meeting. So the members of each party changed their course by and by, making a considerable detour. And whenever any party came across the trail of others, leading in the right direction, they kept in it for the rest of the way, pitching their tents in it.
84. 9. dazēqtei, pronounced da+zēqtei by Nudaⁿ-áxa.
84. 19. égiçe bize ama. The arrow-shafts were wet when made.
85. 3. áma taⁿ ugçe gēiⁿ tē. The text is given just as dictated by the narrator; but "taⁿ," which denotes a standing animate object, can hardly agree with the following verb. Hence the collector thinks that "éiñké" ("the sitting animate object," or "the one sitting,") should have been used.
85. 6. hegaji, pronounced he+gaji by Nudaⁿ-áxa.
85. 8. qahawagçe itizi e içaçisande açiⁿ-hnaⁿi. That is, the quivers of the foe; içaçisande refers to the quiver-straps.
85. 15. wahutaⁿéiⁿ, "the roaring weapon," generally means a gun; but here it is a synonym of "mande," a bow. See myth of the Orphan and the Water-monster with seven heads.
85. 16. wa'íñkiçé nujiñga, etc. Those boys who remained at home took out ponies when they went to meet the hunters. And they aided them by putting the packs of meat on the ponies, and leading the latter back to the camp.
86. 9. gçeba-naⁿba ata-biama . . qíha gaxa-biama.—Each of these married men had a skin-tent of his own; but the unmarried ones dwelt in the communal lodges of their respective gentes.

87, 14. nu hni^a, wacka^a i-gä. Ictinike is asking a favor of the two young chiefs.

87, 17. wabate tega^a a^afaⁱ fa^a teqi hä. This is a puzzling sentence to F. La Flèche, as well as to the collector. Ictinike asked a favor. They offered him a horse, which he refused, saying that he cared for nothing but a quiver and arrows. Perhaps he then reconsidered his decision, saying, "What you have offered me (a horse), in order that I might get my food, is precious," or "difficult to obtain." They assented to this. Then he made each of them a present of a hundred arrows in return for the horse. (†)

88, 3-6. Ki e gaze ai . . e ga^aze ake-biama ai. A parenthetical explanation of the origin of the war-custom of blackening the face.

88, 7. hegaetewa^aji, pronounced he+gaetewa^aji by Nuda^aaxa.

88, 7. wa'u wi^a ga^apinke. Ictinike described the difference of features, hair, etc., as he did not know the names of the children.

88, 9. gaq^aan^a fikui. Ictinike pretended that the deserted children had sent an invitation to their parents.

88, 14. nikaci^aga wi^a begi^aeqti^a fiñke, á-biama. The "a-biama" should be omitted in translating, as "nikaci^aga" is the object of the following verb, éna^aa^a.

90, 6. kinqpag^a ma^afi^a, equivalent to ubáncsne, refers to members of two parties meeting and intermingling, when distant from the spectator or speaker.

TRANSLATION.

A Grizzly-bear was the ruler of a tribe that was very populous. He pitched his tent in the very center of the tribal circle. The Grizzly-bear took an old man home, and said as follows: "Tell them to send all the children to play." And he sent them. "He says that you are to send the children to play!" said the crier. And all went to play. Having gone to play, the Grizzly-bear called the old man. "The children are troublesome to us. We sent them away in order to abandon them. Let them remove the camp," said he. He commanded them to remove. "He says that you are to remove!" said the old man. And they struck all their tents suddenly, and they made the horses carry them. All rode horses. They made no trail. Scattering, they fled; they fled from the children. As they were apprehensive that the children would follow in case the trail was plain, they scattered very much when they fled from them. They were caused to assemble when they reached a place far away. Therefore when they arrived where there was a road that went along plainly, (there) they pitched the tents. When it was very late in the afternoon (or, quite dusk), the players, having stopped, came in sight of the former camping-place. Behold, no one was there. The children made a great noise crying. All arrived at the old tent-sites. And the girls who were somewhat grown, went about finding awls that had been dropped, and deer-sinew also. And the boys that were related to each went together in their respective companies. Having placed the scattered bark around in a circle, they put grass on it, forming a lodge. They made the lodges large, and in five places. They were very full. At length it was winter. Two boys were grown. "Friend, let us two be together, and let us make arrows for ourselves," said one. They made bows first; each one finished a bow for himself. They made arrow-heads, a hundred in a lot. They made for themselves a sufficient quantity for each one to have. They made arrow-shafts. At length they were dry. They glued them on (they glued feathers on so as to stick). And the one next put the sharp pieces, the arrow-heads, in the ends of the arrow shafts; he finished a hundred. And then the one glued on the feathers, and again the other sat putting the arrow-heads in the ends of the shafts. They finished. And they slit a skin from one end to the other, for quivers. When each had finished making a quiver for himself, he filled it with arrows. And one said as follows: "My friend, let us go traveling." And they went. At length there were a great many lodges. They arrived there when it was dark. And they stole horses. These Indians hated each other, so they made shields. Those, too, the two boys stole; and with them they took the quivers and quiver-straps. And they went home. They also took the horses home; they took many from the foe. They reached home. And they gave just a sufficient number of ponies to the grown boys who were that tall (i. e., about four feet). And they gave the mares to the girls. And to the boys who were that high (i. e., about three feet), they gave colts. "Friend, it is enough," said one. And they went to no place; they were always at the place where they arrived when they had been abandoned at play. At length it was winter. It happened that the buffaloes came. And these two boys who had reached manhood had bows and quivers. And they attacked the buffaloes. Each one killed four of them. And they reached home, the boys who caused the ponies to carry the meat having gone thither to meet them. And as the people sat in equal numbers in the seven grass lodges which they made, the hunters followed the camp circle, distributing the fresh meat, and were coming back to the other end of the circle. And as they had killed a great many buffaloes, they gave a great quantity of fresh meat to every lodge. And they gave the skins equally, for beds; and they gave to the lodges equal shares of deer-sinew. And they went again to surround the buffaloes. And each (chief) killed six. Hence they were in good spirits. And they were very rich in fresh meat. And they gave again to those who had been left without green hides. It came to pass when it was summer, that two, three, or ten of the boys were grown by that time, and an equal number of the women were grown. And the two boys talked to each other. "Friend, alas! we are sufferers. Let us marry." And these two leading boys had two sisters. And each boy having given his sister to the other boy, they married them. And they caused the rest to marry one another. And that summer, all who were somewhat grown took wives, twenty-odd. And they alone made lodges, they made skin-lodges of buffalo hides; the rest who were not grown, dwelt in the lodges that were very full. At length they went on the war-path again. And both of these two boys who went before on the war-path, went again. And they took two hundred ponies from the foe, and brought them home. And they gave equal shares of the ponies to the grown boys; and so they gave ponies to the smaller boys. At length it was winter again. When it was winter, they shot at the buffaloes. All of the persons who had taken wives shot at them. And hence every one had a sufficiency of the beds which were given and of the deer-sinew, in fact, they caused them to have a sufficiency of all. And that winter they caused all the rest to marry one another. And after that there was nothing worthy of note. And it was summer. And they shot again at the buffaloes. All dwelt in upright lodges; they set up lodges, a hundred and seventy. Thus they dwelt. At length it was said, "We are attacked!" These two prepared themselves for battle. The lodges had been made for them in the very center. (The boys had said it to the people: "When ye make the circle, make ye lodges for us in the center.") At length they were attacked, as has been said. At length the horses' mouths were tied with lariats. Both went thither. They attacked the foe. The one took hold of one foe, and the other took hold of one; both took hold of them alive. And they scared them, driving them away. And the one killed one foe, and the other killed one. And they chased them even till night. "Come, let us stop," said both. And they reached home. Having cut off the hair of those whom they killed, they were in good spirits. The women danced around in a circle. And they danced continually for ten days. At length it was evening. "A visitor has come," was said. It happened to be Ictinike. "Where is the lodge of the principal head-man of this tribe?" said he. "This is it," said they. He arrived there. "I have come, my friends. Well, as you have been reported (=famous), I have been coming to hear you. And you are men. Be strong, my friends," said he. And one said, "O elder brother, I give you a horse." "No, younger brother," said Ictinike. He was unwilling. "I love only the quiver and arrows. It is difficult to get my food with what you have given me." "Yes," said they. And he said, "I will make arrows." He made two hundred arrows; he finished them. He gave them to both. "Elder brother, it is enough," said they. And they made Ictinike a police servant, one to go on errands, or to act as erier. And they were attacked. And Ictinike killed one; he took hold of him. Ictinike cut off part of his hair, and took it. He was accustomed to sing for the women-dancers. Ictinike made himself very black; he caused the fire-brands to go out, and rubbing them to powder, he blackened himself with it. And they now say that Ictinike was he who originated it. Of Indians hating one another, when one kills another, they ascribe the blame to Ictinike: as Ictinike blackened himself with charcoal, painting himself with charcoal when he killed a person, it is reported, they say, that he was the one who taught it. In the course of time different ones matured, and different lodges were set up, a great many; the children who had been abandoned were two thousand. At length Ictinike said as follows: "My younger brothers, I will go as a visitor." And they said, "Whither will you go?" "Yes," said he, "I will just go because I desire it." And they assembled the people. And these two grown boys who were head-men were questioned. Ictinike said, "Come, tell me who are the fathers of the boys who are grown." And each of the two grown ones said as follows: "My father is such a one" (describing his features, dress, etc.), having called his name. And the rest of them said as follows: "We do not know at all." Ictinike departed. And he slept each night in an uninhabited place. And when it was day, he walked throughout the day, he walked even till night, for four days. On the fifth day he arrived at the circle of tents. "Where is the lodge of the head-man?" said he. "Yonder it is," they said. He went thither. "A visitor has come!" said a man. And they said, "Come, do tell the news." The tents were standing very thick; they were put around in a circle. "Yes," said he, "some people were there; it may be that you abandoned some people." "Yes," said they, "we abandoned some people, some of our children. And the Grizzly-bear caused it for us; we feared him, so we did it to them." He said, "One of the two head-men is left-handed." And the chief said that he was his. "That is mine," said he. The mother cried when they told her about him. And the other one was the other chief's son. And he too said, "Such a one is mine." Ictinike said as follows: "One woman was such a one." (And so he described the others.) And when they heard of their own children, they made a great noise by crying. And Ictinike

said, "In four days I will go home." And in so many days he went home. When he went home, he said as follows: "They have invited you to move your camp, and come to them. They hope that you may come in seven days." And they removed. And in seven days they had arrived very near. Ictinike reached home. He said as follows: "My younger brothers, I am sorrowful." "Yes, elder brother, you ought to tell me, whatever it may be," said one of the two. "Yes, when your father was head-man, he listened to the words of a total stranger and abandoned you, doing wrong. I pity you both." As he made the hearts of both pain by his words, they sat with bowed heads. Both sat thinking, "He tells the very truth!" It was night. The left-handed one had gone to call Ictinike. "Elder brother, be coming hither," said he. And he arrived there. "Yes," he said. "Begone for your younger brother," said the head-man. He said, on reaching the lodge of the other, "You will please go to your wife's brother." "Yes," said he. And he went thither. He arrived there. And the left-handed one said, "O sister's husband, my heart is sad on account of what my elder brother has spoken. Consider it." "Yes, it is so," said the other. And he said, "When they shall have come, let us do it." And it was day. Ictinike went to the bluff. At length he reached home. "My younger brothers, they who have moved their camp are coming," said he. They came and pitched their tents; they pitched their tents on both sides of a creek, the tribal circle extending over a large tract of land. And the people who knew their own children came and pitched their tents. And as each one continued to seek his child, they were constantly moving back and forth among themselves in the distance. And they arrived to invite the two boys to a feast. "The Grizzly-bear invites you," said they. They did not go. At length a woman arrived. "My sister's husband, you are invited," said she. "Come to the lodge," said he. And he made the woman sit in the lodge. At length a woman came. And she said to him, "My sister's husband, you are invited." "Come to the lodge," he said. And he caused the woman to sit in the lodge. And again he did not send her home (i. e., her, too, he did not send home). And at length, when some of the morning had passed, again came one, and said to him, "My sister's husband, you are invited." "Come to the lodge," said he. And he made the woman sit in the lodge. He who was invited was the left-handed one; and he made it a rule not to go. At length the fourth one came. "My sister's husband, you are invited," she said. "Come to the lodge," said he. And he made the woman sit in the lodge. And at length the Grizzly-bear came. "Your wife's sisters have come for you heretofore," said he. Ictinike sat, seeing him plainly; he did not love him. And the Grizzly-bear went home. At length the Grizzly bear came again. "My younger brother, cause your wife's sisters to be coming," said Ictinike. He had a sharp hoe, and he came in sight. And he said to the Grizzly-bear, "Begone." "Why! wherefore?" said the Grizzly-bear. "Yes, nevertheless begone," said Ictinike. At length his younger brothers came in sight. The left-handed one had a bow, and the other one came in sight, having a bow. "I give you your wife's sisters," said the Grizzly-bear, meaning the left-handed one. And the other one was coming with a rush. The Grizzly-bear went fleeing. And Ictinike rushed after him. He crushed his head in suddenly with a blow from the hoe. "Yu! yu!" said he. It is said that it is thus when they abuse a fallen foe. And they tied their horses. They exterminated those who came and pitched their tents, having come to see their children.

ICTINIKE, THE COYOTE, AND THE COLT.

FRANK LA FLÈCHE'S VERSION.

- Ègiçe Can'ge jingáçiqéige wi' ja't'é ké amá kē Míxasi aká da'be
 It happened Horse small, two years old one was lying asleep, it is when (1) Coyote the looking said (sub.) at it
- naji' akáma. Ictínike aká kē'di ahí-biamá. Haul kagéha, çéké Can'ge was standing, they Ictínike the (sub.) to it came they say. Haul friend, this Can'ge say. (fig. ob.) Horse
- 3 wi' t'ède-ga' gaqé a'çisnu a'ngáçai-de a'çáte anga'çai éde a'çéi'n-báji-hna'ni.
 one dead, but aside we drag it we go when we eat it we wished but we have not succeeded in moving it.
- Uáwagika'i-gá, á-biamá Míxasi aká. Kagéha, sin'de kē na'bé tē Help us said, they say Coyote the (sub.). Friend, tail the (ob.) hand the (ob.)
- fwika'ta' te há, gañ'ki onída' xi sihi a'ngáçai éde a'çisnu a'ngáçe
 I tie you with will and you pull on when legs we take hold of but we drag it we go
- 6 tal, á-biamá Míxasi aká. A'ha', á-biamá Ictínike aká. Gañ'ki, Ké', will, said, they say Coyote the (sub.). Yes, said, they say Ictínike the (sub.). And, Come, i'çin'ka'ta'ni-gá, á-biamá. Ga' Míxasi aká Ictínike ta' na'bé tē to mine for me, he said, they say. And Coyote the (sub.) Ictínike the (ob.) hand the (ob.)
- íka'ta'-biamá Can'ge sin'de kē, sagí-çti gaxá-bi ega'. Çicta'-bi xi, tied with it they say Horse tail the (ob.) tight very made it, they having. He finished, they when
 say say
- 9 Ké, kagéha, çidan'-gá há, á-biamá. Kí Ictínike aká çida'-biamá.
 Come, friend, pull on it he said, they say. And Ictínike the (sub.) pulled on it, they say.
- Can'ge aká íxiçá-biamá, naji' átióçá-biamá, çisnú a'çá-biamá. Ictínike Horse the (sub.) awoke they say, he stood suddenly they say, dragging him he went they say. Ictínike
- na'téçtēa'-biamá, na'xáge a'çin'-biamá Ictínike aká. Míxasi aká íqa he even kicked they say, making him cry he had they say Ictínike the Coyote the laugh-
 him (one who.) (sub.) ing
- 12 gaskí wakan'diçe-hna'-biamá. Ègiçe Ictínike na'stáki çéçá-biamá, panted excessively they say. At length Ictínike he kicked, and sent flying through the air, they say,
- na'çpáçpaçcia'-biamá. Eáta' xi éga'é'a' etéda', é-hna'-biamá Ictínike he kicked off very deep pieces of flesh. Why if I do so to him apt! said regu- they say Ictínike they say. larly
- aká. Ègiçe égasáni xi Ictínike aká huhú wi' çaté akáma. Kí Míxasi the (sub.) It happened the follow- when Ictínike the (sub.) fish one was eating, it is said. And Coyote ing day
- 15 aká é'di ahí-biamá. Wuhú! kagéha, újawa ínahi' á, á-biamá Míxasi the there arrived, they say. Wuhú! friend, a pleasure truly! said, they say Coyote
 (sub.)
- aká. A'ha', kagéha, éga', á-biamá Ictínike aká. Kagéha, eáta' ája' the (sub.). Yes, friend, so, said, they say Ictínike the (sub.). Friend, how you did xi onize á, huhú kē. Kagéha, núxe kē uága'úde xi sin'de kē uágçe when you took! fish the (ob.). Friend, too the I broke a hole when tail the (ob.) I put in it (ob.) in
- 18 agçi' ní kē. Sabáçti-çti huhú wi' a'çahai sin'de kē, kí bēize há.
 I eat water the (ob.). Very suddenly fish one bit me tail the (ob.) and I took it

- Kagéha, áwaṣandí á, á-biamá Míyasi aká. Kagéha, céṣandi édega² Friend, in what place I said, they say Coyote the (sub.). Friend, in yonder place but áaze usní té'di ṣahé-hna'i há. Áaze xī usní-ṣti amá. Ké, kagéha, evening cold when they are used to biting Evening when very cold they say. Come, friend,
- aṅṅáṣe tai, á-biamá Míyasi aká. A'haⁿ, áb egaⁿ aṣá-biamá. Núxe 3 let us go, said, they say Coyote the (sub.). Yes, he said, having they went, they say. Ice
- ké'di ahí-bi egaⁿ ugá'udó-biamá. Ké, sín'de ugṣé gṣín'-gá, á-biamá at the arrived, having he broke a hole in it. Come, tail put in sit thou, said, they say
- Ictníke aká. Sín'de ké ugṣé gṣín'-biamá Míyasi aká ní ké. Ga'tégaⁿ Ictníke the (sub.). Tail the (ob.) put in sat they say Coyote the (sub.) the water the (ob.) A while
- xī, Kagéha, a'ṣahai, á-biamá. Kagéha, jīngá-hna'i; jaṅgá xī'jī 6 when, Friend, me-bites, he said, they say. Friend, small only, big when
- waṣníze té. Cka'ajī gṣín'-gá, á-biamá Ictníke aká. Ga'tégaⁿ xī núxe you may take them. Motionless sit, said, they say Ictníke the (sub.). A while when ice
- aká dá aṣiⁿ aṣá-biamá. Kagéha, ci gáama wiⁿ a'ṣahai, á-biamá the frozen having it went, they say. Friend, again those one me-bites, said, they say
- Míyasi aká. Kagéha, cka'ajī gṣín'-gá. Jīngá-hna'i, á-biamá Ictníke 9 Coyote the (sub.). Friend, motionless sit. Small only, said, they say Ictníke
- aká. Ga'tégaⁿ xī jaṅgá amá atí tá ama, á-biamá Ictníke aká. Éṣiṣe the (sub.). A while when big the (sub.) come will, said, they say Ictníke the (sub.). At length
- núxe aká dá-biamá. In'taⁿ, kagéha, gáama jaṅgá-ṣti wiⁿ a'ṣahai há, ice the (sub.) froze, they say. Now, friend, those very big one me-bites
- á-biamá Míyasi aká. Ahaú! ahaú! ṣidan'-gá! ṣidan'-gá! á-biamá 12 said, they say Coyote the (sub.). Come! come! pull on it! pull on it! said, they say
- Ictníke aká. Míyasi aká ṣida'-biamá. Wackaⁿ-ṣti etéwaⁿ núxe ké Ictníke the (sub.). Coyote the (sub.) pulled on it, they say. He tried very hard notwith- ice the (ob.)
- na'onáha-hnaⁿ amá. Wackaⁿ-gá! jīngá-báji, á-biamá Ictníke aká.
 he slipped in walking only they say. Be strong! small not, said, they say Ictníke the (sub.).
- I'wín'kañ-gá, á-biamá Míyasi aká. Naⁿbé té a'waⁿṣañ-gá, á-biamá 15 Help me, said, they say Coyote the (sub.). Hand the (ob.) take hold of me, said, they say
- Ictníke aká. Naⁿbé té uṣaⁿ-bi egaⁿ wackaⁿ-ṣti ṣida'-biamá. Kagéha, Ictníke the (sub.). Hand the took hold of, having making a great they pulled, they say. Friend,
- wackaⁿ-gá há, huhú aká jīngá-báji édegaⁿ a'waⁿṣi'a taté ebégaⁿ. Ahaú!
 be strong fish the (sub.) small not but we fail shall, I think. Oh!
- áb egaⁿ waⁿ'ibagiⁿṣti ṣida'-biamá. Kí sín'de ké ṣisṣé-ṣti ṣéṣa-biamá. 18 said, having with a very great effort they pulled, they say. And tail the was pulled off suddenly, they say.
- Míyasi aká sín'de ké gīaⁿ'ba-biamá. Kagéha, aⁿ'onijuaⁿji ṣṣanahiⁿ Coyote the (sub.) tail the (ob.) looked at his own, they say. Friend, you have treated me ill you truly
- ahaⁿ, á-biamá Míyasi aká. Kagéha, ṣi etí égaⁿ'iṣé'aⁿ ṣaⁿ'etí, á-biamá
 I said, they say Coyote the (sub.). Friend, thou too treated me so heretofore, said, they say
- Ictníke aká. Akíṣaha aṣá-biamá. Kí Míyasi aká qáde ṣibéṣṣiⁿ sín'de 21
 Ictníke the (sub.). Apart they went, they say. And Coyote the (sub.) grass twisted tail
- ké ṣṣaxá-biamá.
 the (ob.) of it made, they say.

NOTES.

96, 1. For ja't'e ke uma kē, L. Sanssouci read ja't'e ke uma qī, which agrees with the Ɔolwere, and makes sense. The additional "kē", if correct, is puzzling.

96, 2. kē'di ahi-biama. Ietinike reached the Colt that was lying down (kē refers to him, not to the Coyote, who was standing).

96, 7. Mipsi aka (sub.: 1st third person); Ietinike ta^a (1st ob., 2d third person); na'be tē (2d ob., 3d third person); ika'ta^w-biama (predicate in the instrumental form); caŋge siude kē (the instrument: 4th third person).

TRANSLATION.

When a two-year-old Colt lay sleeping, the Coyote was standing looking at him. Ietinike came to him. "Well, friend, as this was a dead Horse, we wished to drag him along and eat him; but we have not been able to move him. Help us," said the Coyote. "My friend, I will tie your hands to his tail; and when you pull, we will catch hold of his legs, and we will go along dragging him," said the Coyote. "Yes," said Ietinike. And he said, "Come, tie my hands for me." And the Coyote tied Ietinike by the hands to the Colt's tail, having made it very tight. When he finished, he said, "Come, my friend, pull on it." And Ietinike pulled on it. And the Colt awoke. He arose suddenly. He went off dragging him. He kept kicking at Ietinike; he kept Ietinike crying as he kicked him. The Coyote laughed till he panted for breath. And the Colt kicked Ietinike, sending him flying through the air. He kicked off very deep pieces of flesh. "And how shall I do to get even with him?" said Ietinike, referring to the Coyote. And on the following day Ietinike was eating a fish. And the Coyote came thither. "Oho! my friend, it is truly a pleasure," said the Coyote. "Yes, my friend, it is so," said Ietinike. "My friend, what were you doing when you caught the fish?" "My friend, I knocked a hole in the ice; and I sat with my tail put through the hole into the water. A fish bit me suddenly on the tail, and I caught it." "My friend, where was it?" said the Coyote. "My friend, yonder it is; but they bite at evening, when it is cold." When it was evening, it was very cold. "Come, my friend, let us go," said the Coyote. Ietinike having said, "Yes," they went. When they reached the ice, Ietinike knocked a hole in it. "Come, put your tail in the hole and sit," said Ietinike. And the Coyote sat with his tail through the hole and in the water. After some time he said, "My friend, it bites me." "My friend, they are small; when they are large, you shall catch them. Sit still," said Ietinike. After some time the ice commenced freezing over again. "My friend, again one of those bites me," said the Coyote. "My friend, sit still; they are all small," said Ietinike. "After a while the large ones will come." At length the ice froze over. "Now, my friend, one of those very large ones bites me," said the Coyote. "Now! Now! Pull! Pull!" said Ietinike. The Coyote pulled. Though he tried ever so hard, he only slipped on the ice. "Exert yourself; it is large," said Ietinike. "Help me," said the Coyote. "Take hold of my hands," said Ietinike. Having taken hold of his hands, he pulled with a great effort. "My friend, exert yourself; the fish is very large, therefore I think we shall fail." Having said, "Now!" they pulled with a very great effort. And the tail was suddenly pulled off altogether. The Coyote looked at his tail. "My friend, truly you have done me a wrong," said the Coyote. "My friend, you, too, have done a similar thing to me," said Ietinike. They went different ways. And the Coyote made a tail for himself out of twisted grass.

THE PUMA AND THE COYOTE

TOLD BY MAWADA^q10, OR MANDAN, AN OMAHA.

Ingēnⁿ-siⁿ-snēde cēnaⁿbā-biamā Mīyasi egaⁿba. Ākikipā-biamā.
 Long-tailed cat only those two, they say Coyote he too. They met each other they say.

Kagēha, ūkaⁿ wiⁿ ebeⁿgaⁿ ēde uēūwikie tā minke, ā-biamā Mīyasi
 My friend, dead one I think but I speak to you about it will I who, said, they say Coyote

akā. Taⁿwangēaⁿ hēgactewaⁿji ēdīēnⁿ amā. Kagēha, ūkaⁿ uēūwikie tā 3 the Tribe a great many (-pepu- there was the, they say. My friend, dead I talk to you will about it (sub.).

minke ēgaⁿqti ekāxe to hā, ā-biamā. Aⁿhuⁿ, ā-biamā. Nīkagahi ijanⁿge
 I who just so you do please he said, they say. Yes, he said, they say. Chief his daughter wiⁿ gaⁿga-hnaⁿi ēde ēiⁿā-hnaⁿi, ēde kaⁿbēa tā minke hā. Kagē, canⁿge one they desire invariably but they fail invariably, but I desire her will I who Friend, horse ekāxe to, ā-biamā. Ganⁿki ūwigēiⁿ tā minke. Ganⁿki Ingēnⁿ-siⁿ-snēde 6 you make please, he said, they say. And I sit on you will I who. And Long-tailed cat muⁿze-ēiⁿhe kē ēahēkiā-biamā. Ganⁿki āgēiⁿ tō hā Mīyasi akā. Kagēha, bridle the (ob.) he made him put it in his mouth, they say. And sat on him Coyote the (sub.). My friend, nādaⁿ hnfpi ekaⁿhna te. Canⁿge ekaⁿ, sigēahna, uaⁿsi, pamākide, to show what you are well you desire please. Horse action (ways) prancing, jumping, arching the neck, iūpīāxa, maⁿēiⁿ, uaⁿsiqti tō cti ā-iūpō-hnaⁿi maⁿēiⁿ-gā hā. Ganⁿki utaⁿ 9 championing the walking, jumping high the too they usually go walk thou And leggings janⁿga uātaⁿ tā minke hā. Ganⁿki hiⁿbē nācabeē uāgā tā minke hā.

 large I put on leggings will I who And moccasins blackened I put on will I who moccasins

Ganⁿki mē-ha āhiⁿ eīpō mīⁿ tā minke hā. Zaⁿzi-manⁿdō abēiⁿ tā minke And spring robe with hair outside I wear a will I who Oingo-orange bow I have will I who

hā. Manⁿdō-ā tō mācāⁿ skāqti uāgacke abēiⁿ tā minke, ā-biamā. Ganⁿki 12 Bow head the (ob.) feather very white I fasten on I have will I who, said he, they say. And qī ēaⁿ qūⁿhaqtei uēicaⁿ ūwigēiⁿ tā minke hā. Jāēiⁿjāhe aⁿ akā ēdi village the (ob.) at the very border around it I sit on you will I who Playing Jāēiⁿjāhe the (sub.) there a-najīⁿ akā hā. Canⁿge uaⁿsi pamākide a-iūpō āgēiⁿ maⁿēiⁿ-biamā.

 approaching the (sub.) Horse jumping arching its neck had gone repeatedly sat on it it walked they say.

Hau! kagēha, cuti nīaciⁿga wiⁿ. Qa-i! nīaciⁿga aⁿdaⁿba-bajīⁿqtiaⁿi, ājiqi 15
 See! my friend, yonder person one. Whew! person we have not seen at all, very different āhaⁿ, uēūkaⁿpi īnāhiⁿ ā, ā-biamā. Cānge taⁿ cti ūdaⁿ īnāhiⁿ āgēiⁿ tī

 I well dressed truly I said they, they Horse the (std. ob.) too good truly sitting on has come āhaⁿ ā-biamā. Hindā! ūbahaⁿi-gā, ā-biamā. Mīyasi akā qigēfajīⁿqtiaⁿ-

 I said they, they Stop! know ye him, said they say. Coyote the (sub.) made himself altogether different biamā. Mīyasi ē ēinkē ēkaⁿ eēgaⁿ-bajī-biamā. Egā-biamā hā, Hau! eⁿaⁿ 18 they say. Coyote he the one who they did not think that they say. They said they say Ho! how that to him

- maⁿ-hni^{n'} ä, ä-biamá. A^{n'}haⁿ, éga^{n'}qtia^{n'}, ä-biamá. Níkagahi ijan^{'ge} ɕínké you walk I said they, they Yes, just so, said he, they Chief his daughter the (ob.) say.
- ka^{n'}bɕa atí, ä-biamá. Kí ga^{n'}ki uɕa ahi-biamá. ɕijan^{'ge} ga^{n'}ɕa
I desire I have come, said he, they And then to tell to they arrived, they Your daughter desir^{'ng} say.
- 3 atí-biamá. Níaci^{'ga} údaⁿ hégabaji ä, ä-biamá. Can^{'ge} ta^{n'} etí údaⁿ hégaji he has come, he Person good not a little I said, they say. Horse the too good not a little (std. ob.) say.
- ä, ä-biamá. Ké, ijin^{'ge} ɕánk é wawagiká-biamá, ɕiáhaⁿ aɕi^{n'} gfi-gä
I said they, they Come, his son the that meaning them, they say, your sister's having him come (pl. ob.) his own husband back say.
- hä, ä-biamá níkagahi aká. Agiaɕá-biamá hä. Kí, Ké, ɕaha^{n'}ha, awíde said, they say chief the (sub.). They went for him, they say And, Come, sister's husband I ask you to go with me say.
- 6 atí hä. Angáɕigi-aŋgáti hä. A^{n'}haⁿ, ɕaha^{n'}ha, ä-biamá Míɕasi aká. Can^{'ge}
I have come We have come for you Yes, wife's brothers, said, they say Coyote the (sub.). Horse say.
- taⁿ ágigɕi^{n'}-daⁿ ɕia^{n'}siqti ua^{n'}siqti ma^{n'}ɕi^{n'}-biamá. Níkaci^{'ga} ɕéɕutaⁿ the sat on his own when pulled hard on to jumped high walked they say. People hence (std. ob.) make jump say.
- da^{n'}be ɕéɕé amá. Níkaci^{'ga} ɕiⁿ uɕúka^{n'}pi ínabiⁿ ä. Níkaci^{'ga} dádaⁿ ɕi^{n'}te gazed at a dis- they say. Person the well dressed truly I Person what he n... tance (mv. ob.) say.
- 9 uɕúka^{n'}pi ínabiⁿ ä, ä-biamá. Hau, égiɕe aɕi^{n'} aki-biamá, níkagahi úju well dressed truly I said they, they Well, at length having they reached home, chief princel say.
- ɕii tɕdi. Hau! ké, ɕiáhaⁿ aɕi^{n'} gfi-gä, ä-biamá. Can^{'ge} ta^{n'} cэгэdi his at the. Ho! come, your sister's having be ye coming said he, they Horse the (ob.) by those lodge husband him say things say.
- ugáck ígɕa^{n'}i-gä. Qáde 'fi-gä hä, ä-biamá níkagahi aká. ɕaha^{n'}ha, wiɕgaⁿ fasten ye it for him. Hay give to him said, they say chief the (sub.). My wife's my wife's father say.
- 12 mégaⁿ, can^{'ge} aká qáde ɕatá-baji, ä-biamá Míɕasi aká. Janúɕa-hnaⁿ likewise, horse the (sub.) hay he cuts it, said, they say Coyote the (sub.). Fresh meat only say.
- ɕaté-hnaⁿi, ä-biamá. Ga^{n'}ki ubáhaⁿ aɕaí ega^{n'} ɕaɕa ahi-biamá. Kí be cuts as a rule, said he, they say. And at the door went having in the lodge arrived, they say. And say.
- ɕí tɕ uɕízaⁿ tɕja wa'ú áɕixekiɕaí ɕínké júɕe a-íɕi^{n'}-biamá. Ga^{n'}ki lodge the middle at the woman was caused to the one who with her approaching he sat, they And (ob.) marry him say.
- 15 ha^{n'} amá. Winaú, ɕieɕɕa^{n'}ge ɕínké umi^{'je} giáxa-gä, ä-biamá níkagahi night they say. First daughter, your husband the (ob.) couch make for him, said they say chief say.
- aká. Tɕi ɕicta^{n'}-bi ɕí Míɕasi aká ega^{n'}-biamá, Anéje bɕé. Ga^{n'}ki áci (sub.). Cotre he finished, they say when Coyote the (sub.) said to her, they My I go. And out of doors say.
- aɕaí Míɕasi amá. Ingɕa^{n'}-si^{n'}-snéde ahi-biamá. Kagɕa, bɕictaⁿ. Cka^{n'}hna went Coyote the Long-tailed cat he reached, they My friend, I have finished. You wish (mv. sub.) say.
- 18 ɕí tɕi-gä hä. Égaⁿ íkiɕta^{n'}ta^{n'}ga gaxá-biamá Ca^{n'}qti baa^{n'}ba-biamá.
it eat So alternatim faciebant they say. Volde et usque a vespera ad mane cum ea coibant they say.
- A^{n'}ba sa^{n'} tihé ɕí níkagahi ɕéɕ etí bɕúgaqti uɕéwinɕiɕa^{n'}-biamá. Edádaⁿ Day whitish comes suddenly chief his too all assembled they say. What relation themselves say.
- wa^{n'}ta^{n'} gɕé ctéwa^{n'} bɕúga uɕéwi^{n'}ɕa^{n'}-biamá, wáɕiⁿ aɕá-biamá ɕí tɕja, goods the (ob.) soever all they collected they say, having they went, they say lodge to the.

Wahúta^{phi} ^{Gun} ^{they were firing,} Ku+! ku+! Míxasi na'aⁿⁱ ^{Coyote} ^{heard it} xí xúha-biama. Ku+! ^{Ku+!}
 ku+! ^{ku+!} Áci naⁿⁱ ^{Out} ^{leaped far} ^{had gone, they say.} á-ia^{phi}-biamá. Hau! Míxasi aké. Utin'-gá! ^{Hit him!} ^{hit him!} ^{ku+!}
 t'é^{phi}-ga! ^{kill him!} Míxasi aká ^{Coyote} ^{the} ^{side} ^{sent flying} ^{regularly} ^{they say.} ^{they say.} ^{Ingéa'} ^{Long-tailed cat} ^{stealing himself} ³ ag^{phi}-biamá. ^{went homeward,} ^{they say.} Míxasi ^{Coyote} ^{t'é^{phi}-biamá} ^{they killed him,} ^{they say.} Ūsa-biamá. ^{They burnt him,} ^{they say.} Wá^{phi}juájt áhaⁿ. ^{He did wrong} [!]

NOTES.

99, 13. ^{da^{phi}-jahe} ^{aⁿ} aka ^{édi} a-inajⁿ-biama. The men of the village were playing there when the Coyote came in sight.

99, 14. a-ia^{phi}, from ^{ia^{phi}}, frequentative of ^{ié^{phi}}. The Puma pranced a short distance, then walked, then pranced, and so on.

99, 16. inahⁿ á. Here and elsewhere "á" is a contraction of "ahaⁿ."

100, 4. ^{fañk}, contraction from ^{fañka}.

100, 18. ^{iki^{phi}-tañga}, etc. The Puma entered the lodge after the Coyote, whose place he took, deceiving the woman; then the Coyote returned; next, the Puma; and so on till daylight.

TRANSLATION.

There was a Puma and also a Coyote, only these two. They met each other. "My friend," said the Coyote, "I will speak to you about one thing of which I have been thinking." There was a very populous tribe. "My friend, please do just what I speak to you about." "Yes," said the Puma. "They have been wishing to get the chief's daughter, but they have always failed; but I desire her. My friend, you will act the horse, and I will ride on you," said the Coyote. And he put the bridle on the Puma. And the Coyote sat on him. "My friend, please desire to act well, and to show your skill. Practice the actions of a horse such as prancing, jumping, arching the neck, champing the bit, walking, and also jumping high. And I will draw on large leggings; I will put on blackened moccasins; I will wear a winter robe with the hair outside; I will have an Osage-orange bow; and I will fasten very white feathers on one end of the bow. And I will ride you around the village when we come near it," said the Coyote. He approached and stood at the place where they were playing the game called "^{da^{phi}-jahe}." He continued sitting on the horse as it pranced, jumped, arched its neck, and went a little way at a time. "See, my friends, a person has come suddenly. Whew! a man has come, one whom we have never seen at all heretofore, a very different sort of a man from those we are accustomed to see! He is very well-dressed! He has come on an excellent horse! Stop! recognize him if you can," said they. The Coyote had thoroughly disguised himself. They did not think that he was the Coyote. They said as follows to him, "Well, why do you go?" "Yes," said he, "it is just so. I have come because I desire the chief's daughter." And they went to tell him. "He says that he has come desiring your daughter. He is a very handsome man! The horse too is a very fine one!" said they. "Come," said the chief, addressing his sons, "go for your sister's husband." They went for him. And they said "Come, sister's husband, I have come to invite you to go with us. We have come for you." "Yes, my wife's brothers," said the Coyote. Having mounted his horse, he pulled on the bridle very hard to make him jump, and the horse jumped as he went along. All the people stood at a distance, looking at him. "The man in motion is indeed well-dressed! Whatever sort of man he may be, he is truly well-dressed!" said they. Well, at length they reached home with him, at the house of the head-chief. "Ho! come, bring your sister's husband to me. Fasten his horse by those things. Give him hay," said the chief. "My wife's brothers, and also my wife's father, the horse does not eat hay," said the Coyote. "He eats nothing but fresh meat." And they went into the lodge. And he approached the woman whom they caused to marry him, and sat by her. And it was night. Said the chief, "O first-born daughter of the household, make a couch for your husband." Coitu completo, the Coyote said to her, "Mictum eo." And the Coyote went out of doors. He reached the Puma: "Amice, complevi; si cupias, coi," ait. Et alternatim faciebant, aiunt. Valde et usque a vespera ad mane coibant, aiunt. The chief assembled all his relations at daybreak. They collected all kinds whatsoever of goods, and took them to the lodge. They were firing guns, "Ku+! ku+!" The Coyote heard it and was afraid. "Ku+! ku+!" He leaped out of the door and had gone. "Why! It is the Coyote. Hit him! hit him! Kill him!" The Coyote valde et frequenter cacavit. The Puma stole off and went home. They killed the Coyote. They burnt him. He did wrong!

THE COYOTE AND THE BUFFALOES.

TOLD BY FRANK LA FLÈCHE.

- Égiçe Míyasi amá çé amáma. Kí Je-núga dúba wabáhi maⁿçiⁿ'
 At length Coyote the was going, they say. And Buffalo-bull four grazing were walk
 (mv. sub.)
- amáma. Kí é'di ahi-biamá. Kí wáçahaⁿ-biamá. Jigaⁿ'há wiñgaⁿ mcgaⁿ, ing, they say. And there he arrived, they say. And he prayed to them they say. O grandfather my grandfather like-wise, fathers
- 3 cá'ean'giçágá. Maⁿoniⁿ'-macé'di égaⁿqti maⁿbçiⁿ' kaⁿbçégaⁿ. Açúhaqti pity me. You walk by you who just so I walk I desire. For the very last time
- ía-gä, á-biamá Je-núga aká. An'kaji, jigaⁿ'há, caⁿ' cá'ean'giçá-gä. Waçíte speak said, they say Buffalo-bull the (sub.). Not so, grandfather, still pity me. Food
- kë ikiaé'qti onáte maⁿoniⁿ' ite égaⁿqti maⁿbçiⁿ' kaⁿbçégaⁿ há Wiⁿ'enak
 the spreading very thick and far you eat you walk it may be just so I walk I desire You tell the truth
- 6 áqt ijaⁿ' tadaⁿ', á-biamá háci Je-núga iⁿc'áge aká. Caⁿ'hnaⁿ çactaⁿ'- how you do it shall! said, they say behind Buffalo-bull old man the (sub.). Yes he did not
- baji-biamá Míyasi aká. Ahaú! Hé-batçage-hä, çé-gä, á-biamá. Ahaú!
 stop talking, they say Coyote the (sub.). Oh! Blunt-horns O! you try it, said he, they say. Oh!
- á-biamá Hé-batçage aká. Ké, gúdugaççe najin'-gä, egá-biamá. Égiçe said, they say Blunt-horns the (sub.). Come, facing the other stand he said that to him, they say. Beware
- 9 naⁿ'jiⁿ' çaaⁿ'he çíⁿ'he áú, á-biamá. Há jigaⁿ, há jigaⁿ, jigaⁿ' ha, áqtaⁿ a little you flee (sign of strong prohibition) said he, they say. Oh! grandfather, Oh! grandfather, grandfather Oh! how possible

- aaⁿ/he tádaⁿ. Nístustu aqá-biamá Je-núga Hé-batcáge aká. Maⁿnaⁿ/u I flee shall! Backing he went, they say Buffalo-bull Blunt-horn the (sub.). Pawing the repeatedly
- maⁿ/fiⁿ-biamá, qajé cti maⁿ/fiⁿ-biamá. Lan'de ké' cti jáha-bi-dé he walked they say, bellowing too he walked they say. Ground the (ob.) too he poked at, they say, when
- qicéⁿ/qti-hnaⁿ qéca-biamá. Kí Míyasi aká qédeqé daⁿ/be najiⁿ-biamá. 3 broke off pieces sent off flying, they say. And Coyote the (sub.) out of the corner of his eye looking he stood they say.
- Qe-l, aⁿ/qihoga úqicqti áhaⁿ, qégaⁿ najiⁿ-biamá Míyasi aká. Gíqikaⁿ/qti Whew! to hurt me a little altogether impossible! thinking stood they say Coyote the (sub.). Getting altogether out of the way
- ahí-biamá. Kí éditá iénaxiqa agí-biamá agqá-b égaⁿ úsuŋga qé ítiⁿ he arrived, they say. And thence to dash on him was coming back, went home- having without side hit they say ward, they say him on
- ákiáqqa-biamá. Wáhu'á! á-biamá Hé-batcáge aká Wiⁿ/qakégaⁿ éskaⁿ/bcégaⁿ 6 he had gone along, they say. Really! said, they say Blunt-horns the (sub.). You told a little of I thought it might be
- qaⁿ/cti. An'kaji, ŋigaⁿ/há, naⁿ/wigipégaⁿ caⁿ/há. Caⁿ/ ŋigaⁿ/há, heretofore. Not so, grandfather, as I feared you, so (it was) Yet grandfather,
- cú'eaⁿ/gíqá-gá. Maⁿniⁿ/-macé'di égaⁿ/qti maⁿ/báiⁿ kaⁿ/bqégaⁿ. (Two others pity me. You walk by you who just so I walk I wish.
- made attempts, but the Coyote jumped aside each time. At last they 9 addressed the fourth, who was a young Buffalo bull.) Hau! Je-núga jin'ga, qé-gá. Hau! á-biamá Je-núga jin'ga aká. Gúdugaqqa najiⁿ-gá.
young do you try it. Ho! said, they say Buffalo-bull young the (sub.). Facing the other stand
- qé qaaⁿ/he xi t'éwiqé tá minke há, á-biamá. Hau! ŋigaⁿ, aaⁿ/ha-máji tá 12
This you flee if I kill you will I who he said, they say. Ho! grandfather I flee I not well
(time)
- minke há, á-biamá Míyasi aká. Caⁿ/ Je-núga nístustu aqá-biamá, maⁿnaⁿ/u I who said, they say Coyote the (sub.). And Buffalo-bull backing repeatedly he went, they say pawing the ground
- maⁿ/fiⁿ-biamá, qajé cti maⁿ/fiⁿ-biamá. Lan'de ké' cti jáha-bi-dé qicéⁿ/qtihe walked they say bellowing too he walked they say. Ground the (ob.) too poked at, they say, when he broke off pieces
- hnaⁿ qéca-biamá. Ci éditá iénaxiqa agí-biamá. Édihi xi aⁿ/ha-baji- 15 invariably sending them fly- ing, they say. Again thence to dash on him was coming back, He arrived when fled not
they say they say
- biamá Míyasi aká. Qé ítiⁿ á-iaqa-bi xi ékigaⁿ/qti Je-núga jin'ga júqé they say Coyote the (sub.). Slide hit on had gone, when just like him Buffalo-bull young with him
- á-iaqa-biamá. Gaⁿ/ júkigá-bi égaⁿ aqá-biamá. Majaⁿ/ wiⁿ/ ahí-bi xi had gone, they say. And with one another, being they went, they say. Land one arrived at, when
they say they say
- wabáhi-hnaⁿ-biamá. Kí Míyasi aká déje ké aⁿ/ctewaⁿ qaté maⁿ/fiⁿ-biamá. 18 they continued grazing, they say. And Coyote the (sub.) grass the (ob.) of any sort eating walked they say.
- Caⁿ/qtiamá cti háci-xíqqaⁿ-hnaⁿ-biamá Wá! téná! sagígi égañ-gá há, After moving a too in the he dropped invari- they say. What! do! do be master great while ably
- é-hnaⁿ-biamá Je-núga i'c'áge aká. An'kaji, ŋigaⁿ/há, déje ké nan'de-ímaⁿ said invariably, they Buffalo-bull old man the (sub.). Not so grandfather grass the I cannot get too say much of it
- há, ádaⁿ waqáte-hnaⁿ uáŋigqáspe há, é-hnaⁿ-biamá Míyasi amá. 21
therefore eating it, invariably I hold myself back said invariably, they say Coyote the (mv. sub.).

- Ci aʔá-biamá. Kí háci-hnaⁿ maⁿʔiⁿ-biamá. ÉǾiʔe baxú wiⁿ ʔaⁿbe Again they went, they say. And behind regularly he walked they say. At length hill-top one in sight of
- ahí-biamá. Kí ʔe-núga dúbá amá kigʔáha aʔá-biamá. Majaⁿ wiⁿ ʔe-núga they arrived, they say. And Buffalo-bull four the to the bottom went they say. Land one Buffalo-bull
- 3 dúbá amá ahí-biamá ʔi ʔáda-biamá. TʔiǾiǾti áhaⁿ. ÉǾé údaⁿ há, four the reached, they say when waited for him they say. He has not come at all ! To wait for him is good
- á-biamá. ʔáda-biamá ʔi ʔáʔi ahí-bají-biamá. Hau! ʔe-núga jin'ga, they said, they say. They waited they say when for some he arrived not, they say. Ho! Buffalo-bull young
- uné maṅʔʔiⁿ-gá, á-biamá. Ahaú! á-b egaⁿ agʔá-biamá ʔe-núga jin'ga to seek him begone, said (one), they say. Oh! said, they having went they say Buffalo-bull young
- 6 aká Editáⁿqti nan'ge agʔá-biamá. Majaⁿ uckaⁿ ʔaⁿ akí-biamá. Kí éǾiʔe the Right from that running he went they say. Land deed the he reached again, And behold they say.
- ʔiṅǾéⁿqtiⁿ-bitáma Míʔasi amá. Agʔá-biamá ʔe-núga jin'ga. ÉǾiʔe gaⁿ he was not there at all, they say Coyote the Went they say Buffalo-bull young. At length and
- Míʔasi amá aʔá-biamá. Aʔá-bi ʔi éǾiʔe Míʔasi wiⁿ dádaⁿ unégaⁿ-hnaⁿ Coyote the departed, they say. Went, they when behold Coyote one what seeking invari-ably
- 9 maⁿʔiⁿ ʔiⁿ amá CéǾiⁿ hau! naⁿhéba-gá hau! á-biamá Míʔasi-ʔe-núga jin'ga was walking they say. That (mv. ob.) O! wait O! said, they say Coyote-Buffalo-bull young
- aká ʔé maⁿbéiⁿ té égaⁿqti maⁿʔniⁿ ckaⁿʔna, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ ʔiⁿʔéha, the This I walk the just so you walk you wish, he said, they say. Yes, elder brother,
- égaⁿqti maⁿbéiⁿ kaⁿbégaⁿ. Hau! gúdugaqʔe najin'-gá, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, just so I walk I wish. Ho! facing the other way stand he said, they say. Yes,
- 12 jin'ʔéha, á-biamá. ʔe-núga jin'ga nístu maⁿnaⁿ'u maⁿʔiⁿ-biamá. ʔan'de elder brother, he said, they say. Buffalo-bull young backing pawing the ground walked they say. Ground
- kéⁿ eti jáha-bi ʔiepeⁿqti ʔéǾa-biamá. ÉǾiʔe naⁿʔiⁿ ʔaaⁿ'he ʔiⁿhé aú!
the too poked at, they say broke off pieces sent they say. Beware a little you flee (sign of strong prohibition).
- CéǾataⁿ iénaxiʔa agí-biamá. Úsaṅga ʔé ʔiⁿ ákiǾǾa-bi ʔi Míʔasi aká
From that place to dash on him was coming back, they say. Without side hit on had gone by, when Coyote the (sub.)
- 15 naⁿ'siqti a-iúʔa-biamá. Aⁿ'he ʔabʔiⁿ'aⁿ égaⁿ-bi ʔi aⁿ'he-hnaⁿ-biamá leaping far had gone, they say. Fleed three times so, they say when fled invariably they say
- Míʔasi aká Wédubaⁿ tédihi ʔi, T'éwiʔé tá minke há, á-biamá ʔe-núga Coyote the (sub.). The fourth time it arrived when, I kill you will I who said, they say Buffalo-bull
- jin'ga aká. CéǾataⁿ iénaxiʔa agí-biamá. ÉǾiʔe ʔé ʔiⁿ ákiǾǾa-biamá young the (sub.). From that place to dash on him was coming, they say. At length side hit on had gone by they say
- 18 ʔi ékigaⁿqti Míʔasi júǾe aʔá-biamá. Aⁿ'onijuáǾi ʔanahiⁿ i á. Gúdiha when just like him Coyote with him went they say. You have treated you, indeed ! Away
- maⁿʔiⁿ-gá, á-biamá. Ci ʔe-núga-ma úgine aʔá-biamá. WáǾiǾá-bi egaⁿ walk he said, they say. Again Buffalo-bulls the to seek he went, they say. Pursued them, having they say
- úǾǾa-bi egaⁿ ci wahaⁿ'a-biamá: ʔigaⁿhá, cú'ean'giǾá-gá. Níkaciⁿga he overtook them, they say again he asked a favor, they say: Grandfather pity ye me. Person wiⁿ aⁿ ʕiⁿuⁿiⁿiⁿ hégaji. Hau! Je-núga jin'ga, ʕe-gǎ. Hau! ké, gúdugaqⁿ ʕe one ill-treated me very much. Ho! Buffalo-bull young, do you try it. Ho! come, facing the other way najin'-gǎ, á-biamá. Egiⁿʕe ʕaaⁿ'he te. An'kaji há, ʕigaⁿ'ha, áqtaⁿ aaⁿ'he stand, said he, they say. Beware you flee lest. Not so grandfather, how possible I flee tádaⁿ, á-biamá Míyasi aká. Aʕá-b egaⁿ' editaⁿ iénaxiⁿ ʕaⁿí-biamá. Ė'di 3 shall I said, they say Coyote the (sub.). Went, they having thence to dash on him was coming, they say. There akí-bi ʕiⁿi Míyasi júha-biamá. Maⁿciáha aⁿ'ʕa iⁿéʕa-bi ʕiⁿi gat' she reached when Coyote gored him they say. On high throwing sent him when lay killed by the fall gaxá-biamá. Cetaⁿ'.

 made him, they say. So far.

NOTES.

102, 5. ikiaéqti, from ikiae. Since the Buff' loes obtained their food without having to cultivate it, they fared better than men, in the estimation of the Coyote. Their food, grass, spread out very thick all over the surface of the ground. (See ukiae, ugae, aba'é, etc., in the Dictionary.)

102, 5. wiⁿʕak aqt ijaⁿ tadaⁿ, contracted from wiⁿʕake aqtaⁿ ijaⁿ tadaⁿ, "You cannot mean what you say."

102, 8. egiⁿʕe naⁿjin' ʕaaⁿ'he ʕiⁿ'he au. The word ʕiⁿ'he is used in strong commands or prohibitions. See myth of the Raccoons and the Crabs (Frank La Flèche's version), also that of Two-face and the Two Brothers; and inihe (binihe) in the Dictionary.

103, 4. aⁿʕihega uⁿʕiciqti ahaⁿ: "He could not hurt me a little with his horns (but he would be sure to kill me, or else do me a serious injury)."

103, 20. peji ké naude-imaⁿ há. The idea is that although the Coyote had eaten enough to satisfy hunger, the grass was so good that he wished to eat all of it. He did not wish to leave any. He could not, in his opinion, eat too much.

104, 9. ʕeⁿiⁿ han, said with the voice raised, the last word being emphasized.

105, 4. gat' ihe, contracted from gat'e ihe.

TRANSLATION.

Once a Coyote was going somewhere. And four Buffalo-bulls were grazing as they walked. And the Coyote went to them, and prayed to them: "O grandfather, and you my grandfathers also, pity me. I wish to live just as you are living." "Let this be the very last time that you speak it," said the Buffalo-bull. "No, grandfather, still pity me. You live by eating food that comes up abundantly, without your working for it; and I wish to live just so." "How can you be speaking the truth?" said the aged Buffalo-bull who was behind. Still the Coyote would not stop talking. "Oho! Blunt-horns, do you begin," said the aged Buffalo. "Oho!" said Blunt-horns. "Come, stand with your back to me," he said to the Coyote. "Beware lest you make even the slightest attempt to flee," said he. "Oh! grandfather! Oh! grandfather! grandfather Oh! why should I flee?" The blunt-horned Buffalo-bull kept backing, pawing the ground, and bellowing. He also thrust his horns into the ground, sending the pieces flying off in all directions. And the Coyote stood peeping at him out of one corner of his eye. "Whew! it would be impossible for him not to kill me, if he should touch me," thought the Coyote as he stood there. And he got altogether out of his way. When the Buffalo-bull was coming from his place to rush against him, the Coyote having gone aside, the Buffalo-bull went by without hitting him on the side. "Really!" said Blunt-horns, "I did think that you were speaking the truth; (but now I do not think so)." "No, grandfather, it happened so because I was afraid of you. Still, grandfather, pity me. As you are living, just so I wish to live." [Each Buffalo made an attempt, but the Coyote jumped aside every time. At last the aged Buffalo-bull said,] "Ho! Young Buffalo-bull, you begin." "Ho!" said the young Buffalo-bull. "Stand with your back to me. If you flee this time, I will kill you," said he. "Ho! grandfather, I will not flee," said the Coyote. And the Buffalo went backward by degrees, pawing the ground, bellowing, thrusting his horns into the soil, and throwing up the dust. And he was coming thence to rush on him. When he reached him, the Coyote did not flee. And he struck him on the side as he went, and the Coyote went with him, a young Buffalo-bull, just like him. And they departed together. And when they reached a certain land, they continued grazing. And the Coyote went eating grass of every sort. After moving a great while he invariably dropped in the rear. "What! flee! Do be faster," the aged Buffalo-bull kept saying to him. "No, grandfather, I cannot get too much of the grass, therefore I am holding myself back by eating," the Coyote kept saying. And they departed. And the Coyote continued walking behind. And they reached the top of a hill. And the four Buffalo-bulls went down to the bottom of the hill. The four Buffalo-bulls reached a certain land, and waited for him. "He has not come at all! It is good to wait for him," said they. And when they had waited for him a long time, he did not arrive. "Ho! Young Buffalo-bull, begone to seek him," said they. And saying "Oho!" the young Buffalo-bull went back. From that very place he went running. He got home to the land where the deed was done (i. e., where the Coyote was changed into a Buffalo). And, behold, the Coyote was not there at all. The young Buffalo-bull went back. It happened that the Coyote departed. When he departed, behold a Coyote was walking as if seeking for something. "O you in motion there! O wait!" said the young Buffalo-bull who had been a Coyote. "Do you wish to live in this way, just as I am living?" "Yes, elder brother," said the Coyote, "I wish to live just so." "Well, stand facing the other way," said the Buffalo-bull. "Yes, elder brother," said the Coyote. The young Buffalo-bull went backward, pawing the ground, thrusting his horns into the soil, and throwing up the dust. "Beware lest you make even the slightest attempt to flee." Thence he was coming back, as if to attack him. He had come and gone without hitting him on the side, as the Coyote had leaped far and had gone. When he had fled thus three times, the Coyote fled invariably (sic). When the fourth time came, the young Buffalo-bull said, "I will kill you." Thence he came rushing on him. It happened when he struck him on the side and passed on, that he departed with him a Coyote, just like him. "You have injured me very much. Begone!" said he. He departed to seek the Buffalo-bulls again. Having pursued them and overtaken them, he asked a favor of them again. "My grandfathers, pity me. A person has done me a very great wrong." "Ho! Young Buffalo-bull, you begin." "Ho! come, stand with your back to me," said the young Buffalo. "Beware lest you flee." "No, grandfather, why should I flee?" said the Coyote. Having gone, he was coming back to rush on him. When he got back he gored the Coyote, and threw him up high into the air; and he occasioned his death by the shock of the fall. The End.

WAHA'ΦICIGE'S ADVENTURE AS A RABBIT.

TOLD BY MRS. LA FLÈCHE.

Waha'φicige ixa' júgigē. xa'há, ʔi ɕa'ja bē te. Hi'! iucpaɕa, Orphan his he with his Grandmother, to the village let me go. Oh! grandchild, his grandmother own.

íciqáa tal. ɕáji-ā hē. An'kaji, xa'há, ca' bē tá minke. É'ja aɕáthey abuse will. Go not. Not so grandmother, still I go will I who. Thither went
 you

biamá. ʔi ɕa'ja ahí-biamá. Huhú! Maɕci'n'ge tí há, á-biamá. Níkagahi 3 they say. To the village arrived, they say. Ho! ho! Rabbit has come said, they say. Chief ɕankáa aɕi' tiɕá-gā. Maɕci'n'ge ɕida' be tí há. Ké, aɕi' gí-gā. Uɕíza'ja to them having pass ye on. Rabbit to see you has come Come having be ye To the middle

 him

tiɕá-gā. Uɕéwinɕiɕái-gā há. Égaxe iɕa' ɕai-gā. Ké, waɕáɕigaxe taté há.
 Pass thou on. Assemble ye Around in place ye. Come you dance shall Ké, i'quɕái-gā. Ké, Maɕci'n'ge wabásna' ɕa' waci' oni' éga' ɕɕa'jiwáɕē 6 Come sing ye for me. Come, Rabbit shoulder the fat you are as impossible to satisfy (ob.) one oni' há. Ga'n'ki gíquɕa-bi ega' wateɕgaxá-biamá. Na'ɕta'-biana ʔi, you are And sang for him, they having he danced they say. He stopped they say when,

 say dancing

Géɕica'ɕáɕica' níkagahi dúbá awáqixé há, á-biamá. Awáqixé tá minke Towards one side chief four I break in their said he, they I break in their will I who (heads) (heads)

há, é há. Égaxe iɕa' ɕai-gā há, ga'n'ki ánasái-gā há. Níkagahi dúbá ɕanká 9
 he said Around in place ye and cut him off Chief four the (ob.)

wáqixá-biamá. Ga'n'ki a'he agɕá-biamá. Uɕá-bají-biamá Ga'n'ki a'he he broke in they say. And fleeing went they say. They did not overtake him, And fleeing their (heads) homeward they say.

agɕá-bi ega' u'úde ɕéɕa'ska ude agɕá-biamá. Iya' ɕinké'di akí-biamá.
 went home- having hole this size entering went home-ward, His by the (ob.) reached home, ward, they say they say, grandmother they say.

xa'há, ma'ze gē hébe a'í-gā há, á-biamá. Kí, Ma'ze ɕtē a'ɕin'ge hē; 12 Grand- iron the piece give to me said, they say. And, Iron even no none mother, (pl. ob.)

wé'uhí ɕona' ɕe hébe hē, á-biamá. A'íɕa-gā há, á-biamá. Ga'n'ki ʔjébe hide- that only this piece said she, they Let me have it, said he, they And door acrobat say.

ɕa' gaqápi ɕéɕé ʔi ʔi tē uɕíci' gaxá-biamá. Áqta' t'éa'ɕaɕé tába.
 the throw it through when lodge the covering it he made, they say. How pos- sibly you kill me shall?
 suddenly (ob.)

Ma'ngi'í-gā. Úa'ɕin'ge ɕanájí. Ceta'.
 Begone ye. For nothing you stand, So far.

NOTES.

This ɕegíla version of the myth was told by Mrs. La Flèche, who also gave the corresponding ʔoiwere, to be published hereafter in "The ʔoiwere Language, Part I." 107, 1. Waha'φicige, an orphan, syn., waha'φiŋge: ʔoiwere, woni'qeiŋe.

108 THE ÇEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

107, 8. geçicaⁿ-jaçicaⁿ, etc. J. La Flèche says it should read, "When he stopped dancing, he struck four of the chiefs who were in a line with the lodge, and broke in their heads."

107, 11. uⁿde çeçaⁿ skü. J. La Flèche says that the Rabbit passed through a small hole in the ground; but his wife told me that he found a small opening in the ranks of the men who surrounded him before the dance.

TRANSLATION.

Wahaⁿçicige lived with his grandmother. "O grandmother, let me go to the village." "Why! grandchild, they will maltreat you. Do not go." "No, grandmother, I will go at any rate." He went thither. He reached the village. "Ho! ho! the Rabbit has come." "Take him to the chiefs." "The Rabbit has come to see you," they said to the chiefs. "Come, bring him hither. Pass on to the middle. Assemble ye, and surround him." To the Rabbit the chiefs said, "Come, you shall dance." "Come," said he, "sing for me." "Come, Rabbit, as you are fat on the shoulder alone, you are one that cannot satisfy one's hunger." And as they sang for him, he danced. When he stopped dancing, he said, "I break in the skulls of four chiefs at one side." "He said, 'I will strike them and break in their skulls,'" exclaimed the bystanders. "Surround him. Cut off his retreat." He struck four chiefs and broke in their skulls. And he fled homeward. They did not overtake him. And as he fled homeward, he entered a hole this size (i. e., the size of a hen's egg) and went homeward. He got home to his grandmother. "Grandmother, give me a piece of iron," said he. And she said, "I have no iron at all; there is only this piece of a hide-scraper." "Let me have it," he said. And when he threw it suddenly through the door, he made it cover the lodge. And when his pursuers came up, he said to them, "How can you possibly kill me? Begone. You are standing for nothing." The End.

WAHAⁿÇICIGE AND WAKANDAGI.

FRANK LA FLÈCHE'S VERSION.

Wahaⁿçicige aká wahútaⁿçiⁿ wiⁿ açiⁿ-biamá. İndádaⁿ wájiŋgaⁿ Orphan the (sub.) gun (bow) one had they say. What bird İkidá-bi ctēwaⁿ múçnaⁿ-báji-hnaⁿ-biamá. Kí ábae açá-biamá. Kí he shot at with notwithstanding he missed not regularly they say. And hunting went they say. And 3 nfaciⁿga wiⁿ ákipá-biamá, cñudaⁿ ská-qti-hnaⁿ naⁿba júwagá-biamá.
person one he met they say, dog very white (all over) two he went with they say, them
 Maⁿze-wetiⁿ kéde áigáça amúma. Kagcha, İndádaⁿ açniⁿ á, á-biamá Sword the (past) carrying on was, they say. Friend what you have I said, they say nfaciⁿga aká. Kagcha, maⁿ abçiⁿ, á-biamá Wahaⁿçicige aká. İndádaⁿ person the (sub.) Friend arrow I have, said, they say Orphan the (sub.) What

- iŦákide ctówa^{n'} muóna^{n'}-máji-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'} há. Indaké, kagéha, céŦinke
 I shoot at notwithstand- I miss in I not regu- I do . Let us see, friend, that with it ing shooting larly do
- kída-gā, á-biamá nŦaci^{n'}ga aká. Wajín^{n'}ga jì^{n'}áqteí Ŧínkē^{n'}di ábazú-biamá.
 shoot at said, they say person the (sub.). bird very small the (st. ob.) at he pointed at, they say.
- Kí Waha^{n'}Ŧicige kída-biamá, t'Ŧa-biamá. Kagéha, wapé ké qáwíkiŦé 3 And Orphan shot at it, they say, he killed it, they say. Friend weapon the (ob.) I love you for it
- iŦánahi^{n'} á, á-biamá nŦaci^{n'}ga aká. WíŦéi^{n'}wi^{n'} te, á-biamá. Kagéha,
 I truly I said, they say person the (sub.). I buy it from you will said he, they say.
 Friend,
- i^{n'}wacta-máji, á-biamá Waha^{n'}Ŧicige aká. Indáda^{n'} a^{n'}Ŧá^{n'}i táda^{n'}, á-biamá
 I cannot spare it, said, they say Orphan the (sub.). What you give will I said, they say
 me
- Waha^{n'}Ŧicige aká. Cínuda^{n'} ŦeŦan^{n'}ké-i kí ma^{n'}ze-weti^{n'} Ŧe céna wí^{n'} te 6 Orphan the (sub.). Dog these (ob.) are and sword this enough I will give you
- há, á-biamá nŦaci^{n'}ga aká. Cínuda^{n'} Ŧan^{n'}ká úŦibē^{n'} báda^{n'}, á-biamá said, they say person the (sub.). Dog the ones who scent them they? said, they say
- Waha^{n'}Ŧicige aká. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, úŦibē^{n'}i há. Indáda^{n'} waniŦa agíŦéuákiŦé Orphan the (sub.). Yes they scent them What animal I cause them to go for it
- ctówa^{n'} Ŧasnú agŦéi-hna^{n'}i há. Kí ma^{n'}ze-weti^{n'} Ŧé indáda^{n'} iŦáti^{n'} ctówa^{n'} 9 no matter what dragging by the teeth they always come back And sword this what I hit with it no matter what
- iŦágaŦéi-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'}, á-biamá nŦaci^{n'}ga aká. Kí, Indaké, jáqti-ma wí^{n'}
 I kill it with regu- I do, said, they say person the (sub.). And, Let us see, door (pl.) one larly the blow
- agíŦekiŦá-gā cínuda^{n'} ta^{n'}, áma. Ahaú! Ma^{n'}ze-Ŧuqa^{n'}, jáqti wí^{n'} agíma^{n'}- cause it to go for it dog the the one. Oho! Breaks iron-with-his-teeth, deer one walk
- Ŧín^{n'}gā há, á-biamá nŦaci^{n'}ga aká. Cínuda^{n'} aká utefje égiháqti áiaŦa- 12 for it said, they say person the (sub.). Dog the (sub.) thickset headlong he had gone
- biamá. Kí ga^{n'}Ŧga^{n'}tō-ctówa^{n'}jí jáqti wí^{n'} Ŧaxáxage aŦi^{n'} agŦéi-biamá.
 they say. And not even a little while deer one making cry re- having he came they say.
 peatedly by biting it back
- Indaké, ci áma ta^{n'} ŦekiŦá-gā, á-biamá Waha^{n'}Ŧicige aká. Ahaú!
 Let us see, again the other the (std. ob.) send him, said, they say Orphan the (sub.). Oho!
- I^{n'}Ŧ-ŦecíŦe, wasúbe wí^{n'} agíma^{n'}Ŧín^{n'}-gā há, á-biamá nŦaci^{n'}ga aká. Cínuda^{n'} 15
 Shivers-stones with-his-teeth, black bear one walk for it said, they say person the (sub.). Dog
- aká ci aŦéi-biamá. Kí ga^{n'}Ŧga^{n'}tō-ctówa^{n'}jí ci wasúbe wí^{n'} Ŧahé akí(sub.) the again went they say. And not even a little while again black bear one holding in he the mouth reached home
- biamá. Indaké, ja^{n'} cētō ma^{n'}ze-weti^{n'} ké Ŧtín-gā, á-biamá Waha^{n'}Ŧicige they say. Let us see, tree that (ob.) sword the with hit it said, they say Orphan
- aká. Ja^{n'} tō Ŧtí-bi Ŧi gabŦíŦéqti iŦéŦa-biamá nŦaci^{n'}ga aká. Wapé ké 18 the Tree the hit they when he knocked it down they say person the (sub.). Weapon the (ob.) (sub.) with it say very suddenly
- i^{n'}wacta-máji édega^{n'} ca^{n'} wí^{n'} tá minke há, á-biamá Waha^{n'}Ŧicige aká.
 I cannot spare it but yet I give will I who said, they say Orphan the (sub.).

- Wí cti éépanká cínudaⁿ panká jⁿwacta-máji édegaⁿ caⁿ wí'f tá minke
I too three (ob.) dog the (ob. pl.) I cannot spare but yet I give will I who
to you
- há, á-biamá nfaciⁿga aká. Kí cínudaⁿ panká 'í-biamá, maⁿze-wetiⁿ ké said, they say person the (sub.). And dog the (pl. ob.) he gave to him, sword the (ob.)
they say, they say,
- 3 edábe, Wahaⁿ'éicige. Gaⁿ'édiqti akíqaha aqá-biamá. Kí Wahaⁿ'éicige also Orphan. And just then apart went they say. And Orphan aká akí-biamá iyaⁿ éinké'di. Kí cínudaⁿ panká júwagge akí-biamá.
the (sub.) reached home, his by the (ob.). And dog the (pl. ob.) he with them reached home, they say.
the grandmother
- Kí iyaⁿ aká fhusá-biamá. Kí, Umaⁿ'e té éingé'qtiaⁿ hē. Eátaⁿ cínudaⁿ
And his grand- the scolded they say. And, Provisions the there are none Why dog mother (sub.) him
- 6 panká cé júwagge éagéi á. Yuⁿ'há, wéucii égaⁿ wabéiⁿwiⁿ há, á-the (pl. ob.) that you with them you have I Grandmother, useful as I bought them said come home
- biamá Wahaⁿ'éicige aká. Wa'újinga umaⁿ'e éingé áb égaⁿ íf ákie they say Orphan the (sub.) Old woman provisions there are said, having lodge standing thick
none they say
- amáza wéyigéige aqé 'íqá-biamá. Gaⁿ' wahaⁿ'-biamá. Jí ákie amáza to them to seek relief for going spoke they say. And removed they say. Lodge standing to them thick hereof
- 9 akí-biamá Gaqáqatci íf-biamá. Kí íf amá néuqicaⁿ jín'gaiⁿ éaⁿ é'di reached home, At one side she pitched the tent, they say. And the lodges lake not small the by
they say.
(ov. ob.)
- yaⁿ'ha ké íf amáma.
border the pitched they say.
tents
- Kí haⁿ'egaⁿtce xí xagé za'é'qtiaⁿ-biamá. Yuⁿ'há, eátaⁿ xagal á
And morning when crying they made a very great Grandmother, why they cry !
noise, they say.
- 12 á-biamá Wahaⁿ'éicige aká. Écpaqaⁿ'hél éan'aⁿji áqtaⁿ ádaⁿ, á-biamá said, they say Orphan the (sub.). O grandchild! you heard not how possible I said, they say
- wa'újinga aká. Wakan'dagi dadéqaⁿba aká níkagahi ijan'ge éinké old woman the (sub.). Water-monster seven heads the (sub.). chief his daughter the (ob.)
beuged they say. They not it tribe éaⁿ bēúga éahúni 'íqá-biamá.
of them draw into he spoke of, they
to him his mouth say.
- 15 Ádaⁿ íáqé etaf égaⁿ gígikaⁿ'i hē. Qa-í! á-biamá Wahaⁿ'éicige
There- to open his apt as they console with Whew! said, they say Orphan fore mouth her (a relation)
aká. Gaⁿ' wa'újinga, ákíqá-bádaⁿ t'éé etaf xí. E cé égiqaⁿ'ji-á hē.
the (sub.). Any- old woman, to attack and (pl.) kill him they ought. It that say not to (any one)
how, him
- Égiqaⁿ'i té' eté gíná'aⁿ-hnaⁿ'-biamá Wakan'dagi dadéqaⁿba aká.
(One) says it to when even he hears regu- they say Water-monster seven heads the (sub.).
(another)
- 18 Wa'újinga, é'di bēé tá minke há, á-biamá Wahaⁿ'éicige aká. Giákiqé Old woman, there I go will I who said, they say Orphan the (sub.) I cause her to be coming back
- tá minke wa'ú taⁿ. Gaⁿ' é'di aqá-biamá Wahaⁿ'éicige aka. Kí wa'ú will I who woman the (std. ob.). And there went they say Orphan the (sub.). And woman taⁿ ni yaⁿ'ha ké'di ugáck íqaⁿ'pa-biéinkéamá. Eátaⁿ éagéiⁿ á, the water border at the fastened put she had been, they Why you sit I (std. ob.) say.

á-biamá Waha'φicige aka. Wakan'dagi da'dé'φa'ba aká a'ná-biamá, said, they say Orphan the (sub.). Water-monster seven heads the (sub.) asked they say for me ki 'fi-báji xi ta'wang'φa' φa' b'úga φahún 'i'á-biamá, áda' i'á'a'φai and they gave to him not if tribe the (ob.) all swallow spoke of, they say there-fore I was put atí áta'phé. Ki φiekab' ega' g'ékí'á-biamá. φag'g'é taté φa'ja 3

I have come I who stand. And untied, they say having caused her to go home-ward, they say. You go shall though a'wa'ónaji te há wi g'é'wiki'φé té, á-biamá Waha'φicige aka. Ki you tell not of me will I caused you to go homeward (deed) said, they say Orphan the (sub.) And g'é' aná wa'ú φi'. Ké, Ma'ze-φa'qa', é'di ma'φin'-gá, á-biamá Waha'φ.

went they woman the (mv. on). Come Ma'ze-φa'qa' there walk said, they say Or-φicige aká. Ki éfnuda' aká é'gihaqti áá'φa biamá. Ga'éga'té-ctéwa'ji 6 phan the (sub.). And dog the (sub.) headlong had gone they say. Not even a little while é'φa'be áki'φa atí-biamá (Wakan'dagi aka). Ki, Ké, I'ú-é-φaci'je, é'di in sight to attack came they say (Water-monster the). And, Come, I've-φac'je, there ma'φin'-gá, á-biamá Waha'φicige aká. Ki júga ké'ja áki'φa wá'gajíwalk said, they say Orphan the (sub.). And body to the to attack he com- him mandated them biamá éfnuda' φanká. Ki Waha'φicige aka dá φa' áki'φa-biamá. 9 they say dog the (pl. ob.). And Orphan the (sub.) head the (ob.) attacked they say.

Wakan'dagi da'dé'φa'ba aká eka'-hna'i φan'di niú'φica' b'úga bicka'- Water-monster seven heads the (sub.) the moved regularly at the time lake the whole he made it move by his weight hna'-biamá. Ní φa' ma'táhaqti etí wá'φi' áki'g'g'é-hna'-biamá. Ga'éga'- regularly they say. Water the (ob.) far beneath too having them he had gone regularly they say. Not even té-ctéwa'ji etí é'φa'be ag'φi'-hna' biamá. É'gi'φe dá φa' wi' gasá-biamá 12 a little while again in sight they regu- came back larly they say. At length head the (ob.) one he cut they say

Waha'φicige aká. Ki t'é'ze φa' φizá-biamá Waha'φicige aká. Ki Orphan the (sub.). And tongue the (ob.) took they say Orphan the (sub.). And duba' áki'φa-bi xi t'é'φa-biamá ki t'é'ze wan'gi'φe φizá-biamá. Ki t'é'φe four times he attacked when he killed him, and tongue all he took, they say. And killing him φicta'-bi t'édí'hi wá'ge-sábé wi' ni xa'ha ké ugáca'-máma. Ki dá 15 finished they say when black man one water border the traveling was, they say. And head té i'φa-biamá. Ki é'ji t'édí wá'ngí'φe q' akí-biamá dá té. Ki wa'ú the found they say. And his at the all carry- ing reached home, head the (col. ob.). And woman aká akí-hna'i t'édí imaxe-hna'-biamá. É'bé-hna' gí'φiki'φe á, á-bi the reached regu- when questioned regu- they say. Who regu- larly has sent you I said, they say ctéwa', Ag'fí'φa-máji, é-hna'-biamá. Ki é'bé té fbaha' ga'φa éctéwa' 18 notwith- standing, I do not remember, she said regularly, they say. And who it was to know ga'φa desired notwith- standing fbaha'-báji-hna'-biamá.

they knew not regu- larly they say.

- Ki nīkagahi ūju aká lekíē-wákiē-biamá i'e'áge. Wi'aⁿ wa nīkagahi And chief princel. the caused orders to go they say old men. Which one chief
- ijan'ge činké gíēkiē é'te gēaⁿ te al áēa, á-biamá i'e'áge amá. Égiē his the one caused her it may marry may he indeed, said, they say old man the At length daughter who to come back he her says (pl. sub.).
- 3 wáge-sábē aká, Wiebēiⁿ, á-biamá. Wakan'dagi dādēēⁿba aká t'ēēēgaⁿ black man the I am he, said, they say. Water-monster seven heads the (ob.) I having killed him
- giēkiē wa'ú činké, á-biamá wáge-sábē aká. Nīkagahi ūju činké uēē
 I sent her woman the one said, they say black man the Chief princel. the one to I-ll hither who, (sub.). (sub.). him
- akl-biamá. Wáge-sábē aká é aká há, á-biamá. Wian'de i'ēiⁿ ēiⁿ gfi-gā, they reached home, they say. Black man the that is the one said, they say. My daughter's having him be ye coming husband for me
- 6 á-biamá nīkagahi ūju aká. Ki wáge-sábē iedá wan'giē i'bi egaⁿ ēdi i'ni said, they say chief princel. the And black man head all carried, having there carrying
- ahf-biamá nīkagahi ūju činké'di. Ki wa'ú činké imuxá-biamá. Čétaⁿ é á, arrived, they say chief princel. to the (st. ob.). And woman the he ques- tioned This he I
 (st. ob.). (std. ob.)
- giēkiē taⁿ. An'kaji hē, ājiqtiaⁿ hē, á-biamá wa'ú aká. Wiebēiⁿ há. Wí caused you the one to come who. Not so very different said, they say woman the I am he I (sub.).
- 9 t'ēēē há Wakan'da kē, á-biamá wáge-sábē aká. Caⁿ nīkagahi ūju aká
 I killed him Water-delty the said, they say black man the (sub.). And chief princel. the (ob.). (sub.).
- i-biamá wáge-sábē činké wa'ú činké. Min'gēaⁿ tēgaⁿ ūha-biamá Ki gave to him, black man the (st. ob.) woman the (st. ob.). To take a wife in order that they cooked, they And
 they say
- taⁿ wan'gēaⁿ ēaⁿ bēūga wēku-biamá. Ki Wahaⁿ čicige aká na'aⁿ-biamá.
 tribe the (ob.) all they were invited, they say. And Orphan the heard it they say.
 (sub.).
- 12 Wáge-sábē činké nīkagahi ijan'ge činké 'fi tē na'aⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ ūhaⁿ tē Black man the (st. ob.) chief his daughter the had given he heard, they say. And cooking the (st. ob.) to him
- éigēi tē wēbahaⁿ gēiⁿ-biamá, qubé aká gaⁿ wēbahaⁿ gēiⁿ-biamá. Ahaú!
 lading out when knowing it sat they say, sacred he was so knowing it sat they say. Ohó!
- Maⁿze-čaqaⁿ, ēdi ma'ēiⁿ-gā. Ūs'u ūdaⁿqti tē wiⁿ i'ēiⁿ gfi-gā, á-biamá Maⁿze-čaqaⁿ there go. Slice very good the one having come back, said, they say
 (col. ob.) for me
- 15 Wahaⁿ čicige aká. Činudaⁿ ačá-biamá. Ūhaⁿ tē éigēēqti gēiⁿ amáma ēdi Orphan the (sub.). Dog went they say. Cooking the just lading they were sitting, there
 they say
- ačá-bi tē caⁿcaⁿqti ūsu wēnac agēiⁿ-biamá. Čēēiⁿ čiqái-gā, ē'be činudaⁿ
 he went, when without stop- ping at all slice anatching went homeward, That pursue him, who dog
 they say
- čaiⁿ i'te. Čiqái-biamá. Agēiⁿ-biamá caⁿcaⁿqti Wahaⁿ čicige efi efi tē his it may Pursued him, they say Went homeward without stop- ping at all Orphan his his the (ob.).
- 18 égiha ákiūgēa-biamá. Wačiqe amá caⁿcaⁿ ē'di ahf-biamá qí tē'di.
 headlong had gone homeward they say. Pursuers the continuing there arrived, they say lodge at the.
 (pl. sub.).
- Činudaⁿ wačáhe gfi égaⁿ bēiqe pi, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, wí cuēēkiē, Dog the one carry- he came as I have come chas- ing him said (one), Yes, I I sent him to you,
 ing in his mouth back they say.
- á-biamá Wahaⁿ čicige aká. Wakan'dagi kečaⁿ wi t'ēēē, á-biamá Wahaⁿsaid, they say Orphan the (sub.). Water-monster the I I killed said, they say Wahaⁿ(past. ob.) him, Or.

- Ɔicige aká. ƆeƆe ɛti wan'gice bɛtzo, á-biamá. Cínudaⁿ ƆeƆaŋka aká 3 phan the (sub.). Yougoe too all I took, said, they say. Dog these both juáwagɛ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ uɛi ugɛá-biamá. Wahaⁿ Ɔicige aká é akédogaⁿ
 I with them, said, they say. And to tell it went homeward, they say. Orphan the he it was, but (sub.)
- é cínudaⁿ Ɔiⁿ ugɛtikieⁿ aká há ús'u kɛ. Kɪ é t'ɛa-bi á há Wakan'dagi kɛ, 3 he dog the came to come was. since the. And he killed he. Water-monster the (ob.)
 (mv. ob.) hither for it the one (ob.) him says (ob.)
- á-biamá nɛaciⁿga cínudaⁿ Ɔigɛ áhi aká. AgɛmaⁿƆiⁿ-gá, á-biamá nɛkagahi said, they say person dog chasing at the. Go ye for him, said, they say chief rived (sub.).
- úju aká. Gaⁿ agɛahiⁿ-biamá Kɪ ɔ'di aɛiⁿ akí-biamá Kɪ nɛkagahi aká prin- the And arrived for they say. And there having him reached home, And chief the (sub.) cipal (sub.) him they say, they say.
- wa'ú ɛinké inaxá biamá. ƆeƆiⁿ á gɛɛikieⁿ Ɔiⁿ, á-biamá nɛkagahi aká. 6 woman the (ob.) questioned they say. This he who sent thee said, they say chief the (sub.)
 (mv. ob.) her back, (sub.)
- Aⁿhaⁿ, ɛé hɛ, á-biamá wa'ú aká. Kɛ', ugɛá-gá, á-biamá nɛkagahi aká.
 Yes, it is he said, they say woman the (sub.). Come, confess ye, said, they say chief ye.
 (sub.)
- Wahaⁿ Ɔicige taⁿ ɛtaⁿ Ɔiⁿ ugɛá ágaɛiⁿ-biamá. Kɪ ugɛá-biamá Wahaⁿ Ɔicige Orphan the he first to confess he commanded him, And confessed, they say Orphan (std. ob.) they say.
- aká. Wahuⁿtaⁿ Ɔiⁿ aɛiⁿ i téditaⁿ cínudaⁿ waɛiⁿ wiⁿ ɛaŋká ɛtɛwaⁿ ugɛá-biamá. 9
 the Gun (bow) he had it from the dog bought them the (pl. ob.) even acknowledged, they (sub.) say.
- Wakan'dagi kɛ t'ɛai tɛ' ɛti ugɛá-biamá. Kɛ', ugɛá-gá, wáqɛ-sábɛ, á-biamá Water-monster the killed the too acknowledged, they Come, confess, black man, said, they say (ob.) (fact) say.
- Wahaⁿ Ɔicige aká. Íntaⁿ! áci bɛɛ kaⁿ bɛa há, á-biamá wáqɛ-sábɛ aká.
 Orphan the Hold on! outside I go I wish said, they say black man the (sub.)
 (sub.)
- Uɛaⁿ i-gá, á-biamá Wahaⁿ Ɔicige aká. Wáqɛ-sábɛ ɛinké wiⁿ kaji amá, 12
 Take hold of him said, they say Orphan the Black man the (ob.) did not speak truly they say, (sub.)
- ádaⁿ usá-biamá. Wahaⁿ Ɔicige aká nɛkagahi ijan'ge ɛinke gaⁿ gɛiⁿ - there- they burnt him, Orphan the chief his daughter the (ob.) after married (sub.) fore they say. (sub.) all (f) bet
- biamá. Cetaⁿ.
 they say. So far.

NOTES.

108, 1. wahuⁿtaⁿ Ɔiⁿ. See Notes on "Ietnike and the Deserted Children." Here it may be the bow, as the Orphan calls it maⁿ, an arrow. See the next version. The sword is the only other word in this version, which seems of foreign origin.

109, 6. ƆeƆaŋke-i, probably intended for ƆeƆaŋka ɛé há, these are they.

109, 11. cínudaⁿ taⁿ, ama, i. e., cínudaⁿ ama taⁿ, "the other dog that is standing."

109, 13. gaⁿegaⁿtɛ-ɛtɛwaⁿji, from gaⁿegaⁿtɛ, a slight while, diminutive of gaⁿtɛ, a while; and ɛtɛwaⁿji (negative of ɛtɛwaⁿ) not even. The dogs had gone not even a little while; they returned almost immediately: "they had gone no time."

109, 15. Iná-ɛaɛije, peculiar to this version. Joseph La Flèche gives Ni-uha-maⁿ Ɔiⁿ instead of it; but the Ponka chiefs say that these names belong to different myths.

109, 18. gabɛije-ɛti ƆeƆa-biamá. He knocked it down very suddenly, sending the splinters flying in all directions.

110, 5-6. cínudaⁿ ɛaŋka ɛe, etc., instead of cínudaⁿ ɛeƆaŋka.

110, 8. ákie amaja. The old woman did not live near the rest of the people; her lodge was far to one side.

110, 11. za'ëqtia^a-biana, pronounced za+ëqtia^a-biana by Frank La Flèche.

110, 12. épaça^ahë is used; but ɰepaça^ahë is the better form.

110, 15. iaçe etai ega^a, etc.: "The monster is apt to open his mouth (and devour her), so the relations are condoling with her."

110, 16. t'ep etai ɰi, contraction from t'eçë etai ɰi, they ought to kill him.

110, 20. iça^aɰa-biçĩkëama. They say that she had been put in a sitting posture, in which she remained till the Orphan found her.

111, 2-3. iça^aɰai ati ata^ahe, "I have come hither, and am here now where they placed me." Ata^ahe should not be translated literally ("I who stand"), but "I am now" (i. e., just at this moment); on the other hand aɰhe and miñke (from "çĩñke") denote a longer continuance.

111, 3. çickab ega^a, contraction from çicka-bi ega^a. See "çicke," in the Dictionary.

111, 13. ɰeçeze, literally, "buffalo-tongue." See "çeze" and "ɰeçeze" in Dictionary.

111, 14. duba^a, four times, that is, four days.

111, 15. waçe-sabë. Some say that this was Ietinike, who cheated the Orphan, and married the eldest daughter of the chief. He was not put to death at that time. The Orphan received the second daughter for his wife. The adventures of the Orphan in this variation are almost identical with those of the young Rabbit, pp. 50-54.

113, 2. Waha^açicige aka e akedega^a (a^aɰa^abáha^a-báji aũ'gata^a ɰa^açti): "The Orphan was he who did it, but (we continued ignorant of it in the past)," an elliptical expression.

113, 3. e t'eça-bi ai, he said in our presence that he killed him.

TRANSLATION.

The Orphan had a bow (gun). Whatsoever bird he shot at with it, he never missed. And he went hunting. And he met a man who was with two dogs that were very white all over. And the man carried a sword on his arm. "My friend, what have you?" said the man. "My friend, I have an arrow," said the Orphan. "No matter what I shoot at with it, I never miss." "Let us see, my friend. Shoot at that thing," said the man, pointing at a very small bird that was sitting. And the Orphan shot at it and killed it. "My friend, truly do I love your weapon," said the man. "I will buy it from you." "My friend, I cannot spare it. What could you possibly give me?" said the Orphan. "I will give you these dogs and this sword," said the man. "Do the dogs scent game?" said the Orphan. "Yes, they scent them. No matter what animal one causes them to go for, they invariably bring it back, dragging it as they hold it with their teeth. And no matter what I hit with this sword, I always kill it with the blow," said the man. And the Orphan said, "Let us see. Make one of the dogs go after a deer." "Ho! Ma^aze-çaga^a, go for a deer," said the man. The dog had gone headlong into a thicket. And scarcely any time had passed when he returned bringing a deer, which he made cry repeatedly by holding it in his mouth. "Let us see. Send the other one," said the Orphan. "Ho! I^a-çacije, go for a black bear," said the man. The dog departed. And scarcely any time had elapsed when he returned with a black bear which he held with his mouth. "Let us see. Strike that tree with the sword," said the Orphan. When the man hit the tree with it, he knocked it down very suddenly. "I cannot spare the weapon, but still I will give it to you," said the Orphan. "I too cannot spare these dogs, but still I will give them to you," said the man. And he gave the dogs and the sword to the Orphan. And just then they separated. And the Orphan went home to his grandmother. And he reached home with the dogs. And his grandmother scolded him. And she said "All of the food is gone. Why have you brought those dogs home?" "Grandmother, as they are useful I bought them," said the Orphan. The old woman having said that there were no provisions, spoke of going to the lodges which were standing close together, to seek relief for herself. And they removed, and returned to the lodges standing close together. They camped far at one side (or, far apart from them). And the villagers pitched their tents by the shore of a large lake. And in the morning they made a very great noise crying. "Grandmother, why do they cry?" said the Orphan. "O grandchild, how is it possible that you did not hear?" said the old woman. "The Water-monster with seven heads has asked them for the chief's daughter. If they do not give her to him, he threatens to devour the whole tribe. Therefore, as he is apt to open his mouth, they (her relations) are condoling with her." "Whew!" said the Orphan. "At any rate, old woman, they ought to attack him and kill him." "Do not say that. The Water-monster with seven heads invariably hears, even when one says anything to another." "Old woman, I will go thither," said the Orphan. "I will cause the woman to come home." And the Orphan went thither. And the woman had been placed fastened by the shore of the stream. "Why are you here?" said the Orphan. "The Water-monster with seven heads asked for me; and if they did not give me to him, he threatened to swallow all the tribe. Therefore I have come hither, and am now where they placed me." And having untied her, he made her go home. "Though you shall go home, please do not tell about me, that I sent you home," said the Orphan. And the woman went home. "Come, Ma'ze-ŋaqa, go thither," said the Orphan. And the dog went headlong into the water. Hardly any time had elapsed when the Water-monster came in sight to attack him. And the Orphan said, "Come, I'ŋ-ŋacŋe, go thither." And he commanded the dogs to attack him at the body. And the Orphan attacked the head. And whenever the Water-monster with seven heads moved, he made the whole lake move by his weight (i. e., all the water was agitated). He kept carrying the dogs with him far beneath the water. Hardly any time had elapsed when they came back in sight. At length the Orphan cut off one head. And the Orphan took the tongue. And when he had attacked the Water-monster four times, he killed him. And he took all of the tongues. And when he finished killing him, a black man was traveling along the shore of the water. And he found the heads. And he carried all the heads on his back, reaching his home at the lodge. And whenever the woman reached home, they invariably asked her, "Who sent you home?" Notwithstanding that, she always said, "I do not remember." And notwithstanding they desired to know who it was, they never knew. And the head-chief caused old men to go around as criers. The old men said, "The chief has said in our presence that whosoever it may be who caused the chief's daughter to come home, he can marry her." At length the black man said, "I am he. I killed the Water-monster with seven heads and sent the woman home." They reached home, and told the head-chief. "The black man is he," said they. "Bring my daughter's husband hither for me," said the head-chief. And the black man having carried all the heads on his back, he took them to the head-chief. And the chief questioned the woman: "Is this one he who sent you back?" "No, he is a very different one," said the woman. "I am he. I killed the Water-monster," said the black man. And the head-chief gave the woman to the black man. They cooked for the marriage. And all of the tribe were invited to the feast. And the Orphan heard it. He heard that the chief's daughter had been given to the black man. And he sat knowing when they laded the meat out of the kettles. He was sacred, so he sat knowing it. "Oho! Ma^{ze}-Ɔuqa", go thither. Bring back for me one of the best slices," said the Orphan. The dog departed. At the very time they were lading them eat out of the kettles, he went thither, and without stopping he snatched a slice and went homeward. "Pursue that one, whosoever the dog may be." They pursued him. He went homeward without stopping at all, and had gone right into the lodge of the Orphan. The pursuers continuing, arrived at the lodge. "A dog came back hither carrying something in his mouth, so I have come chasing him," said one. "Yes, I sent him to you," said the Orphan. "I killed the Water-monster that was. I took all the tongues. I had both these dogs with me." And they went homeward to tell it, "It was the Orphan, but we did not know it then. It was he who sent the dog hither after the slice of meat. And he said that he killed the Water-monster," said the men who had pursued the dog and arrived at the Orphan's. "Go ye for him," said the head-chief. And they went thither for him. And they brought him back. And the chief questioned the woman, "Is this one coming he who sent you back?" said the chief. "Yes, it is he," said the woman. "Come, confess ye," said the chief, addressing the Orphan and the black man. He commanded the Orphan to confess first. And the Orphan told his story. He told his story from the time he had the bow. He confessed even about buying the dogs. He acknowledged, too, that he had killed the Water-monster. "Come, black man, confess," said the Orphan. "Hold on! I wish to go outside," said the black man. "Take hold of him," said the Orphan. The black man did not tell the truth, therefore they burnt him. And thus, after all, the Orphan married the chief's daughter. The End.

WAHA^ƆICIGE AND WAKANDAGI.

JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE'S VERSION.

Nújĩnga wi^{n'} ugácaⁿ aƆá-biamá, waqpániqtei nújĩnga amá, ca^{n'} ɛí boy one traveling went they say, poor very boy they say in lodge Ɔĩngé'qti, níaciⁿga ɛtəwa^{n'} Ɔĩngé'qti ugácaⁿ maⁿƆĩ^{n'}-biamá. Kí ɛgiƆe none at all, person even none at all traveling walked they say. And at length 3 sabújiqtei wabáƆeƆeze jĩn'ga wi^{n'} Ɔa biamá. WabáƆeƆeze jĩn'ga daⁿbá-suddenly vary book (writing) small one found they say. Book small saw biamá ɛí ɛgiƆe, WahútaⁿƆĩⁿ wi^{n'} wi'í tá mĩnke, á-biƆaⁿamá. Kí Ɔé they say when behold, Roaring weapon one I give you will I who said the writing, And went they say when roaring weapon the found they say. And then roaring weapon they took they say.
 (ob.) (ob.) (ob.)

- nújĩnga taⁿ wahútaⁿŦiⁿ Ŧizégaⁿ gañ'ki wabágŦeze jin'ga daⁿbá-bi Ŧi, boy the roaring weapon having taken and book small saw it when,
 (std. ob.) is said
- o'aⁿ gáxe taté giaⁿ/za-bitéamá wahútaⁿŦiⁿ ké. Gañ'ki nújĩnga aká how to do shall he was taught, they say roaring weapon the (ob.). And boy the (sub.)
- wahútaⁿŦiⁿ ké Ŧizá-bi egaⁿ maqúde ují-biamá, maⁿ/ze-maⁿ eti ugŦaⁿŦiⁿ 3 roaring weapon the (ob.) took they having powder put they say, shot too put in
- biamá. Gaⁿ cyú wiⁿ Ŧa-bi egaⁿ nújĩnga aká kída-bi egaⁿ umúqpaŦathey say. And prairie one found they having boy the shot they having made fall by chicken say shooting
- bi egaⁿ t'éŦa-biamá cyú Ŧiñké. Níaciⁿga wahútaⁿŦiⁿ etéwaⁿ íbahaⁿthey having killed they say prairie chicken the (ob.). People roaring weapon even knew say it
- buji-biamá. Gañ'ki aŦá-biamá Ŧi, ei íáqti wiⁿ daⁿbá-biamá. Íáqti daⁿbá- 6 not they say. And went they say when, again deer one saw they say. Deer one saw
- bi egaⁿ ei kída-biamá. Ei t'éŦa-biamá. Éđłhi nújĩnga aká, WahútaⁿŦiⁿ they having again shot at they say. Again killed it, they say. Then boy the Roaring weapon
 say (sub.)
- ké údaⁿ ínahiⁿ áhaⁿ, eŦégaⁿ-biamá. Ei aŦá-bi ŦiŦi, ei íáqti wiⁿ Ŧathe good truly ! thought they say. Again went they when, again deer one found (ob.) say
- biamá. Gaⁿ ei íáqti t'éŦa-bi egaⁿ gíŦéqtiáⁿ-biamá nújĩnga aká. Wahú- 9 they say. And again deer killed they having he was very they say boy the Roaring (ob.) say glad (sub.)
- taⁿŦiⁿ ké údaⁿ ínahiⁿ áhaⁿ, eŦégaⁿ-bi egaⁿ gíŦéqtiáⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ égiŦe weapon the good truly ! thought they having he was very they say. And at length (ob.) say glad
- níaciⁿga wiⁿ íe naⁿaⁿ-biamá. QŦabé eugáqti maⁿ/taja maⁿŦiⁿ-biamá.
 person one talking he heard they say. Tree very dense within walked they say.
- Cínudaⁿ-ma wágaji átiágŦa-biamá. Hú! hú! hú! hú! á-biamá. Cínudaⁿ 12
 The dogs commanded suddenly they say. Hu! hu! hu! hu! said, they say. Dog
- ábae-wákiŦá biamá. Kí nújĩnga aká Wahaⁿ/Ŧicige aká jaⁿ/ ákaⁿ najiⁿ-to hunt he caused them they say. And boy the Orphan the tree leaning stood (sub.) (sub.) against
- biamá, íŦináqŦe najiⁿ-biamá; cínudaⁿ naⁿ/wapi-bi egaⁿ wahútaⁿŦiⁿ agŦaⁿŦiⁿ
 they say, hiding himself stood they say; dog he feared them they having roaring weapon had his own
 say
- najiⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ égiŦe cínudaⁿ amá nújĩnga taⁿ Ŧa-biamá. Gaⁿ égiŦe 15 stood they say. And at length dog the boy the found they say. And at length
 (pl. sub.) (std. ob.)
- níaciⁿga aká é'di ahí-biamá. Níaciⁿga aká é'di ahí-bi egaⁿ ukía-man the there arrived, they say. Man the there arrived, they say having spoke to (sub.) (sub.) him
- biamá. Eátaⁿ eéké ahniⁿ á. WahútaⁿŦiⁿ ké ímaxá-biamá, wahútaⁿŦiⁿ they say. Why that you have ! Roaring weapon the he ques. they say, roaring weapon (ob.) (ob.) (ob.)
- íbahaⁿ/Ŧi egaⁿ. Kí nújĩnga gá-biamá: Edádaⁿ waníha íaⁿ/be Ŧi í'éáŦé 18 he know not because. And boy said as follows, What animal I see when I kill with it
 they say
- Ŧiⁿ/Ŧi, beáŦe-hnaⁿ-maⁿ ádaⁿ abŦiⁿ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ, Hín'degaⁿ/! cyú cétaⁿ when, I eat it inva- I do therefore I have it, said he, they And, Let me see! prairie- that riably say. (sub.) chicken
- kída-gñ, á-biamá. Nújĩnga aká cyú taⁿ kída-bi Ŧi t'éŦa-biamá. Hín-shoot at it, said, they say. Boy the prairie- the shot at they when killed they say. Let me (sub.) chicken (std. ob.) say it

- daké, kagá, íwípaⁿbe taf. Ípa-gá wahútaⁿçiⁿ ké. Gañ'ki 'i-bi xi daⁿbásee, O friend, let me see your property Hand it to me roaring weapon the (ob.). And he gave to when he looked at it
- bi xi: Kagé, údaⁿ ínahiⁿ aoniⁿ áhaⁿ, á-biamá. Kí, Hindá! kagé, ingaⁿthey when: Friend, good truly you have I said, they say. And, Stop! friend, teach it
- 3 za-gá, á-biamá. Giaⁿza-biamá. Gañ'ki cyú wiⁿ kída-biamá xi t'éça-to me, said, they say. Taught him they say. And prairie- one shot at they say when killed it chicken
- biamá niáciⁿga aká. Kag'cha, wahútaⁿçiⁿ ké wíßçiⁿwiⁿ kaⁿ'bça, á-they say man the (sub.). O friend, roaring weapon the (ob.) I buy from you I wish, said
- biamá niáciⁿga aká. Kí nújinga aká uqí'agá-biamá. Egaⁿçaⁿ'ja iⁿ-they say man the (sub.). And boy the (sub.) was un- willing they say. Although so I
- 6 waeta-múji, á-biamá. Kí niáciⁿga aká: Wí údaⁿ áta wí' te há, á-cannot spare it, said, they say. And man the (sub.): I good beyond I give will said
- biamá. Kí, Edádaⁿ aⁿ'çá'í tídaⁿ, á-biamá nújinga aká. Cínudaⁿ çanká they say. And, What you give me will I said, they say boy the (sub.). Dog the (pl. ob.)
- naⁿbá-biamá. Cínudaⁿ çéçanká akiwa wí' te há, á-biamá. Kí, Edádaⁿ two they say. Dog these both I give will said, they say. And, What
- 9 wéçaxe taté cínudaⁿ çanka, á-biamá. Ábaewaçakiçé té, á-biamá.
I do with them shall dog the (pl. ob.) said, they say. You cause them to hunt will, said, they say.
- Hmdegaⁿ'! Wajaⁿ'be te há. Ábae wágajjigá. Kí niáciⁿga aká cínudaⁿ Let me see! I see will To hunt command them. And man the (sub.) dog
- taⁿ íjaje çadá-biamá: Ni-úha-maⁿ'çiⁿ-ál! jáqti wiⁿ agímaⁿ'çinⁿ-gá, á-biamá.
the name called they say: Walks-following-the stream O! deer one walk for it, said, they say.
- 12 Çi, Maⁿ'ze-çagaⁿ-á! wasábe wiⁿ agímaⁿ'çinⁿ-gá, á-biamá. Kí Ni-úha-maⁿ'çiⁿ Again, Breaks-iron-with his-teeth O! black bear one walk for it, said, they say. And Ni-úha-maⁿ'çiⁿ
- aká jáqti wiⁿ uqçé'qtcí açiⁿ akí-biamá. Çi Maⁿ'ze-çagaⁿ aká çí wasábe the deer one very soon having reached they say. Again, Maⁿ'ze-çagaⁿ the again black bear
(sub.)
- wiⁿ uqçé'qtcí açiⁿ akí-biamá. Kí nújinga aká cínudaⁿ-ma qíwáçá-one very soon having reached they say. And boy the (sub.) the dogs loved them
- 15 biamá. Kí wahútaⁿçiⁿ 'i-biamá nfkaciⁿga áma taⁿ. Çi nújinga taⁿ they say. And roaring weapon he gave to him, man the other the (std. ob.). Again boy the (std. ob.)
- cínudaⁿ çanká 'i-biamá. Gaⁿ niáciⁿga aká, Wí údaⁿ átaqti wí' há, dog the (pl. ob.) he gave to him, And man the (sub.) I good very I give they say, jon
- á-biamá. Maⁿ'ze-wetiⁿ cti edábe wí' há, á-biamá. Kí nújinga aká, said, they say. Sword too also I give you said, they say. And boy the (sub.),
- 18 Wí cti údaⁿ wí' há, á-biamá. Edádaⁿ waníja íçákide ctewaⁿ í'eáçé-
I too good I give jon said, they say. What animal with it I notwith- standing I kill with it
- hnaⁿ-maⁿ éde abçiⁿ há, á-biamá. Kí, Ingaⁿ'za-gá há, wahútaⁿçiⁿ ké, inva- I do but I have it said, they say. And Teach me roaring weapon the (ob.),
- á-biamá. Gaⁿ giaⁿ'za-biamá. Úckaⁿ íbahaⁿ gaⁿ'çá-biamá wahútaⁿçiⁿ ké.
said, they say. And taught him they say. Deed (use) to know wished they say roaring weapon the (ob.).

- Ci áma aká: Kageha, ingaⁿza-gā cínudaⁿ ɸánká, á-biamá. Cínudaⁿ Again the (sub.): O friend, teach me dog the (pl. ob.) said, they say. Dog
- ɸánká edádaⁿ gáxe weɸéckaⁿhna ɸi, cínudaⁿ ijáje waɸáde-hnan'-ga.
 the (pl. ob.) what to do you wish them it, dog his name you call them regularly.
- Gaⁿ gaxái-gā, ecé ɸi, égaⁿ gáxe-hnaⁿ taité, á-biamá. Kí maⁿ'ze-wetiⁿ 3
 Thus do ye you say if, so do invariably they shall, said he, they And sword
- ɸé cti ingaⁿza-gā, á-biamá. Edádaⁿ téqi áɸakipa ɸi aⁿɸásiɸá-daⁿ this too teach me, he said, they say. What difficult you meet if me you think and
- maⁿ'ze-wetiⁿ ké ɸizé-adaⁿ wétiⁿ abáha-hnan'-gā há, á-biamá áma aká.
 sword the (ob.) take and to strike make the always said, they say the other the (sub.).
- Téqiqti ctéctewaⁿ caⁿ égaⁿ-hnaⁿ taité, á-biamá. Gaⁿ akíɸaha aɸá- 6
 Very difficult notwithstanding still so always (it) shall said, they say. And apart went
- biamá Akíɸaha aɸá-bi ɸi nújinga aká cínudaⁿ ɸánká júwagɸe aɸáthey say. Apart went they when boy the (sub.) dog the (pl. ob.) he with them went
- biamá, ci áma aká wahútaⁿɸiⁿ ké aɸiⁿ aɸá-biamá. Nújinga taⁿ'waŋɸaⁿ they say again the the roaring weapon the having went, they say. Boy tribe
- édedíɸaⁿ kan'gəqtcí ahí-biamá. Kan'gəqtcí ahí-bi ɸi mactin'ge úne 9 the one that was there very near arrived, they say. Very near arrived, when rabbit to hunt them
- wáqají-biamá nújinga aká. Maⁿ'ze-ɸáqaⁿ-á, Ni-úha-maⁿ'ɸiⁿ éɸaⁿ'ba, ma-commanded they say boy the (sub.). Maⁿ'ze-ɸáqaⁿ O! Ni-úha-maⁿ'ɸiⁿ also rab-
- ctin'ge únai-gā, á-biamá Kí mactin'ge úna-bi ɸi mactin'ge hégaɸtēbit hunt ye them he said, they say. And rabbit hunted them, when rabbit a very great
- waⁿ'jì t'éwaɸá-biamá cínudaⁿ amá. Kí nújinga aká mactin'ge hégaɸtē- 12 number killed them they say dog the (pl. sub.). And boy the (sub.) rabbit a very great
- waⁿ'jì waⁿ'iⁿ-biamá. Kí wá'ujinga wiⁿ gaqáɸaqtí ɸi ɸínké amá. É'di number carried them on his back they say. And old woman one very far apart had pitched her tent they say. There
- ahí-biamá nújinga amá. Wá'ujinga ɸínké'di ahí-bi egaⁿ, Mactin'ge arrived, they say boy the (sub.). Old woman by the (ob.) arrived, having, Rabbit
- céɸánká wáɸizágā há, á-biamá. Híⁿ! júɸaɸaⁿ+ mactin'ge ingí'ɸi tí- 15 those take them said, they say. Oh! my grandchild! rabbit carrying has for me come
- ena+, á-biamá. ɸaⁿ'há, pahan'ga akíɸaha mactin'ge ɸánká wiⁿ wa'í-
 I said she, they Grandmother before apart (apiece) rabbit the (pl. ob.) one give to
- gā há, cínudaⁿ ɸánká, ɸi hácidaⁿ wahnáte táce, á-biamá Égaⁿ gaxáthey , dog the (pl. ob.) you afterward you eat must said he, they say. So did
- biamá wá'ujinga aká. Gaⁿ égiɸe níkaciⁿga taⁿ'waŋɸaⁿ hégaɸj'qti ecaⁿ'- 18 they say old woman the (sub.). And at length people tribe a very great number close
- adi gɸiⁿ amá xagé za'ɸqtiⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ nújinga aká gá-biamá: ɸaⁿ'há, to sat they say crying made a very great noise they say. And boy the said as follows, Grand-mother, they say:
- eátaⁿ xagáí á, á-biamá. Aⁿ'haⁿ, Wakan'dagi dadéɸaⁿ'ba édegaⁿ níkagahi why they cry I said he, they say. Yes, Water-monster seven heads but chief

120 THE FEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- ijan'ge fasni' 'ičai' ega' nřkagahi ijan'ge fasni'-báji ɣi, ta'waŋɣa' his daugh- to swallow spoke of having chief his daughter swallow her tribe ter her
- bɣúgaqti fasni' 'ičai' ega' ɛ'di aɕi' aɕé tá ama hé, áda' xagaí hě, all to swallow spoke of having there having her go they will therefore they cry
- 3 á-biamá Kí, ɣa'há, cáta' Wakan'dagi daɕɕa'ba t'ɕɕa-báji á, á-biamá said she, they And, Grandmother why Water-monster seven heads they do not say. say. kill him
- nújĩnga aká. Hi'+! júpaɕa'+! ɕgiɕa'ji-á hě. Qubaf' éga' ɕgiɕa' ɣi boy the (sub.). Oh! my grandchild! do not say it! (any neg. sacred as (one) says it he knows invariably said she, they say. And, He knows matter if yet grandmother they kill him if to (another) if
- wébaha'-hna'f hě, á-biamá. Kí, Wébaha' ɕete ca' ɣa'há, t'ɕɕai ɣi he knows invariably said she, they say. And, He knows matter if yet grandmother they kill him if
- 6 úda' há, á-biamá Égiɕe wanáɕe amá nřkagahi ijan'ge ɕĩnké aɕi' aɕi' good said, they say. At length soldier the (pl. sub.) chief his daughter the (ob.) having her went
he
- biamá Wakan'dagi daɕɕa'ba ɕĩnké'za. Kí nújĩnga aká ɛ'di aɕi'-biamá.
they say Water-monster seven heads to the (ob.). And boy the (sub.) there went, they say.
- Éduřha-báji, gaɕɕaba ma'ɕi'-biamá Kan'ge aɕi' ahí-bi ɣi wa'ú ɕĩnké
He did not join them, at a place out- walked they say. Near having they reached, when woman the (ob.)
side of her they say
- 9 ɛ'di ɕékiɕa'-biamá wanáɕe amá, hebádi na'ɕta'-bi ega'. Kí nújĩnga there sent her they say soldier the (pl. sub.) on the way stopped they say having. And boy
- aká, Waha'ɕiɕe aká, ɕta'ɕi' ni ɣa'ha ké'za ahí-biamá; Wakan'- the (sub.), Orphan the (sub.) he first water border to the arrived, they say; Water-
- dagi daɕɕa'ba ɛ'di ɕta'ɕi' ahí-biamá nújĩnga aká. Égiɕe wa'ú aká monster seven heads there he first arrived, they say boy the (sub.). At length woman the (sub.)
- 12 ɛdi ahí-biamá nújĩnga tan'di. Nújĩnga aká wáɕaha úda'qti ɣiɣáxa-there arrived, they say boy by the (atd.). Boy the (sub.) clothing very good made for himself
- bi ega', ma'ze-weti' ɕti aɕi' akáma. Kí wa'ú ta' ukía-bi ega', Áwadi they having award too bad they say. And woman the talked they having, On what say (std. ob.) to her say business
- ɕatf' á, á-biamá nújĩnga aká. Hi'+! ná! ɕanó'a'ji áqta' áda', á-biamá you have come said, they say boy the (sub.). Oh! why! you have not how heard possible said, they say
- 15 wa'ú aká. A'ha', aná'a'-máji, á-biamá nújĩnga aká. Wakándagi daɕɕ-woman the (sub.). Yea I have not heard it said, they say boy the (sub.). Water-monster so on
- ɕa'ba aká a'fasni' 'ičai' ega' atfí hě. A'fasni'-báji ɣi ca'qti ta'waŋɣa' heads the to swallow spoke of having I have He does not swal- If then, alas! tribe (sub.) me of come low me (f)
- bɣúgaqti fasni' 'ičai' ega' atfí hě, á-biamá. Kí nújĩnga aká, Maŋɣɕi'f-all of to swallow he spoke of having I have said she, they And boy the (sub.), he of say.
- 18 gá, á-biamá Kí wa'ú aká, Hi'+! ɕagɕé etéde, ɕi níaci'ga uɕúɕika'- gone, said he, they say. And woman the (sub.), Oh! you should have gone, you man you dressed
- píqti ɕáta'ɕé. Égiɕe Wakan'dagi daɕɕa'ba aká t'ɕɕe taí, á-biamá.
very well you who stand. Beware Water-monster seven heads the (sub.) kill you lest said she,
they say.
- An'kaji, ɕi maŋɕi'f-gá, á-biamá nújĩnga aká. Ga' wa'ú aká aɕɕá-
Not so, you he gone said, they say boy the (sub.). And woman the went (sub.) homeward

- biamá. Waⁿá Ɔíⁿ gǎé ɣí nújǐnga aká ní ɣaⁿ'ha ké'di a-ínajǐ'-biamá.
they say. Woman (mv. ob.) the went when boy the water border by the came and they say.
- Maⁿ'ze-ǎíqáⁿ-á, ǎáhi híǎeqti ɕan'di ǎǎǎǎ ɕátaⁿ'éǎ te há. Ní-úha-Maⁿ'ze-ǎíqáⁿ-á. O! neck lowest part by the there you who stand will NI-úhamaⁿ'ǎíⁿ-á, sín'de híǎeqti ɕan'di ǎǎǎǎ ɕátaⁿ'éǎ te há, á-biamá. Ɔínudaⁿ 3 maⁿ'ǎíⁿ-á. O! tail right at the by the there you who will said, they say. Dog
- aká akiwa ní ɕaⁿ maⁿ'táha áííɕa-biamá. Éǎíǎ. Wakan'dagi ǎǎǎǎⁿba the (sub.) both water the (ob.) underneath had gone, they say. At length Water-monster seven heads
- aká ǎá ɕaⁿ wíⁿ ɕawáǎíoná-biamá ɕínudaⁿ aká. Gaⁿ'ki nújǐnga aká the (sub.) head the (ob.) one made appear by they say dog the (sub.). And boy the (sub.)
- maⁿ'ze-wetiⁿ ɕízǎ-bi egaⁿ ǎá ɕaⁿ gasá-biamá Wakan'dagi ǎǎǎǎⁿba. 6 sword took they say having head the (ob.) cut off they say Water-monster seven heads
- Gaⁿ'ki, Kǎ, ɕan'gaxǎǎ gǎ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ' nújǐnga aká Wakan'dagi
And, Come do enough (= case) he said, they say. And boy the (sub.) Water-monster
- ǎǎǎǎⁿba ǎá ɕaⁿ ɕéze ɕízǎ-biamá. Gaⁿ'ki ǎá ɕaⁿ ní ɣaⁿ'ha ké'di seven heads head the (ob.) tongue took they say. And head the water border by the
- aⁿ'ɕa-biamá, gaⁿ' ɕéǎze ɕaⁿ aǎíⁿ aǎí-biamá nújǐnga aká. 9 threw they say and tongue the (ob.) having went they say boy the (sub.).
- ǎí ɕaⁿ kan'ge akí-bi, Maⁿǐn'ge únai-gǎ, á-biamá, ɕínudaⁿ ɕan'ká.
Lodges the (pl. ob.) near reached home, they say. Rabbit hunt ye for said he, they say, dog the (pl. ob.).
- Maⁿǐn'ge uǎǎíwíⁿwaǎí-bi egaⁿ waⁿ'íⁿ-biamá Wahaⁿ'ɕicige aká. Wá'ujǐnga Rabbit collected them, they say having carried them Orphan the (sub.). Old woman
- ɕínké'di waⁿ'íⁿ akí-biamá, maⁿǐn'ge ɕan'ká. ɣaⁿ'há, maⁿǐn'ge ɕéɕan'ká 12 by the (ob.) carrying he reached home, they say, rabbit the (pl. ob.). Grandmother, rabbit those
- waⁿ'íⁿ aǎǎí, á-biamá. Híⁿ+! ɕúǎpacaⁿ+! maⁿǐn'ge íngǎíⁿ gǎí-ena+, á-biamá carrying I have said, they say. Oh! my grandchild! rabbit carrying has come home said, they say
- wá'ujǐnga aká. Kí maⁿǐn'ge wáǎízǎ-biamá. ɣaⁿ'há, gǎǎíⁿ iⁿǎíⁿgǎǎí-gǎ, old woman the (sub.). And rabbit took them they say. Grandmother, that put on something for me
- á-bi egaⁿ ɕéze ɕaⁿ wá'ujǐnga ɕízǎ-bi egaⁿ nan'de iǎaⁿ'ɕa-biamá. Ɔínudaⁿ 15 he said, he having tongue the (ob.) old woman took, they having side of lodge put it they say. Dog
- ɕan'ká, ɣaⁿ'há, é pahan'ga akíǎaha maⁿǐn'ge wíⁿ waⁿ'í-gǎ há, á-biamá
the (pl. ob.), grand mother, that before both (pieces) rabbit one give to them said he, they say
- Uǎǎé ɕan'ká ɕíǎíha há, á-biamá. Gaⁿ'ki haⁿ'egaⁿ'tee ɣí xagǎ za'ǎ'qíǎ-Remain- the (pl. ob.) your own said he, they say. And morning when crying made a very great noise
- biamá taⁿ'wǎǎǎǎⁿ-máǎí. Gaⁿ', ɣaⁿ'há, eátaⁿ, á-biamá nújǐnga aká. Híⁿ+! 18 they say those in the tribe. And, Grandmother, wherefore, said, they say boy the (sub.). Oh!
- ɕúǎpacaⁿ, edé ɕínké ehaⁿ+. Míⁿ'jǐnga níǎagahi íǎǎ'ge ɕínké qǎǎa my grandchild, what is he saying! (fem.) Girl chief his daughter the (one who) back again
- akí am'ǎga ei ǎí'di aǎíⁿ aǎé gaⁿ'ǎí ǎgaⁿ xǎǎǎí hǎ, á-biamá. ɣaⁿ'há, Wa-she reached home, and there having to go they wish as they cry said she, they say. Grand- Water-mother.

122 THE FEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- kan'dagi daḍeḥa^{ba} t'ēē tai. Eātaⁿ t'ēē-bāji ā, ā-biamá nūjīga aká.
monster seven heads let them kill him. Why they do not kill him I said, they say boy the (sub.).
- !Júepaⁿ! qubé hégabaji, naⁿpai hé. Bēuga nfkaciⁿga naⁿpai hé, O grandchild! sacred very, they fear him. All people they fear him
- 3 ā-biamá. Cí nūjīga aká ē'di aḥa-biamá. Ní kē étaⁿḥiⁿ a-inajiⁿ-biamá.
said she, they Again boy the there went they say. Water the he first came and they say. (fig. ob.) stood
- Gaⁿ wanáce amá ci wa'ú cinké ē'di aḥiⁿ aḥa-biamá. Kan'ge aḥiⁿ aḥi-bi
And soldiers the again woman the (ob.) there having went they say. Near having arrived, they say (pl. sub.) her
- ḡi ē'di cēkiḥa-biamá. Kí wanáce aḥa-biamá. Gaⁿ wa'ú amá ē'di aḥa-when there sent her they say. And soldier went homeward, As woman the there went they say. (mv. sub.)
- 6 biamá ní fan'di. Kí égiḥe nūjīga aká ēdedi akáma ci, ní ḡaⁿha kē'di.
they say water by the (ob.). And at length boy the there he was, they again, water border by the (sub.) say (ob.).
- Nūjīga aká, Eātaⁿ ci ā, ā-biamá wa'ú taⁿ é waká-bi egaⁿ. Híⁿ! ná!
Boy the Why you I said, they say woman the that he meant, having. Oh! pain! (sub.), come (std. ob.), they say
- ḡagḡé etéde, ḥi nīaciⁿga uḥuḥikaⁿpiḡti ḡátaⁿcé. Égiḥe Wakan'dagi daḍé- you should have gone homeward you man you are dressed very you who stand. Beware Water-monster seven
- 9 ḥaⁿba aká t'ēēci tai, ā-biamá. An'kaji, ḥi māḡḡiⁿ-gā, ā-biamá nūjīga heads the he will kill you, said she, they Not so, you begone, said, they say boy (sub.) saⁿ
- aká. Kí wa'ú aká aḡa-biamá. Gaⁿ ci ní kē'di aḥi-biamá nūjīga aká the And woman the went homeward, they say. And again water by the arrived, they say boy the (sub.) (sub.)
- Cínudaⁿ ḥanáká úwagḡiá-biamá. Ní-úha-maⁿḥiⁿ-á! ḡáhi hídeḡti fan'di Dog the (pl. ob.) he talked with they say. Ní-úha-maⁿḥiⁿ O! neck the very by the bottom
- 12 ēdedi ḡátaⁿcé te há, Maⁿze-ḡaḡaⁿ-á! sin'de hídeḡti fan'di ēdedi ḡátaⁿcé te there you will stand Maⁿze-ḡaḡaⁿ O! tail the very by the there you will stand root
- há, ā-biamá. Gaⁿ cínudaⁿ aká ní kē égiha áiiḥa-biamá. Égiha áiiḥa-said, they say. And dog the water the headlong had gone, they say. Headlong had gone (sub.) (ob.)
- biamá ḡi égiḥe Wakan'dagi daḍeḥa^{ba} ḡa naⁿba ḥawáḡiⁿá-biamá.
they say when at length Water-monster seven heads head two they made ap-pear by biting they say.
- 15 Nūjīga ḡá ḥaⁿ akíwa gasá-biamá. Ḥéze ḥaⁿ wáḡiá-bi egaⁿ ḡá ḥaⁿ ni Boy head the both out off, they say. Tongue the took them, they having head the water (ob.) say (ob.)
- ḡaⁿha kē'di aⁿḥi-bi egaⁿ aḡa-biamá. Gaⁿ ḡi tē kan'ge akí-bi ci border by the threw away, having went homeward, they say. And lodge the near reached again home, they say (ob.)
- mactiⁿge úna-biamá. ḡaⁿhá, cēḥanáká mactiⁿge wáḡiá-gā, ā-biamá.
rabbit he hunted them, they say. Grandmother, those rabbit take them, said, they say.
- 18 Kí wa'ujin'ga ci mactiⁿge wáḡiá-biamá. ḡaⁿhá, ḥéze ḥaⁿ iⁿḥin'ḡan-gā,
And old woman again rabbit took them they say. Grand- tongue the put on something for mother (ob.) me,
- ā-biamá. Cí jaⁿ-biamá. Haⁿ amá. Cí haⁿegaⁿtce xagc za'ḡḡiáⁿhe said, they Again slept they say. Night they say. Again morning crying made a very great noise say.

- biamá Ųaⁿhá, eátaⁿ xagal á gáama, á-biamá. OpaŲaⁿ+, nŲkagahi ijan'ge they say. Grand- why they cry ! those, said, they say. O grandchild, chief his daughter
- Ųínkē qáŲa kí amégaⁿ gíkaⁿ égaⁿ xagal hē, á-biamá. Cí ē'di aŲiⁿ aŲá-the (ob.) back again she came home, to console as they cry said she, Agnia there having went
- biamá nŲkagahi ijan'ge Ųínkē wanáŲe amá. Cí nújinga étaⁿŲiⁿ ní Ųaⁿhá 3 they say chief his daughter the (ob.) soldier the (pl. sub.). Again boy he first water border
- kē'di ahí-biamá. WáŲaba udaⁿŲti ŲiŲáŲa-biamá. Cí wa'ú aká ē'di by the arrived, they say. Clothing very good he made for they say. Again woman the (sub.) there
- ahí-biamá. Nújinga taⁿ é waká-bi egaⁿ, CŲáŲi eté Ųi, á-biamá wa'ú aká.
arrived, they say. Boy the that she meant, having. You ought not to come said, they say woman the (sub.)
- ÉgiŲe Wakan'dagi daŲéŲaⁿba aká t'ēŲiŲe taí hē, á-biamá. Kí nújinga aká, 6 Bowato, Water-monster seven heads the he kill lest said she, they And boy the (sub.),
- Ankaji há, Ųi maŲŲeŲiⁿ-gá, á-biamá. Hau, wa'ú aká aŲá-biamá. AŲá-bi Not so you begone, said he, they Well, woman the went homeward, they say. Ward, they say
- Ųi nújinga aká, Maⁿze-ŲáŲaⁿ-á! dáhi híŲéŲti Ųan'di édedí ŲátaⁿŲé te há.
when boy the (sub.), Maⁿze-ŲáŲaⁿ O! neck the very bottom by the édedí ŲátaⁿŲé te há. you will stand
- Ni-úha-maⁿŲiⁿ-á! sín'de híŲéŲti Ųan'di édedí ŲátaⁿŲé te há, á-biamá. 9
Ni-úha-maⁿŲiⁿ O! tall very root of by the there you will stand said, they say.
- Cínudaⁿ aká akiwa ní Ųaⁿ maⁿtáha áíŲa-biamá. ÉgiŲe Wakan'dagi daŲé-Dog the (sub.) both water the (ob.) beneath had gone they say. At length Water-monster seven
- Ųaⁿba dá ŲábŲiⁿ ŲaŲéŲaⁿba-biamá cínudaⁿ aká. Gaⁿ nújinga aká dá tē heads head three made emerge they say dog the (sub.). And boy the head the
- gasá-biamá ŲábŲiⁿ. Gaⁿ Ųéze tē Ųízú-bi egaⁿ dá tē aⁿŲa-bi egaⁿ 12 cut off they say three. And tongue the look, they having head the (ob.) they say, having
- aŲá-biamá. (Miⁿjinga Ųi ŲaⁿŲá kí-hnaⁿ Ųan'di ugŲá gaⁿŲa ctēwaⁿ Ųi'á-went homeward, they say. (Girl) lodges to the reached home, when to confess wished notwithstanding failed
- onaⁿ amá.) Gaⁿ aŲá-bi Ųi mactiⁿge cí úna-biamá. Mactiⁿge áhigi invariably they say. And went home-when rabbit again them hurried, Rabbit many
- úna-bi egaⁿ waⁿŲiⁿ akí-biamá. Wá'ujinga Ųínkēdi akí-bi egaⁿ Ųéze 15 hunted them, having carrying them reached home, Old woman by the (ob.) reached home, having tongue
- ŲábŲiⁿ cí 'f-biamá. Ųaⁿhá, gátē itēiⁿŲiⁿkiŲá-gá, á-biamá. Hau! ma-three again he gave to her, Grandmother, that put away mine for me, said he, they Ho! ma-
(col. ob.) say. rab-
- etiⁿge cēŲanka wácizá-daⁿ cínudaⁿ akiwa wiⁿ wa'f-gá há, á-biamá. Hau, bit those take them and dog both one give to them said he, they Well,
- jaⁿ-biamá cí.
slept, they say again.
- Cí haⁿegaⁿtee Ųi cí níŲiⁿga-ma xagé za'ē'Ųtiaⁿ-biamá taⁿwangŲaⁿ.
Again morning when again people the crying made a very they say among those in
- mádi. Ųaⁿhá, gúamá eátaⁿ xagal á, á-biamá. ŲúŲaŲaⁿ! nŲkagahi ijan'ge the tribe. Grand- those why they cry ! said he, they O grandchild! chief his daughter

124 THE ƆEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- Ɔĩnké ci qáƆa ki amégaⁿ ǎ'di aƆĩⁿ aƆé gaⁿ Ɔai égaⁿ xagé améƆe, á-biamá.
 the (ob.) again back she reached home there having to go they wish as they are crying said she, they again as her indeed say.
- Ɔaⁿhá, Wakan'dagi dadéƆaⁿba t'éƆe taí. Éataⁿ t'Ɔa-báji á, á-biamá Grandmother Water-monster seven heads let them kill him. Why they do not kill him I said, they say
- 3 nújĩnga aká. Ɔaⁿbaⁿ éƆiƆaⁿji-á hǎ. ÉƆiƆaⁿ Ɔi t'ƆiƆe taí, á-biamá wá'ujĩnga boy the (sub.). A second say it not to It is said if he will kill you, said, they say old woman time (any one) to (any one)
- aká. Gaⁿ waníƆe amá ci aƆĩⁿ aƆi-biamá miⁿjĩnga Ɔiⁿ. Kĩ nújĩnga amá the And soldier the again having went they say girl the boy the (sub.) (pl. sub.) her (mv. sub.) (mv. sub.)
- ǎ'di aƆi-bi égaⁿ ci étaⁿ Ɔiⁿ ahi-biamá ni Ɔaⁿha ké'di. Kĩ miⁿjĩnga amá there went, they having again he first arrived, they say water border at the, And girl the say (mv. sub.) (mv. sub.)
- 6 ǎ'di ahi-biamá. Ci nújĩnga aká, MañƆin'-gá. Éataⁿ Ɔi é'ite, á-biamá.
 there arrived, they say. Again boy the (sub.) Begone. Why do you come? said they say.
 ho
- Wa'á amá agƆá-biamá ci. Ni-úha-maⁿ Ɔiⁿ-á, dáhi hídeƆti Ɔan'di Ɔanájĩⁿ te Woman the went homeward, again. Ni-úha-maⁿ Ɔiⁿ Ol neck the very by the you stand will (mv. sub.) they say (mv. sub.) bottom
- há. Maⁿze-ƆáƆaⁿ-á, sín'de hídeƆti Ɔan'di Ɔanájĩⁿ te há, á-biamá. Ɔnudaⁿ Maⁿze-ƆáƆaⁿ Ol tail the very root by the you stand will said, they say. Dog
- 9 akiwa ní ké ǎ'di éƆihe áiaƆa-biamá. UƆéƆ'qtei dá wiⁿáqtei ƆaéƆaⁿbá-both water the ǎ'di there headlong had gone, they say. Very soon head one made emerge (ob.) (ob.) by biting
- biamá. Gaⁿ nújĩnga aká dá Ɔaⁿ gasá-biamá. Ɔéze Ɔaⁿ Ɔizá-biamá dá they say. And boy the head the cut off they say. Tongue the took it they say. Head (sub.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.)
- tǎ égaƆéze ni Ɔaⁿha kédi itéƆa-biamá. Gaⁿ nújĩnga amá agƆá-bi Ɔi the in a row water border by the put them, they say. And boy the went home-when
 (col. ob.) (mv. sub.) ward, they say
- 12 éƆiƆe wáƆe-sábǎ ni Ɔaⁿha ké uhá maⁿƆiⁿ-biamá. Já tǎ Ɔa-biamá it hap- black man water border the follow- ing walked they say. Head the found, they say pened (ob.) (col. ob.)
- wáƆe-sábǎ aká. In' agƆá-biamá wáƆe-sábǎ aká Wakan'dagi dadéƆaⁿba black man the Carry- went homeward, black man the (sub.). Water-monster seven heads
 (sub.) they say
- aká t'ƆaƆé há, á-biamá. Gaⁿ, Huhú! wáƆe-sábǎ Ɔéamá Wakan'dagi dadéƆaⁿba the I killed him said, they say. And, Really! black man this Water-monster seven heads
 who
- 15 dá tǎ Ɔiⁿ agƆá, á-biamá. Níkagahi Ɔi tǎ Ɔa Ɔiⁿ mañƆin'-gá, á-biamá.
 head the carry- has come said they, they Chief lodge to the carry- begone said they, they
 (col. ob.) (ob.) say. ing
- É'ia Ɔiⁿ ahi-biamá. Gaⁿ, Já tǎ águdi hnize á, á-biamá níkagahi aká Kĩ, Thither carry- he arrived, they And, Head the where you took I said, they say chief the (sub.). And,
 ing (col. ob.) them
- Wakan'dagi dadéƆaⁿba aké édegaⁿ t'ƆaƆé, á-biamá wáƆe-sábǎ aká. Gaⁿ, Water-monster seven heads the one but I killed said, they say black man the (sub.). And, who him
- 18 Haul Ɔi t'ƆaƆé Ɔiⁿ Ɔiⁿ gajĩnga wiwíja ƆagƆaⁿ taté, á-biamá níkagahi aká.
 Ho! you you killed him if ch'ld my own you marry shall said, they say chief the him her (sub.)
- Gaⁿ úha-biamá, waƆáte gaxá-biamá. Níkaciⁿga beúgaƆti miñ'gƆaⁿ t'Ɔgaⁿ
 And cooked, they say, food made they say. People all to marry in order that

wéku-biama. Cin'gajin'ga wiwŋa wáqe-sábē gŋaⁿ te ecal ɣi gŋaⁿ taté hā.
invited they say. Child my own black man he marry may ye say if he marry shall
them

Ki nŋaciⁿga amá gú-biamá: Aⁿhaⁿ, taⁿ wāŋgŋaⁿ bŋŋa nŋawaŋaí hā, ádaⁿ
And people the said as follows. Yes, tribe all he saved us there-
(pl. sub.) they say: fore

gŋaⁿ te ecal ɣi gŋaⁿ te hā, á-biamá.
he may ye say if he marry may said they, they marry her her say.

3

Ki nŋjinga aká fbahaⁿ gŋiⁿ-biamá, wáqe-súbē wa'ú ɕínké gŋaⁿ taté;
And boy the (sub.) knowing eat they say, black man woman the (ob.) marry shall it her gŋa-báji gŋiⁿ-biamá. Gú-biamá nŋjinga aká: Maⁿze-ɕáŋaⁿ-á, é'di glad not eat they say. Said as follows, boy the (sub.): Maⁿze-ɕáŋaⁿ Oí é'di they say: there maⁿɕin'-gá hā. Min'gŋaⁿ tégaⁿ úhaⁿ tē ús'u wiⁿ ɕahé gí-gá, á-biamá. 6 walk thou He marry her in order that cooked the slice one carrying come back, he said, they

say.

ɕinudaⁿ amá é'di aŋá-biamá. ɕinudaⁿ ɕaⁿbe hí ɣi nŋaciⁿga amá, ɕinudaⁿ Dog the (mv. sub.) there went they say. Dog in sight ar. when people the (pl. sub.), Dog
said.

údaⁿ ínahiⁿ tí áhaⁿ, á-biamá. ɕinudaⁿ aká wáŋate ɕan'di aŋá-bi egaⁿ ús'u good truly has come I said they, they Dog the (sub.) table by the went, they having slice
say.

wiⁿ ɕahé aŋá-biamá. Hu-hú! ɕinudaⁿ ɕiⁿ píŋji héŋaji gŋxai. ɕiŋáí-gá, 9 one carrying he went homeward, Really! dog the bad very he has done. Pursue ye in the mouth they say. (mv. one.) him á-biamá nŋaciⁿga amá. Ki wá'ujinga ɣi tē'di ɕahé aki-biamá. ɕinudaⁿ said, they say people the And old woman lodge by the carrying he reached home, Dog

(pl. sub.) they say. in his mouth

ɕínké nŋaciⁿga eŋá ɕínké edábeⁿ ahniⁿ cki te, á-biamá nŋagahi aká.
the (ob.) man his the (ob.) also you have you come will, said, they say chief the him back (sub.).

Wanáce-ma gáxe wáŋají-biamá. Ki wanáce amá wá'ujinga ɣi tē'ja ahí-bi 12
The soldiers to do it commanded they say. And soldier the old woman lodge at the arrived, they say
them

ɣi éŋiŋe nŋaciⁿga ɕinudaⁿ eŋá aká nŋaciⁿga uŋúkaⁿ píŋti wáŋaha údaⁿ qti when behold man dog his the (sub.) man dressed very well clothing very good akáma. Ki wanáce é'di ahí-bi ɣi nŋaciⁿga ɕínké ábagŋá-biamá. Ki, was, they say. And soldier there arrived, when man the drew back they say. And, they say (st. ob.) from him through shame

Awádi catí éiⁿte, á-biamá nŋjinga aká. Aⁿhaⁿ, ɕinudaⁿ min'gŋaⁿ tégaⁿ 15 For what have you come I said, they say boy the (sub.). Yes dog wedding for the úhaⁿ tē wáŋate ɕahé gí tē daⁿbe tiawakiŋaí, á-biamá. Nŋaciⁿga eŋá cooked the food in his coming as to see him he caused us to said they, they Man his mouth back come say.

ɕínké edábe júangŋe aŋgŋe tá-bi af hā, á-biamá. Kú, maŋgŋiⁿ-i-gá.
the one also we with him we go home- shall he said, they, they Come, begone ye.
who ward say.

Cubŋé tá minké'ce, á-biamá nŋjinga aká. Gaⁿ nŋjinga aká wáŋaha údaⁿ qti 18
I go to you will I who must said, they say boy the And boy the clothing very good ɣiŋáxa-bi egaⁿ ɕéze tē aŋiⁿ-bi egaⁿ é'di aŋá-biamá. Ki wáqe-sábē aká made for him. having tongue the had them, having there went they say. And black man the said, they say (col. ob.) they say (sub.).
(sub.)

126 THE CEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- cetaⁿ ʔí tē'di ahf-baji-bitámá, ʔí wēdaji gēiⁿ tē Egiçe ē'di ahf-biamá so far lodge by the had not reached it, they say lodge elsewhere he sat. At length there arrived, they say
- nújinga aká, tēfēze aḡiⁿ-bi egaⁿ. Edádaⁿ wibēipii-máji egaⁿ wanáçe boy the (sub.) tongue had them, having. What I did wrong to you because soldier
they say
- 3 an'gihfwaḡakiḡaí ā, ā-biamá. Wakan'dagi wiⁿ taⁿ waḡḡaⁿ ḡaⁿ enⁿ qti ḡḡasniⁿ you made them come for I said he, they Water-monster one tribe the in spite of to devour me say everything you
- tá akēdegaⁿ t'ēwikipiⁿ há. Eátaⁿ wanáçe aⁿ ḡizewaḡakiḡaí ā, ā-biamá.
will he was the I killed him for Why soldier you caused them to take me I said he, they one, but you say
- ḡaⁿ ḡátē Wakan'dagi ḡadḡḡaⁿba ḡéze tē, ā-bi egaⁿ nḡkagahi ḡínkē 'f-biamá.
And that (col.) Water-monster seven heads tongue the said having chief the (ob.) gave to him, they say
(col. ob.) they say
- 6 ḡaⁿ, É ḡínkē Wakan'dagi ḡadḡḡaⁿba t'ēḡḡ ḡínkē, wian'de ēē há, ā-biamá
And, That he who Water-monster seven heads killed him he who my daughter's it is said, they say husband he
- nḡkagahi aká. Miⁿjinga ḡan'ki júḡḡe ḡein'kiḡa-biamá wáḡe-sábē iḡáḡḡaⁿ.
chief the (sub.) Girl and with her made him sit they say black man his wife.
- Aⁿ'haⁿ, dádihá, ēē hē, ā-biamá, nú é waká-bi egaⁿ. ḡan'ki nḡkagahi Yea, O father, it is he said she, they man him she meant, having. And chief
say
- 9 aká, Wáḡe-sábē ḡínkē aḡiⁿ ḡli-gā, ā-biamá Kí wanáçe aḡiḡaḡa-biamá
the (sub.) Black man the (ob.) having him be ye return, said, they say. And soldier went for him, they say.
Ing
- Aḡiⁿ akf-biamá wáḡe-sábē taⁿ. ḡaⁿ uḡúciḡa iḡaⁿḡa nujin'kiḡa-bi egaⁿ Having reached home, black man the And in the middle putting him made him stand, they having him they say (std. ob.) say
- waw'cmaxá-biamá. Kí, Áwatéḡijaⁿ ʔi Wakan'dagi ḡadḡḡaⁿba kē t'ēḡḡḡ ā, questioned him they say. And How you did when Water-monster seven heads the you killed I (past ob.) him
- 12 ā-biamá. ḡaⁿ, É'di pí egaⁿ áakfḡe egaⁿ t'ēḡḡ, ā-biamá. Kí, Edádaⁿ said he, they And, There I having I attacked having I killed said he, they And, What say reached him him say
- t'ēḡḡḡ ā, ā-biamá. Máhiⁿ t'ēḡḡḡ, ā-biamá. Egiçe wa'ú aká nú ḡínkē you killed him with I said, they say. Knife I killed him said, they say. At length woman the man the (ob.)
with say (sub.)
- júḡḡe ḡaⁿbe atf-biamá. Dádihá, ḡéē hē, nú ḡínkē Wakándagi ḡadḡḡaⁿba with him in sight came, they say. O father, this is he man the one Water-monster seven heads
who
- 15 t'ēḡḡ ḡínkē, níaⁿḡḡ ḡínkē ḡéē hē, ā-biamá. Wáḡe-sábē ḡínkē uḡaⁿi-gā, ā-bi killed the one he saved me the one this is said she, they Black man the (ob.) held him, said, him who who he say they say
- egaⁿ áci aḡiⁿ aḡá-bi egaⁿ náqudeḡaⁿ-biamá.
having out having went, they having caused him to they say.
him say be burnt

NOTES.

Mrs. La Flèche says that a part of this myth is of French origin; this includes "the gun, paper, powder, shot, sword, table, and the white man's food for the marriage-feast." She agrees with others in considering the rest of the myth as of Indian origin.

Mr. Sanssouci, an Omaha half-caste and ex-interpreter, says that the man put the gun and paper where he knew the Orphan would be sure to find them. Yet in the myth itself it is said that the man knew not what the gun was.

- 110, 1. waqpaniqtei, pronounced waqpa+niqtei by the narrator.
 118, 1. iwijabe, from igida^abe; iŋa-gā, from iŋē, to cause to be coming, etc.
 119, 16. akiŋaha maetiŋge ŋaŋka wi^a wa'i-gā hā—akiŋaha, apart, apiece, hence both:
 "Give each dog one of the rabbits, but place them apart, each one by itself."
 119, 18. hegajiqti, pronounced he+gajiqti.
 119, 18; 121, 17; 122, 10; 123, 19. za'ēqtia^a-biama, pronounced za+ēqtia^a-biama.
 120, 2; 120, 17. bēgaqti, pronounced bē+gaqti.
 120, 8. gacibaŋa ma'ŋi^a-biama. He did not walk in their ranks (baza^a, or gaza^aadi), but outside of them (gacibe), and to a place outside of their ranks (gacibaŋa).
 120, 12; 123, 4; 125, 18. uda^aqti, pronounced u+da^aqti.
 121, 13. ŋeapaŋa^a, iŋgi^a ŋi-ena^a. The first time that the Orphan brought the rabbits to her lodge, it was not his home: so the old woman used iŋgi^a ti; but now she uses ŋi instead of ti, as he lives with her.
 124, 1. xage ameŋē, contracted from xage ama ēŋē.
 126, 7. waŋe-sabe igaqen^a, his promised wife.

TRANSLATION.

A boy went traveling. The boy was very poor; he continued wandering about without a lodge, without any kindred at all. And at length he suddenly found a small writing. When he found the writing, behold, it said, "I will give you a gun." And as he went he found the gun. And then he took the gun. And the boy having taken the gun, when he looked at the small writing, he was taught what the gun did. And the boy took the gun, and put in powder and shot. And having found a prairie-chicken, the boy shot at it, knocked it down, and killed it. The people (i. e., Indians) knew nothing at all about guns. And when he departed, he saw a deer. Having seen a deer he shot at it, and killed it. Then the boy thought, "Truly the gun is good!" And as he went, again he saw a deer. And having killed a deer, again the boy was very glad. Having thought, "Truly the gun is good," he was very glad. And at length he heard a person speaking. He was walking in very dense woods. He urged on his dogs suddenly. He said, "Hu! hu! hu! hu!" He made the dogs hunt game. And the boy, who was the Orphan, stood leaning against a tree, he stood hiding himself. As he feared to see the dogs, he stood holding his gun. And at length the dogs discovered the boy. And at length the man went thither and spoke to him. "Why do you have that?" He asked him about the gun, as he did not know what the gun was. And the boy said as follows, "When I see any animal, I kill it with it, and I always eat it, therefore I keep it." And the man said, "Let me see. Shoot at yonder standing prairie-chicken." When the boy shot at the prairie-chicken, he killed it. "Let me see! O friend, let me see your property. Hand the gun to me." And when the boy gave it to him, he looked at it and said, "Friend, you have indeed a good thing." And he said, "Stop, friend, teach me how to use it." He taught him. And when the man shot at a prairie-chicken, he killed it. "O, friend, I wish to buy the gun from you," said the man. And the boy was unwilling. "Nevertheless, I cannot spare it," said he. And the man said, "I will give you something better." "And what can you give me?" said the boy. The dogs were two. "I will give you both of these dogs," he said. And the boy said, "What can I do with the dogs?" Said he, "You can cause them to hunt for game." "Come, now, I wish to see. Command them to hunt." And the man called the dogs by name. "Here, Ni-uha-ma'çi, go for a deer. Here, Ma'ze-çaga, go for a black bear." And Ni-uha-ma'çi got back very soon with a deer; and Ma'ze-çaga soon returned with a black bear. And the boy loved the dogs, and he gave the gun to the other man. And the man gave the dogs to the boy. And the man said, "I have given you something very good. I give you a sword too." And the boy said, "I too have given you something good. Whatsoever animal I shot at with it, I killed, hence I had it." And the man said, "Teach me how to use the gun." And he taught him. He wished to know the ways of the gun. And the other said, "My friend, teach me about the dogs." Said he, "If you wish the dogs to do anything, call the dogs by name, and when you say, 'Do thus and so,' they will always do so." "And teach me about this sword too," he said. The other said, "If you get into any trouble, think of me, seize this sword, and threaten to strike with it (i. e., make the motion). Even if it should be the greatest possible difficulty, still it shall be so (and not otherwise)," said he. And they parted. When they parted, the boy went away with the dogs, and the other one carried the gun away. The boy came very near a tribe that was there. When he got very near, the boy commanded them to hunt rabbits. "Ma'ze-çaga and Ni-uha-ma'çi, hunt for rabbits," said he. And when the dogs hunted for rabbits, they killed a great many rabbits. And the boy carried a great many rabbits on his back. And there was an old woman who pitched her tent far apart from the village. The boy went thither. When he arrived there he said, "Take those rabbits." "Oh! my grandson has come bringing rabbits to me!" she said. "Grandmother, first give one of the rabbits to each dog; you shall eat afterward." The old woman did so. At length the people, who dwelt in a very populous village near by, made a great noise by crying. And the boy said as follows: "Grandmother, why do they cry?" "Yes, the Water-monster with seven heads has spoken of swallowing the chief's daughter, and if he does not swallow the chief's daughter, he threatens to devour the whole tribe; so they will take her thither; therefore they cry," said she. And the boy said, "Grandmother, why do they not kill the Water-monster with seven heads?" "Oh! my grandchild, do not say it to any one. As he is sacred, if it be said to any one he invariably knows it," said she. "No matter if he does know it, grandmother, if he were killed it would be well," he said. At length the soldiers went to the Water-monster with seven heads, taking the chief's daughter. And the boy went thither. He did not join them; he went another way. When the soldiers had gone near with her, they sent the woman thither, they having stopped before reaching there. And the boy, the Orphan, reached the water's edge first; the boy arrived before her at the place where the Water-monster with seven heads. At length the woman arrived at the place where the boy stood. The boy had made for himself very good clothing; and he had the sword too. And he spoke to the (standing) woman: "Why have you come?" "Oh! fie! Is it possible that you have not heard it?" said the woman. "Yes, it is true that I have not heard," said the boy. "I have come because the Water-monster with seven heads threatened to devour me. If he does not devour me, then—fearful to think of!—he threatens to devour the whole village. So I have come," said she. And the boy said, "Begone." And the woman said, "Oh! You should have gone home, you who are a very fine-looking man. Beware lest the water-monster with seven heads kill you." "No, begone thou," said the boy. And the woman went home. When the woman had gone home, the boy went and stood by the edge of the water. "O Ma'ze-ūaqa! you are he who will stand where the bottom of his neck is. O Ni-uha-maⁿⁱ! you are he who will stand where the very root of his tail is," he said. Both the dogs went under the water. At length they caused one of the heads of the Water-monster with seven heads to appear. And the boy, seizing his sword, cut off the head of the Water-monster with seven heads. And he said, "Come, cease." And the boy took the tongue of the head of the seven-headed Water-monster. And he threw away the head by the edge of the water. And the boy took the tongue away. When he drew near the village, he said, "Hunt ye rabbits." Having collected the rabbits, the Orphan carried them in a pack. He carried the rabbits home in a pack to the old woman. "Grandmother, I have come home carrying those rabbits." "Oh! my grandchild has come bringing rabbits in a pack for me!" said the old woman. And she took the rabbits. "Grandmother, put that on something for me," he said. And the old woman, having taken the tongue, placed it by the side of the lodge. "Grandmother," said he, "first give the dogs one rabbit apiece; the rest are yours." And when it was morning, they made a very great noise, crying among the villagers. And the boy said, "Grandmother, what is the matter?" "Oh! what is my grandchild saying, as he sits! They are crying because the chief's daughter came home, and they wish to take her away again." "Grandmother, let them kill the Water-monster with seven heads. Why do they not kill him?" "My grandchild! he is very sacred, they fear him. All the people fear him," said she. Again the boy went thither. He went and stood by the water, in advance of the soldiers. And the soldiers took the woman away again. When they drew near they sent her thither. And the soldiers went home. And the woman went thither, to the water. And behold, the boy was there by the edge of the water. And the boy said, "Why have you come?"—meaning the woman. "Oh! psha!" said she, "you should have gone home, you who are so fine looking a person. Beware lest the Water-monster with seven heads kill you." "No, begone thou," said the boy. And the woman went home. And the boy went again to the water. He spoke to his dogs: "O Ni-uha-maⁿⁱ! you are he who will stand by the very bottom of the neck. O Ma^{ze}-ūaqa! you are he who will stand there by the very root of the tail." And the dogs went headlong into the water. When they had gone headlong into the water, it happened that they caused two of the heads of the seven-headed Water-monster to appear. And the boy cut off both heads. Having taken the tongues, he threw away the heads on the bank, and went home. And when he drew near the lodge, he hunted rabbits again. "Grandmother," said he, "take those rabbits." And the old woman took the rabbits. "Grandmother, put the tongues on something for me." And he slept again. It was night. In the morning they cried again, making a very great noise. "Grandmother, why do those cry?" said he. "My grandchild, the chief's daughter having come home, they cry to condole with her." Again the soldiers took the chief's daughter away. And the boy reached the edge of the water first. He had made very excellent clothing for himself. The woman went thither again. Referring to the boy, the woman said, "You ought not to come. Beware lest the Water-monster with seven heads kill you." And the boy said, "No, begone thou." Well, the woman went home. When she had gone home, the boy said, "O Ma^{ze}-ūaqa! you are he who will stand where the bottom of his neck is. O Ni-uha-maⁿⁱ! you are he who will stand where the very root of his tail is." And both dogs went beneath the water. And the dogs bit the seven-headed Water-monster, causing three of his heads to appear. And the boy cut off the three heads. And having taken the tongues, he threw away the heads, and went home. Though the girl wished to tell about herself every time that she reached home, she always failed. And having gone homeward, the boy hunted rabbits. Having hunted a great many rabbits, he carried them home in a pack. Having come back to the old woman, he gave her the three tongues. "Grandmother, put those away for me. Ho! take those rabbits and give the dogs one apiece," said he. Well, they slept. In the morning again did the people make a very great noise by crying. "Grandmother," said he, "why are those crying?" Said she, "My grandchild, the chief's daughter having come home again, they wish to take her thither; therefore they are crying." "Grandmother, they ought to kill the Water-monster with seven heads. Why do they not kill him?" said the boy. "Do not say that again to any one. If it be said to any one, he will kill you," said the old woman. And the soldiers took the girl away again. And the boy having gone thither, was again the first to reach the edge of the water. And the girl came thither. And the boy said, "Begone. Why have you come?" The woman went home. And he said "O Ni nba-ma"phi! you will stand by the very bottom of his neck. O Ma"ze-ḥaqa! you will stand by the very root of his tail." And both dogs went down into the water. Very soon they bit the remaining head, causing it to emerge from the water. And the boy cut off the head. He took the tongue. He placed all the heads in a row on the bank of the stream. And when the boy went homeward, it came to pass that a black man walked along the bank of the stream. The black man found the heads. The black man carried the heads away. The black man said, "I have killed the Water-monster with seven heads." And they said, "Really! This black man has come home carrying in a pack the heads of the seven-headed Water-monster. Begone with them to the chief's tent." He carried them thither. And the chief said, "Where did you get the heads?" And the black man said, "There was a Water-monster with seven heads, but I killed him." And the chief said, "Well, if you killed him, you shall marry my daughter." And they cooked; they prepared food. All the people were invited to the marriage-feast. And the chief said to the people, "If you say that the black man may marry my child, he shall surely marry her." And the people said as follows: "Yes, he has saved us, the whole tribe, therefore if you say that he may marry her, let him marry her." And the boy sat knowing it. He sat sorrowful, because the black man was to marry the woman. The boy said as follows: "O Ma"ze-ḥaqa, go thither. Bring back in your mouth a slice of the meat that is cooked for the marriage-feast." The dog went thither. When the dog came in sight the people said, "A very fine dog has come!" The dog went to the table, and went homeward, carrying a slice in his mouth. "Really! The dog has done very wrong. Pursue him," said the people. And he reached his home at the lodge of the old woman, carrying the meat in his mouth. The chief said, "Return ye with the dog and his owner too." He commanded the soldiers to do this. And when the soldiers reached the lodge of the old woman, behold, the man who was the owner of the dog was a very good-looking man, and he had on very excellent clothing. And the soldiers were ashamed before the man (i. e., he was such a respectable person that they did not like to state their business). And the boy said, "For what have you come?" "Yes, we have been sent hither to see the dog which came back with a slice of meat in his mouth, taken from the marriage-feast," said they. The chief said in our presence that we were to bring home with us the dog's owner also." "Come! begone! I am bound to go thither to you," said the boy. And the boy made the very best clothing for himself; and he went thither, taking the tongues. And the black man had not yet reached the lodge of the chief. He was in a lodge elsewhere. At length the boy arrived at the chief's lodge with the tongues. Said he, "What wrong have I done you all that you sent soldiers after me? A Water-monster was about to devour your whole tribe in spite of all that you could do; but I killed him for you. Why did you cause the soldiers to take me?" And having said, "Those are the tongues of the Water-monster with seven heads," he gave them to the chief. And the chief said, "That is he, he who killed the Water-monster with seven heads. That is my daughter's husband." He made him sit with the girl, the wife of the black man. "Yes, father, it is he," she said, referring to the man. And the chief said, "Go ye after the black man." And the soldiers went for the black man. They returned with the black man. When they made him stand in the middle, the chief questioned him, saying, "How did you kill the Water-monster with seven heads?" Said he, "I went thither and attacked him and killed him." The chief said, "With what did you kill him?" He said, "I killed him with a knife." And the woman came to the lodge with the man, and appeared. "Father, this is he, the man that killed the Water-monster with seven heads. My preserver, this is he," she said, referring to the Orphan. And the chief having said, "Take ye hold of the black man," they carried him outside and burnt him.

WAHAⁿƆICIGE AND THE BUFFALO-WOMAN.

MRS. LA FLÈCHE'S VERSION.

WahaⁿƆicige é ihaⁿ gít'ai ičádi etí gít'ai tē ijaⁿ'ge júgigéá-biamá.
Orphan he his died his father too died when his sister he with his they say.
own

Kí ijaⁿ'ge aká nú wíⁿ wakídepíqtiaⁿ é áčixá-biamá. Kí 'ábae ačá-bi xí
And his sister the man one a very good markman that she took for a hus- And hunting went, when (sub.) band, they say.

íáqti wíⁿ 'ín' agí-biamá. Kí WahaⁿƆicige, Híⁿtee+! jaⁿgéhá, wíjáhaⁿ wa'íⁿ 3 deer one carry- was coming home, And Orphan, Surprising! O sister my sister's carrying
ing they say.

gi Ɔíⁿ. Waciⁿ'qti bēáte tá minke, á-biamá. Kí akí-bi xí jeázaⁿtasí Ɔaⁿ he is coming Very fat I eat will I who said, they say. And he got home, when kidneys the home.

waciⁿ ubétaⁿ Ɔaⁿ Ɔízá-bi egaⁿ Ɔiqčúda-bi egaⁿ jeđí Ɔaⁿ edábe 'í-biamá.
fat wrapped the she took, they having pulled it they having liver the (ob.) also she gave, they (ob.) around say out of say say.

CéƆaⁿ Ɔatá-á hé. Waciⁿ ckaⁿ'hna Ɔənahiⁿ á, á-biamá ijaⁿ'ge aká. Onáte 6
That eat thou Fat you wish you, indeed I said, they say his sister the (sub.). You eat oníctáⁿ xí úé ké ákílide maⁿƆíⁿ-á, á-biamá. Kí gaⁿ'ki Ɔatá-bi xí ú'aja you finish when field the to watch it go said she, they And then he ate, they when to the (ob.) say.

132 THE ØEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- ačá-biamá, gčá-bajíqti ačá-biamá. Kí ú'e kě'di ahí-bi xí nú aká ja' wí he went, they say very sorrowful went they say. And field at the arrived, when man the tree one
(sub.)
- áta'-bi ega', Wajín'ga-mácě ú'e kě čatě gfi-gá, á-biamá. Gan'ki agčástood on, they say having, Ye birds field the to eat it he ye coming said he, they And went (sub.)
- 3 biamá ha' xí. Či ha'ega'tce xí ijáha' amá jáqti wí' qn' agí-biamá.
they say night when. Again morning when his sister's the deer one carrying was coming husband (mv. sub.) home, they say.
- Hu-hú! jaŋčéha, wíjáha' wa'ín' gí čí' Wa'ete waci'qti hébe beáte tá Oho! O sister, my sister's carrying he is coming This once very fat a piece I eat will husband (mv. sub.) home.
- mínke, á-biamá. Či éga' gaxá-biamá. Uba' ča' čizá-bi ega' ječí ča'
I who said he, they Again so she did, they say. Fat around the took, they having liver the
say. (ob.)
- 6 edábe 'f-biamá. Čéča' čatá-ā hě. Waci' ča' cka'hna íčanahi' ā, á-biamá.
also she gave him, That eat thou Fat the (ob.) you wish you, indeed I said she, they
they say. say.
- Gan'ki, U'e kě ákibide ma'čí'-ā hě, á-biamá. Kí ca' éga' tě duba' gaxá-
And, Field the to watch it go said she, they And in thus it was four times she did (ob.) fact
- biamá. Wčduba' tě'di, Wákida gčí'-ā hě. Č'e kě a'da'be taŋ'gata', they say. The fourth time when. To watch sit thou Field the (ob.) we see we who will
- 9 á-biamá Kí Waha'čicige aká ja't'č'qteci ja' akáma, úkizáqteci xí. Kí said she, they And Orphan the (sub.) sound asleep was lying they say altogether alone when. And
- sabájqteci wa'ú u'da'qti wí' č'di ahí-bi xí čiqí-biamá Páha'-ā hě. Eáta' very suddenly woman very beauti- one there arrived, when awakened him, Arise Why ful they say.
- čaja' ā, á-biamá. Kí páha' amá xí, Eáta' waci'qti čégě é hébe you sleep I said she, they say. And he arose they say when, Why very fat these that piece
- 12 onáte eté xí, á-biamá. Éga'čá'ja, wíjaŋ'ge amá ejaí há. Égičé you ought to eat said she, they Nevertheless my sister the (sub.) it is here (I am afraid)
say. lost
- a'čá'husa taí, á-biamá. Kí, Hébe máqa'-áda' čatá-ā hě, á-biamá wa'ú she scold me said he, they say. And, Piece cut off and eat thou said, they say (woman aká). Éde nújŋga, Éga'čá'ja, ubčí'age, á-biamá. Kí wa'ú aká nají'-bi the). But boy Nevertheless I am unwilling said he, they And woman the stood, they say. (sub.) say
- 15 ega' úda'qti ča' hěbe máqa'-biamá, níaci'ga wí'áqteci čatě ča'skaqti having very good the (ob.) piece cut off they say person one to eat just that & so
- máqa'-biamá, jčgčá'-biamá. Čatá-ā hě, á-biamá, nújŋga čínkě 'f-bi ega'.
she cut off they say, roasted it they say. Eat thou said she, they boy the gave it to having.
say (ob.) him, they say
- Gan'ki wága máqa'-bi ča' čgiga'qti gaxá-biamá wa'ú aká. Čaŋ'ki čí
And alicé she cut off, they the just as before she made it, they woman the And again say (ob.) say (sub.)
- 18 éga' tě duba'-biamá. Gan'ki wa'ú aká agčá-biamá xí sigčé tě wačíŋaŋqti so the four times they say. And woman the went homeward, when trail the very plain (act) (sub.) they say (ob.)
- gáxe agčá-biamá. Gan'ki nújŋga aká sigčé tě učúhe ačá-biamá.
making went they say. And boy the (sub.) trail the (ob.) following went, they say.
it homeward
- A' b íčaugčéqti ma'čí'-bi xí čgičé dážéqtoi ahí-bi xí čgičé íf wí' úda'qti
Throughout the day walked, they when at length very late in arrived, when beheld lodge one very good say the evening they say

- ēdedí te amá, í sa'phē. Kí uđá-bi xī égiē wa'ú aká é akáma. Gan'ki it was there, they say, lodge whitened. And entered, when behold woman (the) it was she, they And
- umi'je kē' cti úda'qti gēi' akáma. Kí ja'-uqpe jín'ga íá gáqube ugípiqti couch the too very good she was sitting on, And wooden bowl small pounded buffalo very full (ob.) they say.
- 'f-biamá. Kí 'f-biamá xī, Na'pa'hi'qti-ma' pa' cti. Áqta' a'pa'n'bēa' 3 gave to him, And gave to him, when, I very hungry heretofore. How me to get enough they say. possible
- etēda', eēēga' gēi'-biamá. Kí wa'ú aká, An'kaji, ca' pātá-ā hē. Íēibēa' shall I thinking he sat they say. And woman the (sub.), Not so at any cat thou You get (ob.) rate enough
- tatē, á-biamá. Gan'ki pātá-biamá xī inandēqti'-biamá xī ca' uqácta-shall said she, they And ate they say when he was filled to they say when still he left some food
- biamá uqpē jín'ga kē'di. Gan'ki gēi'-biamá uqpē jín'ga kē wa'ú cinkē. 6 they say bowl small in the. And gave back to her, bowl small (ob.) woman the (ob.) they say
- Gan'ki ha' xī ja'-biamá, umi'je íbēhi' cti úda'qti gaxá-bi ēga'.
And night when he lay down they say, couch pillow too very good she they having.
- Kí égiē ja'tēqti ja'-bi xī ha'ega'tce íxíqá-bi xī í cēwa' cingē
And at length sound asleep he lay, they when morning he they when lodge even there was none say
- amá, qádadi ja'-biamá. Gan'ki cī sigē tē wa'cōnaqti cī aqá-bitēamá. 9 they say, on the grass he lay they say. And again trail the very plain again she had gone, they say.
- Kí cī ēga' tē cī duba'-biamá. Gan'ki Jé-wa'ú akáma. Kí watē-
And again so it was again four times they say. And Buffalo-woman she was, they And prog.
- zug'a'-bi tē wēdaqá-biamá. Wēdaqá-bi xī tēēckaqti ídaqá-biamá, say when she gave they say. She gave they when very short she bore it they say, birth to
- bēúgaqti ská'qtcī. Gan'ki Ictínike amá pē amáma. Sabájiqti ē'di 12 all over very white. And Ictínike the (mv. sub.) was going, they say. Very suddenly there
- ahí-biamá. Winaú, eáta' aja' ā, á-biamá. Kí, Jiga'há, níxa a'níe arrived, they say. O first daughter, why you do it I said he, they say. And, O grandfather stomach aches me
- hē, á-biamá. Hé! wíqēpaji'qtcíē, níxa i'níe ta'-ana, á-biamá. Kí said she, they Alas! my dear little grandchild stomach for me she I said he, they And say.
- gan'ki Jé-jín'ga ídaqá-bi xī ská'qtcī ta' amá. Gan'ki Ictínike aká 15 then Buffalo-calf she bore they when very white it was standing they say. And Ictínike the (sub.)
- íqá'he pēēa-biamá. Kí Jé-mi'ga gá-biamá: Hí'! Jiga'há, qíqēpa in his robe pushed it they say. And Female buffalo said as follows, Oh! grandfather your grand- suddenly child
- áwaqínké ā, á-biamá. Ceta' tēqáji há, á-biamá. Jiga'há, qíqēpa where is he I said she, they So far has not said he, they Grandfather your grand- child
- tíēē pa', á-biamá. Gan'ki cīēte-hna' wa'ú égiēa'-biamá. Ca' Ictínike 18 pass did said she, they And repeatedly woman said it to they say. Yet Ictínike (formerly) him
- aká, Cingēē há, é-hna' najin'-biamá. Gan'ki Ictínike aká, Winaú, the (sub.), There is none saying con- tincally he stood they say. And Ictínike the (sub.), O first daughter,
- bēē tá minke, tēqáji há, á-biamá. Jiga'há, wín'qakaji hē, á-biamá
I go will I who it has not passed out said he, they say. Grandfather, you do not speak truly said she, they say.

- Jé-wa'ú aká. Kí gañ'ki afa-biamá Ietnike amá. Afa-bi xi wéahi-Buffalo- the And then went they say Ietnike the Went when very (sub.)
 de'qti ahí-biamá Ietnike amá íkisa'ei. Ahí-biamá xi Je-jin'ga far arrived, they say Ietnike the (mv. sub.) out of sight. Arrived, they say when Buffalo-calf 3 fiza-bi ega' bi xi gfi'-biamá Ietnike aká Je-jin'ga pinké. Kí ska'qtei took, they having wiping at they say Ietnike the (sub.) Buffalo-calf the (ob.). And very white
 say him
 úda'qtia' amá. Háha! ga'badan, Je-jin'ga úda'qtei waknacé amá, very good they say. Ha! ha! how easily I Buffalo-calf very good we have had it they have done it, snatched from us say á-biamá. Gañ'ki Je-jin'ga aká naji' biamá. Gañ'ki Je-jin'ga aká Ietnike said he, they And Buffalo-calf the stood they say. And Buffalo-calf the Ietnike
 say. (sub.)
 6 ufe'a nan'ga-biamá. Wá! kagé, gí-gá! gí-gá! é-lina naji'-biamá.
 going around him ran they say. Why! third son, come! come! saying continually stood they say.
 Gañ'ki Je-jin'ga aká é'di agí-biamá Ietnike ta' Gañ'ki ci Je-jin'ga
 And Buffalo-calf the (sub.) there was coming back, Ietnike the And again Buffalo-calf they say (std. ob.).
 aká ufe'a afa-bi xi wéahide jin'ga nan'ga-biamá. Wá! kagé, égi'e the around him went they when at a distance little ran they say. Why! third son, beware
 (sub.) say
 9 fana'esa te há. Wiwí'a oni' há, á-biamá. Éga' té duba'-bi xi wé-you run too far lest My own you are said, they say. So it was four times they say when the duba' té ca'ca' iha' pinké'ja nan'ge agfa-biamá. Kí, Gí-gá! gí-gá!
 fourth time when continuing his mother to the running went homeward, they say. And, Come! come!
 kagé, égi'e fana'esa te há, á-bi xi ca'ca'qti afa-biamá. Gañ'ki gí'fathird son beware you run too far lest said, they when continuing went they say. And very
 say
 12 bai'qti afa-biamá Ietnike aká wédajiqti. Égi'e Je-jin'ga amá afaí sorrowful went they say Ietnike the (sub.) elsewhere. At length Buffalo-calf the (mv. sub.) went xi gañ'ki Je-núga i'c'úge wi' gfi' akáma. Kí Je-núga i'c'úge aká when and Buffalo-bull old man one was sitting, they say. And Buffalo-bull old man the (sub.)
 gá-biamá: Kagé, fíha' fé afaí afaí. Jahé éhí'eké kig'áha afaí said as follows, Third son, your mother this having her they went. Hill that yonder down to the foot having they have (way) her 15 áí'afai. Kí naji' wi'fa'fa'qti ga' ma'oni' oné taté, nacpáha, á-biamá.
 they have gone. And rain just one by one so you walk you go shall grandchild said, they say.
 (Strong) to make for him wished as words said to him.) And Buffalo-calf the (mv. sub.)
 fé xi naji' wi'fa'fa'qti édi-biamá. Gañ'ki jahé ké kig'é ké'di went when rain just one at a time there, they say. And hill the (ob.) bottom at the 18 ahí-bi xi, ci Je-núga wi' gfi' akáma. Kagé, fíha' fé i'w'ca'qtei arrived, when, again Buffalo-bull one was sitting, they say. Third son, your mother this just now they say (way)
 afaí afaí, á-biamá. Jahé éhí'eké kig'áha afaí áí'afai, á-biamá.
 having they went said he, they Hill that yonder to the foot having her they have said he, they say. gone say.
 Nají'ábixa'qti ga' ífama'oni' oné taté, á-biamá. (Q'ágí'eqtia' té
 Very one, misting rain so in it you walk you go shall, said, they say. (Loved his own very much) 21 áda' íe té égi'a'-hna'i té). Gañ'ki Je-jin'ga amá fé xi naji'ábixa'qti therefore words the said to him invariably. And Buffalo-calf the (sub.) went when very fine, misting rain ga' íma'faí afa-biamá.
 so walking in he went they say.

- Gaⁿ'ki ^{And} ^{hill} ^{the} ^{bottom of} ^{at the} ^{arrived, when again} ^{they say} ^{Je-núga} ^{jin'ga,} ^{tegaqi,} ^{small,} ^{horn} ^{the} ^{very sharp} ^{like them} ^{there} ^{was sitting, they say.} ^{And} ^{Buffalo-bull} ^{young,} ^{very new,}
³
^{said as follows,} ^{Third son,} ^{your} ^{this} ^{now} ^{just} ^{having} ^{they} ^{said,} ^{they say.} ^{Hill} ^{that yonder}
^{they say:} ^{mother} ^(way) ^{her} ^{went,} ^{to the foot} ^{having} ^{they have} ^{said he, they say.} ^{A very thick fog} ^{so} ^{you walk in it} ^{you go} ^{shall} ^{gone}
^{hā,} ^{á-biamá.} ^{Gaⁿ'ki} ^{Je-jin'ga} ^{amá} ^{fé} ^{xi} ^{cúdemáha^oqti} ^{íma^ofi^a} ^{a^oá-}
^{said he, they say.} ^{And} ^{Buffalo-calf} ^{the (sub.)} ^{went when} ^{a very thick fog} ^{walked in} ^{went} ^{biamá.} ^{Gaⁿ'ki} ^{ḏahé} ^{ké} ^{kig^ofé} ^{ké'di} ^{ahí-bi} ^{xi} ^{égi^oce} ^{Je} ^{amá} ^{hégabaji} ⁶
^{they say.} ^{And} ^{hill} ^{the foot of} ^{at the} ^{arrived, when behold} ^{Buf} ^{the} ^{a great many} ^{falo (pl. sub.)} ^{ob.)} ^{they say}
^{edí} ^{amáma,} ^{égaxe} ^{g^ofi^o-bi} ^{xi} ^{iha^o} ^{čínké} ^{ída^obe} ^{g^ofi^oki^oá-biamá.} ^{Ki,}
^{they were there,} ^{around in} ^{they sat, they when} ^{his} ^{the (ob.)} ^{in the} ^{they made her} ^{they say.} ^{And,} ^{it is said,} ^{a circle} ^{say} ^{mother} ^{center} ^{sit} ^{Huhú!} ^{cin'gajinga} ^{fi^a} ^{é^oá^obe} ^{tí} ^{há,} ^{á-biamá.} ^{(Uqapa^oai té ípidaha^oi} ^{Ohó!} ^{child} ^{the} ^{in sight} ^{has} ^{said, they say} ^{(What it lost} ^{it knew for} ^{itself}
^(mv. ob.) ^{come}
^{áda^o} ^{ca-i té} ^{Ki} ^{égi^oce} ^{Je-mi^oga} ^{wa'ú-jingáqti} ^{dixéqti,} ^{waqpániqti} ^{wi^o} ⁹
^{there-} ^{it was coming} ^{And} ^{behold} ^{Female-buffalo} ^{very} ^{old woman} ^{very scabby,} ^{very poor} ^{ono} ^{fore} ^{to you.)}
^{Je-jin'ga} ⁱ ^{fi^ondi} ^{uska^oskaqti} ^{Je-jin'ga} ^{éá} ^{čínké} ^{júgig^oce} ^{g^ofi^o} ^{akáma.}
^{Buffalo-calf} ^{com-} ^{from the} ^{in a very straight} ^{Buffalo-calf} ^{her} ^{the (ob.)} ^{she with her} ^{was sitting, they say.}
^{ing} ^{one (mv.)} ^{line with} ^{own}
^{Ki} ^{gaⁿ'ki} ^{Je-sa^o} ^{jinga} ^{amá} ^{Je-wa'újinga} ^{édi} ^{ahí-bi} ^{ega^o} ^{mazé-i^o}
^{And} ^{then} ^{White-} ^{buffalo} ^{young} ^{the} ^(mv. sub.) ^{Buffalo-old woman} ^{there} ^{arrived,} ^{having} ^{sucked the} ^{breasts}
^{biamá,} ^{na^opéhi^oqtei} ^{ega^o}
^{they say,} ^{very hungry} ^{being.} ^{Gaⁿ'ki,} ^{Je} ^{dúba,} ^{féa} ^{čínké} ^{agiti^oái-gá} ¹²
^{And,} ^{Buffalo} ^{four,} ^{this one} ^{the (ob.)} ^{pass on for him.}
^{Gá^ocu} ^{mazé-i^o} ^{há,} ^{á-biamá.} ^{Angá^oigi-angátii} ^{há.} ^{fi^oha^o} ^{aká} ^{féa}
^{There} ^{he sucks the} ^{said he, they say.} ^{We have come for you} ^{Your} ^{mother} ^{the} ^{this one} ^{behind}
^{it is she} ^{said he, they say.} ^{And} ^{Buffalo-calf} ^{the (sub.)} ^{was un-} ^{they say.} ^{A^ofi^o} ^{ag^ofé} ^{ga^ofa-} ^{willing} ^{him} ^{to go} ^{they}
^{bi} ^{xi} ^{fi^oá-biamá.} ^{Ki} ^{dúba} ^{ag^ofi^o-biamá.} ^{Akí-bi} ^{xi,} ^{Núda^oha^ongá!} ¹⁵
^{they when} ^{they they say.} ^{And} ^{four} ^{homeward} ^{they say.} ^{Reached they} ^{when,} ^{O leader!}
^{say} ^{failed} ^{home} ^{say}
^{a^ofi^oai,} ^{á-biamá.} ^{He-bázabáji,} ^{é'di} ^{ti^oá-da^o} ^{wa'újinga} ^{t'é^oá-gá,} ^{á-biamá.}
^{we failed,} ^{said they, they} ^{Unsplintered-horns,} ^{there} ^{pass on and} ^{old woman} ^{kill her,} ^{said he, they} ^{say.}
^{Ki} ^{é'di} ^{ahí-bi} ^{ega^o} ^{t'é^oá-biamá.} ^{Gaⁿ'ki} ^{Je-sa^o} ^{jín'ga} ^{a^ofi^o} ^{ag^ofi^o-bi} ^{xi,}
^{And} ^{there} ^{arrived,} ^{having} ^{killed} ^{they say.} ^{And} ^{White-} ^{buffalo} ^{ye} ^{ing} ^{him} ^{went,} ^{they when,} ^{ei} ^{u^ofi^oagá-biamá.} ^{fi^oha^o} ^{féa} ^{čínké,} ^{angá^oge} ^{te} ^{há,} ^{á-biamá.} ^{Ca^o} ¹⁸
^{again} ^{he was un-} ^{they say.} ^{Your mother} ^{this} ^{the (ob.)} ^{let us go homeward} ^{said he, they say.} ^{Yet} ^{willing} ^{one behind}
^{Je-jin'ga} ^{u^ofi^oagá-biamá.} ^{Ki} ^{ci} ^{fi^oá} ^{akí-biamá.} ^{Núda^oha^ongá,} ^{a^ofi^oai} ^{ci,} ^{Buffalo-calf} ^{was unwilling, they say.} ^{And} ^{again} ^{failed} ^{reached home,} ^{Leader,} ^{we have again,}
^{they say.} ^{failed}
^{á-biamá.} ^{Gaⁿ'ki,} ^{Dúba} ^{é'di} ^{ti^oá-ba} ^{Je-mi^oga} ^{číngé^oqti} ^{gaxái-gá,} ^{á-biamá.}
^{said he, they say.} ^{And,} ^{Four} ^{there} ^{pass on and} ^{Female-buffalo} ^{nothing at all} ^{make ye} ^{said he, they say.}

136 THE ƆEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- Gaṇ'ki ē'di tiēá-bi ega^{n'} Je mi^{n'}ga Ɔiepiēpa Ɔingē'qti gaxá-biamá. Gaṇ'ki And there passed they having Female-buffalo pulling off nothing at all made they say. And
- āfi^{n'} agfá-biamá Je-sa^{n'} jin'ga. Égiē iha^{n'} Ɔinkē'di āfi^{n'} akf-biamá. Kí having went they say White-buffalo young. At length his mother by the having reached home. And him homeward
- 3 āfi^{n'} akf-bi Ɔi iha^{n'} Ɔinkē júgigēe gēin'kiēá-biamá. Júgigēe gēin'kiēáhaving reached when his mother the (ob.) he with her caused him to sit they say. He with her caused him to sit him say
- bi ega^{n'} égage gēi^{n'} akáma, hégaji Jé amá. Kí égiē Waha^{n'} Ɔeige they having around in they were sitting, a great buffalo the And at length Orphan say a circle they say, many (pl. sub.).
- amá Ɔa^{n'}be ahf-biamá dahé kedi, igáƆa^{n'} Ɔinkē ugíne amáma ceta^{n'}.
the (mv. sub.) in sight arrived, they say hill on the, his wife the (ob.) he was seeking his own so far.
- 6 hna^{n'}. Kí, ƆieƆa^{n'}ge Ɔa^{n'}be tí Ɔa^{n'}ja Je-mi^{n'}ga Ɔeikiga^{n'}qti wi^{n'} júƆa-
And, Your husband in sight came though Female-buffalo just like you one you with far.
- gígēe Ɔagēi^{n'} te hā. Ɔeigidaha^{n'} Ɔi, Ɔi júƆagígēe Ɔagēé te hā, á-biamá your own you sit will He knows you, if, again you with him, you go will said he, they say his own your own homeward
- Kí Ɔeibaha^{n'}ji Ɔi, t'ea^{n'}Ɔe ta^{n'}gata^{n'}, á-biamá. Kí ē'di ahf-biamá nájinga
And he does not know if, we kill him we will, said he, they And there arrived, they say boy
you say
- 9 amá. Kí, Je-mi^{n'}ga ean'kiga^{n'}qti wi^{n'} juan'gēe gēin'kiēai hē. Kí, ƆigáƆa^{n'} the (sub.). And, Female-buffalo just like me one with me they cause her to sit. And, Your wife tho (sub.).
- áwaƆinké ā, ái Ɔi, GáƆinké, eēé te hē, á-biamá. Níja áma tē bēƆicka^{n'} which one I they when, That one you will said she, they Ear the other (ob.) I move
say say
- tá minke hē, á-biamá. Ɔi cin'gajin'ga Ɔinké éga^{n'} gáxe tá amá will I who said she, they say. A gain child the (ob.) so do will they (I)
say
- 12 Ɔa^{n'}ja Ɔi níja áma tē Ɔicka^{n'} Ɔi oníze te hē, ma^{n'}Ɔa^{n'} uƆa-biamá though again ear the other the (ob.) he moves when you take will secretly she told they say
him
- igáƆa^{n'} aká. Kí Je-mi^{n'}ga Ɔkiga^{n'}qti júgigēe gēin'kiēá-biama. Ké, his wife the (sub.). And Female-buffalo just like her with her they stand sit they say. Come,
tho (sub.).
- ƆigáƆa^{n'} áwaƆinké^{n'}te gēiza-gā, á-biamá. Kí wada^{n'}be naji^{n'}-bi Ɔi your wife which one she may be take her, your said he, they And looking he they when own, say, stood say
- 15 égiē níja áma Ɔicka^{n'}-biama wa'ú aká. GáƆinké, á-bi ega^{n'} uƆa^{n'}.
behold ear the other she moved, they say woman the (sub.). That one, said he, he, ing he took they say. And child so did, they say having again so they say. This is he hold of her
- cin'gajin'ga wiwíja, á-biamá. Gaṇ'ki Ɔizaf tē. Gaṇ'ki, Ca^{n'} hā.
child my own, said he, they say. And he took him. And, Enough
- 18 Júgigfá-gā, á-biamá, Ceta^{n'}.
Go with your own, said he, they say. So far.

NOTES.

131, 3. hi^{n'}teet, syn., huhu; in Jolwere, hietēnko^{n'}, according to Sanssouci.

131, 4. Ɔe-aza^{n'}tasi Ɔa^{n'}, the kidneys of all animals are so called by the Omahas; but in Jolwere, the name of the animal must be prefixed to that of the kidneys, as Ɔe-nanū^{n'}tee, buffalo-kidneys; ta-nanū^{n'}tee, deer-kidneys, etc.

132, 2. wajiŋga-mace u'e fāte gli-gā. See next version. If the field was the home of the birds, gli-gā was appropriate; if not, it-gā should have been used.

132, 4. wa^aete waci^aqti hebe bēate ta miŋke, in Ɔoiwere, iya^aha^a waci^aqtei he átei lmiye ke.—Sanssouci.

132, 5. uba^a fā^a, is defined as, "jeaza^afasi fā^a waci^a ubeta^a fā^a, the fat wrapped around the kidneys;" in Ɔoiwere, aoma^atce-uŋraŋe naŋa.—Sanssouci.

132, 10. uda^aqti, pronounced u+da^aqti by the narrator.

132, 11-12. eata^a . . . anate ete ƣl. See English translation. In full, Eata^a waci^aqti fegē e hebe anate ete ƣl anataji ā: literally, "Why, very fat (meat), these inanimate objects, they, a part, you eat, ought, when, you eat not?" Or, Waci^aqti fegē e hebe anate ete ƣl. Eata^a anataji ā: "You ought to eat a piece of those (pieces of) fat meat. Why do you not eat it?"

132, 15. niaei^aga wi^aaqtei . . . maqa^a-biama: in Ɔoiwere, wa^acike iya^aki ruted imaŋkēqtei dáewe ánye ké.

132, 20. dazēqtei, pronounced da+zēqtei.

133, 3. aqta^a a^afa^abfa^a eteda^a. Sanssouci gives as the Ɔoiwere: ta^ata hi^apraŋ'o ke! but I suspect that instead of "ke," he should have said "ihatayia."

133, 5. inandeqtia^a-biama, pronounced i+nandeqtia^a-biama.

133, 13. eata^a aja^a ā: "What are you doing?" "What are you about?" or "How do you do?"

133, 14. wiŋcupaji^aqteife (said to both males and females); but in Ɔoiwere, hi^ata-ŋwa-miyiŋe (to a female), and hi^ataŋwa-yiŋe (to a male).

133, 14. nixa i^anie ta^a-ana (said by a male); nixa i^anie ta^a-ena+ (by a female): My relation's stomach is aching her (as she stands). So they can say, hi i^anie fēi^a-ana: My relation's teeth ache him (as he moves), my relation's teeth are aching him. The final "-ana" is the exclamation sign used with dative verbs implying relationship, etc.; but an ordinary exclamation would require áha^a (for males) or eha^a+ (for females).

133, 18. tiŋe fā^a, refers to the actual birth, which was unseen by Ictinike. See Dakota hiyu. As to her own act, the woman could have said, fēiŋcupa tiŋeagiŋē hē, "I have caused your grandchild, my own son, to come forth."

134, 1. weahideqti, pronounced we+ahideqti.

134, 4. haha ga^abada^a, etc. In Ɔoiwere, háha kaku^a u^a ká^ara-na cŋ^a n^a tof tee-yiŋ'e piŋtei waŋŋe ánye ké—Sanssouci. This latter, when rendered literally, is "Haha! in that manner, to do, wished-having, thus, did, because, 'buffalo-calf, good-very, from us has been snatched,' they say." Ictinike laughs when he thinks how people will talk of his strategy: "Because I have done as I wished, they say, 'A very fine Buffalo-calf has been taken from us.'" Ga^abada^a is said to be equivalent to ga^a ga^a fā éga^a.

134, 15. naji^a wi^afā^aqti (uŋpaŋē) ga^a ma^ani^a ane tate. Said of scattering rain, occasional drops, not a steady shower.

135, 5. eudemaha^a. There may have been a fourth trial of the young buffalo, but it has not been learned.

135, 6. hegabaji, pronounced he+gabaji.

135, 16. he-bazabaji, from he, horn; and bazábe, to thrust at with a horn and splinter off a piece (of the horn).

136, 4. hegaji, pronounced he+gaji.

TRANSLATION.

When the Orphan's mother and father died, he dwelt with his sister. And his sister married a man who was a very excellent marksman. And when he went hunting, he brought back a deer on his back. And the Orphan said, "Surprising! O sister, my sister's husband is coming home bringing something on his back. I will eat some very fat meat." And when he reached home, she took the fat wrapped around the kidneys, having pulled it out of the animal, and she gave it to the Orphan with the liver. "Eat that. You truly desire fat! When you finish eating," she said, "go and watch the field." And then he ate and departed to the field. He departed very sad. And when the man reached the field, he stood on a tree, and said, "Ye birds, come ye to devour the corn in the field." And when it was night, he went homeward. When it was morning again, his sister's husband was bringing home a deer on his back. "Ho! ho! O sister, my sister's husband is bringing home a deer on his back. This once I will eat a piece of very fat meat," said he. She did so again. Having taken the fat wrapped around the kidneys, she gave him that with the liver. "Eat that. The fat piece you truly desire!" And she said, "Go and attend to the field." And it was thus four times (i. e., four days). On the fourth day she said, "Sit here to take care of things. We will go to see the field." And when he was alone in the lodge, the Orphan lay sound asleep. And a very beautiful woman arrived there very suddenly, and roused him by pulling at him. "Arise. Why do you sleep?" said she. And when he arose, she said, "You ought to eat a piece of those very fat parts of meat. Why do you not eat one?" "Though (you say?) so, it is my sister's. I am afraid to eat it, lest she scold me," he said. And she said, "Cut off part with a knife, and eat it." But the boy said, "Though (you say?) so, I am unwilling." And the woman stood and cut off part of the best piece, just the size for one person to eat. She roasted it. Having given it to the boy, she said, "Eat it." And the woman made the slice that she cut off, just as it had been, restoring what she took from the piece of meat. And it was thus again four times (i. e., four days).—And when the woman went homeward, she made her trail very plain. And the boy went following her trail. He walked throughout the day, and at length, when he arrived there very late in the evening, behold, there was a very good lodge, a whitened lodge. And when he entered, behold, it was the woman who was sitting there. And she was sitting on a very good couch. And she gave him a small wooden bowl, filled very full with pounded and dried buffalo-meat. And when she gave it to him, he sat thinking, "I have been very hungry. How shall it be possible for me to get my fill?" And the woman said, "No. Eat it at any rate. You shall surely have enough." And when he ate it, and was filled to repletion, he still left some in the small bowl. And he gave back the small bowl to the woman. And at night he lay down, she having made an excellent couch and a pillow too. And it came to pass as he lay in a sound sleep, that when he awoke in the morning, there was not even a lodge, he was lying on the grass. And this occurred four times (i. e., on four days.) And she was a Buffalo-woman. And when she was pregnant, she was delivered. When she gave birth to the young one, it was born very short, and it was very white all over. And Ictinike was going, and he arrived there very suddenly. "O first-born daughter of the household, why do you so?" said he. "Grandfather, my stomach pains me," she said. "Alas! my dear little grandchild! her stomach pains her!" he said. And then when the Buffalo-calf was born, he stood very white. And Ictinike thrust him suddenly under his robe. And the Female-buffalo said as follows: "Oh! grandfather, where is your grandchild?" Said he, "It has not yet come forth." "Grandfather, your grandchild did come forth, (i. e., before you came)," said she. And the woman said this to him again and again; yet Ictinike continued saying, "There is none." And Ictinike said, "O first-born daughter of the household, I will go. It has not come forth." And the Buffalo-woman said, "Grandfather, you do not tell the truth." And Ictinike departed. And when Ictinike departed, he went out of sight to a very great distance. When he arrived he took the Buffalo-calf, and he sat wiping the Buffalo-calf with grass. And he was very white, and very excellent. "Haha! How easily have I done as I wished! They are saying, 'We have been deprived of a very fine Buffalo-calf,'" said Ictinike. And the Buffalo-calf ran around Ictinike. "Why! O third-born son of the household, come! come!" he continued saying. And the Buffalo-calf returned to Ictinike. And the Buffalo-calf, when he went around him again, ran to a little distance. "Why! O third-born son of the household, beware lest you run too far! You are my own," said he. When it had been thus four times, the fourth time it occurred, he continued running homeward to his mother. And when Ictinike said, "Come back, O third born son of the household. Beware lest you run too far," he departed without stopping at all. And Ictinike went to another place, very sorrowful. At length, as the Buffalo calf went along, an aged Buffalo-bull was sitting there. And the aged Buffalo-bull said as follows: "O third-born son of the household, they took away your mother in this direction. They have already taken her down yonder long bluff extending beyond the other bluff in sight. And, my grandchild, you shall go through occasional drops of rain." (He said the words to him because he wished to make him strong.) And when the Buffalo-calf departed, there were occasional drops of rain. And when he reached the foot of the bluff, again was there a Buffalo-bull sitting. He said, "O third-born son of the household, they have just gone this way with your mother. They have gone to the foot of yonder long bluff extending beyond the other one in sight. You shall go walking through dense, misting rain." (He loved him, therefore he said the words to him.) And when the Buffalo-calf departed, he went walking through dense, misting rain. And when he reached the foot of the bluff, a young Buffalo-bull, very new, small, of the sort that have very sharp horns, was sitting there. And the young Buffalo-bull said as follows: "O third-born son of the household, they have just taken your mother this way. They have gone to the foot of that bluff in sight, the one beyond that near by. You shall go walking through a very dense fog." And when the Buffalo-calf departed, he went through a very dense fog. And when he reached the bottom of the bluff, behold, there were a very great many Buffaloes. When they sat in a circle, his mother was caused to sit in the center. And they said, "Ho! ho! the child has come in sight." ("It knew its loss, therefore it is coming hither to you.") And, behold, a very aged Female-buffalo, very scabby, very poor, was sitting with her own calf directly in line with the approaching Calf. And then when the White-buffalo-calf reached the aged Buffalo-woman, he sucked at her breast, as he was very hungry. And one said, "Let four Buffaloes start for this one sitting a little way off. He sucks the breast there." "We have come for you. This one at a short distance is your mother," said they. And the Buffalo-calf was unwilling. When they wished to take him home, they failed. And the four went homeward. When they reached home, they said, "Leader, we have failed." "Unsplintered-horns, go quickly, and kill the old woman," he said. And he went thither and killed her. And when he wished to take the Buffalo-calf homeward, he was unable. "This one at a short distance is your mother. Let us go home," said he. But the Buffalo-calf was unwilling. And he reached home, having failed again. "Leader, we have failed again," he said. And the leader said, "Let four go thither quickly and leave no trace of the Female-buffalo." And having gone thither quickly, they tore the Female-buffalo into small pieces, leaving no trace of her. And they took the White-buffalo-calf homeward. And they took him home to his mother. And when they reached home with him, they made him sit with his mother. And they were sitting around her, a great many Buffaloes. At length the Orphan came in sight on the bluff, having been hunting for his wife up to that time. And the leader said, "Though your husband has come in sight, you shall sit with a Female-buffalo just like you. If he recognizes you, you shall go home with him; if he does not recognize you, we will kill him." And his wife told him by stealth, "A Female-buffalo just like me will they make sit with me. And when they say, 'Where is your wife?' do you say, 'That one is she.' I will move my right ear. And though they will do likewise with the child he, too will move his right ear, and you shall take him." And they made her sit with a Female-buffalo just like her. "Come," said the leader, "take whichever one is your wife." And as he stood looking at them, behold, the woman moved her other ear. Having said, "That one," he took hold of her. And having done so with the child, it was so again. "This is my child," said he. And he took him. And the leader said, "Come, that will do. Go with him."

WAHA'ØICIGE AND THE BUFFALO-WOMAN.

MIXARI-NAZI'S VERSION.

Hi^{n'}-yu-no+! hi^{n'}-yu-no+! wi-ta^{n'}-ha^{n'} ta qa^{n'}-yé cé-wa-há-nyi ki⁺
 My elder sister! my elder sister! my sister's husband, deer big is bringing it home

hi^{n'}-yu-no+! Hú-hu-hú! Wajin'ga waçáte fi-gä. Ü'e çekë onáhnin^{n'} tai há.
 my elder sister! Hú! hú! hú! Bird to eat be ye coming. Field this one you devour shall

3 A^{n'}wa^{n'}qpani teábe há. Wajin'ga-máçé bçúga fi-gä. Wantá dádá^{n'}-macé' Me poor very Bird ye who all be ye coming. Animal what ye who cti çgaxe fi-gä, á-biamá. Maja^{n'} áhe bçé tá minke, á-biamá. * * * Çcamá too around it be ye said, they say. Land to pass I go will I who, said he, they these ones in a circle coming, over the surface say.

watoçgaxe júçigç 'çeni, á-biamá (wa'ú aká). * * * Jé amá gççin^{n'}-bi çí to dance they with they speak said, they say (woman the). Buffalo the sitting they when you of it, (sub.) say ma'ei aqá-biamá, gia' aqá-biamá. Ma'xe ké'ia aqé taité, á-biamá. ^{above went they say, flying they went, they say. Upper world to the go shall said, they say Buffalo-} wa'ú aká. ^{Buffalo-woman the (sub.). Buffalo-woman the (sub.)} ^{horn blow;} T-t-t-t-t, á-biamá. ^{T-t-t-t-t, said, they say. Water very big} ³ ké'di a-igéi'-biamá, ^{at the they were coming and sitting, they say.} ^{shore the Buffalo the (sub.).} ^{There he arrived, they say.} É'di ahí-biamá. ^{It hap- lodge one} ^{opened} ga'-'te amá. * * * ^{At the bottom} ^{they will arrive} ^{To the other they pass by will} ^{here} ^(said, they say) ^{á-biamá}

^{It had stood for a while, they say.} ^{Hídadi ahí tá amá.} ^{Masáni ágiáqé tá ána} ^(á-biamá)
^{Buffalo-woman the.} ^{Dead the regularly} ^{ga'-'ke amá.} ^{Sigéé etéwa' wééjif-} ^{Trail in the land not discovered}
^{Buffalo-woman the.} ^{They had been coming and sitting, they say.} ^{á-biamá} ^{* * *} ^{Hau! cutí, á-biamá.} ^{Why! he has come said they, directly hither, they say.} ⁶ ^{Qigáqé'á} ^{Your wife}
^{ugéxida-gá, á-biamá} ^{* * } ^{É'di a-í-biamá núníga tan'di.} ^{ * *} ^{A'pa'á-} ^{You}
^{seek for your own, said they, they say.} ^{There she was coming, they say.} ^{boy to the.} ⁶ ^{A'pa'á-} ^{You}
^{epaha' uéíciqti-já' xí (níjá ána té bécikan'gée tá minke hě, á-biamá} ^{know me you unable when (ear the other I move suddenly will I who said, they say)}
^{Buffalo-woman the.} ^{Ear the other she moved suddenly, they say.} ^{* * *} ^{Jáwahéqé-hna'á-} ⁹ ^{He stabbed them regularly suddenly}
^{biamá. Lc-ma} ^{* * *} ^{Qaxícpaáin'göqtia'í.} ^{Can'gaxa-gá, á-biamá.} ^{Lc-ma} ^{they say the Buffaloes.} ^{You push yourselves altogether to nothing} ^{Stop it, said he, they say.} ^{The Buffaloes}
^{gacéje gáí' ípa'á'-biamá.} ^{Xigéibéaze t'xíqéwáqé ma'áí'-biamá.} ^{* * *} ^{falling on the knees sat suddenly and repeatedly, they say.} ^{Tearing themselves open} ^{he made them kill themselves} ^{he walked they say.}

NOTES.

The translation of this version is fuller than the text, because it was easier to keep pace with the narrator by writing in English; and he would not repeat any of the original that the collector failed to get. The words of the song are in Iowa, not Omaha.

140, 2. onahni^a tai há, intended for onasni^a tai há, from pasni^a.

141, 3-4. égiéé pí wá ga'-'te amá. The old man at this lodge resembles one who figures in the myth of the Snake-woman. He gives similar advice to the hero.

141, 5. uéka' ké hna' ga'-'ke amá. If this refers to the buffalo, ké denotes the long trail made, or the departure of the herd in a long line. If it refers to the sleeping man, ké shows that it was thus each time that he lay down.

141, 11. gacéje gáí' ípa'á'-biamá: gacéj ípa'á'-biamá, to continue falling down suddenly on the knees.

TRANSLATION.

[The informant being old and deaf, it was impossible to obtain from him a verbatim transcript of the original. See the first part of the preceding version.]

When Waha'Ūicigi went to the field at the request of his sister, he sang as follows: "Sister mine, sister mine, my sister's husband is bringing home a big deer, sister mine." He then said, "Hu-hu-hú! Come hither, birds, to eat. Ye shall devour this field. I am very poor. O all ye birds, be ye coming hither. All ye animals too, of every sort, come ye all around it. I will go over the earth," said he. * * * The Buffalo-woman gave birth to two calves. * * * They struck their father's side as they ran to meet him. Their mother was placed in a row with three other white cows, when Wahaⁿʕicige was directed to identify her. * * * "These speak of dancing with you," said she. * * * When the Buffaloes sat awhile, they went on high; they went flying. "They will go to the upper world," said the Buffalo-woman. * * * The Buffalo-woman blew a horn, saying, "T-t-t-t-t." * * * The Buffaloes reached the shore of the great water, and were sitting there. Wahaⁿʕicige arrived. And it came to pass that a lodge of some sort was there. A very aged man sat there. "Yes," said he, "you are very poor. I heard you. The Buffaloes have gone across the great water. Shut your eyes and make a stride, and you shall cross the great water." And he made a stride, and found himself on the other side. His two sons came running to meet him. The woman told him, "They are going across the great water again. They will pass to the other side. They will arrive down there on the earth." * * * When the boy slept at night, the Buffaloes departed. Their way was as usual; their trail could not be discovered. The boy crossed the great water as before, closing his eyes till he was over. They had arrived, and were sitting there. "Why! he has come directly hither," said they. "Look around for your wife," they said. * * * She came to the place where the boy was standing. "When you will be completely unable to recognize me, I will move my right ear." * * * She moved the right ear quite briskly. * * * The next day the Buffaloes had a dance. Wahaⁿʕicige went to it. He changed himself into a martin, and darted here and there among the Buffaloes. He continued making sudden thrusts at the Buffaloes. "You will destroy yourselves by thrusting. Stop it," said he. The Buffaloes continued to fall down suddenly on their knees. He went about, causing them to kill themselves by tearing themselves open. * * *

WAHAⁿʕICIGE AND THE BUFFALO-WOMAN.AⁿʕIⁿ-NAⁿPAJⁱ'S VERSION.

* * * Aⁿ'ba wé'duba jaⁿ té'di gá-biamá wa'ú aká: Agéé tá minke Day the fourth asleep when said as follows, woman the (sub.), I go home will I who ʕaⁿ'ja sigéé ké aⁿ'ʕaⁿ waⁿ'ʕahé maⁿ'hniⁿ te hě, á-biamá. Ní ké masáni though trail the (ob.) you follow me you walk will said she, they say. Water the on the other 3 akí xi cí te hě. Géce te hě: Hau! wígaqqaⁿ, ʕéʕu eccéti ʕaⁿ cubéé
 I reach when you will You say will: Ho! my wife here just as you said I go to home come as follows tá átaⁿhé áʕa, ecc-daⁿ ictá hnípⁱ'ze-daⁿ ní ké áʕagajáde te hě, á-biamá will I who indeed, you say when eye you close when water the you stride over will said, they say stand (ob.)
 wa'ú aká. Ci éduátaⁿ wiⁿ maⁿ'á watéka uqéúqati iéééti ʕigixae taité.
 woman the Again the next one bank creek very deep hollow going down, they make will (sub.), down for you surely.

Ẹ'di cī Ẹ'i, Hau! wigaqqaⁿ, eecqti Ẹaⁿ cubēc tá átaⁿhē áẸa, eec-daⁿ ictá
 There you when, Ho! my wife, just as you said I go to you will I who indeed, you when eye arrive
 hn̄p'iⁿze-daⁿ uqúúqa kē áẸagajade te Ẹcē, á-biamá. Cī éduátaⁿ waqága you shut when deep hollow the (ob.) you stride over will indeed, she said, they Again the next thorns
 say.
 pa-í gē majaⁿ bēúgaqti áhe Ẹgiáxe taité. Ẹ'di cī Ẹ'i, Hau! wigaqqaⁿ, 3 sharp the land over all on the they make will surely. There you when, Ho! my wife, scattered anrhee for you arrive
 Ẹcēu eecqti Ẹaⁿ cubēc tá átaⁿhē áẸa, eec-daⁿ ictá hn̄p'iⁿze-daⁿ waqága here just as you said I go to you will I who stand indeed, you say when eye you shut when thorns pa-í gē áẸagajade te Ẹcē, á-biamá. Cī éduátaⁿ maⁿ'xe Ẹaⁿ ujan'ge gáxe sharp the (ob.) you stride over will indeed, she said, they Again the next sky to the road made
 say.
 gaⁿ aqē taité. Ẹ'di cī Ẹ'i, Hau! wigaqqaⁿ, Ẹcēu eecqti Ẹaⁿ cubēc tá 6 so they will There you when, Ho! my wife, here just as you said I go to will go surely arrive you átaⁿhē áẸa, eec-daⁿ ictá hn̄p'iⁿze-daⁿ maⁿ'xe Ẹaⁿ áẸagajade te Ẹcē,
 I who stand indeed, you say when eye you shut when sky the (ob.) you stride over will indeed, á-biamá wa'ú aká. Wa'ú aká aⁿẸa agēá-biamá. Jé-ma gazaⁿ akísaid they say woman the (sub.). Woman the (sub.) left him went homeward, they say. The Buffalo... among after locs them miⁿ'Ẹiⁿ-biamá. Ní kē masáni Jé amá akí amáma. ẸẸaⁿbe ahí-biamá 9 reaching home, she Water the (ob.) on the Buffalo the they were reaching. ẸẸaⁿbe ahí-biamá 9 walked, they say. (pl. sub.) home, they say.
 Wahaⁿ'Ẹicige aká cī. Huhu'á! cé atí hā, Wahaⁿ'Ẹicige, á-biamá. Iqáqqaⁿ Orphan the again. Really! that has Orphan said they, His wife (sub.) one come they say, they say.
 cīn'gajinga edábe wuigihe maⁿ'Ẹiⁿ-biamá. Cī úkaⁿ wíⁿ cī ufnai-gā, child also seeking them he walked they say. Again deed one again seek ye for him, á-biamá. Cī édi ahí-bi Ẹi Ẹgazeze jaⁿ'wakiqá-biamá Jé-miⁿ'ga dúbá. Ẹ'di 12 said they, Again there he arrived, when in a row they made them lie they say Female-buffalo four. There
 they say they say
 ahí-bi egaⁿ, Hau! Ẹigáqqaⁿ áwake, á-biamá. Níá ionúga Ẹaⁿ Ẹickan'gēa-arrived, having, Ho! your wife where lying! said they, Bar right the (ob.) she moved they say they say they say suddenly biamá. Wigaqqaⁿ gáaké á-biamá Wahaⁿ'Ẹicige aká. Huhu'á! cī úkaⁿ they say. My wife that one lying said he, they Orphan the (sub.). Really! again deed is she say wíⁿ cī ufnai-gā, á-biamá. Egiqē haⁿ'egaⁿ'tee Ẹi íẸiẸa-bi egaⁿ, Wahaⁿ'Ẹicige 15 one again seek ye for him, said they, At length morning when awoke they having, Orphan
 they say they say
 aká enáqtei qádadi jaⁿ'-biamá. Wa'ú amá Jé-ma júwagigqē áíáẸathe (sub.) he only on the grass lay they say. Woman the the Buffaloes she with them had come,
 (mv. sub.)
 bitéama. Égiqē Jé amá maⁿ'á watéka uqúúgaqti iq'Ẹcēqti wíⁿ masáni they say. At length Buffalo the (pl. sub.) cliff creek very deep hollow going down, one on the other side
 aqí-biamá. Kí Wahaⁿ'Ẹicige amá édi ahí-biamá. Gá-biamá: Hau! 18 went, they say. And Orphan the (mv. sub.) there arrived, they say. He said as follows, Ho!
 they say:
 wigaqqaⁿ, Ẹcēu eecqti Ẹaⁿ cubēc tá átaⁿhē áẸa, á-bi egnⁿ, ictá Ẹip'iⁿze-daⁿ my wife, here just as you said I go to you will I who indeed, said he, having, eye he shut when stand, they say uqúúqa kē ágajade áíáẸa-biamá. Huhu'á! cé atí hā, Wahaⁿ'Ẹicige, deep hollow the (ob.) striding over he had gone, they say. Really! that has come Orphan á-biamá. Cī úkaⁿ wíⁿ cī ufnai-gā, á-biamá.
 said they, Again deed one again hunt ye for him, said they, they say.

- Égiçe égasani xi haⁿegaⁿtce xi íxiá-bi egaⁿ, enáqtei qádadi jaⁿ-
At length the day after when morning when he awoke, having, he only on the grass lay
- biamá Wahaⁿéige aká. Wa'ú amá Jé-ma júwagígge áíá-á-bitáma.
they say Orphan the (sub.). Woman the the Buffalo, she with them had gone, they say.
- 3 Égiçe waqága pa-í gē majaanⁿ bēúgaqti áhe gíáxa-biamá. É'di ahí-
At length thorns sharp the land all over on the surface they made for him, There arrived
- biamá Wahaⁿéige amá. Gá-biamá: Hau! wígaqqaⁿ, ééçu eecqti éaⁿ they say Orphan the (sub.). He said as follows, they say: Ho! my wife, here just as you said
- cubéé tá átaⁿhé áá, á-bi egaⁿ, ictá éip'iⁿze-daⁿ ágajade áíá-á-biamá.
I go to you will I who stand indeed, said he, having, eye he closed when made a stride he had gone, they say.
- 6 Huhu'á! cé atí há, Wahaⁿéige, á-biamá. Cí úckaⁿ wíⁿ cí uhuai-gá, Really! that has come Orphan, said they, they Again deed one again seek ye for him,
- á-biamá. Égiçe égasani haⁿegaⁿtce xi íxiá-bi egaⁿ, enáqtei qádadi they said, they say. At length the next day morning when he awoke, having, he only on the grass
- jaⁿ-biamá Wahaⁿéige aká. Wa'ú amá Jé-ma júwagígge aqá-bitáma.
lay they say Orphan the (sub.). Woman the the Buffalo, she with them went they say.
- 9 Maⁿxe éaⁿá ujan'ge gáxe gaⁿ aqá-bitáma Paháiaja ahí-bi egaⁿ, Sky to the road made so they went, they say. On high arrived, they having,
- hútaⁿ-hnaⁿ-biamá Jé amá Wahaⁿéige amá ujan'ge uíáⁿbe aqá-bi bellow, repeat- edly they say Buffalo, the (pl. sub.). Orphan the (mv. sub.) up hill went, they say
- egaⁿ, é'di ahí-biamá. Gá-biamá: Hau! wígaqqaⁿ, ééçu eecqti éaⁿ cubéé having, there arrived, they say. He said as follows, they say: Ho! my wife, here just as you said I go to you
- 12 tá átaⁿhé áá, á-bi egaⁿ ictá éip'iⁿze-daⁿ ágajade aqá-biamá. Maqqí will I who stand indeed, said he, having eye he shut when made a stride went they say. Cloud
- kē átatáqti aqá-biamá. Kí masáni ahí-biamá. Huhu'á! cí cé atí há, the very far beyond he went, they say. And on the other side he arrived, they say. Really! again that has
- á-biamá. Caⁿekáxe tai áá, hní'a bace, á-biamá. Qáqa éaggé tai said they, they say. Enough ye do will indeed, ye fail must, said they, they Back again home will
- 15 áá, á-biamá. Égaⁿ éamú agí-biamá. Hídadi agéí-biamá. Hau! u'áa indeed, said they, they say. So down hill they were coming home, they say. At the bottom they reached home, they say. Ho! scattering
- hné tai áá, á-biamá. Gá-biamá Wahaⁿéige aká: Kē, angágge tai you go will indeed, said they, they say. Said as follows, they say Orphan the (sub.): Come, let us go homeward.
- éíáⁿ agíáⁿbe te áá, á-biamá. Agéá-bi egaⁿ égiçe xi xaⁿha kē Your husband's sister I see mine will indeed, said he, they say. Went homeward, having at length lodge border the (ob.)
- 18 é'di cin gajin'ga wa'ú éinké edábe íáⁿwaqá-biamá Égiçe ían'ge there child woman the (ob.) also he placed them, they say. And behold, his sister
- éinké waqániqtiáⁿ éinké amá, naⁿpchiⁿqti-t'é etégaⁿ éanká amá.
the (ob.) very poor the (one at) they say, very hungry to die apt the ones they say.
- Jangéha, wíáhaⁿ mégaⁿ, agéí, á-biamá. Uqáde éingégaⁿ nújnga
O sister, my sister's husband likewise, I have said he, they say. Cause for complaint none, as boy angúkiji maⁿ'tanahá ičé-gaⁿ aⁿčan'gičá-báji égaⁿ uwágčaqtiⁿ an'gataⁿ.

 we are related to him to a lone place he had as we could not find him as we are suffering very much.

Wačáhide ejidaⁿ ehaⁿ+, á-biamá. Ná! jaŋčhá, wiebčiⁿ há, á-biamá
 To ridiculous it is unnecessary I said she, they say. Indeed! O sister, I am he said he, they say.

Ėgičé ijaŋ'ge aká ictá čaⁿ gid'igugudá-bi égaⁿ gjaⁿ'be gaⁿ čéčá- 3
 At length his sister the (sub.) eye the (ob.) rubbed holes in repeat- having to see her own so sent it (vision)

biamá. Ėgidahaⁿ-biamá. Hé! wisaⁿčáⁿ! in'gči hě, á-biamá. Čiáhaⁿ they say. She knew her own, they say. Helgho! my dear younger has come back to me said she, they say. Your wife's brother gči hě, á-biamá, nú činké čispaⁿ-bi égaⁿ. Laŋčhá, čičiyaⁿ. gátědi has returned said she, they say man the (st. ob.) pulled at, they having. O sister, your brother's in that place gčiⁿ. Čiúčka č'di ačiⁿ gčiⁿ. Ė'di agimaⁿčín'-gá, á-biamá Wahaⁿčicige 6 sits. Your brother's there having she sits. There walk for her, said, they say Orphan

aká. Ačiⁿ akí-biamá. Ačiⁿ akí-bi égaⁿ, waníá bėúgaqti čí qáča the Having her reached home, Having her reached home, having, animals every one again back again

agi-biamá. Či iáhaⁿ aká čí ičtaqti t'ėwačá-biamá. Ėgičé ijaŋ'ge aká were coming, Again his sister's the again at pleasure killed them, they say. At length his sister the (sub.)

in'taⁿ uckúdaⁿ-biamá Cetaⁿ.
 now kind they say. So far.

9

NOTES.

Jačiⁿ-naⁿpajl's variation from the first version begins after the meeting of the Orphan and the Buffalo-woman in the white tent on the prairie. In the morning he found himself lying on the grass, the woman and tent having disappeared. He followed her all day, and overtook her at night. This was repeated three times.

142, 3. čėčú ece-qi čaⁿ, "Here, just as you said in the past," or, "here, just in the place that you said."

144, 12-13. maqpi kě atataqti ača-biamá. The Omahas imagine that the upper world is like stone, and that ground is there. The ground rests on the stone. The Orphan pushed his way through both stone and ground, when he pursued his wife.

144, 19. waqpaniqtiⁿ čínke ama "She had been sitting very poor"; equivalent to waqpaniqtiⁿ akama; the state or act continued till the arrival of the Orphan, as the classifier implies.

145, 2. ejidaⁿ conveys the idea that the act referred to is superfluous, unnecessary: "There is no necessity for making us suffer by your ridiculing us, for we are great sufferers already."

145, 7. From the time that the Orphan left his sister till his return, his brother-in-law had no success in hunting.

145, 7. bėugaqti, pronounced bėu+gaqti by Jačiⁿ-naⁿpajl.

TRANSLATION.

On the fourth night the woman said as follows: "Though I go home, please continue to follow me. When I reach home on the other side of the water, please come hither. Say as follows, when you stand on the shore: 'Well, my wife, here, just as you said, I will be going to you.' When you say it, close your eyes and make a stride over the water. And the next thing which they will make for you will be a cañon hollowed out by a stream, so deep that the bottom can hardly be reached. When you get there, say, 'Well, my wife, here, just as you said, I will be going to you.' When you say it, close your eyes and make a stride across the cañon. And next to it they will make for you sharp thorns over the surface of the whole land. When you arrive, say, 'Well, my wife, here, just as you said, I will be going to you.' When you say it, close your eyes and make a stride over the thorns. And next to it they will make a road to the upper world, and go thither. When you arrive at the place, say, 'Well, my wife, here, just as you said, I will be going to you.' When you say it, close your eyes and make a stride in the air," said the woman. The woman departed and left him. She reached home, and walked among the Buffaloes. The Buffaloes had reached their home on the other side of the water. The Orphan came in sight again. "Really! that Orphan has come hither," they said. He continued following his wife and child. "Seek ye a difficult thing for him," said the Buffaloes. And when he arrived they made four female Buffaloes lie in a row. "Come," said they, "which one lying down is your wife?" She moved her right ear very briskly. "That one is my wife," said the Orphan. "Well, seek again for him a difficult thing," said the Buffaloes. The next morning when the Orphan awoke, he lay alone on the grass. The woman had gone with the Buffaloes. The Buffaloes went across a very deep cañon hollowed out by a stream. The Orphan reached the cañon. Closing his eyes, he said, "Well, my wife, here, just as you said, I will be going to you." He made a stride, and behold, he was across the cañon. "Really! that Orphan has come hither. Seek ye again something difficult for him," they said. At length, on the morning of the next day, when the Orphan awoke, he lay alone on the grass. The woman had gone with the Buffaloes. And they had made sharp thorns extending all over the surface of the land. The Orphan arrived there. Having said, "Well, my wife, here, just as you said, I will be going to you," he closed his eyes, and made a stride across, and had gone. "Really! that Orphan has come hither. Seek again something difficult for him," said they. At length, on the morning of the next day, when the Orphan awoke, he lay alone on the grass. The woman had gone with the Buffaloes. Having made a road to the upper world, they had gone. Having gone up above, the Buffaloes kept following. As the road went up hill, the Orphan arrived there. "Well, my wife, here, just as you said, I will be going to you," said he. Having closed his eyes, he made a stride and departed. He went far beyond the clouds, and he reached the other side. "Really! that Orphan has come hither. Make an end of your attempts. You must fail. You shall go home," said they. So they were coming down-hill (i. e., from the upper world to this earth). They reached home at the bottom. "Well, go ye in all directions," said they. The Orphan said as follows to his wife: "Come, let us go home. Let me see your husband's sister." Having gone home, he placed the child and the woman by the outside of the tent. And behold, his sister was very poor; she and her husband had been, and were still, apt to die from starvation. "O elder sister, and my sister's husband, I have come home," said he. "Without any cause for complaint, the boy, our redeemer, went to some unknown place. We have not found him, and we are great sufferers. It is not necessary to ridicule us," said she. "Indeed, sister, I am he," he said. At length his sister rubbed her eyes repeatedly with her hands, and looked toward him. She recognized him. "Heigho! my dear younger brother has come home to me," she said. "Your wife's brother has come back," said she, having pulled at the man to attract his attention. "O sister, your brother's wife sits in that place out of sight, holding your brother's son. Go for her," said the Orphan. She brought her home. Having brought her home, all the animals came back again. And again did his sister's husband kill them at pleasure. And at length his sister was kind to him. The End.

THE MAN WHO HAD A CORN-WOMAN AND A BUFFALO-WOMAN AS WIVES.

TOLD BY NUDA'-AXA.

Ègiçe ta'waŋçəⁿ wi' ēdedī-amāma. Máçe çégaⁿ-daⁿ amá wahaⁿ-
 It happened tribe one there it was, they say. Winter as this is when they say they removed biamá. Waçáhaⁿ te, af açə+, á-biamá. Ègiçe nú wi' wa'ú çingá-biamá, they say. You are to remove, he says indeed, said, they say. It hap- man one woman had none they say, pened iŋa'ge aká dúbə-biamá. Gaⁿ wahaⁿ-biamá xī, Aⁿa'çai-gā, á-biamá nú 3 his sister the four they say. And removed they say when, Leave ye me, said, they say man
 (sub.)
 aká. Gaⁿ aⁿçə-biamá. Nú aké cénujinga wakéga kéçəⁿ iŋa'ge amá the (sub.) And they left they say. Man the one who young man stick he who his sister the was (pl. sub.)
 giaⁿçə atli hā, é-l'vaⁿ-biamá ta'waŋçəⁿ bəúga. Çi wahaⁿ-biamá çé çí left him they said invari- they say tribe the whole. Again removed they say this lodge have come aby amá bəúga. Kí çé iŋa'ge háci jingá aká qəbə çəçəⁿ kə'di iŋinaqçə- 6 the (sub.) all. And this his sister after small the (sub.) tree big by the hid herself biamá. Gaⁿ aqçə-biamá. Qáçə ujaŋ'ge ugíha-biamá. Ègiçe çí tē they say. And she went back, they say. Back again road she followed again, At length lodge the
 they say.
 éçəⁿbe akí-biamá. Kí xagé aqçə-biamá iŋa'ge. Gaⁿ iŋnu aká cetaⁿ in sight of she reached home, And crying went homeward, his sister. And her elder the so far
 they say. they say nīja jaⁿ akáma. Eátaⁿ cki ā, wihé, á-biamá. Gaⁿ, Jinuhá, cat'é xī 9 alive was lying, they say. Why have you I O younger said he, they say. And, O elder brother, you die when com- back sister say iwidahaⁿ tégəⁿ dī, á-biamá. Gaⁿ júgigçə najiⁿ-biamá. Ègiçe gá-biamá:
 I know you in order I have said she, they say. And with her own she stood, they say. At length he said as fol-that come back say. lows, they say:
 Wihé, najíha i'çin'gahá-gā, á-biamá. Gaⁿ najíha iŋa'ge aká giáha-biamá.
 O younger hair for me comb, said he, they say. And hair his sister the combed they say.
 (sub.) (sub.)
 Waiⁿçəⁿ i'çin'çizá-gā hā, á-biamá. Gaⁿ i'çizá-biamá. Cəçə wa'çíⁿ tē'di 12 Robe the take mine for me said he, they say. And she took his they say. Yonder pack in the (ob.) say. for him hīnqçé nági'aⁿhe hā; é cti i'çin'çizá-gā hā, wihé, á-biamá. Gaⁿ i'çizáfine feather I put mine in that too take mine for me O younger said he, they say. And she took his sister say. for him

- biamé. Ga^{n'} hi^{n'} bé ça^{n'} cti, uta^{n'} ça^{n'} cti, á-biamá. Zani ígíqízá-biamá. Ga^{n'} they say. And moccasin the too, leggings the too, said he, they All who took his they say. And (ob.) (ob.) say. for him
- ugíta^{n'}-biamá bétiga, hi^{n'} bé ça^{n'}, uta^{n'} gē edábe, hi^{n'} qpe kē cti ágidaxa^{n'}-
he put on his, they say all, moccasins the leggings the also, fine feather the too he stuck his own (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) on
- 3 biamá ásku fan'di. Ga^{n'} waij^{n'} ça^{n'} wafí^{n'} cfece i^{n'}-biamá; xigéspi-qti-biamá.
they say scalp-lock at the. And robe the with he wore, they he wore it very they say.
(ob.) (ob.) hair outside say: will
- xí'a^{n'}-biamá. Gá-biamá: Wihé, ukie fíqín'gega^{n'} ícfa^{n'} uwíne bēc tá he paint'd his face, He said as follows, O younger to talk as you have none your brother's I seek I go will they say. they say: sister with wife for you say
- minke, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} dúbá ja^{n'}-biamá. Lijébe eja té unáji^{n'} éga^{n'} ca^{n'}ca^{n'}-
I who, said he, they And four sleeps they say. Door his the he stood as always say. (ob.) in
- 6 bi-te wéahide afa-baji-biamá. Ga^{n'} égasáni xi dáze hí amá. Kí cēaka they say, far not they say. And the next day when evening arrived, they say. And this one as went
- iñnu aká ga^{n'} ja^{n'}-biamá. Égiçe gá-biamá iñan'ge aká, áci afa-bi ega^{n'}:
her elder the ne he lay down, they say. At length said as follows, his sister the out went, they having:
brother (sub.) was they say (sub.) say
- Jinuha, wa'ú wi^{n'} atí aká hē, á-biamá. Fíciya^{n'} afe^{n'} gí-gá, á-biamá
O elder woman one has come said she, they Your brother's come with her, said he, they brother, say. wife say
- 9 Ciya^{n'}, íjaia í-ñ hē, á-biamá. Ha^{n'} amá. Kí a^{n'}ba amá. Cí dáze hí amá.
O brother's to the come said she, they Night they say. And day they say. Again evening ar- they wife, lodge say. say. rived say.
- Ugáhanadaze uhan'ge té di iñan'ge aká áci afa-biamá. Kí ci wi^{n'} atí akáma.
Darkness (first) end when his sister the out went they say. And again one had come, they
(sub.) say
- Jinuha, cēaka wa'ú wi^{n'} atí aká hē, á-biamá. Fíciya^{n'} afe^{n'} gí-gá, á-biamá
O elder this one woman one has come said she, they Your brother's come with her, said, they say brother, say. wife
- 12 iñnu aká. Ga^{n'} na^{n'}ba wagga^{n'}-biamá. Ga^{n'} akiwa watézugga^{n'}-biamá.
her the And two he married they say. And akiwa watézugga^{n'}-biamá.
brother (sub.) was they say both pregnant they say.
- Ga^{n'} akiwa cin'gajin'ga idawaçá-biamá, akiwa nújingá-biamá. Ga^{n'}
And both child bore them they say, both boy they say. And
- újawaqti ga^{n'} júwagigçe gēi^{n'}-biamá. Kí cin'gajin'ga akiwa íe wakan'dagivery pleasantly so with them he sat they say. And child both to speak forward
- 15 hna^{n'}-biamá. Ga^{n'}, Fisan'ga éça^{n'}ba kixína-bajji-gá, á-biamá íçádi aká.
only they say. And, Your younger brother he too fight ye not, said, they say his father the (sub.)
- Ga^{n'} éga^{n'}-biamá. Jigaxe júkigçe-hna^{n'}-biamá. Égiçe kixína-biamá
And so they say. Playing with each other invari- they say. At length fought they say other bly
- nújinga na^{n'}ba akiwa. Akiwa kigça^{n'}-hna^{n'}-biamá. Fí cīha^{n'} íc-wa'ú cī^{n'}, boy two both. Both reviled only they say. You your Buffalo-woman she is,
each other mother
- 18 á-biamá. Cí áma aká, Fí cti cīha^{n'} Wata^{n'}zi-wa'ú cī^{n'}, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} said (one), the the You too your Corn-woman she is, said he, they And they say. other (sub.) mother say.
- akí-biamá xi íe-jin'ga aká iha^{n'} cī^{n'} ugá-biamá. Gan'ki cí áma aká cí they reached when Buffalo-calf the his told of they say. And again the the again home, they say (sub.) mother (ob.) himself other (sub.)
- ugá-biama. Na^{n'}hú, wiji^{n'}çe aká, Wata^{n'}zi-wa'ú hni^{n'}, aí, aná'a^{n'}, á-biamá.
told about himself, O mother, my older the Corn-woman you are, he I heard they say. brother (sub.) said, him. said (one) they
say.

- Ki áma aká, gá-biamá: Kagé aká, na'há, Ié-wa'ú hni^a, ai, aná'a^a,
 And the the, said as follows, My younger the, O mother, Buffalo-woman you are, he said I heard (sub.), they say: brother (sub.),
- á-biamá. Ga' ha' te akiwa waji'cta-biamá wa'ú aká, nú çínké ukí'a-bají-said (the other), And night when both in a bad humor, they say woman the man the (ob.) they do not they say. they say. (sub.), talk with
- biamá. Ca' çé Ié-wa'ú çínké ja' a'há-biamá.
 they say. Yet this Buffalo-woman the one cum ea coit they say. who
- Ga' a'ba amá. Égiçe nú aká enáqtei ja' akáma; wa'ú amá akiwa
 And day they say. Behold man the alone was lying, they say; woman the both (sub.) (pl. sub.)
- ákiágça-bitéama. Ga' gçi'-biamá. Égiçe gá-biamá: Wihé, á-biamá; çíúcka had gone again, they say. For some he they say. At length he said as fol. O sister said he, they your time sat
- uágine bçé tá minke, á-biamá. Ga' a'ba té'di aça-biamá. Ca' ga' jan'de 6
 I seek my I go will I who said he, they And day when he went, they say. Right along (l) ground own say.
- áçita ma'çi'-biamá. Égiçe ðazéqtei hí çí agçá-bikéama, sigçé wçça-crossing he walked, they say. At length late evening arrived which had gone homeward, trail he found
 they say. they say.
- biamá. Ga' sigçé ké wíluha-biamá. Iha' amá cti ga' Léi té, gan'ki cí they say. And trail the (ob.) he followed them, His the too was a Buffalo and again they say. mother (mv. sub.)
- ijín'ge amá cti Ie-jín'ga-bitéama, nan'gçqtei agçá-bikéama iha' çça'ba. 9 her son the too was a Buffalo-calf, they say running fast had gone homeward, his mother she too.
 (mv. sub.) they say
- Égiçe wateçka wi' eúgaqi naji' te amá çí, í wi' waçiona améde, Çéts é
 At length creek one very thick stood they say when, tent one plain they say, This it
 when,
- te-ána, eçéga'-biamá nú aká. Ga' é'di a-igçi'-biamá, éça'ba-bají-biamá.
 must be I thought they say man the (sub.). And there approaching he sat, not in sight they say.
 they say.
- Égiçe ijín'ge çça'be ahí-biamá. Ie-jín'ga aké aké (á-biamá). I'dádi aká 12
 At length his son in sight arrived, they say. Buffalo-calf the it is (said he, they say). My father the (sub.) (sub.)
- atí aká há, á-biamá (Ie-jín'ga aká). Içádi çat'a' edéçts a'baçé'qti ma'çi' has come said, they say (Buffalo-calf the). His father you had even if this very day walking
 (the).
- çaxáge ma'hni', á-biama. Edída! wágimaçin'-á hé, á-biamá Ié-wa'ú you cried you walked said she, they Simpleton! go after him said, they say Buffalo-woman
- aká. Ga' é'di ahí-biamá. Ki ja'-uqçé jingáqtei 'í-biamá, çéde áçibçá- 15 the (sub.). And there he arrived, they say. And wooden bowl very small she gave, they bottom spread on
 say.
- biamá. Ni bçáta'-máji éga' a'ça'n'bize çan'eti, djúb ínahi' há, eçéga' they say. Water I drink I not but I was thirsty heretofore a little truly thinking gçi'-biamá nú aká. Çata'-biamá; çá'-biamá ní ké. Djúbaqtei sat they say man the (sub.). He drank they say: he left (some) water the. A very little
- a'ça'wa'hébe çan'eti, égiçe ní té bçá'a áha', eçéga'-biamá. Uqçé té cí 18 insufficient for me heretofore, at length water the I fail to thought he, they say. Bowl the again
 say.
- 'í-biamá. Ki zá hébe çéça'ska 'í-biamá. Na'pa'n'hi' çan'eti, tançéga' she gave, they And jerked piece this also she gave, they I hungry heretofore somewhat large
 say. say.
- a'í etéde, eçéga'-biamá. Cí çá'-biamá. Ki 'ébe uçáçte gí'-biamá.
 she should have he thought, they say. Again he failed in eating, And piece left from he gave it back, they say.
 given me they say. eating they say.

150 THE ØEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- Wuáto jin'ga inahiⁿ, á-biamá wa'ú aká Ga'ú á fáⁿ wa'ú aká naⁿbáfaⁿ Food small truly said, they say woman the (sub.) And jerked the woman the in two parts (sub.) meat (ob.) (sub.)
- gaxá-bi egaⁿ gáániⁿ íféfa-biamá. Ga'ú haⁿ égaⁿ gaⁿ jaⁿ-biamá waⁿgié.
 made, they having swallowed suddenly, they say. And night so as they slept, they say all.
 say her own
- 3 Umiⁿje údaⁿqti gaxá-bi egaⁿ jaⁿ-biamá. Aⁿba egaⁿ jaⁿ xiádaⁿ-bi egaⁿ Bed very good made, they having they slept, they say. Day being lying turned himself, having
 say they say
- uáxída-biamá. Égié í íngé jaⁿ akáma, utaⁿnadiqti. Gaⁿ wuhá-biamá he looked around, they behold tent he was lying, in a very lone place. And he followed them, say. without one they say they say
- sigé afaí té Edázéqteí hí xi égié úqfa-biamá éí. Cí wateícka wiⁿ trail went. Late that evening ar- when at length he overtook them, again. Again creek one rived they say
- 6 édedí-ké ama; éí í wiⁿ édedí-té ama. Gaⁿ éí é'di a-ígáⁿ-biamá í í yaⁿha there it was, they say; again tent one it was there, they say. And again there approaching he sat, tent border
 (they say)
- ké'di. É nújinga aká éí éfaⁿbe ahí-biamá. Ná! í'dádi aká atí aká há, at the. That one boy the again in sight arrived, they say. Why! my father the has come.
 (sub.) (sub.)
- á-biamá íádi cat'aⁿ edécté aⁿbafé'qti maⁿfiⁿ faxágo maⁿhniⁿ, á-biamá said he, they His father you had even if this very day walking you cried you walked, said, they say
 say.
- 9 Jé-wa'ú aká. Wébaⁿ féfa-á hé, á-biamá. Dadíha, í-gá hau, á-biamá Buffalo-woman the (sub.) To call them send said she, they O father be coming! said, they say (the voice) say.
- nújinga aká. Gaⁿ é'di ahí-biamá. Kí jaⁿ-uqpe jingáqteí 'í-biamá, féde boy And there he arrived, they say. And wooden bowl very small she gave, they bottom
 say.
- áfíbé-biamá. Kí nú aká úckaⁿ té íbahaⁿ-bi egaⁿ, faqúba-bají-biamá spread on they say. And man the (sub.) deed the (ob.) knew, they say because, did not wonder they say.
- 12 Fátaⁿ-biamá; fá'á-biamá ní té. Uqpe té éí 'í-biamá. Kí á hébe he drank they say; he failed in drink- water the Bowl the again she gave, they And jerked piece ing, they say (ob.) (ob.) say.
- féfaⁿska 'í-biamá. Kí nú aká úckaⁿ té íbahaⁿ-bi egaⁿ, faqúba-bají-biamá this size she gave, they And man the (sub.) deed the knew, they say because, did not wonder they say.
 say.
- Kí á fáⁿ éí fá'á-biamá. Kí hébe uácte gíí-biamá. É waáte jin'ga And jerked the again he failed in eating, they say. And piece he left he gave back, they That for: small meat (ob.) say.
- 15 inahiⁿ, á-biamá Jé-wa'ú aká. Jé fáⁿ fícpá-bi egaⁿ gáániⁿ féfa-biamá.
 truly, said, they say Buffalo-woman the (sub.) Dried the pulled a piece having swallowed suddenly, they say.
 (sub.) meat (ob.) off, they say
- Gaⁿ haⁿ égaⁿ jaⁿ-biamá. Nú aká hájinga wiⁿ afaíⁿ-bi éde wa'ú ké síhí té
 And night as they slept, they say. Man the (sub.) cord one had, they but woman the feet the
 say.
- wan'daⁿ íkika'taⁿ-biamá. Haⁿ jaⁿ té fíqíí-bají égaⁿ, fíqíí gaⁿfaí égaⁿ, together he tied with it they say. Night slept when he was not as to be he wished as, roused
- 18 Ckaⁿi tédhi aⁿfiqí etégaⁿ áhaⁿ, eégaⁿ-biamá nú aká. Gaⁿ jaⁿ-biamá.
 Moving when to wake me apt I thought they say man the (sub.) And they slept, they
 say.
- Égié aⁿba amá. Égié íctá fíbé-bi egaⁿ utaⁿnadiqti jaⁿakáma.
 At length day they say. At length eye opened, they having in a very lone place he was lying,
 say they say
- Gaⁿ sigé éí wuhá-biamá. Baxú tanáqti ké'di éfaⁿbe ahí-biamá.
 And trail again he followed them, they say. Peak very big at the in sight of he arrived, they
 say.

- Égiçe ní ʔaŋgáqti wi^{n'} ɕiɛ tá akamá ʔi é'di ahi-biamá (nú aká). Kí
At length water very big one they would have to cross when there arrived, they say (man the). And
- nú aká ja^{n'} tē áka^{n'}-bi, ʔinaqá-biamá. Égiçe ní úha ma^{n'}ɕi^{n'}-bi tē'di man the wood the leaned against he hid himself, they say. At length water following he walked, they when (sub.) (ob.) they say, say
- iha^{n'} épa^{n'}ba ʔe na^{n'}a^{n'}-biamá nú aká. Cin'gajin'ga tégiçe améde hindá 3 his her too speaking he heard, they say man the Child he loves if let me see
mother
- ní kedi gákedi atí tá amé, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} iha^{n'} épa^{n'}ba ní ɕiɛ agáwater at the at that place he will come, said she, they And his mother she too water crossing went
say. homeward
- biamá ijin'ge aká: qáɕe-hna^{n'}-bi, ci iha^{n'} amá cti éga^{n'}-hna^{n'}-biamá. Ga^{n'} they say they son the cried out regularly again his the too so regularly they say. And (sub.): (sub.) mother (mv. sub.)
- ní uka^{n'}ska ʔda^{n'}be ahi-bi ʔi iha^{n'} épa^{n'}ba, égiçe nú aká hi^{n'}qpe ké 6 water in a straight through the they arrived, when his she too, behold man the fine feather the line middle they say mother (sub.) (ob.)
- gɕɕa-biamá. Ga^{n'} hi^{n'}qpe ké nú aká bihiça ɕépa-biamá. Éta^{n'}ɕi^{n'} took his, they say. And fine feather the (ob.) man the (sub.) blew away suddenly, they say. He first
side
- masáni ahi-biamá. Bihiça ɕépa^{n'} tē é ca^{n'}ca^{n'} masáni ahi-biamá Hi^{n'}qpe the other reached, they say. He blew off sud- when that without stopping side Fine feather
side
- ɕiɕáxai, ci ɕiɕhiça ɕépa^{n'} nú aká. Kí qéabé wi^{n'} áɕaskabá-biamá. Ga^{n'} 9 he made himself, again blew himself off sud- man the And tree one he stuck to they say. And the (sub.):
- iha^{n'} épa^{n'}ba wada^{n'}be gɕi^{n'}-biamá. Masáni agáɕ-biamá ijin'ge épa^{n'}ba.
his mother her too seeing them he sat they say. The other side they came back, her son he too.
they say
- Hi^{n'} ɕa^{n'} bibiça-biamá, uɕiɕata^{n'}-biamá ɕizú kedi. Cin'gajin'ga tégiçe Hair the they rubbed dry, they rolled themselves, said on the. Child he loves
they say
- améde hindá atí ta amé, á-biamá Lé-wa'ú aká. Ga^{n'} nan'geqti agá- 12
if let me see he will come, said, they say Buffalo woman the And running fast they went (sub.) homeward
- biamá uɕa^{n'}be. Ga^{n'} wiɕa-biamá nú aká. Baxú ké épa^{n'}be ahi-bi ʔi they say up-hill. And followed they say man the Peak the in sight of he arrived, when (sub.): they say
- égiçe ʔi édedɕ-ɕa^{n'} amá, húɕuga jin'gaji ɕa^{n'} amá. Ga^{n'} é'di a-ɕɕi^{n'}- behold lodge there was the (circle), tribal circle not small the they say. And there approaching they say he sat
- biamá baxú ké'di. Na^{n'}há, i^{n'}dádi aká atí aká há, á-biamá. É'di 15 they say peak on the. O mother, my father the (sub.) has come said (the calf), There
they say
- wágima^{n'}ɕi^{n'}-á, á-biamá. É'di ahi-biamá ʔi wéɕaji-biamá, hi^{n'}qpe ɕiɕáxa-bi walk for them said (the mother), There he arrived, they when he did not they say, fine feather made himself
they say find them they say
- ega^{n'}. Ci, Wihe, é'di wágima^{n'}ɕi^{n'}-á, á-biamá Lé-wa'ú aká. Ga^{n'} wágiahihaving. Again, O sister, there walk for them, said, they say Buffalo- the (sub.). And she arrived woman for them
- biamá ʔi wéɕaji amá. Ja^{n'}ɕéha, ɕingai hē, á-biamá Tēnā! íta^{n'}ɕéwáɕe 18 they say when she did not they say. O elder sister, there is none said she, they say. Why! hateful find them
- inahi^{n'} é, á-biamá. Wéɕana'úqte^{n'}-hna^{n'}i, á-biamá Lé-wa'ú aká. Ga^{n'} ci truly I said she, they You passed close by only said, they say Buffalo woman the (sub.). And again
say, them
- wi^{n'} aká é'di aɕá-biamá. Ja^{n'}ɕéha, wéɕa-máji, á-biamá ci. Ci wi^{n'} one the (sub.) there went, they say. O elder sister, I do not find them, she said, they say again. Again one

- aká ē'di aq̄a-biamá ci, wéq̄aji amá Jaⁿq̄cha, weq̄cha-máji, á-biamá. Ci the there went they say again, should not they say. O elder sister, I have not found said she, they Again (sub.) and them them say.
- wiⁿ aká ē'di aq̄a-biamá Jaⁿq̄cha, weq̄cha-máji, á-biamá. Q̄it'ac̄ewáq̄a one the (sub.) there went, they say. O elder sister, I have not found said she, they say. You hateful them, them,
- 3 íq̄anahiⁿi é. Akihaⁿ-hnaⁿ c̄i hē, á-biamá. Aḍib̄e tá minke, hinda!
 you indeed I Beyond, invariably ye went said she, they say. I go for you will I who, behold!
 said, they say Buffalo-woman the Let me see! have I not found him? said she, they say. And there she arrived
- á-biamá J̄c̄-wa'ú aká. Hinda! íq̄a-máji eskaⁿ, á-biamá. Kí ēdi ahí-
 said, they say Buffalo-woman the Let me see! have I not found him? said she, they say. And there she arrived
- biamá. Wahnáto tégaⁿ aq̄giatf-hnaⁿi, eátaⁿ q̄aḡciⁿ-hnaⁿ á, á-biamá.
 they say. You eat in order that they came inva- why you eat invariably I said she, they say.
 for you rably say.
- 6 Égaⁿq̄aⁿja ē'be an'giti-íji égaⁿ. Gaⁿ aḡciⁿ minke, á-biamá nú aká Nevertheless who came not for me so. Just so I was sitting, said, they say man the (sub.).
- Gaⁿ júq̄e aḡq̄a-biamá Égiq̄e wa'ú aká ukíkiji aká dúbá akáma, é And with him she went they say. Behold woman the near relations (sub.) the four they were, she homeward the (sub.) that marrying arrived the one who And made room they say. Lodge the no one there
- wésatáⁿ aká é wáq̄ix̄e ahí aká. Gaⁿ ḡq̄ikaⁿ-biamá. J̄f̄ tē úkiza the fifth the (sub.) that marrying arrived the one who And made room they say. Lodge the no one there
- 9 gíaxa-biamá. Q̄é ían'ge aká e-hnaⁿ júwagiḡat̄ tē.
 they made for her, This her sister the (sub.) only she was with them.
- Égiq̄e haⁿegaⁿtee amá. Iyaⁿ aká gá-biamá (iúcpa é wagiká-bi At length morning they say. His grand- the said as follows, (her grand- him she meant her the (sub.) they say mother (sub.) they say child own, they say
- egaⁿ): Q̄iadi iⁿ'é je'q̄gaⁿ hē, iⁿ'úde júq̄e tégaⁿ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ iⁿ'úde having Your stone I have heated sweet- I with in order said she, they And sweet-father for him bath him that, say. bath
- 12 júq̄a-biamá ían'de aká. Gaⁿ J̄c̄-núga amá nan'di'q̄aspe gíaxai fi tē he with her, they her daughter's the And Buffalo bull the to hold down the walls making came, say husband (sub.) (pl. sub.)
- ḍéq̄ab̄eiⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ iyaⁿ aká iⁿ'é jahá-bi q̄i gáq̄aⁿská-biamá; ci p̄i eight they say. And his wife's the stone pushed at, when that size they say; again again mother (sub.) they say
- jahá-bi q̄i gáq̄aⁿská-biamá; wéq̄ab̄eiⁿa jahá-bi q̄i gataⁿhiq̄aⁿ-biamá; ci she pushed when that size they say; the third time she thrust at, when that high suddenly, they and at, they say they say say;
- 15 p̄i jahá-bi q̄i q̄i tē éq̄aⁿskáq̄tcinⁿ-biamá iⁿ'é tē. Nú aká hiⁿq̄p̄e again she thrust at, when lodge the just the size of they say stone the Man the fine feather they say (col.) (sub.)
- q̄i'axa-bi égaⁿ J̄c̄-núga ísha biakibesaⁿ-bi égaⁿ hiⁿq̄p̄e bihiq̄a q̄éq̄a-made himself, having Buffalo bull tent-skin made double up by lean- having fine feather blew off suddenly they say ing against, they say
- biamá, ísha ákibesaⁿ kē égiⁿ áiaq̄a-biamá. J̄c̄-wa'ujin'ga, Jandé, they say, tent skin fold the right into he had gone, they say. Buffalo old-woman, O daughter's husband,
- 18 uq̄inad̄aqaⁿ égaⁿ, á-biamá. Aⁿ, q̄aⁿhá, á-biamá. Ci gaⁿ'te amá. Jandé you are accus- somewhat, said, they say. Yea, O wife's said he, they say. Again a long they say. O daughter's tomed to heat mother, say, while husband
- e'aⁿ égaⁿ á, á-biamá J̄c̄-wa'ujin'ga aká. Nát'e eskaⁿ e'q̄egaⁿ égaⁿ imaxá-
 how is it I said, they say Buffalo old-woman the Killed by she hoped as asked him (sub.) heat
- biamá. q̄aⁿhá, gaⁿ ḡciⁿ minke, á-biamá. Gaⁿ wasisige íe tē they say. O wife's mother, all right I am sitting, said he, they say. And active he spoke

- ǎjǎjǎqti égiǎn'-biamá. Ci ga'-akáma ǎj, ǎndé, e'a'n' éga'n' á, a-biamá.
 spoke very he said to her, they say. Again they sat for while, O daugh- how is it ? said she, they fearfully
 ǎa'ha, ga' gǎi' mǎnké, a'wa'nabǎi etǎwa'-mǎji, á-biamá. Égiǎe O wife's all right I am sitting, I perspire in the least I not, said he, they say. At length
 mother
 ǎé-wa'ujin'ga náwakandiǎ'-biamá; é náteǎǎé aǎ'-biamá ǎǎhuǎqtei. 3
 Buffalo old-woman was made impatient by heat, they she caused herself aǎ'-biamá ǎǎhuǎqtei. 3 say: to die from heat she went, they say almost.
 A'wan'kandiǎ'-qti-ma', gǎtǎ i'ǎicǎu-ǎ hǎ, á-biamá. Gǎǎǎǎ'-biamá ǎj
 I am very impatient from heat, that made for me said she, they say. They pulled off for her, when
 they say
 éǎ'be aǎ'-biamá. Ca'ca'n' t'é áǎǎu-biamá ǎé-wa'ujin'ga áká. ǎǎǎǎ in sight she reached home, Without dead had gone they say Buffalo old-woman the (sub.). This one they say stopping ǎǎn'dé áká éǎ'be aǎ'-bi ǎj ca' unáǎǎi etǎwa'-bǎǎ-biamá. Ná! i'ǎǎde 6 her daugh- the in sight reached when yet he perspired in the least not they say. Why! I took a ter's husband (sub.) home, they say sweat-bath áǎi'hé etǎ snǎ'n'te a'wan'kandiǎ', á-biamá. Igǎǎǎ' áká gǎ'-biamá:
 I who move even I cold I am impatient of, said he, they say. His wife the (sub.) said as follows, they say:
 Uǎinabǎi etǎwa'n'ji; wa'úǎǎga ákáǎ náte ké, á-biamá. Éga'n'ja snǎ'n'te You perspire not in the least; aged woman on the other lies dead from said she, they hand the heat, say. Nevertheless I cold a'wan'kandiǎ', á-biamá. Égiǎe ǎǎn' áká gǎsi'n'-biamá. Gǎsi'n'-biam éga'n' 9
 I am impatient of, said he, they say. At length his wife's the revived they say. She revived, they say mother (sub.) say éǎsani wa'ú ǎǎká zǎnǎ ǎǎn' áká wagǎǎǎ-biamá. (ǎé-jǎn'ga áká)
 the next day woman the (pl. ob.) all his wife's the (see note) they say. (Buffalo-calf the) mother (sub.)
 gǎ'-biamá: Ná! dadǎǎ, i'n'a'ha uǎnǎxide táǎ (ǎǎǎǎǎǎa' to), á-biamá.
 said as follows, Why! O father, my mother you will look around (you will know your own), said he, they
 they say: say.
 ǎǎǎǎ ǎǎn'ge méga'n' indé ǎa' wǎǎqtei-biamá, wa'ú ǎǎa'qti-hua'-biamá, ca'n' 12
 This one her sisters likewise face the (ob.) one they say, woman very beautiful as a class, they say, in fact indé ǎa' wǎǎqtei-biamá, ǎǎǎi tǎ. Ga' wǎǎǎǎ'-biamá, ǎǎn'ǎǎǎ-biamá face the (ob.) one they say, as to beauty. And they finished them, they they caused to paint them-say, selves, they say wan'ǎǎe, náǎi'wakiǎ'-biamá. Éǎǎǎǎ náǎi'wakiǎ'-biamá, ǎǎǎǎǎǎ'xe-all, they caused them to stand, they to a row they caused them to stand, they they caused them to say, say, say.
 wǎǎǎǎ-biamá, igǎǎǎ' ǎǎnké igǎǎǎa'ǎj gǎǎǎǎǎi éga'n'. Ga' éǎǎǎǎǎi tǎ, 15 push themselves around, his wife (the ob.) not to know his wished for him because. And they were in when, a line
 they say, say.
 Ké, ǎndé, ǎǎǎǎǎǎ uǎǎǎǎǎǎ hǎ, á-biamá ǎé-wa'ujin'ga áká. Ga' uǎǎǎǎ Come, O daugh- your wife look around for yours said, they say Buffalo old-woman the (sub.). And looked ter's hus- band,
 xidǎ-biamá ná áká. Gǎta' éǎ hǎ, á-biamá. Uǎǎ'-biamá. Ga' ǎǎǎǎǎǎaround for his, man the (sub.). That one is she he said, they He took hold, they say. And they ceased
 they say say.
 biamá. Gǎ-biamá ǎé-jǎn'ga áká: Dadǎǎ, gǎsǎni nǎǎǎǎ áǎǎǎǎ'wǎǎǎǎ 18 they say. Said as follows, Buffalo-calf the O father, to-morrow boy to make them run a race (sub.):
 'ǎǎi éde éduǎhe tá mǎnké. A'wa'hnixide táǎ, á-biamá. A'ǎa'cpaha'n'ǎj spoke of but I join it will I who. You will look around for me, he said, they say. You do not know me tedǎǎi wǎǎa' áká t'éǎǎǎ 'ǎǎi, á-biamá. Ga' áǎǎǎǎ'-biamá éǎsani ǎj.
 in case my grand the killing spoke of, he said, they And they run a race they say the next day when mother (sub.) you say.

CARLETON UNIVERSITY

154 THE CECILIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- Gú-biamá nájinga aká: Dadíha, Je-jín'ga sátaⁿ waaⁿ'éu-ma é wéende maⁿ.
Said as follows, they say boy the (sub.): O father, Buffalo-calf five those who leave that the sixth the others I
- hét' tá minke, á-biamá. Gaⁿ égasáni ákibanaⁿ-biamá. Je-jín'ga amá will I who, he said, they say. And the next day they ran a race they say. Buffalo-calf the (pl. sub.)
- 3 sáthⁿ waaⁿ'éa-biamá, kí wíⁿ wíutaⁿ maⁿ'éiⁿ-biamá. Kí nú aká gú-biamá:
five left them they say, and one next to them he walked they say. And man the (sub.) said as follows, they say:
- Cín'gajín'ga wíwípa éiⁿ é, á-biamá. Áwáéiⁿ á, á-biamá Je-wa'ujín'ga Child my the that, said he, they say. Where is he I said, they say Buffalo old-woman
- aká. Sátaⁿ waaⁿ'éa amá é wéende eduátaⁿ éiⁿ éé há, á-biamá. Gaⁿ
(the sub.), Five left them the that the sixth next to the (mv. ob.) it is he he said, they say. And
- 6 en'gaxá-biamá. Úwagíga-hnaⁿ'i atá, á-biamá Je-wa'ujín'ga aká.
they ceased they say. They told him invariably I won- said, they say Buffalo old woman the (sub.)
- Gaⁿ égasáni Je-jín'ga aká gú-biamá: Dadíha, wípaⁿ aká ékí-
And the next day Buffalo-calf the (sub.) said, they say, O father, my grand mother the (sub.) running
- hanaⁿ 'éai, á-biamá. Úéáqéai yí t'ééíé 'éai, á-biamá. Wáckaⁿ égañ-gá, a race spoke of said he, they say. You do not if she kills spoke of, he said, they say. Do be strong
- 9 á-biamá Aⁿ, nísíha, éípaⁿ égaⁿ tégaⁿ ééé há, á-biamá. Gaⁿ égasáni he said, they say Yes, my child, your grand- mother so in order she said he, they say. And the next day
- yí ían'de éinké gikibanaⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ júgée aqá-biamá. Éahé waqú-when her daugh- ter's husband the (ob.) she ran a race with her own they say. And with him she went, they say. Full very
- deíjítí jaⁿ ké é júgée aqá-biamá. Jandé, échikéditaⁿ angági taté, distant it was lying that with him she went, they say. O daughter's husband, from yonder place we coming shall,
- 12 á-biamá. É'di júgée ahí-biamá. Kí euátaⁿ júgée agí-biamá. Gaⁿ éé she said, they say. There with him she arrived, they say. And thence with him she was coming back, they say. And this
- nfací'ga waqúdeíjítí aⁿ'éa-biamá. Gaⁿ fat'é taté, á-biamá Je-wa'ujín'ga man very far she left him, they say. And you do shall said, they say Buffalo old-woman
- aká. Gaⁿ aⁿ'éa agéá-biamá. Gaⁿ baxú wíⁿ 'épaⁿ'be akí-biamá. Kí
(the sub.) And she left him she went they say. And peak one in sight of she reached home, And they say.
- 15 en'en'qti agéá-biamá Wa'ujínga amá aⁿ'éa agí, á-biamá. Wa'ujínga without she went they say. Old woman the left him she is said they, Old woman
- qí kan'ge akí-bí yí, Man'dehi háha ihéí'én'kíáí-á, eageé, á-biamá. Nú lodge near to reached home when, they say. Dart prepare ye mine for me, I go home- she said, they say. Man
- amá hí'qpe gííza-bí egaⁿ bíhíéa é'épa-biamá yí, égiéé jí t'é égiha
(mv. sub.) the fine father took his, they say having he blew off suddenly, they say when, behold lodge the right into (ob.)
- 18 ákí'gga-biamá, wa'ujínga aká man'dehi gíná agí t'é. Kí jaⁿ'éqti had gone again, they say, old woman the (sub.) dart asked for her was when. And sound asleep
- jaⁿ-biamá; écééetéwaⁿ'jí. Cetaⁿ'qtihi uéúaaⁿ'bée hé, á-biamá. Kí íjín'ge he lay, they say; he stirred not at all. At last I have hindered him she said, they say. And his son
- aká gú-biamá: Wa'ujínga gáéíⁿ edé hnaⁿ éíto; í'dádi aká xáéiqti agéí, (sub.) they say: Old woman that one what only it may be: my father the very long ago came back

- á-biamá. Hm! á-biamá wa'újinga. Iha' aká grá-biamá: Ǿtadi kí ada', said he, they Paha! said, they say old woman. His mother the said as follows, Your reached I say. (sub.) they say: father soon
- á-biamá. Ǿáci i'ǾǾdi agǾi éga' ja' t'Ǿqi ja'í, wa'ú eti ingǾéza, said she, they Long ago my father had come as sound asleep he lies, woman too talks
say. home
- á-biamá nújinga aká. Ga', Wa'újinga, qǾtáji éga'-Ǿ hǾ, Ǿáci agǾi, á-biamá 3 said, they say boy the (sub.). And, Old woman, do keep quiet long ago came said, they say back,
- Ǿjan'ge aká. Ci gu' ja' biamá. Dadha, wiǾa' aká hoǾúbaǾu' a' júǾigǾ her daugh- the Again so he slept, they say. O father, my the swing to play with you ter (sub.).
- 'ǾǾi, á-biamá. Ga' hájinga ukiátateáqti é'di naji', á-biamá. Kí áma she said (the boy), And cord tied in many places there stands, said he, they And the spoke of they say. other
- tǾ úda'qtiá' sé ǾingǾ, á-biamá. Kí gáte hájinga sása kǾ uǾáda'beǾi- 6 the very good break there is he said, they say. And that cord broken in the they cause (ob.) none, many places (ob.)
- kǾǾe Ǿi é an'-gá, á-biamá nújinga aká. Ga' é'di júǾǾe ahi-biamá.
you to when that use, said, they say boy the (sub.). And there with her he arrived, they examine say.
- Ga' hájinga áwa'Ǿi kǾ é Ǿizá-biamá nú aká. QǾabé ma'ciúdi tǾ
And cord strong the (ob.) that took, they say man the (sub.). Tree high the (ob.)
- ma'á Ǿa'ha kǾ áǾǾe akáma. Han, Ké, Ǿandé, anǾáǾe tǾ, á-biamá. IǾa' 9 cliff edge the was standing on, Well, Come, O daughter's let us go, said she, they His wife's (ob.) they say. husband mother
- ǾǾa'ba wa'nda' ǾǾa-biamá. Uka'nskaqti ída'be ahi-bi Ǿi, éǾiǾe Ǿan'de she too together went, they say. Right in a line in the middle they arrived, when, behold her daughter's husband
they say
- bisá-biamá hájinga. I'Ǿe kǾ kan'ǾǾetei ahi-bi Ǿi, éǾiǾe gisǾa-bi; hi'ǾǾé broke it, they say cord. Stone the very near to arrived, when, at length remembered, fine feather
they say
- kǾ ǾǾizá-bi éga' bihiǾa ǾǾa-biamá. ÉǾiǾe masániǾa a-Ǿa'-biamá. 12
the took his, they éga' blew it off suddenly, they say. At length to the other side approached and lay, (ob.) say
- Ga' ahi-biamá, ǾiǾǾi'a-biamá Ǿan'de ǾǾa'ba. ÉǾiǾe banaanǾe kǾde
And reached home, failed in doing for her- her daughter's he too. At length banaanǾe they were they say, self, they say husband play.
- akáma. Je-núga jín'ga wi' naji'-bi éga' a-i-biamá. KǾǾa, á-biamá, ing, they Buffalo-bull young one stood, they say having came, they say. My friend, said he, they
say
- Ǿé Je-wa'ú wi' ní agǾi taté, ǾǾa'be tí Ǿi ǾikǾiǾa taté. KǾǾiǾi-gá; 15 this Buffalo-woman one water go for will, in sight has come when laugh at you will. Laugh not at her;
say
- ǾǾǾǾǾe aká pǾbaji, á-biamá. ÉǾa'be atí-biamá wa'ú aká ÉǾa'be her husband the (sub.) bad, said he, they say. In sight came they say woman the (sub.). In sight
- atí-bi Ǿi kǾiǾa-biamá. Nú aká da'ba-baji-biamá Ci áǾuta' a-i-biamá she came, when she laughed at him, Man the did not look at her, they say. Again straight to was coming,
they say they say. (sub.) they say
- Ǿi, ei kǾiǾa-biamá; ei nú aká kǾiǾa-baji-biamá. AgǾi-biamá Ǿi ní tǾ 18 when, again laughed at him, again man the did not laugh at her, they say. Coming back, they when water the (they say) (sub.) say
- ǾǾiǾe agǾi-biamá; ei éǾuta' kǾiǾa agǾi-biamá. Kí uhǾkǾiǾa-baji tǾ, nú ta' laughing coming back, again thence laughing was coming back, And she did not let him have man the out they say at him they say. (ob.) (std. ob.)
- ǾiǾa amá. Kí ǾǾama Je-núga amá banaanǾe kǾde amá be'úga a'hulaughed, they say. And these Buffalo-bull the (pl. sub.) banaanǾe those who played all fled,
say
- biamá. ÉǾiǾe ǾǾa'be atí-biamá, ícǾnaxiǾa-biamá ǾǾǾǾǾe aká. Ga' 21 they say. At length in sight came, they say, attacked him, they say her husband the (sub.). And

CARLETON UNIVERSITY

156 THE OREGONIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- eráta" épa"be atí tē jan'de kē baepé épa-biamá, íeska amá waji"-pibaji thence in sight he when ground the thrust off sent suddenly, or the enraged ma"na"u ta" éga"qtia"-biamá. Ga", A"ha-gā, é-hna"-biamá. Ca" pawing the standing on- just so, they say. And, Flee said all they say. Yet 3 eéctetewa"ji naji"-biamá. Gída"be naji"-biamá nú aká. Ē'di ahínot stirring in the least he stood they say. To see him stood they say man the (sub.). There he biamá. Ē'di ahí-biamá xi, nú aká waii" i"i éa" a'fa épa-bi éga" they say. There he arrived, they when, man the (sub.) robe he wore the throwaway suddenly having, man'de ké ugína"qpá-biamá. Jáwahe éé amá xi, hí"qpé gēza-bi éga" how the strung his they say. To gore went they say when, fine feather took his, they say having 6 bihiépa épa-biamá. Éié amajáéica" ahí-biamá nú aká. Cí éga"-biamá.
 blew it off suddenly, they say. Side towards the other arrived they say man the (sub.). Again so they say.
 'Ū éiŋgé kéjáéica" éi é'di ahí-biamá. Ga" níaci"ga aká Je-núga Wound none towards the side again there he arrived, they say. And man the (sub.) Buffalo-hull t'épa-biamá. Gañ'ki iya" éiŋké iénaxíé agéá-biamá. Ga" íyidaha" he killed, they say. And his wife's mother the (ob.) to attack he went back, they say. And he knew for himself 9 amá áda" xiébaépa a-i-biamá. Ga" t'égiéá-biamá iya" éiŋké.
 they therefore from an oppo- he was coming, And he killed his, they say wife's mother the (ob.).
 site direction they say.

NOTES.

147, 1. maépe éga"-da". Nuda"-axa told this myth during the winter; hence he refers to the season: "It was during the winter, as it now is."

147, 2. afa+. Oriers say afa+, instead of ápa, when those addressed are at a great distance.

148, 3. waii"ciépe, equivalent to the Omaha ahí"ciépe. See 99, 11.

148, 20. na"ha, wiji"épe aka. The Corn-woman's son was the younger, so he calls the Buffalo-woman's son his elder brother.

149, 7. dazéqtei, pronounced da+zéqtei by Nuda"-axa.

149, 12. je-jíŋga ake ake. Sanssouci gives the equivalent Jpiwere: je-yiŋe e aré ke, "Buffalo-calf that is it"; to be distinguished from the following: je-jíŋga aká é aka há' (in Jpiwere, je-yiŋe e aré táhe ke), said by one (not the father) who discovered, all at once, the calf for which he had been seeking; ééaka je-jíŋ'ga aká: "There is the calf," or, "There is a calf" (one for which he was not hunting); ééaka é aka je-jíŋ'ga aka há: "There is the calf for which I have been looking!" (denoting surprise at finding it unexpectedly).

149, 13. iéadi éat'a" edecté a"baééqti ma"éin éaxage ma'hni". Sanssouci gives as the Jpiwere, a"tee ratú" cke, ha"we je mányi raxáé ramányi; and he says that the Buffalo-woman doubted that it was the father whom her son saw. "If you had a father, you would not have been crying to-day when walking"; or, "You should have had a father, for to-day you have been crying while walking."

149, 15. ja"-uqpe jíŋgagtei. This bowl was not over two inches in diameter, and the water barely covered the bottom.

149, 18. uqpe. The larger bowl was about six inches in diameter; and the piece of jerked meat was about three inches in diameter.

- 150, 3. uda^aqti, pronounced u+da^aqti.
 150, 5. edazēqtei, pronounced eda+zeqtei.
 150, 19. uta^anadiqti, pronounced uta^a+nadiqti.
 151, 5. qēaje, refers to the cry of the Buffalo-calf and its mother.
 151, 14. huḡuga, pronounced hu+ḡuga.
 152, 13-15. The stones in the sweat lodge became the size of men's heads the first time that the old woman thrust at them. Next they became larger than good-sized watermelons. The third time, she made them as high as a table (about three feet high). The last time they became so large that they filled the lodge.
 152, 14. gata^ahiḡa^a-biama, contracted from gata^aha and iḡa^a.
 152, 18. ga^ate ama, pronounced ga^a+te ama.
 153, 9. gisi^a-biam egan, in full, gisi^a-biamá égan, equivalent to gisi^a-bi egan^a.
 153, 10. egasani wagigḡa-biama ika^a aka wa'u ḡaḡka zani. Saussonci says that this would mean "the grandmother resembled the women who were her relations," which is not the meaning, and is obscure. He would substitute wagḡawakiḡa-biama for wagigḡa-biama, the former meaning, "to cause them to go as messengers to invite to a feast, game, or assembly." The old woman plotted against her son-in-law; and arranged for her five daughters to stand in a row. I am inclined to read, wagigḡa-biama, from wagiḡe, "To go homeward for them (i. e., for those who were not her relations)."
 153, 12. uda^aqti-hna^a-biama, pronounced u+da^aqti-hna^a-biama.
 154, 6. uwagiḡa-hna^ai atē. "I wonder if some one has not been telling," or, "I am sure that they have been telling." The old woman suspected this. It was something which she did not wish to be told.
 154, 13. waḡudeāji, pronounced waḡu+deāji.
 155, 1. ḡiadi ki ada^a. The mother was not in the lodge when the father came.
 155, 3. wa'ujḡga qḡiāji ega^a-ā be. The old woman was speaking in a loud voice.
 155, 11. i^aḡ kē kaḡḡēqtei ahi-bi ḡi, about two feet from the rocks.
 155, 11. kaḡḡēqtei, pronounced kaḡ+ḡēqtei.
 155, 13. banaḡge kide, a game played by the Ponkas, Omahas, and other tribes: "to shoot at something caused to roll by pushing." (A description of the game will be given elsewhere in this volume.)
 155, 19. uhekḡa-baji tē. The man tried to keep from laughing; but the Buffalo-woman would not let him have his way, so at last he had to laugh.
 155, 20. bḡuga, pronounced bḡu+ga.
 156, 8. iḡidaha^a ama. The man knew by experience that it would be difficult to overcome his mother-in-law. So it seems probable that he did not go directly towards her, after leaving the buffalo that he killed. He went around her, and approached her from the opposite side. (This is the only explanation which the collector can give.)
 It is probable that there is another part of this myth, which relates how the man recovered the Corn-woman and her son, and then returned home with all of his family.

TRANSLATION.

It happened that there was a tribe. During the winter, as it is now, they removed their camp. "He says that you are to remove!" said the crier. Now there was one man who had no wife; his sisters were four in number. And when they removed, the man said, "Leave me." And they left him. All the women in the camp said continually, "The sisters of the young man who lay sick, left him and have come hither." All these lodges removed again. And his last sister, the smallest one, hid herself among the large trees. And she went back. She followed the road back to the starting-point. At length she got back in sight of the lodge. And the sister went back crying. And her brother was still alive. "My sister, why have you come back?" said he. And she said, "O elder brother, I have come back to ascertain if you were dead." And she dwelt with him. At length he said as follows: "O younger sister, comb my hair for me." And his sister combed his hair. "Get my robe for me," said he. And she got it for him. "I put my fine feather yonder in the pack; get it, too, for me, O younger sister," he said. And she got it for him. "And the moccasins too, and the leggings," said he. She got all for him. And he put on all of his clothing, the moccasins, the leggings also; the fine feather, too, he stuck in his scalp-lock. And he wore the robe with the hair out, he drew it well around him; and he had painted his face. He said as follows: "O younger sister, as you have no one to talk with, I will go and seek a sister-in-law for you." And there were four days. As he stood in his door, he did not go to a distance. The evening of the fifth day arrived. And this one, her elder brother, lay down as he was. At length his sister said as follows, having gone outside: "O elder brother, a woman has come." "Come back with your brother's wife," said he. "O brother's wife, come to the lodge," she said. It was night. And it was day. Again the evening arrived. When it was the beginning of darkness the sister went outside. And again one had come. "O elder brother," said she, "this woman has come." The brother said, "Come back with your brother's wife." And he married the two. And both became pregnant. And they gave birth to children, both boys. And he dwelt with them very happily. And both of the children were very forward in learning to speak. And their father said, "You and your younger brother must not fight." And it was so. They always played children's games with each other. At length both boys fought. Both reviled each other. "As for you, your mother is a Buffalo-woman," said one. "As for you too, your mother is a Corn-woman," said the other. And when they reached home, the Buffalo-calf told about himself to his mother. And the other one, too, told about himself. "O mother, I heard my elder brother say that you were a Corn-woman," said one. And the other said as follows: "O mother, I heard my younger brother say that you were a Buffalo-woman." And at night both of the women were in a bad humor; they would not talk with the man. Yet, as for this Buffalo-woman, cum ea concubuit. And it was day. Behold, the man was lying all alone; the women had gone away again. He sat for some time. At length he said as follows: "O sister, I will go to seek your brother's sons." And when it was day, he departed. Right ahead he went, crossing the land by the nearest way. At length, when it was very late in the evening, he discovered the trail. And he followed their trail. The mother was a Buffalo, and her son was a Buffalo-calf. He and his mother had gone homeward to the Buffaloes, running very swiftly. At length when he reached a creek along which the trees stood very thick, and when a lodge was in sight, the man thought, "This must be it!" And approaching it, he sat down; he was not in sight. At length his son came in sight. "It is the Buffalo-calf," said the man. "My father has come," said the Buffalo-calf. "Even if you had a father, when walking this very day you cried as you walked. Simpleton! go after him," said the Buffalo-woman. And the man arrived there. She gave him a very small wooden bowl, in which the water barely spread over the bottom. The man sat thinking, "As I did not drink water, I was very thirsty heretofore. It is very little," He drank; but failed to drink all of the water. "A very little was insufficient for me heretofore; at length I have failed to drink all of the water!" thought he. And she gave him a bowl, which contained a piece of dried buffalo meat this size. "I was hungry heretofore; she should have given me a larger piece," he thought. And he failed to eat all of the meat. And he gave back to her the meat that remained after he had eaten. "It is very little food," said the woman. And the woman having divided the dried meat into two parts, she bolted it down. And as it was night, all slept as they were. Having made a very excellent couch, they slept. At day, he turned himself when lying, and looked around. Behold, there was no lodge at all; he was lying in a very lone place. And he followed their trail as it went. When it was very late that evening he overtook them again. Again there was a creek; again there was a tent. And approaching he sat there, by the outside of the tent. And his son came in sight. "Why! my father has come," said he. "Even if you had a father, when walking this very day you cried as you walked," said the Buffalo-woman. "Call him by raising your voice." "O father, come!" said the boy. And he arrived there. And she gave him a very small wooden bowl, in which the water barely spread over the bottom. And as the man understood the matter, he did not wonder. He drank; but failed to drink all of the water. And she gave him the bowl, which contained a piece of dried buffalo meat this size. And as the man understood the matter, he did not wonder. And again he failed to eat all of the dried meat, so he gave back to her the piece which remained. "That is a very little food," said the Buffalo-woman. Having pulled off a piece of the dried meat, she swallowed it suddenly. And as it was night, they slept. The man had a piece of cord; and he tied the woman's feet together with it. As he had not been roused when he slept on the preceding night, and since he wished to be roused, "When she moves, she will be apt to rouse me!" thought the man. And they slept. At length it was day. At length, having opened his eyes, he was lying in a very lonely place. And he followed their trail again. He arrived in sight of a very large peak. At length he reached a very large stream, which they would have to cross. And the man leaned against a tree, and hid himself. At length when they walked along the stream, the man heard the Buffalo-calf and his mother speaking. "As he prizes the child, let me see if he will come to the water at that place," said she. And the son and his mother went crossing the stream, he bellowing, and his mother doing so from time to time. And when he and his mother, going in a straight line to the water, reached the middle, behold, the man took his fine feather. And the man blew off the fine feather suddenly. He was the first to reach the other side. When he blew it off suddenly, he reached the other side without stopping. He changed himself into the feather, and the man blew himself away suddenly. And he stuck to a tree. And he sat (i. e., remained) to see him and his mother. She and her son came back to the other side. They rubbed the hair dry, they rolled themselves on the sand. "As he prizes the child, let me see if he will come," said the Buffalo-woman. And they ran homeward very swiftly, up-hill. And the man followed them. When he arrived in sight of the peak, behold, there was the circle of lodges, a large tribal circle. And approaching it, he sat on the peak. "O mother, my father has come," said the Buffalo-calf. "Go thither for him," she said. When he went thither for him, he did not discover him, as he had changed himself into a fine feather.

CANTON UNIVERSITY

Again the Buffalo-woman said, "O younger sister, go for him." And when she went for him, she did not find him. "O elder sister, there is none," said she. "Why! it is indeed hateful! You must have passed close by him," said the Buffalo-woman. And again one went thither. "O elder sister, I have not found him," she said. Again one went thither. Again she did not find him. Again one went thither. "O elder sister, I have not found him," she said. "You are indeed hateful! You have invariably gone beyond him. Stop! I will go for him," said the Buffalo-woman. "Let me see! have I not found him?" said she (or, "I will see if I cannot find him"). And she arrived there. "They have been coming for you regularly. Why have you staid here?" said she. "Nevertheless, hardly any one has come for me. I was sitting as I am," said the man. And she went back with him. Behold, the woman's sisters were four; the fifth was she who had gone to marry him. And they made room for her. They made a lodge for her by itself. Those who were her younger sisters were the only ones with her. At length it was morning. His grandmother said as follows (meaning her grandchild): "I have heated stones for your father, in order to take a sweat-bath with him." And her daughter's husband took a sweat-bath with her. And the Buffalo-bulls that came to make a weight for holding down the sides of the tent, were eight. And when his wife's mother pushed at the stones, they were that size. And when she pushed at them again, they were that size. The third time that she pushed at them, they became that high very suddenly. And when she pushed at them again, the stones were just as large as the lodge. The Buffalo-bulls having made the tent-skin double up on itself by leaning on it, and the man having changed himself into a fine feather, he blew off the fine feather very suddenly. He had gone (ere the old woman made the stones large) right into the fold of the tent-skin. The aged Buffalo-woman said, "O daughter's husband, have you become somewhat accustomed to the heat?" "Yes, O wife's mother," said he. And a long while elapsed. "O daughter's husband, how is it?" said the aged Buffalo-woman. She hoped that he was killed by heat, so she questioned him. "O wife's mother," said he, "I am sitting just as I was." And when he sat for a while, she said, "O daughter's husband, how is it?" "O wife's mother, I am sitting just as I was. I am not perspiring in the least." At length the aged Buffalo-woman grew impatient of the heat; she had nearly caused herself to die from the heat. "I am very impatient of the heat; undo that for me," she said. When they pulled it off for her, she came in sight again (i. e., in the open air, her native element). Without stopping, the aged Buffalo-woman had already fainted. When this one, her daughter's husband, came back in sight, he was not perspiring in the least. "Why! even though I have taken a sweat-bath, I am impatient of the cold," he said. His wife said as follows: "You do not perspire in the least; the old woman, on the other hand, has fainted from the heat." "Nevertheless, I am impatient of the cold," said he. At length his wife's mother revived. Having recovered, his wife's mother went on the morrow for all of the women (?) The Buffalo-calf said as follows: "Why! O father, you must look around for my mother and recognize your own." This one and her younger sisters had but one face; they were all beautiful women, yet they had but one face, as regards beauty. And they finished with them; they caused all to paint themselves; they made them stand. They made them stand in a row; they caused them to push themselves around (i. e., to push one another around), as they did not wish him to recognize his wife. And when they were in a line, the aged Buffalo-woman said, "O daughter's husband, look around for your wife." And the man looked around for her. "That standing one is she," he said. He took hold of her. And they brought the trial to an end. The Buffalo-calf said as follows: "O father, they speak of making the boys run a race to-morrow, and I will join it. You must look around for me. Should you not recognize me, my grandmother speaks of killing you." And they ran the race the next day. The boy said as follows: "O father, I will walk the sixth after the five Buffalo-calves that leave the others behind." And they ran the race the next day. Five Buffalo-calves left the others behind, and one walked following them. And the man said as follows: "That is my child." "Where is he?" said the aged Buffalo-woman. "He is the sixth one, he is next to the five that have left the rest behind," he said. And they made an end of the race. "I wonder if they have been telling him?" said the aged Buffalo-woman. And the next day the Buffalo-calf said as follows: "O father, my grandmother speaks of running a race with you. If you do not overtake her, she speaks of killing you. Be strong." "Yes, my child; what your grandmother says must be so," said he. On the next day she ran a race with her daughter's husband. And she went with him. She went with him to a very distant hill. "O daughter's husband, we will come back from yonder place," said she. And thence she was coming back with him. And she left this man very far behind. And the aged Buffalo-woman said, "You shall surely die." And she left him and went homeward. And she came in sight on a hill on her way home. And without stopping at all, she went homeward. "The old woman has left him, and is coming back," they said. When the old woman came near to the lodge, she said, "Place my spear ready for me; I am coming home to you." The man took his fine feather, and when he blew it off suddenly, behold, he had gone right into his lodge, as the old woman asked for her spear when she was coming back. And he lay sound asleep; he did not stir at all. "At last I have hindered him," she said. And his son said as follows: "What does that old woman keep saying? My father came back a very long time ago." "Hm!" said the old woman. His mother said as follows: "Has your father reached home?" The boy said, "As my father came home long ago, he lies sound asleep. The woman, too, talks incessantly and may disturb him." And her daughter said, "Old woman, do keep quiet; he came home long ago." And so he slept. "O father, she speaks of playing swinging with you," said the Buffalo-calf. "And a cord is there which is tied in many places. The other one is very good; it is not broken. And when they cause you to examine the cord broken in many places, do you use that," said the boy. And he arrived there with her. And the man took the strong cord. A high tree was standing on the edge of the cliff. Well, she said, "Come, O daughter's husband, let us go." He and his wife's mother went together (i. e., when in the swings). Going directly in a line with the tree, when they were in the middle, behold, her daughter's husband broke the cord by his weight. When he came very near the rocks, he remembered, and having taken his fine feather, he blew it off suddenly. Behold, he approached the other side, and lay there (i. e., as a feather). And they reached home, she and her daughter's husband, having failed in her effort. At length they were playing the game "banaŋge-kide." One young Buffalo bull approached them and stood. "My friend," said he, "this one Buffalo-woman will go for water. When she shall have come in sight, she will laugh at you. Do not laugh with her. Her husband is bad." When the woman came in sight, she laughed at him. The man did not look at her. Again, when she was coming directly towards him, she laughed at him. And the man did not laugh with her. When she was coming back, she was lading the water out of the kettle. And she did not let the man have his way; the man laughed with her. And all of these Buffalo-bulls who were playing "banaŋge-kide" fled. At length her husband came in sight and dashed on him. And when he came thence in sight, he sent the pieces of ground flying, by thrusting his horns into the ground; he was just like an enraged ox, standing pawing the ground. And they said nothing but "Flee." Yet the man stood, not heeding it in the least. The man stood to see him. He reached there. When the Buffalo reached there, the man threw away the robe which he wore, and strung his bow. When the Buffalo went to gore him, the man took his fine feather and blew it away suddenly. The man arrived on the other side of the Buffalo. Again it was so. He arrived on the side of the Buffalo which was not wounded. And the man killed the Buffalo-bull. Then he went homeward to attack his wife's mother. And as he knew her ways by experience, he approached her from an opposite direction. And he killed his wife's mother.

THE ADVENTURES OF HI^QPE-AG^ʘE.

TOLD BY JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE.

- Gaⁿ'ki wa'ú ʘínké cín'gajín'ga pahan'ga ídaʘé ʘínké aⁿ'ʘaⁿ'kaⁿ aŋgáti,
 And woman the one who child before born the one who we have a con- test with him we have come
- á-biamá (Níaciⁿ'ga píaji aká wiⁿ' é'giʘaⁿ'-biamá.) Gaⁿ' núnjiga aká é'di said they, they (Man had the one said to her, they say.) And boy the there say. (col. sub.) (sub.)
- 3 aʘá-biamá. Iéadi ihaⁿ' ʘínké éʘaⁿ'ba uʘí'agá-bi ʘaⁿ'ja, caⁿ' é'di aʘá-biamá.
 went they say. His his the one she too were unwilling, though, yet there he went, they say. father mother who they say
- É'di ahiⁿ-biamá ʘi, Aⁿ'ʘaⁿ'ʘikaⁿ taŋ'gataⁿ, á-biamá. Aⁿ'haⁿ, ícáⁿahiⁿ, There he arrived, they say when, We have a contest with you we will, said they, they say. Yes, I consent.
- á-biamá. Edádaⁿ aŋgáxe taí á, á-biamá núnjiga aká. Kí niaciⁿ'ga píaji said he, they say. What we do will I said, they say boy the (sub.). And man had
- 6 aká jaⁿ' wiⁿ snédeqti múza-bitéama, onáqtei. Gaⁿ'ki, Jaⁿ' céte aŋgáne ʘi the wood one very long had plant'd as a post. very smooth. And, Wood that (ob.) we climb when (sub.) they say.
- wiⁿ'aⁿ'wa háci aŋgáqti ʘi t'ean'kiʘe taté, á-biamá. Gaⁿ' áno aʘá-biamá ʘi, which one behind we come back when we kill him will said they, they say. And climbing they went, when, they say surely
- é'giʘe níaciⁿ'ga píaji aká é pahan'ga aki-bi egaⁿ' núnjiga t'éʘa-biamá.
 at length man had the he before got back, having boy he killed, they say. (sub.) they say
- 9 Gaⁿ'ki ci wa'ú ʘínké ci cín'gajín'ga ídaʘé amá. Ci naⁿ' amá núnjiga
 And again woman the one again child she bore him, they say. Again grown they say boy

ɛ́nké. Na' amá ʔi, ɛ́ wi' ádè ahí-biamá. Cín'gajín'ga ɛ́ɛ́ŋa the one He was they when, again one to ask him arrived, they say. Child your
 who. grown say
 a'ɛ́an'ka' an'gáti, á-biamá. Kí ɛ́ádi aká iha' ɛ́a'ba ɛ́ uɛ́'agá-biamá.
 we have a con- we have said he, they And his the his she too again were unwilling, they test with come say. say. father (sub.) mother Égiɛ, ɛ́ núnjiga aká na'-biamá, ga' ɛ́di aɛ́-biamá. Ga'n'ki ɛ́di hí 3 Behold, again boy the (sub.) was grown, they and there he went, they say. And there ar-
 say. arrived
 amá núnjiga ɛ́. Cí ɛ́ga' íka'-biamá. Cí, Edáda' a'a' te á, á-biamá.
 they say boy the Again so they had a contest. And, What we do will ? said he, they (mv. one). with, they say. say.
 Kí, Heɛ́baja' a'a' te há, á-biamá. Heɛ́baja' a'-biamá. Háajinga áma And, Swing we use will said they, they Swing they used, they say. Cord the one
 say.
 ké sásaqtia'-biamá, kí áma ké áda'qtia'-biamá. Háajinga áda' ké é 6 the was broken very much, and the the was very good, they say. Cord good the that (ob.) they say (ob.) (ob.)
 núnjiga ɛ́nké an'kiá-biamá; kí háajinga sása ké é n'fáci'ga píjji aká boy the (ob.) they caused him to use, and cord broken the that man bad the they say; (ob.) (ob.) (sub.) a'-biamá. Égiɛ háajinga áda' ké égiɛ píjji ké amá. Háajinga he used, they say. At length cord good the behold had lay they say. Cord (one which) gaséga' núnjiga gat'é amá. Ga' t'é amá núnjiga ké. Cí wa'ú ɛ́nké ɛ́ 9
 it was cut, as boy the full they And dead they say boy the Again woman the one again killed say. say. (one lying). who cín'gajín'ga ídaɛ́-biamá núnjiga wi'. Cí núnjiga ídaɛ́ ɛ́nké ɛ́ na' child bore they say boy one. Again boy born the one again was who grown
 amá. Na' amá ʔi, ɛ́ agíahí-biamá. Cín'gajín'ga ɛ́ɛ́ŋa a'ɛ́an'ka' an'gáti they say. He was they when, again they came for him, Child you we have a con- we have grown say. say. say.
 á-biamá. Iha' aká ɛ́ádi ɛ́a'ba uɛ́'agá-bi ɛ́a'ja, ca' núnjiga aká ɛ́di 12 said they, they His the his father he too were unwilling, though, yet boy the there say. say. (sub.) (sub.)
 aɛ́-biamá. Ke, ɛ́ a'ɛ́a'p'ika' ta'n'gata', á-biamá. Cí íka'-bi ʔi ɛ́ went they say. Come, again we have a contest we will, said they, they Again they con- when again with you say. say. tested with him, they say núnjiga kíbana' ákiá-biamá. Cí núnjiga ɛ́n' gia'ɛ́a-bi ega' ɛ́ núnjiga boy racing they contended, they Again boy the left him, they having again boy
 say. (mv. ob.) say
 ɛ́n' t'éɛ́a-biamá. Égiɛ ɛ́ wi' ídaɛ́-biamá iha' aká. Égiɛ cín'gajín'ga 15
 the they killed, they At length again one bore they say his the At length child
 (mv. ob.) say. say. (sub.)
 Hí'npé-áɛ́e ídaɛ́-biamá. Kí maja' b'úgaqti ídaɛ́ té uná'a'-biamá, Pine-feather-stuck-in she bore, they say. And land all over that he was born heard of it, they say, Hí'npé-áɛ́e ídaɛ́ té. Núnjiga ɛ́n' wakíde-pi hégaɛ́ ega' edáda' waníja Hiqpe-agge that he was born. Boy the good marks- very being what animal
 (mv. ob.) man
 ɛ́təwa' ɛ́i'á ɛ́ngé'qtia' amá. Ca' maja' ɛ́a' b'úgaqti núnjiga íbaha'- 18 soever falling there was none at all. Indeed land indeed all over boy knew him
 say. say.
 biamá, núnjiga áda' hégaɛ́-biamá. Égiɛ núnjiga na' ʔi, égiɛ ɛ́ ádè they say, boy good very they say. At length boy was when, at length again, to ask grown him to go with him

164 THE ʒEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- ahí-biamá. Nújnga ʒiɛɛa aʒaŋ'kaⁿ aŋgáti, á-biamá. Kí ɛɛdi aká they arrived, they boy your we contend with we have, said they, they the (sub.)
say. And his father
- iháⁿ ɛɛaⁿba uɛf'agá-biamá. ʒnájí te, á-biamá. Kí nújnga aká: Naⁿhá, his mother she too were unwilling, they say. Please do not go, said they, And boy the (sub.): O mother,
- 3 ídádí ɛɛaⁿba, ɛ'dí bɛɛ tá mĩnke, á-biamá. ʒijín'ɛe ɛgaⁿ wágiatí éde my father he too, there I go will I who said he, they say. Your elder brother so they came for but wáɛɛíⁿ aɛaí éde t'éwaɛɛ-hnaⁿi, á-biamá iháⁿ aká. Kí, Caⁿ, naⁿhá, ɛ'dí they took them away but they killed them invariably, said, they say his mother (sub.). And, Still, O mother, there bɛɛ tá mĩnke, á-bi egaⁿ, ɛ'dí aɛá-biamá nújnga aká. ɛ'dí ahí-biamá.
I go will I who said, having, there want they say boy the (sub.). There he arrived, they say.
- 6 Aⁿhaⁿ, caⁿ há ɛatí tɛ, á-biamá. Kí, Kɛ, edádaⁿ aⁿaⁿ taí á, á-biamá
Yes, that will do you have as, said they, they And, Come, what we do will I said, they say nújnga aká. Jaⁿ ɛɛtɛ aŋgáne tatɛ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ nújnga aká híⁿqɛ boy the (sub.). Wood that (sub.) we climb shall, said they, they And boy the fine feather (sub.)
ɛɛíza-bi egaⁿ híⁿqɛ ágiɛɛá-biamá. Gaⁿ jaⁿ tɛ áne aɛá-bi egaⁿ, ɛ took his, they having fine feather stuck his in, they say. And wood the climbing went, they having, he (ob.),
- 9 pahan'ga nújnga aká ahí-biamá. Cí agí-bi ɛɛ, ɛí é pahan'ga híde before boy the arrived, they say. Again coming when, again he before below akí-biamá nújnga aká Gaⁿ akí-bi ɛɛ, gaɛɛl-biamá níaciⁿga píjji kɛ, got back, they boy the (sub.). And he got back, they say when, he killed him, they man bad the (ob.), dúba e wíⁿ gaɛɛl-biamá. Gaⁿ nújnga aká agɛá-biamá. Ihaⁿ ɛĩnkɛ'dí four that one he killed they say. And boy the (sub.) went homeward, His mother at the
- 12 ɛɛdi ɛĩnkɛ'dí edábe akí-biamá. Naⁿhá, wijiⁿɛe t'éwaɛɛ hnaⁿ ɛaŋ'ka wíⁿ his father at the also he reached home, O mother, my elder brother killed them invariably they who one t'éaɛɛ há, á-biamá. Gaⁿ, Sijiⁿqteɛaⁿ+! wackaⁿ egaⁿ-á hɛ. Égaⁿqti I killed him said he, they say. And, O dear little child! do exert yourself. Just so ɛtɛwaⁿ ɛijín'ɛe t'éwaɛɛ-hnaⁿi hɛ, á-biamá. Égasáni ɛɛ, ɛí égiɛe ɛábɛiⁿ notwith- your elder brother they killed invari- said she, they The morrow when, again behold three standing them riably say.
- 15 aká ahí-biamá. Aⁿɛaⁿɛikaⁿ aŋgáti, nújnga, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, cubɛé tá the arrived, they say. We contend with we have come, O boy, said they, they Yes, I go to you will (sub.) you
- minke, á-biamá. Kí iháⁿ aká gá-biamá: Wackaⁿ egaⁿ-á hɛ, sijiⁿqteɛaⁿ+!
I who, said he, they say. And his mother the (sub.) said as follows, Do try O dear little child!
- ɛgaⁿqti ɛtɛwaⁿ ɛijín'ɛe t'éwaɛɛ-hnaⁿi hɛ. Wackaⁿ egaⁿ-á hɛ, á-biamá.
just so notwith- your elder brother they killed invariably Do be strong said she, they standing them riably say.
- 18 Nújnga aká ɛ'dí aɛá-biamá. Gaⁿ ɛ'dí ahí-biamá. Égiɛe ɛí heɛúbajaⁿ boy the (sub.) there went they say. And there he arrived, they say. At length again swing aⁿ 'íɛa-biamá. Heɛúbajaⁿ kɛ háajinga údaⁿ kɛ aŋ'ga há, á-biamá to use they spoke of, they say. Swing the (ob.) cord good the (ob.) use it said they, they
- Nújnga ɛ wáká-biamá. Áma kɛ píjji há. Háajinga itaⁿɛiadi kɛ, sása boy him they meant, they say. Other the (ob.) bad Cord old the broken (ob.), kē pñji hā, á-biamá. Ga' grá-biamá: An'kaji, pñji ctéctewa' ca' ^{the (ob.) bad said they, they And he said as follows, Not so, bad even if yet} ma' tá minke, á-biamá. An'kaji hā éde, Pñji hā, ecéce hā, á-biamá. ^{I use it will I who, said he, they say. Not so but, bad you say often said he, they say}

Úda' kē an'-gā hā, á-biamá. An'kaji, ca' pñji ca' ma' tá minke, 3 ^{(good the (ob.) use it said they, they say. Not so, still bad at any rate I use it will I who,} á-biamá nújnga aká. Ga' hečubaja' a' ačá-biamá. Nújnga aká ^{said, they say boy the (sub.) And sawing to use they went, they say. boy the (sub.)} úda'qti ačá-biamá Hájinga sūsa kē é a'-biamá, kī áma činké, ^{very good went they say. Cord broken the (ob.) that he used, they say. and the other the (ob.)} háujinga úda' a' činké, gar'é amá. Ga' ačá-biamá ci nújnga amá. 6 ^{could good used the one who, killed him And went homeward, again boy the (mv. sub.)}

Akí-bi ega', Na'há, i'dádi ča'ba, níaci'ga wiji'če t'éwačé-hna' ča'ka ^{Reached having. O mother, my father he too, man my elder killed them habit- ually} ci wi' t'éačé hā, á-biamá. Sji'qteiča'+! čiji'če ega'qti ctéwa' t'éwačé- ^{again one I killed said he, they say. O my dear little child! your elder just so notwith- standing they killed them}

hna'í. Wacka' ega'-ā hē, á-biamá. Ci égasáni xi ci na'ba ahí-biamá. 9 ^{always. Do be strong said she, they say. Again the morrow when again two arrived, they say.}

Nújnga, a'čá'čika' an'gáti, á-biamá. A'ha', cubčé tá minke, á-biamá. ^{Boy, we contend with you we have come, said they, they say. Yes, I go to will I who, said he, they say.}

Ga' égasáni xi é'di ačá-biamá. É'di ahí-biamá xi, Edáda' a'-a' ^{And the morrow when there he went, they say. There he arrived, they say when, What we do}

taí ā, á-biamá. Ankikibana' te hā, á-biamá. Ci nújnga aká hi'qpe 12 ^{will I said he, they say. Let us run a race together said they, they say. Again boy the fine feather the (sub.)} gčlza-bi ega' ágigčá-biamá. Ga' júgče ačá-biamá. Kíšana' agí-biamá ^{he took his having stuck his in, they say. And with him went they say. Racing coming back, they say} xi, ci nújnga aká Hi'qpe-ágče é pahan'ga akí-biamá. Akí-bi ega' ci ^{when, again boy the (sub.) Hi'qpe-ágče he before got back, they say. Got back, they say having again}

t'éča-biamá, níaci'ga pñji ča'ká wi'. Agčá-bi ega' iha' činke'di akí-bi 15 ^{he killed him, they say. man bad they who were one. Went home- ward, they say having his mother at the reached home, they say} ega', Na'há, i'dádi ča'ba, ci wiji'če t'éwačé ča'ká ci wi' t'éačé hā, ^{having. O mother, my father he too, again my elder killed them the ones again one I killed him} á-biamá. Sji'qteiča'+! wacka' ega'-ā hē. Ega'qti ctéwa' čiji'če ^{said he, they say. O my dear little child! do be strong Just so notwith- standing your elder brother} t'éwačé-hna'í hē, á-biamá. Égasáni xi nújnga aká níaci'ga wi'áqtei 18 ^{they killed them invariably said she, they say. The morrow when boy the (sub.) man one}

činké ičápe gčl'-biamá. Kí níaci'ga wi'áqtei aká ahí-bají-biamá. ^{the (ob.) waiting for sat they say. And man one the (sub.) arrived not they say.}

Ahí-bají-bi xi nújnga aká é'di ačá-biamá. Ji' té'di ahí-bi xi ^{He arrived not, when boy the (sub.) there went, they say. Lodge at the he arrived, when they say} é'gče čingá-bitčamá níaci'ga wi'áqtei ucté aká. Uné ačá-biamá. Uné 21 ^{hold he was not man one remaining the (sub.). Seeking he went, they say. Seeking him}

- a^{ph}-bi xī ēgi^{ce} wa'ú wi' ákipá-biamá. Wa'ú wi' úda^{qti} ákipá-bi he went, when at length woman one he met they say. Woman one very beautiful met her,
they say
- ega^{n'}, gá-biama Hi^{qpe}-ág^{ce} aká: Eátaⁿ ma^{oni'} á. A^{ph}-^{n'}akaⁿ-ona^{i'} having, said as follows, they say Hi^{qpe}-age the Why you walk I You contended with me (sub.)₁ habitually
- 3 éde íwika^{n'} xī'jī eátaⁿ ^{n'}he, á-biamá. Kí wa'ú aká, Ena+! é'he but I contend with when why you see, said he, they say. And woman the (sub.), Fie! who
- í^{ce}ika^{n'} éi^{te} í^{ce}pahaⁿ-maji^{qti}-maⁿ hē. Hi^{qpe}-ág^{ce} áb^{ce}ixe b^{ce}, á-biamá.
contended it may I know I not indeed I do Hi^{qpe}-age I marry I go, said she, they with you he say.
- An^{n'}kaji hā, a^{n'}ph-^{n'}akaⁿ-hna^{n'}i ega^{n'} íwika^{n'} hā, á-biamá Eátaⁿ ^{n'}he
Not so you contended with me habitually having I contend with you, said he, they Why you see
- 6 éi^{te}, á-biamá. Na! an^{n'}kaji^{qti}aⁿ éde ee^{ce}ce hē. Hi^{qpe}-ág^{ce} áb^{ce}ixe b^{ce}, it may, said he, they Fie! not so at all but you say it often Hi^{qpe}-age I marry I go be say.
- á-biamá. Tēnā! Hi^{qpe}-ág^{ce} wēb^{ce}iⁿ hā. Ena+! é taⁿ éde úwagi^{ce}gaⁿ said she, they Why! Hi^{qpe}-age I am he Fie! he the but he told somewhat
say. (it is) (std. one)
- etéde, á-biamá. Ang^{ce}iⁿ te hē, á-biamá wa'ú aká G^{ce}iⁿ júgeaⁿ-biamá.
should have, said she, they Let us sit said, they say woman the (sub.), But he with her, they say.
- 9 Gan^{n'}ki wa'ú aká, Hé uwine te hē. Gátedi ja^{n'}-á, á-biamá ^{ce}dehi
And woman the Llee I hunt for will In that place sit thou, said she, they say. Lap
- ájanki^{ce}aⁿ-biamá. Égi^{ce} hē uinaⁿ-biamá. Kí Hi^{qpe}-ág^{ce} ja^{n'}t'e amá, she caused him to lie on, At length llee she hunted for him, And Hi^{qpe}-age sound asleep was,
they say. they say.
- éija^{n'}-biamá. Ja^{n'}t'e xī nīa u^{ce}a^{n'}-bi ega^{n'} éiziziⁿ-hna^{n'}-biamá. Ga^{n'} she put him to sleep, Sound asleep when ear she took hold of, they say having she pulled and stretched And they say. of, they say repeatedly, they say.
- 12 éinudaⁿ tíg^{ce} gaxá-biamá. Hi^{qpe}-ág^{ce} éinudaⁿ amá. Ga^{n'} Hi^{qpe}-ág^{ce} dog to become she made him, Hi^{qpe}-age dog they say. And Hi^{qpe}-age audibly they say.
- díx^{ce}qti^{n'} amá, júga kē etí b^{ce}úga. Ga^{n'} júg^{ce} a^{ph}-biamá éinudaⁿ éiⁿ.
very scabby they say, body the too all. And with him he went, they say dog the (mv. ob.).
- Ga^{n'} hi^{qpe} kē é níaciⁿga píaji éiⁿ é ág^{ce}aⁿ-biamá. Ga^{n'} ta^{n'}wa^{n'}g^{ce}aⁿ
And fine feather the that man bad the that stuck in, they say. And village (ob.) (mv. sub.)
- 15 ta^{n'}gáqti wi^{n'} é'di ahf-biamá. Wuhú! Hi^{qpe}-ág^{ce} tí hā, á-biamá. Níaciⁿga very large one there they arrived, Wonderful! Hi^{qpe}-age has said they, they they say. come Mau
- u^{ce}a^{n'}-hna^{n'}i ^{n'}he etí tí áhaⁿ, á-biamá. Égi^{ce} níakagahi úju aká na'a^{n'}-biamá.
told about inva- heretofore has I said they, they At length chief principal the heard it, they say.
riably come say. (sub.)
- Wi^{n'}an^{'de} i^{n'}éiⁿ ^{n'}gi-gá, á-biamá níakagahi úju aká. Ga^{n'} é'di ahf-
My daughter's bring ye him back to me, said, they say chief principal the (sub.) And there he husband arrived
- 18 biama níakagahi jī tē'di. Níakagahi jian^{'ge} aká na^{n'}bá akáma Ga^{n'} they say chief lodge at the. Chief his daughter the (sub.) two were, they say. And gown the one who he caused her to marry. And Hi^{qpe}-age good marksmen heard as they had
they say.
- éskana e^{ce}ga^{n'}-bi ega^{n'} ábae ágajiⁿ-biamá. Kí ábae éé xī éiⁿ kí-hnaⁿ it might be they thought, having to hunt they commanded him. And to hunt he when fail he reached they say. they say. ing home invariably

Photographic Sciences Corporation

23 WEST MAIN STREET
WEBSTER, N.Y. 14580
(716) 872-4503

18 20 22
25
28 32
36 40
45
50
56
63
72
84
96
108
125
144
168
192
216
240
270
300
324
360
400 450
504
576
648
720
800 864
960
1080
1200
1344
1440
1600
1728
1800
1920
2048
2160
2304
2400
2592
2700
2880
3072
3240
3456
3600
3840
4032
4200
4320
4500 4608
4800
5040
5280
5472 5760
6000
6240
6480
6720
7008
7200
7440
7680
7920
8160
8400
8640
8880
9120
9360
9600
9840
10080
10320
10560
10800
11040
11280
11520
11760
12000
12240
12480
12720
12960
13200
13440
13680
13920
14160
14400
14640
14880
15120
15360 15600
15840
16080
16320
16560
16800
17040
17280
17520
17760
18000
18240
18480
18720
18960
19200
19440
19680
19920
20160
20400
20640
20880
21120
21360
21600
21840
22080
22320
22560
22800
23040
23280
23520
23760
24000
24240
24480
24720
24960
25200
25440
25680
25920
26160
26400
26640
26880
27120
27360
27600
27840
28080
28320
28560
28800
29040
29280
29520
29760
30000 30240
30480
30720
30960
31200
31440
31680
31920
32160
32400
32640
32880
33120
33360
33600
33840
34080
34320
34560
34800
35040
35280
35520
35760
36000
36240
36480
36720
36960
37200
37440
37680
37920
38160
38400
38640
38880
39120
39360
39600
39840
40080
40320
40560
40800
41040
41280
41520
41760
42000
42240
42480
42720
42960
43200
43440
43680
43920
44160
44400
44640
44880
45120
45360
45600
45840
46080
46320
46560
46800
47040
47280
47520
47760
48000
48240
48480
48720
48960
49200
49440
49680
49920
50160
50400
50640
50880
51120
51360
51600
51840
52080
52320
52560
52800
53040
53280
53520
53760
54000
54240
54480
54720
54960
55200
55440
55680
55920
56160
56400
56640
56880
57120
57360
57600
57840
58080
58320
58560
58800
59040
59280
59520
59760
60000
60240
60480
60720
60960
61200
61440
61680
61920
62160
62400
62640
62880
63120
63360
63600
63840
64080
64320
64560
64800
65040
65280
65520
65760
66000
66240
66480
66720
66960
67200
67440
67680
67920
68160
68400
68640
68880
69120
69360
69600
69840
70080
70320
70560
70800
71040
71280
71520
71760
72000
72240
72480
72720
72960 73200
73440
73680
73920
74160
74400
74640
74880
75120
75360
75600
75840
76080
76320
76560
76800
77040
77280
77520
77760
78000
78240
78480
78720
78960
79200
79440
79680
79920
80160
80400
80640
80880
81120
81360
81600
81840
82080
82320
82560
82800
83040
83280
83520
83760
84000
84240
84480
84720
84960
85200
85440
85680
85920
86160
86400
86640
86880
87120
87360
87600
87840
88080
88320
88560
88800
89040
89280
89520
89760
90000
90240
90480
90720
90960
91200
91440
91680
91920
92160
92400
92640
92880
93120
93360
93600
93840
94080
94320
94560
94800
95040
95280
95520
95760
96000
96240
96480
96720
96960
97200
97440
97680
97920
98160
98400
98640
98880
99120
99360
99600
99840
100000

01
02
03
04
05
06
07
08
09
10 11 12 13 14 15
16
17
18 19 20 21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28
29 30
31
32
33 34 35
36 37
38
39 40
41 42
43
44
45
46
47 48
49
50
51 52
53
54
55
56
57
58
59 60
61
62
63
64
65
66
67
68
69
70
71
72
73
74
75
76
77
78
79 80
81
82 83
84
85
86
87
88 89
90
91
92
93
94
95
96
97
98
99
100

168 THE ÇEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- çinudaⁿ aká akí-biamá. Akí-biamá xí'ji, ci miⁿ'jinga çinké baspaⁿ'-hnaⁿ.
dog the reached home, they say. He reached home, when, again girl the (ob.) he pushed against invariably
- biamá. Kí miⁿ'jinga aká çinudaⁿ çin ci uçuhe açá-biamá. Uçuhe qaⁿ xaⁿ they say. And girl the dog the again following went, they say. Following to some distance
- 3 ç'di ahí-bi xí, égiçe wasábe wiⁿ' t'éçe akáma çinudaⁿ aká. Çi içádi çinké there she arrived, when, behold black bear one he had killed, they dog the (sub.). Again her the (ob.)
 ihaⁿ' éçaⁿ'ba úwagiça açá-biamá. Dadihá, iⁿ'naⁿ'ha éçaⁿ'ba, wasábe wiⁿ' her mother her too to tell them she went, they say. O father, my mother she too, black bear one
- çinudaⁿ wiwíça aká t'éçe hē, á-biamá. Kí içádi aká ihaⁿ' éçaⁿ'ba wasábe dog my the killed said she, they And her the her she too black bear 6 kē açiⁿ' akí-biamá íjaça. Çi égasáni ci 'ábae açá-biamá. 'Ábae açá-bi the having it reached home, at the lodge. Again the morrow again hunting he went, they say. Hunting he went, they say xí mactein'ge wiⁿ' açiⁿ' akí-biamá níaciⁿ'ga aká. Kí çinudaⁿ aká égiçe when rabbit one having reached home, man the dog the (sub.). And dog the at length
- akí-bi xí, ci miⁿ'jinga çinké baspaⁿ'-hnaⁿ-biamá Çi uçuhe açá-bi egaⁿ' reached when, again girl the (ob.) he pushed against frequently, Again following went, they having, say
- 9 égiçe, aⁿ'paⁿ kéde t'éçe akáma. Çi égasáni 'ábae açá-biamá níaciⁿ'ga aká.
behold, all it lay, but he had killed it, Again the morrow hunting went they say man the (sub.).
 Níaciⁿ'ga siⁿ'snédewágiçe wiⁿ' açiⁿ' kí amá. Égiçe çinudaⁿ aká jábe wiⁿ'
Man muskrat one having reached they home say. At length dog the (sub.) the beaver one
- t'éçe akáma. Gaⁿ' içádi aká ihaⁿ' éçaⁿ'ba gíçeqtiaⁿ'-biamá; çinudaⁿ çinké he had killed, they say. And her the her she too were very glad, they say; dog the (ob.)
- 12 qtágiçe-hnaⁿ'-biamá. Miⁿ'jinga aká cti çinudaⁿ çinké qtágiçeçti-hnaⁿ'- they loved their own habitually, girl the (sub.) too dog the (ob.) loved her own habitually very much biamá. Égiçe níaciⁿ'ga aká gá biamá: Iⁿ'c'áge, wahaⁿ'wakiçe te há. U'ábae they say. At length man the (sub.) said as follows. Old man, please make them remove Hunting
- çingé há. U'ábae t'angéça íwakiçe te há, á-biamá. Kí wahaⁿ'-biamá there is none Hunting abounds at cause them to please said he, they And they removed, they say
- 15 égasáni xí. Kí wahaⁿ' açá-bi xí çinudaⁿ aká açá-bají-biamá. Níaciⁿ'ga the morrow when. And removing they went, when dog the went not they say. Man bçúgaçti áiaça-bi xí miⁿ'jinga enáçtei açá-bají-biamá. Çinudaⁿ ugínaall had gone, they when girl alone went not they say. Dog she sought her own
- biamá, çinudaⁿ íçinaççá-bi egaⁿ'. Gaⁿ' çí'údeçtiaⁿ'-bi xí çí'úçiqéçe ugácaⁿ' they say, dog hid himself, they having. And fully deserted, they when remains of went among lodges
- 18 hnaⁿ'-biamá, xagé-hnaⁿ-biamá miⁿ'jinga aká. Égiçe dáççeqçi xí çinudaⁿ frequently, they say, crying frequently, they say girl the (sub.). At length very dark when dog aká utcçe kēátaⁿ éçaⁿ'be akí-biamá. Miⁿ'jinga aká, Eátaⁿ maⁿ'hniⁿ' éite.
the thicket from the in sight got back, they say. Girl the (sub.). Why you walk it may be

- Uwíne hě Bétuqatci áíáçai hě. Wínaqtcí aⁿwaⁿete. Uwíne hě, á-biamá.
I sought you. All have gone. I alone I am left. I sought you said she, they say.
- Aⁿ'haⁿ, téqí hégají, á-biamá cínudaⁿ aká. Ía-biamá. Néça-gá, déde gáxa-gá Yes, difficult very said, they say dog the (sub.). He spoke, they say. Kindle a fire, fire make
- há, mĩⁿ'jĩnga é waká-bi egaⁿ. Jacege cehicet'sdi s'di oné te, á-biamá; 3 girl her meant, they having. Headland at younder there you go will said he, they say.
- wa'ú cínké é waká-biamá. Géce te há, á-biamá: Jigaⁿ'há, cínúcpa iⁿ'g woman the (ob.) her he meant, they say. You will say thus, said he, they say. Grandfather, your grand- child
- d'úba édiatí hě, ece te, á-biamá. Kí ían'de aká, Ku+! á-biamá. Iⁿ'g some I have come after for him you will say, said he, they say. And ground the (sub.), Ku-! said, they say. Stone
- d'úba éçaⁿbe tteça-biamá. Gaⁿ' mĩⁿ'jĩnga aká iⁿ'g aqĩⁿ agçá-biamá. Kí 6 some in sight it made come, they say. And girl the (sub.) stone took homeward they say. And
- iⁿ'g té aqĩⁿ akí-bi egaⁿ, Iⁿ'g ceteé hě, á-biamá. Kí aqúha, maⁿá stone the (ob.) reached home with, they say. Stone these are they said she, they say. And finally, cliff
- cehicet'sdi maⁿçĩⁿ'gá, á-biamá. Jigaⁿ'há, cínúcpa íci d'úba édiatí hě, at younder walk thou, he said, they say. Grandfather, your grand- child tent-poles some I have come after for him
- á-gá, á-biamá. Égiçe aqá-biamá wa'ú amá. Maⁿá t'sdi ahi-biamá. 9 say thou, said he, they say. At length went they say woman the (mv. sub.). Our at the she arrived, they say.
- Jigaⁿ'há, cínúcpa íci d'úba édiatí hě, á-biamá. Cí w's's'á d'úba éçaⁿ'bá-Grandfather, your grand- child tent-poles some I have come after for him said she, they say. Again snake some came in sight
- biamá. Gaⁿ' wa'ú aká wáçizá-biamá, w's's'á çanká; wáçĩⁿ agçá-biamá.
they say. And woman the (sub.) took them they say, snake the (pl. ob.); took them homeward, they say.
- Wáçĩⁿ akí-bi qí, Kě, qí jĩn'ga gáxa-gá, á-biamá cínudaⁿ aká. Wa'ú aká 12
She reached home with them, they say when, Come, lodge small make said, they say dog the (sub.). Woman the (sub.)
- w's's'á íci égaⁿ gaxá-biamá, qáde qí gaxá-biamá snake tent-pole so made they say, grass lodge made they say.
- Kí wa'ú çĩⁿ ukia-biamá cínudaⁿ aká. Ça'eaⁿçaçe eonégaⁿ éĩⁿte.
And woman the (ob.) talked with, they say dog the (sub.). You pitied me you think may.
- Wí çá'ewiçé, á-biamá. Waçĩpaniäji taté, á-biamá. Hiⁿqpé-ágçe wiebçĩⁿ 15
I I pity you, said he, they say. You not poor shall, said he, they say. Hiⁿqpé-ágçe I am he
- édegaⁿ níaciⁿga cçu çínké aⁿçáⁿ/qtai égaⁿ aⁿ'çijuájí há, á-biamá.
but man younder he who vented his spite on me so he mistreated me said he, they say.
- Gaⁿ' qí jĩn'ga té jĩmaⁿ'te aqá-biamá cínudaⁿ aká. Gaⁿ' iⁿ'úda-biamá
And lodge small the (ob.) within the lodge went they say dog the (sub.). And took a sweat-bath, they say
- cínudaⁿ aká. Égiçe gá-biamá: Caⁿ'; aⁿ'çíúza-gá, á-biamá. Égiçe níaciⁿga 18 dog the (sub.). At length he said as fol- That pull the cover off me said he, they say. Behold man
- údaⁿqti akáma; cínudaⁿ-báji, níaciⁿga údaⁿqti akáma. Gaⁿ' s'di jaⁿ'- very handsome, they say; dog not, man very handsome, they say. And there they slept
- biamá. Égasáni qí, Kě, aŋgáçe taí, á-bi egaⁿ, júgçe aqĩⁿ-biamá.
they say. The morrow when, Come, let us go, said, they say having, with him she went, they say.

- Miⁿjinga ϕ iⁿ g ϕ aⁿ-biamá Hiⁿq ϕ e-á ϕ e, ed ϕ i xi. Égi ϕ e ϕ i ϕ aⁿ ϕ aⁿbe Orlí (the ob.) he married, they say Hiⁿq ϕ e-á ϕ e, it occurred when. At length vi- (the) in sight of ahf-biamá. Ki n ϕ aciⁿga wadaⁿba-bi xi, Miⁿjinga ϕ inudaⁿ u ϕ gne amá ϕ aⁿ they arrived, they And man saw them, they say when, Orlí dog sought her who who did
 say.
- 3 n ϕ aciⁿga jú ϕ e atí, á-biamá. Ki n ϕ aciⁿga egé-hnaⁿ-biamá: Kage ϕ a, man with him has come, said he, they And man said habit- they say: Friend.
 thus to usily
- n ϕ aciⁿga ϕ iⁿ údaⁿ héga ϕ i ϕ degaⁿ Hiⁿq ϕ e-á ϕ e é ebé ϕ gaⁿ, á-biamá. J ϕ ndi man the (ob.) good very but Hiⁿq ϕ e-á ϕ e he I think, said he, they At the
 say.
- ahf-biamá xi hiⁿq ϕ e ké á ϕ e g ϕ iⁿ ákama n ϕ aciⁿga p ϕ iji aká. Gaⁿ they arrived, when fine feather the sticking was sitting, they man had the (sub.). And they say (ob.) la say
- 6 Hiⁿq ϕ e-á ϕ e amá akí-bi egaⁿ hiⁿq ϕ e ké gí ϕ gízá-bi egaⁿ hiⁿq ϕ e
 Hiⁿq ϕ e-á ϕ e the reached having fine feather the took back his own, having fine feather
 (mv. sub.) home, they say (ob.) they say
- á ϕ gí ϕ á-biamá. Gaⁿ n ϕ aciⁿga ϕ inké naⁿtá-bi xi égi ϕ e ϕ inudaⁿ tíg ϕ e amá:
 his own he stuck in, And man the (ob.) he kicked, when behold dog he became aud-
 they say, they say
- ϕ inudaⁿ díxé ϕ ti, naⁿxá ϕ é ϕ ti í ϕ aⁿ ϕ a amá xi, Iⁿc'á ϕ e, gá ϕ inké ga ϕ íwa ϕ a-dog very scabby, made cry much he put him they when, Old man, that one please make by kicking say
- 9 kí ϕ e te, p ϕ iji ϕ inudaⁿ ϕ inké, á-biamá. Gaⁿ ϕ inudaⁿ ϕ inké áci a ϕ iⁿ then kill, had dog the (ob.), said he, they say. And dog the (ob.) out took they say having they killed, they say. And Hiⁿq ϕ e-á ϕ e aká 'ábae-onaⁿ-bi egaⁿ they say (sub.) hunted regularly, having they say
- wan ϕ a dádaⁿ, caⁿ 'é, aⁿpaⁿ, ú ϕ ti-má ϕ ti, caⁿ wan ϕ a b ϕ úga ϕ ti t'éwa ϕ a-animal what, for buffalo, elk, deer too, in fact animal b ϕ úga ϕ ti all killed them example
- 12 bi egaⁿ, wacé ϕ ti g ϕ iⁿ-biamá. N ϕ aciⁿga, taⁿwang ϕ aⁿ b ϕ úga ϕ ti, údaⁿqti, they having, very rich he sat, they say. Man, village all, very good,
 say
- gí ϕ é ϕ ti maⁿ ϕ iⁿ-biamá. Ga ϕ ki íanⁿge ϕ inké eg ϕ aⁿge gíá ϕ í aká gávery joyful walked they say. And her younger the one her husband killed for her sister who
- biamá: Wíh ϕ , ϕ ieg ϕ a ϕ ge u ϕ íde anⁿga ϕ ixé te hé, á-biamá. Jaⁿ ϕ é ϕ a, they say: My younger your husband together let us marry him said she, they say. My elder sister,
- 15 égaⁿja, wíeg ϕ a ϕ ge b ϕ aⁿ p ϕ iji e ϕ é hé, jaⁿxe hé. Áqtaⁿ ϕ éiⁿé áhníxe
 nevertheless, my husband anella had you said strong odor How pos- your sister's you marry sibio husband
- tá, á-biamá. Ga ϕ ki waⁿú aká naⁿ aká xagé-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ-biamá, nú shall said she, they And woman the grown the weeping inva- always they say, man say, (sub.) ribly
- ϕ inké á ϕ ixe gaⁿ ϕ a-bi egaⁿ. Égi ϕ e gá-biamá nú aká: Ké, ϕ i ϕ gaⁿ ϕ i ϕ aⁿ the one to marry wished, they having. At length said as follows, man the Come, thy hus- thy hus-who him say they say (sub.): band's father mother
- 18 edábe eonáqteí awágiaⁿb ϕ a pí ϕ degaⁿ gataⁿqti awágiaⁿbe kaⁿb ϕ a.
 also alone I left mine I came hither but now, at last I see them, I wish.
 my own,
- Agéⁿ te há, á-biamá. Waⁿú aká í ϕ ádi ϕ inké u ϕ a-biamá Dadíhá, í ϕ ádi
 I go will said he, they say. Woman the her father the (ob.) told it to him, they O father, his father homeward say, (sub.)
- íhaⁿ edábe wagíhaⁿbe 'í ϕ ai egaⁿ agéⁿ 'í ϕ ai hé, á-biamá. Gaⁿ, Aⁿhaⁿ, his also to see them, he spoke having to go he spoke said she, they And, Yes, mother his own, of homeward of say.

nishha, á-biamá ícádi aká. Nishha, nú wáfixai xi wiúhe-ona^oi há.
 my child, said, they say her father the (sub.). My child, man they marry when they follow inva-
 them them them riably

U^oúha-gá há, á-biamá. Ga^o íjiga^o aká ca^oge áhigíqti ían^ode fínké Follow thou said he, they say. And his wife's the horse a very great his laugh- the one father (sub.) father (sub.) many ter's husband who gi^of-biamá. Ga^oki ca^o wa^oú áma aká ca^o wiúha-biamá. Nú aká ukía-báji, 3 gave to him, they And at any woman the the at any followed them, they Man the

 say. rate other (sub.) rate. say. (sub.) her,

ki wa^oú aká eti ukía-báji xi, ca^o wiúha-biamá, xag^o-hna^o ca^oca^o-biamá.
 and woman the too talked not to when, yet she followed them, crying inva(sub.) her riably always they say.

Égiçe í í tédi ahí-biamá. Égiçe ícádi fínké íha^o fínké etéwa^o
 At her: th lodge at the they arrived, they Behold his father the one his mother the one notwith-
 (sub.) say. who who standing waq^opániqtia^o fánkama, xáxe íctá wádujá-bi ega^o. Égiçe wa^oú áma aká 6 they were very poor, they say, crow eye picked them out, having. At length woman the the they say other (sub.)

na^o aká gá-biamá: Wi^ohé, íjiga^o fíga^o edábe íctá ía^o zéawáçé tú grown the said as follows. My younger your hus- your hus- also eye the I heal them will one who they say: sister, band's father band's mother (ob.)

minke, ehé. Fíegçange a^ogçá^o te hē, á-biamá. Kí nú aká ía-báji-biamá
 I who, I say. Your husband let him marry me said she, they And man the spoke not, they say.
 (sub.)

Kí wa^oú aká gá-biamá: Ja^oçéha, éga^o-á hē. Waq^opáçí^o báçé. Ga^o nú 9
 And woman the (sub.) said as follows. O elder sister, do so They must be poor. And man
 they say:

fínké fíçfá^o tuté, á-biamá. Ga^oki wa^oú aká íctá ía^o wéçita^o-bi ega^o, the one marry you shall, said she, they And woman the eye the the worked on for having.
 who (sub.) (ob.)

íctá ía^o égiga^o waxá-biamá.
 eye the (ob.) as before she made them, they say.

NOTES.

The beginning of this myth, as well as the conclusion, could not be given by the narrator, who had forgotten them.

Hi^oqpe-ag^ope, from hi^oq^opé, a fine feather, not a quill (maca^o), and ág^ope, to stick an upright object or feather in something. "He who sticks a fine feather in his hair."

162, 6. snedéqti, pronounced sne+déqti by Joseph La Flèche.

163, 16; 163, 18; 170, 11. bēgaqti, pronounced bē+gaqti.

164, 17. ega^oqti etéwa^o fíjia^oçé t'éwaçé-hna^oi hē: "Notwithstanding it is so (i. e., though they have always seemed to give your brothers the advantage in the contest), they invariably killed your brothers. Do your best, and try to outwit them, as they are very cunning. Do not be elated so soon. You have not yet overcome them."

166, 1. wa^oú wí^o akipa-biamá. This was the surviving bad man in the shape of a beautiful woman. The hero suspected this at first.

166, 3. ena^o! e ta^o uwagíçega^o etede, spoken as if addressed to another, but really equivalent to "Ena^o! fíççini^o çata^oçé-de í^owi^oçaçana éga^o etéde: Fie! as it is you, you should have told me a little (or, you should have given me some intimation)."

169, 4. etc. giga^oha, fíçuçpa . . . edíati. The woman addressed the hill and cliff as grandfathers, that is, as sacred beings or gods.

169, 19. uda^oqti akama, pronounced u+da^oqti akama.

170. 8. na^axagēqti i^aʔa^a ama. The hero placed the bad man (i^aʔa^a) as he kicked him, that is, he kicked him into a place, changing him into a dog that howled violently at being kicked.

171. 2. caŋge, a modern interpolation.

171. 4. xage-hna^a ca^aca^a-biama, pronounced xa+ge-hna^a ca^aca^a-biama.

171. 6. waqpaniqti^a ʔaŋkama, pronounced waqpa+niqti^a ʔaŋkama.

TRANSLATION.

And he said, "We have come to contend with the first child born of the woman." One of the bad men said it to her. And the boy went thither. Though his father and mother were unwilling, yet he went thither. When he arrived there, they said, "We will contend with you." "Yes, I consent. What shall we play?" said the boy. And the bad men had planted in the ground a very tall and smooth pole. And they said, "We will climb that pole, and which one of us gets back last, shall be killed." And when they went climbing, behold, the bad man, having returned before the other, killed the boy. The woman bore a son again. And the boy was grown. When he was grown, again there came one to ask him to go with him. "We have come," he said, "to contend with your child." Again were his father and mother unwilling. Behold, the boy was grown, and he went thither. And the boy arrived there. And they contended with him likewise. And he said, "What shall we play?" And they said, "Let us play with swings." They played with swings. One cord was broken in many places, and the other one was very good. They made the boy use the good cord, and the bad man used the bad cord broken in many places. At length the good cord became bad. The cord having been cut, the boy was killed by the fall. The boy was dead. And the woman gave birth to a child again, a boy. And the boy who was born became grown. When he was grown, they came for him. "We have come to contend with your child," said they. Though his mother and father too were unwilling, yet the boy went thither. "Come, we will contest with you," said they. And when they contested, they contended in racing with the boy. And having left the boy behind, they killed the boy. At length his mother bore one again. At length she bore Hi^aqpe-ag^{ʔe}. And all over the land they heard of his birth, the birth of Hi^aqpe-ag^{ʔe}. As the boy was a very good marksman, he never failed to get any kind of animal which he desired. In fact, the whole country knew the boy; he was a very excellent boy. At length when the boy was grown, they came again to ask him to go with them. "We have come to contend with your boy," said they. And his father and mother were unwilling. "Please do not go," said they. And the boy said, "O mother and father, I will go thither." "They came thus for your elder brothers and took them away, but they invariably killed them," said his mother. And having said, "Still, O mother, I will go thither," the boy went thither. He arrived there. "Yes," they said, "you have done well by coming." And the boy said, "Come, what shall we play?" Said they, "We will climb yonder pole." And the boy took his fine feather, and stuck it in his hair. And having gone climbing the pole, the boy arrived first at the top. And when they were coming back again, the boy was the first to get back below. And when he returned, he killed the bad man, he killed one of the four. The boy went homeward. He reached home, where was his father and also his mother. "O mother," said he, "I have killed one of those who used to kill my elder brothers." And she said "O, dear youngest child! Do be strong. Notwithstanding it was just so, they invariably killed your elder brothers. Do your best." On the morrow the three arrived. "Boy," said they, "we have come to contend with you." "Yes," said he, "I will go to you." And his mother said as follows: "Do your best, O dear youngest child! Notwithstanding it was just so, they invariably killed your elder brothers. Do be strong." The boy went thither. And he arrived there. At length they spoke of using the swings again. "Use the swing with the good cord," said they to the boy. "The other one is bad. The old cord, which is broken in many places, is bad," said they. And he said as follows: "No, even if it be bad, still I will use it. It is not so, but you often say, 'It is bad.'" "Use the good one," said they. "No, I will use the bad one at all events," said the boy. And they went to play swinging. The boy went very well (i. e., successfully). He used the cord broken in many places, and the other one, who used the good cord, was killed by a fall. And the boy went homeward. Having reached home he said, "O mother and father, again have I killed one of the men who used to kill my elder brothers." "O dear youngest child! Notwithstanding it was just so, they always killed your elder brothers. Do be strong." And on the morrow two arrived. "Boy," said they, "we have come to contend with you." "Yes, I will go to you," said he. And he went thither the next day. When he arrived there, he said, "What shall we play?" "Let us run a race," said they. And the boy took his fine feather and stuck it in his hair. And he went with the bad man. When they were coming back in the race, Hi'qpe-ag'qe got back first. Having returned, he killed one of the bad men. When he reached home he said, "O mother and father, again have I killed one of those who used to kill my elder brothers." "O dear youngest child! Do be strong. Notwithstanding it was just so, they invariably killed your elder brothers," said the mother. On the morrow the boy sat waiting for the one man. And the one man did not arrive. When he did not arrive, the boy went thither. When he reached the lodge, behold, the one remaining man was not there. He departed to search for him. When he went to seek him, behold, he met a very beautiful woman. Hi'qpe-ag'qe said as follows: "Why did you go? You used to contend with me; but when I contend with you, why do you flee?" And the woman said, "Fie! I do not know at all who it was that contended with you. I go to take Hi'qpe-ag'qe for my husband." "No, you contended with me, and I contend with you. Why did you flee?" said he. "Fie! It is not so at all, but you say it repeatedly. I go to take Hi'qpe-ag'qe for my husband," she said. "Why! I am Hi'qpe-ag'qe." "Fie! The one standing is he, but he should have told it." "Let us sit down," said the woman. He sat with her. And the woman said, "Lie there. I will hunt lice for you." She caused him to lie with his head on her lap. And she hunted lice for him. And Hi'qpe-ag'qe was sound asleep; she put him to sleep with her hands. When he was sound asleep, she took hold of his ears, and stretched them repeatedly by pulling them. And she made him become a dog, suddenly. Hi'qpe-ag'qe was a dog. And Hi'qpe-ag'qe was very mangy all over his body. And the man (who had assumed the form of a woman) went with the dog. And the bad man stuck the fine feather in his own hair. And they reached a very large village. "Wonderful!" said the people, "Hi'qpe-ag'qe has come. The man about whom they always tell has come." At length the head-chief heard it. "Bring my daughter's husband to me," said the head-chief. And he arrived there at the lodge of the chief. The chief's daughters were two. And the chief caused the elder one to take the bad man for her husband. And as they had heard that H¹ʔpe-ag^{te} was a good marksman, they thought that they would try him; so they told him to hunt. And when he went hunting, he always came home unsuccessful; he invariably brought rabbits home. And this man said as follows: "That dog smells bad. Venerable man, cause them to kill him. He is very offensive." And the unmarried girl said, "O father, let him alone. Do not kill him. I must have him." She took the best care of the dog. And her elder sister said as follows: "Oh! the dog is bad, and very offensive, but you are the only one not loathing him." At length the man went hunting. When he went hunting, the dog went out at the same time. At length, when the man reached home from the hunt, he brought back a wild-cat. And the dog, having come home from the hunt, pushed repeatedly against the girl to attract her attention. Having thought "Why should he do it?" the girl went following the dog. At length, when they arrived at some distance from the village the dog had killed a very large doe. And the girl, having run homeward, to the lodge, told about it to her father and mother. "O father and mother, my dog has killed a very large doe," said she. Her father and mother reached the place where the doe was lying. And the old man said, "My child, it will do very well." And the girl was accustomed to making her bed close by the bed of her elder sister. "Make it further off. The dog smells bad," said the elder sister. She meant that he sat on the bed. The girl caused the dog to sit by the bed. The man went hunting again. When he went hunting, the dog went thither at the same time. At length the man reached home again, carrying a raccoon. The dog reached home again. When he reached home again, the dog pushed against the girl repeatedly, to attract her attention. And the girl went following the dog. When she had followed him to a place at some distance from the village, behold, the dog had killed a black bear. And she went to tell her father and mother. "O father and mother, my dog has killed a black bear," said she. And her father and mother brought the black bear home to the lodge. And the next day they went hunting again. When he went hunting, the man brought home a rabbit. And when at length the dog reached home, he pushed against the girl repeatedly to attract her attention. And having gone following him, behold, he had killed an elk. The next day the man went hunting again. The man brought home a muskrat. Behold, the dog had killed a beaver. And her father and mother were very glad; they always loved their dog. The girl, too, loved her dog very much. At length the man said as follows: "Venerable man, please make them remove. There is no game here to be hunted. Please make them pitch the tents at some place where there is plenty of game for us to hunt." And they removed the following day. And when they removed, the dog did not go. When all the people had gone, the girl alone did not go. She sought her dog, he having hid himself. And when the place was altogether deserted, she went around where the lodges had been, crying frequently. At length, when it was very late in the evening, the dog came back in sight, emerging from the thicket. The girl said, "Why have you been walking? (i. e., on what errand have you been?). I sought you. All have gone; I alone am left. I sought you." "Yes," said he, "it is very hard." The dog spoke. "Kindle a fire, make a fire," said he, addressing the girl. "You will please go to yonder headland. You shall say as follows: 'Grandfather, I have come after some stones for your grandchild.'" And the girl having done so, the ground said, "Ku+!" It caused some stones to come suddenly to the surface. And the girl took the stones back to her former home. And having reached home with the stones, she said, "These are the stones." He said, "And finally, go to yonder cliff. Say, 'Grandfather, I have come after some tent-poles for your grandchild.'" At length the woman went. She arrived at the cliff. Said she, "Grandfather, I have come after some tent-poles for your grandchild." And some snakes came in sight. And the woman took them; she took the snakes homeward. When she reached home with them, the dog said, "Come, make a small lodge." The woman made tent-poles of the snakes; she made a grass lodge. The dog talked with the woman. "You may think that you have pitied me; but I pity you. You shall be rich. I am Hi'qpe-ag'qe; but yonder man vented his spite on me, and maltreated me." And the dog went within the small lodge. And the dog took a sweat-bath. At length he said, "That will do. Uncover me." Behold, he was a very handsome man; he was not a dog, he was a very handsome man. And they slept there. The next day he said, "Let us go." And she went with him. Then Hi'qpe-ag'qe took the girl for his wife. At length they arrived at the circle of lodges. And when the people saw them, they said, "The girl who sought her dog has come with a man." And a man said thus to others: "Friends, the man is very handsome, but I think that he is Hi'qpe-ag'qe." When they arrived at the lodge, the bad man sat with the fine feather sticking in his hair. And Hi'qpe-ag'qe having reached home, he took back his fine feather, and stuck it in his own hair. And when he kicked the bad man, behold, the latter suddenly became a dog, a very mangy dog, caused to howl violently by the kicking. Then Hi'qpe-ag'qe said, "Venerable man, please make them kill that dog. The dog is bad." And they took the dog out and killed it. And Hi'qpe-ag'qe hunted regularly. He killed various sorts of animals, such as buffaloes, elk, deer—in fact, all kinds of animals—and became very rich. All the tribe continued prosperous and happy. And she whose husband had been killed said to her younger sister, "My younger sister, let us have your husband together." "My elder sister, nevertheless you have said that my husband smells bad. He is very offensive. How could you marry your sister's husband?" And the elder woman was crying all the time, because she wished to marry the man. At length the man said as follows: "Come, I came hither and left none but your husband's father and mother; but at last I wish to see them. I wish to go homeward." The woman told it to her father. "O father, he spoke of seeing his father and mother, he spoke of going homeward," said she. And her father said, "Yes, my child, when they marry men, they invariably follow them. Follow him." And the wife's father gave to his daughter's husband a great many ponies. And the other woman followed them at any rate. When neither the man nor the woman talked with her, still she followed them, crying continually. At length they reached the lodge. Behold, his father, and even his mother, they were very poor, the crows having picked out their eyes. At length the other woman, the elder one, said as follows: "My younger sister, I say that I will heal the eyes of your husband's father and mother. Let him marry me." And the man did not speak. And the woman said as follows: "My elder sister, do so. They must be poor. The man shall surely marry you." And the woman having worked on their eyes, restored their sight.

THE CHIEF'S SON AND THE THUNDERS.

TOLD BY JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE.

- Ta' waŋgəⁿ wiⁿ ɛdodɪəⁿ aná. Kɪ níkagahi aká cénujɪŋa wiⁿ t'aⁿ.
 Tribe one there it was they say. And chief the young man one had him
- biamá. Kɪ cénujɪŋa aká t'éga hégabaji-biamá Kɪ edádaⁿ ɛtəwaⁿ gaⁿ ɸathey say. And young man the lazy very they say. And what soever desired
- 3 baji-biamá cénujɪŋa aká. Jaⁿ-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿqtiaⁿ-biamá Gaⁿ ɪɸádi aká, not they say young man the Lying invariably down bly he was always they say. And his father the (sub.),
- Nisíha, nú ɸi ugácaⁿ-hnaⁿi. Ugácaⁿ égaⁿ-gá. Cénujɪŋa júwagəⁿ-daⁿ ugácaⁿ-
 My child, man when travels invariably. Do travel. Young man go with them and travel
- gá. Kɪ waⁿú ɛti úwakiá-daⁿ min'gəⁿɛtəanⁿ-gá, á-biamá. Kɪ ɪjɪn'ge aká (imper. And woman too court them and do marry some one said he, they say. And his son the (sub.)
- 6 íabaji'qti-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ-biamá, caⁿ gɪɸa-baji'qti-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ-biamá. ɪɸádi ɸínke spoke not at invariably all always they say, and very sad invariably always they say. His father the (ob.)
- úwakié ɛtə ɸa-baji-hnaⁿ-biamá. Kɪ égiɸe, Dadíha, iⁿnaⁿha ɪi wiⁿ ingáxe talked to him even he spoke invariably not bly they say. And at length, Father, my mother lodge one make for me
- te, á-biamá. Kɪ íhaⁿ aká ɪi gíaxa-biamá Naⁿhá, umiⁿje ɛti ingáxa-gá, will, he said, they say. And his mother the lodge made for they say. O mother, couch too make for me,
- 9 á-biamá. Gaⁿ nújɪŋa aká ɪi tē uɸá-bi egaⁿ, nájɪjaⁿ-biamá. Umaⁿ ɸínke said he, they say. And boy the lodge the entered, having, fasted they say. Season
- dúba nájɪjaⁿ-biamá: waɸáta-bájɪtəaⁿ-biamá, ni ɸátaⁿ-bájɪtəaⁿ-biamá.
 four he fasted they say: he ate nothing at all they say, water he drank not at all they say.
- Ataⁿ ɛtəqtei waɸáta-biamá, kɪ ní ɛti ɸataⁿ-biamá. Égiɸe nan'de ɸaⁿá
 Just a few times he ate they say, and water too he drank, they say. At length heart the at
- 12 nájɪjaⁿ-bi tē'di, Hindá! nɪka-nájɪha wáimⁿ au, ɛɸégaⁿ-biamá. Kɪ égiɸe fasted, they say when, Let me see! human hair I wear as a robe will, he thought, they say. And behold
- wakan'da aká uká-biamá: Edádaⁿ ekaⁿhna tē égijaⁿ taté, á-biamá. Nɪkanadely the talked they say: What you desire the so you do shall, said he, they Human (sub.) to him (ob.) say.
- jíha wáimⁿ taté, á-biamá. Gaⁿ nájɪjaⁿ tē caⁿgaxá-biamá. Égiɸe, Dadíha, hair you wear as shall, said he, they say. And fast the (ob.) he ceased they say. At length, Father,
- 15 iⁿnaⁿha iⁿwiⁿhaⁿ tē há, á-biamá. Dadíha, iⁿc'áge wiⁿ in'gíɸəwaɸakiɸá-gá, my mother cook for me will said he, they say. Father, old man one do you make them go after him for me,
- á-biamá. Kɪ, Dadíha, uágacaⁿ bəe kaⁿbəa, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, nisíha, nú said he, they say. And, Father, I travel I go I wish, said he, they say. Yes, my child, man
- ɸi ugácaⁿ-hnaⁿi. Égaⁿ uágacaⁿ wíkaⁿbəa-hnaⁿ-maⁿ when travels invariably. As you travel I desired you invariably I have. At the lodge you die I did not do.

- é waka-báji ebégaⁿ, á-biamá. An'kaji há, nudaⁿhanga aká é wakaí, that he meant not I think, said (the former), Not so leader the that he meant,
they say. (sub.)
- á-biamá. Caⁿ t'épa-bi gaⁿá-biamá xi te-núga aká n'aciⁿga faná wiⁿ t'épa-said he, they And to-ill is, they wished, they when buffalo-bull the man the one killed say. say. say. say. (sub.) (pl. ob.)
- 3 biamá. Gaⁿ fábiⁿ agéá-biamá. Akí-biamá xi, Núdaⁿhanga, te-núga wiⁿ édi they say. And three went homeward, they say. They reached when, Leader, buffalo-bull one there home, they say.
- amédegaⁿ wiⁿ t'éawaⁿaf ápa, á-biamá. Níkawasaⁿ, éiígaⁿ t'épaⁿ-báji tá-bi,
he was moving, one he killed indeed, said they, Warrior, your grand- father you shall not kill,
but (of) us they say. (sub.)
- ehé paⁿeti, á-biamá. É'di aht-biamá xi t'épa-bikéamá. Hau! níkawasaⁿ,
I said in the past, said he, they say. There they arrived, when he lay killed, they say. Ho! warrior,
they say.
- 6 ujañge éútaⁿ ihéga-gá. Gaⁿ níkawasaⁿ é'eu jaⁿ guⁿé egaⁿ é'eu jaⁿ te road straight place it. By all warrior here to lie he wished since here let him lie means.
- ápa, á-biamá. Hau, ci a'á-biamá. Ci a'á-biamá xi ci wadaⁿbe a'á-Indeed, said he, they Well, again they went, they Again they went, when again scouting they went
say. say. say. say. (sub.)
- biamá dúbá. Wadaⁿbe a'á-biamá xi gá-biamá nudaⁿhanga aká: Hau!
they say four. Scouting they went, they when said as follows, leader the Ho!
they say. (sub.)
- 9 níkawasaⁿ, éiígaⁿ wiⁿ édedéinké égié t'épaⁿé tai há. T'épa-báji-gá, warrior, your grand- one the one sitting beware lest you kill him, Do not kill him,
father (sub.)
- á-biamá Égié caⁿ'anga wiⁿ ci daⁿ'ba-biamá. Égié caⁿ'anga taⁿ said he, they At length big wolf one again they saw, they say. At length big wolf the
say. (sub. ob.)
- t'épa t'épa-biamá. Kagéha, t'éaⁿ'éé tai, á-biamá. T'éna! kagéha, nudaⁿhanga to kill him they spoke of, My friend, let us kill him, said (one), they Fie! my friend, leader
they say. say. say. (sub.)
- 12 aká t'éaⁿ'éa-báji tai ai paⁿeti, á-biamá. An'kaji há, nudaⁿhanga aká é the we kill him not will said in the past said (a second). Not so leader the that (sub.) they say. say. say. (sub.)
- waka-báji ebégaⁿ, á-biamá. An'kaji há, nudaⁿhanga aká é wakaí did not mean I think, said (the first), Not so leader the that he meant
they say. say. say. (sub.)
- ebégaⁿ, á-biamá. Áqtaⁿ caⁿ'anga é wake tába, á-biamá. Gaⁿ caⁿ'anga
I think, said he, they How possi- big wolf that he mean should I said he, they And big wolf
say. say. say. say. (sub.)
- 15 éiⁿ kida-biamá xi égié caⁿ'anga wénaxiá-bi egaⁿ ci dúbá-ma wiⁿ t'épa-
the they shot at it, when behold big wolf attacked them, having again the four one he killed
(mv. ob.) they say. they say. say. say. (sub.)
- biamá. Gaⁿ aki-bi egaⁿ, Núdaⁿhanga, caⁿ'anga wiⁿ édi amégaⁿ wiⁿ they say. And reached home, having, Leader, big wolf one there he was mov- ing, and one they say. say. say. say. (sub.)
- t'éawaⁿaf, á-biamá. Hau! níkawasaⁿ, éiígaⁿ t'épaⁿ-báji tá-bi, ehé paⁿeti, killed (of) us, said they, they Ho! warrior, your grand- father ye shall not kill, I said in the past,
say. say. say. say. (sub.)
- 18 á-biamá. É'di aht-bi egaⁿ (t'épa-bikéamá). Hau! níkawasaⁿ, ujañ'ge said he, they There arrived, they having (killed, he lay, they say). Ho! warrior, road
say. say. say. say. (sub.)
- éútaⁿ ihéga-gá. Gaⁿ níkawasaⁿ é'eu jaⁿ gaⁿ'é egaⁿ é'eu jaⁿ te ápa, straight place it. By all warrior here to lie wished since at any rate here let him lie indeed, means. say. say. say. say. (sub.)
- á-biamá. Hau! ákihaⁿ angápe tai, á-biamá. A'á-biamá xi ci dúbá said he, they Ho! beyond let us go, said he, they They went, they when again four
say. say. say. say. (sub.)

- wadaⁿ be afaⁿ-biamá. Wadaⁿ be afaⁿ-biamá yi gaⁿ-biamá nudaⁿ hanga aká: 1 scouting they went, they say. Scouting they went, they say when said as follows, they say. leader (sub.).
- Nikawasaⁿ, égiçe fūigaⁿ wiⁿ ededēⁿ yi égiçe t'ēnēⁿ taf há. T'ēpa-bajji-gá, 2 Warrior, beware your grand. one the one moving there. If beware lest you kill him. Do not kill him, (sub.).
- á-biamá. Égiçe wadaⁿ be afaⁿ-biamá Maⁿteú wiⁿ fēa-biamá. Égiçe 3 said he, they say. At length scouting they went, they say. Grizzly bear one they found him, they say. At length
- maⁿteú fēⁿ t'ēⁿ fēa-biamá. Kagēha, maⁿteú fēⁿ t'ēaⁿ fēⁿ táí, á-biamá. 4 grizzly bear (mv. ob.) the to kill him they spoke of. My friend, grizzly bear (mv. ob.) let us kill, said (one), they say.
- T'ēnāⁿ! kagēha, nudaⁿ hanga aká t'ēaⁿ fēa-bajji ai fēⁿ eti, á-biamá. Anⁿkaji, 5
 Fie! my friend, leader the we kill him not said in the past, they say. Not so, they say.
- nudaⁿ hanga aká é waka-báji ebēgaⁿ, á-biamá. Anⁿkaji há, nudaⁿ hanga 6 leader the that he meant not I think, said (the first), they say. Not so, leader
- aká é wakaⁿ ebēgaⁿ, á-biamá. Anⁿkaji há, ágaⁿ maⁿteú é wake tába, 7 the that he meant I think, said (the second), they say. Not so, how grizzly that he meant should I (sub.).
- á-biamá. Cuⁿ t'ēpa-bi gaⁿ fēa-biamá yi maⁿteú aká nāciⁿ ga fānká wiⁿ 8 said (the first), And to kill it, they wished, they when grizzly bear (sub.) the (pl. ob.) one they say.
- t'ēpa-biamá. Gaⁿ fābēⁿ agēa-biamá. Gaⁿ akí-bi egaⁿ, Nudaⁿ hangá, 9 killed him, they say. And three went homeward, they say. And reached home, having. Leader.
- maⁿteú wiⁿ edí amēdegaⁿ wiⁿ t'ēawaⁿ fāí, á-biamá. Hau! nikawasaⁿ, fūigaⁿ 10 grizzly bear one there he was moving one killed (of) us, said they, they say. Ho! warrior, your grand-father
- t'ēpa-bajji tá-bi, ehé fāⁿ eti, á-biamá. Éⁿdi ahí-biamá yi (t'ēpa-bikēama). 11
 you shall not kill, I said in the past, said he, they say. There they arrived, when (killed, he lay, they say), they say.
- Hau! nikawasaⁿ, ujanⁿ ge fūtaⁿ ihēpa-gá. Guⁿ nikawasaⁿ fēⁿ fēu jaⁿ 12
 Ho! warrior, road straight place it. By all means warrior here to lie
- gaⁿ fē egaⁿ gaⁿ fēⁿ fēu jaⁿ te ápa, á-biamá. Égiçe maⁿ xe uhanⁿ ge kēⁿ di 13 wished since at any rate here let him lie indeed, said he, they say. At length sky end at the
- ahí-biamá. Kí maⁿ xe uhanⁿ ge aká fanⁿ de kē maⁿ táha áíápe akáma. 14 they arrived, And sky end the (sub.) ground the (ob.) into was going thither, they say.
- Gaⁿ, Égiçe, nikawasaⁿ, naⁿ fāpe taf há. Naⁿ pa-bajji-gá. Masániapa 15
 And, Beware, warrior, last ye fear what you see. Fear not what you see. To the other side
- angápe taf, á-biamá nudaⁿ hanga aká. Anⁿ gaaⁿ si taf há. Égiçe naⁿ fāpe 16
 let us go, said, they say leader the (sub.). Let us leap over. Beware ye fear
- taí há. Gaⁿ nudaⁿ hanga afaⁿ-bi egaⁿ masáni ahí-biamá. Gaⁿ wanⁿ giçe 17 lest And leader went, they having the other he reached, they say. And all
- áaⁿ si-biamá ucté amá. Wíⁿ áqteí áaⁿ si fēⁿ á amá; áaⁿ si gaⁿ fēa yi fēⁿ á amá 18 jumped over, they say the rest. One only to jump over failed they to jump wished when failed they say
- nūjiga aká. Égiçe maⁿ xe uhanⁿ ge aká maⁿ táha afaⁿ áíápa-biamá. Ké, 19 boy the (sub.). At length sky end the (sub.) inward having had gone, they say. Come,
- nikawasaⁿ, angápe taf há. Nikawasaⁿ égaⁿ añaⁿ fāí, égaⁿ ápa, á-biamá. 20 warrior, let us go. Warrior so we wish, so indeed, said he, they say.

- 1 ŋeŋu jaⁿ te áŋa, á-biamá. Níaciⁿga t'e ké é walaf. Áŋa-biamá égaⁿ caⁿ Here let him lie indeed, said he, they Man dead the that he meant. They want they as right asay. one who say
- gaⁿ aŋé amáma. Égiŋe dāhē wiⁿ mⁿciadīqti daⁿba-biamá; q̄abé éugaqti, long they were going. At length hill one very high they saw they say; tree dense very,
 they say.
- 3 mázi éugaqti daⁿba-biamá. Hau! níkawasaⁿ, éhíŋeŋanⁿdi é'di angáŋai áŋa.
 cedar very dense they saw they say. Ho! warrior, to yonder place there we go indeed.
 Editāⁿ angáŋi t'af áŋa, á-biamá. Ké, níkawasaⁿ, wadaⁿbe maⁿŋinⁿgā, Thence we will be coming indeed, said he, they Come, warrior, scouting go, back, say.
- á-biamá. Kí dūba wadaⁿbe aŋa biamá. É'di ahi-bi q̄i cúde enáqtei daⁿba-said he, they And four scouting went, they say. There they when smoke alcⁿ they saw,
 say. reached, they say
- 6 biamá, q̄i tē daⁿba-bajī-biamá. Aki-bi egaⁿ, Nūdaⁿhaŋgā, é'di angáhi they say, lodge the they saw not they say. Got back, having, Leader, there we reached (obj.)
- ŋaⁿja cúde édegaⁿ q̄i tē aⁿdaⁿba-bajī, á-biamá. Hau! níkawasaⁿ, é uáne though smoke but lodge the we saw not, said they, they Ho! warrior, that I seek (obj.) say.
- áŋa, á-biamá. Cí dūba é'di wadaⁿbe aŋa-biamá. Edīqti ahi-bi q̄i cúde indeed, he said, they Again four there scouting went, they say. Right they arrived, when smoke say. there they say
- 9 ŋaⁿja q̄i tē daⁿba-bajī-biamá. Nūdaⁿhaŋgā, q̄i tē aⁿdaⁿba-bajī hā, cúde though lodge the they saw not, they say. Leader, lodge the we saw not smoke ŋaⁿja, á-biamá Gaⁿ dūbaⁿ égaⁿ-biamá. Wédubaⁿ tēdīhi q̄i é'di ahithough, said they, they And four times so the, say. The fourth time it arrived when there they arrived
 say.
- biamá q̄i tēdi. Kí nudaⁿhaŋga aká, Ké, níkawasaⁿ, q̄i tē aŋgūde taŋte they say lodge at the. And leader the (sub.), Come, warrior, lodge the we enter shall indeed, said he, And lodge the they entered, Behold a very old man he was, but there
- 12 áŋa, á-biamá. Kí q̄i tē uŋá-biamá. Égiŋe iⁿc'áŋéqtei akédegaⁿ é'di they say. they say. they say.
- q̄iⁿ akáma q̄i tē'di. Naki ŋaⁿ jīnⁿga-ctēwaⁿ-bajī, kí najīha skā'q̄tei he was sitting, they lodge in the. Head the by no means small, and hair very white
 say.
- akáma. Kí nudaⁿhaŋga aká iⁿc'áŋe ŋiⁿ q̄i tē úde aŋaf tē'di wébahaⁿŋi
 (ind) they And leader the (sub.) old man the lodge the entering went when he did not know
 say. him,
- 15 amá. Égiŋe gaⁿŋinké'qti wébahaⁿ amá iⁿc'áŋe ŋinké. Iⁿc'áŋe aká they say. At length after sitting a great he knew him they say old man the (at. obj.). Old man the (sub.) while
- g'ēŋeŋaⁿ-biamá: Iⁿŋiⁿsabé'qti ugácaⁿ ábae wéahidé'qti ugácaⁿi ŋaⁿeti.
 thought thus, they say: My relations suffering traveling hunting to a great distance they traveled in the past
 very much
- Níaciⁿga d'úba úmakáqtei aŋíŋeŋi tī áhaⁿ, eŋégaⁿ-biamá. Jīdīqti Man some very easily have brought them- I thought he, they say. Right in the selves hither lodge
- 18 níaciⁿga d'úba t'éawaŋé tá minke, eŋégaⁿ-biamá. ŋéaká nudaⁿhaŋga aká man some I kill them will I who, thought he, they say. This one leader the (sub.)
 say.
- g'ēŋeŋaⁿ-biamá: T! Níka-najīha wáiⁿmiⁿ tá minke, ehé ŋaⁿeti. Wafīⁿ thought thus, they say: Excel- Human hair I wear as a robe will I who, I said in the past. Robe lent!
- údaⁿ in hīⁿ áhaⁿ. Abēiⁿ tá minke, eŋégaⁿ-biamá. Égiŋe isanⁿga aká good truly I I have it will I who, he thought, they say. At length his younger brother the (sub.)
 say.

Ki isan'ga ɕaŋká wéahidehdi 'ábae ɪɕaf-de, ha'ŋ ɣi oti aki-hna'-biamá
And his younger they who very far away hunting had when, night when too reached home they say brother gone invariably áɕa, á-biamá. Ki Égiɕe i'c'áge aká enáqtei ɣi ákida aká ɣi, égiɕe indeed, said he, And it happened old man the (sub.) he alone lodge was watching when, at length

they say.

nɪaci'ga hégactéwa'ɣi ɪ tē uɗá-biam áɕa. Ki i'c'áge aká gégegu' people a great many lodge the entered, they say, indeed. And old man the thinking thus (sub.)

gɕi'w'-biam áɕa: I'ɕi'w'-sabéqti wéahidehdi ugáca' iɕé-hna'ɪ ɕa'w'eti. Nɪaci'ga sat they say indeed: My relations suffering very much traveling have gone heretofore. Man usually

d'úba áhiqiti ɪádiqiti t'éawaɕé tá minke-ána, eɕéga' gɕi'w'-biamá.
someone a great many right in the lodge I kill them will I who (in thought) thinking he sat they say.

Gaŋ'ki, Ké, ɪucpáha, ɕi cti hígaŋ-gá, á-biamá. A'ha' ɣiga'ha, híga'ha And, Come, grandchild, you too tell a myth, said he, they say. Yoa, grandfather, I tell a myth

te áɕa, á-biamá. Égiɕe nɪkagahi wi'w' ta'wáŋɕa' d'úba júwageɕ am will indeed, said he, they say. It happened chief one tribe some he with them they say

áɕa. Ki cin'gajin'ga wi'w' t'a'w' amá. Ki cin'gajin'ga nújŋga aká t'éga indeed. And child one he had they say. And child boy the (sub.) last hégabaji-biam áɕa. Iɕádi ɕínké ugáca' wágaji' ctéwa' ugáca'-bajf-biam very they say indeed His father who the one to travel commanded notwithstanding he did not travel, they say

áɕa. Edáda' ctéwa' gáxe ga'w'ɕaiqti am áɕa. Égiɕe nújŋga aká nájiŋa' indeed. What soever to do he did not wish they indeed. At length boy the to fast
(sub.)

'íɕa-bi ega'w' iha'w' aká ɣi uɣa'ha wégaɕe am áɕa, á-biamá. Égiɕe spoke of, they say having his mother the lodge apart made for him they indeed, said he, they say. At length nújŋga aká gégega'-biam áɕa, nájiŋe'w'-bi tē'di: Hindá! nɪka-nájiha wái'mi' boy the thought thus, indeed, he fasted, they when: Let me see! human hair I wear as a (sub.) they say, say robe

au, eɕéga'-bi ja'w'-biam áɕa. Ki nuda'w' nújŋga aká aɕá-biamá. Nɪaci'ga will, thinking, they say he say they indeed. And on the war-boy the went they say. Man
say

áhiqiti júwageɕ aɕá-biamá. Égiɕe nɪaci'ga d'úba ɣígeɕ ɕaŋké, ki 'ɕdi very great he with them went they say. At length person four dwell in they who, and there a lodge

aht-biam áɕa. É'di aht-bi ɣi nújŋga aká, Nɪka-nájiha wái'mi'w' tá minke, they arrived, indeed. There they-arr- when boy the (sub.) Human hair I wear as a will I who,
they say rived, they say robe ɕhé ɕa'w'eti. Waii'w' úda'w' inahi'w' áha'w' at'a'w' tá minke, eɕéga' gɕi'w'-biam said in the past. Robe good truly I I possess it will I who, thinking he sat, they say indeed. One the one hair very white, and one the one very red, one the one very who who

wi'w' ɕínké ɣúqti am áɕa. Gaŋ'ki i'c'áge aká kɪqca-biama: Há! há! há! há!
one the one who very they indeed. And old man the laughed with him, Há! há! há! há!
who who say (sub.) they say:

Wiyúcpa gégeqti éska'w' á-biamá. Ga'w' ha'w' amá ɣi waii'w' u'úde ɕa'w' ɣi grandchild thought thus it seems, said he, they say. And night it was when robe hole the
say

ɕtá ugca'w' ja'w'-biamá, i'c'áge ɕaŋká wada'w'be ɣa'w' ɕá'ɕá-bi ega'w'. Ki eye in it he lay, they say, old man the (pl. obj.) to see them lying he wished, having. And
they say

- wagáqqaⁿ ɕaŋkú úwagikiá-bi egaⁿ, Wagáqqaⁿ, égiçe ɕajaⁿ tai hã.
servants the (pl. ob.) he talked with them, having, Servants, bowaro lost ye sleep
- Jaⁿ-baji jaⁿi-gã, á-biamá. Égiçe haⁿ jaⁿ xi iⁿc'áge aká aⁿɕéqci Sleepless lie ye, said he, they say. At length night lay when old man the (sub.) gently
- dágahaⁿqti wadaⁿbe-hnaⁿ-biamá jaⁿ-má. Égiçe iⁿc'áge aká iⁿ'é-wétiⁿ 3 raised his head looked at them inva-riably they say the sleepers. At length old man the (sub.) stone ham-mer
- gɕíza-biamá. Wétiⁿ gɕíza-bi egaⁿ, nudaⁿhaŋga aká najiⁿ átiáɕa-bi egaⁿ took his they say. Hammer took his, they having, leader the (sub.) stood suddenly, they having
- hútaⁿqti najiⁿ-bi egaⁿ, Kau+! á-bi egaⁿ, dúba waŋgiçe waqɕi-biamá.
roaring ex-cessingly stood, they having Kau+! said, they having, four all he killed them, they say.
- Hau! níkawasaⁿ, nájiⁿ-bádaⁿ najíha bɕúgaqti wáɕizái-gã Égiçe 6
Ho! warrior, stand and hair all take ye. Beware
- máɕaqaⁿqaⁿ tai hã. Najíha bɕúgaqti wáɕizái-gã, á-biamá. Gaⁿ t'éwaɕɕ lost ye out it in many pieces Hair the whole take ye, said he, they say. And killing them
- ɕietaⁿ-bi egaⁿ, agɕá-biamá. Agɕá-bi egaⁿ maⁿxe uhaŋ'ge kɕ'di akí-biamá.
finished, they having, they went home-ward, they say. Went home-ward, they say. sky end at the they came back to, they say.
- Hau! ké, níkawasaⁿ, masáni maŋgɕiⁿi-gã, masáni égageze akí-najiⁿi gã, 9
Ho! come, warrior, the other begone ye, the other in a row reach-stand ye, ing again
- á-biamá. Gaⁿ égaⁿ-biamá Wan'giçe pahaⁿga gɕéwakiɕá-biamá. Gaⁿ said he, they And so they say. All before he sent them homeward, And they say.
- é háci agɕá-biamá. Jaⁿɕiⁿqti agɕá-bi egaⁿ uaⁿsiqti agɕá-biamá. Ékigaⁿqti he behind went homeward, Running fast went home-ward, they say. having leaped far he went homeward, Just like him they say.
- nújunga ɔan'de maⁿtáha iɕé kɕ júgigɕe agɕá-biamá. Gaⁿ agɕá-bi egaⁿ, 12 boy ground within had he with his own went homeward, And went home-ward, they say.
- maⁿtóu kɕ'di akí-bi egaⁿ ci égaⁿ-biamá. Wan'giçe pahan'ga gɕéwakiɕágrizzly bear at the reached again, having again so they say. All before he sent them home-ward.
- biamá. Gaⁿ é háci agɕá-biamá. Jaⁿɕiⁿqti agɕá-biamá, uaⁿsiqti agɕáthey say. And he behind went homeward, Running very fast he went homeward, leaping very far he went homeward
- biamá Ci ékigaⁿqti nújunga t'é kɕ júgigɕe niⁿja agɕáɕiⁿ agɕá-biamá. 15 they say. Again just like him boy dead he with his own alive having his own went homeward, they say.
- Caⁿjaŋga kɕ'di ci égaⁿ-biamá. Ci ɔenúga kɕ'di ci égaⁿ-biamá. Wan'giçe Big wolf at the again so they say. Again buffalo-bull at the again so they say. All
- niⁿja agɕáɕiⁿ akí-biamá, wiⁿɕetɕwaⁿ uíqpaɕa-baji-biamá. Gaⁿ agɕáalive having his own he reached home, not even one lost to him not they say. And they went homeward
- biamá xi égiçe taⁿwangɕaⁿ hégactɕwaⁿji íhe akí-biamá. Íhe akí-bi 18 they say when at length tribe a great many passing got back to, they say. Passing they got back to, they say
- egaⁿ, Hau! níkawasaⁿ, caⁿ áɕa, níka-najíha wáíjiⁿ taíte áɕa, á-biamá.
having, Ho! warrior, that indeed, human hair ye shall surely wear indeed, said he, they will do as robes say.
- Gaⁿ ɕ'di akí-bi egaⁿ xi ɕaⁿ bɕúgaqti ci wáqɕi-bi egaⁿ najíha bɕúgaqti
And there they got having lodges the all again killed them, having hair all wáq̄izá-biamá. Ca' ta' wānḡča' dūba éga' wáq̄i-biamá. Ga' ʔi ʔan'di they look them, they And so tribe four so killed them, they say. And lodged at the

 say.
 akí-biamá. Ga' ta' wānḡča' eá amá b̄q̄uq̄ti n̄kagahi úju ḡíyaxa-bi they reached home, And tribe his the all chief principal made their they say. (pl. sub.) own, they say 3 ega', é w̄é̄ḡīq̄ḡča'-biamá.
 having, he ruled for them, they say.

NOTES.

176, 6. ḡīq̄ab̄iq̄ti-hna' cu'ca'-biamá, pronounced gi+q̄ab̄iq̄ti-hna' ca'ca'-biamá by Joseph La Flèche.

176, 12. wai'mi' au, equal to wai'mi' ta miñke. See "au" elsewhere, as in the myth of the Coyote and the Buffaloes, egīe na'ji' ʔaa'he ʔi'he au; and in that of the Raccoons and the Crabs, egīe na'ji' ʔacka' ʔi'he au.

176, 13. When the young man was fasting, he knew about the aged Thunderman, who had the Coyote for his servant. The deity told him this.

177, 7. ḡīq̄q̄ti'-biamá, pronounced gi+q̄q̄ti'-biamá.

177, 11. áq̄a. This word is added to express emphasis. I never heard it used in common speech. It is used by the criers in proclaiming the commands of chiefs. See "éq̄" in the Dictionary.

177, 11. níkawasa', O warrior! O warriors! This is derived from the archaic word nika, a male, a man; and with it may be compared the proper name, Mi'-wasa' (Female warrior?).

177, 18. egīe ʔe-nuga ta' t'et̄-íq̄a-biamá. The contraction is from t'et̄é̄ íq̄a-biamá.

178, 6. ujañge ʔuta' iheq̄a-gā. This probably meant that they could not resume their march till the body of their comrade had been taken out of the way, and buried.

178, 6. ga' níkawasa' ʔēʔu ja' ga'q̄ ega' ga' ʔēʔu ja' te aq̄a. It is almost impossible to give the idea of "ga'" by any single English word. This "ga'" with a rising inflection is very emphatic, and differs from "ga'", and. The idea in this case was that as the warrior had chosen to lie there, no fault could be found. Ga'q̄ ega' is contracted from ga'q̄a ega'.

178, 17. t'et̄aq̄a-baji ta-bi ehe ʔa'et̄i. This phrase shows that "ta-bi" can be used even in quoting the former words of the speaker himself.

179, 15. na'pa-bajii-gā. The scene was one well calculated to inspire them with fear; but they were urged not to be afraid of what they saw.

180, 4. edita' añgagi tai aq̄a. The men were tired of so long a journey.

180, 12. i'c̄a'ḡet̄q̄ti, pronounced i'c̄a'+ḡet̄q̄ti.

180, 13. j̄iñḡet̄wa'-baji, pronounced j̄iñ+ḡet̄wa'-baji.

180, 16. i'q̄i'sab̄et̄q̄ti, pronounced i'q̄i'+sab̄et̄q̄ti.

181, 4. ʔe-nuga ede. It had been a live buffalo-bull, but at the time referred to it was only the carcass of one. So, niaci'ga ede, it had been a man, but it was then only the body that was carried.

181, 10-11. wana'a'-baji-bi ēq̄ega' ega'. The old man pretended that he thought they said that they did not eat sliced squash, when he knew that they meant human ears.

182, 3; 182, 7; etc. am áq̄a and -biam áq̄a are contractions of amá áq̄a and biamá áq̄a.

182, 18. ha! ha! ha! Crescendo, as in music.

TRANSLATION.

There was a tribe whose chief had a son, a young man. And the young man was very lazy. He did not desire anything at all; he lay down all the time. And his father said, "My child, if one is a man, he usually travels. Do you travel. Go with the young men and travel. Pay attention to the women, and do, at least, take one of them for a wife." And his son never said anything; he continued sad all the while. Even though his father spoke to him, he said nothing. At length he said, "Father, let my mother make a tent for me." And his mother made a tent for him. "Mother," said he, "make also a couch for me." And the boy entered the tent and fasted. He fasted four seasons: he did not eat any food, and he did not drink water. Only once in a while he took a little food, and drank a little water which his mother brought to him. And it happened while he fasted that he thought in his heart, "Let me see! I will wear a robe made of scalps." And it chanced that a deity spoke to him, saying, "Whatever you desire, that shall you do. You shall surely wear a robe made of scalps." And he made an end of the fast. At length he said, "Father, let my mother cook for me. Send them after an old man for me. I wish to go traveling." "Yes, my child," said the chief, "if one is a man, he is accustomed to travel. So have I always wished you to travel. I do not wish you to die in the lodge. I wish you to die at some place that is away from home. I have always been sad because you did not travel." The old man arrived. And the young man said as follows: "O aged man, go after some of the young men for me." And the old man departed. And as he reached each of the lodges, he said to the young men, "The chief's son has invited you." And a great many young men went to the chief's son. And he said as follows: "Ho! I have invited you that we might go traveling. Let us go on the war-path." And the young men were very glad. And he said, "For four days cause them to make mocasins." In four days they went on the war-path. * * * [What follows was not gained in the original, though told by the same man.—And they came to an aged Thunder-man, who was very poor. None but the leader knew that he was a Thunder-man. And they pitied him, saying, "Let us give him some of our robes and other goods." They did so. Then the old man said, "You think that you have been kind to me. I will be kind to you. I will speak to you about something." When he said this, a Coyote, who was the servant of the old man, standing at the door, gave a wink to the chief's son, who followed him and went outside. Said the Coyote, "When he tells you to choose one of the four sacred bags, take the old otter-skin. All are good, but the rest are not exceedingly good." These bags were, first, a hawk-skin bag; second, a martin-skin bag; third, a bag made of the skin of a bird whose name is forgotten; and, fourth, an otter-skin bag. Then the chief's son and the Coyote re-entered the lodge. And the old man said again, "You have been kind to me, and I will be so to you. Which of these four sacred bags will you take? If you wish to return with scalps and booty in half a day, take the martin-skin. Should you take the hawk skin, you will return in two days. If you wish to be absent a little while (i. e., several days), take the third. This otter-skin one is good, but it is old and worn." And grasping the otter-skin, the chief's son said, "Grandfather, I will take this, notwithstanding its age." And the old man was in a bad humor, and scolded his servant. "Psha! it seems that this one is he who told it." (In the original, Náji! ꞑꞑꞑꞑꞑ ꞑꞑꞑꞑꞑꞑ esku.)

"No, grandfather, he did not tell me. I merely decided so." With the otter-skin bag the old man gave him a wooden club. "The owner of the otter-skin bag does whatsoever he desires, no matter how difficult it is. It kills a great many people. If you wish to kill all in any village or place, flourish this club around your head four times, and at the last time say 'Kac+!' It will make thunder." The old man knew what the chief's son thought in his heart, and he said, "After a while say, 'I will wear a robe of scalps, I say.'" (In the original, Ga^uqti etécte nika-najíha wáimí^u tá mífke, ehé, á-gā hā, á-biamá.)—Here the translation of the text is resumed.] * * * And in about four days, four men went scouting. When they arrived, there was a populous village. And when they returned to camp they said, "Leader, we have seen a great many lodges." "Warriors, that will do," said he. And they approached very near to the village. And when they reached it, his followers said as follows, "Ho! leader, we have come to the village." Said he, "Ho! warriors, I am not seeking that. I am seeking a different thing." And just so they saw three other villages. Again they went scouting. And as they went scouting, the leader said as follows: "Warriors, should one of your grandfathers be there, beware lest you kill him." And it happened that the scouts found a buffalo bull. Behold, they spoke of killing the standing buffalo bull. "Friends, let us kill the standing buffalo bull," said one. "Why! my friend, the leader said that we were not to kill it," said another. "No, the leader did not mean that, I think," said the former. "Yes, the leader did mean that," said the latter. And they wished to kill it. And the buffalo killed one of the men. And the three went back to camp. And when they got home to camp, they said, "Leader, a buffalo bull was there, and he killed one of us." "Warriors, I said, 'Do not kill your grandfather,'" said he. And when they arrived, the scout lay killed. "Ho! warriors, make the road straight. As the warrior wished to lie here, let him lie here, by all means," said the leader. Again they went on. When they departed again, four went scouting. When they went scouting, the leader said as follows: "Ho! warriors, should one of your grandfathers be moving there, beware lest you kill him." And it came to pass that they saw a big wolf. Behold, they spoke of killing the big wolf. "Friends, let us kill him," said one. "Fie! my friend, the leader said that we were not to kill him," said a second. "No, the leader did not mean that, I think; how could he mean the wolf?" said the first. And when they shot at the wolf, behold, he attacked them and killed one of the four. Having returned to camp they said, "Leader, a big wolf was there, and killed one of us." "Ho! warriors, I said that you must not kill your grandfather," said he. When they arrived, the scout lay killed, and the leader said, "Ho! warriors, make the road straight. As the warrior wished to lie here, let him lie here by all means. Let us go further." They went on, and four went scouting. As they went scouting, the leader said as follows: "Warriors, should one of your grandfathers be moving there, beware lest you kill him." And it happened that the scouts found a grizzly bear. Behold, they spoke of killing the grizzly bear. "Friends," said one, "let us kill the grizzly bear." "Fie! my friend, the leader has said that we are not to kill him," said a second. "No, the leader did not mean that, I think," said the first. "Yes, the leader did mean that, I think," said the second. "No, how could the leader possibly mean the grizzly bear?" said the first. And when they desired to kill the grizzly bear, he killed one of the men. And three went homeward to camp. And when they got back to camp, they said, "Leader, a grizzly bear was there, and he killed one of us." "Ho! warriors, I said, 'Do not kill your grandfather,'" said he. And when they arrived, he lay killed. "Ho! warriors, make the road straight. As the warrior wished to lie here, let him lie here, by all means," said the leader. At length they came to the end of the sky. And the end of the sky was going down into the ground. And the leader said, "Beware, warriors, lest you fear it. Let us go to the other side. Let us leap over. Beware lest you fear it." And the leader having gone, he reached the other side. And all the rest leaped over. One failed to jump across. When the boy wished to jump across, he failed. At length the end of the sky carried him away under the ground. "Come, warriors, let us go. If we wish to be warriors, we must expect such things. Let him lie here." He referred to the man who lay dead. After they departed, they were going for some time. At length they saw a very high hill and a dense forest, a very dense forest of cedars. "Ho! warriors, we are going thither. We will return thence," said he. "Come, warriors, go scouting." And four went as scouts. When they reached there, they saw only the smoke; they did not see the lodge. Having returned, they said, "Leader, although we reached the place, there was smoke, but we did not see the lodge." "Ho! warriors, that is what I am seeking," he said. Again four went scouting. When they reached the very place, though there was smoke, they did not see the lodge. "Leader, though there was smoke, we did not see the lodge," said they. And it was so four times. The fourth time they arrived at the lodge. And the leader said, "Come, warriors, let us enter the lodge." And they entered the lodge. Now, a very old man was dwelling there in the lodge. His head was very large, and his hair was very white. When the leader entered the lodge he did not recognize the old man. But after sitting a great while he recognized the old man (i. e., the old man was going about the lodge when the chief's son entered, and was not recognized; but when both had been sitting a great while, the young man knew who the old one was). The old man thought as follows: "Though my relations suffer very much by going to so great a distance in search of game, some human beings have brought themselves very easily to this lodge. Right at home, I shall kill some men." And the leader thought as follows: "Good! I have said 'I will wear a robe of scalps.' It is indeed a good robe! I will have it." At length one of the younger brothers of the old man came home, bringing a black bear. His head was enormous, and his hair was very red. When he reached home, the old man told the news to his brother. "You had a very hard time traveling; but some have brought themselves right to the lodge. I shall kill them." Again came one carrying a buffalo-bull. His hair was very yellow. And all came home. And one had very green hair; and he carried home a dead man. And he who reached home first said, "O aged man, have the men eaten?" "No, they have not eaten. Cook ye for them," he said. And he said, "Cook ye slices of squash for them." And behold, they cooked the ears of the dead man for them. "We do not eat such things," said they. "If you do not eat such things, what can you eat?" said the old man, acting as if he did not understand them. "Cook ye fine sweet-corn for them," said he. And behold, he meant lice. And they said, "We do not eat such things." And one of the old men said as follows: "Let them cook the black bear and the buffalo, too, for themselves." And they were very joyful. And having cooked for themselves, they had pleasure in eating. Well, at length it was night. When it was night, the old man said as follows: "Grandchild, if a man travel, he has many things to talk about. Tell about yourselves." "Yes, grandfather, you being grown and being an old man, you, for your part, must know a great many things. Do you tell about yourselves first," said he. "Well, grandchild, though I am an old man, I have nothing to tell about ourselves. I will tell a myth," said he. And the old man told a myth. "It happened, grandchild, that there was an old man. And he dwelt in a lodge with his three younger brothers. And when his younger brothers went to a very great distance hunting, they invariably reached home at night. And it happened that when the old man was alone watching the lodge, a great many people entered the lodge. And the old man sat thinking thus, 'Though my own brothers have suffered very much by going from time to time to a very great distance, I shall kill a great many men right in the lodge.'" And he said, "Come, grandchild, do you too tell a myth." "Yes, grandfather, let me tell a myth. It happened that a chief had some villages. And he had a child. And the boy was very lazy. Though his father commanded him to travel, he did not travel. He did not wish at all to do anything whatsoever. At length, the boy having spoken of fasting, his mother made a separate lodge for him. And it happened that the boy thought as follows, as he fasted: 'Let me see! I will wear a robe of scalps.' And the boy went on the war-path with a very great number of men. And there were four men who lived together. And the war-party arrived there. And when they arrived there, the boy sat thinking, 'I did say "I will wear a robe of scalps!" It is indeed a good robe. I will possess it.' One of them had very white hair, and one had very red hair, one had very yellow hair, and one had very green hair." And the old man laughed with him. "Ha! ha! ha! My grandchild has, it seems, guessed the very thing," said he. And when it was night, the leader lay with his eye fixed at a hole in his robe, as he wished to lie watching the old men. And he spoke to his followers: "My followers, beware lest you sleep. Lie without sleeping." And it happened as he was lying down at night, the old man lifted his head very gently, and looked now and then at the supposed sleepers. At length the old man seized his stone hammer. When he seized his hammer, the leader arose suddenly, and brandished his club with a terrible roar, saying, "Kau!" And he killed all four Thunders. "Ho! warriors, stand ye and take the hair of all. Beware lest ye cut one in pieces. Take the scalps entire," said he. And having finished killing them, they went homeward. Having departed homeward, they came back to the end of the sky. "Ho! come, warriors, begone ye to the other side. Go back to the other side and stand in a row," he said. And they did so. He sent all homeward before him. And he went after. He ran very fast as he went, and leaped very far. And the boy who had gone under the ground went homeward with him, being alive again, just as the leader was. And continuing their homeward journey, they came again to the place of the grizzly bear. It was so again. He sent all homeward before him. And he went homeward after them, running and leaping very far. And he took homeward alive the boy who had been dead. At the place of the wolf it was so again. And at the place of the buffalo it was so again. He reached home with all alive; he did not lose even one. And as they went homeward, they passed by a great many villages. As they passed by them on their way home, he said, "Ho! warriors, that will do. Ye shall surely wear robes made of scalps." And when they reached them again on their way home, having killed all in the villages, he took all their hair. And so he killed all the people of four villages. And they came home to their own tribe. And when all of his villages made him head-chief, he governed them.

THE CHIEF'S SON, THE SNAKE-WOMAN, AND THE THUNDERS.

TOLD BY CASOR-SKĀ.

Icādi akā nīkagahī-biamā. Gā-biamā: Nisīha, ugācān-gā. 'Ābaā-
 His father the chief they say. He said as follows, My child, travel. Hunt daⁿ wačītaⁿ-daⁿetēān'-gā. Nīkaⁿhi hā, ū'aⁿčīn'ge agčīn' xī nīkaⁿhi-māji.

 and work or else (imperative sign). I a chief for nothing I sit if I a chief I not.

Wabčītaⁿ; awāčekaⁿ maⁿbčīn' ēgaⁿ 'ūčāc. Ū'aⁿčīn'ge aⁿqtian'gaⁿ-māji. 3
 I worked; I made an effort I walked as I hunted. For nothing I a great man I not.

Ēgaⁿ wīkaⁿbčā. Ēgaⁿ ekāxe xī aⁿqtīčīgā. Ū'aⁿčīn'ge čagčīn' xī
 So I wait for you. So you do if you a great man. For nothing you sit if nīkačīāhiāⁿji te, ā-biamā. Nūjīga, Kē, dadīha, 'ābae bčē te. Čan'ge you a chief not will, said he, they say. Boy, Come, O father, hunting I go will. Horse akā naⁿqu īngčān'-gā, ā-biamā. Gaⁿ 'ābae ačā-biamā. Ēgičē aⁿpaⁿ 6 the vertebra put on it for me, said he, they say. And hunting he went, they say. At length elk d'āba wčēa-biamā. Čan'ge taⁿ sīhī bāqtēgaⁿ ičāⁿčā-biamā. Gaⁿ jū-some he found them, they say. Horse the (ob.) foot tied, having he placed it, they say. And body hnaⁿ č'di ačā-biamā; mī'dēgaⁿ aⁿpaⁿ wagčāde ačā-biamā. Aⁿpaⁿ-ma only there went they say; crawled, having elk creeping up on he went, they say. Elk the č'di ahi-biamā. Aekāqtei wakīda-biamā. Kī wīⁿ 'ūi tē, mūzibe iččē 9 there he arrived, they say. Very near he shot at them, they say. And one wounded he shot and wounded it slightly biamā. Čan'ki čiqā-biamā. Čiqē ačīn' ačā-bi ēgaⁿ wčāhide ačīn' ahi-they say. And he chased it, they say. Chasing it having him it went, having far having arrived him biamā, čan'ge taⁿ etī wčāhide najīn'-biamā. Kī ewčāhidčēti ačīn' ahi-they say, horse the (ob.) too far stood they say. And at a very great distance from having arrived him bi ēgaⁿ sībize wakan'diēgaⁿ čan'ge taⁿ āgikībanaⁿ agī-biamā. Nī 12 they having thirsty impatient from as horse the (ob.) running back to he was coming Water say back, they say.

bčātaⁿ-māji xī sībize atē tatē āhaⁿ, ečēgaⁿ-biamā. Wakan'diēqtiaⁿ-biamā
 I drink I not if thirsty I die shall I thought he, they say. Very impatient from they say xī ēgičē nihan'ga ēdedīte amā. Kī Wakan'da čīnkē čahaⁿ-biamā. Hau!

 when behold a spring it was there, they say. And Delty the (ob.) he prayed to, they say. Ho!

Wakan'da, čaⁿ hā. Anīa, ā-biamā. Wakan'da, atē tatēskaⁿbčēgaⁿ čaⁿetī. 15
 O Delty, it will do I live, said he, they say. O Delty, I die would, I thought heretofore.

Čičwaⁿjaⁿ. Nīa tē i'čēckaxe ēgaⁿ anīa tā mīnke, Wakan'da, ā-biamā.
 You are the cause. Life the you made for me as I live will I who, O Delty, said he, they say.

Hau! čataⁿ gaⁿčā čē xī wē'sā wīⁿ ēčāⁿbā-biamā. Bāzāz-biamā.
 Well! to drink wishing he went when snake one emerged they say. Scared him off, they say.

Aⁿha-biamā. Ahaū! Wakan'da, anīa čskaⁿbčēgaⁿ čaⁿetī, čī atē tā 18
 He fled they say. Oho! O Delty, I live I thought heretofore, again I die will

- áta'hé há. Ci ní tē'di ɸata^{n'} aɸá-biamá. Ci wēs'sá aká éɸa^{n'}be atí-I whostand Again water by the to drink he went, they say. Again snake the (sub.) in sight came biamá. Ci xagá-biamá. A^{n'}ha-biamá. Ci éjáwada^{n'}be tē'di ɸingá éga^{n'} they say. Again he cried, they say. He fled they say. Again he gazed at it when there was none
- 3 ci ní tē ɸata^{n'} ɸé. Ci wēs'sá aká éɸa^{n'}be atí-biamá. Ci a^{n'}hai tē. Ci again water the (ob.) to drink he went. Again snake the (sub.) in sight came they say. Again he fled. Again wéduba^{n'} tē dúbá^{n'} báazai tē nújinga ɸi^{n'}. Ga^{n'} wēs'sá ta^{n'} áda^{n'}be tē'di the fourth time when four times it scared him off boy the (ob.) And snake the (ob.) looked at when égiɸe wa'ú úda^{n'}qti akáma. Kí ní-íɸáta^{n'} jin'ga ují 'í-biamá wa'ú aká.
 behold woman very beautiful was, they say. And cup small, filled gave him, woman the (sub.)
 they say.
- 6 A^{n'}ɸa^{n'}bize a^{n'}wan^{n'}kandíɸeqti-ma^{n'}, á-biamá nújinga aká. A^{n'}ɸa^{n'}bɸa^{n'}máji
 I am thirsty I am very impatient from, said, they say boy the (sub.). I got enough I not taté áha^{n'}. Ní tē djúba ínahi^{n'} áha^{n'}, eɸéga^{n'}-biamá. Égiɸe íbɸa^{n'}qti gráxa-shall ! Water the a little very I thought he, they say. At length to get enough she made for him,
 biamá wa'ú aká. Íbɸa^{n'}qti ɸata^{n'}-biamá nújinga aká.
 they say woman the (sub.). Got enough drank they say boy the (sub.).
- 9 Kí nújinga aká wa'ú ɸínké da^{n'}bá-bi tē'di qtaɸa-biamá Wa'ú
 And boy the woman the (ob.) saw, they say when he loved her, they say. Woman úda^{n'} ínahi^{n'} áha^{n'}, eɸéga^{n'}-biamá. Kí ɸé nújinga ta^{n'} gɸé tē ɸi, na^{n'}búɸiqɸá beauti- truly I thought he, they say. And this boy the (ob.) went home- when, ring ful wí^{n'} 'í-biamá wa'ú aká. Na^{n'}búɸiqɸá gáɸa^{n'} ja^{n'} ɸagɸé te, á-biamá. Kí one gave, they say woman the (sub.). Ring that you use you go will, said she, they And
 say.
- 12 wahnáte tē ɸi ágɸi^{n'} wí^{n'} áɸagɸa^{n'}-de, Ké, a^{n'}wa^{n'}ɸate tē, ece tē, á-biamá
 you eat will when seat one you put it on when, Come, we eat will, you say will, said, they say wa'ú aká. Ga^{n'} aɸɸá-biamá nú amá. Can'ge ta^{n'} ágikífbana^{n'}. Can'ge woman the (sub.). And went homeward, they man the (sub.). Horse the (ob.) he ran back to Horse
 say.
- tan'di akí-biamá. Ágɸi^{n'} aɸɸá-biamá. Jí tē ágikífbana^{n'}-biamá. Akt-bi at the (ob.) he got back, they say. Sitting on he went homeward, they say. Lodge the (ob.) he ran back to they say. He reached
 home, they say
- 15 ɸi íɸádi aká, Ufha^{n'}i-gá. Na^{n'}péhi^{n'}qti gɸí tē, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} ufha^{n'}i tē when his father the (sub.). Cook ye for him. Very hungry he has come said, they say. And they cooked for
 him.
- Waɸáte tē áhigi i^{n'}ɸi^{n'} fi-gá, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} waɸáte tē áhigi éɸi^{n'} ahíi tē.
 Food the (ob.) much having be ye coming said he, they say. And food the (ob.) much having they for him arrived.
- Na^{n'}búɸiqɸá ɸionúda-biamá. ɸionúda-bi ega^{n'} eca^{n'}adi ɸionúde íɸa^{n'}ɸa-Ring he pulled off, they say. Pulled off, they say having near by pulling it off he put it they say. Come, we eat shall, said, having behold woman the (sub.) the right with him eat
- biamá, Wēs'sá-wa'ú aká. Ga^{n'} waɸáte júgigɸá-biamá ɸi ɸasni^{n'}-biamá they say, Snake-woman the (sub.). And eating she with him they say when she swallowed, they say.
 ɸasni^{n'}-biamá ɸi, égiɸe Wēs'sá-wa'ú ɸingé átiagɸa-biamá. Ci nújinga she swallowed, they say when, behold Snake-woman was none suddenly, they say. Again boy
- 21 aká na^{n'}búɸiqɸá ɸa^{n'} uɸisna^{n'}-biamá. Kí nújinga gá-biamá: Dadíha, wa'ú the (sub.) ring the (ob.) put on, they say. And boy said as follows: O father, woman
 they say:

amá wateigaxai wajaⁿ/be kaⁿ/bēa, á-biamá. Kí ícádi aká gá-biamá:
 (the) they dance I see them I wish, said he, they say. And his father the said as follows, they say:
 Haul cin'gajin'ga wiwíja wa'ú wateigaxe wégaⁿ/ča hā; égaⁿ gáxe taf, Ho! child my woman to dance wishes for them so do will (they).
 á-biamá ícádi aká. Kí íc'ágo wiⁿ úwagiča ača-biamá. Gá-biamá: 3 said, they his father the And old man one to tell them went, they say. He said as follows, they say:
 Wa'ú-macē níkagahi ijin'ge aká wačateigaxe tá-bi aí ača! á-biamá
 Ye women chief his son the (sub.) you dance will he say indeed! said, they say íc'ágo aká. Cí wa'ú-ma wateigaxe-ma wadaⁿ/ba-bi yi Wé's'á-wa'ú činké old man the (sub.). Again the women the ones dancing he saw, they say when Snake-woman the (ob.)
 fča-baji-biamá. Cun'gaxewakičá-biamá. Ca'ekáxe taf á-biamá ača! wa- 6 he did not find, they say. He caused them to stop, they say. You will stop said he, they say indeed! dance.
 tefgaxe tē, á-biamá. Gaⁿ can'gaxá-biamá. Lí té'ja akí-biamá. Ké, ing the, said he, they say. And they stopped they say. Lógo to the he reached home, Come, they say.
 dadíha, iⁿ/naⁿ/ha úhaⁿ te. Naⁿ/paⁿ/hiⁿ, á-biamá. Kí úhaⁿ-biamá. Dúda O father, my mother cook will. I hungry, said he, they say. And she cooked, they say. This way aoniⁿ cí taf. Nin'de ké áhigi ačiⁿ/gá-gá, á-biamá. Gaⁿ nin'deči-bi 9 you will come with it. Cooked the much bring ye hither, said he, they say. And they cause it to be cooked, they say yi é'di éčiⁿ ahi-biamá. Éčiⁿ ahi-bi egaⁿ naⁿ/búčiqčá čionúda-biamá.
 when there having they arrived, they for him they say Having they arrived, having ring he pulled off they say.
 Čionúda-bi egaⁿ ecaⁿ/adi čionúd íčaⁿ/ča-biamá. Ké, aⁿ/waⁿ/čate taté, Pulled off they say having near by pulled off he put it they say. Come, we eat shall, á-bi egaⁿ éčiⁿ wa'ú aká júgigčēqti gčiⁿ-biamá, Wé's'á-wa'ú aká. 12 said, having beheld woman the (sub.) right with him sat they say, Snake-woman the (sub.).
 Gaⁿ wačate júgigčá-biamá. Cí kíkčade-ctēaⁿ-hnaⁿ-biamá, nú činké
 And eating she with him they say. Again they even played regularly with they say, man the (ob.)
 áčixá-bi egaⁿ.
 she married, having.
 they say
 Cí Wé's'á-wa'ú amá čingá-biamá. Cí naⁿ/búčiqčá giaⁿ-biamá nú 15 Again Snake-woman the (sub.) was none, they say. Again ring wore his, they say man činké. Cí, Dadíha, wa'ú cēmi'jin'ga jingáqčei wateigaxe wajaⁿ/be kaⁿ/bēa, the one who. Again, O father, woman young woman very small to dance I see them I wish, á-biamá. Kí ícádi aká gá-biamá: Haul cin'gajin'ga wiwíja wa'ú čēmiⁿsaid he, they And his father the said as follows, Well! child my woman young
 say. (sub.) they say:
 jin'ga jingáqčei wateigaxe wégaⁿ/ča hā; égaⁿ gáxe taf, á-biamá ícádi aká. 18 woman very small to dance wishes for them so do will said, they his father the (sub.).
 (they), say
 Kí íc'ágo wiⁿ cí úwagiča ača-biamá. Gá-biamá: Wa'ú-macē cēmiⁿ-
 And old man one again to tell them went they say. He said as follows, Ye women young
 they say:
 jin'ga jingáqčei-macē edábe wačateigaxe čidaⁿ/be gaⁿ/čai. Wačateigáxe woman very small ye who also you dance to see you he wishes. You dance taf, aí ača! á-biamá. Gaⁿ wateigaxá-biamá Nújinga aká učičidá-biamá 21 will, he indeed! said he, they And they danced they say. Boy the looked around, they say
 say. (sub.)

á-biamá. Mí'jinga wi' da'be afa-biamá. Kí gá-biamá: Dadihá, wíjnu said he, they _{say.} _{one} to see went they say. And _{he said no fol-} _{O father,} _{my older} aká wa'ú údaⁿ-qti wi' júgée gēi' hē, á-biamá mī'jinga aká. Ga' (sub.) the woman very beautiful one he with also said he, they say girl the (sub.) And Wé's'a-wa'ú áfixe wa'fona-biamá.

 Snake-woman married him visible they say.

3

Wé's'a-wa'ú a'wa'waja afa-baji-biamá. Égiçe nú aká afa-biamá.
 Snake-woman which way went not they say. At length man the (sub.) went, they say.

Afa-biamá xi égiçe wa'ú údaⁿ-qti wi' íga-biamá. Gá-biamá: Wíjga'
 He went, they say when at length woman very beautiful one he found, they say. He said as follows, I marry
 you

tá minke. Fíadi fíha' úwagié-ga, á-biamá. Ga'ki wa'ú aká úfa 6 will I who Your father your mother tell them, said he, they say. And woman the (sub.) to tell it akí-biamá. Gá-biamá: Dadihá, í'na'ha mégaⁿ, níkagahi íjin'ge aká reached home, she said as follows, O father, my mother likewise, chief his son the (sub.)

 they say.

an'gá' 'fai, á-biamá. Kí íadi aká gá-biamá: Fíahíadi te há, á-biamá.
 to marry promised, said she, they say. And her father the (sub.) said as follows, He mocked you said he, they say.

Kí Wé's'a-wa'ú aká waji'cte fíngá-bitéama, wa'ú áji waga'ca tédi. 9
 And Snake-woman the (sub.) in a bad humor disappeared, they say, woman a differ- cut when.

Ga' fíngat té xi gá-biamá: Wabéate ka'bea há í'na'ha úhaⁿ te.
 And she disappeared when he said as follows, I eat I wish My mother let her cook.

á-biamá. Kí úhaⁿ-biamá. Dúda aníni' eí taf. Nín'de ké áhigi afa' gí gá, said he, they say. And she cooked, they say. This way you will come Cooked the much bring ye hither, á biamá. Ga' nín'deá-bi xi é'di éfiⁿ ahí-biamá. Éfiⁿ ahí-bi ega' 12 said he, they say. And they caused it to be when there they brought it thither to him, they say. Brought it thither to having na'bútiqá gēfonudá-bi ega', Ké, a'wa'cate taté, á-biamá. Égiçe, an'kaji-ring pulled off his, they having. Come, we eat shall, said he, they say. Behold, not so biamá. An'kaji ega' fatá-baji-biamá, gíga-baji-biamá, Wé's'a-wa'ú ígiçenthey say, Not so being he ate not they say, displeased they say, Snake-woman found not baji-bi ega'. Fízá-gá. Í'fa-máji. Wabéate ka'bea-máji, á-biamá. Ké, 15 they say having. Take it. I am sad. Food I want not, said he, they say. Come.

dadiha, ábae bēé tá minke, á-biamá. Can'ge ta' na'qa canakágē father, hunting I go will I who, said he, they say. Horse the (ob.) vertebra saddle in'gea'i-gá, á-biamá. Wáha údaⁿ-qti áha-biamá. Can'ge ta' cti údaⁿ-qti, put ye on for me, said he, they say. Clothing very good he put on, they say. Horse the too very good, canakágē cti údaⁿ-qti. Afa-biamá. Afa-biamá xi égiçe Wé's'a-wa'ú 18 saddle too very good. He went, they say. He went, they say when behold Snake-woman sigéé té ígiçen-biamá. Níhan'ga té agá-bitéama. Sigéuúgíha-biamá.

 trail the he found his, they say. Spring the (ob.) she went back, they say. He followed the trail of his they say.

Sigéuúgíha-bi xi, égiçe níhan'ga té ákusande ája afa-bitéama sigéé té.
 He followed the trail of when, behold spring the through beyond went, they say trail the.

Sigéuúgíhe afa-bi ega', fa-bi ga', fa-bi ga', égiçe íí té píjiti ededí 21
 Following the trail he went, having, he went, having, at length lodge the very bad there it of his own they say they say they say

- te amá. Ātēdi hí eskaⁿ, eēgaⁿ ēgaⁿ ē'di aā-biamá. Ē'di ahí-bi xi égiē was they At this she it might he thought as there he went, they say. There he arrived, when he hold say. place arrived he, they say.
- níaciⁿga iⁿc'ágeqteí akáma, wáçaha çicpáçqteiaⁿ akáma. Çé níaciⁿga person very old man was, they say, clothing torn in shreds they say. This man
- 3 ahí xi iⁿc'áge çinké wáçaha ejá tē áçahakiçá-biamá nújnga aká.
arrived when old man the (obj.) clothing his the caused him to put on, the boy the (sub.).
they say
- Iⁿc'áge aká qubá-biamá. Hau! juçpáha, çá'eaⁿ çé ehnégaⁿ, wáçaha Old man the (sub.) sacred, they say. Ho! grandchild, you pity me you think, clothing aⁿçá'i, caⁿ çá'ewigiçé, á-biamá. Uwíkie tá minke, á-biamá. Wa'ú you gave yet I pity you, said he, they I talk to you will I who, said he, they Woman use, say.
- 6 uçúçahé çinⁿ gáke çé, ní-jaŋga kē áçite çé, á-biamá. Hau! wáçaha çé you follow the that (way) went, big water the crossed it went, said he, they Ho! clothing this her say.
- pájiqteí çé áhnaha hné te, á-bi egaⁿ 'i-biamá iⁿc'áge aká. Waçáge very bad this you put on you will go, said, having gave him, old man the (sub.). Hat
they say
- çáⁿ cti 'i-biamá. Maⁿze-wetiⁿ cti 'i-biamá. Can'ge taⁿ páji wahiçagé the too gave him, Sword too gave him, Horse the bad lame
they say.
- 9 cti 'i-biamá. Gaⁿ, Ké, hné te. Taⁿwaŋgaⁿ winⁿ édedíçáⁿ ē'di ahí áçá too gave him, And, Come, you will go. Village one the one that there ar- indeed they say, is there rived
- wa'ú aká, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, á-biamá. Masáni çí tēdihí xi níaciⁿga woman the (sub.), said he, they Yes, said he, they Across you arrives at it when person
say.
- d'úba ē'di gçinⁿ, á-biamá. Ūwaçakiçé te, á-biamá. Íe kē éçiná'a-báji
some there sit, said he, they You will talk with said he, they Word the not heed for you
say.
- 12 xi çéwaçakiçé té, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, çigaⁿ'ha, á-biamá, çahaⁿ-bi egaⁿ.
if you will send them away, said he, they Yes, grandfather, said he, they thanked him, having,
say.
- Gaⁿ aā-biamá.
And so he went, they say.
- Ní-jaŋga ahí-bi xi ní kē jín'gají amá. Iⁿc'áge aká waqúbe gáçai Big water he reached, when water the not small they say. Old man the sacred (thing) made
they say (sub.)
- 15 égaⁿ ní kē ávajaçé çékiçá-biamá, iⁿc'áge aká ictá-çip'iⁿze gçinⁿ-bi egaⁿ.
having water the striking he sent him, they say, old man the (sub.) closing his eyes sat, they say having.
- Ictá çibçá-bi xi, égiçé masáni ahí biamá. Masáni ahí-bi xi, xi édedí-te Eye opened, they when, behold the other he reached, they The other he reached, when, lodge there it was, say side say.
- amá, cúde gaⁿ maŋ'gçé najiⁿ te amá. Çé xi wíjgaⁿ uçá çáⁿcti, çetéç há, they say, smoke so erect it stood they say. This lodge my grand- told of heretofore, this is it,
father
- 18 á-biamá. Ē'di ahí-bi egaⁿ uçá-biamá. Égiçé iⁿc'áge naⁿba ē'di gçinⁿ
said he, they There arrived, having he entered, they Behold old man two there were etc.
say say.
- akáma, Ingçáⁿ iⁿc'áge. 'Ábae aā-biamá ucté amá. Waçáge çáⁿ iⁿc'áge ting, they Thunder old man. Hunting went, they say the rest the (pl. sub.). Hat the old man
say,
- aká 'fi çáⁿ ugçáçadaⁿ-bi xi waçóna-báji-biamá. Iⁿc'áge amá çá-báji-the had given the he pushed down his, when he was invisible they say. Old man the (sub.) did not (sub.) him they say discover him

- biamá. Kí égiçe, angú égaⁿ níkaciⁿga wáçate akáma Inçáⁿ aká. Caⁿ they say. And behold, us like man were eating them, they say Thunder the (sub.). Yet
- wéça-báji gèiⁿ-bi xí, Píaji inahiⁿ gáxai áhaⁿ, eçégaⁿ gèiⁿ-biamá nújnga aká.
found him not they sat, when, Bad truly they do ! thinking sat they say boy the (sub.).
- Wíiçgaⁿ uáwakie tai-ma çé wáwake te-ána eçégaⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ níni ují-bi 3
My grand- I talk with will they this he meant them ! thought he, they say. And tobacco they put father them who (in thought) in, they say
- xí waçóna xíxáxa-biamá, waçáge gèionudá-bi egaⁿ. Nínba ké wénacá-when visible he made himself, they hat pulled off his, they having. Pipe the he snatched
say, say, say
- biamá. Nínba nákađe xí íbistá-biamá Inçáⁿ íp'eáge áma çínké. Í'teitef!
they say. Pipe hot when he held against, Thunder old man the the (ob.). I burn!
- á-biamá íp'eáge aká. Gaⁿki waçáge ugídadaⁿ-bi xí çingá-biamá. Qa-í, 6 said, they say old man the (sub.). And hat he pulled on his, when he was missing, Why!
- níaciⁿga úmaka inahiⁿ axíçgaçiⁿ tí çáⁿ/eti Eátaⁿ cénaji éi'te, á-biamá.
man easy truly having himself had heretofore. Why not destroyed may ! said (one), they say.
- Áma gá-biamá: Çí éwiçacibe, ehé té eátaⁿ cénaji, á-biamá. Gaagíama
The said as follows, They I left him for thee, I said when why not destroyed, said he, they Those returning other they say, say.
- wéama tá amá. Níaciⁿga úmaka teábe tí çáⁿ/eti ákiágçai, wéahúsa tá 9 they will the (sub.). Man easy very had come hither went back again, they will blame us
- amá. Égiçe níaciⁿga t'éçé çu' agçi-biamá. Gáke çizá-gá, á-biamá.
the (sub.). At length man killed carrying one came home, That (ob.) take ye, said he, they say.
- Çizá-bi egaⁿ nan'daí ihéça-biamá. Hau! ha+! wéaçamá taité, á-biamá.
Took it, having by the wall they placed it, they Hau! ha+! you will surely blame us, said they, they say they say say. (See note)
- Níaciⁿga úmaka axíçgaçiⁿ tí çáⁿ/eti ákiágçai, á-biamá. Tená! eátaⁿ ajaⁿ 12
Man easy having himself had come he went back said they, they Fie! why you did hither again, say.
- xí t'éçaça-báji gèççakiçai á, á-biamá. Wéahidéçti angú-hnaⁿ angáhii, when you did not kill you sent him I said he, they At a very great we only we arrived, him homeward say.
- á-biamá. Úmakaçteí tí xí t'éçaça-báji gèçwaççai píaji ckáxai. Íwit'ábeçai, said he, they Very easily came when you did not kill you sent them bad you did. I hate you, say, say, him homeward
- á-biamá. Ké, níni ují-gá, adída! á-biamá Gaⁿki níni ují-bi egaⁿ, t'éçé 15 said he, they Come, tobacco put ye in, simpletons! said he, they And tobacco put in having, killed
say, say.
- çu' gèi çínké í-biamá. Nínba ké çaná-bi egaⁿ nújnga aká wénacá-carry- came the one they gave him, Pipe the took a whiff, having boy the the (sub.) snatched it ing home who they say, they say
- biamá, íbistá-biamá. Í'teitef! á-biamá Wíebçiⁿ-máji, á-biamá. Áma, they say, pressed it against him, I am burnt! said he, they It was not I, said (one), they The other,
they say, say.
- Wíebçiⁿ-máji, á-biamá. Nújnga aká waçáge gèionudá-biamá. Çéma 18
It was not I, said he, they say. Boy the (sub.) hat pulled off his, they say. These
- júwagçéçti içaⁿ-biamá. Edádaⁿ edéçai á, á-biamá Edádaⁿ edaⁿçáⁿ-báji, right with them he sat suddenly, What what said I said he, they What what we said not,
they say, say.
- á-biamá. Íçae-hnaⁿi, á-biamá nújnga aká. Ké, e'aⁿ ckáxe ckaⁿ/hnaí said they, they You were speaking, said, they say boy the (sub.). Come, how you do you wish
say.

- ʔi, kē, gáxai-gā, á-biamá. Wéja-biamá. Kagéha, an'kaji, aⁿfaⁿa-báji, if, come, do ye, said he, they say. They denied, they say. Friend, not so, we were not speaking.
 á-biamá. ʔábeⁿ aká daⁿbá-bi ʔi, égiçe, sabájiqti waçige ʔaⁿ ugídadaⁿ-bi said they, they Three the saw him, they when, behold, very suddenly hat the pushed on his, they say. say. (sub.) say. say.
- 3 egaⁿ ʔiŋgá-biamá.
 having he was not, they say.
 Nā! kagé, wéçamaí ʔaⁿetti, ihusa-biamá ci. Eátaⁿ, kagé, níkaciⁿga Why! younger you blamed us heretofore, they scolded him, again. Why, younger man brother, they say.
- t'çéçáji gçéwaçakiçe á. Wéçama ʔaⁿetti, á-biamá pahan'ga aká. Gáyou did not kill you sent homeward ? You blamed us heretofore, said, they say the first the Those (sub.).
- 6 agíama wéama taité, á-biamá Égiçe agçi-biamá. Cin'gajin'ga ʔiⁿ agçireturning will surely blame us, said (the first one), they say. At length (one) came home, they say. Infant carry- he came ing home
- biamá. Gáké ʔizái-gā, á-biamá. Nan'daj ihçá-biamá. Gá-biamá: Wa-they say. That (ob.) take ye, said he, they By the wall they laid it, they say. Ho said as follows. Very
- çúdeäji-qi pí; aⁿiⁿ agçi, á-biamá. Gá-biamá: Kagéha, níaciⁿga wiⁿ far I was I carried I have said he, they They said as fol- Younger man one (I reached); come home, say. lows, they say: brother,
- 9 úmaka tcábe atí ʔaⁿetti. T'eaⁿwaⁿçá-báji agçai, á-biamá. Céaka wéama éde easy very came formerly. We did not kill them he went said they, they Youder blamed us but hither one homeward, say.
- é cti égaⁿi jú-baji há. Wan'gabacibai, t'eaⁿçá-báji ci. Gá-biamá: Qa-í he too was so unsuccess- ful We left it for them, we did not kill him again. He said as follows. Why!
 they say:
- aⁿçáⁿsabe inahiⁿ wéahide pí ʔaⁿetti. Úmaka inahiⁿ tí té t'çéçá-báji
 I suffered truly a great dis- I reached formerly. Easy truly came when you did not kill
 tance him
- 12 gçéçakiçai té píaji ckáxai. Wí gaⁿ ʔaⁿbe ʔi t'çéçé tá minke, á-biamá you sent him when had you did. I at any rate I see him if I kill him will I who, said he, they homeward say.
- Íkíhusá-bi ʔi égiçe nújnga aká waçige gçónudá-biamá, é'wakigaⁿqti içáⁿ-Scolding one when at length boy the hat pulled off his they say, just like them ant sudanother, they say (sub.) denly
- biamá. Edçai á, á-biamá Aⁿçáⁿa-báji, á-biamá. Kagéha, edádaⁿ edaⁿ-they say. What said ? said he, they We did not speak, said they, they Friend, what we said you say. say.
- 15 ʔaⁿ-baji, á-biamá. Wéja-biamá Naⁿpa-i-biamá nújnga aká. Içae-hnaⁿi.
 nothing, said they, they They denied it, they Was feared they say boy the You were speak-
 say. say. (sub.) ing.
- Edádaⁿ edéçegaⁿ íai-gā Kagéha, edádaⁿ ctéwaⁿ íaⁿçá-baji, á-biamá.
 What what you said, so speak ye. Friend, what soever we spoke not of, said they, they
 say. say.
- Waçige ʔaⁿ gíaiⁿ-bi ʔi égiçe ʔiŋgé átiagçá-biamá. Kagéha, eátaⁿ ajaⁿ.
 Hat the he put on when behold he disappeared suddenly, they say. Younger brother, what were you his, they say doing?
- 18 Eátaⁿ t'çéwaçáji, kigçéwaçáçé á Wéçamaí ʔaⁿetti, á-biamá. Níkaciⁿga Why you killed them not, you sent them home again ? You blamed us heretofore, said they, they
 say. say.
- úmaka tcábe atí-hnaⁿ ʔaⁿetti, aⁿwaⁿçigçáⁿçai. T'eaⁿçá-báji. Íⁿtaⁿ gúagí-ma easy very came regu- heretofore, we missed doing it to him. We did not kill him. Now those returnlarly ing
- wiⁿ qtáwaçé uçiciqtiⁿi, wéahusa tá amá, á-biamá. Ci wiⁿ agçi-biamá.
 one to love us very difficult, they scold us will the said they, they Again one came they say.
 (pl. sub.), say. home

Wa'u mi' jinga é'pa'ba wa'in' agéi-biamá. Hau! kagéha, wé'at'á'ne taf, Woman girl too carrying he came home. He! younger you hate us will,
 them they say. brother.

á-biamá. Níkaci'ga wi' úmaka teábe atí éa'eti, t'ea'wa'pa-báji, kí'g'éa'- said they, they Man one easy very came formerly, we did not kill them, we sent them
 say.

wa'paí, á-biamá. Hau, ha+! á-biamá. Eáta' t'éwa'pa-báji á. Wéahide 3 hume again, said they, they (See note) said he, they Why you killed them not Very far
 say.

a'ngúne-hna' a'ngáhi. Wéasabéqti a'ngáhi-hna'i. Eáta' t'éwa'pa-báji á.
 we hunting regu- we arrive. We suffering ex- we usually arrive. Why you did not kill them
 larly ceedingly

Íwit'á'p'ai, á-biamá. A'ha'n, kagéha, éga'n há, á-biamá. A'wa'n'da'baí
 I hate you, said he, they Yes, younger it is so said they, they We see them say, brother, say.

ctéwa' eáwaga'-hna'i, ákiágge-hna'i, wi' éake. Atí tá ama há, á-biamá. 6 not with- we are always so, they always go back you speak Come will the said they, they standing again, truly. (pl. sub.) say.

Wí 'a'be xi t'é'p'e te. Níní ují-gá, á-biamá i'w'ca' agéi aká. Ga'n'ki
 I I see him if I kill him will. Tobacco put ye in, said he, they just now come the And say, say, (sub.).

níní ují-bi éga'n t'é'p'e 'in' g'pí pínké 'i-biamá. Níníba ké é'ana'-bi éga' tobacco put in, having killed carry- came the one they gave him, Pipe the drew a whiff, having they say, ing home who they say, they say nújinga aká wénacá-biamá, íbistá-biamá. Í'teitel! á-biamá. Nín'dea'p'ai, 9 boy the snatched it they say, pressed it against I am burnt! said he, they You burn me, (sub.) from them him, they say, say.

á-biamá. Angú a'p'i-báji, á-biamá. Nújinga aká wa'p'age g'lonudá-bi éga' said he, they We we are not, said they, they Boy the hat pulled off his, they having say, say, (sub.) say

júwag'p'eti ípa'-biamá wa'fona-biamá. Kí'a'pa'béqti-biamá.
 right with them sat suddenly, they visible they say. They looked repeat- they say.
 edly at one another

Éga'n u'p'pa-hna'i éa'eti é'gija' hnanká'ce, uwíkie taf minke, á-biamá 12
 Thus he told of only formerly you do you who are, I talk to you will I who, said, they say
 you that

nújinga aká. Uwíkie taf minke ca'ja íe ké é'ana'-a-báji xi hné taité, boy the I talk to you will I who though words the you obey not if you go shall,
 (sub.) (sub.).

á-biamá. Á'ana'a'i xi hná-báji taité, á-biamá. Níaci'ga ééma said he, they You obey if you go not shall, said he, they Man these
 say, say.

á'g'p'awá'p'ai. Eáta' t'éwa'p'at' á. A'wa'p'ate taf há, á-biamá. Kí ééma 15 ye make them suffer. Why you kill them We eat them will said they, they And these
 say, say.

é'be wáhnataí á. Píáji ckáxai, á-biamá. Ca'ckaxe taf ééma t'éwa'p'at' who you eat them Bad you do, said he, they say. You will stop it these you kill them
 ?

té, á-biamá. A'ha'n, kagéha, á-biamá. Gátédi hé t'a' wacta'bai á, the, said he, they Yes, friend, said they, they In that horn have you see them say, say, place

á-biamá (é é waká-biamá). A'ha'n, hégabáji, á-biamá. Éé Wakánda 18 said he, they (buff- that he meant, they say). Yes, a great many, said they, they This Deity say, alo say,

aká wa'p'ate wáxai ní'kaci'ga g'p'uba. Ééma wáhnataí té píáji ckáxai.
 the (sub.) food made them people all. These you eat them as bad you do.

Can'gaxai-gá, á-biamá nújinga aká É eti wacta'bai á (a'pa' é waká-Stop go it, said, they say boy the (sub.). That too you see them (olk that he meant
 ?

198 THE ÇEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- biamá), á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, á-biamá Égaⁿ waçátai-gá, á-biamá nújnga they say, said he, they Yes, said they, they So eat ye them said he, they boy
- aká. É eti wactaⁿbai á, á-biamá nújnga aká (áqti é waká-biamá).
the That too you see them I said, they say boy the (sub.) (dear that he meant they say).
- 3 Aⁿhaⁿ, légabaji aⁿwaⁿdaⁿbai há, á-biamá. Égaⁿ wáhnate tai. Çéma Yes, a great many we saw them said they, they say. So ye eat them will. These
- caⁿméwaçái-gá, á-biamá. Uⁿçin^{go} áçtawaçáiçui, á-biamá nújnga aká.
let them alone, said he, they say. Needless you make them suffer, said, they say boy the (sub.).
- Ki égaⁿ ekáxe tai çl uwikie tai minke. Aⁿhaⁿ, kagéha, égaⁿ angáxe
And so you do will I talk to you will I who. Yes, friend, so we do
- 6 taⁿgataⁿ, á-biamá. Caⁿekaxe taité, á-biamá Aⁿhaⁿ, kagéha, caⁿangáxe we who will, said they, they You will surely stop it, said he, they say. Yes, friend, we stop it
- taⁿgataⁿ, á-biamá. Ki çéma wanña hnáte áwigaji-má wáhnate taité, we who will, said they, they And these animal you eat I command them you eat them will
- á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, kagéha, aⁿwaⁿçate taⁿgataⁿ, á-biamá. Hau! bæé tá said he, they say. Yes, friend, we eat them we who will, said they, they say. Ho! I go will
- 9 minke, á-biamá nújnga aká. Bæé tá minke çaⁿja she agçi tá minke,
I who, said, they say boy the (sub.). I go will I who though passing I come will I who,
- á-biamá. Wiⁿçaka-búji hnankáçé hné taité; wiⁿçake hnankáçé caⁿcaⁿ said he, they You tell not the truth ye who you go shall; you tell the truth ye who continually
- çagçiⁿ taité Çe wanña wáhnate hnankáçé agçi çl caⁿcaⁿ hniⁿ taité, you sit shall. This animal you eat them ye who I come when continually you be shall,
- 12 á-biamá. Anⁿka-çinⁿ-búji hnankáçé, agçi ki hné taité, á-biamá. Gaⁿ açásaid he, they You are not so ye who, I come when you go shall, said he, they And went
- biamá. Waⁿú sigçé çé tē et uçúhe açá-biamá. Sigçé çé tē uçúhe açá-bi they say. Woman trail went the again following he went, they say. Trail went the following went they
- egaⁿ, çá-bi gaⁿ, çá-bi gaⁿ, éçice taⁿwangçaⁿ hégaçtēwaⁿji édedí-çáⁿ amá.
having, went, having, went, having, at length village populous there it was they say
- 15 Ki Wé'sá-waⁿú é'di ahí-bitéamá. Nújnga aká çl kaⁿgçqtci ahí-bi çl
And Snake-woman there arrived had, they Boy the lodge very near to arrived, when they say
- çigçitaⁿ-biamá. Waçúbe gaxá-bi égaⁿ wáçaha údaⁿçti iⁿçáçé 'fi ké é worked for himself, they say. Sacred thing made, they having clothing very good old man gave the that him
- gaxá-biamá. Caⁿge taⁿ çti sábcçti gaxá-biamá. Maⁿze-wetiⁿ çti mífçaⁿ.
he made, they say. Horse the too very black he made, they say. Sword too he wore in his belt
- 18 biamá. E'di açá-biamá. Caⁿge amá uaⁿsiçti naⁿge maⁿçinⁿ-biamá they say. There he went, they say. Horse the (sub.) leaping very running walked they say.
- Níaciⁿga wadaⁿbe çl'çtē naⁿpe átiáçça-biamá. Çe níaciⁿga wiⁿ atí éde People saw even when feared suddenly they say. This man one has come but
- wáçaha údaⁿ tcábe úça. Caⁿge taⁿ çti údaⁿçti agçiⁿ, á-biamá. Wé'sá-clothing good very indeed. Horse the too very good he sits on, said they, they Snake-
- 21 waⁿú uçine tí égaⁿ çli çáⁿ çúwiⁿxe açá-biamá. Uççixide gaⁿ ççiⁿ-biamá.
woman seeking had as lodges the (ob.) going around he went, they say. Looking for his so he sat they say.

- Égiçe Wé's'a-wa'u ígiça-bi ega^{n'} égiçe nú wí^{n'} ápixe akáma. Uné ahí
 At length Snake-woman found him, having behold man one she had married, they Seeking ar-
 they say they say.
- aká ít'áçá-biamá, mí^{n'} ada-biamá. Mí^{n'} wadá-biamá xí ma^{n'} ze-wetí^{n'} íc'áge he who he hated they say, jealous they say. Jealous they say when sword old man
- aká 'íi kē gēizá-bi ega^{n'}, w'c'ti^{n'} ábahá-biamá. Wéduba^{n'} tēdihí ta^{n'} wāngça^{n'} 3 the gave the took him, they having, threatened to strike, they say. The fourth time arrived at it village
- béúgaqi wáçé-biamá. Wé's'a-wa'u edábe gaçéí-biamá. Agçá-biamá the whole he killed them, they say. Snake-woman also he killed her, they say. Went homeward, they say
- nújinga aká. Agçá-bi ega^{n'} níaci^{n'}ga úwakie-ma é'di akí-biamá.
 boy the Went homeward, having person those with whom there he reached home, they say.
- Égiçe win'ka-báji akáma, can'gaxe 'tçai tē. Naxíde-çéin'ge tçanahí^{n'} 6
 Behold they had not told the truth, to stop it they promised. You have no ears you indeed
- áha^{n'}. Ca^{n'}ckaxe tá-bi, ehaf çá^{n'}eti. Áçaná'a-báji há, á-biamá. Hné taité,
 You are to stop it, I said formerly. You have not obeyed said he, they You go shall, say.
- á-biamá. Çéçu ma^{n'}hni^{n'} xí níaci^{n'}ga-ma íqtaqi wáhní^{n'} ínihe ebéçga^{n'} said he, they Here you walk if the human race wantonly you have lest I think say.
- ga^{n'} ma^{n'}ci hné tai, á-biamá. Níaci^{n'}ga t'éwáçé-máçé ma^{n'}ci hné xí, 9
 so high you go will, said he, they Men ye who kill them high you go when say.
- a^{n'}ba ata^{n'}etē macté'çti xí gan'ki ásní^{n'}wáçákiçé tai, á-biamá. Naji^{n'} é day whenever very warm when and you make them cool again will, said he, they say. Rain that
- waká-biamá. Ga^{n'}, Ké, çá-i-gá, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} ma^{n'}ci çéwákiçá-biamá.
 he meant, they say. And, Come, go ye, said he, they say. And high he sent them, they say.
- Ga^{n'} agçá-biamá. Ní-tānga kē ahí-biamá. Hau! íc'áge, çagçé áça, 12
 And he went homeward, Big water the he reached, they Ho! venerable man, I go back indeed, they say, to you
- á-biamá. Íc'áge aká íctá-çip'i^{n'}ze çéi^{n'}-bi ega^{n'} nújinga çí^{n'} ní ágajade said he, they Old man the closing his eyes sat, they say having boy the water striding say. (one mv.)
- çékiçá-biamá. Masáni ahí-biamá íctá çibçá-bi tē'di. Íc'áge çínké sent him, they say. Across he got, they say eye he opened, they when. Old man the (one st.)
- akí-biamá. Hau! úga^{n'}ha, agçéí, á-biamá. Níaci^{n'}ga uáwakie te ecé-ma 15 reached home, Ho! grandfather, I have said he, they Person I talk to them will you the say, they say, come back, say.
- uáwakie éde fe éga^{n'} ingáxa-báji, áda^{n'} ma^{n'}ci çéawákiçé há, á-biamá.
 I talked to them but words so they did not do therefore high I sent them said he, they say.
- Hau! ca^{n'} há, á-biamá íc'áge aká. Çéwáçákiçé tē úda^{n'} há, á-biamá.
 Ho! enough said, they say old man the (sub.). You sent them away as good said he, they say.
- Kí çé uçéahe bçé çí^{n'} wáçixe akádi pí, áda^{n'} ta^{n'}wāngça^{n'} bçúga áçéi, 18
 And this I followed I went the married to the one I therefore village all I killed. (mv. ob.)
- á-biamá. Úcka^{n'} gáxe a^{n'}çagaji tē éga^{n'}çti dāxe, á-biamá. Á, ca^{n'} há, said he, they Deed to do you commanded the just so I did. said he, they Yes, enough say.
- á-biamá. Úcka^{n'} éga^{n'} ckáxe tē wíka^{n'}bça ga^{n'} wí^{n'}, á-biamá (ma^{n'}ze-wetí^{n'}) said he, they Deed so you do the I wished you so I gave said he, they (sawd say.

- é waká-bi ega^{n'}). Ké, ʕiga^{n'} ha, agéé tá minke. I'dádi agtá^{n'} be ka^{n'} bēa, that he meant, they say. Come, grandfather, I go will I who. My father I see mine I wish.
á-biamá Agéé-biamá. Can'ge wahiʕagéqti^{n'}, wáʕaha píʕijiti, waʕáge said he, they say. He went homeward, they say. Home very lame, clothing very bad, hat 3 píʕijiti, bēabéʕéqti. Kí ʕádi aká t'é gixáxa-biamá. T'é tē áha^{n'}, very bad, torn very much. And his father the (sub.) dead considered he, they say. He died eʕéga^{n'}-biamá. Akí-biamá. ʕí ʕan'di akí-bi ʕi baha^{n'}-bají-biamá thought he, they say. He reached home, they say. Lodges at the he reached when did not know they say nfaci^{n'}ga amá. Nfaci^{n'}ga waqpani teábe [gʕí] tí, á-biamá. Nikagahi úju the (sub.) Man poor very [come] has said they, they Chief prin-6 ʕínké'di [é'di] aʕá-biamá. ʕádi éji tē'di akí-bi ega^{n'} uʕá-biamá ʕádi aká by the [there] went, they say. His father his at the reached having he entered, they His father the (sub.)
eti baha^{n'}-bají-biamá Dadíha, wíbeʕi^{n'}, á-biamá. Agéí, á-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, too did not know him, they say. O father, it is I, said he, they I have said he, they Yes, ca^{n'}, ʕagéí, á-biamá. ʕat'é éska^{n'} ebééga^{n'} égu^{n'} i^{n'} ʕa-máji agéi^{n'}, á-biamá.
enough, you have said he, they say. You died it might be I thought as I was sad I sat, said he, they say.
9 ʕagéí tē ca^{n'} há, á-biamá. A^{n'}jin'gadi, nishá, ʕégima^{n'}, á-biamá. Maja^{n'}
You have as enough said he, they say. When I was small, my child, I did thus, said he, they say. Land ʕaŋgáʕéha uágaca^{n'}-hna^{n'}. A^{n'}wa^{n'} qpaniqti agéí-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'} ga^{n'} a^{n'} qti-over a large tract I traveled regularly. I was very poor I came home regularly so I was an'ga^{n'}, á-biamá. Hau! mi^{n'}-ʕagéi^{n'} te, nishá. Wa'ú wi^{n'} ahni^{n'} te, á-biamá great man, said he, they say. Ho! female you will marry, my child. Woman one you shall have, said he, they say.
12 Gá-biamá: Dadíha, wa'ú gátedi qtaáʕé, á-biamá Wáʕixáji á, á-biamá
He said as follows, O father, woman in that place I love her, said he, they say. Is she unmarried? I said, they say ijin'ge aká. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, wáʕixáji, á-biamá ʕádi aká Ca^{n'}, dadiha, ʕéwakiʕá-gá.
his son the (sub.) Yes, she is unmar- said he, they his the Then, O father, send them.
Kí ʕádi aká é'di ʕéwakiʕá-biamá. É'di ahí-biamá. Nikagahi ijin'ge aká
And his father the (sub.) there sent them, they say. There they arrived, Chief his son the (sub.) 15 ʕijan'ge gáa^{n'} ga^{n'} ʕai, á-biamá. Gan'ki wa'ú ʕádi aká gá-biamá: A^{n'}ha^{n'}, your daughter to marry her wishes, said they, they And woman her father the said as follows, Yes, nfaci^{n'}ga a^{n'}wa^{n'} qpani ga^{n'} éga^{n'} taté ebééga^{n'}-máji ʕa^{n'}eti, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} man I am poor as so it shall be I did not think formerly, said he, they say. And ʕa'éʕé ga^{n'} ca^{n'} há, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} 'i-biamá wa'ú ʕínké nú ʕínké. Ga^{n'} he pities her as enough said he, they say. And gave to him, woman the man the. And 18 gáa^{n'}-biamá. Wa'ú eti t'a^{n'}-biamá, ʕi t'a^{n'}-biamá nújŋga aká Gan'ki he married her, they say. Woman too he had, they say, lodge he had, they say boy the (sub.) And nfaci^{n'}ga ájiajáta^{n'} wénaxiʕá-biamá. Wénaxiʕá-bi ʕi ʕiʕitaŋ-ga ákikiʕáí tē.
people from a different (place) rushed on them, they say. They rushed on them, when here and there they attacked one another.
Kí é'di t'éʕa-biamá, nújŋga i^{n'}tea^{n'} mi^{n'} gáa^{n'} aká. (Híga^{n'} tē áhigi ueté
And there they killed, they say boy just now married a woman the (sub.) (Myth the much remains 21 ca^{n'}ja agéisiʕa-máji há.) though I do not remember it .)

NOTES.

189, 5-6. cañge aka na²qa iñgfañ-gā. Sanssouci reads, cañge aka na²qahi cana-kagçe iñgfa²i-gā, place ye for me the saddle on the horse's backbone.

189, 11. weahide, pronounced we+ahide.

189, 13. wakandiēqtia²-biana, pronounced waka²+diēqtia²-biana.

189, 15. tateska²bēga², in full, tate eska² ebēga².

190, 5. uda²qti akama, pronounced u+da²qti akama.

190, 10-12. The Snake-woman told him that she would leave him if he ever courted another woman.

190, 16. The young man had a lodge for himself, apart from that occupied by his father and the rest of the family.

193, 2; 193, 5; 193, 17. uda²qti, pronounced u+da²qti.

194, 2. i²ceageqtei akama, pronounced i²ce²a+geqtei akama.

195, 11. hau-ha+! This is retained in the text, as it was given by Cange-skā; but Frank La Flèche says that it is obsolete, huhu+! having taken its place.

197, 18; 198, 3. hegabaji, pronounced he+gabaji.

198, 14. hegactēwa²ji, pronounced he+gactēwa²ji.

198, 16. wa²faha uda²qti, pronounced wa²faha u+da²<qti, showing emphasis as well as prolongation.

198, 17. sabēqti, pronounced sa<bēqti.

199, 4. bēugaqti, pronounced bēu+gaqti.

199, 19. Sanssouci gave as the old man's reply, ā, ca² hā. Gáqta² pēji-ona²i hā wa²ú-ma. Ueka² ega² ckaxe te wika²bēa ga² wi². Gaqta² pēji-ona²i hā wa²ú-ma (said in condemnation), "The women are always doing just that way".

200, 5. F. La Flèche agreed with the collector in doubting the correctness of "gēi ti." He inserted "wi²," one, between niaci²ga and waqpani, omitting "gēi," and also "ēdi", in line 6, the latter word being superfluous.

TRANSLATION.

The father was a chief. He said as follows: "My child, travel. Either hunt or work. I am a chief. When I sat doing nothing I was not a chief. I worked; I did my best in walking, so I hunted. I am not a great man without cause. So I desire for you. If you do so, you are a great man. If you sit doing nothing, you will not be a chief." The boy said, "Come, father, I will go hunting. Saddle the horse for me." And he went hunting. At length he found some elk. He stationed the horse with his feet tied, and he went thither on foot. He went creeping up on the elk, crawling on his hands and knees. He reached them. When very near he shot at them. And he wounded one slightly. He chased it. As it went along with him after it, it took him a great distance; and the horse, too, stood far off. And having been taken to a very great distance, he was impatient from thirst, and was coming back running to his horse. Thought he, "If I do not drink water, I shall surely die." When he was very impatient from thirst, behold, a spring was there. And he prayed to the Deity. "Ho! Wakanda, it will do; I live. Wakanda, I thought heretofore that I would die. You being the cause, you have made life for me; so I will live, Wakanda." Well, when he went wishing to drink, a snake emerged from the water. It scared him off. He fled. "Alas, Wakanda, I thought heretofore that I would live; but I stand about to die!" He went again to the water to drink. The snake came in sight again. Again he cried and fled. And when he looked that way again, as there was nothing to be seen, he went to drink the water. The snake came in sight again. Again he fled. And when it was the fourth time, as he looked at the snake, behold, it was a very beautiful woman. And the woman filled a small drinking-vessel which she gave to him. "I am very impatient from thirst," said the youth. "Surely I shall not get enough! The water is indeed a little!" thought he. At length the woman made him have the greatest abundance. The youth drank just as much as he could drink. And when the youth looked at the woman he loved her. "A very beautiful woman!" he thought. And when this youth went homeward, the woman gave him a ring. "Wear that ring as you go homeward. And when you will eat, you shall put it on a seat, and say, 'Come, let us eat,'" said the woman. And the man went homeward, running back to the horse. He reached the horse again. Sitting on it, he went homeward. He ran back to the lodge. When he reached home, his father said, "Cook ye for him. He has come back very hungry." And they cooked for him. "Bring ye much food to me," said the son. And they took much food to him. He pulled off the ring. Having pulled it off, he placed it there. "Come, we will eat," said he. Behold, the Snake-woman sat right with him. And when she ate with him, she swallowed the food. When the Snake-woman had swallowed it, behold, she disappeared suddenly. And the youth put on the ring again. And the youth said as follows: "O father, I wish to see the women dance." And his father said as follows: "Ho! my child wishes the women to dance. They shall do so." And an old man went to tell them. He said as follows: "Ye women, the chief's son says that you are to dance." And when he saw the women dancing, he did not find the Snake-woman. He made them stop. "You shall stop the dance," said the old man. And they stopped. He reached home at the lodge. "Come, O father, let my mother cook. I am hungry," he said. And she cooked. "This way! Bring ye it. Bring ye hither much of what is cooked," he said. And when they caused it to be cooked, they took it to him. When it was taken to him, he pulled off his ring, which he placed near him. Having said, "Come, we will eat," behold, the Snake-woman sat right with him. And she ate with him. Again they went so far as to romp with each other, as she had married the man. Again the Snake-woman was missing. The man wore his ring again. Again he said, "O father, I wish to see the women and the very small young women dance." And his father said as follows: "Ho! my child wishes the women and the very small young women to dance. They shall do so." And an old man went to tell them. He said as follows: "Ye women, and ye very small young women also, he wishes to see you dance. He says, 'You shall dance.'" And they danced. When the youth looked around, he did not find the Snake-woman. When he did not find her, he said, "Come, O father, let the women stop dancing." "Ye shall stop the dance," said the oler. And they stopped. He reached home at the lodge. "Come, O father, let my mother cook. I am hungry," he said. And she cooked. "This way! Bring ye it. Bring ye hither much of what is cooked," he said. And when they caused it to be cooked, they took it to him. When they had taken it to him, he pulled off his ring, saying, "Come, we will eat." Behold, the Snake-woman sat right with him. And she ate with him. They romped with each other again. Again the Snake-woman was missing. And the man put the ring on again. Again he said, "Come, O father, let the women and the grown maidens dance." "Ye grown maidens in motion, ye are to dance. The chief's son wishes to see you dance," said the erier. And they danced. And he looked around for the woman. She was not found. Thought he, "I have not found her!" He made them stop, and he went homeward. When he reached home, he commanded one to cook. "Come, O father, let my mother cook. I am hungry," he said. And she cooked. "This way bring ye it. Bring ye hither much of what is cooked," said he. And when they caused it to be cooked, they took it to him. When they took it to him, he pulled off his ring, and said, "Ho! we will eat for the last time in private." Behold, the Snake-woman sat with him suddenly, and ate with him. They continued talking to each other. When they talked, his father heard it. Said he, "With whom is he talking? See ye." A girl went to see. And she said as follows: "O father, my elder brother sits with a very beautiful woman." And it was manifest that the Snake-woman had married him. The Snake-woman went nowhere.

At length the man (i. e., her husband) departed. He found a very beautiful woman, to whom he said, "I will marry you. Tell your father and mother." And the woman reached home to tell it. She said, "O father and mother, the chief's son has promised to marry me." And her father said, "He made fun of you." And when her husband desired another woman, the Snake-woman disappeared in a bad humor. And when she disappeared, he said, "I wish to eat. Let my mother cook." And she cooked. "This way! Bring ye it. Bring ye hither much of what is cooked," he said. And when they caused it to be cooked, they took it to him. When they took it to him, he pulled off his ring, and said, "Come, we will eat." Behold, it was not so (i. e., she did not appear as before). As it was not so, he did not eat. He was displeased because he did not find his Snake-woman. "Take it. I am grieved. I do not desire food," he said. "Come, O father, I will go hunting. Put ye a saddle on the horse's back for me," said he. He put on very good clothing. The horse too was very good. The saddle too was very good. He departed. As he went, behold, he found the trail of the Snake-woman. She had gone back to the spring. He followed the trail of his wife. When he followed the trail of his wife, behold, the trail went through and beyond the spring. He went following the trail of his wife, following, following, following, till at length there was a very unsightly lodge. Having thought, "She may have arrived at this place," he went thither. When he arrived there, behold, a person, a very aged man, was there; his clothing was very much torn in shreds. When this man arrived, he made the old man put on his clothing. The old man was sacred. "Ho! grandchild, you think that you pity me (or, are kind to me) in giving me clothing, yet I pity you. I will talk to you. The woman whom you have been following went that way. She went across the great water. Ho! you shall put on this very bad clothing and go." Having said it, the old man gave it to him. He gave him the hat, too. He gave him a sword, too. He gave him the bad, lame horse, too. And he said, "Come, you shall go. The woman reached a village which is there." "Yes," said the young man. "When you get across," said the old man, "you shall talk to some persons who are there. If they do not obey your words, you shall send them away." "Yes, grandfather," he said, having thanked him. And he departed. When he reached the big water, the water was wide. The old man having performed a sacred rite, as he sat with closed eyes, sent him over the water at a stride. When he opened his eyes, behold, the young man reached the other side. The lodge was there; and the smoke arose in a straight column. "This is the lodge of which my grandfather told heretofore. This is it," said he. Having arrived there, he entered. Behold, two old men sat there, and they were aged Thunder-men. The rest had gone hunting. When he pushed down on his head the hat which the old man had given him, the old men did not detect him. And behold, the Thunders were eating men like us. Yet, when they sat without discovering him, the youth sat thinking, "They behave very wrong! My grandfather meant these when he said that I should talk to them." And when they filled a pipe, he made himself visible, having pulled off his hat. He snatched the pipe from them. When the pipe was hot, he held it against the other aged Thunder-man. "I am burnt!" said the old man. And when the young man pushed on his hat, he was missing. "Why! A man brought himself hither very easily heretofore. Why was he not destroyed?" said one. The other said as follows: "When I said that I left him for you, why was he not destroyed? Those who are coming home will blame us. They will scold us because a man went away again who had come hither very easily." At length one came home carrying a man whom he had killed. "Take ye that object," said he. Having taken it, they laid it by the side of the lodge. "Well-a-day! You will surely blame us. A man went away again who had brought himself hither very easily," they said. "Fie! What were you about that you let him go homeward and did not kill him? We have always gone a very great distance. When he came hither with no trouble to you, and you let him go homeward instead of killing him, you did wrong. I hate you. Come, fill ye the pipe, simpletons!" said he. And having filled the pipe, they gave it to him who had brought back the man. When the old man had taken a whiff from the pipe, the youth snatched it from him, and pressed it against him. "I am burnt!" said he. "It was not I," said one. The other said, "It was not I." The youth pulled off his hat. He sat suddenly with them. "What thing did you say?" said he. "We said nothing," said they. "You were speaking," said the youth. "Come, do ye as ye wish to do." They denied it. "Friend, it is not so. We were not speaking," said they. When the three looked at him, behold, the youth pushed on his hat very suddenly, and was missing.

"Why! younger brother, you blamed us formerly," they said, as they scolded him. "Younger brother, why did you let the man go homeward instead of killing him? You blamed us heretofore. Those who are coming home will surely blame us," said the first one. At length one came home. He brought an infant home on his back. "Take ye that," said he. They laid it by the wall. Said he, "I went very far, and I have brought this home on my back." They said as follows: "Younger brother, a man came hither very easily heretofore. We did not kill him, and he went homeward. Yonder one blamed us, but he was just as unsuccessful. We left it to him to kill the man, so we did not kill him." He said as follows: "Why! I suffered very much formerly in going a great distance. When one came hither very easily, and you let him go homeward instead of killing him, you did wrong. If I see him, I will kill him at all events." When they were scolding each other, the youth pulled off his hat, and sat suddenly just like them. "What did you say?" said he. "We did not speak," they said. "Friend, we said nothing." They denied it. The boy was feared. "You were speaking. Speak ye what thing ye said." "Friend, we spoke not of anything whatsoever," said they. When he put on his hat, behold, he disappeared suddenly. "Younger brother, what were you doing that you let him go homeward instead of killing him? You blamed us heretofore. A man has been coming regularly heretofore, and we have missed doing to him what we wished. We have not killed him. Now, it is very difficult for one of those who are coming home to love us. They will scold us," said they. Again one came home. He carried a woman and a girl. "Ho! younger brother, you will hate us. A man came hither very easily heretofore, but we sent him back again instead of killing him," they said. "Well-a-day!" said he. "Why did you not kill him? We have always gone very far when hunting. We usually suffer very much in reaching there. Why did you not kill him? I hate you," "Yes, younger brother, it is so. Notwithstanding we saw him, we were always so. He always went home again. You tell the truth. He will come," said they. "If I see him I will kill him. Fill ye the pipe," said he who had just come home. And having filled the pipe, they gave it to him who had brought back the slain woman and girl. When he drew a whiff from the pipe, the youth snatched it from him and pressed it against him. "I am burnt! You burn me," he said. "It was not we," they said. The youth having pulled off his hat, sat with them suddenly. He was visible. They looked repeatedly at one another. "O ye who do thus as he told of you, I will talk to you," said the youth. "Though I will talk to you, if you do not obey the words, you shall surely depart. If you obey, you shall not go. You make these men suffer. Why do you kill them?" "We will eat them," said they. "And who are these that you eat? You do wrong. You must stop killing these," said he. "Yes, friend," said they. "Have you seen them that have horns," said he, meaning the buffalo. "Yes, there are a great many," they said. "Wakanda made these for food for all people. When you eat these human beings, you do wrong. Put a stop to it," said the youth. "Have you seen those too?" said he, meaning the elk. "Yes," said they. "Eat such," said the youth. "Have you seen those too?" said he, meaning the deer. "Yes, we have seen a great many," they said. "You shall eat such animals. Let these human beings alone. You make them suffer without just cause. If you will do as I command, I will talk to you." "Yes, friend, we will do so," said they. "You will surely stop it?" said he. "Yes, friend, we will stop it," said they. "And you will surely eat these animals which I have commanded you to eat?" said he. "Yes, friend, we will eat them," said they. "Ho! I will depart. Though I will depart, I will pass here on my return home. Those of you who tell not the truth, shall surely depart. Those of you who tell the truth, shall remain continually. Ye who eat these animals when I return, shall surely be here continually. Ye who are not so when I return, shall surely depart," said the youth. And he departed.

He went following again the woman's trail as it went along. Having gone following the trail as it went along, and went, and went, at length there was a populous village. And the Snake-woman had arrived there. When the youth approached very near to the lodges, he decorated himself (i. e., painted his face, stuck feathers in his hair, etc.). Having performed a sacred rite, he made the clothing very good which the old man had given him. He made the horse very black. And he wore the sword in his belt. He went thither. The horse went along running and leaping very far. When the people saw them, they became suddenly amazed. "A man has come, and his clothing is very good. He also sits on a very good horse," they said. As he had come seeking his wife, the Snake-woman, he went round about among the lodges. He sat looking around for his wife. At length when he found the Snake-woman, behold, she had taken a man for her husband. He who came to seek her hated her; he was jealous of her. When he was jealous, he took the sword the old man had given him, and brandished it. At the fourth time he killed all in the village. He killed the Snake-woman too. The youth went homeward. As he went homeward, he came again to those with whom he had talked. Behold, they had not told the truth when they promised to stop it. "You are indeed disobedient! Though I said that you were to stop it, you have not obeyed. You shall surely depart. If you remained here, I am afraid that you would treat the human race very wantonly; so you shall depart on high. When you who kill men go on high, whenever the day is very warm, you shall make the men cool again," said he, referring to the rain. And he said, "Come, depart ye." And he sent them on high. And he went homeward. He reached the big water. "Ho! venerable man, I am going back to you," said he. When the old man sat with closed eyes, he sent the youth across the water at one stride. He got across, when the old man opened his eyes. He came again to the old man. "Ho! grandfather, I have come back. I talked to the persons to whom you said that I was to talk; but they did not obey my words, therefore I sent them on high," said he. "Ho! It will do," said the old man. "It was right for you to send them away." "And this one whom I went following after, I reached when she had taken another husband; therefore I killed all in the village. I did the deed just as you commanded me to do it," said he. "Yes, it will do. As I desired you to do the deed, so I gave it to you," said the old man, referring to the sword. "Come, grandfather, I will go homeward. I wish to see my father," said the youth. He went homeward. The horse was very lame; the clothing was very bad; the hat was very bad; it was very much torn. And his father regarded him as dead. "He died!" thought he. The youth reached home. When he reached home at the village, the people did not know him. "A very poor person has come," said they. He went to the lodge of the head-chief. Having returned to his father's lodge, he entered. His father, too, did not recognize him. "O father, it is I. I have come home," said he. "Yes, it is well. You have come home. As I thought that you were dead, I sat sorrowful. As you have come home, it is well. When I was young, my child, I traveled regularly over large tracts of land. I always came home very poor, having given away all that I had, so I am a great man. Ho! You shall take a wife. You shall have a woman," said he. He said as follows: "O father, I love a woman in that place. Is she unmarried?" "Yes, she is unmarried," said his father. "Then, O father, send them thither." And his father sent them thither. They arrived there. "The chief's son wishes to marry your daughter," said they. And the woman's father said as follows: "As I am poor, I did not think that it would be so. But as he pities her, it is well." And he gave the woman to the man. And he married her. The boy had a woman, and he had a lodge. And people from a different place rushed on them. When they rushed on them, they attacked each other here and there (i. e., not in regular order). And the boy who had just married was killed there. (Though there is much more of the myth, I do not remember it.)

TWO-FACES AND THE TWIN BROTHERS.

TOLD BY JAQI²-NA²PAJI.

Ègiçe nłaci²ga wi² wa'ú júgigçe gçi²-biamá úgçe. Wa'ú ÷inké At length men one woman he with his sat they say dwell in a lodge. Woman the watézugęa²-biamá. Újawaqti gçi²-biamá, úqti t'éwacęi-bi ega². Ègiçe pregnant they say. Having a very they sat they say, derr he killed them, they say, having. At length nú aká yúha-biamá. Ègiçe úkiza wia²bęa bęe xi'ji nikaci²ga tí cte- 3 man the feared unseen danger. Beware no one at I leave you I go if person come not-(sub.) they say. home ctewa², da²baji-gá, á-biamá. Názugáqçe gçi²-gá, á-biamá. Ègiçe nú withstand- look not at him, said he, they With your back gçi²-gá, á-biamá. Ègiçe nú (sub.) say. to him sit, said he, they At length man aká aęá-biamá. Ègiçe nłaci²gá wi² a-i-biamá. Wúhu'á! júgçe ÷ingę'qti the went they say. At length person one was approaching. Really! with her none at all (sub.) they say.
 in'gçi² ÷inké-ána, á-biamá. Dáda² úgine in'ju-ona². Ljébe ubáha lja²- 6
 she is sitting for me I said he, they What seeking I am invariably Door the side of she lay (sub.) say. them fortunate. by biamá. Da²ba-baji-biamá wa'ú aká. Ègiçe nú amá 'ábae tē agi-biamá.
 they say. Did not see him they say woman the At length man the hunting the was coming back, they say.
 (sub.) (sub.)
 Agęá-biamá i'c'áge ahi aká. Nú aká aki-biamá. 'A² á, á-biamá. Qęęu Went homeward, old man arrived the (sub.). Man the reached home. How I said he, they Here (sub.) they say. (sub.) they say. was it say.
 ece te cęęa² i'c'áge wi² tí éde ja²ba-máji hē, á-biamá. Wacka² cęi'hē, 9 you the thus old man one came but I did not look at him said she, they To try be sure, (sub.) said say.
 wigaqęa². Ti-hna² taté ęa²ja da²baji ca²can-gá, á-biamá. Ci aęá-biamá
 O my wife. Come regularly will though not seeing him be always, said he, they Again went they say (sub.) say. surely nú amá 'ábae. Ci dúbá-biamá. Ègiçe ci i'c'áge amá ahi-biamá. Ci man the hunting. Again four times, they say. At length again old man the arrived, they say. Again
 (sub.) (sub.)
 ati há, winaú, á-biamá. Da²ba-baji-biamá. Ci nú amá agi-biamá 'ábae 12
 I have O first said he, they She did not look at him, Again man the was coming home, hunting come daughter, say. they say. (sub.) they say tē. Ci agęá-biamá i'c'áge aká. 'A² á, á-biamá. Ci i'c'áge aká ati hē, the Again went homeward, old man the How I said he, they Again old man the came (sub.) they say. (sub.) was it say. (sub.) á-biamá. Da²baji cęi'hē, á-biamá nú aká. Wéduba² tēdihi xi i'c'áge said she, they Not to see him be sure, said, they say man the The fourth arrived when old man (sub.) say. (sub.) (sub.) time at the aká agęá-bi tēdi, wa'ú aká ugás²-biamá. Da²ba-bi ega² égiçe İndé- 15 (sub.) ward, they say when woman the peeped they say. She saw him, when behold Face-(sub.) say. (sub.) they say they say na²ba é amáma. Wa'ú kē t'c ięé amá. Hahá! gawé'na ata²he-ona², two it was he who was moving, they say. Woman the dead had they say. Ha! ha! doing that I always stand, (sub.) say. gone
 á-biamá i'c'áge aká. Wa'ú nıxa ęa² mábęazá-bi ega², cın'gajin'ga na²-said, they say old man the Woman stomach the cut open, they say having. infant two (sub.) (cv. ob.)

- bídaçe akáma; nújnga akiwa. Áma kē hahin'ta' ubéta-bi ega' nan'daja born they were, they boy both. The one the skin with the wrapped in, having by the wall
 say: (ob.) they say
- ihéça-bi ega', áma kē aqin' agtá-biama. Ja'ça'qa ukíba égiñ iéça-biama.
 laid it, they having, the the he took homeward, they Log a crack in he sent headlong into, they say other (ob.) say.
- 3 Nú qin' aki amá. Égiçe wa'u kē t'é ákiágça-bitéama, níxa kē mábçaze Man the reached home, Behold woman the dead had gone again, they say, stomach the cut open they say. (ob.) (see note) (lg. ob.)
- ké amá. Giqéga' waiin' ugíçeta' ga' ñan'de kē gíqé amá. Jí tē'ja she lay, they He buried his, robe he wrapped and ground the he buried his, lodge to the say, so they say his in they say.
- aki-biama nú aká. Kí qin' égiçe nan'daja cin'gajin'ga xagé amá. Hé!
 reached home, man the He when behold by the wall infant was crying, they Alas!
 they say (sub.) reached home say.
- 6 siji'qtçiqé, é amá. É'di aqá-bi ega' gíçza-biama cin'gajin'ga kē. Égiçe
 my dear little said he, they There went, they having he took his, they infant the Behold child, say.
- nújnga akáma. Nújnga-bi ega' gíçin' wakan'dagí-biama. Jí'qin' wakan'- boy he was, they Boy, they say being to sit it was forward they say. To run it was for-
 say.
- dagí-biama. Ma'çida' wakan'dagíqia'-biama. Dadha, man'dé jin'ga ward, they say. To pull the bow it was very forward they say. O father, bow small
- 9 ingáxa-gá. Híçéçé giáxa-biama. Wajin'ga ga' wakíde-hna'-biama.
 make for me. Blunt arrows he made for him, Bird so he used to shoot at them, they
 they say.
- Içádi aká 'ábae aqé ta-bi, gia'ze-hna'-biama. Janúxa jégça' qin' nin'de
 His father the hunting go will, he said, taught him they say. Fresh meat cooked on when done (sub.) said, the fire
- qin' hnáte-hna' çaja' te, á-biama. Wéçhide ekáde çáji-hnañ-gá, á-biama.
 when you eat it reg. you sleep will, said he, they Far away to play go not always, said he, they ularly say.
- 12 Içádi qin' éçé amá 'ábae. Égiçe nújnga win' a-f átiágça-biama. Wa'a'
 His father the went they say to hunt. At length boy one was suddenly, they say. Song
 (mv. one)
- gáxe a-f-biama:—
 making he was coming, they say:—

Kagé, qí içádi çat'a' ega' Younger you his father you have since
 brother,

15

Janí úçize hnáte çata'cé.
 Soup rations you eat you who stand.

Wí içádi a'çin'ge ga'
 I his father I have none as

Ha'bçé-si-ñan'ga bçáte áçin'hé,
 "Turkey pease" I eat I who move,

18

á-biama. Çiádi iéçé á, kagéça, á-biama. A'ha', jicéça, i'dádi iéçé há.
 said he, they Your father has gone I younger said he, they Yes, elder brother, my father has say, gone

í-gá. Çéçé wabásna' kē hégactéwa'ji a'çáte taf. í-gá há, á-biama.
 Come. This (ob.) roasting piece the (ob.) many let us eat. Come said he, they
 say.

Kagé, çíádi céçinké, á-biama. Náji! jicéça, i'dádi iéçé há, á-biama.
 Younger your that one, said he, they For shame! elder brother, my father has said he, they brother, father say, gone say.

- Ēgiṭe égiḥ áíáḡa-biamá ǵí tē. Ahí-bi ega^{n'} íanúḡa basna^{n'} ké ǵaté
At length right in he went, they say lodgo the Reached it, having fresh meat stuck on the ate (ob.), they say (ob.) sticks to roast (ob.)
- júgiḡá-biamá Ckáde júgiṭe ḡéi^{n'}-biamá. Kagé, ǵiádi cugí, á-biamá.
he with his they say. Played he with his he sat they say. Younger your yonder said he, they brother, father he comes, say.
- ǵu'ǵ'qti ákiáḡa-biamá. Wéḡḡa^{n'} ǵi^{n'}, á-biamá iji^{n'} ǵe aká. Nǎ! wabásna^{n'} 3
With a sud- he had gone again they say. He is bewildered, said, they say his elder the Why! roasting-pieces den rush again (sub.), brother (sub.),
- áhigi wíḡaxe-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'} ǵa^{n'}eti, ǵnásni^{n'} áha^{n'}, á-biamá iǵadi aká. Wí, many I made for you heretofore, you have swal- I said, they say his the I,
lowed them (sub.), father (sub.),
- dadíha, é amá. Gisiǵajǵi amá íe tē. Hau! cǵi 'ábae bǵé tá minke.
O father, he said, they Ho forgot they say words tho. Ho! again hunting I go will I who.
say.
- Ǵakéḡa^{n'} wíḡaxe bǵé tá minke, á-biamá iǵadi aká. Cǵi nújḡa amá 6 Like those I make for I go will I who, said, they say his father the. Again boy the you (sub.), (sub.),
- a-í-biamá. Ǵiádi iǵé á, á-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, jǵi'ǵcha, i^{n'}dádi iǵé. Í-ǵá há, á-biamá was coming, father gone I said he, they Yes, elder my father has Come said, they say say. say. gone.
- isa^{n'}ḡa aká. Cǵi íanúḡa ǵaté júgiḡá-biamá nújḡa ǵínké isa^{n'}ḡa ǵínké.
his younger the Again fresh meat ate he with his they say boy who his younger the one who.
brother (sub.), (sub.),
- Kagé, ǵiádi cugí, á-biamá. Agǵá-biamá cǵi. Wéḡḡa^{n'} ǵi^{n'}, á-biamá iji^{n'} ǵe 9
Younger your yonder said he, they He went homeward again, said, they say his elder brother, father he comes, say. they say.
- aká. Nǎ! waǵáte héḡactéwa^{n'}jǵi wíḡaxe-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'} ǵa^{n'}eti. Hnásni^{n'}-hna^{n'}-ja^{n'} the Why! food a great deal I made for you heretofore. You have done naught but (sub.), (sub.), swallow it
- há, á-biamá iǵadi aká. Wí, dadíha, é amá. Gisiǵajǵi amá. Cǵi éḡa^{n'} said, they say his father the (sub.). I, O father, he said, they say. Ho forgot they say. Again so
- wíḡaxe tá minke, á-biamá. Wabásna^{n'} héḡactéwa^{n'}jǵi ǵiáxa-biamá. Cǵi 12
I do for you will I who, said he, they Roasting-pieces a great many he made for him, they Again
say. say.
- nújḡa amá a-í-biamá. Ǵiádi iǵé á, á-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, jǵi'ǵcha, i^{n'}dádi boy the was coming. Your has gone I said he, they say. Yes, elder brother, my father (sub.), they say. father
- iǵé. Í-ǵá há, á-biamá isa^{n'}ḡa aká Cǵi íanúḡa ǵaté júgiḡá-biamá has Come said, they say his younger the Again fresh meat ate he with his, they say gone, (sub.), brother (sub.),
- nújḡa ǵínké isa^{n'}ḡa ǵínké. Kagé, ǵiádi cugí, á-biamá. Cǵi wéḡḡa^{n'} ǵi^{n'}, 15 boy the one who his younger the one who. Younger your yonder he said he, they Again he is bewildered, brother brother comes, say.
- á-biamá iji^{n'} ǵe aká. ǵu'ǵ'qti ákiáḡa-biamá. Nǎ! waǵáte héḡactéwa^{n'}jǵi said, they say his elder the With a sudden he had gone they say. Why! food a great deal brother (sub.), rush back
- wíḡaxe-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'} ǵa^{n'}eti. Hnásni^{n'}-hna^{n'}-ja^{n'} há, á-biamá iǵadi aká. Dadíha,
I made for you formerly. You have done naught but swallow it said, they say his father the O father.
(sub.), (sub.),
- wíji^{n'} ǵe tǵi-hna^{n'} há, á-biamá nújḡa aká. Hé, sǵi^{n'}ǵtciǵé! Nisíha, ǵiha^{n'} 18 my elder comes said, they say boy the Alas, my dear little My child, your brother regularly (sub.), (sub.), mother
- watǵuǵǵa^{n'} ǵi^{n'}jǵi Índé-na^{n'}ba ǵiha^{n'} tǵéǵai há. Máǵibǵázai éḡa^{n'} waǵpǵniǵti pregnant with you when Face-two your killed her Ho cut you open as very poor
mother

210 THE ƆEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- uƆhi há. Ɔiji^{n'} Ɔe tí xī uona^{n'} te há, á-biamá. Dadíha, wiji^{n'} Ɔe you were raised (you grow up) Your elder comes when you hold him said he, they say. O father, my elder brother
- ubƆa^{n'}, ece te há, á-biamá. Hau, wéduba^{n'} tē'di nūjīnga amá a-f-biamá.
I hold him, you say will said he, they say. Well, the fourth time when boy the was coming, they say.
- 3 Ɔiádi iƆé á, á-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, jī^{n'}Ɔéha, i^{n'}dádi iƆé. Í-gā há, á-biamá Your father has gone said he, they say. Yes, elder brother, my father has gone Come said, they say
- isa^{n'}ga aká. IƆádi aká jēdāhi násageqti xīxáxe ja^{n'}-biamá. LijƆbe his younger brother the His father the buffalo neck dried very hard made himself he lay, they say. Door
- ma^{n'}tāja ja^{n'}-biamá. Jī^{n'}Ɔéha, hé aṅgúkine té, á-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, á-biamá.
inside he lay, they say. Elder brother, lice let us hunt for each other, said he, they say. Yes, said he, they say.
- 6 Hé uina-bi xījī ásku na^{n'}bé iƆábeta^{n'}ta^{n'}-biamá. Dadíha, wiji^{n'} Ɔe ubƆa^{n'} Lice he hunted for him, they say when scalp-lock hand he wrapped round and round it they say. O father, my elder brother I hold him
- há, á-biamá. Ɔiji^{n'} Ɔe Ɔicta^{n'}aji-gā, á-biamá. Jāha^{n'} átiƆá-biamá. Nūjīnga said he, they say. Your elder brother do not let him go. said he, they say. He arose suddenly they say. Boy
- gƆé ga^{n'}Ɔaqtia^{n'}. EgiƆe cka^{n'}aji iƆa^{n'}-biamá. Nisíha, wíeƆéi áƆa! á-biamá.
to go home-ward wished very much. At length motionless he became, they say. My child, it is I indeed! said he, they say.
- 9 Ɔiji^{n'} Ɔe améga^{n'} uƆáƆikijī, á-biamá. Ɔiha^{n'} tézuƆíƆa^{n'}i xījī Índé-na^{n'}ba Your elder brother he likewise you are near relations to each other, said he, they say. Your mother pregnant with you when Face-two
- amá t'ƆƆai éga^{n'} waqpaníqti akíƆaha uƆhi, á-biamá.
the (sub.) killed her as very poor both you grew up, said he, they say.
- Dadíha, kagé méga^{n'}, man'dé jīn'ga wegáxai-gā, á-biamá. Wajin'ga
O father, younger brother likewise, bow small make ye for us, said he, they say. Bird
- 12 a^{n'}wan'kide-hna^{n'} tábacé, á-biamá iji^{n'} Ɔe aká. Wajin'ga kíde ahí-hna^{n'}- we shoot at them regularly must, said, they say his elder brother the (sub.) Bird to shoot they regularly at arrived
- biamá. EgiƆe, Ɔisa^{n'}ga méga^{n'}, gátēdi nihan'ga teƆan'di, égiƆe é'di hné tai, they say. Beware, your younger brother likewise, in that place spring at the, beware there you go lest
- á-biamá iƆádi aká. Kagé, Ɔiádi nihan'ga uƆá teƆan'di aṅgáƆe té, á-biamá said, they say his father (sub.). Younger brother, your father spring told of at the let us go, said, they say
- 15 iji^{n'} Ɔe aká. Nájī! jī^{n'}Ɔéha, i^{n'}dádi Ɔáji wágaji, á-biamá. EgiƆe Ɔahi^{n'} ké his elder brother (sub.). For shame! elder brother, my father not to go commanded said he, they say. Then hair the (sub.)
- i^{n'}íƆá-gā, á-biamá iji^{n'} Ɔe aká. Hin'dega^{n'}! á-biamá isan'ga aká. AƆá-biamá hand back to me, said, they say his elder brother (sub.). Let us see! said, they say his younger brother the (sub.). Went they say
- nihan'ga té'di akíƆa. EgiƆe nihan'ga té wé's'a ké Ɔéga^{n'}qtia^{n'} akáma (saƆú).
spring to the both. Behold spring the snake the just this way they were, (rattling). they say
- 18 Kagé, wanágƆe úda^{n'} héga^{n'}ji wea^{n'}Ɔé, á-biamá iji^{n'} Ɔe aká. Kagé, wan'ga-Younger brother, pet animal good not a little we have found them, said, they say his elder brother (sub.). Kagé, wan'ga- we having
- Ɔi^{n'} aṅgáƆe te, á-biamá. Síndé gē máwasá-bi éga^{n'} ubéta^{n'}-bi éga^{n'} aƆi^{n'} them let us go homeward, said he, they say. Tall the cut them off, they having wrapped up, having they took

- agá-biamá. Akí-bi egaⁿ iijébe égage ugácka-biamá. Iéádi aká iáqti them homeward, they say. Reached home, they say. Door around they tied (them), they say. His father the deer (sub.)
- wiⁿ 'iⁿ akí-biamá. Lijébe té'di iáqti kí ihééé xi wasáfu égaⁿ amá. Píáñ one carry, ing it they say. Door at the deer reached he laid when a slight rattling they say. Bad
- hégañi ekáxe. É'di weágañiⁿ maⁿ 'iⁿ 'i-gá, á-biamá. Égiçe weágañiⁿ aqá- 3 not a little you do. There having for them walk ye, said he, they say. At length having for them they went
- biamá. É'di ahí-biamá. Égiçe sindé gē wíugibádaⁿ daⁿ -biamá. Cí they say. There they arrived, they say. At length tail the they pushed each down on its own, Again they say.
- iéádi aká 'ábae aqá-bi té'di, Égiçe iúqinde é'di hné tai, á-biamá. Kagé, his the to hunt went they when, Beware gorgo there you go lost, said he, they say. Younger brother,
- iúqinde iáádi uqá teçanⁿ di angáçe tai, á-biamá ijiⁿ 'çe aká. Náñi! jiiⁿ 'çéha, 6
 gorgo your told of to the let us go, said, they say his elder the For elder brother,
- iⁿ dádi çáñi wágañi, á-biamá. Égiçe ðahiⁿ kē iⁿ 'iⁿ 'çá-gá, á-biamá ijiⁿ 'çe aká.
 my father not to commanded said he, they say. Then hair the hand back to said, they say his elder the brother (sub.).
- Hínⁿ degaⁿ! á-biamá isañⁿ ga aká. Aqá-biamá iúqinde kē'di akíça. Égiçe Let us see! said, they say his younger brother (sub.). Went they say gorgo to the both. Behold
- wa'újingáqti édedí akáma. Maⁿ 'çinⁿ ka néxe gáxe akáma. Kagé, çíçaⁿ 9 a very old woman was sitting there, they say. Earthen kettle she was making, they say. Younger brother, your grand-mother
- çéçínké çínké, á-biamá xaⁿ há, añaçigi-añaçiti há, á-biamá. Skéwaⁿ qti this (sitting the one) who, said he, they say. Grandmother, we for you, we have come said he, they say. Many years
- gaⁿ minké-hnaⁿ -maⁿ 'çáⁿ ja é'be anⁿ giti, nucáha, aⁿ 'çiqúde tádaⁿ, á-biamá
 I have ever been sitting for some time though who comes for grandchild, pull me out shall I said, they say
- wa'újinga aká. 'Aⁿ iⁿ 'çéⁿ 'in áwibçaskábe xi caⁿ 'caⁿ áwibçaskábe tai, á-biamá 12 old woman the (sub.). How you carry me I stick to you if without stopping I stick to you will, said, they say
- wa'újinga aká. Ké, çíçaⁿ gí'in-gá há, á-biamá. Çiádi wákidawákiçé gaⁿ old woman the (sub.). Come, your grandmother carry her said he, they say. Your father causes us to watch as (the lodge)
- çíçaⁿ juanⁿ gēe añaçinⁿ te, á-biamá ijiⁿ 'çe aká. Céçé néxe gē d'úba your grandmother we with her we sit will, said, they say his elder the brother (sub.). Those kettles the some
- gaqíxa-gá, á-biamá ijiⁿ 'çe aká Gaqíqíxa-biamá. Égiçe gí'in agá-biamá 15 break in, said, they say his elder the brother (sub.). He broke in repeatedly, they say. At length carrying her he went homeward, they say
- íí té'ia. Ké, xaⁿ há, tiçá-gá há, á-bi egaⁿ, Anⁿ kaji éçé, epaçaⁿ. 'Aⁿ lodge to the. Come, grandmother, pass on said, having. Not so indeed, grandchild. How
- wábçaskábe xi caⁿ 'caⁿ wábçaskábe éçé, á-biamá Çíçaⁿ çíbe çí'íça-gá,
 I stick when continually I stick indeed, said she, they say. Your bowels tickle her, grandmother
- kagé, á-biamá. Çíbe çí'íça ctéçtewaⁿ caⁿ 'caⁿ gçinⁿ -biamá. Iⁿ wétiⁿ çáⁿ 18 younger brother, said he, they say. Bowels tickled notwithstanding without she sat they say. Stone-hammer the
- çíçaⁿ sindéhi itin-gá há, á-biamá. Sindé-qçu'a utiⁿ -bi egaⁿ ugáqpaçé iéçça-your tail-bone hit her on said he, they say. Hollow of back hit her, they say. Having he made her fall suddenly by hitting her biamá. Égiçe ičádi amá akí-biamá ci. Dadíba, wíqan' i'n'ín angáçei, they say. At length his father the (sub.) reached home, again. O father, my grand- we carried her we have come home, á-biamá. Wáhu'á! piáiqti ckáxe. Ǿiqa' iqa'Ǿe ma'Ǿin'i-gá, á-biamá.

said they, they Really! very bad you did. Your grandmother to put her walk ye, said he, they say.

3 Gí'ín aǾá-biamá. Liqinde pahan'ga Ǿizal tǾ'di ci gí'ín ahí-biamá. Ké, Carrying her they went, they say. Gorge before took her at the again carry- they arrived, Come.
ing they say.

Ǿa'há, tiǾá-gǾ, á-bi ega', An'kaji ǾǾe, eǾaǾa'. 'A' wáǾeaskábe Ǿi ca'ca' grand- pass on, said they, having, Not so indeed, grandchild. How I stick if without stopping mother, they say

wáǾeaskábe ǾǾe, á-biamá wa'újinga aká. Égiçe sindé-qǾu'a uti'bi ega'
I stick indeed, said, they say old woman the (sub.). At length the lower part of hit, they say having

6 ugáqǾaǾe iǾǾa-biamá

he made her fall suddenly by hitting her, they say.

Ci akí-biamá. Égiçe, Ǿahé ma'ciadi áǾaǾage kǾ'di qǾabé wi' najin' Again they reached Behold, hill high headland at the tree one stands
home, they say.

amá. Égiçe Ǿ'di oné tai, á-biamá iǾádi aká. Kí 'ábae aǾá-biamá. Kagé, they say. Beware there you go lest, said, they say his the And to hunt he went, they say. Younger brother,

9 qǾabé Ǿiádi uǾá teǾan'di angáǾe tai, á-biamá iji'Ǿe aká Nál Ǿáji tree your father told of to the let us go, said, they say his elder the Why! not to (sub.) brother (sub.) go wáǾaji Ǿa'eti, á-biamá Égiçe Ǿahin' kǾ i'n'íǾá-gǾ, á-biamá iji'Ǿe aká.

he com- formerly, said he, they Then hair the hand back to said, they say his elder the manded us say, me, brother (sub.).

Ín'daké! angáǾe te, á-biamá (isañ'ga aká). Égiçe qǾabé tǾ wéungǾe
Let us see! let us two go, said, they say (his younger brother the). Behold tree the nest

12 tǾ'di IngǾa' jín'ga ǾiǾáda gǾi'bi-iamá. Dúba akáma. Kagéha, ǾǾaká in the Thunder-bird small drilling holes sat they say. Four they were, O younger this in their shells they say. brother, (one col.)

wanágǾe djúba weúǾe, á-biamá. Ǿiádi wanágǾe in'gaǾi' aǾǾáki taté, pet animal a few I have found said he, they Your father pet animal we have for we reach home shall,
say.

á-biamá. Áne wáǾi-ma'Ǿin'-gǾ, á-biamá. UbǾi'age, ji'ǾǾa. Ǿi ma'Ǿin'-gǾ, said he, they Climbing go for them, said he, they I am unwilling, O older brother. You walk,
say.

15 á-biamá isañ'ga aká. Ké, wáǾibǾe tá minke, á-biamá iji'Ǿe aká Áne said, they say his younger the Come. I go for them will I who, said, they say his elder the Climb-brother (sub.). ing

aǾá-biamá. É'ja ahí-biamá paháciaja. Kagé, wanágǾe ǾǾǾanká úda' he went, they say. At it he arrived, they say above. Younger brother, pet animal those good hégaji Ǿańká, á-biamá. UbǾiǾaǾǾe euǾǾaǾǾe Ǿi wáqǾi-gǾ há, á-biamá not a little the ones said he, they I make (them) I send to you when kill them said he, they who, say, fall say.

18 Gá-huinké'ce, indáda' iǾáje ahni'. Li-úǾia'ba iǾáje abǾi' (á-biamá IngǾa' That you who are, what name you have. Lodge-lights in name I have (said, they say Thunderbird jín'ga aká). Hau! kagé, Li-úǾia'ba euǾǾe. Áda'ba-gǾ há, á-biamá. É'di young (the). Ho! younger brother, Li-úǾia'ba goes to you. Look after him said he, they There brother, say.

uqípaq̃e x̃i gaq̃é-biamá. Kí gá-hninké'ce, indádaⁿ ijáje ahniⁿ á, á-biamá.
he made full when he killed him, they And that you who are, what name you have I said he, they
say.

Ɔig̃éize-maⁿ Ɔiⁿ ijáje abéiⁿ, á-biamá. Hau! kagé, Ɔig̃éize-maⁿ Ɔiⁿ cuq̃é.
Forked lightning-walking name I have said he, they Ho! younger brother, Ɔig̃éize-maⁿ goes to
say.

Ádaⁿ bá-gā hā, á-biamá. Ė'di uqípaq̃e x̃i gaq̃é-biamá. Kí gá-hninké'ce, 3
Look after him said he, they There he made him when he killed him, they And that you who are,
say.

Indádaⁿ ijáje ahniⁿ á, á-biamá. Ɔiaⁿ ba-tig̃e ijáje abéiⁿ, á-biamá. Hau!
what name you have I said he, they Sheet-lightning, appears name I have, said he, they Ho!
say.

kagé, Ɔiaⁿ ba-tig̃e cuq̃é Ádaⁿ bá-gā hā, á-biamá. Ė'di uqípaq̃e x̃i gaq̃éyounger Ɔiaⁿ ba-tig̃e goes to Look after him said he, they There he made him when he killed brother, you. say.

biamá. Kí gá-hninké'ce, indádaⁿ ijáje ahniⁿ á, á-biamá. Zi-géihé ijáje abéiⁿ, 6 they say. And that you who are, what name you have I said he, they in a line again name I have,
say.

á-biamá. Hau! kagé, Zi-géihé cuq̃é. Ádaⁿ bá-gā hā, á-biamá. Ė'di uqípaq̃e said he, they Ho! younger Zi-géihé goes to Look after him said he, they There he made him
brother, say.

x̃i gaq̃é-biamá. Útiⁿ x̃i wáq̃aⁿ Ɔaⁿ biamá. Gaⁿ q̃abé té maⁿ Ɔiaⁿ q̃ti hí when he killed him, they He hit when he missed them, they say. And tree the at a very great ac-
say. at them height rived amá, wéahidé'q̃ti. Kagé, wackaⁿ eganⁿ gā hau! á-biamá. Jiⁿ Ɔe-lau! 9 they say, very far away. Younger brother, do make an effort O! said he, they Elder O!

say.

á-biamá, xagé ictábéi gaⁿ inajiⁿ-biamá. Wackaⁿ-eganⁿ gā hau! kagé, said he, they crying tears so he stood when, they Do make an effort O! younger brother,
say.

á-biamá. Ėgiq̃e isanⁿ ga aká íxiq̃aⁿ biamá. Iⁿ wétiⁿ Ɔaⁿ jaⁿ té ítiⁿ bi x̃i, said he, they At length his younger the aroused they say. Stone the wood the hit with it, when,
say. (sub.) hammer they say

Jaⁿ Ɔé-té té-cka-Ɔa Ɔé, té-cka-Ɔa Ɔé, Wood this the short of its own goes, short of its own goes,
accord accord

12

á-biamá. Gaⁿ-ite-hnaⁿ amá. Wackaⁿ-eganⁿ gā hā, kagé, á-biamá (ijiⁿ Ɔe said he, they So it be- only they say. Do make an effort younger said he, they (his elder say, came brother, say) aká). Ɔi égaⁿ-biamá Jaⁿ Ɔé-té té-cka-Ɔa Ɔé, té-cka-Ɔa Ɔé, á-biamá x̃i, the). Again it was so, they Wood this one short of its own goes, short of its own goes, said he, they when,

say. accord accord

égiq̃e q̃abé té gaⁿ-ite-hnaⁿ amá. Wédubaⁿ tédíhi q̃abé té égiq̃aⁿ amá, 15 behold tree the so it be- only they say. The fourth time it arrived tree the was as before, they
say.

Ɔé-té étaⁿ najiⁿ té étaⁿ gēitē amá. Kagé, caⁿ hā, á-biamá. Inq̃aⁿ jinⁿ ga this so long stood the so long stood again they Younger enough said he, they Thunder- young (std. ub.) say. brother, say.

wáq̃iza-bi eguⁿ wáq̃i agq̃aⁿ biamá. Wáq̃i akí-biamá. Jiⁿmaⁿ te iqaⁿ wáq̃aⁿ bi took them, they having having they went homeward, Having they reached Jiⁿmaⁿ te iqaⁿ wáq̃aⁿ bi say. them they say. lodge the placed then, they
say.

egaⁿ uq̃aⁿ bá-biamá. Iqa gēiⁿ-biamá níjina amá akíq̃a. Jiⁿq̃cha, iⁿdádi 18 having it flashed repeatedly in it, Laugh- sat they say boy the both. Elder brother, my
say. ing (pl. sub.) father

gəfi xi qta'wəfə hēga ufeiciqti áhna, á-biamá. I'ádi fínkə kí amá Jijébe come when to love them a little very difficult I said he, they His father the one reached home, Door
home they say.

fa' n' fíkiáha' xi fiu' n' a' b'á-biamá. Páijijí' qtei ekáxe. É'di wáfi' n' ma' fí' n' i-gá, the belittled up when flashed repeatedly. Not bad at all you have done. There having them walk ye,
they say.

á-biamá. Wáfi' n' ahí-biamá xi wéugéce éf é'a íe'a' n' wa' f'á-biamá, wiúgijí-said he, they Having them they arrived, they when nest again in it they placed them, they they put in for
say.

biamá. Nújinga aká aki-biamá. Égi'ce, gá' f'á' n' méga' n' níúfíca' n' ja' n' gá, they say. Boy the reached home, Beware, go, go likewise, lake big (sub.) they say.

ke'fan' di fíq'ce uji ke'fan' di é'di hné tai, á-biamá íe'ádi aká. I'ádi amá at the cause filled (with) at the there you go lost, said, they say his father the (sub.) His father the (mv. sub.)

'ábae a' f'á-biamá. Kagé, fiádi níúfíca' n' fúji wágaji ke'fan' é'di angú'ce tai, hunting went they say. Younger brother, your lake not to go told us the past let us go,
father

á-biamá iji' n' ce aká. Ná! jír'ce'ha, i' d'ádi fúji wágaji fa' n' e'ti, á-biamá.
said, they say his elder brother (sub.) E! older brother, my father not to told us formerly, said he, they (sub.)

Égi'ce dahí' kə i' n' íe'á-gá ha, á-biamá iji' n' ce aká. In' d'aké! angú'ce te,
Then hair the hand back to me said, they say his elder brother the (sub.) Let us see! let us two go,
(sub.)

á-biamá isan' gá aká. É'di a' f'á-biamá É'di ahí-bi xi' jí égi'ce ní kə dízá said, they say his younger brother (sub.) There they went, they say. There they arrived, when behold water the sand (sub.) they say.

kə bə'áqati ja' n' kə amá. Wagé'icka hi-dúba ákicúgaqti édedí-máma.
the very level was lying, they say. Reptile feet four standing very thick there were moving, they say.

Wanagéce úda' n' tcábe wea' n' f'ce, kagé, á-biamá. Akí'fa sín'de waka' n' ta' n' bi.
Pet animal good very we have found, younger said he, they Both tail tied them, they say
brother.

ega' n', baqtá' bi ega' n', gánaqti wáfi' n' a' f'á-biamá. Wáfi' n' aki-biamá xi té'ja.
having, made into packs, having, just that having they went homeward, Having them they reached lodge at the
they say many them they say.

Wáfi' n' aki-bi ega' n' nan'de jijébe f'ce'ga' g'c' e'té b'fúga ugáca' n' ma' fí' n' i-biamá having reached home, having them wall door thus the even all traveling walked they say (of lodge)

'je-wasnebe amá. Ga' n' nújinga ekáde ma' fí' n' bi xi' jí sí té sín'de g'c' lizards the (sub.). And boy playing walked, they say when foot the tail the (sub.)

wáta' n' bi xi wana' n' huta' n' hna' n' bi-amá. I'ádi náqti wi' n' i' n' agí-biamá, xi said on them, when they made them inva- they say. His father deer one carry- ing agí-biamá, xi they say cry by treading riably was coming, lodge they say.

íe'áde agí-biamá. Jijébe té'di ugáqpa' f'ce' xi' jí ágasá' bi ega' n' wáhuta' n' bi then near he was coming. Door at the he threw it down when pressed down on they say having crying out
they say.

é amá. Páiji tcábe. Águdí' n' wáhni' n' cki é' n' te, é'di wáfi' n' ma' fí' n' i-gá, a were, Bad very. Whence you had you it may there having them walk ye,
they say.

á-biamá. Wáfi' n' a' f'á-biamá. Wáfi' n' a' f'á-bi ega' n' ea' n' qti níúfíca' n' ug'ji said he, they Having them they went, they having in spite of lake put them in (sub.) they say.

á' n' f'ce'fa-biamá. Aki-biamá.
so they sent suddenly, They reached home, they say.

NOTES.

208, 2. ja^{na}qa, etc. ɟa^{fi}-na^{pa}ji also said, Intcañ'ga uhi^{fa}-biama, the intcañga (either ground-mice or field-mice) brought him up.

209, 3. weg^{fa}fi. Sanssouci said that this meant, "He has forgotten everything." The younger brother forgot the words that he wished to tell his father about his brother.

210, 1. fi^{ji}fe ti xi, etc. The father said to the son, "If your brother comes again, get him to lie down, and pretend to hunt for lice. Steal a hair out of his head, and he cannot leave you."—Sanssouci.

210, 9. fi^{ji}fe amega^a u^{fa}kikiji. This was addressed to the son who had been brought up by the field-mice, and who is called "elder brother" by the other son. Yet that other son is here termed "Your elder brother." Perhaps we should read, ɟisañ'ga, your younger brother.

210, 15. pahiⁿ k^ɛ i^ui i^{fa}-gã. Let the hair come back to me, the owner—ɟa^{fi}-na^{pa}ji. I^ui i^{fa}-gã is from "gⁱi i^{fa}," to give an object back to the owner by sending it in this direction.

210, 16. hindega^a implies consent to go with the elder brother.—Sanssouci.

211, 4. wiugibada^ada^a. The tails were fastened again to their respective snakes.

211, 10. skewa^aqti ga^a-mĩnke-hna^a-ma^a, etc. It is explained by the following, given by ɟa^{fi}-na^{pa}ji. Cku^aaji ag^ɛi^u xi júga k^ɛ a^{wa}-dĩnd^ɛqti-ma^a, jibe k^ɛ e^{ti}a^abadĩn^a.
Motionless I sit when body the no very rigid I have (?) leg the too me distended d^ɛqti ma^a: "When I sit motionless, my body becomes very rigid, my legs, too, are very very I have (?)
much distended."

213, 6. zi-g^ɛihe. Lion said that the fourth Thunder-bird was called ɟia^a-ba-gi-hna^a (Sheet-lightning-is-always-coming-back), instead of Zi-g^ɛihe.

TRANSLATION.

Once there was a man who dwelt in a lodge with his woman. The woman was pregnant. As he killed deer, they dwelt very happily. At length the husband feared some unseen danger. "Beware, when I leave you, lest you look at any one who comes. Sit with your back to him," he said. At length the man departed. At length a person was approaching. "Really! she is sitting for me, her relation, without any one at all with her! I am always fortunate in searching for things." The woman lay by the side of the door, and did not look at him. At length the husband was coming home from the hunt. The old man went homeward. The husband reached home. "How was it?" said he. "It was thus as you said here. An old man came, but I did not look at him," said she. "O my wife, be sure to do your best. Though he will surely come regularly, never look at him," said he. The husband went hunting again. And it was so four times. At length the old man arrived. "I have come again, O first daughter of the household," said he. She did not look at him. The husband was coming home again from the hunt. The old man went homeward again. "How was it?" said the husband. "The old man came again," said she. "Be sure not to look at him," said the husband. When the fourth time came, and the old man went homeward, the woman peeped. When she looked at him, behold, it was Two-faces that was moving along. The woman lay dead. "Ha! ha! I always do that to them," said the old man. Having slit the stomach of the woman with a knife, the infants were twins; both were boys. Having wrapped one in a skin with the hair on, he laid it by the side of the lodge, and he took the other homeward. He thrust it headlong into a crack in a log. (See Note 1.) The husband reached home. Behold, the woman was dead, and she lay with her stomach cut open. He wrapped his wife in a robe, and buried her in the ground. The husband reached his home at the lodge. When he reached home, behold, a child was crying by the side of the lodge. "Alas! my dear little child," said he. Having gone thither, he took his child. Behold, it was a boy. Being a boy, he was quick to sit alone. He was very forward in learning to run and to pull the bow. "O father, make me a small bow." The man made blunt arrows for him. And he used to shoot at birds. The father used to teach him, when about to go hunting. "When the fresh meat is cooked on the fire, and is done, you may eat it; and then you may sleep. Never go far away to play," said he. The father went to hunt. At length a boy was approaching suddenly. He was approaching, making a song. "Younger brother, as you have a father, you are standing at home eating rations of soup. I, as I have no father, am eating turkey-pease as I walk," he said in his song. "Younger brother, has your father gone?" "Yes, elder brother, my father has gone. Come, let us eat many of these roasting-pieces. Come," said the younger. "That sitting one is your father, younger brother," said the elder. "For shame! elder brother, my father has gone," said the younger. At length he went right into the lodge. Having gone in, he ate with him the pieces stuck on sticks to roast. He sat playing with his brother. "Younger brother, yonder comes your father," he said. He had gone with a sudden rush. "He has forgotten everything," said the elder brother. "Why! I prepared many roasting-pieces for you heretofore. You have swallowed them!" said the father. "I, O father," said he, having forgotten the words which he wished to say. "Ho! I will go hunting again. I will make pieces like those for you, and then I will go," said his father. The boy was approaching again. "Has your father gone?" said he. "Yes, elder brother, my father has gone. Come," said the younger brother. And the boy sat with his younger brother again, eating fresh meat. "Younger brother, yonder comes your father," said he. He went homeward again. "He has forgotten everything," said the elder brother. "Why! I prepared for you heretofore a great quantity of food. You have done naught but swallow it," said his father. "I, O father," said he, forgetting it. "I will do so for you again," said the father. He prepared for him a great many roasting-pieces. The boy was approaching again, after the father departed. "Has your father gone?" said he. "Yes, elder brother, my father has gone. Come," said the younger brother. And the boy sat again with his younger brother, eating fresh meat. "Younger brother, yonder comes your father," he said. "Again has he forgotten everything," said the elder brother. He had gone back again with a very sudden rush. "Why! I prepared for you heretofore a great quantity of food. You have done naught but swallow it," said the father. "O father, my elder brother comes regularly," said the boy. "Alas! my dear little child! My child, when your mother was pregnant with you, Two-faces killed her. As you were cut out of her, you grew up very poor. When your elder brother comes, you shall take hold of him. You shall say, 'O father, I have hold of my elder brother,'" said he. Well, when it was the fourth time, the boy was approaching. "Has your father gone?" said he. "Yes, elder brother, my father has gone. Come," said the younger brother. The father had changed himself into a buffalo neck that was dried very hard. He lay inside the door. "Elder brother, let us hunt lice for each other," said the younger.

"Yes," said the elder. When he hunted lice, he wrapped his elder brother's scalp-lock round and round his hand. "O father, I have hold of my elder brother," said he. "Do not let your elder brother go," said the father. The father arose suddenly. The boy wanted very much to go homeward. At length he ceased struggling and became motionless. "My child, it is I. You and your younger brother are near relations to each other. When your mother was pregnant with you, Two-faces killed her, and both of you grew up very poor," said he. "O father and younger brother, make a small bow for me. We must shoot at birds regularly," said the elder brother. They used to go to shoot at birds. "Beware lest you and your younger brother go thither to the spring in that unseen place," said the father. After he left, the elder brother said, "Younger brother, let us go to the spring of which your father told." "For shame! elder brother, my father commanded us not to go," said the younger. "Then hand the hair back to me," said the elder brother. "Let us see!" said the younger. Both went to the spring. Behold, the snakes were shaking their rattles just in this manner, at the spring. "Younger brother, we have found many pretty pets. Younger brother, let us take them homeward," said the elder brother. Having cut off the tails and wrapped them up, they took them homeward. When they reached home, they tied the tails around the door. The father reached home, bringing a deer. When he laid down the deer at the door on reaching home, there was a slight rattling. "You have done very wrong. Go and take the tails back to the snakes," said he. At length they went to take them back. On their arrival, they thrust each tail on its own snake. When the father went hunting again, he said, "Beware lest you go to the deep ravine." "Younger brother, let us go to the gorge of which your father told," said the elder brother. "For shame! elder brother, my father commanded us not to go," said the younger brother. "Then hand the hair back to me," said the elder brother. "Let us see!" said the younger brother. Both went to the gorge. Behold, a very old woman was sitting there, making pottery. "Younger brother, this one who is sitting is your grandmother. Grandmother, we have come for you," said he. "Though I have been sitting thus for many years, grandchild, who can pull me out of this to which I am sticking? If I stick to you when you carry me, in that way will I always stick to you," said the old woman. "Come, carry your grandmother. As your father causes us to take care of the lodge, let us sit with your grandmother. Break some of the kettles," said the elder brother. The younger brother broke in many. At length he went homeward, carrying her to the lodge. "Come, grandmother, get off," he said. "No, grandchild, I always stick in the way that I stick," she said. "Tickle your grandmother in the ribs," said the elder brother. Notwithstanding he tickled her in the ribs, she continued sitting. "Hit her on the hip-bone with the stone-hammer," said the elder brother. Having hit her on the lower part of the back, he made her fall off suddenly. At length the father reached home. "O father, we carried my grandmother, and brought her home," said the younger brother. "Really! you have done very wrong. Go, and put your grandmother down." They went, carrying her. They took her again to the gorge whence they had brought her. "Come, grandmother, get off," said the younger brother. "No, grandchild, I always stick in the way that I stick," said the old woman. At length, having hit her on the lower part of the back, he made her fall off suddenly. They reached home again. The father said, "A tree stands on the headland of the high bluffs. Beware lest you go thither." And he .

went hunting. "Younger brother, let us go to the tree of which your father told," said the elder brother. "Why! elder brother, he commanded us not to go," said the younger. "Then hand the hair back to me," said the elder brother. "Let us see! Let us go," said the younger brother. Behold, young Thunder-birds sat hatching in the nest in the tree. They were four. "O younger brother, I have found these few pet animals. We will take the pet animals home to your father. Go and climb after them," said the elder brother. "I am unwilling, elder brother. Do you go," said the younger. "Come, I will go for them," said the elder brother. He went climbing. He arrived there above. "Younger brother, these pet animals are very pretty. When I throw them down to you, kill them. You who are that, what is your name?" said he. "Ji-nʘia^{ba} is my name," said the young Thunder-bird. "Ho! younger brother, Ji-nʘia^{ba} goes to you. Look after him," said he. When he threw him down, the younger brother stunned him. "You who are that, what is your name?" said the elder brother. "ʘigʘize-ma^{ʘi} is my name," said he. "Ho! younger brother, ʘigʘize-ma^{ʘi} goes to you. Look after him," said he. When he threw him down, the younger brother stunned him. "And you who are that, what is your name?" said he. "ʘia^{ba} tigʘe is my name," said he. "Ho! younger brother, ʘia^{ba} tigʘe goes to you. Look after him," said he. When he threw him down, the younger brother stunned him. "And you who are that, what is your name?" said he. "Zi-gʘi^{he} is my name," said he. "Ho! younger brother, Zi-gʘi^{he} goes to you. Look after him," said he. When he threw him down, the younger brother knocked him senseless. When he hit at them, he missed killing them. And the tree shot up very high, very far away from the ground. "O! younger brother, do make an effort to rescue me," said the elder, calling from the distance in a loud voice. "O! elder brother," said he, standing crying, with tears in his eyes. "O! younger brother, do make an effort," said the elder. At length the younger brother came to himself. When he struck the tree with the store hammer, he sang, "This tree shortens of its own accord, shortens of its own accord." It became shorter. "Do make an effort, younger brother," said the elder. It was so again. When he said, "This tree shortens of its own accord, shortens of its own accord," behold, the tree became so. When the fourth time came, the tree was as before; it stood as tall as it had been before the accident. "Younger brother, that will do," said he. Having taken the young Thunder-birds, they carried them homeward. They reached home with them. Having placed them inside the lodge, there were frequent flashes in there. Both boys sat laughing. "Elder brother, when my father comes home, he cannot love them only a little," said the younger. The father reached home. When he pulled up the door-flap, there were frequent flashes. "You have done very wrong indeed. Carry them thither," said he. When they arrived there with them, they placed them in the nest again. The boys reached home. "Do you and your younger brother beware lest you go to the big lake whose shore is filled with canes," said the father. The father went hunting. "Younger brother, let us go to the big lake to which your father commanded us not to go," said the elder brother. "Pie! elder brother, my father commanded us not to go," said he. "Then hand my hair back to me," said the elder brother. "Let us see! Let us go," said the younger brother. They went thither. When they arrived there, behold, the sandy beach lay very level by the water. Four-footed reptiles were there, moving while standing very thick. "Younger brother, we have found very pretty pet animals," said the elder. Both brothers having tied their tails, and having made them into packs, they carried just that many homeward. They got home to the lodge with them. The lizards walked about by the door and sides of the lodge. And when the boys walked as they played, and their feet trod on the tails of the lizards, they made them cry out. The father came home bringing a deer; he was coming from a place near by. When he threw it down by the door, and it pressed down on the door, they were crying out in a long line. "It is very bad. From whatever place you have brought them, take them thither," said he. They went with them. Having gone with them, in spite of their desire to keep them, they threw them suddenly into the lake where they belonged. They reached home.

THE BROTHERS, THE SISTER, AND THE RED BIRD.

TOLD BY JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE.

Ukikiji dubá-biamá. Enáqtei ígga-biamá. Iha' ían'ge eti wi' Brethren four they say. Only they dwell in a lodge. His mother his elder sister too one éingá-biamá. Égiçe íji'ée fábi' amá ábae aqá-biamá. Isan'ga aká they had none, they At length his elder three the hunting went, they say. His younger brother the (sub.)
 ífaja gáin' éinké amá Égiçe ja'jingga sí tē ínieéá-biamá. Kí ja'jingga 3 at the lodge was sitting they say. At length splinter foot the he hurt it they say. And splinter éionúda-bi ega' hí't'a' ubéta' nér daja íhééa-biamá. ja'jingga ínieéai pulled out, they having fine hair he wrapped by the wall he laid it, they say, splinter hurt by means of ké' íji'ée da'be wéga'fá-bi ega'. Égiçe íbízá-bi ega' ní agíáá-the his elder brother to see it wished them, they say having. At length thirsty, they being water went for, biamá nújingga aká. Kí íf tē kan'gēqtei akí-bi xí cin'gajin'ga wi' 6 they say boy the (sub.). And lodge the very near to he reached when child one xagé amá íf ma'ta'a. Agfá-bi xí ja'jingga ínieéai kééa' égiçe crying they say lodge inside. He went home-ward, they say while splinter hurt by the (in the past) behold é akáma cin'gajin'ga akáma. Ca' cí ubéta'-bi ega' nan'daja íhééa-that was it, they say child it was. Yet again wrapped up, having by the wall he laid it, biamá Akí-bi xí íji'ée fanká úwagiéá-biamá. Gan'ki, Jí'fáha, sí 9 they say. Reached home, when brother the ones who he told them they say. And, Elder brother, foot nia'fē teéa' ja'jingga a'fá'niééé ké' bēize édega' cin'gajin'ga ké' á-biamá.
 hurt me which splinter which hurt me I took but a child it lies, said he, they say.
 Híndá! kagé, éizá-gá. A'da'be tábacé, á-biamá. Kí éizá-bi xí égiçe Stop! younger brother, We see it must, said they. And he took it, when behold min'jingga ké amá Kagé, cin'gajin'ga ctéwa' waéin'gai éa'eti; úda'qtia' 12 a girl it lay they say. Younger child soever we had none formerly; very good ulíá'fē táí, á-biamá. Kí, Jí'fáha, e'áda'n'fē táí éda', á-biamá isan'ga let us bring it up, said they, they say. And, Elder brother, what shall we regard her? said, they say his younger brother

- aká. Kí wí^{n'} gá-biamá; Cín'gajín'ga aŋgúŋa tál, á-biamá. Kí, An'kaji há.
the And one said as follows, Ohlá our with, said he, they And, Not so (sub.), they say, say.
- Iaŋ'ge waŋín'gai. Iaŋ'gea^{n'} tál, á-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, á-bi ega^{n'}, waŋ'giŋeŋti Sister we have none. Let us have her for a sister, said they, they Yes, said, having, all say, they say
- 3 iaŋ'gea^{n'}-biamá. Gaŋ'ki ein'gajín'ga gaxá-bi ega^{n'} uhiŋŋe ga^{n'}á-bi ega^{n'} had her for a they say, And child made, they say being to rear her wished, they having sister (sub.)
- a^{n'}ŋeŋteí aŋi^{n'}-biamá. Kí wa'ú na^{n'} amá. Égiŋe dúbá waŋ'giŋe ábae very carefully had her, they say. And woman grown they say. At length four all hunting
- aŋi^{n'}-biamá. Wa'ú ŋínké e hna^{n'} ŋáji amá. Wa'ú ŋínké ŋa'ŋeŋti-hna^{n'} went, they say. Woman the one who she only went not, they say. Woman the (ob.) always very kind to her
- 6 biamá nú dúbá aká. Égiŋe níaci^{n'}ga wí^{n'} ŋí tē'di ahi-biamá. Ga^{n'} they say man four the (sub.). At length person one lodge at the arrived, they say. And
- wa'ú ŋínké júŋŋe aŋi^{n'}-biamá. Júŋŋe aŋi^{n'}-biamá ŋí égiŋe íŋnu amá woman the one who with her he went homeward, With her he went homeward, when behold her elder the (sub.) they say, they say brother
- waŋ'giŋe aŋi-biamá Égiŋe iaŋ'ge ŋínké ŋínŋe tē amá. Ugína-bi ŋí all reached home, Behold his sister the had disappeared they say. Ughna-bi ŋí own, they say
- 9 íŋiŋa-bají-biamá. Kí uŋtē amá ugíne aŋi-bi ŋí, jínŋá aká ugíne found not his own, they say. And the rest the (sub.) to seek went, they when, small the to seek (sub.) his own
- ahi-bi ŋíji ca^{n'} íŋiŋa-bají aŋi-biamá. Ca^{n'} na^{n'} aká ugíne aŋi-biamá arrived, when yet not finding his he reached home, to seek went, they say
- waŋ'giŋe. Égiŋe jima^{n'}te tē edáda^{n'} ugájidēŋtia^{n'} amá Edáda^{n'} éda^{n'}
all. At length in the lodge the what shone very red through it, they say. What can it be?
- 12 eŋéŋa^{n'} éga^{n'} ugáŋi^{n'}-bi ŋí égiŋe waŋín'ga akáma. Ga^{n'} man'de ŋizá-bi thought he as he peeped, they when behold a bird it was, they say. And how took, they say
- ega^{n'} kida-biamá. Kí múŋna^{n'}-hna^{n'}-bi ega^{n'} ma^{n'} hégaŋiŋti aŋi^{n'}-bi having he shot at him, they And missed him regularly, they having arrow a very great number he had, they say
- éi^{n'}te ma^{n'} waŋ'giŋeŋti íkidá-biamá. Égiŋe ma^{n'} tē múŋŋá-bi ega^{n'} it may be arrow all shot at with, they say. At length arrow the expended by shooting, having they say
- 15 ma^{n'} wí^{n'}ŋiŋti waqúbe gáxai ŋizá-bi ega^{n'} íkidá-biamá. Íu-biamá ma^{n'} arrow one sacred thing made took it, they having he shot at with it, He wounded with, arrow they say, they say
- kē waqúbe kē; íu-biamá waŋín'ga ta^{n'}. Ga^{n'} waŋín'ga aká ma^{n'} kē the (ob.) sacred the (ob.), wounded with, bird the (ob.). And bird the (sub.) arrow the (ob.)
- uŋáha aŋi^{n'}-biamá. Gaŋ'ki nújínŋa aká, Wiji^{n'}ŋe aká ma^{n'} kē tēŋiŋe sticking to him went homeward, And boy the (sub.), My elder the (sub.) the arrow the (ob.) prizes his
- 18 ínahi^{n'} ŋa^{n'}ja uŋpáŋeŋŋe tá mínke áha^{n'}, eŋéŋa^{n'}-bi ega^{n'} uŋáha aŋi^{n'}-biamá.
truly though I lose it will I who I thought, they having following went, they say. him
- Kí égiŋe ta^{n'}waŋŋa^{n'} áhiŋiŋti wí^{n'} édediŋa^{n'} amá. Ga^{n'} é'di ahi-biamá
And at length village a great many one there it was, they say. And there arrived, they say
- nújínŋa aká. É'di ahi-bi ŋí níaci^{n'}ga amá íbaha^{n'}-biamá Cénujín'ga dúbá boy the (sub.), they say There he arrived, when people the (sub.) knew him, they say. Young man four
- 21 ukíŋiŋi biamá ŋa^{n'}eti jínŋá ŋínké tí áha^{n'}. Wakídepi úŋai ŋa^{n'}eti é wí^{n'} brethren they said heretofore small the one has told formerly that one about them

- tí, á-biamá. Kí níkagahi pínké uŕa ahí-biamá. Cénujín'ga dúbá ukíkijíhas said they, And chief the (ob.) to tell they arrived, Young man four brethren come, they say.
- biamá ɛa'eti jingá pínké tí ába. Wakídepi úɛai ɛa'eti é wi' tí, á they said formerly small the one has I Good marksman told formerly that one has said about them come, they
- biamá. Kí níkagahi úju aká, Wíjan'de j'ɛjín'ɛín gí-gá há, á-biamá. Ga' 3 they say. And chief prin- the My son-in-law having him he ye said he, they And cipal (sub.), for me coming back say.
- agíahí-bi ɛga' júgɛ akí-biamá níkagahi pínké'di. Ga', Jandéha, ɛɛpínké went for him, having with him they reached home, they say chief at the. And, Non-in-law, this one
they say
- mí'jínɡa pínké ɛagɛa' te há. Jí edábe wí'í to há, á-biamá. Ga', hau, girl the (ob.) you will marry Lodge also I give will said he, they After a well,
to you say, while,
- ja'-biamá. Mí'jínɡa ja'á'há-biamá nújínɡa aká. Kí nújínɡa aká 6 they lay down, they say Girl lay on they say boy the (sub.). And boy the (sub.)
- wa'ú wawɛmaxá-biamá. Wajín'ga edáda' ɛtɛtɛ ɛé the gɛɛ ɛta' baji á, woman questioned they say. Bird what soever this pass- going have you not ing homeward seen it
- á-biamá. A'ha', sídadi ha'ega'tɛɔ'qteí wajín'ga jide wí' the agɛí, ma' said he, they Yes, yesterday early in the morning bird red one passing had come arrow say. back,
- uáɛs'ín ɛaí hɛ, á-biamá. Ga', ɕíadi uɛɛna te há. Wígɛa' ɛa'ja wagáca' 9 sticking it went said she, they And, Your father you tell will I marry you though traveling to it say, him
- bɛɛé há. Agɛí tá núnke há. Ga' ɛa'-biamá nújínɡa aká. Jɛúdi pínké
I go I come will I who And went they say boy the (sub.). Her father the (ob.)
- uŕa-biamá. Dádihá, wagáca' ɛaí hɛ. Agɛí 'ɛai hɛ, á-biamá. Ga' told him, they say. O father, traveling he went To come he prom- said she, they And back see say.
- ɛa'-biamá nújínɡa. Égíɛ ta'waŕɛa' hɛgactɛwa'ji ɛdedíɛa' amá. É'di 12 went they say boy. At length village a very great many there it was they say. There
- ahí-biamá. Níaci'ga dúbá úɛai amá ɛa' wí' tí há, á-biamá. Kí níkagahi he arrived, they Person four whom they told about one has said they, they And chief say. come say.
- aká na'a'-biamá. Níkagahi ɛɛaká ɛtí ijan'ge pínké 'í-biamá há. Ta'wa' the heard it, they say. Chief this one too his daugh- the one he gave to him, Town (sub.) ter who they say
- na'ba átandaí ɛtɛwa' éga'-biamá ɛa'ja wa'ú ɛánkú waa'ɛa-hna' ɛa'- 15
two at what dis- soever it was so, they say though woman the ones he left turn requ- he went tance who who
- biamá há. Ijan'ge pínké ugíno-hna' ɛa'-biamá há. Neúɛica' íaŕgáqti they say. His younger the one seeking his regu- he went, they say Lake very large later who larly
- wí' wajín'ga jide ní ma'táha áíɛa-bitɛama. Ta'wa' wéduba ɛa' gaqú one bird red water beneath he had gone, they say. Town the fourth the aside from
- ɛa'-bi ɛí é'di ahí-biamá nújínɡa amá. Kí égíɛ ijan'ge aká ɛa'be atí- 18 he went, when there he arrived, they boy the And behold his sister the in sight came they say say (mv. sub.), (sub.)
- biamá. Jínuhá, ɛé í-á hɛ, á-biamá. Kí na'pe-hna'-biamá nújínɡa ní they say. Older brother, this be said she, they And feared it always they say boy water (way) coming say.
- kɛ. É'di ɛé amá ɛí ní aká akíɛahá-biamá. Égíɛ jijebe é te amá.
the There went they when water the separated they say. Behold door that it they (ob.) say (sub.) was say.

- Maⁿ'ta ahi-bi xi égiçe waqpáni-etēwaⁿ-báji aká, wa'ú egean'ge efaⁿ'ba.
 Inside they arrived, when behold they were not poor at all (the) woman her husband too.
 Edádaⁿ t'aⁿ'qti akáma. Gaⁿ' ian'ge pinké giāⁿ'be xi gíēqtiāⁿ-biamá.
 What they had plenty of, they say. And his sister the (ob.) saw his when he was very glad, they say.
 3 Kí ian'ge eti gíēqtiāⁿ-biamá. Iáhaⁿ aká eti gíēqtiāⁿ-biamá. Maⁿ'íui kéⁿ
 And his sister too was very glad they say. His sister's husband (sub.) the too was very glad they say. Arrow he had wounded him with ian'ge aká ubátiheçe akáma Čipí ihéča-bikéama. Égiçe xáci jin'ga his sister the (sub.) had hung it up, they say. Skillfully it had been laid up, At length some time little najiⁿ'i xi ijiⁿ'če čanká wagísičá-biamá. Hau! wihé, agčé kaⁿ'bča hā.
 he stood when his elder brother who he remembered them, they Ho! my sister, I go I wish 6 Čizinu awágisičé hā, á-biamá. Kí nú pinké utča-biamá wa'ú aká.
 Your elder brother I remember them said he, they say. And man the (ob.) she told him, they woman the (sub.)
 Čiáhaⁿ gčé 'čee hē, á-biamá. Gaⁿ' iáhaⁿ aká mandé jin'ga dúbá giáxa-
 Your wife's brother homeward of said she, they say. And his sister's the (sub.) boat small four made for him biamá, jingáqtei-hnaⁿ'i Jahaⁿ', gátē aoniⁿ' čagčé te hā, á-biamá Jahaⁿ', they say, very small only. Wife's brother, that (ob.) you will take homeward said he, they Wife's brother, 9 edádaⁿ ekaⁿ'ona xi, Wat'aⁿ' gaⁿ' kaⁿ'bča áhaⁿ, ečé-de gaⁿ' ní učá'aⁿ'he what you desire when, Goods of such a kind I desire you when and water you put it in te hā, á-biamá. Gaⁿ' agčá-biamá. Maⁿ'íui kečaⁿ' eti agčáčiⁿ agčáwill said he, they And he went homeward, Arrow wounded the one too having his he went homeward biamá, mandé jin'ga ačiⁿ'-bi egaⁿ'. Agčá-biamá ki égiçe íf háci ífi they say, boat small had, they having. He went homeward, when at length lodge last village 12 čan'di aki-biamá. Gaⁿ' mandé ké wiⁿ' watečeka wiⁿ' é'di kéiⁿ'te ní at the (ob.) he reached home, they say. And boat the (ob.) one creek one there it lay, water perhaps u'aⁿ'ha-biamá mandé ké. Mandé ké ní u'aⁿ'ha-bi xi, edádaⁿ wat'aⁿ' he put it in, they say boat the (ob.) the water he put it in, they when, what goods ájičaⁿ'čaⁿ mandé ké ugpiqtiāⁿ amá; mandé ké jaŋgáqti gaxá-biamá.
 different kinds boat the (ob.) very full of they say; boat the (ob.) very large made it they say.
 15 Gaⁿ' čictaⁿ'-bi xi gaⁿ'ki ífi čan'di agčá-biamá. Wa'ú pinké'di aki-biamá
 And he finished, when and village to the he went homeward, they say. Woman to the he reached home, they say.
 Gaⁿ' gá-biamá: Wiáhaⁿ mandé gátēdi abčiⁿ' agčí. Inc'áge égiāčé tai,
 And he said as follows, My sister's husband boat in that place I had it I have come. Old man let them go after it for him.
 á-biamá Gaⁿ' agíahí-bi egaⁿ' ačiⁿ' aki-biamá. Gaⁿ' iŋgaⁿ pinké mandé said he, they And arrived there for having having they reached home, And his wife's the one boat 18 ačiⁿ'-biamá, wat'aⁿ' ugpiqti ačiⁿ'-biamá iŋgaⁿ aká. Gaⁿ' haⁿ' xi jaⁿ'- had they say, goods very full of had it they say his wife's the (sub.) And night when they lay down biamá. Jaⁿ'-bi xi gá-biamá nú aká: Gasáni čici'é awágiāⁿ'be kaⁿ'bčegaⁿ they say. They lay when said as follows, man the To-morrow your hus- I see them my I wish so agčé tá minke, á-biamá. Kí wa'ú aká gá-biamá: Dádihá, agčé 'čpai hē, I go will I who, said he, they And woman the (sub.) said as follows, O father, going he speaks homeward say. they say: they say: homeward of á-biamá Iji'ŋe wáŋiŋa'be 'ŋeai éga' agŋé 'ŋeai hē, á-biamá. Ga', Nú said she, they his elder to see them his he speaks as going he speaks said she, they And, Man say. brother own of homeward of say.

 áŋixai ɣi wíuŋe-ona'í hā. Uŋúha-gā, á-biama níŋagahi aká. Ga' wa'ú they when they always follow Uŋúha-gā, said, they say chief the And woman marry them
 aká júŋŋe agŋá-biamá nú ɣi. Kí hebádi aki-ja'-bi ɣi nú eonáŋtei ja'- 3 the with him went homeward, man the And on the way reaching again, when man alone lay (sub.) (sub.) they say (mv. ob.) they say they lay down, they say biamá, wa'ú aká cti eonáŋtei ja'-biamá. Ja' a'ha-báji-hna'-biamá.
 they say, woman the too alone lay they say. He did not lie on her at all they say.

(The rest of the myth was obtained from Frank La Flèche.)

Kí wa'ú aká, Eáta' éda', eŋéga'-biamá hā. Éŋiŋe iji'ŋe wáŋiŋi
 And woman the Why is it? thought they say Behold his elder he was say-(sub.) (sub.) ing her akúma hā. Éga'-hna'-bi ɣi ta' wáŋŋa' wéduba ɣan'di aki-bi ɣi, níŋagahi 6 for him, So regu they when village the fourth at the he arrived when, chief they say larly say again, they say ijan'ge ɣiŋké gŋá'-biamá hā, na' wa'zi-áji amá ga', qŋáŋŋeŋa'-biamá his daugh- the one he married her, they she was not jealous they say as, he also loved her they say ter who say ga'. Wa'ú ucté aká na' wa'zi-hna'-biamá hā. Akí-bi ɣi wa'ú ucté as. Woman the rest they were all jealous they say He reached when woman the rest
 home, they say ɣan'ká iji'ŋe wáŋiŋi-biamá hā, Áda' wáŋŋiŋe mi'ŋá'-biamá hā. Ceta' hā. 9 those who his elder he gave them to his, There- all took wives they say So far brother they say fore

NOTES.

Another version of part of this myth, given by F. La Flèche, is as follows: When his brothers reached home he told them what had happened. But they ridiculed his story as an impossibility. When he unwrapped the bundle, they exclaimed: "Brother, you spoke the truth. It is indeed an infant. She will grow up and be our sister. She can then keep the lodge for us." She was not long in reaching womanhood, although, when found she was tiny, just the size of the splinter. When she was grown a red bird came to see her. It was not a real bird, but a man who took the form of a bird. One day, when the brothers were absent, the red bird carried her away. When the brothers returned, lo! their sister was missing. So they started in search of her. In the mean time, the red bird flew back to the lodge, his intention being to lead them to the place whither he had taken the girl. When he reached the lodge, the younger brother was there. As soon as he spied the bird, he tried to shoot him. But though he emptied his quiver, he could not hit the bird. At last he made a sacred arrow, which he shot at the bird, wounding him. But the bird flew off with the arrow sticking to him. The young man followed the bird.

Cénujín'ga dūba níŋaci'ga bŋúga waná'a'-biamá ŋeai tē. Kí ɣé nújín'ga ɣi' ŋ'di
 Young man four people all heard their, they say the report And this boy the there about them, moving one hí ɣi fbaŋa'-biamá. Gá-biamá, níŋaci'ga dūba ŋeai amá ɣa' wi' tí amá hā, á-biamá.
 ar. when they knew him, Said as follows, person four the, of whom it is one has they said they,
 rived they say. they say, reported, they say come say they say.
 All people had heard of the four young men by report. And when the boy reached there, they knew him. They said as follows: "One of the four persons, who, as they say are famous, has come hither, it is said."

219, 10. ciŋgajiŋga ke. Here "ke" denotes the horizontal attitude of the infant.

220, 11. ugajideqtiā, from ugajide. Jide means "red;" u-, "in," and ga- implies the effect of striking, falling, of the wind blowing or of light shining through a red medium, as through colored water in the window of a drug store.

220, 13. hégajiqti, pronounced he+gajiqti.

220, 21. úfai ʔa^uetl: "They used to be famous (but they are not so now)"; but úfai ama ʔa^u refers to a class: "They who are famous, it is said." See last line of p. 223.

222, 11. ʔi haci ʔii ʔandi. In going to the lake, his last stopping-place was the fourth village. On his return homeward, it was the first place which he reached. As he had a wife at the lodge, and as the lodge had been given him, he could call it his home.

222, 16. wijaha^a mandé gatédi abʔei^a agʔi. This is an elliptical expression. It should read, wijaha^a aka mandé a^uji kē gatédi abʔei^u agʔi, I have brought back to that place out of sight (that is, to the creek) the boats which my sister's husband gave to me.

222, 19. ka^ubʔéga^a, a contraction here of ka^ubʔa and éga^a.

223, 3. hebádi aki-ja^a. Hebadi shows that they had gone but part of the way home; and aki-ja^a, means "they lay down, having gone that far on their way home."

TRANSLATION.

There were four brothers who dwelt by themselves. They had neither mother nor sister. One day three of them went hunting, and the youngest one remained at the lodge. He chanced to hurt his foot with a splinter. Having pulled out the splinter, he wrapped it up in some fine buffalo hair, and placed it at the side of the lodge. He wished his elder brothers to see the splinter that had caused him pain. By and by the boy went for water, as he was thirsty. And when he had come very near to the lodge again, a child was crying inside the lodge. While he went homeward, behold, it was the splinter which had hurt him; it had become a child. And having wrapped it up again, he laid it at the side of the lodge. When his elder brothers reached home, he told them. "Elder brothers, my foot was hurt, and I took the splinter which hurt me; but it is an infant." Said they, "Stop! Younger brother, get it and show it to us. We must see it." And when he got it, behold, it was a girl. "Younger brother, heretofore we have had no children. Let us bring her up very well," said they. And the younger brother said, "Elder brothers, what relation shall we consider her?" And one said, "Let her be our child." And they said, "No. We have no sister. Let us have her for a sister." Having said, "Yes," all had her for a sister. And as she was an infant, and they wished to bring her up, they took very great care of her. And she became a grown woman. At length all four went hunting. The woman alone did not go. The four men were always very kind to the woman. At length a man arrived at the lodge. And he went homeward with the woman. When he went homeward with her, behold, all of her elder brothers reached home. Behold, their sister had disappeared. When they searched for her, they did not find her. And when the rest went to hunt for her, the youngest brother had been to hunt for her, but he reached home without finding her. Then all the grown ones went to search for her. (That is, the youngest brother went first, alone; but he could not find her. After his return, the three grown brothers went for the same purpose, leaving him at the lodge.) At length something very red was shining through the lodge from the inside. When he peeped in, after thinking, "What can it be?" behold, it was a bird. And seizing a bow he shot at him. And he missed him every time, till he had shot at him with all the arrows, though he had a great many of them. He shot away all the arrows but one, which had been made sacred; and finally he shot with it. He wounded him with the sacred arrow; with it he wounded the bird that stood. And the bird went homeward with the arrow sticking to him. And the youth went following him, having thought, "Though my elder brothers prize the arrow very highly, I shall lose it." And there was a very populous village. And the youth arrived there. When he reached there, the people recognized him. "The youngest of the four young men who are said to be brothers, has come! One of those who were indeed famous marksmen has come," said they. And they went to tell it to the chief. "The youngest of the four young men who are said to be brothers, has come! One of those who were indeed famous marksmen has come," said they. And the head-chief said, "Bring ye my daughter's husband to me." And having gone thither for him, they returned with him to the chief. And the chief said, "My daughter's husband, you will marry this girl. And I will also give you a lodge." Well, after a while, they lay down. The youth lay with the girl. And the youth questioned her. "Have you not seen some kind of bird passing here on its way home?" said he. "Yes," said she; "very early yesterday morning a red bird passed by on its return, and it went with an arrow sticking to it." And he said, "You can tell your father that, though I have taken you as my wife, I go traveling. I will come back." And the youth departed. She told it to her father. "O father, he has gone traveling. He has promised to return," she said. And the youth went on. And there was a very large village. He arrived there. "One of the four men who are famous has come," they said. And the chief heard it. This chief, too, gave him a daughter for a wife; and so did the chiefs of two other villages. But he left his wives, and continued the search for his sister and the red bird. After leaving the fourth village, he came to a great lake. The red bird had gone into the water of a very large lake. The boy went thither. And behold, his sister came in sight (i. e., she came up out of the water). "O elder brother, come this way," said she. But the youth continued to fear the water. As he went thither, the water separated, leaving a passage between. And that served as an entrance. When they arrived inside, behold, the woman and her husband were far from being poor. They had a great abundance of possessions. And the youth was very glad to see his sister. And his sister too was very glad. His sister's husband, too, was very glad. His sister had hung up the arrow with which he had wounded the red bird, who was her husband. It had been well placed in a horizontal position, in which it still remained. And when he had been there a little while, he remembered his elder brothers. Said he, "Well, my little sister, I wish to go homeward. I remember your elder brothers." And the woman told her husband. "Your wife's brother speaks of going homeward," said he. And his sister's husband made him four small boats, each one very small (i. e., about six inches in length). "Wife's brother, you shall take those things homeward with you. Wife's brother, when you desire anything, after you say, 'Such and such goods I wish!' put a boat into the water," said he. And the young man went homeward. Having had the small boats, he also took homeward his arrow with which he had wounded the red bird. When he went homeward, he reached at length his lodge in the last village. And he put one boat in the water of a creek that was there. When he put the boat in the water, the boat was very full of different kinds of goods; the boat was made very large. And when he

- Miⁿxa-jin'ga dahi kē ápaⁿ-biamá. Níkueiⁿga naⁿba, edéce fáfiⁿcé á, á-biamá Duck neck the he held them, they say. Person two, what are you saying I said, they say as you move
- Háxige aká. Aⁿhaⁿ, jiⁿfécha, égaⁿ, á-biamá Jiⁿfécha, fubéa te, ehé áfiⁿhé Haxigo the Yes, elder brother, so, said he, they Elder brother, I tell the will, I have been say-(sub.). say. ing
- 3 ápa, á-biamá. Jiⁿfécha, aⁿwaⁿféqéqéⁿgan-gā. Uféwibá te, ehé áfiⁿhé ápa, indeed, said he, they Elder brother, do loosen your hold on me. I tell you of will, I have been indeed,
say. your saying
- á-biamá. Jiⁿfécha, majáⁿ gráfuha maⁿá maⁿciadiⁿqti fáⁿfanⁿdi fisanⁿga éⁿdi said he, they Elder brother, land in that direc- cliff very high by a succe- your younger there
say. tion sion of brother
- afiⁿ akí, á-biamá. Miⁿxa-jin'ga áma finké fibeáúbenzá-bi egaⁿ aⁿfa féfahaving reached said he, they Duck the other (ob.) pulled and tore to having throw away sudhim home, say. pieces, they say denly
- 6 biamá. Imaxá-biamá: 'Aⁿ xi épaⁿbaí á, á-biamá. Miⁿchumaⁿci eúdemahaⁿ they say. He asked they say: How when they emerge I said he, they Noon fog
say.
- ugát'iⁿze mactéⁿqti xi tshúqfabe náúndingífe jaⁿ-hnaⁿ, á-biamá. Aⁿba blows thick very warm when trips to stiffen their own they regularly, said he, they Day (see note) by heat lie
- té égaⁿ, á-biamá.
the so, said he, they
say.
- 9 Gan'ki qifá gáxe afá-biamá. Égífe tshúqfabe maⁿafa jaⁿ-biamá.
And eagle made he went, they say. At length trips on the back lay they say.
- Ejáta wénaxífa agí-biamá. Háxige amá ca-í, á-biamá. Wáfi'a. Jimaⁿte Thence to attack them he was returning, they say. Haxigo the is com- was said, they He failed Within the (sub.). ing to you, say. with them. lodge
- ákiágfa-biamá. Agá-biamá ci Háxige amá. Akí-bi egaⁿ, Eáta ámaⁿ xi they had gone again, Went homeward, again Haxigo the Reached home, having, How I do it
they say. they say. (sub.). they say
- 12 égaⁿ-ewé'aⁿ etédaⁿ? efégaⁿ-biamá. Hau, ci afá-biamá aⁿba tégaⁿ gaⁿ.
so I do to them apt I thought he, they say. Well, again he went, they say day the, like it so.
- Maⁿciabáqti ahi-bi xi, ci jaⁿ'abe gaxá-biamá. Ejáta jaⁿ'abe gáxe té ci Very far on high he arrived, when, again leaf made they say. Thence leaf made the again
they say
- wénaxífa agí-biamá. Háxige amá ca-í, á-biamá. Ci wénaxífa wáfi'a, ci to attack them he was returning, Haxigo the is com- was said, they Again to attack them he failed, again they say. (sub.). ing to you, say.
- 15 jimaⁿte ákiágfa-biamá. Ci wáfi'a gfé amá Háxige amá. Ci aⁿba tégaⁿ within the they had gone back, Again failed went they Haxigo the Again day like the lodge they say. homeward say (sub.).
- amá. Gan'ki wajin'ga-wafize nañ'ka ú-ma faⁿ é wíⁿ gaxá-biamá. Ejátaⁿ they say. And chicken-hawk back the blue the that one he made they say. Thence (sub.). once (clase)
- wajin'ga-wafize nañ'ka ú-ma égaⁿ gáxe ci wénaxífa agí-biamá. Háxige chicken-hawk back the blue so made again to attack them he was returning, Haxigo once they say.
- 18 amá ca-í, á-biamá. Ci wénaxífa wáfi'a. Ci jimaⁿte ákiágfa-biamá. Ci the is coming was said, they Again to attack them he failed. Again within the they had gone back, Again (sub.). to you, say. lodge they say.
- wáfi'a gfé amá Háxige amá. Égífe wéduba jaⁿ édihi xi wé's'n-nídeka failed went they Haxigo the At length the fourth sleep reached when grass-snake (sub.). there

- gaxá-biamá. Qáde kē maⁿ/tíhē'qti aqá-biamá. Ma^a kē éhēⁿbe aht-bi xī he made, they say. Grass the passing far under he went, they say. Cliff the in sight he arrived, when they say
- égiqē tēhúqabe nádníngíqē maⁿ/aqa jaⁿ'-biamá. Man^{'de} kē gēíza-biamá.
behold trip to stiffen their own on the back they lay, they say. Bow the he took his, they say
- Maⁿ-ftaxe-jaⁿ/ka ugáⁿ-bi egaⁿ gasnín'dēqti ídaⁿbēqti qēqá-biamá, naⁿ'ba 3
Arrow end forked sit in, they having slipped far when hit right in the middle he sent it forcibly, two
- t'éwaqá-biamá. Aⁿ! ígat'aⁿ'qti ímaⁿ'te kíqē amá. Agqá-biamá Haxige it killed them they say. Ah! grunting very within the they had they say. Went homeward, Haxige they say
- amá. Akí-biamá. Gíqēqtiⁿ-biamá. Égaⁿ-ewé'aⁿ, á-biamá. Haⁿ'egaⁿ'tce the (sub.). He reached home, they say. Very glad they say. So I have done said he, they say. Morning
- xī 'ábae aqá-biamá Haxige amá. Agf-bi xī égiqē níaciⁿga ujaⁿ'gē kē 6 when hunting went they say Haxige the (sub.). He was com- when behold person road the (ob.)
- áqíja qē te amá. Cí haⁿ'egaⁿ'tce xī cí 'ábae aqá-biamá. Cí agf-bi xī cutting across had gone, they say. Again morning when again hunting he went, they say. Again he was when coming home, they say
- égiqē níaciⁿga ujaⁿ'gē kē áqíja qē te amá. Cí haⁿ'egaⁿ'tce xī cí 'ábae behold person road the cutting had gone, they say. Again morning when again hunting
- aqá-biamá. Cí agf-bi xī égiqē níaciⁿga ujaⁿ'gē kē áqíja qē te amá. Wé 9 he went, they say. Again he was when behold person road the cutting had gone, they say. The
- dubaⁿ tēdhi xī bispé jaⁿ'-biamá Haxige aká. Égiqē í qíⁿ égaⁿ gēadiⁿ fourth arrived at when crouch- ing lay they say Haxige the (sub.). Behold, com- ing one who across
- jaⁿ'-biamá Haxige aká. Qutíqti xī najiⁿ' átiáqá-biamá. Huhu'á! í'e'áge lay they say Haxige the (sub.). He had come when stood he started up suddenly, they say. Really! old man
- 'aⁿ maⁿqíⁿ' égaⁿ áhaⁿ, á-biamá, íkítá-bi egaⁿ'. Aⁿ'haⁿ, égaⁿqti áqá, á-biamá. 12 what walks like lá I said he, they cheated him, having. Yes, just so indeed, said he, they say
- É cetaⁿ'qti qaná'aⁿji íqtaⁿ qáqíⁿcé á, á-biamá. Tēná! í'e'áge, 'aⁿ ínté
That so very far you have not heard how pos- sible you who I said he, they say. Why! old man, whatever may be the matter
- dádaⁿ ctēwaⁿ' aná'aⁿ-máji maⁿbēiⁿ' áqíⁿhé, á-biamá Haxige aká. Aⁿ'haⁿ, what soever I heard not I was walking said, they say Haxige the (sub.). Yes,
- Haxige amá isaⁿ'ga t'ékíqai tē Wakan'dagi ciéwasáⁿ gíqabí'qti qanáká naⁿ'ba 15
Haxige the his younger killed for when Water-monster most dearly beloved children the cause two
- t'éwaqá. Zéawaqē pí átaⁿhé, á-biamá. Huhu'á! í'e'áge, égaⁿ í'té aná'aⁿ he killed them. I powwow over them I am about to go thither, said he, they say. Really! old man, so it may be I hear
- ctēwaⁿ-máji áqíⁿhé, á-biamá. Huhu'á! í'e'áge, wazéqē tē'di áqí'dánaⁿ gaⁿ'- in the least I not I who said he, they say. Really! old man, to powwow when to gaze on his always
- qáqti-hnaⁿ éiⁿte, á-biamá Haxige aká. Aⁿ'haⁿ, égaⁿ, á-biamá Hēga aká. 18 very desirable it may be, said, they say Haxige the (sub.). Yes, so, said, they say Buzzard the (sub.).

230 THE ØEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- Ábanaⁿ aⁿfiⁿg'gēti-hnaⁿ-maⁿ hā, á-biamá. Huhu'á! iⁿc'áge, áwigiⁿdánaⁿ
To gaze on it I never have any one at all said he, they Really! old man, I gaze on you, my say. relation
- téⁿte. Wí eti 'ábae maⁿbēiⁿ, á-biamá Haxige aká. Hau! iⁿc'áge, ípigeⁿ may. I too hunting I walk, said, they say Haxige the Ho! old man, try it for (sub.).
- 3 gaskaⁿ'fa-gā. Áwigiⁿdánaⁿ bēfetaⁿ xī oné te hā, á-biamá, Aⁿ'haⁿ, égaⁿ hā, yourself. I gaze on you, my I finish when you go will said he, they Yes, so own say.
- á-biamá. Aⁿ'epanaⁿ' te, á-biamá. Caⁿ, iⁿc'áge, úekaⁿ dádaⁿ 'aⁿ' ekáxe té said he, they You gaze on me will, said he, they Yet, old man, deed what how you do it the
say. say.
- béúgaⁿti winá'aⁿ te, á-biamá Haxige aká, gaetan'ka-bi égaⁿ. Aⁿ'epanaⁿ' every one I hear it will, said, they say Haxige the tempted him, they having. You gaze on (sub.), say me
- 6 taté, á-biamá Héga aká. Wa'aⁿ' té gi'aⁿ'-bi égaⁿ watefagaxá-biamá:
shall said, they say Buzzard the (sub.), Song the sung his, they having he danced they say:
surely, say
-
- Hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke hé-ke tá-ko, Hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke hé-ke tá-ko, á-biamá. Hau! iⁿc'áge, égaⁿ'qti-hnaⁿ éiⁿte iⁿ'fiⁿ'waⁿ'kaⁿ'pi ínahiⁿ, iⁿc'áge, said he, they Ho! old man, always just so if it be it looks nice to me truly, old man,
say.
- 9 á-biamá. Gaⁿ'ki, iⁿc'áge, 'aⁿ'-hnaⁿ ájaⁿ té bēúgaⁿti wiginaⁿ'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa, said he, they And, Old man, how regularly you do it the all I hear from you I wish,
say.
- á-biamá Haxige aká. Fé pí xī níafé te, ehé, á-biamá. Baxú dūba wéduba said, they say Haxige the This I when I will heal it, I said, said he, they Peak four the fourth (sub.), time arrive say.
- gáké é'di pí xī an'gi-hnaⁿ-atí, á-biamá. Wéduba égaⁿ'be pí xī anaⁿ'te that there I when they come regularly said he, they The fourth in sight I when I dance
(fig. one) arrive for me, say arrive
- 12 anájiⁿ xī an'gi-hnaⁿ-atí, á-biamá. Waiiⁿ ugfaⁿ' gahá aⁿ'fiⁿ fé-hnaⁿ'i. Fé
I stand when they always come said he, they Robe they put on it having they always This for me, say in it me go. (time)
- pí xīji, Ní nákaⁿde najiⁿ' te hā, ehé. Maⁿ'ze naⁿ'ba nájide ihéafé xī úi
I ar- if, Water hot please let it I say. Iron too red hot I place when wounds rive stand
- té ídistásta xī, ní'ja té, á-biamá. Fábfiⁿ'aⁿ'-qtiegaⁿ watefagaxekiá-biamá.
the I press against it, alive will said he, they About three times he made him dance they say.
repeatedly be, say
- 15 Ckaⁿ' maⁿ'fiⁿ' té bēúga fipí gaⁿ'fa gēiⁿ'-bi égaⁿ. Wédubaⁿ' té'díhi naⁿ'té Manner walking the all to do wishing said, they say having. The fourth time at it arrived dancing will
- naⁿ'etaⁿ'-biamá. Hau! caⁿ' hā. Aⁿ'epanaⁿ' íeibēaⁿ'qti éjaⁿ'miⁿ', á-biamá he stopped, they say. Ho! enough You gaze on me you have had I suspect, said, they say your fill
- Héga aká. Aⁿ'haⁿ, iⁿc'áge, caⁿ' hā, á-biamá. 'Aⁿ'-macé' ctēwaⁿ' Haxige Buzzard the (sub.), Yes, old man, enough said he, they What sort of person are you Haxige
say.
- 18 hnájingaf á, á-bi égaⁿ' gaqíxa-biamá, t'éfa-biamá. Caⁿ' wáfaha bēúgaⁿti you think little I said, they having he hit and broke in he killed him, they And clothing all of him say (the skull), they say, say.
- fizá-bi égaⁿ' áfaha-biamá. Féxe eti áigáfa maⁿ'fiⁿ'-biamá. Úekaⁿ' ípigeⁿ-took, they having he put it on, they say. Gourd too carrying on he walked they say. Deed he tried say the arm

gaskaⁿ ɸa-biamá. Bɛɸpi tɛábe áhaⁿ, eɸégaⁿ-biamá. Áɸá-bi egaⁿ baxú wé-for him-self they say. I do it very I thought he they say. Went, they having peak the duba ké ɸ'di ahi-biamá. Wateɸgaxá-biamá. Hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke hé-ke fourth there he arrived, they He danced they say.

tá-ko. Hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke he-ke tá-ko. Huhu'á! iⁿc'áge uɸúkaⁿpi inahiⁿ- 3 Really! old man nice-looking truly hnaⁿ édegaⁿ ábanaⁿ ɸiŋgé inahiⁿ áɸa, á-biamá. Huhú! iⁿc'áge, wazéɸé ɸiⁿ always but to gaze on had none truly indeed, said he, they Oh! old man, doctor the éɸaⁿbe tí, á! áɸa, á-biamá. Wagáɸɸaⁿ hnankáce, ké, agímaⁿɸiⁿi-gá, in sight has he indeed, said they, they Servants ye who, come, walk ye for him, á-biamá. Hau, agíɸá-biamá. É'di ahi-bi egaⁿ waiiⁿ ɸaⁿ gíɸibɸá-biamá. 6 said he, they Well, they went for him, There arrived, having robe the they spread out for him, they say.

Ugáⁿ ɸiⁿi-bi egaⁿ gahá aɸiⁿ aɸá-biamá wagáɸɸaⁿ amá. Lijébe maⁿciásitting sat, they say having on it having went, they say servant the Door away ɸaha gíɸikaⁿi-gá, á-biamá. Lijébe ágaha ɸiciba-biamá. ɸiciba-bi ɸi éɸiɸe from make ye room for him, said they, they Door outer they pulled open, They pulled open, when behold maⁿtáa ijébeɸɸaⁿ gaxá-bitaⁿamá isan'ga ké há ké bɸúga ɸixába-bi egaⁿ. 9 underneath door-flap had been made they his younger the skin the they pulled open, when behold

Lijébe ukɸbaɸa naⁿté najiⁿ-biamá. Hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke hé-ke tá-ko. Hé-ke Door facing it dancing he stood, they say.

hé-ke tá-ko, á-biamá. Naⁿetaⁿ-bi egaⁿ ɸi uɸá-biamá. Isan'ga há ké uɸaⁿsaid he, they Stopped, they say having lodge he entered, they His brother skin the took biamá. Lijébeɸɸaⁿ ɸáza iɸéɸé taⁿ amá. Hé, wisaⁿjiⁿqtecié! á-biamá, jiji-bi 12 they say. Door-flap he pulled sud. as he they Alas, my dear little younger said he, they whispered, brother!

egaⁿ. Wagáɸɸaⁿ amá ubéniⁿ-biamá. Huhu'á! kagéha, iⁿc'áge edégaⁿ á, having. Servant the found him out, they say. Really! friend, old man what has he said jiji uká-biamá. Kagé, iⁿc'áge-hnaⁿ, Hé, wisaⁿjiⁿqtecié! é égaⁿ há, á-biamá.

whis- one talked with, Friend, old man only, Alas, my dear little younger said like it said he, they

Na! kagé, uɸáde ɸiŋgé inahiⁿ. Iⁿc'áge wazéɸé skéwaⁿqti tí-hnaⁿ ɸaⁿeti, 15
Feh! friend, cause for there is complaint none truly. Old man doctor for a very long has come heretofore, time regularly á-biamá. Hau! á-biamá. ɸé ɸi caⁿ te, ehé áɸa, á-biamá. Hau! wagáɸɸaⁿ said they, they Ho! said he, they This when enough will, I said indeed, said he, they Ho! servant hnankáce, néxe ɸaŋgáqti naⁿba ní ují aɸiⁿ gú-gá, á-biamá. Agíah-bi ye who are, kettle very large two water fill bring it back, said he, they Reached there for it, they say egaⁿ ɸiⁿ ahi-biamá. Ugácka-bi egaⁿ nákadéqti déde té'di ábixéqti 18 having carry- they reached Fastened the having very hot fire on the boiling hard najiⁿ-biamá. Máhiⁿ naⁿba ɸipá-iqti ihéɸni-gá. Maⁿze nájide ɸéké 'ú té they stood, they say. Knife two made very lay ye down. Iron red hot this wound the sharp ídistásta ɸi níⁿta taité, á-biamá. Hau! ké, iⁿɸikaⁿi-gá, á-biamá. Éɸiɸe

I press against when alive shall (pl.), said he, they Ho! come, get out of my way, said he, they Beware

232 THE CEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- ákaha u'ágas'i'n'á'í tai há. Égiçe éin'fa éé tai, á-biamá. Baxú duóa close at hand you peep in repeatedly least Beware leaving you go lost, said he, they Peak four
- é'fa'be at-hua'-ma' xihá guáçica'ia ma'ei'n'i-gá b'fúga, á-biamá. U'í u'í in sight I come regularly downward to the other side of walk ye all, said he, they hold
- 3 éanká wañ'giçeqti a'fa'-biamá. I'fa'-bi ega' éi'úda-biamá. Ní tē ábixçeqti the ones all went, they say. Had gone since they left him solitary, Water the boiling hard
- naji' amá. Hau! sakíba ga'qti ja'í-gá. Ma'ze nájidçeqti 'ú tē u'çtúwíçáxa" stood they say. Ho! side by side just so lie ye. Iron very red hot wound the I push into you
- xl çani'ja taté. Égiçe çacka' te há. Çic gazlçti ja'í-gá, á-biamá. Éga" when you alive surely (be). Beware you stir lost side stretched lie ye, said he, they So
- 6 ja'í-bi ega' agçan'ka'ha' 'ú tē ubáxa' çéça-biamá. Teç! Cka'aji jan'gá lain, they having on both sides wound the pushed into he sent suddenly, (sound of the Still lie.
- Ha'! á-bi ega', akíça ná'ta-biamá. Máhi' ké çizá-bi ega' ús'u wáxa-Ahl! said, they having, both the heat killed, they say. Knife the took, they having strips he made them
- biamá. Máwaqa'-bi ega' ní tē ábive naji' tē u'í naji'-biamá. Nin'de they say. Cut them apart, they having water the boiling stood the filling he stood, they say Cooked
- 9 tē' etl gacbe itççé naji'-biamá.
the too out of piling it he stood, they say.
- Gáamá, Hau! i'e'áge wazéçé gatn'aji-hua' éa'etl. x'áçé héçgaji, Those not seen, Ho! old man doctor not so long regularly heretofore. A great while ago very,
- á-biamá. Wé's'a-nídeka, edéega' á amá éa'etl. A'ha', éçipe há.
said they, they say. Grass-snake, what were you he was saying heretofore. Yes, I said it.
- 12 Ljébe ubáha' a'çaf tē nijéberçan' u'çan'í tē'di, Hé, wisa'j'qteçé! é éçan'í há, Door side of went when door-lap took hold when, Also, my dear little younger said like it brother!
- a-biamá Wé's'a-nídeka. Wé's'a-nídeka, é'di çagçé te. Da'bá-gá, á-biamá.
said, they say Grass-snake. Grass-snake, there you go will. Look at him, said they, they say.
- Náda' ietá da tē júççé gáxa-gá. Çibçáçkaçteç-gá dá éa', á-biamá.
Extra (f) eye nose the with it make. Flatten and make very oval head the said they, they say.
- 15 Qáde ma'tihé ga' ma'ei'-biamá Wé's'a-nídeka. É'di aht-bi ega' xl tē Grass passing under so walked they say Grass-snake. There arrived, having lodge the (ob.)
- ukíba wi' é'di ugás'i'-biamá. I'fa-biamá Háxige aká. Gí-gál gí-gál gí-gál!
crack one there he peeped, they say. Detected him, Háxige the Come! come! come!
- á-biamá. Gíba'-bi ega' é'di agf-biamá. Wénandççíçá-gá, á-biamá said he, they say. Called to him, having there he was coming back, they say. Make yourself full of food, said, they say
- 18 Háxige aká. Gañ'ki ús'u çé'ta'qti núde ké ukíçatáçti u'ga'há-biamá.
Háxige the And strip just this long throat the sticking in very he put in for him, they
- Háxige é akédega' xáçiqti Wakan'dagi náçubewáçé, ecé of te, u'çá Háxige that the one, but very long ago Water-monster cooked them to you say you will, to tell
- mañççin'-gá, á-biamá. Wé's'a-nídeka aká u'çan' éé amá. Háxuxa! Háxuxa!
begone, said he, they say. Grass-snake the to tell went they say. Háxige! Háxige!

- hú ɸai'ɸi ɸé amá. Huhu'á! gáɸi' edéga' á, á-biamá. Égiɸe ɸutí amá, voice not sending was going. Really! that one what says I said they, they At length he had come far they say. ho say. directly to them,
they say.
- qáde ma'í'héqtei. Háxuxa! Háxuxa! á-biamá. Huhu'á! Háxige ɸé há, grass passing al. together Háxige! Háxige! said he, they Really! Háxige he says under it. say.
- á-biamá. Waci' hébe fu'n'ho-t'i' gɸizáí-gá, á-biamá. Huhu'á! ga'qti 3 said they, they Fat meat piece put in the ho take ye for him, said they, Really! just so say. month has they say.
- taté. Wacka'í-gá, á-biamá. Iénaxɸa agɸá-biamá. Kan'gəqti gɸí-bi shall Make ye an effort, said they, they To attack they went homeward, Kan'gəqti gɸí-bi (be). they say. him they say. Very close they came home, they
say.
- ɸi Háxige aká ɸu'ɸ agɸá-biamá. Isan'ga ta' áigigəɸa agɸá-biamá.
when Háxige (the) rushing went homeward, His brother the áigigəɸa agɸá-biamá.
say. (sub.) they say. his arm he went homeward
they say.
- Agɸá-bi te ga' iénaxɸa aɸá-biamá. Ca' edáda' wanɸa a' sagi-má bəɸga 6
He went when so to attack him they went, they Yet what animals the swift ones all homeward, they say.
- éga' gaxá-bi etəwn' úɸa-bajf-biamá. Edáda' baskɸé! Wacka' ega'í-gá.
like they made, they say notwith- they did not overtake What angry! Make an effort do ye.
standing them, they say.
- On'á etəga'í, á-biamá. Aɸi' aɸá-biamá. Égiɸe ma'á ɸahé ma'ciadi'qti
You fail are apt, said they, say Having they went, they At length cliff hill very high
they say.
- ɸəti' iɸa' ɸé tɸ'di qəbá ákiengəqti nihan'ga múbaju iɸa' Háxige (amá) gi- 9 conceive placed where tree standing very spring shot up suddenly and Háxige (the) near precipice thick frequently (sub.) near
- ɸáde aht-biamá. Wacka' ega'í-gá. ɸáɸuhəqtei aɸáqə-hna'í, á-biamá.
it again he arrived, they Make an effort do ye Very nearly you have overtaken said they,
say. they say.
- Égiɸe Háxige aká ma'ze-ma' gaxá-biamá. Ní égiɸ ákiəgə amá, Te'u! 1
At length Háxige (the) bullet he made, they say. Water right ho had gone they (sound of (sub.) he made, they say. into him, say, bull-t!)
- In'ə tígə ɸiɸáxa-biamá ní ma'táa. Ga' wawənaxɸa wáɸi'a agɸá-biamá. 12
Stone suddenly he made himself they say water beneath. And to attack they failed they went homeward, they say.
- Úɸa'í-biamá ɸa'ju in'ə sagi ɸiɸáxa-bi ega' ɸi'á agɸá-biamá. Ké, ca'-
They were taken though stone tight made himself, having falling they went home- Come, let hold of, they say they say ward, they say.
- aŋəxo taí. A'ɸi'ni áɸa, á-biamá.
us stop. We have indeed, said they,
fulled they say.
- Agɸá-biamá. Agɸá-biamá ɸi, gan'ki Háxige aká áci éɸa'be agɸi- 15
They went homeward, They went homeward, when, after a Háxige (the) out in sight come they say. they say while (f) say. (sub.) back
- biamá. Éɸa'be agɸi-bi ɸi isan'ga há ké áigigəɸa agɸá-biamá. Égiɸe they say. In sight he came when his brother skin the carrying on ho went homeward, At length back, they say (obj.) his arm they say.
- ɸi tɸ'ja aki-biamá. In'əngúde taté, kagé, á-biamá. In'ə gáɸa'ska dúbá lodge at the ho reached home. We enter a sweat- will younger said he, they four they say. lodge surely, brother, say.
- agɸá-biamá. ɸáɸəge ma'ciadi'qti i'ə ɸaŋgá-hna' wi' ɸizá-biamá. Hau! 18 he went for, they say. Headland very lofty stone large only one he took, they say. Ho!
- i'ə'age, awidi-atí wazə'ə tɸga', á-biamá. Ci wi' ɸizá-biamá. Hau!
old man, I have come for you powwow in order, said he, they Again one he took, they say. Ho!
you that say.

- i^c'áge, wazéaⁿ tégá, awídi-atí, á-biamá. Cí waiiⁿ ugéaⁿ-biamá. Cí old man, you powwow over in order I have come for said he, they Again robe he put in they say. Again me that, you, say.
- wiⁿ fízá-biamá xí, Hau! i^c'áge, níkaciⁿga híáákiⁿté tégá, awídi-atí há, one he took, they say when, Ho! old man, person you make him in order I have come bathe that, for you
- 3 á-biamá. Wédubaⁿ tédíhi, Hau! i^c'áge, níkaciⁿga wiⁿ bégúaqti fíhíhí said he, they The fourth time arrived at it, Ho! old man, person one all over to bathe by
say. say, means of you
- tégá awídi-atí há, á-biamá. Hau! i^c'áge, fíwíhíhí tégá awídi-atí áhí!
in order I have come for said he, they Ho! old man, I bathe by in order I have come indeed!
that you say. means of you that for you
- Wacige pláti bégúaqti gacibe i^c'éaⁿhna tégá awídi-atí áhí! Aⁿ'b ájéaⁿ-Affection had all out of you throw away in order I have come indeed! Day about (disease) say.
- 6 éaⁿ'qtiégaⁿ ééaⁿbe pí te áhí! Baxú dúbá, i^c'áge, ééaⁿbe pí te áhí!
different ones in sight I ar- may indeed! Peak four, old man, I ar- may indeed!
rive
- jíngá juáwagígé. Wakanⁿ'da janⁿ'ga agéanⁿ'kaⁿhaⁿ hnínkéce, wíhíhíhí.
young I with them my own. Dolly great on each side you who are, I pray to you.
- Aⁿ'ba ájéaⁿ'éaⁿ'qti jíngá juáwagígé ééaⁿbe pí te áhí! á-biamá. Iⁿ'
Day different ones young I with them, my in sight I ar- may indeed! said he, they Carry.
own say.
- 9 akí-biamá. Ééde té ují-biamá. Iíci uáne bépé te, á-biamá. Áéiⁿ' he reached home, Fire the he filled, they Tent-pole I seek it I go will, said he, they Having
they say. say.
- akí-biamá. Iⁿ'é-basi dáxe te, á-biamá. Unéce yaⁿ'ha ké'di ihéa-biamá.
he reached home, Stone-pushers I make will, said he, they Fire-place border by the he laid them, they
they say. say.
- (Ní té' cti agíáá-biamá.) Hau! ní hnínkéce, waqúbe wídxé tégáⁿ (Water the too he went for, they say.) Ho! water you who are, sacred thing I make of in order that
- 12 awídi-atí há, á-biamá. Ní té' cti itéa-biamá ájébe. Iⁿ'é té cuéááé
I have come for said he, they Water the too he put it down, they door. Stone the I send to you you say. say. (ob.)
- tá mínke, kagé, á-biamá, isanⁿ'ga ha qéú'a jimaⁿ'te géinⁿ'kiá-bi éinké é will I who, younger said he, they his brother akin hollow in the lodge caused to sit the one that brother, say, who
- waká-bi égaⁿ'. Iⁿ'é té haqútaⁿ ééa-biamá. Upéwiⁿ'qti gaⁿ' itéa-biamá.
meant, they having. Stone the he pushed sent suddenly, they Collected also- so he placed them, they
say. say. say.
- 15 Nájidéqtiⁿ-biamá Ní té fízá-bi égaⁿ' jimaⁿ'te ní té itéa-biamá. Gáté Very red-hot they say. Water the he took, having in the lodge water the he sent suddenly, That
they say. say.
- ní té cuéé há, á-biamá. Hau! cubéé tá mínke, á-biamá Haxige aká.
water the goes to said he, they Ho! I go to you will I who, said, they say Haxige the you say. say. (sub.)
- jimaⁿ'te ahí-biamá. Iⁿ'é nájide gíiⁿ'-biamá. Hau! i^c'áge, fíwíhíhí in the lodge he arrived, they Stone red-hot they sat, they say. Ho! old man, I bathe by
say. say. means of you
- 18 tégá awídi-atí, á-biamá. Makaⁿ' áéiⁿ'á-biamá. Nádadáze éégaⁿ' amá.
in order I have come for said he, they Medicine he dropped on, Fire sent out thus they say.
that you say. they say. sparks
- Isanⁿ'ga éinké gízá-bi égaⁿ' ní ágigéáqtaⁿ híáákiá-biamá. Égigaⁿ' gízáxa-
His brother the one took his, they having water he poured on he caused him to bathe, As before he made his
say. say. they say.
- biamá. Caⁿ' há, kagéha, á-biamá. Aⁿ'haⁿ, jíééha, caⁿ' há, á-biamá they say. Enough younger said he, they Yes, elder brother, enough said, they say brother, say.

- isan'ga aká. Isan'ga fíctn' xī fē xī ca'ca' ma'ciáha fē amá, wanáxi his brother the (sub.). His brother finished when he was without on high he they say, ghost
they say.
- amá. (This was done four times.) Égiçe gá-biamá: Huhu'á! káge-san'ga,
At length he said as follows, Really! friend younger brother.
- uŋhe cka'hna. Fēga' agfáfi' naji'-biamá, ugkie naji'-biamá. Hau! káge- 2 you have you wish. Thus having his he stood they say, talking to he stood they say. He! friend
your way
- san'ga, uŋhe taté. Uŋhe taté fā'ja, káge-san'ga, akíŋaha anŋáŋe taté younger brother, you have shall. You have shall though, friend younger brother, apart we go shall
your way
- á-biamá. Níkaci'ga jide ni-úŋnan'da fēfā'ska fā'ja fē oné téga' agfē-báji said he, they say. Person red island this also though this you go will, so they not come back
- ca'ca' taité, á-biamá. Afá-biamá Haxige amá. Égiçe Jábe-wá'ujin'ga 6 continually shall, said he, they say. Went they say Haxige the (sub.). At length Beaver old woman
- mandé gáxe akáma. Hu+! á-biamá. Haxuxa bēa'qteia'v, á-biamá.
boat was making they say. Hu+! said she, they say. Haxige it smells very said she, they say.
- Wá'ujin'ga uŋde ŋingé áha'. Gáfi' Haxige isan'ga Wakan'dagi t'ekiŋaf Old woman cause for complaint there is none I That one Haxige his brother Water-monster killed for him
- éga' águŋf cte xage xúwi'xe ma'fi'v te xigéat'e fi'v, á-biamá. Wá'ujin'ga 9 as wherever crying wandering about he walks as he kills himself the said he, they say. Old woman
- mandé ckáxaji'qtei áha', á-biamá Haxige aká. Á, ceta'v'qi fānā'a'ji boat you do not make at all I said, they say Haxige the (sub.). Yes, so very far you have not heard
- fāfi'cé á, á-biamá wá'ujin'ga aká. Haxige amá isan'ga t'ekiŋaf éi'te you who move I said, they say old woman the (sub.). Haxige the (sub.) his brother killed for it may be
- Wakan'dagi úju na'ba t'éwaŋa-báda'v t'éŋe fi'af éga' maja'v bēúga ní uŋi 12
Water-monster princel two he killed them and to kill failed as land all water filled
- gáxe 'fai éga' mandéha axíŋaxe áta'hé, á-biamá. Gá-biamá: Wá'ujin'ga, to make spoke as a dug-out I stand making for myself, said she, they say. He said as follows, Old woman
- Haxige amá wēŋigēa'v t'a'v ga'v'fā-hna'v'i. Mandéha gáxai édega'v mandé-da Haxige the (sub.) mind to possess desires invariably. A dug-out made but boat head
- tē'ja ja'v ákast itēfai xī'ji, ma'fēin'ka uŋfi-de, dēde náŋfi'qti gēi'v dega'v, 15 at the wood piled up places if, soil (earth) filled when, fire burning very sitting when, so brightly
- waníja ugáha-má fízaí-de, ga'v wáŋate gēi'v tá aká, á-biamá. Éga' fi'ni animal those that float he takes when, and eating them he will be sitting, said he, they say. So they fail
- xī'ctē maja'v bēúga wē's'á t'a'v wáxe 'fai éŋe, á-biamá wá'ujin'ga aká.
even if land all snakes abound making spoke of indeed, said, they say old woman the (sub.).
- xehámajide uŋa'v'i édega'v na'bé tē cti éga' uŋci'v-de wē's'á-má wáŋaŋta 18
Red-breasted turtle put on his but hand the too so covered when the snakes to bite
- a-fi xī'ji há cūga xīxáxi éga' wana'v'qíŋxe wáfi'v ma'fi'v tá amá, wana'v'te
ap. when skin thick made for himself so breaking in their having them he will walk, stepping on them
- wáfi'v ma'fi'v tá amá, á-biamá Haxige aká. Éga' fi'af xī'ctē maja'v bēúga having them he will walk, said, they say Haxige the (sub.). So they fail even if land all

- ugáhanadaze gáxo 'ípai ééé. Lígínde uxíla^{ph} xí gat'é te aí ééé, á-biamá darkness making spoke of indeed. Gorge get himself if die from will they indeed, said, they into the fall said (in my hearing) say
- wá'ujin'ga aká. Wá'ujin'ga, gáamá Haxige amá wéfigéaⁿ t'aⁿ ga'fa-hnaⁿi.
old woman the (sub.). Old woman, that one Haxige the (sub.) mind to pos- wishes continuently.
- 3 Lígínde wiⁿ ugéiⁿ-de jaⁿ ujíi-de déde údaⁿqti gíiⁿ tá amá. Waníha dádaⁿ Gorge one sit in when wood with sliced when fire very good he will sit. Animal what
- gíiⁿ akáa naⁿsi hí éiⁿ gat'é ké éizaf-de gaⁿ faté gíiⁿ tá amá, á-biamá.
to the one sitting leaping reaches the dips from which takes when so eating he will sit, said he, they one that falling say.
- Égaⁿ éi'af xí'eté majaⁿ éaⁿ b'úgaqti má ekúbo gáxo 'ípai ééé. Má
So they fall if even land the all snow deep making it speak of indeed. Snow
- 6 ágaspe t'é te aí ééé, á-biamá. Gáamá, wá'ujin'ga, Haxige amá wéfigéaⁿ pressing die will they indeed, said she, they That one, old woman, Haxige the mind down on him said say.
- t'aⁿ ga'fa-hnaⁿi. Qáde xi jañgáqti xixáxi-de jaⁿ tó' etti ákastáqti itéxi'af-to pos- wishes contin- Grass lodge very big makes for when wood the too in a great heap piles for ness ually. himself himself
- de séhiⁿbe xixáxe tá amá. Waníha dádaⁿ má ekúbo gaqéad ípé-má íqta when snow-shoes he will make for himself. Animal what snow deep those that get hurried at will suddenly in it
- 9 t'éwafai-de gaⁿ wáqate najiⁿ tá amá, á-biamá Haxige aká. 'Aⁿ-macé' he kills them when so eating them he will stand, said, they say Haxige the (sub.). What sort of a ctéwaⁿ Haxige hnájinga-hnaⁿi áhaⁿ, á-bi egaⁿ maⁿzepe ígaqixá-bi egaⁿ person are you Haxige you displease habitually I said, having ax crushed in many having they say times with, they say
- t'éfa-biamá. Gañ'ki Haxige amá afá-biamá. Akí-bi egaⁿ i'úde-xi jí he killed her, they say. And Haxige the (sub.) went they say. He reached having sweat lodge again
home, they say
- 12 gaxá-biamá. Azékiépe taité, pí zean'xípe taté á. Pí añxígeitaⁿ taté, kagé, he made, they say. (See note), again we treat our- selves shall I Again we work on our- selves shall younger
brother,
- á-biamá. Ugíkie-hnaⁿ-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, jín'écha, e-hnaⁿ, é amá isan'ga amá.
said he, they say. He talked regu- they say. Yes, elder brother, that alone, said, they his brother the
with his larly say.
- Gaⁿ i'úde-xi pí gaxá-biam égaⁿ gáitaⁿ-biamá gáipiqti. Júga ké égigaⁿ
And sweat lodge again he made, they say so he worked on his, worked very Body the well as they say well on his.
- 15 gixáxe ctéwaⁿ gáíctaⁿ éépai tédhi jan'de ké áta'ji caⁿ hébe maⁿciadi
he made his notwith- he let his go suddenly when ground the he trod yet part high from the standing ground
- afé-hnaⁿ-biamá isan'ga amá. Égiépe Haxige amá isan'ga ágimákají-biamá.
went regu- they say his brother the (sub.). At length Haxige the his brother he got out of patience with larly (sub.) him, they say.
- Can gaxe ga'fa-biamá. Hau! kágo-sañ'ga, ufthe taté, á-biamá. Ni-úquan'da
To stop he wished, they say. Ho! friend younger you have shall, said he, they Island brother, your way say.
- 18 éépaⁿska éaⁿja éé fátaⁿéé égijaⁿ égaⁿ taité, á-biamá. Áji añxíxaxe añgáépe this size though this you who stand that so shall said he, they Differ- we make our- we go (they be), any. ent selves
- taité. Caⁿjañga núga jin'ga ábañu hiⁿ snédéqti úqti-ma éaⁿ égaⁿ nískashall. Big wolf male young nape of neck hair very long those who are blue so per-
- ci'ga hné te áfa. Majaⁿ b'úgaqti hú éaxúwiⁿxe maⁿhniⁿ te áfa, á-biamá.
son you go will indeed. Land all over voice crying around you walk will indeed, said he, they
say.

Hau! wí ete, káge-saŋ'ga, ǵáqti nūga ǵaŋǵáqti, hé ǵázazáqti de utaⁿnadi Ho! I for my friend younger dear male very big, horn full of snags fore. space between part, brother, head hiⁿ gē náziǵá-bi egaⁿ, égaⁿ níkaciⁿga bǵé tá miŋke. Níkaciⁿga jíde hair the made yellow by having, so person I go will I who. Person red heat aⁿǵate taité, á-biamá. Í aⁿǵaⁿ'ckaⁿǵé taité áǵa, á-biama. Cetaⁿ.
 me eat shall, said he, they Mouth made to move shall indeed, said he, they So far.
 say. by me say.

NOTES.

226, 3. nuxe ké, the ice at the place whither they went for water. Note that water and ice existed before the alleged origin of rivers from Haxige's tears.

226, 7. waǵiⁿ aǵa-biama, he took them along; i. e., he pursued them. This is a common use of aǵiⁿ ǵe.

227, 8. utaⁿnadi ǵietaⁿ te ama. The kettle had been dropped after he left the place for getting water.

227, 9. hiⁿsaŋga+, etc. Sanssouci suggested "waǵiⁿ wigisiǵe" instead of "waǵiⁿ wigisiǵe." He said that the former could be used if the dead brother was near the size and age of the speaker. "Waye" is ǵaiwere in form, and "hiⁿsaŋga+" may have been intended for the ǵaiwere, hiⁿǵūne. "He misaŋga" is the Dakota "he! misūŋka" (he! misūŋka) expressed in ǵegiha notation. Thus we have traces of three languages in the lament of Haxige. Frank La Flèche reads "hiⁿsaⁿǵa+" instead of "hiⁿsaŋga+." He thinks that the Omahas used "waye" in former days, and that "no+" should be "aǵa u+!"

227, 17. aⁿǵaⁿ'waⁿǵǵe-gaⁿ (aⁿǵaⁿ'waⁿǵǵa, egaⁿ), from uǵuǵǵe.

228, 4. maⁿa maⁿ'ciadiǵti ǵaⁿ ǵandi. There were several very high cliffs at that place, perhaps very close together. Ǵisaŋga édi aǵiⁿ aki: Frank La Flèche read, aǵiⁿ aki-biama, instead of aǵiⁿ aki.

228, 7. ǵehuǵǵabe naǵindǵiǵǵe jaⁿ-hnaⁿi. Sanssouci thought that ǵehuǵǵabe, tripe, was a mistake, and that it should be omitted. The Omahas who were in Washington in August, 1881, rejected ǵehuǵǵabe, and substituted "niǵa waciⁿ áǵahadi ǵaⁿ, the fat outside the belly."

229, 3. ǵasniŋde refers to the impetus given to the arrow when hit by the bow-string.

229, 4. t'ewaǵa-biama means "he wounded them," though its literal rendering is "he killed them."

229, 10. i ǵiⁿ egaⁿ ǵǵadiⁿ jaⁿ-biama. Haxige crouched down suddenly, and lay across the path of the person who was approaching. It was Ictinike, disguised as Hega, the Buzzard.

229, 17. aǵidunaⁿ. Possessive of abanaⁿ, to witness a person, his relation, performing a ceremony, or engaging in a contest.

230, 9. aⁿ-hnaⁿ aǵaⁿ tē, how you do it. Sanssouci said that this was not as correct as, eátaⁿ-hnaⁿ áǵaⁿ-hnaⁿ'iⁿte, why you will do it.

231, 8. ǵiǵebe agaba. It seems that there were two coverings to the entrance: the ǵiǵebe agaba, the outer one; and the skin of Haxige's brother, the inner one.

231, 9. isaŋga ké. The article pronoun ké shows that the brother was dead; but ǵaxa-bitaⁿ ama denotes that his form (skin) was placed in the position of a standing animate object.

238 THE Φ EGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

232, 14. nada^a ictá $\dot{d}a$ tē jug $\dot{c}e$ gaxa-gā. Saussouci said that this meant, "Make extra eyes with the head," so that you may not be detected. "Be more than ever on the alert." But I think that it refers to the nose, and not to the head, if icta and $\dot{d}a$ be separable. On the other hand, the stress (in the words ictá $\dot{d}a$) seems to bind them together as one word. Frank La Flèche cannot explain this.

233, 7. edada^a baski $\dot{c}e$, there is something to be angry about; there is cause for anger. The opposite is u $\dot{c}ade$ $\dot{c}i\dot{u}ge$.

233, 9. nihan $\dot{g}a$ mubaju i $\dot{c}a\dot{c}a$, the spring shot up repeatedly, forming tiny waves.

234, 5. It appears from the context that wacige means some disease, impurity of the blood, etc., Compare $\dot{c}acige$, to speak evil of; in $\dot{c}acige$, to slander; and with the root "cige" compare the Winnebago, $\dot{c}icik$, bad; and the Dakota, $\dot{c}itea$ ($\dot{c}i\dot{c}a$), bad. The Dakota final $\dot{c}a$ ($\dot{c}a$) is often equivalent to the Φ egiha final $\dot{g}a$ or $\dot{g}e$.

234, 6. baxu duba - - $\dot{c}a\dot{c}a$ be pi te $\dot{a}\dot{c}a$. Does this refer to the belief in four worlds above this one?

234, 7. wakanda $\dot{c}a\dot{u}ga$ ag $\dot{c}a\dot{u}ka$ "ha" hui $\dot{n}k\dot{e}ce$, Thou great deity on either side; i. e. the earth-god and the sky-god.

234, 15. najid $\dot{e}qtia$ biama was pronounced na $\dot{c}id\dot{e}qtia$ biama.

235, 4. u $\dot{c}i\dot{c}e$ tate, etc. The behavior of Haxige's brother made the elder brother determine that the souls of Indians should never return to this world. "Well, younger brother, as I have failed to keep you here, when red men die, though the earth be this large around, as you go thus, so shall it be with them. They shall never come back."

235, 5. niu $\dot{c}uanda$ $\dot{c}e\dot{c}a$ ska. In the $\dot{c}i\dot{c}i\dot{c}e$ myth of Day and his Children, an island in a lake represents the world.

236, 12. azeki $\dot{c}e$ taite. Meaning uncertain, especially if spoken by Haxige. If used by the narrator alone, it may mean, "They shall practice again on themselves;" but that is very doubtful. Frank La Flèche doubts its use here.

237, 1. Haxige may be the mythical ancestor of the $\dot{c}ada$ or Deer-head gens; and his brother, of the Ma $\dot{c}i\dot{u}ka$ -gaxe or Wolf gens. See their position in the Omaha tribal circle. The Beaver-woman and the Grass-snake spoke of the hero as Haxu $\dot{c}a$. This latter is the $\dot{c}i\dot{c}i\dot{c}e$ form of Haxige.

TRANSLATION.

Haxige dwelt in a lodge with no one but his younger brother. The elder brother used to go out hunting. He used to shoot deer. It happened that he feared some unseen danger. Addressing the younger, he said, "Whatsoever small animal passes along on the ice by the place where we get water, let it alone." The elder brother went out hunting. The younger brother took a kettle, and went for water. At length two Otters came. The younger brother passed along on the ice, and attacked them. He carried a stick on his arm. When he reached the place, he hit them repeatedly. And he continued after them. At length they reached their home, the den of a Water-monster, and they went headlong into it with him. They fastened the entrance. The elder brother reached home, carrying a deer which he had not skinned. When he reached home, he threw down the deer by the door. His brother did not stir at all. "Here! Take it, brother," he said. He did not speak. "I suppose that you are asleep," said he. Pulling open the door, behold, his brother was missing. "Alas! my dear little younger brother, I thought that it would be so, and so it is," he said. He ran to the place for getting water, to see after him. When he reached the place for getting water, behold, the footprints of his brother had gone beyond. When he was following his trail, behold, there was the place where he had struck the Otters. Having known that he hit them, he said, "Alas!" The kettle had been dropped in the space between the two places. The elder brother continued to follow him. When he could not find him, he wept. "My younger brother! My younger brother! My younger brother! My younger brother! When I remember thy disposition (!), I am crying. Alas! my younger brother. Alas! my younger brother. Had it been I, friend younger brother, I would have reached home," he said. Wandering over the whole earth, he went seeking his brother. When he cried, the water flowed very rapidly in many long streams, making very large creeks. His tears were the rivers. On the bank of a stream the grass was lying in good condition. There he lay down. As he lay, two Ducks came thither. They went diving. And they came up again. One said as follows: "My friend, when Haxige's younger brother was killed, I had a great abundance of food. How was it with you?" "My friend, I did not have a good time. Only the little finger was left for me; and I said that no matter when I saw him, I would tell him about his own," said the other Duck. And when Haxige heard it, he became a leaf. Having fallen on the water, the leaf went floating in the space between the Ducks. When he reached the very place, he seized the Ducks by the necks. "You two persons, what have you been saying?" said Haxige. "Yes, elder brother, it is so," said one. "Elder brother, I have been saying that I would tell the news. Elder brother, do loosen your hold on me. I have been saying that I would tell you about your brother. Elder brother, they took your younger brother home by the succession of very high cliffs, to the land in that direction," said he. He tore the first Duck into many pieces, and threw them away. He questioned the other Duck: "On what occasions do they emerge from their den?" "At noon, when the fog is blown very dense, and when it is very warm, they lie to make the fat on their bellies firm by exposure to the heat of the sun. During the day it is so," he said.

And Haxige became an eagle and departed. Behold, the monsters lay flat on their backs. Thence was he coming back to earth to attack them. "Haxige is coming toward you," was said. He failed. They had already gone back into the lodge. Haxige went home again. Having reached his home, he thought, "What shall I do to get even with them?" Well, he went again on a similar day. When he had reached a very great height, he became a leaf again. Thence, having become a leaf, he was coming back again to earth to attack them. "Haxige is coming toward you," was said. Again he failed to attack them, as they had gone back into the lodge. And Haxige went homeward, having failed again. Again there was a similar day. And he became like a blue-backed bird-hawk. Thence, having become like a blue-backed bird-hawk, he was coming back again to attack them. "Haxige is coming toward you," was said. Again he failed to attack them, as they had gone into the lodge. Again Haxige went homeward, having failed with them. At length when the fourth day arrived, he became a grass-snake. Passing along far under the grass, he departed. When he arrived in sight of the cliff, behold, they lay on their backs making their tripe stiff by the heat. He seized his bow. Having fitted the arrow to the bowstring, he sent it with great force, making it strike in the very middle, wounding two. They grunted very hard, "A⁺," and had gone back into the lodge. Haxige went homeward.

When he reached home, he was very glad. Said he, "I have done so to them." In the morning Haxige went hunting. As he was returning, behold, a person had gone across the road. He went hunting again in the morning. When he was returning, behold, a person had gone across the road again. On the fourth occasion, Haxige crouched down, and lay across the path of the person who was approaching. When he had come right upon him, Haxige stood up suddenly. "Really! The venerable man walks as if something was the matter," said he, trying to draw him out. "Yes, very much like it," said he. "How can it be that at this late day you have not been hearing it in your travels?" "Why! venerable man, whatever may be the matter, I have been walking without hearing anything at all," said Haxige. "Yes, Haxige's younger brother having been killed, Haxige wounded two of the Water-monster's most dearly beloved children. I have been going thither to powwow over them," said he. "Really! venerable man, so it may be, but I have not been hearing it in the least. Really! venerable man, it may be very desirable to witness the treatment," said Haxige. "Yes, it is so," said the Buzzard. "I make it a rule to have no witnesses at all." "Really! venerable man, I may witness you. I, too, walk hunting," said Haxige. "Ho! venerable man, try it for yourself. When I finish looking at you, you can go." "Yes, it is so. You can see me perform," said the Buzzard. "Yet, venerable man, I will hear from you how you do every one of the deeds," said Haxige, tempting him. "You shall gaze on me," said the Buzzard. Singing his song, he danced, saying:

"Hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke hé-ke tá-ko. Hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke hé-ke tá-ko." "Well, venerable man, if it be always just so, it looks very nice to me. Venerable man, how do you usually perform it? I wish to hear the whole of it from you," said Haxige. "I said that when I reached there this time, I would perform the cure. There are four peaks which are flat on top. When I reach the fourth, they usually come thither for me. When I come in sight on the fourth peak, I stand dancing; and they usually come thither for me. They put me in a robe, and they carry me on it. When I get there this time, I will say, 'Let the water stand hot. When I heat two irons red-hot, and press them repeatedly against the wounds, they will live,'" said the Buzzard. Haxige made him dance about three times, as he wished to be able to perform all of the ceremony well. After the fourth time, the Buzzard stopped dancing. "Well, it is enough. I suspect that you have had more than enough of gazing at me," said the Buzzard. "Yes, venerable man, it is enough. What sort of a person are you that you despise Haxige?" Having said this, Haxige broke in his head with a blow, and killed him. And he took all his clothing, and put it on. And he carried the gourd-rattle on his arm. He practiced the ceremony. Thought he, "I do it very well!" As he went, he reached the fourth peak. He danced: "Hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke tá-ko." "Really! the old man was indeed always nice-looking, but he had no one to gaze on him," said he. "Oho! the old man who is the doctor has come in sight," said the people. "Ye servants, go after him," said the chief. They went for him. When they arrived there, they spread out the robe for him. Having sat in it, the servants carried him on it. "Make room for him by going far away from the door," said they. They pulled open the outside door.

When they pulled it open, behold, the whole of his brother's skin had been stripped off, and made to stand underneath, as a door-flap. Haxige stood at the door, facing it and dancing: "Hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke hé-ke tá-ko. Hé-ke tá-ko, hé-ke hé-ke tá-ko." He stopped dancing and entered the lodge. He took hold of his brother's skin at the wrist. He was pulling open the door-flap with sudden force. "Alas, my dear little younger brother!" said he, speaking in a whisper. The servants found him out. "Really! friend, what has the old man said?" spoke one, in a whisper, to another. "Friend, he said something like 'Alas, my dear little younger brother!'" "Psha! friend, there is really no cause for complaint. The old man has been used to coming hither as a doctor for a very long time heretofore." "Well," said Haxige, "I said that when this time came, it would be enough. Ho! ye servants, bring ye back two very large kettles filled with water." They went for it, and came home, carrying them on their backs. Having been fastened over the fire, the kettles stood by the fire, very hot and boiling very hard. "Make two knives very sharp, and put them down. Put two irons in the fire, and make them very hot. When I press these heated irons repeatedly against the wounds, they shall live. Ho! Come, get out of my way. Beware lest you peep in now and then, when you are near by. Beware lest they go and leave you. Walk ye all down and to the other side of the four peaks from which I am accustomed to come in sight when I come hither," said he. All the households went. Having departed, he was in solitude. The water was continuing to boil very rapidly. "Ho! Lie ye exactly side by side. When I thrust a very red-hot iron into your wounds, you shall improve. Beware lest you stir. Lie ye with your sides stretched very stiff," he said. When they lay so, he pushed into the wound on either side with sudden force, "Te'ut." "Lie still." Having said, "Ah!" both died from the heat. He took the knives, and cut the bodies into very narrow, long strips. Having cut up their bodies, he was filling the water, which was boiling. The cooked meat, too, he was putting out in a pile. Those out of sight said, "The old doctor has not been so long heretofore. He has been a very great while about it. Grass-snake, what were you saying that he was saying?" "Yes, I did say it. When he took hold of the door-flap as he went to the side of the entrance, he said something like, 'Alas, my dear little younger brother!'" said the Grass-snake. "Grass-snake, you shall go thither homeward. See him. Make extra eyes with your nose, and make your head very much flattened out, though curved like a dish," said they. The Grass-snake departed, passing under the grass. When he reached there, he peeped in at a crack in the lodge. Haxige detected him. "Come! Come! Come!" said Haxige. Having called him, the Grass-snake was coming thither again. "Make yourself full of food," said Haxige. And Haxige put a narrow strip of meat, about two feet long, into the throat of the Grass-snake, where it stuck very tight. "Say when you arrive that it is Haxige, and that very long ago he cooked the Water-monsters till the meat fell to pieces. Begone and tell it." The Grass-snake went to tell it. "Haxuxa! Haxuxa!" he said in a voice hardly above a whisper. "Really! what says that unseen moving one?" At length he had come directly to them, passing altogether within the grass. "Haxuxa! Haxuxa!" he said. "Really! it says 'Haxige.' Take out the piece of fat meat which he has put in his mouth. Really! it shall be just so (i. e., as they suspected). Make ye an effort." They went homeward to attack him. When they had come very close to their home, Haxige went rushing homeward, carrying his brother on his arm. As he had gone homeward, they went to attack him. But though they became all kinds of swift animals, they did not overtake Haxige and his brother. "There is cause for anger! Make ye an effort. You will be apt to fail," said they. They went along after him. It happened that Haxige, when on his way home, drew near a spring which boiled up repeatedly. It was in a very dense forest at the foot of a cliff, a very high hill, whose perpendicular surface was concave. "Do ye make an effort. You have almost overtaken him," said they. At length Haxige became a bullet. He had gone headlong into the water, "Te'ut." In a moment he made himself become a stone beneath the water. And they went homeward, having failed in attacking him. Though Haxige and his brother were laid hold of, he had become a stone that was firm, so they failed and went homeward. "Come, let us quit. We have failed," said they.

As they went homeward, Haxige came out again in sight after a while. And he went homeward, carrying the skin of his brother on his arm. At length he reached home. "Brother," said he, "let us enter a sweat-lodge." He went for four stones that were about one foot in diameter. Standing on a very lofty headland, he took up a stone. "Ho! venerable man, I have come for you to powwow." Again he took one. "Ho! venerable man, I have come for you to powwow over me," he said. He put it in his robe. Again he took one, and said, "Ho! venerable man, I have come for you to cause a person to bathe." When the fourth time arrived, he said, "Ho! venerable man, I have come for you, so that by means of you one person may bathe all over. Ho! venerable man, I have come for you that by means of you I may bathe. I have come for you that you may throw out from me all bad affections (or, impurities). May I come out in sight on many different days! On the four peaks, venerable man, may I come in sight with my young ones! Thou superior deity on either side, I pray to thee. On different days may I, with my young ones, come in sight!" he said. He carried them to his home. He filled the fire. "I will go for lodge-poles," said he. He brought them home. "I will make sticks for pushing the stones straight." He placed them by the edge of the fire-place. (He went, too, for water.) "Ho! thou water, I have come for you to make a sacred thing of you." He placed the water, too, at the door. "I will send the stones to you, brother," said he, meaning the empty skin of his brother, which had been caused to sit inside the lodge. He pushed the stones straight in a moment. He placed them in a heap. They became very red from the heat. Having taken the water, he sent it very quickly into the lodge. "That water goes to you," said he. "Ho! I will go to you," said Haxige. He went into the lodge. The stones continued red-hot. "Ho! venerable man, I have come hither in order to bathe by means of you," said he. He dropped large drops of medicine on the fire. The fire sent out sparks. Having seized his brother, he caused him to bathe by pouring water on him. He made him as he had been. "That will do, younger brother," said he. "Yes," elder brother, it is enough," said the younger brother. When Haxige let his brother go, the younger brother continued going on high as he went. He was a ghost. (This process was repeated three times without success.) At length Haxige said as follows. "Really! friend younger brother, you wish to have your own way." In this manner he stood holding him and talking to him. "Ho! friend younger brother, you shall have your way. Though you shall have your way, friend younger brother, we shall separate," he said. "Though the island (i. e., the world) be this size, as you go in this manner, red men shall go and never return." Haxige departed. At length there was an aged Beaver-woman making a boat. "Hu+!" said she, "there is a very strong Haxige odor." "Old woman, there is no cause for complaint. As his brother was killed by the Water-monsters, that Haxige is wandering around at random, and is killing himself by crying," said he. "Old woman, are you not, indeed, making a boat?" said Haxige. "Yes. Have you not been hearing it up to this time?" said the old woman. "As his younger brother was killed, Haxige killed two of the chief Water-monsters; and as they have failed to kill him, they have threatened to make the whole earth full of water. And I am making a dug-out for myself," said she. He said as follows: "Old woman, Haxige ever wishes to have an abundance of sense. He has made a boat (or, dug-out), and if he pile up wood at the bow, filling the bottom with earth, he will sit by a fire blazing very brightly; and seizing the animals that come floating along, he will continue eating them." "Even if they fail so, they speak of making an abundance of snakes on the whole earth," said the old woman. "He will put shells of red-breasted turtles on his feet, and will cover his hands in like manner. So when the snakes are coming to bite, having made thick skin for himself, he will continue to crush in their heads by treading on them; he will continue to step on them," said Haxige. "Even if they fail so, they threaten to make darkness over the whole earth. They say that if he get himself into a gorge unawares, he will die from the fall," said the old woman. "Old woman, that Haxige desires to have an abundance of sense. When he sits in a gorge, and fills it with wood, he will sit by a very good fire. What animal reaches him by leaping, will lie dead from the fall, and he will take it and sit eating it." "Even if they fail so, they threaten to make a deep snow over the whole earth. They say that he will die from the snow that will press down on him," said she. "That Haxige, old woman, ever desires to have an abundance of sense. Having made a very large grass-lodge, he will make a very high pile of wood for himself, and then he will make snow-shoes. What animals get buried unawares in the deep snow, having killed them at his pleasure, he will stand eating them," said Haxige. "What sort of a person are you that you despise Haxige?" he said. And crushing in her head many times with an ax, he killed her. And Haxige departed. Having reached home, he made a sweat-lodge again. They will practise again. "Shall we treat ourselves? Shall we work again on ourselves, younger brother?" said he, talking regularly to his own brother. "Yes, elder brother, only that," was his younger brother saying. And having made the sweat-lodge anew, he worked on his own, he did very well with his own. Though he made the body as it had been, when he let him go suddenly, the younger brother went partly on high every time without treading on the ground. At length Haxige got out of patience with his brother. He wished to put an end to the ceremony. "Well, friend younger brother, you shall have your way," said he. "Though the island (i. e., the world) be this large, they shall surely be thus, as you are. We shall change our forms. You shall go as a young male big wolf, with very long blue hair on the space between the shoulders. Well, as for me, friend younger brother, I will go as a very large male deer, with horns full of snags, and with hair which has been made yellow by heat, scattered over the forehead. Red men shall eat me. By means of me mouths shall be caused to move," said he. The End.

THE ADVENTURES OF HAXIGE.

FRANK LA FLÈCHE'S VERSION.

(There were two Water-monsters, who killed the younger brother of Haxige. They flayed the body, and hung up the skin for a door. They invited all the animals to a feast, when they cooked the body, dividing it among the animals, thus bribing them to silence. Haxige missed his brother, and went in search of him. He reached a creek, where two Wood-ducks were swimming. The conversation of the Ducks, and the account of the transformation of Haxige into a leaf, are given in the preceding version. When he caught them —)

- Edádaⁿ-hnaⁿ edécai ñ, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, jìⁿécha, aⁿwaⁿéiqéaqé-ⁿgá, What only what did I said he, they Yes, elder brother, loosen your hold on me,
you say say.
- á-biamá. Iubéa tá minké. Aⁿwaⁿéiqéaqé-ⁿgá, á-biamá. Kí, Ké, uéá-gá, said he, they I tell the will I who. Loosen your hold on me, said he, they And, Come, tell it, say. news say.
- 3 á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, jìⁿécha, Haxige isan'ga t'écái t'édí naⁿbéhiujin'ga tē said he, they Yes, elder brother, Haxige his younger killed him when little finger the
say. brother
- enáqtei aⁿéaⁿwaⁿqéégaⁿ atuⁿqti naⁿbe etécte uéíwabéa te, ehé, á-biamá.
only I got for my share, so just when I see him soever I tell him of his will, I said, said he, they
say.
- Wanúá dádaⁿ-má etéwaⁿ b'éúga íkikúí égaⁿ naⁿbéhiujin'ga tē enáqtei Animal what sorts soever all having been invited little finger the only
say.
- 6 aⁿéaⁿwaⁿqéé. Gaⁿ, Éataⁿ-onaⁿi ñ, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, aⁿbatéawáqti
I got for my share. And, How regularly I said he, they say. Yes, each day
say.
- Héga aká zéwacé ahí-hnaⁿi, á-biamá. Gaⁿ Miⁿxa-jin'ga ictá-ééde tē Buzzard the to powwow arrives regu- said he, they And Duck next to the cor- the (sub.) over them larly, say. ners of the eyes
say.
- san'kiéá-biamá Haxige aká. Hiⁿ ké baxú giáxa-biamá Miⁿxa-wagéaⁿxe whitened for they say Haxige the Feather the crest he made for him, Duck conjuring (f) him, (sub.), they say.
- 9 eéíge taí. Maⁿéin'-gá, á-biamá. Edádaⁿ t'éqí áéakipá xi aⁿéásiéé te há.
let them call you. Walk. said he, they What difficult you meet if you think can say. of me
- Uwíkaⁿ tá minké há, á-biamá Haxige aká. Haxige aqá-biamá. Xagá-bi
I help you will I who said, they say Haxige the Haxige went, they say. He cried,
(sub.), they say
- xi wateíéka jaⁿgáqti ní ké gasúséqti íháha gaxá-biamá. Ictáéí é ní when creek very large water the flowing rapidly in long lines made it, they say. Tears that streams
say.
- 12 gē é amá. Aqá-bi xi égiéce Héga amá áíimamá. Ákipá-biamá. Kí the that they say. He went. when behold Buzzard the (sub.) was approach- He met him, they say. And
ing, they say.
- Haxige aká gá-biamá: P'etáge awádi oné, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, uéapáha, Haxige the (sub.) said as follows, Old man where you go, said he, they Yes, grandchild,
they say. say.

cetu'qti ɸaná'a'ni ɸáɸi'cé ada', á-biamá. A'ha', edáda' éi'te ceta' even so far you have not been hearing it I said he, they say. Yes, what it may be so far aná'a'-máji há, á-biamá Haxige aká A'ha', ɸuepáha, Haxige isan'ga
 I have not heard it said, they say Haxige the (sub.). Yes, grandchild, Haxige his younger
 brother
 t'ékiɸi éi'te, Haxige amá Wakan'dagi ci'wasan'giɸabíqti ɸanká na'ba 3 they killed it may be, Haxige the (sub.) Water-monster most dearly loved child the ones who two
 for him
 wé'ni éga', áda' zéwaɸé pí há, á-biamá Héga amá. I'e'áge, éɸa'be wounded some- therefore to powwow I have said, they say Buzzard the Old man, in sight for them what, over them born there (sub.).
 cí té'di, áwatégija'-ona' á A'ha', ɸé égima'-hna'-ma', á-biamá. Kí you when, how do you it regularly I Yes, this I do that invariably I do, said he, they arrive (= thus) say.
 déxe gɸíza-biamá ga' gasáɸu-bi ga' ɸi, ɸégima'-hna'-ma', ɸuepáha. 6 gourd he took his, they say and rattled it, they say having when, I do thus habitually. I do, grandchild.
 Kí wa'a'-biamá. Wateigaxá-biamá. Ga-biamá:
 And he sang, they say. He danced, they say. He said as follows, they say:

Hé-ki-ma'-da', hé-ki, hé-ki-ma'-da', hé-ki, hé-ki-ma'-da'.

Gan'ki, Jiga'ha, éɸa'be cí té'di, áwatégija' aɸúha éga' gáxu-gá. Cí 9
 And, Grandfather, in sight you when, how you do it finally so do. Again
 arrive
 wiɸa'be té, á-biamá. Gan'ki, ɸégima'-hna'-ma', á-biamá Héga aká.
 I see you will, said he, they And, Thus I do habitually I do, said, they say Buzzard the (sub.).
 say.
 Wateigaxá-biamá. Gan'ki, Jiga'ha, zéwaɸé té áwatégija' te, á-biamá.
 He danced, they say. And, Grandfather, you powwow when how you do it will, said he, they over them say.
 A'ha', ɸuepáha, Ta'wanɸa' bɸúgaqti ɸahé ikisa'ɸi' ma'ɸi'i-gá há, ehé- 12
 Yes, grandchild, Village every one hill out of sight walk ye I say hna'-ma', bɸúgaqti. Cínuda'-má eti wáɸi' ma'ɸi'i-gá, ehé-hna'-ma' há, regularly I do, all. Dog the ones too having them walk ye, I say regularly I do á-biamá. A'ha', ɸiga'ha, á-biamá Haxige aká. Gan'ki zéwaɸé té, said he, they Yes, grandfather, said, they say Haxige the (sub.). And you powwow when, say, over them
 e'a' ekáxe á, á-biamá. A'ha', ɸuepáha, ma'ze gáke nájideqti-hna' ɸáxe 15 how you do it I said he, they Yes, grandchild, iron that one very red hot only I make it
 say.
 ɸi wa'úi ké ma'ze nájide ké uɸáxa' te ebéga' éga' abɸi', á-biamá.
 when wounded the lying iron red-hot the I push in will I think so I have it, said he, they one one say.
 A'ha', ɸiga'ha. Ké, éɸa'be cí té'di e'a' ekáxe taté, éga' gáxa-gá.
 Yes, grandfather. Come, in sight you arrive when how you do shall, so do.
 Ma'ɸi'i-gá. Wiɸa'be ka'ɸa. Gan'ki éga' gáxe ɸé ɸi ja' wi' ɸizá-bi 18 Walk. I see you I wish. And so to do he went when wood one he took,
 they say
 ega' ɸáqti ɸa' ihéɸa-bi ega', gaɸɸi-biamá Héga ɸi'. Gan'ki ma'ze having right on the laid it, they having, he broke it in, they say Buzzard the And iron the head (ob.) say (mv. ob.).
 ké' eti ɸizá té, cí wa'ja' jín'ga té' eti ɸizá-bi ega', 'i'-biamá Haxige
 the too he took it, again pack small the too took, they having, carried it, they Haxige (ob.) say

246 THE ʔEGHHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- aká. Gañ'ki Haxige aká aʔá-biamá. Wakan'dagi ʔanáká aʔá-biamá.
 (the (sub.)) And Haxige (the (sub.)) went they say. Water-monster to them he went, they say.
- Égiʔe ɗahé ké ʔí ʔéñ'bu nli-biamá. Gañ'ki wa'a'w' tē é Héga
 At length hill the village the in sight of he arrived, they And song the that Buzzard
- 3 wa'a'w' epí tē 'a'-biamá Haxige aká Égiʔe, Huhú! ʔéga aká Héga sang his the sang it, they say Haxige (the (sub.)) At length. Ho! ho! this one the Buzzard
- amú wazéʔé amá áíama, á-biamá, Haxige ʔéa'be ahí-bi ʔí. Gañ'ki
 (the (sub.)) doctor the is coming, said they, they Haxige in sight arrived, when. And
- níkagahi aká gá-biamá: Cémuñ'ga dúbu wahchají'qti é'di ma'ʔéñ'-ba waii' chief the said as follows, Young man four very stout-hearted there walk ye and robe
- 6 ugəñ'-bada'w' aʔéñ' gfi-ga. Kí é Héga eʔéga' éga' aʔáʔaʔ tē. É'di put him in and bring him back. And that Buzzard thought as they went for him. There
- ahí-biamá cémuñ'ga amá Haxige ʔínké'di. Waii' ʔíʔéa'-bi ega'w', Ké, they arrived, young man the Haxige by the (ob.). Robe spread out, having. Came,
- i'c'ige, ugəñ'-ga. Angəʔigi-aŋgútii há. Gañ'ki ugəñ'-biamá Haxige old man, sit in it. We have come for you And sat in it, they say Haxige
- 9 aká. Gañ'ki cémuñ'ga wí'w' jji-hna' naxíde tē uká-bi ega'w', Héga é
 (the (sub.)) And young man one whispering inner ear the he talked Buzzard he
- áji eʔéga'. Haxige eʔéga', á-biamá. Ibaha'w', áda' égiʔa'w' tē. Kí differ. I think. Haxige I think, said he, they He knew therefore he said to him. And
- gañ'ki wí'w' aká gá-biamá: Héga éé há. Eáta' Haxige ʔéʔu tí tída'w' then one the (sub.) said as follows, Buzzard it is he How Haxige here have could come
- 12 á-biamá. Jji fe-hna'-biamá. Gañ'ki aʔéñ' aʔéñ'-biamá. Waii' ugəñ'- said he, they When they spoke regularly, And they took him homeward, they put him in
- biamá. Kí é'di akí-biamá ʔí'u ʔanákádi. Kí aʔéñ' akí-bi ʔí isan'ga they say. And there they reached home, they say wounded by the one And they reached home when his younger brother
- ʔínké beʔégaqti ʔixábai éga' njebegeñ' gáxe akáma. Gañ'ki Haxige the (ob.) the whole stayed as door-flap they had made they say. And Haxige
- 15 naji'w'-bi njebegeñ' ʔikiáha'w' tē isan'ga ʔínké gíɗaha'w' há há ʔa'.
 stood, they door-flap raised when his younger the (ob.) he knew his skin the (ob.)
- Gañ'ki ʔikiáha'w' ʔí gá-biamá: Hé, wisa'w'j'qteíʔé! á-biamá. Jji ʔépiʔé'w' qteí
 And he raised when he said as follows, they say: Alas, my dear little younger said he, they Whis- very easily
- égiʔa'w'w'; ʔadn'di'-báji. Kí níkae'ga éga'e naji'w' amá wí'w' gá-biamá:
 he said to him; he did not speak loud. And people around stood they who one said as follows, they say:
- 18 Kə́cha, njebegeñ' ʔikiáha'w' ʔí, Hé, wisa'w'j'qteíʔé! af tē. Haxige é Friend, door-flap raised when, Alas, my dear little younger he said. Haxige he
- eʔéga', á-biamá. Kí, Égiʔa'-báji-gá. Héga améé há, á-biamá. Gañ'ki
 I think said he, they And, Do not say it to any one. Buzzard it is he said (another), And
- íáa aʔá-biamá Haxige amá.
 to the lodge went, they say Haxige the (sub.).

Ki afa-bi xi gan'ki, Ke, xi ge be'ugaqi gacibe ane te, Jache
 And he went, when then, Come, lodge (the) every one (without) you will go, till they say (pl. ob.) (the village) ikisa'phi ma'phi-i-ga. Gan'ki nexo jangaqti na'ba ni agima'phi-ba out of sight walk ye. And kettle very big two water go ye for and i'win'gackai-ga. Q'ekanku z'awafu be'teta xi hie'awaki'phi ta minke, 3 hang them for me. These I powwow over them I finish it when I cause them to bathe will I who, u-biamu. Gan'ki ega' gaxu-bi ega', afa-biamu be'uga Gan'ki ma'ze ke said he, they And so did, they say having, they went, they all. And iron the

 say.

najide'qti gaxu-biamu Haxige aka. Gaxu-bi ega', gu-biamu: Qiji'phi eta'phi very red hot made it, they say Haxige the Made it, they having, he said as fol- Your elder he first (sub.), say lows, they say: brother z'afu ta minke. I'ta cka' uxi jan'-ga, u-biamu. Ke, 'u te bahu-ga, 6

 I pow- will I who. Now motionless lie, said he, they Come, would this show it, wow over him (ob.)

u-biamu. Ma'ze ke najide'qti gaxu-bi xi gan'ki 'u te ubaxa'-biamu said he, they Iron the very red hot he made it, when and would the he thrust into, they say
 say. (ob.) they say

ma'ze ke. Gan'ki 'u te ubaxa'-bi xi, Ha'! ha'! e-bma'-bi xi, Ca' qe'iji iron the And would the he thrust into, when, Ha'! ha'! he said it regu- when, Yet speech-(ob.) they say less jan'-ga. Q'udat' taté, u-biamu. Gan'ki te amu najide ubaxa' ke Gan'ki, 9 lie. Good for (it) said he, they And he they red hot thrust into the (ob.). And, you shall (do), say.

Ke! gi-ga ha Qiji'phi g'uda' ega' ja't'e'qti i'phi, u-biamu. Gan'ki amu Come! come then Your elder is better as sound asleep he has said he, they After a while, they
 say. say

xi ei ega'gi'a'-biamu. Gan'ki jin'ga ke ei te amu, ma'ze najide'qti when again he did so to him, they say. And small the again he they iron very red hot (ob.) died say

ubaxa'-bi ega'. Te xi gan'ki mahi' eiza-bi ega' wadada-biamu 12 thrust into, they having. Dead when then knife took, they having he cut them up, they say
 say

Wakan'dagi na'ba. Gan'ki akiwa wadade eicta'-bi xi akiasta itewafa-Water-monster two. And both he cut them he finished it, when in a pile he put them up they say

biamu u'fza' te'di. Gan'ki e'xe akiwa ugipi'qti uj'-biamu us'u waxai xi.
 they say middle in the. And kettle both very full he filled, they strips made them when
 say

Gan'ki ga' uba' g'ei'-biamu. Ki gan'ki g'iteja n'fai'ga amu ga'-biamu: 15
 And so cooking he sat they say. And then in that place people the (sub.) said as follows,
 they say:

C'enujin'ga na'ba'qti'ga e'di gig'phi-ba da'be gig'phi-ga, u-biamu. Ki, Young man about two there go and and looking pass ye it, said they, And,
 pass it they say.

Waz'phi pinké x'aci h'egaji, u-biamu. Na! Haxige eb'ega', ehé xi i'phi'jai Doctor the one a long very, said they, they Why! Haxige I think, I said when you who time say, doubted me

eti. H'ega aké, eca. Ki e'be g'ee etéda', u'fide ga' g'ei'-biamu. Ki wi' e 18 too. Buzzard he is, you said. And who go shall? considering so they sat, they say, And one he homeward

ga'-biamu: We's'a-nideka, phi e'ag'phi xi i'phi'jai etéga', wa'f'ionaji, ega', said as follows, Grass-snake, you if not to find apt, you invisible as, they say: you go homeward you u-biamu. Gan'ki an'pi te ha. E'g'ee i'phi' te ha. U'ude ji'ag'tei u'da-da' said he, they And you shall do well. Beware he lost. Hole very small enter and say. detect you

248 THE FEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- daⁿba-gā hā. Ègiçe Haxige fēiçe te hā. Ki, Aⁿhaⁿ, á-bi egaⁿ aggá-biamá look at him . Beware Haxige detect eat . And, Yes, said, having went homeward, Wé's'a-nídeka amá. È'di akt-bi egaⁿ u'úde jì'áqtei ictá ɛaⁿ ngás'iⁿ-biamá.
(Grass-snake the (sub.)) There he reached having hole very small eye the peeped in, they say.
- 3 Ki Haxige aká daⁿbá-biamá. Huhú! gr-gā hā. Waonáte táce, á-biamá And Haxige the saw him, they say. Ho! ho! come . You eat must, said he, they fēa-bi egaⁿ Gǎé gaⁿ ɛa ɣi naⁿ wape tē Wé's'a-nídeka aká. Gan'ki, Gí-gā, detected having. To go he wished when feared him Grass-snake the (sub.). And, Come, á-bi egaⁿ è'di ɛaⁿ-biamá. Gan'ki, Unéɛ ɣaⁿ ha ké'di ɛɛu jan'gā, á-biamá.
said, having there he went, they say. And, Fire-place border by the yonder lie, said he, they 6 Waonáte ɣi wéɛanandé'qti oné taté, á-biamá. Waonáte ɣi oné ɣi, Haxige
You eat when you being gorged you go shall, said he, they You eat when you when, Haxige aká é akéde Wakan'dagi akiwa t'éwafé aká hā, eéé te hā, á-biamá.
(sub.) the he it is, but Water-monster both h has killed them you shall said he, they Gan'ki waciⁿ hébe ɛízi-bi egaⁿ úqp u'aⁿha-biamá Haxige aká. Gan'ki And fat meat a piece he took, having bowl he put in, they say Haxige the (sub.). And 9 waciⁿ ɛ'ɛaⁿska s'ú-biamá. Gan'ki, ɕasniⁿ ɛ'ɛaⁿ-gā hā. ɕétaⁿ ɛaⁿbe fat meat this size he cut a long strip, And, Swallow it do it suddenly . This far in sight it'ɛa-gā. Gan'ki waciⁿ hébe ɛaⁿbe it'ɛɛá-biamá í tē. Ki naⁿbé ɛingé put it. And fat meat piece in sight he put it for himself, mouth the (sub.). And hand without ɛiⁿ egaⁿ gǎɛnudaⁿji tē waciⁿ ké. Aǎ-bi ɣi naⁿjì'eké'qtei níaciⁿga amádi he na he did not pull out his fat meat the (ob.). He went, when barely people to them 12 ahí-biamá Wé's'a-nídeka aká. Wé's'a-nídeka ɛé tē'di ékitaⁿ agǎaⁿ Haxige. arrived, they Grass-snake the (sub.). Grass-snake went when at the went Haxige.
Isan'ga ɛínké gǎza-bi egaⁿ aⁿhe agǎa-biamá. Gan'ki Wé's'a-nídeka tē His younger the (ob.) took his, having fleeing he went homeward, And Grass-snake to gǎteqi, Haxige, Haxige, é ɣi eaiⁿáji-hmaⁿ-biamá. Níaciⁿga amá ecaⁿqti hard for him, Haxige, Haxige, said when his voice failed invariably, they People the (sub.) very near 15 hí ɣi eaⁿ wéahidéqti eǎgaⁿ-biamá. Gǎɛiⁿ Wé's'a-nídeka Haxige é hā, ar. when yet very far they thought, they say. That one Grass-snake Haxige says á-biamá Gan'ki uná-bi ɣi égiçe ecaⁿqtei ahí akáma Wé's'a-nídeka.
said they, And they sought when behold very near had come, they say Grass-snake.
Huhú! Wé's'a-nídeka ée ɛiⁿ éde waciⁿ núde ké ukǎatá-qtiⁿ ɛiⁿ, Ho! ho! Grass-snake it is he the one but fat meat throat the sticks very tight in the one 18 á-biamá. Gan'ki gǎɛnudaⁿ-biamá. Gan'ki níaciⁿga amá ɣi ɛaⁿá agǎasaid they, And they pulled it out for him, And people the village to the went biamá. Gan'ki Haxige amá agǎa-bi ɣi égiçe Jábe-wá'ujin'ga édedí akáma they say. And Haxige the went when behold Braver-old woman was there, they say.
Ki, Wá'ujin'ga, eítaⁿ ɛanájiⁿ á, á-biamá Haxige aká. Aⁿhaⁿ, ɛupáha,
And, Old woman, why you stand ? said, they say Haxige the (sub.). Yes, grandchild,

- Haxige Wakan'dagi naⁿba aká te'éwape amá hē. E'di wagúqanⁿ aⁿ'éizai Haxige Water-monster two (col. ob.) killed them they say There servant me they took
- hē, á-biamá. Kí, Wá'ujin'ga, eⁿ' ekáxe tidaⁿ uqéhe a. Aⁿ'hanⁿ, uepáha, said she, they And, Old woman, how you do will, you join it? Yes, grandchild.
- Haxige anidaⁿ gáxe 'ípa-biamá hē. E'di Haxige mand úgēiⁿ xⁱ ubéá'ude 3 Haxige flood on to make they speak of, There Haxige boat sit in when I bite a hole in
- to á-bi egaⁿ' éduche, á-biamá. Wá'ujin'ga, égaⁿ xⁱ'etē Haxige amá will said they, having I joined it, said she, they Old woman, so even if Haxige (the (sub.))
- mandé ugēiⁿ' gaⁿ'qti gaⁿ' gludaⁿqti maⁿ'fiⁿ' tū ama há, á-biamá. Kí ei éi'af boat sit in at any rate still very joyful walk will he who said he, they And again they fall
- xⁱ'etē, uepáha, majnⁿ' éaⁿ' bēúga ugáhanadaze gáxe 'ípa hē, á-biamá. 6 even if, grandchild, land the all darkness making it they speak of said she, they
- Wá'ujin'ga, égaⁿ xⁱ'etē Haxige amá íqinde uqéúga ugēiⁿ' tū aká há.
Old woman, so even if Haxige the (sub.) gorge deep hollow sit in will he who
- Uqéúga ugēiⁿ' de wanfa gat'é-ma gaⁿ' wáxate gēiⁿ' tū aká, á-biamá. Oí, Deep hollow sit in when animal those killed still eating them he will sit, said he, they Again.
- uepáha, ugáhanadaze éi'af xⁱ'etē wé's'a t'aⁿ' wáxe 'ípa hē, á-biamá. 9 grandchild, darkness they fall even if snake to abound making they speak of said she, they
- Wá'ujin'ga, égaⁿ xⁱ'etē Haxige aká xéha gē naⁿ'bē gaxaf-de wé's'a ké dá Old woman, so even if Haxige (the (sub.)) turtle the hand make when snake the head (lg. ob.)
- gē wátaⁿ maⁿ'fiⁿ' tū amá, á-biamá. Kí gan'ki, Wá'ujinga, eⁿ'-macé' the treading (pl. ob.) on them he will walk, said he, they And then, Old woman, what is the matter with you
- etēwaⁿ' Haxige ípat'aonaf á, á-bi egaⁿ' gaqíqixá-biamá Gan'ki agéiⁿ' 12 sooner Haxige ye hate him I said, having, he crushed in her (head) And he went homeward
- biamá Agéiⁿ-biamá gan'ki Haxige amá akí-bi xⁱ í jingáqti gaxá-bi egaⁿ' they say. He went homeward, and Haxige the reached when lodge very small made, they having (sub.) home, they say
- iⁿ'é gáxaⁿ'skáqti éénaqti úgēaⁿ-bi egaⁿ', í jín'ga gaxá-biamá. Gan'ki stone just that also just this transported, lodge small he made, they say. And
- isan'ga éinké hū éaⁿ' ámaja ípau'gíé-bi egaⁿ' ámaja gēiⁿ'-biamá. Gan'ki 15 his younger brother the (ob.) skin the on one side placed his, they having on the other side he sat, they say. And
- iⁿ'é gē nájidēqti gaxá-bi egaⁿ' ní ágaqtaⁿ gēiⁿ'-biamá. Lí jín'ga tē stone the very red hot made, they say having water pouring on he sat, they say. Lodge small the
- nákadēqti gaxá-biamá. Égaⁿ tē dūba jaⁿ' gaxá-biamá. Wéduba jaⁿ' very hot he made it, they say. The like four asleep he did it, they say. The fourth sleep
- tē'di isan'ga gisiⁿ' gíaxa-biamá. Níⁿ'ja isan'ga aká. Kí, Hau! káge- 18 on the his younger brother alive he made for him, they Alive his younger brother (sub.) And, Ho! friend
- san'ga, níⁿ'ja wikaⁿ'bēaqti egaⁿ' níⁿ'ja wídxaxa éaⁿ'ja akíwaha angáxe tai, younger brother, alive I wished very much having alive I have made though apart let us go,
- á-biamá. Kí wí etí caⁿ'jauga bēiⁿ' tū mínke, káge-san'ga, á-biamá. Kí said he, they And I too big wolf I be will I who, friend younger said he, they And
- éí, káge-san'ga, áqti nūga jín'ga óné tuté há, á-biamá. Cetaⁿ'. 21 you, friend younger brother, deer male small you go shall said he, they So far.

NOTES.

The myth of Haxige was told to the collector by three Omahas. First, by Wadjepa, whose words were not recorded; but they were interpreted by Frank La Flèche, and the important points are given below. Frank La Flèche's version was the next obtained, and that of $\text{ga}^{\text{ni}}\text{-na}^{\text{pajl}}$ was the last.

According to Wadjepa, the myth was that of "Haxuxa and the Deities with seven heads." He calls the hero Haxuxa, which is $\text{xi}^{\text{w}}\text{ere}$ in form, and answers to the ϕ egiha Haxige of the other versions. Haxuxa met Hega, the Buzzard, who was on his way to the wounded deities. Haxuxa said nothing to him, but passed on. He met the Ducks after that. One of the Ducks told him that his younger brother had been killed, after wounding two of the deities with seven heads; that his skin was hung up as a door-flap, and that Hega was going thither every day to powwow over them. After leaving the Ducks, Haxuxa went along the creek, crying for his brother, and his tears made all the streams. As he went, he heard some one cutting wood by the bank of the stream, and talking about Haxuxa, mentioning him by name. He found that it was an aged Beaver-woman. She said, "You smell of Haxuxa." He denied it, and asked her what she was doing. She told him that she was making a boat. He then asked her, "With what tools are you going to make it?" She pointed to her teeth. After learning what the deities intended doing in order to destroy him, he killed the old woman. Then he met Hega. When Haxuxa came in sight of the village, disguised as Hega, everybody came out to meet him, even little children. Thenceforth it is as in Frank's version.

244, 2. $\text{a}^{\text{wa}}\text{ni}^{\text{q}}\text{aq}^{\text{a}}\text{ga-gi}$, from $\text{u}^{\text{q}}\text{iq}^{\text{a}}\text{q}^{\text{a}}\text{ga}$.

244, 6. $\text{a}^{\text{ba}}\text{ti}^{\text{q}}\text{awaqti}$, in full, $\text{a}^{\text{ba}}\text{t}^{\text{e}}\text{ i}^{\text{q}}\text{awa-qti}$.

244, 12. $\text{ai}^{\text{ama}}\text{ma}$, i. e., $\text{ai}^{\text{ama}}\text{ma}$, from i , to be coming. See ai^{ama} in the Dictionary.

245, 4. we^{ni} , "wounded for them," i. e., for (the disadvantage of) the parents and friends of the two Water-monsters.

245, 6. $\text{ge}^{\text{iza}}\text{-biama ga}^{\text{a}}$, equivalent to $\text{ge}^{\text{iza}}\text{-bi ega}^{\text{a}}$. So $\text{gas}^{\text{a}}\text{ni-bi ga}^{\text{a}}$, equivalent to $\text{gas}^{\text{a}}\text{ni-bi ega}^{\text{a}}$.

245, 8. $\text{He-ki-ma}^{\text{a}}\text{-da}^{\text{a}}$, said to be equivalent to the modern ϕ egiha expression, " ϕ egima $^{\text{a}}$ -hna $^{\text{a}}$ -ma": I always do this."

246, 6. $\text{agi}^{\text{a}}\text{ni}^{\text{a}}\text{t}^{\text{e}}$. The article pronoun marks the act as past, and as seen by the speaker. To accord with the rest of the myth, the text should read: " $\text{Ki}^{\text{e}}\text{ H}^{\text{e}}\text{ga eska}^{\text{a}}$ $\text{e}^{\text{q}}\text{e}^{\text{ga}}\text{-bi ega}^{\text{a}}$ $\text{agi}^{\text{a}}\text{ni}^{\text{a}}\text{-biama}^{\text{a}}$: And as they thought that he was the Buzzard, they went after him, it is said."

246, 9. $\text{naxide t}^{\text{e}}\text{ ukia-bi}$, he talked with him (holding his mouth close and speaking) into his inner ear.

246, 13. xi^{u} refers to the wounded ones. As " xi " in composition is used in a reflexive sense, its use in this case is not clear to the collector. See " Nuda^{a} axa's Account of his First War-party," in which this word occurs.

249, 14. $\text{pu}^{\text{ga}}\text{ni}$ means "to transport a load by boat, travois, wagon, or any other conveyance." He probably carried the stones in a pack on his back, hence, in this case, $\text{pu}^{\text{ga}}\text{ni} = \text{qi}$.

249, 15. ama^{a} . . . ama^{a} , on the one side . . . on the other side; so ama . . . ama , the one . . . the other.

TRANSLATION.

(There were two Water-monsters, who killed the younger brother of Haxige. They flayed the body, and hung up the skin for a door-flap. They invited all the animals to a feast, when they cooked the body, dividing it among the animals, thus bribing them to silence. Haxige missed his brother, and went in search of him. He reached a creek, where two Wood-ducks were swimming. The conversation of the Ducks, and the account of the transformation of Haxige into a leaf, are given in the preceding version. When he caught them:—)

"What particular thing did you say?" said he. "Yes, O elder brother. Loosen your hold on me. I will tell the news. Loosen your hold on me," said one. And Haxige said, "Come, tell it." "Yes, O elder brother. When Haxige's younger brother was killed, I received nothing but the little fingers as my share; and so I said that no matter at what time I might see him, I would tell him about his brother. All the animals were invited to partake of the body, and only the little finger was left for me at the distribution." And Haxige said, "How is it usually with them?" "Yes, the Buzzard goes every day to powwow over them," said the Duck. And Haxige made the feathers whitish that were next to the outer corners of the Duck's eyes. The feathers on the top of his head he made into a crest for him. "You shall be called 'Conjuror-duck.' Depart. Think of me when you get into any trouble, and I will help you," said Haxige. Haxige departed. When he cried, the water flowed very rapidly in many long streams, making very large creeks. His tears were the rivers. When he went, behold, the Buzzard was approaching him. He met him. And Haxige said as follows: "Venerable man, on what business are you going?" "Yes, grandchild, have you not been hearing it long ere this?" "Yes, whatever it may be, I have not yet heard it," said Haxige. "Yes, grandchild. Haxige had a younger brother who was killed. So Haxige wounded two of the most dearly beloved children of the Water-monsters. Therefore I have been there to powwow over them," said the Buzzard. "Venerable man, when you arrive in sight of the village, what are you accustomed to do?" "Yes, I always do thus," said he. And when he seized his gourd-rattle, and rattled it, he said, "Thus I always do, grandchild." And he danced and sung, saying as follows:

Hé-ki ma'-da', hé-ki hé-ki ma'-da', hé-ki hé-ki ma'-da'.

And Haxige said, "Grandfather, do once more what you do when you arrive in sight. I will see you again." And the Buzzard said, "I always do thus." He danced. And Haxige said, "Grandfather, how do you do when you powwow over them?" "Yes, grandchild, I usually say, 'Let every one in the village go out of sight behind the hill, every one; and take the dogs, too.'" "Yes, grandfather," said Haxige. "And when you practice on them, how do you do?" said he. "Yes, grandchild, I keep that iron rod, as I think that I will thrust it into the wounds, when I make it red-hot." "Yes, grandfather. Come, do as you intend doing when you arrive in sight of the village. Depart. I wish to see you." And when the Buzzard went to do so, Haxige seized a stick, and hit him directly on his head, killing the Buzzard with a blow. And Haxige took the iron, and having taken the small pack, too, he carried it on his back. And Haxige departed. He went to the Water-monsters. At length he reached the hill in sight of the village. And Haxige sang the song which was the Buzzard's. At length, when Haxige came in sight, they said, "Oho! This one at a short distance, Doctor Buzzard, is coming hither." And the chief said as follows: "Let four of the most stout-hearted young men walk thither. Let them place him in a robe, and bring him back." And they went after him, because they thought he was the Buzzard. And the young men reached Haxige. Having spread out the robe, they said, "Come, venerable man, sit in it. We have come for you." And Haxige sat in it. And one of the young men whispered in the ear of another, saying, "The Buzzard is a different one. I think it is Haxige." He said it to the other, because he recognized Haxige. And the other said as follows, in a whisper: "It is the Buzzard. How could Haxige have come hither?" And they carried him homeward, he sitting in the robe. And they took him to their home unto the wounded ones. And when they reached their home with him, behold, they had flayed all the body of his younger brother, and had made a door-flap of the skin. And when Haxige stood and raised the door-flap, he recognized the skin of his younger brother. And when he raised it, he said as follows: "Alas! my dear little younger brother!" He said it to him in a very soft whisper, not crying out aloud. And one of the persons standing around said as follows: "Friend, when he raised the door-flap he said, 'Alas! my dear little younger brother!' I think that he is Haxige." And another said, "Do not say it to any one. It is the Buzzard." And Haxige went to the lodge.

And when he went, he said, "Come, you shall go out of every lodge. Walk ye out of sight behind the hill. And go ye after water, and hang two very large kettles over the fire for me. When I finish powwowing over these, I will cause them to bathe." And having done so, all departed. And Haxige made the iron very red-hot. Having done this, he said as follows: "I will powwow over your elder brother first. Lie still for the present." "Come, show the wound," he said to the elder one. And when he made the iron very red-hot, he thrust the iron into the hole made by the wound. And when he thrust it into the wound, the Water-monster said nothing but "Ha+, ha+." "Lie quiet. It shall be good for you." And he who had had the red-hot iron thrust into him died. And Haxige said, "Now! Come! Your elder brother is a little better, and has gone into a very sound sleep." And after a while he did likewise to him. And the young one, too, died, having had the very red-hot iron thrust into him. And when he was dead, Haxige took a knife, and cut up the two Water-monsters. And when he finished cutting up both, he placed them in a pile in the middle of the lodge. And when he cut them into long, narrow strips, he filled both kettles very full. And so he sat boiling them. And those persons out of sight said as follows: "Let about two of the young men pass by that place on their way home, and go to look at him." And they said, "The doctor is a very long time about it." "Aha! When I said that I thought he was Haxige, you doubted me, and you said that he was the Buzzard," said one. And so they sat considering who ought to go homeward. And one said as follows: "Grass-snake, if you go homeward he will not be apt to detect you, as you are not visible. And do well, lest he detect you. Enter a very tiny hole, and look at him. Beware, lest Haxige detect you." And having said, "Yes," the Grass-snake went homeward. And when he reached home, he peeped through a very tiny hole. And Haxige detected him. "Ho! ho! Come! Come! You must eat," said he, when he discovered him. When the Grass-snake desired to go to his home, he feared him. And as Haxige said, "Come," the Grass-snake went thither. And Haxige said, "Lie there by the edge of the fire-place. When you eat, you shall depart very full. When you eat and depart, you shall say, 'It was Haxige, and he has killed both of the Water-monsters.'" And Haxige took a piece of fat meat and put it in a bowl. And he made a strip of fat meat about two feet long. And he said, "Bolt it down. Let it appear out of the mouth this far (i. e., about an inch)." And the Grass-snake arranged the piece of fat meat so as to have it stick out of his mouth. And as the Grass-snake had no hands, he could not pull out his fat meat. When the Grass-snake departed, he barely reached the people. At the same time that the Grass-snake departed, Haxige went homeward. Having seized his younger brother, he fled homeward. And it was difficult for the Grass-snake to speak. When he said, "Haxige, Haxige," he spoke in a very faint voice. When he arrived very near to the people, they thought that he was very far away. Said they, "That Grass-snake says, 'Haxige.'" And when they sought for him, behold, the Grass-snake had come very close to them. "Ho! ho! It is the Grass-snake, but he has a piece of fat meat very tight in his throat," said they. And they pulled it out for him. And the people went homeward to the village. And when Haxige went homeward, there was an aged Beaver-woman. And Haxige said, "Old woman, what are you about?" "Yes, grandchild," said she, "Haxige has killed two of the Water-monsters, consequently they have taken me as a servant." And he said, "Old woman, what work that you can do has led you to join the party?" "Yes, grandchild, they threaten to make a flood on Haxige. When Haxige, in consequence of it, sits in a boat, they say that I am to gnaw a hole in it, and so I have joined them." "Old woman, even if it be so, Haxige will sit in the boat, and will get along very well at any rate." "And, moreover, even if they fail at this, grandchild, they threaten to make darkness over the whole earth," said she. "Old woman, even if so, Haxige will sit in a gorge, in a deep hollow. As he sits in the hollow, he will be eating the animals which die from falling into it." "Besides, grandchild, even if they fail with the darkness, they speak of making an abundance of snakes," she said. "Old woman, even if so, Haxige will make paws of turtle shells, and he will walk treading on the heads of the snakes in all places." And then having said, "Old woman, what sort of person are you that you hate Haxige?" he crushed in her skull with several blows. And he went homeward. Haxige went homeward, and when he reached home, he made a very small lodge. Having transported so many stones of a certain size, he made a sweat-lodge. And having placed the skin of his brother in a sitting position on one side, he sat on the other. And having made the stones very red-hot, he sat pouring water on them; he made the small lodge very hot. He did thus for four days. On the fourth day he made his brother return to life. His younger brother was alive. And he said, "Ho! friend younger brother, as I was very desirous for you to be alive, I have made you alive. But let us separate. And I, friend younger brother, will be a big wolf. And you, friend younger brother, shall depart as a young male deer." The End.

HOW THE BIG TURTLE WENT ON THE WAR-PATH.

TOLD BY LE-ŬA²HA

- Ki nƙaciⁿga taⁿwaŋƆaⁿ hƎƆactƎwaⁿji ƆƎiⁿ-biamá. ƳƎaŋga kƎdi
 And people village v. y. populous eat they say. Big turtle to it uŋha-biamá. Ki wƎnudaⁿ atí-hnaⁿ-biamá nƙaciⁿga áji amáa. Ki wiⁿ joined, they say. And to war against came regularly, they say people at another place. And one
- 3 ƆaƆƎí agƎá-biamá. Ki nudaⁿ úhaⁿ-biamá. Nƙaciⁿga naⁿba wáƆiƆewáƆiƎákilled they went home- And war-path he cooked (for it), Person two he caused them to go ward, they say. they say. for them
- biamá. WagáƆaⁿ wáƆƎaƆiƎƎ, Ƴehámajide Sin'ga cƎnaⁿba. Qáde naⁿba they say. Servant he caused to go Red-breasted turtle Gray-squir. those two. Grass two for their own, rel
- Ǝibúna iƎaⁿƎa-biamá úhaⁿ Ǝaⁿ ugácke tƎdi hidé tƎ. Ki a-i-biamá. Nƙaciⁿga he made he placed, they say kettle the fastening by the bottom the. And they approached, Person round
- 6 Ǝaⁿbe atí-biamá. Hau, nƙawasaⁿ! á-biamá. Nƙaciⁿga íqtai Ƴi Ǝgaⁿin sight came, they say. Ho, warrior! said he, they People injured when so
 say.
- wƎaⁿ-hnaⁿ, nƙawasaⁿ! ƆƎtƎ nudaⁿ uáhaⁿ, á-biamá. Úhaⁿ tƎ wataⁿzi they always do warrior! This war-path I cook said he, they Cooking the corn to them, (for it), say.
- ƎíƎe je-níxa edábe uáhaⁿ há, á-biamá. ƳƎaŋga aká. IⁿƎapa iⁿƎacki-hne sweet buffalo- also I cook said, they say Big turtle the Corn-crusher you go after him paunch (for it) (sub.). for me
- 9 tai. Ɔaŋ'ki Ɔíbaⁿi-Ɔá, á-biamá. (Ci Ǝgaⁿ Míxáhe, Wáxu Ǝti, Wéhe Ǝti, will. And call to him, said he, they (Again so Comb, Awí too, Pestle too,
 say.)
- Náwiⁿxe Ǝti, Ie-nóxe cƎna, wébaⁿi-Ɔá, á-biamá. ƳƎaŋga aká. ÉƆiƆe Fire-brand too, Buffalo-bladder enough, call them, said, they say Big turtle the.) At length
- wébaⁿ uƎá-biamá nƙaciⁿga naⁿba amá. Ki IⁿƎapa Ɔíbaⁿ-biamá:
 to call went, they say person two the And Corn-crusher they called him,
 them (sub.). they say:

12 Iⁿ-Ǝa-pá! wa-ská-Ǝiⁿ-heau! Iⁿ-Ǝa-pá! wa-ská-Ǝiⁿ-heau! Iⁿ-Ǝa-pá! wa-ská
 O Corn-crusher! Lowl bring! O Corn-crusher! bowl bring! O Corn-crusher! bowl

Ǝiⁿ-heau! Iⁿ-Ǝa-pá! wa-ská-Ǝiⁿ-heau! á-biamá Ci Míxáhe Ɔíbaⁿ-biamá:
 bring! O Corn-crusher! bowl bring! said they, they Again Comb they called him,
 say.

biamá:
they say:

3 haŋgá! waŋ'giçe na'aⁿi, á-biama. Gíbaⁿi-má waŋ'giçe^{ti} ahi, Xéaŋga chief! all heard, said they, they Those called all arrived, Big turtle

ji. té'di. Hau! núdaⁿhaŋgá! Iⁿépa, Míxáhe, Wáxu, Wéhe, Náwiⁿxe, Je-ledge at the. Ho! O war-chief! Corn-crusher, Comb, Awl, Pestle, Fire-brand, Buffalo

néxe, níaciⁿga gáama íqtai éaⁿja ééça-báji égaⁿ. Núdaⁿ iⁿwiⁿnudaŋgáçe bladder, people those injured though do not stir like. War-path let us go to war for 6 tai, á-biamaⁿ Xéaŋga aká. Dúba jaⁿ xi aŋgáçe tai. Iⁿépa úhaⁿ ágajíthem, said, they say Big turtle the (sub.), Four night when let us go Corn-crusher to cook he combiamá. Núdaⁿhaŋgá! Iⁿépa, éí uéíhaⁿ te há. Kí Míxáhe éí haⁿ guáçicaⁿ they say. O war-chief! Corn-crusher, you you cook will . And Comb again night beyond it té'di éí uéíhaⁿ te há. Cí Wáxu éí ééna uéíhaⁿ te há, á-biama. Nudaⁿwhen you you cook will . Again Awl you that many you cook will said he, they War-

9 haŋga ééna dúba úhaⁿi. Nudaⁿhaŋgai; ucté amá wagáççaⁿi. Kí níaciⁿga chief that many four cooked. They were war-chiefs; rest the were servants. And people amá gá-biama: Ná! níaciⁿga wébaⁿ amá éaⁿ é'be núdaⁿ úhaⁿi té'cti. Kí

(the) said as follows, Why! persons those who were called who war-path they took (See note). And wiⁿ gá-biama: Ná! Xéaŋga úhaⁿ-biama. Téná! ékaⁿ-juáji-má ékaⁿ-éí-á-one said as follows, Why! Big turtle cooked, they say. Paha! they who cannot move they who can-put now fast enough all he gathered I Paha! They will destroy them they find they see when.

12 ma éaⁿ waŋ'giçe wábaⁿí á. Téná! Cénawáçe tá amá úbesniⁿ wéçai té.

Nudaⁿhanga wéçig éaⁿ t'aⁿi-de nudaⁿ aká té, á-biama. Iⁿépa úhaⁿ-biama.

War-chief mind pos. when he may carry on war, said they, they Corn-crusher cooked, they say.

Núççe úhaⁿ-biama, éí je-níxa égaⁿ uéíhaⁿ-biama. Cí Wáxu aká úhaⁿ-biama.

Turnips he cooked, they again buffalo-paunch like he cooked together, Again Awl the cooked, they say.

15 Siⁿ úhaⁿ-biama. Cí Míxáhe aká úhaⁿ-biama. Jéçawe úhaⁿ-biama. Gaⁿ, Wild rice he cooked, they say. Again Comb the (sub.) cooked, they say. Jéçawe he cooked, they say. And,

Céna jaⁿ. Aŋgáçe tai, haⁿ xi, á-biama. Gaⁿ açi-biama. Xéaŋga aká

Enough sleep. Let us go. night when, said he, they And they went, they Big turtle the (sub.)

utaⁿ-çáhe jaŋ'ga gaxá-biama. Híçawiⁿ-daⁿpá híçawiⁿ-biama. Maⁿçín'k leggings with large flaps made they say. Short garters he tied around the leg- gings, they say. Earth indé ɛaⁿ ɬiɣá-biamá ɣɛaŋga aká. Gaŋ'ki jideɛɛ-hnaⁿ-biamá. Gaŋ'ki face the rubbed with, they Big turtle the And he reddened it they say. And qáde ɛagá-biamá. ɬaɣpi ɛaⁿ hiⁿ qpe ská' áji-biamá. ɬɛɛheha ɛɛza-biamá, grass he wore on his head, top of the fine feather white he put them on, Gourd he took his, they say, they say. head they say. (rattle) ɛɛgaⁿ-biamá. Gasáɛu-biamá. Wa'aⁿ-biamá nudaⁿ haŋga wa'aⁿ ejaⁿ tɛ. 3 thus they say. He shook and rattle- He sang they say war-chief song his the.

Ké-taⁿ Quⁿ-ye wá-te kú-he cá-naŋ-gá hí-e tɛé-e gó, hí-e tɛé-e gó.
 (See note.)

Naⁿtɛⁿ qti maⁿɛiⁿ-biamá. ɬɛicaⁿ maⁿɛiⁿ-biamá. Aɛá-biamá ɣi aⁿba amá.
 Stepping lively he walked they say. Around he walked they say. They went, they when day they say.

Éɛiɛe ɬe-núga jin'ga wiⁿ atí-biamá. Níkawasaⁿ! gínaⁿ hébai-gá, á-biamá 6
 At length Buffalo-bull small one came, they say. Warrior! wait ye for him, said, they say ɣɛaŋga aká. Kí, Wagácaⁿ maⁿbɛiⁿ-de awánaɣɛiⁿ qti maⁿbɛiⁿ. ɬakúɛa-gá, Big turtle the And, Traveling I walk while I am in a great hurry I walk. Speak rapidly, á-biamá. Eátaⁿ maⁿhiⁿ éiⁿte. Aⁿhaⁿ, núdaⁿ haŋga, égaⁿ, á-biamá. Wagá-said he, they Why you walk nay! Yes, O war-chief, so, said he, they Travel.

 (sub.)

 say.

caⁿ maⁿhiⁿ-de uɛɛɛiⁿ égaⁿ, Éⁿdi maⁿbɛiⁿ té, ebɛégaⁿ, uwinai há, á-biamá 9
 big you walk while they told as, There I walk will, I thought, I sought you, said, they say

(ɬe-núga jin'ga aká). Kégaŋ-gá, á-biamá (ɣɛaŋga aká). Ckaⁿ ɛina tɛ (Buffalo-bull small the). Come, do so, said, they say (Big turtle the). Ways your the (movements)

wínaⁿ be kaⁿbɛaⁿ, á-biamá. ɬe-núga aká uɛɛɛaⁿ-biamá. Gidáhaⁿ-biamá.
 I see for you I wish, said he, they Buffalo-bull the rolled himself over, they He arose again, they say.
 say. (sub.)

ɬanⁿ de ké jáhe-hnaⁿ-biamá. Hé tɛ ijahe-hnaⁿ-biamá. ɬanⁿ de ké baɣápi-de 12 Ground the he thrust regu. they say. Horn the he thrust regu. they say. Ground the he gored while at early at with early hébe aⁿ ɛa ɛɛɛa-biamá. Sinⁿ de ké ɛiqaⁿ tégaⁿ najiⁿ-biamá. ɬaonaŋ'ge piece he throw away suddenly Tail the break off will, he stood they say. Ash-tree they say. like wiⁿ ɛdedi-te amá. Iénaxiɛa-biamá. Bastákiqti wéahide ɛɛɛa-biamá. Núdaⁿ-one it stood there, they He attacked it, they say. Pushed and far away he sent forcibly, O war.

 say, splintered it they say.

haŋga, gámaⁿ tɛskaⁿ bɛégaⁿ náaⁿ xiɛa ɛiɛi ɣi, á-biamá (ɬe-núga aká) 15 chief, I do that will. I expect to scare, or vex he it, said, they say (Buffalo-bull the).
 me threatens

Níkaciⁿ ga d'úba wagácaⁿ juáwagɛe wadaⁿ ba-gá há. Wahéhe ɛtəwaⁿ Person some traveling I with them so them Faint-hearted in the least ɛingai. Éwaɛɛkigaⁿ ɛtəwaⁿ ji. ɬɛiaⁿ ɛiɛɛ. Ké, maⁿɛiⁿ ga, á-biamá. Wa'aⁿ there are none. You are not in the least like them. You have disap- Come, walk, said he, they Song pointed me. say.

tɛ ɛi wa'aⁿ-biamá. Ké-taⁿ Quⁿ-ye wá-te kú-he cá-naŋ-gá, hí-e tɛé-e gó, 18
 the again he sang they say. Turtle Big (see note)

hí-e tɛé-e gó, á-biamá. Cí aɛá-biamá. Níkawasaⁿ! tiɛiⁿ-i-gá, á-biamá. Ní said he, they Again they went, they Warrior! pass ye on, said he, they Water
 say. say.

258 THE CEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- wi^{n'} ededf-ke amá, jin'gaji. Phiá-biamá. Gan'ki Náwi'xe pahan'ga one there it lay, they say, not small. They crossed it, And Fire-brand before
- wacka^{n'}qti ma^{n'}ci^{n'} amá. Egiçe ujéça-bi ega^{n'} niahicéça-biamá ga^{n'} náji-making a great was walking, they At length weary, they because he plunged into the water, and went out effort say. say they say they say
- 3 biamá. Núda^{n'}hañgá! čéčuqtei eubéa-máji, á-biamá. Níkawasa^{n'}! uqéč'qtei they say. O war-chief! just here I go not to you, said he, they say. Warrior! very soon
- agéfi tá minke. Ca^{n'} gfiñ'-gá, á-biamá. Masáni ahf-bi ega^{n'} ačá-biamá.
 I come will I who. For a sit, said he, they The other reached, having they went, they back say. say. side they say say.
- Egiçe Ingča^{n'}-si^{n'}-snéde wi^{n'} ci atf-biamá. Níkawasa^{n'}! gína'hébai-gá, e'a^{n'} At length Long-tailed-cat one again came, they say. Warrior! wait ye for him, (See note.) In a line stand ye, said he, they say.
- 6 téga^{n'} ca^{n'} i'te. Egazéze naji^{n'}i-gá, á-biamá. Čakúča-gá, á-biamá. E'a^{n'} (note.) speak quickly, said he, they say. How
- ma^{n'}hni^{n'} éi^{n'}te, á-biamá. A^{n'}ha^{n'}, núda^{n'}hañgá, éga^{n'}, á-biamá. Wagáca^{n'} you walk may I said he, they say. Yes, O war-chief, so, said he, they say. Traveling
- ma^{n'}mi^{n'}-bi a^{n'} uéča-hna^{n'}i. Kí e'di ma^{n'}béi^{n'} ka^{n'}bča ga^{n'} uwínai, á-biamá yo. walked it was they was told regularly. And there I walk I wish so I have sought said he, they said said of you you, say.
- 9 Kéčan-gá, á-biamá. Čka^{n'} čičtja té wíja^{n'}be taté. Gan'ki Ingča^{n'}-si^{n'}-snéde
 Do so, said he, they say. Ways your own the I see for you shall. And Long-tailed-cat
- aká hi^{n'} ké bčúgaqti xigčiheda^{n'}-biamá. Sin'de ké čic'in'ka-biamá. Gan'ki the hair the all over made his bristle up, they say. Tail the he bent backward, they (sub.) say. And
- Čahé jin'ga kigčáha ua^{n'}si úiáča-biamá. Júqti jin'ga wi^{n'} uma^{n'}činka hill small to the bottom leaping he had gone, they say. Deer small one year
- 12 na^{n'}ba améga^{n'} núde-jáce ča^{n'} čit'a^{n'}bi ega^{n'} čaqčúje čahé agéfi-biamá. Gáma^{n'} two like them throat lump the touched, having making him holding he came back, I do that they say, they say, cry by biting with his teeth they say.
- téska^{n'}-bčéga^{n'}, núda^{n'}hañgá! edáda^{n'} náa^{n'}xíča 'čai xí, á-biamá. Ačúhe, will, I expect, O war-chief! what to scare or vex he threatens if, said he, they Again (someme say. say. say. thing else).
- á-biamá xčánga aká. An'kaji há, núda^{n'}hañgá! eona^{n'}, á-biamá. Úcia^{n'}.
 said, they say Big turtle (sub.). Not so, O war-chief! that alone, said he, they You have
 say. say. say.
- 15 čáčé, á-biamá xčánga aká. Níkaci^{n'}ga čéčanká juáwagče čanká wada^{n'}- disap- said, they say Big turtle the Person these who I with them the ones who see pointed me, (sub.).
- ba-gá, á-biamá. Áwata^{n'} wi^{n'} júaji áda^{n'}, á-biamá. Čijúajiqtia^{n'}. Ké, them, said he, they Where (stands) one imperfect I said he, they You are very in- Come,
 say. say. say. ferior.
- ma^{n'}čín'-gá. Či úcia^{n'}čáčé, á-biamá. Ačá-biamá. Egiçe Čahé xíha ahf-bi walk. You you have disap- said he, they They went, they At length hill down, they arrived, pointed me, say. say. say. ward they say
- 18 xí, égiçe Wasábe wi^{n'} atf-biamá. Núda^{n'}hañgá! ci atf wi^{n'}, á-biamá. E'a^{n'} when, behold Black bear one came, they say. O war-chief! again has come one, said they, they (See
 say. say. say.
- téga^{n'} ca^{n'} i'te, níkawasa^{n'}! Gína'hébai-gá. Egazéze naji^{n'}i-gá, á-biamá.
 (note.) warrior! Wait ye for him. In a row stand ye, said he, they say.
- Hau! ké, čakúča-gá. E'a^{n'} ma^{n'}hni^{n'} éi^{n'}te. Wagáca^{n'} ma^{n'}béi^{n'}-de awána-Ho! come, speak quickly. What is your business? Traveling I walk while I am in a
- 21 qéi^{n'}qti ma^{n'}béi^{n'}, á-biamá (xčánga aká). A^{n'}ha^{n'}, núda^{n'}hañgá! éga^{n'}, á-great hurry I walk, said, they say (Big turtle the). Yes, O war-chief! so, said.

biamá (Wasábe aká). Wagácaⁿ maⁿhniⁿ-bi áf uéŋa-hnaⁿí, kí é'di maⁿbéiⁿ they say (Black bear the). Traveling you walked, it they was told regu- and there I walk was said said of you larly, kaⁿ'bēa gaⁿ' uwinēqti áŋa, á-biamá. Hau! kégaⁿ-gá, á-biamá (ŋéŋaŋga

 I wish and I have sought indeed, said he, they Ho! do so, said, they say (Big turtle you diligently say.)

aká). Ájaⁿ gaⁿ' céceiⁿte. Ckaⁿ' éŋéŋa maⁿ'be kaⁿ'bēa, á-biamá (ŋéŋaŋga 3 the). How so you may have thought that. Ways your own I see I wish, said, they say (Big turtle you do)

aká). Wasábe aká jan'de ké éŋápi-bi gaⁿ' maⁿ-jáce aⁿ'ŋa-hnaⁿ éŋa-biamá.
 the). Black bear the (sub.) ground the plowed with so round lumps threw regu- he sent forcibly, they say they say of earth away larly they say.

Gaⁿ'ki áckahi náŋabe wiⁿ' édedí-te amá. Énaxiŋá-biamá. Ána-bi egaⁿ'
 And oak blackened by one stood there, they say. He attacked it, they say. Hugged it, having fire they say, they say, aⁿ'ŋaŋti éŋa-biamá. Núdaⁿhaŋgá! edádaⁿ náaⁿxiŋa 'ŋai ŋi gámaⁿ téŋa- 6

 he throw it sent suddenly, they O war-chief! what to scare or vex he If I do that will, I far say.

béŋgaⁿ, á-biamá (Wasábe aká). Gaⁿ'ki gáí té ŋéŋaŋga taⁿ: Hau! níkaexpect, said, they say (Black-bear the). And said na Big turtle the Ho! níka-follows (std. oh.): war.

wasáⁿ, úciaⁿŋáŋŋ. Níkaciⁿga d'úba éŋaŋká juáwagéⁿ-de wadaⁿ'ba-gá, rior, you have disap- Person some then who I with them but see them,
 pointed me.

á-biamá. Wahche ctéwaⁿ éŋaŋá. Úciaⁿŋáŋŋ. Ké, maⁿŋiⁿgá. Júbaŋi-má 9 said he, they Paint-hearted in the least there is none. You have disap- Come, walk. The inferior ones say pointed me.

égaⁿ-hnaⁿ éŋawakéŋ há, á-biamá.
 so regu- I send them off said he, they say.
 larly

Uteŋŋéti é'di aŋá-biamá. Éŋŋe Je-néxe éŋké éibéŋa-biamá, Dense under- there they went, they At length Buffalo-bladder the (ob.) was torn open, they growth say, say, éŋá'egaⁿ-ma. Qe-í! éŋuŋŋéti eubéŋa-máŋi, á-biamá. Hau! níkawasaⁿ! 12 sound of tearing like it, Alas! just here I go not to you, said he, they Ho! níkawasaⁿ!

 they say say, warrior!

uŋŋéŋŋéti agéí tá minke. Caⁿ' gŋiⁿ-gá, á-biamá (ŋéŋaŋga aká). Cí very soon I come will I who. For a while sit, said, they say (Big turtle the). Again aŋá-biamá. Aŋá-biamá ŋi uhé pŋáŋi é'di ahi-biamá. Jaⁿŋaⁿqa maⁿ'ciáŋŋéŋŋéti they went, they They went, they when path bad there they reached, Log very high

 say say

gŋadiⁿ jaⁿ' ke amá. ŋéŋamáŋŋe aká áŋajade éí'á amá. Hau! núdaⁿ- 15 across were lying, they say. Red-breasted turtle the to step over failed they say. Ho! núdaⁿ(sub.) O war.

haŋgá, éŋuŋŋéti eubéŋa-máŋi, á-biamá. Hau! níkawasaⁿ, uŋŋéŋŋéti agéí tá chief, just here I go not to you, said he, they Ho! warrior, very soon I come will say say, say, back

minke. Caⁿ' gŋiⁿ-ga, á-biamá (ŋéŋaŋga aká). Cí aŋá-biamá. Aŋá-biamá I who. For a while sit, said, they say (Big turtle the). Again they went, they They went, they
 say say

ŋi, éŋŋe Caⁿ'ŋaŋga wiⁿ' atí-biamá. Núdaⁿhaŋgá, cí atí wiⁿ', á-biamá. 18 when, behold Big wolf one came, they say. O war-chief, again has one, said they,
 come they say.

Eⁿ' tégaⁿ caⁿ' íte, níkawasaⁿ! Gínaⁿhébai-gá. Égázéze nájí'í-gá, á-biamá (See note.) warrior! Wait for him. In a row stand ye, said, they say (Big turtle the). Ho! come, speak quickly. What is your business? Traveling

260 THE ÇEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- maⁿbēiⁿ-de awánaqēiⁿ qti maⁿbēiⁿ, á-biamá (xéaŋga aká). Aⁿhaⁿ, núdaⁿ.
I walk while I am in a great hurry I walk, said, they say (Big turtle the). Yes, O war-chief!
haŋgá! égaⁿ, á-biamá (Caⁿjaŋga aká). Wagaⁿcaⁿ maⁿhniⁿ-bi ní uqéŋaso, said, they say (Big wolf the). Traveling you walked it was they said was told of you
- 3 linaⁿi, ki é'di maⁿbēiⁿ kaⁿbēa gaⁿ uwínaí, á-biamá (Caⁿjaŋga aká). Hau!
regu- and there I walk I wish as I have sought you, said, they say (Big wolf the). Ho!
larly,
kégaŋ-gá, á-biamá (xéaŋga aká). Ájaⁿ gráⁿ céceiⁿte. Ckaⁿ çieŋa jaⁿba do so, said, they say (Big turtle the). How so you may have Ways your own I see thought that.
kaⁿbēa, á-biamá (xéaŋga aká). Xiⁿ amá. Já té jideŋa-biamá. Sí té
I wish, said, they say (Big turtle the). He decorated himself, Nose the he reddened, they Foot the they say. (See note) say.
- 6 waŋ'giçe jideŋa-biamá. Nan'ka kē qieŋa macaⁿ ugácka-biamá. Qa-i!
all he reddened, they say. Back the eagle feather he tied on, they say. Why!
á-biamá. Kégaŋ-gá, á-biamá. Ckaⁿ çieŋa té jaⁿbe kaⁿbēa. Kégaŋ-gá, said he, they Do so, said he, they Ways your own the I see I wish. Do so,
say.
á-biamá (xéaŋga aká). Caⁿjaŋga amá uŋ'giçicaⁿcaⁿ-biamá. Ki wateŋ cka said, they say (Big turtle the). Big wolf the turned himself round and round, And creek (sub.) they say.
- 9 jin'ga jaⁿ kē'di wawénaxieŋa aŋá-biamá. Láqti wiⁿ t'çea-biamá. Çahé small wood by the to attack he went, they say. Deer one he killed, they Holding with the teeth
agŋéi-biamá. Núdaⁿhaŋgá! gámaⁿ téskaⁿbégaⁿ, edádaⁿ náaⁿxieŋa 'çai xi, he came back, they O war-chief! I do that will, I expect, what to scare or vex he if, say, no threatens á-biamá (Caⁿjaŋga aká). Úciaⁿçáçé. Níkaciⁿga d'úba wagaⁿcaⁿ juáwagçe said, they say (Big wolf the). You have disap- Person some traveling I go with them pointed me.
- 12 çanká wadaⁿba-gá há. Wahéhe etéwaⁿ çioŋaí. Ké, maⁿçin'-gá. Égaⁿ.
the ones see them Faint-hearted in the least there is none. Come, walk. So
who hnaⁿ júŋji-má çéawakçéŋ, á-biamá Níkawasaⁿ Sin'ga, wadaⁿbe maⁿçin'-gá, regu- the inferior I send them off, said he, they Warrior Gray-squirrel, to see them walk, larly, ones say.
á-biamá. Sin'ga amá wadaⁿbe aŋá-biamá. Égiçe agi-biamá, nisúda said he, they Gray squirrel the to see them went, they say. At length he was returning, horn
say. (sub.) they say.
- 15 bihúhutaⁿ. Núdaⁿhaŋgá, cugi, á-biamá. xéaŋga é'di aŋá-biamá. Hau!
blowing on. O war-chief, he is said they, they Big turtle there went, they say. Ho!
returning, say.
nliⁿawasaⁿ, wágazúqti gáxa-gá. Égaⁿqti iⁿwiⁿçea-gá, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, warrior, very straight do (=act). Just as it is tell me, said he, they say. Yes, núdaⁿhaŋgá! égaⁿqti áça! Aⁿwaⁿbesniⁿ-bajiⁿ-qtiaⁿ pí áça! á-biamá. Ji O war-chief! just so indeed! They did not find me out at all I was indeed! said he, they Lodge
say.
- 18 xaⁿhaqtei kē anŋeŋiⁿ taí, á-biamá (xéaŋga aká). xéaŋga aŋé 'çen-biamá.
border very the let us sit, said, they say (Big turtle the). Big turtle going spoke of, they
say.
Wégaskaⁿawáçé tá minke, níkawasaⁿ! édiŋqtei anáméiⁿ, á-biamá. Agŋéi-
I look around to see how will I who, O warrior! just there how many said he, they He re-things are may be, say. turned, biamá. Níkawasaⁿ, eúha anŋáçé taí. Çétaⁿ ugŋeŋiⁿ údaⁿ çan, á-biamá.
they say. Warrior, thither, let us go. This far sitting-place good the, said he, they ward say.

Ca' amá, Hau! níkawasaⁿ! núdaⁿhangá I'fapa! kégan-gá. Igaskaⁿby and by, as Ho! O warrior! O war-chief Corn-crusher! do so. Make an they moved,

fa-gá. I-f-gaga afe tá aká. Núdaⁿhangá! águdi agéi' tó'nte, á-biamá.
 attempt. Had lodge he will go. O war-chief! where I sit shall I said he, they
 say.

Núdaⁿhangá, níkawasaⁿ, ifjobe maⁿbítahíqti té'di áciaja fagei' to, á-biamá. 3
 O war-chief, O warrior, door (see note) when on the you will sit, said he, they outside say.

Ki wa'ú wi' néje áci afa-biamá. I'fapa uskaⁿskaⁿ ábit'á-biamá. Daⁿbá-Atique muller one mingers exit they say. Corn-crusher in a line with she pressed on him, she saw
 him,

biamá xi, gá-biamá: Hiⁿ! wamin'de kaⁿbéa faⁿeti. I'fapa peji'qtei they say when, she said as fol- Oh! mush I desired heretofore. Corn-crusher very bad lows, they say:

ieáxiqé-ná, á-biamá. I'fapa peji'qtei weágigéataⁿ té-na. Ieáxiqé, á-biamá. 6
 I have found I said she, they Corn-crusher very bad I pound my own will I have found for myself say, on with say, they

Wégataⁿ xi naⁿbé bégigaqti gastá-biamá. Wamí gaciba-biamá. Áci aⁿfa Founded on when hand the whole she mashed flat, Blood she forced out, they Out threw it (comb) with they say, say.

gécéa-biamá. I'fapa píaji. Aⁿfa gécéa-bi egaⁿ, caⁿcaⁿqti xéaⁿga náde she sent it back, they say. Corn-crusher bad. She threw sent it back, having, without stop- Big turtle near to ping him

agéa-biamá. Agéi-biamá. I'fapa eceⁿhnaⁿi wiⁿ píadi'qti gaqéi gél, á-biamá. 9
 he went back they He came back, they Corn-crusher you say rog. one right at the killed has come said he, they say, say, lodge her back, say.

Núdaⁿhangá! Mixahé! Igaskaⁿfa-gá, á-biamá. I'fapa géiⁿtédi'qti ei fagei'
 O war-chief! OComb! make an attempt, said he, they Corn-crusher sat just at it again you sit
 say.

te, á-biamá. Gaⁿ afa-biamá. Géiⁿ ágaji tédi'qti géiⁿ-biamá. Mixáhe will, said he, they And he went, they To sit commanded him just at it he sat, they say. Comb
 say.

aká údaⁿqti-biamá. Ki wa'ú wiⁿ áci afa-biamá. Mixáhe ké fca-biamá. 12 the very good, they say. And woman one out went, they say. Comb the she found, they (sub.) say. (recl. ob.) say.

Mixáhe aⁿcin'ge minké faⁿeti. Mixáhe peji'qtei ieáxiqé, á-biamá. I-fapa Comb I have been without one heretofore. Comb very bad I have found said she, they To the for myself, say, lodge

aéiⁿ akí-biamá. Uqé'qti íyigéáha-biamá. Najíha naⁿfade masáni having reached home, Very soon she combed her they say. Hair the temples on one side they say, (hair) with it bégigaqti gaonúda-biamá. Mixáhe píaji inahiⁿ faⁿ éde údaⁿ éskaⁿ-hnaⁿ ebéégaⁿ 15 all pulled out with they say. Comb bad indeed the but good as if only so I thought the comb it

faⁿeti. Aⁿfa gécéa-biamá ijébe té'di. Aⁿfa káífaí té'di caⁿcaⁿqti agéaheretofore. She throw she sent it, they door at the. He made her when without stopping he went it away say, throw him away back biamá. Najíha aéiⁿ agéa-biamá. Mixáhe hnáde-hnaⁿi wiⁿ píadi'qti they say. Hair having it he went back, they Comb you call him regu- one right at the say, larly lodge

najíha bégigaqti éname dí, á-biamá. Xéaⁿga ééiⁿ akí-biamá. I-biamá. 18 hair all I snatched I am said he, they Big turtle having he reached again, He gave to from her coming say, it for him they say, him, they say.

Gá-biamá Xéaⁿga: Wéonaⁿaⁿéagigé, á-biamá. Fé uné awíbein, á-biamá.
 Said as follows, Big Turtle: You make me thankful, said he, they This to seek I have you, said he, they
 they say, say.

IMAGE EVALUATION TEST TARGET (MT-3)

Photographic
Sciences
Corporation

23 WEST MAIN STREET
WEBSTER, N.Y. 14580
(716) 872-4503

- Wa'ú-ma wate'igaxea^awañ'kiçë taité aṅgákii xī Çiehniⁿ-de wa'ú wiⁿ
The woman we make them dance shall we reach home when. It is you since woman one
- béize tá minke. Miⁿagçáⁿ tá minke, á-biamá.
I take will I who. I take a female will I who, said he, they
her say.
- 3 Núdaⁿhaṅgá! Wáxu-há! açúh ígaskaⁿça-gá, á-biamá. Nudaⁿhaṅga
O war-chief! O Awl! again make an attempt, said he, they War-chief
say.
- Mixáhe gçíⁿ té cī é'di çagçíⁿ te, á-biamá. Wáxu aká údaⁿqteí-biamá;
Coub sat the again there you sit will, said he, they Awl the very good they say;
(sub.)
- daⁿbe údaⁿ-biamá. Gçíⁿ ágají-bi té cī é'di gçíⁿ-biamá. Wa'ú wiⁿ áci to look at good they say. To sit commanded the again there he sat they say. Woman one out h'u, they say
- 6 açá-biamá. Wáxu kē íça-biamá. Hiⁿ+! wáxu ínahiⁿ íçáxiçë, á-biamá.
went they say. Awl the she found, they Oh! awl indeed I have found said she, they (reci. ob.) say. for myself, say.
- Wáxu aⁿçín'ge çáⁿçti. Wéonankiçë, á-biamá. Jíaja açíⁿ agçá-biamá.
Awl I had none heretofore. I am caused to be said she, they Jíaja açíⁿ agçá-biamá.
thankful, lodge they say. to the having she went homeward, they say.
- Hiⁿbé ígidat 'íça-biamá. Hiⁿbé íçagíçáte té, á-biamá. Íbatá-biamá.
Moccasin to sew hers she spoke of it, Moccasin I sew mine will, said she, they Íbatá-biamá.
with it they say. with it say. She sewed with it, they say.
- 9 Naⁿbéhi té íbaqapí-biamá. Baonaⁿ çéça-biamá. Wamí héçaji amá. Lijébe Finger the she pierced with it, Missed in she sent suddenly, Blood not a little they they say. pushing they say. say.
- té'di aⁿça çéça-biamá. Wáxu kē píjji ínahiⁿ ehaⁿ+! Nié ínahiⁿ açíçáde.
at the threw it she sent suddenly, Awl the had truly! Pain • indeed I have made away they say. (ob.) for myself.
- T'çaxiçëçti-maⁿ, á-biamá. Aⁿça gçéça-biamá, jijébe áciçáçti. Wáxu
I have altogether killed said she, they She threw sending it homeward, jijébe áciçáçti. Wáxu myself, say. it away they say, door far out from. Awl
- 12 hnáde-hnaⁿi. Jíadiçti wiⁿ jáhe xī t'çaxë, á-biamá. Man'dehi wamíçti you called him Right at the one stabbed when I killed her, said he, they Spear very bloody regularly. lodge say.
- agçáçti. Xéçañga çínké é'di akí-biamá. Núdaⁿhaṅgá! Wáxu ijáje uxíçga had his. Big turtle the (ob.) there he arrived again, O war-chief! Awl his name telling his
they say.
- gí. Wiⁿ t'çéçë, á-biamá. Xéçañga aká gá-biamá: Hau! núdaⁿhaṅgá, is One he has said they, they Big turtle the (sub.) said as follows, Ho! O war-chief, coming killed, say.
- 15 wéonaⁿaⁿçáçiçë, á-biamá. Çieoniⁿ-de índé sábeáçigçë tá minke. Taⁿwaⁿ you make me thankful, said he, they It is you since face I blacken mine will I who. Village
say.
- çaⁿ újawa taté, á-biamá. Hau! Wéhe-á! ígaskaⁿça-gá, á-biamá. Nudaⁿthe joyful shall said he, they Ho! O Pestle! make an attempt, said he, they War-(be), say. say.
- haṅga Wáxu juⁿ té cī çajaⁿ te, á-biamá. Wéhe údaⁿqteí-biamá. Kí é'di chief Awl lay the again you lie will, said he, they Pestle very good they say. And there
say.
- 18 ahí-biamá. Jaⁿ ágají té'di jaⁿ-biamá. Wa'ú wiⁿ áci a-f-biamá. Wéhe he arrived, they To lie commanded by he lay, they say. Woman one out was coming, Pestle say. him the they say.
- kē íça-biamá. Hiⁿ+! wéhe údaⁿ ínahiⁿ íçáxiçë. Wéhe aⁿçín'ge çáⁿçti, the she found, they Oh! pestle good truly I have found Pestle I had none heretofore, (reci. ob.) say.

- á-biamá. Jíŋa aŋi' ákí-biamá. Wata'zi d'úba ɕízá-biamá. Úhe tɛ said she, they At the lodge having she reached home, Corn some she took, they say. Mortar the
 say.
- ují-biamá. Há-biamá. Wajúba-biamá. Cinan'déqti ákiha' jáha-biamá.
 she filled, they She pounded it, She beat it fine, they Right on the knee beyond she stabbed, they
 say.
- Baona' ɕéɕa-biamá, éga' cinande jáha-biamá. Hi'! wéhe pŋji inahi' 3
 She missed and sent suddenly, so knee she stabbed, they Oh! pestle bad truly in pushing they say, say.
- eha'! á-biamá. Áciara a'ɕa gɕéɕa-biamá. Wéhe ecé-hna'í ɕiá'di'qti wi'
 I said she, they Outside throwing she sent it homeward, Pestle you say regularly right at one
 say.
- jáhe gí, wi' t'ɕɕé há, á-biamá. ɕɕaŋga ɕinké é'di ákí-biamá. Wi' t'ɕaɕɕé, stabbed is one has killed said he, they Big turtle the (ob.) there he reached, they One I have coming back, say.
- núda'hangá! á-biamá. Wéona'a'ɕágiɕé, á-biamá ɕɕaŋga aká. Hau! 6
 O war-chief! said he, they You make me thankful, said, they say Big turtle the (sub.) Ho!
- níkawasa' Sin'ga, ígaska'ɕa-gá, á-biamá. Téná! núda'hangá, é'a' daxe O warrior Gray make an attempt, said he, they Fle! O war-chief, how I do squirrel, say.
- tá, á-biamá. Jí amá ɕab úyi-biamá. ɕabé ké ɕhuɕa' pabáci ké íɕahe can! said he, they Lodge the (pl.) tree camped in them, Tree the smoke-hole above the you pass
 say.
- ma'hni' te. Íɕɕai ɕi ɕikide tá amá. Wackaŋ-gá, á-biamá, názande 9 you walk will. They find it they will shoot at you. Do your best, said he, they to evade the
 say.
- wackaŋ-gá. Wi' gaqé ahí ɕi iénaxiɕa-gá, á-biamá. Égiɕe nújŋa wi' do your best. One aside reaches if attack him, said he, they At length boy one
 say.
- íɕa-biamá. ɕéɕi sin'ga wi' aha', á-biamá. Za'ɕ'qti aɕá-biamá. Wahúta'ɕi found him, they This one gray one I said he, they In a great they went, they Roaring weapon
 say.
- íkidá-biamá. Úti'ctéa' hna'-biamá. Nújŋa wi' gaqáa naji'-biamá 12 they shot at him They even hit regularly they say. Boy one at one side stood they say.
 with, they say.
- Iénaxiɕa-biamá. ɕaqtá-biamá. Iénaxiɕa-bi ɕi ɕi'ái a-í-biamá. Wuhú!
 He attacked him, they say. He bit him, they say. They attacked him, when they they were coming, Wonderful!
 they say.
- sin'ga úmaka inahi' ɕa'cti a'ɕi'ái há. Ángú-hna' wi' wáɕaqtai há, á-biamá.
 gray easy indeed heretofore we have We only one has bit us said they, squirrel failed they say.
- Sin'ga hnáde-hna'í gaza'adiqti wi' t'ɕɕé gí há, á-biamá. ɕɕaŋga uɕa- 15
 Gray you call regularly right among them one killed is coming said he, they Big turtle told to squirrel him say.
- biamá. Hau! níkawasa'qti, á-biamá. Wágazuqti gáxa-gá, á-biamá.
 they say. Ho! real warrior, said he, they Very straight act, said he, they
 say.
- Núda'hangá, éga'qti, á-biamá. Wi' t'ɕaɕɕé, á-biamá. Hau! níkawasa', O war-chief, just so, said he, they One I have said he, they Ho! warrior, killed, say.
- wéona'a'ɕágiɕé áɕa, á-biamá.
 you make me thankful indeed, said he, they
 say.
- Hau! níkawasa', ígaska'bɕe tá minke, wí, á-biamá. ɕáci agɕí-máji.
 Ho! warrior, I make a trial will I who, I, said he, they A long I come not back.
 say.
- Égiɕe ɕagɕé tai, á-biamá ɕɕaŋga aká. Égiɕe a'ɕa' hna' ɕagɕé tai, á-biamá Beware you go lest, said, they say Big turtle the (sub.) Beware you leave no you go lest, said, they say
 homeward

- ȳčāŋga aká. Ē'di ahf-biamá. Maqúde d'úba áhigi gaqta^{n'}-bitéamá. Náji té Big turtle (sub.). There he arrived, they say. Ashes some many had been poured out, they say. They had gone out.
 amá. Ēgiçe ȳčāŋga aká ušídani^{n'}-biamá. Ma^{n'}te ačá-biamá. Ma^{n'}te gčī^{n'}- they say. At length Big turtle (sub.) the pushed his way through, they say. Within he went, they say. Within he sat.
 3 biamá. Ictá ča^{n'} éčá^{n'}be gčī^{n'}-biamá ušixide ga^{n'}. Wa'ú wi^{n'} a-f-biamá ha^{n'}- they say. Eye the emerging he sat, they say looking around as. Woman one was coming, morn- they say.
 ega^{n'}tce ȳčāŋga gčī^{n'} čínké eca^{n'}qti naji^{n'}-biamá. Laháwagče gi^{n'}- ing when. Big turtle (sub.) sat the one who very near she stood, they say. Shield carried his biamá ȳčāŋga aká. Laháwagče i^{n'}čata^{n'} te há', á-biamá. Wa'ú aká ušixidá-they say Big turtle (sub.) the Shield you tread will said he, they say. Woman the looked around (sub.) around 6 biamá. Áwatš'ja fai éda^{n'}, ečéga^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, ušixidá-biamá. Či égiča^{n'}-biamá.
 they say. At what place he speaks I thought she, having, she looked around, Again he said to her, they say.
 Laháwagče i^{n'}čata^{n'} té. Gúdiha naji^{n'}-gá, á-biamá. Kí wa'ú aká šča-biamá.
 Shield you tread will. Further away stand, said he, they say. And woman the found him, they say. (sub.) say.
 Hi^{n'}! á-biamá. Čka^{n'}ji naji^{n'}-gá. Wabáji^{n'}wičé, á-biamá ȳčāŋga aká ȳčé-
 Oh! said she, they say. Motionless stand. I cause you to carry said, they say Big turtle (sub.) Big 9 ȳčāŋga aká nuda^{n'} atí-bi aí, é kí-gá, á-biamá. Níkagahi ija^{n'}ge ubátihégičai turtle (sub.) to war has come he say reach said he, they say. Chief his daughter he buried his by hanging up ké é ga^{n'}ča atí-bi, aí, é kí-gá, á-biamá. Gá-biamá: Gaqixéqti čéčai-gá, the that desiring has come, he say reach said he, they say. They said as fol- Break in (his send suddenly, (recl. ob.) lows, they say: head) á-biamá níkaci^{n'}ga bčúga. Gá-biamá: Áqta^{n'} a^{n'}čáqixe čéčáčé tába, á-biamá said, they say people all. He said as follows, How: you break in you send can! said, they say they say: possible my (head) suddenly (pl.).
 12 ȳčāŋga aká. A^{n'}čáonaha ča^{n'}čá^{n'} čéčáčai ȳčī jšbe čaxigčáqa^{n'} taí, á-biamá.
 Big turtle (sub.). You hit and it slips off of me each time you send it if leg you break yours will, said he, they say.
 Ní tē nákadé^{n'}qti ȳčī ugčá^{n'} úda^{n'}, á-biamá. Či+cte! á-biamá Ní tē nákade Water the very hot when put him in good, said they, they say. For shame! said he, they say. Water the hot ana^{n'}bixa^{n'} níkaci^{n'}ga áhigi náčit'é taí, á-biamá. Win'ke éga^{n'}, á-biamá
 I scatter by kicking person many you die by scalding will, said he, they say. He tells the like it, said, they say truth 15 níkaci^{n'}ga amá. Kí éga^{n'} ȳčī usé úda^{n'}, á-biamá. Či+cte! á-biamá. Čéde people (sub.). And so if to burn good, said they, they say. For shame! said he, they say. Fire tē ana^{n'}bixa^{n'} ȳčī maja^{n'} ča^{n'} bčúga náqčī^{n'}áčé té. Ēgiçe cin'gajin'ga cti the I scatter by kicking if land the all I cause to blaze will. Beware children too áhigi náčit'é taí, á-biamá. Win'ke éga^{n'}, á-biamá. Kí cin'gajin'ga wi^{n'} ní many you die will, said he, they say. He tells the truth like it, said they, they say. And child one water 18 ná-biamá. Na^{n'}há, ní d'úba, á-biamá. ȳčāŋga aká, Hi^{n'}! á-biamá. Ní asked for, they say. O mother, water some, it said, they say. Big turtle (sub.) the said, they say. Water tē gactan'ka-biamá Čéčínké ní nákičai-gá, á-biamá. Edáda^{n'} é wáčake, the he tempted they say. This one water cause him to ask for, said (one), they say. What that you mean, (ot) á-biamá. Na'há! ní d'úba, á-biamá. *Ǿ*épinké *Ǿ*éjaŋga, Hi+! ní, á-biamá.

said (others), O mother! water some, it said, they say. This one Big turtle, Oh! he said, he, they say.

Wuhú! Ní na'pe pinké há, á-biamá. Níja aei' afa-biamá, sín'de ké Wonderful! Water he is fearing said they, they say. To the water having him they went, they tail the uca'-bi ega'v. *Ǿ*éjaŋga aká jan'de ké ina'fa'ta' etéwa' ca' sín'de ké 3 hold, they have. Big turtle (sub.) the ground the clinging to notwith- standing yet tail the uca'-bi ega'v níja aei' ahi-biamá. Ní ké égi' a'fa iééfa-biamá.

hold, they having to the water having him they arrived, they Water the headlong threw him they sent suddenly, they say.

Ní ké ga' ma'fi'a'-biamá. Xagé'a ma'fi'-biamá. Níwa' ga'jinga gaxá-Water the for he walked, they say. Crying a little he walked, they say. To swim knew not how he made biamá. Wí! wí! wí! á-biamá. Wuhú! ní ké gaza'aja féfai-gá, á-biamá. 6 they say. Wí! wí! wí! said he, they say. Wonderful! water the to the midst of send him said they, they say.

Pí égi' iééfa-biamá. *Ǿ*úwi'xe ma'fi'-biamá. Égié uspe amá. Kí, T'é há, Again head- long they sent him sud- denly, they say. Wandering around he walked, they say. At length he sunk, they And, Dead á-biamá. Agfa'-biamá. É'di éga' ga'é'a' etai éde, á-biamá níaci'ga amá.

said they, they say. They went homeward, immediately you should have done said, they say people the (sub.).

Agfa'-biamá *Ǿ*í núnjiga d'úba é'di naji'-biamá. Kí *Ǿ*éjaŋga ugáha 9
They went home- ward, they say. wian boy some there stood they say. And Big turtle floating á-i-biamá. Ugás'in atf-biamá. Kí núnjiga d'úba é'di ucka' fan'di da'w'be was coming, Peeping he came, they say. And boy some there done (was dead) at the to see nai'-biamá. *Ǿ*éjaŋga nuda' tí *Ǿ*i'ti t'écafa-bi ecaí fa'cti. A'da'w'be stood they say. Big turtle to war came when, in the past that you killed him, you said heretofore. Look here ifa'i-gá, á-biamá *Ǿ*éjaŋga aká. Ufa' agfa'-biamá núnjiga amá. *Ǿ*éjaŋga t'é- 12 at me, said, they say Big turtle the (sub.) it tell went homeward, boy the (sub.) Big turtle you fa'fa-bi ecaí éde éca' aká júga *Ǿ*idáha éga' weáaqa, á-biamá. *Ǿ*éjaŋga aká killed that you said but this one, the body showed him as laughed at us, said they, they say. Big turtle the (sub.)

níja aká-biamá. Hau! a'fa' naxí'ai hau, á-biamá níaci'ga amá. Iénaxífaalive he is they say. Ho! we attack him I said, they say people the (sub.) They attacked him biamá. É'di ahi-biamá Áwačan'di? á-biamá. *Ǿ*éčandi, á-biamá. Nuona' 18 they say. There they arrived, they say. In what place? said they, they say. In this place, said (the boys), Otter they say.

áwači' é á. Wé's'a-nídeká cti áwači' é á, á-biamá. Céna'ba uné tai, where is he moving Grass-snake too where is he I said they, they Those two let them seek him, á-biamá. *Ǿ*éjaŋga aká ma'fi'ka ma'ka' te gpi'-biamá. *Ǿ*acije ictá fa' edábe said they, they say. Big turtle the (sub.) the soil within sat they say. Tip of nose eye the also (ob.)

enáctei éfa'be amá. Wé's'a Nuona' éfa'ba uná-biamá ní ma'na'ta. Éca'q'ti 18 alone emerged they say. Snake Otter too sought him, they water within. Very near to

- tha-biamá. ḏá ça ágajade-hna^v-biamá. İça^aba^v etégaⁿ xī Nuona^v ııqti they passed, they Head the they stepped regu- they say. A second time apt when Otter the very
say. over larly abdomen
- čan^vdi çaqtá-biamá Hau! jī^açéha, nié a^vckáxe, á-biamá. Ki, Éataⁿ a^vwa^v- in the he bit him, they say. Ho! elder brother, pain you make me, said he, they And, Why you seek
say.
- 3 čané? á-biamá ḡéaŋga aká. Uwína-máji há, á-biamá. Wabçáte ka^vbea me! said, they say Big turtle the (sub.), I did not seek you said he, they I eat I want
say.
- añ'gakikipai, á-biamá. An'kaji, t'ea^vçé ga^vça-má é'di uçche ckaⁿ'hna ga^v
we have met each said he, they Not so, to kill me they who wish there you join you wished so other, say.
- a^vwa^včané, á-biamá. Há jī^açé! há jī^açé! jī^açéha! wibçaha^v. Uwína-máji, you sought me, said he, they O elder brother! O elder brother! I pray to you. I have not sought say. brother! brother! you, say.
- 6 á-biamá. Wibçactaⁿ tégáⁿ-máji, á-biamá. Hau! jī^açéha, ata^v xī a^vçactaⁿ said he, they I will by no means let you go said he, they Ho! elder brother, how when you open
say. say. say. long long your mouth (from my mouth), and) let me go
- taté, á-biamá. İngça^v gçí xī wibçactaⁿ tá minke, á-biamá. Hüⁿ+! İngça^v shall, said he, they Thunder has when I let you go will I who, said he, they Halloo! Thunder-
say. god come back god
- gçí xī a^vçactaⁿ áça. Hüⁿ+! Hi-útaⁿna a^vçactai áça. Hüⁿ+! Nfaciⁿ'ga has when he lets me go indeed. Halloo! Between the legs he bites me indeed. Halloo! People come back
- 9 wéça çéça-biamá. Çaqtá-bi é, á-biamá. Hi-útaⁿna çaqtá-bi é, á-biamá.
saking a he sent suddenly, He is bitten, he said they, it is Between the legs he is bitten, he said they, it is favor of they say. that says, said. said. that says, said.
- İsha ııtiñ-gä, á-biamá. İsha gapúki-biamá. Hau! jī^açéha, İngça^v amá Tent-skin hit for him, said they, they Tent-skin they made sound by Ho! elder brother, Thunder- the
say. hitting, they say. hitting, they say. god (sub.)
- gçí, á-biamá. Gráama İsha ııtiⁿ, á-biamá ḡéaŋga aká. Ci ja^v gáçiaçá has said he, they Those tent-skin hit, said, they say Big turtle the Again wood to fell it come, say. (pl. obj.) (sub.).
- 12 údaⁿ, á-biamá. Ja^v gçé gaçiaçá-hna^v-biamá. Ja^v gçé, Qwi⁺, qwi⁺, á-biamá.
good, said they, they Wood the they were felling they say. Wood the, (sound of trees fall- ing), said, they say.
(pl. obj.)
- Hau! jī^açéha, İngça^v amá gçí, á-biamá. Gráamá çti ja^v gaçiaçái, á-biamá
Ho! elder brother, Thunder- the has said he, they Those too wood they fell, said, they say god (sub.) come, say.
- ḡéaŋga aká. Wahútaⁿçíⁿ çicibe údaⁿ, á-biamá. Ji^açéha, gçí, á-biamá.
Big turtle the Gun to fire good, said they, they Elder brother, it has said he, they (sub.). say. come, say.
- 15 Gráamá çti wahútaⁿçíⁿ çicibai, á-biamá ḡéaŋga aká. Éçice İngça^v hútaⁿ-
Those too gun they fire, said, they say Big turtle the At length Thunder- roared (sub.). god
- biamá wéahidé^vqti. Hau! jī^açéha, gçí, á-biamá. Çacta^v-biamá. Nuona^v
they say very far away. Ho! elder brother, it has said he, they He let him go, they say. Otter come, say.
- aká qçáqçti-biamá. Gçé amá. Qçáqti kí amá.
the very thin they say. He went they say. Very lean he reached home, they say.
(sub.) homeward
- 18 Wajin'ga na^vba-ma ça^v ní çaⁿ çaqu tai, á-biamá. Bçéxe wáçíⁿ gçí-gä,
Bird the two the water the let them drink said they, they Pelican having be ye re(obj.) if dry, say. them turning,

- á-biamá. Wáfiⁿ agí-bi egaⁿ, Ní ɸaⁿ ɸaúí-gá há, á-biamá. Níaciⁿ ga wiⁿ said they, they having them coming back, they say. when, Water the drink ye dry . said they, they Person one
- nudaⁿ atí éde t'éaⁿwaⁿɸaiⁿ éde núa. Weáqaqátiⁿi, t'eaⁿɸé añaⁿɸaiⁿ to war came but we killed them but alive. He laughs heartily at us, we kill him we desire
- aⁿɸizai ɸi. ɸaú-biamá wajiⁿga aká. Djúbaqtei ɸéaⁿga gɸiⁿ ɸaⁿ enáqtei 3 we tal. when. Drank it dry, they bird the (sub.). A very little Big turtle sat the only
- ugácta-biamá. ɸi ɸéaⁿga aká gá-biamá: Hau! níkawasaⁿ Sin'ga, é'di was left they say. And Big turtle the (sub.) said as follows, Ho! warrior Gray-squirrel, there they say.
- gí-gá, águdi ɸáɸiⁿɸéiⁿte, á-biamá. Nápuháqti t'éaⁿɸai, á-biamá. Sin'ga be coming back, where you may be mov- ing, said he, they Almost I am killed, said he, they Gray-squir- rel
- amá hutaⁿqti agí-biamá. Wawénaxɸa agí-biamá. Ní-uji ɸaⁿ wáɸabɸazá- 6 the crying loud was coming back, they say. To attack them he was coming Water-pouch the he tore them by biting
- biamá akíɸa. Uɸá'uⁿudá-biamá. Égiɸe ní ké bɸúgaqti é'ia akí-biamá.
 they say both. He bit holes in (them), they say. At length water the all there reached home, they say.
- Wateɸeka níuɸicaⁿ ɸaⁿia égiⁿgaⁿ-biamá; ní ugji-biamá. Wébatá-gá, Creek lake to the it was as before, they water filled with its, they Sew ye for them, say.
- á-biamá. Míⁿxa amá Bɸéxe-má núde gɸe wébatá-biamá. Wébaté ɸictaⁿ- 9 said they, they Swan the Pelican the throat the sewed for them, they Sewing for them they fin- ished
- biamá. Ké, cí ɸaúí-gá. Wackaⁿi-gá, á-biamá. Égiɸe aⁿɸiⁿa taí, á-biamá.
 they say. Come, again drink it dry. Do your best, said they, they Beware we fail lest, said they, they say.
- Ci ɸaú-biamá. Ci ní ɸaⁿ djúbaqtei ucté amá. Há! níkawasaⁿ Sin'ga, Again they drank it dry, they say. Again water the (ob.) a very little was left they say. Ho! warrior Gray-squir- rel,
- águdi ɸáɸiⁿɸéiⁿte, ɸápuháqtei t'éaⁿɸai. É'di gí-gá, á-biamá ɸéaⁿga aká. 12 wherever you may be mov- ing, nearly I am killed. There he coming said, they say Big turtle the (sub.).
- É'di agí-bi egaⁿ cí núde wáɸabɸabɸazá-biamá. Ci ní ké bɸúgaqti é'ia
 There he was com- ing back, they say when again throat he bit and tore them in many places, they say. Again water the all there
- akí-biamá. Núde gɸe ɸájiqti wáxa-biamá. Baté etéwaⁿ ɸájiqti wáxa-reached home, they say. Throat the very bad he made them, they To sew in the least very bad he made them
- biamá, baté uɸci égaⁿ. Caⁿ aⁿwaⁿɸic'a taⁿgataⁿ. Sin'ga amá ɸiqá- 15 they say, to sew difficult. Yet we fail we who will. Gray-squirrel the chased (mv. ob.) him
- biamá ɸi ɸic'a-biamá. Sin'ga it'aɸéwáɸé ínahiⁿ á, á-biamá. Sin'ga e-hnaⁿ they say when they failed, they say. Gray-squir- rel abominable very I said they, they Gray-squir- rel alone
- ɸéaⁿga júgɸai ebɸégaⁿ. E-hnaⁿ uɸúki ebɸégaⁿ, á-biamá. Ádaⁿ aⁿwaⁿɸiⁿai, Big turtle with him I think. He only sided with him I think, said they, they There- fore we have failed,
- á-biamá. Caⁿgaxá-biamá. Haⁿ ɸi agɸá-biamá ɸéaⁿga aká É'di 18 said they, they They ceased they say. Night when went back, they say. Big turtle the (sub.). There
- akí-biamá júwagɸai ɸankádi. Hau! níkawasaⁿ, wamáxeɸai ɸi agɸé-hnaⁿi.
 he reached again, he with them by those who were. Ho! warrior, they got even when they go usually. with them homeward

- Çi'an'ge watełgaxe ičáhidai čja'miⁿ áhaⁿ, á-biamá. Agčá-biamá. Ūčicaⁿ Your sister to dance they are tired I suspect I said he, they They went homeward, Around of waiting say. they say. them
- ma'čeiⁿ-biamá. Čéxe čuⁿ gigečusaču ma'čeiⁿ-biamá. Níkawasⁿ! čéğimaⁿ té he walked they say. Gourd the rattling his he walked they say. Warrior! thus I do will
- 3 ché-de égaⁿ há, á-biamá. Usá-biamá. Xéaŋga nudaⁿ čaiⁿ x'i'ti wáhna-
I said but so said he, they He burnt (grass), Big turtle on the went when, you lava-they say. they say. they say. war-path in the past
- híde-hnaⁿi. Níkaciⁿga wáqeiⁿ gí-bi čskaⁿ amá usá-biamá. Égičeiⁿ xi čaⁿ riably ridiculed. People killed them he is they think they he burnt (grass), At length vil the coming back that say. they say. (ob.)
- éčaⁿbe akl-biamá. Wahútaⁿčeiⁿ čiciba-bi egaⁿ najiha jaⁿjinga ugácke in sight they reached home, Gun (!) fired, they say having hair stick tied to
they say.
- 6 ačínⁿ-bi egaⁿ, Nudaⁿ amá čéğei. Igacaⁿcaⁿ. Níkaciⁿga wáqeiⁿ cagí. In'čapa having it, when, They who went to there they They ran round. People killed there they Corn-they say war have come. and round. them are coming crusher back.
- wiⁿ t'éččé á-bi no+! J'šádr'qti t'éččé á-bi no+! á-biamá. Mixáhe šádr'qti one he killed he says (see note). Right in the he killed he says said he, they Comb right in the lodge him say. lodge
- wiⁿ t'éččé á-bi no+! á-biamá. Wáxu šádr'qti wiⁿ t'éččé á-bi no+! á-biamá.
one he killed he says! said he, they Awi right in the one he killed he says! said he, they say. lodge
- 9 Wéhe šádr'qti wiⁿ t'éččé á-bi no+! á-biamá. Sin'ga gazaⁿadiqti čubčeiⁿ Peeble right in the one he killed he says! said he, they Gray-squirrel right among them three lodge
- t'éwaččé á-bi no+! á-biamá. Nudaⁿhaŋga gazaⁿadiqti za'č'qti Xéaŋga killed them he says I said he, they War-chief right among them in a great Big turtle
say. uproar
- učaⁿ-biamá no+! Či'á-biamá no+! á-biamá. Ixjjuqti ma'čeiⁿ-biamá.
they held him, they say! They failed, they say! said he, it is said. Very proud he walked they say.
- 12 J'aháwagče gi'íⁿ ma'čeiⁿ-biamá Xéaŋga. J'í tó ude agčá-biamá. Ūčei Shield carrying his walked they say Big turtle. Lodge the to enter he went homeward, Telling of (ob.) they say. to them
- gčeiⁿ-biamá. Níkaciⁿga na'aⁿ gaⁿčai égaⁿ č'di ahí-hnaⁿ-biamá. Eátaⁿ he sat they say. People to hear it wished as there they regu- they say. Why arrived larly
- čei'ái á, ecaⁿqtei áiağčiⁿ. Ecaⁿqtei ičagčiⁿ xi eátaⁿ xi čanša. Ní naⁿape did they I very near they sat. Very near you sat if how when you alive. Water I feared sat with you
- 15 čáxe gaⁿ anša, á-biamá. Can'de gúdama ictá čingai, á-biamá. Eátaⁿ
I pro- so I alive, said he, they If so those over eye they have said they, they How temied say. say.
- xi čanša ičeičai-báji. Égaⁿčaiⁿja maqude maⁿte agčiⁿ gaⁿ anša, á-biamá.
if you alive they did not find Nevertheless aahoa in I sat so I alive, said he, they
you. say.
- Níkaciⁿga wáqeiⁿ agči. Eátaⁿ i'čéjai á, á-biamá. Níaciⁿga čiaqči-hnaⁿi Person killing him I have come home. Why you doubt I said he, they People killing you reg- ularly me say.
- 18 wačákihna-báji égaⁿ wénudaⁿ pí. Níaciⁿga t'éawaččé. Eátaⁿ i'čéjai čí'te.
you did not take ven- as to war on them I was People I killed them. Why you doubt may I geance on them them there. me
- Čéna uáğča tá minke. Caⁿčaxe, á-biamá. Četaⁿ.
Enough I tell of will I who. I have stopped, said he, they So far.
myself say.

NOTES.

254, 2. nikaciŋga aji amaja, literally: "people, different, at them." It may be intended for aji amajata, "from a different people."

254, 4. qade na²ba. The two bundles or wisps of grass are used (1) for wiping the mouths and hands of the guests; and (2) for wiping the bowls and kettles. They are then put into the fire, and the bowls are passed through the smoke which ensues.

254, 5. úha² ɸa² ugácke (tēdi), equivalent to uha² uŋágacke, and isugɸe, the forked stick from which the kettle is suspended over the fire.

254, 9. gíba²i-gá, call to him. The Ŧegíha call (ba²), but the Ŧiwiwē never do. The latter go to each tent, and speak to those invited to a feast.

254, 12. waská ɸi²heaú. This is a contraction from "waské aɸi² ɸi²hé aú, bowl, having, be sure."

256, 4. "ɤejaŋga ɸi² tēdi," was given by the narrator, but "ɤejaŋga 6 ɸi² tēdi" is plainer, according to J. La Flèche. I agree with F. La Flèche in regarding "e ɸi² tēdi" as more definite than "ɸi² tēdi". The word "e" may be rendered, "the aforesaid."

256, 5. nikaciŋga guama, the people of the village where the Big turtle resided.

256, 5. nuda² i²wi²nudaŋgaɸe tal, i. e., (nuda²) i²wi²nuda² aŋgáɸe tal. The "nuda²" seems redundant.

256, 9-10. niaciŋga ama, the men for whose sake they were going to war. Frank La Flèche says that "Ébe núda² úha²i tēti" is equivalent to "Núda² úha² aká ébéi tē²oti," the former meaning, "Who is cooking the war-feast?" and the latter, "Who is he that is cooking the war-feast?"

256, 12. ubésni² weɸai tē. Sanssouci prefers "ubésni² ɤi²" if he finds him out; but Frank La Flèche says "úbesni²i ɤi²" if they find them out, which is better.

256, 15. ɤeɸawe, the root of a water-plant, which is scarce at present. The plant has a leaf resembling a lily, but it is about two feet in diameter, and lies on the water. The stalk extends about two feet above the water, and ends in a seed-pod. The seeds, which are black and very hard, are almost oval. The Indians dry the root, and cut it in pieces about six inches long, if required for a long time; but, if not, they boil it.

257, 1. inde ɸa² ibiɤa-biama. He made alternate black and red stripes on his face, extending from left to right.

257, 3. ɸega² ama. Here the narrator made an appropriate gesture.

257, 4. Song of the war-chief. The words in the text are of Ŧiwiwē (Iowa) origin, but are given as pronounced by the Omahas. The correct Ŧiwiwē version, according to Sanssouci, is, "ɤeta² Qa²ye watee ɤu he (anye ke) iéa-naŋa hie tee ɤu he," answering to the Ŧegíha, "ɤejaŋga wáte agi-biamá ecaí ɸa² e té agii há:" "The Big turtle is coming back from touching the foe, they say, you said. He is coming back from touching." Frank La Flèche reads "wát²" for "wáte"; but he does not understand the use of the last clause, e té agii há.

257, 5. uɸica² ma²ɸi²-biama. The war-party marched in the following order: Two scouts went in advance. Then came the "nuda²haŋga jiiŋga," carrying the sacred bag. He was followed by the warriors, who marched abreast. The war-chiefs walked behind them. The Big turtle danced around the warriors as they moved along, passing between them and the nuda²haŋga jiiŋga.

257, 7. ɸakuɸa-gá, addressed to the Buffalo.

257, 11. gidálu²-biama, equivalent to "Naji² átiáɸa-biamá," He stood suddenly.

257, 19. tiéai-gā, keep on, is addressed to a few; but when there are many in the party, tiééai-gā is used, the latter (tiééé) being the frequentative of tié.

258, 2. niáhiééai-biama (niáhiééé) is contracted from niáha, into the water; and iééé, to send or be sent suddenly.

258, 5. éa téga ca'ite. Sanssouci says that this is not plain. He substitutes for it, "Eáta táda cé éja'mi' há" (Liwere, To to u táma céé k'áre ké), I suspect that is how he will act; or, "Edó táda cé éja'mi' há," I suspect that that is what he will say. Frank La Flèche says that all three are correct.

258, 10. éi'ínka, to bend the tail backward.

258, 13. aéuha. The Turtle asked him to do something else; but the Wild-cat said that it was the only thing which he could do.

259, 3. ája ga' cece'ite, may be equivalent to "Ája ga' céce éi'ite," Sanssouci gave, as the Liwere, Táka-na céce k'áre ké.

259, 7. gai té yéaúga ta', implies that the narrator witnessed this; but as he did not, it should read, gá-biamá yéaúga aká.

259, 12. éiqúte-ga'-ma. When anything is torn, the sound made by the tearing is called qu'é.

260, 5. da té, the nose of an animal as distinguished from that of a person, da ké.

260, 15. yéaúga é'di aéá-biamá. The Turtle went thither to meet the Squirrel.

260, 18. á qa'baqtei ké, just on the border or edge of the lodges, just outside the camp circle or the line of tents.

261, 3. yjébe ma'bitahíqti tédi. There are two renderings of this, according to Sanssouci. (1) yjébe ma'bit'á-ahíqti tédi, When, or, On arriving right at the door by pressing on the ground (in crawling). (2) yjébe ma'bit ihé-qti tédi, áciaja yéi hidé té'di éagéi' te, You will sit outside at the bottom of the tent-pole, when, by pressing on the ground with hands and feet as you are lying down, you drag yourself up even to the door. Frank La Flèche says that the first is the correct one in this myth.

262, 1. éiehi'-de wa'ú wi' béize tá miúke, etc.: "On account of you I will take a wife—you will acquire her for me." A figure of speech used in praising warriors.

262, 4. Wáyu aka uda'qtei-biama, pronounced u-da'qtei-biama by the narrator. So, thirteen lines below, Wehe u-da'qtei-biama.

262, 9. wami hegaji amá, pronounced wamí< héguji amá.

263, 11. súnga wi' aha'. Za'éqti, pronounced súnga wi' aha'<. Za+éqti.

264, 14. ana'bixa'. This should be followed by "á!", when, as in line 16.

265, 11-12. a'da'be ípái-gá, look at me from the place where you are standing: "Let your sight be coming hither to me." ípai-gá is from ípé, the causative of i, to be coming hither. Da'be ípé is a correlative of da'be ééé.

266, 14. wahuta'éi' éieibe uda'. This is a modern interpolation, a change probably made by the narrator, who had forgotten the ancient phrase. Frank La Flèche says that he never heard it used in this myth. The three phrases which he heard were, "Wahá-sagi uftiú-gá, Strike the hard skins for him"; "Áha uftiú-gá, Strike the tent-skins for him," and "Néxegaú uftiú-gá, Strike the drum for him."

267, 3. djubaqtei yéaúga gá' éa', pronounced dju+baqtei, etc.

267, 14. bate ctéwa' píájiqti wáxa-biama, pronounced bate ctéwa' pí<ijiqti wáxa-biama.

268, 7. á-bi no+. Frank La Flèche says that this is a wrong pronunciation of "á-bi ápu+," which is a contraction of "á-bi ápa u+."

TRANSLATION.

The people dwelt in a very populous village. The Big turtle joined them. And people dwelling at another village came regularly to war against them. And having killed one person, they went homeward. And the Turtle cooked for the war-path. He caused two persons to go after the guests. The servants whom he caused to go after their own were the Red-breasted-turtle and the Gray-squirrel. He made two round bunches of grass, and placed them at the bottom of the stick to which the kettle was fastened. And they were coming. The persons came in sight. "Ho, warriors!" said he. "Warriors, when men are injured, they always retaliate. I cook this for the war-path. I cook sweet corn and a buffalo-paunch. You will go after Corn-crusher for me. And call to him. Call to Comb, Awl, Pestle, Fire-brand, and Buffalo-bladder also," said the Big turtle. At length the two men went to call to them. And they called to Corn-crusher. "Corn-crusher, be sure to bring your bowl! Corn-crusher, be sure to bring your bowl! Corn-crusher, be sure to bring your bowl! Corn-crusher, be sure to bring your bowl!" And they called to Comb. "Comb, be sure to bring your bowl!" (Four times.) And so they called Awl. "Awl, be sure to bring your bowl!" (Four times.) And they called to Pestle. "Pestle, be sure to bring your bowl!" (Four times.) And they called to Fire-brand too. "Fire-brand, be sure to bring your bowl!" (Four times.) And they called to Buffalo-bladder, too. "Buffalo-bladder, be sure to bring your bowl!" (Four times.) The criers reached home. "O war-chief! all heard it," said they. All those who were called arrived at the lodge of the Big turtle. "Ho! O war-chiefs, Corn-crusher, Comb, Awl, Pestle, Fire-brand, and Buffalo-bladder, though those people have been injured, they do not seem to stir. Let us go on the war-path for them," said the Big turtle. "Let us go in four nights." He commanded Corn-crusher to cook. "O war-chief Corn-crusher, you will cook. And you, O Comb, will cook on the night after that. And you, O Awl, will cook, and complete the number." That many war-chiefs, four, cooked. They were war-chiefs; the rest were servants. And the people of the village said, "Why! Of the persons who have been called, who is cooking for the war-path?" And one said, "Why! The Big turtle cooked. Psha! Has he gathered all those who cannot move well enough, those who cannot move fast enough? Psha! If the foe find them out they will destroy them. When a war-chief has sense, he may carry on war." Corn-crusher cooked. He cooked turnips, and he cooked a buffalo-paunch with them, just as the Big turtle had cooked one with sweet corn. And Awl cooked wild rice. And Comb cooked gefawe. And the Big turtle said, "Enough days have elapsed. Let us go at night." And they departed. The Big turtle made leggings with large flaps. He tied short garters around them. He rubbed earth on his face, and he reddened it. He wore grass around his head. He put fine white feathers on the top of his head. He took his gourd-rattle thus. He rattled it. He sang the song of the war-chief. "The Big turtle is coming back from touching the foe, it is said," you say. He is coming back from touching." He walked, stepping very lively in the dance. He walked around them. As they went, it was day. At length a young Buffalo-bull came. "Warriors, wait for him," said the Big turtle. And he said to the Buffalo-bull, "While I walk on a journey, I am in a great hurry. Speak rapidly. Why are you walking?" "Yes, O war-chief, it is so. As they have told of you while you have been walking, I thought that I would walk there with you, and I have sought you," said the Buffalo-bull. "Do so," said the Big turtle. "I wish to see your movements." The Buffalo-bull rolled himself back and forth. He arose suddenly. He thrust repeatedly at the ground with his horns. He pierced the ground and he threw pieces away suddenly. He stood with his tail in the air and its tip bent downward. An ash tree stood there. He rushed on it. Pushing against it, he sent it flying through the air to a great distance. "O war-chief, I think that I will do that, if they speak of vexing me," said he. "Look at the persons with whom I am traveling. There are none who are faint-hearted in the least degree. You are not at all like them. You have disappointed me. Come, begone," said the Big turtle. Again the Big turtle sang the song. "The Big turtle is coming back from touching the foe, it is said," you say. He is coming back from touching," said he. Again they departed. "Warriors, pass on," said he. There lay a stream, which was not small. They crossed it. And Fire-brand was ahead, walking with a great effort. At length, because he was weary, he plunged into the water and was extinguished. "O war-chief, I am not going beyond here with you," said he. "Warrior, I will soon return. Remain here for a while," said the Big turtle. Having reached the other side, they departed. At length a Puma came. "Warriors, wait for him. I suspect what he will say. Stand in a row," said he. "Speak quickly," said he, addressing the Puma. "What is your business?" "Yes, O war-chief," said the Puma, "it was told of you regularly, saying that you walked on a journey. And there I wish to walk, so I have sought you." "Do so," said the Big turtle. "I shall see your ways." And the Puma made his hair bristle up all over his body. He bent his tail backward and upward. And he had gone leaping to the bottom of a small hill. Having caught by the throat (i. e., Adam's apple) a fawn that was about two years old, he came back, making it cry out as he held it with his teeth. "I think that I will do that, O war-chief, if anything threatens to vex me," he said. "Do something else," said the Big turtle. "No, O war-chief; that is all," said the Puma. "You have disappointed me," said the Big turtle. "Look at these persons with whom I am. Where is one who is imperfect? You are very inferior. Come, depart. You have disappointed me." They departed. At length, when they reached the foot of a hill, a Black bear came. "O war-chief, again one has come," said the warriors. "I suspect what he will say, warriors. Wait for him. Stand in a row," said the Big turtle. "Ho! Come, speak quickly. What is your business? While I walk on a journey, I am in a very great hurry," said the Big turtle, addressing the Black bear. "Yes, O war-chief, it is so. It was told of you regularly, saying that you walked on a journey. And as I desired to walk there, I have sought you diligently," said the Black bear. "Ho! Do so," said the Big turtle. "You may have thought how you do it. I wish to see your ways," said he. The Black bear pierced the ground with his claws, and threw lumps of earth to a great distance. And there stood an oak tree which had been blackened by fire. He attacked it. Having hugged it, he threw it with force to a great distance. "O war-chief, if anything threatens to vex me, I think that I will do that," said the Black bear. And the Big turtle said as follows, as he stood: "Ho! warrior, you have disappointed me. These are some persons with whom I am, but look at them. There is none who is faint-hearted in the least degree. You have disappointed me. Come, depart. Thus do I regularly send off the inferior ones."

They went into a dense undergrowth. At length the Buffalo-bladder was torn open, making the sound "Qu'e." "Alas! I am not going beyond here with you," said

he. "Ho, warrior! I will come back very soon. Remain so for a while," said the Big turtle. Again they departed. As they went, they reached a bad path. Very high logs were lying across it. The Red-breasted-turtle failed to atep over them. "Ho, O war-chief! I am not going beyond here with you," said he. "Ho, warrior! I will come back very soon. Remain so for a while," said the Big turtle. Again they departed. As they went, behold, a Big wolf came. "O war-chief, again one has come," said they. "I suspect what he will say, warriors. Wait for him. Stand in a row," said the Big turtle. "Ho! Come, speak quickly, whatever may be your business. While I walk on a journey, I am in a very great hurry," said the Big turtle. "Yes, O war-chief, it is so. It was told of you regularly, saying that you walked on a journey; and as I desired to walk there, I have sought you," said the Wolf. "Ho! Do so," said the Big turtle. "You may have thought how you do it. I wish to see your ways," said he. The Wolf decorated himself. He reddened his nose; he reddened all his feet. He tied eagle feathers to his back. "Why! Do so. I wish to see your ways. Do so," said the Big turtle. The Wolf turned himself round and round. And he went to the attack by the wood on a small creek. He killed a deer. He brought it back, holding it with his teeth. "O war-chief, I think I will do that, if anything threatens to vex me," said the Wolf. "You have disappointed me. See some persons with whom I travel. There is none who is faint-hearted in the least degree. Come, depart. Thus do I regularly send off the inferior ones," said the Big turtle. "Warrior Gray-squirrel, go as a scout," said he. The Gray-squirrel went as a scout. At length he was coming back, blowing a horn. "O war-chief, he is coming back to you," said they. The Big turtle went thither. "Ho, warrior! act very honestly. Tell me just how it is," said the Big turtle. "Yes, O war-chief, it is just so. I have been there without their finding me out at all," said he. "Let us sit at the very boundary of the camp," said the Big turtle. The Big turtle spoke of going. "Warriors, I will look around to see how things are, and how many persons there may be just there," said he. He came back. "Warriors, let us go in that direction. This far is a good place for sitting," said he. By and by, as they moved, he said, "Ho! warrior! O war-chief Corn-crusher, do so. Make an attempt. He will go to the end lodge." "O war-chief, where shall I sit?" said he. "O war-chief and warrior, you will crawl right to the door, and sit on the outside," said the Big turtle. Atque mulier mictum exit. She pressed on Corn-crusher, crawling in a line with him. When she saw him, she said as follows: "Oh! Heretofore have I desired mush. I have found for myself an excellent corn-crusher! I will pound my corn with an excellent corn-crusher! I have found it for myself." When she pounded on the corn with it, she mashed the whole hand flat, forcing out the blood with the blow. Out she threw it, sending it back again. "Bad corn-crusher!" Having sent it back as she threw it away, it went back, without stopping, to the Big turtle who was near by. He came back. "He whom you say is 'Corn-crusher' has come back, having killed one right at the lodge," said he. "O war-chief Comb, make an attempt. You will sit just at the place where Corn-crusher sat," said the Big turtle. Comb departed. He sat just where he was commanded to sit. Comb was very handsome. And a woman went out. She found Comb. "Heretofore I have been without a comb. I have found a very good comb for myself," said she. She took him back into the lodge. Very soon she combed her hair with him. He combed out all the hair on one temple (i. e., pulled out by the roots). "The very bad comb, but I thought it was good." She threw him away suddenly at the door. When he caused her to throw him away, he went back without stopping at all. He went back with the hair. "You have called him 'Comb.' I am coming back, having snatched all the hair from one right at the lodge," said he. He took it back to the Big turtle. He gave it to him. The Big turtle said as follows: "You make me thankful. I keep you to seek this. When we reach home, we shall cause the women to dance. Since it is you, I will take a woman. I will take a female.

O war-chief Awl, make an attempt. You will sit where the war-chief Comb sat," said the Big turtle. Awl was very handsome; he was very good to look at. He sat where he was commanded to sit. A woman went out and found Awl. "Oh! I have found a good awl for myself. I had no awl heretofore. It makes me thankful," said she. She went back to the lodge with him. She spoke of sewing her moccasins with him. "I will sew my moccasins with it," said she. She sewed them with him. She pierced the fingers with him. She missed in pushing him, sending him with force. There was much blood. She threw him away suddenly at the door. "The awl is indeed bad! I have indeed hurt myself. I have wounded myself severely," said she. She threw him far out from the door, sending him homeward. "You have called him 'Awl.' When I stabbed one right at the lodge, I killed her," said he. He had his spear very bloody. He came again to the Big turtle. "O war-chief," said they, "Awl is coming back, telling his own name. He has killed one." The Big turtle said as follows: "Ho! O war-chief, you make me thankful. Since it is you, I will blacken my face. The village shall be joyful. Ho! O Pestle, make an attempt. You will lie where the war-chief Awl lay," said he. Pestle was very handsome. And he arrived there. He lay where he was commanded to lie. A woman went out and found Pestle. "Oh! I have found a very good pestle for myself. I had no pestle heretofore," said she. She took him back to the lodge. She took some corn. She filled the mortar, and pounded the corn. She beat it fine. She thrust Pestle beyond, right on her knee. She missed the mark in pushing, sending him with force, and so she struck him into her knee. "Oh! A very bad pestle!" said she. She threw him outside, sending him homeward suddenly. "You have been used to saying 'Pestle.' He is coming, having stabbed one right at the lodge. He has killed one," said he. He reached the Big turtle again. "O war-chief, I have killed one," said he. "You make me thankful," said the Big turtle. "Ho, warrior Gray-squirrel! make an attempt," said he. "Fie! O war-chief, how can I do anything?" said he. The lodges camped among the trees. "You will pass along the trees above the smoke-holes of the lodges. If they find you, they will shoot at you. Do your best. Do your best to evade the arrows or blows. If one goes aside, rush on him," said the Big turtle. At length a boy found him. "This moving one is a gray squirrel!" said he. They went in a great uproar. They shot at him with guns. They even hit him with sticks. One boy stood aside. He attacked him and bit him. When they attacked him, they failed, and were approaching him. "Wonderful! Heretofore the gray squirrel was very easy to approach, but we have failed. One has bitten us alone" (i. e., we have done nothing to him), said they. "He whom you are used to calling 'Gray-squirrel' is coming back, having killed one right among them," said he. He told it to the Big turtle. "Ho! real warrior, act very honestly," said the Big turtle. "O war-chief, it is just so. I have killed one," said he. "Ho! warrior, you make me thankful," said the Big turtle.

"Ho! warriors, I, even I, will make a trial. I shall not come back for some time.

Beware lest you go homeward. Beware lest you leave me and go homeward," said the Big turtle. He arrived there. Some ashes had been poured out. They were extinguished. At length the Big turtle pushed his way through. He went within. He sat within, with his eyes sticking out, looking around. A woman was approaching, when it was morning. She stood very close to the sitting Big turtle. The Big turtle carried his shield. "You will tread on my shield," said he. The woman looked around. "At what place does he speak?" thought she; so she looked around. Again he said to her, "You will tread on my shield. Stand further away." And the woman found him. "Oh!" she said. "Stand still. I send you with a message," said the Big turtle. "Reach home and say, 'The Big turtle says that he has come to war. He says that he has come desiring the chief's daughter, whose body has been placed on the bough of a tree.'" All the people said as follows: "Break in his skull suddenly." He said as follows: "How is it possible for you to break in my skull suddenly? If you let your weapons slip off suddenly from me each time, you will break your legs with the blows." "When the water is very hot, it will be good to put him in it," said they. "For shame! When the water is hot, and I scatter it by kicking, many of you will be scalded to death," said he. "He tells what is probably true. And if it be so, it is good to burn him," said the people. "For shame! If I scatter the fire by kicking it, I will cause all the land to blaze. Beware lest many of your children, too, die from the fire," said he. "He tells what is probably true," said they. And a child begged for water. "O mother, some water," it said. The Big turtle said, "Oh!" He tempted them with reference to the water. "Cause the child to ask for water," said one. "What do you mean by that?" said others. "When it said, 'O mother, some water,' this one, the Big turtle, said 'Oh!'" said he. "Wonderful! He is fearing the sight of water," they said. They took him to the water, holding him by the tail. Notwithstanding the Big turtle clung to the ground with his forelegs, they held his tail, and reached the water with him. They threw him forcibly right into the water. He walked the water for a while, crying a little, and pretending that he did not know how to swim. He said, "Wi! wi! wi!" "Wonderful! Throw him out to the middle of the stream," said they. Again they sent him headlong. He was wandering around. At length he sunk. And they said, "He is dead." They went homeward. "You should have done that to him at the first," said the people.

When the people went homeward, some boys stood there. And the Big turtle was approaching floating. He came peeping. And some boys stood looking at the place where the deed was done. The Big turtle said, "When the Big turtle came in the past to war on you, you said that you killed him. Look here at me." The boys went homeward to tell it. "You said that you killed the Big turtle, but as this one behind us showed his body, he laughed at us. The Big turtle is he who is alive," said they. "Ho! we attack him!" said the people. They attacked him. They arrived there. "In what place?" said they. "In this place," said the boys. "Where is the Otter? Where is the Grass-snake? Let those two alone seek him," said they. The Big turtle sat under the soil (i. e., mud, etc., at the bottom of the water). Only the tip of his nose and his eyes were sticking out. The Snake and Otter sought him beneath the water. They passed very near to him, and stepped regularly over his head. When the Otter was about to pass the second time, the Big turtle bit him in the very abdomen. "Ho! elder brother, you make me pain," said the Otter. And the Big turtle said, "Why do you seek me?" "I did not seek you. As I desired food, we have met each other," said the Otter. "No, you wished to join those who desire to kill me, so you sought me," said the Big turtle. "O elder brother! O elder brother! I pray to you. I have not sought you," said he. "I will by no means let you go from my mouth," said the Big turtle. "Ho! elder brother, how long before you open your mouth and let me go?" said the Otter. "When the Thunder-god has come back, I will let you go," said he. "Halloo! He lets me go when the Thunder-god has come back. Halloo! He bites me between the legs. Halloo!" said he. Raising his voice, he asked a favor of the people. "He says that he is bitten. He says that he is bitten between the legs. Hit tent-skins for him," said the people. They made the tent-skins sound by hitting them. "Ho! elder brother, the Thunder-god has come back," said the Otter. "Those hit tent-skins," said the Big turtle. And the people said, "It is good to fell trees." They were felling the trees here and there. The trees said, "Qwit, qwit," crashing as they fell. "Ho! elder brother, the Thunder-god has come back," said the Otter. "Those, too, fell trees," said the Big turtle. "It is good to fire guns," said the people. "Elder brother, he has come back," said the Otter. "Those, too, fire guns," said the Big turtle. At length the Thunder-god roared very far away. "Ho! elder brother, he has come back," said he. He let him go. The Otter was very thin. He went homeward. He reached home very lean. "Let the two birds drink the stream dry. Bring ye the Pelicans hither," said they. When they were coming back with them, the people said, "Drink ye the stream dry. A person came hither to war, and we killed him, but he is alive. He laughs heartily at us, when we take him and desire to kill him." The birds drank it dry. There was left only the very small quantity in which the Big turtle sat. And the Big turtle said as follows: "Ho! warrior Gray-squirrel, be coming hither again, wherever you may be moving. They have almost killed me." Gray-squirrel was coming back, crying loud. He was coming back to attack them. He tore open both of their water-pouches by biting. He bit holes in them. At length all the water returned to its former place. At the creek and lake it was as before; they were filled with their water. "Sew ye the pouches for them," said the people. They sewed up the throats of the Pelicans. They finished sewing them. "Come, drink it dry again. Do your best. Beware lest we fail," said the people. They drank it dry again. Again was very little of the water left. "Ho! warrior Gray-squirrel, wherever you may be moving. They have nearly killed me. Be coming hither again," said the Big turtle. When he was coming back, he bit and tore open their throats again in many places. Again all the water returned to its place. He made their throats very bad. He made them very bad to be sewed at all. It was difficult to sew them. "Yet we shall fail. The Gray-squirrel is very abominable! I think that the Gray-squirrel is the only one with the Big turtle. I think that he is the only one siding with him. Therefore we have failed to hurt them," said one of the people. They ceased. When it was night the Big turtle went back. He reached his comrades again. "Ho! warriors, when men get the better of their foes in a fight, they usually go homeward. I suspect that your sisters are tired of waiting to dance!" said he. They went homeward. He walked around them, rattling his gourd. "Warriors, I said that I would do thus, and so it is," said he. He burnt the grass. "You did nothing but laugh at the Big turtle when he went on the war-path." (This was addressed to the absent people of his village). He burnt the grass so that they might think that he was coming home after killing the foe. At length they arrived in sight of the village, their home. Having fired guns, they tied the scalps to a stick. Then those in the village said, "Yonder come those who went to war!" The returning warriors ran round and round. "There they are coming home, having killed the people of the enemy," said those in the village. An old man said, "Corn-crusher says that he killed one. Halloo! He says that he killed her right at the lodge. Halloo! Comb says that he killed one right at the lodge. Halloo! Awl says that he killed one right at the lodge. Halloo! Pestle says that he killed one right at the lodge. Halloo! Gray-squirrel says that he killed three right among them (i. e., in the midst of the ranks of the foe). Halloo! It is said that they held the war-chief, the Big turtle, right among them, in a great uproar. Halloo! It is said that they failed to injure him. Halloo!" The Big turtle walked very proudly, carrying his shield. He went homeward to enter the lodge. He sat telling them about himself. As the people wished to hear it, they continued arriving there. "Why did they fail with you when they sat very near? If you sat very near them, how is it that you are alive?" said the people. "I pretended to be afraid of water, so I am alive," said he. "If so, those over there have no eyes. How is it that they did not find you when you were alive?" "Nevertheless, I sat in the ashes, so I am alive. I have come home, having killed people. Why do you doubt me? As you did not take vengeance on the people who used to be killing you, I was there to war on them. I killed them. How can you doubt me? I will tell no more about myself. I have ceased," said he. The End.

THE MAN AND THE SNAKE-MAN.

TOLD BY NUDAN-AXA.

Nfáciⁿga wiⁿ ɥí d'úba ɛdɛ amáma; h'égabajɛ-biamá. Kí cénujín'ga People one lodge some there were, they say; not a few they say. And young man wiⁿ nfáciⁿga údaⁿqti-bi wajiⁿ'etaⁿ aɛá-biamá. Qɛabé eugáqti tɛ'di ɗahé one person very good, they say in a bad humor went they say. Tree very thick at the hill ɣaŋgáqti ɛ'di uɛɛaⁿbe aɛá-biamá. Kí qɛabé ɛí ámaɣátaⁿ égiɛe nfáciⁿga 3 very large there up-hill he went, they say. And tree again from the other at length person watɛɛka áma tɛ é ɛtí uhá a-fi tɛ. ɗahé é ɛtí ɣadé a-fi tɛ. Waⁿ'daⁿqti creek other the he too follow- was com- Hill he too when was com- Right together

 ing it ing near it ing ákikipá-biamá. Kíɣaⁿ'beqti gaⁿ najiⁿ'-biamá. Égiɛe gáɣa gúataⁿ a-í aká Looking hard at so they stood, they say. At length to that from the was ap- the they say, each other place place preach- one (See note) beyond ing who ɛ'di ahí-biamá. Júgɛe najiⁿ'-biamá. Nál aŋgáɛe tɛ, á-biamá. Wahnáte 6 there arrived, they say. With him he stood, they say. Why! let us go homeward, said he, they say. You eat té, á-biamá. Ga' júgçe afa'-biamá. Égiçe nfaci'ga wahi fa' ga'-fa' amá.

will, said he, they So with him he went, they say. Behold people bone the in a curvilinear heap for they say.

T'éwafai-ma é nfaci'ga júgçe afa' aká e-hna' é t'éwafé akáma. Hau,
Those who were he man with him went he who he only he had killed them, they say. Well,

3 wa'újĩngáqtei é'di gfi' akáma. Ji té'di wafite té wa'újĩngáqtei é níavery old woman there was sitting, they say. Lodge in the food the very old woman she 1-ci'ga t'éwafai e hébe faté téga, úha' ufga'-biamá. Nin'deé'-biamá há.
sons killed them piece to eat in order that, pot she put in for him, they She caused it to be done, they say.

Béata-máji-hna'-ma', á-biamá. Ki wata'zi d'úba fécí' ífa'afé hé,
I never eat it, said he, they say. And corn some this (sort) I have put away

6 á-biamá. É hnáte-hna' é'te, á-biamá (wa'újĩnga aká). A'ha', á-biamá.
said she, they That you eat regu- it may be, said, they say (old woman the). Yes, said he, they say.

Ga' ei nfaci'ga jani té'di ca' ují-biamá wata'zi té. Ki ga' nin'de xi
So again men soup in the at any she put it in, corn the cooked when they say (ob.).

ují-biamá, ga' fatá-biamá. Páji inahi' áha', efcí' gfi' akáma (cénushe filled for him, and he ate they say. Bad indeed I thinking was sitting, they say (young they say).

9 jin'ga aká). Nfaci'ga hnínké, fa'éwífe, á-biamá wa'újĩnga aká. Nfaci'ga man the). Person you who are, I pity you, said, they say old woman the (sub.). Person hnínké, úda'qti hnínké, fa'éwífe, á-biamá. Edáda'qti fegacta'ka-ba you who are, very good you who are, I pity you, said she, they say. What indeed he tempted you with and júgçe agfi té éata' ífanahi' é'te, á-biamá. Pí-ctéwa'-báji, á-biamá.

with you he was when how you consent could? said she, they Not at all good, said she, they say.

12 Nfaci'ga wahi fé cta'be ké é t'éwafai, á-biamá. Gasáni ha'ega'te'qtei Men bone this you see the he killed them, said she, they To-morrow early in the morning say.

fé taté, á-biamá wa'újĩnga aká. (É Wó's'a-nfaci'ga akáma, é júgçe he go shall, said, they say old woman the (sub.). (He Snake-man was, they say, he with him akí akáma. Ci'wakiçé-hna'-biamá xi n'ba d'úba sát' ja'-qtiéga' reached he who. He fattened them regu- they say when day four five sleep about larly 15 t'éwafé-hna'-biamá.) Éga'-hna'í. T'éa'faté te, á-biamá wa'újĩnga aká.

he killed them regu- they say. So it is usually. You kill me will, said, they say old woman the (sub.).

A'hnfeta' xi wafánaqfi' te, á-biamá. Wahi gé waii' íçagaqade ihéa'fa'-á,
You finish me when you hurry (away) will, said she, they Bone the robe covered with lay me down, say. (pl. ob.)

á-biamá. Ki a'hnfeta' tédfhi hí'bé cça' wi' ífa'afé-de wi', á-biamá.
said she, they And you finish me arrives at moccasin that one I put away, but I give to you, say.

18 Wafácka' té, á-biamá. Ata'qti wafúdei'í ci' etéctewa' daze tédfhi xi
You do your will, said she, they However far distant you notwithstanding evening arrives when best say. reach ing at the uqíçe tá aká Wó's'a' aká, á-biamá wa'újĩnga aká. Ga' fé hí'bé fa' overlake will he who Snake the said, they say old woman the (sub.). And this moccasin the (ob.).

wi' fa' silnize té'di fé dafágo cta'be té ei taté, á-biamá. Nfaci'ga
I give the you take when this headland you see the you reach, said she, they Men say.

- wi^{n'} ē'di naji^{n'}. Ē'di cī-daⁿ waqi^{n'}ha gáfaⁿ fa'í te, á-biamá. Kí ē'di cī one there stands. There you and paper that you give will, said she, they And there you reach tēdīhi xī cīonúd-adaⁿ dúdugaqēe iča^{n'}fa-ā hē. Gēl tatē, á-biamá wa'újīnga it arrives when pull off and facing this way place them Come shall, said, they say old woman at home
 aká. Ga^{n'}ki wa'újīnga aká bēúga nīča-biamá ga^{n'}, tēča-biamá. Ha^{n'}ega^{n'}- 3 the And old woman the all told to him, they as, he killed her, they Early in the (sub.) say
 tēcēqteci xī jajú kē gasná-biamá. Cīcta^{n'}-biamá. Égiqe cībe tē cīgēá-biamá.
 morning when fish the he gashed it (=cut He flushed, they say. At length entrails the he uncoiled, they into strips), they say. (ob.) say Ní kēja aqī^{n'} ahí-biamá. Ní kē cēta^{n'} égihiqēča-biamá. Cībe ugáhaha Water to the having arrived, they Water the this far right into it he plunged Bowels floating in them say. them, they say. tiny waves aja^{n'} amá. Wahi gē waii^{n'} ičagaqade ihēča-biamá. Hi^{n'}bé ča^{n'} fīzā-biamá; 6 lay on they Bone the robe covered with he laid her down, Moccasin the he took, they say. (pl. ob.) they say. (ob.) say ga^{n'} i^{n'}tea^{n'} aqā-bi xī, baxú ē'di ahí-bi xī, čačage tē wačlona tē amá. Ga^{n'} so now he went, when, peak there he arrived, when, headland the became visible they So they say (ob.) say wi^{n'}áqteia^{n'} sičfzai tē'di čačage wačudejī tē ē'di ahí-biamá; ahíqti cēča-once he took a when headland distant the there he arrived, they he arrived sudstep forward (ob.) say; denly right there biamá. Ga^{n'} nīaci^{n'}ga wi^{n'} ē'di naji^{n'} akáma. Ga^{n'} waqi^{n'}ha ča^{n'} 'f-biamá. 9 they say. And man one there was standing, they And paper the he gave to him, they say.
 Hau! wanáqčīn-gā, á-biamá. Hi^{n'}bé ča^{n'} wa'újīnga wa'f ča^{n'} cīonúda-bi Ho! hasten, said he, they Moccasin the old woman gave the pulled off, they say. (ob.) say (ob.) say ega^{n'}, ē'jugáqēe gēin'kičā-biamá, Gēc te, cēčga^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}. Cī nīaci^{n'}ga aká having, facing that way he caused them to sit, Go home- will, thought, they having. Again man the they say, ward say (sub.)
 cī éga^{n'} hi^{n'}bé ča^{n'} 'f-biamá, waqi^{n'}ha wi^{n'} edábe. Cī tēdīhi xī waqi^{n'}ha 12 again so moccasin the gave to him, paper one also. You (=here- when paper (=like) (ob.) they say, arrive after) gáfaⁿ cēčepaha tē, á-biamá. Cī tēdīhi xī hi^{n'}bé cīonúd-adaⁿ ijēbe tē'di that (ob.) you show to him will, said he, they You (=here- when moccasin pull off and door at the him say. arrive after) iča^{n'}fa-gā, á-biamá (nīaci^{n'}ga aká). A^{n'}haⁿ, á-biamá (cēnujīnga aká).
 place them, said, they say (man the). Yes, said, they say (young man the).
 Wanáqčīn-gā, á-biamá (nīaci^{n'}ga aká). Xa^{n'}ge ahí-biamá. Ga^{n'} nīaci^{n'}ga 15
 Hurry, said, they say (man the). Near, after he arrived, they And man say. moving wi^{n'} cī ē'di naji^{n'} akáma. Waqi^{n'}ha ča^{n'} 'f-biamá. Hau! wanáqčīn-gā, one again there was standing, they Paper the (ob.) he gave to him, they say. Ho! hurry, they say. (man the). Moccasin the man the first the gave to the pulled off (ob.) (ob.) (sub.) him (ob.)
 bi ega^{n'}, ijēbe tē'di iča^{n'}fa-biamá. Ga^{n'} nīaci^{n'}ga áma aká hi^{n'}bé ča^{n'} cī 18 they having, door at the he placed them, they And man the the moccasin the again say say (sub.) other (sub.) (ob.)
 wi^{n'} 'f-biamá. Kí gá-biamá: Cē hné učájaⁿ te. Nīaci^{n'}ga wi^{n'} gátēdi naji^{n'}. one he gave to him, And said as follows, This you go you put on will. Man one in that stands.
 they say. moccasins place
 Ē'di hné tē. Wāčkēn'-gā, á-biamá. Cī éga^{n'} hi^{n'}bé 'f-biamá waqi^{n'}ha
 There you go will. 7. Near best, said he, they Again like moccasin he gave to him, paper say. (him) they say

- edábe. Ē'di ahf-biamá. Ahau! wanáqñ-gā, á-biamá. Hiⁿbé áciñdi also. There he arrived, they say. Oh! hurry, said he, they say. Moccasin at the outside
- icāⁿ ɸa-biamá. Ki gá-biamá: Gátēdi ní wiⁿ ē'di ké amá. Sihntze ɸéɸnɸé he placed them, they say. And he said as fol- In that water one there lies they say. You take sudden steps low, they say: place forward
- 3 ɸi, ní daⁿbañ-gā, á-biamá. Ki égaⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ aɸaⁿ tē. Masáni ahfwhen, water do not look at it, said he, they say. And so they say. So he went. The other side reached
- biamá. Hiⁿbé ɸaⁿ wégiɸionudá-biamá. ɸáze ahf-biamá. Ē waⁿújinga they say. Moccasin (the) pulled off their (from his feet) Evening arrived, they say. That old woman
- t'éɸai edtaⁿ aɸaⁿ tē ɸáze tē éē hā. Wateleka uɸaⁿbe tɸe uhá aɸá-he killed her since he went evening the that was it Creek up-hill passed on follow- he they say, down-hill. Lake in the very arrived, having beheld person he found out
- 6 biamá, ɸamú. Niúɸican idaⁿbé'qti ahf-bi égaⁿ égiɸe nɸaciⁿga ubéñniⁿ-biamá. Égaxe aɸi tē. Sigɸé ké uɸiha qáɸa aɸi tē.
they say. Around he was returning. Trail the following back he was coming.
his own again
- Iⁿbejide-ma ɸaⁿ égaⁿqti ɸiɸáxa-biamá éñuñinⁿga aká. Huhú jinga
The red-tails the just so made himself, they say young man (the sub.). Fish small
- 9 ní ké igagɸéze jaⁿ-biamá. Wé'sá aká ɸahé ɸaⁿ égaⁿbe jaⁿ-biamá.
water the causing ripples lay, they say. Snake the hill the in sight lay, they say.
(ob.) (sub.) (ob.)
- Wé'sá aká imaxá-biamá. Niaciⁿga wiⁿ uáne, á-biamá. Caⁿ waɸónaɸti Snake the asked him, they say. Person one I seek, said he, they say. And in full sight
- ágahaqti maⁿhniⁿ égaⁿ wajinⁿga ɸiⁿ etēwaⁿ gíáⁿ maⁿɸiⁿ ɸi etaⁿbe te, on the very surface you walk so bird the (ob.) soever flying walks if you see it will,
- 12 á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, égaⁿ éde ɸaⁿba-máji, á-biamá. ɸaⁿbe ɸi uwíɸa te, said he, they say. Yes, so but I have not seen said he, they say. I see him if I tell you will, then, say.
- á-biamá. Gaⁿ aɸaⁿ-biamá Wé'sá amá ágaqɸéqti. Nixaⁿhaqtei uhá-biamá said he, they say. So went, they say Snake the right with the (sub.) current. On the very edge followed, they say of the stream
- Wé'sá amá. Égiɸe Ikañgít'e qúdeqtei gíiⁿ akáma. ɸégaⁿqti ahf-biamá.
Snake the (sub.). At length Toad very gray was sitting, they say. Just thus he arrived, they
say.
- 15 Niaciⁿga wiⁿ ɸéɸu í égaⁿ ctaⁿbewáɸe-hnaⁿ, á-biamá. ɸénaqɸe etéetewaⁿ Person one here having been you may have seen him, said he, they say. Shadow even if
- ctaⁿbewáɸe-hnaⁿ, á-biamá. Uáne, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, kagéha, ɸéɸu nɸaciⁿga you may have seen it, said he, they say. I seek said he, they say. Yes, friend, here person
- wiⁿ aⁿbiɸájaⁿ ɸi nɸaciⁿga wiⁿ aⁿɸiⁿ ɸanⁿde naⁿp'anⁿde; éde áwaté'ja e'aⁿ one I lay by day when person one came near shaking it as but whither how (=almost) ground he walked;
- 18 ɸéiⁿte iɸápahaⁿ-máji, á-biamá. Ēē hā, á-biamá. Ē uáne ɸiⁿ é, á-biamá.
he may I do not know, said he, they say. That is he said he, they say. He I seek the he, said he, they have gone he say.
- Gaⁿ ní ké uhá aɸaⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ ánasa-biamá ɸi hāji amá. Ci égaⁿ
So water the follow- he went, they say. So he cut off (his retreat) when he had not ar- Again around (ob.) ing it say. they say rived.
- aɸi-biamá. Ci ahfi tē'ja ɸingéē hā. Ní ké ei uɸiha aɸi tē. Égiɸe he was coming Again he ar- at the there was Water the again following he was re- At length back, they say. rived uuo (ob.) (trail) turning fé nhangáqti ké fda^bh'qti agf-biamá. Égiçe, Huhú jaŋgáqti wiⁿ niyaⁿha this very big stream the in the very he was coming Behold, Fish very big one edge of the (ob.) middle back, they say. water xébe ké'di jaⁿ amá. Wawémaxá-biamá. Níaciⁿga, kagéha, uán éde shallow in the he lay they say. He questioned him, they say. Person, O friend, I seek but iéfa-máji, á-biamá. Céçu úwaçakié aká çáⁿ éé há, á-biamá. Wuhú! 3

 I have not found said he, they Yonder you talked with the one in the it is said he, they Is it pos-him, say. them who past he say. sible!
 á-biamá. Úmakajíqtiaⁿ áakip éde fdaⁿhá-máji há, á-biamá Wé'sá aká.
 said he, they Not very easily I met him but I did not know him said, they say Snake the
 say. (sub.),
 Gaⁿ agfá-biamá. Kí é-biamá Huhú jaŋ'ga aká. Gaⁿ'ki majaⁿ uckaⁿ
 So he went homeward, And it was he, Fish big the And land where the they say. they say (sub.) deed çan'di akf-biamá. Éqti akf-biamá xi Siⁿ'snedewágiçe amá wiⁿ itáçajátaⁿ 6 was done he reached home, He him- reached home, when Muskrat the one from upstream they say. self they say (sub.) a-f-biamá. Uçaⁿ-biamá Wé'sá aká. Wawéwimáxe téiⁿke, á-biamá. Indádaⁿ was approach- Held him, they say Snake the I question you will, said he, they What ing, they say. (sub.) say.
 aⁿçaⁿçamáxe téiⁿte? Çakúç égaŋ-gá, á-biamá Siⁿ'snedewágiçe aká. Caⁿ, you ask me may I Do speak quickly, said, they say the (sub.) Still, Níaciⁿga uákie-de éçu najiⁿakiçé-de é çefhniⁿ ebéçgaⁿ, á-biamá (Wé'sá 9 Person I talked when here I caused him to and he you are he I think, said, they say (Snake to him stand aká). An'kaji, á-biamá Siⁿ'snedewágiçe aká. Ná! éç níaciⁿga úwaçaki the. No, said, they say Muskrat the Why! this person you talked (sub.) with them
 ecé amá iéapahaⁿ, á-biamá Siⁿ'snedewágiçe aká. Çéçandi agçiⁿ xi níaciⁿga you the one I know him, said, they say Muskrat the In this place I sat when person say who moves (sub.)
 wiⁿ qí wiwíça té caⁿqti she açaf, á-biamá. Jaⁿ wiⁿ ní maⁿ'te biqaⁿ 12 one lodge my own the in spite of passing went, said he, they Wood one water within he broke by by say. pressing on biamá. É ní maⁿ'te aⁿçai té'di caⁿ edádaⁿ ctéçewaⁿ abçiⁿ agçé xi áagçiⁿ they say. He water within asked me to when yet what soever I had it I went when I sat go with him home- ward hnaⁿ-maⁿ éde iⁿ'bixaⁿ, á-biamá Siⁿ'snedewágiçe aká. Kí aⁿ'ba águdi té'di, on it regularly but he broke it said, they say Muskrat the And day where when,
 for me (sub.)
 á-biamá (Wé'sá aká). Ná! sfadadi miⁿ maⁿ'ciqti tiçaⁿ, é qí wiwíça she 15 said, they say (Snake the). Why! yesterday sun very high had he lodge my own passing become, by açaf. Kí é'di éç xi jaⁿ ké bixaⁿ, á-biamá (Siⁿ'snedewágiçe aká). Gaⁿ went. And there went when wood the he broke, said, they say (Muskrat the). So win'kogaxá-biamá. Kagéha, wiⁿ'çakéçtiaⁿ, á-biamá (Wé'sá aká) Pí he believed him they say. Friend, you speak the very truth, said, they say (Snake the). Again niyaⁿha she açá-biamá (Wé'sá amá). Gaⁿ éç niyaⁿ'ha-jaçicaⁿ çixe-sági bank of the passing went, they say (Snake the.) And this towards the bank of the red willows stream stream
 ní ké ágadámu gçiⁿ-biamá. Yehámajide é'di gçiⁿ akáma. Uçaⁿ-biamá 18 water the leaning down sat they say. Red-breasted turtle there was sitting, they say. Held him, they say (ob.) close to Wé'sá aká. Wawéwimáxe tá minke, á-biamá. Níaciⁿga uáne-hnaⁿ-maⁿ Snake the. I question you will I who, said he, they Person I have sought him regu(sub.) say. larly éde iéfa-máji, á-biamá (Wé'sá aká). An'kajíqtiaⁿ, á-biamá (Yehámajide but I have not found said, they say (Snake the). Not so at all, said, they say (Red-breasted him turtle)

- aká). Iⁿteaⁿqtei éⁿbe agⁿfi. Né ʔaⁿ niúgacúpa editaⁿ éⁿbe agⁿfi, the). Just now in sight have I Lake the pond from it in sight have I come again.
- á-biamá. Ádaⁿ indádaⁿ ctewaⁿ úciákíʔa-máji, kagéha, á-biamá. Aʔásaid he, they Therefore what soever I have not deceived O friend, said he, they Went
 say.
- 3 biamá (Wé's'a amá). Égiʔe Jébia júqti amá wiⁿ ní xébe ʔaⁿha ké'di they say (Snake the). At length Frog very green the one water shallow edge by the one who
- ugáha gaⁿ gʔiⁿ akáma. Ē'di ahí-biamá Wé's'a aká. Kagéha, níaciⁿga floating so was sitting, they say. There arrived, they say Snake the (sub.). Friend, person uáne-hnaⁿ-maⁿ. Égiʔe ctaⁿbewáʔé, á-biamá. Aⁿ, á-biamá (Jébia aká).
 I have sought him regu- At length you may have seen said he, they Yes, said, they say (Frog the).
 larly.
- 6 Ké, uʔá-gá, á-biamá. Níaciⁿga uáne-hnaⁿ-maⁿ éde iʔáʔa-máji. Ēskana Come, tell it, said he, they Person I have sought him regu- but I have not found Oh that
 say.
- ctaⁿbeiⁿte ʔútaⁿqti iⁿwiⁿʔalma kaⁿbégaⁿ, á-biamá (Wé's'a aká). Qá-i-ná!
 if you have seen very straight you tell to me I hope, said, they say (Snake the). Is it possible!
 him
- Kagéha, sídadi dázeqtei-hnaⁿ ʔan'di ʔéjahiéʔaⁿ ní uʔibʔi gʔiⁿ ʔaⁿ é'di
 Friend, yesterday very late in the at the at this one behind water eddy sits the there (time) (ob.)
- 9 agʔiⁿ ʔi níaciⁿga ʔénaqʔe ʔaⁿbe, á-biamá Aⁿhaⁿ, kagéha, éé há, á-biamá.
 I sat when person shadow I saw, said he, they Yes, friend, it was said he, they
 say.
- É uáne há, á-biamá. Gaⁿ itáxaja gʔéʔicaⁿ gaⁿ é'ja aʔá-biamá Wé's'a
 He I seek him said he, they So up stream to that side so thither went, they say Snake
 say.
- aká. Ci é ʔéké uhá aʔaí tē. Gaⁿ né wiⁿ ʔaiⁿxé ákicugáqti égaⁿ ké'di the Again he this follow- ing it went. So lake one green soun very thick like in the (sub.) (lg. ob.)
- 12 ʔéjaŋga amé-de bákiáhaⁿ maⁿʔiⁿ amá. Wé's'a aká naŋ'ka ágʔiⁿ iʔaⁿ-Big turtle the (sub.), pushing and walked they say. Snake the (sub.) back sat on suddenly raising it
- biamá. Kagéha, wawéwimáxe tá minke. Éʔaⁿbe égan-gá, á-biamá. Ná!
 they say. Friend, I question you will I who. Do emerge (from the said he, they Why!
 water), say.
- indádaⁿ aⁿʔaⁿʔamáxe tádaⁿ á-biamá. Níaciⁿga amé édedí-amá ʔaⁿja what you ask me will! said he, they say. Person he who is there is he moving though
- 15 wécpahaⁿji tēdihi t'éʔiʔé taí. Ádaⁿ can'gaxa-gá, á-biamá (ʔéjaŋga aká).
 you do not know when he will kill you. Therefore quit it, said, they say (Big turtle the).
- Wé's'a aká dūduqáqtei gʔiⁿ-bi egaⁿ (gagíʔixe, dá ʔaⁿ maⁿci), ʔéjaŋga
 Snake the drawn up very sat, they say having (coiled up, head the high), Big turtle (sub.) (ob.)
- ʔínké é éskaⁿ eʔégaⁿ gʔiⁿ-biama. Kagéha, ʔútaⁿ iⁿwiⁿʔa-gá, á-biamá he who he it might be thinking he sat, they say. Friend, straight tell it to me, said, they say
- 18 Wé's'a aká. An'kaji, á-biamá ʔéjaŋga aká. Ná! uwiʔa tēʔaⁿ, wiⁿake Snake the No, said, they say Big turtle the (sub.). Why! what I have told you, I told the (sub.) truth
- égaⁿ, á-biamá. Égaⁿ gaxáji-gá. Níaciⁿga amá édedí-amá ʔaⁿja wécpa-like it, said he, they So do not. Person the there is he moving though you do not
 say.
- haⁿji tēdihi ʔi égiʔe t'éʔiʔé taí, á-biamá ʔéjaŋga aká. Píqti ʔigéʔiⁿ gʔiⁿknow him when you beware lest he kill you, said, they say Big turtle the. Yet again raising himself sat
 (sub.) (sub.)
- 21 biamá Wé's'a aká. ʔéʔínké cé áhaⁿ, eʔégaⁿ-biama. Ké, kagéha, ná!
 they say Snake the (sub.). This one that I thought he, they say. Come, friend, why!

i'wi'ŋa-gā hā, á-biamá Wé's'ā aká. A'ŋa'sabe hégn-máji. I'wi'ŋa-gā, tell me said, they say Snake the (sub.). I suffer I very much. Tell me, á-biamá. Qa-í! ikáge ána'a'ji ínahi, á-biamá (ŋéjaŋga aká). Uwíŋa said he, they Wonderful his he does not indeed, said, they say (Big turtle the). I tell you say, friend listen to tá minke, á-biamá. Wackaŋ'-gā, á-biamá Wé's'ā aká. Cé nŋaŋgáqti té'di 3 will I who, said he, they Do your best said, they say Snake the That very big water at the
 say, (sub.).
cta'be keŋa' níkaci'ga uŋúne ŋi' é'di ja'í. Wackaŋ'-gā, á-biamá ŋéjaŋga what you saw formerly person you seek the there lies. Do your best, said, they say Big turtle
 one who
aká. Kagéha, wi'ŋaké á, á-biamá Wé's'ā aká. É'di ja'í. Wackaŋ'-gā.
 the Friend, you tell the I said, they say Snake the There he lies. Do your best.
 (sub.). truth, (sub.).
Wécpaba'ji tédŋi ŋi' t'éŋeŋ tá aká hā, á-biamá ŋéjaŋga aká. É'di bēé 6
 You do not know when you he kill you will he who said, they say Big turtle the There I go him (sub.).
tá minke, á-biamá Wé's'ā aká. Wackaŋ'-gā. Wécpaba'ji tédŋi ŋi' t'éŋeŋ tá, will I who, said, they say Snake the Do your best. You do not know when you he you kill will,
 (sub.). him
á-biamá. Nŋaŋ'ga gaza'adi aŋé amáma. Kí é'di ja'í-biamá níaci'ga unai said he, they Big water in the midst of he was going. And there lay, they say person sought
 say, they say.
ŋinké. Ga' Wé's'ā amá é'di aŋá-biamá. Ní ké uŋbēi ŋi' é'di ahi- 9
 he who So Snake the (sub.) there went, they say. Water the eddy the there he ar-
 was. (moving) arrived biamá. Éŋeŋ ní ké ma'túha aŋi' áiaŋa-biamá. É níaci'ga qúŋa-báji aké they say. At length water the underneath having it had gone, they say. He person who did not love him
 him
aké, ní ŋiŋáxa-bi ega'. Wé's'ā ŋi' éŋa'be hí ga'ŋa éctéte'wa' ca' uŋbēi it was water made himself, having. Snake the emerging to wished notwithstanding yet eddy he, they say arrive aŋi'-biamá ma'tuŋa ca' qti-ga' nyútaŋi' t'é té. Wé's'ā t'éŋa-biamá. Ga' 12 had him, they say under in spite of at smothered he died Snake he killed him, So length they say.
níaci'ga aká aŋá-biamá. Ga' aŋi-biamá.
 the man the went homeward, So he reached home, (sub.) they say, they say.

NOTES.

277, 3. kí qéabe éí ámaŋata, etc. On each side of the bluff was a stream, and also a forest. Each man followed a stream till his path ascended the hill, instead of continuing along the stream.

277, 5. gaza guata a-í aka, the Snake-man. Frank La Flèche rejects "gaza" as superfluous.

278, 2. e, he, she, or it, referring to a subject or object previously mentioned, "the aforesaid."

278, 3. wa'ŋiŋgaqtei (the first one), pronounced wa'u-jingaqtei by Nuda-axa.

279, 1. waŋi'ha gaŋa' ŋa'í te. The mention of paper is a suspicious circumstance. Has it not been substituted for something else, as is the case in other myths? See, for example, the ŋiwiere myth of the young Black bear, Mū'teinye.

279, 5. ní kéŋa aŋi' ahi-biamá. The lodge was about three yards from the stream. Ní ké ŋéŋa' egiliŋŋa-biamá, that is, he plunged them about one foot below the surface.

279, 8. ahiŋti ŋéŋa-biamá, a very strong expression, showing the rapidity of his movements: "he arrived at the very place, suddenly."

279, 15. ʔaŋge ahi-biama. "ʔaŋ'ge, near to, refers to a time or place towards which one moves; but ácka, near to, implies rest. Jade, near, near to, implies that the destination is near the starting-point."—Frank La Flèche.

279, 20. ci egaⁿ hi^{be} 'i-biama waqⁱha edabe. Judging from the context, this sentence is out of place, and the correct order is: Édi ahi-biamá (at the place of the third man). Abuú, wanáqⁱŋ-gá, á-biamá. Hi^{be} áciadi i^{pa}ʔa-biamá. Ki gá-biamá: Gátédi ní wiⁿ édi ké amá. Sihni^{ze} ʔéʔaʔé ʔí ní ké daⁿbáji-gá, á-biamá. Ci égaⁿ hi^{be} 'i-biamá waqⁱha edabe. Ki égaⁿ-biama. Gaⁿ aʔai tē.

280, 4. "ʔaze ahi-biama," is incorrect. Read "ʔáze hí amá."—Frank La Flèche.

280, 8. i^{be}jide, the red-tail fish, has red fins; but the body is not red.

280, 9. igagʔeze jaⁿ-biama. Sanssouci reads ugagʔeze, but Frank La Flèche thinks that it should be gagʔeze jaⁿ-biama. He does not understand igagʔeze (given by a Ponka). The Fish lay in shallow water that struck against it and divided, flowing below it in ripples.

280, 9. ʔahe ʔaⁿ éʔaⁿbe jaⁿ-biama. The Snake lay in sight, on the hill, and called down to the little Fish.

280, 19-281, 1. ní ké uhá aʔa-biama . . . niʔaŋgaqti idaⁿbéqti agi-biama. After leaving the Toad, he followed the shore of the lake, expecting to head off the young man. But he could not find him, so he retraced his steps. Again he did not find him, so he went back the third time. The Snake came back, and right to the middle of a stream (the big-water). There was a large Fish in shallow water next to the shore.

281, 2. uan ede, i. e., uane ede.

281, 4. aakip ede, i. e., aakipa ede.

281, 10-11. uwaʔaki ece ama, in full, uwaʔakie ece ama.

281, 13. ní maⁿte aⁿʔai. Ní maⁿte ʔé aⁿʔai, He asked me to go with him under the water.—Frank La Flèche.

282, 1. né ʔaⁿ niugacupa editaⁿ, etc. Sanssouci reads "ʔéʔaⁿ (this curvilinear object)", instead of "né ʔaⁿ".

282, 7. etaⁿbeiⁿte, i. e., etaⁿbe éiⁿte; so ʔéiⁿte, 280, 18., in full, ʔé éiⁿte.

282, 12-13. ʔejaŋga . . . eʔaⁿbe egaŋ-gá. The Big turtle was nearly on the surface of the water, pushing up the ʔaⁱxe as he moved along. Suddenly the Snake got on his back. "I will ask you something. Do come up out of the water (i. e., do lift your head out of the water so that you can answer my questions)."

282, 20. piqti ʔigʔihaⁿ gʔiⁿ-biama. The Snake once more raised his head higher, then he raised it still higher, so as to be ready to attack the Big turtle, should his suspicions prove well-founded.

TRANSLATION.

Some lodges of a people were there; they were a great many. And a young man, who was a very handsome person, departed in a bad humor. At the very dense forest he went up-hill to a very large bluff. And at length, from the forest in the other direction, a person was approaching, following the other creek. He, too, was approaching the hill which was near him. Right together they came, meeting each other. They stood looking at each other. At length the man who had been approaching arrived there, and stood with him. "Why! Let us go homeward. You will eat," said he. So the youth went with him. Behold, the bones of men had lain for some time in a cur-villinear heap. The man who went with him was the only one who had killed those who had been killed. Well, a very old woman was sitting there. In order that he might eat pieces of the persons who had been killed, the food which was in the lodge, the old woman put it in the pot for the youth. She caused it to be cooked till done. "I never eat it," said the youth. "I have put away some of this corn. You may be used to eating that," said she. "Yes," he said. So she put the corn in the liquor in which the human flesh had been boiled. And so, when it was done, she filled a bowl for him, and he ate. "It is very bad!" thought he. "You man, I pity you," said the old woman. "You man, you very good-looking one, I pity you. With what indeed could he have tempted you? And when he was returning with you, how could you consent to come? He is far from being good. He killed the men to whom belong these bones that you see. He shall depart to-morrow, very early in the morning," said she. He who had taken him to his home was a Snake-man. He used to fatten his guests, and about the fourth or fifth day he used to kill them. "It is always so. You will kill me. When you finish with me, you will hurry. Lay down my bones, and cover them with a robe. I give to you one pair of those moccasins which I have put away. Please do your best. Notwithstanding how far you go, when evening comes, the Snake will overtake you. And as to this pair of moccasins which I have given you, when you take a step forward, you shall reach this headland that you see. A man stands there. When you reach there, give him that paper. Then pull off the moccasins, and place them facing this way. They shall come home," said the old woman. And when the old woman had told him all, he killed her. When it was very early in the morning, he cut the flesh in strips. He finished it. At length he uncoiled the entrails. He arrived at the stream with them. He plunged them this far right into the water. The entrails lay on it, floating, as it were, in tiny waves. He laid her bones down, and covered them with a robe. He took the moccasins; and so when he departed and arrived at the peak, the headland became visible. When he took a step forward, he arrived at the distant headland; he arrived suddenly at the very place. And a man was standing there. And the youth gave him the paper. "Ho! Hasten," said the man. Having pulled off the moccasins which the old woman gave him, the youth made them sit facing that way, having thought, "They will go homeward." And the man gave him moccasins in like manner, also a paper. "When you arrive, you will show that paper to him. When you arrive, pull off the moccasins and place them at the door," said the man. "Yes," said the young man. "Hurry," said the man. The youth arrived near the place, as he moved. And again a man was standing there. He gave him the paper. "Ho! Hurry," said the man. Having pulled off the moccasins that the first man gave him, the youth placed them at the door. And the other man gave him a pair of the moccasins, saying as follows: "You will put on these, and go. A man stands in that place. You will go thither. Do your best." Again in like manner he gave him moccasins, and a paper also. He arrived there. "Oho! Hurry," said the man. The young man placed the moccasins outside. And the man said as follows: "In that unseen place lies a stream. When you take sudden steps forward, do not look at the water." And it was so. So he departed. He reached the other side. He pulled off the moccasins for the owner. Evening arrived. It was evening of that day when he killed the old woman and departed. Passing on up-hill, he went following the course of the creek. Having arrived at the very middle of the path around the lake, behold, he found out the Snake. He was coming back around the lake. Following his own trail, he was coming back again.

The young man changed himself into a red-tail fish. The little Fish lay, causing ripples in the water. The Snake lay in sight on the hill. The Snake questioned him. "I seek a person. And as you walk on the very surface in full view, if even a bird goes flying along, you will see it," said the Snake. "Yes, it is so; but I have not seen him. If I see him, I will tell you," said the Fish. So the Snake went right with the current. He followed along the very edge of the stream. At length a very gray Toad was sitting. Just thus the Snake arrived. "A person having been approaching here, you may have seen him. Even if there was only a shadow, you may have seen it. I seek him," said he. "Yes, my friend, when I lay by day, a person was here; a person came very near shaking the ground by walking; but whither or how he went, I do not know," said the Toad. "That was he. That was he whom I seek," said the Snake. And he departed, following the course of the stream. And when he thought that he had cut him off, the young man had not arrived. Again was the Snake returning around the bank. And there was no one at the place where he arrived. Again was he returning, following his own trail by the stream. At length he was coming back in the very middle of the path on the bank of this very large stream. Behold, a very large Fish lay in shallow water by the bank. The Snake questioned him. "I have sought a person, my friend, but I have not found him," said he. "The one with whom you talked yonder is he," said the Fish. "Is it possible! I went to much trouble to meet him, and even then when I saw him I did not recognize him," said the Snake. And he went homeward. And the large Fish was the young man. And the Snake reached his home, at the place to which he had taken the young man. Then was a Muskrat approaching from up-stream. The Snake took hold of him. "I will question you," said he. "About what may you ask me? Speak quickly," said the Muskrat. "When I talked to a person, I caused him to stand here, and I think that you are he," said the Snake. "No," said the Muskrat. "Why! I know the person with whom you say that you talked. When I sat in this place, a man went along, passing over my lodge, despite all my efforts to prevent him. He broke a stick under the water by bearing on it. When he asked me to go with him under the water, he broke for me whatever I carried home to sit on," said the Muskrat. And the Snake said, "On what day was it?" "Why! Yesterday when the sun had become very high, he went, passing over my lodge. And when he went thither, he broke the stick by bearing on it," said the Muskrat. And the Snake believed him. "My friend, you speak the very truth," said the Snake. Again he departed, passing by the bank of the stream. And along this bank of the stream the red-willows were leaning down close to the water. A Red-breasted turtle was sitting there. The Snake took hold of him. "I will question you. I have sought a person regularly, but I have not found him," said the Snake. "Not so at all. I have just now come back in sight. I have just come again in sight from this pond. Therefore, my friend, I have not deceived in any particular," said the Red-breasted turtle. The Snake departed. At length a very green Frog was sitting, floating by the edge of the shallow water. The Snake arrived there. "My friend, I have sought a person regularly. At length you may have seen him," said he. "Yes," said the Frog. "Come, tell about it. I have sought a person regularly, but I have not found him. I hope that you will tell me very accurately if you have seen him," said the Snake. "Wonderful! My friend, very late in the evening yesterday, when I sat in an eddy at this place behind us, I saw the shadow of a person," said the Frog. "Yes, my friend, it was he. I seek him," said the Snake. So the Snake went to that side up-stream. Again he departed, following the course of the stream. And in the very thick green scum of a lake the Big turtle was walking, pushing it up. The Snake sat suddenly on his back. "My friend, I will question you. Do emerge from the water," said he. "Why! what will you ask me? Though the person is moving here, when you do not recognize him, he will kill you. Therefore quit it," said the Big turtle. The Snake sat drawn up, very much coiled up, with his head high. He sat thinking that the Big turtle was the one whom he sought. "My friend, tell it to me accurately," said the Snake. "No. Why! what I have told you, I have told truly. Do not do so. Though the person is moving there, when you do not recognize him, beware lest he kill you," said the Big turtle. Yet again the Snake sat raising himself. "This one is that!" thought he. "Come, my friend. Why! tell me," said the Snake. "I have suffered very much. Tell me." "Wonderful! Truly he does not listen to his friend," said the Big turtle. "I will tell you," said he. "Do your best," said the Snake. "The person whom you seek lies in that very large stream which you saw formerly. Do your best," said the Big turtle. "My friend, do you tell the truth?" said the Snake. "There he lies. Do your best. If you do not recognize him, he will kill you," said the Big turtle. "I will go thither," said the Snake. "Do your best. If you do not recognize him, he will kill you," said the Big turtle. He was going in the midst of the large stream. And there lay the person who was sought. And the Snake went thither. He arrived at the eddy of the stream. At length it had gone, carrying him underneath the water. It was the person who did not love him, that had changed himself into water (i. e., the eddy). Notwithstanding the Snake wished to reach the surface, the eddy kept him under. So he died from suffocation. The young man killed the Snake. Then he went homeward. And he reached home.

THE BEAR-GIRL.

TOLD BY NUDA'-AXA.

Íf d'úba 4f amáma. Kí mī'jīnga na'qti-biamá. Kí iha' aká Lodge some pitched tenta they say. And girl fully grown, they say. And her the mother (sub.)
 giáhe-hna'-biamá. Wé'pé aqá-biamá. Kí najtha qáde íbistáqti akí-biamá.
 need to comb her hair, they say. To get she went, they say. And hair grass pressed she reached, (wood) say. tightly against home, they say.
 Éga'da'ja r'tea'qtei najtha giáhe 4a'etí. Píjī ínahín ehaⁿ, á-biamá 3 Though so just now hair combed for her heretofore. Bad indeed I said, they
 say iha' aká. Égié Ma'teú 4ínké mī'jīnga píqé akáma. Nú wī' can'ge uné her the mother (sub.). Behold Grizzly bear the one who girl was loving, they say. Man one horse seeking it ahí-biamá. Ma'teú kē 4éa-biamá. Gátēdi Ma'teú ēdedí-ké. Ma'can'de arrived, they say. Grizzly bear (ob.) he found, they say. In that place Grizzly bear there he is lying. Den

- uja^{n'} ja^{n'} t'e, al. Égiçe wi^{n'} níaci^{n'} ga sabáji t'éçe tai, á-biamá. Wahúta^{n'} Ɔi^{n'} lying in sound he Beware one people suddenly kill lest, said they, they Gun asleep, says.
- bə́uga Ɔizáí-gā. Can'ge-ma wágei^{n'} tē. Ga^{n'} égage aƆá-biamá. Égiçe Ɔé all take ye. The horses they sat on them. So in a circle they went, they At length this
 say.
- 3 mi^{n'} jinga aká gá-biamá: Dádihá, ma^{n'} teúha i^{n'} Ɔahni^{n'} ekí te, á-biamá. Ki girl the (sub.) said as follows, O father, grizzly-bear please bring it back for said she, they And
 they say.
- t'éça-biamá. Ki iƆádi aká wáƆaha^{n'}-biamá níaci^{n'} ga bə́uga; áda^{n'} há Ɔa^{n'} they killed him, And her the prayed to them, they people all, there skin the (ob.)
 they say. father (sub.) say
- 'fi-biamá. Ga^{n'}, Céçu ugáda^{n'} i-gā, iha^{n'} Ɔinké é waká-bi ega^{n'}, ga^{n'} mi^{n'} jinga was given to And, Yonder fasten it down, her the one her meant, they having, so girl
 him, they say.
- 6 wékinágei^{n'} tē aƆi^{n'} aƆá-biamá. Ɔita^{n'} gei^{n'}-biamá. Xage-hna^{n'}-biamá.
 hurried to get as having it she went, they Working she sat, they say. She cried regularly, they say.
 ahead of her say.
- Mi^{n'} jinga wi^{n'} ian'ga-biamá. Ɔita^{n'} gei^{n'} tēdi júgƆe gei^{n'}-biamá. Ga^{n'} girl one her younger sister, Working sat when with her she sat, they say. And
 they say.
- Ɔita^{n'}-biamá xi Ma^{n'} teú gíka^{n'}-hna^{n'}-biamá. EƆa+! é-hna^{n'}-biamá. Jíngá worked they say when Grizzly bear she cried for him regularly, EƆa+! she said regularly, Small
 they say.
- 9 uƆá Ɔéça-biamá. Na^{n'} há, Ɔéka (ma^{n'} teúha Ɔita^{n'} i xi, EƆa+! é-hna^{n'} hē), to tell sent at 'donly, O mother, this one (grizzly-bear skin works when, EƆa+! says only .)
 it they say.
- á-biamá. Ga^{n'} ki Ɔita^{n'} gei^{n'}-bi xi ei éga^{n'}-biamá. EƆa+! é-hna^{n'}-biamá.
 said she, they And working she sat, when again so they say. EƆa+! she said only, they say.
 say.
- Ci jingá aká ei uƆá Ɔéça-biamá. Na^{n'} há, Ɔéka ma^{n'} teúha Ɔita^{n'} i xi, EƆa+!
 Again small the again to tell sent suddenly, O mother, this one grizzly-bear works when, EƆa+!
 (sub.) it they say.
- 12 é-hna^{n'} hē, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} Ɔicta^{n'}-biamá. BízeƆá-biamá. Ga^{n'} ihéƆai tē she says, said she, they So she finished, they say. She dried it, they say. So placed it when only say.
- bízeƆai éga^{n'} ga^{n'} Ɔicta^{n'}-biamá. Jígage aƆá-biamá. Ki éduíha-biamá she dried it as so she finished, they say. Playing gauze they went, they And she joined them, they
 say.
- Ma^{n'} teú píƆé aká. Wihe, ma^{n'} teúha i^{n'} Ɔin'gi maŋgei^{n'}-á, á-biamá Ga^{n'} Grizzly bear loved the one O little grizzly-bear begone after mine for me, said she, they So him who. sister, skin say.
- 15 iƆéçi^{n'} ahí-biamá. Ga^{n'} júga gahá Ɔa^{n'} bə́uga ágaƆká-biamá. Ga^{n'} ma^{n'} teúhaving it she arrived, they So body on it th whole she tied it on, they say. So crying regularly say.
- xáge-hna^{n'} wénaxiƆá-biamá. Za'e'qti a^{n'} he-hna^{n'}-biamá. Ma^{n'} teú aká like a grizzly bear she rushed on them, they In great confusion they fled without exception, Grizzly bear the (sub.)
 say.
- weánixiƆé tá aká, á-biamá mi^{n'} jinga nújinga edábe. Ega^{n'}-hna^{n'}-biamá;
 attack us is about to, said, they say girl boy also. So invariably they say;
 say.
- 18 wénaxiƆa-hna^{n'}-biamá. Égiçe wéduba^{n'} tēdihi xi ea^{n'} ea^{n'} Ma^{n'} teú-biamá.
 she rushed on them regularly, they At length the fourth time arrived when without stopping they say.
 say.
- Ga^{n'} mi^{n'} jinga jígage júwage-má bə́uga énáwaƆá-biamá. Ian'ge Ɔinké-So girl playing those with whom all she destroyed them, they say. Her sister the one who
 say.
- onáqtei ugíƆƆactá-biamá. Ga^{n'} xi ké bə́uga ga^{n'} énáwaƆá-biamá. Ga^{n'} alone remained of her (people), So lodge the all so she destroyed them, they say. So they say. (ob.)

ija^{n'}çe aká enáqtei ma^{n'}can'de uja^{n'} ja^{n'}-biamá. Ija^{n'}ge çínké ma^{n'}can'de her elder (sub.) alone den lying she slept, they say. Her younger the one den é hēbe kē ijēbe tē'di uēigudá-bi ega^{n'} ē'di gēin'kičá-biamá. Na^{n'}pēçihí that part the door at the dug an inside having there she made her sit, they say. You hungry

eté. Ií kē'ja ma^{n'}çi^{n'}-ā hē, á-biamá ija^{n'}çe aká. Ē'di ahí-bi ega^{n'} í 3 may be. Lodge to the walk ! said, they say her elder the There arrived, having lodge ečnawaçaf kē ga^{n'} uhá ma^{n'}çi^{n'}-biamá. Ga^{n'} wénandē'qti-hna^{n'} akí-biamá.

were destroyed the so following she walked they say. So with a very full stomach she reached again, they say.

Çi égasúni tē égiçá-biamá, Ē'di ma^{n'}çi^{n'}-ā hē. Na^{n'}pēçihí eté. Wahnáte Again on the morrow she said to her, they say. There walk ! You hungry may be. You eat tē, á-biamá. Çi égasúni ē'di çékiçá-biamá.

will, said she, they say. Again the next day there she sent her, they say.

Ēgiçé í kē uhá ačá-biamá. Ēgiçé níaci^{n'}ga dúbá ēdí akáma. Ií
At length lodge the follow. she went, they say. Behold person four were there, they say. Lodge úgçin' gçin' akama. Wégidaha^{n'}-biamá. Ma^{n'}teú ínu dúbá amá akí-biamá.

sitting in they were sitting, they say. She knew them, her own, they say. Grizzly-bear her four (sub.) reached home, they say.

Hi^{n'}! ínuhá, wija^{n'}çe ta^{n'}wangçá^{n'} ečnawaçé'qti eda^{n'}! á-biamá. Xagé 9
Oh! O elder brother, my sister village has altogether de- (see note) said she, they say. Crying najin' úçá-biamá. Winaqtei a^{n'}wañ'gigçácte, á-biamá. Eáta^{n'} áda^{n'}? á-biamá.

she stood telling about them, they say. I alone am left of my (people), said she, they say. Why there- said they, they fore!

Iínuhá, wija^{n'}çe Ma^{n'}teúí hē, á-biamá. Kí, Atan'da^{n'} í áçigaji éi'te?
O elder brother, my sister is a Grizzly bear said she, they say. And, At what time (of the day) to be coming she may have com- manded you!

Mañçin'-gá. Etanda^{n'} í áçigaji çí ei té. An'kaji, ínuhá, ha^{n'}ega^{n'}tee 12 Begone. At the to be she com- when you will. No, O elder brother, morning proper time coming manda you be com- ing

tē'di xáci-hna^{n'} ma^{n'}bçin', á-biamá. Áda^{n'} etanda^{n'} atí tá minke, ha^{n'}ega^{n'}tee when some inva- time riably I walk, said she, they say. There- fore at the proper time I shall have come, morning tē'di. Qçabé gáhiçegé'ja wéahide ja^{n'}i-ā hē, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} agçá-biamá when. Tree at the, extending far away lie ye said she, they say. So went back, they say beyond that place min'junga amá. É çti ačá-biamá (nú amá). Akí-biamá. Kí ma^{n'}can'de 15 the girl. He too went they say (man the). She reached again, they say. And den çan'gçqtei kí am. çí uçioçá-biamá. Eáta^{n'}? á-biamá. Níkasáka bçá^{n'} very near to she- they say when (the Bear-girl) snuffed an odor, they say. Why? said (the sister), they say. A fresh human smelling of hni^{n'}, á-biamá (Ma^{n'}teú aká). An'kaji, ja^{n'}çelhá. Ēgiçé. Čéna. Çacta^{n'}-ā hē.

you are, said, they say (Grizzly-bear the). No, O sister. Beware. Enough. Stop talking

An'kaji hē, á-biamá jingá aká. Ca^{n'} çacta^{n'}-bají-biamá. Wihe, níkasáka 18
No said, they say small the. Still she did not stop talking, they say. O younger a fresh human sister, small bçá^{n'} hni^{n'}, ehé, á-biamá (Ma^{n'}teú aká). Ga^{n'} çacta^{n'}-biamá. Ga^{n'} ja^{n'}- smelling of you are. I say, said, they say (Grizzly-bear the). At length she stopped talking. At they slept

- biamá. Ha'ega'tce amá. Hau. Ké, ma'ʔi'-ä hē. Wahnáte té, á-biamá.
they say. Morning they say. Come, walk. You eat will, said (the Bear-girl), they say.
- Ga' aʔá-biamá mi'jinga. Waii' ké táʔaábe ehéʔa-biamá ÉǾiʔe ugás'i'-
So went they say girl. Robe the she rolled up and over the shoulders she placed it, they say. At length peeped
- 3 biamá nú amá. ʔián'ge i ʔi', á-biamá. Mi'jinga é'di ahí-bi ega', ca'- they say man the. Your sister is coming, said (one), Girl there arrived, having, without (sub.). they say.
- ca'qti júgigʔe aʔá-biamá. Ga' aʔá-bi ega', watecika ké ʔiá-biamá. Wi' stopping with her they went, they say. So went they having, creek the they crossed, they say. One
- uta' gʔónudá-bi ega' ián'ge gi'i'-biamá Masáni ahí-bi ega', hi'bé leggings pulled off his, they say having his sister he carried his, they say. The other side reached, having, moccasin
- 6 ugáa'-bi ega', ián'de áʔiqaqi a'ha-biamá. ÉǾiʔe mi'ʔuma'ci ákiha' hi put his on, having, ground going straight he fled, they say. At length noon beyond arrived they say across
- té' mi'jinga é'di káʔi tē. ÉǾiʔe ija'ʔe aká sigʔé uʔáha-biamá. É néʔé when girl there reached not again. At length her elder the trail followed, they say. That kind-ling a fire
(sub.)
- gʔi' té'di atf tē. A'ha', águdiqti cí, i'ʔéni táí eda', á-biamá. Ga' wáʔi' they sat at she came. Yes, wherever you how can you escape me! said she, they say. So having them
- 9 aʔá-biamá nú amá Sigʔé uʔáha-biamá Ma'teú amá. Baxú dúbá a'ʔa-went they say man the. Trail followed they say Grizzly-bear the Peak four they left behind (sub.).
- biamá. Kí wéduba a'ʔa aʔáí tēdʔi éʔa'be atí-biamá Ma'teú amá. Ahaú!
they say. And the fourth leaving they when in sight came, they say Grizzly-bear the (sub.). Oho!
- á-biamá. ʔián'ge éʔa'be tí há. Waʔka'i-gá, á-biamá. Ga' wáʔi' said they, they say. Your sister in sight has come Do ye your best, said they, they say. And having them
- 12 aʔáí tē ʔáʔuháqtei úʔa-biamá. Kí, Ahaú! á-biamá, iʔágaska'bʔe tá she went. Almost she overtook them, they say. And, Oho! said (one), they say. I make an attempt will
- miñke, á-biamá (nú na' aká). ʔáʔuháqtei úʔe amá. Waqága gaxá-
I who, said, they say (man grown tho). Very nearly they were over-taken, they say. Thorns he made
- biamá, ákieuga ukhange ʔi'ge gaxá-biamá. Ga' waqága xagé íbʔa'qti they say, standing, thick having no space between he made, they say. So thorns crying had more than enough of
- 15 gacʔbe ahí-biamá Ma'teú amá. Cí úʔa-biamá ga', 'ÁǾʔaa'ʔiʔé tēábe out of arrived, they say Grizzly-bear the. Again she overtook them, when, You have made me very much they say suffer much
- éga' ʔat'é taité, á-biamá. Ké, j'i'ʔécha, wí iʔágaska'bʔe tá miñke, á-biamá as you die shall, said she, they say. Come, O elder brother, I I make an attempt will I who, said, they say
- (nú éduáta' aká). Watecika jín'gaqtei ʔiá-biamá. ʔʔabé cúgá ʔi'dáí'- (man next one tho). Creek very small they crossed, they say. Tree thick she cannot
- 18 áʔi'qti gaxá-biamá. Ja' bʔa'ze ké edábe jañgáʔéha gaxá-biamá. Áda' force her way he made, they say. Wood fine the (ob.) also over a large tract he made, they say. There-fore
- ʔáci háʔi amá Ma'teú amá. ÉǾiʔe cí úʔa-biamá. ʔáʔuháqtei úʔa-for some did not arrive Grizzly-bear the. At length again she overtook them, they say. Very nearly she over-took them biamá. Cí égiçá^{n'}-biamá: 'Ágçaa^{n'}çáçé hégabáji éga^{n'} wan'giçe çat'é taité, they say. Again she said to him, they You have made me not a little as all you die shall,

say:

á-biamá. Nál jì'çécha, wí içágaska^{n'}bçé tá mìnke, á-biamá nújnga wí^{n'}.
said she, they Why! Older I I make an attempt will I who, said, they say boy one.
say.

Wáçu pa-içti gaxá-biamá. Sí tē ákusan'de baqápi-biamá. Wamí kē ga^{n'} 3 Awí very sharp he made, they say. Foot the through and they pierced, they say. Blood the so (ob.) (ob.) (ob.)

na^{n'}bíxa^{n'} ga^{n'} ma^{n'}çéi^{n'}-biamá Ma^{n'}tcú amá. Cí úçça-biamá. Cí égiçá^{n'}- scattered by so walked they say Grizzly-bear (the). Again she overtook them, Again she said walking to him
(sub.) they say.

biamá: 'Ágçaa^{n'}çáçé hégabáji éga^{n'}, zaní çat'é tá-bi ehé, á-biamá. Ahaú!
they say: You have made me not a little as, all you die shall I have said she, they suffer say. Oh!

çé-gá, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} çan'de hébe usnége gaxá-biamá. Áa^{n'}si çé tēdihi 6 do you be said (one), they So ground piece cracked he made, they say. To jump she when the one, say. over went çan'de kē agçañka^{n'}ha^{n'} ga^{n'} açá-biamá. Égihiçça-biamá. Gan'ki agí-ground the on both sides so it went, they say. She went right into it, they And were re(ob.) say. turning biamá iñinu wan'giçe. Wahúta^{n'}çí^{n'} gçíza-biamá. Çiçan'ge 'ágçaa^{n'}çáçé they say her elder all. Gun Your sister has made us suffer

brother

tcábe. Éga^{n'}çti i^{n'}ç^{n'} taí, á-biamá. Égaxe naji^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, kida-biamá, t'éça- 9 very. Just so we do will, said they, they Around in stood, they having, they shot at her, they to her say. a circle say they say, they biamá. Jan'de kē ékigçça^{n'}-biamá.

they say. Ground the came together again,
they say.

NOTES.

287, 1-2. giahe-hna^{n'}-biamá. Her mother combed her hair for her, although she was grown. This was customary.

288, 5-6. mi^{n'}jünga wekinaçí^{n'}, etc. It should read: mi^{n'}jünga aka wekinaçí^{n'}, etc.

288, 7. iñänga-biamá. The sister was about two and a half feet high.

288, 8-9. Jünga, etc. Insert "aká" after "jünga." It was omitted by the narrator.

289, 9. Hi^{n'}+! . . . cenawaççéçti eda^{n'}+! Eda^{n'}+! is an interjection of grief, surprise, etc.

289, 12-14. ha^{n'}ega^{n'}tee tēdi çaci-hna^{n'} ma^{n'}bçí^{n'} . . . ja^{n'}i-ä hē. The idea is as follows:
"As I can come only early in the morning, do you sleep over yonder by those trees, which is nearer to the den. Then I shall not have so far to come, and I can stay longer."

290, 2. taçaabe ehéçé, to put the blanket around the shoulders, after rolling it up, in order to run swiftly.

290, 4. çija-biamá. Nuda^{n'}-axa explains this by "júha-biamá," they forded it.

290, 8. agudiçti ci i^{n'}çeni tai eda^{n'}+. Sanssouci reads: "agudiçti ci ctéçtewa^{n'} i^{n'}çeni tai eda^{n'}+" The inserted word, "notwithstanding," makes the expression more forcible.

291, 6. usnege gaxa-biamá. It was about two feet wide.

291, 7. çande kē agçañka^{n'}ha^{n'} ga^{n'} açá-biamá. The ground went further apart.

The following rhetorical prolongations were made by Nuda^{n'}-axa:

288, 16. za^{n'}ççti a^{n'}he-hna^{n'}-biamá, pronounced za+ççti a^{n'}he-hna^{n'}-biamá.

289, 9. hi^{n'}+! çinuá, pronounced hi^{n'}+! tínuha-.

289, 12. añkaji, çinuá, pronounced añ'kaji, çínuha+.

290, 18-19. ada^{n'} çáci biñji amá, pronounced áda^{n'} ça+ci biñji amá.

290, 19. çañuhaççti, pronounced çañ+çuhaççti.

TRANSLATION.

Some lodges camped. And a girl was fully grown. And her mother used to comb her hair for her. The girl went for wood. And she reached home with grass sticking in her hair. "Though it is so, she has just had her hair combed for her. It is indeed bad!" said the mother. Behold, the girl was in love with a Grizzly bear. A man arrived there, seeking a horse. He found the Grizzly bear lying down. "He says that a Grizzly bear is lying in that place. He is lying in a den, sound asleep. Beware lest he kill one of the people suddenly. All ye take guns," said the people. They sat on the horses. So they went in a circle, surrounding the bear. At length the girl said as follows: "O father, please bring me the skin of the Grizzly bear." And they killed him. And her father petitioned to all the people; therefore the skin was given to him. And he said, "Fasten down the skin yonder," referring to her mother. So the girl took it away, as she had hastened to anticipate her mother. She sat working at it. She cried continually. When she sat at work, her younger sister sat with her. And when the girl worked, she consoled with the Grizzly bear. She continued saying, "Epa!" The younger one called to her mother in the distance to tell it. "O mother, this one when she works on the skin of the Grizzly bear, says nothing but 'Epa!'" said she. And when the girl sat working, it was so again. She said nothing but "Epa!" Again the younger one called to her mother in the distance to tell it. "O mother, this one, when she works on the skin of the Grizzly bear, says nothing but 'Epa!'" said she. The girl finished it. She dried it. When she placed it so, as she dried it, she finished it. They went to play children's games. And she who loved the Grizzly bear joined in the sport. "O little sister, go after my Grizzly-bear skin," said she. So the younger sister brought it to her. Then the elder sister tied it on over the whole of her body. Then, crying regularly like a Grizzly bear, she rushed on them. They fled without exception, in great confusion. "The Grizzly bear will attack us," said the girls and boys. It was so each time; she invariably rushed on them. At length, when the fourth time arrived, she continued a Grizzly bear. And she destroyed all the girls with whom she played. Her little sister was the only one that remained. And she destroyed all in the lodges. And the elder sister slept, lying down alone in the den. Having dug a corner in a part of the den by the door, she made the younger sister sit there. "You are probably hungry. Go to the lodges," said the elder sister. The little sister arrived there, and walked along, following the line of the lodges, whose owners had been destroyed. And she reached the den again, having a very full stomach. Again on the morrow the elder sister said to her, "Go thither. You are probably hungry. You will eat." And she sent her thither again the next day.

At length she went, following the line of the lodges. Behold, four persons were there. They were sitting in the lodge. She recognized them. The four elder brothers of the Bear-girl had reached home. "Oh! Elder brothers, my sister has utterly destroyed those who dwell in the village!" said she. She stood crying and telling about them. "I alone am left of my people," she said. "Why is it?" said they. "Elder brothers, my sister is a Grizzly bear," said she. And they said, "At what time has she commanded you to be coming? Begone. You will be coming when the time arrives again and she tells you to be coming." "No, elder brothers, I invariably walk for some time in the morning; therefore I shall have come hither at the proper time in the morning.

Sleep ye far hence, at the trees extending beyond that place," said she. So the little girl went back. And the men departed. The little girl reached the den again. And when she had arrived very near it again, the Bear-girl snuffed the air. "Why?" said the sister. "You have a fresh human smell," said the Bear-girl. "No, elder sister. Beware. It is enough. Stop talking. It is not so," said the younger one. Still she did not stop talking. "O younger sister, you have a fresh human smell, I say," said the Bear-girl. At length she stopped talking. And they slept. It was morning.

The Bear-girl said, "Come, go. You will eat." And the girl departed. She rolled up the robe and put it over her shoulders. At length the men peeped. "Your younger sister is coming," said one. When the girl arrived there, they departed with her without stopping. And having gone, they crossed the creek. One pulled off his leggings, and carried his sister on his back. Having reached the other side, he put on his moccasins as well as his leggings, and fled, going straight across the country. At length, when it was beyond noon, the girl had not reached the den again. At length her elder sister followed the trail. She had come to the place where they sat kindling a fire. "Yes, wherever you arrive, how can you escape from me?" she said. So the men went, having her after them. The Grizzly-bear followed the trail. They left four peaks behind. And when they departed, leaving the fourth peak, the Grizzly-bear came in sight. "Oho! Your sister has come in sight. Do your best," said they. And they went on, she following them. She almost overtook them. And the eldest man said, "Oho! I will make an attempt." They were nearly overtaken. He made thorns, standing very thick, with no space between. And the Grizzly-bear got out of them, having had more than enough of crying on account of the thorns. When she overtook them again, she said, "You have made me suffer very much, so you shall surely die." "Come, elder brother, I for my part will make an attempt," said the next man. They crossed a very small creek. He made a dense forest, through which she could not force her way at all. He also made small bushes extending over a large tract of land. Therefore the Grizzly-bear did not reach the end of the forest for some time. At length she approached them again. She nearly overtook them. Again she said to them, "As you have made me suffer not a little, all of you shall surely die." "Why! elder brother, I will make an attempt," said a youth. He made very sharp thorns, resembling awls. They pierced through and through the feet. The Grizzly-bear walked, scattering the blood at every step. Again she overtook them. Again she said to them, "I have said, 'As you have made me suffer not a little, you all shall surely die.'" "Oho! Do you be the one," said the eldest to the fourth brother. And he made part of the ground cracked. When she went to jump over, the ground on each side went further apart. She went headlong into the chasm. And all her brothers were returning. They took their guns. "Your sister has made us suffer greatly. We will do just so to her," said they. Having stood around her, they shot at her and killed her. The ground came together as it had been before it separated.

THE ADVENTURES OF THE BADGER'S SON.

TOLD BY CA'S'GE-SKA.

- Qúga ijin'ge amá ikima'fi' a'á-biamá. Ta'wañgə'n hégactəwa'ji Badger his son the (sub.) as a visitor went, they say. Village very populous
- ēdedf-ə'n amá. Ē'di ahi-biamá. Qúga ikima'fi' atf, á-biamá Níkagahi there it was they say. There he arrived, they say. Badger as a visitor has said they, they come, say. Chief
- 3 í eá tē'di júgə ma'fi'i-gā, á-biamá. Qúga ikima'fi' atf, á-biamá.
 lodge his at the with him walk ye, said they, they Badger as a visitor has said they, they come, say.
- Abaú! íkíəi-gā, ingəó, á-biamá. Kí ē'di júgə ahi-biamá. Gíku-hna'w-Oho! let him come, O first-born said he, they say. And there with him they arrived, they say. They in- regularly vited him
- biamá. Qúga ijin'ge éku atf, á-biamá. Ca'w gíku-hna'w-biamá. Nuda'- they say. Badger his son I invite I have said (one), still they in- regularly they say. War- vited him
- 6 hañga úju aká ijan'ge wi' wa'ú úda' t'a'-biamá. Φé Qúga ijin'ge kíku chief princel- the his daughter one woman good he had, they say. This Badger his son they in- vited him
- tē'di wa'ú aká gá-biamá: Janúxa íkíku hébe í'ə'əhni' e'kí to, á-biamá.
 when woman the said as follows, they say. Fresh meat they in- a piece you having you will, said she, they vite you to it for me come back say.
- A'ha', éga' wí'etē éga' taté, á-biamá. Kí aggə amáma kíku tē. Kí wa'ú Yes, no even if so shall said he, they say. And he was going back, invited when. And woman
- 9 aká ijébe áciadi gəi' akáma. Janúxa éanú éa' ée abəi' aggə, á-biamá the door on the outside was sitting, they say. Fresh meat you the I have I have said, they say (sub.) begged (ob.) come back,
- Qúga ijin'ge aká. Kí, í'fi' gí-à hē, á-biamá wa'ú aká. Kí é'fi' a'kí-biamá.
 Badger his son the (sub.). And. Bring it hither to me, said, they say woman the (sub.). And having he reached there it for her again, they say.
- Kí 'i-biamá wí, Ata' wí faggə taté? á-biamá. Φábəi' ja'-qtiéga' aggə tá
 And he gave to when. How when you go shall? said she, they say. Three nights about I go will her, they say long homeward say. Homeward
- 12 minke, á-biamá Qúga ijin'ge aká. Kí, Angágə taté, faggə tēdhi wí,
 I who, said, they say Badger his son the (sub.). And, We go home- ward shall, you go arrives when, at it
- á-biamá wa'ú aká. Ga'w ea'w kíku ga'w naji'-biamá wí éan'di. Kí gá-biamá:
 said, they say woman the (sub.). So still inviting so they stood, they say lodges at the. And he said as fol- lows, they say:
- Gasani aggə tá minke, á-biamá. Aggə wí angágə té e'e éa'w'eti, á-biamá
 To-morrow I go will I who, said he, they say. I go when we go home- ward will you heretofore, said, they say homeward said
- 15 Qúga ijin'ge aká A'ha', égipe Angágə taté. Ha'w wí a'w'oniqí te, Badger his son the (sub.). Yes, I said it. We go home- ward shall. Night when you rouse will, mo
- á-biamá. Ga'w ja'-biamá wí íxíə-biamá Qúga ijin'ge aká. Φiqí-biamá.
 said she, they say. So they slept, they when awoke, they say Badger his son the (sub.). He awakened her, they say.
- Éahān-gā Angágə té e'e éa'w' aggə tá minke, á-biamá. Júgə aggə-biamá.
 A'rae. We go home- ward will you said the I go will I who, said he, they say. With her he went homeward, they say.

- Égiçe iéádi aká igidaha'-biamá çingé té, iéé té. Gá-biamá iéádi aká:
 At length her the know his own they say was miss-when, she when Said as follows, her the:
 father (sub.) ing had gone they say father (sub.):
- Cin'gajin'ga wiwíja Qúga ijin'ge júgçe kigçé, á-biamá. I'çí' çahníqe tai, Child my own Badger his son with her has gone said he, they You chase mine for me will,
 again, say.
- á-biamá. Uéáçai xi, Qúga ijin'ge t'çéçé tai. Cin'gajin'ga wiwíja i'çí'- 3 said he, they You overtake it, Badger his son you kill will. Child my own you hav-say, her him
- çahni' cki tai, á-biamá iéádi aká. I'e'áge aká, Níkagahi ijan'ge Qúga ing her for you will, said, they say her the Old man the Chief his daughter Badger me coming back father (sub.), (sub.),
- ijin'ge júgçe ákiágçe té amá Çí çahníqe tai açu+! Uéáçai xi, Qúga his son with her he has gone back, they say. You chase his for will indeed! You overtake when, Badger him her
- ijin'ge t'çéçé tai açu+! Wa'ú çinké çahni' cki tai açu+! á-biamá i'e'áge 6 his son you kill him will indeed! Woman the (ob.) you have her you will indeed! said, they say old man for him coming back
- aká Ahaú! á-biamá. Qúga ijin'ge níkagahi ijan'ge kigçédega' çiqé awací, the Oh! said they, they Badger his son chief his he has gone again as to pur- sue asked us, (sub.), say.
- á-biamá. Çiqá-biamá. Gan'ki Qúga ijin'ge gicka' ágají-biamá wa'ú aká.
 said they, they They chased, they And Badger his son to go faster commanded, they woman the
 say, say, (sub.),
- Gicka'-á hē. Uwáçai xi égiçe t'çéçé tai. Wí eáta' xi t'çéçé tába, á-biamá 9 Go faster They overtake us if beware they kill lest. I why if they kill will? said, they say you me
- wa'ú aká. Égiçe waçíqe amá çéa'be atí-biamá. Wa'ú aká gá-biamá:
 woman the At length pursuer he in sight came, they say. Woman the said as follows, they say:
 (sub.), (sub.),
- Céati é, á-biamá. Uwáçai, á-biamá. T'çéçé té. Gicka'-á hē, á-biamá.
 Yonder he, said she, they We are over- said she, they He kill you will. Go fast said she, they has come say, taken, say, say.
- Úçéa-bi ega', wa'ú ta' uça'-biamá. Gan'ki Qúga ijin'ge ákiha' çiqá-biamá. 12
 Overtook having, woman the they held her, they And Badger his son beyond they pursued him, they say.
 them, they say (ob.) say.
- Kí wi' açi' atí ega' Qúga ijin'ge uçéa-biamá xi gá-biamá: Kagéha,
 And one having come having Badger his son he overtook him, when he said as follows. My friend,
 him they say
- t'ea'çíçé tá-bi çá'ja, t'éwiça-máji. Gicka'-gā. Man'de bēíqa', ehé tá minke.
 we were to kill you though, I do not kill you. Go faster. Bow I broke it, I say will I who.
 (he said)
- Qçabé cé zandé cé ákibanan'-gā, á-biamá. Wí' ei é'di ahí-biamá. Uéáçqe. 15 Tree that thick that run to with all your said he, they One again there arrived, they say. You over-forest might, say, took him.
- Eáta' t'çéçéji ā. Man'de kē bēíqa' ga' t'çéçé-máji, á-biamá. Cétē gçé.
 Why you did not I Bow the I broke it so I did not kill him, said he, they Yonder he goes kill him (ob.) say, say, homeward.
- Gicka' ihā-gā, á-biamá. Cí waçíqe é'di ahí-biamá. Hau! kagéha, t'ea'çíçé going suddenly, said he, they Again pursuer there arrived, they say. Ho! friend, we were to kill faster be thou, say.
- tá-bi çá'ja, t'éwiça-máji tá minke. Gicka'-i-gā. Qçabé céçá' ákibanan'-gā, 18 you though, I kill you not will I who. Go ye faster. Tree yonder run to with all your (he said) might,
- á-biamá. Xan'gçqte çagçí, á-biamá. Man'dexa' bēisē, ehé tá minke, said he, they Very near to you have said he, they Bowstring I broke it, I say will I who,
 say, come again, say.

- á-biamá. Wi' ei é'di ahf-biamá. Uqáqçe éa'eti. Éáta' aja'/? á-biamá.
 said he, they One again there arrived, they say. You over- heretofore. Why you did it? said he, they say. took him say.
- Éáta' t'éqáqji á. Man'dexa' b'ise éga' nja g'c' c'etë, á-biamá. Ci wa-Why you did not I Bowstring I broke it as live he goes yonder said he, they kill him home- (see note), say. Again pur-ward
- 3 f'fge é'di ahf-biamá. Hau! kag'cha, níkagahi úju t'ea' f'fge tá-bi ní f'a'ja, sure there arrived, they say. Ho! friend, chief princ- pal we were to kill you he though,
- an'ka-a' f'i'-báji. Fana'ja te. Sí nia' f'c', ehé tá m'ínke, á-biamá. Giekan'-gá.
 we are not so. You live will. Foot it hurt me, I say will I who, said he, they say. Go faster.
- Qenb'c' ákibana'f'-gá, á-biamá. Wi' ei é'di ahf-biamá. T'ena'! Uqáqçeqtia'f'.
 Tree run to with all your said he, they One again there arrived, they say. Why! You really overtook might, him.
- 6 Éáta' t'éqáqji á. Sí nia' f'c', ga'f' t'ea'q-máji. C'etë g'c'. Giekan' f'iqá-gá, Why did you not I Foot hurt me, so I did not kill him. Yonder he went going kill him him faster chase him,
- á-biamá. Ci wa'f'fge é'di ahf-biamá. Hau! kag'cha, c'etë íf wi' égihe h'ne said he, they Again pursuer there arrived, they say. Ho! friend, yonder lodge one headlong you say. into it go
- te, á-biamá. Fana'ja te, á-biamá. Si'xa' ana' b'ei'f'a, ehé tá m'ínke, á-biamá.
 will, said he, they You live will, said he, they Ankle twisted in run- I say will I who, said he, they say. say. ning, say.
- 9 Wi' é'di ahf-biamá. Na'eta'f'-biamá. T'ena'! Uqáqçeqtia'f' éa'eti. Éáta'
 One there arrived, they say. He stopped running, Why! You really overtook heretofore. Why they say. him
- aja'f' Wi' f'ake. Si'xa' ana' b'ei'f'a, ga'f' ana'eta'. C'etë g'c'. Giekan' f'iqá-gá, you did You tell the Ankle I twisted it in so I stopped run- Yonder he went going it? truth. ning. ning, chase him, faster
- á-biamá. Ma'f'i'-ji wi' égihe áia'f'a-biamá A'he amá. Za'f'qtia'f'- said he, they Earth-lodge one headlong he had gone, they say. He fled they say. In a very great say. into it confusion,
- 12 biamá wa'f'fge amá. Kí wa'ú aká waji'f'-p'f'ba'f'-biamá. Jí ma'tája wa'ú they say pursuer the And woman he was cross they say. Lodge within it woman
 (sub.) (sub.)
- wi' é'di g'ei'f'-biamá. Jaháwag'çe gi'f'-biamá wa'ú aká. Man'dehi a'f'i' one there sat they say. Shield carried her own, woman the Spear having (sub.) (sub.)
- g'f'za-biamá. Qúga ijin'ge man'dehi ábahá-biamá. Ía-á hë. Áwadi éf á.
 she seized her own, Badger his son spear she brandished it at him, they say. Speak On what you they say. are coming
- 15 Íqáaji qí, t'éwi'f'c' tá m'ínke, á-biamá. Qúga ijin'ge da'f'be etëwa'f'-baji-
 You do it. I kill you will I who, said she, they Badger his son looked at in the least not not speak say. her
- biamá. Man'dehi ábaha etë c'c'c'c'-wa'-baji-biamá; gia'f'-ha-baji-biamá.
 they say. Spear she brandished even he stirred not at all they say; he fled not from her, they say.
 it at him
- Nan'de ké'ja níaci'ga wi' ja'f' ke amá. Éáta' fe íf'a-biamá. Jan'g'cha, Wall at the person one was lying, they From it speech he made come to her, they say. O sister,
- 18 wíja'ha' ca'f'f'ínké'f'a-gá. Ca'f'f'ínké'f'c' tá m'ínke, á-biamá wa'ú aká. Wa'ú my sister's let him alone (as he sits). I let him alone (as will I who, said, they say woman the husband he sits) (sub.)
- aká Qúga ijin'ge áf'ixá-biamá. Wa'ú f'ínké g'f'a'f'-bi qí n'új'inga ísan'ga the Badger his son married him, they Woman the (ob.) he married when Loy her brother (sub.) say.

- ba^xú-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ-biamá. Kí Qúga ijinⁿge aká gá-biamá: Wíjáhaⁿ eátaⁿ robe over his head always they say. And Badger his son the said as follows, My wife's brother why so (sub.) they say:
- ádaⁿ, á-biamá. Hiⁿ! uwbéaⁿ xí'etē eátaⁿ ajaⁿ tudaⁿ+, á-biamá. Kí
 I said he, they Oh! I tell you even if how you do that will I said she, they And
 say.
- nújinga gá-biamá: Jangéha, wíjáhaⁿ ufeá-ga há, á-biamá. Kí wa'ú aká, 3 boy said as follows, O sister, my sister's husband tell it to him said he, they And woman tho
 they say: (sub.),
- Hiⁿ! wísaⁿcaⁿ! xíjáhaⁿ uébeaⁿ gaⁿ eátaⁿ gáxe tudaⁿ. Wíctē wábeí'a hē, Oh! my dear younger your sister's husband I tell so how he do it will! Even I I have failed brother! him with them
- á-biamá. Cí gaⁿaka cí ímaxá-biamá. Eátaⁿ cí'te ufeá-gá, á-biamá.
 said she, they Again sitting a while again he questioned her, How it may be tell it, said he, they
 say.
- Jangéha, wíjáhaⁿ ufeá-gá, ehé, á-biamá. Hiⁿ! wísaⁿcaⁿ! xíjáhaⁿ uébeaⁿ 6
 O sister, my sister's husband I say, said he, they Oh! my dear younger your sister's husband I tell it to tell it to him, I say, brother! him
- daⁿ eátaⁿ ukétaⁿ daⁿetēaⁿ tudaⁿ. Wíctē wábeí'a hē, á-biamá. Há. Cí when how he acquire may, (perhaps) I Even I I have failed with them said she, they Again it say.
- ímaxá-biamá. Cí nújinga gá-biamá: Jangéha, wíjáhaⁿ ufeá-gá, á-biamá.
 he asked her, they Again boy said as follows, O sister, my sister's husband tell it to him, said he, they
 say.
- xíjáhaⁿ uébeaⁿ tá minké, á-biamá (wa'ú aká). Cíjáhaⁿ wa'ú wí an'kigaⁿ 9
 Your sister's husband I tell it will I who, said, they say (woman the). Your wife's woman I like me to him
- wíⁿ ággaⁿaf. Najíha máqaⁿ afeíⁿ aggaⁿaf, á-biamá. Kí Qúga ijinⁿge one made him suffer. Hair she cut off having she went said she, they And Badger his son it homeward, say.
- gá-biamá: Ánai á. Kí, Wa'ú aká dúbai hē, á-biamá wa'ú aká. É'di said as follows, How many? And, Woman the are four said, they say woman the There
 they say: (sub.)
- pí-hnan-maⁿ éde wábeí'a agfé, á-biamá wa'ú aká. Kí, Ána xajaⁿ ke- 12
 I arrived, regularly, but I have failed I have said, they say woman the And, How many you sleep the
 I have with them come home, (sub.),
- hnaⁿ cí á, á-biamá. Wíáqteí ajaⁿ ke-hnaⁿ pí, á-biamá. Hiⁿbé ána regularly you I said he, they Once I sleep the regularly I said she, they Moccasin how arrive say. arrive, say. many
- uqájaⁿ ke-hnaⁿ cí á, á-biamá. Hiⁿbé naⁿba uúáⁿ ke-hnaⁿ agfé, á-biamá.
 you put on the regularly you I said he, they Moccasin two I put on the regularly I have said she, they come say. come home, say.
- Kí é'di bēé tá minké, á-biamá nú aká. Hiⁿbé ingáxa-gá, á-biamá Áwa- 15
 And there I go will I who, said, they say man the Moccasin make for me, said he, they Where (sub.) say.
- tuskaⁿska á, á-biamá nújinga aká. Miⁿecaⁿbe tíqaⁿ uskaⁿskadi gfeíⁿ.
 in a line with I said, they say boy the Sunrise becomes again (f) in a line with it sits.
 (sub.)
- á-biamá wa'ú aká. É'di pí-hnaⁿ-maⁿ éde sabé hégabaji; ádaⁿ wábeí'asaid, they say woman the There I arrived, regularly, but watchful very; there I have failed (sub.), I have fore with them
- hnaⁿ agfé, á-biamá wa'ú aká. Kí, Gaⁿ caⁿ é'di bēé tá minké. Wábeí'a 18 regularly I have said, they say woman the And, So still there I go will I who. I fail with come home, (sub.), them
- agfé eté'tēwaⁿ caⁿ é'di bēé tá minké caⁿja, umaⁿe d'úba ingáxa-gá,
 I come notwithstanding still there I go will I who though, provisions some make for me,
 home
- á-biamá Gaⁿ afeá-biamá. Afeá-biamá, afeá-biamá, afeá-biamá, afeá-biamá.
 said he, they say. No he went, they say. He went, they say, he went, they say, he went, they say, he went, they say.

- Hebádi ja^{n'}-biamá. Égasáni mi^{n'} ɸaⁿ híde hí ɸi ɔ'di ahf-biamá. Égiɸe
On the way he slept, they say. The next day sun the low ar. when there he arrived, they say. Behold
- wa'ú akú wateɸgaxá-biamá. Néxe-qaxú uti^{n'}-biamá. Najíha gáɸaⁿ égaⁿ woman the (sub.) danced they say. Drum they hit, they say. Hair that like
- 3 ɸizai égaⁿ wateɸgaxe aɸi^{n'} amá. Wáɸɸade ahf-bi ega^{n'}, wada^{n'} be naji^{n'}- they took as dancing they had they say. Creeping up on arrived, having, looking at them he stood
- biamá. Ugás^{n'}-biamá. Wa'ú amá cañ'gaxá-biamá néxe-gaxú uti^{n'} tē.
they say. He peeped they say. Woman the (sub.) quit it they say drum beating the (ob.).
- ɸíjaɸa agɸá-biamá. Égiɸe ɸaⁿ be atí-biamá. Wé'ja ma^{n'} zepe etí aɸi^{n'}-
To the lodge they went back, they say. At length in sight they came, they say. Pack-strap ax too they had
- 6 biamá. Wéɸe aɸá-biamá, ja^{n'} agíáɸá-biamá. Wa'ú wi^{n'} najíha ská'qti, they say. To find it they went, they say. Wood they went for it, they say. Woman one hair very white,
- wi^{n'} jídeqti, wi^{n'} júqtei-biamá, wi^{n'} zíqtei-biamá. A-f-bi ca^{n'} ja ɸa^{n'} qti ga^{n'} one very red, one very green, they say, one yellow very, they say. They were though without the least approaching, they say cause
- kiɸáɸe ga^{n'} a^{n'} he átiáɸa-biamá Qúga ijin'ge akú ɸi^{n'} qti-biamá. Úda^{n'} qti scaring each so to flee they started suddenly, they say. Badger his son the painted himself, they say. Very good
- 9 ɸiɸáxa-biamá. Wáɸaɸa té etí úda^{n'} qti ɸiɸáxa-biamá. Ja^{n'} wi^{n'} ákaⁿ naji^{n'}- he made himself, they say. Clothing the too very good he made for himself, they say. Wood one leaning he stood on
- biamá. Wa'ú ijan'ge jingá akú mi^{n'} jinga pahan'ga atí-biamá. Qúga ijin'ge they say. Woman her sister small the (sub.) girl before came, they say. Badger his son
- íɸa-biamá. Hi^{n'}! ja^{n'} ɸéha, nú wi^{n'} íɸáɸíɸe, á-biamá. Hi^{n'}! wi^{n'} hé, wíoi'é he found him, they say. Oh! elder sister, man one I have found said she, they say. Oh! my little sister, husband
- 12 ja^{n'} a^{n'} ɸígaⁿ tañ'gataⁿ, ga^{n'} wákida taí, á-biamá. Ja^{n'} ɸiqa^{n'}-biamá. Ja^{n'} ké wood we break we will, so let him watch, said she, they say. Wood they broke, they say. Wood the (ob.)
- hé'a ɸicta^{n'}-biamá ɸi, 'I^{n'} wéakiɸáí-á, á-biamá. Ahaú! Hájinga uɸisna^{n'}-gá.
tied in bundles they finished, they say. When. Cause us to carry said they, they say. Oh! Cord put the cords on the bundles
- 'I^{n'} wíkiɸe taí minke, á-biamá. Hájinga uɸisna^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, man'de gɸisninde
I cause you to carry them will I who, said he, they say. Cord put them on, they having, bow pulled his out
- 15 ega^{n'}, wañ'giɸe t'éwaɸá-biamá wa'ú dúbá ɸanká. Najíha gē bēgá máwaqa^{n'}- having, all he killed them, they say woman four the (ob.). Hair the (ob.) all he cut off
- biamá. Ga^{n'} ɸi té'ja aɸá-bi ɸi najíha gɸíza-bi ega^{n'}, iñgá^{n'}-biamá. Usá-they say. So lodge to it he went, when hair took his, they say having, he carried in his robe. He fired above the belt, they say. (the grass)
- biamá. Cúde sábē. Kí gá-biamá: Jañgáha, wiáhaⁿ agí ebɸégaⁿ. Usé, they say. Smoke black. And he said as follows, they say: O sister, my sister's husband I think. He has fired (the grass).
- 18 á-biamá. Wíecté wúbéi'a-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'}. Éátaⁿ ɸiáhaⁿ wáɸiⁿ gí tādáⁿ, á-biamá.
said he, they say. Even I I have failed regu- I have. How your sister's bringing com- will I said she, they say with them larly husband them ing home say
- Ci usá-biamá. Usá-biamá ɸi cúde té jíde amá ɸiáhaⁿ wáɸiⁿ eugí,
He fired (the grass), again they say. He fired it, they say when smoke the red they say. Your sister's having there he husband them is, coming.
- á-biamá Qúga igáɸaⁿ akú. Ci ɸañ'ge gɸi-bi ɸi, ci usá-biamá. Cúde té said, they say Badger his wife the (sub.). Again near had come, when, again he fired it, they say. Smoke the

- skā'qtei amá *Çiáha*ⁿ *çábēi*ⁿ wáçíⁿ cugí, á-biamá. Cí usá-biamá. Cúde very white they say. Your sister's three having them there he said she, they husband is coming, say. Again he fired it, they say. Smoke
- tē rúqti amá. *Çiáha*ⁿ wan'giçe wáçíⁿ cugí, á-biamá. Ègiçe éçaⁿ be agçí-the very they say. Your sister's all having there he said she, they husband them is coming, say. At length in sight he came,
- biamá. *Çiáha*ⁿ céçēi hē, á-biamá. Agikípa açu-biamá. Wan'giçe t'éawáçē, 3 they say. Your sister's yonder he said she, they husband has come say. To meet her she went, they own say. All I killed them,
- á-biamá. *Wiáha*ⁿ najíha eçá eti içéçēiⁿ agçí, á-biamá. Caⁿ hē, á-biamá.
said he, they My wife's hair his too I have I have said he, they say. Enough said she, they say. say.
- Wan'giçe wáñniⁿ çagçí údaⁿ hē, á-biamá. Haⁿ çí Qúga igúççaⁿ aká
All having you have good said she, they Night when Badger his wife the (sub.)
- çábēiⁿ wagíçuxá-biamá. Wéwatei açuⁿ-biamá. Ègasáni tē, Iⁿ'e jégçañ-gá, 6 three sang for her own, they say Scalp-dance they had it, they say. The next day when, Stone put in the fire,
- á-biamá. Uđá-biamá. *Iháha*ⁿ çínké najíha çizai tē sná kē gíúskebá-biamá.
said he, they They entered, they His wife's the (ob.) hair took when scar the he scraped for him, they say. say.
- Wamí gacíba-biamá çí najíha éççaⁿ-biamá. Kí najíha égigaⁿ-biamá.
Blood he forced out, they say when hair he put on for him, And hair was as before, they say. say.
- Údaⁿqti gixáxa-biamá. Çé najíha wa'ú dúbá wáçíⁿ agçí tē caⁿ/caⁿ 9
Very good he made his (relation), This hair woman four having he came as continually they say. they say. home
- wat'ígaxá-biamá.
danced they say.

NOTES.

- 294, 5-6. nudaⁿhaŋga uju, the principal war-chief was, in this case, the head-chief.
- 294, 11. Çabēiⁿ jaⁿ-qtiegaⁿ agçē ta mífke. Frank La Flèche inserted "çí," when, after "jaⁿ-qtiegaⁿ."
- 295, 7. kigçedegaⁿ, in full, kigçé édegaⁿ.
- 295, 9. Uwaççai çí. Cañ'ge-skū gave "Uwaççē çí, if he overtake them."
- 295, 11. Ceati e. Frank La Flèche reads, "Céati é-i hē, yonder they have come."
- 295, 11. Uwaççai, a-biama. T'çēçē te. Gickaⁿ-ā hē, a-biama. Frank La Flèche reads: "Uwaççai. T'çēçē tai. Gickaⁿ-ā hē, á-biamá," as "tai" refers to many, and "tē" to one or two.
- 295, 15. zande ce akibanañ gā. Zande céhiçaⁿ akibanañ-gā.—Frank La Flèche.
- 295, 17. Gickaⁿ iha-gā. Rather, Gickaⁿ çiqá-gā. Pursue him more rapidly.—Frank La Flèche.
- 295, 17; 296, 2; 296, 7. Cí waçiqe édi ahi biama. Insert "amá, the (sub.)," after "waçiqe."—Frank La Flèche.
- 295, 18. Gickaⁿ-i-gā, dictated by mistake, instead of the singular, gickañ-gā.
- 296, 1; 296; 9. eátaⁿ ajaⁿ. Eátaⁿ ájaⁿ.—Frank La Flèche. When the interrogative sign, "ā," follows, we can say, "Eátaⁿ ajaⁿ ā." But otherwise we must say, "Eátaⁿ ájaⁿ."
- 296, 2. Mandexaⁿ bēise egaⁿ niya gçē, cetē. Frank La Flèche reads: "Man'dexaⁿ bēise égaⁿ, niⁿya gçē hā, cetē, He has gone back alive, in that direction, because I broke the bowstring."
- 296, 5. qçabe akibanañ-gā. Insert "cehiçaⁿ, yonder."—Frank La Flèche.

296, 12. Ki wa'u aka wajlⁿ-pibaji-biama. This probably refers to the woman in the earth-lodge. If so, this sentence is out of place, and should follow the next one.

296, 16. Mandehi abaha etē cečē-waⁿ-baji-biama. Frank La Flèche gives: Man'dehi ábahai amá etē céčē-etēwaⁿ-baji-biamá.

^{Speak} It was brandished even he did not heed it in the least.
^{at him, they say} they say.

297, 2. éátaⁿ ájaⁿ tadaⁿ+. If spoken by a male, it would have been, "éátaⁿ ájaⁿ tádaⁿ+."

297, 4. éíáhaⁿ nébā gaⁿ éátaⁿ gáxe tádaⁿ. This should be, "éíáhaⁿ nébā yí, éátaⁿ gáxe tadaⁿ+."—Frank La Flèche.

297, 7. éátaⁿ ukétaⁿ daⁿ/etenⁿ tádaⁿ+. As it was spoken by a female, it should be, "éátaⁿ ukétaⁿ daⁿ/etenⁿ tadaⁿ+," or "tadaⁿ+."—Frank La Flèche.

297, 18. Ki, Gaⁿ caⁿ édi bē tá miñke. "Gaⁿ" is superfluous. Read, "Ki, caⁿ édi bē tá miñke."—Frank La Flèche.

298, 3. For "wágéade," read "wagéade."—Frank La Flèche.

298, 7-8. caⁿqti gaⁿ kíāanze gaⁿ atiañ-biama. Sanssouci reads: "caⁿqti gaⁿ kí-āanze gaⁿ aⁿ/he átiñá maⁿéiⁿ-biamá, they continued scaring each other, and started to flee." caⁿqti gaⁿ = eⁿaⁿ éiñgeqti, for no reason whatever.

298, 11-12. wicié jaⁿ aⁿéíqaⁿ tañ/gataⁿ gaⁿ wákida tai. Sanssouci reads: "jaⁿ aⁿéíqaⁿ tañ/gataⁿ. Wicié gaⁿ wákida tai, We will break the wood. My sister's husband will, in the mean time, be on guard (for us)."

298, 13. "Iⁿwéakíñ-a, Cause us to carry it on our backs: "Help us to our feet with the packs on our backs." The women lie down and put the pack-strap around them. Then some one has to raise them to their feet.

298, 18. Eátaⁿ éíáhaⁿ wáñiⁿ gí tádaⁿ. It should be, "Eátaⁿ éíáhaⁿ wáñiⁿ gí ta-daⁿ+," as spoken by a female.

299, 3. éíáhaⁿ cééñi hē. Frank La Flèche reads: "éíáhaⁿ cééñi é,"
"Your sister's yonder he,"
husband has come

TRANSLATION.

The Badger's son went as a visitor to a very populous village. "Badger has come as a visitor. Go ye with him to the lodge of the chief," said they. "Badger has come as a visitor," said they, when they addressed the chief. "Oho! Let him come, O first-born sons," said he. And they arrived there with him. They used to invite him to feasts. "I have come to invite Badger's son to a feast," said one. Still, they continued inviting him to feasts. The principal war-chief had a beautiful woman for his daughter. When they invited this son of the Badger, the woman said as follows: "You will please bring back for me a piece of the fresh meat of which you are invited to partake." "Yes, if it be so, so shall it be," said he. And he was going back from the feast. And the woman was sitting outside the door. The Badger's son said, "I have brought back this fresh meat for which you begged." And the woman said, "Bring it to me." And he took it to her. And when he gave it to her, she said, "How long shall it be before you go homeward?" "In about three days I shall go homeward," said the Badger's son. "And when the time comes for you to go homeward, we shall go homeward," said the woman. And still they continued inviting him to feasts at the village. And he said as follows: "I shall go homeward to-morrow. You said heretofore that when I went homeward, we would go homeward." "Yes, I said it. We shall go homeward. You will waken me at night," said she. And when they slept, the Badger's son awoke. He wakened her. "Arise. You said, 'We will go homeward.' I am going homeward," said he. He went homeward with her. At length her father knew that his daughter was missing, when she had gone. Her father said as follows: "The Badger's son has taken my child away. You will chase her for me. If you overtake her, you will kill the Badger's son. You will bring my child back to me." The old man said, "It is said that the Badger's son has gone back again with the chief's daughter. You are to pursue her for her father. When you overtake her, you will kill the Badger's son. You will bring the woman back to him." "Oho! The Badger's son has gone again with the chief's daughter, so he has asked us to pursue," said they. They pursued. And the woman commanded the Badger's son to go faster. "Go faster. If they overtake us, beware lest they kill you. But as for me, why should they kill me?" said the woman. At length the pursuers came in sight. The woman said as follows: "Yonder they have come. We are overtaken. They will kill you. Go faster." The pursuers having overtaken them, took hold of the woman. And they pursued the Badger's son beyond the place. And one, having kept on till he came to him, overtook the Badger's son, and said as follows: "My friend, though the chief said that we were to kill you, I do not kill you. Go faster. I will say that I broke the bow. Run with all your might to yonder dense forest, to yonder trees," said he. And one arrived where the first pursuer was. "You overtook him. Why did you not kill him?" "I broke the bow, so I did not kill him. Yonder he goes homeward. Quicken your pace immediately," said he. And the second pursuer arrived where the Badger's son was. "Ho! my friend, though the chief said that we were to kill you, I will not kill you. Quicken your pace. Run with all your might to yonder trees. You have nearly come home. I shall say that I broke the bowstring," said he. One arrived there. "You overtook him. Why did you do that? Why did you not kill him?" "As I broke the bowstring, yonder he goes alive towards his home. Quicken your pace immediately," said he. And the third pursuer arrived there. "Ho! My friend, though the head-chief said that we were to kill you, we are not the persons to do that. You will live. I will say that my foot hurt me. Quicken your pace. Run with all your might to the trees," said he. And one arrived where the third pursuer was. "Why! You really overtook him. Why did you not kill him?" "My foot hurt me, so I did not kill him. Yonder he goes homeward. Quicken your pace and pursue him," said he. Again a pursuer arrived there. "Ho! My friend, yonder is a lodge. You will go headlong into it. You will live. I shall say that I sprained my ankle in running," said he. One arrived there. He stopped running. "Why! you really overtook him. Why did you do that?" "You tell the truth. I sprained my ankle in running, so I stopped. Yonder he goes homeward. Quicken your pace and chase him," said he. The Badger's son had gone headlong into an earth-lodge. He fled. The pursuers made a great uproar. A woman sat inside the lodge. And the woman was cross. The woman carried her own shield. She seized her spear, and brandished it at the Badger's son. "Speak. On what business have you come? If you do not speak, I will kill you," said she. The Badger's son did not look at her at all. Even though she brandished the spear at him, he stirred not at all; he did not flee from her. A man was lying by the wall. Thence he addressed her. "O sister, let my sister's husband alone." "I will let him alone," said the woman. The woman married the Badger's son. When he married the woman, the boy, her brother, kept his head always covered. And the Badger's son said as follows: "Why is my wife's brother so?" "Oh! Even if I tell you, how can you do that which he desires?" said she. And the boy said as follows: "O sister, tell it to my sister's husband." And the woman said, "Oh! My dear younger brother, if I tell it to your sister's husband, how can he do it? Even I have failed to harm them." Again, after sitting a while, he questioned her. "Tell how it is," said he. "O sister, tell it to my sister's husband, I say," said he. "Oh! My dear younger brother! When I tell it to your sister's husband, how may he acquire it? Even I have failed to harm them," said she. He asked her again. And the boy said as follows, "O sister, tell it to my sister's husband." "I will tell it to your sister's husband," said she. "A woman who resembles me has made your wife's brother suffer. She cut off his hair, and took it homeward." And the Badger's son said as follows: "How many are they?" And the woman said, "The women are four. I have been there regularly, but I have come home unsuccessful." And he said, "How many times do you usually sleep before you arrive there?" "I usually arrive there after sleeping once," said she. "How many pairs of moccasins do you usually put on when you are coming?" said he. "I usually put on two pairs of moccasins before I reach home," said she. "And I will go thither. Make moccasins for me. With what is it in a straight line?" said her husband. "It is in a line with sunrise. I have been there regularly, but they are very watchful; therefore I have always come back unsuccessful," said the woman. "But still I will go there. Though I will go there at any rate, even if I return unsuccessful, prepare some provisions for me," said he. So he departed. He went, and went, and went, and went. He slept on the way. The next day, when the sun was low, he arrived there. Behold, the women danced. They beat the drum. As they took hair like that of his brother-in-law, they had it for dancing over it. Having arrived by creeping up on them, he stood looking at them. He peeped. The women stopped beating the drum. They went homeward to the lodge. At length they came in sight. They had pack-straps and axes. They went for wood. One woman had very white hair; one had very red; one, very green; and one, very yellow. Though they were approaching, they were continually scaring each other, and starting suddenly to flee. The Badger's son had painted himself very well. He had made himself very nice-looking. He had also made his clothing very good. He stood leaning against a tree. The youngest sister among the women, a girl, came first. She found the Badger's son. "Oh! elder sisters, I have found a husband for myself," said she. "Oh! little sister, we will break wood, and my sister's husband shall be on guard," said one. They broke branches of wood. When they finished tying up the wood in bundles, they said, "Cause us to carry them on our backs." "Oho! put the straps on the bundles. I will cause you to carry them on your backs," said he. When they had put on the straps, he pulled out his bow, and killed all of the four women. He cut off all the hair. And when he had gone to the lodge, he seized the hair of his brother-in-law, and put it in his robe above the belt. He set the grass afire. The smoke was black. And the brother-in-law said as follows: "O sister, I think that my sister's son is coming back. He has fired the grass." "Even I have always failed. How is it possible for your sister's husband to be coming home with them?" said she. Again he set fire to the grass. When he set fire to it, the smoke was red. "There is your sister's husband, coming home with them," said the Badger's wife. Again when he had come very near, he set the grass afire. The smoke was very white. "There is your sister's husband coming with three of them," said she. Again he set the grass afire. The smoke was very green. "There is your sister's husband, coming home with all of them," said she. At length he had come in sight. "Yonder has come your sister's husband," said she. She went to meet her husband. "I have killed all. I have also brought back my wife's brother's hair to him," said he. "That is well. It is good for you to bring home all," said she. At night the Badger's wife sang the dancing-songs for the three. They had the scalp-dance. The next day her husband said, "Put stones in the fire." The two men entered a sweat-lodge. When the Badger's son took the hair of his wife's brother, he scraped the scarred place on the top of the head. When he forced out the blood by scraping, he put the hair on the place. And the hair was as before. He made it very good for his relation. The three danced continually, as the Badger's son had brought home the hair of the four women.

ADVENTURES OF THE PUMA, THE ADOPTED SON OF A MAN.

TOLD BY ΔΑΦΝ-ΝΑΡΔΙ.

Ingɕa^{n'}-siⁿ-súde wiⁿ níaciⁿga wiⁿ a^{n'} akáma. Ki cinⁿ/gajinⁿ/ga ctəwaⁿ.
 Long-tailed-cat one man one was keeping him, And child soever
 they say.

ɕiŋgaj tē. Ki ga^{n'} ɕé cinⁿ/gajinⁿ/ga gaxai tē. Égiɕe níaciⁿga cénujinⁿ/ga he had none. And so this child he made him. At length person young man aɕé amáma. Jí tē ɣanⁿ/gɛtci ahi-bi ɣi égiɕe ɣaⁿti d'úba maⁿɕiⁿ/ amáma. 3 was going, they Lodge the very near he arrived, when behold deer some were walking, they say.

Wéyinaɕɕai tē jí tē'a ahi-biamá, wahuⁿtaⁿɕiⁿ ɕiŋgaj égaⁿ. Ki é cti
 He hid himself when lodge at the he arrived, they gun he had none as. And he too from them

ɕiŋgé akáma. Gá-biamá: Dadíha, ɣaⁿti d'úba úmakaɕti édedi-amá há.
 had none, they say. He said as follows, O father, deer some very easy there they are .
 they say:

Wahuⁿtaⁿɕiⁿ aⁿwa^{n'}/ɕi-gá, á-biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá. Wahuⁿtaⁿɕiⁿ ctəwaⁿ. 6
 Gun lend me, said he, they Oho! said he, they Gun soever
 say.

aⁿɕiⁿ/ge, á-biamá. Cénujinⁿ/ga taⁿ Ingɕa^{n'}-siⁿ-snéde isanⁿ/gakiɕai tē. ɕisanⁿ/ga
 I have none, said he, they Young man the (ob.) Long tailed-cat he made him a younger Your younger brother to him.

júgɕe maⁿɕiⁿ/-gá. Égiɕe ɕisanⁿ/ga íəshuⁿsa te. ɕisanⁿ/ga íəpiɕiⁿ/qtei with him walk. Beware your younger you scold lest. Your younger brother very gently
 him

júgɕe-hnanⁿ/-gá há, á-biamá íqadi aká. Égiɕe júgɕe aɕá-biamá. ɕéamé, 9 go with him regularly said, they say his the father (sub.) At length with him he went, they say. These are they, kagɕha, á-biamá. Jáqti ébazú-biamá. Ki ga^{n'} ébazu tédítaⁿ wénaxɕa

 O younger said he, they Deer he pointed at for him, And so he pointed after the attacking brother, say. them

aɕiⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ uckaⁿ/ ɕandiqti caⁿ ɣaⁿti wiⁿ t'ɕəa-biamá Ingɕa^{n'}-siⁿ-snéde he went, they say. So dead just at the yet deer one killed it, they say Long-tailed-cat

- aká. Ga^{n'} 'i^{n'} akí-biamá. Øisan'ga e'ga^{n'}-hna^{n'} éga^{n'} téqiáæ, á-biamá
 the So carry- he reached home, Your younger in that way invari- as I prize him, said, they say (sub.) ing it they say. brother ably
- íqádi aká. Ga^{n'} Indáda^{n'} waníha eka^{n'}-hna xí Øisan'ga uíqá-hnan'-gá.
 his father the So what animal you wish if your younger tell it to him regularly.
 (sub.) brother
- 3 Waníha bæúgaqti t'éwaæ ma^{n'}ci^{n'}-biamá Ingæ^{n'}si^{n'}-snéde aká. Dadíha, kagé Animal all killing them walked, they say Long-tailed cat the O father, younger (sub.) brother
- 'ábae juágæ bæ tá minke, á-biamá cénujin'ga aká. Gátædi qæbæ hunting I with him I go will I who, said, they say young man the In that (sub.) place
- cugáqti uíqá^{n'}be naji^{n'} té édedi amaí. È'di ðahádi Øisan'ga íqápe gæin'-gá.
 very thick up-hill stands the there they are (mv.). There on the hill your younger waiting sit.
 brother for
- 6 Ga^{n'} cénujin'ga aká ðahádi Ingæ^{n'}si^{n'}-snéde íqápe gæi^{n'}-biamá. Kagé, qé
 So young man the on the hill Long-tailed-cat waiting sat, they say. O younger this (sub.) brother
- i^{n'}dádi 'áepæ eté té, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} ðahádi gæi^{n'}-biamá cénujin'ga aká.
 my father you hunt may the, said he, they So on the hill sat they say young man the
 say. (sub.)
- Ga^{n'} Ingæ^{n'}si^{n'}-snéde qæbæ eúga égi^{n'} áíqá-biamá. Jáqti wi^{n'} uqá^{n'}-biamá.
 So Long-tailed-cat tree thick headlong had gone, they say. Deer one he held they say.
- 9 Øiqæjæqteí-biamá. Ga^{n'} é'di ahi-biamá. Øisnú aæi-biamá. Ubátihéæ-they say. He made cry out by holding. So there he arrived 'hey Dragging he went, they say. He hung it up
 say.
- biamá. Wasábe-ma wi^{n'} ka^{n'}bæa, kagé, á biamá. Waci^{n'} bææte téga^{n'}, they say. The black bears one I wish, O younger said he, they Fat meat I eat in order
 say. brother, say. that,
- á-biamá. Égiæ wi^{n'} uqá^{n'}-biamá. È'di ahi-biamá. Égiæ xáci t'éæ said he, they At length one he held they say. There he arrived, they Behold some he was kill-
 say. time
- 12 akáma. Ingæ^{n'}si^{n'}-snéde aká ípigeægiðai-de xidíqá ma^{n'}ci^{n'}-biamá. Hau!
 ing it, they say. Long-tailed-cat the got foam on him- since rubbing he walked they say. Ho!
 (sub.) self by biting himself
- kagé, jábe-ma wi^{n'} ka^{n'}bæa há, á-biamá. Ní ké ánaæ té. Ca^{n'} ga^{n'} égi^{n'} O younger the beavers one I wish said he, they Water the obstructed. And after head-brother, say. say. some time long
- áíqá-biamá Égiæ jábe-ma wi^{n'} jin'gají édega^{n'} épa^{n'}be aæi^{n'} agæi-biamá.
 he had gone, they At length the beavers one not small but so in sight having he came back, they
 say. say.
- 15 Kagé, nuæna^{n'}-ma wi^{n'} ka^{n'}bæa há, á-biamá. Ga^{n'} ci wi^{n'} t'éæa-biamá
 O younger- the otters one I wish said he, they So again one he killed, they say brother, say.
- nuæna^{n'}. Kí íqádi aká nan'de-gípibají té ga^{n'} úgine a-í-biamá. Ga^{n'}ki otter. And his father the heart was bad for him as so seeking he was coming. And (sub.) them, his own they say.
- pahan'gaqteí jáqti t'éæai té é'di ahi-biamá. Ci qé wasábe t'éæai té é'di the very first deer killed the there he arrived, they Again this black bear killed the there
 say.
- 18 ahi-biamá. Ci qé jábe t'éæai té é'di ahi-biamá. Ci qé nuæna^{n'} t'éæai té he arrived, they Again this beaver killed the there he arrived, they Again this otter killed the
 say.
- é'di ahi-biamá. Ná! Øisan'ga íæinge t'éæaææ, kagé, á-biamá. Ca^{n'} éga^{n'} there he arrived, they Fie! your younger weary you kill him, my child, said he, they Enough so
 say. brother say.

- gáxa-gá, á-biamá. Ga' é céna wa'i' agá-biamá. Iéadi aká zani wa'i'- make it, said he, they So that enough carrying they went home- his the all carried
say. ward, they say. father (sub.) them
- biamá. Ga' akí-bi ega' ijin'ge aká akiwaha waçáto gçi'-biamá.
they say. So reached home, having his son the both eating they sat, they say.
- Ingça'-si'-snéde é úju-biamá, iéadi t'a' tē; áda' iéadi ipeidiski júgigçe 3
Long-tailed-cat he principal, they his had the; therefore his near I am with his say, father him
- gçi'-biamá. Ga' iha' aká é eti éga'qti ági'a'á-biamá. Ga' edita' sat they say. So his the she too just so took care of her own, So after that mother (sub.) they say.
- 'ábae júgigçe aq'-hna'-biamá. Çisan'ga wi'áqtei t'çç-ga' 'i'-ada' júgçe hunting with his he went regularly, they Your younger only one killed having carry and with him say. brother it it
- gi'-hnañ-gá, á-biamá. Áhigi t'çwaçç tēdñi qinan'daçi' igixuhá-biamá 6
he coming back said he, they Many killed them when making himself feared it for his, they regularly, say. crazy by running say
- iéadi aká. Ga' éga'-hna'-biamá. Wanña wi'áqtei t'ççai ga' júgçe his the So thus regularly, they say. Animal only one he killed it so with him father (sub.).
- agf'-hna'-biamá. Çi 'ábae júgçe ahf'-biamá. Çisan'ga wateçka wi' grúata' he was coming home regularly, they say. Again hunting with him he arrived, they Your younger creek one from the
say. brother further (ob.)
- tíçe tē'di eugáqti najin' tē'di édi 'ábae júgagçe te, á-biamá. Ga' é'di 9 comes at the very thick stands at the there hunting you with him will, said he, they So there forth say.
- ahf'-biamá. Kagé, i'dádi 'ácpae eté tē çé, á-biamá. Ga' é'di aq'-biamá.
he arrived, they O younger my father you hunt may the this, said he, they So there he went, they
say. brother, say.
- É'di ahf'-biamá xi xáciqti éga' a'pa' núga kéde t'çç akáma. Kagé,
There arrived, they say when a very long time elk male lying, and he was killing it, they O younger
say. brother,
- ma'teú-ma wi' t'çça-gá, á-biamá. Égiçe wi' uça' átiagça-biamá. É'di 12
the grizzly bears one kill it, said he, they At length one he held suddenly they say. There
say.
- aq'-biamá. Ma'teú-xage hégabaji-biamá. H'a! h'al h'al é-hna'-biamá he went, they say. Grizzly bear crying very much they say. H'al h'al h'al said only they say
- ma'teú aká. Égiçe t'çça-bikéama. Ákiqçáte agçañ'ka'ha' çiqápi iççça-grizzly bear the At length he was lying killed, On the body under the foreleg on both sides pierced forcibly (sub.), they say. with claws
- biamá Ingça'-si'-snéde ta'. Ga' te-núga wi' ei iénaxiçakiçá-biamá. 15 they say Long-tailed cat the (ob.). So buffalo-bull one again he made him rush on it, they
say.
- je-núga ta' t'çça-biamá. Gañ'ki ei gá-biamá: Kagé, çétēdi wasábe sigçé buffalo bull the he killed it, they And again he said as follows, O younger in this black bear trail (ob.) say. lows, they say: brother, place
- tē uná-gá, á-biamá cénujin'ga aká Ingça'-si'-snéde águdi çaqtaí tē, the hunt it, said, they say young man the (sub.). Long-tailed-cat where was bit the,
(ob.)
- ákiqçáte ca' bēúga ibaqtí-hna'-biamá. Ca' íbça'-báji éga' pí 'ábae- 18 on the body in fact all over was constantly swelling up Yet unsatisfied like again was con-
under the fore- legs very much, they say. stantly
- kiçç-hna'-biamá cénujin'ga aká.
causing him to hunt, they young man the
say (sub.)

- Ēgiçe cī wat'čēš ūgine ačaf. Cī ē'di ahī-biamá. Ēgiçe ma'teú t'čēš tē At length again alayer seeking went. Again there he arrived, they At length grizzly bear killed the them, his own say.
- ē'di ahī-biamá. Kī nan'de-gīpibajī-biamá. Ēgiçe wasábe i'n'tea' t'čēš tē there he arrived, they And heart was bad for him they say. At length black bear now killed the
say.
- 3 čisnū gī amá. Ē'di ahī-biamá. Ingčá'-si'-snéde ičádi čin' ágine ičá'-biamá.
dragging was coming, there he arrived, they Long-tailed-cat his father the embraced suddenly, they say.
it they say. say. (ob.) his
- Hau! Čisan'ga waníša-ma waji'-pibáji učéhnaji eté ʔi, á-biamá. A', Ho! Your younger the animals cross you not to ought, said he, they Yes, brother tell to him say.
- dadíša, éga', á-biamá nūjīnga aká. Ičá'-ba' čisan'ga wi'čétēwa' učéjī-gā, O father, so, said, they say boy the A second your younger even one tell him not, (sub.) time brother
- 6 á-biamá. Ga' cī ičádi aká wan'giçe t'čēwačē čańká wa'i'-biamá. Ga' said he, they So again his father the all killed them the ones carried them, they So
say. (sub.)
- wa'i' akí-biamá. Iha' aká xagéqti ágin ičá'-biamá, wamí kē gīša'baí carrying he reached home, His mother the cried bitterly embraced suddenly, they say, blood the saw her own them they say. (sub.) here
- tē. Čénujin'ga fe tē ičádi giáxai tē cī égičá'-biamá wa'ú aká. Čisan'ga when. Young man word the his father made for the again said to him, they woman the him say (sub.) Your younger brother
- 9 ičá'-ba' wi'čétēwa' eta'be ʔi učéjī-á, á-biamá. A'čín 'ágčaa' čučičí, a second even one you see it if do not tell said he, they You have come near making me time him, say. suffer,
- á-biamá. Ga' edita' gínkičē gēi'-biamá. 'Ábaa-báji, wacé čtea' akága'.
said he, they So after that causing him they sat, they say. He did not hunt, rich in even he was,
say. to recover food because.
- Ēgiçe ha'ega'tčēqčei amá ʔi čingá-bitčama Ingčá'-si'-snéde amá Dadíša, At length very early in the morn- they when he was missing, they Long-tailed-cat the ing say say (sub.) O father,
- 12 kagé amá čingai, á-biamá čénujin'ga aká. Čisan'ga 'ábac ʔe té, á-biamá.
younger the is missing, said, they say young man the Your younger hunting went, said he, they brother (sub.) say. (sub.)
- Gčí ta čin', á-biamá. Min' ča' ma'ci tičá' ʔi agčé-biamá. Ga' ičádi Coming he will be, said he, they Sun the high it became when he came home, they So his father back say. again, suddenly say.
- čínké gidáspa'-biamá. Gań'ki áci ačá-biamá. Ga' ičádi amá učéjīhá-the (ob.) he pushed his to attract And out he went, they So his father the followed his notice, they say. say. (sub.)
- 15 biamá. Ni-úwagi-ačáčica' ē'di ačá-biamá. Ē'di ahī-biamá ʔi égičē jábe-ma they say. Place for get- towards there they went, they There they arrived, when behold the beavers ting water say. they say
- wi' gan'ke amá, jin'gaji. Cī hídeaačáčica' ē'di ahī-biamá. Cī éga' jábe-ma one lay for some time, not small. Again down-stream there they arrived, Again so the beavers
they say. they say.
- wi' gan'ke amá, jin'gaji. Ga' čéna'ba t'čēwačá-biamá. Wa'i' akí-biamá.
one lay for some time, not small. So only those he killed them, they Carrying he reached home, they say.
they say, two say. them they say.
- 18 Ga' égasuní na'ba ja'-qtéga' tē'di júgčē ačá-biamá nūjīnga aká. Cī ʔáqti
So the next day two sleeps, about when with him went, they say boy the Again de-
(sub.) (sub.)
- na'ba t'čēwačá-biamá. Wasábe na'ba t'čēwačá-biamá. Ga' ē'di áhigi t'čēwačá two he killed them, they say. Black bear two he killed them, they say. So there many he killed
them
- biamá. Gčéba t'čēwačá-biamá: ʔáqti, wasábe čti, jábe čti. Mi' ča' híde-they say. Ten he killed them, they say: deer, black bear too, beaver too. Sun the low qtei hí xī akí-biamá. Dadíha, kagé áhigiqti t'éwaçé hã, á-biamá nújĩnga very arrived when they reached home, they say. O father, younger very many killed them said, they say boy

 aká. Égasání tē úhe açai tē, wan'giçe. Içádi júrigçe açá-biamá, iha" the The next day when to bring went, all. His father with his he went, they say, his (sub.). in the meat edábe. Ingçá"-si"-snéde aká açá-baji-biamá. W'çaxiçá-biamá níaci"ga áji 3 also. Long-tailed-cat the did not go, they say. Attacked them, they say people differ-(sub.) cut
 amá. Cénujin'ga pahan'ga gaqçí-biamá. Wa'újĩnga éduáta" gaqçí-biamá.
 the Young man first they killed him, they Old woman next they killed her, they (sub.). say.
 Içádi amá na"jĩ"eké'qtei akí-biamá. Çiha" çiji"çe edábe wáçei, á-biamá.
 His the barely reached home. Your your elder also they killed said he, they father (sub.) they say. mother brother them, say.
 É'di ançáçe té, á-biamá. É'di ahí-biamá. Ingçá"-si"-snéde içádi é'di hí 6
 There let us go, said he, they There they arrived, they Long-tailed-cat his father there ar-
 say. rived wíuwatan'ga t'çça-biamá níaci"ga amá Ingçá"-si"-snéde aká wénaxiçá-biamá as soon as killed him, they people the Long-tailed-cat the attacked them, they say say (sub.) (sub.)
 níaci"ga çanká. Can'ge kē edábe wí" t'çça-biamá Ingçá"-si"-snéde aká. Çi people the (obj.). Horse the also one killed them, they Long-tailed-cat the Again (sub.) (obj.) say (sub.) wénaxiçá-biamá. Uçúkiheçbe wáçí"-biamá Ingçá"-si"-snéde aká. Níaci"ga 9 he attacked them, they say. One after another had them, they say Long-tailed-cat the Man
 (sub.)
 wí" can'ge uçás"i" éga"-hna"-síqti t'çça-biamá. Gçébahíwi" tē' t'éwaçéone horse sticking to so throughout he killed, they say. A hundred tho he killed them, biamá. Wáçiqapi uçíqpaçé t'éwaçé-hna"-biamá. Mí" içé ékita"qti wí"qçtei they say. Piercing them he pulled off he killed regularly they say. Sun had just then only one with claws them gone
 ugáçta-biamá.
 was left they say

12

NOTES.

304, 6-7. kagé, çé í"dádi 'áçpae eté tē. Another elliptical phrase, which is, in full, kagé, çé tēdi í"dádi 'áçpae eté, é tē (younger brother, in this place, my father, you hunt, may, said it), or some like phrase. Frank La Flèche gives: çéé hã í"dádi 'áçpae eté tē.

304, 12. içigçagçídai. This was caused by the bite of the bear, as well as by the struggles of the Puma himself.

304, 19-305, 1. en" éga" gáxa-gã, a strong command.

305, 3. içádi t'a" tē. The Puma was considered the real child of the man and woman; and the young man was merely called so. He was adopted after the Puma. "Kage," in the text just above this phrase, may be translated "my child", being used instead of "nísiha."

306, 9. w'çí" 'úgçaa" w'çáçí", contracted from a" w'çí" 'úgçaa" w'çáçé áçí".

TRANSLATION.

A man was keeping a Puma. And he had no children at all. And so he regarded this Puma as his child. At length a young man was going. When he arrived very near the lodge, behold, some deer were walking. Concealing himself from them, he reached the lodge, as he had no gun. And the father of the Puma, too, had none.

The young man said as follows: "O father, some deer are there, very easy to kill. Lend me a gun." "Oho! I have no gun whatsoever," said he. He caused the Puma to be the younger brother of the young man. "Go with your younger brother. Beware lest you scold your younger brother. Be accustomed to go very gently with your younger brother," said the father. At length the Puma went with the young man. "These are they, O younger brother," said the young man. He pointed at the deer for him. And so, after he pointed at the deer for him, the Puma went to attack them. And the Puma killed a deer just at the place where the young man had pointed the deer. And he carried it home. "Because your younger brother always does this to prize him," said the father. "And if you desire any kind of animal, tell your younger brother." The Puma continued to kill all kinds of animals. "O father, I will go hunting with younger brother," said the young man. "There they are in that place out of sight, where the very dense forest stands, extending up-hill. Sit there on the hill, and wait for your younger brother." And the young man sat on the hill, waiting for the Puma. "O younger brother, this is the place where my father said that you might hunt," said he. And the young man sat on the hill. And the Puma went headlong into the dense forest. He took hold of a deer. He made it cry out bitterly because he held it with his claws. And he arrived there at the hill. He went dragging it. He hung it up. "I desire a black bear, O younger brother, in order to eat fat meat," said the young man. At length the Puma caught hold of one. He arrived there. Behold, he was some time in killing it. Since the Puma got foam on himself in struggling with the black bear, he rubbed himself as he walked. "Ho! O younger brother, I desire a beaver," said the young man. The water was obstructed. And after a while the Puma went headlong into the water. At length he came back in sight, bringing a large beaver. "O younger brother, I desire an otter," said the young man. And the Puma killed an otter. And as their father was sad at heart, he was coming seeking them. And he arrived first at the place where the deer had been killed. Next he arrived at the place where the black bear had been killed. And he arrived at the place where the beaver had been killed. And he arrived at the place where the otter had been killed. "Fie! my child, you kill your younger brother with fatigue. Do stop it at once," said he. And they went homeward, carrying just that many animals. The father carried all on his back. And having reached home, both of his sons sat eating. The Puma was the principal one, as he had a father; therefore he sat with his father, near him, but not touching him. And his mother also in like manner took care of her own child. And after that the young man went hunting regularly with his adopted brother. "When your younger brother has killed just one animal, carry it on your back, and be coming home with him," said the father. The father feared for his son, lest he should make himself crazy by running, if he killed many animals. And so it continued. When he killed just one animal, he was coming home with him. And he arrived there with him as he hunted. "You will go thither with your younger brother to the place where the trees stand very thick by the creek which comes forth from the remote object," said he. And he arrived there. "O younger brother, this is the place where my father said that you might hunt," said he. So he went thither. When he had been there a very long time he was killing the male elk that was lying there. "O younger brother, kill a grizzly bear," said the young man. At length the Puma took hold of one suddenly. He went thither. He was crying very much like a grizzly bear. The grizzly bear said nothing but "H'a! h'a! h'a!" At length he was lying killed. The Puma had been pierced very deep with his claws on both sides of the body, under the forelegs. And the young man made the Puma rush on a buffalo bull. He killed the buffalo bull. And again the young man said as follows: "O younger brother, hunt the trail of a black bear in this place." The Puma was continually swelling up wherever he had been bitten on the body under the forelegs, in fact, all over his body. Yet the young man was repeatedly making him hunt, as if he was not satisfied.

At length the father went again to seek the slayers, his sons. He arrived there. At length he arrived at the place where the grizzly bear had been killed. And his heart was sad. At length he arrived there whither the Puma was coming, dragging the black bear which he had just killed. The Puma embraced his father suddenly. "Ho! You ought not to tell your younger brother about the savage animals," said the father. "Yes, O father," said the youth. "Do not tell your brother about even one of them any more," said the father. And again did the father carry all those animals that were killed. And he carried them home on his back. The mother, crying bitterly, embraced the Puma suddenly, when she saw his blood. The woman said to the young man the words which the father had said to him. "If you see even one of them, do not tell your younger brother about it any more. You came very near causing me to suffer," she said. And after that they sat, causing him to recover. They did not hunt, as they were rich in food. At length the Puma was missing, when it was very early in the morning. "O father, younger brother is missing," said the young man. "Your younger brother has gone hunting. He will be coming back," said the father. When the sun was high the Puma came home. And he pushed against his father to attract his attention. Then he went out, and his father followed him. They went towards the place where they got water for the lodge. When they reached there, behold, a large beaver had been lying there for some time. And they reached a place that was down-stream. And a large beaver had been lying there, too, for some time. And the Puma had killed just those two. The father carried them home on his back. And about the third day afterward the youth went with him. And the Puma killed two deer. He killed two black bears. And there he killed many. He killed ten: deer, black bears, and beavers. When the sun was very low, they reached home. "O father, younger brother has killed very many animals," said the youth. The next day all went to bring the meat into camp. The young man went with his father and mother. The Puma did not go. Another people attacked them. They killed the young man first. Next they killed the old woman. The father barely reached home. "They have killed your mother and your elder brother. Let us go thither," said he. They arrived there. As soon as they arrived the men killed the Puma's father. The Puma attacked the men. The Puma killed one and his horse. He attacked them again. The Puma encountered them one after another. He killed a man with the horse that he was on; and so on throughout the ranks of the foe. He killed a hundred. Piercing them with his claws, he pulled them off their horses and killed them. Just as the sun set, only one man was left.

THE RACCOONS AND THE CRABS.

FRANK LA FLÈCHE'S VERSION.

Égiçe Mí-qa amá ꝑé amáma. Égiçe gá-biamá:
 At length Raccoon the was going, they At length he said as follows,
 (sub.) say.

Ká-ge Mí-qa há! há-zi a^{n'}-ꝑat añ-gá-ꝑe te há, ká-ge Mí-qa há!
 Younger Coon O! grapes we eat let us go younger Coon O!
 brother

3 Wji^{n'}ꝑécha, cé bꝑáte-hnan'di hí a^{n'}sa^{n'}san'de-ma^{n'}, ga^{n'} áda^{n'} ubꝑé'age.
 O my elder that I eat it invariably tooth shake me rapidly, so therefore I am unwilling.
 brother, when

Ká-ge Mí-qa há! xan'-de a^{n'}-ꝑat añ-gá-ꝑe te há, ká-ge Mí-qa há!
 Younger Coon O! plums we eat let us go younger Coon O!
 brother

Wji^{n'}ꝑécha, cé bꝑáte-hnan'di a^{n'}ꝑa^{n'}wankéga-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'}, ga^{n'} áda^{n'} ubꝑé'age.
 O my elder that I eat it invariably it always makes me sick, so therefore I am unwilling.
 brother, when ing.

6 Ká-ge Mí-qa há! na^{n'}-pa a^{n'}-ꝑat añ-gá-ꝑe te há, ká-ge Mí-qa há!
 Younger Coon O! choke-cher-ries we eat let us go younger Coon O!
 brother

Wji^{n'}ꝑécha, cé bꝑáte-hnan'di snia^{n'}t'e-ma^{n'}, ga^{n'} ada^{n'} ubꝑé'age.
 O my elder that I eat it invariably I am chilly, so therefore I am unwilling.
 brother, when

Ká-ge Mí-qa há! Ma^{n'}-eka^{n'} a^{n'}-ꝑat añ-gá-ꝑe te há, ká-ge Mí-qa há!
 Younger Coon O! Crab we eat let us go younger Coon O!
 brother

9 Iá! ji^{n'}ꝑe, há! ji^{n'}ꝑe, ji^{n'}ꝑécha! cé i^{n'}uda^{n'}-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'}. Égiçe cé amá. Égiçe
 O! elder O! elder elder brother that always good for me. At length they went, At length brother, brother, O! they say.

Ma^{n'}-eka^{n'} ni-úwagi ahí-biamá. Égiçe tꝑe gaxá-biamá. Égiçe na^{n'}ji^{n'} ꝑacka^{n'}
 Crab where they they arrived, At length dead they made, they Beware barely you stir got water they say. say.

ꝑi^{n'}he aú. Ata^{n'}, Ahaú! chꝑe yi ꝑacka^{n'} te há. Égiçe eibe ꝑi^{n'}ꝑai etéte-over I When, Oho! I say when you stir will beware entrails they flicks not with-
 (you)

wa^{n'}, ^{standing,} ^{nostrils} ^{they push up} ^{into your} ^{notwithstanding,} ^{eye} ^{they reach into} ^{your} ^{notwithstanding,} ^{be aware} ^{you stir} ^{etétewa^{n'}}, ^{etá} ^{etájin^{n'}} ^{dai} ^{etétewa^{n'}}, ^{égiçe} ^{çacka^{n'}}

ç^{n'}he ^{over} [!] ^{When,} ^{Oh!} ^{I say} ^{if} ^{you stir} ^{will} [!] ^{said,} ^{they say} ^{(Raccoon} ^{grown} ^{the).} ^{At length} ^{Crab} ^{girl} ^{some} ^{water} ^{arrived} ^{for,} ^{they say.} ^{And} ^{after} ^{they} ^(stood) ^{awhile} ^{they found} ^{them,} ^{they say,} ^{Ma^{n'}} ^{eka^{n'}} ^{mi^{n'}} ^{jinga} ^{d'úba} ^{ní} ^{aglahi^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Ki} ^{ga^{n'}} ^{çanka} ^{wéça^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ³

Ma^{n'} ^{eka^{n'}} ^{mi^{n'}} ^{jinga} ^{d'úba} ^{ní} ^{aglahi^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Ki} ^{ga^{n'}} ^{çanka} ^{wéça^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ³

Ja^{n'} ^{çin^{n'}} ^{uçá} ^{agçá^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Waçáquçuxe} ^{na^{n'}} ^{ba} ^{t'é} ^{aké} ^{áçn!} ^{U+!} ^{á-biamá}

Égiçe ^{Ma^{n'}} ^{eka^{n'}} ^{ní} ^{kagahi} ^{çinke^{n'}} ^{di} ^{uçá} ^{ahí^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Égiçe} ^{Ma^{n'}} ^{eka^{n'}} ^{ní} ^{kagahi}

nkú ^{éçn^{n'}} ^{be} ^{ati^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Égiçe} ^{wénaxiça} ^{çéça^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Ki} ^{i'e^{n'}} ^{áçe} ^{wi^{n'}} ⁶ fékçé ^{téga^{n'}} ^{jú} ^{wagçá^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{(Égiçe} ^{Mixá} ^{akádi} ^{ç'di} ^{ahí^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Ki} ^{wi^{n'}}

gá^{n'} ^{biamá:} ^{Hindá!} ^{çibe} ^{béi^{n'}} ^{çéa} ^{té^{n'}} ^{ana,} ^{á-biamá.} ^{Çibe} ^{ç'i^{n'}} ^{çéa^{n'}} ^{bi} ^(çi) çéçetewa^{n'} ^{ç'i} ^{ja^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Çáçuháçtei} ^{çga} ^{amá} ^{çi} ^{çieta^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Çi} ^{áma} ⁹

k'ç'di ^{açá^{n'}} ^b ^{ega^{n'}} ^{çáçúge} ^{çijn^{n'}} ^{da^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Céçetewa^{n'}} ^{ç'i} ^{ja^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Çi} ^{áma}

k'ç'di ^{açá^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Ictá} ^{çá^{n'}} ^{ha} ^{çizibççtei} ^{uçá^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Céçetewa^{n'}} ^{ç'i} ^{ja^{n'}}

biamá ^{Mixá} ^{aká.} ^{Hé!} ^{waçáwateçuxe} ^{té} ^{ái} ^{açu+!} ^é ^{iekçé} ^{çéça^{n'}} ^{biamá} ¹²

Ma^{n'} ^{eka^{n'}} ^{i^{n'}} ^{çé} ^{áçe} ^{aká.} ^{Égiçe} ^{wateçgaxá^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Wateçgaxe} ^{uçica^{n'}} ^{biamá.}

Waçáquçuxe ^{na^{n'}} ^{ba} ^{t'é} ^{aké,} ^{Áma} ^{siçéde} ^{snedé,} ^{Áma} ^{in^{n'}} ^{dje} ^{qéçxe.} ^{U+!}

(á-biamá ^{i^{n'}} ^{çé} ^{áçe} ^{aká).} ^{Égiçe} ^{ta^{n'}} ^{wangçá^{n'}} ^{béçga} ^{wateçgaxe} ^{uçica^{n'}} ^{biamá,} ¹⁵

Ma^{n'} ^{eka^{n'}} ^{ta^{n'}} ^{wangçá^{n'}.} ^{Égiçe,} ^{Ahaú!} ^{á-biamá.} ^{Akiça} ^{naji^{n'}} ^{átiaça^{n'}} ^{biamá.}

Wénaxiç ^{açá^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Ma^{n'}} ^{eka^{n'}} ^{çí} ^{ágikíçana^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Wáçate} ^{ma^{n'}} ^{çin^{n'}} ^{biamá.}

T'éwaçé ^{ma^{n'}} ^{çin^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Égiçe} ^{na^{n'}} ^{báççtei} ^{ákiágçá^{n'}} ^{biamá.} ^{Ké!} ^{Mañççin^{n'}} ^{i-gá.} ¹⁸

Ma^{n'} ^{eka^{n'}} ^{éçige} ^{taí} ^{(á-biamá} ^{Mixá} ^{aká).} ^{Ceta^{n'}.}

NOTES.

310, 9. há ji^hé, há ji^hé, ji^hé^hma. Used in expressing thanks, approval, or a petition. So, há ji^hé, há ji^hé, ji^hé^hma, 102, 9.

310, 11. au, pronounced au^h.

311, 4. wa^hququxe ma^hba t^he aké a^hu u+. qu^hni^hpa^hji uses "wa^hquxuxu" instead of "wa^hququxe." As "a^hu" is a masculine term, it shows that a man cried out, not the girls.

311, 11. ieta-qu^hba qizibéqtei u^ha^h-biamn, pronounced qizi+béqtei, etc.

311, 12. ni a^hu+, in full, ni á^hu u+.

311, 14. The dancing-song sung by the old man Crab was as follows:

311, 19. ma^heka^h, from ma^h, ground; and eka^h, to move, stir; i. e., "they who scampered over the ground." Perhaps the craw-fish, rather than the crab, is referred to in this myth.

TRANSLATION.

At length the Raccoon was going. At length he said as follows:

er Coon." "O my elder brother, whenever I eat them, my teeth chatter rapidly, and therefore I am unwilling." "Younger brother Coon! Let us go to eat plums, Younger brother Coon." "O my elder brother, whenever I eat them, they make me sick, and therefore I am unwilling." "Younger brother Coon! Let us go to eat choke-cherries, Younger brother Coon." "O my elder brother, whenever I eat them, I am chilly, and therefore I am unwilling." "Younger brother Coon! Let us go to eat Crabs, Younger brother Coon." "O! elder brother, O! elder brother, elder brother, O! They always agree with me." At length they departed. At length they reached the place where the Crabs got water for the village. At length they pretended to be dead. "Beware. Don't you dare to stir at all. When I say, 'Oho!' you will stir. Beware. Even if you are tickled in the sides, even if they push their claws up your nostrils, even if they reach into your eyes, do not stir at all. When I say, 'Oho!' you will stir," said the elder Raccoon. At length some Crab girls arrived there for water. When they had been there some time, they found the Raccoons. They ran homeward to tell it. "Two Wa^hququxe are lying dead. Halloo!" said some of the men. At length they arrived at the lodge of the Crab chief, whither they had gone to tell it. And the Crab chief came in sight of the Raccoons. And he sent some away to attack them. And an old man went with them to act as a crier and to sing for the dancers. And they reached the Raccoons. And one said as follows to himself: "Let me see! I will tickle him in the side!" When he tickled him in the side, the Raccoon lay without stirring at all. When the Raccoon almost laughed, the Crab stopped. And the Crab went to the other Raccoon, and thrust his claws up his nostrils. He lay without stirring in the least. Going again to the former Raccoon, he took hold of his eyelids by the very edge. The Raccoon lay without stirring in the least. The aged Crab man proclaimed aloud, saying, "Ho! he says that you are to dance. Halloo!" At length they danced. They danced around the Raccoons. The old man said:

The oth - er has a spot - ted face. Halloo! At length the whole Crab vil - lage went dancing around them. At length the elder Raccoon said, "Oho!" Both Raccoons stood suddenly. They went to attack them. The Crabs ran with all their might to their lodges. The Raccoons walked along, eating and killing them. At length just two Crabs had gone home. "Come! Begone. You shall be called 'Ma-cka'," said the Raccoons. The End.

THE RACCOONS AND THE CRABS.

A'ÁI'-NA'PÁI'S VERSION.

Égiçe Míxá amá a-i-biamá. Káge Míxe+! káge Míxe+! káge Míxe+!
 At length Raccoon the was coming they Younger Coon O! younger Coon O! younger Coon O!
 say. brother brother brother házi a'fát a'gáçe há+, káge Míxe+! á-biamá. Wíjín'fcha! cé beáte-hna' grapes we eat we go ! younger Coon O! said he, they O my elder that I eat regularly brother say. brother fan'di níxa a'fcha'nie-hna'-ma'. Ní tē beáta' tē'di a'fcha' dāxeté eta', ácka 3 when stomach pains me in regu- I have Water the I drink when it purges me habit, close larly (or, I do). nally gíma' a'jé eta' há, á-biamá. Káge Míxe+! káge Míxe+! káge Míxe+!
 I do that I stool habit- said he, they Younger Coon O! younger Coon O! younger Coon O!
 nally say. brother brother brother grúbe a'fát a'gáçe há+, káge Míxe+! á-biamá. Wíjín'fcha! cé'fcha' beátebuck-berries we eat we go ! younger Coon O! said he, they O my elder that I eat
 brother say. brother hnan'di in'gē a'wasá eta'. Wájin'qidaáçē, á-biamá. Káge Míxe+! káge Míxe+! káge Míxe+! 6 regularly, when I am constipated habit- I get out of patience said he, they Younger Coon O! younger brother nally with it, say.
 Míxe+! káge Míxe+! wájide a'fát a'gáçe há+, káge Míxe+! á-biamá.
 Coon O! younger Coon O! buffalo we eat we go ! younger Coon O! said he, they brother berries say.

314 THE CECILIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- Wji'ēcha! e'ēaⁿ be'ate-hnan'di ijaⁿ xe aⁿēa'f'ie'ēa ēgaⁿ a'ēgēi'ū e'taⁿ. Wajiⁿ-O my elder brother! that I eat regularly, anus it lies so as I scratch myself habitually. I eat out of
- qidiū'ē, á-biamá. Káge Mi'ē+! káge Mi'ē+! káge Mi'ē+! Maⁿ'ekaⁿ aⁿ.
patience with said he, they Younger Coon O! younger Coon O! younger Coon O! Crawl we
- 3 waⁿ'ēat angá'ē te hau, káge Mi'ē+! á-biamá. Há! jī'ē, há! jī'ē, jī'ē, jī'ē, há, eat them we go will I younger Coon O! said he, they O! elder O! elder elder
- e'ē-hnaⁿ wa'ēate awási'ē e'taⁿ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ'ki a'ēá-biamá egaⁿ, wé'ēgēaⁿ that only eating (them) I think of them habitually, said he, they And they went, they having, plan
- gá'xe mu'ēiⁿ-biamá. Taⁿ'wa'ēgaⁿ hé'gaetōwaⁿji m'ē a'ēá-biamá. Jī'ē'ha, making they walked, they say. Village very populous near by they went, they Elder brother, say.
- 6 ákie angá'xe xi ákiecuga xi wiaⁿ'nax'ēai xi aⁿ'waⁿ'ēate tai, á-biamá. An'kaji, to talk we make if standing thick when we rush on them if we eat them will, said he, they No,
- á-biamá jī'ē'ē aká. Gá-biamá: Ní-agihí tē'di wiⁿ'ēa'ēaⁿ t'ē'ēwaⁿ'ē said, they say his elder brother (sub.). He said as follows, Arrive there at the one by one we kill them
- aⁿ'waⁿ'ēate angēiⁿ tai, á-biamá. Ci isan'ga aká, An'kaji, wé'ēgēaⁿ wí dā'xe há, we eat them we sit will, said he, they Again his younger brother (sub.), No, plan I make it
- 9 á-biamá. Can'ge uné ujan'ge gaxá agli kē'a dahé á'ēiⁿ baxú ētaⁿ tē said he, they Horse seeking road it forks is com. at the hill ridge peak just that far the
- angá'xe te, á-biamá. Aⁿ'haⁿ, caⁿ', á-biamá. Cé tuté, á-biamá. É'a a'ēi-let us make it, said he, they Yes, enough, said he, they That shall be, said he, they Thither they went
- biamá. Égaⁿ ujan'ge kē aktēa maⁿ'a'ēaqti gaⁿ jaⁿ'-biamá. T'é gaxáthey say. No road the both flat on the back so they lay, they Dead they made
- 12 biamá. Wackan'-gá, á-biamá. Caⁿ' aⁿ' á'ēi'ēiⁿ et'ētōwaⁿ, ietá ēaⁿ u'ēibahiⁿ they say. Do your best, said (one), they Still how he has you notwith. eye the he pushes in your
- et'ētōwaⁿ, e'ēbe ē'ēa'f'ie'ēai et'ētōwaⁿ, dā'gēge tē u'ēibahiⁿ et'ētōwaⁿ, dā' ēaⁿ even if, entrails he tickles you even if, nostrils the he pushes in even if, head the
- sidá tē ēinaⁿ'ha ē'ēē et'ētōwaⁿ, ē'ēaji-gá, á-biamá. É'ēi'ēe can'ge uné wiⁿ' too the he kicks you send- even if, do not stir, said he, they At length horse seeking one
- 15 agí amáma. Ujan'ge kē uhá agí-biamá. Wé'ēa-bi xi, Ci! ei! ei! ē'ēake was returning, Road the follow. he was returning, He found them, when, Ci! ei! ei! these two lying
- naⁿ'ba, á-biamá. Wébetaⁿ-biamá. Ci ē'di a-á-biamá. Sidá gaⁿ' naⁿ'há two, said he, they He went around them. Again there was approaching, Too thus he kicked one
- ē'ēa-biamá xi ē'ēetōwaⁿji jaⁿ'-biamá. U'ēá agēá-biamá. Wa'ēaxuxe e'ēsaid suddenly, when moving not at all he lay, they say. To tell he went homeward, it Raccoon you say
- 18 hnaⁿ naⁿ'ba t'é aké á'ēa Huⁿ+! á-biamá. Taⁿ'wa'ēgaⁿ gaⁿ' gēiⁿ'-biamá.
popu- two dead the indeed. Halloo! said he, they Village no eat they say.
- Hindá! á-biamá baⁿ' na'aⁿ'-bi aká. É'ēi'ēe i'ē'á'ge wiⁿ' eikan'ge'aja gēiⁿ' Hark! said he, they calling heard it, they he who. At length old man one far apart he who was sit-

- akúma ba' tē na'a'-bi ega' uúkiha' uéá agéá-biamá. Waqaxuxe na'ba that they calling the heard it, they having beyond to tell went homeward, Raccoon two
say say say say say say say say
- t'é aké, ai aña+ u! á-biamá. Ji amá za'ē'qtia'-biamá. Waná'a'-biamá.
dead the he indeed, hal- said he, they Lodge the in great confusion, they They heard them, they two (file), says too! say say say say say say
- Wawaqateigaxe te, ai aña+ u! á-biamá. Ca' cin'gajin'ga ma'ēi' wakan'dagi 3
You are to dance, he indeed, hal- said he, they And child to walk forward (= quick)
say say say say say say say say
- etēwa' bēgaqti ahí-biamá. Ahí-bi ega' ákieugáqti é'gaxe naji'-biamá.
even all arrived, they say. Arrived, having standing very around stood they say they say they say they say they say they say
- I'e'ágeqti-bi édega' aqúhagē'qteí ahí-biamá. Imangēet'a' á-inaji'-biamá.
A very aged man, but at the very last arrived, they say. Using a staff he came and stood, they they say say say say say say say say
- Ma'ciáaha naji'-i-gá há, á-biamá. Féama Ietínike ēipií áña! á-biamá. 6 Off at a distance stand ye said he, they Three Ietínike skiffed indeed! said he, they say say say say say say say say
- Háhaqíēai-gá, á-biamá. Hindá! wáēit'a'-i-gá, á-biamá. Cíbe wáēi'ēai-gá, Get yourselves ready, said he, they Let us see! feel them, said he, they Entrail tickle ye them,
say say say say say say say say
- á-biamá. Cíbe wáēi'ēai-de éēēctēwa'-baji'-biamá. T'é fanhá, á-biamá.
said he, they Entrail tickled them when they moved not at all they say. Dead they who, said he, they
say say say say say say say say
- T'ái há. Ké, wáwaqigaxái-gá, á-biamá. I'e'áge aká wéqaya gēi'-biamá. 9
They Come, dance ye, said he, they Old man the singing for sat they say.
are dead say say say say say say say say
- Ibehí' uti'-biamá. Jéxe búga gasáēu uti'-biamá. Waqaxuxe na'ba t'é Pillow hit they say. Gourd round to rattle he hit they say. Raccoon two dead
say say say say say say say say
- aké. In'de qééqēe, in'de qééqēe; Sin'de snéde qééqēe; Hi' ja'xe jañ'ga, the. Face spotted, face spotted; Tail long spotted; Hair offensive big,
say say say say say say say say
- á-biamá. Ji'fēcha, cēnaēia' wénaxiēai-gá, á-biamá. Nají' átiāēa-bi ega' 12 said he, they Elder brother, on that side attack them, said (one), they Stood suddenly, they having
say say say say say say say say
- edíta'qti t'éwáēē wáēate ma'ēi'-biamá. Ji kē úgiááza-biamá. Djúbaqteí forthwith killing them eating them they walked, they Lodge the they scared them into their
say say say say say say say say
- akí-biamá. Ceta' na'cta'-biamá, wénandá-bi ega'. Hahá! ga'badá' reached home, So far they stopped running, felt full after eating, having. Ha! ha! just as we they say, they say, they say say say say say say say
- wénandēawákiēē, á-biamá.
we have been caused to feel said they, they full after eating, say.

NOTES.

313, 1: Míxe+ must be intended for a vocative. This myth contains the only instance of its use in the texts.

313, 2. hazi, pronounced ha+zi; so gube, 313, 5, is pronounced gu+be; wajide, 313, 7, waji+de; and Ma'ēka', 314, 2, Ma'+ēka'.

313, 3. a'fá'duxete, from idaxete.

313, 6. iñgē a'wa'sa, i. e., iñgē a'wa'sa, from iñgē(e)-usa.

315, 2. za'ē'qtia', pronounced za+ē'qtia'.

315, 4. bēgaqti, pronounced bēn+gaqti.

315, 6. fēama Ietínike ēipií áña. Here the Raccoons are called "Ietínike" as well as "Waqaxuxe." And besides, the Omaha and Ponka delegates at Washington, in August, 1881, spoke of the (two) Ietinike who planned to catch the crabs. Frank La Flèche says that the Raccoons were as cunning as Ietinike, knowing all his tricks, but he and they should not be confounded.

315, 11. Inde q̄q̄exe, or Inde q̄q̄eq̄e, "spotted face," is a Çegiha name sometimes applied to the raccoon. Frank La Flèche says that "hi ja'xe q̄aiga" cannot be said of a raccoon.

315, 14-15. Haha! etc. Such phrases were commonly used by Ietinike in expressing his delight at having overreached others.

TRANSLATION.

At length the Raccoon was approaching. He sang as follows to his younger brother in the distance:—"O younger brother Coon! O younger brother Coon! O younger brother Coon! We go to eat grapes, O younger brother Coon!" "O my elder brother! whenever I eat those, my stomach aches me, and when I drink water I have the cholera morbus so bad that I have an action whenever I take a step," said the younger. "O younger brother Coon! O younger brother Coon! O younger brother Coon! We go to eat hackberries, O younger brother Coon!" said the elder. "O my elder brother! whenever I eat them, I am constipated for a long time. I get out of patience," said the younger. "O younger brother Coon! O younger brother Coon! O younger brother Coon! We go to eat buffalo-berries, O younger brother Coon!" said the elder. "O my elder brother! whenever I eat them, anulus meus prurit me, et scabo. I get out of patience," said the younger. "O younger brother Coon! O younger brother Coon! O younger brother Coon! We will go to eat Crabs, O younger brother Coon!" said the elder. "Thanks, elder brother! Thanks, elder brother! elder brother, thanks! I always think of eating those alone," said the younger. And they departed, planning as they went. They went towards a very large village of Crabs which was close by. "O elder brother! let us pretend to go and pay a friendly visit. And when they stand very thick around, let us attack them and eat them," said the younger. "No, let us kill them one by one as they go for water; and then we can eat them," said the elder brother. And the younger brother said, "No, I have a plan. Let us pretend to be dead on top of a ridge of hills, where the path which they take when they go after horses turns aside as it comes back this way." "Yes, that will do. That shall be it," said the elder. They went thither. And both lay flat on their backs in the path. They pretended to be dead. "Do your best," said the elder. "No matter how they treat you,—even if they thrust their claws into your eyes, even if they tickle you on the side, even if they thrust their claws up your nostrils, even if they kick your head aside very suddenly with their toes,—do not stir." At length one who had been seeking horses was coming back. He was coming back along the path. When he discovered them, he said, "Ci, ei, ei! those who are lying are two." He went around them. Then he approached them. He kicked one aside suddenly, but the Raccoon lay without stirring at all. And the Crab went homeward to tell it. "Two of those whom you call Waçaxuxe lie dead. Halloo!" said he. Those in the village sat as they were. "Hark!" said he who heard the call. At length an old man, who had been sitting at a very remote place, heard the call, and went further homeward to tell it. "He says that two of the Waçaxuxe lie dead. Halloo!" said he. The lodges were in great confusion (i. e., they made a great commotion by talking and shouting.)

They heard them. "You are to dance, he says, indeed! Halloo!" said the crier. And every one arrived there including even the children who were forward in learning to walk. Having arrived there, they stood around, being very close together. A very aged man was the last one to arrive. He approached and stood leaning on his staff. "Stand ye off! These Ietinike are cunning. Hold yourselves in readiness. Let us see! Feel them. Tickle them on their sides," said he. When they tickled them on their sides, they did not stir at all. "They lie as if dead. They are dead. Come, dance," said he. The old man sat singing for them. He beat a pillow with a round gourd, which he made rattle. Said he (in his song):

"Two raccoons lie dead.
Spotted face, Spotted face,
Spotted long tail,
Big offensive hair."

"O elder brother! attack them on that side next to you," said one of the Raccoons. Having started at once to their feet, they went along killing and eating them. They scared them into their lodges. Very few reached home. They did not chase them any longer, as they had eaten to their satisfaction. "Ha! ha! It is just as we desired. We have been caused to feel full after eating," said the Raccoons.

THE WARRIORS WHO WERE CHANGED TO SNAKES.

TOLD BY NUDAⁿ-AXA.

Nfaciⁿga gḗbanaⁿba nudaⁿ aḗa-biamá. Waḗáta-bají-biamá. Naⁿ-Person twenty to war went, they say. They ate not they say. Hun.
 péhiⁿ wakanⁿdiḗḗḡḡ-biamá. Égaxe agí-biamá. Caⁿ, ḗḗⁿhá! Úḗxide ger very impatient from they say. In a circle they were return- Enough, O servants! Looking ing, they say. around maⁿḗiⁿ-gā. Wackaⁿi-gā, úḗxide tē, á-biamá nudaⁿhaṅga aká. Kí éḡiḗc 3 walk ye. Do your best, looking the, said, they say war-chief the. And at length around wiⁿ ʒaⁿḗiⁿ agí-biamá. Nudaⁿhaṅgá! wanḡa wiⁿ ḗḗḗḗ amé ebḗḗgaⁿ, one running was coming, they O war-chief! animal one there is moving I think,
 say.
 á-biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá nudaⁿhaṅga aká. Índádaⁿ wanḡa éskaⁿ elnégaⁿ?
 said he, they Oh! said, they say war-chief the. What animal it may be you think?
 say.
 á-biamá. Nudaⁿhaṅgá! ʒe-núga, ebḗḗgaⁿ, á-biamá Ahaú! á-biamá nudaⁿ- 6 said he, they O war chief! buffalo bull, I think, said he, they Oh! said, they say war-
 say.
 haṅga. Canⁿ-de, ḗḗⁿhá! aⁿnḡ etáí, á-biamá. Pí daⁿbe maⁿḗiⁿ-gā cī.
 chief. If so, O servants! we live may, said he, they Again to see it walk ye again
 say.
 Cí ʒaⁿḗiⁿ aḗa-biamá wiⁿ. Éḡiḗc, maⁿḗiⁿ aḗc amáma ʒe-núga amá. Ná!
 Again running went, they say one. Behold, walking was going, they say buffalo bull the. Fie!
 nudaⁿhaṅga iḗpa-gā hā, á-biamá. Gaⁿ iḗape aḗa-biamá. ḗḗḗḗ gḗiⁿ-gā, 9 war-chief wait for him said they, they say. And waiting they went, they Here sit ye, for him say.

- á-biamá, wagáqáa é wáwaká-bi ega". Ga" aqá-biamá. A"da"be ja"i-gá, said he, they servant that he meant them, having. And he went, they say. Looking at he ya,
 say, they say
- á-biamá. Ánase naji"-biamá. Égiçe a-í amáma je-núga amá Ágata said he, they To inter- he stood, they say. At length was approaching, buffalo bull the. Aiming say, cept it they say they say at it
- 3 ja"-biamá. Wahúta"çi" kē basnú çéça-biamá. Ágatá-bi áçuta"qtei. Ahí-bi he lay, they say. Gun the he pushed suddenly, they He aimed at it, in a straight He arrived, along say, they say line. they say
- çi" égiçe waníja áji amáma. Na"pe ja"-biamá. Wahúta"çi" kē gçíza-when behold animal different was moving, Fearing it he lay, they say. Gun the he took they say, they say his
- biamá. Akída-máji çi"ctē t'ca"çaji etéga"ji áha", eçéga" ja"-biamá. Çi they say. I shoot not even if he kills me not apt, thinking he lay, they say. Again
 not
- 6 akíde çi"ctē muáana" ca" t'ca"çē etéga" áha", eçéga" ja"-biamá. Içáugçē
 I shoot even if I miss him still to kill me apt thinking he lay, they say. All the while at him
- na" wape ja"-biamá. Wē's'á ja"ga amáma, sín'de-qçá çéça"ská-biamá.
 fearing he lay, they say. Snake big it was moving, tail-rattler this size, they say.
 they say,
- Çip'an'de ga" çisáçu-hna"-biamá: Teu+. Ga" kída-biamá. Çéçetçewa"ji shook by pull- so it rattled invariably, they say: Teu+. And he shot at it, they Not moving at all
 ing say,
- 9 naji"-biamá. Kída-bi tē'di égiçe qíáça áíça-biamá. I'ta" nuda"haŋga it stood, they say. It was shot at, when behold falling it went suddenly, Now war-chief
 they say they say they say
- çínkē kíde, á-biamá. Ga" ē'di aqçá-biamá. Ē'di akí-biamá. Ná! çéç'há!
 the shot at it, said they, And there he went back, they There he arrived again, Bothert O servants!
 they say, they say say, they say
- waníja wi" t'caçē çá"ja na" pewáçç, á-biamá. Na! nuda"haŋgá! ca" a"çan'- animal one I killed it though dangerous, said he, they Why! O war-chief! still let us
 say, say,
- 12 guda"be taí edáda" waníja çí"te, á-biamá. Wē's'á ja"ga, á-biamá. Wúhu+á!
 consider what animal it may be, said they, Snake big, said he, they Really!
 they say, they say, they say say,
- á-biamá. Zaní çaquba-biamá Ga" ē'di ahí-biamá waŋgiçe. Hinda!
 said they, All wondered, they say. And there arrived, they say all. See!
 they say
- umásnai-gá, á-biamá. Umásna-biamá. Égiçe ci" hégaji-biamá Wē's'á aká.
 split it with a said he, they They split it they say. Behold fat very, they say Snake the.
 knife, say,
- 15 Kí qé-ma níkaei"ga ukçéçi" t'cwaçai tē úçibça" bça" úda"qti éga"qtia"
 And the buffa- people common kill them when they smell odor very good just like los (i. e., Indians)
- uçibça"-biamá Wē's'á aká. Nuda"haŋgá! úda"qtia" uçibça" tē, qé éga"- smell they say Snake the. O war-chief! very good smell the, buffalo julike, said they, Test it, said, they say war-chief the. And kindling they say, a fire
- 18 ctē itçça-biamá. Çéde tē náhegaji-biamá. Kí na"pçhi" tē wakan'diççaeven they put it on, they Fire the burnt very hot, they And hunger the impatient from,
 say, say,
- biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá. Ké, çéç'há! ígaska"çái-gá, á-biamá nuda"haŋga they say. Oho! said he, they Come, O servants! test it, said, they say war-chief
 say,
- aká. Mi" çu" çáçuháqtei içé-hna" éga"-biamá. Ga", Çéçuqti, çéç'há!
 the. Sun the nearly had gone only so they say. And, right here, O servants!

- aⁿjaⁿ tai, á-biamá. Gaⁿ ɬe-ɕiⁿ ɕaⁿ caⁿ basnaⁿ ɬeⁿ ɕaⁿ-biamá. Ninⁿ deɕai let us sleep, said he, they And buffalo rib the so they placed on sticks they say. Cooked
say.
- tě éduⁿataⁿ caⁿ ákasta itéɕa-biamá. Caⁿ wiⁿ pahanⁿga ɕaté taité naⁿpa-bi when next so in a heap they put it, they And one before eat shall feared, they
say.
- egaⁿ, ákast itéɕə gəiⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ égiɕe nudaⁿhaⁿga aká gá-biamá: 3 having, in a heap putting it they sat, they And at length war-chief the said as follows,
they say:
- Ahaú! á-biamá. ɕéⁿhá! hébe iⁿɕiⁿ gri-gá, á-biamá. Gaⁿ hébe ɕeⁿ Oho! said he, they O servants! a piece bring to me, said he, they And a piece having
say.
- akí-biamá. ɕatá-biamá. Égiɕe, Údaⁿqtiaⁿ, ɕeⁿiⁿ, á-biamá. ɬeⁿma aⁿwaⁿ-they reached again, they say. He ate it, they At length, Very good, servants, said he, they The buffa-
say. loca we eat
- ɕataí égaⁿqtiaⁿ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ zani ɕatá-biamá. Kí ntaɕiⁿga nújĩga- 6 them just like, said he, they And all ate they say. And person boy
- biamá. Nújĩga-bi éde ɕatá-bají-biamá. Inahiⁿ-bi cté ɕatá-bají-biamá.
they say. Boy, they say but he ate not they say. They were will- even he ate not they say.
ing, they say
- ɕéⁿhá! ɬeⁿma aⁿwaⁿɕataí égaⁿ há, á-biamá. Bəaⁿ pibají-bají, údaⁿqtiaⁿ.
O servant! the buffa- we eat them if is like, said he, they Oho! bad not, ery good.
loos say.
- ɕatá-gá, á-biamá nudaⁿhaⁿga aká. Ubéⁿage, á-biamá nújĩga aká. Gaⁿ 9 Eat it, said, they say war-chief the. I am unwilling, said, they say boy the. And
- néɕé tē égaxe gəiⁿ-biamá. Kí nújĩga aká gaqága gəiⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ kindled the around it they sat, they And boy the apart sat they say. And (fire) say.
- ugáhanaɕáze amá. Gaⁿ inandəqtiaⁿ-bi egaⁿ jaⁿ-hnaⁿ-biamá. Égiɕe, dark they say. And felt very full after eating, having slept each one, they say. At length,
- Ahaú! á-biamá. ɕéⁿhá! ɕáhaⁿ-gá há, á-biamá. Píajĩqtiaⁿ, á-biamá 12
Oho! said he, they O servants! arise said he, they Very bad, said, they
say.
- nudaⁿhaⁿga aká. Gaⁿ úwakié ɕiⁿáqti, caⁿ gaⁿ Wəⁿs'a amá bəúga. Égiɕe war-chief the. And to talk to them he failed, strange to say (it) Snake the all. Behold (=were)
- atanⁿ-ke-daⁿ bəúgaqti ɕiⁿé gaqá ɱigəɕetaⁿ-biamá Wəⁿs'a sad-ihé. Nudaⁿ-just as long as he lay all half of the body finished himself, they Snake was lying stretched. War.
say
- haⁿga áma aká gá-biamá: Ahaú! á-biamá. Gúda gíbaⁿ ɕéɕai-gá, (á-biamá), 15 chief the other said as follows, they say: Oho! said he, they Yonder call to him, (said he, they
say).
- nújĩga é waká-bi egaⁿ. Nújĩga aká agí-biamá. Ké, ɕéⁿhá! wadaⁿ-boy that meant him, having. Boy the was coming, they Come, O servant! wadaⁿ-
they say.
- bai-gá, á-biamá. ɕéⁿhá! ɕé naⁿɕapégaⁿ hnátají ɬepaⁿhaⁿ, á-biamá. Nújĩga at us, said he, they O servant! this you feared, as you ate not you know, said he, they Boy
say.
- aká xagé najiⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ, Úsaŋga, á-biamá. ɕinaqteí ɕanŋa te, á-biamá. 18 the crying stood they say. And, Hopeless, said he, they You alone you live will, said he, they (sub.) say.
- Waɕáckaⁿ ɕagəé te há, á-biamá. Gaⁿ ɕé aŋgúgacaⁿ aⁿmaⁿɕiⁿi edádaⁿ
You try you go will said he, they And this we traveled we walked what homeward say.
- aŋgínai ké bəúgaqti aⁿɕiⁿ, á-biamá. Qubé 'iⁿ-biamá. ɕé weáɕape caⁿ we sought the all we give said he, they Sacred they gave him, This you wait for yet
you, say.

- aⁿ'ba (xī) hné te. Ègiçe waaⁿ'ça tpuha-biamá nújnga aká. Waiiⁿ' jaŋgá day (when) you go will. At length to leave them afraid of, they say boy the. Robe large gē wiⁿ' uji weçéⁿ' taí. Majaⁿ' údaⁿ' gēⁿ' di dahé jaŋgá wiⁿ' gágō içaⁿ' awaçiçé the one filling you carry will. Land good at the hill large one those you put us
- 3 taí, á-biamá nudaⁿ' haŋga aká. Gaⁿ' aⁿ'ba amá. Wan'giçe qti égaⁿ' qti gag'giçe will, said, they say war-chief the. And day they say. All just so coiled up gēiⁿ' akáma, ákigçéⁿ' gēiⁿ' gēiⁿ'-biamá. Kí waiiⁿ' jaŋgá wiⁿ' çizá-bi égaⁿ', were sitting, sitting on one they sat, they say. And robe large one took, they having, no other say úji-biamá. Kí wēⁿ' aça-biamá. Dahé údaⁿ' qti édedí-çaⁿ' amá. Èⁿ' di içaⁿ' waçahe put them in, And carrying he went, they Hill very good there it was, they There he put them, they say. them say.
- 6 biamá. Dahé jin'gaji, dahé bazú, eçiçe égaⁿ' qçabé naⁿ'bá bazú ídaⁿ' be they say. Hill not small, hill curvilinear extending like it tree two curvilinear in the top, yonder top middle ágça-biamá. Gaⁿ' éⁿ' di içaⁿ' waça-biamá qçabé tē hidé tēⁿ' di. Gēçé taté they put down on, And there he put them, they say tree the bottom by the. Go home. shall they say. ward
igidaⁿ'-bi égaⁿ', Wēⁿ' s'a amá bēúga qti nújnga taⁿ' ágiçáⁿ' á-biamá, júga kō they knew of their having, Snake the all boy the lay thick on their own, body the own, they say. (sub.) they say.
- 9 áha-biamá. Gaⁿ' waaⁿ'ça agçá biamá. Gaⁿ' íí kēⁿ' ja aki-biamá. Nudaⁿ'- they passed over, And leaving he went homeward, And lodge at the he reached home, War-they say. them they say. they say.
haŋga çéⁿ'çaⁿ' waniŋa çataí éde é jú xiçaxai, á-biamá. È nuge çé caⁿ' chief the one who was animal ate but that body made for said he, they He summer this (anac-pleative)
éwaçaçai-ma, wa'ú, cin'gajin'ga, caⁿ'ge wáçéⁿ'-má ctēwaⁿ', edádaⁿ' açiⁿ' you who are his rela- woman, child, horse those that he even, what he has tions, has
- 12 gijaⁿ' be gaⁿ'ça-biamá, á-biamá nújnga aká. (Nugé tēⁿ' di íí çáⁿ' caⁿ' qti to see his he wishes, they say, said, they say boy the. (Summer when lodges the at any rate
I see them I wish, said, they say war-chief one-half Snake the.) And summer wajaⁿ' be kaⁿ' beŋa, á-biamá nudaⁿ' haŋga wiⁿ' dēçaⁿ' ska Wēⁿ' s'a aká.) Gaⁿ' nuge tē gaqçaⁿ' aça-biamá. Èⁿ' di ahí-biamá. Angáti, á-biamá. Çéçandí, when migrating they went, they There they arrived, they We have said he, they Here it is,
say. say. come. say.
- 15 á-biamá. Kí, Èⁿ' di qti aⁿ'í taí, á-biamá. Gaⁿ' wa'ú, cin'gajin'ga, caⁿ' bēúga said he, they And, Just there we will, said they, And woman, child, in fact all say. say. camp they say.
éⁿ' di ahí-biamá. Èⁿ' di ahí-biamá xi égiçe éçaⁿ' bá-biamá. Èⁿ' di maⁿ' can' de there arrived, they say. There they arrived, they when behold they came out, they There holes in the
say. say. ground
gáxe akáma. Èi há, á-biamá. Ègiçe naⁿ' waçápe taí. Èi há. Ègiçe they had made, they Those said he, they Beware you fear them lost. Those Beware say. are they say. are they
- 18 weçéⁿ' he taí. Ckaⁿ' ji najiⁿ'-i-gá, á-biamá nújnga aká. Ègiçe Wēⁿ' s'a amá you the from lost. Motionless stand ye, said, they say boy the. At length Snake the
them
- bēúga qti nújnga taⁿ' ágiçáⁿ' á-biamá. Ákihaⁿ' aça-biamá. Nikaciⁿ' ga amá all boy the lay thick on their own, Beyond they went, they People the
they say. they say.
égazéçe najiⁿ'-biamá. Gaⁿ' wagíkaⁿ'-biamá. Xagé zaⁿ' qtiⁿ'-biamá. Caⁿ' in a row stood, they say. And they consoled with their Crying they made an uproar, In fact own, they say. they say.

béúga wékaⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ uéúgacibai tē níaciⁿga wáhai tē íbēaⁿqtiaⁿ’- all condoled with them, And they went when people they passed as were fully satis-
 they say, throughout over them fled biamá Wé’s’á amá. Gaⁿ maⁿcanⁿde tē’ja égazézo ákigēiⁿ-biamá Wé’s’á amá.

 they say Snake the And holes in the at the in a row eat with one another, Snake the (sub.), ground they say (sub.).

Ǿé níaciⁿga áki’e amáya wadaⁿ’be jaⁿ’-biamá. Can’ge-ma é’di kaⁿtaⁿ’ 3
 This people standing thick at them looking at them they lay, they say. The horses there tied itéwēkiǾa-biamá. Wa’iⁿ gē, cānakágē cti, wégasápi cti, man’de, utaⁿ’ they placed they say. Packs the, saddle too, whip too, bow, leggings theirs for them

aⁿ’Ǿa a-fi gē, hiⁿbé aⁿ’Ǿa a-fi gē edábe, béúga é’di itéǾa-biamá. Gaⁿ cǐ left were the, moccasins left were the also, all there they put them, And again coming coming they say.

máǾe áji amá. Cǐ é’di gaǾǾaⁿ atí-biamá. Kǐ é’di waǾóna-baǾí-biamá. 6 winter a dif. they say. Again there migrating they came, they And there not visible, they say.
 ferent say.

Can’ge waaⁿ’Ǿa amá íⁿ’teaⁿqteí jái gē Ǿingé-hnaⁿ-biamá. Ádaⁿ maⁿcanⁿde Horse they left them the just now dunged the there was none, they say. There- holes in the (pl.) fore ground

maⁿ’táya wáǾēuǾiⁿ ákiágǾa-biamá, é uǾá-hnaⁿ-biamá.
 inside having them they had gone back, that they tell regularly, they
 they say, say.

NOTES.

317, 6-7. Ahau! a-biama nudaⁿhaúga. Insert “aká” before the period.

317, 7. aⁿniǾ etai, in full aⁿniǾa etai.

317, 9. nudaⁿhaúgá íǾa-pá-gá. The scouts had gone out of sight of the war-chief; so they spoke to the one running, telling him not to proceed so rapidly, but to wait till the leader came in sight.

318, 3-4. ahi-bi Ǿí, when the animal reached the man.

318, 8. Ǿíp’ande, etc. Whenever the Snake lifted his tail, it rattled.

318, 14. cǐⁿ pronounced cǐⁿ by Nudaⁿ-axa.

319, 13-14. eǾíǾe ataí-kedaⁿ, etc. Nudaⁿ-axa said that this referred to the war-chief who was the last one to eat part of the Snake. Half of his body, that is, all on one side, had been changed. On one side he was a snake; on the other, a man, the whole length of his body, as he lay extended on the ground.

320, 2-3. Majaⁿ údaⁿ gēdi, etc. I agree with Frank La Flèche in substituting for this, Majaⁿ údaⁿ, dáhé taúgá gē’di wiⁿ íǾaⁿawaǾáǾé tai: Land, good, hill, big, on the, one, you will place us.

320, 6. dáhe bazu cehiǾe egaⁿ, etc. This shows that the narrator was referring to a bluff in sight of the place where he was telling the myth.

320, 7. Next to the trees was grass, and below the grass, on the sides of the hill, was only the soil.

321, 1. Whenever any Snake recognized relations, horses, etc., he crawled over them.

321, 2. akigēiⁿ, equivalent to jǾgē Ǿēiⁿ.

321, 7. When the tribe left the Snakes, they fastened the horses to posts driven into the ground. On their return they found fresh manure dropped here and there in a line with the posts; but neither horses nor footprints could be seen.

TRANSLATION.

Twenty men went on the war path. They ate nothing. They were very impatient from hunger. They made a circuit and were coming back. "That will do, O servants! Look around as you walk. Do your best at searching," said the war-chief. And at length one was coming running. "O war-chief! I think that an animal is moving there," said he. "Oho! What sort of animal do you think it is?" said the war-chief. "O war-chief! I think that it is a buffalo bull," he said. "Oho!" said the war-chief. "If so, O servants! we may live. Go again to look at it." And one went running. Behold, the buffalo bull was going along walking. "Fie! Wait for the war-chief to come in sight," said the rest of the scouts. And they went slowly, waiting for him to appear. "Sit ye here," said he, addressing the servants. And he departed. "Lie ye looking at me," said he. He stood for the purpose of intercepting the buffalo. At length the buffalo bull was approaching him. He lay aiming at it. He pushed his gun along suddenly. He aimed directly at it. When it arrived, behold, it was a different animal. He lay fearing the sight of it. He took back his gun. He lay thinking, "If I do not shoot at him, he will be very apt to kill me! And if I shoot at him and miss him, still he will be apt to kill me!" All the time he lay, fearing the sight of it. It was a big Snake, with a rattle as large as a man's head. Whenever he lifted his tail, he rattled it: "Tou+" (whispered). And he shot at the Snake, which stood (etc) without stirring at all. But after the Snake was shot at, behold, he fell suddenly. "Now the war-chief has killed him," said they. And the war-chief went back to them. He reached there again. "O psha! O servants! Though I have killed an animal, it is dangerous," said he. "Why! O war-chief! let us examine it at any rate, whatever sort of animal it may be," said they. "It is a big Snake," said he. "Really!" said they. All wondered. And all arrived there. "See! split it lengthwise with knives," said he. They split it with knives. Behold, the Snake was very fat. The Snake had a very good odor, just like that of the buffaloes when the Indians kill them. "O war-chief! the odor is very good. It is just like that of the buffaloes," said they. "Test it," said the war-chief. And kindling a fire, they put it on. The fire was very hot. And they were impatient from hunger. "Oho! Come, O servants! test it," said the war-chief. The sun had almost set. "O servants! let us sleep just here," said he. And they thrust sticks through the spare-ribs, running one end of each stick in the ground, close to the fire. When the spare-ribs were cooked, they put them in a heap. And as each one feared to eat before the rest, they sat putting them in a heap. And at length the war-chief said as follows: "Oho! O servants! bring a piece to me." And they took a piece to him. He ate it. At length he said, "Servants, it is very good. It is just like the buffaloes that we eat." And all ate, except one, who was a boy. Though they were willing, he did not eat. "O servant! it is like the buffaloes that we eat. The odor is not bad. It is very good. Eat it," said the war-chief. "I am unwilling," said the boy. And they sat in a circle around the fire which they kindled. But the boy sat apart from them. And it was dark. And having felt very full after eating, each one slept. At length the war-chief said, "Oho! Servants, arise! It is very bad." And he failed to talk with them, as, strange to say, they were all Snakes. Behold, the war-chief had finished changing the half of his body; the whole of one side lay stretched out in the shape of a Snake. The other war-chief said as follows: "Oho! Call yonder to him," referring to the boy. The boy came. "Come, O servant! look at us. O servant! you know that you did not eat because you feared this," said he. The boy stood crying. And the war-chief said, "It is a hopeless case. You alone will live. Do try to go homeward. We give to you everything which we sought in our travels." They gave him their sacredness (or, their charms). "You have waited this long for us, yet when it is day, you can go." At length the boy was afraid of leaving them. "Having filled one of the large robes, you will please carry us on your back. Please put us on a good land, on one of those large hills," said the war-chief. And it was day. All were sitting just so, coiled up and upon one another. And having taken a large robe, he put them in it. And he departed, carrying them. A very good hill was there. There he put them. It was not a small hill; it was a hill with a curvilinear top, like the one extending yonder, with two trees set down on the middle of the curvilinear top. And he put them there, by the bottom of the trees. As they knew that he was about to go homeward, all the Snakes lay thick over the boy (i. e., they covered the surface of his body, as he stood); they passed over his body. And leaving them, he went homeward. And he reached home at the lodges. "He who was the war-chief ate an animal, and changed his body into that sort of animal. He said that he wished to see whatever he has, in the summer, you who are his relations, the women and children, and even his horses," said the boy. The war-chief who was partly a Snake had said, "In the summer I wish to see the lodges at any rate." And when it was summer, they removed the camp. They arrived there. "We have come. Here it is," said the boy. And the people said, "Let us camp just here." And the women, the children, in fact all, arrived there. When they arrived there, behold, the Snakes came in sight. They had made dens there. "Those are they. Beware lest you fear them. Those are they. Beware lest you flee from them. Stand still," said the boy. At length all the Snakes lay thick on the boy. They went beyond him. The people stood in a row. And they condoled with them. They made a great uproar by crying. In fact, all condoled with them. And when the Snakes had gone throughout the line, and had passed over the bodies of the people, they were fully satisfied. And the Snakes were in a row at the dens, sitting with one another. They lay looking at the crowd of people. Their horses were placed there tied; the packs, the saddles too, the whips, bows, the leggings which they had abandoned when they were approaching to kill the Snake, also the moccasins which they had abandoned when they were approaching—all were put there. And it was another winter. Again they removed and came to the place. And then the Snakes were invisible. The horses which they had left, and which had recently dropped manure, were missing. Therefore it is reported that they took them back into their dens.

THE WARRIORS AND THE THREE SNAKES.

TOLD BY NUDA"-AXA.

- Niaciⁿga nudaⁿ ahf-biamá. Agfí-jaⁿ-hnaⁿ-biamá. Egiçe majaⁿ jaⁿ Men to war arrived, they say. They slept on the way home regu- At length land sleep larly, they say.
- tai çaⁿ agfí-biamá. Egiçe jaⁿçaⁿ qa ıan ga (ededí-ke amá). Çé ujaⁿ údaⁿ-will the they came back to, Behold jaⁿ log big (were lying there, they This to sleep very
they say.
- 3 qtiaⁿ, jaⁿçaⁿ qa çábçíⁿ-biamá. Egaxe jaⁿ-biamá. Egiçe aⁿba amá ııı good, low three they say. Around they lay, they At length day they when
say.
- ıadésage (amá). Nudaⁿhanga aká uéıxidá-biamá. Egiçe jaⁿçaⁿ qa amá high wind (they say). War-chief the looked around, they say. Behold log the (sub.)
- Wé's'a ıan ga akáma. Hau, çé'ıhá! pıııııııııı. Áhaⁿ-gá, á-biamá. Wan'giçe Snake I'g were, they Ho, servants! It is very bad. Arise, said he, they All
say.
- 6 iáçixa jaⁿ akáma. Gañ'ki ukıççaⁿ-biamá. Kigçídındıⁿ-biamá. Kı ıadé-with open were lying, they And they took hold of one another, they say. They held firmly to one another, And high mouth say.
- sage gasnı-lmaⁿ aça-biamá. Uhan'ge najiⁿ aká xagé najiⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ wind blowing along went they say. The end stood he crying stood they say. And regularly who
- gá-biamá: Hau, çé'ıhá! wéçigçaⁿ wiⁿ içaáçé hä, á-biamá. Caⁿ ındádaⁿ he said as fol- Ho, O servants! plus one I have found said he, they In fact what
lows, they say.
- 9 jı'jin'ga açiⁿ-bi ké' caⁿ bçúga, maⁿ ké, hiⁿbé, máhiⁿ, wa'ı-biamá Wé's'a small things they had, they the in fact all, arrow the, moccasins, knife, they gave to them, Snake
they say
- çanká. Gañ'ki í tē áçapııı tē éçetaⁿ gaⁿ ábçage ké amá. Wé's'a amá the (ob.). And mouth the closed when that far so a calm (lay) they say. Snake the
- é çarıdesagı-biamá iáçixa jaⁿı tē. Gaⁿ çé gçadiⁿ jaⁿ ké áaⁿsi gçé-lmaⁿ-that made wind with their with open they when. And this across it the leaping they went mouths, they say mouths lay (ob.) across homeward
regularly
- 12 biamá. Hau, çé'ıhá! wiⁿ pahan'gai-gá, á-biamá. Gaⁿ uéıaga-biamá, they say. Ho, O servants! one go ye before, said he, they And they were unwilling,
say.
- naⁿpe-hnaⁿı tē. Ahaú! á-biamá. Çé'ıhá! wıebçıⁿ te, á-biamá nudaⁿthey feared regu- ss. Oh! said he, they O servants! I am he will, said, they say war-larly say.
- han ga aká. Caⁿ ındádaⁿ ctēwaⁿ nudaⁿhanga é wackaⁿ maⁿçıⁿ amégaⁿ é chief the. And what soever war-chief that makes an walks that class that effort
- 15 gáxe maⁿçıⁿ amégaⁿ t'é te naⁿpa-báji gaⁿ wıebçıⁿ tá mıınke, á-biamá doing walks that class die will fears not so I am he will I who, said, they say
- nudaⁿhanga aká. Gaⁿ nudaⁿhanga çıńké é'ıı gçé amá ııı iáçixa jaⁿ amá war-chief the. And war-chief the there was going when with open was lying, that homeward mouth they say

- u^ufi^uza^u aká. Ga^u áa^usi ákiá^uga-biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá. Wacka^ui-gá, middle the. And leaping over he had gone homeward, Oho! said he, they Be strong,
the one, they say.
- á-biamá nuda^uhangá aká. Ga^u ei nuda^uhangá áma aká ei éga^u áa^usi said, they say war-chief the. And again war-chief the the again so leaping other (sub.) over
- ákiá^uga-biamá. Ahaú, éé^ui! wacka^ui-gá, á-biamá. É a^ungá^ugi xi éga^uqti 3 had gone homeward, Oho! servants! be strong, said he, they That we coming when just so they say, they say, say, homeward
- gáxo ga^uai-gá, á-biamá. Ci éga^u-hna^u wi^uca^uca^u agé^u naji^u-biamá. Ci to do desire ye, said he, they Again so regularly one by one going they stood, they say. Again
say, homeward
- wi^u aká éga^u agé^u-biamá. Ci wi^u aká agé^u etéga^u, ní^ukaci^uga gééba-éú^uéi.
one the so went homeward, Again one the went ap, man thirty.
they say, (sub.) homeward
- Ci wi^u aká áa^usi agé^u-biamá. Ci wi^u aká éduáta^u. Ána aki^u-ma wacka^u 6
Again one the leaping went homeward, Again one the next to him. How reach-d there to be strong (sub.) over they say, (sub.) many again
- ákigé^uji hna^u-biamá. Éde éde^uagáqteí naji^u ta^u ábagé^u-biamá. Ictá^ubéi commanded one another regularly, But at the very bottom stood the one hesitated they say. Tears
they say.
- ásnu-biamá. Hau, éé^ui^uhá! nú hni^u. Nú a^uéi^u éga^u a^ungá^uga^ui, á-biamá.
trickled, they say. Ho, O servant! man you are. Men we are so we travel, leader) they say.
- éaxáge, éé^ui, pláji ckáxo, á-biamá. Égié^u g^ué amá xi Wé's^uá aká na^uqahi 9
You cry, servant, bad you do, said he, they At length he was going when Snake the backbone say, homeward (sub.)
- ké éit^uága-bi éga^u wája^u kihé amá. Kí ma^uága gáha kigé^uéé xi ca^uca^u the raised in a hump, having he lay down again they And on his back he knocked him down when without they say suddenly, say, again stopping
- éasni^u ééé^u-biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá. Ga^u, éé^ui^uhá, a^ungá^u-hna^u a^uma^uéi^u.
he swallowed him they say. Oho! said (the leader) So, O servants, we alone we walk.
suddenly they say.
- Ní^uaci^uga wi^uáqteí etéwa^u águdi t^ué ga^uai xi t^uai, á-biamá. Ga^u agé^u- 12
Person one soever where to die wishes if he dies, said he, they So they went
homeward
- biamá. Ga^u aki^u-ja^u-hna^u-biamá. Ga^u égu^u-hna^u ja^u-biamá wéahide t^u.
they say. So they slept on the way home So thus regularly they slept, they at a distance when.
regularly, they say.
- Égié^u na^uba wada^ube a^ué^u-biamá. Núda^uhangá! gáté^udi xi d'úba édi éa^u,
At length two to see went they say. O war-chief! in that lodge some there the, place
- á-biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá. Núda^uhangá! uwá^uji^uéai, á-biamá. Wacka^ui-gá. 15 said they, Oho! said he they O war-chief! we are tired, said they, Be strong.
they say, say, they say.
- Can^uge a^uwa^ugagé^u a^unga^uéai, á-biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá. Ga^u é'di Horse we sit on them we wish, said they, they Oho! said he, they So there
say, say.
- aki^u-biamá. Ji-xa^uhaqteí ké'di naji^u-biamá. Nuda^uhangá aktwa xi éan^udi they reached The very edge of by the they stood, they say. War-chief both lodges to the again, they say, the lodges
- a^ué^u-biamá. Égié^u can^uge héga^uji ké amá. Kí nuda^uhangá aki^uwa wábasí- 18 went they say. Behold horse a great many in a line, And war-chief both drove them they say, they say, before them
- biamá. Wáé^ui^u agé^u-biamá. Ga^u ama gáéuadi wáé^ui^u aki^u-biamá. Úwagié^u they say. Having them they went back, After a while at that place having they arrived To tell them they say, again, they say.

1. angçin'-gñ, á-biamá, nuda"haŋga áma çinké é waká-bi ega". Úwagiçá begone, said he, they war-chief the other the that he meant having. To tell them
- akí-biamá. Nuda"haŋgn çieçja újawa gáxe, á-biamá. Haul núda"haŋgá, he arrived again, War-chief your pleasant has said he, they Ho! O war-chief,
- 3 á-biamá wan'giççeqti. Ga" ð'di akí-biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá. Can'ge cé-ma said, they say all. And there he arrived again, Oh! said he, they Horse those
- wáka"ta"i-gñ, á-biamá, bçúgaqti. Can'ge wáka"ta"-biamá. Ga" wábasítie them, said he, they all. Horse they tied them, they say. And they drove them before them
- biamá bçúga. Ga" ja"-hna"i tç wáçia agçai tç. Jí a"çá a-fi çan'di they say all. And they slept regularly when having they went the. Lodge abandon- they at the
- 6 akí-biamá. Ga" can'ge wáçia akí-ma wa'ú, i'c'áge edábe wa'i-biamá, they arrived home again, they say. And horse those that they took home woman, old man also they gave to them, they say,
- bçúgaqti ca".
all in fact.

NOTES.

324, 3. egaxe ja"-biama. If this refer to the logs, it means that two logs lay parallel, and one at the end went across, forming a partial inclosure. If it refer to the men, it means that they lay around the fire, inside this inclosure.

324, 6. ukigçá . . . Kigçidíndi. Frank La Flèche makes these "uñigçá" and "yigçidíndi," which seems to confound the sociative in "ki" with the reflexive in "ñi."

325, 6. ana akí-ma, etc. As many as reached the other side of the Snake that lay across their path, encouraged those remaining to jump over.

325, 7. najia ta" abagçá-biama. As the verb is preceded by the classifier ta", read "ábagçá amá."—Frank La Flèche.

325, 10. gáha kigçéçç. Frank La Flèche says that the Omahas say, "gahé kigçéçç," and the Ponkas, "gahá kigçéçç." See "bahá içéçç" and "bahé içéçç" in the Dictionary.

325, 10. ga"ama, etc. After the two war chiefs had moved a while on their way back to their comrades, they arrived again (gaçuadi) at that place (unseen by the narrator) where their comrades were. But before they arrived in sight of the camp, one ordered the other to go ahead and tell the news.

TRANSLATION.

Some men on the war-path reached the place of their destination. They slept on their homeward way. At length they returned to the land where they were going to sleep. Behold, large logs were lying there. This was a very good place to sleep in. The logs were three. They lay around. At length, when it was day, there was a high wind. The war-chief looked around. Behold, the logs were three immense Snakes. "Ho, servants! It is very bad. Arise," said he. All the serpents were lying with their mouths gaping wide. And the men took a firm hold of one another. And the high wind continued to blow the men along towards the mouths of the Snakes.

He who was at the end stood crying. And he said as follows: "Ho, O servants! I have found a plan." And they gave to the Snakes all their possessions, such as arrows, moccasins, and knives. And from the time that they closed their mouths there was a calm. The Snakes made the high wind with their mouths, when they lay with open mouths. And the men went homeward by jumping over the Snake which lay across their path. "Ho! O servants! Let one of you go before," said the war-chief. And they were unwilling, as all were afraid. "Oho! O servants, I will be he! As the war-chief belongs to the class of men who are continually making efforts to accomplish anything whatsoever, and who are accomplishing it, not fearing to die, I will be the one to undertake it," said the war-chief. And when the war-chief was going homeward, the middle Snake was lying with open mouth. And leaping over him, he went homeward. "Oho! Be ye strong," said the war-chief. And then the other war-chief leaped over in like manner and went homeward. "Oho, O servants! Be ye strong. Desire to do just as we do when we are coming homeward," said the war-chiefs. And so they continued going homeward one by one; then one went homeward; then one was apt to go homeward, thirty men in all. Again one leaped over and went homeward. Again the one next to him leaped over. As many of them as reached the other side of the Snake exhorted one another to do their best. But he who stood at the very end of the line hesitated. The tears trickled down his face. "Ho, O servant! you are a man. We are men, and so we travel. O servant, you do wrong to cry," said the war-chief. At length when this man was going homeward, the Snake raised his back, forming a hump, and the man lay down suddenly on the Snake's back. And when the Snake threw the man over on his (i. e., the man's) back, he swallowed the man immediately. "Oho!" said the war-chief. "So, O servants! we walk alone. When any one person wishes to die at any place, he dies." So they went homeward. And they used to sleep on the homeward way. And thus they slept regularly when at a distance. At length two went as scouts. "O war-chief! some lodges are there in that place," said they. "Oho!" said he. "O war-chief! we are tired. Be strong. We desire to ride horses," said they. "Oho!" said he. And they reached there on their homeward way. They stood by the very edge of the lodges. Both war-chiefs went to the village. Behold, a great many horses were in a long line. And both war-chiefs drove them along before them. They took them away towards their comrades. After moving a while, they reached that place again with them. "Begone and tell them," said one war-chief, addressing the other. He arrived there again and told them. "Your war-chief has done a pleasant thing," said he. "Ho, O war-chief!" said every one. And the war-chief who had the horses arrived there again. "Oho!" said he, "tie ye all those horses with lariats." They tied the horses with lariats. And they drove all before them. And they slept regularly as they went homeward. They arrived home again at the lodges which they had abandoned when they were coming in this direction towards the foe. And all the horses which they had brought back they gave to the women and the old men.

THE SUN AND MOON.

TOLD BY JACOB-NATHAN.

Āwimāka-maji. Nīku-ci'ga upēwi'awāčē etōwa'wānōčēga' āhīgi
 I am out of patience with you. People I collect them notwithstanding you scatter them an many uppāčēwāčē-eta'ⁿ, ā-biamā Nfa'ba akā. Nfaci'ga āhīgi uhi ewēka'ⁿ you cause them low habitually, said they say Moon the. People many to grow I wish for 3 bēga' wābēčēga' ēčēčē etōwa' ugāhanadāze āčaji-hna' āga' āhīgi na'pčhi'ⁿ them, as I scatter them I and-regularly standing darkness you put regularly on many hungry t'ēwāčē-hna'ⁿ, ā-biamā Mi'ⁿ akā. Hau, nkaci'ga-māce! āhīgi jūčat'a'ⁿ you kill them regularly, said they say Sun the. Ho, ye who are people! many you mature taité. Pahāci āmusta win'ⁿ be agei'ⁿ taí minke. Edāda' cka'ⁿ ma'hni'ⁿ shall Above directly above I see you I eat will I who. What business ye walk 6 bēgaqti fwičēčēga' agei'ⁿ taí minke, ā-biamā Nfa'ba akā gā-biamā:
 the all I ruling you I eat will I who, said he, they say. Moon the said as follows, they say:
 Ci wí etí ēga' agei'ⁿ tá minke. Upēwi'wīčē-de ugāhanadāze xi ci upēwī'qti Again I too so I eat will I who. I collect you while darkness if again assembling in full force aki-čaji'ⁿ taí. Ča'ⁿ cka'ⁿ ma'hni'ⁿ tai tē bēga wí fwičēčēga' taí minke, you sleep there again. In fact business you walk will the all I ruling you will I who, 9 ā-biamā. Ci ujan'go uki'awata' a'ma'čēi' taité. Hāci ma'bēi' tá minke, said she, they say. Again road one after the other we walk shall. Behind I walk will I who, ā-biamā Nfa'ba akā. Nfa'ba akā wa'ú wí' ēga'qtia'ⁿ. Nēxo ālgača said, they say Moon the. Moon the woman one is just like. Kettle carrying on the arm ma'čēi'-hna'ⁿ.
 she walks regularly.

NOTES.

The Sun and Moon used to reside on the earth prior to their quarrel recorded in the myth, of which this fragment is all that has been preserved.

328. 2. uqpačēwačēčē, you cause them to be lost, i. e., you kill them by your heat.

328, 2-3. ewekaⁿbɛgaⁿ, i. e., ewékaⁿbɛa égaⁿ.

328, 8. aki-*ɕaja*ⁿ, from *kija*ⁿ.

TRANSLATION.

"I am out of patience with you. Notwithstanding I assemble the people, you scatter them, and thus cause many to be lost," said the Moon. "I," said the Sun, "have desired many people to grow, and so I scattered them, but you have been putting them in darkness, and thus have you been killing many with hunger. Ho, ye people! many of you shall mature. I will look down on you from above. I will be directing you in whatever occupations you engage." The Moon said as follows: "And I, too, will dwell so. I will collect you, and when it is dark, you shall assemble in full numbers and sleep. In fact, I myself will rule all your occupations. And we shall walk in the road one after the other. I will walk behind him." The Moon is just like a woman. She always walks with a kettle on her arm.

THE SUITOR AND HIS FRIENDS.

OBTAINED FROM JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE.

- Ta' wāngfān wi' ōdī-fān amá. Kí wa'ú wi' úda^uqti a^ui'-biamá ta'- Village one it was they. And woman one very good they had, they say vil-
- wāngfān akádi Kí cénujin'ga ga'fā a^uh-hna^u-biamá. Kí fī'á-hna^u-biamá.
 lage at the. And young man desiring they regu- they say. And they regu- they say.
 her arrived larly failed larly
- Kí nfaci'ga cénujin'ga wi', Hindá! wa'ú ga'fāi fī'á-ona^u! éde wa'ú 3
 And person young man one, Let me see! woman they de- failed regu- but woman sired ularly
- ka'w'bea bēé té-na, e^uféga^u-biamá. Ga'w' cénujin'ga aká n^uéa-biamá. Ga'w' dahé
 I desire her I go will I he thought, they say. And young man the went they say. And hill
 (sub.)
- wi'w' jaugáqti ōdī-fān xī nfaci'ga wi' ag^ufī' akáma. Cénujin'ga mī'fīg^ufān' one very large it was when person one was sitting, they say. Young man thinking of the there woman
- n^uéé amá nfaci'ga dahádi g^ufī' fīn'ke jadé n^uéa-biamá. Kí nfaci'ga dahádi 6
 he who was person on the hill sat he who from a went they say. And person on the hill going near point
- g^ufī' aká man'g^u n^uajī-bi xī cī g^ufī'-hna^u-biamá. Kí ō'di a^uh-biamá sat he who erect stood, they when again sat regu- they say. And there arrived they say larly say
- cénujin'ga mī'fīg^ufān' amá, nfaci'ga fīnk^ué'di. Kí, Kagéha, eáta^u f^uag^ufī' ū, young man thinking of a the, person by the. And, Friend, why you sit ?
 woman
- á-biamá cénujin'ga aká. Kí áma aká gá-biamá: Kagéha, jé féma weá- 9 said, they say young man the. And the the said as follows, but these I at other (sub.) they say: Friend, false
- naqib^ufa ka'w'bea édega^u akúsande-ona^u ib^uféga^u i'w' s^ufa^u i^uáka^uta^u hā, took them I wish but through regu- I have gone, stone ankle I tie to it (and beyond) larly as
- á-biamá. I'w' jaugáqti fān éde s^ufa^u s^uka^uta^u g^ufī'-biamá. Kí áma aká said he, they Stone very large the but ankle tying to he at they say. And the the
 say. (sub.)
- gá-biamá: Kagéha, e^uáhi xī'et^u f^uaja^uoni^u te hā. Wagáca^u b^ué-de júg^uge 12 said as follows, Friend, the time if ever you run will. Traveling I go when to be they say: comes
- n^ufīn'ge. Angáfe te hā, á-biamá. A'w' h^u, á-bi ega^u, júg^uge a^uéa-biamá.
 I have none. Let us go said he, they Yes, said, they having, with him he went, they say.
 say
- Égíge cī né jaugáqti na'w'ba ōdī-fān xī, ō'dī nfaci'ga wi' g^ufī' akáma.
 At length again lake very large two it was when, there person one was sitting, they there say.
- Ga'w' nī tē fāta^u ga'w'fā-bi-de bamáxe nī tē fāta^u a^uéa-bi etēwa^u cī 15
 And water the to drink he desired, while stooping water the to drink he went, notwith- again
 they say they say standing
- dágaha^u-hna^u-biamá. Kí féma cénujin'ga ō'di a^uh-biamá. Kagéha, eáta^u he ruled the regu- they say. And this young man there arrived, they Friend, why head larly say.

330 THE QEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- ƿagɛi' ǎ, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, kagéha, ní ƿéƿaⁿ bɛ́ataⁿ kaⁿbɛ́ édegaⁿ aⁿƿaⁿ.
 you sit I said he, they Yes, friend, water this I drink it I wish but I never
 say.
- bɛ́aⁿ-maǵi-onaⁿ-maⁿ égaⁿ ɛ́hiqéƿaⁿ edábe ɣi bɛ́ataⁿ kaⁿbɛ́egaⁿ aǵɛiⁿ há, get enough to satisfy me as youder one also if I drink it I wish, as I sit 3 á-biamá. Kagéha, ɛ́áhi ɣi'etɛ ní onátaⁿ te há. Júǵɛ aⁿƿin'ge. Angáƿe te há, said he, they Friend, the time if ever water you will . To be with I have none. Let us go
 say.
- á-biamá. Gaⁿ naⁿba júwagɛ́a-bíamá, ƿábeinⁿ tɛ. Aƿá-bi ɣi, ɛ́i éǵiɛ níasaid he, they And two he went with them, three the. They went, when, again at length per-
 say.
- ɛ́i'ga wiⁿ maⁿxaxa uǵixide maⁿƿiⁿ amáma. É'di ahf-bi egaⁿ, Eátaⁿ son one at the sky looking was walking, they say. There t.ey arrived, having, Why
 they say
- 6 maⁿhniⁿ ǎ, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, kagéha, maⁿbɛ́idaⁿ ƿéaƿé-de maⁿ in'ǵɛi-máǵi you walk I said he, they Yes, friend, I pulled the I sent it but arrow I not say. bowstring suddenly back to me
- égaⁿ iǵáape, á-biamá. Kagéha, wagácaⁿ bɛ́é-degaⁿ júǵɛ aⁿƿin'ge. Eǵáha na I wait for it said he, they Friend, traveling I go but to be with I have none. Further say. to appear, say.
- ɣi'etɛ maⁿ ké uǵáǵine tɛ. Angáƿe te há, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, á-bi egaⁿ, if ever arrow the you seek your will. Let us go said he, they Yes, said, they having,
 say.
- 9 aƿá-biamá. Dúba-biamá. Éǵiɛ nífacinga wiⁿ ƿizúe jaⁿakáma. ǵǵagahaⁿ-they went, they Four they say. At length person one stretched out they say. He raised his say. head
- bi ɣi-hnaⁿ ɛ́i pí jaⁿ-hnaⁿ-biamá. Éǵiɛ ɣan'de ké'ja wána'aⁿ-hnaⁿ akáma.
 they when regu- and again he lay regu- they say. Behold ground on the he was listening regularly to say. larly something, they say.
- Kagéha, eátaⁿ ƿajaⁿ ǎ, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, kagéha, déǵi dádaⁿ gɛ́ ɛ́tɛwaⁿ fi Friend, why you lie I said he, they Yes, friend, vegeta- what the soever com-
 say. tion ing
- 12 tɛ nyú tɛ áana'aⁿ há, á-biamá. Kagéha, ɛ́áha ɣi'etɛ áƿaná'aⁿ te há.
 the breath- the I listen to it said he, they Friend, further if ever you listen to will ing say.
- Angáƿe te há. Wagácaⁿ maⁿbɛ́iⁿ édegaⁿ júǵɛ aⁿƿin'ge, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, Let us go Traveling I walk but to be with I have none, said he, they Yes,
 say.
- á-bi egaⁿ, júǵɛ aƿá-biamá. Éǵiɛ taⁿwangɛ́aⁿ ƿan'di ahf-biamá. Gaⁿ said, having, with him he went, they say. At length village at the they arrived, And
 they say
- 15 níaciⁿga amá ɛ́di ahf-bi ɣi níaciⁿga ákiéqti wábanaⁿ-biamá. Níaciⁿga man the (sub.) there arrived, when people standing very thick gazed at them, they say. Person
 say.
- sátǎⁿ atfi há, á-biamá. Awádi ƿatfi ǎ, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, wa'ú cínké five they have come said they, they For what have you come I said they, they Yes, woman the
 say.
- aǵnaⁿƿa aǵnátí, á-biamá. Wa'ú cínké gaⁿƿa atí-hnaⁿ éde, tɛǵi; ƿi'á-hnaⁿi, we desiring we have said they, they Woman the desiring they regu- out, did- they regu-her come, say. her have larly cult; fall larly,
 come
- 18 á-biamá. Gaⁿ gá-biamá: Wa'ú cínké ƿagɛ́aⁿ ckaⁿhnaí ɣi in'ɛ ƿéƿaⁿ said they, they And they said as fol- Woman the you marry you desire If stone this
 say. lows, they say.
- ƿaaⁿona ƿéƿaƿai ɣi, majaⁿ wédajiaja gacibe ƿéƿaƿai ɣi, ƿagɛ́aⁿ tai. Taⁿ-you throw it away If, land to a remote out from you send it If, you marry will. Taⁿ-
 her
- wangɛ́aⁿ ƿaⁿ u'áze-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ, á-biamá. Kí ɛ́enujin'ga miⁿ ƿigɛ́aⁿ gaⁿƿa lage the it shades regu- continually, said they, they And young man thinking of a desired larly say. woman her aká, Qe-í! kagéha, téqi hégaji, á-biamá. Kagéha, edádaⁿ téqi á. Téqi how who, Alas! my friend, difficult very, said he, they My friend, what difficult I difficult

say.

ctéwaⁿji, á-biamá Iⁿ'é-síxaⁿ-íkaⁿtaⁿ aká. Gaⁿ é'di aqá-biamá Iⁿ'é-síxaⁿnot at all, said, they say Stone ankle tied to the. And there went they say Iⁿ'é-síxaⁿ.

íkaⁿtaⁿ aká Iⁿ'é fan'di. É'di ahí-bi egaⁿ, Iⁿ'é ábit'á-bi egaⁿ, bahiééça- 3 íkaⁿtaⁿ the stone to the. There arrived, having, stone leaned on it, having, he pushed it they say away

biamá. Iⁿ'é fan' ugáoneonégaⁿ gaúbéqtiaⁿ-biamá. Kí edítaⁿ Iⁿ'é fan' they say. Stone the as it was cracked in it was ground very fine by the And from that stone the many places by the fall fall, they say.

gaúbe ugáéqtiaⁿ-biamá, majaⁿ béguga águdi ctéwaⁿ Iⁿ'é gē. Égiçe ci beaten fine it was scattered far and wide, land the whole where scower stone the At length again they say, (pl.)

gá-biamá: Níaciⁿga fan'ká waqáte taí há. Úwagihaⁿi-gá, á-biamá. Taⁿ- 6 they said as follows, they say: Men the they eat will Cook ye for them, said they, they VII-
say.

wang'çaⁿ bégugaqi úwagihaⁿ-biamá. Céxe hégaji Iⁿ' ahí-biamá ní ctē large the whole cooked for them, they say. Kettle many carry- they arrived, water even ing they say

edábe. Kí gá-biamá: He! kagéha, aⁿqá'a taité, á-biamá. Kí Ní-qá'aalso. And he said as follows, Alas! my friend, we fall to shall, said he, they And Water-drinkerthey say: eat say.

rangá aká gá-biamá: Kagéha, aⁿqá'sniⁿ tan'gataⁿ, á-biamá. Aⁿ'haⁿ, kagéha, 9 large the said as follows, My friend, we swallow it we who will, said he, they Yes, my friend,
they say: say.

á-biamá áma aká. Waqáta-biamá wan'giçe. Waqáta-bi fan'ja Ní-qátasaid, they say the the. They ate they say all. They ate, they say although Ní-qátaother rangá aká céxe té caⁿ ují qizá-bi egaⁿ fan'niⁿ céça-biamá. Ní té' cti rangá the kettle the yet filled took, they having swallowed suddenly, they say. Water the too

say

wan'giçe fan'niⁿ-biamá. Égiçe can'gaxá-biamá. Hau. Wa'ú wiⁿ aⁿ'sagi 12 all he swallowed, they At length they ceased, they say. If Woman one swift
say.

hégaji édegaⁿ, fakibanaⁿi pagiaⁿona pagéfi xi, wa'ú pagéxiⁿ tai, á-biamá.
very but, ye run a race you leave her you come back If, woman you marry will, said they, they
say.

Égiçe Iⁿ'é-síxaⁿ-íkaⁿtaⁿ aká gá-biamá: Wí juágçe bété tá minke, á-biamá, At length Iⁿ'é-síxaⁿ-íkaⁿtaⁿ the said as follows, I I with her I go will I who, said he, they
they say: say,

wa'ú é waká-bi egaⁿ. Gaⁿ júgçe aqá-biamá. Iⁿ'é-síxaⁿ-íkaⁿtaⁿ aká 15 woman that he meant, having. And with her he went, they say. Iⁿ'é-síxaⁿ-íkaⁿtaⁿ the
they say (sub.)

wa'ú éiⁿ júgçe aqá-biamá. Majaⁿ kibanaⁿ júwagçe agí-hnaⁿ fan'di é'di woman the with her he went, they say. Land to run a race with them was coming at the there (ob.) back regularly

júgçe ahí-biamá nú finké. Céçutaⁿ júwagçe-hnaⁿ agéçé hē. Iⁿ'taⁿ with him she arrived, they man the (ob.). Thence I with them regularly homeward Now
say

aⁿ'ziangicé te hē, á-biamá wa'ú aká. Gaⁿ gēiⁿ júgça-bi xi, wa'ú aká 18 let us rest said, they say woman the. And eat he with her, when, woman the
they say (sub.)

gá-biamá: Gátēdi jaⁿ-á hē, á-bi egaⁿ, hé ufna-biamá. Gaⁿ nú kē jaⁿté said as follows, In that place he tho. said, having, No she hunted for, And man the was sound
they say: place they say him they say asleep

332 THE ʕEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- amá. Jaⁿt'é x̣i'ji aⁿ'ɕa aɣɕá-biamá wa'ú aká. ʕahé wiⁿ' wéahidě'qti ɛdɪ they Sound when leaving went back, they say woman the. Hill one at a great distance there say. asleep him
- x̣i' égiɕe wa'ú aká éɕaⁿ'be aki-biamá. Céagɕi é, á-biamá. Wadaⁿ'ba-bi when behold woman the in sight came back, they say. Yonder has that said they, they Looked at them, come back one, say, they say
- 3 egaⁿ', égiɕe, wa'ú aká eɕnaⁿ' amáma. Kɪ gá-biamá: Kagéha Wána'aⁿ', having, behold, woman the alone was moving. And he said as follows, My friend Listener,
 they say, they say:
- inkáge ɕiŋgɛɛ hã. Ána'an'-gã, á-biamá. Gaⁿ' Wána'aⁿ' aká ána'aⁿ'-bi my friend is not Listen to him, said he, they And Wána'aⁿ' the listened to him, they say
 say.
- egaⁿ', égiɕe, jaⁿ'qɕude ána'aⁿ'-biamá. Inkáge jaⁿ't'e ké, á-biamá. Hau, having, behold, snoring listened to him, they My friend sound lies, said he, they Ho,
 say, say, say.
- 6 kagéha Maⁿ'ɕídaⁿ, ɭgaskaⁿ'ɕa-gã hã, á-biamá. Gaⁿ' Maⁿ'ɕídaⁿ-jaŋ'ga maⁿ' wiⁿ' friend Pull-the bow, make an attempt said he, they And Pull-the bow-large arrow one
 say.
- ɕizá-bi egaⁿ', maⁿ' ké ɕaqaⁿ'-biamá, kɪ ɕidaⁿ' ɕéɕa-biamá. Gaⁿ' níɕaiⁿga took it, having, arrow the bit off they say, and pulling sent forcibly, they And man they say the bow say.
- ɕégaⁿ' jaⁿ't'e ké x̣i, ɕáqti ké'di 'ú-biamá Maⁿ'ɕídaⁿ-jaŋ'ga aká. Gaⁿ' ɕáhaⁿthus sound asleep lay when, right on the wounded him, Maⁿ'ɕídaⁿ-jaŋ'ga the. And arose
 say, say, they say
- 9 bi egaⁿ', égiɕe wa'ú aká ɕiŋgá-bitéama. Gaⁿ' aɣɕá-biamá. Égiɕe wa'ú they having, behold woman the had disappeared, they And he went back, they At length woman
 say, say, say.
- ɕiŋké x̣aŋ'gěqteci kɪ ɕiŋké uqɕá-biamá. Wa'ú ɕiⁿ' aⁿ'ɕa aɣɕá-bi egaⁿ' nú the very near to reached she who he overtook, they Woman the leaving her went having man home say, they say
- aká pahan'ga aki-biamá. Gaⁿ' wa'ú ɕiŋké uɬf-biamá. Gaⁿ' wa'ú ɕiŋké the before reached (the goal), And woman the (ob.) he overcame, And woman the (ob.) (sub.) they say, they say.
- 12 gɕáⁿ'-biamá nú aká.
 he married her, man the.
 they say

NOTES.

329, 10. iⁿ'ɛ siɕaⁿ iɕakaⁿ'taⁿ hã. He tied stones to his ankles to keep himself from running too swiftly.

330, 1. kaⁿ'bɕ edegaⁿ, i. e., kaⁿ'bɕa édegaⁿ.

330, 2. kaⁿ'bɕegaⁿ, i. e., kaⁿ'bɕa égaⁿ.

330, 7. bɕé-degaⁿ may be "bɕé édegaⁿ."

331, 10. gatědi jaⁿ-ã hě; i. e., lie with your head in my lap.

332, 8. ɕegaⁿ jaⁿ't'e ke x̣i, when he lay sound asleep, with his face on his hand, having his cheek turned upward.

The narrator made the following rhetorical prolongations in the text:—329, 1. u+daⁿqti instead of udaⁿqti; 330, 15. a+kiěqti instead of akiěqti; 331, 7. bɕu+gaqti instead of bɕugaqti; 332, 1. we+ahiděqti for weahiděqti; 332, 10. x̣aŋ'gěqteci for x̣aŋ'gěqteci.

TRANSLATION.

A very beautiful woman dwelt in a certain village. And the young men used to go thither, as they desired her. And they always failed to win her. And one young man thought, "Let me see! They have desired the woman, and have always failed, but I desire the woman and I will go!" And the young man departed. And there was a very high hill, on which a person was sitting. The youth who was thinking of the woman drew near the man sitting on the hill. And the person who sat on the hill stood erect and then sat, at short intervals. And the young man who was thinking of the woman arrived there by the man. And the young man said, "My friend, why do you sit?" And the other said as follows: "My friend, I wish to attack these buffaloes, but I always go beyond them, so I tie stones to my ankles." The stones were very large, but he was tying them to his ankles. And the youth said, "My friend, if ever the time comes, you can run; but I am without a companion. Let us go." The man said, "Yes," and went with him. At length, they came in sight of two large lakes, where a man was sitting. When he wished to drink water, he bowed his head and drank; and he raised his head again. The young man arrived there. "My friend, why do you sit?" said he. "Yes, my friend, I wish to drink this, but I never get enough, so I am desiring to drink yonder one also," said the man. "My friend, if ever the time comes, you can drink it. But I have no companion; let us go," said the youth. And the man went with the two, making three. As they went, they saw another person, who was walking and looking at the sky. Having reached him, the youth said, "Why do you walk?" "Yes, my friend, I pulled the bowstring, and sent the arrow far away. But as the arrow has not come back to me, I am waiting for it to appear," said the man. "My friend, I am going traveling, but I have no one with me. You can seek your property in the future. Let us go," said the youth. When the man said, "Yes," they departed. They were four. At length there was a person lying stretched out. Whenever he raised his head, he lay down again. Behold, he was listening regularly to something on the ground. "My friend, why do you recline?" "Yes, my friend, the different kinds of vegetation are coming forth, and I am listening to their breathing," said the man. "My friend, you can listen to it in the future. Let us go. I walk on a journey, but I have no one with me," said the youth. When the man said, "Yes," he went with him.

At length they arrived at the village. And when the men arrived there, the people crowded around to gaze at them. "Five men have come," said the people. "Why have you come?" "Yes, we have come because we desire the woman," said the five men. "Though they come regularly on account of the woman, they always fail, as it is difficult to win her," said the people. And they said as follows: "If you wish to marry the woman, you will throw this rock away, and send it out from this place to a remote land. It always overshadows the village, and keeps away the sunlight." And the youth who desired the woman said, "Alas! my friends, it is very difficult." "My friend," said I^ué-si^{ya}-íka^{ta} (He-who-tied-stones-to-his-ankles), "what is difficult? It is by no means difficult." He went to the rock. When he arrived there, he leaned against the rock, and pushed it away. As the rock was cracked in many places by the fall, it was ground very fine. And from that cause, that is, from the rock which was ground very fine, came all the stones which are scattered far and wide over the whole earth, wheresoever they are. And they said again as follows: "Let the men eat. Cook ye for them." All the villagers cooked for them. They carried many kettles thither, also water. And the youth said as follows: "My friends, we cannot eat it all." And Ni-čáta-jāngá (He-who-drank-much-water) said as follows: "My friend, we shall devour it." "Yes, my friend," said the other one. All ate. Though they ate, Ni-čáta-jāngá took a kettleful and belted it down. And he swallowed all the water. At length they ceased.

"There is one woman who is very swift at running. If you run a race together, and you come back ahead of her, you can marry the other woman," said the people. At length I^uč-síqa-íka^{ta} said as follows: "I will go with her," referring to the woman. And he went with her; I^uč-síqa-íka^{ta} went with the woman. She arrived with the man at the land whence she was accustomed to be coming back with them when she ran races. Said the woman, "I always go homeward from this place with those whom I accompany. Let us rest now." And when he sat with her, the woman said as follows: "Lie in that place." When she said it, she hunted lice for him. And the reclining man was sound asleep. When he was sound asleep, the woman left him and went homeward. The woman came in sight again on a very distant hill. "Yonder they come," said they. When they looked, behold, the woman was coming alone. And the youth said as follows: "Friend Wána'a (Listener), my friend is missing. Listen to him." And Wána'a listened to him. And, behold, he heard him snoring. "My friend lies sound asleep," said he. "Ho, friend Ma^čída (Pull-the-bow), make an attempt," said the youth. And big Ma^čída took an arrow and bit off the end, and pulling the bow, he sent the arrow with great force. And when the man lay thus, sound asleep, big Ma^čída wounded him right on the nose. And when he awoke, behold, the woman had disappeared. And I^uč-síqa-íka^{ta} went back. At length, when the woman had nearly reached home, he overtook her. Having gone homeward, the man left the woman behind, and reached the goal before her. So he overcame the woman; and the youth married the other woman.

THE ORPHAN: A PAWNEE LEGEND.

DICTATED IN ČEĞIHA BY BIG ELK, AN OMAHA.

Pahan'gaqtei ^{At the very first} ^{Pawnee} čáčiⁿ amá ^{the} Wakan'da ^{Deity} čínké ^{the} fbahaⁿ-biamá. ^{he knew him, they say.} Héga-báji-hnaⁿ-biamá. ^{They were always} Gaqčaⁿ ^{On the first} ačaⁿ-biamá. ^{they went, they say.} Wahaⁿ ^{A real orphan} čicige'qti ^{his} íxaⁿ ^{he with his own, they say,} júgigčaⁿ-biamá, 3 wa'újingáqtei, ^{a very old woman,} ígče. ^{dwelt.} Liha ^{Tent-skin} čiqčige ^{worn by} gi'íⁿ-hnaⁿ-biamá ^{used} íxaⁿ ^{carried her own regularly,} amá. ^{he the.} Wahaⁿ-čicige ^{phan} aká ^{the} man'de ^{bow} ké ^{the} ačiⁿ-biamá ^{had they say.} Waiiⁿ ^{Robe} čaⁿ ^{the} cti ^{too} pšiji, ^{bad,} há ^{skin} waiiⁿ; ^{robe;} najšha ^{hair}

- cti q̄aⁿ'je-hnaⁿ-biamá. Wé̄gīce-ctaⁿ-biamá. Ji kē ji uhaⁿ'ge gē ahi-bi too uncombed regularly, they say. Begging-visitor-chronic, they say. Lodge the lodge end the arrived at, (line) (pl.) they say
- xi cētaⁿ uhi wé̄gīce aq̄e-hnaⁿ-biamá. Wé̄gīce-ctaⁿ q̄adā-biamá, ijāje-t'añ-when so far follow- visiting to he went regularly, they Wé̄gīce-ctaⁿ they called him, they caused ing beg say. say, they say, him to
- kiq̄a-biamá. Gaq̄aⁿ aq̄a-biamá. Caⁿ Wé̄gīce-ctaⁿ iquhe-hnaⁿ-biamá, uha 3 have the name, On the hunt they went, they Still Wé̄gīce-ctaⁿ they were afraid of regularly, fol-
 they say. say. they say, they say, lowing
- aq̄e-hnaⁿ-biamá. Gaq̄aⁿ aq̄a-biamá. Haⁿ'egaⁿ'tee xi wahaⁿ-biamá.
 he went regularly, they On the hunt they went, they Morning when they removed, they say. say. say. say.
- É̄gīce jaⁿ-biamá. Liú̄ciq̄e kē'di jaⁿ-biamá. Qi'úde áiaq̄ai kē'di jaⁿ-Behold he slept. they say. Old camping- by the he slept, they say. Leaving they had at the he slept ground him solitary gone
- biamá. Jaⁿ'tēq̄ti jaⁿ'i tē. É̄gīce, Q̄eaké aká hā, á-biamá wáq̄e amá. 6 they say. Sound asleep he lay. At length, This one reclining said, they say while the is he (sub.) man (sub.)
- q̄áhaⁿ-bi egaⁿ, é̄gīce wáq̄e dūba akáma. Agq̄a-biamá wáq̄e amá. Wahaⁿ-arisen, they having, behold white four were, they Went back, they white the say say man say man (sub.) Or-
- ciq̄ice aká aq̄a-biamá. Ixiq̄a-biamá. Ugaq̄aⁿ ujañ'ge uha aq̄ai tē. Caⁿ, phan the went, they say. He awoke, they say. The hunting ujañ'ge uha aq̄ai tē. Caⁿ, party road follow- he went. And,
 ing it
- Wahaⁿ'ciq̄ice amá atf-báji, ecaf-de ci atfi hā, á-biamá cénuijñ'ga amá. 9 Orphan the has not come, ye said but again he has said, they say young man the come (pl.)
- Wahaⁿ-biamá. Wé̄gīce ci é'ú ahi-biamá nīkagahi úju xi tē'di. Ijañ'ge They removed, they say. Visiting to again there he arrived, they chief lodge at the. His beg say say cical daughter
- cētaⁿ wáq̄ixa-baji-biamá. Gaⁿ ú'i-biamá Wahaⁿ'ciq̄ice q̄inké. Ki, Nīkaciⁿso far had not married, they say. And she gave him Orphan the. And, The food, they say
- ga-má waq̄ate q̄ingé-hnaⁿ; q̄ēu-hnaⁿ waq̄ate t'aⁿ hā. Caⁿ ataⁿ'ctē gaⁿ 12 people food they have none here only food is And whenever at all regularly; (owned) (i)
- q̄ati ekaⁿ'hna xi tī-gā hā, á-biamá. Ci uq̄q̄e atf-biamá wé̄gīce. Wuhú!
 you you wish when come hither said he, they Again quickly he had come, visiting to Really!
 come say. they say beg-
- waq̄ate q̄ingégaⁿ wi'áq̄teiaⁿ waq̄ate-hnaⁿ'i aⁿ'ba gē, ái tē. Iⁿ'tcaⁿq̄teci úq̄i food as there is none only once they eat regularly day the, he said. Just now she gave you food
- q̄agq̄e q̄aⁿ'cti, á-biamá. Ki ijañ'ge aká ci ú'i-biamá íbahaⁿ-bi egaⁿ. 15
 you went heretofore, said he, they And his the again gave him food, she knew him, because.
 homeward say. daughter they say they say
- Wahaⁿ-biamá. Ki nīkagahi úju ijañ'ge aká gá-biamá: Naⁿhá, q̄e wahaⁿ They removed, they say. And chief princ- his the said as follows, O mother, this removing pal daughter they say:
- aq̄ai xi uhe uq̄uq̄ti q̄aji tē hē, á-biamá. Ki nīkagahi ijañ'ge aká they go when path at the very you pitch will said she, they And chief his daughter the front the tent say.
- cénuijñ'ga q̄ēuq̄ti uk̄e-hnaⁿ-biamá, caⁿ iⁿ'cte wáq̄ixe gaⁿ'q̄a-baji-biamá. 18
 young man al courted her regularly, they yet as if to marry a she did not wish, they say.
 say, man
- Q̄e tī-bi tē iq̄ape xi égaⁿ'i tē, wa'ú amá wé̄q̄e aq̄a-biamá, jaⁿ' agiaq̄a-
 This to have the waiting pitched like it when, woman the to dis- they went, they wood they went come, the to appear tent (sub.) cover it say, say, for
 they say

- biamá. Ja^{n'} tē 'i^{n'} agfí-biamá. Kí nřkagahi aká ē'di ahfi tē. Gaza^{n'} aja they say. Wood the carry- ing they came back, And chief the there arrived. In the midst of
they say.
- égaⁿ ƣaŋ etéde, á-biamá nřkagahi aká. Wa'ú aká gá-biamá: Éga^{n'} ja so you should have said, they say chief the. Woman the said as follows, Though so pitched the tent, they say:
- 3 mi^{n'} jinga ƣijan'ge ƣéƣu ńí ań'gaji égaⁿ aŋ hē, á-biamá. Kí nřkagahi girl your daughter here to commanded as I pitched said she, they And chief pitch it me say.
- ijan'ge ja^{n'} tē 'i^{n'} agfí-biamá. Jí tē'di itéƣa-báji; gaqápa itéƣa-biamá.
his wood the carry- ing she came back, Tent at the she did not put it; aside she put it, they say.
daughter they say.
- Égiƣe Waha^{n'} ƣioƣge ixa^{n'} ƣutí amá, ńíha ƣiqƣíge gí'q^{n'} amá. Wa'újinga,
At length Orphan his was coming, tent- worn by she car- ried here they Old woman, grandmother they say, skin uno say.
- 6 dúda gí-ā hē, á-biamá nřkagahi ijan'ge aká, ja^{n'} tē'di iƣape gƣi^{n'}. Wa'ú this way come thou said, they say chief his daughter the, wood at the waiting sat. Woman
for her
- aká iƣe ga^{n'} ńiŋ amá. Jíha tē ja^{n'} tē'di itéƣe amá. Jí tē ígaxá-biamá.
the ashamed as spoke they not say. Skin- the wood by the she put they Lodge the she made of it, they tent it say.
- Hiⁿ! é-hnaⁿ gƣi^{n'}-biamá wa'újin'ga aká. Cénuijin'ga amá gé-hnaⁿ-biamá:
Oh! saying sat they say old woman the. Young man the (pl.) said as follows, regularly,
regularly they say:
- 9 Wá! nřkagahi ijan'ge aká Waha^{n'} ƣioƣge ixa^{n'} ńí tē ígiāxai, á-biamá.
Why! chief his daughter the Orphan his grand- lodge the made for her, said they,
mother they say.
- Kagéha, áƣixe tá aká ebégaⁿ, á-biamá. Jí tē ƣieta^{n'}-biamá. Wai^{n'} Friend, she will marry him I think, said they, they Lodge the she finished, they say. Robe
say.
- umi^{n'}je edábe Waha^{n'} ƣioƣge ńí tē'ja ńúgigƣa^{n'}-biamá nřkagahi ijan'ge aká.
bed also Orphan lodge to the carried here, they say chief his daughter the.
- 12 Wá! ƣa^{n'} égaⁿ céhe há, á-biamá. Ahfi tē Waha^{n'} ƣioƣge ńí tē'ja. Jí tē Why! it is just as I thought said they, they He arrived Orphan lodge at the. Lodge the
say.
- ugída-báji naji^{n'}-biamá. Ca^{n'}qti ágidágƣa naji^{n'}-biamá, wa'ú ma^{n'}taja he entered not his he stood, they say. In spite of bashful about he stood, they say, woman inside
his own
- gƣi^{n'} akágaⁿ. Ná! í-ā hē, á-biamá. Jí tē ugída-biamá. Umi^{n'}je úda^{n'}qti sitting as she was. Fie! come said she, they Lodge the he entered his, they Bed very good
say.
- 15 gíaxe. Júgƣe gƣi^{n'} akáma. Áƣixá-biamá. Waƣáte júgƣe aƣi^{n'}-biamá. Kí she made With him she was sitting, She married him, they Food with him she had, they say. And for him, they say.
- cénuijin'ga amá gá-biamá: Wá! kagéha, Waha^{n'} ƣioƣge áƣixá-biamá nřkagahi young man the said as follows, Why! my friend, Orphan she has married, chief (pl.) they say:
- ijan'ge aká, é-hnaⁿ-biamá. Gá-biamá: ƣiádi épaze táí gasáni uƣéhna te his the they said regularly, He said as follows, Your let them stop to-morrow you tell him will daughter they say, they say: father to rest
- 18 há, á-biamá. Nřkagahi aká íektéƣwakiƣa-biamá. Ca^{n'}, Eáta^{n'} tégaⁿ épaze said he, they Chief the made them act as criers, they say. And, Why in order that stop to say, rest
- tédaⁿ, eƣégaⁿ-biamá. Éƣapáze te, aí áƣa, u+! gasáni, á-biamá. Kí should! they thought, they say. You stop to will, he indeed, halloo! to-morrow, said he, they And rest says say.

- gá-biamá: Eátaⁿ waḥáte ḥíngé xī épaze téiⁿte, á-biamá. Égiḥe wáqe dúbá they said as fol- Why food without when stop to? should! said they. At length white four lows, they say: there arrived, they say. White man four have come said, they say boy the. You assemble yourselves
- é'di ahi-biamá. Wáqe dúbá atfi há, á-biamá nújnga amá. Uḥéwiⁿḥáxíḥe the one who themselves commanded them, all. What all to give they indeed, you promise
- te, aí áḥa, u+! á-biamá, Wahaⁿḥicíge aká égaⁿ gáxe ágají-bi egaⁿ. 3 will, he indeed, halloo! said (the crier), Orphan the so to do commanded, having. they say they say
- Níkagahi ḥínké xígéṭaⁿ wágají-biamá, gḥúba. Edádaⁿ gḥúba ḥi'í 'ḥai áḥa, Chief the one to adore themselves commanded them, all. What all to give they indeed, they say, you promise
- u+! Ḥaxígeṭaⁿ te, aí áḥa, u+! Maⁿzeská wiⁿáqteci újuṭci wiⁿ gáxe halloo! You adorn your- will, he indeed, halloo! Silver one really one to make selves say principal him
- 'ḥai tē. Égiḥe wáqe amá éḥaⁿbe atí-biamá égasáni xī. Gacibaḥa 6 they promised. At length white man the in sight had come, they the morrow when. Outside
- jaⁿmaⁿḥiⁿ aṭi najiⁿ-biamá. Wáqe úju aká pahan'ga gḥiⁿ-biamá. Kí wagon having stood they say. White princ- the before sat they say. And pal
- níkaciⁿga gḥúba gacibe ahi-biamá, ḥáḥiⁿ. Gaⁿ wáqe amá é'di a-i-biamá, people all out of arrived, they Pawnee. And white the there were coming, they say, (pl.)
- dúbá. Kí úju aká gá-biamá wáqe aká: Níkaciⁿga aṅgáx 'iaⁿḥai ḥiⁿkeḥaⁿ. 9 four. And prin- the said as follows, white the: Man we make we promised he who was the one cipal they say man
- uḥíxide maⁿḥiⁿ-i-gá, á-biamá. Caⁿḥéke wadaⁿbe uḥíxide maⁿḥiⁿ-biamá seeking him walk ye, said he, they And this looking at them seeking him walked they say
say. (line)
- wáqe amá. Nudaⁿhaṅga ḥínké'ga akí-biamá. Ná! núdaⁿhaṅga, aⁿḥaⁿḥawhite the War-chief to the they arrived again, Why! O war-chief, we did not man (pl.) they say.
- báji, á-biamá. Ná! pahan'gaqteci ctaⁿbai tē ícpahaⁿ éiⁿte, á-biamá. Hau! 12 find him, said they, Fie! at the very first ye saw him as you know probably, said he, they Ho! say.
- ké, cī uḥíxide maⁿḥiⁿ-i-gá, á-biamá wáqe nudaⁿhaṅga aká.
come, again seeking him walk ye, said, they say white war-chief the.
man
- Kí Wahaⁿḥicíge aká waiiⁿ ḥaⁿ giiⁿ-biamá. Man'de ké edábe agḥátiⁿ.
And Orphan the robe the put on his, they Bow the also he had his.
say.
- Nújnga amá gazaⁿadi najiⁿ-biamá. Gáké wadaⁿbe ḥictaⁿ-bi xī nújnga- 15 Boy the among he stood, they say. That they saw them they finished, when towards the (pl.) (line) they say
- ḥáḥicaⁿ uḥíxide aḥá-biamá. Égiḥe íḥa-biamá. Ḥéaké aká há, aí tē uḥá boys looking they went, they At length they found him, This one is he said when to tell among them say. they say. they say it
- agḥá-biamá. Wahaⁿḥicíge daⁿbai xī uḥá agḥáí há. É ebḥégaⁿ, á-biamá.
they went back, Orphan they saw when to they went That I think, said (one), they say.
they say. him tell it back
- Hau! núdaⁿhaṅga, édedí-aká, é uḥá akí-biamá. Wáqe amá é'di aḥá- 18
Ho! O war-chief, he is there, that to tell they arrived again, White the there went man (pl.) they say.
- biamá waⁿḥiḥe, ágḥiⁿ gḥiⁿ-bi egaⁿ; maⁿzeská ḥaⁿ cti aḥiⁿi tē, waiiⁿ caⁿ.
they say all, sitting on sat, they because; silver the too they had, robe the
say

338 THE ʕEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- eti aʕi^{n'}-biamá. Ē'di a-i-naji^{n'}-biamá. Gá-biamá: Angú eti wawáci éga^{n'} too they had, they say. There they approached and stood. He said as follows, We too we are as they say. they say: they say: employed
- aŋgáti, á-biamá. Nuda^{n'}haŋa ʕinké'ja edáda^{n'} uʕá 'ʕa-biamá. Níkaci^{n'}ga
we have said he, they War-chief to him what to tell he promised, they Person come, say.
- 3 wi^{n'} níkagahi úju gáxe 'iʕé, áda^{n'} edáda^{n'} gʕúbaqi in'gaʕi^{n'} aŋgáti, á-biamá.
one chief prin- to make he there- what every we having we have said he, they cipal him promised, fore say, come, say.
- Eona^{n'}qti a^{n'}qtiéga^{n'} gáxai té, uʕút'aʕa-bajji-gá há Ca^{n'}, edáda^{n'} in'gaʕi^{n'}
He alone a great man is made as, do not be jealous of him Indeed, what we have
say.
- aŋgáti ʕa^{n'}ja é ʕigáxai té éga^{n'}qti^{n'}i. Ké, agíma^{n'}ʕi^{n'}i-gá. Waii^{n'} ugeʕa^{n'} brought though that made for the is just like it. Come, walk ye for him. Robe put in to him him
- 6 aʕi^{n'} gfi-gá, á-biamá Dúba é'di aʕá-biamá. Názaa agíahí-biamá. Waii^{n'} having come said he, they Four there went, they say. To the rear they went for him, Robe him again, say. they say.
- ugeʕa^{n'} aʕi^{n'} aʕá-biamá. Níkagahi gʕúbaqi gʕa-baji-biamá. Ída^{n'}be putting having they went, they Chief every one were said they say. In the him in him say. In the middle
- gʕi^{n'}kiʕá-biamá. Wáqe aká gá-biamá: ʕéʕinké. Ē a^{n'}qtiéga^{n'} úju aŋgáxe they made him sit, they White man the said as follows, This is the That great man prin- let us make
say. they say: they say: one, cípai
- 9 tai, ai. ʕé na^{n'}p'i^{n'} téga^{n'} in'gaʕi^{n'} aŋgáti, á-biamá. Aʕá-bi éga^{n'}, na^{n'}p'inkíʕá-him, he said. This to wear on to we having we have said he, they He went, having, he made him wear the neck it for him come, say. they say it on his neck
- biamá Waha^{n'}ʕiéige ʕinké. Ké, wat'a^{n'} ké ʕi^{n'} gfi-gá, á-biamá. Ja^{n'}ma^{n'}ʕi^{n'} they say Orphan the (ob.). Come, goods the bring ye to him, said he, they Wagon
say.
- gʕé ʕi^{n'} aki-bi éga^{n'}, Waha^{n'}ʕiéige ʕinké uʕéiajqi wat'a^{n'} gʕé ctéwa^{n'},
the having they reached having, Orphan the just before him goods the soever,
for him they say.
- 12 néxe, wahúta^{n'}ʕi^{n'} eti, ca^{n'} bʕúga, ákast itékiʕá-biamá. Nini kúge wi^{n'} kettle, gun too, in fact all, in piles they put them for him, Tobacco box one
they say.
- ʕiqʕúda-biamá Waha^{n'}ʕiéige aká. Wan'gíʕe áne maŋ'gʕe naji^{n'}-biamá.
pulled out of, they say Orphan the. All putting the arms around erect he stood, they say.
- Nini bʕáska jaŋgáqi gʕé maŋ'gʕe naji^{n'}-bi éga^{n'}, ía-biamá. ʕúhídaí
Tobacco flat very large the (pl.) erect he stood, they say. having, he spoke, they They ride-ule
say.
- 15 etéctewa^{n'} ʕacta^{n'} éga^{n'}-lma^{n'}i há. Nini té ʕizá-bi éga^{n'}, ca^{n'}qti ga^{n'} a^{n'}ʕa notwithstand- they stop usually Tobacco the took, they having, for no special throwing ing talking say say reason ing it
- ʕéʕé naji^{n'}-biamá; ikinewakiʕá-biamá. Íʕga^{n'} ʕinké wat'a^{n'} ké gʕúba gʕi^{n'} ing it he stood, they say: he made them they say. His gra- the goods the all he gave scramble for it father
- biamá. Íʕga^{n'} aká eté gʕa-baji-biamá, ma^{n'}zeská wi^{n'} 'fi-baji-bi éga^{n'}.
they say. His grand- the even was sad they say, silver one they did not give because.
father him, they say
- 18 Wat'a^{n'} ákastáqi áhigiqti í t'éja wa'i^{n'} ʕéwakiʕá-biamá. Wáqe aká Goods piled very high a great many lodge to the carrying he sent them they say. White man the
(an. ob.)
- gá-biamá: ʕéʕinké níkagahi úju aŋgáxe tiáwakiʕá. Edáda^{n'} wéʕihíde said as follows, This one chief principal we make we have been sent What implements they say: him hither.

ɛiɛin'ge ɣi, wat'aⁿ ɛiɛin'ge ɣi, ɣiɣa-hnaⁿi-gā. Ingáxe angáti-hnaⁿ taⁿgataⁿ, you have it, goods you have it, ask of him regularly We do it for we come regu- we will,
 none none none as a favor him hither larly á-biamá. Wa'ú aká ɛɛe ɛaɪ amá iɛádi aká uɛɛ'wiⁿwaɛá-biamá Caⁿ said he, they Woman the relation her own the her father the he collected them they say. And
 say.
 wáɛaha údaⁿ aɛiⁿi gē uɛɛ'winkiɛá-biamá ɛɛe ɛaɪ amá. Caⁿ'ge údaⁿ 3 clothing good they had the they collected for they say relation her own the (pl.). Horse good (pl.) him
 pahán'ga aɛiⁿi taⁿ eti ɣi'í-biamá wa'ú ɕinké, Wahaⁿ'ɕiɛige aɛiⁿ tégáⁿ.
 before he had it the too he gave him, they woman the, Orphan to have it in order (st.) say that.
 Caⁿ'gaxe gaⁿ wahaⁿ aɛá-biamá. Taⁿ'wangɕaⁿ ɣɛúba ɣiɛiɛiɛaⁿ-biamá, ɣé Finished as removing they went, they Village the whole he ruled it they say, buf-
 say. falo uné gaɛɛaⁿ aɛaɪ tē. Wa'ú ɕinké Wahaⁿ'ɕiɛige aká caⁿ'gagɛiⁿ júgigɛaɪ tē. 6 to hunt migrating they when. Woman the Orphan the riding a horse he with her (past went sign).
 Caⁿ'-hnaⁿ ɪbahaⁿɣtiaⁿi ɣi caⁿ ɣie-hnaⁿ-biamá nɪkaciⁿga amá. Wanása-
 Yet regu- they knew him when yet they talked against him people the (pl.). They surlarly very well regularly, they say round a herd biamá. Jé wadaⁿbe aɛɛi-bi egaⁿ, Wahaⁿ'ɕiɛige aká wanáse tē ɛduɪhe they say. Buffalo seeing them returned, having. Orphan the surrounding the to join it they say them
 'ɛa-biamá. Wa'ú aká ɛɛe ɛaɪ amá waginasa-biamá. Gaⁿ wanáse tē 9
 he promised, they Woman the relation her the (pl.) surrounded they say. And surround- the
 say. ing them
 aɛɛi tē, wa'ú amá naⁿpa aɣiaɛé 'ɛa-biamá. Wahaⁿ'ɕiɛige igráɛaⁿ aká they had when, woman the (pl.) choke- going for spoke of, they say. Orphan his wife the come back cherries ɛ'di aɛé 'ɛa-biamá. Égaⁿ-gā, á-biamá Wahaⁿ'ɕiɛige aká. Caⁿ'ge aⁿ'sagiⁿthere going spoke of, they say. Do so, said, they say Orphan the. Horse very qti wiⁿ áɛɛiⁿ aɛá-biamá wa'ú aká. Júgɛe aɛá-bají Wahaⁿ'ɕiɛige aká. 12 swift one sitting on went, they say woman the. With her went not Orphan the.
 Éɣiɛe za'á-biamá. Naⁿ'pa áɣihí-maya ɛénawaɛé'qti wáɛiⁿ a-í-bi, aɪ aɛá!
 At length uproar they say. Choke- at those who went having entirely ex- they are chasing he indeed cherries for them terminated them them hither says (see note).
 á-biamá. Gaⁿ nɪkaɕiɛá-biamá. Wahaⁿ'ɕiɛige aká, Caⁿ'ge aⁿ'sagi úta taⁿ said (one), And they pursued they say. Orphan the, Horse swift beyond the (st.)
 they say. the foe hiⁿ ská'qti-ma iⁿɕin'ka'taⁿi-gā. Áagigɛiⁿ táce, á-biamá. Man'dehi-hnaⁿ 15 hair those very white tie ye it for me. I ride my own must, said he, they say. A dart only sɪaⁿɛé aɛiⁿ-biamá Nɪkaɕiɛe tē aɛaɪ tē. Gaⁿ uɪɕa-hnaⁿi tē aɣi amá:
 merely he had they say. Pursuit of the the he went. And telling him regu- the they were re-foe larly turning:
 Wahaⁿ'ɕiɛige igráɛaⁿ náɕuháqti uɛaⁿi tē, á-biamá. É'di ahiⁿ-biamá ɣi Orphan his wife nearly they hold her, said they, they when
 say.
 náɕuháqteɪ uɛaⁿ amáma Caaⁿ amá. Wa'ú aká náɕuháqteɪ uɛaⁿi tē ɛ'di 18 very nearly they were holding Dakotas the (pl.). Woman the very nearly they when there her, they say. held her ahiⁿ tē. Atí hā, á-biamá, wa'ú ɕinké ugíkiá-bi egaⁿ. Ecéqti-hnaⁿ ɕaⁿ'eti, he arrived. I have come said he, they woman the he talked to his, having. You said regu- heretofore,
 say. they say just that larly
 á-biamá wa'ú aká. ɕɛa ɕiⁿ wiⁿ náɕuháqteɪ uɛaⁿi hē, á-biamá wa'ú aká.
 said, they say woman the. This one the (mv.) one very nearly took hold said, they say woman the.

- Ahaú! á-biamá. Wénaxiçá-biamá. Wi^{n'} ubáqpaçá biamá. Man'dehi kē Oh! said he, they say. He attacked them, they say. One he pushed and they say. Dart the
- ſjahá-biamá. Ci wáçí^{n'} a-ſi tē. Áhigi amá. Ci náçuháqtei uça^{n'}i he stabbed with it, they say. Again they were driving those from the many the (sub.). Again very nearly hold her
- 8 tē, Ecéqti. Çéja çí^{n'} wi^{n'} çáçuháqtei uça^{n'}i hē, á-biamá. Ahaú! á-biamá.
 when, You said just that. This one the one very nearly took hold. said she, they say. Oh! said he, they say.
- Wakan'diçeqti gáxe wénaxiçá-biamá. Can^{n'} wi^{n'} ubáqpaçá-biamá. Man'dehi Very impatiently doing he attacked them, they say. Dakota one he pushed and they say. Dart
- kē ſjahá-biamá. Ci wáçí^{n'} a-ſi tē. Çí çíçá^{n'} biamá wa'ú aká, Náçuháqtei the he thrust him with, they say. Again they were driving them back. Again said to him, they say woman the, Very nearly
- 6 çéja çínké wi^{n'} uça^{n'}i hē. Ecéqti-hna^{n'} çá^{n'}çti. Ahaú! á-biamá. Wénaxiçá-this he who is one took hold. You said regularly heretofore. Oh! said he, they say. He attacked them
- biamá. Can^{n'} wi^{n'} ubáqpaçá-biamá. Man'dehi kē ſjahá-biamá. Wéduba^{n'} they say. Dakota one he pushed and they say. Dart the he thrust him with, The fourth time they say.
- tēdſhi, Çéja çínké wi^{n'} náçuháqtei uça^{n'}i hē. Ecéqti-hna^{n'} çá^{n'}çti, á-biamá when it came, This one he who is one very nearly took hold. You said regularly heretofore, said, they say just that
- 9 wa'ú aká. Ahaú! á-biamá. Wénaxiçá-biamá. Éçiçe can'ge çá^{n'} aká gaskfi woman the. Oh! said he, they say. He attacked them, they say. At length horse his the panted
- tē, baza^{n'}za^{n'}çti wi^{n'} man'dehi ſjahai tē. Ga^{n'}ki éga^{n'}wé'a^{n'}-hna^{n'}i tē ſbaha^{n'}- when, pushing right among them one dart he thrust him with it. And so he did to them regularly the they knew it
- biamá. Ga^{n'} áçipú-biamá ákicúga. Waçíonaji'qtia^{n'} amá. Hau. Can'gaxai they say. And they closed upon him, standing near together. He was not visible at all they say. ¶ They ceased
- 12 tē, Waha^{n'}çicſge t'ççai, á-biamá. Waha^{n'}çicſge uçíne ahi-biamá. Ca^{n'} when, Orphan they killed him, said they, they say. Orphan to seek they arrived, they say. Yet
- ucka^{n'} çtē ſça-baji-biamá; can'ge kē' çti ſça-baji-biamá, níkaci^{n'}ga çti deed even they did not they say; horse the too they did not they say, man too
- çíngé'qtia^{n'}-biamá. Can'gaxá-biamá. Ca^{n'} wa'ú aká aki-biamá çí wáçaha was altogether they say. They ceased they say. And woman the reached home, when clothing they say
- 15 úda^{n'} çixáçai tē. Ga^{n'}ki ha^{n'} çí çíngá-bitéama níkagahi úçu ija^{n'}ge aká.
 good she made for her. And night when she had disappeared, chief prin- his daugh- the. cipal ter
- Ca^{n'} a^{n'}wa^{n'}waja múçça^{n'} içé tē na'a^{n'} ga^{n'}çai çtēwa^{n'} na'a^{n'}-baji-biamá.
 And to what place stealing off she had the to hear they wished notwith- they did not hear, they say. standing
- É pahan'ga wáge amá ſbaha^{n'}i tē níkaci^{n'}ga ukéçí^{n'} wéba^{n'}ha^{n'} tſi tē, áda^{n'}
 That before white the they knew the Indiana knowing them they the, there- fore
- 18 Waha^{n'}çicſge aká ma^{n'}ci çé éska^{n'} eçéga^{n'}-biamá. Wa'ú çí^{n'} çti ma^{n'}ci çé Orphan the high went it might be they thought, they say. Woman the too high went (mv.)
- éska^{n'} eçéga^{n'}-biamá. Áda^{n'} çihádi úna'a^{n'}-báçí ca^{n'}ca^{n'}i tē.
 it might be they thought, they say. There- fore down below they have never heard about them.

NOTES.

- 334, 1. Wakanda, as here used, means "The Great Spirit," not "a deity."
 335, 1. q̄a"je, equivalent to "q̄a"-baji" or "gaháji," uncombed.
 335, 1. q̄i ké refers to the shape of the Pawnee camp.
 335, 5. Sanssouci, the Omaha ex-interpreter, said that the Orphan had so great an appetite that the Pawnees grew tired of him. They put him on the ground, flat on his back, and fastened down his hands and feet with tent-pins. A wolf approached him. The Orphan told his trouble; whereupon the wolf pulled out the tent-pins, and took him to the camp.
 335, 6. t̄éaké aká há: "This is he for whom we have been hunting;" said by one not a relation, on discovering the object suddenly. Compare "jejiŋga aká é aká há," p. 158, note on 149, 12.
 335, 7. egiŋe waqe duba akáma. Wáqe amá ja"t̄é ké q̄i da"be ahíi t̄é t̄éa'eŋé ga"qtia": "When the white men arrived there to look at him as he lay sound asleep, they had compassion on him in reference to something." They thought that the Great Spirit pitied the Orphan, who was poor; and this caused them to help him.
 335, 8. ugaq̄a" ujaŋge, the road made by the party in moving along.
 335, 17. uhe uŋciqti ŋaŋi te h̄é, you will pitch the tent directly at the front, ahead of the party.
 336, 8. hi" ehna"-biama: The old woman was so astonished that she could say nothing else.
 336, 16. iŋga" . . . ḡt̄uba gi'i-biama. This must not be taken literally, as he sent the people to his own lodge with great piles of goods.
 339, 13. na"pa agihi-maŋa cenawaŋéqti waŋi" a-i-bi ai aŋa, a-biama. Here "ja," to, at, in "agihim-maŋa," has the force of from. Compare "wenuda" ati-hna"-biama nika-ci"ga aŋi amaŋa," in the myth of the Turtle on the war-path, 254, 2. Note the several speakers implied in this sentence. Some one who witnessed the attack gave the alarm, saying, "Na"pa agihi-maŋa cenawaŋéqti waŋi" a-i aŋa." Those who heard this, but who were not witnesses of the attack, said, "Na"pa agihi-maŋa cenawaŋéqti waŋi" a-i-bi ai aŋa." The narrator of the myth, in repeating this to the collector, added to it "á-biamá:" "It is reported that they said it."
 339, 19. eceqti-hna" ŋa"etl. The woman was cross, waji"-pi-baji. She remembered the words of her husband, the Orphan, whom she reminds of what he had said:—"You did say that. Remember this, and act accordingly."—Sanssouci.
 The narrator made the following rhetorical prolongations:—334, 1. pahan+gaqteci, for pahanqateci; 334, 4. piä+ji, for piäji; 336, 14. u+da"qti, for uda"qti.

TRANSLATION.

At the very first the Pawnees knew the Great Spirit. They were always numerous. They went on the hunt. A real Orphan dwelt in a lodge with his grandmother, who was a very aged woman. The grandmother used to carry her tent-skin, one that was worn by use. The Orphan had a bow. His skin robe was unsightly, and his hair was always uncombed. He lived by visiting the lodges and begging. He went throughout the camp, from one end to the other, visiting the lodges and begging for food. They called him "The Beggar;" they made him have the name. They removed the camp.

Though they nicknamed him, they were always apprehensive on account of The Beggar, so he continued going throughout the camp. They removed the camp when it was morning. Behold, he slept. He slept by the old camping-ground (or, among the litter and remains of the old camp). He slept when they had departed, leaving the place a solitude. He lay sound asleep. At length he heard some white men say, "This one is he whom we seek." When he arose, behold, four white men were there. The white men went back. The Orphan departed. He was fully aroused. He went following the road made by the migrating party. The young men said, "You said that the Orphan had not come, but he has come again." They removed. Again he went to beg at the lodge of the head-chief, whose daughter had not yet taken a husband. And she gave food to the Orphan. And the chief said, "The people have no food. Only here does food abound. And whenever you wish to come, come hither." Soon after he came again to beg. "Really! when people have but little food, they eat only once a day. You have just gone home with the food which she gave you," said the chief. And his daughter gave the Orphan food again, because she knew him. They removed. And the daughter of the head-chief said as follows: "Mother, when they remove and depart this time, please pitch the tent at the very front of the path." And all the young men used to court the chief's daughter; yet she acted as if she did not wish to marry. When the mother pitched the tent, waiting for the Orphan to come, the women went to find fuel; they went for wood. They came again, carrying wood on their backs. And the chief arrived there. "You should have pitched the tent amongst the rest," said the chief. His wife said as follows: "Though it is so, I pitched the tent, as the girl, your daughter, commanded me to pitch it here." And the chief's daughter came back, carrying wood. She did not put it at the lodge; she put it aside. At length the Orphan's grandmother was coming directly to that place, carrying her worn tent-skin. "Venerable woman, come this way," said the chief's daughter, who sat by the wood, waiting for her to appear. As the old woman was ashamed, she did not speak. She placed the tent-skin by the wood. The chief's daughter made a tent of it. The old woman sat there, saying nothing but "Oh!" Each of the young men continued saying as follows: "Why! the chief's daughter has made the tent for the Orphan's grandmother. My friends, I think that she will marry him." She finished the tent. The chief's daughter carried her robes and beds to the Orphan's tent. "Why! It is just as I thought," said one. The Orphan arrived at his tent; but he did not enter it. In spite of what was done, he stood diffident about entering his tent, because the woman was within. "Fie! Come," said she. He entered his tent. She made a very good bed for him. She was sitting with him. She married him. She had food with him. And the young men said as follows: "Why, friends, the chief's daughter has married the Orphan." The Orphan said as follows to his wife: "Please tell your father to let them stop and rest to-morrow." The chief sent the criers around. And the people thought, "Why should they stop to rest?" "He says that you are to stop and rest to-morrow, halloo!" said the criers. And the people said as follows: "Why should one stop to rest when he is without food?" At length four white men arrived there. "Four white men have come," said the boys. "He says that you will, indeed, assemble yourselves, halloo!" said the criers, the Orphan having commanded them to do so. The chief commanded all to adorn themselves. "He promises, indeed, to give you all kinds of things, halloo! He says, indeed, that you will paint yourselves, halloo!" The white men promised to give a silver medal to the principal chief. At length, on the morrow, the white men came in sight. The wagons came and stood outside of the camp. The principal white man sat before them. And all the Pawnees went outside of the camp. And the four white men were approaching. And the principal white man said as follows: "Go and seek him whom we promised to make a great man." And the white men were seeking him among those who were in the line of the middle-aged and aged men. They returned to their leader. "Why! O leader, we did not find him," said they. "Fie! as you saw him at the very first, you probably know him. Ho! Come, go again and seek him," said the white man who was the leader.

And the Orphan put on his robe. He also had his bow. He stood among the young men. And when the white men finished looking at the line of the elder men, they departed towards the young men, to look among them. At length they found him. When they said, "This one is he," they went back to tell it. When they saw the Orphan, they went back to tell it. "That is he, I think," said one. "Ho! leader, he is there," said they on their arrival. All the white men went thither, being on seats in the wagons; they had the medal, and the robe too. They approached and stood there. The principal white man said as follows: "We, too, are employed, so we have come." He promised to tell something to their superior (the President). "He has promised to make one man head-chief, therefore we have brought all the things to him. As he alone is made a great man, do not be jealous of him. Though, indeed, we have brought the things to him, that is just as if it was done for you. Come, go after him. Put him in a robe, and bring him back," said the principal white man. Four went for the Orphan. They went to the rear for him. Putting him in a robe, they departed with him. Every one of the chiefs was displeased. The white men made the Orphan sit in the middle. The principal white man said as follows: "This is the one. Let us make him the principal great man. We have brought this for him to wear on his neck." Having gone to the Orphan, he made the latter wear the medal on his neck. "Come, bring ye the goods to him," said the white man. When they brought the wagons to him, the different kinds of goods, kettles, guns, in fact all, were placed in piles just before the Orphan. The Orphan pulled the tobacco out of one box. Putting his arms around all, he stood erect. Having stood erect with his arms around very large pieces of flat tobacco, he spoke. "Notwithstanding people sometimes ridicule one, they usually stop talking. You have been ridiculing me; but it is time for you to stop it." Having taken the tobacco, he was throwing it away to make them scramble for it. He gave most of the goods to his wife's father. His wife's father was displeased, because they did not give him a medal. The Orphan sent them to his lodge with a great many goods piled up very high. The white man said as follows: "We have been sent here to make this one the head-chief. When you are destitute of implements or goods, ask favors of him. We will come hither from time to time to perform for him what he may desire." The woman's father collected her relations. And her relations collected what good clothing they had. The chief gave a good horse, the one which he had before, to the woman, for the Orphan. When they ceased, they removed the camp. The Orphan ruled the whole village when they removed to hunt the buffalo. The Orphan rode horseback with his woman. Yet, when the people knew him very well, they invariably talked against him. They surrounded a herd. When they returned from seeing the buffaloes, the Orphan promised to take part in surrounding the herd. The woman's relations surrounded their own part of the herd. And when they had returned from surrounding them, the women spoke of going for choke-cherries. The Orphan's wife spoke of going thither. "Do so," said the Orphan. The woman departed, riding a very swift horse. The Orphan did not go with her. At length there was an uproar. Said the people, "It is said that they are exterminating those who went for choke-cherries, as they are chasing them hither." And they pursued the foe. The Orphan said, "Tie for me my very swift horse with very white hair. I must ride mine." The Orphan had only a dart. He went in pursuit of the foe. And they were coming back regularly and telling him, "They nearly took hold of the Orphan's wife." When he arrived there, the Dakotas had nearly caught her. When the woman was very nearly caught he arrived there. "I have come," said he, speaking to his wife. "You did say just that regularly. This one behind has very nearly taken hold," said the woman. "Oho!" said he. He attacked them. He pushed one and made him fall off his horse. He pierced him with the dart. Again many from the foe were driving them back. When they nearly caught hold again, she said, "You said just that. This one behind has very nearly taken hold." "Oho!" said he. Acting very impatiently, he attacked them. He pushed a Dakota, making him fall off his horse. He pierced him with the dart. Again they were driving them back. The woman said to him again, "This one who is behind has very nearly taken hold. You said just that heretofore." "Oho!" said he. He attacked them. He pushed at a Dakota, making him fall off. He pierced him with the dart. When the fourth time came, the woman said, "This one who is behind has very nearly taken hold. You said just that heretofore." "Oho!" said he. He attacked them. At length when his horse panted, he pushed here and there among them, and thrust a Dakota through with the dart. And they knew that he did so to them regularly. And they closed upon him, standing very close together. He disappeared.

When they ceased, it was said that they had killed the Orphan. They arrived from the Pawnee camp to seek the Orphan. Yet they did not find the slightest trace of the occurrence; they did not find the horse, and the man had disappeared altogether. They ceased. And when the woman reached home, she made good clothing for herself. And when it was night, the daughter of the head-chief had disappeared. And notwithstanding they wished to hear to what place she had stolen off, they did not hear. The first white men knew it when they had come and known the Indians; therefore the Indians thought that the Orphan might have gone on high. They thought that the woman too might have gone on high; therefore they have never heard anything about them down on this earth.

THE YOUTH AND THE UNDERGROUND PEOPLE.

TOLD IN QEGIIHA BY BIG ELK.

Ta'wanggaⁿ d'úba ededí-ma héga-baji'qti. Ci níkgahi aká ijan'ge Village some there they were very populous. Again chief the his daughter wá'ixa-báji tē, ijin'ge aká cti min'ggaⁿ-báji tē. Ijin'ge aká naⁿbá-biamá.
 she had not married, his son the too they had not married. His son the were two, they say.
 Wanása-biamá. Lé-ma t'éwaçç-hnaⁿi tē. Ki çé níkgahi ijin'ge áma 3 They sur- they say. The buffa- they killed them regularly. And this chief his son the rounded a herd loes çinkéçaⁿ çé wiⁿ iénaxíçai tē, uçaⁿhaqti. Uqçç'qti kíde gçiⁿi tē. Lé he who had buf. one he attacked him, far apart (from the rest). Very soon shooting at him he sat. Buf. falo been falo amá jaⁿiⁿ-áji'qti áiaçai tē jan'de maⁿtáha. Níkaciⁿga aká égaⁿqti égiháqti tho not seen at all had gone ground into. Man the just so headlong áiaçai tē can'ge uçáha. Lé aká pahan'gaqti égiç áiaçai. Içádi aká íçkiçç- 6 he had gone horse with it. Buf. tho at the first head- had gone. His the sent out falo long wakiçá-biamá. Cin'gajin'ga eja aká wanáse éde kíaji, aí áça. Ctaⁿbe orlers they say. Child his the he surrounded but he has he indeed. You saw them not come says him çáç'iⁿçé uoná te, aí áça, á-biamá. Níkaciⁿga wiⁿ daⁿba-bi á-biamá. Caⁿ you who you will he indeed, said they, Man one he saw him that he said, they moved tell it, says they say. Yet jaⁿbéçqti há. Waçtçe çé té, á-biamá. Uspé daⁿcté égiç içé, caⁿ maⁿsnaⁿ- 9
 I saw him Chasing he went, said he, they A sunken perhaps head- he has yet very level plainly say.
 snaⁿqti amá xi çingçç'qti tigçé há. Içáⁿbaⁿ jaⁿba-máji, á-biamá. Uné ground it was when missing alto- he became A second I did not see him, said he, they To seek together time say.
 ákiççaji içádi aká. Çéçuqti há, á-bi egaⁿ, ugáçqti uná-biamá. Gçúba he coun- his father the Just here he said, having, scattering far they sought him, Gçúba mended the (sub.). they say, and wide they say. All the one with him
 uná-biamá níkgaciⁿga amá. Égiçç maⁿcaⁿde égiç içai gaⁿte amá. Lé 12 sought him, they people the Behold pit headlong he had for some time, Buf. falo say (pl. sub.).
 aká maⁿçin'ka hébe naⁿçpé áiaçá-biamá. Can'ge taⁿ cti maⁿçin'ka naⁿçpé
 the soil a piece kicking off had gone, they Horse the too soil kicking off (sub.) a piece say. (and. ob.) a piece áiaçá-biamá. Ákihaⁿ sigçç çingá-biamá. Gaⁿ níkgaciⁿga gçúba égiç áiaçáhad gone they Beyond trail there was none, they And people all head- had gone, say, say, long biamá. Maⁿcan'de tē jin'gaji'qti iççççqtiⁿ-biamá. Ė'ja wahaⁿ átiáç 15 they say. Pit the not small at all it went suddenly, they say. Thither to remove sud-down, down, denly
 'íça-biamá içádi aká. Ė'di a-í-ji-biamá; maⁿcan'de égxaxe a-í-ji-biamá.
 spoke of, they his father the There they came and pit around it they came and say (sub.). camped, they say; camped, they say.

- Cénujín'ga ikágewáçé-má eti égaⁿ wáçahaⁿ'i tē. Cénujín'ga wiⁿ wah'chūjī Young man those whom he had as too so he implored them. Young man one stout-hearted if, heart firm perhaps enter- to go wishing for he implored them. At length one rode round and round
- 3 biamá jīi çaⁿ. Üde çé 'çéa-biamá. Içádi çínké uíçai-gā hā, á-biamá.
 they say village the Entering to go he promised, they His father the one tell to him said he, they (cv. ob.) say.
- Hájinga uçéwiⁿçé táce, á-biamá. Içéha hájinga sú-bi egaⁿ, uçéwiⁿçé-Cord he collect them must, said he, they Buffalo- cord cut in strips, having, he collected they say. Cord the he tied when, skin round one to sit in please make it said he, they (ob.) with
- 6 Gaⁿ çictaⁿ-biamá. Caⁿ águdi pí etçetewaⁿ uá'aⁿhe tá mínke. Ubçáⁿ
 And they finished it, they Now in what I arrive soever I put the will I who. I take hold
 say.
- bçé tá mínke çaⁿ'ja, jan'de kē híde pí tēdñhi çī hájinga kē bēfidaⁿagçé tá
 I go will I who though, ground the the I reach when here- cord the I pull on it sud- will (ob.) bottom (ob.) after (ob.) daily
- mínke. Bēfidaⁿdaⁿ çī hníze táf, á-biamá. Égiçe jan'de kē maⁿtāqa ahí-
 I who. I pull on it re- when you will, said he, they At length ground the inside he arpeatedly take it say.
- 9 biamá. Ugáhanaçázé'qtiaⁿ té. Wabít'aⁿ-biamá çī jé amá uçaⁿ'adi gat'é they say. It was very dark. He felt around, they say when buf- the by itself was lying falo (sub.)
- akáma; cañ'ge eti uçaⁿ'adi gat'é akáma; nñaciⁿga eti uçaⁿ'adi gat'é akáma.
 dead from the fall: horse too by itself was lying dead from the fall: man too apart was lying dead from the fall:
- çéçé nñaciⁿga kē çizá-bi egaⁿ, úççuqa ugçáⁿ-biamá. Gañ'ki gáté caⁿ'qti
 This maz the he took him, having, the hollow he put him in, they And that in spite of (recl. ob.) say (log.) say.
- 12 açái tē çixá-bajī tē hā. Gaⁿ nñaciⁿga u'aⁿha-bi egaⁿ, gíçá-biamá. Gañ'ki he when he did not ask the And man he put him in it, because, they rejoiced, they And went favor for himself they say.
- t'e kē çizá-bi egaⁿ, nñ'ja çínké gisíçá-bajī-biamá. Caⁿ içápe gēiⁿ tē dead the one they took having, alive the one who him they forgot, they say. Yet waiting for it he sat (ob.) him, they say (oh.)
- çáⁿ'ja, çizá-bajī gēiⁿ tē xagé-hnaⁿ-biamá. Níkagahi aká ijan'ge wáçixáji though, not taking he sat when he cried regu- larly they say. Chief the his daugh- ter virgin
 him
- 15 çínké é wéçi-biamá. Ahniⁿ çagçí çī çagçáⁿ taté, á-biamá. Ugácaⁿ maⁿçin' she who that he hired him for, they say. You have you come if you marry shall, said he, they Traveling he walked (ob.) him
- tē caⁿ ugáhanaçázé. Égiçe wa'újinga akéde uhé çéai ahí-biamá. Wa'ú-when still dark. At length old woman was sitting, traveling the he arrived, they Old when path, he came to her suddenly say.
- jīnga çínké çahaⁿ-biamá. Caⁿ, wa'újinga, majaⁿ çéçu tí úçiciqti atí, woman çínké çahaⁿ-biamá. Caⁿ, wa'újinga, majaⁿ çéçu tí úçiciqti atí, (ob.) say. Yet, old woman, land here to come very diffi- I have hither cult come,
- 18 á-biamá. Jan'de kē paháçiaja kē'ja atí. Níkaciⁿga wiⁿ maⁿçan'de çé said he, they Ground the up above to the I came. Man on pit this
 say. (ob.)
- uqáçé tí. Bēize tégaⁿ atí. Aⁿ çiza-bajī hā. Gañ'ki éataⁿ agçé taté bēiaⁿ falling from he I take in order I have Me they took not And how I go shall I fail a height came him to come.
- hā. Wa'újinga, iⁿwin'kañ-gñ, á-biamá. Edádaⁿ uwíkaⁿ taté çáxe taté Old woman, help me, said he, they say. What I help you shall I do shall

- ǫ́ngé, á-biamá. Níkaciⁿga wiⁿ gáǫ́nké gáǫ́u gǫ́iⁿ. É'di maⁿǫ́iⁿ-ǎ hě.
 there is said she, they Man one that (unseen) in that he sits. There walk thou nothing, say. one (unseen) place
- É ǫ́gáxe tǫ́, á-biamá. É'di aǫ́a-biamá. É'di ahí-bi egaⁿ, ǫ́jebe ǫ́aⁿ gaxúxu
 He he will do it said she, they There he went, they say. There arrived, having, door the he knocked on for you, say, say, they say they say (obj.) repeatedly
- amá. Íe-hnaⁿ waná'aⁿ najiⁿ ǫ́aⁿja, gǫ́ǫ́ciba-báji tǫ́. Wa'ú aká gá-biamá: 3 they say. Speaking hearing he stood though, they did not open it for Woman the said as follows, regularly them him, they say: (sub.)
- Nǎ! gátaⁿ níaciⁿga wiⁿ tǫ́ hě. Ǫ́jebe gǫ́ǫ́ciba-ǎ hě, á-biamá. Égǫ́e, cié
 Fie! that one person one he has Door open it for him said she, they Behold, child (std.) come say.
- gǫ́t'é, ádaⁿ ía-báji gǫ́iⁿ-biamá. Gǫ́ǫ́a-báji gǫ́iⁿ-biamá. Ǫ́imaⁿte ahí-biamá, I, is was there not speak- he sat, they say. Sorrowful he sat, they say. Within the he arrived, they dead, ing lodge say,
- wa'ú aká ǫ́jebe gǫ́ǫ́ciba-bi egaⁿ. Caⁿ ía-báji gǫ́iⁿ-biamá mú aká. Naⁿpǫ́hiⁿ 6 woman the door opened for him, having. Yet not speak- sat, they say man the (sub.) they say ing (=hus- (sub.) Hunger band)
- wakanⁿǫ́e amá. Íwaⁿxá-biamá. Wiⁿaⁿwaⁿátaⁿ maⁿhniⁿ ǎ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ he was impatient they say. He asked him, they From what (place) you walk I said he, they So from say.
- ugǫ́a-biamá. Paháci-keⁿátaⁿ maⁿbǫ́iⁿ éde níaciⁿga wiⁿ wanáse éde upáǫ́e he told of his, they Above from the I walked but man one headed but falling from say. say. a height
- tǫ́. Bǫ́ize tǫ́gaⁿ atǫ́. Aⁿǫ́iza-báji há. Gaⁿ'ki eátaⁿ agǫ́e taté bǫ́í'a há. 9
 he I take him in order I came. They did not take And how I go back shall I fail came, me to
- Iⁿwinⁿkaⁿ-gǎ, á-biamá. Cín'gajinⁿga gǫ́t'é ugǫ́a-biamá. Cín'gajinⁿga aⁿt'aⁿi Help thou me, said he, they Child his was he told of his, they Child we had
 say. say. say. him,
- éde, wét'ai há. Cín'gajinⁿga t'ǫ́ kǫ́ égaⁿqti aⁿǫ́ǫ́gaxe tan'gataⁿ, á-biamá, but he died to us Child dead the one just like him we make you we who will, said he, they say. (obj.) him say,
- ciéǫ́ǫ́aí é waká-bi egaⁿ. Caⁿ edádaⁿ abǫ́iⁿ gǫ́ǫ́baqti ǫ́ǫ́ǫ́a, á-biamá 12 taking him that he meant, having. In fact what I have everything is yours, said, they say as his child they say
- íǫ́ádi aká. Ía-báji-hnaⁿ caⁿ agǫ́e gaⁿǫ́ai égaⁿ. Caⁿ edádaⁿ edéce ǫ́i, égaⁿ his the He spoke regu- yet to go he wished some- Yet what you say if, so father (sub.). not larly me homeward what. what what (sub.)
- wǫ́daxe te há, á-biamá íǫ́ádi aká. Taⁿwaⁿgǫ́aⁿ ǫ́ǫ́ǫ́a ǫ́agǫ́e ckaⁿhna ǫ́i'etǫ́,
 I do for you will said, they say his the Village your you go you wish even if,
 (sub.)
- égaⁿ te, á-biamá. Égǫ́e agǫ́e íǫ́a-biamá. ǫ́agǫ́e taté ǫ́aⁿja, Caⁿ'ge hiⁿ 15
 so will, said he, they At length to go homeward he spoke of, they You go shall though, Horse hair
 say. say.
- gaⁿ áíagǫ́iⁿ agǫ́e te, dadíha, ece ǫ́i, égaⁿ te há, á-biamá. Wa'ú aká of such I sit on I go will, O father, you say if, so will said he, they Woman the a kind him homeward say. (sub.)
- gá-biamá: Nǎ! cín'gajinⁿga wéǫ́ingai ǫ́aⁿeti égaⁿqti gǫ́i. Edádaⁿ wiⁿ aoniⁿ said as follows, Fie! child we had none heretofore just like him he has What one you had they say: come.
- ǫ́aⁿeti í-ǎ hě, á-biamá, éǫ́ǫ́ange é wagiká-bi egaⁿ. Cín'gajinⁿga wǫ́daxe. 18 heretofore give to said she, they her husband that she meant hers, having. Child I make you.
 him say, they say
- Edádaⁿ wiⁿ tǫ́ minke. Edádaⁿ kaⁿbǫ́a etǫ́waⁿ ídaxe-hnaⁿ-maⁿ, abǫ́iⁿ
 What I give will I who. What I desire soever I make regu- I use, I have it you say. larly
- kaⁿbǫ́a ǫ́i, á-biamá. Edádaⁿ gaⁿǫ́ai ǫ́i, ábazu ígaxe-hnaⁿ-biamá.
 I desire if, said he, they What he desire- when, pointing he made regu- they say.
 say. at it with it larly

- Dadiba, can'ge hi' ská'qti áagçin aggé ka"bça. Níqá-jaŋga hi' ská'qti
O father, horse hair very white I sit on it I go I wish. Ear-big hair very white
- céna"ba. Cánakágçe úda", á-biamá. Ké, é'di ma"çin'-gá. Can'ge híjebe those two. Saddle good, said he, they Come, there walk thou. Horse door
- 3 çiciba-gá há, á-biamá. Çiha" éça"ba íça"ba" wacta"be cka"lna xí, wa-pull open said he, they Your too a second you see us you wish when, you say. mother time
- cta"be tai, á-biamá. Kíçagçe te ça"ja, Ké, dadíha, uhé kè aggé ka"bça, see us will, said he, they You go home will though, Come, O father, path the I go I desire,
say. again (ob.) homeward
- ecé te, á-biamá íçádi aká. Agçá-biamá. In'çé ça" çíaza tigçé ga"qti gáxayou will, said, they say his the He went homeward, Stone the pulled suddenly just so he made father (sub.) they say. (ob.) open them
- 6 biamá, ma"ze íçábazu uska"skaqtí-bi ga". Uhcata" uíça"be na"íajai açathey say, iron pointing at in a very straight line because. Steps up-hill making the he went them with with, they say (or, Bridge) sound "jaqi" at every step
- biamá. Ga" in'çé jaŋgáqti wi" híjebe té ágaqade gçin' ça" bahé tíçéçai xí, they say. And stone very large one door-way the covering it sat the he pushed it aside when, suddenly
- éça"be akfi té. Can'ge amá gicka" tíçáça, náxixíça tíçáça ma"çin'-biamá, in sight he had come Horse the he was quick beginning he was timid beginning he walked they say, again. (sub.) in moving suddenly and repeatedly, now and then
- 9 maja" pñji, bça" pñji úçibça"-bi ega". Éça"be ahí-bi ega"ja, ta"waŋgça" land bad, odor bad he smelt, they say because. In sight he arrived, having, village they say though,
- a"ça a-íi ça" uçine aça-biamá. Égiçe in'tca"qtci waha" aça-bikéama.
he left he came the seeking his he went, they say. Behold very recently removing they had gone in a (ob.) line, they say.
- Íçápe gçin' té ça"ja, waha" aça-bikéama. Jiúçiqçige can'ge amá na"pe Waiting for him they sat though, removing they had gone in a line, Old camping- horse the fearing the to: near they say. ground (sub.) sight
- 12 ma"çin'-biamá. Ugáqça" ujaŋge kè uhá aça-biamá. Égiçe níaci"ga na"ba walked they say. Road of the migrating party the follow. he went, they At length person two (ob.) ing say.
- dahé jaŋ'ga ça" ugáqça" ujaŋ'ge kè wéçé çéçai té. É níkagahi úju igáqça" hill large the road of the migrating party the he discovered them That chief princel- his wife (ob.) suddenly, by looking (ob.) that way. pal
- éça"ba wét'et'a" ma"çin'-biamá. Háciaja uçixidai té, Can'ge ágçin' céati, too mourning for walked they say. Behind they looked when, Horse riding yonder their dead he comes,
- 15 ugáqça" ujaŋ'ge kè uhá, á-biamá. Xaŋ'ge a-í-biamá. Íçápe gçin'-biamá.
road of the migrating the he fol- said they, they Near he was coming. Waiting for they sat, they say.
party (ob.) lows, say. they say. him to appear
- Can'ge amá na" wape ma"çin'-biamá, bça" pñji uçibça"-biamá. Nā! edáda" Horse the fearing them walked they say, odor bad they smelt they say. Why! what (sub.)
- ukit'çé hni" hau, é çéça-biamá níkagahi úju aká. Wiebçin' hau, á-biamá.
nation you are f say- sent suddenly, chief the princel- It is I I said he, they ing they say. cipal (sub.) say.
- 18 Ca" wi"an" wa éçin', ecé, á-biamá. Wanásai cin'gajin'ga çieça ma"can'de
Yet which one you are, you said he, they They surrounded old your pit that, say. a herd
- ç'gih íçé bçize pí. A"oniza-báji. Wiebçin' hau, á-biamá. Ájiqti éga" té head- had I take I was You did not take me. It is I I said he, they Very dif- like the long gone him there. say. forent (as)

- iⁿc'áge aká gíjai tē. Nā! wágazuqti uxígea-gā, á-biamá. Wanásai tē old man the doubted his Why! very straight tell about your- self, said he, they They sur- when (sub.) word. rounded a herd
- cin'gajin'ga qíqíja íé kē' uqáha éghí íé m'ac'an'de ma'ttáq: gat'é. Kí qízé child your bnf. the in connec- head- he had pit inside he was And to take (ob.) ialo (ob.) tion with long gone killed by the fall, him
- wápagáji xí, ábagcaí. Qíjan'ge wéqací xí, wí bétze bécé qáⁿ wíebéiⁿ. 3 you com- when, they drew back Your daughter you paid when, I I take him I went in the it is I.
 manded them through diffidence. with past
- Naⁿ'jín'cké'qtcí éqáⁿ'be agéí, á-biamá. Éđíhi íbahaⁿ'-biamá. Jáhé íangá Barely in sight I have said he, they Then they knew him, they I will large come home, say.
- qáⁿ ukkie najiⁿ' tē. Íí qáⁿ'átaⁿ níkagahi íjín'ge aká wadaⁿ'be íqai tē. Nā!
 the talking they stood. Village from the chief his son the (sub.) looked this way. Why!
 (ob.) together (ob.)
- iⁿc'áge aká Jáhé íangá qáⁿ é'dí tí qánká cí níaciⁿ'ga wíⁿ can'ge ágíⁿ' atíí 6 old man the hill large the there have they who again person one horse riding he has (sub.) (sub.) (ob.) come come come come come come
- áhaⁿ. Úwakié najiⁿ'í. É'ia bécé tá minke. Hindá! wajaⁿ'be bécé tá minke, I Talking to he stands. Thither I go will I who. Let me see! I see them I go will I who,
 them
- á-biamá. É'ia aqai tē can'gagíⁿ. Íqáđi qínké'dí aki-biamá. N'kaciⁿ'ga said he, they Thither he went riding a horse. His father to (the ob.) he came again, the: say, Person
 say.
- dádaⁿ uqákiai hau. Tēnā! qíjín'ge qízé hí qínké'de gqí hau, á-biamá. Naⁿ. 9
 what you talk with Why! your elder to take he ar- he who, he has I said he, they They brother him rived and come again say.
- búcaⁿ'-biamá. Gaⁿ' íjan'ge qínké 'í-biamá. Uqá mangín'-gā, á-biamá íqáđi shook hands, they say. And his daughter the one, he gave to him, To tell begone, said, they say his who they say. it father
- aká. Níkaciⁿ'ga níkagahi wan'gíqéqti uqéwinxíqé tai há. Cénujín'ga wahéthe (sub.). Person chief all let them assemble Young man stout-
- haji wan'gíqéqti uqéwinxíqé tai há. Íⁿ'qíⁿ'daⁿ'be etai, wíjan'de, á-biamá. 12 hearted all let them assemble They look at mine may, my daughter's said he, they husband, say.
- Uqéwinxíqá-biamá. Daⁿ'be a-íí tē. Edádaⁿ 'í tai kē aqíⁿ' a-íí tē. Níka-They assembled they say. To see him they ap- proached. What to give will the having they came. Per-him (ob.) them
- ciⁿ'ga gat'é keqáⁿ' qízé qé qíⁿ' gqí, aí áqá. Kí níkagahi qínké íjan'deqai son killed by he who him going he has he indeed. And chief the one has him for his falling was him come says back, who son-in-law
- égaⁿ, íqagictaⁿ'be hné te, aí áqá, á-biamá. Caⁿ' edádaⁿ qá'í ckaⁿ'hnai gē 15 as, you see his (relation) you go will, he indeed, said he, they And what you give you wish the says say. him (pl. ob.)
- éqahuiⁿ hné te, aí áqá. Níkagahi aká íqahaⁿ, aí áqá. Cénujín'ga wacúce you take them to will, he indeed. Chief the to thank he indeed. Young man brave him says (sub.) for them, says
- edábe wan'gice é'dí a-í-biamá. Caⁿ' wáqaha, can'ge údaⁿ-má cti bēúgaqti also all there approached, they And clothing, horse the good ones too all
 say.
- 'í-biamá. Ííqáⁿ aká níkagahi úju tē 'í-biamá. Íí uqúciaja gíaxai-gā, 18 they gave to him, they say. His wife's the chief princ- the gave to him, Tent in the center make ye it for father (sub.) pal (ob.) they say. him,
- á-biamá. Uqúciaja íí-biamá. Qíctaⁿ'-biamá. Taⁿ'wangqáⁿ waqáta-báji.
 said he, they In the center he set up the tent, they say. They finished, they Nation they did not eat.
 say.
- Íqáqíⁿ' gqíⁿ' égaⁿ waqáta-báji. Íⁿ'icaⁿ wahaⁿ' a-íí tē qagqí, á-biamá.
 Waiting for: they sat as they did not eat. Now to remove they when you have said he, they you are coming come back, say.

Hau! á-biamá cé akí aká, Iⁿc'áge na^{n'}ba íékícé ma^{n'}í^{n'}i-gá, á-biamá.
Ho! said he, they this he he who, Old man two to act as walk yo, said he, they say reached criers say.

Níkagahi úju fínké iyan'de fínké gasáni é'apáze te, a! á'a. Ca^{n'} a^{n'}wa^{n'}- Chief princ- he who his son-in- he who to-morrow you rest will, a! ha. And to what pal law save

3 wazá cte hnáji te, ai áca, á-biamá. Can'ge wágeiⁿ akfi éanká égasini place soever you go will, he indeed, said they, they Horse riding them they they who the next day not says say.

wada^{n'}be wagáji tò. Kì uqé' qtei wada^{n'}be ageí-biamá. Ieádi òinké gíyui to act as scouts he commanded them. And very soon acting as scouts they came back, they saw. His father he who was asked of him

tě ma"ze	kě ígaxai	tě uqčé qtei	ré	hégajlqti	wáxai te.	Wanáś	'íča-biamá.
the iron	the he did	when very soon	but-	a great many	he made them.	To surround	he spoke of, they say.
(ob.)	(ob.)	with it	falo			them

6 Jé-ma múwahega-báji amá. Wanáse tě ěduihe ačá-biamá. Wa'ú akú
The buffa- they killed many of them they Surrounding the to join it he went, they Woman the loes who. them them say. (sub.)

gú-biamá: Wanáse tǎ ǎ'di waja^{n/}be bǎe ka^{n/}bǎe. Jé-ma waja^{n/}be táce, said as follows, Surrounding the there I see I go I wish. The buffaloes I see them must, á-biamá. T'éwafə ɣi dí etégaⁿ, á-biamá. Jé-ma t'éwafə-bi ɛga^{n'}, agi-she said, they They are when I come apt, said she, they The buffa- they killed them, having, she was

say. killed back say. loes they sav coming

9 biamá; igáqqa^a dahádi naji^h-biamá. Ė'di agei-biamá. Jé t'éawaqə ɕaⁿja they say; his wife on the hill she stood, they say. There he came back, Buffalo I killed them though wadáde tá amá, á-biamá. Wanásé amá akii tē. Cí wanás ícái tē.

they will cut them up, said he, they They who surrounded reached home. Again to sur- he spoke
 sav. say. them

Nikagahi nan'de aká wadaⁿ'be céwakié 'í'ai, á'ca, á-biamá. Ci té çaⁿ
Chief his son-in-law the (sub.) to act as scouts to send them he spoke indeed, said he, they Again buf- falo the (ev- herd)

12 majaⁿ uckaⁿ ɕaⁿ ɛ́ ɛ́gaⁿ ɔ́ti atí amáma. Wanása-biamá. ɕi múwahega-land where the deed again just so they had been They surrounded them, Again they killed many was done coming. they say.

baji'-biamá. Égífe níkagahi újñ aká ijín'go aká égífe waji'"cte akáma.
of them, they say. At length chief princel the his son the behold was 'n a bad humor, they say.

Nikagahi tō wa'faji ega', ijan'de gi'f tē é waji'ete, u'ugit'āčē akāma.
 Chief (-taincy) the he did not because, his son-in- he when that he was in a he was envious of his (rela-(ob.) give to him law gave to his bad humor about, tion), they say.

15 Ki ha^{n'} tē ca^{n'}ge a^{ká} ug^á-biamú. Ía-biamá. Dadíha, ní^{kaci}nga wi^{n'} ha^{n'}-
And night when horse the told of his, they say. He spoke, they (sub.) say. O father, person one night

hnan'di t'éawačə gaⁿčəqtia^{n'i}, á-biamá. Ki ha^{n'} tē ágikihíde-hna^{n'}-biamá.
regularly to kill us he desires very said he, they And night when he attended to his own regu- they say.
when much, say, larly

Ègiçe wanása-biamá égasáni xī, maja^{n'} ueka^{n'} ɕan'di. Ci égu^{n'}qti ɕé amá At length they surrounded them, the next when, land it happened at the. Again just so buf. the they say day

18 ati amáma, hégaji. Égiçe iyáhaⁿ aká íé çaⁿ na^t'éwaçe gaⁿ 'chá-biamá.
they had been com- a great At length his wife's the buffalo they trample him he wished they say, ing, many. brother (sub.) (herd) to death

I'-ma wénaxiçá-biamá xi', waii^{n'} çáⁿ uçúgahi-biamá. Baçúwi^{n'}xe çá^{n'} é'di
 The buffaloes (ob.) they attacked them, they when, robe the he waved they say. Turning around still there
 say (7) (7)

gn' gáxai waii' ɕa' íháha' ɕínké ɕé-ma guza' adíqti aɕípu-bi ega' waɕónaso he did robe the his sister's the one the buffa- right among them they closed having, he was not (ob.) husband who loss in on him jí'qtia' amá. Níkagahi ípan'de ɕínké ɕé amá na't'af, á-biamá. Na't'á-bi seen at all they say. Chief his son-in- the (ob.) buffalo the they tram- said they, they They trampled say. law (sub.) pled him to death, they say him to death, they say ɕí, ɕé amá u'éɕa ga' usnúe-kiháha-biamá. Cí ucka' etéwa' íɕa-bají- 3 when, buf- the scattering so. they went in long they say. Again what was soever they did not falo (sub.) lines in directions done find biamá. Can'ge eté íɕa-bají-biamá. Úju eté íɕa-bají-biamá. Edáda' eté they say. Horse even they did not find, they say. Princ- even they did not they say. What at all find edí-ɕa'jí amá. ɕé na'ɕín'gai t'é'di can'ge amá edáda' gáxe ɕínké'ia it was not they say. Buffalo trampled him to when horse the what he made to him who there nothing (sub.)
 ákiágɕai t'é.
 they had gone back again.

6

NOTES.

This is a Dakota myth.

345, 4. uqé'qti, equal here to eca'qti, "very near to (the place where he first attacked him)."

345, 11. une akigɕaji íadi-aka. If, as Frank La Flèche suspects, this should be "une wáɕaji," the meaning is, "The father commanded them to seek for him."

346, 9. ugahanadazéqti' te. The second syllable was pronounced with considerable emphasis by the narrator. So also was the first syllable of waɕíqéqti, 349, 11.

347, 17-18. edada' wí' aɕni' ɕa'etl 'i-á hě, equivalent to "edada' wí' aɕni' keɕa' 'i-á hě." Said by the woman to her husband.

347, 20. edada' ga'ɕai ɕí abazu ígaxe-hna'-biamá. A parenthetical phrase, used by the narrator in explaining the words of the speaker.

348, 10. egié í'tca'qteí waha' aɕa-bikeama. The tribe had no food, and so had just removed in order to hunt.

348, 13. weɕé ɕeɕai, he gazed away towards him, and so discovered him suddenly. "Weɕé ɕeɕé" to gaze in the direction one is going; but "weɕé íqé," to gaze back, or this way. They refer to looking at distant objects. See wada'be íqai. 349, 5.

348, 16-17. edada' ukit'é hni' hau. "Hau," in several places in this myth, shows that the voice was raised in speaking to one in the distance.

349, 6. í'e'age aka ɕahe ɕaŋga ɕa' édi ti ɕaŋka, etc. The old man and his wife had come on their way as far as the large hill. Their son looked back from his place with the tribe, and saw them. They were in the rear, as the mourners follow the main body of the people.

350, 6. ɕé-ma múwahega-bají ama, used when seen by the narrator; but when otherwise, we must say, "ɕé-ma múwahegabají-biamá: "They say that the men killed many buffaloes by shooting them."—Frank La Flèche.

350, 15-16. On the night that the horse and mule were attacked, the horse was wounded by the envious brother-in-law. But the owner healed him by pointing the iron at the wound.

351, 3. usnue-kihaha, a long line of the buffaloes in every direction as they went homeward. See "snue," "kihaha," etc., in Part II.

351, 5. edada' gaxe ɕínké'ia, i. e., the man who resided underground.

TRANSLATION.

There were some villages which were very populous. The chief's sons were unmarried, and his daughter was a virgin. There were two sons. They surrounded the herds of buffaloes. They used to kill the buffaloes. One of the sons of this chief attacked a buffalo when far apart from the rest. Very soon he shot at it. The buffalo had gone out of sight into the ground. The man and his horse, too, went headlong; but the buffalo went down first. The father sent out criers. "He says that his child intercepted the buffaloes, but he has not reached home. He says that you who have seen him will please tell it," said the criers. One man said that he saw him. "I saw him very distinctly. He went in pursuit. Perhaps he went headlong into a sunken place, for when he was on very level ground he disappeared altogether. I did not see him a second time," said he. The father commanded him to join him in seeking his son. When the man who saw him said, "It was just here," the people scattered far and wide, seeking him. All the people sought him. Behold, he had gone down the pit some time before. The buffalo had gone, having kicked off a piece of the soil. The horse, too, had gone, having kicked off a piece of the soil. There was no trail beyond the pit. And all the people went directly to it, without hesitation. The pit was very large, and extended far downward. The father spoke of removing thither suddenly. There they approached and camped; they camped around the pit. The father implored the young men and those who had been his friends. If there was one man who was stout-hearted, and who had a firm heart, the father wished him to enter the pit and go after the young man, and so he implored them. At length one rode round and round the village. He promised to enter and go after the missing one. "Tell his father. He must collect cords," said he. Having cut buffalo hides in strips, he collected the cords. "Please make a round piece of skin for me, and tie the long line of cord to it," said he. And they finished it. "Now it matters not to what place I go, I will put the body in the skin-bucket. I go to take hold of him, and when I reach the ground at the bottom, I will pull suddenly on the cord. When I pull on it repeatedly, you will draw it up," said he. At length he reached the ground inside the pit. It was very dark. When he felt around in the dark, the buffalo was lying alone, being killed by the fall; the horse, too, was lying by itself, having been killed by the fall; and the man lay apart from them, having been killed by the fall. Having taken this body of the man, he put it in the hollow skin. But, strange to say, when he went down he did not ask any favor for himself. And they rejoiced because he put the man in the vessel. And having taken the dead one, they forgot the living. Yet though he sat waiting for the skin-bucket to appear again, he was not drawn up; so he continued crying. The chief had induced him to undertake this by promising him his virgin daughter. "If you bring him back, you shall marry her," said he. The young man wandered about in the darkness. At length, when traveling in the path, he came suddenly upon an old woman. He petitioned to the old woman. "Venerable woman, though this land is very difficult to reach, I have come hither. I came to the hole in the ground up above. One person came hither, having fallen from a height into this pit. I came to take him back. They have not drawn me up; and I have no way of going back. Venerable woman, help me," said he. "There is nothing that I can do to help you. A person is in that place out of sight. Go thither. He is the one that will do it for you," said she. He went thither. When he arrived there, he knocked repeatedly on the door. Though he stood hearing them speaking, they did not open the door for him. The woman said as follows: "Fie! a person has come. Open the door for him." Behold, the man's child was dead, therefore he sat without speaking. He sat, being sorrowful. The young man arrived within the lodge, the woman having opened the door for him. Yet her husband sat without speaking. The young man was impatient from hunger. The husband questioned him: "From what place have you walked?" said he. So the young man told his story. "I walked up above, but a man headed off the herd, and having fallen from a height, he came hither. I came hither to take him back. They did not take me back; and I have no way of going back. Help me," said he. The man told him of the death of his child. "We had a child, but he died. We will treat you just like the child who died," said he, referring to his adopting him as his child. "All things which I have are yours," said the father. The young man did not speak, yet he felt some desire to go homeward. "And whatever you say I will do it for you. Even if you desire to go homeward, it shall be so," said the father. At length the young man spoke of going homeward. "Though you shall go homeward, if you say, 'I will go homeward riding a horse of such a color of hair, O father!' it shall be so," said the father. "Fie! heretofore we were deprived of our child, and this young man who has come home is just like him. Give him one thing which you had," said the woman, addressing her husband. "I make you my child. I will give you something. Whatever I desire I always make with it, when I wish to have anything," said the father. (When he wanted anything he used to point at it, and thus obtain it by means of the iron.)

"O father, I wish to go homeward riding a horse with very white hair. I also desire a mule with very white hair, and a good saddle," said the young man. "Come, go thither. Open the door of the stable. When you wish to see us again, you shall see us. Though you will go homeward, you shall say, 'Come, O father, I desire to go homeward,'" said the father. The young man went homeward. He made the rocks open suddenly by pointing directly at them with the iron. He went up the steps, making the ground resound under the horse's feet. And when he pushed aside a very large rock which lay as a cover to the entrance, he arrived again on the surface of the earth. The horse and mule were very sudden in their movements; they continued to shy at every step, as they snuffed the odor of what was a bad land in their estimation. When the young man had come again to the surface, he departed to seek his nation that he had left. Behold, they had very recently removed and departed. Though they waited some time for him to appear, they had removed the camp and departed. The horse and mule walked along, fearing the sight of the old camping-ground. The young man went along the road made by the migrating party. At length he suddenly discovered in the distance two persons on the large hill, who were walking in the path of the migrating party. They were the head-chief and his wife, who were walking along, mourning for the dead. When they looked behind, they said, "Yonder comes one on horseback, following the road made by the migrating party." He drew near. They sat waiting for him to appear. The horse and mule were fearing the sight of them, and snuffing a bad odor. "Why! of what nation are you?" the head-chief called out. "It is I!" said the young man. "But which one are you?" said the chief. "Your child went headlong into a pit when they surrounded a herd, and I went thither to get him. You did not bring me back. It is I!" said the young man. As he was very much changed, the old man doubted his word. "Fie! tell the al truth about yourself," said the head-chief. "When they surrounded the herd, your child went headlong as well as the buffalo, and he was killed by falling into a pit. And when you commanded them to get him, they drew back through diffidence. I am he who went to get him when you offered your daughter as a reward. I have hardly been able to come again to the surface," said the young man. Then they recognized him. The two men stood talking together on the large hill. The chief's son looked back from the camp. "Why! the old man and mother have come as far as the large hill, and a man on horseback has come too! He stands talking to them. I will go thither. Let me see! I will go to see them," said he. He went thither on horseback and came again to his father. "With what person do you talk?" said the son. "Why! he who went to get your elder brother has come back!" said the head-chief. They shook hands. And the head-chief gave his daughter to the young man. "Begone to tell it," said the father to the son. "Let all the men and chiefs assemble. Let all the stout-hearted young men assemble. They can look at my daughter's husband," said he. They assembled. They came to see the young man, and brought what things they intended giving him. "He says that he who went to get the man who was killed by falling has come back. The chief says that as he has made the young man his daughter's husband, you shall go to see the latter. He says that you shall take to him what things you wish to give to him. The chief says that he will give thanks for them," said the crier. All the young men and those who were brave (or, generous) went thither. And they all gave him clothing and good horses. His wife's father gave him the head-chieftainship. "Make ye a tent for him in the center," said the old chief. They set up a tent for him in the center. They finished it. "The nation did not eat. As they sat waiting for you to appear, they did not eat. You came back when they were just removing the camp," said the old chief. "Ho!" said he who had just reached home, "Let two old men go as criers." "The chief's daughter's husband says that you will rest to-morrow. He says that you will not go in any direction whatsoever," said the criers. The next day he commanded those who had come back on horseback to act as scouts. And the scouts came back very soon. By means of the iron rod which he had asked of his father, he made a great many buffaloes very quickly. He spoke of surrounding them. They shot down many of the buffaloes. He went to take part in surrounding them. His wife said as follows: "I desire to go thither to see them surround the herd. I must go to see the buffaloes. When they are killed, I will be apt to be coming back." When they killed the buffaloes, she was coming back; the wife stood on the hill. Her husband came back to that place. "Though I killed the buffaloes, they will cut them up," said he. They who surrounded them reached home. Again he spoke of surrounding them. "The chief's daughter's husband speaks indeed of sending them to act as scouts," said the criers. Again the herd of buffaloes had been coming in like manner to the land where the deed was done. They surrounded them. Again they shot down many of them. At length the son of the head-chief was in a bad humor. He was in a bad humor because he did not receive the chieftainship which his father gave to his sister's husband, whom he envied. And when it was night, the horse told of his affairs, saying to the young man: "O father, a man desires very much to kill us. It is so every night." And at night after that the young man used to take care of his horse and mule. At length on the morrow they surrounded the herd at the land where the deed was done. It was just so again; a great many buffaloes had been coming. At length the wife's brother wished the buffaloes to trample the husband to death. When they attacked the buffaloes, the wife's brother waved his robe. Turning around in his course, he waved his robe again; and when his sister's husband had gone right among the buffaloes, they closed in on him, and he was not seen at all. The people said, "The buffaloes have trampled to death the chief's daughter's husband." When the buffaloes trampled him to death, they scattered and went homeward in every direction, moving in long lines. And the people did not find any trace whatever of what was done. They did not find the horse. Even the principal one (the man) they did not find. When the buffaloes destroyed him by trampling, the horses had gone back to him who made things.

A YANKTON LEGEND.

TOLD IN QEGIHA BY JOHN SPRINGER, AN OMAHA.

Ēgiġe cin'gajin'ga wi^{n'} enáqtcí t'a^{n'}-biamá. Téqigíġá-biamá. Kí At length child one alone they had him, they say. They prized theirs, they say. And okáde-hna^{n'} ahi^{n'}-biamá. Níahiġé amá. Kí iġádi aká iha^{n'} eġa^{n'}ba éwaġé playing regularly he arrived, they say. He went into the water they say. And his the his too his father (sub.) mother relations amá ctéwa^{n'} bġúga xagé-hna^{n'}. Kí iġádi aká ġíġa-bajiqti-biamá. Kí 3 the (pl.) even all cried regularly. And his father the (sub.) was very and they say. And ġima^{n'}te ja^{n'}-bají amá; áciaġa ja^{n'}-biamá. I^{n'}behi^{n'} cté waġin'gġéqti ja^{n'}-biamá.

 in the lodge he lay not they say; outside he lay, they say. Pillow even he had not at all he lay, they say.

ġġga^{n'} ája^{n'} ġi, cin'gajin'ga xagé ġiná'a^{n'}-biamá; jan'de ma^{n'}taja ja^{n'} ġiná'a^{n'}.
 Thus he lay when, child crying he heard his, they say; ground within lying he heard his
 on it

biamá. Éġé eġá bġúgaqti uġéwinġíġá-bi, 'éwakiġé 'íġa-biamá. Jan'de kġ 6 they say. Relations his all they assembled, they say, to dig he spoke of, Ground the (ob.)
 they say.

'é 'íġa-biamá. Éġé eġá amá can'ge uġéwi^{n'}waġá-biamá, wawéci wa'í todig he spoke of, Relation his the (sub.) horse they collected them, they say, pay to give them
 it they say.

tai éga^{n'}. Wat'a^{n'} ctí uġéwi^{n'}waġá-biamá, can'ge-má edábe. Kí níaci^{n'}ga in order to. Goods too they collected they say, the horses also. And man na^{n'}ba qubá-bi, á-biamá. Cin'gajin'ga kġ uné 'íġa-biamá. I^{n'}c'áge wi^{n'} iġádi 9 two were sacred, they said, they say. Child the to they spoke of, Old man one his (ob.) to tell went they say. And having them say. Person sacred the ones who father aká níni^{n'} uġi wa'í-biamá. Cin'gajin'ga kġ ahuin' ġagġi ġi, bġúga wi'í tai the tobacco put he gave to them, Child the you have you come it, all I give will (sub.) ting in they say. (ob.) him back him to you (pl.)

minke wawéci kġ. Hau. ġi'a^{n'}-biamá; áma aká sábéqti gáxa-biamá, 12
 I who pay the (ob.) ġ They painted themselves, the one very black he made it, they say,

IMAGE EVALUATION TEST TARGET (MT-3)

Photographic
Sciences
Corporation

23 WEST MAIN STREET
WEBSTER, N.Y. 14580
(716) 872-4503

- ama aká zítqi gáxa-biamá. Ní ekúbe kē ma'táha akíŋa áíŋa-biamá.
 the other very he made it, they say. Water deep the (ob.) into both had gone, they say.
- Kí ŋé níaciⁿga naⁿbá aká ō'di ahí-biamá. Wakan'da ŋínké ukíá-biamá.
 And this man two (sub.) there arrived, they say. Deity the (ob.) they talked to, they say.
- 3 Cín'gajín'ga ŋínké t'áji; níⁿga gŋiⁿ ŋínké amá. Iŋádi aká cín'gajín'ga Child the one who was not dead; alive he was sitting they say. His father the (sub.) child gínai, á-biamá. Angáŋiⁿ angáŋŋe tá-bi, ai há. Ahniⁿ ŋagŋé tai ŋaⁿ'ja, begs for his, said they, they say. We have him we go home-ward (see note) said. You have him you go will though, paháci ahniⁿ ŋakfi xí t'é taté. ŋatáji t'ŋdi ahniⁿ ŋagŋai xí, níⁿga téiⁿto.
 above having you when he die shall. Heatenot: when you had you went it, alive might (be).
- 6 Waŋáte bŋáte ŋaⁿ é gaⁿ'ŋa tégaⁿ éwaⁿ gaⁿ' t'é taté. É iŋádi ŋínké íe Food I eat the (ob.) that he desires will, as causing it so he shall. That his the (ob.) words gátŋe uíŋa maŋŋŋiⁿ-gá. Agí-biamá níaciⁿga naⁿbá amá. Akí-biamá jí those to tell him begone ye. They were coming men two the (sub.) They reached lodge home, they say t'ŋdi. Cín'gajín'ga ŋiŋŋa jaⁿ'be; wa'ú-wakan'da aŋiⁿ' aká, á-biamá. Níⁿga at the. Child your I saw him; woman-deity she has him, said (one), they say. Alive
- 9 ŋínké, á-biamá. Níⁿga jaⁿ'be ŋaⁿ'ja, waŋáte ŋataí ŋaⁿ é hébe ŋaté aká;
 he who, said he, they say. Alive I saw him though, food they eat the (ob.) that a piece he has eaten;
 ádaⁿ paháci angáŋiⁿ angáŋŋe xí, t'é taté, ai. Iŋádi aká caⁿ' gíjaⁿ'be gaⁿ'ŋai.
 there-fore above we have him we come back it, he shall, he still to see his wished.
 Wakan'da wa'ú aká cín'gajín'ga ŋínké ŋí'í xí, cínudaⁿ ská'ŋci wawéci Deity woman the (sub.) child the (ob.) she gives it, dog very white pay
- 12 gaⁿ'ŋa. Iŋádi aká, A'í tá minke, á-biamá, cínudaⁿ ská' ŋínké. Cí níaciⁿga wishes. His the I give will I who, said he, they say, dog white the (ob.). Again man naⁿ'ba cí áma sábéŋti xíxáxa-biamá, cí áma zítqi xíxáxa-biamá. Cí ní two again the very black he made himself, they again the very he made himself, they Again water maⁿ'te aŋá-biamá. Ké'di ahí-biamá cí. Iŋádi aká cín'gajín'ga caⁿ' angáŋiⁿ beneath they went, they say. At the they arrived, again. His the (sub.) child at any we have rate him
- 15 angáŋŋe tai, gíjaⁿ'be 'ŋai. Kí cín'gajín'ga wé'í égaⁿ, aŋiⁿ' agŋá-biamá.
 we go home-ward will, to see his he spoke of. And child he gave as having they went home-ward, they say.
 Paháci aŋiⁿ' akfi xí, cín'gajín'ga t'é amá. Iŋádi ŋínké'di gí'í-biamá. Kí Above having reached again he died they say. His father at the they gave back to, And they say.
- níkaciⁿga bŋúgaŋti xagá-biamá, gíjaⁿ'bŋŋti cín'gajín'ga. Cínudaⁿ hiⁿ' ská' people all they cried, they say, they saw their plainly child. Dog hair white
- 18 níhiŋéŋa-biamá. Cín'gajín'ga gíjaⁿ'be gíŋai xí, níaciⁿga naⁿ'ba ŋaŋká they plunged into the water, Child they saw they when, man two the ones who wawéci bŋúga wa'í. Gaⁿ'tŋgaⁿ xí, cí iŋádi aká ihaⁿ' éŋaⁿ'ba cí míⁿ'jínŋa pay all he gave to them. Some time when, again his the his (she) too again girl wiⁿ égaⁿ g(é)ngá-biamá. Wakan'dagi pinké wa(é)te wa'í tē fatá-bajíone so they became without Water-deity the one food he gave the did not eat biamá, miⁿ jinga aká; ádaⁿ niⁿ ja a(é)niⁿ aki-biamá. (é)niⁿ ja wakan'da ájithey say, girl the there- alive having they reached home, Though deity another (sub.); fore her they say.

 biamá a(é)niⁿ aká, kí cinudaⁿ ská' dúbá 'íi xi'íi wé'í 'í(é)-biamá.
they say he who had her, and dog white four they gave him if to give he promised, they say.

3

NOTES.

355, 5. égaⁿ ajaⁿ xi, when he lay thus on it, i. e., with his cheek on the palm of his hand.

355, 9. quba-bi, a-biama, "they said that they were sacred (qube)," and as this was reported, qube is changed to quba-bi.

356, 1. The Indians think that there are water-deities or wakandagi under the water. A wakanda loved the child and had taken it, as his wife had no children, and wished to keep this one.

356, 5. a(é)niⁿ a(é)niⁿ ta-bi. As the message or command of the father is repeated, "tai" is changed to "ta-bi" in the report.

TRANSLATION.

A man and his wife had only one child, whom they prized. He used to go playing. He fell into the water. His father and mother, and even all his relations, were crying. His father was very much distressed. He did not sleep within the lodge; he lay out of doors, without any pillow at all. When he lay with his cheek on the palm of his hand, he heard his child crying; he heard him as he lay beneath the ground. All of his relations having assembled, the father spoke of causing them to dig. He spoke of digging into the ground. His relations collected horses to be given as pay. They collected goods and horses. And two men said that they were sacred. They promised to seek for the child. An old man went to tell the father. He brought the two men to the lodge. The father filled a pipe with tobacco, and gave it to the sacred men. "If you bring my child back, I will give you all as pay."

They painted themselves; the one made his body very black, the other made his body very yellow. Both went into the deep water. And these two men arrived there. They talked to the water-deity. The child was not dead; he was sitting alive. Said the men, "The father demands his child. He said that we were to take him back with us." "Though you shall take him homeward with you, when you reach the surface of the water with him, he shall die. Had you taken him back before he ate anything, he might have lived. He will desire the food which I eat; that being the cause of the trouble, he shall die. Begone ye, and tell those words to his father." The two men went. They arrived at the lodge. "We have seen your child; the wife of the water-deity has him. Though we saw him alive, he had eaten part of the food which the water-deity eats; therefore the water-deity says that if we bring the child back with us out of the water, he shall die." Still the father wished to see him. "If the water-deity's wife gives you back your child, she desires a very white dog as pay." The father said, "I will give her the white dog." Again the two men painted themselves; the one made himself very black, the other made himself very yellow. Again they went beneath the water. They arrived at the place again. "The father said that we were to take the child back at any rate; he spoke of seeing his child." And as the water-deity gave the child back to them, they went homeward with the child. When they arrived above with him, the child was dead. They gave him back to his father. And all the people cried when they saw the child, their relation. They plunged the white-haired dog into the water. When they had seen the child, and had buried him, they gave all the pay to the two men. After a while the parents lost a girl in like a manner. She did not eat any of the food of the water-deity, and therefore they took her home alive. But it was another water-deity who had her, and he promised to give her back to them if they gave him four white dogs.

THE LAMENT OF THE FAWN OVER ITS MOTHER.

TOLD BY JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE.

Ɔáqti wi^{n'} mi^{n'}ga Ɔáqtijínga júgigƆai. Ɔáqtijínga aká wéƆai tē.
 Deer one female Fawn she was with here. Fawn the discovered them.
 Na^{n'}há, Ɔéama níaci^{n'}gai há. An^{n'}kaji, níaci^{n'}ga-báji, ƆáƆai hē. Kí, Na^{n'}há, O mother, these are men Not so, they are not men, they are And, O mother, 3 Ɔéama níaci^{n'}gai há. An^{n'}kaji, níaci^{n'}ga-báji, ƆáƆai hē. Kí, Na^{n'}há, Ɔéama these are men Not so, they are not men, they are And, O mother, these níaci^{n'}gai há. An^{n'}kaji, níaci^{n'}ga-báji, ƆáƆai hē. ÉgiƆe kíƆai níaci^{n'}ga amá.
 are men Not so, they are not men, they are At length they shot man the Ɔáqtijínga aká a^{n'}hai tē.
 Fawn the (sub.) fled.

(When he returned to the place, he found that the men had cut up his mother, and had put her liver on the fire. So he sang this lament:)

6 Na^{n'}-há ní-á-ci^{n'}-gá-bi e-hé, Ɔa-xá-bi e-cé Ɔa^{n'}-cti; Ɔí Ɔa^{n'} ná-Ɔi-zí-
 O mother they are men I said, They are crows you said formerly, Liver the is sizzling (ob.)

zí-dje.
 on the fire.

NOTE.

I first heard of the song in this myth in 1871, when I was with the Ponkas in Dakota. But the fragment of the text was given me at the Omaha Agency. Had the Fawn spoken the lament, he would have said, "Na^{n'}há, níaci^{n'}gá-bi ehé, ƆáƆa-bi e-cé Intéde Ɔí náƆizide áha", O mother, I said that they were men, you said that they were crows; but now your liver is sizzling on the fire!"

TRANSLATION.

A Doe was with her Fawn. The Fawn discovered the presence of enemies. "O mother, these are men," said the Fawn. "No, they are crows. They are not men," said the Doe. And the Fawn said again, "O mother, these are men." "No, they are not men; they are crows," said the Doe. Again he said, "O mother, these are men." "No, they are not men; they are crows," said the Doe. At length the men shot at her. The Fawn fled. (When he returned to the place, he found that the men had cut up his mother, and had put her liver on the fire. So he sang this lament:) "O mother, I said that they were men; you said that they were crows; your liver is sizzling on the fire."

A PONKA GHOST STORY.

TOLD BY FRANK LA FLÈCHE.

Nuda^{n'} ačá-biamá niačá^{n'}ga áhigi. Pan'ka-biamá. Kí ačá-b ega^{n'} To war went, they say persons many. Ponkas, they say. And went, having a-f-ji-biamá. Néčá-biamá. Ha^{n'}da^{n'} amá. Kí néčéqti gáí^{n'}-biamá; déde they camped for the night, they say. They kindled a fire, they say. Night time they say. And kindling a bright fire they sat, they say; fire tš náhegaj^{n'}qti gáxa-biamá. Gíčéqti wačáte gáí^{n'}-biamá. Sabájiqti nía- 3 the to burn very brightly they made it, they say. Rejoicing much eating they sat, they say. Very suddenly per-ci^{n'}ga wi^{n'} wa'a^{n'}-biamá. Qčáji, á-biamá. Jéde cétš ába'úi-gá. Qčáji son one sang they say. Speechless, said (one) they say. Fire yonder cover with earth. Speechless man'de gčízai-gá. Kí wan'gičé man'de gčíza-biamá. Kí égaxe ičá^{n'}č bow take ye yours. And all bow took their, they say. And to surround him ačá-biamá. Egaxe ičá^{n'}čá-bi ga^{n'} ubisande ačá^{n'} átiáčá-biamá. Kí ga^{n'} 3 they went, they say. They surrounded him, so in close quarters they had they began at once. And still wa'a^{n'} naji^{n'}-biamá; céčectšwa^{n'}ji. Égičé qčabé tš'di xan'ge ačá-biamá.
 singing he stood, they say; he did not heed at all. At length tree by the near they went, they say.
 Kí xan'gčqci ahi-biamá xi, čacta^{n'}-biamá wa'a^{n'} aká. Kí qčabé tš'di And very near they arrived, when, he stopped singing, he sang he who. And tree by the ahi-bi xi, wahi tš ga^{n'}te amá. Qčabé hidé tš'di wahi tš šedé^{n'}te amá, 9 they arrived, when, bone the had lain there some (ob.) time, they say. Tree the bottom by the bone the they were there, they say, niačá^{n'}ga wahi tš. Čaa^{n'} amá ubátišéwačš-hna^{n'}-biamá niačá^{n'}ga t'ai xi.
 human bone the. Dakota the they hang up the bodies regularly they say persons they when die

TRANSLATION.

A great many persons went on the war-path. They were Ponkas. As they approached the foe, they camped for the night. They kindled a fire. It was during the night. And kindling a bright fire, they sat down; they made the fire burn very brightly. Rejoicing greatly, they sat eating. Very suddenly a person sang. "Keep quiet. Push the ashes over that fire. Seize your bows in silence," said their leader. All took their bows. And they departed to surround him. They made the circle smaller and smaller, and commenced at once to come together. And still he stood singing; he did not stir at all. At length they went near to the tree. And when they drew very near to it the singer ceased his song. And when they reached the tree, bones lay there in a pile. Human bones were there at the foot of the tree. When persons die, the Dakotas usually suspend the bodies in trees, in a horizontal attitude.

A DAKOTA GHOST STORY.

OBTAINED FROM FRANK LA FLÈCHE.

Caa^{n'} nuda^{n'} aǾá-biamá. AǾá-bi xǿ na^{n'}ba wada^{n'}be aǾá-biamá.
Dakotas to war went, they say. They went, when they say two to act as scouts they went, they say.

Níkaci^{n'}ga wi^{n'} wa'a^{n'} na'a^{n'}-biamá.
Person one singing they heard, they say.

3 Hé-a-he+Ǿe-hé-a! Hé-a-he+Ǿe-hé-a! Hé-Ǿe-hé-e-hé! A-hé Ǿe-hé-a!
Hé-Ǿe-hé-e-hé! E-há-hu+Ǿu-ú he-Ǿé-a! Yá-a-hú! Ê-Ǿe há-a-é-a!

KigǾáda-biamá. Eca^{n'}qtei ahi-bi xǿ ugás^{n'}-biamá. Êgǿe ca^{n'}ǿanga
They crawled they say. Very near they ar- when they peeped, they say. Behold big wolf up on him together say

6 akáma.
he was,
they say.

NOTE.

The beginning of each line in the wolf's song is shown by the capital letter.

TRANSLATION.

The Dakotas went on the war-path. As they went, two went out as scouts. They heard a person singing. "Hé-a-he+Ǿe-hé-a! Hé-a-he+Ǿe-hé-a! Hé-Ǿe-hé-e-hé! A-hé-Ǿe-hé-a! Hé-Ǿe-hé-e-hé! E-há-hu+Ǿu-ú he-Ǿé-a! Yá-a-hú! Ê-Ǿe há-a-é-a!" They crawled up on him together. When they arrived very close, they peeped. Behold, he was a big wolf.

THE ADVENTURE OF AN OMAHA.

RELATED BY JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE.

Níaci^{ga} wí^áqteí 1' wí^áqteí 'ábae a^á-biamá, wa'ú cín'gajín'ga edábe Man one tent one hunting he went, they say, woman child also júwagígge. Gañ'ki 1'-biamá utelje 1'aⁿ'hadi. Kí nú aká maⁿ ké hégají he with them, And they camped, under- by the edge of. And man the arrow the a great his own. they say growth (sub.) (ob.) many a^á-biamá. Wahútaⁿ'éi éingái tédí-biamá. Kí 1'-biamá 1'i, gañ'ki 'ábae 3 he had, they say. Gun they had when, they say. And they camped, when, after a hunting none they say while (f) a^á-biamá nú síaⁿ'é. 1'í tē aⁿ'éa a^á-biamá. Ázegaⁿ 'ábae ag^á-biamá went, they say man alone. Tent the leaving it he went, they say. At evening hunting he went homeward, (ob.) say they say 1'í tē'dí. 1'í tē ecaⁿ akí-bi 1'i, xúha-biamá nú aká. Gaⁿ'qti xúha-bi tent to the. Tent the near to he reached when, feared unseen dan- man the Imme- feared un(ob.) home, they ger, they say (sub.) diately (f) seen danger, they say egaⁿ, 1'í tē gígáda-biamá. Kí égi^é níaci^{ga} áhigi 1'í tē áá^áhúhúqti 6 having, tent the he crawled up they say. And behold men many tent the very nearly (ob.) on his own (ob.)
 iénaxí^é amáma 1'i, é'di ánazádi akí-biamá. Gaⁿ' hiⁿ'bé utaⁿ gē edábe were attacking it, they say when, there in the rear he reached home, And moccasins leggings the also they say they say (ob.)
 gēlónudá-bi egaⁿ, waiiⁿ gē edábe aⁿ'éa-biamá. Gañ'ki 1'í tē iénaxí^éai pulled off his, they having, robe the also he left, they say. And tent the they say (pl. ob.) (ob.) attacked it tē, ékitaⁿ é cti iénaxí^é ag^á-biamá. Í^éae-bají'qtiaⁿ ctēwaⁿ wa'ú-biamá. 9 when, at the he too to attack went homeward, He did not speak at all notwith- he wounded them, same time they say. they say standing they say.
 Égi^é fbahaⁿ'i-biamá. Gañ'ki níaci^{ga} amá aⁿ'ha-biamá. Aⁿ'ha-bi 1'i, At length he was recog- they say. And men the they fled, they say. They fled, they when, nized (sub.) say
 Gí-gá, gí-gá, á-bi egaⁿ, cín'gajín'ga, wa'ú edábe, wág^ázázá-bi egaⁿ, utelje
 Come, come, said, they having, child, woman also, he took them his having, thicket say own, they say ké'1a júwagígge áíá^é-biamá. Wíⁿ'éctēwaⁿ t'é^éai-bají-biamá. Eonaⁿ héga- 12 to the he with them, he had gone, they say. Not even one was killed, they say. He alone a great
 his own
 ctēwaⁿ'j'í t'é^é-biamá.
 many he killed, they say.

TRANSLATION.

A man went hunting, taking his wife and children, one lodge in all. They camped by the edge of a thicket. The man had a great many arrows. They say that it was when they had no guns. When they pitched the tent, the man went hunting by himself. He left the tent, and departed. About evening he went homeward to the tent. When he had nearly reached home, the man feared an unseen danger. Immediately he crawled up towards his tent. And behold, when many persons were nearly attacking the tent, he reached home in their rear. And having pulled off his moccasins and leggings, he left his robes also. He went to the tent to attack them just at the moment they attacked it. Without speaking at all, he wounded them. At length he was recognized. And the men fled. When they fled, he said, "Come, come;" and having taken his wife and children, he went with them into the thicket. Not even one of his family was killed; but he killed a great many of the foe.

THE DAKOTA WHO WAS SCARED TO DEATH BY A GHOST.

OBTAINED FROM JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE.

- Caaⁿ d'úba ɣí amáma. Kí Caaⁿ wiⁿ ɔd-us̥ha-bi ɣí, wahaⁿ-ctaⁿ Dakotas some camped they say. And Dakota one joined, they say when, a constant remover hégabají-biamá. Kí ɕé Caaⁿ ɣi-má editaⁿ wiⁿ ugácaⁿ ɕé téš há. Kí not a little they say. And this Dakota those who from one traveling he went And camped
- 3 nfaciⁿga áji nudaⁿ ákipaí ɣí, t'éɕai té há. Kí ɕé nfaciⁿga wahaⁿ ɣiudaⁿ man differ. on the he met when, he killed him. And this man to remove it was good ent war-path him
- aká ɕázéqteí hí ɣí, wahaⁿ aɕaí té há. Wa'ú-hnaⁿ wiⁿaqteí júɕai té há.
 he who late in the it when, removing he went Woman only one went with him evening arrived
- Égiɕe haⁿ, ugáhanadazéqti, ɣí té há ɕé wahaⁿ aɕé aká. Gañ'ki ɣí wa'ú
 At length night, very dark, he this removing he he who. And tent woman camped went
- 6 aká gáxai té há. Kí wa'ú aká, ɣíadi mañɕiⁿ-á. Náɣaⁿ gáxa-á hé, the made it. And woman the To the tent begone. A light make (sub.)
- á-biamá. Gaⁿ ɣíaja aɕaí nú aká. Gaⁿ ɕéde nú aká gáxai té há.
 said she, they And in the tent went man the He having, there
 say. (sub.)
- Náɣaⁿ gáxa-bi ɣí, égiɕe nfaciⁿga t'é ké', najíha máɕingéqtiⁿ-bikéama gaqɕí
 A light he made, when, behold, man dead lying, hair all cut off as he lay, they say killed
 they say
- 9 ké', daⁿbai té há. Naⁿpa-bi egaⁿ, Hí! á-bi egaⁿ, caⁿcaⁿ t'á-biamá.
 the he saw him He feared the having, Oh! said, having, without he died, they say.
 (ob.) sight, they say they say stopping
- Náɣaⁿ ckáxe ɕagɕé ɕaⁿctí áɕaaⁿ á, á-biamá wa'ú aká. Íají egaⁿ, ɕ'di
 A light you make you go heretofore have you I said, they say woman the He having, there homeward put it on (sub.) spoke not
- akí-bi egaⁿ ɕit'aⁿ-biamá Gaⁿ náɣaⁿ gáxa-biamá. Gañ'ki t'é ké' wadaⁿ-ba-she reached having, she felt him, they And a light she made, they say. And dead he she saw home, they say lay
- 12 bí ɣí, cañ'ge wiⁿ kaⁿtaⁿ-bi egaⁿ, ɣí té aⁿɕa aɕaí-biamá wa'ú aká. Gaⁿ they when, horse one tied it, they say having, tent the leaving went back, they woman the say (ob.) say (sub.) And akí-bi ega^{n'}, Nú juúgce béc édegaⁿ, níaciⁿga wi^{n'} gaqéfi kédegaⁿ, édiqti reached having, Man I with him I went but person one was killed he lay, but just there

 say n'íí édegaⁿ, na^{n'}pe t'éé hē, á-biamá. Égasáni xī, nú amá da^{n'}be ahí-bi we but fearing he said she, they The next day when, man the to see him arrived, they say camped the night died say.
 xī, égiéce t'é ca^{n'}caⁿ ké amá.
 when, behold, dead without he they stopping lay say.

8

NOTE.

Observe the use of "tē hā" instead of ".biama," as if the narrator had witnessed the adventure here recorded. As he did not, the uniform substitution of ".biama" would have been consistent. But the text is given just as it was dictated. This apparently incorrect use of "tē hā" instead of ".biama" will be found elsewhere in the Historical Papers which follow.

TRANSLATION

Some Dakotas camped. One Dakota joined them, who was continually moving his tent from place to place. And one wandered away from these Dakotas who had camped. And when he met another man who was on the war-path against the Dakotas, he killed him. And when it was very late in the evening, this man who was fond of moving removed and departed. One woman alone accompanied him. At length it was night, very dark, and this one who removed and departed, camped. And the woman set up the tent. And the woman said, "Begone to the tent. Make a light." And when the man went to the tent and made a fire, behold, he saw the man who lay dead, with all his hair cut off, lying killed. As he feared the sight, he said, "Oh!" and immediately he became insensible. "You went to make a light; have you put on the wood?" said the woman. As he did not speak, she went thither and touched him. And she made a light. And when she saw him lying insensible, she tied a lariat on a horse, and left the tent, going back to the other Dakotas. And having reached there again, she said, "I went with the man, but a man lay there killed, and we camped just there, and he died from fright on seeing him." On the next day, when the men went thither to see him, behold, he lay dead beyond recovery.

THE HANDS OF THE DEAD PAWNEE.

TOLD BY JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE.

Ca^{n'} d'úba xī-biamá. Kí Jáciⁿ wi^{n'} t'éca-biamá. Jáciⁿ éinké na^{n'}bé Dakotas some camped, they say. And Pawnee one they killed, they say. Pawnee the (ob.) hand éá tē mása-bi ega^{n'}, ubátit'éca-biamá daháa wéga^{n'}ze na^{n'}baqtiegaⁿ. Kí his the cut off, they having, they hung them up, they at a hill measure about two. And (ob.) say say ha^{n'}, ugáhana dáze xī, adésage héga^{n'} amá. Kí nú amá uééwiⁿ gēi^{n'}-biamá. 6 night, dark when, high wind much they And man the collecting they sat, they say.
 say. (pl. sub.)

Ca' fugea ga' gēi'-biamá, déctea gēi'-biamá, ca' iúfa ájica'ca' 'fée
 And telling an they sat, they say, talking in- they sat, they say, in fact news different sorts speak themselves cessantly

gēi'-biamá. Kí níaci'ga wi' íe wakan'dagiqti íjjebe tē'di gēi'-biamá.
 they sat, they say. And man one very loquacious door at the he sat they say.

3 Kí níaci'ga wi' wahéhajiqti-bi áciajáta a-i-biamá, ca' níaci'ga wáspeqtí-bi And man one very stout-hearted, from outside was coming, in fact man very sedate, they
 they say, say.

éi'te, wahéhajiqti-bi éi'te, áciajáta a-i-biamá. Nú áciajáta a-i aká,
 (he) may very stout-hearted, (he) may from outside he was coming. Man from outside he was he be, they say, be, they say, they say, coming who,

Na'j'i'ckē'qtei atí áha, á-biamá. Kí cé níaci'ga íe wakan'dagi aká, Éda' Hardly I have ! he said, they And this man loquacious the Why come any. say. (sub.),

6 na'j'i'ckē'qtei fatí á, á-biamá. Nā! íadésage, ugáhana'ázē'qti éga, yúahē hardly you I said he, they Why! a high wind, very dark sa, I feared have come say. unseen danger

héga-máji éga, na'j'i'ckē'qtei atí há, á-biamá. Áqta' wtebēi' xī
 I very much sa, hardly I have said he, they How come say. possible it is it

na'j'i'ckē'qtei atí táda, á-biamá íe wakan'dagi aká. Úxuhé ctēwa' fīngé, hardly I have shall I said he, they loquacious the (sub.). Something to fear at all there is none,
 come say.

9 á-biamá. Éga'ca'ja, wí yúahē héga-máji, á-biamá áma aká, pí tē'di.
 said he, they Though so, I I feared I very much, said he, they the other, I was when.
 say. say. danger coming

Éga'ca'ja, í gaza'adítia' ca' xúchahé tē ca'aji, á-biamá. Kí níaci'ga Though so, tent in the very midst of yet you feared the improper, said he, they say. And man wáspe aká gá-biamá: Hín'daké-ga! xúchaháji wí'fakéi'te, Jáfi' na'bé tē sedate the he said as follows, So let us see! you do not if you tell the truth, I wase hand the (sub.) they say: fear (ob.)

12 agíma'cín-gā. Aoni' fagēi' xī, ca'ge úda' wí'f tá minke, á-biamá. Adífbē walk thou for them. You have you come if, horse good I give will I who, said he, they I go for them back to you say. them

ka'bea xī, adífbē tá minke, á-biamá íe wakan'dagi aká. Tēnā! ké, I wish if, I go for them will I who, said, they say loquacious the (sub.). Fie! come agíma'cín-gā. Ca'ge úda'qti wí'f tá minke, aoni' fagēi' xī, á-biamá.

 go for them. Horse very good I give will I who, you have you come if, said he, they them back say.

15 Agífa-biamá áma aká na'bé tē. Kí cé níaci'ga fēaka gá-biamá: Égiē
 He went for them, the other hand the And this man this (sub.) said as follows, Beware they say, (ob.) they say!

wín'kaji té áha. É'di na'ba júgē ma'cín-gā, á-biamá. Éga' é'di he tell not lest ! There two with him walk thou, said he, they So there the truth say.

afá-biamá. Xan'gēqtei ahfi xī, na'bá aká hebádi gēi'-biamá, ícāpe gēi'- they went, they Very near they when, two the on the way they sat, they say, waiting they sat
 say. arrived (sub.) for him

18 biamá. Égiē gēi'ji xáci amá. Ga' gēi'ji éga', na'bá aká agífa-biamá they say. Behold he came a long they And he came having, two the went back, they not back while say. (sub.) say taqa. Ga^{n'}, Cha^{n'}ona ^{you}agēi ā, ā-biamā. Na! dūdadi a^{n'}an'gape angēi^{n'} to the tent. And, You left him you have I said he, they Why! on this side we waited for we sat come say. him

xi, gēiāji ega^{n'}, angāgi, ā-biamā. Tēnā! t'ē tē, ā-biamā. Hīndā! ē'di when, he came because, we came said they, Fie! he died, said he, they Let me see! there not back home, they say.

hēō tā minke, ā-biamā wāspe akā. Aēi^{n'} ēngē'qti ē'di aēā-biamā, nīnība 3
I go will I who, said, they say sedate the Having there was there he went, they say, pipe (sub.), it nothing at all

sūa^{n'}ē'qti agēā^{n'}bi ega^{n'}, ē'di aēā-biamā nīci^{n'}ga na^{n'}bē tē'di, eonāqti.
alone had his, they say having, there he went, they say man hand to the, he alone.

ēgiē aēā-bi xi, pahan'ga nīci^{n'}ga aēē akā, ēgiē nīci^{n'}ga na^{n'}bē tē Behold, he went, when, before man he went he behold, man hand the they say who, (ob.)

yan'gēqti ahi xi, t'ē akāma. Ga^{n'}ki ēē nīci^{n'}ga akā na^{n'}bē tē ēizā-bi 6 very near he when, he had died, they And this man the hand the lock, they arrived say. (sub.) (ob.) say ega^{n'}, aēi^{n'} agēā-biamā. Aki-biam ēga^{n'}, Na^{n'}bē tē aēi^{n'} agēi hā, ā-biamā having, he took back, they say. He reached there as, Hand the he spoke, they said, they say again, they say (ob.) them back nīci^{n'}ga wāspe akā. Ga^{n'}ki ēē nīci^{n'}ga wāspe akā fa-biamā. Wī cti man sedate the And this man sedate the he spoke, they I too (sub.) (sub.) say.

a^{n'}jin'ga tēdita^{n'} uāgaca^{n'}-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'}, anūda^{n'}-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'}, ā-biamā. Kī ca^{n'} 9 me small from that I have traveled regularly, I have gone regularly on the said he, they And no time war-path, say. matter

edāda^{n'} tēqiti āakipā cēwa^{n'} anī'ja ēdige-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'}. Kī ca^{n'} wa^{n'}ectē, what very difficult I met soever I live the in. ob. were there, And yet even once, regularly, I had.

Gāma^{n'} tā minke, ehā-maji-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'}, āagināqē-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'}, ā-biamā.
I do that will I who, I never said it, I concealed mine regularly, said he, they
say.

Edāda^{n'} wī^{n'} tēqī āakipā xi, Nū bēi^{n'} ēa^{n'}, ebēga^{n'}-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'}, ā-biamā. Kī 12
What one difficult I meet it, Man I am the I always think, said he, they And (past t), say.

ca^{n'} iē ū'a^{n'}ēngē'-qti dāxa-māji-hna^{n'}-ma^{n'}, ā-biamā. Kī wa'ū-hna^{n'} tēqia-yet words without just cause I never make them, said he, they say. And woman only I prize wāpē hā, kī can'ge cti tēqiwāpē hā, ā-biamā. Ga^{n'} nīci^{n'}ga waqpāniqti them, and horse too I prize them, said he, they say. And man very poor na^{n'}ba wēba^{n'}-biamā nīci^{n'}ga wāspe akā. Nīci^{n'}ga waqpāni ēankā can'ge 15 two called them, they man sedate the Man poor the ones horse say (sub.) who ūda^{n'}qti akīēa wa'ū-biamā, can'ge a^{n'}sagī'qti. Kī nīci^{n'}ga min'gē^{n'}ji ēi^{n'}te very good both he gave to them, horse very swift. And man unmarried perhaps

they say,

wa'ū cinkē cti 'i-biamā nīci^{n'}ga wāspe akā. Wa'ū-hna^{n'} tēqī ēa^{n'}ja ca^{n'} woman the (ob.) too gave to him, man sedate the Woman only precious though yet
they say (sub.)

anī'ja tā minke, ā-biamā. Nan'de wiwīja iēāgīdaha^{n'} ka^{n'}bēa ga^{n'} ēgima^{n'}, 18
I live will I who, said he, they say. Heart my own I know mine I wish so I do that, ā-biamā. Nīci^{n'}ga t'ē kē' agīma^{n'}ēi^{n'}i-gā, ā-biamā.

said he, they Man dead the walk ye for him, said he, they say. (ob.) say.

TRANSLATION.

Some Dakotas camped. And they killed a Pawnee. Having cut off his hands, they hung them up on a hill which was about two miles away. And at night, when it was dark, there was a very high wind. And the men collected and sat. And they sat telling their own adventures; they sat talking incessantly; in fact, they sat speaking of different kinds of news. And a man who was a boaster sat by the door. And one man, who was said to be very stout-hearted, was coming from the outside—in fact, a man who was said to be very sedate and very brave, was coming from without. The man who came from without said, "I have barely come!" And the boaster said, "How is it that you have barely come?" "Why! as there is a high wind, and it is very dark, I was very much afraid, so I have barely come," said he. "Were it I," said the boaster, "how could I possibly be hindered in getting here? There is nothing at all to fear." "Nevertheless, I was very much afraid when I was coming," said the other. "Nevertheless, as you feared even when you were right among the tents, it was wrong," said the boaster. And the sedate man said as follows: "Let us see! if you tell the truth, and do not fear, go after the hands of the Pawnee. If you bring them back, I will give you a good horse." "If I wish to go for them, I will go for them," said the boaster. "Fie! come, go for them. I will give you a very good horse if you bring them back," said the sedate man. The other one went after the hands. And this man said as follows: "What if he does not tell the truth? Let two of you walk thither." So they went thither. When the two arrived very near, they sat down, not going any further; they sat waiting for him to appear. Behold, after a long while he had not come back. And as he had not come back, the two went back to the tents. And the brave man said, "Have you come home without him?" "Why! when we sat down on this side of the place, waiting for him to appear, he did not come back, so we came back," said they. "Fie! he died. Let me see! I will go thither," said he who was sedate. Without any weapons at all he went thither; having only his pipe, he went alone to the man's hands. Behold, when the first man who went drew very near to the man's hands, he had died. But this man took the hands, and carried them back. As he reached the tents, the sedate man said, "I have brought the hands back." And this sedate man spoke: "I, too, have been accustomed to traveling and going on the war-path since I was small. And no matter what kind of trouble I encountered, I always found a loop-hole by which I managed to get out of it alive. And not even once did I say beforehand, 'I am going to do that;' I always concealed my plans. When I encountered any difficulty, I always thought that I was a man. I am not used to talking at random. I prize women, and I prize horses, too." And the sedate man called two very poor men. He gave very good horses to both of the poor men, a very swift horse to each. And the sedate man gave a woman, too, to a man who, perhaps, had not married. "Though the woman only is precious, I shall live after giving her away. I wish to know my own heart, therefore I have done that. Go ye after the dead man," said the sedate man.

HOW THE CHIEF'S SON WAS TAKEN BACK.

OBTAINED FROM JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE.

- Caaⁿ d'úba ʔí amáma. Ègiçe nřkagahi ʔínké ijin'ge ugácaⁿ iéé amá, Dakotas some had camped, they At length chief the one his son traveling had gone, they
 say.
- ábae. Ègiçe haⁿ ʔí, níaciⁿga íuça ańi-biamá. Nřkagahi ʔínké, ijáe to hunt. Behold, night when, man to tell reached there Chief the one who, his news again, they say.
- ʔadá-bi egaⁿ, Majaⁿ gáʔuadi ʔijin'ge t'éʔai, á-biamá. Kí nřkagahi aká 3 mentioned, having, Land in that your son they killed, said he, they And chief the (unseen place) say.
- áciaja ańi-bi egaⁿ, lekíʔé ʔéʔa-bi egaⁿ, gá-biamá: Caaⁿ jin'ga waʔíhehajiⁿqti outside arrived, having, to pro- sent and- having, said as follows, Dakota young you are very stoutclaim deny, they heartily, they say: they say: hearted
- ekaⁿhna-hnaⁿi ʔaⁿ cin'gajin'ga wíja haⁿ ʔé'qtei agíjaⁿbe kaⁿbéa. Iⁿʔin'- you desire regularly the child my night this very I see mine I wish. Go after (past t.)
- gimaⁿʔiⁿi-gá. Can'ge aⁿsagíⁿqti wiⁿ níja-jańga edábe, aoníⁿ ʔagʔí ʔí, wiⁿ 6 mine for me. Horse very swift one big-eared also, you have you come if, I give him back to you
- tá minke, á-biamá. Kí Caaⁿ bə́uqaqi ábagá-biamá naⁿpa-bi egaⁿ. Kí will I who, said he, they And Dakotas all hesitated, they say they feared because. And say. (seen danger) they say
- Caaⁿ wiⁿ wahéhajiⁿqti éiⁿte, Hindá! wí ańibéé té, eʔégaⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ Dakota one very stout-hearted perhaps, Let me see! I I go for him will, he thought, they say. So he went for they say. Yet, There far- when, I fear shall I he did not think, they say. At length
- é'di ańi-bi ʔí, naⁿpe héga-bají-biamá. Kí caⁿ ʔit'aⁿ-biamá. Ègiçe 'in' there he arrived, when, he feared very much, they say. And yet he touched him, they At length carry-
 they say say.
- agá-bi ʔí, uqpaʔé-hnaⁿ amá can'ge 'in'kičai ké. Xagé-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ-he went when, it was constantly falling, they say horse he caused to the without back, they say carry (ob.). He cried regu- larly stopping
- biamá, 'in' agáⁿ té naⁿpe. Píčaⁿ ʔaⁿ uqpaʔé ʔí, Aaⁿbéa akí ʔí, égiçe 12 they say, carry- ing it back he went the he feared it. Again and it fell when, I abandon it I reach if, beware
 there again
- aⁿʔaⁿqa taí, eʔégaⁿ-bi egaⁿ, 'in' akí gaⁿʔa-biamá. Uqpaʔé ctəwaⁿ caⁿ they laugh at me lost, thought, they having, to carry it he wished, they say. It fell notwith-
 say standing yet
- ʔizaf-de can'ge taⁿ 'in'kičai-biamá. Gaⁿ 'in' akí-bi egaⁿ, can'ge wiⁿ níjahe took it horse the he caused to they say. And carried it back, having, horse one big-when (ob.) carry it they say
- jańga edábe 'i-biamá. Caⁿ úkaⁿ gě téqi ʔaⁿja, caⁿ úkaⁿ ʔé téqi áta 15 cars also he gave to him, Yet deed the diff- cult though, yet deed this diff- exceed(pl.) cult ingly
- đáxe, (á-biamá,) 'in' akí-bi té'di é waká-bi egaⁿ.
 I did it, (said he, they he carried it when that meant, they having.
 say.) back, they say say

TRANSLATION.

Some Dakotas had camped. At length the chief's son had wandered off to hunt. Behold, when it was night, a man came back to tell the news. Calling the chief by name, he said, "In that land they have killed your son." And the chief, having gone out of doors, sent a crier at once, saying as follows: "Ye young Dakotas who have always desired to be stout-hearted, I desire to see my son this very night. Go after him for me. If you bring him back, I will give you a very swift horse, also a mule." All the Dakotas hesitated, because they feared to see the corpse. And one Dakota, who, perhaps, was stout-hearted, thought, "Let me see! I will go after it." And he went after it. Yet he did not think, "When I arrive there I shall fear to see him!" At length, when he arrived there, he was very much afraid. And still he touched it. At length, when he was carrying it back, the body was constantly falling off the horse which he made carry it. He was crying all the while, as he feared to carry it to the tents. When it fell again and again, he thought, "If I go back without it, I am afraid that they would laugh at me," so he wished to take it back. Notwithstanding it fell, he took it up and made the horse carry it. And when he reached the tents with it, the chief gave him the horse and mule. Referring to his having brought the corpse back, he said, "Though the deeds of others have been difficult to perform, I have done a deed which was exceedingly difficult."

PONKA HISTORICAL TEXTS.

THE WAR PARTY OF NUDA^a-AXA'S FATHER.TOLD BY NUDA^a-AXA.

- I^adádi aká nuda^a ačai tē. Ga^a wa'a^a-hna^a ca^a'ca^a. Ma^a'ci^a ma^a'ci^a My father the to war went. And he sang regularly always. Walking he walked tē wa'a^a-hna^a ca^a'ca^a; ha^a' ja^a gē ga^a wa'a^a-hna^a cēnujū'gai tē'di.
 when he sang regularly always; night he lay the so he sang regularly he was a young when.
 down (pl.) man
 3 Égičē wada^a'be ahí-biamá. Níkaci^aga sígčē wēča-biamá wada^a'be agčai
 At length to see they arrived, they Man truly they found them, to see they went
 say. they say back
 tē. Nída^ahaŋgá, égičē, níaci^aga d'úba agčai ke há', á-biamá. Ahaú!
 when. O war-chief, behold, man some have gone home-ward in a long line said they, they Oho!
 say. say.
 á-biamá. Wacka^a'egan-gá. Qubépičá-bi čí'hé, á-biamá. Égičē níaci^aga said he, they Do persevere. To make one's self be sure, said he, they At length man say. say. sacred say.
 6 Čábčē^a wēna'úqčēi šē amámá. Ké, nída^ahaŋgá, čéama a^a'wan'gaqčē tai, three very close beside were passing, they Come, O war-chief, these let us kill them,
 them say.
 á-biamá. Éde nuda^ahaŋga aká uči'agai tē. Égičē ha^a' amá, ugáhanačáze said they, they But war-chief the was unwilling. At length night the say, dark
 say. (sub.) say,

ɛŋa^u. Hu! hu! hu! hu! ɸɛxo-gaxu^u uti^u bi amɔcɛ hã. ɸaŋi^u amã. Na^u-n'a^u-bi like. Hu! hu! hu! hu! drum they hit not they are Pawnee the. Heard it, they say ɛga^u, i'dádi aká cénujin^u ga júŋŋe ɸínkɛ ɕiŋi-biamã. ɸahan-gã, á-biamã.
 naving, my father the young man he with the (obj.) he aroused them, Arise, said he, they say.
 Ci uŋa aŋŋɛ tẽ. Núda^uhanigã, ɸɛxo-gaxu^u uti^u amã waŋɛnɔi. Gãtɛi amu 3
 And to tell they came O war-chief, drum they hit the they are muni- Those who are it to him back. it him (sub.) fest. near gãŋu aŋŋɛ ɰi, á-biamã. A^uba uga^uba tihã amã. Êŋiŋe níkaɛi^uga ní kɛ at that they have said he, they Day light it came again, At length person water the (obj.) place command camped, say, they say, uhaŋ aŋŋi amãmã Ga^u wɛŋa-báŋi ákusande ákiŋŋa tẽ Kí wi^u aŋŋithey tol- were coming back, And they did not through they had gone Lone And one was-lowed along they say, detect them again. back biamã. Hau! á-biamã. ɸɛŋi^u á'ɛan^ukiŋɛ tai, á-biamã. I'dádi aká wada^u-bi 6 they say. Ho! said they, they This one let us cause him to, said they, they My father the to see say, die with us, say, (sub.)
 ati. Úhe kɛ ákaqtɛf-biamã. I'dádi aká uŋa aŋŋɛf-biamã nuda^uhaniga he came. Path the he was very near, they say. My father the (sub.) to tell him came back, they war-chief (obj.) say,
 ɸínkɛ^uja. I'dádi bɛŋu^uga waa^uŋa aŋaŋ tẽ, a^usaŋi-biamã. Uŋa^u-biamã ɸaŋi^u to the. My father all left them he went, he was swift at run- He overtook him, Pawnee
 they say, they say,
 ɸi^u. ɸaŋi^u ɸi^u waii^u gia^uŋa-bi ɛga^u, gaŋa^u wágikibana^u-biamã. I'dádi 9
 the Pawnee he who rob throw his away, having, migrating party he ran back towards his (people), My father (obj.) moved they say, they say, aká uŋa^u-biamã. Kíde-hana^u tẽ, ma^uŋi kide tẽ; 'ú ɛnasŋti áda^u kida^u tẽ.
 the overtook him, they He shot regu- when, arrow he shot at to every time there he shot at him.
 (sub.) say, at him larly him with: wound him (i) fore
 Ga^un'í Wacúce aká ɛ'di ahi^u tẽ, ja^u-wɛt'ni kɛ iŋaŋŋi-biamã. Uɛtɛ amã
 And Brave the there arrived when, word to hit the he killed him with, Remainder the (sub.) (sub.) say, with (obj.) they say, haɛ'da^u ahi^u tẽ. Ga^utɛ-jin^uga ɰi, úhe aŋŋan^u'ka^uha^u wánasai tẽ Pa^un'ka amã. 1 afterward they arrived. A little while when, p. th on both sides surrounded them, Ponka the.
 Êŋiŋe ɸaŋi^u amã a^uhe baɕbe, wáŋi^u ɛ'te Pa^un'ka ɕan'ka. Ga^un'ki i'dádi
 At length Pawnee the fleeing forced a they had it may Ponka the (pl. obj.). And my father (sub.) say, way out, them be aká maja^u a^uŋe aŋŋaŋ ɕan'di ca^uca^u gɛm^u-biamã. Ga^u ina^uúŋtɛi a^u-f-biamã.
 the land they they went at the continuing he sat they say. And very close be- they were com-(sub.) left him back they say, side him ing, they say, Wakíde ga^u ɛ'tɛtɛwã^u wákida-báŋi-hna^uŋi te. Anŋa ka^uŋa ɕa^uŋi ɛti; 1
 To shoot at he ɛ'tɛtɛwã^u he shot not regularly. I live I wished heretofore;
 them
 ɛŋiŋe a^uŋa^u ɰi, ɛŋiŋe t'ɛa^uŋɛ tai, at tẽ i'dádi aká. ɸaŋi^u níŋaɛi^uga ákiɛu^u behold they find one if, behold they kill will, said my father the (sub.) Pawnee men standing (obj.) say, me (sub.) close together ma^uŋi^u ɛ wakaŋ, níŋaɛi^uga wi^uáŋtɛi ɰi^uŋi ga^u t'ɛɛa^u ɛtɛŋa. ɸɛ Qu^u-ɛ-ma^uŋi^u they that he meant. person only one if so they kill apt. This Roaring as he-walked him (sub.) walks
 (Cáŋe-skã iŋádi) ɸaŋi^u-mã áhiŋiŋti t'ɛwãŋa^u-biamã, wasisige hɛŋa-baŋi- 1 (Hool' white his father) the Pawnees very many he killed them, they say, brisk not a little biamã. Êŋiŋe níŋaɛi^uga dúba (ɸaŋi^u ɕan'ká) ɛ wada^uŋi bai tẽ t'ɛwãŋɛŋi^uŋi.
 they say. Behold man four (Pawnee the (obj.) that they saw them when he really killed them.
 Qu^u-ɛ-ma^uŋi^u ehna^u wat'ɛŋɛ^u akɛ, i'dádi aká ɕɛn'ba^uŋi; wat'ɛŋa^u-báŋi Pa^un'ka
 Qu^u-ma^u, ɛ h-na^u slayer it was he, my father the (sub.) he, too; were not slayers Ponka
 (sub.) say,

370 THE CEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- ueté amá. Ga^{n'} níac^{n'}ga (Pañ'ka) d'éabéi^{n'} cañ'ka da^{n'}etēa^{n'} t'éwañai^{n'} remainder the. And man (Ponka) eight nine perhaps killed them
- ǵíí^{n'} amá. Pañ'ka ueté ǵańká cénawañai tē ǵáí^{n'} amá. Síta^{n'}qti-éga^{n'}.
 Pawnee the (sub.). Ponka remain- the ones exterminated them. Pawnee the (sub.). About five:
 (sub.). ing who
- 3 Nac^{n'}í-jan'ga, Qu'c-ma^{n'}ǵi^{n'}, Le-jé-bazé íǵádi, í^{n'}dádi, kí Wacúce ní^{n'}ja
 Head big. Qu'e-ma^{n'}ǵi^{n'}, Buffalo-Dung-in- his father, my father, and Wacúce alive Heaps
- agǵi tē há. Wan'ǵiǵe a^{n'}ha u'ǵai tē, utǵi kē íǵináǵe ga^{n'} u'ǵai tē.
 came home All seeing they scattered, thick the hiding them- selves so they scattered.
 (obj.)
- Ǵgrasúnda^{n'} ca^{n'} u'ǵéwínǵiǵai tē, ákikipai tē. Ga^{n'} na^{n'}jí^{n'}etēǵ^{n'}qtei akí-
 During the next yet they assembled them- they met each other. And na^{n'}jí^{n'}etēǵ^{n'}qtei akíday scaves, they reached home
- 6 biamá, na^{n'}pǵhí^{n'}qtia^{n'}, nuǵáí^{n'}qtia^{n'}.
 they say, very hungry, altogether naked.

NOTES.

In 1880, Wacúce, who was then 70 or 80 years of age, was the only survivor of those who belonged to this war-party.

368, 5. qubéǵiǵa-bi ǵi^{n'}hé (Nuda^{n'}axa), or qúbekiǵá-bi ǵi^{n'}hé (Frank La Flèche), "Be sure to make yourselves sacred," i. e., by means of the animals that you saw in your dreams as you fasted. See íǵaéǵe in the Dictionary.

369, 6. at'eañkiǵé tai. Sanssouci gave as the corresponding ǵoiwere, "at'eñhíki tanyi ké." He said that "At'eañkiǵé tai" is equal to "Te juangee tai, Let us die with him." He also gave another ǵoiwere equivalent for the whole phrase: "Te'e naháre t'éhí^{n'} fáho, hí^{n'}te'c hí^{n'}rúeta^{n'}wi ké, Let us kill this one moving along; we have finished dying?" i. e., "We are bound to die, so let us cause him to die with us."

369, 7. uhe kē aǵaǵtei-biama. The path in which the Pawnee was walking was not more than fifteen or twenty yards distant.

369, 7. í^{n'}dádi - - uǵa agei-biama, etc. His father returned to the chief just as they made the remark about the Pawnee. When they ran towards the Pawnee, he (Nuda^{n'}axa's father) left them all behind, as he was a swift runner.

369, 9. wagikibana^{n'}-biama. The Pawnee called to his friends to come half-way and meet him.

369, 13. Sanssouci read, "Ǵǵiǵe ǵáí^{n'} amá a^{n'}he bacíbe wáǵi^{n'}tē tē há Pañ'ka amá." He gave the corresponding ǵoiwere, which means, "Behold, the Ponkas being the cause, the Pawnees broke through their ranks and fled, carrying the Ponkas along as the pursuers." He substitutes "amá" for "ǵańka," as the Ponkas were the cause of the flight. The fullest expression would be: "Ǵǵiǵe Pañ'ka amá éwa^{n'}í éga^{n'}, ǵáí^{n'} amá a^{n'}he bacíbe wáǵi^{n'}tē tē há Pañ'ka ǵań'ká," answering to the ǵoiwere.

369, 14. a^{n'}ǵ agǵai, contraction from a^{n'}ǵa agǵai.

369, 19. o wada^{n'}bai tē. The Ponkas saw him kill them.

370, 2. ueté ǵańka. These were the eight or nine mentioned in the preceding sentence. So the whole party of the Ponkas numbered but fourteen warriors.

TRANSLATION.

My father went on the war-path. And he sang all the time. He always was singing as he walked. When he was a young man, he was always singing when he lay down at night. At length they went as scouts to a certain place. When the scouts were going back, they discovered the trail of men. "O war-chief, some men have gone homeward in a long line!" said they. "Oho!" said he, "do persevere. Be sure to make yourselves sacred by the aid of your guardian animals." At length three men were passing along very close beside them. "Come, O war-chief, let us kill these!" said they. But the war-chief was unwilling. At length it was night and somewhat dark. "Hu! hu! hu! hu!" They were those who beat the drums. They were Pawnees. When my father heard it, he aroused the young man who was with him. "Arise!" said he. And they came back to tell it to the war-chief: "O war-chief, they who beat the drums are manifest. Those who are in that place near by came this way and camped." At day it became light again. At length the men were coming back, following the course of the stream. And without detecting the presence of the Ponkas, they went far beyond them on their homeward way. And one was coming back. "Ho!" said they, "let us cause this one to die with us." My father went as a scout. The path was very near. My father returned to the war-chief to tell it to him. My father left them all behind, as he was a swift runner. He overtook the Pawnee. The Pawnee having thrown away his robe, ran back towards his people in the camp. My father overtook him. He shot at the Pawnee repeatedly, wounding him with the arrows; he wounded the Pawnee every time, therefore he shot at him. And when Wacuce arrived there, he killed the Pawnee with a blow from his war-club. The rest of the Ponkas arrived afterward. After a little while the Ponkas intercepted their retreat on both sides of the path. At length the Pawnees in fleeing forced a way through the ranks of the Ponkas, carrying the latter along in pursuit. And my father remained sitting at the place where they had left him. And the Pawnees were coming very close beside him. Notwithstanding he wished to shoot at them, he never shot. "Heretofore have I wished to live; and behold, if they detect me, they will kill me," said my father. He referred to the Pawnee men who were walking in a dense body; if they found one man belonging to the foe they would be apt to kill him. This Qu'c-ma'phi (White Hoof's father) killed very many of the Pawnees; he was very active. Behold, the Ponkas saw him kill four men of the Pawnees; he really killed them. Qu'c-ma'phi was the only slayer besides my father; the rest of the Ponkas were not slayers. And the Pawnees killed eight or nine Ponka men. The Pawnees exterminated the remaining Ponkas. About five:—Nacki-pa'ga (Big-head), Qu'c-ma'phi, the father of Je-jé-bu-jé (Buffalo-dung-in-heaps), my father, and Wacuce, came home alive. All fled, and scattered in the thickets; they scattered and hid themselves. During the next day they met each other, and assembled themselves. And they barely reached home; they were naked and very hungry.

NUDAⁿ-AXA'S ACCOUNT OF HIS FIRST WAR PARTY

- Aⁿjin'ga tē'di pahan'gaqtei ačē 'īča-biamá. Kí iⁿdádi aká gaⁿ, Dadlha, Me small when at the very first going they spoke of, And my father tho so, O father,
 they say. (sub.)
- gíamápa bēc kaⁿbēa, ehé (tē), An'kajī hā, aī. 'īčaⁿbaⁿ 'ēgičaⁿ'jī-gā. Aⁿjin'- to those (out I go I wish, I said (when), Not so he said. A second do not say it to Me small of sight) (any one).
- 3 gadi, nīsiha, uágacaⁿ-hnaⁿ-maⁿ 'éde tēqi ičāpahaⁿ-hnaⁿ-maⁿ, aī. Čijin'g when, my child, I used to travel but difficult I used to know, he said. You small egaⁿ edádaⁿ tēqi áčakipá ŋi, čaxáge iwiŋuhé, aī. Égaⁿja, nīaciⁿga amá ánaská because what difficult you meet if, you cry I fear it for he said. Though so, person tho how large you, (pl.)
- etēwaⁿ nú iŋigčigcaⁿ 'égaⁿ, ugácaⁿ-hnaⁿ'i, ehé. Ádaⁿ 'ēgimaⁿ. Uágacaⁿ soover man decide for them- as, they always travel, I said. Therefore I do so. I travel
 selves
- 6 kaⁿbēa, ehé Hau! aī. Ē'di hné te, aī. Nīaciⁿga ákikičai tēdli ŋi, I wish, I said. Ho! he said. There you go will, he said People attack one the time when I said. another comes
- bazaⁿ'aqti hné taté, aī. Nīaciⁿga uhnaⁿ-de gaⁿ 'tēčičē etčētēwaⁿ 'údaⁿ, pushing in you go shall, he said. Man you while so he kills you notwithstand- ing good among them
- aī Gaⁿ nīaciⁿga a-ŋgčīⁿ amá kē'di pl. Égičē nīaciⁿga naⁿ-hnaⁿ amá.
 he And man those who came at the I ar- Behold person naⁿ only they say.
 said. said. and sat the place rived.
- 9 (Nīaciⁿga ukéčīⁿ é faⁿqtičēgaⁿ 'xiú amá) Hau! aī. Caⁿ hā, ijin'ge čīⁿ (Indian common that he is a great man he is they say.) Ho! they It is his son the by means of wounded right said. (inv. one)
- éde tí hā, á-biamá. Naⁿbaⁿ'wa'čāⁿ'i. Gaⁿ ačai. Mīⁿ učūagčē maⁿ'čīⁿ'i.
 but he has come said they, they They shook hands with And they went. Moon throughout they walked.
 say. me.
- Égičē mīⁿ kē t'é, ugáhanačazē'qti. Hau! aī. Nūjin'jin'ga ti-má-čāⁿ wáčīⁿ At length moon the dead, very dark. Ho! they Boys of various those who (ob.) said. sizes came bring ye
- 12 gū-gū. Ijāje itaⁿ'čīadi gē giaⁿ'čā taī. Ijin'ge čīnké ačīⁿ gū-gū, aī. Wī them hither. His old the let them throw His son he who is bring him hither, they Mo name (pl. ob.) away their. said.
- aⁿwankaī, iⁿdádi ijāje čadaī. Gaⁿ aⁿ'čīⁿ akī. Ē'di hné te, aī Cúde-they meant me, my father his name they pro- And having they went There you go will, they smoke.
 nounced. me back. said.
- gráxe, Naⁿ'ge-tíča, Mīⁿxá-skā, caⁿ uetčē amá bēuga učūci čan'di gēiⁿ'ankičai.
 maker, To-run-he-starts, Goose-white, in fact the rest all center in the made me sit.
- 15 Ahaú! ijāje čagīaⁿ'hna té, aī Égičē, ikáge ijāje wīⁿ ačīⁿ taté; t'aⁿ'qtiaⁿ, Oho! his name you will abandon they said. Behold, his friend his name one he shall have it; there is a great your, abundance,
- aī. Ikáge čē nudaⁿ aŋgá-i tē áxa amá hā, aī; ádaⁿ ačīⁿ taté, aī. Nudaⁿthey His friend this to war we were when he cried for it they there- he shall have it, they To-war-he said. said. coming said; fore said.
- axa, aī. Gaⁿ Cúde-gáxe učā čēčai. Wakan'da-ma učā čēčai. Gaⁿ ijāje cried-for, they And Cúde-gáxe called about to The deities he called about to And his said. tell it. them to tell it. name
- 18 tē gīaⁿ'čā 'īčē čīnké áčā, u+! aī. Nudaⁿ-axa ijāje ačīⁿ 'īčē čīnké áčā, the to abundou his he is speaking of indeed, halloo! he said. Nudaⁿ-axa his name having he is speaking of indeed,

- u+! al. Ja'fage ja'ngéga fa'ci'cé etéwa', faná'a téga uwibéa euécaçé halloo! he said. Hindland somewhat large you who move soever, you hear it in order that I tell you I send to you
- minké áça, u+! Qáde bana' na' fa'ci'cé etéwa', faná'a téga uwibéa
I who indeed, halloo! Grass in clumps you who move soever, you hear it in order that I tell you
- euécaçé minké áça, u+! Ja' ja'ngéga fa'ci'cé etéwa', faná'a téga uwibéa 3
I sent to you I who indeed, halloo! Wood somewhat large you who soever, you hear it in order that I tell you
- euécaçé minké áça, u+! Waji' jinga béigaqti jan'de ueka' eka' ma'hni'
I sent to you I who indeed, halloo! Birds of various sizes all ground stirring on repeatedly you who
- máce, faná'a téga uwibéa euécaçé minké áça, u+! Waníja ji'jin'ga, walk, you hear it in order I tell you I send to you I who indeed, halloo! Animal said on of various sizes, that
- jan'de ueka' eka' ma'hni' máce, faná'a téga uwibéa euécaçé minké áça, 6
ground stirring on repeatedly you who walk, you hear it in order that I tell you I send to you I who indeed, that
- u+! Gátega' uwibéa euécaçai, waníja máce. Watiéa ída' badiqti naci' ga
halloo! Thus and thus I tell you I send to you, ye animals. Rank of warriors in the very middle man
- waséça' qti wi' t'çai xi, uça' gi çinké áça, u+! al. Ga' ijáje ita' çadi very quick one he kills when, holding him he is coming indeed, halloo! he said. And his old
- eti uçai. Naji' -tiçé a' çé éga, Nuda' -axa açi' íçé çinké áça, u+! 9 too he told. To-run-begins to abandon as, Nuda'-axa to have he is speaking of indeed, halloo! don it speaks of
- al. Ga' a'ja' -hna'i. Ja'çi' xi ahí-báji éga, wacíta-baji' qti'a' i; na'péhi'
he And we slept regularly. Pawnee tent they had not reached as, they did not eat at all; hunger said.
- wakan'diçeqti'a' i. Ga' ahii Ja'çi' xi. Ha' xi, xi ké égaxé íça' çé açai.
they were very impatient from. And they arrived Pawnee tent. Night when, the line of tents to surround it they said.
- Égiçe, Can'ge ta' çéta' ágçi' tá mínke, al té winéçi aká. An'kaji, ehé. 12
At length, Horao the (obj.) this (obj.) I sit on will I who, he said my mother's the brother (sub.). Not so, I said.
- Ca' ágçi' íçai Can'ge ágçi' ta' a' sagi hégaçi. Ga' xi çéçé égaxe
Yet to sit on it he Horao he sat on the swift very. And tent this (line) they spoke of.
- íça' çai té na'pa' hi'. Wahába a' ma' çan angáçe taí, ehé. Nújinga wi' surrounded when we hungry. Ears of corn we steal let us go, I said. Boy one
- ékinaskáqtei juágçe; é eti ja' ekaáçé. Ga' ujan'ge ké angúha angáçai. 15 just as large as he I with him; he too I had as a sister's son. And road the (obj.) we followed we went.
- Watefeka wi' éga ujája naji' aká Jamú angáçai té'di ú'e wi' edí aká.
Creek one like forked it was standing. Down-hill we went when field one it was there.
- Ja'çi' amá waja' gö álcást it'égíçé-hna' i. Waja' áhigi a' çizai, wata' zi
Pawnee the (sub.) squash the (pl.) in heaps they used to place their. Squash many we took, corn
- ké edábe áhigi a' çizai. Ga' çin' angúki, héga-báji. Éna-çan' çan a' wa' çii. 18
the (obj.) also many we took. And carry, we reached a great many. In equal shares we gave to them.
- Nea' çai. Éde ké zi xi jea' ji. Égiçe a' ba aká ma' ciáha tihai. Wáçi' ca-i
We kindled a fire. Fire the (obj.) when low we roasted it. At length day the (sub.) on high it passed. Yonder they came with the pursuers
- há, al. Watefeka kigéçaa nea' çé angçi'. Ga' égiçe, ubisandé'qti wáçi'
they said. Creek at the bottom we kindled a fire. And behold, pressing into very they came close quarters
- ati. Umáha amá edábe Ja'çi' çinké'di éduhai té. Égiçe ga' a' he amé, 21 and had we. Omaha the (pl.) also Pawnee at the (obj.) kindled in it. At length so they were fleeing,

- wábanzaf. Ma^{n'} na^{n'}cudaf. Jamú wáqí^{n'} élíqti wi^{n'} t'céai tō Pan'ka fanká.
 they were. Soil they made a dust. Down-hill having just there one they killed him Ponka the scoured off. by running. them (pl. oh.).
- Atatádi ei wi^{n'} uqá^{n'}i tē. Gan'ki ei wi^{n'} ē'di t'céai tō éduáta^{n'}. Gan'ki Far beyond again one they took hold of. And again one there they killed him the next. And
- 3 wa'ú wi^{n'} fízai tē, Ja-sába-wi^{n'}, Umáha wa'ú. Égiçe winégi aká cañ'ge woman one they took, Deer-black-female, Omaha woman. At length my mother's the horse brother (sub.) (sub.)
- ta^{n'} in'fi^{n'} fi^{n'} akí, a^{n'}fa^{n'} wa^{n'}h'éga^{n'}. Wackan'-gá há, af. Níaci^{n'}ga amá h'égathe having mine he ar. having followed me. Do your best, he People the a great (ob.) for me rived again (sub.) (sub.)
- báji, af. Ga^{n'} a^{n'}fa ag'faí. Wináqtei a^{n'}wa^{n'} etc. Cánakáqce éag'fa^{n'} xi many, he And leaving me he went. I alone me remained. Saddle I put it on when said, homeward. for (the horse)
- 6 áag'fí^{n'}. Jamúqti ag'fí; wéka^{n'}ta^{n'} uqíqqaq'faí b'ficta^{n'} g'céa^{n'}fé. Égiçe wéahide
 I sat on it. Down a very I went lariat holding loosely I let him I sent him At length at a distance steep hill homeward; go homeward suddenly.
- akí. Smdehadi ág'fíngá, ehé; éde uq'ag'faí. Ga^{n'} akí, ujan'ge ákieuga,
 I reached By the tall sit on it, I said; but he was unwill- And I arrived road standing thick again. ing.
- ukhänge fíngé. Uta^{n'} na jin'ga tē'di fha akí. Ga^{n'} écna. Wáfieta^{n'}i, masáni bounds none. Space small by the follow. Lar- And enough. They let us go, the other between two ing it rived again. side
- 9 aṅgákii xi. Égiçe wi^{n'} aqí^{n'} akíi, xáxe-jin'ga. Dáfi^{n'} wi^{n'} wabásna^{n'} hidé we reached when. At length one they came back Crow. young. Pawnee one scapula bottom it again with him,
- tē'di úi, ei hídeatádi úi; ei f'éxande paháci fan'di úi. uq'as'ín. Ga^{n'} at the wounded again at the bottom he was again cheek above on the he was it stuck in. And him, wounded;
- máhi^{n'}si gífiçionúde. Ga^{n'} aṅgáfi^{n'} aṅgáq'faí. Ha^{n'} iéaúqce a^{n'}ma^{n'}fi^{n'}. Ha^{n'} arrow-head he pulled out for him. And we had him we went homo- Night throughout we walked. Night ward.
- 12 tē ei éga^{n'} iéaúqce a^{n'}ma^{n'}fi^{n'}. Ca^{n'}qti a^{n'}na^{n'}ha^{n'}. Égiçe égasáni dúbá ja^{n'} the again so throughout we walked. We walked even till night. At length the next day four sleep we walked till broad daylight. Day the fifth. the we reached Niobrara at the. Behold man home,
- pahan'ga amá níaci^{n'}ga g'céba. Égiçéga^{n'}, Ca^{n'} há, af ega^{n'}, ag'faí. Égiçe before they who man ten. At length, Enough. said having, they went At length homeward.
- 15 níaci^{n'}ga íaíatá^{n'} dúbá éca^{n'}be atí. Égiçe pahan'ga ag'fí fi^{n'}, Jasi^{n'}-fíngé.
 person from the lodge four in sight they came. Behold before he came the Top-branch(mv. one), without.
- Wiji^{n'}çe pahan'ga ma^{n'}fi^{n'} amá éduáta^{n'}. Níaci^{n'}ga b'fúgaqti íwagikíqce.
 My elder brother he fore he walked the next. People all kissed them, their own.
- Wináqtei ían'gikíqce-báji. Akí tē'di in'dádi aká g'fí^{n'}in'gai: Wá! ma^{n'}fi^{n'}-gá Me only they kissed not me, I reached when my father the said as follows Why! walk their own. (sub.)
- 18 há. Níkaci^{n'}ga fábfi^{n'} wáqci-má wacta^{n'}b é'nte, ē'di çat'é eté xi, af. Jíadi Men three those who were you may have seen there you die ought, he said. To the killed them, tent
- ckí tē ubé'fage, af. É eka^{n'}hna, af. Uta^{n'}nadi águdi na^{n'}pchi^{n'} çat'é you have the I am unwilling, he said. That you desire, he said. In some space in what hungry you die come back said, place
- etéçetewa^{n'} é úda^{n'}, af. A^{n'}qéq'fí akí. In'na^{n'}ha aká umi^{n'}je úda^{n'} wi^{n'} even if that good, he said. Me very lean I reached home. My mother the couch good one ingúxai há. Ė'di aja^{n'} há. I^adádi aká wačáte a^{n'}fi há ꝑéčinké Nuda^{n'}- made for me. There I slept. My father the food gave to me. This one Nuda^{n'}.
 (sub.)

axa ugácaⁿ hí éde íčinge t'é gél. Da^{n'}be í-gā, al. I^adádi aká can'ge axa traveling arrived but tired to death he has To see him he com- he said. My father the horse there come home. ing. said. (sub.) wi^{n'} 'fi tē, wai^{n'}, uta^{n'}, hi^{n'}bé, ca^{n'} bēúga í^{n'}e'áge giba^{n'}í ꝑinké 'fi tē. 3 one he gave, robe, leggings, moccasins, in fact all old man he was called the one who he gave to him.

NOTES.

372, 9. xíú—Nuda^{n'}axa. xíú, to round himself; but xíu, to be wounded; wounded—
Frank La Flèche.

372, 11. ugahanadazčqti, pronounced uga+hanadazčqti by the narrator.

373, 10. wačata-bajiqtiⁿi, pronounced wača+ta-bajiqtiⁿi.

373, 12. winegi aka. This was Wasábe-pān'ga (Big Black bear) or Tukāča.

373, 19. éde ké, said of much fire, as in a long line.

373, 19. wačín ca-í há. Said by those who peeped over the hill.

374, 1. wačín čdiqti wi^{n'} t'čai tē. This was Waha-čān'ga (Big Hide).

374, 2. atatadi el wi^{n'} učai tē. This was He-čápa (Forked Horns).

374, 2. gānki . . . ednataⁿ. This was Ūha^{n'}-na^{n'}ba (Two Boilings or Two Kettles), a name borrowed, perhaps, from the Dakota Oohe-no^{n'}pa (Oohe-nonpa).

374, 13. Niubēčā kēja. It was where Westermann's store now stands in the town of Niobrara, Neb.

374, 15. časi-činge, or Wegasapi (Whip) was the father of White Eagle, the present head-chief of the Ponkas.

374, 16. wiji^{n'}čē. This elder brother was, Ūbí-skā, sometimes called Wacka^{n'}-ma^{n'}.
čín (He who makes an effort in walking), the second head-chief, who shared the power with Wegasapi.

PLAN OF THE BATTLE AND FLIGHT.

- A.—Bluff near the Pawnee village, which some of the Ponkas ascended to view the fight.
B.—Ponka camp, where Nuda^{n'}axa and the other non-combatants were nearly surrounded.
C.—The route by which most of the Ponkas fled.
D.—The route by which Nuda^{n'}axa fled.

TRANSLATION.

At the very first, when I was small, they spoke of going on the war-path. And when I said, "Father, I wish to go to those people," he said, "No! Do not say that again to any one. When I was young, my child, I used to travel, but I used to know difficulties. Because you are young, I fear you would cry if you got into trouble." "Nevertheless," said I, "persons of any size at all who decide for themselves invariably travel; therefore I do that. I wish to travel." "Well, you shall go thither. When they attack one another, you shall go among them. Even if they kill you while you take hold of a man, it would be good," said my father. So I went to the persons who had assembled. Behold, they were all grown. (It is customary among Indians for the wounded ones to become great men by means of their suffering.) "Ho! it is right. It is his son, but he has come." They shook hands with me. They departed, traveling throughout the month. At length the moon was dead, and it was very dark. "Ho! bring ye hither the boys of different sizes who have come. Let them abandon their old names. Bring his son hither," said they. They meant me, and they called my father's name. The messengers took me thither. "You shall go thither," said they. Cúde-gáxe (Smoke-maker), Nai'ge-tíḡa (He-starts-to-run), Mi-xá-skā (White Swan), and the others made me sit in the center. "Oho!" said they, "you shall abandon your name. Behold, his friend shall have a name, for there is a great abundance of them. When we were coming hither on the war-path, this one, his friend, cried for it; therefore he shall have Nuda^w-axa (He-cried-for-the-war-path) for his new name." And Cúde-gáxe lifted his voice to tell the deities. "He is indeed speaking of abandoning his name, halloo! He is indeed speaking of having the name Nuda^w-axa, halloo! Ye big headlands, I tell you and send it to you that you may indeed hear it, halloo! Ye clumps of buffalo-grass, I tell you and send it to you that you may hear it, halloo! Ye big trees, I tell you and send it to you that you may indeed hear it, halloo! Ye birds of all kinds that walk and move on the ground, I tell you and send it to you that you may indeed hear it, halloo! Ye small animals of different sizes, I tell you and send it to you that you may hear it, halloo! Thus have I sent to tell you, ye animals. Right in the ranks of the foe will he kill a swift man, and come back after holding him, halloo!" He also told the old name. "He speaks indeed of throwing away the name Nājiⁿ-tiḡé (Starts-to-rain), and he has promised to have the name Nuda^w-axa, halloo!" said he. We slept regularly each night. As we had not reached the Pawnee village, we had eaten nothing at all, and we became very impatient from hunger. We reached the Pawnee village. When it was night, they went to surround the village. My mother's brother said, "I will ride this horse." "No," said I. Still he spoke of riding it. The horse which he rode was very swift. And when they went to surround these lodges I was hungry. Said I, "Let us go and steal ears of corn." I went with a boy who was just my size. I called him my sister's son. We followed the path. One stream forked. When we went down hill, a field was there. The Pawnees had placed their squashes in heaps. We took many squashes and ears of corn. We returned to camp, carrying a great many on our backs. We distributed them in equal shares. We kindled a fire. The coals were bright, and we roasted the corn. At length it was broad daylight. Those on the hill said, "Yonder they come in hot pursuit." We sat below the hill, kindling a fire at the stream. At last they came close upon us, getting us into a tight place. The Omahas joined the Pawnees. The Ponkas fled, being scared off. They raised a dust with their feet. Just as the foe went down hill after the Ponkas, one of the latter was killed. Beyond that the Pawnees captured another. Next they killed Ubaⁿ-na^ba, and an Omaha woman, ḡa-sába-wiⁿ, was captured. At length my mother's brother brought back my horse, having followed me. "Do you best. The people are very many," said he. He went homeward on foot, leaving me alone. I put the saddle on my horse, and mounted him. As I went down a steep hill, I loosened my hold on the lariat, giving him full rein. At length I arrived at a great distance from the foe. "Sit behind," said I to my mother's brother; but he refused. The paths stood so thick that they were without spaces between them. I went a little distance by another way, joining the rest after making a detour. When we reached the other side of a stream, the Pawnees let us go without further pursuit. At length one was brought to us, ḡáxe-jín^ga (Little Crow), whom a Pawnee had wounded in two places on the shoulder and in the upper part of the cheek. The arrow-head stuck in the cheek, so they pulled it out for him. We took him along homeward. We walked throughout the night, and when it was day we walked till night. We walked four nights after that, and until broad daylight. On the fifth day we reached home at Niobrara. The foremost were ten men. Having said, "It is enough," they went to their respective homes. At length four of the people from the lodges came in sight. The first one who came home was ḡasi-ḡíḡe, and my mother's brother was the next in rank. All the people kissed them. Me alone did they not kiss. When I reached home, my father said as follows to me, as if in reproof: "Why! Go! You have seen the three men who were killed, and you ought to die there. I am unwilling for you to come back to this lodge. You desired that. It would be good for you even to die from hunger in some lone place." I came home very lean. My mother made a good couch for me. I slept there. My father gave me food. He said, "This Nudaⁿ-axa went traveling, but he has come home tired to death. Come to see him." My father gave a horse, a robe, leggings, and moccasins to the old man who was called.

THE DEFEAT OF THE PAWNEES BY THE PONKAS IN 1855.

PAWNER THEY WERE THE.
KILLED

DICTATED BY NUDA^{n/}-AXA.

ɬáɬiⁿ amá iáŋgɛⁿ qti wénudaⁿ caⁿ/caⁿ. Kɪ ééⁿ Ágaha-maⁿ/ɬiⁿ iⁿé'áge Fawnee (sub.) throughout made war on always. And thisone Over (them) he walks old man ian'ge éde náŋge ɬízáⁿ ɬáɬiⁿ amá. Kɪ Ágaha-maⁿ/ɬiⁿ aká gaⁿ gíáⁿ/be his sister but a captive took her Fawnee (sub.) And A gaha-manⁿ/ɬiⁿ aká (an ex- plective) to see his caⁿ gáⁿ/ t'é' ɬéa-biamú. Iiⁿegaⁿ/téc'qtei yɪ, ɬíngá-bítámú. Kɪ-lmaⁿ/ gáⁿ/ 3 at any rate to die he spoke of, they say. Early in the morning when, he was missing, they say. And only (exple- tive)

378 THE FEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- áputaⁿ majaⁿ gáíⁿ ábíⁿ amá Gaⁿ gáikē átiáçai tē enⁿ/caⁿ. Utaⁿ/nadiin a straight line with land sat Pawnee the (sub.) And that he passed on always. In a lone place
- hmuⁿ jaⁿ/i tē. Égíçē haⁿ egaⁿ/teeⁿ qtei éⁿ/di ahí-biamá. Uçāⁿ-biamá ábíⁿ regularly he slept. At length early in the morning there he arrived, they say. Took hold of him. Pawnee they say
- 3 amá. Eátaⁿ maⁿ/hniⁿ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ, Miⁿ/jinga uákiji éde náççē hñizai;
the (sub.) Why you walk, said they, they say. And, Girl I am nearly but a captive you took her;
- ki águdi t'éçañai éⁿ/te éⁿ/di t'éañçē kaⁿ/bēn. Éⁿ/di éñudaⁿ aⁿ/çate taf égaⁿ and in what place you killed her it may be there you kill me I wish. There dog to eat me in order that
- maⁿ/bēiⁿ, á-biamá. Çaqúbewañ-á-biamá ábíⁿ amá. I ábit-á-biamá. Wulm+!
I walk, said he, they say. Spoke in wonder they say Pawnee the Mouth they pressed on, they say. Really!
- 6 t'é naⁿ/puji, á-biamá. ábíⁿ amá uçéwinçíçai-biamá, bēúgaqti. Uçéçiaja to die he fears not, said they, they say. Pawnee the assembled they say, all. In the center
- gēiⁿ-biamá. Pí ímaxai tē. Eátaⁿ maⁿ/hniⁿ, á-biamá. Çútaⁿqti ngéñ-çñ, he sat they say. Anew they asked him. Why you walk, said they, they say. Very straight tell your (story),
- á-biamá. Nā! Miⁿ/jinga uákiji éde náççē hñizai; çéçu iⁿ/çahniⁿ ekí. Kí said they, they say. Why! Girl I am nearly but a captive you took here you had her. And for me coming home.
- 9 áwaçanⁿ/di t'éçañai tēⁿ/di t'éañçañi kaⁿ/bēn. Éⁿ/di éñudaⁿ aⁿ/çate taf égaⁿ where you killed her at the you kill me I wish. There dog to eat me in order that
- maⁿ/bēiⁿ, á-biamá. Gaⁿ, Winⁿ/ke te, á-biamá. Gaⁿ, Çiñanⁿ/ge jí hídeçan
I walk, said he, they say. And, He told the truth, said they, they say. And, Your sister lodge down-stream
- gáhiakáña açiⁿ, á-biamá. Aⁿ/çéçí taité, á-biamá. Gasáni éça hñé te, at yonder (camp) they have her said they, they say. We give her to you shall, said they, they say. To-morrow thither you go will,
- 12 á-biamá. Gaⁿ égasáni çí, éⁿ/ta añai tē Éⁿ/di ahí-biamá çí, níacíⁿga amá said they, they say. And the next day when, thither he went. There he arrived, they say when, people the (sub.)
- íçā-biamá. Uçāⁿ/i tē. Gaⁿ jí winⁿ éçíha açiⁿ átiáçai çí, uçéwinçíçai-biamá.
found him, they say. They took hold of him. And lodge one headlong they had taken when, they assembled, they say.
- Gaⁿ t'éçé 'íçā-biamá. Gaⁿ jí pahanⁿ/ga uaⁿ/si amádi amá ahí-báji çáçí;
And to kill him they spoke of, they say. And lodge before he alighted by those the they did not for a (sub.) arrive long time;
- 15 ádaⁿ aⁿ/çíⁿ t'éçā-báçíⁿ tē. Íkikináçéiⁿ-biamá, pahanⁿ/ga t'éçé gaⁿ/çai égaⁿ.
therefore he came very near being put to death. Each one listened to anticipate the first to kill he desired as.
- Égaⁿqti açiⁿ akáma. Kí Ámaha-uçéçí aká éçéçetōwaⁿ/jíl gēiⁿ/i tē; waijⁿ just so they were keeping him, they say. And Unwilling-to-share- his-lodge-with-one the (sub.) not heeding at all sat; robe
- çigéçipiqti gēiⁿ/i tē. Gaⁿ ábíⁿ éçátaⁿ-ma winⁿ ahí tē. Han! ké, çañ-he pulled well around himself he sat. And Pawnee the other camp one he arrived. Ho! come, cease
- 18 gaxái-gā. Waçáte çictaⁿ, ní eti çataⁿ çictaⁿ, níni eti iⁿ/ çictaⁿ, aí tē.
ye. Eating he finished, water too drinking he finished, tobacco too using he finished, he said.
- Gaⁿ gíçí 'íçā-biamá. Çiñanⁿ/ge açiⁿgēçahniⁿ çagçé taité, á-biamá. Gaⁿ
And to give his back they promised, they say. Your sister you have yours you go shall, said they, they say. And

- aⁿ'ba dūba gīcādaſ tē gēc tatē. Gaⁿ' eēnaⁿ tēdhi xi gaⁿ' aḡaſ tē. Jūcīⁿ day four they pro- when he go shall. And enough arrived when so he went Pawnee named to him homeward thereu
- naⁿ'ba edūbe jūwagē-biamā. Gaⁿ' āgīgēcī tē. Aⁿ'ba gēcēba cūbēiⁿ jaⁿ'- two also went with them, they say. And they passed (the other Day ten three sleep camp) on their way home.
- qti-ēgaⁿ akfi tē. Gaⁿ' Jūcīⁿ-ma jūwagē akfi tē, hiⁿ'bē, utaⁿ' gē, waiiⁿ' 3 about they reached And the Pawnees with them reached when, moccasins, leggings the robe, home (ob.),
- caⁿ'ge cti ēkina waⁿ'i tē, ci gēwakiēaⁿ tē. Ki gaⁿ' edītaⁿ gaⁿ' ſkitācāⁿ tē horse too equally they gave to again they sent them home. And then from that (expl- they lifted one them, time tive) another.
- Gaⁿ' Āgaha-maⁿ'cīⁿ eēnujīngai tēdī tē. Gaⁿ' wahāba cīseⁿ cīetaⁿ'i tē ēdī.
 And Āgaha-man's he was a young it was when. And ears of corn to pull they finished it was man off then.
- Qē cīetaⁿ'i tē, gaqcaⁿ' acaⁿ tē. Gaⁿ' jē wānase-hnaⁿ'i Nūbēcācā kē'di. 6
 To they finished when, migrating they went. And buffalo they sur- regularly Nibran at the bury rounded them
- Ēgīcē dāzēqteī nīaciⁿ'ga d'ūba sigēaⁿ-bikēama, hēgaji. Ēgīcē xi amā
 At length late in the person some they left a trail in a long a great Behold the tents evening line many.
- sakfibaⁿ'waⁿ'cāⁿ tē. Maetein[']ge akū Jūcīⁿ cānkā wēcāⁿ tē. Miⁿ' cāⁿ' hīde-we had them side by side. Rabbit the (sub.) Pawnee the (pl. ob.) found them. Sun the at the
- qteī tē'di, ēgīcē, Maetein[']ge xi amāa ſkimaⁿ'cīⁿ acaⁿ ēde aḡi amāma, ai tē. 9 very when, behold, Rabbit tent to the as a visitor he went but he is coming back, said bottom they say, they.
- Wūh! wūh! ai tē. Nīkaciⁿ'ga amā zaⁿ'aⁿ ēgaⁿ caⁿ'ge amā aⁿ'hā-biamā.
 Wūh! wūh! he said. People the making as horse the fled they say.
 (sub.) an uproar (sub.)
- Paⁿ'ka amā nīkaēqce acaⁿ tē. Maetein[']ge ēdūſhai tē. Jūcīⁿ cānkā gēiⁿ'i Ponka the to chase the foe went. Rabbit joined in it. Pawnee the (pl.) sat
- caⁿ'di ahī tē. Gaⁿ' ēgax iēaⁿ'waⁿ'cāⁿ gaⁿ' ēdīqti ahī xi, ēgīcē cīngai tē. 12 at the they arrived. And around it they placed them so just there they when, behold, there were none.
 arrived
- Nīaciⁿ'ga ſyīnāqcaⁿ tē. Umaⁿ'e iⁿ, hiⁿ'bē, utaⁿ' caⁿ'ge wēkaⁿ'taⁿ aqīⁿ'i People had hid themselves. Provisions carried, moccasins, leggings, horse Lariat they had
- gē' etēwaⁿ, cīonaⁿ'i ēgaⁿ aⁿ'cāi tē hēgaji aⁿ'cīzai tē. Gaⁿ' Waiiⁿ'-quide amā the soever, they dropped as they aban- as a great we took. And Robe-gray the (sub.)
 (pl. ob.) done many
- caⁿ' 3i. Gaⁿ' nīkaciⁿ'ga amā dāhē bēūga unaⁿ sigēc etēwaⁿ wēcā-hūji 15 near camped. And people the hill all hunted trail in the least they found not
- Gaⁿ' aⁿ'gu aⁿ'gaqī'dītaⁿ nīaciⁿ'ga naⁿ'ba ē'di ūwagiēaⁿ ahī tē, wijiⁿ'cē cūi
 And we who moved from man two there to tell them they arrived, my elder his brother tent
- tē'm. Nīaciⁿ'ga d'ūba gūcāndi wēcā-biamā ēgaⁿ, wēuaxiēaⁿ atī-bi ēde sigēc at the. People some in that (place) they found them, as, to attack them they came. but trail
 they say they say
- etēwaⁿ cīngai; umaⁿ'e bēūgaqti wāca-biamā. Ādaⁿ ataⁿ' maⁿ'oniⁿ' tē cētaⁿ 18 in the least there was provisions all they snatched from Therefore when you walk the to that none; them, they say.
- caⁿ'ge cē-ma wūcākīhīde te, ai ācā, u+! Haⁿ' gē' etēwaⁿ wūcākīhīde te, horse those you watch them will, he indeed, halloo! Night the soever you watch them will, says (pl.)
- ai ācā, u+! ā-biamā. Gaⁿ' ē ūwagiēaⁿ ahī-biamā ai anā'aⁿ. Gaⁿ' aⁿ'waⁿ'- he indeed, halloo! said they, And that to tell them they arrived, they I heard. And we sur-says they say they say said rounded nase-hmaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ. Égiçe Caaⁿ d'úba atí amá. Kí é'di anágáhi. Kí the regu- always. At length Dakota some came the (sub.). And there we arrived. And herls lary

Pan'ka amá wanáco wáxai. Wanáco amá níkagahi edábe ukkíai tē.
Punks the (sub.) police made them. Police the (sub.) chief also they talked together.

3 Hau! caⁿ hā, al. Gaⁿ íc-ma ícnaíçai Máwahéga-háji. Gaⁿ Caaⁿ amá Ho! enough they said. And the luffa- they attacked. They shot down a great And Dakota the (sub.) money.

edábe wanáco Waⁿ akí égaⁿ, ckaⁿji gēiⁿ tē'di, égiçe, Caⁿ í cangáçaiⁿ also surrounded the herd. Carrying reached having, motionless they sat when, behold, Yonder riding a horse he comes

wiⁿ hau, al. Égiçe íbahaⁿ-hmaⁿi. Uçá-i-bi é aká hau, al. Atí hā.
one I they said. At length they all know him. Four much the it is I they said. He came mouth into (something)

6 Gaⁿ Waiiⁿ-qúde amawátaⁿ. Çéxe-gaxú aká é'di ahi; ékiçe aké. Aⁿwaⁿ-
And Waiiⁿ-qúde from them. Drum the (sub.) there arrived; the two were related. We surrounded them.

nasai, al Uçá-i-bi aká. Je-núga gēéba-naⁿba kí é'di naⁿba wan'gamsai, rounded said Uçá-i-bi the (sub.). Buffalo bull ten two and there two we surrounded them.

éde éçmaⁿwaⁿçeqtiaⁿi, al. Éde éçmaⁿbaqti-égaⁿ je-núga amá t'éawaçaiⁿ, but we utterly destroyed them, he said. But about seven buffalo bull the (pl. sub.) they killed us.

9 al. Kí Hú-benⁿ amá, Ébc-hmaⁿ í'té, eçégaⁿ égaⁿ, wakan'diçégaⁿ wanáçaiⁿ he said. And Fish-smeller the (sub.). Who only it may be, though, as, impatiently they hear it taité. Náçandaji t'éçai, al. Nan'ge-tiçe t'éçai, al. Naⁿbá-maⁿçaiⁿ t'éçai, al.

shall. Seek-no-refuge is killed, he said. To-run-he-starts is killed, he said. Two-walking is killed, he said.

Múxa-nújiⁿ t'éçai, al. Cínugáhi t'éçai, al. Naⁿba uctai çaiⁿja íjije awá-Stuck in he is killed, he said. Bighead is killed, he said. Two remained though his name I re-obliquely stands

12 siçen-múji hā. Gaí: Çúçaiⁿ gēéba-naⁿba kí é'di naⁿba weúmaxçaiⁿ éde member I not He said Pawnee tens two and there two they attacked us but
as follows:

eçnawaçeqtiaⁿi, al. Gaⁿ niⁿja aⁿwaⁿdaⁿbai, zaiⁿ gimiⁿ, wiⁿectó t'í-búji.
they were utterly destroyed, he said. And alive we saw them, all recovered, even one he died not.

Çúçaiⁿ amá hégaji amégaⁿ wéahidçeti wáçaiⁿ ahí, eçnawaçaiⁿ-biamá. Naⁿbá-Pawnee the a great they were, to a very great they went after them, they exterminated them, they say. By 15 çaiⁿçaiⁿ eñ t'éwaçaiⁿ tē, úkiawataⁿtaⁿ wiⁿáqtei-çaiⁿçaiⁿ wáçaiⁿ wáçaiⁿ açaiⁿ tē.

two too they killed them, one after another by ones killing them they went after them.

Gaⁿ wan'gakiji. Waiiⁿ-qúde-ma wateçgaxe-hmaⁿ enⁿcaⁿ. Wijiⁿçaiⁿ aká
And we came together again. Waiiⁿ-qúde the (pl.) they danced regularly without stopping. My elder brother the (sub.)

puhan'ga wiⁿ t'éçé aká. Gaⁿ waⁿuhçaiⁿ tē:
the first one the one who killed. And song they carried it around:

18 Hi-ai-o-hi+ Hi-ai-o-hi+, Hi-ai-o-hi+, Hi-ai-o-hi+. U-bí-skā

Cê-mu-wâ-çê a-ho, Cûdo-gâxe ijin'ge a'di grîñ ahî-bi egn', áñîñ
 They were exterminated. Cûdo-gâxe his son there carrying she arrived, having, Pawnee tin y say wi' t'çênî kô gahâ átan'kiênâ tê. Cî wi' gahâ átan'kiênâ tê. Nu'ba 3 one he was the upon he cause d him to tread on. Again one upon he caused him to tread on. Two átan'kiênâ tê. Ga' Na'ba-wata' ija'e aên'kiênâ tê.
 he caused him to tread on. And Two-he-trod-on-them his name he caused him to have it.

NOTES.

Sanssouci says that this occurred in the summer, and he thinks that it was earlier than 1855.

378, 6. bêngaqti, pronounced bêng+gaqti by the narrator.

378, 16. egaqti aên akama. He sat between two men, who held him. Each of them had one hand on a knife, to kill him if he stirred.

378, 16. Amaha-néici is another name of Agaha-ma'ñîñ, meaning, "He who is unwilling to share his lodge with another." See "amahe" and "wamahe" in the Dictionary.

379, 7-8. ñi ama sakiba'wa'ñai. The camps of the two parties of Ponkas, the Waiñ-qude and the Hu-bêñ, were placed side by side. The Hu-bêñ chief sent two messengers to Ubiskâ, to put him and the Waiñ-qude on their guard. As the two camps were close together, it was very easy for Nuda'-axa, who belonged to the Hu-bêñ, to hear what the criers proclaimed.

379, 8. Mactênîgo was a brother of Hidiga (Myth-teller), A'haji (Flees not), or áñîñ-wa'u (Pawnee woman) of the Wacabe gens.

379, 16. éji tê'qa—Nuda'-axa; e ñî tê'qa.—Frank La Flèche.

380, 1. Caa' d'aba. These were about forty lodges of Yanktons, with whom the Hu-bêñ camped.

380, 5. Uçai-bi or Ma'ten-kina'papi was a member of the Wajaje or Reptile gens.

380, 7. By "buffalo bulls" he meant the Pawnees.

380, 16. wañgakiji, from wâkiji, refers to the two parties of the same tribe. When two tribes come together again and camp, and then travel together, ákikiji is used.

Sanssouci says that when the Omahas were on the Platte River, in 1855, the Ponkas and Yanktons attacked the Pawnees, some of whom were opposite Fremont, Neb., the others being about five or six miles distant. The former were the áñîñ-mâha and the Pitahawirátâ. Several Omaha messengers were there at the time of the attack. The Omahas had sent word to the Pawnees to come in on a friendly visit. Indé-snede (Long-Face) killed an Omaha Wéji'ete woman who was among the Ponkas; and Black Crow, the head of the Ponka Nîka-dâña gens, was wounded. Two Omahas, Mázi-kide (Shot at a Cedar), and Miká-gega, rushed into the Ponka ranks. The Ponkas questioned them as to the numbers of the Pawnees, and then sent them back, saying, "The Yanktons would like to kill you." Returning, they told the Pawnees that the enemy were few. The Pawnees charged and routed the Ponkas and Yanktons, driving some of them into the Platte River. This was in the fall of 1855, and after Ubi-ská's victory.

TRANSLATION.

The Pawnees warred on us incessantly. And this old man, Agaha-ma^héiⁿ (He walks over them), had a sister who was captured by the Pawnees. And Agaha-ma^héiⁿ wished to see her, and he spoke of dying. Early one morning he was missing. The Pawnees dwelt in a land which was in that direction. He continued passing thitherward. He slept in lonesome places. At length he arrived early one morning. The Pawnees arrested him. "What is your business?" said they. "I have a girl as a near blood-relation, but you have taken her captive. I wish you to tell me where you have killed her. I walk so that the dogs may eat me there," said Agaha-ma^héiⁿ. The Pawnees were astonished. They pressed their hands against their mouths. "Really! he does not fear death," said they. All the Pawnees assembled, Agaha-ma^héiⁿ sitting in the center. They questioned him again, and he answered as before. Said they, "He told the truth." Then addressing him, they said, "Your sister is held by those who are in the village over yonder, down the stream and out of sight. We will give her to you. You shall go thither to-morrow." On the morrow Agaha-ma^héiⁿ went to the other Pawnees, who arrested him when they found him. They carried him at once into a lodge, and then they assembled. They spoke of killing him. The Pawnees whom he met at the first were late in arriving, so he came very near being put to death. There was a contest, as each one wished to be the first to wound him. Just so they were keeping him. And Amaha-néici sat as if unconcerned, with his robe wrapped around him, the ends held by his hands, and with his arms crossed on his breast. One came from the other Pawnees. "Ho! cease that. He has already taken food and drink, and has smoked," said he. They promised to restore his sister to him. "You shall take your sister home," said they. And on the fourth day which they mentioned to him he and his sister were to go home. And when the full time had come, they went home, two Pawnees also going with them. And they passed the other Pawnee camp on their homeward way. In about thirty days they reached home. And when they reached home with the Pawnees, they gave the latter equal numbers of moccasins, leggings, robes, and horses, and sent them home. And from that time the Ponkas and Pawnees hated one another. This was when Agaha-ma^héiⁿ was a young man. It was when they finished pulling off the ears of corn. When they finished burying them in caches, they departed on the hunt. And they surrounded the buffaloes at the Niobrara. At length, late in the evening, a great many persons left a trail in a long line. Then we placed the tents of the two parties of Ponkas side by side. Maeteiŋge (the Rabbit) detected the Pawnees. When the sun was at the very bottom of the sky, behold, they said: "It is said that Maeteiŋge went to the tents as a visitor, but he is coming back." "Wūh! wūh!" said Maeteiŋge. As the people made an uproar the horses fled. The Ponkas went to chase the foe. Maeteiŋge took part in it. They reached the place where the Pawnees dwelt. And when they surrounded them and had arrived just there, behold, the Pawnees were missing.

They had hid themselves. We took a great many of the things which they dropped and left: provisions in packs, moccasins, leggings, lariats. And the Waii^u-qude (Gray-robcs) camped very close. The Pokas searched over all the hills, but they could not find the slightest trail. And two men from our party went to the tent of my elder brother to tell about the affair. He sent out criers who said: "They report that they found some people in that place, and when they went to attack them, there was not even the slightest trail; but they deprived them of all their provisions, etc. So be on your guard and watch your ponies. Watch them even at night." And I heard one say that they had been there to tell it. And we continued surrounding the herds. At length some Dakotas came. And we went thither. And the Pokas made policemen. The policemen and the chiefs talked together. "Ho! That will do," said they. And they attacked the buffaloes. They shot down a great many. And the Dakotas also surrounded them. When they sat still after carrying the meat to the camp, they said: "Yonder comes one on horseback!" At length they recognized him. "It is U^u-bi!" they said. He came from the Waii^u-qude. He reached the tent of Drum, the two being related. "We surrounded the herd. We surrounded twenty-two buffalo bulls, and we utterly destroyed them. But the buffalo bulls wounded about seven of us," said he. And as the Hu-b^u-a (Fish-smelters) thought, "Who can they be?" they were impatient to hear about them. Said he, "Seeks-no-refuge is wounded. Starts-to-run is wounded. Two-Walking is wounded. Standing-with-bent-legs is wounded. Big-head is wounded." Though two remained, I do not remember the names. He said as follows: "Twenty-two Pawnees attacked us, but they were utterly destroyed." And we saw them alive; all recovered, not even one died. As the Pawnees were a great many, they chased them to a great distance before they exterminated them. They killed them by twos; they killed them by ones, one after another, as they went along. And we, the Hu-b^u-a and Waii^u-qude, came together again. The Waii^u-qude danced continually. My elder brother was the first to kill one of the foe. So they passed the song around:

"Hi-af-o-hi+!
 Hi-af-o-hi+!
 Hi-af-o-hi+!
 Hi-af-o-hi+!
 U-bi-skā was he!
 The first one was he!
 He did not send him home to you!
 And they fear us!
 They were exterminated!"

Smoke-Maker's new-born son was carried to the battle-field by an old woman, and was caused to put his feet on two dead Pawnees. Therefore they made him have the name, Trod-on-Two.

OMAHA HISTORICAL TEXTS.

HISTORY OF ICIBAJĽ

OBTAINED FROM JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE.

- Caⁿ n'aciⁿga wiⁿ wa'uⁿ wiⁿ miⁿg'gaⁿ xi, ciⁿgajiⁿga wiⁿaqⁿciⁿ aqⁿiⁿ.
And man one woman one married her when, child only one he had.
Ki n'ujinga aká 'ábaa-baji'-ctéaⁿ, ugácaⁿ-baji'-ctéaⁿ, caⁿ/ edádaⁿ gáxa-baji'-
And boy the(sub.) hunted not at all, he traveled not at all, indeed what he did not 3 ctéaⁿ; wa'uⁿ-hnaⁿqⁿi úqtawáqⁿé úwákiⁿ-hnaⁿ caⁿ/caⁿ. Ki n'aciⁿga áji amú at all; woman only loving them he talked regularly always. And people differ the (pl.)
íqaga fahíde-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ/ biamá; iⁿcte n'ujinga w'éigéaⁿ f'ingéⁿqⁿi égaⁿ.
laughing at him always ridiculed him they say; as it were boy mind without any like fahíde-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ/-biamá. Iéadi aká enáqⁿqⁿéi faⁿ'g'igéqⁿiaⁿ-biamá. Caⁿ/they always ridiculed him they say. His father the he alone pitied his own very much, they say. And 6 n'ujinga nú naⁿ'qⁿi égaⁿ-biamá. Ci man'dé cté f'ingé-hnaⁿ caⁿ/caⁿ-biamá.
boy male fully grown like they say. Again how even he was always without it they say.
Caⁿ/ wapé f'ingé-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ/-biamá. Ki n'ujinga aká jaⁿ-wétiⁿ wiⁿ/ gaxá-Indeed weapon he was always without it they say. And boy the wood to hit one made biamá, baxúxu dúbaba gaxá-biamá. Ki jaⁿ-wétiⁿ ké aqⁿiⁿ'-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ/'- they say, ridges in four places he made it, they say. And war-club the (obj.) he had regularly always 9 biamá. Ki n'aciⁿga amá dá-bá-bi xi, fahíde-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ/'-biamá, jaⁿ-wétiⁿ they say. And people they saw it, they say when, they always ridiculed him they say, war-club aqⁿiⁿ' tē. Ki n'aciⁿga ukít'é uct'é amá nudaⁿ'-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ/'-biamá. And this he had ns. And people nation the rest made war regularly always they say. And ^{and} ^{that} íeibáji nudaⁿ' aqⁿa-baji-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ/'-biamá; íbahaⁿ-baji-biamá. Ci é'igé íeibáji to war never went they say; he knew it not they say. Again at length 12 mácaⁿ naⁿ'ba iⁿ'beziⁿga mácaⁿ waqúbe gaxá-biamá; aqⁿiⁿ' tē ébē ctēwaⁿ' feather two yellow-tailed feather sacred he made them, they he had the who never say; them
íbahaⁿ-baji-biamá; maⁿ'caⁿ/ gaxá-biamá. É'igé n'aciⁿga nudaⁿ' aqⁿé 'íce know it not they say; by stealth he made them, they at length people to war to go spoke naⁿ'i há íeibáji akú. Maⁿ'caⁿ/ ukúkie aká xi, wanaⁿ'a-biamá íeibáji akú. heard it, íeibáji the (sub.) By stealth they were talking when, heard them, they say íeibáji the (sub.).
15 Ki íeibáji aká, É'di bēc tē minké, eé'gaⁿ-biamá. Ki ébē ctēwaⁿ' uíca-
And íeibáji the (sub.), There I go will I was, thought they say. And who never he told him baji-biamá Ihaⁿ' f'inké íí tē'di f'ingé tē xi', mácaⁿ ké g'afázi xi, aqⁿa-not they say. His mother the one lodge at the was not when, feather the he took when, he went biamá. Haⁿ' xi nudaⁿ' f'é gaⁿ'ga f'anká wákíhídeqⁿi maⁿ'éiⁿ-biamá íeibáji they say. Night when to war to go those who wished watching them very walked they say íeibáji cloudy
13 akú. É'igé aⁿ'ba xaⁿ/g'e xi, nudaⁿ' aqⁿa-biamá. Caⁿ/ wéuhide ahi íeibáji the (sub.). At length day near when, to war they went, they And at a distance they when
say. arrived

gēi'-biamá. Gañ'ki ucté amá wi'ŋa'ŋa' ō'di uŋéwi' ahí naji'-biamá;
they sat, they say. And the rest one by one there assembling arriving stood they say;

uŋéwi'ŋiŋá-biamá. Égiŋe nuda'haŋga aká Icibáji ōduŋhai tē ūbaha'-bajithey collected themselves, It happened that war-chief the Icibaji he joined it the did not know it
they say.

biamá. Nuda' amá wañ'giŋēqti uŋéwi' ahí-biamá. Égiŋe Icibáji aká 3 they say. The warriors all assembling arrived, they say. Behold Icibaji the waŋŋona-biamá háciŋa, ugás'ŋa ga'-biamá. Ga' nuda' amá da'bai tē, was manifest they say in the rear, peeping thus they say. And the warriors saw him when, gá-biamá: Nuda'haŋgá! wi' atí há, á-biamá. Ga' nuda'haŋga aká gáthey said as follows, they say: O war-chief! one has come, said they, they say. And war-chief the said as follows (sub.) follows biamá: Níkawasa'! ōbē'nte ūbaha' māŋgēi'ŋi-gá, á-biamá. Ga' wagáŋqā 6 they say: Warriors! who it may be to know it begone ye, he said, they say. And servant

na'ba da'be ahí-bi ŋi'ji, égiŋe, Icibáji aké akáma. Ga' nuda'haŋga two to see arrived, when, behold, Icibaji was the one, they say. And war-chief
they say

ŋiŋkē'di akí-bi ŋi, Nuda'haŋgá! Icibáji aké aká há, á-biamá. Nuda'haŋga by the they when, O war-chief! Icibaji he is the one, said they, they say. War-chief reached again, they say aká gŋēŋqti'-biamá. Níkawasa'! aŋi' gŋi-gá. Wa'ú 'iwaŋŋe mā'ŋi' ŋi, 9 the was very glad they say. Warriors! bring him hither. Woman talking of them he walked when, (sub.)

íŋaŋáŋa mā'hni' tabáŋe, á-biamá. Agŋahí-bi ega' aŋi' akí-biamá. Égiŋe, you laughed at him you walked necessarily, said he, they say. Arrived for him, having they reached there again Behold,
at him

man'dē etē ŋiŋgá-bi, kī hi'bē etē ŋiŋgē akáma Icibáji aká. Ga', Níka-bow even had none, and moccasin even had none, they say Icibaji the And, War-
they say (sub.).

wasá'! hi'bē 'ŋi-gá, á-biamá nuda'haŋga aká. Ga', Cī mā' cti 'ŋi-gá, 12 riors! moccasin gave ye to him said, they say war-chief the (sub.). And, Again arrow too gave ye to him,
to him

á-biamá Níkaci'ga wañ'giŋēqti mā' na'báŋa'ŋa' 'ŋi-biamá, hi'bē wi' said he, they say. Man all arrow two each they gave to him, they say moccasin one edábe ŋa'ŋa' 'ŋi-biamá. Cī ŋaŋaŋ'ge édega' qéga éde gasá-bi ega', also (from) each they gave to him, they say. Again ash-tree but dry but cut down, having,

they say

man'dē giáxa-biamá. Ga' aŋá-biamá Ca' ga' ja'-hna'-biamá. Ga' 15 bow they made for him, So they went, they say. As usual they slept regularly, they say. So cī aŋá-biamá égasáni ŋi. Égiŋe ha' ūhigi ja'-biamá.

again they went, they say the next day when. At length night many they slept, they say.

Égiŋe níkaci'ga wi' íŋa-biamá nuda' amá. Níkaci'ga íŋa-biamá ŋi, At length person one found, they say the warriors. Person they found him, when,
they say

Nuda'haŋgá, níkaci'ga ŋi' ŋé uska'ŋa'ŋi' í ŋi' áŋa! Hau! níkawasa', 18
O war-chief, person the this right in a line with is coming indeed! Ho! warriors.

é aŋgúnai áŋa, aŋgáŋci tai áŋa, á-biamá. Ga' ŋiŋgēŋa'-biamá nuda' amá.
that we seek him indeed, let us kill him indeed, said he, they say. And prepared themselves they say the warriors.

ŋi'a'-biamá, mā'ŋi'ka zī waséŋa' edábe íŋi'a'-biamá. Waséŋa' ubiŋpaŋai
They painted themselves, they say, earth yellow white clay also they painted themselves with, they say. White clay fell as they rubbed it

- gē bahf-hnaⁿ-biamá ĩcibáji aká. Kĩ nudaⁿ-haŋga aká gá-biamá: Égaⁿqti
 (the) picked up, they say ĩcibáji (the) And war-chief (the) said as follows, Just so (ob.) they say:
- ádaⁿ, níkawasaⁿ, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, núdjaⁿ-haŋgá! égaⁿ égaⁿ, á-biamá. Cĩ warrior, said he, they Yes, O war-chief! somewhat like it, said he, they Again
 say.
- 3 nan'ka kē zíkíçá-biamá. Nan'ka kē zian'kíçá-gá, á-biamá. Kĩ nudaⁿ-haŋga back the he made it yellow for Back the make it yellow for said he, they And war-chief (ob.) him, they say. (ob.) me, say.
- aká gá-biamá: Égaⁿqti ádaⁿ, níkawasaⁿ, á-biamá. Aⁿhaⁿ, núdjaⁿ-haŋgá!
 the said as follows, Just so warrior, said he, they Yes, O war-chief!
 (sub.) they say:
- égaⁿ égaⁿ, á-biamá. Kĩ nudaⁿ amá hiⁿbé gē ctē edábe gēlonudá-biamá.
 somewhat like it, said he, they say. And the warriors moccasins the even also pulled off their, they say.
- 6 Kĩ ĩcibáji 'in'kíçá-biamá. ĩcibáji, waiiⁿ wéçagiⁿ-i-gá, á-bi égaⁿ, ĩcibáji
 And ĩcibáji they caused to carry ĩcibáji, robe carry ours for us, said, they having, ĩcibáji
 them, they say.
- 'in'kíçá-biamá. ĩcibáji (aká) gá-biamá: Núdaⁿ-haŋgá! níaciⁿga çin' jaⁿ-bethey caused to carry ĩcibáji (the) said as follows, O war-chief! man (the) I see him them, they say. (sub.) they say:
- onaⁿ ctécte-maⁿ te há, uágasⁿ te há, á-biamá. Égiçe waonhi te há, á-biamá only at any rate I do will, I peep will said he, they Beware you score lest said, they
 say.
- 9 nudaⁿ-haŋga aká. An'kaji, núdaⁿ-haŋgá! jaⁿ-be-hnaⁿ ctécte-maⁿ te há, war-chief the (sub.). Not so, O war-chief! I see him only at any rate I do will, á-biamá. Hau! kégaⁿ, daⁿbá-gá há, á-biamá. Gaⁿ ĩcibáji aká ugásⁿ-isaid he, they Hol! doing so, see him said he, they And ĩcibáji the peeped
 say.
- biamá. Égiçe uhíackáqtei ti çin' níaciⁿga çin'. Kĩ gaⁿ'ki gá-biamá ĩcibáji they say. At length very near was com- man (mv.). And then said as follows, ĩcibáji
 ing they say.
- 12 aká: Núdaⁿ-haŋgá! waⁿ-ecte çétaⁿ atí-maji, á-biamá. Gaⁿ iénaxíçá-biamá the (sub.). O war-chief! even once this far I have not said he, they And attacked him they say (before) come, say.
- ĩcibáji aká. Man'dē aⁿ-çá-biamá, jaⁿ-wétiⁿ síaⁿ-çéçqtei açiⁿ-biamá. Kĩ ĩcibáji the (sub.). Bow he throw away, they say, club barely he had it, they say. And
- níaciⁿga çin' uqçá-bi égaⁿ, jaⁿ-wétiⁿ kē ígaçéfi-biamá. Waçáhide ctéctēwaⁿ man the he overtook, having, club the with it he killed him, They ridicule even if (ob.) they say. (ob.) they say.
- 15 waⁿ-ete çactaⁿ égaⁿ-hnaⁿ i há. Éskaⁿ wiⁿ gawí'aⁿ kaⁿ, á-biamá. Níaciⁿga at some time they stop talking usually Oh that one I do so to you I wish, said he, they say. Man
- ucté amá beúga najíha çizá-biamá, ĩcibáji aká an'kaji há. Gaⁿ agçá-biamá.
 the rest all hair took it, they say, ĩcibáji the was not so And they went home-
 (sub.) say.
- Nudaⁿ amá iíi éçaⁿ-be akí-biamá. Éçaⁿ-be akí-biamá xi, gá-biamá: Níaciⁿga
 The warriors village in sight of reached home, when, they said as fol- Man they say. home, they say. lows, they say:
- 18 wiⁿ-áqtei aⁿ-çáⁿ-naxíçai éde ĩcibáji amá gaçéfi, á-biamá. Gaⁿ iⁿ-çége wiⁿ only one we attacked him but ĩcibáji the killed him, said they, they And old man one (sub.) say.
- íekíçē çéça-biamá. Nudaⁿ amá níaciⁿga wiⁿ-áqtei iénaxíçai édegaⁿ ĩcibáji proclaimed it aloud, they say. The warriors man only one attacked him but ĩcibáji
- wéçagçéfi, á-bi éça u+! á-biamá. Gaⁿ ihaⁿ giná'aⁿ amá. Giná'aⁿ-biamá killed him for they indeed halloo! said he, they And his heard it about her them, say. say. mother own, they say. She heard it about her,
 say.

- ʔi, gá-biamá: Gáama win'kai éi'te, i'ci' da'b éga'-ā hē, á-biamá, éḡṡaṅge when, she said as fol- That one he tells the it may see about mine do said she, they her husband lowa, they say: (mv.) truth be, for me say.
- ɕínké é waká-bi éga". Áqta" win'ke tabáda". ɕahíde amá tē, á-biamá he who that she meant, having. How pos- he tells the shall? They were. Idiculing him, said, they say they say sibilis truth
- nú ak'. Gan'ki ʔi ʔa"haṡtei akí-bi ʔi, Nuda" amá nfaci'ga wi'áṡtei 3
 the And lodge the very border they reached when, The warriors man only one (sub.).
- iénaxíṡai édega" Icibáʔi wégaṡei, á-bi áṡa u+! á-biamá i'c'áge aká. Gan'ki attacked him but Icibáʔi killed him for they indeed halloo! said, they say old man the And (sub.).
- iṡádi aká naji"-bi éga", áci aṡá-biamá. Áci aṡá-bi ʔi, win'kai tē íbaha"- his the stood, they having, out he went, they say. Ont he went, when, he told the the knew it father (sub.) say truth
- biamá iṡádi aká. Gan'ki iṡádi aká caṅ'ge-má etē ca" ʔi tē bḡgaṡti 6 they say his father the. And his father the the horses even indeed lodge the everything (sub.).
- íkine-wákiṡá-biamá. Gan'ki Icibáʔi amá ga" ma'ṡi"-biamá. Éḡṡe nuda" to acram- made them they say. And Icibáʔi the so walked they say. At length to war ble for (sub.).
- aṡá-biamá. Nuda" aṡá-bi, éḡṡe ci nfaci'ga dúbá í-ma wéṡa-biamá. Ci they went, they To war they say, at length again man four those they found them, Again say. coming they say.
- wénaxíṡá-bi ʔi, ci Icibáʔi amá wagí'aṡá-bi éga", nfaci'ga dúbá ɕaṅká 9
 they attacked them, when, again Icibáʔi tee left them, they say having, man four the ones
 they say (sub.).
- waṅ'ḡṡḡṡti wáṡṡi-biamá. Ga" ci akí-bi ʔi, gá-biamá: Nfaci'ga dúbá all he killed them, they And again they reached when, they said as fol- Man four
 say. home, they say lowa, they say:
- wea"naxíṡai éde Icibáʔi amá gaṡṡi há, á-biamá. Ga" i'c'áge wi" íékiṡḡ we attacked them but Icibáʔi the killed said they, they And old man one pro-(sub.) say. claimed it
- éṡṡa-biamá. Nuda" amá nfaci'ga dúbá wénaxíṡai édega" Icibáʔi wégaṡei, 12 aloud they say. The warriors man four they attacked but Icibáʔi killed them them for them,
- á-bi áṡa u+! á-biamá. Ga" éga"-hna" nuda" ahí-bi ʔi, nfaci'ga wáṡṡithey indeed halloo! said he, they And so usually on the war. they ar- when, man he killed say. say. path rived, they say them
- hna" ca"ca"-biamá, caṅ'ge etí wáṡi" akí-hna"-biamá.
 regularly always they say, horse too having he reached home regularly, they say.
- Kí iṡádi aká min'ḡṡa" ágají-biamá. Nisíha, min'ḡṡa" égan-gá. Kí 15
 And his father the to take a wife commanded him, My child, do take a wife. And (sub.). they say.
- uṡí'age-hna"-biamá Icibáʔi aká. Éḡṡe wa'ú ḡṡá"-biamá Icibáʔi aká.
 was unwilling regularly: they Icibáʔi the (sub.). At length woman married, they say Icibáʔi the.
 say
- ḡṡá"-bi ʔi, Icibáʔi aká wa'ú ɕínké ja" a"ha-báʔi-hna" ca"ca"-biamá.
 He married when, Icibáʔi the woman the (ob.) lay not on her regularly always they say.
 her, they say (sub.).
- Áḡudi etéte ha" ʔi, ja"-hna"-biamá. Kí iṡádi aká gá-biamá: Nisíha, 18
 In what soever night when, he slept usually, they say. And his father the said as follows, My child, Place (sub.) they say:
- wa'ú wagṡá" ʔi, ja" wa'a"he-hna"i há. Ja" a"hcgaṅ-gá. Pṡáʔi ckáxe, woman they marry when, they lie on them usually Do lie on her. Bad you do,
 them
- á-biamá. Gan'ki iṡádi aká éḡṡa"-hna" ca"ca"qtia"-biamá. Éḡṡe Icibáʔi said he, they And his father the said it to him always they say. At length Icibáʔi (sub.) regularly

- aká ámaka-bají-biamá i'c'ágo cínké. Ga' ha' xí, wa'ú cínké ja'a'há-the got out of patience with, old man the (ob.). And night when, woman the (ob.) he lay on her (sub.) they say.
- biamá. A'ba xí, ca' dáha-báji-hna' ca'ca'qti kí wa'ú cínké ja'a'he-
 Day when, still he rose not regularly always and woman the (ob.) he lay on her
 they say.
- 3 hna' ca'ca'qtia'-biamá. Kí wa'ú ké dáha' ga' ca-bi ca'ja, ícibáji aká regularly always very they say. And woman the to arise wished, they though, ícibáji aká (sub.) say (trcl.) the (sub.)
- uqí'agá-biamá. Kí í epá amá waha' aqá-bi etéwa', ca' dáha-bají-biamá.
 was unwilling, they say. And lodge his the removing they went, notwith- yet he arose not they say.
 (sub.) they say standing.
- ázéqtei xí'etě, waha' ahí-hna'-biamá. Cí éga' ha' xí ja'-biamá. Égiqē Late in the even removing he arrived usually, they Again so night when he lay, they say. Behold, evening when, say.
- 6 ha'ega'tes'qtei ukít'ě áji d'úba wénaxiqa'-biamá. Íqádi aká, dáha' very early in the morning nation different some they attacked them, they say. His father the, Do égan-gá. We'naxiqaí há. Ca' ícibáji aká ía-báji ja'-biamá. Égiqē arise. We are attacked Yet ícibáji the speaking not lay, they say. At length
 (sub.) say
- uhíackáqtei atí-biamá xí, égiqē, ícibáji e+! águdi oninkéinté! wáqē piáji'qti very near they had come, when, behold, ícibáji Oh! in what you who are may keeper very bad they say place be
- 9 abci' éde égiqē céama i'da'be taí hě, á-biamá wa'ú wi' aká. Hú tē
 I have but beware these see for me lest said, they say woman one the. Voice the na'a'-bi xí, dáha'-bi éga', wéti' ké gqíza-biamá. Ga' é'di aqá-biamá.
 he heard when, arose, they having, club the he took his, they And there he went, they they say say (ob.) say.
- Ga' ukít'ě-ma uha-biamá xí, wáqē-hna'-biamá ícibáji aká. Ukít'ě
 And the nations he joined, they say when, killed them regularly, they ícibáji the (enemy) say (sub.) Enemy
- 12 héga'tewa'ji wáqē-biamá, ca' wa'giqē. Níaci'ga wacúce na'bá-biamá.
 a great many he killed them, they say, in fact all. Man brave two they say.
- Wi' Unáhe íjaje aqí' aká, Ha'ga-biamá. ícibáji aká uka'-biamá. Wacúce
 One Unáhe his name he had it, a Hanga they say. ícibáji the helped him, they say. Bravery
- tě ékiga'qtia'-biamá. Ga' ícibáji [aká] ta'wángqā' epá amá qtáqē-the they were just alike, they say. And ícibáji [he who] nation his the (sub.) loved him very
- 15 qtia'-biamá.
 dearly, they say.
- Égiqē ei nuda' aqá-biamá xí, níaci'ga wi' wacúceqti éinte júqā-
 At length again to war they went, they when, man one very brave it may be was with say him
- biamá. Jexúja' íjaje aqí' aká, xa'za-biamá. Kí aqá-bi xí, gqéga'-biamá they say. Jexúja' his name he had it, a xa'ze they say. And they went, when, thought thus, they say
 they say
- 18 akiwa: Wi'a'wa nán'de qa' átaqti a'qí' éda', eéga'-biamá. Égiqē ta'- both: Which one heart the very much we are (in thought) they thought, they say. At length vil(ob.) more
- wángqā' héga'tewa'ji édi-qa' amá. É'di ahí-biamá. Ga' é'di ahí-bi xí, large very populous was there they say. There they arrived, they And there they ar- when, say rived, they
 say
- gá-biamá: Níkawasa', qagqē tai há, á-biamá; uqé amá é waká-bi éga'.
 Warriors, you go will said they, they remain- the that meant it, they having.
 they said as fol- lowa, they say; der (pl.) say
- 21 Wéahide ma'ngqí'i-gá, á-biamá. Ga' waga'qā' amá agqá-biamá. Ga'
 To a distance begone ye, said they, they And servant the went homeward, they And say. say. (pl.) say.

- Lexújaⁿ, Ícibáji eçaⁿ'ba, Ē'di aṅgáḡe te, á-biamá, nān'de íxídhahⁿ gaⁿ'á-bi Lexújaⁿ, Ícibáji he too, There let us go, said they, they heart to know their they wished, they say
- egaⁿ'. Ē'di ahi-bi xi, égaxe xfi çaⁿ snaⁿ'snaⁿ'qtiaⁿ' amá. xi xan'ge ahi-bi became. There they ar- when, around village the very level they say. Village near they ar- rived, they say
- xi, égiḡe, nfaciⁿ'ga amá banan'ge-kidá-biamá. Ákié'qti najiⁿ'-biamá. Kí 3 when, behold, men the (sub.) shot at the rolling hoops, they say. In a great crowd they stood, they say. And
- miⁿ'cumaⁿ'cítiaⁿ'-biamá. Gaⁿ', Eátaⁿ aⁿ'ḡiⁿ xi, Ē'di aṅgáhi tédaⁿ, á-biamá it was just noon they say. And, How we be If, there we reach shall said, they say
- Lexújaⁿ aká. Kí Ícibáji aka gá-biamá: Kagéha, wahi céḡaⁿ nackí ḡaⁿ Lexújaⁿ the (sub.). And Ícibáji the said as follows, Friend, bone this head the (ob.)
- aṅgúḡaⁿ té, á-biamá, je-sin'de-ḡá'á wahi ská'qti édedí-ḡaⁿ é waká-bi egaⁿ'. 6 let us put in, said he, they buffalo-pelvis bone very white the ones that meant, they having.
- Gaⁿ' miⁿ'de Ē'di aḡá-biamá. Caⁿ' gēḡegaⁿ'-hnaⁿ'-biamá: Hindá! wiⁿ'a'wa And crawling there they went, they say. Yet they thought only they say: Let us see! which one thus
- naⁿ'a'pe tédaⁿ, eḡḡaⁿ'-hnaⁿ'-biamá. Gaⁿ'ki nfaciⁿ'ga banan'ge-kíde amá we fear soon danger will! they thought only they say. And man shot at rolling hoops the (sub.)
- wahi wiⁿ' daⁿ'bá-bi xi, égiḡe, uhiackáqtei tiḡaⁿ' wahi çaⁿ. Gá-biamá: 9 bone one they looked at, when, behold, very close had be- bone the. One said as follows, they say:
- Kagéha, wahi céḡaⁿ wéahídeaqti çaⁿ'cti, á-biamá. Kí wiⁿ' gá-biamá:
Friend, bone this at a very great distance heretofore, said he, they And one said as follows, they say:
- Kagéha, Ē'di caⁿ'caⁿ, a-biamá. Égiḡe gaⁿ'te-jin'ga xi, égiḡe, uhiackáqtei Friend, there always, said he, they say. At length a while little when, behold, very close
- tiḡaⁿ' wahi çaⁿ. Kagéha, wahi céḡaⁿ wéahíde ece çaⁿ'cti, uhiackáqtei tí há, 12 became bone the. Friend, bone this at a distance you heretofore, very close it has come
- á-biamá. Kí Lexújaⁿ aká gá-biamá: Weábahaⁿ'i. Wéḡai há, á-biamá.
said he, they And Lexújaⁿ the (sub.) said as follows, they say: They know us. They have detected us. said he, they say.
- Gaⁿ' Ícibáji aká gá-biamá: Caⁿ', á-biamá. Gaⁿ' Lexújaⁿ aká, Ahaú! á-bi
And Ícibáji the said as follows, Enough, said he, they And Lexújaⁿ the (sub.), Oh! said, they say
- egaⁿ', wahi aⁿ'ça céḡa-biamá, wénaxiḡá-biamá, banan'ge-kíde ḡaⁿká. Gaⁿ' 15 having, bone they throw far they say, they attacked they say, shot at rolling hoops those who. And
- akíḡaha wiⁿ' gaḡéⁿ-biamá, banan'ge-kíde ḡaⁿká. Gaⁿ' aḡḡá-biamá. Gaⁿ' both one they killed him, shot at rolling hoops those who. And they went home- ward, they say. And
- ukít'e amá: Naⁿ'baqtiaⁿ'i! aⁿ'waⁿ'ḡiḡe tai há, á-biamá. Wáḡiḡe waḡiⁿ' aḡáenemy the (sub.): They are only two! let us chase them said they, they Chasing them they went with them
- biamá. Égiḡe wéahíde'qti waḡiⁿ' ahi-bi xi'ji, utḡe ubáazá-biamá. Utḡe 18 they say. At length at a very great distance they carried them, when, thicket scared them into, they Thicket
- cúgaqti égiha áiaḡa-biamá Lexújaⁿ aká Ícibáji eçaⁿ'ba. Gaⁿ' wáḡi'á-biamá very dense headlong had gone they say Lexújaⁿ the (sub.) Ícibáji he too. And they failed with them, they say
- ukít'e amá. Gaⁿ' égaⁿ'-hnaⁿ caⁿ'caⁿ'qtiaⁿ'-biamá akiwa.
enemy the (sub.). And so regu- continually they say both.

NOTES.

The exact meaning of Icibajl is uncertain: it may mean, "He to whom they do not give any wages." This is still a sacred name in the ɬe-sɬude gens, being borne by a son of the present head of the gens.

384, 7. ja^a-wetl^a. This was about two feet long, and four inches in diameter.

385, 4. ga^a-biama, in this way. The narrator said this when he imitated the action.

386, 3. nañka kē zikiñ-biama. He made his back like that of the sparrow-hawk.

386, 7-8. ja^a-be-ona^a ctecte ma^a te hā, in ɬoiwere, "atā-ona qeñ^a hau^a tó," I wish to see him at any rate; but "ja^a-be te-hua^a cte ma^a te hā," in ɬoiwere, "atā xī tányi hau^a tó," I cannot do anything else, I must see him at all events.—Sanssouci.

387, 7. ikinewakiñ-biama. The father of Icibajl was so proud of his son's success that he let the people scramble for the possession of all his property, as well as for his ponies. Chips were thrown into the air, each representing a piece of property. Whoever caught the chip as it descended, won the article. There were other adventures of the two, but I have not preserved them in Çegiha. Only one of these was gained and written in English, and it occurred after the adventures given here in the text. Mothers used to scare their children, telling them that Icibajl or ɬexuja^a would catch them if they did not behave.

TRANSLATION.

A man took a wife and had one child. The boy did not hunt at all, he did not travel at all; indeed, he did nothing at all; as he was fond of the women, he was always talking to them. The people laughed at him and derided him as a boy without any sense. The father was the only one who spared him. He became a man; but he had no bow, and he was without any other weapons. The boy made a four-sided club, which he always had with him. When the people saw it, they always laughed at it. And hostile nations were continually going on the war-path; but this Icibajl never went, as he knew nothing about it. At length he made sacred two quill-feathers of a sparrow-hawk. He did this secretly. No one knew that he had them. At length Icibajl heard the men speak of going on the war-path. When they were talking to each other by stealth, Icibajl overheard them. And he thought, "I will go thither." But he did not tell it to any one at all. When his mother was not at the lodge, he took his quill-feathers and departed. When it was night Icibajl walked, watching very closely those who desired to go on the war-path. At length when day was near, they went on the war-path. And when they arrived some distance from the village, they sat down. And the rest assembling, one by one, came and stood; they assembled themselves. It happened that the war-chief did not know that Icibajl had joined the party. All of the warriors arrived. At length Icibajl was visible at the rear, peeping thus. And the warriors said as follows: "O war-chief! one has come." And the war-chief said as follows: "O warriors! begone and see who it is." And when two servants went to see, behold, it was Icibajl. And when they returned to the war-chief, they said, "O war-chief! Icibajl is the one." The war-chief was very glad. "O warriors! bring him hither. When he walked talking about the women, you were bound to laugh at him; but now it is otherwise." They went for him and brought him back. Behold, he had no bow, and he was destitute even of moccasins. "O warriors! give him moccasins and arrows too," said the war-chief. All the warriors gave him arrows, two from each. They also gave him moccasins, one pair from each man. They cut down a dry ash tree, and made a bow for him. So they departed. They slept regularly as usual, and when it was the next day they departed again. At length they had slept many nights.

At length the warriors detected a man. When they detected the man, they said, "O war-chief! a man is indeed coming right in a line with our course." "Ho! warriors, he is indeed the one whom we seek. Let us kill him!" And the warriors prepared themselves; they painted themselves; they painted themselves with yellow earth and white clay. Icibaji picked up all the pieces of white clay which fell as they rubbed it on themselves. And the war-chief said as follows: "Does it have to be just this way, O warrior?" "Yes, O war-chief! somewhat like it," said Icibaji. And he made his back yellow for him. "Make my back yellow," said Icibaji. And the war-chief said as follows: "Does it have to be just so, warrior?" "Yes, O war-chief! somewhat like it," said Icibaji. And the warriors pulled off their leggings and moccasins also. And they made Icibaji carry them. "Icibaji, carry them for us," said they; and they made him carry them. Icibaji said as follows: "O war-chief! I wish to see the man at any rate." "Beware lest you scare him off!" said the war-chief. "No, O war-chief! I wish to see him at any rate," said Icibaji. "Ho! Do so and look at him," said the war-chief. And Icibaji peeped at him. At length the man had come very near. And then Icibaji said as follows: "O war-chief! not even once hitherto have I come this distance." And Icibaji attacked him. He threw away the bow, having only the club. And having overtaken the man, he killed him with the club. "Even though men ride one, they usually stop it at some time. I wish that I could serve some one of you in that way," said he to the others. All the other warriors took parts of the scalp; but Icibaji did not. So they went homeward. When the warriors came again in sight of the village, they said as follows: "We attacked a man, and Icibaji killed him." And an old man proclaimed it aloud: "The warriors attacked a man, but Icibaji killed him for them, they say, indeed, halloo!" And the mother of Icibaji heard it. When she heard it, she said as follows, addressing her husband: "Do see for me whether that one tells the truth." "How is it possible for him to tell the truth? They were ridiculing him," said the husband. And when they had reached the very border of the encampment, the old man said, "The warriors attacked a man, but Icibaji did indeed kill him for them, halloo!" And the father having seen the doors. When the father got out, he knew that they told the truth. And the father told the people to scramble for his horses, and, in fact, for everything in his lodge. Icibaji continued so. At length they went on the war-path. When they went on the path, behold, they discovered four men approaching. Again when they attacked them, Icibaji left his comrades behind, and killed all four of the men. And again when they reached home they said as follows: "We attacked four men, but Icibaji killed them." And an old man proclaimed it aloud. "The warriors attacked four men, but Icibaji killed them for them, they say, indeed, halloo!" And it was usually so when they reached any place when they were on the war-path: he always killed the men, and also brought back horses.

And his father commanded him to marry. "My child, do take a wife." And Icibaji was unwilling for some time. At length Icibaji took a woman. When he married her, Icibaji never lay with the woman. In what place soever he was when night came, there he usually slept. And his father said as follows: "My child, when they marry women, they usually lie with them. Do lie with her. You do wrong." And his father was saying it to him incessantly. At length Icibaji got out of patience with the old man. And when it was night, he lay with the woman. When it was day still he did not rise; he continued to lie with the woman without intermission. And though the woman wished to rise, Icibaji was unwilling. And notwithstanding their lodges removed and departed, he did not rise. When it was very late in the evening he usually reached them. Again when it was night, so he lay. Behold, very early in the morning, some men belonging to different hostile tribes attacked them. His father said: "Do arise. We are attacked." Yet Icibaji lay without speaking. At length when they had come very near, behold, a woman said, "Oh! Icibaji, in what place can you be? I have a very bad captor. Beware lest he see my parts which should not be seen!" When he heard her voice, he arose and took his club. And he went thither. When he joined the foe, Icibaji was killing them. He killed a great many of the enemy; in fact, all. The brave men were two. One was named Unahe, a member of the Hañga gens. Icibaji helped him. They were equally brave. And his nation loved Icibaji very dearly.

At length, when they went again on the war-path, one very brave man went with him. Jexuja^a was his name, and he was a member of the Kansas gens. And as they went, each one thought thus: "Which one of us has the best heart?" At length a very populous village was there. They arrived at it. And when they arrived there, they addressed the rest of the party, saying as follows: "Warriors, you will go homeward. Begone ye to a distance." And the servants went homeward. And Jexuja^a and Icibaji said, "Let us go thither," because they wished to know their own hearts. When they arrived there, it was very level around the village. When they were close to the village, behold, the men were playing the game banañge-kide (shooting at rolling hoops). They were standing in a great crowd. And it was just at noon. And Jexuja^a said to himself, "How shall we be when we go thither?" And Icibaji said as follows: "Friend, let us put our heads in these bones," referring to the very white buffalo pelvis bones that lay there. And having put them on, they went crawling. Yet each one thought thus: "Let me see! which one of us will fear danger when he sees it?" And when the men who played banañge-kide looked at one of the bones, behold, the bone had become very near. And one said as follows: "Friend, this bone was at a very great distance heretofore." And another said as follows: "Friend, it was always there." At length after a little while, behold, it had become very close. "Friend, you said heretofore that this bone was at a distance. It has come very close," said one. And Jexuja^a said as follows: "They recognize us. They have detected us." And Icibaji said as follows: "It is enough." And when Jexuja^a said, "Oho!" they threw away the bones, and attacked those who played banañge-kide. And each of them killed one of the players. And they went homeward. And the enemy said, "They are only two! Let us chase them." They went along in pursuit of them. At length the two carried their pursuers to a very great distance. And the pursuers scared the two into a thicket. Jexuja^a and Icibaji had gone headlong into a very dense thicket. And the enemy failed to do anything to them. And both were so continually.

THE STORY OF WABASKAHA.

TOLD BY JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE.

- Taⁿwaⁿ-ni ké'di gəiⁿ-biamá Umaⁿhaⁿ amá. Égiçe ǵáčiⁿ nudaⁿ atf-bi Village water by the sat they say Omahas the (sub.) At length Pawnees to war came, they say
- egaⁿ, caⁿ'ge d'úba wáčiⁿ agəiⁿ-biamá. Kí nfaciⁿga eǵá aká nfaciⁿga ǵábčiⁿ having, horse some they took homeward, they say. And man their he who man three
- júwageá-bi egaⁿ, siggé ké wíúhe aǵá-biamá, caⁿ'ge wáčiⁿ aǵáí ké siggé ké. 3 with them, they having, trail the following he went, they horse having they the trail the. say (ob.) them say, them went
- Nfaciⁿga wíúhe aǵé aká, Wábaskáha ijáje aǵiⁿ-biamá. Aǵá-bi egaⁿ, Man following them went the (sub.), Wabaskaha his name had they say. Went, they having, say
- wateǵka wiⁿ, Republican ijáje-ǵadaí, kí ǵáčiⁿ amá Kíǵaǵáda ijáje-ǵadaí stream one, Republican his name they call it, and Pawnees the (sub.) Kíǵaǵáda his name they call it
- ké, é'di ahiⁿ-biamá. É'di ǵáčiⁿ amá é'di taⁿwaⁿ gəiⁿ-biamá. É'di wáčiⁿ 6 the there they arrived, There Pawnees the there village sat they say. There having (ob.), they say, (pl. sub.) them
- akí-biamá caⁿ'ge-ma. Gaⁿ' médaⁿ amá. Gaⁿ' é'di ahiⁿ-bi egaⁿ, jí uǵá-they reached the horses (ob.). And during the they arrived, lodge they entered luma, they say say, spring say, they say
- biamá. Hau. T'éwaǵé gaⁿǵá-biamá ǵáčiⁿ amá Umaⁿhaⁿ ǵaⁿká. Kí ǵáčiⁿ they say. ¶ To kill them wished they say Pawnees the (sub.) Omahas the (ob.). And Pawnees
- amá ucté amá t'éwaǵé gaⁿǵa-baji-biamá. Kí níkagahi jí uǵáí aká íe 9 the (sub.) the roat to kill them did not wish they say. And chief lodge they the one he entered it who spoke
- etəwaⁿ-baji-biamá. Gaⁿ, T'éwaǵé gaⁿǵai jí'etə t'éwaǵé taité, eǵégaⁿ égaⁿ, at all not they say. And, To kill them they wish even if they kill them ahaí, he thought as,
- íə-baji-biamá. Égiçe níkagahi igáǵaⁿ aká ní agíǵaⁿ-biamá. Aǵiⁿ agəiⁿ-bi he not they say. At length chief his wife the water went for they say. She brought it back, they say spoke (sub.) they say
- ǵí, Umaⁿhaⁿ ǵaⁿká ní té wa'í-biamá. Gaⁿ'kí ǵá hǵbe ǵíǵá-bi egaⁿ, iúǵaⁿ. 12 when, Omahas the (ob.) water the she gave them, And dried pieces she took, having, to put in the mouth they say, they say, (ob.) they say, meat they say
- wákiǵá-biamá, ní'ǵa wégaⁿǵá-bi egaⁿ, wa'ú aká. Hau. Waǵáta-bi ǵí, gá-she caused them, they to live she desired for because, woman the ¶ They ate, they say when, said as follows say, them, they say (sub.),
- biamá níkagahi aká: Ké! caⁿ'gaxá-ba áci maⁿǵeⁿ'i-gá. Ní'ǵa wégaⁿǵégaⁿ they say chief the Come! cease ye and out begone ye. To live she wished for them, as (sub.):
- waǵátewákiǵé, á-biamá. Bǵúǵaⁿti áci agəá-biamá. Gaⁿ' wékuⁿ-hnaⁿ. 15
 she caused them to eat, said he, they All out went they say. And invited regu- them larly say, say, say, them
- biamá ǵáčiⁿ amá Umaⁿhaⁿ ǵaⁿká. Kí nfaciⁿga wiⁿ wékuⁿ-biamá, ǵáčiⁿ they say Pawnees the (sub.) Omahas the (ob.). And man one invited them, they say, Pawnees

394 THE OGEHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- wahéha-bají'qti-bi éí'te, Umaⁿ'haⁿ éanká wéku-biamá. Kí uqpe tē jín'- very stout-hearted, they say it may be, Omaha the (ob.) he invited them, they say. And dish the far
- gactéwaⁿ'jī améde hiⁿ'béin'ge síáⁿ'éé'qti ugpiqti wéku-biamá. Jáⁿ'í aká from small they were, but beans alone very full he invited them, Pawnee the (sub.) they say.
- 3 jaⁿ-wétíⁿ wiⁿ' aⁿ'éiⁿ' akáma. Onásniⁿ'i xī, gákē íwígáqēi tai minké. Cí club one was keeping, they say. Ye devour it it, that (ob.) I kill you with will I who. Again oní'ai xī'etē, gákē íwígáqēi tai minké, á-biamá. Égiⁿ'e éasniⁿ'-biamá; ye fall to even if, that (ob.) I kill you with will I who, said he, they At length they swallowed it, they say;
do it
- ínandéqtiáⁿ'-bi caⁿ' éasniⁿ'-biamá. Gaqéí-bají-biamá. Caⁿ' há. Onásniⁿ, they were satiated, yet they swallowed it, He did not kill they say. Enough You have, they say. they say. swallowed it, the (ob.)
- 6 á-biamá. Kí égasáni xī, úwakiá-biamá Jáⁿ'í amá Umaⁿ'haⁿ éanká:
he said, they say. And the next day when, talked to them, they say Pawnees the (sub.) Omaha the (ob.):
- Kagéha, can'ge éanká wúqagéé éatí éaⁿ'ja, wúqagééoniⁿ éagéá-bají taité, Friends, horses the (ob.) you have come for though, then you have, your you go not shall, them, your own own homeward
- á-biamá. T'aⁿ' xī, wúqagéé éatí te, á-biamá. Kí t'aⁿ' xī, éatí xī, maqúde said they, they Harvest when, you come for them, will, said they, they And harvest when, you when, gunpowder come they say. your own say.
- 9 d'úba wééaoniⁿ éatí tai. á-biamá. Gaⁿ', Aⁿ'haⁿ, égimaⁿ tá minké, á-biamá some you have for you will, said they, they And, Yes, I do that will I who, said, they say us come say.
- Wábaskáha aká. Agéá-biamá. Agéá-biamá xī, xagé-hnaⁿ caⁿ'caⁿ'qtiaⁿ'- Wabaskaha the (sub.). They went homeward, They went home- when, crying regularly all the time they say. they say. ward, they say
- biamá Wábaskáha aká. Wakan'da éinké gíja xagé-hnaⁿ-biamá. Han!
they say Wabaskaha the (sub.). Deity the (ob.) asking a he cried regu- they say. Ho! favor of larly
- 12 Wakan'da, ukít'é éanká aⁿ'éíjuáji éaⁿ'ja, iⁿ'wiⁿ'éakaⁿ kaⁿ' ebéégaⁿ, á-biamá Wakanda, foreigners they who ill-treated me though, you help me I hope I think, said he, they say xagé-onaⁿ'-bi éan'di. Gaⁿ' Jáⁿ'í-ma wákiéa gaⁿ'éá-biamá Wábaskáha aká.
crying regu- they when And the Pawnees to take ven- wished they say Wabaskaha the (sub.), larly say (past). gence on them
- Égiⁿ'e haⁿ' xī ísadi akí-biamá. Xagé agéá-biamá, xī éan'di akí-bi xī.
At length night when at the they reached Crying he went homeward, vil- at the he reached when, lodges home, they say. they say, lage home, they say
- 15 Kí xagé gégé tē íbahaⁿ'-biamá, níaciⁿ'ga bégúga na'aⁿ'-biamá. Gáⁿ'éi can'go
And crying he went the they know it, they people all heard it they say. That one horse homeward say.
- wígúhe éíⁿ gí éde, xagé gí há, á-biamá. Xagé-bi té'di, Wakan'da éinké he who was follow- is com- but crying he is said they, they He cried, they when, Deity the (ob.) ing his ing back, coming say.
- éahaⁿ' xagé-biamá. Gaⁿ'ki níaciⁿ'ga íbahaⁿ'-biamá, nudaⁿ' gaⁿ'éa xagé té.
imploing he cried, they say. And people knew it they say, to war wishing crying the. him
- 18 Uⁿ'áji éaⁿ'ja, caⁿ' íbahaⁿ'-biamá. Gaⁿ' níaciⁿ'ga bégúgaqti é'di ahí-bi égaⁿ', he told though, yet they knew it, they And people all there arrived, having, they say int say
- éútaⁿ xagé tē na'aⁿ' gaⁿ'éá-biamá. Gaⁿ' ugéá-biamá Wábaskáha aká. É'di why he cried the to hear it they wished, they And told his they say Wabaskaha the (sub.). There say.
- pí éaⁿ'ja, can'ge éanká iⁿ'í-báji. Aⁿ'éina t'éawáéa-baⁿ'éiⁿ, á-biamá. Kí
I ar- though, horse the (ob.) they did not give me mine. They came near killing us, said he, they And rived say.

- t'a' xī, maqúde i'nai há. Maqúde i'n'fín tí-gā há, á-biamá fāfī' amá, harvest when, gunpowder they asked of me Gunpowder having come thou said, they say fāwao the (sub.),
- á-biamá. Bēúgaqti níaci'ga amá Wábaskáha fā'eñ-bi ogn', gíça-bajī-said he, they say. All people the (sub.) Wabaskaha pitied him, they say. having, they were said
- biamá. Égasáni xī, níaci'ga bēúgaqti ué'winxiçá-biamá. Níkagahi amá, 3 they say. The next day when, men all assembled themselves, they say. Chief the,
- wahéhaji amá eti, ca' bēúgaqti ué'winxiçá-biamá. Kí nínfa wi' ujī-stout-hearted the 'too, in fact all assembled themselves, they say. And pipe one they filled
- biamá. Ga' Wábaskáha aká níaci'ga bēúgaqti wáçistubá-biamá, úqpi they say. And Wabaskaha the (sub.) men all spread his hands before them, they say. crown of head
- gē wábit'á-biamá. Gá-biamá: fā'eñ'gíçá-gā há. Edáda' i'n'fín'fāwao'ga' 6 the he pressed on them, they say. He said as follows, they say. Pity ye me What you decide for me
- xī, éga'qti ingáxai-gā há, á-biamá. Ga' níkagahi aká nínfa waqúbe if, just so do ye for me said he, they say. And chief the (sub.) pipe merced
- gáxai kē ujī-biamá. Ga' gá-biamá: Nínfa gáke, fāfī' wán'gákíça taíte they made the filled they say. And he said as follows, they say. Pipe that (ob.), fāwao we take vengeance shall on them
- fānabi' i xī, fānái-gā há. Uóní'agaf xī, fānái-bajī-gā há, á-biamá. Ga' 9 ye are willing if, put ye the pipe to your lips Ye are unwilling if, do not put the pipe to your lips said he, they say. And
- fānái-biamá; níaci'ga bēúgaqti i'n'-biamá. Gá-biamá níkagahi aká: Ké!
they put it to their lips, they say. men all smoked it, they say. Said as follows, chief the (sub.): Come!
- afáha, fāgíça' i-gā. Ata' xī wán'gákíça taíte, fāgíça' i-gā. Kí wi' gáfinally, decide ye. How long when we take vengeance shall, decide ye. And one said as follows
- biamá: Núda'hañgá, nugé fē-ona' a'wa'fate taf. Wakan'da çínké eti 12 they say: O war-chief, summer this only we eat will. Deity the (ob.) too
- a'fáha' taf, uma'çinka fē-hna'. T'a' xī, wán'gákíça taf, á-biamá. Ga' 13 we pray to will, season this only. Harvest when, we take vengeance will, said he, they say. And
- níaci'ga dúbá nuda'hañgá-biamá; xagé-hna' ca'ca'-biamá; a'ba gé' etē man four war-chief they say; they regularly always they say; day the even
- ha' gé' etē xagé-hna' ca'ca'-biamá. Wakan'da, fā'eñ'gíçá-gā. Awáji'etē 15 night the even they regularly always they say. Wakanda, pity me. I am in a bad humor
- tē i'win'kañ-gū, Wakan'da, é-hna' ca'ca'qtia'-biamá. Gañ'ki nugé xī, the help me, Wakanda, he said regularly always they say. And summer when,
- gaqça' aqá-bi xī, xagé-hna' ca'ca'-biamá. Níaci'ga dúbá a'ba gē waçáta-migrating they went when, they regularly always they say. Man four day the they ate (pl.)
- báji, ní etē çata'-báji-hna'-biamá. Ha' xī, ní çata'-bi-dé waçáta-hna'- 18 not water too they drank not regularly they say. Night when, water they they while they ate usually
- biamá. Égíçe t'a' xī, agéç-biamá tu'wa' fān'di. Haul ké, ca' há. Angá-they say. At length harvest when, they came back, village to the. Ho! come, enough. Let
- çe taf, á-biamá. Ga' aqá-biamá gacibe. Ha'ega'tcē'qtei nuda' aqá-biamá us go, said they, they say. And they went, they out of it. Very early in the morn- to war they went, they say

- nú amá b'fúgaqtí Áfá-bí xí, 'égíe, Caa' d'úba ʒí ɕán'dí ahf-biamá;
males the all. They went when, behold, Dakotas some village at the arrived, they say; (sub.) all. they say
- Uma'ha' ʒí ɕa' níni' ɕé'í' ahf-biamá. Déɕa' bá-biamá. Nuda' b'fúgaqtí Omaha village the tobacco they brought to they say. Seven they say. To war all
- 3 a'w'baɕé áíáɕéi tē ɕatí, á-biamá. Caa' aká qáɕa agə́-á-búʒí, nuda' amadí to-day have gone when you said they, Dakotas the back did not go home, to those who went to war
have come, they say. (sub.) again
- ə́é 'íɕa-biamá. Gú-biamá: Ucté amá atí ʒí, úwə́ɕagóná tál há, á-biamá, to go they spoke of. They said as fol- The rest they when, you tell them will said they, they say;
lowers, they say: lowers, they say: come
- Caa' é wawaká-bí ega'w. Ga' Caa' amá déɕa'ba amá Uma'ha'-má Dakotas that meant them, they say having. And Dakotas the seven the the Omahas
- 6 wíúthe aɕí-biamá nuda'w. tē. Áfá-bí ega'w 'égíe ɕáɕín ʒí ɕán'dí ahf-biamá following went they say on the when. They went, having at length Pawnee village at the arrived, they say them war-path they say
- Uma'ha' amá nuɕ'w tē. ʒí ʒa'ha k'édí ahf-biamá a'w'ba ʒan'ge ʒí.
Omahas the on the when. Village border by the they arrived, day near when.
(sub.) war-path they say
- Wénaxíɕa ɕa'á-bí ega'w, ʒí ʒa'ha k'édí nají'w-biamá. Égíe wénaxíɕa
To attack desired, they having, village border by the they stood, they say. At length they attacked
they say
- 9 biamá a'w'ba ʒí, ɕáɕín-má. Kí ɕáɕín amá Uma'ha'-má wada'ba-biamá they say day when, The Pawnees. And Pawnees the the Omahas saw them they say
- wénaxíɕai tē. ɕáɕín amá, Wú! wénaxíɕai ɕa'w'ja, ʒa'zai tē há. ʒúuci they attacked when. Pawnees the (sub.), Why! they have attacked though, they are Kansas Frequent them explosions
- éga'w-dé ga'w gə́é tá amá, á-biamá. Égíe ʒí ɕán'dí ahf-bí ega'w, 'égíe they make at length they will go away, said they, they say. At length village by the arrived, having, behold, 'égíe
they say
- 12 Uma'ha'-máma. Wébaha'w-biamá Uma'ha'-má. Ga' wákiɕa-biamá.
they were Omahas moving. They knew them, they say the Omahas. And they contended with them, they say.
- Wákiɕa-biamá ɕa'w'ja, akɕa t'ékiɕe-hna'w-biamá: ɕáɕín-má ɕtí t'éwaɕe-hna'w-
They fought them, though, both they killed one another, regu- The Pawnees too they killed them regularly, they say: larly
- biamá, Uma'ha'-má ɕtí t'éwaɕe-hna'w-biamá. Égíe ʒí ɕa'w' ubisand'g'teí they say, the Omahas too they killed them regularly, they say. At length village the pressing very close upon
- 15 ahf-biamá. Égíe ʒí ɕán'dí ahf-bí ega'w, 'égíe ma'-fí gē. Ma'-fí gē they arrived. At length village by the arrived, having, behold, lodges of the (pl.). Lodges of the (pl.)
they say earth (the) earth (the)
- ba'ú-bí-dé usc'-hna'w-biamá. ɕáɕín ʒí wí'w ba'ú-bí-dé ɕáɕín amá na'w'te they pushed holes in, they say, while they say. Pawnee lodge one they pushed holes Pawnees in, they say, while the inside
(sub.)
- unáɕín amá áci a'w'ha aɕá-bí-dé, ɕí ʒí wédaɕaɕá ahf-hna'w-biamá. ɕáɕín stood in the out fleeing they went, they again lodge elsewhere they reached regularly, Pawnees
(sub.) they say
- 18 áhigí múwah'egabají-biamá. Kí ʒí dʒúbaqtí úgacá-biamá, ɕáɕín cē-many they shot down many of them, And lodges very few remained they say, Pawnees they were
they say
- nawaɕá-bí ega'w. Ga' can'ge-má ɕtí b'fúgaqtí wénacá-biamá ɕáɕín-má.
exterminated, because. And the horses too all they took from them, The Pawnees.
they say
- Ga' Caa' déɕa'ba nuda'w wíúthe hí ɕankú ɕtí zaní t'éwaɕa-biamá.
And Dakotas seven to war following arrived the ones who too all they killed them, they say
- 21 ʒaxé-ɕa'w'ba níga' ɕtí t'éɕa-biamá.
Crow Two his grand- too they killed him, they say;
father they say

NOTES.

This story refers to events which occurred about a hundred years ago. Two Crows, the grandson of one of the characters, is now over fifty years of age.

393, 1. Ta^awa^a-ni, Village-stream. The Omahas call two streams by this name, because they camped near them. The Ta^awa^a-ni of this story, Omaha Creek, is one of their old camping-grounds, according to Half-a-Day, the tribal historian.

393, 1. ȝaŋi^a. These were the Republican Pawnees whom the Omahas call Zizika-ákíŋisi^a (Joseph La Flèche), or Zizika-ákisi (Sanssouci). They may be a Turkey gens.

393, 11. níkagani igaŋŋa^a aka, etc. This custom was observed by the Pawnees, Omahas, and Ponkas. Even if foes ate with them, they became relations, whom it was wrong to kill. A mouthful of food, a drink of water, or a whiff from a pipe, sufficed to establish the relationship.

394, 2. Sanssouci adds: neje-ni ȝataŋkiŋai, "he was caused to drink urine," which was mixed with the beans.

394, 4. ȝni^ai. This should be ȝná^ai, from ȝa^a, to fail in eating or drinking all.

396, 2. ȝeŋa^aba-biama. Seven is a sacred number in the Omaha and Ponka gentile system, and it is the number of the original gentes of the Dakotas. See references to this in the other historical papers in this volume.

TRANSLATION.

The Omahas dwelt on Omaha Creek. It happened that a war-party of Pawnees carried off some of their horses. The owner of the horses took three men and followed their trail. The man who went following them was named Wabaskaha. Having departed, they arrived at the Republican River, which the Pawnees call Kíŋaŋda. The Pawnees dwelt there in villages, to which they had taken the stolen horses. It was during the spring. Having arrived there, they entered a lodge. Some of the Pawnees wished to kill the Omahas, but the rest did not wish to kill them. The chief whose lodge they had entered did not speak at all. As he thought, "If they wish to kill them, they will surely kill them," he did not speak at all. At length the chief's wife went for water. When she brought it back, she gave the water to the Omahas. Taking pieces of dried buffalo meat, the woman made them put them in their mouths, as she wished them to live. When they had eaten, the chief said as follows: "Come, cease ye and go outside. As she wished them to live, she caused them to eat." Every one of them went out and homeward. And the Pawnees were continually inviting the Omahas to feasts. One man, a very brave Pawnee, invited the Omahas to a feast. And he invited them to eat from dishes which were very large and filled very full of beans alone. The Pawnee had a club. Said he, "If you swallow the food, I will kill you with that; and if you fail to eat all, I will kill you with that." At length they swallowed it; they were satiated, yet they swallowed it. He did not kill any one. "Enough. You have swallowed it," said he. On the morrow the Pawnees talked with the Omahas: "Friends, though you have come hither for your horses, you shall not take them back with you. You can come for them in the early fall. And in the fall you must bring us some powder when you come." And Wabaskaha said, "Yes, I will do that."

The Omahas went homeward. As they went homeward, Wabaskaha was crying continually. He was crying and asking a favor of the deity. "Ho! Wakanda, though the foreigners have ill-treated me, I hope that you may help me," he said when he cried. And Wabaskaha wished to take vengeance on the Pawnees.

At length, when it was night, he and his comrades reached their own village. When they reached their own village, he went crying to his lodge. And they knew that he went away crying; all the people heard him. "That one who was following his horses is coming back, but he is coming crying," said they. When he cried, he cried in prayer to the deity. And the people knew that it was the crying of one who wished to go on the war-path. He did not tell it, yet they knew it. And all the people went thither, as they wished to know why he was crying. And Wabaskaha told his story. "I went thither; but they did not restore my horses to me. We came very near being killed. And they asked me for gunpowder in the fall. The Pawnees said, 'Bring us gunpowder when you come.'" All of the people pitied Wabaskaha; they were sorrowful. The next day the chiefs, the braves, and, in fact, all the people, assembled. They filled a pipe. And Wabaskaha stretched out his hands in supplication towards the people; he touched their heads, and said as follows: "Pity ye me. Do for me just what you decide as to my case." And the chief took the sacred pipe and filled it. He said as follows: "If ye are willing for us to take vengeance on the Pawnees, put ye that pipe to your lips; and if ye are not willing, do not put that to your lips." And every man put the pipe to his lips, and smoked it. And the chief said, "Come! Make a final decision. Decide when we shall take vengeance on them." And one said as follows: "O war-chief, let us eat only this summer. Let us pray to the deity too, only this season. Let us take vengeance on them in the early fall." And four men were the war-chiefs; they were continually crying: by day and by night they were continually crying. They continued saying, "Wakanda, pity me. Help me in that about which I am in a bad humor." And when they went on the hunt in the summer, they were always crying. The four men did not eat during the days; water, too, they did not drink. When it was night they used to drink water and eat.

At length they came back to their village, here on Omaha Creek. "Ho! Come, it is enough. Let us go," said they. And they went out of the village. Very early in the morning all the men went on the war-path. When they went, behold, some Dakotas came to the village; they came with tobacco to the Omaha village. They were seven. "You have come to-day when every one has gone on the war-path," said those who remained in the village. The Dakotas did not go back to their land. They spoke of going to those who had gone on the war-path. They said as follows: "When the rest come, you will please tell them." They referred to the Dakotas. And the seven Dakotas departed, following the Omahas who had gone on the war-path. The Omaha war party having gone, arrived at length at the Pawnee village. They arrived at the outskirts of the village when day was near. Having desired to attack them, they stood at the outskirts of the village. At length, when it was day, they attacked the Pawnees. The Pawnees said, "Really! though we are attacked, they are Kansas. After firing a number of shots, they will go homeward." At length, having reached the village, behold, they were Omahas. And the Pawnees knew the Omahas. They contended with them. Though they fought them, they killed some on each side: some Pawnees were killed, and some Omahas were killed. At length the Omahas pressed very close upon the lodges. At length when they arrived at the village, behold, the lodges were of earth. Thrusting holes through the earth-lodges, they were setting them afire. When one Pawnee lodge had holes thrust through it, the Pawnees standing inside went out and fled, going to a lodge elsewhere. A great many Pawnees were shot down. And as the Pawnees were almost exterminated, very few lodges were left after the slaughter. They deprived the Pawnees of every horse. And all the seven Dakotas who followed the war-party were killed. Two Crows' grandfather was also killed.

THE FIRST BATTLE BETWEEN THE OMAHAS AND THE PONKAS AFTER THE DEATH OF BLACK BIRD.

RELATED BY A^{PA}-LAŅGA.

Díxe égaⁿ-biamá. Hégaŷi t'á-biamá. Gáqqaⁿ aqai tē hā qé uné.
 Small-pox they were so, they Not a few they died, they Migrating they went, buffalo to say. say. hunt.

Pañ'ka amádi ahi-biamá. Jé wáqatai tē Pañ'ka amá. Kí qé-ma cétaⁿ Ponkas at the they arrived, they Buffalo ate them Ponkas the (sub.). And these that far
 say.

díxe ⁿ'teaⁿ giniⁿ' tē naⁿpéhi tē Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá; uxíqéi'age égaⁿ maⁿ'ciⁿ'i tē. 3 small- now recovered when were hungry Omahas the (sub.); indisposed somewhat they walked.
 -pox

Aⁿ'waⁿ'qate tai-égaⁿ cañgáqai, á-biamá Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá. Í-bajji-gā, á-biamá
 We eat in order that we go to you, said, they say Omahas the (sub.). Do not come, said, they say
 say.

Pañ'ka amá. Díxe wáqaaⁿ'hne tai. Nā! caⁿ' aⁿ'waⁿ'qatai ŷi, añgáqi tai Ponkas the (sub.). Small-pox you will leave with us. Paha! at any rate we eat when, we will be coming back

uqéé, á-biamá Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá. Ėdi aqá-biamá. Í-bajji-gā há, á-biamá 6 soon, said, they say Omahas the (sub.). There they went, they say. Do not come! said, they say Pañ'ka amá. Wakídi 'qai-biamá. Kí Umaⁿ'haⁿ aká djúba ahi-biamá.

 Ponkas the (sub.). To shoot they threatened, And Omahas the (col. sub.) a few arrived, they say.

Díxe cti wakéga áhiqi weat'ai Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá. Pañ'ka-má wakéga-báji Small-pox too sick many died to us Omahas the (sub.). The Ponkas sick not ú-t'aⁿ aⁿ'té tai, á-biamá Pañ'ka amá. Ké, maqúde wapé aqáqaiⁿ í tai. 9 wounds we die will, said, they say Ponkas the (sub.). Come, gunpowder weapons having let them having there come.

Uqá mañgqiⁿ'i-gā, á-biamá. Ú-t'aⁿ aⁿ'té tabacé, á-biamá Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá.
 To tell begone ye, said they, they Having wounds we must die, said, they say Omahas the
 it say. (sub.).

Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá é'di aqá-biamá Pañ'ka ŷi qaiⁿ'di. (Xáciqti-égaⁿ iⁿ'c'age aká Omahas the (sub.) there went they say Ponka village to the. (A long time ago old man the
 say.)

uqai.) A-i-bi qaiⁿ'ja wákiqá-biamá. Jí kē' etē é'di égaⁿ wáca-biamá; 12 told it.) They ap- though they attacked them, Lodges the even directly they deprived them they say. they say. (ob.) of, they say;

edádaⁿ aqaiⁿ'i gē giaⁿ'qai-biamá, bēúgaqi. Múwahegabaji-biamá. Djúbaqtei what they had the they abandoned theirs, everything. They shot down many of them, Very few (pl.) they say, they say, umúcta-biamá Pañ'ka amá Umaⁿ'haⁿ-hébe améde gí amá; niníba aqaiⁿ' remained from shooting, Ponkas the Omaha part he was, but he was return- pipe having they say. (sub.) ing;

- xībaqqa agī amá; majaⁿ údaⁿ gáxe aqīⁿ gī amá. Bateſje í amá. Iqaⁿface to face he was they land good to make having he was they Forcing his he was com- Had coming say; it coming say, way in ing, they say.
- ckaſá-biamá Umaⁿhaⁿ aká. Umaⁿhaⁿ aká gá-biamá: Ijaⁿekáha, ɸagſí tē, him for a nephew, Omaha the (sub.), Omaha the said as follows, Sister's son, you have as, they say (sub.), they say: come back
- 3 caⁿ hā, á-biamá. Naⁿbé wábaha ɸé amá xī, Umaⁿhaⁿ aká ninſba uſiⁿ enough said he, they Hand motioning he they when, Omaha the pipe having say, went say (sub.)
- gī taⁿ manⁿdehi ſjahá-bi egaⁿ, t'ɸéa biamá. Cī caⁿ ákikíɸa maⁿɸiⁿ-biamá.
 he who spear thrust at having, he killed him, they Again still fighting one they walked, they say.
 came with, they say say.
- Égiɸe Pañⁿka wiⁿ í amá. Ké, cénawaɸáɸe onáí. Canⁿgaxái-gā, á-biamá.
 At length Ponka one was they Come, you are going to destroy us. Cease ye, said he, they coming say.
- 6 Caⁿekaxe te, al aɸa! á-biamá iⁿcáge íekíɸe aká. Ninſba háci ti taⁿ é
 You are to cease, he says indeed! said, they say old man erier the (sub.), Pipe later he who that
 say.
- inaⁿctaⁿ-biamá. Canⁿgaxái-biamá. Pañⁿka dǵúbaqteí uctaⁿ-biamá.
 they stopped for, they say. They ceased they say. Ponkas a very few remained, they say.

(The following is a version of the latter part of the above paper, which was dictated in 1881 by Frank La Flèche, who obtained it from Aⁿba-hebe, the general historian of the Omahas, a man who is over eighty years of age, and older than Aⁿpaⁿ-jaſga:)

- Pañⁿka amádi Umaⁿhaⁿ-hébe wiⁿ maⁿɸiⁿí tē. Kī Umaⁿhaⁿ amá ſi Ponkas by the Omaha part one he walked. And Omahas the (pl.) were coming
- 9 tē wanáⁿ-bi xī, Íwakiɸa-bajǵi-gā. Wakídaí-gā, á-biamá. Kī Umaⁿhaⁿ the he heard them, when, Cause ye them not to be coming. Shoot at them, he said, they And Omahas
 they say.
- amá gínáⁿí tē. Kī wákiɸaí tēⁿdi Pañⁿka-má 'ágɸawáɸaí tē. Gañⁿkī the (sub.) heard it of him. And they fought when Ponkas the (ob.) they made them suffer. And (sub.)
- Pañⁿka amá xībaqqa ninſba aqīⁿ a-ſi tē. Kī Umaⁿhaⁿ amá gáí tē:
 Ponkas the face to face pipe having were coming. And Omahas the (sub.) said as fol-(sub.) lows:
- 12 Umaⁿhaⁿ-hébe ɸínkē, iǵáje ɸadaí tē, é waɸáⁿii tēdǵhi xī, múaⁿɸíctaⁿ taſte, Omaha part he who, his name they called it, that you give to it occurs when, we finish shooting shall,
- al. Kī uſíⁿagaí tē Pañⁿka amá Cī píqti Umaⁿhaⁿ amá wákiɸaí tē. Kī they And refused Ponkas the (sub.). Again anew Omahas the (sub.) fought them. And
 say.
- wasísigē-qtiáⁿí ɸé Umaⁿhaⁿ-hébe Pañⁿka amádi úɸiqē maⁿɸiⁿ amá. Kī active very this Omaha part Ponkas by the a refugee he walked the one And
 who.
- 15 ijaⁿeka eǵá-qti amá ágikipaí tē. Kī ijaⁿeka ɸiⁿ nañⁿgipá-biamá. Kī his sister's his real the (mv. sub.) he met his. And his sister's the he feared to see his, they And son (sub.) say.
- wahaⁿai tē. Aniⁿja kaⁿɸēa. ɸáⁿeanⁿgíɸa-gā, al tē ɸíⁿ-ɸja, ɸáⁿeaⁿɸaɸ-he prayed to him. I live I wish. Pity me, your relation, he said. You, on the have you pitied other hand, me
- ádaⁿ, al tē ijaⁿeka aká. Gañⁿkī manⁿdehi ſjahá-biamá. Kúsandéⁿqti iɸaⁿ-
 I said his sister's the (sub.). And spear he pierced him with, Through and through he
 they say.
- 18 ɸaí tē. Cī Pañⁿka níní uǵí aqīⁿ a-í amá Umaⁿhaⁿ-mádi. Kī canⁿgaxai tē.
 placed him. Again Ponkas tobacco put in having were they Omahas to them. And they ceased.
 coming say

NOTES.

399, 13. muwahegabaji-biama. There was a strong emphasis on the first syllable when the story was told.

399, 13. djubaqtei, pronounced dju+baqtei by the narrator.

400, 7. ina^ueta^a-biama. This refers to moving to and fro of the combatants who were on foot.

TRANSLATION OF A^uPA^u-LAŅGA'S VERSION.

The Omahas had the small-pox, and many died. They migrated, and went on the buffalo hunt. They arrived at the place where the Ponkas were. The Ponkas ate buffalo meat. And these Omahas, who had now recovered from the small-pox, were hungry, and so they were indisposed to make any exertions. "We go to you that you may eat," said they. "Do not come. You will give us the small-pox," said the Ponkas. "Psha! we will eat at any rate, and we shall soon be coming back," said the Omahas. They went thither. "Do not come," said the Ponkas, who threatened to shoot at them. And a few of the Omahas arrived there. Many of our Omahas had died from the small-pox. "Let us Ponkas die from wounds, when we are not sick. Come! Begone and tell them they can come with powder and weapons," said the Ponkas. "We must die from wounds," said the Omahas. The Omahas went to the Ponka village. (The old man told it a very long time ago.) When the Omahas approached, they attacked the Ponkas. Immediately they made the Ponkas abandon even the lodges which were there, and the Ponkas left all of their possessions. The Omahas shot down a great many of them. A very few Ponkas survived. A half-Omaha was coming back to us, forcing his way through the ranks of the combatants, and bringing a pipe. He was coming to make peace. An Omaha had him as a sister's son. The Omaha said as follows: "Sister's son, it is well that you have come home." When the Ponka extended his hand, as if to give it to him, the Omaha thrust a spear at the one who brought the pipe, and killed him. And still they continued fighting one another. At length a Ponka was approaching. "Come! you are going to destroy us. Cease it," said he. "He says, indeed, that you are to cease!" said the old man who was the crier. They stopped, owing to the act of him who came afterwards with the pipe. They ceased. A very few Ponkas remained.

TRANSLATION OF A^uBA-HEBE'S VERSION.

One who was half-Omaha dwelt with the Ponkas. And when he heard that the Omahas were approaching, he said to the Ponkas, "Do not let them come. Shoot at them." The Omahas heard about him. And when they fought the Ponkas, they made the latter suffer. And the Ponkas were coming to them, face to face, bringing a pipe. And the Omahas said as follows: "When you give us the half-Omaha," calling his name, "we shall stop shooting." But the Ponkas refused. And the Omahas fought them again. And he who continued as a refugee among the Ponkas, this half-Omaha, was very active. And his own sister's son met him during the fight. And he feared to see his sister's son. He prayed to him: "I wish to live. Pity me." "Have you, on the other hand, pitied me?" said his sister's son. And the latter pierced him with a spear, laying him on the ground, pierced through and through. Again the Ponkas were bringing a pipe to the Omahas. They ceased.

ʔaⁿla a-f-jaⁿ-ma maⁿ wiⁿ čidaⁿ ččə-biamá. Čétaⁿ ugáhanačáze amá.
 border those who ap- arrow one he sent away by they say. So far darkness they say.
 pronounced and lay pulling (the bow)
 Maⁿ kē wačəŋaⁿ amá Wackaⁿ ákigčəŋi atf-hnaⁿ-biamá, jiji. Li ʔuⁿla Arrow the not visible they say. To do his commencing they came, they say, this Lodgo border say. heat one another pering.
 kē ecaⁿqteci a-f-jaⁿ-biamá, bispé. Égičə aⁿba aká ugaⁿba amá. Maⁿ wiⁿ 3 the very near to they approached and crouch- At length day the gave light they say. Arrow one
 ing.
 čidaⁿ ččə-biamá. Wačəŋa. Ččē wačúbe kē dubaⁿ ágaizai tē waⁿiⁿbaⁿ-he sent away by they say. It was visible. This sacred thing the four times he bran- when he gave the pulling (the bow) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) dashed it attacking cry towards biamá. Dubaⁿ tē baⁿ-bi ʔi, hau! kida-biamá. Wákičə-bi égaⁿ, wapé they say. Four times the he called, when, well! kida-biamá. They shot at it. They contended with having, weapon
 they say. they say gčəŋe-ma Čáčiⁿ-má jaⁿtē-má etí, eaⁿeaⁿ wáči-biamá. Waⁿma etí waté 6 those who took the Pawnees those sound too, without they killed them, The women too clothing their asleep stopping they say.
 nušáčiⁿ naⁿčúde-hnaⁿ-biamá; haⁿégaⁿtee čábaⁿ waté gčəŋa-hnaⁿi tē. Li naked slipped off regularly they say; morning they arose clothing they failed to fasten Lodges as they ran regularly.
 kē wáče wáčiⁿ-biamá; ákusande wáčiⁿ-biamá Čáčiⁿ-má. Iyidehiⁿhiⁿqti the making they had them, through and they had them, the Pawnees (ob.). Just like pillows on (line of) them they say; beyond they say one another abandon t'čəwəčə-biamá, wapé gisčə-báŋi egaⁿ. Čiqčə égiⁿ ičə-biamá, ábaaze. 9 they killed them, weapons they did not because. Čanes heading they went, they were they say, remember
 Átacaⁿ graⁿ ūha-biamá. Li čaⁿ čí ugíčəazá-biamá. Édliⁿ ʔi, wapé Beyond that no they passed, they Village to the again they scared them into their, They when, weapons arrived there gčəŋai tē Čáčiⁿ amá. Édliⁿ ʔi, t'čəwəčə-hnaⁿi Umaⁿlaⁿ má. Djúba uméte took their Pawnees the (sub.). At that when, they killed them the Omahas (ob.). A few remained the time regularly from shooting ahli tē, wáŋiⁿ-pibáŋi Čáčiⁿ-má. Áhigi t'čikičəi. Čəwəwəčə égičə t'čə- 12 they when, in a bad humor the Pawnees. Many they killed Čəwəwəčə at length killed him arrived one another.
 biamá, Čáčiⁿ amá. Čəwəwəčə t'čəi, ai, ačə+. Caⁿckaxe taí, ai, ačə+, they say, Pawnees the (sub.). Čəwəwəčə is killed, he says, indeed. Enough you do will, he says, indeed, á-biamá. Caⁿgaxá-biamá. Caⁿ caⁿge, ūha, wačəte gčəbaⁿqti, wenáče said he, they say. They ceased, they say. Yet horse, tent-skin, food all, snatching
 from them
 t'í agí-biamá.
 car- they were coming rying home, they say.

NOTES

This fight occurred when the father of Aⁿpaⁿ-ŋaiga was a boy.

402, 2. nudaⁿhaŋga, etc. Čəwəwəčə was the leader of the seven scouts.

402, 14. wačəŋe, a kind of war-club, with an iron point on one side of the lower end, and a ball of wood on the other. There are two kinds. The club, with the exception of the iron point, is made of some kind of very hard wood.

402, 14. pi čaⁿ. As the Pawnees do not camp in a circle, this is probably intended for "ji kē."

403, 2. akigčəŋi. Aŋigčəŋi—Frank La Flèche. So he makes uŋigčəⁿ, instead of ukigčəⁿ, 402, 14.

403, 8. iyidehiⁿhiⁿqti, a verb from iyidehiⁿ, which is derived from the noun ibehiⁿ, a pillow.

TRANSLATION.

All of the Omahas went on the war-path. Seven went as scouts. The leader of the party was Cačewačč, of the Black-shoulder gens. "O war-chief," said he, "go ye and tell that seven lodges are there." And they came from the main body of the Omahas. "O war-chief," said they, addressing Cačewačč, "we have come to obtain a correct account." He caused them not to see the lodges. "Come! begone ye and tell it. The lodges are seven. Hasten ye," said Cačewačč. The main body came. They went thither by night. They desired to approach very near to the foe. The scouts had not yet told those with them that the foes were many; the Omahas hid it from their party. They arrived just there. Behold, the smoke-holes formed a long black line in the distance; they were a great many. "O war chief, though they are many, we have already come. Let us contend with them at any rate," said one of the other war-chiefs. Just at the outskirts of the lodges they went crawling; they went crawling by twenties, each one holding the hand of the man next to him. They went creeping up on them, not uttering a sound. They pushed themselves forward with their feet, moving somewhat like frogs in leaping. A war-chief named Gia^ha-bi had a sacred bag. He used a wéaqčade as a weapon; he made it a sacred thing and used it. He did so four times towards the lodges; he brandished it towards them. Four times he untied the medicine which he had made sacred. He caused the wind to send it off to the place; he made the wind waft the o^rlor towards the lodges. When the medicine arrived at the place, it made the Pawnees forget their warlike temper; it made them forget the weapons. One of those who approached the outskirts of the village and lay there, pulled his bow and sent an arrow with all his might. It was still dark, and the arrow was not visible. They continued coming and commanding one another to make every effort, speaking in whispers. They approached very near to the outskirts of the village, and lay there crouching. At length the day gave light. Gia^ha-bi pulled his bow, sending an arrow with force, and it was visible. He waved the sacred bag four times, and gave the attacking cry. When he had called four times, lo! they shot at the village. They contended with the Pawnees. They killed some of the Pawnees as they were seizing their weapons, and the others who were still sound asleep. The women, too, were in a nude condition, because they had not been able to fasten their garments when they arose so early in the morning, and as they ran, their clothing slipped off them. The Omahas made the Pawnees abandon their lodges; they took them far beyond the village when chasing them. As the Pawnees had forgotten their weapons, they were killed till they resembled many pillows lying on one another here and there, and in great heaps. They were scared into the canes. Still they passed beyond. The Omahas scared them again into their village. At that time the Pawnees seized their weapons; and then they killed the Omahas. When a few of the Pawnees who remained after the shooting arrived there, they were in a desperate mood. Those on each side killed many of their opponents. At length the Pawnees killed Cačewačč. "He says, indeed, that Cačewačč has been killed. He says, indeed, that you are to cease fighting," said the crier. They ceased. The Omahas captured all the horses, tent-skins, and food, which they brought home.

THE SECOND FIGHT WITH THE PONKAS.

RELATED BY A^{pa}-LAŋGA.

Ákikiŋ-biamá. Umaⁿ/haⁿ amá eti gaqqaⁿ aqá-biamá, Pañ'ka amá eti
 Two tribes came together, Omahas the too moving in a went, they say, Ponkas the too they say. (sub.) body gaqqaⁿ aqá-biamá, Ni-ubáqqa ké'ia. Jéga kiyaⁿ/ba-bi egaⁿ, wategaxá-moving in a went, they say, Niobrara at the. New they saw one because, they danced body biamá. Pañ'ka wiⁿ wanác utiⁿ-biamá. Pañ'ka wiⁿ wanáca-biamá. Útiⁿ 3 they say. Ponka one as a police- hit him, they say. Ponka one was a policeman, they hit man say.
 amá ákikiŋ-biamá. Pañ'ka amá éwaⁿ gaⁿ, Umaⁿ/haⁿ amá wénaxiŋ-biamá.
 they contended they say. The Ponkas being the as, Omahas the attacked them they say.
 who together cause (sub.)
 Jí kē, cañ'ge eti, edádaⁿ aqíⁿi, caⁿ bēúgaqti wáca-biamá. Cí waqístube Lodge the ponkas too, what they had, in fact all they made them Again to spread the (col.), abandon, they say. hands before them agí-biamá xíbaqqa. Kí Wacúce iŋádi aká Pañ'ka amá ahi-bi egaⁿ, náqce 6 they were com- face to face. And Wacúce his the Ponka at the arrived, having, a captive ing, they say (sub.) they say qizai tē. Cí waqístube aqíⁿ a-i-biamá Umaⁿ/haⁿ ɕaŋkája. Gaⁿ majaⁿ he was taken. Again to spread the having they were com- Omahas to the. And land hands before them him ing, they say údaⁿ gaxá-biamá.
 good they made it, they
 say.

NOTE.

A^{pa}-juŋga said that this occurred before his birth, i. e., before 1830. Wacúce was an old man when he died in 1878; and it was his father, Gahige-juŋga, who was captured by the Ponkas at the beginning of this battle. Gahige-juŋga was then very young: A^{pa}-juŋga said that it occurred when the former was a "cenujuŋga-qtei," a very young man; Sanssouci said that Gahige-juŋga was a small boy. He was playing on the side of the Ponka camp at the commencement of the fight, and so was captured by the Ponkas. The messengers brought a pipe as well as Gahige-juŋga, who was restored to his people.

TRANSLATION.

The Omahas and Ponkas came together, and traveled together when going on the hunt along the Niobrara River. They danced because they saw one another anew after a separation. A Ponka, who acted as a policeman, hit an Omaha. The Ponka was a policeman. They who struck contended together. The Ponkas being the cause, the Omahas attacked them, forcing them to abandon their lodges, ponies, and, in fact, all which they had. And the Ponkas were coming with their faces towards our people, to petition to them. And the father of Wacúce having arrived at the Ponka camp, he was taken captive. And they were bringing him to the Omahas to petition for peace. And they made peace.

BATTLE BETWEEN THE OMAHAS AND THE DAKOTAS.

DICTATED BY A^oPA^o-LASGA.

- A^ojin'ga tē'di jé wanáse újawaqti gēi'i tē Uma^o'ha^o amá. Égiçe Me small when buffalo surrounding them very pleas- sat Omahas the (sub.). At length
 antly
- nuda^o ačé-bi, ai awána'a^o, Caa^o' ta^o'waŋčə^o dčə^o'baha, hčgabaji. ǂǂǂǂ^o to war went, they I heard them, Dakotas tribe in seven places, not a few. Pawnee
- 3 wákičə ahfi tē, ukít'čə íbčə^oqti agfi tē, u'čə^o agfi tē bajčə amá. Ki d'úba to contend they arrived, foe very full of they were scatter- they were gentes the And some with them coming back, ing coming back (sub.).
- uhé čəwačəi agfi amá wačəte ga^o'čəi, wačəte 'čə^o-biamá Uma^o'ha^o gač^o they passed directly they who re- food they desired, food they spoke of, Omahas turning toward us, when on turned to us they say, aside
- hfi tē čəbčə^oqti-čə^o. T'čəwačə-báji ga^o'čəi tē, wanáé úti^o tē. Wapč wékičə-arrived about three. Not to kill them they desired, they hit them as soldiers. Weapons they did not
- 6 báji; čččəta^o-ma čəwačə^oi tē, Uma^o'ha^o wakíčə-biamá. Wákičəi tē Uma^o'ha^o shot at those from this they brought it on Omahas shot at them, they say. Contended with Omahas them with; place themselves, them
- amá; t'čkičəi tē. Caa^o' wábaaze ačəi, djúba-ma ga^o'. Učé kč'na ukíčə^o the they killed one another. Dakotas were scared they went, those who were as. The rest to the to tell one (sub.); another, few
- agčə-biamá. Atí-biamá gčúbaqti. Čč Gahíge-jin'ga Caa^o' íe čəpi. A^owa^o-they went back, They came, they all. This Gahíge-jinga Dakota speech talked well. We
- 9 čəte tai-čə^o aŋgáči, é čə-biamá Caa^o' amá. Ukít'čə tē wəbčə^o aŋgáči, eat in order to we were to say sent hither, they say. Dakotas the we have come coming back, they say (sub.). Foreigners the we are sa- tated with back,
- é čə-biamá. Ča^o' čiga^o'čə-báji čə^oi čə^o'ja, wawáčəkfhna čə^o'hnaí, to say they sent hither. In fact not desiring you it was so though, you contend with us eka^o'hnaí,
 they say.
- á-biamá. Gahíge-jin'ga aká gá-biamá: Ma^o'čəatahá maŋčəi^o'i-gá, á-biamá.
 said they, they Gahíge-jinga the said as follows, Further off begone ye, said he, they
 say. (sub.) they say:
- 12 Ákičəi há, níkaci^oga áhigi. Caa^o' amá, Uma^o'ha^o djúba čə^o, a^o'he wáči^o
 They had gone back again men many. Dakotas the Omahas few as, fleeing they had
 them
- agčəi wəhíde, wáctəŋkai čə^o. Íí tē wəhíde gíw'čəi Uma^o'ha^o amá.
 they went far away, tempting them like. Lodge the far away left theirs Omahas the back (sub.).
- Égiçe áh.či atí-biamá, Caa^o' amá ta^o'waŋčə^o čáčə amá é'di ahí-biamá.
 At length many came, they say, Dakotas the tribe six the (pl.) there arrived, they say.
- 15 Wénaxíčə-biamá Uma^o'ha^o-má. Íí čə^o'já a^o'ha-bi čə^o'ja wékičə^o'biamá, They attacked them, they the Omahas (ob.). Village to the they fled, though they were six, they with say another, they say,
- áhigi átačə^o. Ga^o' hčgaji t'čəwačə-biamá Uma^o'ha^o-má. Čaŋgáxə-ba čə^o'- many more than. And not a few they killed them, they say the Omahas (ob.). They ceased and motion.

- aji naji'-biamá. Ji ɕaⁿ gitaⁿde wíɕiⁿ a-li tó'di Umaⁿ/haⁿ cañ'ge-áɕiⁿless they stood, they say. Village the (when) near their them were coming Omahas horse sat on
- báji-má áhigi. cénawaɕai tó áɕiⁿ nañ'ge. Caⁿ/ Umaⁿ/haⁿ-má cañ'ge ákinot those many they destroyed them around running. And the Omahas horse one who many they destroyed them
- gɕáha áɕiⁿ-hnaⁿ-biamá. Gaskí t'é ɕiⁿ gɕtze-hnaⁿ-biamá ɕɕe ɕai; naⁿbá 3 on it with sat on regu- they say. Nearly dead the they took regu- they say rela- his; two another larly larly theirs larly tions
- cañ'ge áɕiⁿ xi, ɕi wiⁿ stn'de ɕaⁿ/hnaⁿ-biamá, wábaaze aⁿ/hai tó. Caⁿ/horse they sat when, again one tall he held regu- they say, they were they fled when. And on larly
- ukɕikji-ma wiⁿ t'éɕai xiⁿ, Uɕaⁿ/i há, ɕɕa taⁿ, naⁿ/bi ɕaⁿ/, naⁿ/etaⁿ/i tó; those nearly re- one he was it. He is held this one the heard it, having, he stopped running;
lated killed behind (std. ob.), they say
- ɕ'di aɕá-biamá, waⁿ/daⁿ t'éwaɕe-hnaⁿ/i tó. I'e'ágo viⁿ, ɕɕiⁿ/go t'éɕai há, 6
there he went, they say, (the two) they were always killed. Old man one, Your son is killed ?
together
- ɕ ɕaⁿ/ xi, Hau! anaⁿ/etaⁿ tá miñke, á-biamá. E'di aɕá-biamá. Ákiɕga that they when. Ho! I stop running will I who, said he, they There he went, they say. Standing thick told say.
- bazaⁿ/ ɕɕih áuɕa-biamá. Edábe t'éɕai tó. Eɕiɕe naⁿ/etaⁿ/-biamá. Caⁿ/pushing right in he had gone, they say. Also he was killed. At length they stopped pursuing, Let in among they say.
- añɕaⁿ tai, á-biamá. Umaⁿ/haⁿ-má múwahega-báji. Uke 'ɕa-biamá, 9 us cease, said they, they say. The Omahas were shot down in great To talk they spoke of, numbers, to him they say.
- Gahige jin'ga. Añɕiɕkie tañ'gataⁿ. Dúdiha í-gá, á-biamá Caⁿ/ amá.
Gahige-jinga (ob.) We talk to you we will. This way come, said, they say Dakotas the.
- Gahige-jin'ga aká jú-hnaⁿ ɕaⁿ/aⁿ tó, Caⁿ/ wiⁿ cañ'ge áɕiⁿ akte ɕ'di Gahige-jinga (sub.) the body alone thither he went when, Dakota one horse sitting to talk there (sub.) on to him
- ahii tó. Ukikiai tó. Caⁿ/ áji wiⁿ názaⁿ ɕiⁿ/, ágata ɕiⁿ/, Wágata 12 arrived. They talked together. Dakota another one at the rear sat, aiming at he sat. The one him aiming
- ɕiⁿ/ ɕiñke daⁿ/bai ɕgaⁿ, Umaⁿ/haⁿ-má wiⁿ wéɕe ɕɕai tó: ɕé átaⁿ-ma
he who was sitting he saw as, the Omahas one detecting the foe he sent it away That those who are (ob.) (the warning): in sight beyond
- wiⁿ áɕigata ɕiⁿ/, Naⁿ/etañ'-gá, á-biamá. Caⁿ/ aká kide ɕai tó t'éɕaone aiming at he sits. Stop standing (there), said he, they say. Dakota the shooting he sent when he killed you (sub.) at him it thia way him
- biamá. Gahige-jin'ga ána'aⁿ/i ábaⁿ, á-biamá Umaⁿ/haⁿ aká, ɕiáetañkaí, 15 they say. Gahige-jinga, he did not listen to (one) ! said, they say Omaha the You are tempted,
(sub.),
- ehé, aⁿ tó. Cañ'gaxai tó. É inaⁿ/etaⁿ/ cañ'gaxai tó. Umaⁿ/haⁿ-má gɕɕa-
I say, he said. They ceased. That they stopped pursuing by means of they ceased. The Omahas thir-
- ɕiⁿ/ ɕiⁿ áta t'éwaɕai tó wañ'ɕiɕe. Haⁿ/ aɕiⁿ tó cañ'gaxai tó. Ucté amá ty beyond they killed them all. Night it was when they ceased. The rest
- xi ɕaⁿ gitaⁿde aɕiⁿ tó.
vil. the (when) near they were lago to their coming home.

NOTES.

Mawada^hŋiⁿ (Mandan) was a boy at the time of this battle, which occurred about A. D. 1846. See A^hpaⁿ-jaŋgi's account of the death of Mawada^hŋi's elder brother.

406, 2. deŋaⁿbaha, the seven gentes or "council fires" of the Dakotas, who are here spoken of as being "in seven places," i. e., in seven parts of the country.

406, 4-5. Umaⁿhaⁿ gage hil te, etc. About three of the Dakotas turned aside from their homeward path, and came to the Omahas. They met some of the latter, who were driving their ponies. Wishing to show the Omahas what they had been doing to the Pawnees, the Dakotas hit them with their whips, striking them in soldier fashion. They did not wish to kill the Omahas. When they asked for some food, the Omahas misunderstood them. An Omaha fired and killed a Dakota.

406, 8. Ati-biamá gēubaqti, i. e., all of that gens.

406, 9. e ŋa-biama, from "e ŋē, to send (the voice) hither in saying," referring to the other party. But "e ŋēē," would refer to the party of the narrator: "to send (the voice) away in saying."

406, 14. taⁿwaŋgiŋaⁿ cađe ama, the six remaining Dakota gentes, to whom the members of the other gens fled.

406, 16. hegaji, pronounced he+gaji by the narrator.

407, 1. ʔli ŋaⁿ, the Omaha village. Ghađe refers to the Omaha fugitives, meaning that they were at that time near their village, and so did not have to go far in order to reach it. See Dictionary for distinction between "acka" and "jađe." Caaⁿ ama (the Dakotas, understood), is the subject of waŋiⁿ a-i; and the object is Umaⁿhaⁿ-ma, the Omahas, including "those Omahas who were not on horseback (Umaⁿhaⁿ caŋge-agēiⁿ-baji-ma)," and those who were mounted.

407, 2. uŋicaⁿ naŋge, shows that the pursuers were mounted, as naŋge refers to the running of the ponies, not of the men. See "jaŋŋiⁿ" in the Dictionary.

407, 10. Gahige-jiŋga. Sanssouci said that he was killed in this fight; but that this story is about the death of another Omaha, Wasaapa, the father of Wadjepa. He, too, could speak Dakota; and he was of Ponka blood on the mother's side.

TRANSLATION.

When I was a boy the Omahas passed the time very pleasantly in surrounding the buffaloes. At length I heard that a great many belonging to the seven tribes of the Dakotas had gone on the war-path. They went to contend with the Pawnees, and they were returning in scattered detachments or bands, after getting their fill of killing the foe. Some of those who returned by way of our camp wished to get food, and they spoke about food. About three turned aside from the trail, and reached the Omahas. As they did not wish to kill the latter, they hit them as soldiers do. They did not shoot at them with their guns, and those from this place, the Omahas, bringing the trouble on themselves, shot at the Dakotas. The Omahas contended with them; they killed one another. The Dakotas were scared off, as they were few. They went back to tell the rest. They all came. This Gahige-jiŋga talked the Dakota language well. The Dakotas called to us to speak of what had occurred: "We were coming back to eat. We had returned, having our fill of the foe. And though we did not wish to injure you, you desired to contend with us." Gahige-jūnga said as follows: "Begone!" They had gone again, many persons. As the Omahas were few, the Dakotas fled, drawing the former far away in pursuit, tempting them, as it were. The Omahas left their lodges at a distance. At length many Dakotas came, the others having arrived at the camp of the six tribes. They attacked the Omahas, who fled towards their village in great disorder. They killed many of the Omahas. The Dakotas ceased pursuing and stood still. When the Dakotas chased the Omahas close to their village, they ran around the fugitives, and destroyed many of those who were not on horseback. Some of the Omahas who were mounted took men behind them, and each had a third man clinging to the horse's tail. If any one heard that his relation was killed or captured, he stopped his flight, and went to him, both dying together. When they told one old man, "Your son has been killed," he said, "Ho! I will stop running." He went headlong, pushing in among the combatants, who were standing very thick. He perished with his son. At length they stopped pursuing. "Let us cease," said the Dakotas. The Omahas were shot down in great numbers. The Dakotas spoke of talking to Gahige-jūnga. "We will talk to you. Come this way," said the Dakotas. When Gahige-jūnga went thither on foot, one Dakota, who was mounted, came there to talk to him. They talked together. Another Dakota, who sat in the rear, was aiming at him. As the Omahas saw him who was sitting and aiming at Gahige-jūnga, one of them called over to their friend to make him aware of the danger. "Yonder sits one of those in the distance, aiming at you. Stop standing there." When the Dakota shot this way at him, he killed him. "Gahige-jūnga would not listen to any one!" said the Omaha, "though I said 'You are tempted!'" They ceased. The occurrence mentioned having put a stop to the pursuit, the Dakotas ceased fighting. All the Omahas that were killed were more than thirty. Night was coming when they ceased. The rest were coming back to their village, which was not far off.

HOW THE DAKOTAS FOUGHT THE PAWNEES AND AVENGED THE DEATH OF MAWADA^{NI}TS BROTHER.

RELATED BY A^{NI}PA^{NI}-LA^{NI}GA.

Wáqe-hébe aká Pañ'ka wa'ú wagga^{NI}i. Pañ'ka amá úda^{NI}qti a^{NI}i.
 White man part the (sub.) Ponka woman married. Ponka the (pl.) very good had him.
 Cín'ga^{NI}jín'ga wí^{NI} t'á^{NI}-biamá, nūjūnga amá. T'é amá é cín'ga^{NI}jín'ga pahan'ga Infant one he had they say, boy they Died they that child before
 say.
 t'a^{NI}i tē. Nuda^{NI} a^{NI}é t'ei tē á^{NI}é^{NI}áa. A^{NI}é tē. Lí qa^{NI}haqtei cen^{NI} g^{NI}éi^{NI} 3 he had it. To war to go he spoke of to the Pawnees. He went. Lodge very edge of near to he sat tē á^{NI}é^{NI} i^{NI}é^{NI}áge t'ei akí-biamá Níkaci^{NI}ga áwatē íg^{NI}éi^{NI} é^{NI}nké, á-biamá.
 when Pawnee old man to speak reached home, Person what thing is sitting by it, said they, they of him they say.
 Gá^{NI}éu ní g^{NI}éi^{NI} é^{NI}nké; níkaci^{NI}ga wí^{NI}, á-biamá. É^{NI}dí ahí-bi xi, é^{NI}g^{NI}éi^{NI} é^{NI}dedí
 In that he has place come he is sitting, person one, said he, they say. There they are when, behold, he was sitting there

akáma. Najíha másai 'éga, Indé ɕaⁿ maⁿɕin/ka áɕahaɕti gáxa-biamá. Ī'di they say. hair cut off us, face the earth sticking he made it, they There

ahí-bi ega ^{n'} , uça ^{n'} -biamá.	Áçi ^{n'} akí-biamá.	Íwa ^{n'} xá-biamá.	Eáta ^{n'} ma ^{n'} hni ^{n'} .
arrived, having, they held him, they say	They took him home. they say.	They questioned him, they say.	Why you walk

3 ä, á-biamá. Nuda^{n'} maⁿbci^{n'}, á-biamá. Edádaⁿ ukít'ö hui^{n'} ä, á-biamá.
 † said they, they On the war- I walk, said he, they What nation you are † said they, they say. path say. say.

Caa^{n'} bei^{n'}, á-biamá. Pañ'ka eti hébe bei^{n'}, á-biamá. Čé hébai uxigča-Dakota I am, said he, they Ponka too part I am, said he, they •This he was he told not of
say, say,

bají-biamá;	Uma ⁿ /ha ⁿ	hébai	uxígea-bají-biamá;	wáqe	hébai	eti	uxígea-
himself they say;	Omaha	he was a part	he told not of himself, they say;	white man	he was a part	too	he told not of

6 bají-biamá. É gátě uxíggai xi, é Uma^{n'}haⁿ hébai ei wáqe hébai uxíggai himself they say. That afore- he told of if, that Omaha 'he was again white he was he told of saying thing himself

ㄒㄧˊ, níěě tá-bì ēē'gáⁿ ㄒㄧˊ, wǎígā-bàijiū tē. T'c'ai tē hǎ; ána'jīn'gēcē gíaxaif they would let he thought when, he did not tell it about They killed ; an upright frame they made him live himself, him for him

[illegible]

9 Wat'éčē úju aká Íáíiⁿ aká Índé-snedé ijáje ačí^{n'}-biamá. Caa^{n'} uylgea tē Murderer prin- the Pawnee (the) Face long his name he had they say. A Dakota he confessed (sub.) (sub.) himself

Caa^{n'} na'a^{n'}-bi t'écai tẽ, gíca-bají-biamá. Ta^{n'}waŋgcaⁿ ucéwĩŋjicaⁿ-biamá.
 Dakotas they heard it he was when, they were sad, they say. Tribe they assembled themselves,
 they say.

Ugín 'íca-biamá. Ta^{n'}wañgcaⁿ ðécaⁿbahá-biamá. Ucéwñjicá-biamá.
To seek they spoke of, Tribe in seven places, they say. They assembled themselves, themselves they say.

12 Ágaqqaⁿqti é'di a-í-biamá. Mañ'ge atfi tē hā. Wa'ú ein'gajm'ga edábe Just as when mov- there they approached, Near they came , Woman children also ing on the hunt they say.

waa^{n'}ɕa a-li tẽ hã Ga^{n'}-ke-qtei ahii tẽ. Cĩ wanáce ákikiháde ma^{n'}ɕi^{n'}i tẽ, leaving them they ap- Going for a long time they ar- Again soldiers paying attention they walked, proached rived. to those with them

é̌gaxe waʔiɬi ʔiɣuɬaɪ é̌gaⁿ. Ǻ'di ha^{n'}-ima^{n'}ʕiⁿ aʕaɪ tǽ, nɪkaciⁿga d'úba round to scare ʔiɣuɬaɪ as. There walking by night they when, person some about them off for themselves

15 ximān'gəaⁿi tē haⁿ/ tē. d'əciⁿ xan'gəqteⁱ ahii tē, ɕe d'úba aká aⁿba ɕəaⁿabsconded night when. Pawnee very near they when, this some the day just (sub.)

bēqtei cañ'ge wáqizai tē. Cañ'ge wáqin agqai, á-biamá Ḑáqin amá. Wáqin in sight horse they took them. Horse having them they have said, they say Pawnees the (sub.). Having them

ačá-biamá.	Náčuáqtei	úqce	amáma.	Wáči ⁿ	atí-biamá.	Ki	Caa ^{n'}	amá
they went, they	Very nearly	they	overtook them,	Having	they came, they	And	Dakota	the
say.		they say,		them	say.			(pl.)

18 gá-biamá: Wuhú! d'úba íyínáqce áíácai é'nte, pawáciⁿ atí. Čacuáháqtei said as follows, Wuhu! some hiding them- they may have gone, there they come Very nearly they say; selves chased by the foe.

úfaⁿ amá. Hau! ké, fé'fai-gǎ, á-biamá Caa^{n'} amá. Jan'de ké naⁿha^{n'}haⁿ-they they held say,
them Ho! come, send ye, sad, they say Dakota the (sub.), Ground the they made tremble (ob.) under their feet

- biamá; naⁿídaí tē, hégají amá: Gu+! ^Ψé ááíⁿ amá xigétsaⁿéá-biamá;
 they say; they made a drum- they were many, Gu+! This Pawnees the turned themselves around, ming sound as they ran, they say; they say;
- aⁿhe agéá-biamá. Účahaqti é'di ačai tē, cañ'ge aⁿsagi ágčíⁿ-bi egaⁿ.
 fleeing they went homeward. Sticking very there they went, horse swift they sat on, because.
 they say, they say, close to them they say;
- Gáama ueté amá aⁿhe agéá-biamá ^Ψéáíⁿ amá. Wiⁿáqteí ígadize-hmaⁿ 3
 Those the rest the fleeing went homeward, Pawnees the One riding round and (sub.) they say;
- gčíⁿ-biamá, cañ'ge ueténajíⁿ-bi egaⁿ. ^Ψéama aⁿwaⁿqčé daⁿ'čteaⁿ tá amá sat they say, horse he depended on, because. These they overtake me (dubitative) they will
 they say;
- číⁿte, ečégaⁿ gčíⁿ-biamá. Mañ'gčqteí ahi-biamá. Gčé amá. Maⁿcañ'de it may thinking he sat they say. Very near they arrived. He went they Den (hole) be, they say;
- unañíⁿ gčíⁿ-biamá; édiqti xinaⁿsa amá cañ'ge taⁿ Caaⁿ amá ánañge 6 standing he carried him, just there stumbled they say, horse the Dakotas the running in they say;
- naⁿt'á-biamá níkačíⁿga kē Caⁿ'caⁿ áí čaⁿ wáčíⁿ-biamá ueté amá. Caⁿ'caⁿ trampled him to person the Without vil- the they had them, the rest the Without death, they say (reclining), stopping luge they say (sub.); stopping
- áí čaⁿ íčginaxíča wáčíⁿ a-í-biamá. ^Ψí čaⁿ úgíčázá-biamá.
 vil- the rushing on theirs having they approached, Vil- the they scared them into luge they say, luge theirs, they say;
- ^Ψéáíⁿ amá ákieučá-biamá. Ákikičá-biamá. ^Ψéáíⁿ wiⁿ' údaⁿ átačá; 9
 Pawnees the were very they say. They came they say. Pawnee one good exced(sub.) close together tended together ingly;
- cañ'ge etí údaⁿ ágčíⁿ-biamá; wáčaha etí údaⁿ. ^Ψája kigčé-čtaⁿ; wáčaha horse too good he sat on, they say; clothing too good. To the he continued clothing lodge going back;
- áí uginajíⁿ-bi-dé, čí cañ'ge áí áginajíⁿ-bi-dé, ígadize-hmaⁿ-biamá.
 differ- he stood in his, while, again horse differ- he stood on, while, he rode round and they say.
 ent they say, ent they say, round
- Égiče t'čéa-biamá, cañ'ge taⁿ etí čizá-bi egaⁿ. ^Ψáda-báí níkačíⁿga údaⁿ 12
 At length they killed him, horse the too they took, because. They did not man good they say, (sub.) they say; cut him up
- čínké. Ábanaⁿ-hmaⁿ-biamá, čaqúbe-hmaⁿ-biamá, Caaⁿ amá. ^Ψágaⁿ aká he who. They were gazing they say, they were express- they say, Dakotas the His wife's the at him ing wonder (sub.) father (sub.)
- Cáčačégačike. Cañ'gaxá-biamá Caaⁿ amá. Aⁿ'zičagičé te, áí áčá, á-biamá Rečari rečarika. They ceased, they say Dakotas the You are to rest, he indeed, said, they (sub.) (sub.) says say;
- Caaⁿ amá. Gaⁿ wá'ú-ma etí atí-biamá. Caⁿ níni iⁿ. gčíⁿ-biamá Caaⁿ 15
 Dakotas the (sub.). And the women too came, they say. Yet tobacco using sat, they say Dakotas
- amá. ^Ψéáíⁿ amá gá-biamá: Íi-gá, á-biamá. Uk'té čatfi há. Íi-gá há, the Pa- the said as follows, Come ye, said they, they Poss you have Come ye (sub.) (sub.) they say;
- á-biamá. Ábagačá tai, ečégaⁿ égaⁿ, íe gáté gáxai ^Ψéáíⁿ amá. Níni iⁿ.
 said they, They will draw they thought as, words that made Pawnees the Tobacco using they say, back, they say;
- gčíⁿ-ma ábagačá tai, ečégaⁿ égaⁿ, wébaⁿ-bi- ná. Cañ'ge-ma gčúba cañ'ge- 18 •
 those who sat they will draw they thought as, they called to them, The horses all horse back, they say;
- unañíⁿ tē ugičiqti áí-biamá ^Ψéáíⁿ amá, maⁿčíⁿ-í ábač-qtiaⁿ'i tē. ^Ψéama smiling the very full put them in. Pawnees the earth-lodge they were very thick These in (col.) they say;
- cañ'gaxa-bi éská ečégaⁿ'i tē, níni iⁿ gčíⁿ-ma. Égiče Caaⁿ amá, Ké!
 they ceased it might be they thought as, tobacco using those who sat. At length Dakotas the (sub.), Come!

- can'ge-ma iča^{n'}a^{n'}wa^{n'}čə taí. Jú-hna^{n'} wañ'gakíčə taí, á-biamá. Wákíčəthe horses let us place them. Body only let us contend against said they, they They fought them, say.
- biamá. Jí kě úgíčúázá-biamá. Múwahega-bají-biamá. Jí tē cti ugípi they say. Lodge the they scared them they say. They shot down a great they say. Lodge the too full (line of) back into theirs many
- 3 éga^{n'}, égríhe úse-hna^{n'}-biamá, ma^{n'}táma náte-a^{n'}-biamá. Can'ge-ma cti gēúba as, right they burnt they say, inside they burnt to they say. The horses too all into it regularly death
- wénacá-biamá, wécha-čə^{n'}čə^{n'}. Égíčə wábacibá-biamá. Jí kě wáca-they took they say, each one choosing At length they abandoned they say. Lodges the they forced from them some. their things to them (line of) leave
- biamá. Ní kě^{n'}ma úbaazá-biamá. ʔé Cəčəčəgačke u čingəqti, ca^{n'} they say. Water to the they secured they say. This Recura-ri-karika wound without any, yet them into
- 6 gaskí t'é amá. Ní kě ú-ma t'ai tē, Caa^{n'} wí^{n'} ca^{n'}qti ga^{n'} úti^{n'}-
he died from exhaustion Water the those who they when, Dakota one without any reason he hit they say, were wounded died
- hna^{n'}-biamá, wahéčajiqti ga^{n'}čai tē. Cəna^{n'} éga^{n'} účə^{n'}-úda^{n'} gr-gā, á-biamá.
regularly they say, very stout-hearted he wished as. Enough about take hold and come said they,
of them times back, they say.
- ʔáči^{n'} nujín'ga ma^{n'}čida^{n'} wakan'dagí-biamá, niúčuan'da ē'di nají^{n'}-biamá.
Pawnee boy to pull the bow were very forward at, they say, island there they stood, they say.
- 9 ʔutíqti^{n'}, ma^{n'} uka^{n'}škaqti á-biamá; t'éčə-biamá ní kě'di. Wuhú! ána-a^{n'}ji Coming directly arrow just in a line wounded him, it killed him, they water in the. Strange! he did not to him, with him they say; say listen to (me)
- áha^{n'}, á-biamá. 'Ágəwáčə, ca^{n'} gēúba wénacá-biamá, há kě, can'ge-ma
I said they, They made them yet all they took they say, hide the, the horses
they say, suffer, from them
- cti, gēúba Guáčica^{n'}ia ʔáči^{n'} áhigi wəna^{n'}be éde, edíta^{n'}da^{n'} ʔáči^{n'} amá too, all. On the other side of that Pawnees many I saw them but since then Pawnees the (pl.)
- 12 Leawí djúbaqteí umúcta-biamá.
Leawí a very few remain after they say.
the shooting

NOTES.

409, 1. waqe-hebe. This was Paris Dorion, a half brother of Mawada^{n'}čəi, being the son of a former husband of Mawada^{n'}čəi's mother.

409, 1. uda^{n'}qti, pronounced u-da^{n'}qti by the narrator.

410, 7. ana^{n'}jíngčə, a kind of torture practised among the Pawnees, when they took captives that they wished to sacrifice to the deity. Two upright posts were planted in the ground, about three feet apart. Transverse poles were fastened to these at the top and bottom; but the lower one was about a foot or two above the ground, so as to allow room for a fire to be kindled under it. The captive was fastened within this frame, in a standing attitude, but with his hands and legs stretched out. The fire was made under him, and he was roasted to death.

410, 10. Ta^{n'}wañčə^{n'} nčəwíñčə-biamá. Sanssouci said that these were the ʔicici-tá^{n'} (Plenty of lodge-poles), the Dakotas from Crow Creek Agency, with the Yanktons, and perhaps the Brulés.

410, 12. Ágačə^{n'}qti ēdi a-i-biamá. They moved towards them with the whole camp or tribe, just as when going on the buffalo-hunt. "Ágačə^{n'}" is equivalent to "áwaha^{n'}."

410, 18. čəwəčə^{n'} ati, r. from "čəčə^{n'} ti," showing that there were pursuers, and that they were coming rapidly. Had there been no pursuers, "čəgčə^{n'}" would have been used.

410, 19. čəčai-gā, an uncommon use of "čəčə," which is usually preceded by some other verb which it modifies. Čəčai-gā is here equal to "ienaxičai-gā" Attack, or "tīčai-gā," Pass ye on. Gu-l describes the sound made by the Dakotas as they ran.

411, 6. ma^acande unaji^a giⁱa-biama. The horse carried him into a hole made by a wolf or by a badger.

411, 7-8. Ca^aca^a qii ča^a ieginaxiča wačⁱa a-i-biama. After the Dakotas rode over the Pawnee they continued in pursuit of the rest, chasing them and forcing them to rush towards their own village. "Ieginaxiča" in this case is equivalent to "agikibana," to rush homeward to their own as fast as possible; and its subject is understood, "čəčai^a ama," not "Caa^a ama."

411, 9. akicuga-biama, was pronounced by the narrator with a very strong emphasis on the first syllable.

411, 14. Čəčəčəgəčike; in Pawnee, Re-cá-ru ré-ka-rí-ka. The Middle Chief.

412, 3. egilhe use-hna^a-biama. The Dakotas set fire to each lodge on the outside. The fire burnt inward and killed all the occupants.

412, 4. weha-čəčə^a. Weha is from šha, to select; and čəčə^a is a distributive.

412, 4. wabaciba-biama. "čəčai^a ama" is the subject, and "Caa^a-ma," the indirect object. On the other hand, "waca biama" has "Caa^a ama" for its subject, and "čəčai^a-ma" for its indirect object. Sanssouci said that there was one lodge where the Pawnees had plenty of ammunition. There they held their ground, killing many of the Dakotas. Then the latter, having turned their attention towards the fugitives from the other lodges, who were running towards the water, killed many.

412, 5. Čə Čəčəčəgəčike, etc. Sanssouci said that this was not Middle Chief, but a man named Tá-rí-ká-wa-hu, who had been sick for some time. Sanssouci, Joseph La Flèche, James Dick (another Omaha), Peter G. Sarpy, and many others, visited the Pawnees, and came away with the robes in April of that year. The fight was in May. This was before Joseph La Flèche lost his goods, as narrated in the next paper. The Omahas had their village at Omadi, near the present town of Homer, Neb., while their agency was near Bellevue. Joseph La Flèche said that the Teawí were not exterminated in this battle. Those who were killed included the old people, women, etc., of the Teawí, Zizíka-ákičisi^a, and Witaháwičatá, who had come together and settled near the agency at the request of their agent. Many of the young men were away; forty were absent on the war-path, and about as many had gone to make a friendly visit to some other tribe. Besides this, those who had not removed to the agency were not injured.

TRANSLATION.

A half-caste married a Ponka woman. The Ponkas were very kind to him. He had a son born to him. His first-born child died. He spoke of going on the war-path against the Pawnees. He departed. He was found by an aged Pawnee man, as he sat very near the village. "Where is the person sitting?" said the Pawnees. "A man has come to that place out of sight, and is sitting there," said the old man. When they arrived there, behold, he was sitting there. He had cut off his hair with a knife and had covered his face with earth. When they arrived there they arrested him and took him back with them. They questioned him. "What is your business?" "I am on the war-path," said he. "Of what nation are you?" said they. "I am a Dakota, and I am also of Ponka parentage," said he. He did not confess that he was partly of this tribe; he did not confess that he was partly white and partly of Omaha blood: As he thought that they would save his life if he confessed the aforesaid thing, that he was partly white and partly of Omaha blood, he did not confess it. They killed him; they made the upright frame for him, and they fastened him in it. As they wished to acquire good crops, they burnt him in the frame and greased their hoes with him. The principal Pawnee of those who killed him was named Inde-suede (Long Face). The Dakotas heard how he had confessed that he was a Dakota, so they were displeased at his murder. The tribes assembled themselves. They spoke of seeking their friend. The tribes were in seven places. They assembled themselves. They approached with all the people, just as when they traveled on the buffalo hunt. When they drew near they left their women and children, and approached the foe. After going for a long time they arrived. The policemen went along paying attention to those with them, as they were apprehensive of being surrounded and stampeded. When the Dakotas were walking thither by night, some men stole off from the main body. When they arrived very near to the Pawnees, these few took the Pawnee horses just at daybreak. "They have gone off with the horses," said the Pawnees. They pursued the Dakotas, and nearly overtook them. They came towards the main body of Dakotas when engaged in the pursuit. And the Dakotas said as follows: "Strange! There are some coming who went off by stealth, and their pursuers are coming rapidly and have nearly caught them. Ho! Come, rush on them." They made the ground tremble under their feet; they made a drumming noise as they ran in great numbers: "Gua!" The Pawnees turned right about and fled homeward. Those Dakotas who had swift horses caught up with the retreating enemy, and stuck close to them. The other fleeing Pawnees went homeward. One of these sat riding round and round, as he depended on his horse. He sat thinking, "They cannot overtake me in any event; and even if they do, I can escape." They came very near him. He went homeward. The horse carried him into a hole in the ground and there stumbled. The Dakotas killed the fallen man by riding over him. The other Pawnees retained possession of the village. Without stopping they rushed on their own village, the Dakotas coming on after them. The Dakotas scared the Pawnees into their own village.

The Pawnees were standing very close together. They and the Dakotas contended together. One Pawnee was an uncommonly fine-looking man; his clothing was excellent and he rode a good horse. Every time that he retreated to the lodge he put on a different suit and mounted another horse. Then he rode round and round, braving the attacks of the Dakotas. At length they killed him because they took his horse. They did not mutilate the fine-looking man. They continued gazing at him and expressing their admiration. His wife's father was "The Middle Chief." The Dakotas ceased fighting. They said through the criers, "The chief says that you are to rest." And the women, too, came. The Dakotas sat smoking their pipes. The Pawnees said as follows: "Be ye coming hither. You have come as enemies. Come ye hither." The Pawnees made that speech, because they thought that the others would draw back through fear. They thought, "Those who sit smoking will draw back," so they called to them. The Pawnees filled the stables very full, having put all their horses in them; and they stood very thick upon their earth lodges. They thought it probable that these who sat smoking had ceased fighting. At length the Dakotas said, "Come! let us put the horses aside, and attack them on foot." They fought them, searing them back into their lodges. They shot down a great many. They set fire to the lodges, and the fire burnt right through, killing those within, the lodges being full. They took all the horses from them, each Dakota selecting ponies for himself. At length the Pawnees abandoned their possessions to the Dakotas, the latter having forced them to leave their lodges. They set them into the water. This Middle Chief died from sheer exhaustion, not having been wounded at all. When the wounded ones died in the water one Dakota was constantly hitting them, without any reason but that he wished to be very stout-hearted. "You have taken hold of enough. Come back," said his friends. The Pawnee boys were very forward in learning to pull the bow. They stood on an island. An arrow was coming directly toward the Dakota. It went right to the mark, wounding him and killing him in the water. "Strange! he did not listen to any one!" said the Dakotas. They were caused to suffer, yet they took all the skins and horses from the Pawnees. I have seen many Pawnees beyond that place, but since then very few of the Tewaui have survived.

HOW JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE LOST HIS GOODS.

DICTATED BY MAXE- ϕ A^{UBA}.

Má ϕ e xi t'aungá ϕ aⁿ a-fi tē. Umaⁿhaⁿ amá Ba ϕ ai taⁿwaⁿ tē'di gēiⁿi.
 Winter when the fall hunt they came. One the (sub.) Sarpy town at the sat.
 Wí gé uáne bē ϕ , gáa. I ϕ apahaⁿ-máji wénaxí ϕ ai tē, caⁿ u ϕ ai tē nána'aⁿ.
 I buf. I hunted I went, to that place. I know it I not that they were at- yet they the I heard of it.
 told it (ob.)
 ϕ ikíma á ϕ utaⁿqtiaⁿ, Nicúde bacáⁿ ē'di, atf-biamá ga ϕ aⁿ. Gaⁿ'ki Djó aká 3 Tekamah in that very direc- Missouri bend at, they came, they hunting And Joe the tion, River say party. (sub.)
 ē'di a-fi tē há. Ba ϕ ai amá ú ϕ iⁿwiⁿ xi a ϕ in'ki ϕ ai Djó. Umaⁿhaⁿ-má gazaⁿadi there he came Sarpy the trading house caused to have Joe. Omahas the among (su.) it jáqti-ha ϕ iⁿwiⁿ ma ϕ in'ki ϕ ai tē Ba ϕ ai aká. Égi ϕ e ϕ ikíma duá ϕ icaⁿ ugá ϕ ei deer- skin to buy caused him to walk Sarpy the (sub.). At length Tekamah this side of point of timber kē'ja ē'di xi tē há Umaⁿhaⁿ amá. Égi ϕ e nú amá ábae a ϕ ai tē há. Dúba 6 at the there camped Omahas the (sub.). At length man the (sub.) hunting went Some etí nudaⁿ a ϕ ai tē; wa'ú, i ϕ e'áge, cin'gajin'ga edábe, waaⁿá a ϕ ai tē há. Djó too to war they went; woman, old man, child also, leaving them they went Joe aká, Gēdaⁿ-nájiⁿ, Taⁿwaⁿ-gáxe, eéna uetai tē. Égi ϕ e Umaⁿhaⁿ nudaⁿ the, Hawk- standing, Village, maker, those only remained. At length Omahas to war a ϕ é amá Caaⁿ sig ϕ é tē w ϕ ai tē há. Wa'ú, cin'gajin'ga edábe, wag ϕ a ϕ ē 9 those who Dakotas trail the they found them Woman, child also, near to them went (their own) gēai xi, kí-báji; eéna wá ϕ ai tē Caaⁿ amá. Cí ábae-má janú ϕ a ϕ iⁿ gēai they when, they did not exterminated them Dakotas the (sub.). Again those who fresh meat capti- they went reach again; ba k

- tě, el ećnawačě-má kfi tě hā. Djó wat'a' kě bęúgaqti Caa' amá gína-when, again those who were ex- they Joe goods the all Dakotas the took terminated reached home (sub.) (sub.)
- caí tě hā. Can'go-má cti bęúga gínacaf tě hā. Ga' can'go-má cti bęúga from him The horses too all they took from And the horses too all
him
- 3 wénacaf tě líi ęa' bęúga. Gęęda'-náji' ięádi enáqtei ni'ja júgigęę.
they took from village the all Hawk- standing his father he only alive he with his
them
- Wa'ú-ma, i'ęęę edábe, wi'dénaqti t'ęwačaf tě, gęęba dúb-a-ęti-ęga' Uma'-
The women, old man also, just one half they were killed, forty about the Omaha' má. Ucté amá a'he ačaf tě utęęę kę'ja. Ucté amá eín'gajin'ga has. These who re- fleeing they went thicket to the. The rest children
- 6 wag'í' a'he-hna'í tě, é ni'ja bęúga. Ga'ki wí ęizábahe kę'ja pí.
carrying they died as, that alive all. And I ęizábahe to the I
them
- Nikaci'ga íi gęęba-ęti-ęga' a'ęi'. Ié amá hęga-báji. Hęgaji ęé-ma t'ęa'- Person lodge ten about we were. Buffalo the were a great A great the buffa- we Ioc (sub.) many. many. Ioc
- wa'čaf. Waii', mé-ha gę' cti hęgaji, áda' áčakaqtei a'ýi'-hna' a'ma'ęi'.
killed them. Robes, winter-robcs the too a great therefore very near we camped we walked.
(pl.) many, regularly
- 9 ęęę ujaa ęan'di ęáęi' ta'wa' duáęęan'di ęqtei ańgąęęi. ę'di ha'
Here the fork at the Pawnee town on this side of Just that we came back. There night a'ja'í, a'ýi. ęęęę, ha'ęga'tee ańgídaha'í ęi, can'ęe-ma bęúgaqti wé-we lay we camped. Behold, morning we arose again when, the horses all were down, we
- ęingaf tě hā. Sįęę ańguginai, ca' bęúga. Maja' a'wa'waja ačaf tě missing to us Trail we followed theirs in fact all. Land to which they the (our own), went
- 12 wea'giđaha' ańga'čai tě, má ęingę tě. ęęęę wama'ęa' ačaf kę; ęęęę
we know of ours we desired, snow none when. Behold, stealing them they had gone behold, back in a line;
- wáęi' ačaf kę. Wiańguginé ańgápai. ęęęę ęáęi' wama'ęa' ačaf kę.
having they had gone We sought them we went. Behold, Pawnees stealing them had gone home-them back in a line. (our own) ward.
- Cé Ni-bęaska itáxaya wanáęe ta'wa' ęan'di ęáęi' amá ę'di gęi' amá. ę'di
That Platte River towards the soldiers town by the Pawnees the there sat. There head
- 15 wáęi' ałi amá. Kí ę'di wiańguginé ańgábii. Kí ha' ęi, ęáęi' can'ęe having they reached And there we sought our own we arrived. And night when, Pawnees horse them home.
- ęjá-ma ęga' a'wa'ma'ęa'í. Kí wanáęe íi ęańgęęqtei qáęa ańi Uma'ha' their (pl. ob.) like we stole them. And soldier lodge very near back were Omaha again coming
- nuiń'ga ęábęi'. ęęęę ęáęi' nuda' gęę-má wákipaf tě. ęáęi' amá áhigi boys three. At length Pawnees on the war- those going they met them. Pawnees the many path home-ward (pl.)
- 18 ęa'ja Uma'ha' nuiń'ga aká wi' gaqęi. Kí ańgú ańgąęi' can'ęe ęga' though Omaha boys the one killed him. And we we who moved horse so a'wan'gaqęi' ańgąęi. Iji ęan'di ańgąęi ęi, Djó wat'a' bęúga gínacaf-bi, we had them we were com- Village to the we came home when, Joe goods all they had taken ing back. from him,
- af, aná'a'. Caa' amá ećnawačaf-bi Uma'ha'-má, af, aná'a'.
said it. Dakota the had destroyed them the Omahas, they I heard it.
said it, (sub.) said it.

NOTES.

415, 1. Baḡol ta^{wa}, "Baḡol's town," situated in Iowa, opposite Bellevue, Neb. "Baḡol" is the Omaha name for the late Peter G. Sarpy, one of the pioneers of Nebraska, and a native of Saint Louis. He married, according to Indian law, Nik'úmi, a woman of Iowa and Oto parentage, and thus became the stepfather of Nik'úmi's daughter, now known as Mrs. Mary La Flèche. Mr. La Flèche ("Djo") was employed by Sarpy, who sent him to trade among the Omahas and other tribes.

415, 3. Čikima ačuta^{qtia}, refers to Arizona Point, on the Missouri, just beyond the town of Tekamah, Neb.

415, 6-7. d'uba etí nuda^a ačai tē. "None of the Omahas went on the war-path at this time. All were out hunting for game. Some went as far north as the present reservation. This was in the winter of 1846, when the Omahas had their winter camp at the mouth of Papillion Creek, below their village."—Sanssouci.

415, 8. Čēdaⁿ-najiⁿ ičadi enaqtei ni^a jugigē. The rest of this family were killed in the attack.

415, 4-5. wiⁿdenaqti t'ewačai tē - - Uma^{ha}-ma. "About seventy-five Omahas were killed. The Mormons helped to bring the wounded Omahas to Bellevue. My wife remembers this occurrence. She was very young, and was with her parents at a place about five miles below the scene of the slaughter."—Sanssouci.

415, 6. ǰizabahe, a locality at the head of the Elkhorn River, in Nebraska. The name seems to denote that there were many sand hills in that region. The hunters divided into two parties before they arrived there. Gabige-ǰiŋga (Little Chief) was the head of one party, and ǰaxe-ča^{ba} (Two Crows) followed him. The younger A^{pa}-ǰaŋga (Big Elk) was the head of the other, which Sanssouci joined. Sanssouci was then trading among the Indians.

415, 7. hega-baji and hegaji were pronounced he+ga-baji and he+gaji by the narrator. ǰaxe-ča^{ba} is said to speak the language far more correctly than any other man.

415, 9. ǰačiⁿ ta^{wa} duacandí. Columbus, Neb., now stands at this place.

415, 14. wanace ta^{wa} čandi. The Pawnees were then dwelling by Fort Kearney, near Grand Island.

TRANSLATION.

The Omahas went on the hunt in the winter. They dwelt at Sarpy's town. I went to hunt the buffaloes in that unseen place, so I have no direct knowledge of the attack; yet I heard the report about it. The hunting party came to the bend of the Missouri, just beyond Tekamah. And Joe arrived there. Sarpy caused Joe to keep a trading-post. He caused him to walk among the Omahas, trading for deer-skins. At length the Omahas camped at the point of timber this side of Tekamah. At length the men went hunting; and some, too, went on the war-path, leaving the women, the old men, and the children. Joe, Standing Hawk, and Village Maker were the only young men who remained there. At length the Omahas who had gone on the war-path found the trail of Dakotas. They were still near the women and children, and when they went back to them they did not return to them, as the Dakotas exterminated the latter before the men reached home. And the hunters carried fresh meat homeward; and they, too, reached home after the people had been destroyed. The Dakotas had deprived Joe of all his goods. They had taken all his horses, and all the horses of the whole tribe. Standing Hawk and his father were the only survivors of their household. Just half of the women and old men were killed, about forty in number. The rest fled into the bushes, carrying the children, and all of these were alive. And I reached ġizabahe. We men were occupying about ten lodges. The buffaloes were very numerous. We killed a great many buffaloes. There were a great many robes and winter robes; therefore we used to pitch our tents at very short intervals. We returned to the forks of the river, just this side of the Pawnee towns. There we camped and lay down for the night. Behold, when we arose again in the morning, all our horses were missing. We followed their trail. We wished to ascertain about our horses, to what land they had gone, before there was any snow, which would cover the trail. Behold, after stealing them, they had carried them homeward, leaving a trail in a long line. We departed, seeking our property. Behold, the Pawnees had taken them homeward. The Pawnees dwelt by the soldiers' town towards the head of the Platte River. And there we arrived when seeking them. And when it was night, we stole the Pawnees' horses in like manner. And three Omaha young men were coming back again very close to the soldiers' lodges. At length they met the Pawnees who were returning from the war-path. Though the Pawnees were many, the Omaha young men killed one. And we who moved were bringing back horses in like manner. When we came back home to the village, I heard them say that all of Joe's goods had been taken from him. I heard them say that the Dakotas had destroyed the Omahas.

BATTLE BETWEEN THE DAKOTAS AND OMAHAS IN 1847.

TOLD BY MAXE-ČA²BA.

Mé xi, déje épa²be xi, égiçe Caa² ci wénuda² ahfi, ci wákiča ahfi.
 Spring when, grass came in sight when, behold, Dakotas again to war arrived, again to fight us they

- Wa'ú waqé ġéiqū'a ahfi. Ki Caa² amá ē'di ahfi tē. Wénaxičaí tē Woman cache to empty their town arrived. And Dakotas the (sub.) there arrived. They attacked them
- 3 wa'ú-má. Wa'ú aká čábēi² tē na² čanká Maxéwačē aká ēduihai tē, ġiŋgáthe women. Woman the (sub.) three the grown the ones who Maxéwačē the (sub.) joined, small
- qtci, iha² kē t'ékičaí tē'di. Ki xi ča² wéahide waqé ġéiqū'a-má very, his mother the they killed when. And village the at a distance cache those who emptied theirs
- cénawačá-bi, ai. Wa'ú wi² ni²ja agéč aká é učaí. Ga² cénunjin'ga amá they destroyed them, said they. Woman one alive who came back that told. And young men the (sub.)
- 6 can'ge-ma wagika²ta² ci ē'di: čai, wáčiqe. Ga² čahé-de níkaci²ga bęúgaqi the horses tied their own again there went, chasing them. And hill when person all
- akfi na²čta²i. Ki wí hácida² agéč xi, agéč-baji-má ca² ē'di akí. Wa'ú-they destroyed them, said they. And I afterward homeward I went when, those who did not go homeward while I came again to. Old jinga kfu agfi amá, é Maxéwačé ečaⁿ'ba niⁿ'ja agfi. Wawéamáxe:

woman she was she came the that Maxéwačé too alive came back. I questioned her:
wounded back (mv. sub.).

Indádaⁿ ukít'ai á, wa'újinga, ehé. Pañ'ka ebégaⁿ. Umaⁿ'haⁿ ié uáwakiaí What tribe were I old woman, I said. Ponkas I think. Omaha speech they talked they to me

hě, aí wa'újinga aká. Ké, angágéé taí; aⁿ'waⁿ'daⁿ'be taí, ehé. Kíctawágu 3 said old woman the (sub.). Come, let us go homeward; let us see them, I said. Kíctawágu kí nújinga áji wiⁿ' céna éábéiⁿ angágai. Kí ucté amá háci agfi. Éčaⁿ'be and boy another one enough three we went. And the rest after were coming. In sight angákii xí, dahádi níaciⁿ'ga wiⁿ' é'di najiⁿ'. É'di angákii xí, wéahusaf we got back when, on the hill man one there stood. There we got back when, scolded us i'c'áge aká. E'aⁿ' hau, aⁿ'čaⁿ'i xí, Huⁿ'egaⁿ'tce'qti wa'ú-ma wáqei. Indádaⁿ 6 old man the What is I we said when, Early in the morning the women they killed them. What hnítaⁿ čagfiⁿ-bádaⁿ wačisnindai éiⁿ'te. xáciqti ákiúgcai tē, aí. Hn'čgaⁿ-you you sat and you delayed it may be? Long ago they had come he. Some time worked at and gone, said.

tégaⁿ wáqei íepahaⁿ xí, uhná čakí etéde. Kí wa'újinga ekaⁿ'či'áqti nañkáin the they killed you knew if, yes you should have tell it reached home. And old woman totally unable running very morn- them it ing swiftly to get piqti kí to, ehégaⁿ á, ehé. Gaí: Čéčankée há. Wačona jaⁿ'i. Gáču 9 there reach will, you think it I said. He said as follows: the ones Visible they lie. In that soon home place

t'éwačai, aí. Gaⁿ' é'di angágai xí, é'di angáki wa'ú čanká. Maⁿ' gē aⁿ'waⁿ'- they killed, he And there we went home- when, there we reached woman the Arrow the we pulled them, said, ward again (pl. ob.).

čionúdaí waiiⁿ' ejaí gē aⁿ'čizai-de an'gubétaⁿ iheaⁿ'čai. Égičé cañgágeiⁿ out of them robe their the we took while we wrapped them we laid At length horseman (pl. ob.) in (them) down.

béúgaqti akfi, níaciⁿ'ga gēčbahiwiⁿ-qti-égaⁿ akfi. Gaⁿ' angáča-báji; é'di 12 all reached men hundred about reached And we went not; there there again, there again.

aⁿ'waⁿ'daⁿ'be aⁿ'nájiⁿ'i. Égičé níkagahi wiⁿ' akfi. Iekadábi aké. Ké, aⁿ'waⁿ'- we looked at them we stood. At length chief one reached Iekadabi it was Come, let us there again. he.

čiqe taí há, aí. Níaciⁿ'ga béúga, Ahaú! aí. Sigčé ké wian'guhái, aⁿ'waⁿ'čiqai.
chase them he said. Men all, Oho! they said. Trail the we followed them, we chased them.

Gickaⁿ'qti-báji, íčapičíⁿ wéuhe aⁿ'maⁿ'číⁿ'i Júga-hmaⁿ pahan'ga wéuhe 15
Not going very fast, slowly following them we walked. Body only before following
them

aⁿ'maⁿ'číⁿ'i sigčé ké. Cañgágeiⁿ amá ágahadi wiútaⁿ gēiⁿ'i. Égičé watícka we walked trail the. Riding horses the (sub.) at the outside next to us they sat. At length creek aká jañgáčehai; uqčúqa-báji; qáde há, čiqčé ekúbe bazaⁿ' agčai ké. Gaⁿ' the extended wide in it was not a hollow; grass canes deep pushing they went And (sub.) all directions; among homeward.

agčaiⁿ'kaⁿ'haⁿ unásude gaⁿ' sigčé únai. Cañ'ge ágčíⁿ-ma dahé wéahideⁿ'qti 18 on both sides it had been burnt bare so foot-prints they sought them. Horse those who sat hill at a great distance on sigčé únegaⁿ nañ'ge xúwiⁿ'xai. Kí níkaciⁿ'ga qáde ekúbe ké'di wíuhe aká trail they sought running they went around. And man grass deep in the followed the them, as around, them (sub.).

xañ'gēqtei ahíi xí, Caaⁿ' amá bispé jaⁿ'i ičaⁿ'. Aⁿ'čín' wéča-bačín' níaciⁿ'ga very near arrived when, Dakotas the crouching lay suddenly. He came very near finding man (sub.) them

wí'áqtei aká, ei xigčísaⁿ'ča agfi. Cañ'ge tan'di agfi égaⁿ' ágigčíⁿ. Gaⁿ' 21 one the again turned about he was Horse to the he came as he sat on his. And (sub.), coming back, back ákíhaⁿ bēúgaqtíⁿ in'ge ággíⁿ únai, égxaxé ákikipaf Wačútada wi'ⁿ beyond all horse sitting on they sought around in they met one Oto one juáwagē. Wačútada aká wáhúta'číⁿ ačíⁿ; wí ma' abeíⁿ. Gépe há:

he with us. Oto the (sub.) gun had; I arrow I had. I said as follows

3 Kageha, qáde fan'di é'di bispé ja'ⁿi, obé'gaⁿ. Učise to há, ehé. Hau.
Friend, grass in the there crouching they lie, I think. You will set it. I said. †

Uma'ⁿhaⁿ wi'ⁿ agefi. Ga'ⁿ a'nájiⁿ edítaⁿ usé ačíⁿ agefal. Ga'ⁿ unáhe Omaha one came back. And we stood thence setting having they went And confagration ámusta dahé gē átaⁿ caŋ'ge ággíⁿ-ma bēúga bajéje naji'ⁿi, unáhe ámušta right above hill the how horse those who sat all in groups stood, confagration right above it (pl. ob.) far on

6 da'be naji'ⁿi, égxaxé naji'ⁿi. Unáhe aká náhega-báji, qáde aká okúbe looking they stood, all around they stood. Confagration (sub.) the burnt with much grass the (sub.) deep é'gaⁿ. Caŋ'ge ággíⁿ-ma cáde-qi-é'gaⁿ juáwagē anájiⁿ wí cti, uta'ⁿnadi.

as Horse those who sat on six about I with them I stood I too, apart.

Égičé unáhe amá níaci'ga čankádi ahíi tē. Égičé ba' awána'a'ⁿ. Čagčai
At length confagration the persons to the arrived. At length calling I heard them. I go home-ward to you

9 há, hu'ⁿ! al. Caa'ⁿ-ma náeča'bewáčai. Égičé wakide ákiúgčai.
halloo! they said. The Dakotas the fire made come out. At length shooting at they had come us and gone.

Wa'ú čuči cki Pan'ka hni'ⁿ čí'te uéč íčai-gá, al íčkadábi aká. Kí Woman you killed you were Ponkas you are it may to tell send ye this said íčkadabi the And them coming back be it way, I said when, fighting (sub.).

Caa'ⁿ amá ía-báji. Kí íčkadábi aká: íčkadábi wíbečíⁿ há, al tē, kikin Dakotas the they spoke not. And íčkadabi the (sub.): íčkadabi I am he he said when, fighting (sub.).

12 'íčaf. A'ⁿb íčaučé ákikičaf. Wáčiⁿ ačaf é'gaⁿ mi'nda'be ánaqti-é'gaⁿ ahíi they spoke of. Day throughout they convoked them Having they went as hour about how many it arrived te, égičé Caa'ⁿ wi'ⁿ úi. Égičé Caa'ⁿ číⁿ wi'ⁿ wácaí, čka'ⁿčí'af. Ucté amá when, at length Dakotas one was At length Dakota the one they made he was unable them abandon to move. The rest him, agefal. Égxaxé íča'čai Uma'ⁿhaⁿ amá. Caŋ'ge ta' aa'bča. Júga-hna'ⁿ bēi'ⁿ.

went Around in they placed Omahas the (sub.). Horse the I left. Body only I was.

15 Čka'-čí'á aká man'dé ačíⁿ. Wábaze-hna'ⁿ amá Uma'ⁿha'-ma, waji'ⁿ-Unable to move the bow had. He scared them off regularly they say the Omahas, temper (sub.)

píbači Caa'ⁿ aká. Háčidaⁿ é'di pí. É'di pí tē ca'ca' íčanaxíbea bēč Caa'ⁿ bad Dakota the (sub.). Afterward there I arrived. There I when without I attacked him I went Dakota čínké. Čan'ge pí xí, ankide-hna'ⁿi ča'ⁿja, ma'ⁿ gē wédaji-hna'ⁿ čéčé-hna'ⁿi.

the one who. Near a hand far when, he shot at me regularly though, arrow the elsewhere regularly he sent them away. (pl. ob.)

18 Ga'ⁿ áqči Caa'ⁿ čínké; man'd íčatiⁿ há. Áza' íheáčé, kí Wačútada aká
And I killed Dakota the (ob.); bow I hit him. I hit him and knocked and Oto the (sub.)

jáhai tē. Ga'ⁿ níaci'ga amá íkinai. Čádai. Čáde čietaⁿ xí, a'wa'ⁿčiqe; spearred him. And persons the snatched at they cut him Cutting they finished when, we chased them; (sub.)

ucté amá wáčiⁿ ačaf. Či é'di ančáčaf. Čeabé čúgačti é'di égihačti akithe rest having them went. Again there we went. Tree very thick there right headlong had into égiçai Caa' amá. Cí nřkagahi ahí-bi ehé aká, Īkadábi aká, gaf: Hau!

 gone Dakotas the (sub.) arrived chief I said the one who, Īkadabi the (sub.) follows: Ho!
 can' gaxú-i-gá. Gaskí gí'a'ziqíçé gí-gá, af. Ga'téga' xí, cí wáçakřina táf, cease ye. Panting to rest one's self be ye com- he Some time when, again you con- vlad with will, them ing back, said.
 af. Hau! éga' te, af. Īhájá bęúga ak. gęi'. Can' ge-má etí gí'a'ziwagi'af. 3 he said. Ho! so let it be, they said. At the hill all sat together The horses too they caused them, their own, to rest.
 Caa' amá qęabé ukíçęi' gęi'i, wa'a' za'ę'qti gęi'i. Qęabé uęúnaji' aká Dakotas the tree sitting together in sat, singing making great they sat. Tree were depending on Caa' aká. Ī-gá! an'gakikíçęa táf, é-hna', an'gubáçęa tá-bi eęęga' éga'.
 Dakotas the (col. sub.). Be ye let us contend together, they said regularly, we will draw back they thought as.
 coming!
 Ī'ta' na'hébe gęi'i-gá. Ga'téga' xí, ga' an'gakikíçęa taité, af. Hau. 6 Hold! waiting sit ye. Some time when, of course we contend to- shall, he gether said.
 Égiçę Waçútada amá ahíi tē. Eca' i'win' gęi'i, áda' úwagiçę ahíi. Nřka-
 At length Otos the (sub.) arrived. Near we sat to them, therefore to tell it to they To chase them arrived.
 éfiçę ahíi Waçútada amá. Qęabé ęa' an'gubáçęa tē, Waçútada amá atíi.
 the foe arrived Otos the (sub.). Tree the we scared them when, Otos the came. (sub.) Ga' nřkagahi aká gaf tē: Ī'ta' na'héba-gá. Ga'téga' xí, ga' an'gakikíçęa 9
 And chief the (sub.) said as fol- Hold! wait ye. Some time when, of course we contend to-(sub.) lows: course gether taité, af. Ga' Waçútada amá na'ęta'i. Bęúga an'ęęi'i. xáçí an'ęęi'i, shall, he said. And Otos the stopped going. All we sat. A long time we sat, ca' mi' da' be wi' ákiha'-qi-ęga' an'ęęi'i. Hau. Nřkagahi aká mañ' gęę in fact hour one beyond about we sat. Ī Chie-? the erect naji'i. Īkíçęai: Hau! eęta' há. Ké! wákiçęai-gá, af. Ga' wan' gęiçę, 12 stood. He proclaimed: Ho! so far Come! contend with them, he said. And every one.
 Ahá! af. Qęabé ęa' búja há. Égaxe ięa' waçęi-gá. Masáni hí-ba ga'
 Oho! said. Tree the (col.) round Surround ye them. The other reach side and so gfi-gá, af. Ga' wákiçęaf. T'ękiçęa-báji xáçí. Égiçę Uma' ha' wi' t'ęçęa-bi, be coming he said. And they fought them. They did not kill a long time. At length Omaha one was killed, back, said.
 af. Uma' ha' wi' t'ęçęai há, af. É'di pí xí, égiçę an'ka-báji; háçęzahá 15 they said. Omaha one has been they said. There far- when, behold, not so; just on the surface éinké. Wágata gęi'i xí, Caa' aká éta'ęi' kídai, á kę úi. Hau. Cí the one who. Aiming he sat when, Dakota the first shot at arm the he Ī Again (sub.) him, (sub.) wounded.
 ga'téçę xí, Waçútada wi' t'ęçęai, é t'ęçęqti'a'i. Égiçę Caa' aká cí wi' some time when, Oto one was killed, he was killed indeed. At length Dakotas the again one (col.)
 t'ęçęai, é Uma' ha' amá wat'ęçęai Cí Caa' aká Waçútada wi' t'ęçęai. 18 was that Omahas the were the slayers. Again Dakotas the they killed.
 Caa' aká, a'wan' gubáçęa xáçí a'na'ęi'i, t'ęwaçę-hna'i. Qęabé ęa' ca'
 Dakotas the we drew back from them a long we walked, they were killing us. Tree the at any (col.) rate (sub.) time
 na'sii-gá, af Īkadábi aká. Wáępaçęai tē, égiçę t'ęçęiçę-hna'i te. Ga' leap ye into, said Īkadabi the (sub.). You draw back when, beware they kill regularly lest. And from them you qęabé ęa' ca' na'sii uñaci'ga bęúga. Qęabé ęa' wi'détan-di hí xí, cí 21 tree the (col.) it any leaped in men all. Tree the to one-half of the ar- when, again (col.) rate among men all. (col.) distance rived

422 THE CEGUIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- aⁿnaⁿ'etaⁿi, aⁿwanⁿ'gabágeai. Ci gaⁿ'teé jinⁿ'ga xi, Iekadabi aká gaf: Caⁿ' we stopped going. we drew back from them. Again a little while when, Iekadabi the said as Atany uaⁿ'sai-gá. Wácpagaf xi, égié t'égié-hmaⁿ'i te, ai. Naⁿ'b épaⁿ'be aⁿwaⁿ'- leap in. You draw back If, beware they kill regularly lost, he Two coming out we had
of it
- 3 gaⁿ'iⁿ angáhi, aktwa niⁿ'ja aⁿwaⁿ'éizai. Umaⁿ'haⁿ-ma wiⁿ' Caⁿ' t'épai kē them we arrived, both alive we took them. The Omahas one Dakotas they killed the
him (ob.)
- aⁿ'éanⁿ'gidahaⁿ-baji angidadaí. Ci Waⁿ'útada t'é kē edúbe angidadaí. Caⁿ' we know not ours we cut up ours. Again Oto who was dead also we cut up ours. Dakota
- wiⁿ' iéanaxíbea xi, náhié. Wahútaⁿ'éiⁿ kē gáíonaⁿ gaⁿ' ní kē égihié. Ní one I attacked him when, he fell into the water. Gun the he let drop as water the it fell right Water (ob.) into.
- 6 kē uáaⁿ'si gaⁿ' épaⁿ'be gáí xi, á tē akíéa ubéaⁿ'. Najíⁿ'akíégaⁿ Umaⁿ'haⁿ-ma the I leaped as he came again when, arm the both I held. As I made him stand the Omahas (ob.) into up
- ḍádeawákíé. Caⁿ' ueté-ma watéleka kē ákiéa aⁿ'he-ma Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá
I made them cut Dakotas the rest creek the crossing those who fled Omahas the him up. (ob.) together
- wákípaí há. Cé Caⁿ' amá wahútaⁿ'éiⁿ gē ují éngé aⁿ'i égaⁿ t'éwaⁿ'ai.
met them This Dakotas the gun the filled without they had as they were (sub.) (pl. ob.) killed.
- 9 Caⁿ'qi gaⁿ' múkihaⁿ'i. Miⁿ' iééqtiaⁿ'i xi, cénawaⁿ'ai Caⁿ'-ma.
They shot at one another even till Son it had fully when, they destroyed the Dakotas.
night set

NOTES.

418, 1. Me xi, i. e., in the spring after La Flèche lost his goods, as told in the preceding paper.

419, 214-20, 1. Gaⁿ akihaⁿ bēngaqtí, etc. The Omahas divided into two parties, and went all around the creek till they came together again. Then they went beyond for a short distance, but as the trail was lost they returned to the stream.

420, 4. aⁿnajiⁿ editaⁿ use aⁿ'i agéai. The Omahas set fire to the grass on both sides of the stream.

420, 6. nahega-baji, pronounced nahega-baji by the narrator.

420, 12. Aⁿb iéangé akíéai. Two Crows was mounted, and his horse was nearly killed by a bullet.

422, 3-4. Umaⁿ'haⁿ-ma wiⁿ . . . angidadaí. His name was yawáha.

422, 7. ḍádeawákíé. Frank La Flèche said that "ḍáde" is often used in the sense of "scalping;" though instead of it, the narrator might have employed the phrase "najíha hébe éizéawákíé (hair, part, I caused them to take it), I made them scalp him."

TRANSLATION.

When the vegetation came up in the spring, the Dakotas came on the war-path to attack us again. The women went to empty the caches and the Dakotas arrived there. They attacked the women. Maxewaⁿ, who was very small, joined the three women who were the eldest, when the Dakotas killed his mother. And it was said that the women who emptied the caches had been destroyed when far away from the village. One woman who had come home alive told that. Then the young men put lariats on their ponies, and went thither in pursuit. And when the men reached the hill again, they stopped going. And I, when I went homeward later, came again to the place where they had stopped. The old woman who came back wounded, as well as Maxewage, came home alive. I questioned her: "Of what tribe were they, old woman?" said I. "I think that they were Ponkas. They talked to me in the Omaha language," said the old woman. "Come," said I, "let us go homeward; let us see them." Only three of us went: Kietawagn, another youth, and I. The rest were coming after. When we got in sight, a man stood on the hill. When we reached there again, the old man scolded us. When we said, "What is the matter?" he said: "They killed the women early in the morning. What could you have been doing that you delayed so long? They departed long ago." "If you knew that they killed them at some time in the morning, you should have gone home to tell it. And did you think that an old woman, who was altogether unable to move, could reach home soon by running very swiftly?" said I. He said as follows: "These are the ones. They lie in sight. They killed them in that place, which is out of your sight." And as we went thither on our homeward way, we reached the women. We pulled out the arrows, and wrapping the bodies in their blankets, we laid them down. At length all the horsemen, fully a hundred, reached there on their way home. Then we did not depart; we stood looking at the dead.

At length a chief reached there; it was Iekadabi. "Come," said he, "let us chase them." All the men said, "Oho!" We followed their trail; we pursued them. We did not go very fast; we walked along very slowly as we followed them. We who went in advance went on foot following their trail. The horsemen sat at the outside, next to us. At length the creek extended wide; it was not in a ravine; but it was covered with grass and tall canes, through which the foe had pushed when going homeward. And as the ground had been burnt bare on both sides, the Omahas sought their trail. Those on horseback rode back and forth on the hills in the distance, seeking their trail. And when the man who followed them in the tall grass came very near, the Dakotas crouched down suddenly. The one man came very near finding them, but he turned around and came back. He came back to his horse and mounted him. And all the mounted men sought for them beyond the stream; having passed all around, they met one another. An Oto was with us. The Oto had a gun, and I had a bow. I said as follows: "My friend, I think that they lie crouching in the grass. You will please set it afire." An Omaha came back. And starting from the place where we stood they went along setting the grass afire. And the horsemen stood all around in groups on the hills, as far as the latter extended, looking directly down on the flames. The fire burnt fiercely, as the grass was tall. I stood apart, with about six horsemen. At length the fire reached the men. I heard a call: "I go homeward to you, halloo!" said one. The fire made the Dakotas come forth. At length they shot at us, and had gone along.

"Send your voices this way, and tell us if you who came and killed women are Ponkas," said Iekadabi. But the Dakotas did not speak. And Iekadabi said, "I am Iekadabi." As he said it, they spoke of fighting. They contended with one another throughout the day. When the Omahas had pursued them for several hours, a Dakota was wounded. The Omahas made them abandon one of their number who was unable to move rapidly. The rest of the Dakotas went homeward. The Omahas surrounded the man who had been left. I left my horse, and went afoot. The man who could not go rapidly had a bow. The Dakota was desperate, and he was constantly scaring back the Omahas. I arrived there later. When I reached there, forthwith I went to attack the Dakota. When I got near, though he shot at me repeatedly, he always sent the arrows elsewhere. And I killed the Dakota; I hit him with the bow, and felled him; and the Oto speared him. Then the men snatched for pieces of the body. They cut it up. When they finished cutting it up, we chased the foe; the rest had gone in pursuit. And we went thither. The Dakotas had gone headlong into a very dense forest. And the chief that I said had arrived, even Ickadabi, said as follows: "Ho! cease ye. Come back and rest yourselves awhile from panting. After some little time you may contend with them again." "Ho! so let it be," said they. All sat together at the hill. They also caused their horses to rest. The Dakotas were sitting together in the forest; they sat singing and making a great uproar. The party of Dakotas were depending upon the forest. They kept on saying, "Come ye! let us contend together," as they thought that we would draw back through fear of them. "Hold! sit and wait. After some little time, of course, we shall contend together," said Ickadabi.

At length the Otos arrived. We dwelt near to them; therefore some went thither to tell them of the fight. The Otos came to chase the foe. They came when we had scared the Dakotas into the forest. And the chief said as follows: "Hold! wait. When some little time shall have elapsed, of course we shall contend with them." And the Otos stopped going. We all sat for a long time, say, for a little more than an hour. The chief stood erect and proclaimed: "Ho! it is ended. Come! contend with them." And all said, "Oho!" The forest was a curvilinear one. "Surround them. Go to the other side and be coming back," said the chief. And they fought them. They did not kill one another for a long time. At length it was said that an Omaha was killed; but when I arrived there, behold, it was not so; he was but slightly wounded. When he sat aiming at the foe, a Dakota was the first to shoot at him, wounding him in the arm. Again, when some time had elapsed, an Oto was wounded and was killed outright. At length one of the Dakotas was killed by the Omahas. And the Dakotas killed an Oto. We drew back from the Dakotas for a long time, and they continued killing our men. "Leap ye into the forest at all hazards," said Ickadabi. "Beware lest they continue killing some of you, if you draw back from them," said he. And all the men jumped into the woods at all hazards. When we had gone half-way through, we faltered and stopped. Again, after a little while, Ickadabi said as follows: "Jump in at all hazards. If you falter before them, beware lest they continue killing you." We brought two of them out of the timber, capturing both of them alive. The foe had killed an Omaha; and not recognizing him in the excitement, we dismembered him as well as the Oto, our ally. When I attacked a Dakota, he fell into the water. As he let his gun drop, it fell right into the stream. I leaped into the water, and as he came again to the surface, I caught hold of him by both arms. Having made him stand, I caused the Omahas to scalp him. The Omahas met the other Dakotas who fled together across the stream. As these Dakotas had no loads in their guns, they were killed. They shot at one another even till night. When the sun had fully set, the Dakotas were destroyed.

HOW THE OMAHAS FOUGHT THE DAKOTAS AFTER THE LATTER HAD KILLED A^{PA}-LA^{NGA}'S BROTHER.RELATED BY A^{PA}-LA^{NGA}.

Umaⁿ/haⁿ amá wanáse gēiⁿ/i tē. Wijiⁿ/e amá ȳe-jin'ga kide ačai tē, haⁿ-
 Omaha the surrounding sat. My elder the buffalo-calf to shoot went, morn-(sub.) the herds brother (sub.) at egaⁿ/tē. Wiⁿ/ júgēai tē. Uhnúckadi ȳe-jin'ga wiⁿ/ t'čēai tē; dāde najiⁿ/i tē.
 ing. One went with him. In a valley buffalo-calf one they killed; cutting they stood.
 it up
 Caaⁿ/ amá wagčade a-fi tē, caⁿ/ge ágēiⁿ cáđēqti-égaⁿ. Wahútaⁿ/čēi uššaji 3 Dakotas the creeping up were ap- horse sitting on about six. Gun not loaded (sub.) on them prouching, najiⁿ/ tē wijiⁿ/e taⁿ, áma aká mar'dē ačēiⁿ/i. Wēnaxičai-de, xur'e a-i-stood my elder the the other the bow had it. They attacked when, rushing were brother (std. one), (sub.) them forward coming biamá Caaⁿ/ amá. xur'e a-i-bi egaⁿ, t'ēwačai-biamá, wapé čingēgaⁿ.
 they say Dakotas the rushing were coming, having, they killed they say, weapon they had none, (sub.) they say them as Égičē učā agčē. Umaⁿ/haⁿ naⁿ/ba t'ēwačai, é učā agčē. Caaⁿ/ amá 6
 At length to tell they came Omaha two they killed them, that to tell they came Dakotas it back. the (sub.)
 aⁿ/he agčai tē wat'čēč amá. Ē'di ahí égaⁿ, waⁿ/iⁿ agčē. Caaⁿ/ amá fleeing went home- murderers the There they arrived as, carrying they came Dakotas ward (sub.) (sub.) them home. the (sub.) aki-biamá. Jiⁿ/i čaⁿ/á aki-biamá. Igadizá-biamá; ȳi ušēcaⁿ-hnaⁿ/-biamá.
 reached home, Village to the reached home, They rode round and lodge they went around regularly, they say, they say, round, they say; they say.
 Iléga-baji-biamá; Paⁿ/ka edába-biamá; ákikji gēiⁿ/i tē edábe. Ihaⁿ/ 9
 They were a great many, Ponkas were also, they say; the tribes they sat also. His they say; coming together mother ušēca d'úba ededí-čaⁿ amá. Wanáqēiⁿ-gā hā, á-biamá. Ē wat'čēč úju he seeks some the company is there, Hasten ye said he, they say. That murderers principal aká ičadi aká wanáqēiⁿ-wáčē ȳi kē uhá-biamá. Gibázu ijáje ačēiⁿ/-biamá the (one) his the causing them to hasten lodges the went along, they Kipazo his name he had, they say (sub.) (sub.) (line of) say.
 ičadi aká, níkagahi úju aká Paⁿ/ka ȳi kē ci uhá-biamá. Ēwačai 12 his the chief principal the Ponka lodge the again he went along, You have them father (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (line of) they say. for relations wačagčize tai, náqē wáčizai ȳi, wēčagčepahaⁿ/i ȳi, á-biamá. Paⁿ/ka-you take them will, captive they take them when, you recognize yours if, said he, they say. The Ponma cēča-baji-biamá. Ci ē'di égičēⁿ ačā-biamá Ušēca-baji xur'e tē, čičēniⁿ kas did not heed, they say. Again there to say it to he went, they say. You do not join even if, you are the ones
 taité hā, á-biamá. Či an'gačikíča tan'gataⁿ, á-biamá Ačē najiⁿ/-biamá 15 shall (be) said he, they say. You we contend with you we will, said he, they say. Going stood they say Caaⁿ/ amá. Caⁿ/ wábaha kē'd ugeiⁿ/i-de wa'ú amá gaⁿ/ ačē najiⁿ/-biamá.
 Dakotas the In fact Indian car- in the sat in while woman the so going stood they say.
 (sub.) riago (sub.)

- Aⁿ'ba aká éçaⁿ'be. Weánaxiça cu-íçai; égaxe ían'de naⁿ'ídai. Canⁿ'ge Day the came forth. They charged on us in coming all around ground they made a (sub.) this way; (on) by running. Horse
- éççutaⁿ d'úba wékaⁿ'taⁿ góise égaⁿ nan'gai; uwáçicaⁿ nan'gai. Caaⁿ' amá hence some lariat broke theirs as they ran; around us they ran. Dakotas the (sub.)
- can'ge-ma wáçinⁿ agçai, gacibe nan'ge ahí-ma. Wáçe wiⁿ' gazaⁿ'adi 3 the horses having went outside running those who arrived. White one among them homeward,
- gaççaⁿ'madi éduíhe; can'ge taⁿ' cti éçinⁿ agçai. Máctu Çídaⁿ íjaje açiⁿ'.
 to those who were he joined; horse the too having they went Mr. Reed his name he had.
 hunting (std. ob.) for him homeward.
- Caaⁿ' amá can'ge iⁿ'i tá amá, é-hnaⁿ amá. Gíi etégaⁿ-báji, caⁿ' íe éçiqⁿ-Dakotas the horse give will, he said they To give they were not yet words he said to (sub.) back to me regularly say. back to him apt, (some one)
- hnaⁿ' amá. Wégaⁿ'ze wiⁿ'détaⁿ-qteí-égaⁿ íi égaxe wákiçai. Caⁿ'-ama íi 6 regularly say. Measure about one-half lodges all around they contended against us. By and by lodges
- ké Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá úgídá-qtiáⁿ'i; naⁿ'zaça éçiha agfi. Íi ké'ja kíдай Caaⁿ'
 the Omahas the entered their own; to the rear headlong they were Lodges at the shot at Dakotas (line of) (sub.) coming back.
- amá, caⁿ' níáça wakídai. Can'ge-ma t'éwaçai áhigi. Caaⁿ' maⁿ' eçai ké the, yet at random they shot at them. The horses they killed them many. Dakotas arrow theirs the
- atí-hnaⁿ' íi ké. Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá íiha umágude-hnaⁿ'i; kí Caaⁿ'-ma éçaⁿ'be 9 they came lodges the Omahas the tent-cut holes in regularly; and the Dakotas in sight regularly (ob.) (sub.) skins
- í íi, wakíde éççé-hnaⁿ'i Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá. Umaⁿ'haⁿ wiⁿ', íáçe-çaⁿ'ba íjiⁿ'çe, came when, shot away at them regularly Omahas the (sub.). Omaha one, Crow two his elder
 brother,
- égaⁿ t'éça-biamá Caaⁿ' amá. Íiha íaŋgá umá'ude íi, ugáç'ín amá. Éçiqçe so they killed him, Dakotas the tent-skin large out a hole in when, he peeped they say. At length
- éçti 'éçaçai. Uçúci-nájiⁿ íjaje açiⁿ'. Gacibaja maⁿ'çinⁿ'i tē, Umaⁿ'haⁿ 12 right on they put it. At the he stands his he had. At the outside they walked when, Omaha the forehead front name
- wiⁿ' t'éçai, caⁿ'ha in'í. Héga t'éçai há, aí Cí gacibaja maⁿ'çinⁿ'i tē, cí one was killed, wolf-skin he wore. Buzzard is killed they Again at the outside they walked when, again
 said.
- wiⁿ' t'éçai. Úhaⁿ-ían'ga t'éçai há, aí. Cí gacibaja maⁿ'çinⁿ'i tē, íáçinⁿone was killed. Kettle large is killed, they said. Again at the outside they walked when, íáçinⁿçai.
- naⁿ'páji íi há. É t'éçai égaⁿ, Mawádaⁿ'çinⁿ'i é'di açai; íi íibe keçáⁿ' 15 naⁿ'páji was wounded. That was killed as, Mandan there went; he was lower the.
 wounded leg
- Mawádaⁿ'çinⁿ'i t'éçai, aí. Mawádaⁿ'çinⁿ'i múbçij íçéçai. Caaⁿ'-ma cti, t'éwaçai Mandan is killed, they said. Mandan they made him full aud-ly by shooting him. The Dakotas too, those who were
- ma, wáçisnu agçé-hnaⁿ'i; dá gē wakaⁿ'taⁿ can'ge-ma çisnúwakiçai.
 killed, they dragged the head has they tied them the horses they made them drag them along (pl. ob.) them.
- Éçiqçe intéde é'di a-í-baji. Can'gaxai Uçúciaja Caaⁿ' naⁿ'ba t'éwaçai. 18
 At length now, but there they were not approaching. They ceased. At the front Dakotas two were killed.
- í'di wénaxiçai ahíi égaⁿ', waçádai Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá; wáonuonúde, gaⁿ'
 There rushing on them arrived having, cut them up Omahas the (sub.); cut them in many pieces, so
- wéçitiⁿ éççai. Xagē agçá-biamá. Gaⁿ' akí-biamá Caaⁿ' amá, wagiⁿ'ín.
 they throw back and hit them with. Crying they went homeward, And reached there Dakotas the carrying they say. again, they say (sub.), their own.

- Lí jaŋgáqti tē'di Mawáda^ŋ wateŋaxá-biamá. Uŋízaⁿ tē wan'giŋe gŋiⁿ-Tent very large at the Mandan they danced they say. Middle the all caused wakiŋá-biamá Caaⁿ t'e-má. Jacáge é tē uŋaⁿ wakiŋá-bi egaⁿ, wa'aⁿ them to sit, they say Dakotas the dead ones. Deer-claws arm the made them hold, they say having singing 3 gŋiⁿ wakiŋá-biamá. Wa'aⁿ júwagŋe gŋiⁿ-biamá. Lí tē wan'giŋe caⁿ/they made them sit, they say. Singing with them they sat, they say. Tent the all in fact gŋiⁿ wakiŋá-biamá tē ɕaⁿka. Lí tē áŋiáza tē caⁿcaⁿ naⁿde ké maⁿɕiⁿk made them sit they say dead the ones who. Tent the they when without sides the earth (soda) opened and put it on the poles stopping ágaspá-biamá. Lí tē ɕictaⁿ-bi ɣi, aⁿhe agŋá-biamá. Umaⁿhaⁿ-má atí te, they weighted, they say. Tent the they finished, when, fleeing they went home-ward, they say. The Omahas come will,
6 al, ádaⁿ aⁿhe agŋá-biamá Caaⁿ amá. Kí Umaⁿhaⁿ-mádi t'éwaŋai-ma they there- fore fleeing went homeward, Dakotas the (sub.). And among the Omahas the dead ones (ob.)
wagíqai. Hɕ-jaŋka-jaⁿga dáhi-qi 'éŋaⁿɕai, t'éŋai. Wanúkiŋe sí tē 'éŋaⁿthey buried Horn forked large right in the they put it on, they killed him. Wanúkiŋe foot the they put their own. (of horns)
ɕai. Ágaha-wacúce 'éŋaⁿɕai, é t'éŋeŋtiaⁿi. I'e'áge-wahíŋe úi jibe it on. Ágaha-wacúce they put it on, that they killed outright. I'e'áge-wahíŋe they lower 9 keŋaⁿ. Jáŋiⁿ-gahíŋe dá ɕaⁿ 'éŋaⁿɕai.
the. Jáŋiⁿ-gahíŋe head the they put it on.

(The following is an incomplete account of the same occurrence, which

Two Crows gave:)

- Nugé gáŋŋaⁿ aŋgáŋai Umaⁿhaⁿ-má. Síaⁿɕai: Jáŋiⁿ-ma júwagŋa-báŋi; Summer on the hunt we went the Omahas. They were alone: the Pawnees were not with them;
Umaⁿhaⁿ-ma-hnaⁿ gaŋŋaⁿi. Gaⁿ Waŋé ké gáké aŋgúha aŋgáŋai. Djó
The Omahas only were on the hunt. And Elkhorn the that we followed we went. Jó 12 aká é'di níŋagahi íŋiŋaⁿ-ma éduŋhe maⁿɕiⁿi. Aŋgáŋai égaⁿ jé weaⁿɕai.
the there chief those who ruled joining walked. We went as buffalo we found them.
Jé-ma hégaŋi t'éaⁿwaⁿɕai, égaŋe gaⁿ t'éaⁿwaⁿɕe aŋŋeⁿi; caⁿ áhigiaⁿqi
The buffaloes not a few we killed them, all around so we killed them we sat; in fact very many times aⁿwaⁿnas aŋŋeⁿi. Caⁿ níŋaⁿga wiⁿáqtei jé-ma gŋéba eŋi, agŋiⁿsatiⁿwe surrounded we sat. In fact man only one the buffaloes ten too, agŋiⁿsatiⁿ- by 15 ɕaⁿɕaⁿ, gŋéba-naⁿ-ba-ɕaⁿɕaⁿ eŋi, t'éwaŋe-hnaⁿi. Gaⁿ wanáŋe tē aŋgúŋi'age fifteen, by twenties too, killed them regularly. And to surround them we were unwilling égaⁿ aŋŋeⁿi, weaⁿɕaⁿi. Jé-ma weaⁿɕiⁿ gaⁿ égaⁿ aŋŋeⁿi. Égiŋe haⁿsome- what we sat, we had our fill. The buffaloes we carried and so we sat. At length early egaⁿtéŋqtei miⁿ 'éŋaⁿbáŋi'qtei, jaⁿagíŋahaⁿ ɣi, égiŋe jé amá áŋkaqtei áíama.
in the morning sun had not risen at all sleep I rose from when, behold, but the very close were coming.
falo (sub.)
18 Wiⁿáqtei Djó aká t'éŋa-báŋi caⁿ baŋúwiⁿxe aŋiⁿi, caⁿ weahíŋe aŋiⁿ aŋai;
Only one Jó the (sub.) did not kill it yet turning around had it, yet far off he took it;
úkiŋa ké'ja aŋiⁿ aŋai. Kí caŋ'ge taⁿ aⁿwaⁿ. Jjó aká. Gaⁿ jé ɕiⁿ t'éŋe no one there to the he took it. And horse the loaned to me Jó the And but the to kill it (sub.) (sub.) (sub.)
aŋai, ádaⁿ t'éŋeŋe-gaⁿ aⁿɕadaí. Jú ké wí aⁿiⁿ, gaⁿ jahánuŋa síaⁿɕé ɕiⁿi naked there- fore I killed it and we cut it up. Body the I I carried, and green hide alone carried it

Djó aká. Angágçai égaⁿ í kē angíadē angágçai. Lli çaⁿ éçaⁿ be angáki Joe the We went home as tent the we were near we went home- Tents the in sight of we got (sub.) ward to ward.
 çí, égiçe íé d'úba wáçiqai. Angágçai kē'ja ukaⁿ ska wáçíⁿ a-fi dúda.
 when, at length but some they chased We went home- to the right in a line having they were this (sub.) false them. ward with them coming way.
 Jan'ge angáki çí, íé-ma wabáçwiⁿ xe açai. Égiçe níaciⁿ ga amá íaháwagçe 3
 Near we got when, the buffa- wheeling around went. Behold, men the shield (sub.) home loes
 açíⁿ í tē níkaçíçe açai.
 had when chasing the foe went.

(When Two Crows had dictated this, several Omahas entered the room, and he would not tell the rest.)

NOTES.

This event occurred in 1849 or 1850, in Nebraska, south of the Niobrara, and near the Nisni, a branch of the Loup Fork of the Platte.

425, 7. wa'íⁿ agçi. This refers to the Omahas, who went after the bodies of the two who had been slain.

425, 9. hegabaji-biama, pronounced he+gabaji-biama.

425, 9-10. íhaⁿ ugiue d'úba, etc. This refers to the Omahas, whom the Dakotas regarded as few, and as separated from "their mothers," i. e., the main body of the tribe.

426, 1-2. E'aⁿ qti - çáçíⁿ çe édi one etede: "You who are wishing to go and see what is to be done, should have gone thither." This was said to each head of a household.

426, 3. édi açai haⁿ í tē. Sanssouci preferred to say, "édi açai haⁿ í tē çí," making "haⁿ í tē," it was night; and "çí," when.

426, 8-10. ukít'ē - Iwidabaⁿ tai mĩñke. The Ponkas camped so near to the Dakotas that Whip could reprove the latter while pretending to scold the former.

426, 9. Eataⁿ unaⁿ pe íⁿ çeonaⁿ á. Aⁿ paⁿ - jaŋga said this was equivalent to "Eataⁿ naⁿ peaⁿ çakiçai á." Sanssouci said that this should be, "Eátaⁿ úçaⁿ pi íⁿ çeonaⁿ éiⁿ te." He derived "úçaⁿ pi íⁿ çeonaⁿ" from "úçaⁿ pi gíçaⁿ."

426, 12. na'za gaxai. Sanssouci said that some of the Omahas made an excavation as a shelter for their horses. The embankment was about four feet high. It was in the shape of a crescent, and was between the tribal circle and the bluffs.

427, 1. weanaxiça cu-íçai, from "wenaxiça cu-íçē," "Cu-íçē" must be distinguished from "cu-çeçē," which denotes sudden motion from the place of the speaker and his party toward the party of those addressed.

427, 4. Maçtu çidaⁿ. Mr. Reed had come to reside among the Omahas in order to study the language, and to assist the principal missionary, Rev. Mr. McKenny.

427, 5. Caⁿ ama denotes a reversal of the previous state after moving awhile.

427, 7. Ugida-qtiⁿ i: ugiđe is the possessive of uđe; "qtiⁿ" is added for emphasis, showing that the Omahas were driven back so forcibly that they went as far into their lodges as they could get.

427, 12. 'eçaⁿ çai is almost a synonym of u, to wound.

427, 15. jibe keçaⁿ. The addition of "çaⁿ" seems to convey the idea of past action or condition.

427, 19. waçnuçnude gaⁿ wegitiⁿ çeça-biama. The Omahas mangled the bodies of the two Dakotas, one of them being that of Kipazo's son, the murderer of Aⁿ paⁿ - jaŋga's brother. They disemboweled them and threw pieces towards the foe, who cried with rage as they retreated.

427, 20 aki-biama Caa^a ama, wagiⁱa. This was not their home, but some place on their homeward way.

428, 2. Jacage a tē u^a waki^a-bi ega^a. Sanssouci said that this should read: Jacage na^a be tē ūwagi^aisna^a-bi ega^a, u^a waki^a-bi ega^a; literally, "Deer-claws—hand—the—they slipped on for them, they say—having—they caused them to hold them, they say—having."

428, 4-5. Ji tē a^aiaza tē - - - agaspa-biama. They had the tent spread open over the tent-poles, and they kept the sides down with sods of earth, which they placed all around the tent after they had put their dead inside.

TRANSLATION.

The Omahas continued surrounding the buffaloes. My elder brother went one morning to shoot at a buffalo calf, and some one went with him. They killed a calf in a valley, and stood cutting it up. The Dakotas approached them by crawling, there being about six horsemen. My brother had no load in his gun, and the other Omaha had a bow. The Dakotas attacked them, coming with a rush. They killed the two, as they had no weapons. At length some one came back to tell it. They came back to tell that two Omahas had been killed. The Dakota murderers fled homeward. The Omahas went to the place and brought the bodies back. The Dakotas reached their home at the village. They rode round and round; they went around the lodges repeatedly. The Dakotas were very numerous, and the Ponkas were there too, the tribes having come together. "Some buffalo calves are there, seeking their mothers. Hasten ye." This was said by Kipazo, the father of the principal murderer, as he went along the line of lodges. He was the head-chief of the Dakotas. He also went along the line of Ponka lodges. "When they capture your relations, the Omahas, you can take them, if you recognize them," said he. The Ponkas did not heed him. So he went again to say it to them. "If you do not join the party, you shall certainly be the ones whom we will attack," said he. The Dakotas were departing. The women sat in the Indian carriages, and so they were departing. And the principal Ponka, Whip, went along the line of Ponka lodges. "You who are wishing to go and see what is to be done, should have gone thither," said he. Whip, his son Marten-waⁱhi (Grizzly-bear-seares-off-the-game), and the Ponkas too, departed at night. At length they were approaching the place of meeting, where they stood. When they assembled themselves all together, some of the police who had assembled went watching one another. The police walked all around: some at the front, some at the sides, and some in the rear. The police attacked the company from time to time, hitting those who showed any disposition to walk leisurely. Whip scolded them. "I have always known your nation in particular. Heretofore you were always unfortunate. Why do you threaten to punish me? You are they who have always acted just like women. And that tribe (i. e., the Omahas) is composed of men, not women. I will know how you behave on meeting them," said he. When they went thither, they approached as they walked by night.

Now I will speak about the Omahas. In the evening the Omahas made an embankment or wall, inside of which they placed the tribal circle. The erier proclaimed thus: "He says, indeed, that you are to make an intrenchment for the children. He says, indeed, that it is said, 'They will surely come.' The Omahas made the embankment. And they planted the tent-poles all along it, interweaving them. Then they placed outside of these the tent-skins, all along the embankment, one after another, as far as they would go. "He says that day is at hand, and that you will do your best. He says, indeed, that they have come," said the crier. The night scouts were continually arriving there, having heard the noise made by the feet of the coming foe. "He says, indeed, that you will do your best. You have none to help you. You will lie with all your weapons in readiness. You will fill your guns with powder. They have come, indeed," said the crier.

The day came forth. They charged on us in coming this way; they made the ground resound all around as they ran. Some of the horses from this place broke their lariats and ran; they ran around us. The Dakotas carried homeward the horses which arrived outside by running. A white man joined the hunting party and was among the Omahas during the fight. They carried off his horse too. His name was Mr. Reed. He continued saying, "The Dakotas will give me my horse again;" but there was not the slightest prospect of that. In about half an hour they contended with us all around the lodges. By and by the Omahas were driven back into their lodges; they were coming back right along to the rear. The Dakotas shot at random when they shot at the lodges. They killed many horses. The arrows of the Dakotas came regularly to the lodges. The Omahas cut holes in the tent-skins, and when the Dakotas came in sight the Omahas shot away at them. The Dakotas killed an Omaha, Two Crows' elder brother, in that manner. He cut a large hole in a tent-skin and peeped out. At length he was wounded right in the forehead. His name was Uñci-najiⁿ (Stands-at-the-front). When they walked on the outside of the embankment, an Omaha who wore a wolf-skin was hit. "Buzzard is wounded," they said. And another was wounded when they walked outside. "Big Kettle is wounded," they said. A third was ǵaŋiⁿ-naⁿpaji (He-who-fears-not-a-Pawnee). When Mandan heard that he had been wounded, he went thither, and was wounded himself, in the leg, below the knee. "Mandan is wounded," they said. When the Dakotas shot at Mandan, they made him fall suddenly. They dragged off any of the Dakotas who had been killed; having put ropes around their necks, they made the horses drag them away. But now, at length, they were not approaching. They ceased fighting. Two Dakotas had been killed at the front. The Omahas rushed on them, and cut up the bodies on reaching them; they cut them in many pieces, and threw them back at the enemy, who went homeward crying. And the Dakotas reached a place again, carrying the bodies of their fallen comrades. They danced the Mandan dance at the very large tent. They caused all the dead Dakotas to sit in the middle. Having made them hold deer-claw rattles on their arms, they made them sit as if they were singing. They sat singing with them. In fact, they caused all the dead to sit in the tent. When they had opened the tent, and had put it over the poles, without delay they weighted down the sides with sods. When they finished it, they fled homeward. They said, "The Omahas will come," therefore the Dakotas fled homeward. And among the Omahas they buried their own dead. He-jañka-jañga (Big-forked-horn) had been wounded right in the neck and killed. Wanukige was wounded in the foot. Agaha-wacuce was wounded and was killed at once. Ie-age-wahiŋe was wounded in the leg, and ǵaŋiⁿ gahiŋe (Pawnee chief who-keeps-a-sacred-pipe) on the head.

TRANSLATION OF TWO CROWS' VERSION.

The Omahas went alone on the summer hunt, without the Pawnees. We followed the course of the Elkhorn River. Joe joined the chiefs, those who governed the tribe. As we proceeded we discovered buffaloes. We killed a great many of them. We surrounded and killed them a great many times. In fact, there were men who killed them by tens, fifteens, and even by twenties. So we were almost unwilling to surround them again, as we had our fill. We continued bringing in the buffaloes. At length, very early one morning, long before sunrise, when I arose from sleep, behold, the buffaloes were coming very near. Joe did not kill one which he chased around and then to a distance to a lone spot. Then Joe loaned me the horse and asked me to kill the buffalo. So I killed it and we cut it up. I carried the meat, and Joe bore the hide. We went back to the camp, which was not far from us. When we got back in sight of the lodges, behold, they chased some buffaloes. They were coming this way, right in a line with us as we went back to camp. When we had nearly reached the camp, the buffaloes wheeled around and departed. Behold, the men had shields and went in pursuit of the enemy.

HOW MAWADAⁿČIⁿ WENT ALONE ON THE WAR-PATH.

DICTATED BY FRANK LA FLÈCHE.

- Mawádaⁿčíⁿ nudaⁿ ačá-bi xī, enáqtcí ačá-biamá. Jíí čan'dí ahi-bi Mandan to war went, they when, he alone went he said. Village at the he arrived,
 he said
- xī, jíí čaⁿ bazaⁿ ačá-bi xī, can'ge-unájiⁿ wiⁿ čicibai tē. Kí wa'ú wiⁿ áci when, vil. the among he went, when, horse stands in one he pulled open. And woman one out lago he said
- 3 atí-bi xī, daⁿbai tē hā. Ié-qtí íáya agčá-biamá. Kí Mawádaⁿčíⁿ aká came, he when, she saw him Speaking to the she went back, he And Mandan the said very (much) lodge said. (sub.)
- can'ge čańká wáči'a aⁿhe agčai tē, cénujín'ga hégaji čiqá-biamá. Uqčáhorse the ones failed with fleeing went when, young men a great chased him, he that them homeward many said. Not over-
- baji ákiágčai tē. Aⁿba xíjī jaⁿi tē, wéahide akí-bi xī. Haⁿ xī, čí č'li taking he had gone again. Day when he slept, far off he reach'd when. Night when, again, he said there
 him
- 6 ačá-biamá. Kí jíí čaⁿ uéřcaⁿ-hnaⁿ maⁿčíⁿi tē, jaⁿ wagičē. Bčúgaqti he went, he said. And village the going around it, he walked, to wait for them to regularly go to sleep. All
- jaⁿ-bi xī, cénujín'ga naⁿ'ba jaⁿ'-baji, wa'aⁿ xúwiⁿxe maⁿčíⁿi tē. Haⁿ'skaⁿ-slept, he when, young man two not sleeping, singing wandering they walked. Mit.
 said around
- skaⁿ ké'ia híi xī, cénujín'ga naⁿ'ba amá agčai tē hā, jaⁿ. Maⁿčíⁿ-xí qíjebe night to the it ar-when, young man two the went homeward, to sleep. Earth lodge door
 rived (sub.)

- íba-t'aⁿ gahá akíjaⁿ tē. Kí akíça jaⁿ't'ai xī, áma gaqéí gaⁿ'çai tē (Mawáhandle it had upon they lay to- And both sound asleep when, the one to kill wished (Man-gather.
danⁿçaiⁿ aká). Íçapiçaiⁿqtci é'ja açai tē. É'di ahí-bi xī, áma aká dágahaⁿ'i the) Very carefully thither he went. There he arrived, when, the the raised his head he said other (sub.)
- tē, nackí çaⁿ sábaçiqti maⁿ'zepe-jin'ga itiⁿ-biamá Áma aká dáhaⁿ 3 when, dead the very suddenly ax little he hit with it, he said. The one the (sub.) to arise átiaçai tē há. Kí çiqai tē há. Aⁿ'ha-biamá Mawádaⁿçaiⁿ aká. Çiqé started And they chased him. Flew he said Mandan the (sub.). Chasing
him
- maⁿçaiⁿ-bi xī, haⁿ' maⁿçaiⁿ-biamá Çúçaiⁿ-jin'ga amá. Jí amá bçúgaqti walked, he said when, hallooing walked he said Pawnee young the (sub.). Lodge the (sub.) all çiqá-biamá, wa'ú amá etē, çínudaⁿ amá etē. Çi çí'á-biamá. Çi aⁿ'ba xī, 6 chased him, he said woman the even, dog the even. Again he failed, he said. Again day when, jaⁿ'-biamá, utçje maⁿ'te. Çi haⁿ' xī, é'di açá-biamá. Aⁿ'ba çan'gçqci he slept, he said, thicket within. Again night when, there he went, he said. Day very near xī, can'ge jí wiⁿ' çicibai tē há. Can'ge wiⁿ' kaⁿ'taⁿ-biamá. Kí aci aççá-bi when, horse lodge one he pulled open. Horse one he tied he said. And out he went homeward, he said
- eçaⁿ, çijebe éçaⁿ'be akí-çti-bi xī, Çúçaiⁿ wiⁿ' ákipá-biamá uhíacka. Kí 9 having, door emerging he had just reached when, Pawnee one he met him, he said close by. And from again, he said
- Çúçaiⁿ aká naⁿ'pai tē Mawádaⁿçaiⁿ. Kí Mawádaⁿçaiⁿ aká can'ge taⁿ' çictaⁿ'- Pawnee the feared to see him Mandan. And Mandan the (sub.) horse the (obj.) not letting báçí çisnú aççá-biamá, jaⁿ'çaiⁿ. Kí Çúçaiⁿ aká é'di égaⁿ'qti baⁿ' çahçgabai-him go pulling went homeward, running. And Pawnee the just then halloo- was making a great
he said, he said, (sub.) ing
- hnaⁿ'-biamá. Kí Mawádaⁿçaiⁿ aká can'ge taⁿ' ágçaiⁿ içaⁿ'i tē, xigeçit'ut'ús'a 12 noise by calling, he said. And Mandan the (sub.) horse the (obj.) sat on him sud- when, bucking repeatedly
denly
- gí'iⁿ-biamá, kí aⁿ'ç içéça-biamá. Çabçaiⁿaⁿ' aⁿ'ç içéçai xí'ji, za'ai amá;
it carried him, and throw him off, he said. Three times it throw him off when, they made an uproar, he said;
- naçuháqci atí-biamá. Çínudaⁿ amá etí, wa'ú amá etí, nú amá etí, bçúga very nearly they came to him, Dog the too, woman the too, man the too, all he said. (sub.)
- çiqai tē. Can'ge çaiⁿ caⁿ'caⁿ ágçaiⁿ ákiágça-biamá.
chased him. Horse the without sitting on he had gone again, he (mv.) stop, ing said.

15

NOTES.

Mawada²çai¹ told his story to Frank La Flèche, from whom the collector obtained it, in November, 1881. The event occurred when Mawada²çai¹ was very young, say about thirty-five years ago.

432, 1-2. çii çandi ahí-bi xī. As the Pawnees camped in a rectilinear inclosure or line, the proper phrase would have been, "çii kēdi," etc. "Çii çanⁿ" refers to a curvilinear encampment, such as the Omahas and cognate tribes use.

432, 6. jaⁿ wagiçé, synonym, jaⁿ wéçai tē.

432, 8.-433, 1. maⁿçaiⁿ-ti çijebe íba-t'aⁿ. The shape of the earth-lodge, including the covered way leading to the inner door, resembles that of a frying-pan. The lodge is the pan, and the covered way represents the handle. The two young Pawnees lay on top of the covered way.

Downloaded from <http://ajphaphapublications.sagepub.com/> at 07:57 12 May 2015

一	二	三	四
五	六	七	八
九	十	十一	十二
十三	十四	十五	十六
十七	十八	十九	二十
二十一	二十二	二十三	二十四
二十五	二十六	二十七	二十八
二十九	三十	三十一	三十二
三十三	三十四	三十五	三十六
三十七	三十八	三十九	四十
四十一	四十二	四十三	四十四
四十五	四十六	四十七	四十八
四十九	五十	五十一	五十二
五十三	五十四	五十五	五十六
五十七	五十八	五十九	六十
六十一	六十二	六十三	六十四
六十五	六十六	六十七	六十八
六十九	七十	七十一	七十二
七十三	七十四	七十五	七十六
七十七	七十八	七十九	八十
八十一	八十二	八十三	八十四
八十五	八十六	八十七	八十八
八十九	九十	九十一	九十二
九十三	九十四	九十五	九十六
九十七	九十八	九十九	一百

Downloaded from <http://ajphaphapublications.sagepub.com/> at 07:57 12 May 2015

MAILED BY AIR

T'an'gaqčaⁿ ǰáqti aⁿčan'kide gaqčaⁿ aŋgáɬai. Caⁿ edádaⁿ waaⁿ'si-Fall hunt deer we shot at on the hunt we went. In fact what looping animal jin'ga bə́uǰaqti aŋ'gunai A-ŋi aⁿqin' újawaqtiⁿi. Caⁿ ǰáqti, miǰa, qúǰa, little all we hunted them. Approach-ing and in excellent spirits. In fact deer, raccoon, badger, pitching tents

3 maŋ'ga, zizika, caⁿ' bə́uǰaqti, aⁿ'ba gə́ wa'in' agǰi-hnaⁿi. ǰǰ gə́ɬba aⁿqin'.
 ekunk, turkey, in fact all, day (pl.) carrying the came back them regularly. Tent (eu) we were.

Angápe égaⁿ, a-ti. Ci égaⁿ, ci újawaqtiaⁿi. Angápai égaⁿ, wáqe d'úba
We went as, they ap- Again it was so, again they were in excel- We went as, white man some proached and lent spirits.

wa'é igéiⁿ amá kē'di angáhii. Wáqe amádi angáhii égaⁿ, waqáte wa'ti, farming they who sat at by the we arrived. White by them we arrived as, food they gave man us.

údaⁿqtiaⁿi. Égiqe uqéwiⁿawáqai. Nfkaciⁿga ukéfiⁿ hnankácē, fi-gā. 3 it was very good. At length they collected us. Indian ye who are, be ye coming.

Angúkikié tabácē. Haⁿ xi angúkikié tal, ai. Aⁿhaⁿ, ai. Haⁿ égaⁿ
We talk to each must. Night when we talk to each will, they said. Yes, said Night like other they.

kē wáqiaí égaⁿ, Angápe tal. Jí té jaugáqti té'di júawáqē atí. Égiqe, the for us they as, We go will. House the very large at the with us they came. Behold,
come wáqe amá bēuqáqti ahí há. (E Wajé guáqicaⁿ, Ni-xébe kē'ja, wáqe 6 white man the all arrived. (That Little Sioux beyond, Water-shallow at the, white man sub.) River pahanⁿgaqci hi-má édedi-ma há. Gēadiⁿ qéqutaⁿ gaⁿ qé té.) Uáwakiaí.

the very first those who they were there. Across thence so it went. They talked with us.

Ahaú! kagéha, uwikie minké-ja, kagéha, edádaⁿ edéhe xi, égaⁿqti ckáxe
Oh! friend, I talk to I who, on the friend, what I say what if, just so you do you one hand,

tal. Aⁿqanⁿgudaⁿbe tanⁿgataⁿ. Údaⁿ xi'ji, égaⁿ angáxe tanⁿgataⁿ, ai 9 will. We consider it we who will. Good if, so we do it we who will, said (Umaⁿhaⁿ amá). Majaⁿ kē uqáqnaⁿ hné tal té ubé'age, ai (wáqe aká).

(Omaha the). Land the you traverse you go will the I am unwilling, said (white man the).

Majaⁿ kē qé qagciⁿqci caⁿ e-hnaⁿ qagciⁿ; ki edádaⁿ wanáqē qéqna Land the this you sit just (on it) the that only you sit (on); and what domestic animal your gacibe híwaqáqē qéqinⁿge há. Égaⁿja, majaⁿ kē wiwáha, ai wáqe aká. 12 out of it you came them you have none. Though so, land the mine, said white the to arrive man (sub.).

Majaⁿ kē qéqnaⁿji; Iqigaⁿqai qé'wiⁿáji, uqáaⁿsi há, ai Je-saⁿ aká. Iqigaⁿqai Land the is not yours; Grandfather he did not buy you leaped on it, said But distant the Grandfather it, false white (sub.).

qé'wiⁿáji té íepahaⁿ ádaⁿ íqápaⁿqti-maⁿ, ai. Iqigaⁿqai qé'wíⁿ té he did not the you know it and I know it very well, he said. Grandfather the one he bought the buy it who it

wajiⁿqiská-qti ádaⁿ íepahaⁿ ádaⁿ, ai, qajú-baji Umaⁿhaⁿ qé'wíⁿ aká 15 you are very intelligent there- you know it I he speaking con- Omaha the (ob.). Je-saⁿ the fore said, temptuously of (sub.).

wáqe qé'wíⁿ manⁿge kē utiⁿtiⁿ. Eátaⁿ qé'qinⁿ-aⁿqáqē á. Majaⁿ uhanⁿge white the (ob.) breast the he hit re- Why do you make me foolish I Land end man (ob.) peatedly.

kē gacibe jinⁿga qagciⁿ. Wieqciⁿ gaⁿ nífaciⁿgaqáqē qniⁿ taté.
the out of it a little you sit. It is I as you make yourself a man you shall be.

Waniⁿja ewájiⁿ jút'aⁿ agáqte kaⁿbēa, gaⁿ uáqine maⁿbēiⁿ, ai Je-saⁿ aká. 18
Animal of its own accord grows I eat mine I wish, so I seek mine I walk, said Je-saⁿ the (sub.).

Égaⁿja, caⁿ ubé'age, ai (wáqe aká). Íe té aⁿqanaⁿá'ji, caⁿ ákihaⁿ hné Nevertheless still I am unwilling, said (white man the). Speech the me you do not yet beyond you go less, listen to,

xi'ji, ankikina taté há, ai wáqe aká. Ákihaⁿ bēé tá minke. Aⁿqákina té.
if, we fight shall, said white the Beyond I go will I who. You may fight me.
man (sub.).

- Maja^u kē wiwŋa ga^u, bēc tá minke, ai. A^uha^u, ai, gasáni hnē xī^u, Land the mine as, I go will I who, he said. Yes, said he, to-morrow you go if, wiŋa^u be cubēc tá minke hā, ai wāqē aká. Wāqē-jin'ga xā^u haha gāŋa^u
I see you I go to will I who said white the Young white people neighboring that class
ones
- 8 uŋēwi^u awāŋē-de, juāwagē cubēc tá minke, ai wāqē aká. Hā^uega^ute
I collect them when, I with them I go to you will I who, said white man the. Morning waha^u i éga^u, 'ābae u'éŋa ga^u, anŋáŋai éga^u, éabēi^u juāwagē. Wāqē amá they removed as, hunting scattered as, we went as, three I with them. White man the gēēba-dúba-qi éga^u ahli éga^u, wánase naji^u i. Ga^u i. Ceta^u na^u eta^u i-gā, forty about arrived as, heading us off they stood. They did so. That far stop moving.
- 6 ai. Ca^u anŋáŋai xī, xū'ē' a-li éga^u, wahúta^u ēi^u kē wāxī. Anŋúŋi'agāi-de they Yet we went when, with a they as, gun the they tried We were unwilling, said. (ob.) to get from as. when wakidai: Ku! ku! ku! Anŋáŋai éga^u, uŋēc kē'ja wāŋi^u ahli. ŋā-bajī-gā.
they shot at us: Ku! ku! ku! We went home- as, remain- to the having us they Do not go.
ward ing reached.
- Hnāi xī, wikide tai minke. Uŋā^u da ŋa^u anŋúnaji^u; ékipa wénaji^u wāqē Ye go if, I shoot at will I who. Island the we stood in it; stood surrounding us white you man
- 9 amá. Waŋáŋide hnēta^u i, ai. An'ka-a^u ēi^u báji hā, wéjai wāqē amá.
the You shot at us you finished, he said. We are not so doubted white man the (sub.) their word (sub.)
A^uŋáŋide hnēta^u i ga^u, ca^u bēc tá minke, ai. Maja^u wiwŋa uáŋiha
You have finished shooting at me as, at any I go will I who, said he. Land my I follow my rate own
ca^u bēi^u, ai. 'Ábae ma^u bēi^u. Éata^u aja^u i ā. In'ēika^u i-gā. Cubēc tá I walk, said he. Hunting I walk. Why do you ? Make ye room for me. I go to you will act so
- 12 minke, ai. Áŋahucŋe, wikide tēi^u ke, ai. Hau! égiŋa^u eka^u hna xī, I who, said he. You speak sanely, I shoot at you will, he said. Ho! you do that you wish if, éga^u ŋā-gā, ai Uma^u ha^u amá. Áŋai xī, wāqē amá wéŋika^u i. ŋāhē kē do it, said Omahas the They when, white the made way for Hill the (sub.) went men (sub.) them.
- an'gahe anŋáŋai ga^u damú anŋáŋai. Watēka kē anŋáhii. Watēka kē we went over we went and down-hill we went. Stream the we reached. Stream the
- 15 ugŋi^u úda^u; ē'di anŋúŋi^u i.
to sit in good; there we sat in.
Égiŋe wāqē amá éŋa^u be atŋi, hēga-báji, gēēbahwi^u-na^u ba-qi-éga^u.
At length white man the (sub.) in sight came, a great many, hundred two about.
Anŋú gēēba-éabēi^u-qtei a^u ēi^u. Watēka kē uspe anŋúŋi^u; ní xā^u haqteci
We thirty just we were. Stream the sunken place we sat in; water on the very bank
- 18 kē anŋi^u i. Wanáŋe-jin'ga ehē ēi^u éŋa^u be hí. Wada^u be. Ga^u i ŋa^u the we sat. Young-soldier I said the one who in sight arrived. He looked at them. He did so suddenly
xī^u, á kē 'éŋa^u ŋai. T'ēa^u ŋai hau, ai. Dáda^u baskiŋe! t'ēa^u ēēŋia^u i, ai.
when, arm the he was hit on. They have I he said. What angry! they have really he (ob.) killed me said. killed me, said,
Ahaú! ai. Kē! ca^u wia^u naxiŋa tai, ai. Bēŋa a^u náji^u; anŋúŋa^u ai. Éga^u.
Oho! they Come! at any we dash on them will, they All we stood, we gave the scalp- In a said rate said yell.
- 21 zēze ga^u wia^u naxiŋa anŋáŋai. Wāqē-ma a^u wa^u baazai. Ca^u ŋe áŋŋi^u wāqē row so wedashed on them we went. The white men we scared them off. Horse sat on white men

béúga: Umaⁿhaⁿ wiⁿáqtei canⁿge ágⁿéi, Ágaha-maⁿéiⁿ. Ígadize-hnaⁿ-biamá.
all. Omaha just one horse sat on, Ágaha-maⁿéiⁿ. He rode round and round, they say.

Wégaⁿze maⁿéiⁿ: Wáqe-ma múwaonaⁿ gaxái-gá. Wedáji-hnaⁿ éicibai-gá, Instructing us he walked: The white men missing them in make ye. Elsewhere, always discharge ye (the guns), ai. Égiçe ci Umaⁿhaⁿ aká wánasai há. Hau! ké, naⁿctaⁿi-gá. Caⁿ- 3 he said. At length again Omahas the headed them off. Ho! come, stop going. Let angúxe tai, ai Ágaha-maⁿéiⁿ aká. Wáqe-ma anⁿguwankíji; wiⁿécte angéus cease, said Ágaha-maⁿéiⁿ the (sub.) The white men we have them for near even one we do not relations; kona-báji te údaⁿ há, ai. Angáçai. Waⁿú-madi angákii. Ké! angáçe tai, injure our own the good he. We went home-ward. To the women we came home. Come! let us go, ai. Angáçai. Gaⁿ a-lí aⁿéiⁿ hau. Hau. Íáqti ké hégaçéwa-báji, t'aⁿ 6 they said. We went. And approach- ing and camping we were. Deer the a great many, abundant teúbai. Íáqti ké aⁿb íéaugçe wakíde maⁿéiⁿi, íáqti-ma kíáqpagaça. Íáze very. Deer the day throughout shooting at they walked, the deer moved in and out Evening among themselves.

miⁿ íéé xi, akíi. Níaciⁿga wiⁿáqtei aká sátáⁿ eté t'éwaçai, dúba eté t'éwaçai, sun had when, they Man one the five even he killed them, he killed them, gone got back. (sub.)

çábéiⁿ eté t'éwaçai, naⁿbá eté t'éwaçai, újawa héga-báji. Gasáni majaⁿ 9 three even he killed them, two even he killed them, pleasure not a little. To-morrow land gáçu çanⁿdi aⁿí tai, ai. Kí égasáni xi, ci égaⁿqti aⁿmaⁿéiⁿi, hégaⁿi t'eaⁿ-that at the we will camp, said they. And the next day when, again just so we walked, a great many we place they.

waⁿçai. Gaççaⁿ amá a-líi, wateçka kéⁿdi ci angúii; ci ábae béúgaqti killed them. Those who were on camped, stream by the again we camped again hunting all the hunt in.

waⁿiⁿ akíi Édhi, égiçe, éçáça tá amá. Géçicaⁿ bée tá minke, ai 12 carrying them reached home. Then, behold, in different will, they said. In that direc- tion I go will I who, said d'úba. Kí wí etí gébçe tá minke, ai. Kí wí etí gáké uáha tá minke, some. And I too I go by will I who, said And I too that I go will I who, that course (one). (stream!) along

ai. Çábéiⁿhaⁿ éçáça angáçai; uéizaⁿ t'éⁿdi uéhe. A-lí aⁿéiⁿ égaⁿ, íáqti (one). In three parties in different we went; middle to the I joined. Approach- ing and camping we were as, deer ké hégaçéwaⁿíⁿ ci t'eaⁿwaⁿçai. Ci angáçai égaⁿ, ákihaⁿ a-lí aⁿéiⁿ. 15 the a great many again we killed them. Again we went home- ward as, beyond approaching we were, and camping

Haⁿ xi ábae amá agéi. Níaciⁿga naⁿba édedí améde Caaⁿ amá, ai.
Night when they who hunted came home. Man two there they were, Dakotas they said but were, they.

Úwakiá-máji, é etí aⁿwaⁿkiá-báji. Wuhú! úwaçakié etai xiⁿi. Gasáni
I did not talk to them, they too did not talk to me. Surprising! you should have talked to them. To-morrow

wactaⁿbai xiⁿi, naⁿbé úçaⁿ-ba úwakiá-gá, ai. Égiçe ci haⁿ t'é akíi. 18 you see them if, hand you hold and talk ye to them, said (one). At length again night when they reached home.

Caaⁿ amá éiⁿgaí. Aⁿwaⁿdaⁿba-báji, aⁿwaⁿwaçáicaⁿ ugácaⁿ açaí éiⁿte, ai.
Dakotas the there were none. We did not see them, in what direction traveling they may have said they gone, they.

- Gasáni ei wactaⁿ bai ʔi, iⁿ taⁿ úwakiégaⁿ i-gá, ai. Aⁿ jaⁿ i. Gaⁿ ʔi Caaⁿ
 To-morrow again you see them it now do talk to them. said (one). We slept. And Dakotas ʔi dúbai te. Haⁿ tē di gēwakiéai tē, waⁿ ú amá aⁿ hai. Gaⁿ ʔi nú amá tent were four. Night when they sent them home- woman the fled. And man the ward, (pl. sub.)
- 3 síaⁿ tē wagaⁿ de a-fi tē, aŋgú. Gaⁿ wateicka jín ga aŋgúni kē hídeaja alone creeping up they were us. And stream small we camped the down-stream to us coming, in
- canⁿ ge-ma tē aⁿ waⁿ tē. Úwaicaⁿ i tē Caaⁿ amá, canⁿ ge-ma únai tē Égiçe the horses (ob.) we sent them. Went around us Dakotas the horses (ob.) sought when. At length the (sub.) them
- canⁿ ge-ma wéçai tē. Wéçai égaⁿ, gaⁿ ʔi wáçiⁿ aŋçai tē. Aⁿ çanⁿ giçahaⁿ the horses (ob.) they found them. They found as, after a having they went We did not know at all them while them homeward.
- 6 bají qti égaⁿ, ei ábae aŋgáçai; íqti-ma aⁿ waⁿ kidaf. Éaze hí égaⁿ, about our own as, again hunting we went; the deer we shot at them. Evening arrived as, aŋgáçai ʔi, égiçe, eiⁿ gajín ga, waⁿ ú edábe, dahé éçegagaⁿ gē di ánaçii, xaçé we went home- when, behold, child, woman also, hill like these on them stood on, crying
 ward
- zaⁿ tē qti amá. Eátaⁿ ádaⁿ. Canⁿ ge bēugaqti wáçiⁿ ákiáççai tēⁿ, ai tē.
 they made a they they Wherefore i Horse all having they have gone (past they said.
 great uproar say. again hunting we went; them again sign i)
- 9 Qe-i! wáçiju-báji héga-báji, ai. Gaⁿ wéça-báji gaⁿ aŋçaiⁿ aⁿ gaçaiⁿ. Ahaú!
 Alas! they have injured not a little, said And we sad so we sat we who moved. Oho!
 us (they).
- ai. Gaⁿ qáça aŋgáççé tai. Aⁿ waⁿ haⁿ tai. Aⁿ waⁿ haⁿ i égaⁿ, bēugaqti said And back again let us go homeward. Let us remove the camp. We removed as, all (one).
- aⁿ waⁿ iⁿ i, waⁿ ú, eiⁿ gajín ga, naⁿ ma cti, bēuga. Gaⁿ aŋgáççai égaⁿ, we carried little woman, child, the grown ones too, all. And we went home- as, packs, ward
- 12 wateicka Zandé-búja é akiçi aⁿ tē. Aⁿ jaⁿ i égaⁿ aⁿ ba. Uçúdaⁿ daⁿ bēgaⁿ.
 stream Zande-buja that we re we were. We slept as day. Do consider ye it turned to and camped
- i-gá, ai. Ahaú! ehé, níkaciⁿ ga çijúbaji ʔi jí, égaⁿ wéⁿ aⁿ gaⁿ çawáççé ebéçgaⁿ.
 a little, said Oho! I said, man injures one when, to do so in return desirable I think.
 (one).
- Níkaciⁿ ga ukéçiⁿ ckaⁿ eáwakigaⁿ i, naⁿ bē aⁿ wakide, caⁿ waçstaⁿ gē aⁿ Indign habits they are like us, hand how to shoot, indeed work the how
 (pl. ob.)
- 15 ckaⁿ gē etewaⁿ. Ugáhanadaze wagaⁿ de, canⁿ ge wénacai tē é cti égaⁿ habits the soever. Darkness to crawl up to horse snatching (the that too so (pl. ob.) them, (act)
- aⁿ çanⁿ bahaⁿ i, ebéçgaⁿ. Aⁿ çipii, ebéçgaⁿ. Aⁿ çiqe taité, ehé. Sigé kē we know, I think. We do it well, I think. We chase shall, I said. Trail the aⁿ çanⁿ guhe taité, ehé. Waqúbe uáhaⁿ tá minke, ehé, wí.
 we follow it shall, I said. Sacred thing I cook will I who, I said, I.
- 18 Hau. Waqúbe uáhaⁿ. Níkaciⁿ ga uçéwiⁿ awáççé. Caⁿ janúça íqti uáhaⁿ; Sacred thing I cooked. Man I collected them. And fresh meat deer I cooked; janúça tē maⁿ zeská naⁿ ba ígaxe é-hnaⁿ uáhaⁿ. Nēxe tē maⁿ zeská sátaⁿ.
 fresh meat the silver two valued at that only I cooked. Kettle the silver five.
 Watⁿ aⁿ, waiⁿ jide, waiⁿ jú, haqúde sábe, unájiⁿ bēçaⁿ ígaxe naⁿ ba, bēçe;
 Goods, blanket red, blanket green, robe black, shirt thin figured two, I took;
 I took;
- 21 akiça wiⁿ bēuga ki é di masáni dáxe: uçúciaja iténçé. Çé wēku-ma, both one round (one) and on it half a dollar I made it; in the middle I placed them. This those who were invited,

Hau! ¹éte wí^ab^aai, ehé. Ní^kaciⁿga gá^{ci}n wá^{ci}jua^ji ^{ci}n' uáne tá mĩⁿke.

Ho! this pile I abandon to you, I said. Person — that one he who did wrong I seek will I who.

Awáckaⁿ maⁿbei^{n'} taté. Waji^{n'} çiçña aⁿçá'i taí, wíbeiⁿwiⁿ, ehé. Hau! ai,
I make an I walk shall. Disposition your you give will, I buy it from you, I said. Ho! said
effort

aⁿci'i taⁿ'gataⁿ caⁿ'ja, waⁿcaⁿkaⁿ té, iⁿciⁿ'gai. Iⁿ'behiⁿ ciⁿai-de uⁿciⁿaiⁿ 3 we give to we will though, you do your will, they said that Pillow they took when in the middle ihé'cai. Déxe naⁿ'ba edábe iⁿ'éku^xa taⁿ'gataⁿ. Hniⁿ'wiⁿ égaⁿ, aⁿ'éi taⁿ'- they laid it. Gourd two also we sing for you we will. You buy it ba, we give wgataⁿ, ai. Hné taté ɕaⁿja, úckaⁿ aɕi^an tẽ égaⁿɕé^an ɕagɕi taté, ai. Wa^an will, said they. You go shall though, deed is done to you the you do so to him you have shall, said Singing gɛi'n'i, dɛxe gasaɛui tɛ, i'n'behi'n ɔma'n'ti'n gɛi'n'i. Ha'n' tɛ snɛdega'n, ca'n'qti 6 they sat, gourd they rattled, pillow beating it they sat. Night the long, as, they beat gaanⁿ bai. Gaⁿ nudaⁿ júawágge gaⁿ ca-ma naⁿ taiⁿ bə́uga. Wí t'éacé tá even till day. And to war I with them they who wished they danced all. I I kill him will minke, ai. Wí ubça^{n'} tá minke, ai. Wí ú çingě'qti ubça^{n'} tá minke, ai.

 I who, said I I take will I who, said I wound none at all I take will I who, said (one), hold of (another), hold of (a third),

Cañ'ge ewénace tá miñke, ai. Hau. A^{n'}ba. Ga^{n'} a^{n'i}i égaⁿ, wí cti'écaça 9 Horse I steal from will I who, said ¶ Day. And they gave us, I too in different them (a fourth). to me directions

awá'i. Wačixabe ahni' hné te, wabáqte ahni' hné te (iččisande jügge-
I gave. Sacred bag you have you go will, bundle you have you go will (what is fastened with it, it acutely to it

hna^{n'}i). Ugáhanadáze ximañ'gçaⁿ açaí, wi^{n'}çaⁿça^{n'}qtei íyinaqqe ubésniⁿ regularly). Darkness stealing himself went, just one by one hiding himself to find him out ɕiŋŋe' qteci ga^{n'} aɕɛ-hnaⁿⁱ. Ha^{n'}adi nuda^{n'} aɕa-bikeamá, ai. Gaɕfɛ a-ɕjaⁿⁱ. 12

there is no one so they were going. Last night to war they went, it is said, they Outside of they rep.

Hau! níkawasa^{n'}, wada^{n'}be ma^{n'}éi^{n'}i-gă, ehé. Wéga^{n'}ze wi^{n'} a-íja^{n'}-hna^{n'}i ha^v wada^v be amá Hau! níkawasa^v, ata^v enja^v tie^v tēnge n. gí-gá há.

night scout the (pl. sub.). Ho! warrior, when you are sleepy if, come back .
ehé. * * * Wajin'ga-jíde hútaⁿ étaⁿ té'di, dáhaⁿi-gá! dáhaⁿi-gá! ehé. dáhaⁿ

I said. * * * Small bird red cried at that time then, — Arise ye! arise ye! I said. Arising Átiáçai tò wan'giçe. * * * Égasáni yi, wada^{n'}be amá sabájiqtei agéfi. Agfi they started up all. * * * The next day when, scouts the very suddenly came. They were back. coming wi'it nudaⁿhañca na^wha wi'hañca acaí. Núdaⁿhañcá. watefeka áá óñcínⁿ kẽ ɲʰtcaŋtɛi wáciⁿ aɣaɪ kẽ. Unaⁿsude réga ɣaɣa. (Can'ge íáia ma'ciⁿʰ when, war-chief two face to face went. O war-chief, stream this that side

the	just now	having them	they went homeward.	Bare spots were made in by treading	new	suddenly and frequently.	(Horse	stung often	walked	10
-----	----------	-------------	---------------------	-------------------------------------	-----	--------------------------	--------	-------------	--------	----

kē, é wakai.) Saⁿ itata-qi ageai kē. Hau! nikawasaⁿ, kē, aⁿdaⁿbe tai.
the, that they meant). White in many clus- they went back. Ho! warriors, come, let us see.
afar off ters, hereand

Ė'di aʧaʃ. Ė'di aʃfi. ^{there} Čéé há, ai. Hau! níkawasa^{n'}, éé há. Wian'guhe
There they went. There they This is it (he) Hol warriors. It is We follow them arrived. said. that

440 THE CEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

taí, ai. Wiúhai. Wiúhe ca^{n'} ma^{n'}ci^{n'} a^{n'}ba t ícáugce. Égiçe mi^{n'} φ will, said. They fol- Following still walked day the throughout. At length sun the (he). lowed them. them íççqtcí xí, akííi kē. Égiçe, cañ'ge-ma wíçí^{n'} akííi tē. Ííí kē dúbá. Ha^{n'} had gone when, they reached Behold, the horses having they had very there again and camped. them reached there. Lodges the four. Night

3 xí a^{n'}ja^{n'}i, kí égasáni a^{n'}wa^{n'}çiqai. Ujañ'ge kē angúha a^{n'}ma^{n'}çí^{n'} çá^{n'}ja, when we slept, and the next day we chased them. Road the we followed it we walked though, añ'guçça-báji; ci hebádi a^{n'}ja^{n'}i. Cí égasáni a^{n'}wa^{n'}çiqe angáçai. Cí añ'guççawe did not overtake again on the way we slept. Again the next day we pursued them we went. Again we did not overtake them; hebádi a^{n'}ja^{n'}i. A^{n'}ba dúbá a^{n'}wa^{n'}çiqai; a^{n'}ba wí^{n'}déta^{n'}hi, mi^{n'}çuma^{n'}ci on the way we slept. Day four we pursued them; day half the length noon arrived,

6 tē'di a^{n'}na^{n'}çta^{n'}i, uwájeççaqti^{n'}i. A^{n'}wa^{n'}çatai. Cí a^{n'}wa^{n'}çiqe angáçai. Égiçe at we stopped going, we were very tired. We ate. Again we pursued them we went. At length watçicka kē ujája kēja angáhii xí, sigçé kē ujája baca^{n'}ca^{n'} kē uhá açaí stream the fork at the we arrived when, trail the fork winding the follow. it had ing it

kē há. Kí wian'ganase tai-éga^{n'}, ujája çúta^{n'} kē angúha angáçai. Jamú gone . And we head them off in order that, fork straight the we followed we went. Down-hill

9 a^{n'}ja^{n'}çí^{n'} angáçe-hna^{n'}i, kí uíça^{n'}be gicka^{n'}qti a^{n'}ma^{n'}çí^{n'} angáçe-hna^{n'}i, we ran we went always, and up-hill very fast we walked we went always, mi^{n'}çuma^{n'}ci háji tē'di. Égiçe mi^{n'} çá^{n'} hídçqtcí tēdhi a^{n'}na^{n'}çta^{n'}i. Na^{n'}bá noon arrived not when. At length sun the bottom very it arrived we stopped going. Two wada^{n'}be açaí. Ga^{n'}-çanka-jin'ga xí, agíí. Ugáhanadáze édhi xí, cí to see went. They moved a little while when, they were coming back. Darkness it arrived when, again

there

12 watçicka ujája baca^{n'}ca^{n'} kē itáxaçáçica^{n'} kē angákii. É'di angákii éga^{n'}, stream fork winding the towards the head the we came to it again. There we reached as,
it again

wada^{n'}be na^{n'}ba hídeaja çéa^{n'}wañkiçai. Açaí éga^{n'}, égiçe sabájiçti Caa^{n'} scouts two down-stream we sent them. They went as, at length very suddenly Dakota xí cáçena^{n'}ba wéçai. Kí wada^{n'}be amá agíí. Cági! cági! cági! ai.

tent twelve they found them. And scouts the (sub.) were There they there they there they said back. back! back! back!

15 Anxíja^{n'}ça gçíhean^{n'}çai. Égiçe wada^{n'}be amá agçíí. Núda^{n'}hañgá! wea^{n'}çai.
We threw ourselves down to hide. At length scouts the had come. O war-chief! we found them.

xí cáçena^{n'}ba açaí kē há, ai. Watçicka kē uhá a^{n'}wa^{n'}ha angágii. Égiçe tent twelve have gone said they. Stream the follow- ing it we followed we were At length (their trail) coming back.

Caa^{n'} xí cáçena^{n'}ba kē xí çá^{n'} é'di angákii, çí'údeçti tē'di. Çéde tē Dakota tent twelve the had the there we reached on our home- together when. Fire the been (past act) pitched ward way,

18 ceta^{n'} zítçia^{n'}. Ha^{n'} hébe añ'guççe tañ'gaçí^{n'}.
so far very yellow. Night a part we pursue them we who will move.

Caa^{n'} amá watçicka kē bas^{n'} uhaí, kí Caa^{n'} ucté amá cañ'ge wáçí^{n'} Dakotas the (sub.) stream the up-side went and Dakotas the rest horse had them down along,

amá wákipai. Ha^{n'} tē wí^{n'}dé'ta^{n'}qtihi xí, añ'guççai. Hau! níkawasa^{n'}, íc'áge the met them. Night the just reached half when, we overtook them. Ho! warrior, old man ones who the distance

442 THE OEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- Hájinga wéka^ataⁿi égaⁿ, íki wábaqtai. Hau! níkawasaⁿ, ééú wan'gié Cord they tied them with as, chin they tied them. Ho! warrior, here all éiskie úpaⁿ gíiⁿi-gá, ehé. Níkawasaⁿ, nudaⁿ/hanga edábe, aⁿwaⁿ/besniⁿtogether holding them sit ye, I said. Warrior, war-chief also, they found me out
- 3 ctéwaⁿ-báji. Pi an'gi'aⁿ tai, ehé. Ucté amá wagáqcaⁿ amá can'ge-ma in the least not. Anew let us do it to him, I said. The rest servants the (sub.) the horses wakaⁿ/taⁿi gaⁿ ckaⁿ/aji úpaⁿ gíiⁿi. Hau! nudaⁿ/hanga, é'di angáge té, ehé.
 tied them so motionless holding them sat. Ho! O war-chief, there let us two go, I said.
- É'di angáge, naⁿ/ba éégaⁿ. Ugáhanadáze, caⁿ/ bamámaxe angácai.
 There we went, two thus. Darkness, yet bowing the head repeatedly we went.
- 6 Égazéze gaⁿ/qti íi amá. Nudaⁿ/hanga, íi uhan'ge áma té'a hné té, ehé.
 in a line just so they camped. O war-chief, tent end the one to the you go will, I said.
 Aⁿhaⁿ, é'di bécé tá minke, ai. Ói, áwaté'di oné tá, ai. Lí uhan'ge áma Yes, there I go will I who, said he. You, by which you go will I said. Tent end the other té'a bécé tá minke, nudaⁿ/hanga, ehé. 'Aⁿ/qti ctéetewaⁿ d'úba wábeiⁿ agéí to the I go will I who, O war-chief, I said. Just how notwithstanding some I have I have them come
- 9 tá minke, ehé. É'di bécé. Égié can'ge-ma ijébeqti ugáck ícaⁿ/waéai amá.
 will I who, I said. There I went. At length the horses (at) the very fastened they had been placed.
 É'di pí. Can'ge amá áji aⁿwaⁿ/cibcaⁿ/i égaⁿ, íaⁿhaí. Máhiⁿ agéíze gaⁿ/
 There arrived. Horse the different they smell me as, they fled for that reason. Knife I took my so wéka^ataⁿ gé máawásasa; wádasi agéí. Hau! níkawasaⁿ, ééama cí d'úba lariat the I cut them repeat- edly; I drove them I went homeward. Ho! O warrior, these again some
- 12 cí wábeiⁿ agéí, ehé. Aⁿ/éistúbaí. Há! nudaⁿ/hanga! há! nudaⁿ/hanga!
 again I have I have I have I said. They extended their Thanks! war-chief! thanks! war-chief!
 há! nudaⁿ/hanga! núdrⁿ/hanga, wéonaⁿ/aⁿgáigé, ai. Haⁿ/ wí'áqtei té, thanks! war-chief! O war-chief, you cause us to be thankful, said they. Night just once when, naⁿ/baⁿ wábeize. Hau! Wágéiⁿ-gá! wágéiⁿ-gá! wágéiⁿ-gá! ehé Can'ge-ma twice I took them. Ho! Sit on them! sit on them! sit on them! I said. The horses (ob.)
- 15 wágajád ícaⁿ/caⁿi. Can'ge ágciⁿ-báji amédegaⁿ uskaⁿ/skaqti áagajáde gaⁿ/they straddled they did it suddenly. Horse not ridden it was of that sort directly (on it) I straddled so áagciⁿ gaⁿ xigéijemuxa gaⁿ, aⁿ/aⁿáqti íéécai. Hau! níkawasaⁿ, síndchadi
 I sat on it so kicking up his heels so, he threw me very far away. Ho! warrior, at the tail ícaⁿ/cai-gá. Angáge tábacé, ehé. Caⁿ/éiskieⁿ/qti angágeai. Caⁿ/aⁿnaⁿ/aⁿbaí.
 place him. We go homeward must, I said. And all together we went homeward. We rode till day.
- 18 Gickaⁿ/qti angéiⁿi. Caⁿ/qti aⁿnaⁿ/mí'cumaⁿ/cii. Édhi xi, aⁿnaⁿ/ctaⁿi.
 Very rapidly we sat. We rode even till noon. It arrived when we stopped going.
 Ckaⁿ/ajicaⁿ/i. Égasáni xi, má ké ekúbe há. Sníte wáwakan'dicai.
 They were suddenly motionless. The next day when, snow the deep. Feeling cold we were impatient from.
- gniawatai, sniawatai! Nééé údaⁿ, ai. Can'ge-ma weágcae. Óctaⁿ/aⁿin'-gá,
 We are cold, We are cold! To kindle good, said they. The horses I divided among them. This one have thou,
- 21 ehé d'wábeiⁿ/aⁿ. Ké! caⁿ/ angáge tai. Gickaⁿ/qti angéiⁿi. Caⁿ/qti cí
 I said eight times. Come! still let us go homeward. Very rapidly we sat. Still, indeed again aⁿnaⁿ'haⁿi. Ci aⁿjaⁿ'-bajiⁿqti, caⁿ' aⁿnaⁿ'aⁿbaⁿ. Ci gickaⁿ'qti angⁿciⁿ'i, ci we rode till night. Again we slept not at all, we rode till day. Again very rapidly we sat, again caⁿ'qti aⁿnaⁿ'haⁿi. Eⁿgasⁿni miⁿ' hⁿdeqteⁿi hⁿ xi, angⁿakii; weⁿahidⁿ'qteⁿi we rode even till night. The next day sun the very bottom reached when, we touched a very great distance home; aⁿmaⁿ'ciⁿi. Nudaⁿ' amⁿa agⁿci, huⁿ+! Nudaⁿ' amⁿa agⁿci, huⁿ+! Canⁿ'ge 3 we walked. Warrior the have halloo! Warrior the have halloo! Horse (pl. sub.) come home, (pl. sub.) come home, waⁿciⁿ agⁿci, huⁿ+! ai aⁿciⁿ amⁿa. Angⁿakii eⁿgaⁿ, aⁿjaⁿ'i.

bringing they halloo! said those who had We reached as, we slept.
them have come, they not gone. home
Eⁿgeⁿ Caaⁿ' amⁿa canⁿ'ge-ma waⁿciⁿge atfi. Wiⁿ'aqteⁿi waⁿciⁿge aⁿ-i.
At length Dakotas the the horses pursuing their had come. Just one creeping up was (sub.) own come. to us coming.
Iaⁿ'be. Aci pi xi weⁿci; ugⁿahanaⁿdaⁿze caⁿ' waⁿciⁿge maⁿ'ciⁿ'i. Wigⁿaqⁿci 6
I saw him. Out of far, when I found darkness yet visible he walked. My wife doors him;
uⁿebⁿci. Ceⁿama Caaⁿ' wiⁿ' atfi, ehⁿ. Wahⁿutaⁿ'ciⁿ ke agⁿciⁿge eⁿde, Caaⁿ' aⁿwaⁿ-
I told her. Those Dakotas one has I said. Gun the I took mine but Dakota found come, (ob.)
besⁿni eⁿgaⁿ bispⁿ'-gaⁿ jaⁿ'i, janⁿ'de ke aⁿciⁿkaⁿbe. Naⁿ'stⁿstapi agⁿci. Aⁿ'ba me out as crouching some- lay, ground the he stuck to. Walking rapidly he went what homeward. Day xi aⁿ'aⁿ'hai, Waⁿci-ujinⁿ'ga keditaⁿ. Hideaⁿja aⁿ'aⁿ'hai. Uhnⁿucka wiⁿ' angⁿahii 9 when we fled, Little Sioux River, from the. Down-stream we fled. Valley one we reached the smaller eⁿgaⁿ, aⁿ-hi aⁿ'ciⁿ'i. Haⁿ' xi, ugⁿahanaⁿ' ze ha. Eⁿgeⁿ Caaⁿ' amⁿa uⁿwaⁿciⁿge, as, we were approach- Night when, darkness At length Dakotas the overtook us, ing it and camping. (sub.) heⁿgaⁿi. Angⁿu djuⁿba aⁿ'ciⁿ'i. Baxⁿu keⁿ'di Caaⁿ' wiⁿ' ugⁿahanaⁿ'i te. Ganⁿ'xi waⁿciⁿ not a few. We few we were. Sharp at the Dakota one he peeped. And white thin peak man wiⁿ' ededⁿi-aka. Eⁿ imaxai te. Umaⁿ'haⁿ oniⁿ'i, aⁿ te waⁿciⁿge aka. Anⁿ'ka- 12 one he was (living) He questioned I him. Omaha you are I said white man the there. (sub.) I am maⁿji, Caaⁿ' bⁿciⁿ'i, ai te. Ki waⁿciⁿge naⁿ'ba damⁿu aⁿ-hi eⁿgaⁿ, wadaⁿ'be atfi te.
not so, Dakota I am, he said. And white man two down-hill they as, to see us they came.
were coming
Gaⁿ te waⁿciⁿge aka: Umaⁿ'haⁿ oniⁿ'i. Caaⁿ' amⁿa ededⁿi-amⁿa ciⁿ'ja, aⁿtaⁿ' uⁿdaⁿ'
Said as fol white man the Omahas you are. Dakotas the they are there though, how good lows (sub.): (sub.) possible ciⁿgiⁿxe taⁿba, ai te. Umaⁿ'haⁿ fe te ciⁿpi-bajiⁿ ciⁿ'ja, caⁿ' uⁿwagiⁿci te. 15 they do to should I said they. Omaha speech the they did not speak well though, yet they told it to us.
you
Caaⁿ' iⁿwiⁿ'aⁿ'hanⁿ'gaⁿ'ciⁿ'i. Caaⁿ' uⁿciⁿ eⁿgaⁿ, canⁿ'ge ugⁿack iⁿciⁿ'waⁿciⁿge uⁿdaⁿ', Dakotas we were fleeing from them. Dakotas they told as, horse fastened to place them good,
of them
ai. Eⁿgeⁿ Caaⁿ' amⁿa weⁿanaxiⁿci. Canⁿ'ge-ma weⁿnace gaⁿ'ci te. Niⁿciⁿ said At length Dakotas the attacked us. The horses to take them they desired. At random (some). (sub.) from us aⁿ'ciⁿciⁿbai. Caaⁿ'-ma aⁿ'waⁿ'baazai, ki canⁿ'ge-ma waⁿ'gagⁿ'ciⁿ'i te. Eⁿ'di 18 we fired. The Dakotas (ob.) we scared them off, and the horses (ob.) we had our own. Forth-eⁿgaⁿqti Caaⁿ' iⁿwiⁿ'aⁿ'hanⁿ'gaⁿ'ciⁿ'i. Hideaⁿja aⁿ'aⁿ'he angⁿci. Caⁿ'qti haⁿ' with Dakotas we were fleeing from them. Down-stream we fled we went. Right along night aⁿ'ciⁿmaⁿ'ciⁿ'i angⁿci. Maⁿ'a-uhanⁿ'ge keⁿ'ja angⁿahii. Mandⁿ'-ha angⁿaxai eⁿgaⁿ, we walked by we went. End of the trees-woods at the we arrived. Skin-boat we made as,
Nicⁿude ke niwanⁿ'gaⁿ'ciⁿ'i angⁿci. Caaⁿ' waⁿciⁿge amⁿa geⁿba-cuⁿciⁿ'i ki eⁿ'di 21
Missouri the we crossed in boats we went home-ward. Dakotas pursuers the thirty and on it River (sub.)

444 THE ČEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

cáde itáxaxa agčai égaⁿ ádačage jaŋ'ga wiⁿ é'di akki tē. Ki Umaⁿ'haⁿ six to the head went as headland large one there they reached it again. And Omahas d'úba, jáqti úne maⁿ'čín'-ma čnⁿ, qéki kē'di gčín' akáma. Ki Umaⁿ'haⁿ some, deer hunting them those who had walked, foot of the at the were sitting, they say. And Omahas

3 amá uetē amá ecaⁿ gčín'i tē wégidahaⁿ-bajl-biamá jáqti úne maⁿ'čín' amá
the (sub.) the rest near there sat the knew not about their own, they say deer hunting walked the (sub.)

čéamá. Caaⁿ amá baxú kē'di ugás'in-biamá. Égiče Umaⁿ'haⁿ naⁿ'ba these. Dakotas the (sub.) peak at the peeped, they say. At length Omahas two watečeka kē'di aki-bi egaⁿ, mandé-ha gaxá-bi egaⁿ, niwáčiŋe ačai tē.

stream at the reached again, having, skin-boat made, they having, to cross in the they went.

6 Égiče Caaⁿ amá wakida-bi egaⁿ, akíčá t'éwačai. Uetē aká akki, čin'gajin'ga,
At length Dakotas the shot at them, having, both they killed them. The rest reached child, wa'ú edábe. Angú-an'gataⁿ-játaⁿ can'ge ágčín' win' a-i. Masániatájaⁿ učá woman also. Us from us who stood horse sitting on one was coming. From the other side to fall íča-biamá. Naⁿ'ba wáqči agčai, huⁿ! á-biamá. Cé haⁿ'adi weánaxičai.

they sent (the voice) this way, they say. Two they killed they went homeward, halloo! said they, he said. That last night we were attacked.

9 Wakidai. Haⁿ aⁿ'čan'maⁿ'čín', caⁿ'qti aⁿ'naⁿ'aⁿ'ba aŋgágčii, é ččča-biamá.
They shot at us. Nicht we walked by, we walked even till day we have come to they sent (the voice), back, say it they say.

Wáči kē čbč-hnaⁿ á, á-biamá (can'ge ágčín' aká). Maⁿ'eka-gaxe gaqči Killed the who only I said, they say (horse sitting on he who was). Maⁿ'eka-gaxe they slew agčai, nújinga júgče, ai. Caⁿ aŋgágče tan'gataⁿ hau. Mandé-ha aŋgaxai they went boy with him, said they. Yet we go home- we who will I Skin-boat we make 12 éde cetaⁿ aŋgígčai. Itáxaxá-ma gáama beŋga cagčé tá amá, á-biamá.

but so far we have not finished for ourselves. Those up the stream those out all they go home- will they, said they, they

Agí 'íča-biamá, é učai akí. Égiče xagé agí átiágčai. Xagé agí há, Coming back they spoke of, that to he reached At length crying coming they were Crying they are

ai. Haⁿ'adi wakide-ma čaⁿ é daⁿ'ete uhé ūhe akí éde, wiⁿ t'éwačai tē, ai.
was Last night those who shot at us they perhaps path pass, they but one they killed (of us, said (some).

15 Haⁿ'adi weánaxičai amá čaⁿ ádačage tē hidé kē'di gaqči agčai-biamá, ai.
Last night they attacked us the ones who headland the bottom at the killed him went homeward, said he.

Čijin'ge, Maⁿ'eka-gaxe, gaqči agčai-biamá, ai. Ágaha-maⁿ'čín' (aká) iⁿwiⁿ'čai.
Your son, Maⁿ'eka-gaxe, killed him went homeward, they say, he. Ágaha-maⁿ'čín' (the sub.) told me.

Íí kē beŋgaqti agí-biamá Íí amá beŋgaqti caŋgáki tan'gačín'. Wéčai-gá, Tent the all are coming back, Tent the (sub.) all we reach you we will, as we Wait for us, at home move.

18 ai tē ní masáni najin' amá. Íí amá beŋgaqti cakí tá amá. Wéčai-gá, said river on the other those who stood. Tent the (sub.) all they will reach you at home. Wait for us, á-biamá učá agčai aká. Naⁿ'ba jaⁿ xi, égiče ai kē beŋgaqti agčai. Nicúde they said, said he to tell it he who came back. Two sleep when, at length tent the all came back. Missouri hidé kē'ja uhá agčai. Wanja beŋgaqti iⁿ maⁿ'čín'-biamá, újawačti.

bottom to the follow. they went in it homeward. Animal all carrying walked, they say, a great abundance.

sunrise two went out as scouts, passing directly along in the path to be traveled by the war party (literally: Mi' épa-ba-bájl tēdi na-bá wada-be afaí, uhé afe táí éga nka-ska).

439, 19. sa itata-qtei ag-fai kē; "sa" refers to the light soil bare of grass; the horses feet had trodden down the stubble (or, burnt grass), leaving the lighter soil, which was seen in the distance. "Itata" shows that there were several horses, and that the ground was trodden thus in many places; and "kē" denotes the long line of such tracks on the homeward way.

440, 1. a-ba t ípangfe, in full, a-ba tē ípangfe. So, mi' é íeqtci, in full, mi' épa íeqtci.

440, 20—441, 1. i-c'age maja wepajjiga, etc. The old men who remain at home act as criers day and night. They go among the tents and to the bluffs where they exhort the distant warriors, after this style: "Wacka' egai'-gā. Nū hni' éga, uágua ma'hni'. Maja' áhe ga'faqi ágahe ma'hni'. Águdi fajja' eka'hna xí, é'di jañ'-gā hā. Gúlugá-épe ja' fihé." The following is a translation of this address: "Do your best. You have gone traveling because you are a man. You are walking over a land over which it is very desirable for one to walk. Lie in whatever place you wish to lie (i. e., when you are dead). Be sure to lie with your face the other way (i. e., toward the enemy)."

441, 3. jadita' afa'a' fa'ice íte. This is probably a quotation from the usual song of the women. When Hebádi-ja' of the ya'ze gens was addressed, they sang thus:

Wanáqfi-á! Áfa'a' fa'ice íte.

Hasten! What are you doing that you remain away so long?

Jínuhá, faa'fa ca' fa'ice.

Elder brother, now at length, you have left him behind.

Hebádi-ja! Caa' jín'ga kúfe afa' gí-á.

O Hebádi-ja'! come back quickly with a young Dakota.

441, 7. hi-be aŋgugiŋa' aŋfi'í. They had removed their moccasins before crossing the stream.

441, 19. sidahi a'nia-majl agfi tate afa. This refers to going home on the horses, and thus avoiding traveling on foot, which would have pained their feet (na'nie). When fa'fi-na'pajl caught the horses, he did not recognize them, as it was dark. After the rest had gone to fasten them, Agaha-ma'fi returned and thanked him, saying: "They are our horses. We thank you."

442, 4. édi aŋgaŋe te. fa'fi-na'pajl meant Agaha-ma'fi and himself.

442, 17. ca' fískieqti aŋgagfai. They drove most of the horses. The warriors being mounted kept around the sides and rear of the herd.

443, 16. Caa' i'wi'a'haí ga'fi, in full, Caa' i'wi'a'he aŋga'fi.

444, 8. na-ba waqfi agfai. Sanssouci said that only one Omaha was killed at the big headland, and that there were more than two in the party which attempted to cross the river at that time.

444, 10. Ma'eka-gaxe belonged to the Quxa or Raccoon section of the Wasabe-hitajl. Hence his name may contain an allusion to the myth of the Raccoons and the Crabs (or, Craw-fish).

444, 13. agi ípa-biama, e ufa aki. This was told by Agaha-ma'fi.

444, 14. ha'adi wakide-ma, etc. This was said by some of fa'fi-na'pajl's party.

445, 1-2. maja ma'fi-ji gaxe fa'ya aki. At Sarpy, Neb., near mouth of the Platte.

TRANSLATION.

We killed deer when we went on the autumnal hunt. We hunted all sorts of small leaping animals. When we approached any place to pitch the tents, we were in excellent spirits. Day after day we carried into camp different animals, such as deer, raccoons, badgers, skunks, and wild turkeys. We had ten lodges in our party. As we went, we camped for the night. And we camped again at night, being in excellent spirits. At length we reached a place where some white farmers dwelt. They gave us food, which was very good. At length they assembled us. "Come, ye Indians, we must talk together. Let us talk to each other at night." "Yes," said we. As they came for us when a part of the night had passed, we said, "Let us go." They came with us to a very large house. Behold, all of the whites had arrived. That place was beyond the Little Sioux River, at Boyer Creek, where the first white men were, across the country from this place. They talked with us. "Oho! my friends, though I, for my part, talk with you, you will do just what I say," said one. "We will consider it. If it be good, we will do so," said the Omahas. "I am unwilling for you to wander over this land," said the white man. *Je-sa*¹⁸ (White-Buffalo-in-the-distance) said, "As you keep all your stock at home, you have no occasion to wander in search of them; and you dwell nowhere else but at this place. (But we have wild animals, which are beyond our dwelling-place, though they are on our land.)" "Though you say so, the land is mine," said the white man. "The land is not yours. The President did not buy it. You have jumped on it. You know that the President has not bought it, and I know it full well," said *Je-sa*¹⁸. "If the President bought it, are you so intelligent that you would know about it?" said the white man, speaking in a sneering manner to the Omaha. *Je-sa*¹⁸ hit the white man several times on the chest. "Why do you consider me a fool? You are now dwelling a little beyond the bounds of the land belonging to the President. It is through me that you shall make yourself a person (i. e., you shall improve your condition at my expense). I wish to eat my animals that grow of their own accord, so I walk seeking them," said *Je-sa*¹⁸. "Nevertheless, I am unwilling. If you go further, instead of obeying my words, we shall fight," said the white man. "I will go beyond. You may fight me. As the land is mine, I shall go," said *Je-sa*¹⁸. "Yes, if you go to-morrow, I will go to you to see you. I shall collect the young white people all around, and go with them to see you," said the white man. Having removed the camp in the morning, we scattered to hunt for game. I went with three men. About forty white men arrived, and stood there to intercept us. They waved their hands at us, saying, "Do not come any further." As we still went on, they came with a rush, and tried to snatch our guns from us. When we refused to let them go, they shot at us: "Ku! ku! ku!" As we went back, we were driven towards the rest of our party. The leader of the white men said, "Do not go. If you go, I will shoot at you." We stood on an island; and the white men surrounded us. "You have already shot at us," said the Omahas. The white men doubted their word, saying, "It is not so about us." "You have already shot at us, so we will go at all hazards. I am following my trail in my own land. I am going to hunt. Why do you behave so? Make way for us. We will go to you," said *Je-sa*¹⁸. "If you speak saucily to me, I will shoot at you," said the white man. "Ho! if you wish to do that, do it," said the Omahas. As they departed, the whites made way for them. We went along a bluff, and then down hill, when we reached a creek. It was a good place for us to stay, so we remained there. At length about two hundred white men came in sight. We were just thirty. We were in the hollow by the edge of the stream. Wamacejiinga, whom I have spoken of, arrived in sight. He looked at them. When he made a sudden signal, he was wounded in the arm. "They have wounded me! There is cause for anger! They have wounded me severely," said he. "Oho! come, let us attack them at any rate," said the Omahas. We all stood, and gave the scalp yell. Having formed a line, we went to attack them. We scared off the white men. All of them were mounted; but only one Omaha, Agaha-ma³phiⁿ, was on a horse. He rode round and round, and gave us directions what to do. "Miss in firing at the white men. Shoot elsewhere every time," said he. At length the Omahas intercepted the retreat of the whites. "Come, stop pursuing. Let us cease. It is good not to injure even one of the white people, who are our own flesh and blood," said Agaha-ma³phiⁿ. We returned to the women. Then we departed. We reached a place where we pitched the tents. There were a great many deer; they were exceedingly abundant. Throughout the day we walked shooting at the long line of deer, and they were moving back and forth among themselves. At evening, when the sun set, the hunters reached the camp. Some men had killed five, some four, others three, and so on. They were in a good humor. "To-morrow we will camp at that land," said they. And we fared as well the next day, killing many deer. Those who were on the hunt reached another place, where they camped. We pitched the tents by a stream. And all who went to hunt brought back game on their backs. Then, behold, it was proposed to go in different directions. We divided into three parties; one went to the right, one to the left, and the third kept straight ahead. I joined the last. When we camped, there were plenty of deer, and we killed them. Going on towards home, we camped again. At night the hunters returned, saying, "Two men were there who were Dakotas. We did not talk to them, and they did not talk to us." "Surprising! you should have talked to them. If you see them to-morrow, shake hands with them and talk to them," said one of us. At length they reached the camp the next night. The Dakotas were missing. "They went traveling in some direction or other, so we did not see them." "If you see them to-morrow, do talk to them," said one of us. We slept. There were four lodges of Dakotas. At night they sent the tents homeward, and the women fled. The men alone were coming, creeping up towards us. We sent the horses towards the mouth of the small stream by which we camped. The Dakotas surrounded us, seeking the horses. At length they found them and took them off. As we knew nothing at all about our loss, we went hunting again, and we shot deer. When we went towards the camp, as evening arrived, behold, the children and women stood on bluffs resembling these, and they made a great uproar by crying. "Wherefore?" said we. "They have taken away every horse!" said they. "Alas! they have done us a very great injury." And we sat very sad. "Oho! let us go back again. Let us remove the camp." When we removed, all carried little packs, the women, the children, and all who were grown. As we went homeward, we reached the stream called Zande-buja, where we camped. We slept, and it was day. "Do consider the matter a little," said they. "Ho!" said I, "I think that when one man injures another, it is desirable to repay him. The Dakotas are like us in their Indian habits. We know just as well as they how to use the hands for shooting at foes or game, for working in any way. We know how to creep up to them in the darkness, and snatch their horses from them. I think that we can do it well. Let us pursue. We shall follow the trail. I, even I, will do the sacred cooking."

I did the sacred cooking. I collected the men. I cooked fresh venison, which I valued at two dollars. The kettle was worth five dollars. I put some goods in the middle of the tent; a red blanket, a green one, a black robe, and two figured calico shirts, the last of which I valued at a dollar and a half each. To those who had been invited, I said, "Ho! I leave this pile of things to you. I will seek that man who did the injury. I shall make every effort in walking to find him. Please give me your temper. I buy it of you." "Ho!" said they, "though we will give it to you, please do your best." They took a pillow, which they put in the middle with two gourd rattles. "We will sing for you to dance. As you have bought it, we will give it to you. You shall return after doing to them as they did to you." They sat singing, making the gourds rattle by striking them against the pillow. As the night was long, they beat the rattles even till day. And all those who desired to go on the war-path with me danced. "I will kill him," said one. Another said, "I will take hold of him." "I will take hold of one when he is not wounded at all," said a third. "I will snatch horses from them," exclaimed a fourth.

It was day. And as they had given something to me, I, too, gave presents all around. "You may take a sacred bag, and what is bound up with it (what is always fastened securely to it)," said my guests to me. When it was dark, we stole off one by one, secretly, without being detected by any one at all. The next day it was said, "They went on the war-path last night." We reached a place outside of the village, and there we slept. "Ho! warriors, go ye as scouts," I said. Those who go as scouts at night, usually go about a mile from the camp before they lie down. "Ho! warriors, when you become sleepy, come back," said I. * * * When it was time for roosters to crow, I said, "Arise! arise!" All arose hurriedly. * * * The next day the scouts came back very suddenly. As they were returning, two war-chiefs went out to meet them. "O war-chiefs, they have just taken them homeward on this side of the stream. The feet of the horses have recently made a series of bare spots along the ground where the grass has been burnt." They also referred to the fresh manure dropped by the horses as they went. "They have gone back, making a line of clusters of whitish spots on the burnt grass," said they. "Ho! warriors, come, let us see it," said the war-chiefs. They went thither. "This is it," said the scouts. "Ho! warriors, it is that. Let us follow them," said the war-chiefs. They followed them, walking the whole day. At length, when the sun had just set, they reached again a place where they had been, and there they camped. Behold, the foe had reached home with the horses. The tents were four. We slept at night, and we pursued them the next day. Though we passed along the road, we did not overtake them, and we slept on the way. The next day we continued the pursuit; but we did not overtake them, so we slept on the way. We pursued them four days. When half of the day had gone, and it was noon, we stopped, as we were very tired. We ate, and then continued the pursuit. At length, when we reached the forks of a stream, the trail had gone up a crooked branch to the right hand. We went straight on to head them off. We ran down-hill, and walked fast up-hill till noon. When the sun was very low, we stopped. Two went as scouts. When they

Photographic Sciences Corporation

23 WEST MAIN STREET
WEBSTER, N.Y. 14580
(716) 872-4503

had been absent but a short time, they returned. At dark we reached another place, having arrived again at the crooked branch, up towards its head. When we reached it again, we sent two scouts down-stream. As they went, they came very suddenly upon twelve Dakota tents. Then the scouts were returning to us. "There they come! there they come! there they come!" We threw ourselves down to hide. At length the scouts came back. "O war-chief! we discovered them. Twelve lodges departed," said they. We were coming back (i. e., down the crooked branch), following the trail of the foe. At length we reached the place where the twelve Dakota tents had been pitched, when it was altogether deserted. They had gone, but the coals of the camp-fires were still very bright. "We will pursue them for a part of the night," said we.

These Dakotas had gone down-stream till they met the rest of their people who had our horses. We overtook them just at midnight. "Ho! warriors, I suspect that the old men at home are exhorting us. Ho! warriors, let us overtake them before this night ends. Do make a desperate effort. I suspect that your grandparents are yearning for you. I think that they are saying about you, 'When shall he come in sight after so long an absence? What are you doing that you are continuing so long away from the lodge?'" We kept in pursuit along the road. The scouts went and returned without finding any one. When we forded the small stream which went aside from the creek, and had reached the other side, one of the war-chiefs said, "Warriors, I will smoke." It was Agaha-ma³fi. We sat, putting on our moccasins after wading. Agaha-ma³fi said, "Put on the moccasins hastily." "Ho! warriors, when you finish smoking, you may come. I, for my part, will go as a scout," said I. I followed the road. I ran a little, now and then. The long line of trees made a dark shadow in the distance. When I drew very near, the horses followed the road, and came directly to me, and I drove them before me, and was bringing them back to our men. I myself recovered the Omaha horses. I brought them very near to those who were sitting, and made them stand there motionless. Then I went to the men. I ran a little, now and then. I went back to these who were sitting, having been very close to them. They had not yet stirred at all; they were still smoking. "Ho! warriors and war-chiefs, you are sitting still. Some persons are coming back along the road," said I. "Why! warrior, what can be the matter? In what direction can we go after sitting here so long?" said they. I said as follows: "O warriors and war-chiefs, I brought some of them back a great while ago." "Thanks! O war-chief! thanks! O war-chief! thanks! O war-chief!" they said, as they extended the palms of their hands toward me. "We shall indeed come home without having our toes ache us from too much walking." "Tie them! tie them!" said I. They threw lariats over the horses' heads, and tied their lower jaws. "Ho! warriors, let all of you sit here and keep them together. Warriors and war-chiefs, they did not detect me at all. Let us do it again to them," said I. The rest of them, who were the servants of the war-chiefs, tied the horses, and sat motionless as they held them.

"Ho! war-chief, let us two go thither," said I. Then we two went thither. It was dark, yet we bowed our heads repeatedly as we went. They had camped just so, in a line. "O war-chief, you will go to the tent at the other end of the row," said I. "Yes, I will go thither; but how about you, to what one will you go?" said he. "O war-chief, I will go to the tent at the other end," said I. "No matter what happens, I shall reach home with some of them." I went thither. Behold, the horses were fastened just by the door. I arrived there. As the horses perceived that I had a different odor, they fled, drawing back to the end of their lariats. Taking my knife, I cut one lariat after another, and went back, driving the ponies. "Ho! warriors," said I, "I have brought these, too." They extended the palms of their hands toward me. "Thanks! O war-chief! thanks! O war-chief! thanks! O war-chief! O war-chief, you cause us to be thankful," said they. In one night I had taken horses twice. "Ho! mount them! mount them! mount them!" said I. They mounted the horses at once. I mounted a horse which had never been ridden, and when I sat on him, he kicked up his hind legs, and threw me very far away. "Ho! warriors, place him in the rear. We must go homeward," said I. And we went homeward, having most of the horses all together. We rode till day. We went faster and faster, not stopping till noon. Then we stopped. The horses were suddenly motionless. The next day there was a deep snow. We were very impatient on account of the cold. "We are cold, we are cold. It is good to kindle a fire," said we. I divided my horses among eight of the party, saying to each one, "Keep that one. Come! still let us go homeward." We rode very rapidly. We rode even till night. And without sleeping at all, we rode even till day. Again we rode very fast, keeping on until night. We reached our camp the next day when the sun was very low, having traveled a great distance. The people said, "The warriors have come home, halloo! The warriors have come home, halloo! They have brought back horses, halloo!" We slept, as we had reached the camp.

At length the Dakotas came in pursuit of their horses. I saw just one when he was creeping up to us. I detected him when I went out of doors; it was dark, yet he was visible as he walked. I told my wife. "One of these Dakotas has come," said I. I seized my gun, but the Dakota, suspecting me, fell flat, sticking to the ground. He soon hastened away, walking softly. At day we fled, starting from the stream, Waje-ujinga, a branch of the Little Sioux River. We fled southward to a ravine, where we camped for the night. At night it was dark. At length the Dakotas overtook us; they were many, but we were few. One of them peeped over the bluff at us. Now a white man resided there. He questioned him, saying, "Are you an Omaha?" "No," said the other, "I am a Dakota." Then two white men came down-hill, and came to see us. The white men said as follows: "You are Omahas. The Sioux are there, but they cannot be there for any good purpose." The white men did not speak the Omaha language, yet they managed to tell us. We were fleeing from the Dakotas. "As they told about the Dakotas, the horses should be secured," said our people. At length the Dakotas attacked us. They wished to snatch the horses from us. We fired at random, scaring off the Dakotas, and retaining possession of the horses. Without delay we were fleeing from the Dakotas. We fled southward, and traveled all night. We reached Ma'a-uahage, The End of the Cottonwoods, below the Little Sioux. We made skin-boats, and crossed the Missouri in them. Thirty-six of our pursuers, who were returning north, came back to a large headland on the Iowa side. At the foot of the bluff were some Omahas, who had been hunting deer. These Omahas knew nothing about our party and the Dakotas. The latter crept to the edge of the bluff, and peeped over. At length two of these Omahas came to a creek, where they made a skin-boat, in which they attempted to cross the creek. At length the Dakotas shot at them, killing both. The rest of them, including the women and children, reached the bank of the Missouri in safety. A horseman from our party approached the river. They called over to him from the other side: "They have gone homeward after killing two of our party, halloo!" The horseman called over to them, saying, "We were attacked last night, when they fired at us. We walked by night, and having walked even till day, we have come back so far on our way home." Then he said, "Who has been killed?" "They went homeward after killing Ma^acka-gaxe and the youth with him. Still, we will go homeward. We have made skin-boats, but we have not yet finished them. All those who are up the stream will go homeward to you," said they. The horseman reached home, telling that they spoke of coming home. At length they were coming crying. "They are coming crying. Those who shot at us last night probably killed one of our people when they were on their way back to Dakota," said some of our party. Agaha-ma^añi told me, saying, "Those who attacked us last night went back after killing some one at the foot of the headland. It is said that they killed your son, Ma^acka-gaxe, and then went homeward." All of the lodges were coming. "We shall come home to you with all the lodges. Wait for us," said those who stood on the other side of the river. He who came back to tell it said, "They say, 'All of the lodges will come home to you. Wait for us.'" All returned to us in two days. They went homeward, following the course of the Missouri towards its mouth. All were carrying an abundance of game, and they had plenty of wild honey. At length they reached home at the place where the earth-lodges had been made. As they had reached home, they were in excellent humor. All the people danced in groups, dancing the Mandan dance. I rode the horse which I had brought home. I painted my face, and wore good clothing. I hit the drum, "Ku!" I said, "Let Waqa-naji take that for himself." I presented the horse to one who was not my relation. His kindred spread out the hands with the palms towards me, to show their gratitude. "You do not fear being poor. You are very brave! You have made yourself a great man!" said they.

TWO CROWS' WAR PARTY IN 1854.

RELATED BY HIMSELF.

Umaⁿ'haⁿ taⁿ'wañgaⁿ guáñicaⁿ'ja Nibéaska kéñáñicaⁿ añgñiⁿ'i. Caaⁿ' Omaha nation in the region beyond Platte River towards the we sat. Dakotas amá weánaxiça ahñi; cañ'ge wáñgñi-báñi, júga-hnaⁿ, wénudaⁿ ahñi. Gaⁿ' the to attack us arrived; horse they did not sit on body only, to war against they arrived. And (sub.)
 3 Bañóí taⁿ'waⁿ é ugañqi ké'di añgñiⁿ'i, Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá bñúgaqi añgñiⁿ'i.
 Serpy village that point of timber by the we sat, Omahas the ones who all we sat.
 Wa'tú d'úba wataⁿ'zi zan'de maⁿ'te qai, taⁿ'waⁿ çan'di. Naⁿ'péhi égaⁿ, gñáte Woman some corn ground in buried, village at the. Hungry aa, to eat their own
 tógaⁿ gñíze agñai. Ki Caaⁿ' amá éñiçe nudaⁿ' amá atñi té hñ, éñí. Éde in order to take they went And Dakotas the at length those on the war came there. But that their own back. (sub.) path wa'ú amá akí ɣi, wénaxíɕai tē, naⁿbá t'éwaɕai wa'ú ɕaŋká. Wa'ú ɕiⁿ wiⁿ woman the reached when, they were at- when, two were killed woman the ones Woman the one (sub.) there lacked (mv. ob.)

ɕiⁿ wahútaⁿ ɕiⁿ ɕtiⁿ biamá, gubɕábɕaze, níɕa gɕéi, t'éɕa-báɕi. Nájha máthe the gun they hit her with. gashing her repeat- alive she came they did not Hair they (mv. ob.) they say, cally, back, kill her.

washiɕti égaⁿ máwaɕaⁿi, wáɕiⁿ ákiáɕai Aⁿwaⁿɕiqai égaⁿ, an'guɕa-báɕi. 3 cut entirely off as they cut up, having it they had gone We pursued them as, we did not overtake again. them.

Ugáhanadáze sigɕé wɕaⁿɕa-báɕi. Akí ɣi, éɕiɕe haⁿ ɣi, éɕiɕe níɕaciⁿga Darkness trail we did not find it. I reached when, at length night when, behold, man hume

an'giati. Éⁿdi pí há. Kí éɕiɕe níɕaciⁿga dúbá uɕéwinɕiɕe há, kí wí wé-came for mo. There I arrived. And behold, man four assembled them- and I the selves

sataⁿ bɕiⁿ. Éⁿdi pí. Éⁿgiɕe gáí há: Hau! níɕaciⁿga d'úbá uɕéwiⁿwaɕá-gá, 6 fifth I was. There I arrived. At length they said Ho! man some assemble them,
 as follows:

ai. ɕé níɕaciⁿga aká Caaⁿ amá wáɕijubáɕi tē, éɕiⁿwiⁿ'aⁿ taí há, ai they This people the Dakotas the have injured us as, let us do so to them said said. (sub.) (sub.)

níɕaciⁿga dúbá amá. Níɕaciⁿga dúbá amá, Nújnga-ma uɕéwiⁿwaɕá-gá, ai.
 man four the Man four the The boys collect thou them, said (sub.) (sub.) they.

É ɕti níɕaciⁿga uɕéwiⁿwaɕáí waⁿgíɕe. Wí ɕti nújnga uɕéwiⁿawáɕe. 9
 They too man assembled them all. I too boy I assembled them.

Níɕaciⁿga gɕéba-sátiⁿ tē uɕéwiⁿaⁿwaⁿɕai. Gépe: Hau! níɕaciⁿga an'ga-Man fifty the we assembled them. I said as follows: Ho! man we who ɕiⁿ an'gú awákigaⁿqtiⁿi, níɕaciⁿga íqta wáɕiⁿ-má eaⁿwankigaⁿi; indádaⁿ are us they are just like us, man wantonly those who we are like them; what treat them

wapé aɕiⁿi, wahútaⁿ ɕiⁿ aɕiⁿi, égaⁿ an'gáɕiⁿi. Éɕiⁿwiⁿ'aⁿ taí há. Ké! édi 12 weapons they have, gun they have, like it we have. Let us do so to them Come! there an'gáɕe taí há, ehé. Gaⁿ bɕúgaqti ináliⁿi. An'gáɕa-báɕi caⁿan'gataⁿ, éɕiɕe let us go I said. And all were willing. We did not go when we stood awhile, behold, níɕagáhi amá wáwagiɕiⁿagai. Wat'aⁿ uɕéwiⁿɕai níɕagáhi amá. ɕé níɕaciⁿga chief the they were unwilling Goods they collected chiefs the This man (sub.) (sub.) for us. (sub.)

sátiⁿ pahan'ga uɕéwiⁿaⁿwaⁿɕ an'gataⁿ wágiati. Éⁿdi an'gáhi ɣi, éɕiɕe 15 five before we collected them we who stood they came for us. There we arrived when, behold, wat'aⁿ uɕéwiⁿɕai gɕé éɕiɕe weágikú aká níɕagáhi aká. Éɕiɕe ɕáɕi wáɕai goods they collected the behold, had invited us on chiefs the Behold, not to they com-(ob.) account of them (sub.) go manded us nudaⁿ tē. Hná-báɕi taí nudaⁿ tē. ɕé aɕiⁿi-gá, ai. ɕé Iígaⁿɕai ɕínkɕ'ín on the war-path. You will not go on the war-path. This have ye it, said this Grandfather to him they. they.

aɕai, majaⁿ wéɕiⁿwiⁿ aɕai; aɕíi tédíhi ɣi, nudaⁿ hné ɕkaⁿhnai ɣi, íɕigina- 18 they laid to sell they they come at the when, to war you go you wish if, they are want, home time willing for hiⁿi ɣi, hné taí, ai níɕagáhi ɕáɕi amá. Ubɕiⁿage há. Iⁿɕa-máɕi há you if, you go will, said chiefs those who did I was unwilling I was displeased not go.

Wat'aⁿ bɕiⁿza-máɕi aɕé. Gaⁿ an'gáɕa-báɕi: Iígaⁿɕai ɕe-má wean'gapai Goods I took I not homeward. And we did not go: Grandfather those who we waited for went (to) them

- égaⁿ, aṅgáḡa-báji. Agḡi há Iṅgaⁿḡai ɕaⁿ-játaⁿ-má. Agḡi xi. Djó as, we did not go. They came home Grandfather those from (his city). They came when. Joe
- ɕínkəⁿ ja pí. Nudaⁿ bḡe kaⁿbḡeḡe níkaḡahi amá aⁿɕaⁿnité gaⁿ, bḡaⁿ-máji há.
 to him arrived. To war I go I wished, but chiefs the they prohibited so, I did not go (sub.) me
- 3 Iⁿɕiⁿ'waⁿdaⁿ'ba-gá há, ehé. Abaú! ai. Gaⁿ hné ckaⁿ'hna xi, gaⁿ ɕá-gá, Consider it for me I said. Oho! said he, Of course you go you wish if, by all means go, ai. Hau. Akí xi níkaḡiⁿga uḡéwiⁿawáḡe. ɕáɕiⁿ-naⁿpáji agḡhiawákiḡe, said he. I reached when man I collected them. ɕáɕiⁿ-naⁿpáji I sent them for him,
- Wanáce-jinⁿga cī agḡhiawákiḡe, cī atfi. Sinⁿ'de-xaⁿ'xaⁿ agḡhiawákiḡe.
 Wanáce-jinⁿga again I sent them for him, and they came. Sinⁿ'de-xaⁿ'xaⁿ I sent them for him.
- 6 Nújinga áhigi uḡéwiⁿaⁿwaⁿ'ḡai. Ké! nudaⁿ aṅgáḡai kaⁿ'bḡa, ehé. Canⁿ' Boy many we collected them. Come! to war we go I wish, I said. Dakotas amá wiⁿ' aṅgáḡai kaⁿ'bḡa, ehé. Gaⁿ haⁿ' xi uḡéwiⁿaṅxiḡai. Haⁿ' wiⁿ-ones who one we slay him I wish, I said. And night when we assembled ourselves. Night just
- détaⁿqti xi aṅgá-i. Umaⁿ'haⁿ taⁿ'waⁿ ɕaⁿ' aṅgátii xi, aⁿ'ba. Gaⁿ'xi ákiliⁿ half the when we were Omaha city the we came to when, day. And beyond
- 9 aṅgáhii, dída. Eⁿ'di wáḡe etewaⁿ' ɕiṅgaí. Éḡiḡe ɕeska naⁿ'ba édedⁿ-amá we arrived, this way. There white man at all there were none. At length ox two were moving there
- utaⁿ'nadi. Kí nújinga amá wáḡaḡaⁿ amá waḡite gaⁿ'ḡai, t'éwaḡe 'ḡai.
 in a place between. And boy the (sub.) servant the to eat wished, killing them spoke of.
 (pl. sub.)
- Núdaⁿ'haṅgá, aⁿwaⁿ'ḡate taṅgataⁿ, ai. Hau! wáḡaḡaⁿ, áma ɕiⁿ' t'éḡa-
 O war-chief, we eat them we who will, said they. Ho! servant, the one the (mv. ob.) kill
- 12 bádaⁿ ɕatái-gá. Áma ɕiⁿ' caⁿ'ɕiⁿ'ḡai-gá, ehé. Edítaⁿ gaⁿ' aṅgáhii gaⁿ' and (pl.) eat it. The the other (mv. ob.) let it alone, I said. Thence so we reached so
- aⁿ'jaⁿ'i há. Cī edítaⁿ aṅgáhii égaⁿ, Haⁿ'ɕi xi uspe ké ɕdi a-í aⁿ'jaⁿ'i. Edít we slept. Again thence we reached as, Henry house hollow the there we approached Thence and slept.
- aṅgáḡai xi, Húṅaḡa majaⁿ' ubaṅge ké cī ɕ'di a-í aⁿ'jaⁿ'i. Cī aṅgáḡai we went when, Winnebago land end the again there we approached Again we went
 and slept.
- 15 égaⁿ, Ni-báse ɕaⁿ', Máḡude-waⁿ'ní duáḡicaⁿ, ɕ'di a-í aⁿ'jaⁿ'i. Haⁿ'egaⁿ'tee as, Ni-base the, Iowaa farmed this side of, there we approached and slept. Morning
- aṅgídabaⁿ'i xi, ɕkitaⁿ níkaḡiⁿga wéaⁿ'ḡai. Hau! weaⁿ'gapai tá-bi, aⁿ'ḡaⁿ'i we arose when, just then person we detected them. Well! let us wait for them to we said appear,
- xi, ɕáɕiⁿ-naⁿpáji áḡiáḡai xi uḡiⁿ'gaí. Géḡicaⁿ aⁿ'waṅganáse tá-bi, ehé when, ɕáɕiⁿ-naⁿpáji they pass by when he was unwilling. On that side let us head them off, I said
- 18 (janⁿ'deáḡicaⁿ) iḡáhe, ehé) xi, ɕáɕiⁿ-naⁿpáji Nicúdeáḡicaⁿ she 'ḡai. Kí (on the side of the I pass I said) when, ɕáɕiⁿ-naⁿpáji towards the Missouri passing spoke And ground along, of.
- gaⁿ'xi uhé píji aṅgáḡaⁿ'ḡai. Uwáḡeḡai égaⁿ níaciⁿ'ga aṅguḡaⁿ-báji.
 then path bad we got ourselves into. We were tired as man we did not overtake them.
- Ninⁿ'dugáde aṅgákii égaⁿ aṅguḡaⁿ-báji. Canⁿ'qti aṅguḡaⁿ-báji. Haⁿ' há.
 Creeping backward we reached as we did not overtake our own. In spite of we did not overtake them. Night

Na'péawahi' ⁱ éga' u'wájeeni, an'guqqa-báji. Ha'n'ega'n'tee a'qan'xíeni xi,
 We were hungry as we were tired, we did not overtake them. Morning we awoke when, wa'áte wa'én'ge, wa'gáqen'-ma na'péhi' Hau! á'qéi'-na'páji-há, á'baae food we had none, the servants we were hungry. Ho! á'qéi'-na'páji, (1) hunting ma'péin'-gá. Wa'gáqen' na'péhin', ehé. A'qai' á'baae á'qéi'-na'páji. É'qéie 3 walk thou. Servant hungry, I said. Went to hunt á'qéi'-na'páji. At length páti wi'n' ⁱ agéi' Éga' a'q'atái.
 deer one carry- he came So we ate.

A^{n'}ba tē ga^{n'} Nicúde gēadi^{n'} aŋgáçai. Nicúde ɣa^{n'}ha kē'ɣa á-i-a^{n'}ja^{n'}i.
Day the so Missouri across to we went. Missouri bank at the we arrived and River silent.

Ha'ega'tce xī, ní aká jin'ga-báji, nida'v'. Jáqti-ha t'éwaçai-ma mandé-ha 6 Morning when, river the was not small, a flood. Deer-skin those which had been killed skin-boat aŋgáxai. Mandé-jín'ga ga^{n'}, man'dě gě, waii^{n'} gě, wahúta^{n'ɕi}ⁿ edábe, we made. Boat small so, bow the blanket the gun also, añgújií Ní aká céhiaká ʔí dahádi énasakéchaʔ, ní aká jin'ga-báji. Mandé we put River the yonder one house on the hill extended that far, river the not small. Boat them in. (sub.) (sub.)

kə aŋgújɪ ɣɪ, nfaⁿwaⁿ aŋgáɕiⁿ. Naⁿʝiⁿskə́qteɪ ní kə masáni aŋgáhii; 9 the we filled when, we swam we had them. Hardly river the the other side we reached;

uwajeqatiaⁿi masáni aŋgáhii. Masáni áin'ng'et'i xi, hi^abé aŋgúgizáⁿ we were very tired the other side we reached. The other side we sat down when, moccasin we put on our nⁿčetaⁿi xī, naⁿbáha usaí. Caaⁿ amá ugácaⁿ etewaⁿ sigéc daⁿ'be aŋgeiⁿi.

we finished when, in two places they set Dakotas the traveled notwith-
the grass afire. (sub.) the grass afire. trail seeing it we sat.

Aⁿcaⁿ'xinaq^qe aŋg^ŋiⁿi. Hau. Ké! wágaq^qaⁿ, uⁿédaⁿbái-gā. Cúde cé 12
We hid ourselves we eat. ¶ Come! O servant, consider ye it. Smoke this naⁿbáha tẽ; wi^anaⁿwa ẽ'di aṅgápe taí ǎ, ehé, Hau. ɖáɖiⁿ-naⁿpáji aká, in two places the; which one there we go will I I said, ¶ ɖaɖiⁿ-naⁿpáji the.

Núdaⁿhaŋgá, t̥ɛ́ɟa t̥ɛ́p̥ɛ́icaⁿ aŋgáɟe tai, ai ɗáɟiⁿ-naⁿpáɟi aká. Hau, gaⁿ (O war-chief, this one towards the let us go, said ɗaɟiⁿ-naⁿpáɟi (the (sub.). Well, so añgáçai; Nicúde aⁿa^{n'}çai, ga^{n'} añgáçai, áçija. Itáxaja usaí, aⁿwa^{n'}ade 15 we went Missouri we left it, so we went, across, by Up-stream it was set afire we, being near it an̄gácaí. A'ja'ní hā ha'n' tē. Ha'n' ícaugce a'n'ma'ci'n'i; kī cācuháqteí a'n'ba we went. We lay down, night when. Night throughout we walked; and almost day xí, n'jaⁿi. Níkaci^ga, haⁿ'egaⁿ'tee tǝ an'gu^pxídai xí, wéaⁿ'a-báji. Kí when we slept. Man, morning when we looked around when, we did not find And Caa^{n'} ta^{n'}waŋgɕaⁿ ɛa^ɕicaⁿ aŋgáɣii, a^{n'}biɕaŋge. An'guɕixidɕti a^{n'}ma^{w'}ɕiⁱ, 18

 Sioux city towards we were re- throughout the We looked around very we walked, turning, day.

wéaⁿ ɕa-báji. ɬázɛqtei mɪn' ɕaⁿ dāhé kě ɣaŋ'gɛqtei hí. Ké! aŋgáɕe tai, we did not find them. Late in the sun the hill the very near to ar- Come! let us go, wágaqqa^{n'}. Ga^{n'} aŋgácaí. Ma^{n'} sía^{n'}qé, qcabé cingé hã. Uqéé íkisa^{n'}ci^{n'}

(I servants. So we went. Cliff alone, tree there was none. Quickly out of sight.

aṅgáúŋce tai Sagígi égaⁿi-gä, ehé. Kĩ aṅgáhi-bájì tē'di, d̥áɛiⁿ-naⁿpájì aká, 21 let us go. Do walk faster, I said. And we did not reach it when, d̥áɛiⁿ-naⁿpajì the (subj.).

- Wakide-jin'ga eca'ba bispé shai, éta'fín wéçai níkaci'ga-má. Kí angú eti Wakide-jin'ga he too crouched suddenly, they first found them the people (ob.). And we too
- bisp a'ja'í. Jéçín-na'púji amá uéá agéí. Núda'hangá, qéabé éé'qtei fan'di crunch- we lay. Jéçín-na'púji the to tell it came. O war-chief, tree this very at the
 ing
- 3 ja' gúsai, gúáqi, aí. Hau! wágaqça', níkaci'gai té edáda'-báji. Angáça-wood they cut, they make said. Ho! O warriors, they are people the it is nothing. We did it sound, he.
- báji ca'-angata' níaci'ga áma aká agéí. Hau! núda'hangá, níkaci'ga amá not go after we stood man the the came. Ho! O war-chief, they are persons who awhile other (sub.) back. are moving
- há, aí. Wa'úi éde Mawáda'fín wa'a'í há, aí. Hau! níkawasa', en' ha, said he. They are women but Maudan they sing said. Ho! O warrior, enough
- 6 ehé. Hau. Ga' angáçai. Jíngá-qtei ma' onáde angéi'í, qáde búta unácte
 I said. So we went. Very small ground bare of vegetation we sat, grass round left after a fire
- angúçéi'í. Mí' aká qáçuháqtei áúçai. Hau! wágaqça', ha' ta aká. Mí' we sat in. Sun the (sub.) almost had gone. Ho! O servants, night will be. Sun
- aká áúçai há Hau! Ké, wágaqça' Jéçín-na'púji-há! wada'be ma'cin'-gá.
 the has act. Ho! Come, O servant Jéçín-na'púji O! as a scout walk thou.
- 9 Níaci'ga çanká í çanká ánai éda' waçáwa-gá, ehé. Égiçe Jéçín-na'púji Person the ones camped the ones how many I count them, I said. At length Jéçín-na'púji who are they
- amá agéí. Núda'hangá, í aká na'bá aká há. Can'ge wí'áqtei açi' aká há, (sub.) back. O war-chief, tent the (sub.) two are the ones. Horse just one they have
- núda'hangá, é i'wí'ça agéí. Hau! ca' há, ehé. Hau! wágaqça', wan'-
 O war-chief, that he told me he came back. Ho! enough, I said. Ho! O servant, let us
- 12 gakiça tai há. Waçácka' tai há, ehé. Hau! pígi'a' ei çe-hna', Sínde-content with them. You will do your best. I said. Ho! to do it again again only this to him time.
- xa'xa', wégaska'çé ma'cin'-gá, í çanká ja't'ai xi, ehé. Uhná çagéí te, xa'xa', to try them walk thou, tent the ones they are it, I said. You tell you come will,
 who sound asleep it back
- ehé. Égiçe Sínde-xa'xa' amá agéí. Núda'hangá, ja't'ai há, aí Sínde-
 I said. At length Sínde-xa'xa' the came back. O war-chief, they are sound asleep said Sínde-
- 15 xa'xa'. Hau! Ké, wea'naxiça tai há, wágaqça'. Wapé gó pa-í gaxái-gá, xa'xa'. Ho! Come, let us attack them O servants. Weapon the sharp make ye,
 (pl. ob.)
- ehé. Máhi' gé' eti pa-í xiçáxai; máhi'sí eti pa-í xiçáxai; wahúta'fín pí
 I said. Knife the also sharp they made arrow-heads also sharp they made gun and
 (pl. ob.) for themselves;
- ugíji, ma'zema' dúbá-ça'ça', çábçín-ça'ça' eti ují. Hau! núda'hangá, they loaded theirs, ball four apiece, three apiece too they put in. Ho! O war-chief,
- 18 ca' há, aí. Hau! wágaqça', ca' gçín'-gá. Sínde-xa'xa' é'di juágçe enough said they. Ho! servants, still sit ye. Sínde-xa'xa' there I with him
- béç tá minke. Wégaska'a'wa'çé angáçe ta'gata', ehé. Waqín'ha í té
 I go will I who. We look upon things we go we who will, I said. Canvas tent the
- ugçín'. Nan'de ké ed'qtei ja'qçúde a'wan'ganá'a'. Í té uákiha' ja'qçúdo they sat in. Side of the tent the just there snoring we heard them. Tent the next to it snoring aⁿwaⁿ'gaⁿá'aⁿ aⁿnájiⁿ, názaⁿa aⁿnájiⁿ. Sinⁿ'de-xaⁿ'xaⁿ ébaⁿ. Gáaka wiⁿ' we heard them we stood, at the rear we stood. Side-xaⁿ'xaⁿ I called to him. That one out of sight one jaⁿ'qéúdaí, ehé. Áçutaⁿ t'éçaçé te há, ehé. Gaⁿ'xí angáççai. Waⁿáççaⁿ anores, I said. Directly you kill him will, I said. And we went back. Servant çankáa angúça angáççe te, ehé. Égiçe waⁿáççaⁿ' çankáa a-fi xí, angákii. 3 to them we tell it we go back will, I said. At length servant to them they ap. when, we reach-d again.

 Núdaⁿ'hangá, e'aⁿ' há, ai. Jaⁿ't'é'qtiaⁿ'i há, ehé. Hau. Gaⁿ' é'di angáççai.
 O war-chief, how is it I said. They are sound asleep, I said. ¶ So there we went.
 Názaⁿa angáhii. Lí égaçe najiⁿ'i. Ahaú! gaⁿ' wakídaí. Jí té wénaxíçai
 At the rear we arrived. Tent all around they stood. Oh! so they shot at them. Tent the they attacked them gaⁿ' égaçe wakídaí égaⁿ, jí té múçingé'qtiaⁿ'i; déçaⁿ'ba t'eaⁿ'waⁿ'çai. Haⁿ' 6 as, all around they shot at them, tent the they exterminated them by shooting; seven we killed them. Night wiⁿ'détaⁿ'qti té'di waⁿ'gakiçai, haⁿ'kaska xí waⁿ'gakiçai. T'éaⁿ'waⁿ'çé aⁿ'çí-just half gone when we contended with them, midnight when we contended with them. We killed them we çtaⁿ'i xí, angágii Hau! níkawasaⁿ', caⁿ'angáçe taí. Ké, caⁿ' há, ehé.
 finished when, we were coming this way. Ho! warriors, let us cease. Come, enough, I said.
 Gaⁿ' angágii. Haⁿ' içaugçe caⁿ' aⁿmaⁿ'çíⁿi. Aⁿ'ba ékitaⁿ'háqti Nicúde ké 9
 So we were re- turning. Night throughout still we walked. Day just that far Missouri the River angágçii. Miⁿ' çaⁿ' éçaⁿ'báji Nicúde ké aⁿ'çie angágii. Angágii té, ci aⁿ'b we came back Sun the had not arisen Missouri the we crossed we were returning. We were when, again day to.
 içaugçe aⁿmaⁿ'çíⁿi. Kí miⁿ'çumaⁿ'ci hí té, naⁿ'péawahiⁿ'i égaⁿ, áqti naⁿ'ba throughout we walk-d. And sun on high ar. when, we were hungry as, deer two rived
 t'éwaçai. Aⁿ'waⁿ'çate angçíⁿ'i. Gaⁿ' angágii égaⁿ, gaⁿ' aⁿ'jaⁿ'i. Cí égasáni 12 they killed. We ate them we sat. So we were as, so we slept. Again then next day angágii égaⁿ, caⁿ' aⁿ'b içaugçe aⁿmaⁿ'çíⁿi. Haⁿ' té, ci áqti wiⁿ' ci t'éçai;
 we were as, still day throughout we walked. Night when, again deer one again they killed it;
 coming aⁿ'çataí. Cí égasáni té, aⁿ'b içaugçe caⁿ'qti gaⁿ' aⁿmaⁿ'haⁿ'i. Cí haⁿ' té, gaⁿ' we ate it. Again the next day when, day throughout still, indeed so we walked till night. Again night when, so night.
 aⁿmaⁿ'çíⁿi; aⁿ'jaⁿ'-báji aⁿmaⁿ'çíⁿi. Haⁿ' té, miⁿ'daⁿ'be déçabçíⁿ-qti-égaⁿ, wáçe 15 we walked; we slept not we walk-d. Night when, clock about eight, white man jí wiⁿ' édité the angágçii. Wáçe aká égiçe naⁿ'awape tá aká. Waçate house one which passing we came back. White the behold he will fear us. Food was there it man (sub.)
 iⁿ'na taí há. Pahanⁿ'ga iijébe bçícibe tá minke. Aⁿ'çaⁿ'waⁿ'he fi-gá, xu'ç, let us ask of him. Before door I pull it open will I who. Following me be ye with a coming, rush,
 ehé. Wíugaⁿ'ba uágas'ín xí, xigçísiaⁿ'çé'qti najiⁿ' aká wáçe aká. Wéonaⁿ- 18
 I said. Window I peeped in when, he stripped himself white the man (sub.). Caused us entirely bare was standing áwaçé wáçe aká, waçate wa'fi té haⁿ' té, náwaçé'qti égaⁿ. Haⁿ' té, caⁿ' to be thank- ful white man (sub.), food he gave to us night at, he really saved our lives. Night at, yet a^{n'}ba^ji, ca^{n'} mi^{n'} é^{ca}ba^ji, iⁱ é^aba^ja angákii. Ga^{n'} níkaci^{n'}ga béúga éka^{n'}i.

not day, yet am had not village to the we got home. And people all were arise,
 Níkaci^{n'}ga Caa^{n'} wáq^qi amá agé^qi há, ní Níkaci^{n'}ga é^{ca}ba^ja réu^{n'}wa^{n'}q^qi Man Dakotas those who killed have said them come home they. Person seven we had kill-d them 3 a^{n'}éa^{n'}i ga^{n'}, gí^qéq^qti^{n'}i níkaci^{n'}ga béúga.
we said as, were very glad people all.

NOTES.

- 452, 1. Nibéaska képa^{n'}ica^{n'}, at or near the present town of Bellevue, Neb.
 452, 4. wa^{n'} d'uba. There were only three women.
 453, 2-3. mawashi-qi. Compare "ushi," clean.
 453, 7. egi^{n'}wi^{n'}ca^{n'} tai, in full, éga^{n'} i^{n'}wi^{n'}ca^{n'} tai.
 453, 17-18. Qe Ijiga^{n'}ai é^{n'}iké^{n'}ja a^{n'}ai. Sanssouci said that Joe and the other chiefs were just about to start for Washington, when Uha^{n'}-na^{n'}ba and the rest prevented Two Crows and his friends from going on the war-path. But why should Uha^{n'}-na^{n'}ba act as head-chief before the departure of his superiors? They were Joseph La Flèche, Ma^{n'}teú-na^{n'}ba, Wanúkige, G^qeda^{n'}-náji^{n'}, Iekadabi (Louis Sanssouci), and Logan Fontenelle. Logan and Louis, however, went as interpreters rather than as chiefs.
 454, 6. Nujínga ahigi, "many boys." These were only eight. The four war-chiefs were Xaxe-éa^{n'}ba (Two Crows), é^{n'}éi^{n'}-na^{n'}pají, Wanace-jínga, and Sínde-xa^{n'}xa^{n'}.
 454, 9. jeska na^{n'}ba. These were two stray oxen.
 454, 13. Ha^{n'}éi qí uspe ké, Wood Creek, by Henry Fontenelle's farm, near Decatur, Neb.
 454, 15. Ni-base éa^{n'} is a point of timber on the Missouri River, between the towns of Jackson and Ponca, Neb. It is east of Ionia Creek, in Dixon County, Neb., which is called Máqude-wa^{n'}af by the Omahas. This latter is also the Omaha name for the adjacent land.
 454, 18. qandeaja^{n'}éica^{n'}, i. e., "back from the river, towards the interior of the country;" while Nicudeata^{n'}éica^{n'}, its opposite, means "towards the Missouri, along the bank of the river."
 454, 20. Nindugéade aúgakii éga^{n'} aúgugiqéa-bají; literally, "As we reached the place where we had been, by creeping backwards, we did not overtake our enemies." They fell back. But "they fell back" because they were lost in the thick forest (see map) near a lake in that vicinity; and they wandered on till they found themselves back again at the place where they had struck the trail at the edge of the forest.—Sanssouci.
 455, 8. qí dáhadi enaska^{n'}éhaí, refers to a block-house (at Omaha Agency), which was about a quarter of a mile from the place where the story was told.
 455, 11. na^{n'}baha means, in this case, "on two sides," and hence is almost equivalent to agéaúka^{n'}ha^{n'}, "on both sides."
 455, 15. itaxa^{n'}ja usai. This refers to Qe watcicka, the Big Sioux, along which the party proceeded for a little while.
 455, 21. aúgaia^{n'}é tai, the specific of "aúga^{n'}é tai," denoting motion to a particular place. See "i^qé" in the Dictionary.
 457, 3. egi^{n'}é wagaqéa^{n'} éaúka^{n'}ja a-ií qí aúgakii. Frank La Flèche and the collector have been puzzled by the use of "a-ií qí" in this sentence. It would have been omitted, were not Two Crows one who speaks the purest Omaha. The collector can offer but one explanation. The warriors were probably anxious to learn the result, so they were approaching Two Crows and Sinte-xa"xa" (a-ii); then, after they met, all reached their camp (aŋgakii).

457, 4. e'a" hā used instead of "e'a" ā."

457, 6. ȡeȡa"ba t'en"wa"ȡai. They killed seven Yanktons.

457, 9. iȡaŋȡe, pronounced iȡa+ŋȡe.

1. Where the Yanktons farmed. 2. The Lake. 3. The Forest.

TRANSLATION.

We dwelt beyond Omaha City, and towards the Platte. The Dakotas came on foot to attack us. All of us Omahas dwelt on the Nebraska side of the river, at the point of timber near Sarpy's village. Some of the women had buried corn in the ground at the village. Being hungry, they went back to eat it. Behold, the Dakotas who had come on the war-path reached there. And when the women reached there, they were attacked by the Dakotas, who killed two of the women. The remaining woman was struck with a gun, and gashed in many places, but she came back to us alive. The Dakotas cut off all the hair of the two women, and after cutting the scalps in pieces, they carried them homeward. We pursued them, but we did not overtake them. We could not find their trail in the dark. When I reached home, behold, men came for me at night. I arrived there. And behold, four men had assembled; and I was the fifth. At length they said, "Collect some men; these people, the Dakotas, have injured us; let us repay them. Assemble the young men." All of them, too, assembled the men. And I collected the young men. We collected fifty persons. I said as follows: "Ho! they are just like us, and we resemble those who have treated us cruelly; we have guns and other weapons as they have. Let us repay them for what they have done to us. Come! let us go thither." And all were willing.

But before we could leave, the chiefs manifested their unwillingness for us to depart. They collected goods, and sent for us five leaders. When we arrived there, behold, the chiefs had invited us on account of the goods which they had collected. Behold, they commanded us not to go on the war-path. "You will not go on the war-path. Take these things. These chiefs went to the President to sell land. If they come back and consent to your going, you may then go," said the chiefs who had not gone to Washington. I was unwilling. I was displeased. I went home without taking any of the goods. So we did not go on the war-path, as we waited for the return of those who went to the President. They came home from the city of the President. When they had come back, I went to Joe. "I wished to go on the war-path, but the chiefs forbade me; so I did not go. Consider the matter for me," said I. "Oho!" said he, "go, of course, if you desire it."

When I reached home, I collected the men. I sent the messengers after gaŋin. na"paji, Wanace-jūnga, and Sinde-xa"xa". We collected many young men. "Come!" said I, "it is my desire for us to go on the war-path, and to kill one of the Dakotas." And we assembled at night. When that night was half gone, we were coming towards our present reservation. It was day when we reached Omaha City. And we continued our march in this direction. At that time there were no white people in that region above Omaha. At length two oxen were wandering about there. The young men, who were the servants, wished to eat them, so they spoke of killing them. "O war-chief, we will eat them," said they. "Ho! servants, kill one and eat it; but do not disturb the other one," said I. Passing on, we stopped again for the night. The next day we went on till we reached the hollow by Henry's house, where we spent the night. Going thence the next day, we reached the present Winnebago reservation, sleeping when we arrived at the northern boundary. The following day, we went as far as Ni-base, which is on this side of the ancient farming-place of the Iowas. When we arose

In the morning, we discovered the proximity of persons. When we said, "Ho! let us wait for them to appear," gaḥi-na-paji was unwilling for them to pass by. I said, "Let us head them off on that side. I am in favor of our going by a path which is more towards the interior of the country." But gaḥi-na-paji spoke of going towards the Missouri. And then we got ourselves into a difficulty. We did not overtake the men, because we were tired. We dropped back, and so they got away in spite of us. When we awoke in the morning, we had no food. The servants were hungry. "Ho! O gaḥi-na-paji, go hunting. The servants are hungry," said I. gaḥi-na-paji went hunting. At length he came back, carrying a deer. So we ate it.

During the day we went across the country to the Missouri. That night we slept on the bank of the river. In the morning the stream was wide, as there was a freshet. We made a skin-boat of the deer-skin, and we put in it our guns, bows and blankets. The river extended as far as yonder house on the hill. When we put the things in the boat, we swam across with it. We barely reached the other side, as we were very weary. When we sat down on the other side, and had finished putting on our moccasins, the grass was set afire in two directions. We sat looking at the trail of the Dakotas who had been traveling about. We sat concealed. "Ho! come, warriors, consider the matter. This smoke is in two places; to which one will we go?" said I. gaḥi-na-paji said, "O war-chief, let us go towards this one in the rear."

So we went. We left the river, and departed across the country, by a near way. The fire had been made towards the head of a stream, and as it was near by we went towards it. At night, we lay down for a short while. Then we walked throughout the night; and when it was almost day we slept. In the morning we looked around for the men, but did not find them. And we were all day in coming back towards the place where Sioux City now is. We looked around very carefully as we walked, but we did not find them. Late in the afternoon the sun was very near the bluffs. "Come, let us go, O servants," said I. So we went. There was a bare cliff, without trees. "Let us soon go out of sight. Quickened your steps," said I. Before we reached it, gaḥi-na-paji and Wakide-jinga crouched suddenly, they being the first to find the people. We, too, lay crouching. gaḥi-na-paji came back to us to report. "O war-chief, at this very place they cut wood, for they make the sound 'jaqi,' said he. "Ho! servant, as they are people, it is nothing." After we stopped and stood awhile, the other man came back to report. "O war-chief, they are people. They are women, but they sing Mandan songs," said he. "Ho! warriors, it is enough," said I.

So we went. We sat on a very small piece of the ground that was bare of vegetation; that is, we sat on a round tract of grass which had not been burnt by the prairie fire. The sun had nearly gone. "Ho! servants, it will be night. The sun has set. Ho! come, O servant gaḥi-na-paji, go as a scout. Count the persons that have camped, and see how many they are," said I. At length gaḥi-na-paji returned to us. "O war-chief, the lodges are two. They have but one horse." "Ho! that is enough. Ho! O servants, let us contend with them. You will do your best. Ho! to do it again but this once, Sinde-xa-xa, go to try them whether they are sound asleep. You will come back and report," said I. At length Sinde-xa-xa came back. "O war-chief, they are sound asleep." "Ho! come let us attack them, O servants. Make your weapons sharp," said I. They sharpened their knives and arrow-heads, and they put extra loads in their guns, some three bullets, others four. Then I made them sit awhile, and I took Snde-xa^axa^a to make a final inspection. They were in a canvas tent, and just at one side of it we heard them snoring. As we stood at the rear of the next tent we heard its occupants snore. I called to Snde-xa^axa^a. "One of those snores. You will kill him by holding your gun close to the place where he lies," said I. "Let us go back to the servants to tell them," said I. And we went back. At length, after some of them came towards us, we all reached the servants. "O war-chiefs, how is it?" said they. "They are sound asleep," said I. So we went thither. We reached the rear of the lodges. We surrounded them and shot at them. As the lodges were attacked and shot into, their occupants were all shot down; we killed seven. We contended with them when just half of the night had gone, even at mid-night. When we finished killing them, we were coming this way. "Ho! warriors, let us cease. Come, it is enough," said I.

So we were coming back. We walked all night, and just at day we reached the Missouri. We crossed the river before sunrise. We walked all day; and at noon we killed two deer, as we were hungry. We sat eating them. Then we continued our homeward march till we stopped for the night. The next day we walked throughout the day, and at night we killed a deer. The next day we walked till night, and so at night till about eight o'clock. Then we reached the house of a white man. Said I, "The white man will fear us, thinking that we are Dakotas. So let us ask him for food. I will open the door. Do you rush in after me." When I peeped in at the window, the white man was standing without any clothing at all. (He asked us if we were Dakotas, and was glad to find that we were Omahas.) The white man made us thankful, saving our lives, as it were, by giving us food at night. At night, when it was not day, that is, before the sun rose, we reached our village. Then all the people were stirring. "The men who killed the Dakotas have come home," said they. As we said that we had killed seven, all the people were delighted.

BATTLE BETWEEN THE OMAHAS AND DAKOTAS IN 1855.

RELATED BY A^uPA^u-LA^uGA.

Gaqa^u a^uga^uai pahan^ugadi. Ki Waqé ké a^uga^uhai. Wada^ube wáqadai On the hunt we went at the first. And Elkborn the we followed it. Scouts they who are called íí waqúbe na^ubá té^udi góéba-ábéi^u-qti-éga^u. A^uga^uai xi, huhú t'éa^uwa^ufaí tent sacred two at the about thirty. We went when, fish we killed them 3 d'úba, ánaqti-éga^u. La^uga^u fanká wanáce (amá) xigéizai éga^u, úba^ui. Ga^u some, about how many. Large the ones that policeman (the pl. took for them- as, they So sub.) seives cooked them.
fasni^ui té, a^uga^uai. Ha^u a^ufa^uma^uéi^ui. Watíka cugá wi^u a^ugúha a^uma^u they swel when, we went. Night we walked during. Creek thick one we followed we lowed éi^ui. Watíka ké a^uja^u-baji; gacíba^u a^uja^ui, sna^usna^uaja. A^uba ké uga^uba walked. Creek the we slept not; out from it we slept, on the level ground. Day the light

- ʔi, égiçe a^wpaⁿ nuga ecaⁿ maⁿçiⁿ amá. Wakíde-pi áxigčáji. Wakíдай ʔi, when, behold, elk male near to were walking. Good marksman exhorted one another. They shot at when, then
- nugá wiⁿ be mugaⁿi. Landátaⁿ iénaxíçai ʔi, wí ubəⁿ. Anaⁿhiçéáçé.
 male one lower leg broke it by shooting. Treading on the they attacked when, I I held him. I kicked him and ground him knocked him down.
- Háci atí amá dá çáⁿ 'éçaⁿçai. Haⁿ çataí ʔi, bæta-máji. Huhú jinⁿga 3
 After those who came head the (obj.) hit him on. Night they ate when, I did not eat it. Fish small
- nújunga wiⁿ ingási wabçáte agçiⁿ. Égiçe a^wpaⁿ naⁿba ci çutí watíçka boy one caught for I ate I eat. At length elk two again there creek me they came
- kó uhá. Áma t'eaⁿçai, miⁿga kě. Wágai égaⁿ ugáçi. Angáçai (ʔi), wiⁿ the follow- The we killed, female (the) Cut in as it was held over a fire. We went (when), one
 ing. other (obj.)
- wadaⁿbe ahí. Égiçe ic-ma wéçai. Jaⁿçinⁿ gçéçai; jiⁿ çáⁿá ugáç agçai. 6 as a scout arrived there. At length the buffa- he found them. He ran back suddenly; tents to the to tell of he went his back.
- Wégaⁿze gçéba-naⁿba-qi-égaⁿ jaⁿçinⁿ waⁿgíçe akfi. Égasáni tē, wahaⁿ Measure about twenty running all reached home. The next day when, removing
- açaí. A-f-çi égaⁿ, ic-ma wánasai. Miⁿ çáⁿ échiqtei hí tē, égiçe niaçinⁿga they went. They came as, the buffa- they sur- Sun the just that far arrived when, behold, man to a place and camped.
- wiⁿ açaí. Égiçe níçaciⁿga d'úba wagaçade amáma, Caaⁿ. Nikaçiqai. Wáçiⁿ 9 one went. At length person some creeping up were, they Dakota. They chased the to us say, foe. Having them
- açaí. Éduéhe. Caⁿ égiçe ugáhanadaze. Caⁿ wakíde-hnaⁿ gçiⁿi. Caaⁿ they I joined it. Still at length darkness. Still shooting regularly they sat. Dakotas
- amá djúba 'ágçaqtiⁿi. Égiçe Caaⁿ amá ugáhanadaze uçúnajiⁿ; wajiⁿ-the a few they suffered very At length Dakotas the (sub.) darkness depended on; they were (sub.) much.
- píçáji. Weánaxíçai (ʔi) wiⁿ t'éçai, Umaⁿhaⁿ. Ci Umaⁿhaⁿ amá wénaxíç 12 savage. They attacked us (when) one they killed, Omaha. Again Omahas the (sub.) attacking them
- 'çai. Ákipai. Weaⁿnaxíçai taí, ai. Umaⁿhaⁿ wiⁿ caⁿge aⁿsagi taⁿ ágçiⁿ, spoke of. They met. Let us attack them, said they. Omaha one horse swift the sat on,
- maⁿzepe-ninba síaⁿçé açiⁿ. Wiⁿ ú çinⁿge utiⁿ gaⁿçai. Éd'qti ahí ʔi, hatchet pipe alone he had. One wound without to hit he wished. Just there he ar. when, rived
- maⁿzepe gisíça-báji égaⁿi. Çipáz uçiqpaçé gaⁿçai. Caⁿge amá dáhi 15 hatchet he forgot it like. Pulling by to make him he wished. Horse the neck
 the hair full (sub.)
- wackaⁿangai éwaⁿ gaⁿ, ákusanⁿde gíiⁿ açaí. Gaⁿçí Umaⁿhaⁿ çinké he was strong being the cause, to him and be- yond carrying he went. And Omaha the (st. one)
- Caaⁿ taⁿ uçaⁿ eçégaⁿ, wáçionaⁿ içé. Caaⁿ aká názaça t'éçai Caⁿge Dakota the to hold he thought, mislaid his he had Dakota the at the rear killed him. Horse
 (st. one) him hold (sub.)
- amá gíiⁿ qáça agfi T'éçéçtiaⁿi! ai. Caⁿcaⁿ weánaxíçai. Ci wiⁿ 18 the carrying back was com- I have been killed said he. Not stopping they attacked us. Again one (sub.) him again outright
- manⁿdehi fjahai, Umaⁿhaⁿ-ma wiⁿ ugáqpaçai. Ci wiⁿ caⁿge taⁿ nanⁿge spear was pierced the Omahas one struck him down. Again one horse the to run

- uʔíʔagai (ʔizábahe kěʔa maⁿ-bájúú é na^wʔai caŋʔe). Cí Caa^w wi^w atf, refused ʔizababe at the clods of earth, that feared horse). Again Dakota one came, here and there
- ei t'éʔai Uma^wʔaⁿ ʔínké. Han'kaska ʔi, caŋʔaxai. Égasáni ʔi, wahaⁿ again he killed Omaha the (ob.). Midnight when, they ceased. The next day when, removing
- 3 aʔai. Já waⁱʔ agéfi nʔkaciⁿga ʔábʔiⁿ. Watelgaʔe uʔéwiŋʔéʔ. Wa'aⁿ they went. Dried but carrying came back here man three. To dance they assembled. Singing
- júwagé ʔéiⁿ wakiʔai t'é ʔánká. Háci a^wá'aⁿ tai, ai T'é ʔánká wa'aⁿ with them they caused them to dead the (pl. ob.). After let us sing, said they. Dead the (pl. ob.) singing
- júwagé ʔéai. Waqé ʔictaⁿi ʔi, nʔaciⁿga wi^w wégaⁿze wiⁿ-qti-égaⁿ aʔai.
 with them they spoke of. Burying them they finished when, man one measure about one went.
- 6 ʔáji-gá, é fúite-hna^wi nʔkagahi amá. Kí ca^w aʔai, dahé ké ʔadé. Nújiga
 Do not go, say, forbade him chief the (sub.). And yet he went, hill the being (ob.) near it. Boy
- etēwaⁿ wáʔiqe í ʔi, uʔíʔaʔe, kí ca^w aʔai. Éjá aká gʔbaⁿ égaⁿqti ʔéiⁿi.
 not-with-stand him pursuing were when, he refused, and still he went. There the calling to just so sat.
- ʔé fúite-má uhéwakiʔa-báji. ʔahé ʔaⁿ iⁿʔaⁿ é'di hí-qti éʔátaⁿ aʔiⁿ a-fi.
 This those who prohibited him he did not let them have their way. Hill the now there he had just thence having they were coming.
- 9 T'éʔai. Uqéé atf. Caŋʔe amá naŋʔe agfi. Caŋʔaxái-gá. Agfi.
 They killed him. Quickly they came. Horse the (sub.) running was coming back. Cease, e. They were coming.
- Wahaⁿ. Cí weánaxíʔai. Gaqʔaⁿ aʔai Weánaxíʔa a-fi, héga-báji.
 They removed. Again they attacked us. On the hunt they went. To attack us they were coming, not a few.
- Wákiʔai. Áekaqti ákikiʔai Múkiŋaⁿ-hnaⁿi. Caŋʔe wiⁿ t'éʔai Umaⁿ.
 They contended with us. Very close they contended together. They usually missed one another in shooting. Horse one killed it Oma.
- 12 haⁿ amá. Wáqé iéska juan'gʔai ké t'éʔai. Caŋʔe aká aⁿsagíqti, maⁿ.
 has the (sub.). White man interpre. we with him the (ob.) they killed. Horse the (sub.) very swift, wet
- snútsnu éghí iʔé. Caa^w amá uqéé ahí égaⁿ, é eti wiⁿ t'éʔéʔ tē, wahútaⁿʔiⁿ.
 quicksand right he had Dakotas the soon arrived as, he too one he killed, gun
- jáʔa aʔiⁿ. Umaⁿʔaⁿ amá gaqʔaⁿ maⁿʔiⁿ t'é'di ugáe maⁿʔiⁿi; wiⁿʔaⁿʔaⁿʔaⁿ, forked he had. Omaha the on the hunt walk when scattering they walk; by ones,
- 15 naⁿbá-ʔaⁿʔaⁿ maⁿʔiⁿi. Umaⁿʔiŋka wiⁿʔaqti ʔábʔiⁿaⁿ weánaxíʔai Caaⁿ amá.
 by two they walk. Season just one three times attacked us Dakotas the.

NOTES.

462, 5. gacibaza aʔjaⁿi. They feared an attack from the enemy, if they remained close to the creek.

463, 3. bəta-majl. Aⁿpaⁿ-jaŋga did not eat any of the male elk, because its flesh was prohibited to all members of his gens, who were the Elk people.

463, 7. ʔaⁿʔiⁿ waŋgiʔe. There were several scouts, but only one is mentioned as having discovered the herd. The others peeped over the bluff, and then all ran back to the camp to tell the news.

463, 8. miⁿ ʔaⁿ celiqti hí tē, i. e., about 4 p. m., at which time the story was dictated.

463, 8-9. niaci^{ga} wiⁿ. This was Louis Sanssouci.

464, 7. E^{ga} aka, etc. The Dakotas, who were over the hill, called a little, without hallooing, inviting him to approach them.

464, 10; 464, 11. hegabajⁱ and ackaq^{tei}, pronounced he+gabajⁱ and a+ckaq^{tei} by the narrator.

464, 11. ackaq^{tei} akiki^{ai}. The narrator clapped his hands three times, to represent the firing.

464, 12. Waqe iesk^a, Logan Fontenelle, after whom Logan Creek, Neb., was named.

464, 14. Uma^{ha} ama gaq^a, etc. An explanatory sentence. It shows how the Dakotas were able to surprise Logan.

TRANSLATION.

In former days we went on the hunt with all the tribe, following the course of the Elkhorn River. About thirty of those called scouts were at the two sacred tents. As we went along, we killed some fish, a considerable number. The policemen took the large ones for themselves, and then cooked them. After eating, we departed, walking by night. We followed the course of a stream, whose banks were covered with trees. We did not sleep by the creek; we slept out from it, on the open prairie. At day, when it was light, behold, male elk were walking near us. The good marksmen exhorted one another. When the men shot at them they broke the leg of a male. When he made a dash, I caught hold of him and kicked him over. Those who came afterward hit him on the head. When they ate him at night, I did not eat any of the meat. I ate a small fish which a boy caught for me. At length two elk came directly toward us, following the stream. We killed one of them, the female, and having cut the meat into slices, we scorched them a little over a fire. As we went, one of those who had departed as scouts discovered the buffaloes. The scouts were about twenty miles from the camp, but all ran back suddenly to tell what they had observed. The next morning the camp was removed, and the tents were pitched near the herd, which we surrounded. When the sun was just about yonder, a man departed. Behold, some men were creeping towards the camp. They were Dakotas. The Omahas pursued the foe. I joined. At length it was dark; but still they continued shooting at them. A few of the Dakotas suffered very much. The Dakotas depended on the darkness, and they were in a desperate mood. They attacked us, and killed an Omaha. Then the Omahas spoke of attacking them. They met. One Omaha rode a very swift horse, having no weapon but his hatchet-pipe. He wished to hit one of the foe who had not been wounded. When he arrived just there, he seemed to forget about the hatchet. He wished to pull him from his horse, by catching him by the hair. But his own horse was so strong in the neck that he could not be managed; so he carried his rider not only to the Dakota, but a considerable distance beyond him. And when the Omaha thought of taking hold of the Dakota, he had missed catching hold and had gone by. The Dakota, who was then behind him, wounded him. The horse was coming back carrying his master. "I have been killed outright!" said he. He died soon after. And one Omaha was speared and struck down. Another one was on a horse that refused to run, as it feared the hillocks which were in that neighborhood. A Dakota came and killed the Omaha. They ceased fighting at midnight. The next day they struck the tents and departed. Three men came back bringing dried buffalo meat. They assembled for the dance. They caused the dead to sit with them as they sang. "Let us sing afterwards," said they. They spoke of singing with the dead. When they had finished burying them, one man, jaháwagçe-jíde (Red Shield), went out about a mile, though the chiefs forbade him. He still went on, being near to the bluff. If any young men pursued him, he refused to come. He still went on. Those who were there sat calling to him to go to them. He would not let the Omahas have their way, when they forbade his going. Just as he arrived at the hill the Dakotas came thence in pursuit of him. They soon came to him and killed him. His horse was coming back running to the camp. "Cease fighting," said they. Our warriors were returning to the camp. We removed. The Dakotas attacked us again. Then we removed the camp and went on the hunt. Many Dakotas were coming to attack us. They contended with us. The two parties contended together, being very close. They usually missed in shooting at one another. The Omahas killed a horse belonging to the enemy. The Dakotas killed the white interpreter who was with us. His horse was very swift, but he had gone right into a quicksand in the stream. The Dakotas soon reached him; but they did not kill him until he had shot one of them, as he had a double-barreled gun. When the Omahas were on the hunt with all the tribe, they usually scattered, and went in small parties, by twos, and sometimes singly. In one season the Dakotas attacked us three times.

MY FIRST BUFFALO HUNT.

BY FRANK LA FLÈCHE.

1. čábeč'a' pí há. Pahan'ga pí tš' a'jin'ga, áda' jé awákida-máji
Three times I was Before I was when me small, therefore buf. I did not shoot at there there there
2. ča'ja, can'ge wa'in'kičé wébč'i-hna'-ma' wanáse amá. Pahan'gaqtci though, horse to cause him to I used to keep them for them the ones who sur- At the very first round the carry loads
3. wanásaí tš'di, jé awákide 'iáčč. Can'ge da'ctš' čia'ča čéčai xí, jé da'ctš' they sur- when, buf. I shoot at I spoke of. Horse perhaps it throws you and- when, buf. perhaps rounded them then then then denyly
4. jáčihe tai, ai. Kí awáji'cte. I'dádi aká dáheája juan'gče ačai Jé-ma gore you may, said he. And I was in a bad humor. My father the to the hill with me went. The buffaloes
5. wénaxičai tš' a'wa'da'be aňč'i'i. Kí i'dádi aká a'wan'kie ctšwa', uákia- they attacked the we saw them we sat. And my father the talked to me notwithstanding I did not
them
6. máji-hna'-ma'. Égičé je-núga wi' i'iajačica'qti ači' agfi níkaci'ga aká talk to him at any time. At length buffalo bull one right towards the having was man the tents, him coming back 7. wi'áqtci aka. Kí je-núga amá waji'pibáji. Níkaci'ga čínké iénaxiča- only one the (sub.) And buffalo bull the was savage. Man the he attacked
(sub.) (sub.)
8. hna'i. Ké! č'di ma'čín'-gá, ai i'dádi aká. Can'ge mi'gá jaňgá jide, regularly. Come! there walk, said my father the. Horse female large red, ma^vciadiqti éde, aka^vtaⁿ. Kí i^ddádi aká wahúta^vfiⁿ háhada^vqti édegaⁿ very tall but, I tied her. And my father the (sub.) gun very light but, so a^vi. Bétze ga^v é^di b^eé. É^di pí xⁱji je-núga aká cka^vaji naji^v aká.

 had it. I took it and there I went. There far, when, buffalo bull the motionless was standing.
 Kí níka^vga aká é^di pí xⁱ, gí^véqti^v-bi aⁱ. Waji^v-pibáji je-núga aká. 3
 And man the there far, when, that he was very said. Was savage buffalo bull the (sub.) rived glad (sub.).
 Nú aká ma^v íkide ^vé^vai, kí nan^vka k^edi úi. Gan^vxi weánaxí^vai.
 Man the arrow shot at him suddenly and back on the wounded And he attacked us.
 (sub.) with, him.
 Can^vge wáag^vi aká dúbáⁿ ua^vsiqti áú^vai, gan^vxi a^va^vé i^vé^vai. Je-núga Horse I sat on the one four times leaping far had gone, and had thrown me and. Buffalo bull which denly.
 aká uhíackáq^vtcí atí xⁱ, xig^vé^vdacaⁿ a^vai. Wá^vkide b^eé^vai áú^vai. Akí 6 the very close to had when, turning himself he went. To shoot at him I failed he had I reached (sub.) come around gone, home xⁱ, iⁿna^vha aká i^ddádi íhusa aká xⁱ akí. Can^vge ta^v ma^vze-^vé^vai u^vé^vai when, my mother the my father was scolding him when I reached Horse the bridle sticking (sub.) home, to him
 kí t^edi, íbaha^vi t^e a^va^vé i^vé^vai t^e. I^ddádi aká ía-baji^vqti íga g^ei^vi.
 reached when, she knew it sent me off suddenly the. My father the not speaking at laughing sat.
 home (sub.) all
 Je-núga ^viⁿ t^eé^vai^v á, ai. Gan^vxi íé^vai-máji.
 Buffalo bull the you killed I said he. And I did not speak.
 (ob.) him he.

9

NOTE.

This occurred when Frank was about twelve years old, say, in 1856.

TRANSLATION.

I went three times on the buffalo hunt. When I was there the first time, I was small; therefore I did not shoot at the buffaloes. But I used to take care of the pack-horses for those who surrounded the herd. When they surrounded the herd at the very first, I spoke of shooting at the buffaloes. But my father said, "Perhaps the horse might throw you suddenly, and then the buffalo might gore you." And I was in a bad humor. My father went with me to the hill. We sat and looked on them when they attacked the buffaloes. And notwithstanding my father talked to me, I continued there without talking to him. At length one man was coming directly towards the tents in pursuit of a buffalo bull. And the buffalo bull was savage. He attacked the man now and then. "Come! go thither," said my father. I tied a lariat on a large red mare that was very tall. And taking a very light gun which my father had, I went thither. When I arrived there the buffalo bull was standing motionless. The man said that he was very glad that I had come. The buffalo bull was savage. The man shot suddenly at him with a bow and wounded him on the back. And then he attacked us. The horse on which I was seated leaped very far four times, and had gone off, throwing me suddenly. When the buffalo bull had come very close he wheeled around and departed. So I failed to shoot at him before he went. I reached home just as my mother was scolding my father about me. When the horse reached home with the bridle sticking to it, she knew that I had been thrown. My father said nothing at all, but sat laughing. Addressing me, he said, "Did you kill the buffalo bull?" And I did not speak.

SACRED TRADITIONS AND CUSTOMS.

TOLD BY AⁿPAⁿ-LANGA

- I.—Iⁿc'áge aⁿgúⁿai amá íwaspe gáx 'íⁿá-biamá, íwagázu. ^{Old man our the what makes making spoke of, they what makes} ^{(sub.) one behave it say, one upright.} ^{Tent two}
- waqúbe gáx 'íⁿá-biamá, cí xí wíⁿáqteí waqúbe gáx 'íⁿá-biamá. ^{sacred making they spoke of, again tent only one sacred making they spoke of, they say.} ^{Uⁿéwíⁿ-} ^{Assembled}
- 3 xíⁿá-bi egaⁿ, íhuⁿxíⁿá-biamá níⁿkagáhi amá. Caⁿ mázi jaⁿ má'a xíⁿ edábe ^{themselves, having, consulted one another chief the In fact cedar wood cotton the also} ^{they say (sub.), (ob.)}
- waqúbe gáx 'íⁿá-biamá. Cí níⁿíba bⁿáska naⁿ'ba waqúbe gáx 'íⁿá-biamá. ^{sacred making they spoke of, Again pipe flat two sacred making they spoke of, they say.}
- Níⁿíba xíⁿá-bi xí, níⁿkagáhi xíⁿá-bi-biamá. Caⁿ taⁿ'wángⁿgaⁿ uxíⁿábe ^{Pipe they finished, when, chief they chose for them- In fact tribe each gens for} ^{they say selves, they say. itself (f)}
- 6 wíⁿ'caⁿ'taⁿ' naⁿ'bá cté caⁿ' xíⁿgíza-biamá. Caⁿ waqúbe jín'ga uéⁿaxíⁿíⁿé ^{by ones two even in fact took for itself, they say. In fact sacred thing small they caused them-} ^{selves to own}
- caⁿ' taⁿ'wángⁿgaⁿ baxéⁿé-ma xíⁿ'í-biamá. ^{the tribe the gentes gave to one an- Tent two the to the sacred they} ^{(ob.) other. (ob.) buffalo made it}
- biamá. ^{they say.} ^{Tent only one the referring to men, referring to killing them, sacred they} ^{(ob.) made it}
- 9 biamá. Gaⁿ' xíⁿá-bi-biamá qúbe gⁿúba. Kí éⁿ níⁿkagáhi xíⁿáxe aká ^{they say. At length they finished, they say sacred all. And this chief made them- the} ^(sub.)
- úwakiá-biamá, pahan'ga íⁿéⁿgaⁿ aká. ^{talked to them, they the first ruler the Tent this two sacred you made the} ^{say, (sub.), (ob.),}
- ákiⁿ'í-gá há. Húⁿuga gáxai té uⁿúciaa nájíⁿ' taté há. Caⁿ' edádaⁿ údaⁿ'qti ^{respect ye them Circle of tents made the in the middle stand shall In fact what very good}
- 12 ahníⁿ' ctéctewaⁿ' 'í-hnaⁿ'i-gá. Kí níⁿkagáhi aⁿ'gaⁿ'íⁿ' ctécte wégaⁿ'xíⁿ-gá, ^{you have soever always give to (them). And chief we who are even desire from us,}
- á-biamá. Cénujinga-má é waká-biamá. Édí xí waⁿíheha-báji taí, á-biamá. ^{said they, they The young men (ob.) that they meant, they In that case you will be stout-hearted, said they, they} ^{say. say.}
- Edádaⁿ áhigi xíⁿgⁿéⁿgaⁿ onínkéⁿ'cⁿ, cín'gajín'ga dé fan'di uⁿéⁿgiga taí há. ^{What much you give to those thou who, child forehead on the you paint will} ^{not relations (ob.) yours}
- 15 Áwaqpan'qti égaⁿ úkaⁿ uⁿáketaⁿ'i xí, aⁿ'qtiégaⁿ taí, caⁿ' uákihaⁿ' ataⁿ' ^{Very poor, as a great like deed you acquire it, you will be great men, still additional how far} ^{man (generations)}
- aⁿáí té cetaⁿ' aⁿ'íⁿ' taí, á-biamá. ^{they go the so far they will have it, said they, they say.}

II.—Waha^{n'} ačé 'íčé-biamá, jé uné. Jé-ma učá gčf-hna^{n'} čan^{n'}di jí Removing they spoke of going, buffalo hunting. The buffa- to tell of they used to when tent they say, locs (ob.) come back (in the past) waqúbe ja^{n'} kě waii^{n'} úda^{n'} 'í-hna^{n'}-biamá. Wanáse-hna^{n'}-bi xí, jí tē'di sacred wood the robe good they used to give, They used to surround the when, tent at the (=pole) (recl. ob.) they say, herd, they say jéčéze gfbahi-hna^{n'}-biamá. Cénujin^{n'}ga na^{n'}ba níkagáhi čan^{n'}ká jí waqúbe 3 buffalo- they used to gather for it, Young man two chief the ones tent sacred tongue they say, who tē'di jéčéze čécpahi te áčá, á-biamá níkagáhi amá, jé-ma t'éwačaf hnan^{n'}di.
 at the buffalo- you gather will indeed, said, they chief the the but were killed whenever.
 tongue for (them) say (sub.), falces Jéčéze časí ča^{n'} man^{n'}dě kě ubáxa^{n'} xí, man^{n'}dě-čá^{n'} 'í^{n'}-hna^{n'}i. Jí tē'di buffalo- tip the bow the pushed into when, bow-string they used to carry Tent at the tongue (ob.) by means of.
 éta^{n'}čí^{n'}qti akí-hna^{n'}i. Čáze akí xí, uha^{n'}-hna^{n'}i. Níkagáhi amá učéwi^{n'}i 6 they, the very they used to Evening they when, they used to cook. Chief the assembled first reach again, reached home (sub.)
 xí, wáhi^{n'}-ci^{n'}čé t'a^{n'}i xí, č'di jí tē učaf, waii^{n'}haháge ča^{n'} é uji čatē'. É when, robe with the they had it, there tent the they lower corners of a the that filling they That hair cut (ob.) entered, buffalo robe (ob.) aie.
 waqúbe eja^{n'} aká Han^{n'}ga gáxai aká wa'a^{n'} gčf^{n'}-hna^{n'}i, čataf tē'di.
 sacred thing his the one who Hana^{n'}ga he who made it singing he used to sit, they ate when.

III.—Níaci^{n'}ga wi^{n'} úxube ma^{n'}čí^{n'}i xí, wada^{n'}be ačé taf. Níkagáhi 9 Man one fearing walks when, as scouts they will go. Chief unseen danger
 amá učéwin^{n'}čéč-hna^{n'}i. Ic'áge wi^{n'} ba^{n'}-hna^{n'}i. Gé-hna^{n'}i: Maja^{n'} i^{n'}č'egathe (sub.) usually assemble. Old man one calls. He says as follows: Land you know it sa^{n'}ga te wí áčí^{n'}he, ai. É'di éga^{n'}qti cénujin^{n'}ga gččba-sátá^{n'}, gččba-čáde for me will I I who move, he says. Forthwith young man fifty, sixty da^{n'}čtē, jí waqúbe tē'di ahí-hna^{n'}i. Cénujin^{n'}ga wada^{n'}be áíáčé-hna^{n'}i. Ačaf 12 perhaps, tent sacred at the they arrive. Young man as scouts usually go. They go xí, húčuga ča^{n'} učéca^{n'} ja^{n'}čí^{n'}i. Égičé níkaci^{n'}ga wéčé da^{n'}čtē, učá agčf-when, circle of the going around it they run. At length people they discover perhaps, to tell it they come tents (ob.)
 hna^{n'}i. Ca^{n'} é nuda^{n'} ékiga^{n'}qtia^{n'}. Wébeta^{n'} agčf-hna^{n'}i, a^{n'}he da^{n'}čtēa^{n'}i.
 back. In fact that going to war is just like it. Making a party they come back, they flee perhaps (pl).

IV.—Jé-ma hégabáji t'éwačaf xí, gačča^{n'} agí-hna^{n'}i. Égičé níkagáhi 15
 The buffaloes a great many they killed when, the hunting usually returned At length chief them party homeward. amá učéwin^{n'}čéč-hna^{n'}i tē. Égičé waqúbe gáxe 'íčai tē čí. Jí waqúbe the (sub.) assembled themselves. At length sacred (thing) making they spoke of again. Tent sacred na^{n'}ba tē'di ja^{n'} wí^{n'} úha^{n'}i tē, učéwin^{n'}čéč tai-éga^{n'}. Cénujin^{n'}ga gččbačíwítwo at the dried one they cooked, to assemble them- in order that. Young man a hundred buffalo selves
 qti-éga^{n'} učéwi^{n'}wáčé-hna^{n'}i. Cénujin^{n'}ga nu^{n'}čáči^{n'} č'di ačaf tē, jí tē égaxe 18 about they assembled them. Young man stripped to there went, tent the around it the waist in a circle gčf^{n'}i tē. Ca^{n'} águđí čtē wahčhaji-ma waii^{n'} i^{n'}-hna^{n'}i, unájin^{n'} úda^{n'} čtí they sat. Yet in what soever the stout-hearted ones robe they wore robes, shirt good too
 place
 ug^{n'}nai^{n'}-hna^{n'}i. Časni^{n'}i xí, ca^{n'}gaxe-hna^{n'}i. Jí kě uhá ačaf xí, jíči they wore their own shirts. They swal- when, they ceased. Tent the follow- went when, tent
 lowed (the food) (line of) ing it pole

- 1 çigúje ti-úçipu çei' wénace ma'çi'i, wahéhaji amá çize ma'çi'i. Ca'
 beat a small lodge sat snatching from them walked, stout-hearted one the taking walked. Yet little (see note)
- 2 eáta' wáçiqi uçi'aga-báji. Ja' jinga çizai gö çi waqúbe ké'ja açi' akí— why they tried to they were not un- Slick those that tent sacred at the having they get them from willing. they took
- 3 hna'i. Li snéde uçúkihehébe gáxai. Waqúbe úju ké çi té ida' be reached Tent long one after another, as they made Sacred thing principal the tent the in the again. far as (the poles) reached it. (ob.) middle
- gáxai. Cin'gajin'ga pahan'ga çinké já gínai. I'c'áge wi' cin'gajin'ga
 they made. Child first-born the one dried sated of him. Old man one children
- gçebahíwi' na' ba-çti-éga' ijáje waçáde hna'i. Juepá, wi'áqçti çtécçé hundred two about his name he called them. O grandchild, only one even though
- 6 çi çi çigigçen' te a-no+! agúdi çáta'cé-da', ai i'c'áge aká. Uçéwi'çai yonder, you will put it on (the indeed, in what you are standing! said old man the. They collected at a short distance, ground) for me halloo! place (sub.).
- çi, já ké beçga da' bai. Li snéde éta' çibçá-hna'i. Waka' ma'çi'
 when, dried the meat (line of) they looked at. Tent long so far they spread it out. Wakas-ma'çi'
- aká já çi' çtçi dúba uçúciaja ihéçç-hna'i. Máçai. Ki çi' çtçi ké na' bé the dried very fat four in the middle placed them. He out them up. And very fat the (ob.) hand
- 9 té ççaska wága gáçe-hna'i. Wasçjide igahçi çi, ja' waqúbe té çibçá— the that size alices he made them. Red clay they were when, sacred pole the he rubbed mixed with (ob.)
- hna'i, oni' oninde átaca gáçe-hna'i. Ga' çicta' hna'i. Ukít'ç-çta' ma on, greasy exceedingly he made it. And he completed it. The habitual fighters
- uçéwi'waçç-hna'i. Ukít'ç ákicça gáçe çç-hna'i. Igadíze-hna'i, can'— they assembled them. Enemy to contend making they spoke of. They rode round and sitting with (feigning) round,
- 12 gagçi. Qáde dúbaha níkaci'ga éga gáçe-hna'i, çi snéde uçúciajaçica.
 on horses. Grass in four places man like they made, tent long in front of.
- Dúba kikíde-hna'i, çi dúba níkaci'ga çanká t'éwaçç wáçe-hna'i.
 Four times they shot at one again four times person the (ob.) they pretended to kill them.
- Waçáde çti dúba wáçe-hna'i. Ada'bççti kíde-hna'i. Qáde múbejj
 To cut them up too four times they pretended. Taking very close they shot at (them). Grass they aim knocked
- 15 ihéçç-hna'i. Maçúde çia'çé uçi ikide-hna'i. Ukít'ç amá níkagáhi çanká down by shooting. Powder alone put in they shot at (them) The hostiles chief the (ob.) with.
- wénaxçça-hna'i. Dúba ákikíçça-hna'i. Na'çta'. Ukít'ç amá can'gaxai.
 attacked them. Four times they fought one another. They stopped running. The hostiles ceased.
- Ninba waqúbe çi açi' çinké'ja dúba ahí-hna'i, wai' wi' ubéta' taí
 Pipe sacred tent to him who had it four times they arrived, robe one to wrap around it
- 18 éç' ahii. Çické té. Ninba çickai çi, ubéta' açi' ahii. Li waqúbe they took it they untied its covering. Pipe they untied when, wrapping they took it Tent sacred there for him. it in (the robe) there.
- ké'ja açi' akçi; é ninígahi waqúbe gáçe uçi. Níkagáhi amá eonáqçti at the having it they reached again; killikianick sacred made they put in. Chief the (sub.) they alone
- çacúde gçi' hna'i.
 puffing out sat.
 smoke

V.—Niniba waqúbe kējáicaⁿ cī úokaⁿ wiⁿ uwl̥b̥a tá minke. Nkagáhi Pipe sacred pertaining to the again custom one I tell you will I who. Chief amá uéw̥iⁿ xi, Watoigaxe údaⁿ hā, ai. Inke-sabē aké, niniba ejā aká, the assembled when, To dance good said they. Inke-sabē it was he who, pipe his the (sub.).

 é watoigaxe gaxe 'içai, uéúkie. Içákiçee ihuxiçai. Má'a jaⁿ wiⁿ agiaçai 3 that a dance making prom- talked to (them). To join one they consulted. Cotton- wood one went for it ised, about it. thing to the other one another.
 Inke-sabē amá wañ'giçe. Jusí çaⁿjá jaⁿ gasúda-báji. Wa'ú naⁿba júwagçe Inke-sabē the all. Top of at the wood was not cleared of Woman two with them
 (pl. sub.) a tree branches.
 açai, máçaka açiⁿi. Uéúciájá ujéçi gáxai; é'di múza-hnaⁿi, jaⁿ tē. Iⁿc'áge went woman's strap they In the middle hole for they there they planted it, pole the Old man for carrying wood had. the pole made; (ob.).
 fekiçewákiçai. Waçátigaxe te, af uça+. Jaⁿ çaxínaⁿqi te aça+, ai. Inke- 6 they made them act as orate. You will dance, they indeed. Sleep you will arouse indeed, said Inke-say yourselves by dancing they.
 sabē akádi jaⁿjinga d'úba gasai. Húçuga çaⁿ uéçeaⁿ açai égaⁿ, taⁿwangçaⁿ sabē at the stick some they cut. Circle of tents the around it went as, tribe
 (ob.)
 ubánaⁿ-ma jaⁿjinga wiⁿ çaⁿçanⁿ wa'f-hnaⁿi. Ubánaⁿ úju aká gé-hnaⁿi:
 the gentles stick one by one they gave them. Gens head-man the said as follows:
 Watoigaxe tē é'di-angúⁿhe wégaⁿçai égaⁿ, jaⁿjinga kē wa'f tai-égaⁿ atí hā, ai. 9
 Dance the we join it they wish for as, stick the to give in order they said (ob.) us that have come he.
 Cénujin'ga bçúga háçuxáçai. Wasésaⁿ xi'aⁿi. Wa'ú miⁿjinga edábe waté Young man all naked. White clay they rubbed on themselves. Woman girl also dress té-hnaⁿi, cī xi'aⁿi. Águdí cte cénujin'ga wiⁿ wáçaha údaⁿ áçahai. Inkewore dresses, again they painted place In what soever young man one clothing good he wore Inkethemselves.
 sabē nú naⁿ amá wañ'giçe jaⁿ tē ecaⁿqtei gçiⁿ-hnaⁿi. Wáhiⁿ-cīⁿçe iⁿ- 12 sabē man grown the every one pole the very near it sat. Robe with the hair they (sub.) out hnaⁿi. Néxe-gaxú dúbá, Déxe dúbá cti (açiⁿ) a-f-gçiⁿi. Inke-sabē cénujin'- wore. Drum four, gourd rattle four too (having they sat there. Inke-sabē the young
 them)
 ga-ma niniba waqúbe naⁿba kē, é akiwa wépañan'ga açiⁿ tá aká. Cénu-man pipe sacred two the, that both the first will have them. Young jin'ga naⁿbá aká niniba ují-de áigáça maⁿçiⁿ-hnaⁿi. Wáçíⁿéçee gaⁿçanⁿ-ma 15 man two the pipe (they) filled, carrying walked. To make those who wished (sub.) when on the arm presents ígadíze-hnaⁿi, cañ'gagçiⁿi. Naⁿtaí uéçeaⁿ. Maⁿ'te gçiⁿi Qúça aká. Nú rode round and round, sitting on horses. They going around danced (the pole). Within sat Singers the (sub.). Man amá caⁿ baçúwiⁿxai; wa'ú amá ágaha naⁿtaí.
 the in fact turned around; woman the outside on the danced.
 (sub.)

NOTES.

468, 1. çí naⁿba, the two sacred tents of the Hañga gens.

468, 2. çí wiⁿaqtei, the sacred tent of the Wejiⁿcte gens.

468, 3. mazi jaⁿ ma'a çíⁿ edabe, the sacred pole, which is kept in one of the Hañga tents.

468, 4. niniba bçaska naⁿba, the two sacred pipes kept by the Inke-sabē gens.

472 THE OJEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

468, 6. waqube jīŋga, the sacred customs of each gens and sub-gens.

468, 11. huŋga gaxai tē. As the huŋga was curvilinear, "tē" cannot refer to its shape. It admits of two renderings: "the one act," and "when" or "as," implying the occasion, time, or reason.

469, 2. ja^a kē. The sacred pole is not kept erect, except on special occasions.

469, 3. nikagahi ɕaŋka. Frank La Flèche read "aka" instead of "ɕaŋka."

469, 7. wai^ahuhage ɕa^a, the lower corners of a buffalo-hide, i. e., the part towards the feet of the buffalo.

469, 18. cenjiŋga nuɕaɕi^a, etc., refers to those who had not yet distinguished themselves in battle.

470, 1. ɕi-uɕipu, a small lodge, such as the Winnebago use. See "ɕi-uɕipu" and "uɕipu" in the Dictionary.

470, 3. ɕi-sude uɕukihebe gaxai. The length of the long tent depended upon the number of small tent-sticks obtained by the warriors.

470, 5-6. ɕeɕpa . . . agudi ɕata^ace-da^a. This is equivalent to "wawenai," asking or begging them to give something. After the old man said this, the fathers used to bring their children, each with four presents. These gifts, in modern times, have consisted of a piece of dried buffalo meat, a gun, a fine robe, and a kettle. When a gun could not be had, "nikide," which were precious, and were used for necklaces, were offered instead. Sometimes a horse was the fourth gift.

470, 15. ukitē ama, etc. The front flaps of the long tent were raised a little. Then the attacking party passed between the dried meat and the grass-figures, and assaulted the chiefs. Both parties fired four times. Then the fight ended.

470, 18-19. Before the sacred pipe was taken back to its tent, the chiefs smoked it, and then it was taken over to the side of the young men, who represented the enemy. Here and there one would smoke it. Four times did they carry the pipe around for some of them to smoke it; and then it was returned to its sacred tent.

471, 3. iɕakigɕe ihuɕiɕai. On the evening of the day of the sham fight.

471, 5. macaka. Frank La Flèche read, "máca"ka.

471, 15-16. Those on horseback used to watch for the pipe-bearers to come around, and when the women were on the other side of the circle. Then a horseman would take one of the pipes, which he "held for" a man ("uiɕa^a"), to whom he gave his horse, etc. See ɕaɕi^a-na^apai's War Story, the final paragraph. The men danced in a peculiar course, going from west to south, thence east and north; but the women followed the course of the sun, dancing in the reverse order, from the east to the south, thence by the west to the north.

TRANSLATION.

I.—Our ancestors spoke of making something to keep the people upright, something to make them behave. They spoke of making two sacred tents, and also of making another. When the chiefs had assembled, they consulted one another. They spoke of making sacred the cedar and cottonwood pole and two flat pipes. When they finished the pipes, they elected their own chiefs; and each gens of the tribe constituted itself according to its sub-gentes. And the gentes of the tribe gave to one another the minor sacred things which they now possess. They made the two tents sacred to the buffalo; and they made the one tent sacred to human beings; that is, to killing them in war. At length they completed all that was sacred. And these who had made themselves chiefs, they who were the first rulers, talked to the people. "Respect ye these two tents which ye have made sacred. When the tribal circle is formed, they shall stand in the middle. Indeed, make it a rule to give to them whatsoever very good things you have. And desire even the chieftainship from us," said they, addressing the young men. "In that event you will be stout-hearted. If any of you give many presents to strangers, you may paint your children's foreheads. If you acquire this privilege by becoming very poor, you will be great men, and future generations will keep up the customs as long as the tribe shall last."

II.—They spoke of removing the camp to go on the buffalo hunt. When they came back and told about the buffaloes, they used to give good robes to the pole of the sacred tent. When they surrounded a herd, they used to gather together the buffalo tongues for the tent. When the buffaloes were killed, the chiefs said, "Ye two young men, you will gather buffalo tongues and place them at the sacred tent." The young men used to thrust one end of their bows through the tips of the buffalo tongues, and carry them along by means of the bow-strings, which they put in front of them, next to their chests, the bows being on their backs. They were the very first ones to reach the lodges again. When they reached home in the evening, they used to cook. The chiefs assembled, wearing robes with the hair outside, and entered the sacred tent, where they ate after putting the food in the lower corners of their robes. He whose sacred thing it was, Hañga, he who had made the feast, sat singing as the others ate.

III.—When a man continues to fear unseen danger, they go out as scouts. The chiefs assemble. An old man calls: "I who move wish you to learn about the land for me!" Forthwith fifty or sixty young men go to the sacred tent of the Weji^{etc.} The young men go as scouts, running around the circle of tents. At length they come back to report, perhaps, that they detected the presence of men. And they regard this service as fully equal to going on the war-path. They come back by making a detour, and perhaps they flee.

IV.—When they killed a great many buffaloes they usually started homeward. At length the chiefs assembled, and spoke of making a sacred thing. They cooked a piece of dried buffalo meat at the two sacred tents, that they might assemble for the ceremony. The chiefs collected about a hundred young men, who were stripped to the waist and who sat in a circle around the two tents. Some of the men here and there were considered brave, so they wore robes and had on gay shirts. When they had eaten all the food the feast was ended. As the brave men followed the line of the tents, they were snatching bent tent-sticks from those who dwelt in small tents. And the owners did not refuse, nor did they ask why the braves tried to deprive them of their tent-sticks. They carried the sticks which they had taken back to the sacred tents. They made a long tent, using the sticks as long as they lasted. They made the principal sacred thing (i. e., they placed the pole) in the middle of the tent. They asked each first-born child for a piece of dried buffalo meat. An old man called about two hundred children by their names. "O grandchild, wherever you are standing, even though you bring but one thing, you will put it yonder on the ground for me, at a short distance." When they collected the dried meat all beheld it. They spread it out the length of the long tent. Waka-ma^{ti} placed four of the fattest pieces of the meat in the middle. He cut them with a knife. He cut the fattest in slices as large as one's hand. These he mixed with red clay, and then rubbed the sacred pole with the compound, making it exceedingly greasy. At length he completed it. They assembled the warriors, having spoken of feigning to contend with the enemy. The horsemen rode round and round. The chiefs had made four grass figures, in the shape of men, which they had put in as many places in front of the long tent. The mounted men and the chiefs shot four times at one another; and four times did the former pretend to kill the grass figures. And four times they pretended to cut them up. They took very close aim at them when they shot at them, and they knocked them down every time that they shot. They shot at the figures with guns loaded only with powder. The hostiles attacked the chiefs. Four times they fought one another. They stopped running. The enemy ceased fighting. Four times they went to the keeper of the tent of the sacred pipe, taking to him a robe to wrap around the pipe. They untied the pipe covering. Then they wrapped the pipe in the robe, and carried it to the long tent. After the ceremony they took it back to the sacred tents. It was that pipe which they used during the ceremony, after filling it with killikinnick which had been made sacred. The chiefs alone sat puffing out the smoke, when they put the pipe to their lips.

V.—Now I will tell you a custom pertaining to the sacred pipes. When the chiefs assembled they said: "It is good to dance." It was Iñke-sabé, the keeper of the pipes, who promised to make a dance, and talked about it. The chiefs consulted with one another about having the dance directly after the other ceremonies. All the men of the Iñke-sabé gens went after a cottonwood tree, from which they cut off all the branches but those at the top. Two women accompanied the men, having their "macaka." When they brought the tree back they planted it in a hole in the ground, which had been made in the midst of the tribal circle. They caused old men to act as criers. "You are to dance! You are to keep yourselves wide awake by using your feet!" said they. The men of the Iñke-sabé cut ten sticks in the neighborhood of their tents. Having gone around the tribal circle, the bearers of the sticks gave them out, one by one, to the several gentes. The head of each gens said as follows: "They have come to give us the stick because they wish us to take part in the dance." Nearly all the young men were naked. They rubbed white clay on themselves. The women and girls wore dresses and painted themselves. Here and there a young man was seen who wore good clothing. All the elder men of the Iñke-sabé gens sat close around the pole. They wore robes with the hair outside. They had four drums and four gourd rattles. Both of the sacred pipes of the young men of the Iñke-sabé were to occupy a prominent place in the dance. The two young men who kept them filled them and carried them on their arms as they proceeded in the dance. Those who desired to make presents were mounted and rode round and round the circle of the dancers. Those on foot danced around the pole. The members of the Quya section, who were the professional singers, sat within the circle of the dancers. The men turned around, and the women danced in an outer circle.

LETTERS DICTATED BY OMAHAS AND PONKAS.

HAHE-LAHE TO CUDE-GAXE AND MAⁿTCU-WAⁿCIHI.

July 29, 1878.

Negtha, aⁿwaⁿqpani teábe. Wiⁿaⁿbe kaⁿbⁿea, akiwa, Maⁿtcu-waⁿcihi
 O mother's me poor very. I see you I wish both, Maⁿtcu-waⁿcihi
 brother,
 éⁿéⁿba. Máⁿpe usní tēdīhi xī, wiⁿaⁿbe táf minke. Umaⁿ/haⁿ-ma can'ge he too. Winter cold it arrives when, I see you will I who. The Omahas horse éⁿgeⁿ teábe; waqⁿáni amá. Caaⁿ/ amáⁿ pí éde, can'ge éⁿge agéⁿ. 3 without very, they are poor. Dakotas to the ones I was but horse without I came home Síndé-géécka waⁿaⁿbe pí éde, can'ge aⁿf-báji. Cín'gajín'ga éⁿéⁿha, negtha, Spotted Tail I saw him I was but, horse he did not give me. Child your, O mother's brother, wakega-báji éⁿté, iⁿwiⁿéⁿga-gá. Umaⁿ/haⁿ-ma mé tēⁿdi, macté tēⁿdi, áhigi sick not it may be, tell to me, The Omahas spring in the, warm in the, many éⁿdaⁿbe tá amá. Xaxé-éⁿba juáⁿge agéⁿ; aⁿéⁿbaⁿbaⁿ. Waqⁿ/ha hnize 6 see you will. Two Crows I with him I tell, he knows me. Letter you receive xī, wiⁿutaⁿgáqti tian'kiéⁿ-gá.
 when, just as soon as make one come to me.

TRANSLATION.

Mother's brother, I am very poor. I wish to see you both. I will see you this year, in the winter. The Omahas have no horses at all; they are poor. I went to the land of the Dakotas, but I came home without a horse. I went to see Spotted Tail, but he did not give me a horse. Tell me, mother's brother, if your children are not sick. Many of the Omahas will see you in the spring, when it is warm. I sit with Two Crows, who knows me. When you get the letter, send me one immediately.

XAXÉ-ÉAⁿBA TO MAⁿTCU-WAⁿCIHI.

July 29, 1878.

Nishta, hnáji tēⁿdi, aⁿwaⁿqpani-maji'-qti-maⁿ éⁿet. Hné xī, aⁿwaⁿ-
 My child, you did when, I was not poor at all heretofore. You when, me not go went qpani hegámáji. Wigisiéⁿ-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ-qti-maⁿ. Caⁿ/ wigíⁿaⁿbe kaⁿbéⁿ- 9 poor me not a little. I am used to thinking always very I do. In fact I see you, my I wish of you relation qti-maⁿ. Eátaⁿ xī wigíⁿaⁿbe etégaⁿ-máji. Wéahideⁿqti hné tē, iⁿéⁿ-máji very much. How if I see you, my spí I not. Very far away you as, I am sad want
 há. Íe údaⁿqti wináⁿaⁿ kaⁿbéⁿgaⁿ. Niaⁿ/ba éⁿge tēⁿdi cuéⁿéⁿ. Caⁿ.
 Word very good I hear of you I hope. Moon (-light) none when I send it to Enough.
 you.

TRANSLATION.

My child, before you went, I was not poor at all. When you departed, I was very poor. I always remember you, and I greatly desire to see you. It is not probable that there will be any way for me to get to see you. I am sad because you went so far away. I hope to hear good words from you. I send you this when there is no moonlight. Enough.

JÁBE-SKA TO WAHE'A.

August, 1878.

3 Çijî'çe t'é. Pahan'ga i'e'áge jîjî'ge gi'a'be, gít'e há. Gañ'xî Wajî'a-
 Your elder dead. Before old man his son saw his, died to him. And Bird.
 brother
gahíga, wabáxu ga' hmíze te há. Gañ'xî waqî'ba hmíze t'é'di, úda' ma'- Chief, letter at say you take will. And letter you receive it when, good you rate it
 3 cní' xî i'wî'ça gíça-gü. Aná'a' te há. Çija'ge wédaçé na'bídawáçé walk it to tell me send 't back. I hear will. Your daughter gave birth twins wáçî'a. Akiwa t'ai. Uqçé'qtcí gíçí 'íçáçé wíka'bça. Ca'. Çijî'çe t'é ga'
 she had. Both died. Very soon to come you I desire you. Enough. Your elder dead so back promised uçíwibça há. He-xápa, çíádi, çáçuháqtcí t'é. Çagíçta'báji t'é te amá.
 I tell you of yours. He-xapa, your father, very nearly dead. You not seeing him, die he will your own
 6 Wajî'a-gahíga da'be júçça-gü. Jábe-skä tçikiçé.
 Bird-Chief seeing it be with him. White-Beaver causes this to come to you.

NOTES.

This is a curious letter. The first sentence was intended for Wahe'a; then six were addressed to Wajî'a-gahíga; and the rest, to Wahe'a.

476, 2. Pahan'ga i'e'áge, etc. This should be "I'e'áge çînké jîjî'ge gi'a'bajî tédi, gít'e há:" literally, "Old man—the one who—his son—he saw not his—when—he died to him—."

476, 6. Jábe-skä, Waçape, or Ma'çî'a-teaçi, was an aged Ponka who remained with his Omaha kindred when his people were removed to the Indian Territory, in 1877.

TRANSLATION.

Your elder brother is dead. He died before his father saw him. And you, O Wajî'a-gahíga, please receive the letter. Send word back to me if you are doing well when you get the letter. I will hear it. Your daughter had twins. Both died. I wish you to promise to come home very soon. Enough. Your elder brother is dead, so I tell you about your own. Scabby Horn, your father, is almost dead. He will die before you see him. Look at this with Wajî'a-gahíga. White Beaver sends it to you.

JÁBE-SKĀ TO WÁQA-NÁJI.

August, 1878.

Čiádi pápúháqci t'é. Čagictaⁿbáji t'é etéguⁿ. Jábe-skā waqíⁿha Your father very nearly dead. You do not see yours to die apt. Beaver White letter tíšikičé. Wačagictaⁿbáji t'é ta čanká. Čakí 'íčáčé; wiⁿčankáji. Čižan'ge causes to come to you. You do not see your (relations) they will die. You reach you prom- you did not speak truly. Your elder sister wédačéde t'é. Čižan'cka čižan'ge idačé kě t'é. Miⁿ čaⁿ t'é égasáni tčé 3 bore children, but dead. Your sister's child your elder . the one that dead. Moon the dead the next day (=when) cučéačé.
 I send it to you.

TRANSLATION.

Your father is almost dead. He will be apt to die before you see him. Jábe-skā (White Beaver) causes the letter to come to you. Your relations will die before you see them. You promised to reach home, but you did not tell the truth. Your sister gave birth to a child, but it is dead. Your sister's son, to whom she gave birth, is dead. I send this to you on the day after the moon died (i. e., August 1).

NAMÁMANA TO MAⁿTCŪ-WÁČIHI.

August 22, 1878.

Jahaⁿha, wabágčeze čaⁿ cuhí wiⁿuwatan'ga íčáčé te há. Unšáji Brother-in-law, letter the (ob.) reaches you as soon as you cause will . Not cold caⁿté cupí tá minke há. Ujan'ge kě íčápahaⁿ-maji'-qti-maⁿ. Majaⁿ águdi 6 yet, I reach will I who . Road the I have not the least knowledge of it. Land in what place čagčiⁿ čaⁿ íčápahaⁿ kaⁿbča tá minke. Čin'gajin'ga wižan'ge wáčiⁿ čanká you sit the (ob.) I know I wish will I who. Child my elder sister she had the ones who údaⁿ xi, uána'aⁿ kaⁿbča. Wamúske čti uáji há, wégaⁿze agčiⁿ-sátāⁿ.
 they are good if I hear of it I wish. Wheat too I sowed , measure fifteen.
 Čin'gajin'ga wiwá wakégede piáji. T'é tš'di, cubčé téiⁿte. Aⁿwaⁿqpani 9 Child my sick, but bad. He dies when, I go to you may. Me poor hégamáji há. Éskana wižan'bai kaⁿbčégaⁿ-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ. Majaⁿ (čaⁿ) údaⁿ
 I am very . Would that I see you I am hoping always. Land (the) good.
 (xi), wágazu aná'aⁿ kaⁿbča. Čéga.
 (if), correctly I hear I wish. Enough.

TRANSLATION.

O brother-in-law, please send me a letter as soon as this one reaches you. I will reach you before the cold weather. I do not know the road at all. It will be my desire to know the land in which you dwell. If the children that my sister has are well, I wish to hear about it. I sowed fifteen acres of wheat. My child is very ill. When he dies, I may go to you. I am very poor. I am constantly hoping to see you. If the land in which you dwell be good, I wish to hear correctly about it. Enough.

ŪHAⁿ-JIN'GA TO GACŪDIŪAⁿ.

August 22, 1878.

Nisſha, hné tē, nān'de iⁿ'pimajī'qti-maⁿ'. Ataⁿ' wisīſē tē nān'de
My child, you went when, heart I had it very bad for me. When I think of you the heart iⁿ'pimajī-hnaⁿ-maⁿ'. Gaⁿ'adi aⁿ'waⁿ'qpani-majī tēiⁿte, caⁿ' éskana wiſaⁿ'be
I al-ys have it sad. Now I may not become poor, yet would that I see you
3 kaⁿ'bēgaⁿ. Caⁿ' éskana, nisſha, umaⁿ'ſinka (ſé) wiſaⁿ'be kaⁿ'bēgaⁿ, usnī
I hope. Still would that, my child, season (this) I see you I hope, cold tēdi ſéſuádi. Nīkaciⁿ'ga aⁿ'waⁿ'ſitaⁿ'qti égaⁿ, ádaⁿ aⁿ'ſigſicúpa-bajī'-qtiaⁿ'i.
in the during this. Indians we have worked hard some- there- we have not packed our things at all.
What, fore
Waſſitaⁿ tē hégajī. E'aⁿ' maⁿ'hniⁿ' tē winá'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa. Égiſe waqīⁿ'ha Work the not a little. How you walk the I hear from you I wish. Behold, letter 6 uqſé'qti tiaⁿ'ſakīſē kaⁿ'bēa hā.
very soon you send to me I wish.

TRANSLATION.

My child, when you departed, my heart was very sad. I am usually sad when I think of you. At this time, though I may not be poor, I hope to see you. Still I hope, my child, to see you this year, during this present winter. We Indians have been working very much, therefore we have not made any preparations for the journey. There is so much work. I wish to hear how you are. Behold, I desire you to send a letter back to me very soon.

KICKÉ TO MAⁿTCŪ-LAN'GA.

August 22, 1878.

Aⁿ'baſégaⁿ waqīⁿ'ha wawīdaxú. Caⁿ' wisīſēqti-hnaⁿ-maⁿ', kagé.
This day, as letter I write to you. Still I am always remembering you O younger brother Wigīſiſé'qti aⁿ'ba gē. Caⁿ' hniſe ſi, íe d'úba aⁿ'ſi íſá-gā. Ūckaⁿ e'aⁿ'
I remember you, my day the Yet you re- when, word some to give cause to Deed how own, very well (pl. ob.). ceive it to me be coming.
9 maⁿ'hniⁿ' tē winá'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa. Caⁿ' umaⁿ'ſinka ſéſuádi wiſaⁿ'be kaⁿ'bēgaⁿ.
you walk the I hear from you I wish. In fact season during the present I see you I hope.

TRANSLATION.

As it is to-day, I write you a letter. I am usually thinking of you, O younger brother. I think of you day by day. Now, when you get my letter, send some words to me. I wish to hear from you what you are doing and how you are. I hope to see you this year.

MAⁿTCÚ-NAⁿBA TO AGÍTCITA.

August 22, 1878.

Aⁿbačé níaciⁿga Paⁿ'ka čaⁿká wabáⁿgčeze čaⁿ tíčai bēize. Čiⁿanⁿ'de
 This day people Ponka the ones letter the sent here I have Your daughter's wakégai; iⁿ'teaⁿqteí gíudaⁿ'i. Uébča tá minke. Wamúske ké cētaⁿ was sick; just now he is better. I tell him will I who. Wheat the (ob.) so far gíftaⁿ'jī. Wasninⁿ'de taté.
 he has not worked his. He delay will surely.

3

NOTE.

Agiteita is another name for Wajiⁿa-gahiga, mentioned in Jabe-skā's letter. He is called Wanace-jaūga, Big Soldier, in the Ponka Census List of 1880. His daughter married an Omaha, Wanacekičabi, referred to in the letter just given.

TRANSLATION.

I have received to-day the letter sent hither from the Ponka people. Your daughter's husband was sick. He is better now. I will tell him what you say. He has not yet harvested his wheat. He will surely be backward with it.

MAⁿTCÚ-NAⁿBA TO WĚ'S'Ā-ĬAⁿGA.

August 22, 1878.

Ĭucpáha, íe naⁿ'ba cučéwikíčē. Caⁿ' Caaⁿ' amá, Síndé-gčeecka, naⁿ'bé-
 My grandchild, word two I send to you. In fact Dakota the ones who Spotted-tail, hand ubčaⁿ'. 'Aⁿ'čingé'qti naⁿ'bé-ubčaⁿ', caⁿ' údaⁿ há. Ūdaⁿ'qti naⁿ'bé-ubčaⁿ'.
 I held. Nothing at all being hand I held, yet good. Very good hand I held.
 the matter.
 Caⁿ' ukít'ē wíⁿaⁿ'wa ukít'e čaⁿ' údaⁿ čanájiⁿ tē aná'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa. Caⁿ' gaⁿ' 6
 Now nation which one nation the good you stand the I hear it I wish. At any rate wíⁿíčē-hnaⁿ-maⁿ' čaⁿ'ja e'aⁿ' tē, iⁿ'pi-máji. Wakanⁿ'da iⁿ'čín'čigčāⁿ' taité, I always remember you though what is when, I am sad. The Great Spirit decide for me about shall,
 the matter my own
 ehé. Céna cučéwikíčē. Ūdaⁿ anájiⁿ.
 I say. Enough I send to you. Good I stand.

TRANSLATION.

Grandchild, I send you two words. I have shaken hands with the Dakota, Spotted Tail. It was for no special reason that I shook hands, yet it was good. It was very good for me to shake hands with him. Now I wish to hear with which of the nations you are on good terms. Though I always remember you, no matter what happens, yet I am sad when anything unpleasant occurs. I say that Wakanda shall decide for me about my affairs. I send enough to you. I am doing well.

ǾI-ZI-ØIN'GE TO MI'XA-SKÅ, QÚGAHUNÁJI, AND QIØÅ-SKÅ.

Níaciⁿga amá øéamá øidaⁿ'be táí ebøégaⁿ, áðaⁿ cubøé tá minke.
 People the (sub.) these see you will I think, therefore I go to you will I who.
 Hué tø cetaⁿ, negíha, can'ge céna aⁿøá'í øanká táí, áðaⁿ cubøé tá minke.
 You when so far, mother's horse so many you gave the ones have there- I go to will I who.
 went
 3 Wiðaⁿ'be tø ékigaⁿ, taⁿ'wañgøaⁿ zaniqti øidaⁿ'be gaⁿ'øai. Negíha, wiðiⁿ'øe
 I see you the like it, nation all see you they wish. O mother's my elder brother mégaⁿ, aⁿwaⁿ'qpani hëga-máji. Cubøé tá minke hä. Edécai xi, waqiⁿ'ha likewise, me poor I not a little. I go to you will I who What you if, letter uqøø'qtei tiaⁿ'øakiøø kaⁿ'bøa hä.
 very soon you send here to I wish
 me

NOTE.

Mi'xa-skå or White Swan is Frank La Flèche, sr.; Qugahunaji, Badger-skin-shirt; and Qiøa-skå, the head-chief, White Eagle.

TRANSLATION.

I think that these Indians will visit you, therefore I will go to you. Mother's brother, the horses which you gave me have died since you departed, therefore I will go to you. All of the tribe wish to see you, just as I do. Mother's brother and elder brothers, I am very poor. I will go to you. If you have anything to say, I wish you to send me a letter very soon.

ǾAHÉ-IŁǾE TO QIØÅ-SKÅ.

- 6 Waqiⁿ'ha hnize tø, ian'kiøå-gå. Negíha, majaⁿ'øaⁿ' e'aⁿ' maⁿ'hniⁿ' Letter you re- when, cease one to be O mother's land the how you walk ceive coming to me. brother, tø øútaⁿ aná'aⁿ kaⁿ' ebøégaⁿ. Jüaji xi'etø, øútaⁿ iⁿwiⁿ'øa gíøå-gå. Negíha, the correctly I hear it I hope. Unsuit- even if, correctly to tell me cause to come O mother's able back. brother, aⁿwaⁿ'qpani tcåbe hä. Axåge-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ'-qti-maⁿ', wiðaⁿ'ba-máji. Dáðaⁿ me poor very I am crying always indeed I am, I do not see you. What 9 i'øingé, negíha, aⁿøaⁿ'wañgøå hä. Aⁿwaⁿ'qpani tcåbe, negíha. øéamá,
 I am without, mother's brother, I suffer on account of it Me poor very, mother's brother. These, negíha.—wiðaⁿ'be tá minke øaⁿ'ja, negíha, wamúske uúji uøéwiⁿ'ågiøø mother's brother,— I see you will I who though, mother's brother, wheat I sowed I collect mine øéictaⁿ xi wiðaⁿ'be kaⁿ'bøa.—Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá usniqti wiⁿ'détaⁿ tøðili xi
 I finish when I see you I wish.— Omahas the (sub.) very cold half the length it arrives when there 12 øidaⁿ'be tá amá, negíha. Níkaciⁿga-må øéamá, Umaⁿ'haⁿ-må, negíha, øåíha-see you will, mother's brother. The people these, the Omahas, mother's brother, are vbáji, negiha. Údaⁿ naji^{n'}-báji; i^{n'}tegi teábe há. I^{n'}na^{n'}ha, winégi edábe, centric, mother's brother. Good they do not stand; hard for me very. My mother, my mother's also, brothers wakéga-báji xi, i^{n'}wi^{n'}ça giça-gá. E'a^{n'} ctécte awána'aⁿ ka^{n'}bça. Negiha, they are not sick it, to tell me cause to be coming back. What is soever I hear of them I wish. Mother's brother, waqi^{n'}ha Pau^{n'}ka amá gélçai tē aná'aⁿ, nān'de i^{n'}udaⁿ. Égaⁿ, negiha, 3 letter Ponkas the (sub.) caused to when I heard it, heart good for me. So, mother's brother.

waqi^{n'}ha a^{n'}i içá-gá há. Íe d'úba a^{n'}i-gá há, negiha. Nān'de i^{n'}udaⁿ letter to give me cause to be coming Word some give me mother's brother. Heart good for me té, negiha.

will, mother's brother.

NOTES.

480, 9. a^{n'}ça^{n'}wañgça is from uçugça; but Sanssouci read, "a^{n'}ça^{n'}wañgigça," from the possessive, uçugigça.

480, 9-10. Çeama, negiha,—wiçabe, etc. This is a curious instance of a sudden digression on the part of a speaker. He intended speaking about the tribe, but he proceeded to tell of his own affairs. Then he returned to the Omahas. The correct order would have been, "Çeama, negiha, Uma^{n'}ha" ama usniçti wiçdetaⁿ tēdihi xi çida^{n'}be ta ama. Wiçabe ta miñke çaja, negiha, wamuske uaji uçewi^{n'}agiçe bçictaⁿ xi, wiçabe ka^{n'}bça."

TRANSLATION.

When you receive the letter, send me one. O mother's brother, I hope to hear just how you are getting along in the new land. Even if it be unsuitable, send back and tell me just how it is. Mother's brother, I am very poor. I am crying all the time, because I do not see you. I suffer on account of what I have lost, O mother's brother. I am very poor, mother's brother. Though I wish to see you, mother's brother, it cannot be till I have finished harvesting my wheat that I sowed. These Omahas will visit you when the very cold weather shall have gone half of its course. These Omahas, mother's brother, are eccentric. They do not prosper, and that is very hard for me. Send me back word whether my mother and mother's brothers are not sick. Whatever may be their condition, I wish to hear about them. Mother's brother, when I heard the letter which the Ponkas sent back, my heart was glad. In like manner, mother's brother, give me some words. My heart will be glad.

HEBÁHA TO WĚS'Ā-LAN'GA.

Wawómaxe cuçáçč. Níkaci^{n'}ga máce, a^{n'}çisiçai wéça-báji teábe. Ū'aⁿ- 6
I ask questions I send to you. O ye people, we remember you we are sad very. To no çin'ge wisíçč-hnaⁿ-ma^{n'}, a^{n'}bata^{n'}ctē. Ca^{n'}maja^{n'} e'a^{n'}ma^{n'}hni^{n'} xi, é wágazu purpose I am generally thinking of you, some days. Yet land how you walk if that correctly aná'aⁿ ka^{n'}bça. Çeamá níkaci^{n'}ga amá usní tēdihi xi, çida^{n'}be ga^{n'}çai.

I hear I wish. These people the (sub.) cold it arrives when, to see you wish.

Ca' e'a' ma'hu' xi waqi'ha gian'kié-gā. Winá'a' ka' bēa. Uqé'qtei Yet how you walk if letter send back to me. I hear from you I wish. Very soon waqi'ha gian'kié-gā: Cé euhí tédli xi, waqi'ha uhna' tédli xi, uqé'- letter send back to me: This reaches it arrives when, letter you hold it arrives when, very 3 qtei gian'kié-gā, waqi'ha.
 soon send back to me, letter.

TRANSLATION.

I send to you to question you. O ye people, we are very sad when we think of you. On some days I am thinking of you in vain. Still, I desire to hear just how you fare in the land. These Indians wish to visit you in the winter. Send a letter back to me, as I wish to hear how you are. Send a letter back to me very soon. When this reaches you, when you take hold of the letter, send me one back very soon.

SI-ŲA'-QEGA TO ÉDUÁNA (ANTOINE ROY).

- Kagé, ga' Uma'ha' amá caéé tá amá. [Cé amá] eubéé bēcta' anáji.
 Younger after a Omahas (the go to you will. [They are going] I go to I have I stand.
 brother, while (sub.) you finished I stand.
 Ukie caéé tá amá. Níkaci'ga gēéba-na'ba éida'be ga' éai. Ca', edáda' with them they will go to you. Person twenty to see you wish. Now, what.
 6 etécte abéi'-máji, a'wa'qpani téabe. Cé níaci'ga nújinga éabéi' wíja'bai soever I have I not, me poor very. That person boy three I see you ka' bēa: Maja'-ibáha, Cábé-náji, céna. Wíéé-nhan'di i' éa-máji-hna'- I wish: Land he knows, Dark (afar) he stands, enough. I remember always when I am always ma'. Ca' wíja'be ka' bēáqti-ma', éabéi' gáhnáñkace. Ta' wáñg'éa' t'éqi sad. Yet I see you I wish indeed, three you who are those (unseen), Tribe difficult 9 íepaha'; i' ta' t'éqi, wéteqi'qti'a'i. A'wa'qpani té áwake. Cééanká, nújinga you knew, now difficult, very difficult for us. I am poor the I mean it. These, boy éanká, na'ba éanká, waqi'ha da'be júwaéáéé ka' bēa. Ca' cin'gajin'ga the (pl. ob.), two the (pl. ob.), letter to see it you with them I wish. And children éíja wakéga té éska' t'é i'te ca' aná'a' ka' bēá. Maja'-ibáha' etí éé your sick the it may be dead it may be yet I hear it I wish. Maja'-ibáha' too you 12 wáwike. Cábé-náji' éí etí éé wáwike.
 I mean you. Cábé-náji' you too you I mean you.

NOTE.

Nine letters were written for the Omahas on the same day, August 22, 1878. Several alluded to the contemplated visit of the Ponkas; but Siya'-qega alone gave the number who intended going. Siya'-qega addressed three Ponkas in his letter: Antoine, Maja'-ibáha' (Knows-the-Land), and Cábé-náji' (Stands-Dark-in-the-distance).

TRANSLATION.

Younger brother, the Omahas will go to you. As they are going, I stand ready to go to you. They will go to pay you a friendly visit. Twenty persons wish to see you. Now, I have nothing whatever; I am very poor. I wish to see three young men among you: yourself, Majaⁿ-ibahaⁿ (Knows-the-Land), and Cabë-najiⁿ (Stands-Dark-in-the-distance). When I think of you, I am always sad. Yet I have a strong desire to see you three who are out of my sight. You know the trouble of the tribe. It is now in trouble; we are in great trouble. I mean that I am poor. I wish these two young men to see the letter with you, Antoine. I desire to hear if your children have been sick, or even if they are dead. I mean you, too, Majaⁿ-ibahaⁿ. I mean you, too, Cabë-najiⁿ.

WAJĪ'-SKĀ TO MAⁿTCŪ-WĀŪIHI AND AⁿPAⁿ-LAⁿ'GA.

Waqiⁿ'ha gācāⁿ wawidaxú cuécaçé. Cuhí té, hníze ɣl, éskana Letter that I write to you I send it to you It reaches when, you take it when, oh that uqčé'qtei gōcāçé kaⁿbēgaⁿ. Kí níkaeiⁿ'ga-ma, čéama, Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá, very soon you send (one) I hope. And the people, these, Omahas the (sub.), edádaⁿ fe ké aⁿ'ete caⁿ' wabéitaⁿ maⁿbēiⁿ', égiçe, úckaⁿ wisíçé há. Wisíçé 3 what (they) the as if still I work I walk, behold, deed I remember I remember you speak you
 té caⁿ' waqiⁿ'ha gācāⁿ cuhí té'di, fe ké aⁿ'cā'i tícaçé ɣl, ícāxigéigcāⁿ kaⁿ'bēa.
 the yet letter that it reaches when, words the you give you send if, I decide for myself I wish.
 you me here
 Caⁿ' níaciⁿ'ga ukéçíⁿ ecaⁿ' weçénajiⁿ edádaⁿ wiⁿ' í'í gě' čtí wágazúqti
 And Indians near to you stand to them what one they the too very straight give you (pl. ob.)
 iⁿwiⁿ'ça ícā-gā. Aná'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa. Caⁿ' Aⁿ'paⁿ-iaⁿ'ga, čí etí wisíçé caⁿ'caⁿ'- 6 to tell me send it here. I hear it I wish. And Big Elk, you too I remember always
 you qti-maⁿ'. Kí caⁿ' fe ké cuéçé ké bēúga, Aⁿ'paⁿ-iaⁿ'ga, čí etí čaná'aⁿ tēgaⁿ indeed I do. And in fact, words the sent to the all, Aⁿ'paⁿ-iaⁿ'ga, you too you hear in order you them that wawidaxú. Íe číja ké iaⁿ'kičā-gā, d'úba, čí etí. Níaciⁿ'ga-má edádaⁿ údaⁿ
 I write to you. Words your the send here to me, some, you too. The people what things good gāxe té'di, siçéwāçé. Údaⁿ aⁿ'ekāxe-hnaⁿ' égaⁿ, wisíçé. Caⁿ' uwikie ké 9 do when, memorable. Good you usually made me as, I remember you. And I talk to you the fe ké áhigiqti čéamá uñúwikié cuécaçé. Aⁿ'waⁿ'qpani égaⁿ ádaⁿ fe áhigiqti words the very many these I talk to you I send to you I am poor some- what fore about you uñúwikié cuécaçé. Wíčahaⁿ cuécaçé.
 I talk to you I send to you. I pray to you I send to you.
 about

NOTES.

493, 3. a^oete is used in comparisons, figures of speech. See "i^oete," in the Dictionary.

493, 3. The third sentence of this letter is puzzling, not only to the collector, but also to Sanssouci and Frank La Flèche. Still it is given as dictated. There may be a comparison between the bare words of the Omahas, and the deeds of the Ponkas.

493, 10. u^oewikie, etc.: "I speak many words to you because I am poor."

TRANSLATION.

I have written that letter to send to you. When it reaches your land, and you receive it, I hope that you will send one back very soon. What these persons, the Omahas, speak, I continue working at, as it were; but I remember your deeds. As I remember you, I desire to decide for myself, when that letter reaches you, and you send the words to me. I also wish you to tell me accurately about the things which your neighbors have given you. I wish to hear. And you, too, A^opa^ojaŋga (Big Elk), I always remember. And, in fact, I have written to you all the words that I send to your land, that you, too, A^opa^ojaŋga, may hear them. Do you, too, send me some of your words. When men do what is good, they should be remembered. As you invariably did me good, I remember you. And as I talk to you, I send you a great many words when I talk with you about these. As I am somewhat poor, I send to you, talking with you in a great many words. I send to you to ask a favor of you.

CA^oTA^oJIN^oGA TO MA^oTCU^o-WA^oŪIHL.

Ga^o wia^oba-máji tē, a^owa^oqpani; wia^obe tē, a^owa^oqpani-máji.
 At any I do not see you when, I am poor; I see you when, I am not poor.
 You the so far heart not good for me; I am sick always. Chiefs the ones who 3 wia^očakié úda^o-hna^oi, čí cénujin^oga úwačakié čí úda^o-hna^oi. Ta^owa^ogča^o you talk to them is always good, again young man you talk to them too is always good. Tribe ččama Uma^oha^o-má dáda^o wačá*i* tē úda^o teábe-hna^o. čísičč-hna^o ca^oca^o.
 these the Omahas what you have given good very usually. They are always thinking of you.
 Wéčigča^o číja tē úda^o ca^oca^oqti. Éskana uma^očinka áji xí wia^obe
 Plans your the good continually. Oh that season another it I see you
 6 ka^občéga^o. Éskana uhé kē i^owi^očaona íčačč ka^obča. Iéskā aoni^o čínké
 I hope. Oh that path the you tell me you send here I wish. Interpreter you have the one who uhé kē sbaha^o xí, i^owi^oč íča-gā hā Badize íjaje ač*i*u'. Wačútada jíi ča^o path the knows it it, to tell me send here Battiste his name he has. (to) village the (ob.)
 ččeta^o a^oba úma^očín ána tē aná^oka^oka^obča. Pañka jíi ča^o ččeta^o, č as far as day to walk in how the I hear it I wish. Ponka village the as far as that (ob.)
 that many

áwake Pan'ka nŋkagáhi ijin'ge wacúce wan'gičšqti wiŋaⁿ'bai kaⁿ'bécgaⁿ.
 I mean it. Ponka chief his son brave all I see you I hope.
 ĩgipi maⁿ'-qti-maⁿ' égaⁿ, wiŋaⁿ'bai kaⁿ'bécgaⁿ-hnaⁿ caⁿ'caⁿ. Wačáte čha
 I am so used to you as, I see you I am hoping always. Food you bčáte caⁿ'caⁿ. Iⁿ'udaⁿ, ádaⁿ wiŋaⁿ'be kaⁿ'bčē-qti-maⁿ'. Badize aká é čizal 3
 I ate always. Good to me, therefore I see you I desire very I do. Battiste the that he (sub.) takes it
 ŋi, daⁿ'be učiča tá aká.
 when, seeing it he will tell you.

TRANSLATION.

When I do not see you I am poor; but when I see you I am not poor. Since you departed my heart has been sad; I have continued sick. It is always good for you to consult the chiefs and the young men about your affairs. What things you gave to these gentes of Omahas were always good. They ever remember you. Your plans were good at all times. I hope to see you in another season. I desire you to send and tell me the way to your land. If the interpreter whom you have, knows the way, send and tell me. His name is Battiste. I wish to hear how many days' walk it is from the Oto village to the Ponka village. I hope to see all of you brave sons of Ponka chiefs. As I am so used to you, I am ever hoping to see you. I always ate your food. It was pleasant to me, therefore I have a strong desire to see you. When Battiste receives the letter and sees its contents, he will tell you.

MAQPIYA-QÁGA TO MAⁿTCÚ-NÁJIⁿ.

ĭahaⁿ'ha, nŋjina čičha t'é tē, nān'de iⁿ'pi-máji caⁿ'caⁿ. Kí ččču ča-Brother-in-law, boy your dead as, heart bad for me always. And here you nájiⁿ tē'di, ádaⁿ hčga-hniⁿ-áji čde ihné tē cetaⁿ', čin'gajin'ga čičha ččaⁿ'ba, 6 stood when, good a little you were not but you have gone there so far, child your he too, majaⁿ' čaⁿ abčēⁿ' čan'di iⁿ'čwackaⁿ'qti ŋi, t'é tē aná'aⁿ tē'di, iⁿ'ča-máji há.
 land the I have in the you made great efforts when, dead the I heard it when, I was sad
 (sub.)
 ččaká ĩmí aká xagč-hnaⁿ caⁿ'caⁿi. Čaⁿ' gaⁿ' aná'aⁿ tē, cetaⁿ' nān'de his one his mot. r's the is always crying. Just so I heard it when, so far heart brother's wife (sub.)
 ĩ-máji maⁿ'bčēⁿ' há. Čaⁿ'ge jaⁿ-maⁿ'čēⁿ iⁿ' čaⁿ'ka enáqte iⁿ'wiⁿ'etc. 9 for me I walk Horse wagon carry the ones that they alone remain to me.
 ábčēⁿ' čaⁿ úmaxečč čáxe čgaⁿ, wamúske majaⁿ' bčuga náji Či land I have the I did not like to give it up as, wheat land the whole I sowed. Again because I had worked it čádaⁿ waqtá jin'ga bčuga abčēⁿ'; nú etí abčēⁿ', caⁿ' wataⁿ'zi etí áhigíqti what vegetable small all I have; potato too I have, and corn too very much abčēⁿ'. Níkacēⁿ'ga-má ččču maⁿ'čēⁿ'i gē'di aⁿ'ba uáwašha-hnaⁿ'i. Umaⁿ'haⁿ 12
 I have. The people here they walked during day we are generally lonesome. Omahas the all remember you. And Dakotas to them too we arrived. We came home, horse wašíⁿ há Čaⁿ' amá. Čaⁿ' wiŋaⁿ'be kaⁿ'bčēde tēqi há. ĩí tē iⁿ'čēⁿ'daⁿ'be gave to us. Dakotas the. Yet I see you I wish, but difficult House the to look after for me čingé tē é áwake, téqi há. Ca^{n'} áhigiqti níkaci^{n'}ga amá a^{n'}čída^{n'}be taité there is the that I mean it, difficult. Yet a great many people the (sub.) we see you shall noun

ebčéga^{n'} há. Níkaci^{n'}ga wi^{n'} cénuij^{n'}ga čičíha čanká wi^{n'} a^{n'}čá^{n'}i ka^{n'}béa.
 I think Person one young man your the once one you give I wish.
 I think

3 Uma^{n'}ha^{n'}-má i^{n'}ta^{n'} waji^{n'}-qidáwáčé; níkaci^{n'}ga-báji ga^{n'}čai tē, áda^{n'} waji^{n'}-
 The Omahas now I am out of patience with Indians they not they desire, therefore I am out
 them

qidáwáčé. Níkaci^{n'}ga amá níkagáhi jua^{n'}wangíčai, é áda^{n'} há. Wáqe of patience with People the ones chief we go with them, our own, that good Acting the
 them.

gáxe éde a^{n'}čá^{n'}n'račai é weč'abčé há. Kí níkaci^{n'}ga ukéč^{n'} níkagáhi a^{n'}čá white but they hate me that I hate them And Indian ordinary chief to throw man away

6 ga^{n'}čai há; áda^{n'} ečéu majá^{n'} čan^{n'}di ja^{n'}be ka^{n'}béa-qi há. Čáči^{n'}-na^{n'}páji they wish, therefore yonder land in the I see it I wish very Čáči^{n'}-na^{n'}páji ato

amá é wáqe gáxe júwagčé ga^{n'}čai há; níkaci^{n'}ga ukéč^{n'} tē a^{n'}čá ga^{n'}čai há.
 the he acting the white he with them wishes Indian ordinary the to throw wishes (sub.) man it away

Waqi^{n'}ha gčéčai xi, le piáji sabáji cuhí a^{n'}čan'quhá há.
 Letter you sent it it, words bad suddenly reach we apprehend it back you

NOTES.

Maqpiya-qaga had been a member of the young men's party, but he joined the chiefs' party prior to sending this letter. Notwithstanding his bitter feeling against his former friends, he was a good farmer, and was making considerable progress in civilization. Ma^{n'}teu-naji^{n'} is the famous Ponka chief, Standing Grizzly Bear.

485, 7. maja^{n'} ča^{n'} abč^{n'}i čandi i^{n'}čewačka^{n'}qi. Ma^{n'}teu-naji^{n'} and his son, Wačahuta^{n'}, aided Maqpiya-qaga, when they staid with the Omahas. They lent him their cattle to work his land.

485, 8. ičimi aka, Maqpiya-qaga's wife.

486, 3. níkaci^{n'}ga-báji ga^{n'}čai; literally, "Not Indians they wish (to be)."

TRANSLATION.

My sister's husband, as your son is dead, my heart is always sad. As you and your child made great efforts in helping me with my farm while you were here, and till you went to that land, I was grieved when I heard of his death. This one, my wife, is always crying. Indeed, I have been walking with a heavy heart ever since I heard it. I have nothing left me but the horses which carry the wagon. As I did not like to give up the land which I have, because I had expended so much labor on it, I sowed the whole of it in wheat. I have all the kinds of small vegetables; I have potatoes, and a great deal of corn. We Indians who walk here are generally lone-some every day. All the Omahas remember you. We have been to visit the Dakotas. When we came home, they gave us horses. Now, I wish to see you, but it is difficult. I mean that I have no one to see to my house in my absence. Still, I think that very many of us shall see you. I desire you to give me one of your young men. Now am I disgusted with the Omahas, because they do not wish to be Indians. If we men go with our chiefs, it is good. The Omahas act the white man, but at the same time they hate me. That is what I hate. And they desire to throw away the Indian chiefs; therefore I have a strong desire to see you in yonder land. Those with gašī-ma'pašī wish to live as white men, and to throw away the Indian life. If you send back a letter, we fear that bad words will reach you suddenly.

JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE TO HIS BROTHER FRANK.

September, 1878.

Ca' le dju'baqtei uwibēa tā minke hā. Pahan'ga onaf tē'di, wabāgēze
Now words very few I tell you will I who Before you went when, letter Ca' gēia'ḥakīḥē-ona' hā. Kī mé ḥé wabāgēze wi'ēte gēia'ḥakīḥa-bāji hā.
the you used to send back to me And spring this letter even one you have not sent back to me
(ob.)
Ca' wabāgēze ḥābēi'-qti-ēga' cuḥēaḥē hā. Kī a'ḥakīwajī'ete ebēēga' hā, 3
Yet letter three about I have sent to you And you were angry with I thought me wabāgēze wi'ēte gēia'ḥakīḥā. Ca' ḥikāge wi' wabāgēze wi' tēḥakīḥē letter even one you did not send back to me. Yet your friend one letter one you caused some one to send it to him ḡi, i'wi'ḥa hā; āda' wi' cuḥēwikīḥē hā. Kī e'a' a'nāji' tē weḥepaha' when, he told me therefore one I cause him to send And how we stood you know us
it to you hnaī tē, ca'ca' a'ḥi' hā. Ca' nié ḥiḥin'gēqti ḡi-ujī tē winā'a' tē, i'ḥēqti- 6 you when, always we are Yet pain you had none house- the I heard of when, I was de-went at all hold you ma' hā. Maja' ḥa' ḥepaha' hnaī hā. Maja' e'ja ḥa', ūḡuḥēqti oné lighted Land the you knew it you went Land yonder the very fearful you go (ob.) by you (ob.), about it ēga' hā; āda' ḡuḥewikīḥē-hna'-ma' hā Micēḥa iha' wakēga hēga-bāji somewhat there-fore I have always been apprehensive on Michel his alek not a little your (pl.) account mother ḥa'ja, ca' t'ē tatē iḥāpaha'-māji hā, ca' ni'ja tē da'etē iḥāpaha'-māji hā, 9 though, yet die shall I do not know yet live will perhaps I do not know Nugé ḥé macté hēgaji hā; ca' macté wi'ēte iḥāpaha'-māji hā. A'ḥska, Summer this warm not a little in fact, warm even one I do not know By the by,
Frank wa'ū min'gēā ēde t'ē hā, nūgeā'di. Ca' maja' ḥa'ndi a'ḥa'
Frank woman he married her but she is dead last summer. Still land in the we live ni'ja te ceta' a'ḥa'baha'-bāji hā. Wāgazu a'ḥi'-bāji hā. Ca' maja' 12 by it will so far we do not know Straight we are not Still land kē e'ja uāgaca' ka'bēga'. Iḥādiḥaī akā i'ḥin'ginahi' i' ḡi, uāgaca' etēga' hā.
the yonder I travel I hope. Agent the he is willing for if, I travel apt (sub.) me, his own
Iḥādiḥaī akā ūwagiḥ'age-hna' i' Una'ha'-mā. Ca' ḡuḥi' ḡi ḥa' wēga'ze Agent the is generally unwilling for them the Omahas. And Pawnee's village the measure āna ḥagēi' tē i'wi'ḥa-gā hā. Kī eī maja' ḥagēi' i' ḥa' ḥé ceta' wēga'ze 15 how many you sit the tell to me And again land you sit the this so far measure āna ḥagēi' i' ḡi, i'wi'ḥa-gā hā. Kī eī tē āji wi' ḥēgipe' tā minke hā.
how many you sit if, tell to me And again word differ- one I say to will I who ent him
Ca' le ḥēu ma'oni' tē'di, le tē ēga' uwibēa-hna'-ma'. Nīkaei'ga ukēḥi'
Yet word here you walked when, words the like I usually tell you. Indian ordinary

- tō gin' ʔa-gā, ehá-máji há; ei, Wáqe gáxa-gā, ehá-máji há; ei, Nákuei'gn the throw away yours, I did not say again, Act the white man, I did not say again, Indian uké'ei ma'eín-gā, ehá-máji há. Ki ei, Wakan'da ʔínké uéúmajín-gā há.
 ordinary walk thou, I did not say And again, Deity the (ob.) depend on him
- 3 Wakan'da ʔínké siéa-gā há. Ki Wakan'da ʔínké ʔaséʔéʔi ʔi, maju' Deity the (ob.) remember him And Deity the (ob.) ʔaséʔéʔi ʔi, maju' here only you love it if, you said shall you said shall in the future, Deity
- nká ita' ʔi'ayé gēi' i há. Ē'di angáhi taŋ'gata. Ē'di angáhi ʔi, a'ʔan'
 the (sub.) in front sits There we reach we who will, There we reach when, we know
- 6 ʔi'daha' taŋ'gata, ehé. Wakan'da aká maja' ʔéʔu a'ma' ʔi' i ʔi, wada' be for ourselves we who will, I said, Deity the (sub.) land here we walk when, seeing us
- gēi' i há. Ki Wakan'da aká a'wa' siéa-buji' qtiá' i há. Ci le tō céna sits And Deity the one we have not remembered them at all Again words the enough
- dxu há. Ki ʔi'ʔi' wé'daha' amá ána t'at in' baxu ʔa-gā. Ci indáda'
 I write And Pawnee I know them the ones how have write to me send it. Again what
- 9 in' ʔéepaxu ʔka' hna in' baxú-gā. Čan'ge etí ána wáon' čí'to in' baxú-gā.
 you write to me you wish write to me. Horse too how you have them it may be write to me.

TRANSLATION.

I will tell you a very few words. Before you went to the Indian Territory, you used to send me letters. But you have not sent me even one letter this spring. Yet I have sent you about three. And I thought that you were offended with me, because you had not sent me a single letter. But one of your friends, to whom you have sent a letter, has told me; so I cause him to send one to you. You knew what our condition was when you departed. We have continued so. I was delighted to hear from you, and to learn that you had no sickness in your household. You knew the land when you departed. You went somewhat as if you were very fearful about yonder land; therefore I have always been apprehensive on your account. Michel's mother is very sick. I do not know whether she will live or die. It was very warm this summer. Indeed, I do not know even one summer in the past, which was as warm. By the by, Frank took a wife last summer, but she is dead. We do not know yet whether we shall improve in the land. We are unsettled. Still, I hope to go traveling to yonder land where you are. If my agent be willing for me to go, I shall be apt to travel. But he is generally unwilling for the Omahas to travel. Still, tell me how many miles you are from the Pawnee village, and how many miles, too, you are from this land. I will speak on another subject. It is the subject about which I told you from time to time, when you lived here. I did not say, "Abandon your Indian life," I did not say, "Live as a white man." Nor did I say, "Live as an Indian." But I say again: Depend upon God. Remember Him. For if, instead of remembering God, you love this world alone, you shall be sad—you shall surely be sad in the future. God is ahead of us. We will go to Him. When we arrive there, we shall know for ourselves. When we walk here on this earth, God sits looking at us. And we have altogether forgotten God. Now I have written enough on this subject. When you write, send me word how many have died of the Pawnees whom I know. And write whatever you wish to write to me. Write to me how many horses you have.

GAHIGE TŌ QIŦA-SKĀ AND JENŪGA-NĀJIⁿ.

Céamá níkaeiⁿ ga-ma ɛí maⁿhniⁿ tŕ, é údaⁿ wáhníⁿ ebéégaⁿ. Céamá Those the people you you walk when that good you have them I think. These údaⁿ wábníⁿ kaⁿbééde tégí há. Caⁿ edádaⁿ wépi báji-báji aⁿmaⁿɛíⁿ tŕ, good I have them I wish, but difficult Still what bad for us not we walk when, enⁿ aŋgú-qteí aŋgúxigéɛíⁿ. Edádaⁿ ɛé majnⁿ ɛaⁿ aⁿɛítaⁿ tŕ, úta aŋgú- 3 still we ourselves have ourselves. What this land the we work it when, beyond we ac-ketnⁿ. Céⁿ wackaⁿ i-gá. Wiⁿ bai-máji iⁿteqí; caⁿ wisíɛai égaⁿ, égipe.
 quire. Yonier make an effort. I do not see you (pl.) hard for yet I remember as, I have Caⁿ majnⁿ uéigéiⁿ ɛaⁿ wáéate eⁿ uéijii gŕ eⁿ ɛítaⁿ anáⁿ kaⁿbéa.
 Still land you sit in the food how you have the how straight I hear I wish.
 planted, (pl. ob.)
 Paⁿka-má eⁿ níkaeiⁿ ga wakéga amá awánaⁿ kaⁿbéa há. Céⁿ amá 6
 The Ponkas how people sick the ones who I hear from I wish Here the ones wakéga héga-báji. Caⁿ ɛiimi aká eⁿ maⁿhniⁿ tŕ béuga ɛináⁿ gaⁿɛai, sick not a little. Now your the how you walk the all to hear of wishes, father's sister (sub.)
 údaⁿ waqíⁿ ha euééaɛŕ. Ic ɛé, Maⁿteu-wáɛihí, Wánaⁿ páji íuɛá-gá. Ijimi there- for I send to you. Word this, Matcu-waɛihí, Wanaⁿ páji tell him the His father's news. sister aká gáxai. Céⁿ anájiⁿ tŕ iⁿ udaⁿ-qi-maⁿ. Caⁿ wisíɛai tŕ, iⁿ ɛa-máji- 9 the has made it. Here I stand the it is very good for me. Yet I remember when, I am always
 you hnaⁿ-maⁿ. Caaⁿ amá níaciⁿ ga wajaⁿ be pí éde Síndé-gééka úⁿ ɛinⁿ go and. Dakotas the ones who people I see them I was but Spotted Tail without cause naⁿhé aⁿwaⁿ ɛaⁿ. Níaciⁿ ga-má ɛti ɛaⁿ go waⁿ báji, wí-hnaⁿ gŕéba aⁿɛi há; hand he held me. The people too hors he did not give me alone ten he gave them, me;
 wíe awáxike. Céⁿ wahába jútⁿ aⁿ tŕ di, wébaⁿ, Ihañⁿ taⁿ wíⁿ amá, umaⁿ ɛínka 12 me I mean myself. This ear of corn mature when, they have called us, Yanktons the season
 (sub.)
 ɛénⁿ baⁿ tŕ a. Caⁿ ukítⁿ ɛaⁿ hahá júwaɛáɛɛai eⁿ ɛanájiⁿ xi, ɛítaⁿ anáⁿ a second at the. Now nations neighboring you with them how you stand if, straight I hear it
 time
 kaⁿ béa.
 I wish.

NOTES.

Jenúga-najiⁿ, Standing Buffalo bull, is one of the Ponka head-chiefs. He is commonly called by his Pawnee name, Acáwage, Spotted Horse.

489, 8, Maⁿteu-wáɛihí, Grizzly-bear-who-Scares-the-game-from-a-thicket, another name of QiŦa-skā, White Eagle.

489, 8, ijimi. Ijimi may mean, "his or her father's sister," or "his or her mother's brother's wife."

TRANSLATION.

I think that you treat those Indians, the Ponkas, well, as you go on. I wish to treat these Indians, the Omahas, well; but it is difficult. Though we continue without any serious troubles, we chiefs keep to ourselves. When we cultivate anything in this land, we always gain more than we planted. Try it yonder. As I cannot see you, it is hard for me; yet I have said it because I remember you. I wish to know all about the kinds of food which you have planted in the land in which you dwell. I desire to hear how those Ponkas are, who were sick. Those who are here have much sickness. Your aunt wishes to know all about your condition, therefore I send you a letter. Ma'teu-wa'fibi, tell this news to Wama'paji. His aunt has made it. It is very good for me to be here. Still, when I remember you, I am always sad. I went to see the Dakotas; and Spotted Tail took me freely by the hand. He did not give the Omahas any horses, but he gave ten to me alone. I mean myself. The Yanktons have invited us to visit them next season, when this crop of corn shall have matured. I wish to hear just how you are getting along with the neighboring tribes.

CAN'GE-SKĀ TO QIČĀ-SKĀ.

- Ca' e'a' ma'hni' é awána'a' ka'n'bēa. Ca' ga' wakéga-báji ca'
 Now how you walk that I hear of them I wish. Still so they are not sick yet e'a' úda' ma'hni' é awána'a' ka'n'bēa. Ca'-hna' ga' maja' ča' wačáa'hna how good you walk that I hear of them I wish. Still, in partic- so land the you abandoned it 3 hnaí tē ca' a'čisič-hna'i, a'ba ičángčē. Maja' čí tē, e'a' maja' you the yet we always remember day throughout. Land you as, how land went úda'qti ma'hni' yí, winá'a' ka'n'bēa. E'a' te a'čan'čidaha'-báji. Wáqe very good you walk it, I hear from you I wish. How will we do not know about ourselves. While amá fe ččá' wi'čete wegáxa-báji. Áda' éč hā: a'čida'be éteu'i tē the words so far even one they have not done for us. Therefore that is it we see you may, at the (sub.) least
 6 a'čan' baha'-báji. Ca' júga wíqtei wíja'be ka'n'bēai, kí waqin'ha ča' cubí we do not know. Still body I, verily I see you I wish (pl. ob.), and letter the reaches tē, uqčé'qtei qáča gíčačē ka'n'bēga'. Íuča aná'a' ka'n'bēa. Kí čisan'ga when, very soon back you came to again he coming I hope. News I hear I wish. And your younger
 brother
 t'č hā, Heqága-jin'ga a' tē; níkač'ga wahéhaji'qti éde t'č hā. Kí níkač'ga dead, Heqága-jin'ga i. e., person very stout-hearted but dead. And people 9 amá níkač'hi amá gíča-báji'qti'a'i hā. Ca' wa'ú amá čí čénujin'ga amá the chief the are very sad. Indeed woman the too young man the (sub.) (sub.)
 čí gíča-báji hā. Ca'-hna' ga' dáda' waqčá a'ngúji gē úda'i hā. Ca' too are sorrowful. (Expletive) what vegetables we planted are good. And (pl. ob.)
 wamúske čí a't'a'i, čí wata'zi čí úda'qti jút'a'-a'čai.
 wheat too we have again corn too very good we have made it plenty, mature.

NOTE.

490, 1. e'aⁿ maⁿhniⁿ e awana'aⁿ kaⁿbça. This use of "awana'aⁿ" is unusual. The regular form is "wina'aⁿ," I hear from you, as in the text, three lines below.

TRANSLATION.

I wish to hear how you are. I wish to hear whether you and your people are in good health and are prospering. Since you left the land, we ever think of you through-out the day. I desire to hear from you whether you are doing very well in the land to which you went. We do not know about our own affairs, how they will be. For up to this time the white people have not done for us even one of the things which they promised. Therefore that is it; that is why we do not know when we may, at least, see you, without hope of anything else. Still, I for my part wish to see you, and I hope that, when the letter reaches you, you will send one back very soon. I desire to hear the news. Your younger brother, Heqaga-jūnga, is dead. He was a very stout-hearted man, but he is dead. The men and chiefs are very sad. Even the women and the young men are sorrowful. What vegetables we planted are good. We have plenty of wheat, and we have done very well in raising corn.

WANÁCEKIÇÁBI TO WAJIN'A-GAHÍGA.

Ci waqin'ha çaⁿ gçiaⁿ çakíçç tē, waçitaⁿ kē áhigi. Aⁿwañ'keg éde, Again letter the you made it come when, work the much. I was sick, but (ob.) back to me iⁿ'teaⁿ wágazúqti bçiⁿ há. Ki waçitaⁿ kē agçictaⁿ xi, cin'gajin'ga çagi-at present very straight I am . And work the I flush mine when, child you etaⁿbe taté. Wawáqpani há. Cañ'ge eti waçin'gai há. Cañgáçe taité. 3 see your shall. We are poor Horse too we have none We go to you shall (pl.).
 (ob.)
 Usní té'di, cañgáçe tañ'gataⁿ. Wa'ú çinké uqpaççáça-máji kaⁿbça, çijan'ge;
 Cold when, we go to you we who will. Woman the (ob.) I lose her I not I wish, your daughter;
 ádaⁿ çagictaⁿbe taté. Wiñⁿ'be té'di, iⁿ'çága, nán'de iⁿ'ndaⁿ kaⁿbça.
 therefore you see your shall. I see you when. Old man, heart good to me I wish.
 Míçadi cañ'ge uwibça cçtaⁿ añaççiⁿ há; etaⁿ'be etégaⁿ. Waqin'ha cuhi 6
 Last winter horse I told you about so far we have it ; you see it apt. Letter reaches you té'di, e'aⁿ maⁿhniⁿ té uqçç'qtei íçaçç kaⁿbça, waqin'ha. Winá'aⁿ kaⁿbça.
 when, how you walk the very soon you send here I wish, letter. I hear from you I wish.
 Cin'gajin'ga çábbçiⁿ çijan'ge eñá çañká wagína'aⁿ gaⁿ'çai.
 Child three your daughter her the ones to hear about she wishes.
 who them, hers.

NOTES.

See the letter of Maⁿtea-naⁿba to Agçitai, August 22, 1878.

491, 5. iⁿ'çaga, contracted from iⁿ'çage-ha.

TRANSLATION.

When you sent the letter to me, the work was abundant. I was sick; but now I am all right again. When I finish my work, you shall see your child. We are poor; we have no horses. We shall go to see you. We will go to you in the cold weather. I do not wish to lose the woman, your daughter; therefore you shall see her. When I see you, O venerable man, I wish it to be good for my heart. We still have the horse about which I told you last winter. You will be apt to see it. When the letter reaches you, I wish you to send me one very soon, telling how you are. I wish to hear from you. Your daughter desires to hear from her three children.

DÚBA-MA^{n'}ŲI^{n'} TO LANDÉ-NA^{n'}ŲÚGE (MACDONALD).

- Ca^{n'} a^{n'}bačč, a^{n'}ba-wačúbe čieta^{n'} tē, wisičč hā. Ki edáda^{n'} fuča čingč.
 Now to-day, sacred day finished when, I remember you And what news there is nowetē, ca^{n'} wabágčze wídaxe. Ca^{n'} maja^{n'} kē šepaha^{n'} hné Ųi a^{n'}čta^{n'}i tē, even, yet letter I make for you. Now land the you know it you when we work when,
 3 dāda^{n'} a^{n'}čān'gaxai tē a^{n'}šičč a^{n'}gačī^{n'}. Edāda^{n'} a^{n'}gūji kē ūda^{n'}qti hā. Ca^{n'} what we have made from the (ob.) we are remembering as What we planted the very good (ob.) In fact, waqtā dāda^{n'} a^{n'}gūji gē bčúga t'a^{n'} hā. Éskana maja^{n'} dāda^{n'} čagčī^{n'} é^{n'}te vegetable what we planted the all abound Oh that land what you sit it may be ca^{n'} ūda^{n'}qti čagčī^{n'} i^{n'}te ebčéga^{n'}. Ca^{n'} waqtā dāda^{n'} nčigiji etē t'a^{n'}qti the (ob.) very good you may sit I think. In fact, vegetable what you planted even having a 6 čagčī^{n'}i ka^{n'}bčéga^{n'}. Ca^{n'} wabágčze ča^{n'} hnize Ųi, nččč'qte gčia^{n'}čakičč you sit I hope. Now, letter the you when, very soon you send back to me ka^{n'}bčéga^{n'} hā. Ca^{n'} maja^{n'} ča^{n'} e'a^{n'} ma^{n'}hni^{n'} tē i^{n'}wi^{n'} čahna ka^{n'}bčā. Ųáči
 I hope Now, land the how you walk the you tell me I wish. Long ago wabágčze gčia^{n'}čakičč-hna^{n'} éde, čihāi tē četa^{n'} wabágčze gčia^{n'}čakičč letter you used to send back to me, but they re-moved when so far letter you have not sent back 9 hāji ca^{n'}ca^{n'}. Lī-Ųi čičha tē, éskana, ūda^{n'}qti ma^{n'}čī^{n'} ka^{n'}bčéga^{n'}. Čin'gato me always. Household your the, oh that, very good walks I hope. Childjin'ga čankā ūda^{n'}qti, éskana, ma^{n'}čī^{n'}i ka^{n'}bčéga^{n'}: a^{n'}bačč'qti awásičč'qti.
 dren the ones who very good, oh that, walking I hope: this very day I am thinking much about them.
 Éskana ca^{n'} Pa^{n'}ka-ma, ca^{n'} bčúgaqti awásičč. Pa^{n'}ka-ma ikágeawáčč-čti-(oh that still the Ponks, in fact all I remember them. The Ponks I have many of them for-12 ma^{n'}, ki ei čawáčč eti, ki isan'gaawáčč-čti-ma^{n'}. Ca^{n'} ein'gajin'ga wiwja my and again I have them too, and I have some, too, for my younger Now, child my own friends, for relations brothers.
 činkč e'a^{n'} ma^{n'}čī^{n'} éskana ca^{n'} ūda^{n'}qti ma^{n'}čī^{n'} ka^{n'}bčéga^{n'}. Wagja^{n'}-ma^{n'}ze the one how he walks oh that at any rate very good he walks I hope. Wagja^{n'} mayze é awake Ca^{n'} a^{n'}ba-wačúbe áma tēdi nikaci^{n'}ga wi^{n'} tē hā, čénujin'ga.
 him I mean. Now, sacred day the other on the person one died a young man

- Heqága-jin'ga ijáje aqí^{n'}. Ca^{n'} 4i-ují wíwíá tē úda^{n'}qti aqí^{n'}; wakéga-báji, Heqaga, jüga his name he had. Now, household my own the very good I sit; they are not sick,
- ca^{n'} úda^{n'}qti aqí^{n'}. Ca^{n'} Pan'ka-ma níkaci^{n'}ga-má úda^{n'} ínabi^{n'}i etē íqai^{n'} tē in fact, very good I sit. Still the Ponkas the people good truly even they as want
- téqi ínabi^{n'}i á, ebéga^{n'} aqí^{n'}. Kí níkaci^{n'}ga d'úba ééqan'ká, jua^{n'} wáñqé 3 hard truly I I think I sit. And people some these, we with them
- añqáqí^{n'} qan'ká, píbaíi teábai. Can'ge-ma ééna-wa-qaí. Ca^{n'} e'a^{n'} a^{n'}wañ'gaxe we have the ones had are very. The horses they have destroyed Yet how we treat them them who,
- taité téqi; 'a^{n'} éñgé wábaskíqai. Wawáqpani héga-báji. Ca^{n'} sídadi can'ge shall diminish; in vain we are angry. We are poor not a little. In fact yesterday horses
- waqíta^{n'}qti dúbá wáqí^{n'} aqai Húñañga amá Ca^{n'} éskana wabáqéqé qan' 6 working well four having them went Winnebagoes the (sub.). Now oh that letter the (ob.)
- uqéqéqti tia^{n'}qakiqé ka^{n'}béqga^{n'}. Ca^{n'} níkaci^{n'}ga wáqazuqti éde awáci éga^{n'}, very soon you send me I hope. Now person very straight but I have em- as,
ployed him
- wabáqéqé íñgaxe. Méadi ca^{n'} déji ekúbe té'di, Caa^{n'} amáa pí. Ihañk'- letter he has made for me. Last spring in fact grass deep when, Dakotas to them I was there Yank-
- ta^{n'}wi^{n'} amádi pí Can'ge qééba-déqa^{n'}ba wa'fi Cín'gajín'ga nújñga éñké, 9 tons among the I was there Horse tens seven they gave Child boy the one who,
- éskana maja^{n'} qééuadi abqí^{n'} qí, i^{n'}uda^{n'}qti-ma^{n'} téi^{n'}te. Ca^{n'} waqíta^{n'} i^{n'}wiñ'ka^{n'} oh that, land in this I had him if, very good for me it would be. Indeed working he helped me
- qí, i^{n'}uda^{n'}qti-ma^{n'} téi^{n'}te. Cupí teqan'di abqí^{n'} dí etē ebéga^{n'}. Maja^{n'} qan' if, very good for me it would be. I reached when, in the I had I was even I think. Land the (ob.)
you past him coming home
- qagqí^{n'} qan' 3a^{n'}be qí, gíqaiwáqé há. Ca^{n'} maja^{n'} gáqan' qagqí^{n'} té'di, wíñ^{n'}be- 12 you sat the I saw it when, it tended to make. Indeed land that you sat when, I used to (ob.) one sad
- lma^{n'}-ma^{n'} qan'eti, ebéqga^{n'} (qí), i^{n'}qa-máji. Ca^{n'} uqéqé wíñ^{n'}be etéga^{n'}-máji see you formerly, I think (when), I am sad. Now soon I see you I am not ap-ebéqga^{n'}, áda^{n'} i^{n'}qa-máji. Ca^{n'} ujan'ge uqáhai gó 3a^{n'}be qí, i^{n'}qa-máji.
I think, there- I am sad. Indeed road you passed the I saw when, I was sad.
fore (pl. ob.) (them)
- Gata^{n'} té'di ca^{n'} maja^{n'} qan' qagísiqan'-báji tē. Caa^{n'} amá maja^{n'} qagqí^{n'}i 15
At last indeed land the (ob.) you have forgotten yours. Dakotas the ones who land you sat
- kó bñqagaqti uqí^{n'} amá waja^{n'}be; kí éde bñqagaqti ákiáqai, i^{n'}táxaxa.
the all they who sat in it I saw them; and but all have gone up the river.
again,

NOTES.

492, 11. Eskana ca^{n'} Pañka-ma, ca^{n'} bñqagaqti awasiqé. The collector agrees with Frank La Flèche in regarding "Eskana," "ca^{n'}," and "ca^{n'}," as superfluous.

493, 6. waqí^{n'} aqai. Read, "wáqí^{n'} áíaqai, they have gone away with them."—Frank La Flèche.

493, 10. eskana maja^{n'} qééuadi abqí^{n'} qí. Omit "eskana."—Frank La Flèche.

493, 11. abqí^{n'} dí etē ebéqga^{n'}. Read, "abqí^{n'} dí etéde, ebéqga^{n'}, I think that I should have brought him back."—Frank La Flèche.

TRANSLATION.

I think of you to-day, when Sunday is over (i. e., on Monday). There is no news, yet I make a letter to you. We are thinking of what we have made from the land which we work, and which you knew when you departed. What we planted is very good. All the vegetables which we planted are abundant. I hope that you may do well in the land in which you dwell, whatever kind of land it may be. I hope that you may have a great abundance of the vegetables which you plant. I hope that when you receive this letter, you will send one back to me very soon. I desire you to tell me how you are getting along in the land. A long time ago you used to send me letters; but since your removal, you have not sent me any. I hope that your family is doing very well. I hope that the children are doing very well. I am thinking much about them this very day. I think of all the Ponkas. I have many of them for friends, some I have for relations, and some, too, for younger brothers. And I hope that my child, Wagiaⁿ-maⁿze, is doing very well. A person died here the other week. The young man was named, Heqaga-jūga. My household is doing very well; no one is sick. I sit thinking, "The Ponka people were truly good, and their departure was hard!" Some of these people with whom we dwell are very bad. They do not leave us any horses. It is difficult for us to do anything to them; in vain are we angry. We are very poor. The Winnebagos took four of our best working-horses yesterday. I hope that you will send me a letter soon. I have employed a very honest man, so he makes a letter for me. Last spring when the grass was tall I was among the Dakotas. I reached the Yanktons. They gave us seventy horses. If I had a child, a boy, in this land it would be very good for me. If he helped me in working it would be very good for me. I think that I should have brought one back when I went to see you. When I saw the land in which you used to dwell, it was such as causes sorrow. I was sad, thinking how I used to see you when you dwelt in that land. I thought that I would not be apt to see you soon, therefore I was sad. When I saw the paths which you used to go along, I was sad. At last you have forgotten your land. I saw all the Dakotas who were in the land where you used to dwell. But they have gone back to the up-river country.

MACTIⁿ-AⁿSÁ TO NAⁿAⁿBI.

September 30, 1878.

Údaⁿqti maⁿbēiⁿ. Caⁿ edádaⁿ wačáte kē aṅgújii bēúga údaⁿ.
 Very good I walk. Now what food the we planted all good.
 wamúske cti údaⁿ, úkiastá dába abēiⁿ. Kí iⁿteaⁿ wajútⁿaⁿ tēdi wawákegai.
 wheat too good, attack four I have. And now when corn is at the maturing we are sick.
 Kí Wacúce t'c, Heqaga-jūga t'c. Kí majaⁿ kē eⁿaⁿ údaⁿ maⁿhniⁿ ʔi,
 And Wacúce dead, Heqaga-jūga dead. And land the how good you walk if, aná'aⁿ kaⁿbēa. Caⁿ eⁿaⁿ údaⁿ kē údaⁿ maⁿhniⁿ ʔi'etē aná'aⁿ kaⁿbēa.
 I hear it I wish. In fact how good the (ob.) good you walk even if I hear it I wish.
 Aⁿwaⁿčitaⁿi, údaⁿqti najiⁿi hā. Kí wisičē tē, čcetaⁿ waqⁿiⁿ ha gúčaⁿ čáxe.
 We work, very good it stands. And I remon- when, from then till now letter that I make.

TRANSLATION.

I am prospering. All the food that we planted is good; the wheat, too, is good. I have four stacks of it. And now, at harvest, we are sick. Wacuce and Heqaga-junga are dead. I wish to hear if you are doing well in the land. And I desire to hear in what respects you are prospering. We work, and it stands well. And as I have remembered you until now, I make that letter.

MAṄGΦÍQTA TO JAHE-ÁGΦIⁿ.

September 30, 1878.

Wamúske sí gǫǫbahíwíⁿ éábéíⁿ abéíⁿ umaⁿ éínka ééⁿ qtei. Caⁿ wabéíⁿtaⁿ Wheat seed hundred three I have season this very. Now I work tē íⁿudaⁿqti anájiⁿ. Caⁿ níé aⁿéín gǫǫqti anájiⁿ. Caⁿ wabéíⁿtaⁿ tē íⁿudaⁿqti the very good for I stand. Now, pain I have none at all I stand. Now, I work the very good for me
 anájiⁿ, égaⁿ wahníⁿtaⁿ íⁿí, údaⁿ té há. Caⁿ wísié tē, é cuééaéé há, 3
 I stand, so you work it, good will. Now I remember you as, that I send to you wabágǫǫze éaⁿ. Kí e'aⁿ íⁿí etí maⁿhniⁿ tē íⁿwíⁿé íéa gá, wabágǫǫze letter the (obj.). And how you too you walk the to tell me send here, letter hníze ékitaⁿ íéa-gá.
 you take at the send here.
 it same time

TRANSLATION.

I have three hundred bushels of wheat this very season. I have been very prosperous with my work. I am without any bad health at all. As I am so successful in working, it will be good if you work. As I remember you, I send you the letter. Send and tell me how you are. Send at the very time that you receive this letter.

ICTÁΦABI TO ACÁWAGE.

October 14, 1878.

Jíⁿécha, aⁿbaéé nánⁿde maⁿtádi wíⁿaⁿbe kaⁿbéáqti há. Taⁿwanǫǫéⁿ 6
 Elder brother, to-day heart on the inside I see you I wish very Tribe íííia éanⁿdi íaⁿbe kaⁿbéa. Maⁿtcú-wáííi ééaⁿba, gaⁿ ííiaⁿéka mégaⁿ, your at the I see it I wish. Maⁿtcu-wáííi ho too, and your sister's son likewise, taⁿwanǫǫéⁿ íííiai éaⁿ íaⁿbe kaⁿbéa, umaⁿ éínka éé. Níkaciⁿga amá íⁿtái tribe your (pl.) the I see it I wish, season this. People the have died (sub.) to me há: Wacúce t'é, Cúga-maⁿéíⁿ t'é, Heqaga-junga t'é, JAHE-ÁGÉ t'é. Caⁿ 9 Wacuco dead, Cúga-maⁿéíⁿ dead, Heqaga-junga dead, JAHE-ÁGÉ dead. Now níkaciⁿga amá ééégaⁿí caⁿ'ja, caⁿ wí ebéégaⁿ cubéé tá mínke. Caⁿ cuhí people the think though, yet I I think I go to you will I who. Now it reaches you

496 THE OEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

tē'di uqčč'qtei i^uwiⁿ'cpaxu, jīⁿ'čča. Gīčāčč kaⁿ'bēa. Wačūtada ŋi čan'di when very soon (see note), elder You cause I wish. Oto village by the brother. to be coming back the pí tá minke. Caⁿ' majaⁿ' čagēiⁿ' čaⁿ' čútaⁿ'qti iⁿ'baxu gīčā-gā, jīⁿ'čča.
passing I will I who. Now land you sit the very straight writing send it back, elder that arrive way there (ob.) to me brother.
3 Čikúčaqti gīčā-gā.
Do it very quickly send it back.

NOTES.

495, 7. Maⁿteu-wačibi čaⁿ'ba. Three persons are added: Acawage. Maⁿteu-wačibi, and Acawage's (?) sister's son.

495, 9-10. Caⁿ' nikaciⁿ'ga ama eččgaⁿ'i čaⁿ'ja, etc. Ietačabi also gave another reading:

Caⁿ' nikaciⁿ'ga amá eččgaⁿ'-báji awánaⁿ'-máji caⁿ' wi obččgaⁿ' há.
Now people tho they do not I have not heard yet I I think it (sub.) think it about them

"Now, I have not heard that the people do not think of visiting you, yet I, for my part, think of doing so."

496, 1. i^uwiⁿ'cpaxu, a case of hapax legomenon. The regular form is, i^uččcpaxu, "You write to me."

TRANSLATION.

Elder brother, in my heart, to-day, I have a strong desire to see you. I desire to see your tribe. O Acawage, Maⁿteu-wačibi, and your sister's son, I wish to see your tribe this season. Among my people the following have died: Wacuce, Čuža-maⁿ'čīⁿ, Heqaga-jīŋga, and čahe-jadē. Though the people think of visiting you, I, for my part, without regard to them, am thinking of going to you. When the letter reaches you, elder brother, write to me very quickly. I desire you to send a letter back. I will pass by the Oto village in going to you. Send me in writing, O elder brother, a very accurate account of the land in which you dwell. Send it back very hastily.

GAHÍGE TO ACÁWAGE.

October 14, 1878.

Caⁿ' edádaⁿ' fuča čingč há. Gaⁿ' níkaciⁿ'ga t'ai té uwíčəu gaⁿ' cuččāčč
Now what news there is none And people die the I tell you so I send to you tér'ke. Čiadi Wacuce t'é; Čuža-maⁿ'čīⁿ' t'é; Čahe-jadē eti t'é; Heqaga-jīŋga, will. Your father Wacuce dead; Čuža-maⁿ'čīⁿ' dead; Čahe-jadē too dead; Heqaga-jīŋga, 6 Čáčiⁿ'-gahíge jīŋ'ge, Čadá tuⁿ'wāŋčəu ubánaⁿ, t'é há Čin'gajin'ga t'é-hnaⁿī, Čáčiⁿ'-gahíge his son, Čadá gens, dead Children die usually, wa'ú eti t'é-hnaⁿī, ččču etē ahigi-báji, djúbai. Aⁿ'činaⁿ'i nān'de wédaⁿ'i woman too die usually, here even not many, they are few. We heard from you hearts good for us, éde, aⁿ'čidaⁿ'be táí eítaⁿ' aⁿ'čīn' taité tēqi há. Caⁿ' edádaⁿ' wáqe amá wa'í but we see you will how we shall difficult In fact what white the give us people (sub.)

etégaⁿ-báji. ádaⁿ wawáqpani héga-báji. Cš'ja íuŋa t'aⁿ. Níkaŋiⁿga ukéŋiⁿ they are not apt, therefore we are poor not a little. Yonder news abound. Indians where you are áhigi ikágewaŋéŋé áhigi úckaⁿ ejaí awána'aⁿ kaⁿbéa. Waŋáte ŋiŋ'gai many you have them for many deeds their I hear about I desire. Food you have none your friends them téŋi hégaŋi. Wackaⁿ egaⁿi-gá. Húŋaŋa amá caŋ'ge-ma cénawaŋaí. 3 hard not a little. Do exert yourselves. Winnebagoes the the horses have made an end (sub.) of them.

TRANSLATION.

There is nothing to tell as news. I send to tell you that the people have died. Your father, Waence, is dead; Cuŋa-maⁿŋiⁿ is dead; ŋahe-ŋaŋé, too, is dead; Heqaga-ŋiŋa, son of ŋaŋiⁿ-gahige, of the ŋaŋa gens, is dead. Children and women, too, are dying. Here they are not many; they are few. It was good for our hearts to hear from you; but it is difficult for us to get our affairs in a condition which will permit our going to visit you. The white people are not apt to give us anything; therefore we are very poor. There is plenty of news yonder where you are. I wish to hear of the ways of the many Indians who are your friends. It is very hard for you to be without food. Do make an effort. The Winnebagoes have deprived us of all our horses.

MAQPIYA-QÁGA TO MAⁿTCŪ-NAJIⁿ.

October 14, 1878.

Waqiⁿha gŋí tš, áakipáqtei-maⁿ bŋŋze. Wíŋáhaⁿ t'é gaⁿ, ŋaná'aⁿ Letter has when, I met it just then I took it. My brother- died, you hear it come back in-law tebŋégaⁿ. Cúŋa-maⁿŋiⁿ éš há. Níkaŋiⁿga wawákega héga-báji há, nán'de will, that I think. Cuŋa-maⁿŋiⁿ is he. People we are sick not a little heart iⁿ'udaⁿqti-máŋi há. Cénuŋiŋ'ga áhigi t'ai íⁿ'taⁿ; cénuŋiŋ'ga údaⁿqti juáwagŋe 6 not very good for me. Young man many have now; young man very good I with them died
 áhigi t'ai há. Kí úckaⁿ ŋaná'aⁿ ckaⁿhna tš é ŋéama, níkaŋáhi amá, many have died. And dead you hear you wished the that these (sub.), chiefs the, údaⁿqti maⁿŋiⁿ há. Kí úsaŋa cubŋéde, cubŋa-máŋi íⁿdádi, Céki, uŋéhna very good walk. And no prospect I was going to I am not going to My father, Ceci, you tell him of anything you, but. you.
 else
 tš há, wíŋáhaⁿ t'é tš. Núciáha-gí-hnaⁿ cti, na'aŋ'kiŋa-gá. ŋinéŋi t'é amá, 9 will, my brother- died the fact. Nuŋaŋa-gí-hnaⁿ too, cause him to hear it. Your dead they say, in-law mother's brother
 á-gá. Awáŋigŋitaⁿ gŋé iⁿ'udaⁿqti-maⁿ, júga wíqtei. ŋéama, níkaŋáhi amá, say it. I work for myself the is very good for me, body I myself. These chiefs the (pl. ob.) (the sub.), (sub.), ŋiŋiŋé-hnaⁿi. Waŋiⁿha gŋí tš di, uáwagibŋéde nán'de gŋudaⁿi níkaŋáhi remember you. Letter came back when, I told them, when heart good for them chiefs
 amá. ŋiná'aⁿi, Paŋ'ka-máŋé, ŋidaⁿbai tš ékigaⁿ há. Níkaŋiⁿga amá satáⁿ 12 the They heard from you, ye Ponkas, they saw you the like it. People the five (sub.) (sub.)
 jaⁿ ŋi t'é-hnaⁿi; wakéga tš piáŋi. Wíŋáhaⁿ t'é tš cetaⁿ déŋaⁿba jaⁿ ŋi, sleep when die, usually; sickness the bad. My brother- died the so far seven sleep when,
 in-law
 cubŋaŋé. Wa'ú agŋaⁿ ŋínké aⁿŋina t'aiŋi.
 I send to you. Woman I married the one who came near dying.

NOTES.

497, 4-5. ϕ ana'aⁿ teb ϕ égaⁿ, in full, ϕ ana'aⁿ te eb ϕ égaⁿ, "I think that you will hear it."

497, 8. Ki usaŋga cub ϕ ede, cub ϕ a-maji. Maqpiya-qaga gave another reading: Ki cub ϕ é úsaŋgáqti-maⁿ éde cub ϕ a-maji, "And I was very sure, indeed, of going to you, but I am not going." The disappointment was very great, as every probability was favorable to the trip.

TRANSLATION.

When the letter came back, I met it just then and took it. As my brother-in-law, Cuqa-ma ϕ iⁿ, is dead, I think that you will hear of it. Our people are very sick, so my heart is not very good. Many young men have just died; many of the very good young men with whom I went have died. And as to the matter about which you wished to hear, i. e., the chiefs, they are doing very well. I was sure of going to you, but now I am not going. Please tell my father, Ceki, that my brother-in-law is dead. Cause Nuciaba-gi-hnaⁿ, too, to hear it. Say, "It is reported that your mother's brother is dead." I work for myself, and it is very good for me. These chiefs always remember you. When the letter came and I told them, their hearts felt good to hear from you, O ye Ponkas. It was like seeing you. The people usually die in five days. The sickness is bad. I send to you seven days after the death of my brother-in-law. The woman whom I married came near dying.

MAQPIYA-QÁGA TO MAⁿTCÚ-NÁJÍⁿ.

October 15, 1878.

Maqpiya-qága wamúske b ϕ úga gína ϕ ín'ge; waqpáni hégají. Qáde Maqpiya-qaga wheat all burnt to nothing poor not a little. Hay jaⁿ-maⁿ' ϕ iⁿ-ují g ϕ éba cti gína ϕ ín'ge. Cí nán'de íⁿ'taⁿ íⁿ'udaⁿqti maⁿb ϕ iⁿ'-máji wood-walking put-in ten too burnt to nothing Again heart now very good for me I do not walk

for him.

3 tē, ϕ aná'aⁿ tai eb ϕ égaⁿ waqíⁿ'ha cu ϕ é. É naⁿjú g ϕ éba-naⁿ'ba waⁿ'daⁿ the, you hear it will I think letter goes to you. That threshed twenty together wéna ϕ ín'gai. Cí nújnga, isan'ga ϕ éde, é waⁿ'gí ϕ e wéna ϕ ín'gai. Wamúske it was burnt to nothing for us. Again boy, I have him for a he all it was burnt to nothing for us. Wheat waⁿ'gí ϕ e wíⁿ'áqtciaⁿ ité ϕ é; aⁿ'waⁿ' ϕ itaⁿ aŋgáí ϕ ai xí wéna ϕ ín'gai. Haⁿ' xí all once was piled, we worked we had gone when it was burnt to nothing for us. Night when 6 ahí tē há.

it arrived

NOTES.

This letter contains one of the few instances of Indian's mentioning their own names; but it is done in the third person. See Jabe-ská's letters to Waqa-najíⁿ, etc.

498, 2. jaⁿ-maⁿ' ϕ iⁿ-ují was contracted to jaⁿ-múji.

498, 3. ϕ ana'aⁿ tai eb ϕ égaⁿ waqíⁿ'ha cu ϕ é: equivalent to " ϕ aná'aⁿ tai égaⁿ waqíⁿ'ha cu ϕ é."

498, 3. E na^{ju}, etc., is not plain, according to Frank La Flèche. It should read:
 Na^{ju} čictaⁿ gčéba-na^uba waⁿdaⁿ wénačín^gai.
 Threshed finished twenty together were destroyed for us by fire.

498, 4. Ci nujiŋga isaŋgaačéde, etc. Frank La Flèche gives the following reading:
 Cénujiŋ^{ga} isaŋ^{ga}čé-de cfi ginačín^gai.
 Young man I had him for a and too his was destroyed younger brother by fire.

498, 5. wi^aqteiaⁿ itečé. Read, "wi^aha itéčé," it was put in one place.—Frank La Flèche.

TRANSLATION.

All of Maqpiya-qaga's wheat has been destroyed by fire. He is very poor. Besides that, ten wagon-loads of his hay were destroyed by the fire. And now I send you a letter, because I think that you will hear that I am not walking with a very good heart. We had in all twenty bushels of wheat burnt by the fire. And the boy whom I have for a younger brother had all of his wheat burnt. All the wheat had been put in one place. It was burnt when we had gone away to work. The fire reached it at night.

WÁTA-NÁJIⁿ TO CÁGE-SKĀ.

October 19, 1878.

Aⁿbačé, kagé, wigŋaⁿbe kaⁿbčai édegaⁿ, aⁿwaⁿqpani héga-máji. Ídaxe To-day, younger I see you, my I wish, but I am poor I am very. I make by own means of eté gčé čínge. Bčúgaqti číŋahaⁿ ginačín^gge. Caⁿ aⁿbačé čisaŋ^{ga} mégaⁿ, may the there are All your brother- his was destroyed Now to-day your younger (pl.) none. in-law by fire. brother likewise, wigŋaⁿbe kaⁿbčéde, ídaxe eté gčé bčúga iⁿnačín^gge égaⁿ, čanáⁿaⁿ taí ebéčégaⁿ 3
 I see you, my I wish, but I make by may the all destroyed for me aa, you hear it will I think own, means of (pl.) by fire waqíⁿha čé cučéačé. Gaⁿ číŋaŋ^{ge} mégaⁿ, čijiⁿčé mégaⁿ, waŋ^ggičé letter this I send to you. And your sister likewise, your elder brother likewise, all wináⁿaⁿ kaⁿbčé. Waqíⁿha gíŋaⁿkičé-gá, eⁿaⁿ hniⁿ tš, aí.
 I hear from I wish. Letter send back to me, how you are the, i. e.
 you (pl.)

NOTES.

Cage-skā, White Hoof, son of ŋi-giŋačé.

498, 1-2. Ídaxe eté gčé, should be "Ídaxe eté gčé," according to Frank La Flèche.

TRANSLATION.

To-day, younger brother, I wish to see you; but I am very poor. There is nothing with which I can do anything. Your brother-in-law lost all his property by a prairie fire. Now I wish to see you and your younger brother to-day; but as all the things with which I could do anything have been destroyed by fire, I send you this letter that you may hear it. I wish to hear from you all, including your sisters and your elder brothers. Send a letter back to me, saying how you are.

WÁTA-NÁJIⁿ TO JINGÁ-NÚDAⁿ.

October 19, 1878.

- Wáback ijin'ge, Jingá-núdaⁿ, ijjin'ge mégaⁿ, waqiⁿha iaⁿchakíphé Wabacki his son, Jínga nudaⁿ, your elder brother likewise, letter you send to me
- kaⁿbéa. Aⁿbafé wízaⁿbe kaⁿbéa, waqiⁿha cuééwikíphé. Caⁿ majaⁿ phé
 I wish. To-day I see you I wish, letter I cause (one) to Yet land this send to you.
- 3 phaaⁿhna hnaí phan'di údaⁿqti anájiⁿ éde, aⁿbafé wéju-báji, caⁿ wamúske
 you left it you went in the very good I stand, but to-day we are unfortun- in fact wheat ate.
- aⁿbafé iⁿnaíngé-de waéáte axídxaxé áhigi náíngé há. Nájinga wiⁿ to-day it was destroyed by fire for me, and food I made for much was destroyed by fire Boy one
- iéamaxe cuééphé, Cínudaⁿ-sk ijin'ge. Caⁿ gaⁿ, Cínudaⁿ-sk ijin'ge, caⁿ
 I inquire of I send to you, Cínudaⁿ-sk his son. Yet so, Cínudaⁿ-sk his son, yet
- 6 gaⁿ wágazúqti aná'aⁿ kaⁿbéa. E'aⁿ éiⁿte iⁿwiⁿphahna gíphé te.
 so very straight I hear it I wish. How (he) may be you tell me you send back to me will.
- Cetaⁿ aⁿbafé níkaeiⁿga-má taⁿwangéaⁿ-ma iⁿúdaⁿ-máji égaⁿ édegaⁿ,
 So far to-day the people the gentes good for me I not somewhat, but
- aⁿbafé uhaí. Céna 'iáphé. Uqééqtei waqiⁿha gíphéai kaⁿbéa, Jingáto-day they have their way. Enough I have spoken of. Very soon letter ye send back to me I wish, Jínga-
- 9 núdaⁿ, ijjin'ge mégaⁿ. Majaⁿ e'aⁿ phagéiⁿ phéⁿ phátaⁿ aná'aⁿ kaⁿbéa. Majaⁿ nudaⁿ, your elder likewise. Land how you sit the straight I hear I wish. Land
- oé'ia cí tē, wackaⁿ wáxíphitaⁿi-gá. Édini xi údaⁿ phanájiⁿ taí. Phépu at you as, making efforts work for yourselves. In that event good you stand will. Hero
- waéaaⁿhna hnaí tē, aⁿwan'xigéitaⁿ aⁿnájiⁿi, égaⁿ údaⁿqti anájiⁿ éde, aⁿbafé you left us you went when we worked for our- we stood, so very good I stood, but to-day
 selves
- 12 wamúske iⁿnaíngé há.
 wheat has been destroyed for me by fire

TRANSLATION.

O Jínga-nudaⁿ, son of Wabacki, I wish you and your elder brother to send me a letter. I wish to see you to-day, so I send you a letter. I have done very well in this land which you left when you went away, but to-day we are unfortunate. To-day I had my wheat destroyed by a prairie fire, and much of the food which I had made for myself was burnt. I send to you to inquire about a boy, the son of Cínudaⁿ-ská (White Dog). I wish to hear just how he is. Please send back and tell me how he is. Until to-day I did not like the gentes of the people, but to-day they have their way. I have spoken about enough. O Jínga-nudaⁿ, I wish you and your elder brother to send back a letter very soon. I desire to hear just how you dwell in the land. Make some efforts and work for yourselves in yonder land which you have reached. In that event you will prosper. When you left us and went away we were working for ourselves, and so I did very well. But to-day my wheat was destroyed by fire.

MAQPIYA-QÁGA TO CÉKI.

October 19, 1878.

I'c'ága, wamúske abéi' b'éguaqti i'n'naçin'gegaⁿ, çaná'aⁿ taf ebéégaⁿ
 O old man, wheat I had all destroyed for me by fire, aa, you hear it will I think

ca' waqí'ha cuéé. Ja'-ma'çí' kō sīduáqtei i'wí'cte; éna ucté agçá'çéi'.
 yet letter goes to you. Wagon the alone remains to me; that remain- I have mine.
 alone ing

Ca' éawaçé édi-ma awána'aⁿ ka'b'ça há: Nudja'hanga, Hidga cti, Jadé-gi 3
 Now I have them those who are there I hear from them I wish I Nudja'hanga, Hidga too, Jade-gl cti, aná'aⁿ ka'b'ça, ni'ja méi'te. Gahige-çéga cti, Wajín'ga-da, Agáhatoo, I hear I wish, alive if they are. Gahige-çéga too, Wajín'ga-da, Agáha-ma'çí' i'c'áge, Ickadabi jin'ga, Ma'teú-skā cti há, wa'újín'ga iha'awáçé ma'çí' old man, Ickadabi young, Ma'teú-skā too old woman I had them for mothers cti na'ba édi-ma awána'aⁿ ka'b'ça há. Ca' ucté iwidaha'i-máji. 6 too two those who are there I hear from them I wish Now the rest I know you not. 6 na'páji aká áwa' çínké igáçqaⁿ çínké éaçé, iúçpa wiwíqti, a'ça'w'baha'- na'páji the one for whom his wife the (obj.) I have her grandchild my very own, she does not know (sub.) he danced the pipe dance as a relation.

j'qti éde, i'te'aⁿ içápaha' cuéé. Ca' ata' iwidaha'-máji-máçé, ána çat'ai me at all, but now I know her it goes to you. Now how far I know you not ye who, how you have many died

éda' ebéégaⁿ, aná'aⁿ ka'b'ça há. Ca' nán'de çá' da'qti i'pi-máji. I'ta' 9
 I I think, I hear I wish And heart the beyond I am sad. Now nújín'ga juáwagçé úda'qti éde, hégaçi t'ai, áda' nán'de i'pi-máji-hna' boy I with them very good, but not a few died, therefore heart sad to me regularly ca'ca'. I'ta' wamúske i'n'naçin'gegaⁿ, i'ta' da'qti i'pi-máji. Wa'újín'ga always. Now wheat has been destroyed for me by fire, aa, now beyond I am sad. Old woman

iha'açé çínké wakége-de gígçázu-báji. Çiúçpa cti wañ'gígçéti wakéçui. 12
 I had her for the one who is sick, but she has not regained her strength. Your grand- too all are sick.
 a mother child

Içádi kō pahan'ga té'di t'é há. Wa'újín'ga çáñká ga' úwagíçá-gá.
 His father the before when died Old woman the (pl. obj.) so tell them.

TRANSLATION.

Venerable man, as all the wheat which I had has been destroyed by fire, I send a letter to you that you may hear it. I have nothing left but the wagon. I desire to hear about my kindred which are there: Nudja'hanga, Hidga, and Jade-gl. I wish to hear if they are alive. I also wish to hear about Gahige-çéga, Wajín'ga-da, the venerable Agaha-ma'çí', the younger Ickadabi, Ma'teú-skā, and the two old women whom I call my mothers. And the rest of you I know not. The wife of one for whom çá' i'na'páji danced the calumet dance is my relation. She is my own grandchild, though she does not know me at all; but now I know her, and so the letter goes to you. Now I wish to hear how many of you have died among those I did not know.

My heart is far more sad than tongue can tell. I was with very good young men, but now many have died; therefore my heart is always sorrowful. Now is my heart sad beyond measure, because my wheat has been burnt. The old woman whom I call my mother is sick, and she has not yet regained her strength. All your grandchildren are sick. Their father died formerly. Tell this to the old women.

CAN'GE-SKĀ TO MA'TCŪ-WĀŦIHĪ.

October 21, 1878.

- Ca^{n'} waqin^{'ha} gēſeſe ſu^{n'} bēſe. Kī waſkega uſeſiſe tē aſgū eſi
Now letter you sent back the I took it. And you are sick you told of the we too
(ob.)
- eāwaga^{'i}. Ga^{n'} nīkaci^{'ga} eſnujīn^{'ga} wahēhaji^{'qti} bahiſti a^{n'} t'af hā. Waſeſe
we are so. And person young man very stout-hearted picked, or we have gathered, or we have died Wansee
- 3 t'ē. Cūſa-ma^{'ſi} eſi, ſahe-māde eſi, Heſaga-jin^{'ga}, He-snāta, ſede-gāhi dead, Cūſa-maſi too, ſahe-māde too, Heſaga-jinſa, He-snata, ſede-gāhi his daughter (ſa^{'ze} ſa^{'ga} iſaſeſe), Māca^{'skā} ijin^{'ge}, Cyū-jinga ijin^{'ge} eſi, his wife, Maca-skā his son, Cyū-jinga his son too,
- Wauſtawāſe iſaſeſe t'ē, Gahſe-wadāſe iſaſeſe, Iekadābi iſeſe, his wife dead, Gahſe-wadāſe his wife, Iekadābi his grandchild,
- 6 cīn^{'gajin}^{'ga}-ma jīnſaſeſe-ma ſhigi t'af. Kī eſa^{'-hna} eſada['] ſuſa e^{'n'} the children the very small ones many died. And so far what news how ma^{'hni}['] ſi, winā^{'a} ka^{'bēai} hā. Kī ſi uwiſe eſeſeſe tatē eſeſe, Uma^{'-} you walk if I hear from you I wish. And if I tell you I send to you shall there is none as to the ha^{'qti}. Kī Pa^{'ka} ſankā, nīkagāhi ſankā, t'ē ſankā, iſaſe wahnāde eſeſe.
Onuhas And Ponka the ones chief the ones dead the ones his name you should have called them.
themselves.
- 9 U^{'ſeſe} a^{'ſi} hā. Wawāqpani Iſga^{'ſe} ma^{'zeſkā} eſe wa^{'-bāji}. (a['] Suffering we are We are poor. The grandfather silver even has not given us. Yet waſta['] kēſa e['] qtaſgaſai eſe, e['] hna['] wajū-baji, ſhigi['] ſeſa, ſhigiſi work at the we have done our best, but still we are below the much not as, very much standard,
- aſgaſa-bāji-hna[']. Waſta['] tē eſaſeſe wiſuſeſe eſaſe, wēuda['] eſe eāwa-we have not done usually. Work the that alone pleasant to us may good for us may (be), (be)
- 12 ga['], a['] wan['] ſiſeſe tē ſe wake. Ta['] wanſeſe aſga-ma ſe wāſpa-bāji, are so, we work for ourselves the that I mean. Gentes our own (pl.) words do not behave, eſaſeſe tēſi jīn^{'ga}; nīkagāhi ſe wāna[']-bāji. Iſga['] eāwawa['] ga['] that alone difficult a little; chief words they do not listen to us. Grandfather he caused it for us so ta['] wanſeſe amā ſe wāna[']-bāji. I['] ta['] iſka akā wā['] ſeſe, ſiſeſe gentes the words do not listen to us. Now interpreter the abandoned them, he took him-(sub.) (sub.) self back
- 15 gaſe. Ta['] wanſeſe-mā ſe wāmaka-bāji. Ga['] adi iſka eſe Pa['] kaſa out of. The gentes words he was out of pa- Already interpreter yonder at the Ponka tience with them. (land)
- gaſai ſe I['] ta['] iſaſeſe akā gaſe, aſgū aſgaſa-bāji. Nīkagāhi aſga['] was made he now agent the made him, we we did not make him. Chief we who stand who (sub.)

aⁿnaⁿ-báji-ctenⁿi, cenⁿ iⁿádiⁿai aká uáwagiⁿai-báji. Uáwagiⁿai tédíhi we have heard nothing about it, so far agent the (sub.) has not told us. He tells us It arrived at 31, eⁿaⁿ tatéⁿte aⁿéaⁿbahaⁿ-báji: wécaⁿ eté 31'ji, wécaⁿ-báji 31, aⁿwaⁿ waté when, how it may be we do not know: we agree ought it, we do not agree it, which one of the (two) tatéⁿte. Cí wiⁿ gíⁿai-gá, éé huíze 31.
 it may be. Again one send back, this you take it when.

3

NOTES.

This letter was dictated partly by Sanssouci, the ex-interpreter, and partly by Cange-ska. The interpreter appointed by the agent was Charles P. Morgan, who had been Ponka interpreter before the removal of the latter tribe in 1877.

503, 1. aⁿnaⁿ-báji-ctenⁿi. The ending "ctenⁿi" shows that what was done, or left undone, was against the wishes of the speaker and his friends; but "aⁿnaⁿ-báji-qtiaⁿi," we have heard nothing at all, would convey a different idea.

503, 2. tatéⁿte, i. e., taté éⁿte, has a future signification.

TRANSLATION.

I have received the letter which you sent. You told of yourselves that you were sick, and we are so, too. The choicest ones of the most stout-hearted of our young men have died. Wacuce is dead, so is Cuja-maⁿéiⁿ, and Gahe-jadé, and Heqaga-jinga, He-snata, Gede-gahi's daughter (the wife of Yuⁿze-haüga), White-feather's son, Uyu-jinga's son, Wauqtawaⁿé's wife, Gahige-wadaⁿé's wife, and the grandchild of Iekadabi (i. e., of Louis Sanssouci); and in addition to these, many very small children have died. And up to this time have I been wishing to hear the news from you, how you were. There is nothing else for me to tell you about the Omahas. You should have mentioned the names of the deceased Ponka chiefs. We are poor and suffering. The President does not give us even money annuities. And as to work, we have done our best, but we are still below the mark, as it was not much. We have not done very much. Work alone should be pleasant for us, as it is apt to benefit us. I refer to working for ourselves. Our gentes do not behave when they speak; they do not listen to the words of us chiefs. That is the only thing which is a little difficult for us to bear. The President having caused it for us, the gentes do not listen to our words. The interpreter has just abandoned them, by resigning and taking himself out of their company. He got out of patience with the gentes on account of their words. And the agent has just appointed as interpreter the man who was made Ponka interpreter yonder at the old reservation in Dakota. We did not appoint him; in fact, we chiefs have heard nothing about it officially. The agent has not yet told us. We do not know how it will be when he tells us. It will probably be one thing or the other in that case; we may consent or we may not consent. Send back a letter when you receive this.

WAJIⁿA-GAHÍGA TO MAⁿTCÚ-LÁNGA.

October 19, 1878.

- Níkághí úju hnañkáce, Acáwage, Maⁿtcú-wághí éⁿba, cénujínⁿga Chief principal ye who are, Acawage, Maⁿtcu-waghi he too, young man éíⁿha wajaⁿ'ba-máji, aⁿwaⁿ'qpani há. Wigíⁿbe kaⁿ'bèa. Fé usní fé your own I have not seen them, I am poor I see you, my own, I wish. This cold this 3 tédíhi xí, cupí taté ebéⁿgaⁿ há. Éskana uqéⁿ'qtei waqíⁿ'ha gíⁿiaⁿ'fakíⁿfé it arrives when, I reach shall I think Oh that very soon letter you cause (one) to at when, you I think Oh that very soon letter you cause (one) to kaⁿ'bégaⁿ, nísíha, wisaⁿ'ga, wíⁿúpa mégaⁿ, níkághí úju hnañkáce.
 I hope, my child, my younger brother, my grandchild likewise, chief principal ye who are.
 Aⁿwaⁿ'qpani égaⁿ, awáginⁿ'be kaⁿ'bèa, taⁿ'wángéaⁿ. Cénujínⁿ'ga gíⁿúbaqti
 I am poor as, I see them, my own, I wish, nation. Young man all 6 aⁿ'faⁿ'waⁿ'he gaⁿ'fai há. Juáwagé cupí taté, ebéⁿgaⁿ. Caⁿ' níkághí to follow me desire I with them I reach you shall, I think. In fact chief bégá aⁿ'faⁿ'waⁿ'he gaⁿ'fai, ebéⁿgaⁿ, nísíha, wisaⁿ'ga, wíⁿúpa mégaⁿ, all to follow me desire, I think, my child, my younger brother, my grandchild likewise, níkághí úju hnañkáce. Cénujínⁿ'ga wíⁿíha juágéⁿ'qti íⁿ't'e égaⁿ, nán'de chief principal ye who are. Young man my own I really was with him dead to as, heart 9 íⁿ'pi-máji égaⁿ, waqíⁿ'ha cuéwíⁿfé. Níkáciⁿ'ga bégáqti gíⁿpi-báji, waqáni; is bad for me as, letter I cause (one) to send it to you. People all are sad, poor;
 íⁿ'taⁿ éigíⁿíⁿfé há. Nísíha, wíⁿíⁿ'be kaⁿ'bèa há. Wanágé can'ge aⁿ'fáⁿ'i-ma present at they remem- My child, I see you I wish Domestic animal horse those which you gave me
 ber you céⁿawaⁿ'fégaⁿ, aⁿwaⁿ'qpani, nísíha. Aⁿwaⁿ'qpani égaⁿ, fáⁿuⁿ'ha íⁿ't'e. Uktéⁿ they have been de- I am poor, my child. I am poor as, nearly I have died from it. Nation stroyed, as,
 12 fé Caaⁿ' amá atíi há. Can'ge wábéiⁿ éde waⁿ'gíⁿé awáⁿ'i. Kí éⁿ'di pí this Dakotas the came Horae I had them but all I gave them. And there I ar-(sub.) here rived
 xí, wíⁿ'ecte aⁿ'f-báji há, nísíha. Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá, nísíha, fíⁿdaⁿ'be gaⁿ'fai, when, even one they did not give me my child. Omahas (sub.), my child, to see you wish, kí égaⁿ wíⁿíⁿ'be kaⁿ'bèa. Cupí taté ebéⁿgaⁿ, nísíha, usní fé. Eⁿ'aⁿ' xí, and so I see you I wish. I reach shall I think, my child, cold this. How is, 15 nísíha, fíⁿtaⁿ'qti gíⁿiaⁿ'fakíⁿfé te ebéⁿgaⁿ. Uqéⁿ'qtei éskana anáⁿ'aⁿ te my child, very straight you cause (one) to will I think. Very soon oh that I hear it win send it back to me ebéⁿgaⁿ. Cénujínⁿ'ga fíⁿíha, níkághí fíⁿíha edábe, íe fíⁿíha uqéⁿ'qti that I think. Young man your own, chief your own also, words your own very soon wináⁿ'aⁿ'i kaⁿ'bèa.
 I hear from you I wish.

NOTE.

This Wajĩḡa-gahiga is the head of a part of the Omaha Wajĩḡa-ḡatajĩ, while the other one is the head of the Ponka Wasabe-it'ajĩ gens. The Omaha bearing this name is an old man, and his letter is a good specimen of the oratorical style, especially the first part, in which Acawage is addressed as "my child," Ma'teu-waḡihĩ, as "my younger brother," and Ma'teu-ḡaḡa, as "my grandchild."

TRANSLATION.

O ye head-chiefs, Acawage and Ma'teu-waḡihĩ, as I do not see your young men, I am poor. I wish to see you, who are my own kindred. I think that I shall reach you by the time that the cold weather arrives. I hope that you will send back a letter very soon, O my child, O my younger brother, O my grandchild, ye who are head-chiefs. As I am poor, I desire to see the tribe who are my kindred. I think that all the young men wish to follow me. I think that I shall bring them to you. Indeed, I think that all the chiefs wish to follow me, O my child, O my younger brother, O my grandchild, ye who are head-chiefs. I send you a letter because I am sad at heart on account of the death of my young man who dwelt with me. All the people are sad; they are poor. Now they think of you. My child, I wish to see you. As all of the stock, the horses that you gave me, are gone, I am poor, my child. As I am poor, I have almost died from that cause. These Dakotas came here. I gave them all the horses which I had. But, my child, when I was there they did not give me even one horse. These Omahas, my child, wish to see you, and so do I wish to see you. I think that I shall reach you, my child, during this cold weather. My child, I hope that you will send back to me and tell me just how it is with you. I hope that I may hear it very soon. I wish to hear very soon the words of your young men, and also those of your chiefs.

JÁBE-SKĀ TO GAHÍGE JIN'GA, WÁQA-NÁJĪ, AND ACÁWAGE.

Gahíge-jin'ga t'éska'i eḡégaⁿ Jábe-skā íwaⁿxe tíḡai. Wáqa-nájĩⁿ, Acá-Gahíge-jin'ga dead, he thinking Jábe-skā to question begins. Wáqa-nájĩⁿ, Acá-wage, cé-ḡabḡaiⁿ, wiⁿaⁿwa ctécto t'éska'i eḡégaⁿ wéḡḡaⁿxe tí há. Giná'aⁿ wage, those three and no more, which one soever dead, he thinking to ask about has To hear about his own gaⁿ'ḡai Jábe-skā. Uḡḡé'ḡtei kíḡḡ tá-bi waqĩⁿha, giná'aⁿ gaⁿ'ḡai; uḡḡé 3 wishes Jábe-skā. Very soon he says that some one will cause it to reach home letter, to hear about his own he wishes; soon waqĩⁿha ḡaⁿ kí te.—Acáwage, waqĩⁿha cuḡḡaḡḡé ḡíze ádaⁿ daⁿ'be júwagḡá-gā.
letter the will reach O Acawage, letter I send to you take it and seeing it be with them.
 Gahíge-jin'ga, Wáqa-nájĩⁿ, Wahé'aⁿ, céna, daⁿ'bai-gā Waqĩⁿha hnízai ḡi, Gahíge-jin'ga, Wáqa-nájĩⁿ, Wahé'aⁿ, enough, look ye at it. Letter you take it when, wiⁿ'éskaⁿ ḡat'a-báji ḡi, uḡḡé'ḡtei waqĩⁿha ḡaⁿ' kíḡḡḡ táí. Wahé'aⁿ, Waḡi- 6 one it might be if, very soon letter the you will cause to reach home. Wahé'aⁿ, Waḡi-

506 THE QEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

daze cé-na^{ba}, a^{wa}'wa etécte t'eskaⁱ giná'aⁿ ga^{n'}'cai. Wíuwaqághná daze those two, and no more, which one soever dead, he to hear of his he wishes. You tell us about our own kíqæçé tá-bi. Cí ní'ja qí, wáçutaⁿ giná'aⁿ ga^{n'}'cai.
 you will cause it to reach home, he said. Again alive if, straight to hear of his own he wishes.

NOTES.

This letter was written before October 25, 1878.

505, 1. t'eskaⁱ, i. e., t'e eskaⁱ, "Dead, they might be."

505, 3. uqéçqteci kíqæ ta-bi. Frank La Flèche does not understand how "kíqæ ta-bi" can be used here, and it is a puzzle to the collector, who suggests the substitution of "tíqæ te, you will please send it here," or "géíqæ té, you will please send one back."

506, 1-2. wíuwaqághná kíqæçé ta-bi. Frank La Flèche and the collector have agreed in substituting for this, "wíuwaqághná qí, íqæçé tai, when you tell us of our own, you will send one here."

TRANSLATION.

Jabe-skä begins to inquire, as he thinks that Gahige-jínga may be dead. As he thinks that Waqa-najiⁿ, Acawage, or Gahige-jínga may be dead, he has come to inquire about the deceased one. Jabe-skä desires to hear about his own. He says that some one will cause a letter to reach him at home (sic) very soon. He wishes to hear about his own kindred. The letter will please reach home soon (sic).—O Acawage, receive the letter which I send you, and look at it with them. O Gahige-jínga, Waqa-najiⁿ, and Wahe'aⁿ, look ye at it. When you receive the letter, if one of you has not died, please cause the letter to reach home very soon (sic). He wishes to hear if either of his relations, Wahe'aⁿ or Waçidaze, has died. You will tell us by sending a letter here. And if they be alive, Jabe-skä wishes to hear correctly about them.

JÍDE-TA* TO ACÁWAGE.

October 25, 1878.

- 3 Wíjín'çé iⁿ't'e, nán'de iⁿ'pi-máji-hna^a ca^{n'}'caⁿ. Íqúhábi t'é çaná'aⁿ te,
 My elder died to heart bad for me regularly always. Íqúhábi dead you hear it will,
 brother me,
 Acáwage. Wa'ú wiwíqá kě cí t'é kě xāngé'qteci-hna^a hí. Uma^{n'}'çínka çé
 O Acawage. Woman my own the again dead when very near to usually ar- Season this (recl. one) lying rived.
 wíqá^{n'}'be ka^{n'}'bçéde bçí'a há; wíjín'çé t'é, wa'ú wiwíqá t'é ta tš'di hí.
 I see you I wished, but I have my elder dead, woman my own die will at it hearfailed brother rived.
 6 Uma^{n'}'çínka áji qí, wíqá^{n'}'be ka^{n'}'bçé qí, wíqá^{n'}'be taté ebçégaⁿ. Cékí, Season another if, I see you I wish if, I see you shall I think. O Ceki, çínán'ge t'é há, a^{n'}'baçé, Gakíe-ma^{n'}'çín igáqçáⁿ.
 your elder sister dead to-day, Gakíe-ma^{n'}'çín his wife.

NOTE.

506, 5. t'e ta tēdi hi. T'e qaŋgēqteci-hnaⁿ hi, which Jide-taⁿ gave as an equivalent, is hardly applicable here, as it refers to several occasions of sickness unto death.

TRANSLATION.

My elder brother is dead, and my heart is constantly sad. O Acawage, you will hear that Ikuhabi is dead. My wife has nearly reached death on several occasions. I wish to see you this year, but I have failed, as my brother died, and my wife is approaching death. If I wish to see you another year, I think that I shall see you. O Ceki, your younger sister, Gakie-maⁿphi's wife, died to-day.

JE-ŪXAⁿHA TO MAⁿTCŪ-SI-TAⁿGA.

Caⁿ, nishha, wistfē-hnaⁿ-maⁿ. Caⁿ éskana e'aⁿ maⁿhniⁿ xī, winá'aⁿ.
 Now, my child, I am always thinking of you. Now oh that how you walk if, I have not maji'-qti-maⁿ; caⁿ e'aⁿ maⁿhniⁿ xī, i'wi'ñahna gíçafē kaⁿbēgaⁿ. Wiⁿ'- heard from you at all; yet how you walk if, you tell me you send back I hope. I see you ba-máji aⁿwaⁿqpani héga-máji. Kī éskana wiⁿaⁿbe kaⁿbēgaⁿ éde, bē'a- 3 I not I am poor I am very. And oh that I see you I hoped, but I have hnaⁿ-maⁿ. Kī çikáge-ma, éskana wañ'gíçe úwaçagihná kaⁿbēgaⁿ. Kī failed each time. And those who are your friends, oh that all you tell them I hope. And aⁿwañ'kega-máji, 'aⁿçingē'qti maⁿbēiⁿ; égaⁿqti maⁿhniⁿ kaⁿbēgaⁿ. Wa-I am not sick, nothing at all is the matter I walk; just so you walk I hope. Letbáxu wiⁿ cuçéwikíçē. Caⁿ uqçē'qteci gíçafē kaⁿbēgaⁿ. Wáçe amá 6 ter one I cause him to send it to you. And very soon you send one back I hope. White the majaⁿ çínke 'iáwaçai xī, naⁿbé t'aⁿ majaⁿ waçítaⁿ wagáji agçai. Majaⁿ land the spoke about when, hand pos- land to work it commanded went sessing us homeward.
 çan'di xáci aⁿçíⁿ tai, ebçégaⁿ. Cē'ja cañgáhi-báji tai, ebçégaⁿ. Gátegaⁿ in the a long we will be, I think. Yonder we will not reach you, I think. In that man-time ner
 uwíçta cuçéaçē.
 I tell you I send to you.

NOTES.

507, 5. égaⁿqti maⁿhniⁿ kaⁿbēgaⁿ. Je-uxaⁿha explained this by another sentence:
 Çí cti égaⁿqti waçikegaⁿj'qti winá'aⁿ kaⁿbēgaⁿ.
 You too just so you are not sick at I hear from I hope.
 all you

"I hope to hear from you that you, too, have not been sick at all."

507, 6. Wabaxu, used by an Omaha instead of wabagçeze.

507, 6. Wáçe ama; i. e., Inspector J. H. Hammond.

507, 7. majaⁿ çínke, intended for "majaⁿ çáⁿ."—Frank La Flèche.

TRANSLATION.

My child, I always think of you. I have not heard at all how you are, though it has been my desire; yet I hope that you will send a letter back, and tell me how you are. As I do not see you, I am very poor. I have hoped to see you, but I have failed each time. I hope that you will tell all your friends. I am not sick; I walk without any trouble at all. I hope that you are just so. I cause some one to send you a letter. I hope that you will send one back very soon. A white man talked with us about the land. He went home after telling us to work the land with our hands. I think that we will be in the land for some time. I think that we will not reach yonder where you are. I send to you to tell you such things.

DÚBA-MA'ΦI' TO LANDE-NA'XÚGE.

October 25, 1878.

- Ca' wabágeze tífaçé a'baçé ja'be. Níaci'ga i'çadai çéaka. Ca' Now letter you sent to-day I have seen it. Person read it to me this (sub.). Now
- éskana íí-ují çha úda'qti aná'a' xi i'uda'. Ca' éskana Wakan'da aká oh that household your very good I heard when good for me. Now oh that Detsy the
- 3 uñika'í ka'bçéga'. Kí A'pa'-ja'ng'a t'é tē aná'a' há, kí níakagáhi sáta' help you I hope. And Big Elk he died the I heard it , and chief five
- t'ai tē awána'a' há. Kí níkaci'ga-máçé, áhigiqti çat'ai tē ca' gíçajiwáçé. died the I heard of them . And ye people, very many you died the yet grievous.
- A'baçé a'ngú cti wawákegaí. Níaci'ga úda'qti sáta' t'ai. Cí i'tca' t'é To-day we too we are sick. Person very good five died. Again now to die
- 6 etéga'qti édi-ma-hna'í, kí wa'ú cti t'é-hna'í. Ca' maja' kē ca' çé cti very apt those are usually here, and woman too usually die. Yet land the yet this too
- éga', ú'te t'a' éga' a't'é-hna'í. Kí maja' çéçaçica' k'éja ca'ngáhi taité like, death abounds like we are dying. And land towards yonder at the we reach you shall
- na'a'pe héga-báji. Kí níkaci'ga amá edáda' íbaha' amá, 'íawáçé-hna'í we fear it not a little. And people the (sub.) what they know they who, usually talk about us
- 9 ça'ja, añíwacka' héga-báji. Ca' wáçiwagázu ga'çai. Çéçuádi wáçiwá- though, we have made not a little. And to make us straight they wish. In this place make us
- gázu tá amá tē. Áda' maja' k'éja, çéja k'éja, ca'ngáhi tai a'nga'ça-báji straight they will, doubt- less. Therefore land at the, at yonder at the, we reach you will we do not wish it
- éga'í há. Kí e'a' weágíçéga' cte éawaga' ta'ngata', ca' çéçu t'édi somewhat . And how they decide for us even we are so we who will, yet there in the
- 12 ca'ngáça-báji ta'ngata' éska'-a'çai. Maja' çai íçadíçai íi tē ceta' we go not to you we who will we think it may be so. Land the agent houses the so far
- itáxa'áçica' wakéga-báji. Ca' a'baçé wísiçai éga', wabágeze cuçéwiktē. towards up stream they are not sick. Now to-day I remember as, letter I cause him to send it to you (sing.).

Ca' ʔi-ʔi wiwʔa tē úwakega ʔingé. Ca' edádaⁿ maja' ʔéʔuádi wi'áqtcí And household my own the sickness has none. And what land in this only one wéteqí égaⁿ uwfɛni-hnaⁿ-ma'. Húanga-má tēqí há. Ca' wabáqɛze hard for somewhat I have told you (pl.) regularly. The Winnebago hard Now letter uqɛ'qtcí ɛé, wabáxu ɛéʔu ɛínké, éskana ɛa'í gɛɛɛ kaⁿbégaⁿ.
 very soon goes, writer here he who, oh that you you send I hope.
 give him back

3

NOTES.

508, 1. niaciⁿga iⁿɛadai ɛeaka, another way of expressing, "Niaciⁿga ɛéaka iⁿɛadai há."

508, 6. Ca' maja' ké ca' ɛe cti égaⁿ. Duba-maⁿɛiⁿ gave "ɛéʔu cti, here too," as equivalent to "ɛe cti." Frank La Flèche reads: Maja' ɛé cti égaⁿ, omitting "Caⁿ" and "ké caⁿ."

508, 8. nikaciⁿga ama, edadaⁿ ibahaⁿ ama, i. e., the white people.

509, 9-10. wáɛiwagázu tá amá tē. Frank La Flèche and Duba-maⁿɛiⁿ say, "wáɛi-wagázu," while Sanssouci says, "waɛiwagazu." Sanssouci renders "ta ama tē" by "they will doubtless," distinguishing it from "taite, they shall." Frank La Flèche says that "wáɛiwagazu taité" is seldom used.

509, 3. wabaxu ɛéʔu ɛínké, the one who sits here writing.

TRANSLATION.

To-day I saw the letter that you sent. This man read it to me. I am glad to hear that your household is in good health. I hope that Wakanda may help you. I heard that Big Elk and five others had died. And as so many of you have died, it is grievous, O ye people. We, too, are sick to-day. Five very excellent men have died, and now there are those who are very apt to die. The women, too, are dying. As this land, too, as well as yours, is full of death, we have been dying. We are very much afraid of arriving yonder at a land in your neighborhood. Though the people who know something have been talking about us and to us, we have been making great efforts on our own account. They wish to settle our business in a satisfactory manner. They will doubtless make a satisfactory settlement of our business in this place. Therefore we do not wish to reach the land near you, if we can avoid it. Whatever they decide upon for us we shall abide by, yet we hope that we shall not depart from this place. They are not sick in the agent's country (i. e., Indiana) as far south as his city (i. e., Richmond). As I remember you to-day, I send you a letter. My household is without sickness. I have told you again and again of one thing in this land which is somewhat hard for us. The Winnebagoes are hard for us to bear. I hope that, as this letter goes very soon, you will give one and send it to the writer who is here.

ᐃᐱᐱᐱᐱ-NA-PÁJĪ TO ᐱᐱᐱᐱᐱᐱ-NAJĪ.

- Nisḥa, aⁿwaⁿqpani héga-máji ʔíjĭ, wigísičē-hnaⁿ-maⁿ. Éskana, nisḥa,
My child, I am poor I am very if, I usually remember you, my relation. Oh that, my child
- wigḥaⁿbe kaⁿbčégaⁿ-hnaⁿ-maⁿ átaⁿhé.—Kagéha, majaⁿ čéču caⁿcaⁿ hniⁿ
I see you, my own I usually hope I who stand.— My friend, land here always you were
- 3 ʔíjĭ, aⁿwaⁿqpani-máji taté ebčégaⁿ čaⁿja, ihné há. Hnégaⁿ aⁿwaⁿqpani if, I (am) not poor shall I think though, you have gone As you went I am poor
- héga-máji. Caⁿ edádaⁿ úckaⁿ maⁿhniⁿ ʔí, caⁿ eⁿaⁿ maⁿhniⁿ ʔí, bčúga
I am very. Yet what deeds you walk if, in fact how you walk if, all
- anáⁿaⁿ kaⁿbčaⁿ há. Caⁿ íe údaⁿqti wiginaⁿaⁿ kaⁿbčaⁿ há. Nisḥa, majaⁿ
I hear it I wish In fact words very good I hear of you, my own I wish My child, land
- 6 anájiⁿ čanⁿdi wabčítaⁿ aⁿčaⁿcpahaⁿ hnaí té, rⁿteaⁿ átaⁿcaⁿ bčé. Wáqe amá
I stood in the I worked you knew me you (pl.) when, now beyond it I go. White the
- edádaⁿ caⁿ wačúte bčúga gáxai gčé eáwakigaⁿqtiⁿi. Cetaⁿ aⁿčítaⁿ tčé what in fact food all they make the (pl. obj.) we are just alike. So far we work the
- aŋgčíⁿaqti, gčísai tčé aŋgčíⁿaqti, máče há. Majaⁿ etaⁿbe čaⁿ bčúga wamúske we have failed indeed, plucking the we have failed indeed, winter Land you saw the all wheat
- 9 ugčípi. Majaⁿ čanⁿdi úxuhe čingčéⁿqti aⁿnájiⁿi; sagíqti aⁿčíⁿ. Níkaciⁿga-má is full of. Land in the cause of fear having none we stand; very firm we are. The people
- ána čatⁿai gčé ijáje zaníqti aⁿwaⁿnaⁿaⁿ aŋgaⁿčai. Wacúce ijinⁿge čanká how many you have died the his name every one we hear them we wish. Wacúce his son the ones
- wiⁿ tčé. Ėⁿdi-á-i-najiⁿ ijáje ačíⁿ.
one died. Ėdi-á-i-najiⁿ his name he had.

NOTES.

This ʒaḡaḡa-najiⁿ is sometimes called ʒaḡaḡa-najiⁿ jiḡga (i. e., the younger), to distinguish him from Acaḡa. He is the brother-in-law of Miⁿxa-ská, the elder Frank La Flèche.

510, 2. Kagéha, i. e., Maⁿteu-wačihi.

TRANSLATION.

My child, I always think of you when I am poor. I am ever hoping to see you. My friend, you have gone, though I thought that I should never be poor if you always remained here in this country. As you went, I am very poor. I wish to hear all, what you are doing, and how you are. I hope to hear very good words from you who are my own relation. My child, when you departed, you knew that I worked the land where I dwell. I have now exceeded what I did then. We are just like the white people in raising all kinds of food. We have not yet finished our work; we are far from the end. It is winter, and yet we have not been able to finish gathering all of our crops. The land which you saw is full of wheat. We stand in the land with nothing at all to our people apprehension; we are firmly settled. We wish to hear all the names of your people who have died. One of Wacuce's sons is dead. His name was Edi-a-i-najiⁿ.

ICTÁΦABI TO MAⁿTCŪ-WÁΦIHI AND ACÁWAGE.

Waqiⁿ'ha gēīcācē cāⁿ' bēīze. Majaⁿ' cagēiⁿ' cāⁿ' cūtaⁿ'qti iⁿ'wiⁿ'cā Letter you sent back the I took it. Land you sit the very straight to tell me
 (ob.)

gīcā-gā. Cē cūcēacē. Céama níkaciⁿ'ga d'úba cācāi hā. Itizē cubcē be sending This I send to you. Those people some went to . At the I go to you back. same time

kaⁿ'bēīde waqiⁿ'ha gēījūi égaⁿ, aⁿ'aⁿ'cā cācāi hā. Caⁿ' uwikie tē cēkigaⁿ'- 3
 I wished, but letter had not as, leaving me they went . Now I talk to you the it was just come back to you

qtiāⁿ', waqiⁿ'ha cāⁿ' bēīze tē'di. Caⁿ', jīⁿ'cēha, aⁿ'waⁿ'qpani hēga-māji. Majaⁿ' like it, letter the I took it when. Yet, elder brother, I am poor I am very. Land
 the

uhīacka cagēiⁿ' ebēēgaⁿ-māji cāⁿ'cti; wēahidē'qti cagēiⁿ' ebēēgaⁿ. Caⁿ' close by you sit I did not think heretofore; at a great distance you sit I thought. Yet majaⁿ' mactēaja cagēiⁿ' cāⁿ' aⁿ'ba úmaⁿ'cīⁿ' ána jaⁿ' qī-hnaⁿ'i aná'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēī. 6 land in the warm you sit the day to walk in how sleeps if only I hear it I wish.

 region many

Wawākegai caⁿ'aṅgāxai, aṅgīni.
 We were sick we have quit, we have recovered.

NOTE.

511, 6. aⁿ'ba umaⁿ'cīⁿ', etc. Frank La Flèche says that this is not exactly correct. It should be "aⁿ'ba ána jaⁿ' qīⁿ'jī hīwacē éiⁿ'te aná'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēī."

TRANSLATION.

I have received the letter which you sent home. Send me a letter, and tell me just how you dwell in the land. I send you this in order to make that request. Some of those men (i. e., Omahas) went to you. I desired to go to you when they did, but they went to you without me, as a letter had not come from you. When I received the letter, it was just as if I talked with you. O elder brothers, I am very poor. I did not think, heretofore, that you dwelt in a land near by; I thought that you dwelt at a very great distance. And I wish to hear how many days it takes to walk to the land in the warm region where you dwell. We have brought our sickness to an end; we have recovered.

WAQPE-CA TO CÁHIEÇA.

Negha, maja' águdi ma'hni' wisíçē-hna' ca'ca'. Ana ca' çat'af Mother's land in what you walk I am remembering you always. How in fact you have brother, place died éi'te winá'a'i ka'bça. Maja' águdi çanáji' xi, maja' wágazuáji, cubçait may I hear from I wish. Land in what you stand if, land not straight, I have not be you (pl.) place
 3 máji. Çat'é tē ēkiga' i'ça-máji hēga-máji. Nújiga, kagé, t'ēē hā, He-gone to you. You die the it is like it I am sad I am very. Boy, third son, is dead Heqága-jin'ga. Iqubabi cti t'ēē hā, çia'eka. Ca' wabágçeze gia'çaktēē qaga-jinga. Iqubabi too is dead your sister's son. Now letter you cause him to be ka'bçēga'. Ca' águdi úda'qti çanáji' tē aná'a' ka'bçēga'.
 I hope. Now in what place very good you stand the I hear it I hope.

NOTES.

Cahieça, or Cheyenne, a Yankton Dakota, was adopted by the Ponkas, who have made him the head of one of their sub-gentes. He was enrolled in 1880 as Múxa-náji, which is a sacred name of his gens.

512, 13. kagé refers to Heqaga-jinga, whom Waqpe-ca called his younger brother. He is spoken of by his household or ordinal birth-name, being the third son. Waqpe-ca might have said: "Nújiga isañ/gaaçéde t'ēē hā, Heqaga-jin'ga: I had a boy for my younger brother, Heqaga-jinga, but he is dead."

TRANSLATION.

Mother's brother, I always think of you, in whatever land you walk. I wish to hear from you how many of you have died. The land in which you stand is not straight, so I have not gone to you. I am very sad, because it is just as if you were dead. Heqaga-jinga, the third son in our household, is dead. Iqubabi, your sister's son, too, is dead. I hope that you will send back a letter to me. I wish to hear in what place you do very well.

WANÍJA-WÁQE TO GAHÍGE.

6 Ca' ewiçē'qti wisíçē a'baçé. Éskana wiça'be ka'bçēga' éde, a'jú-
 Now I have you for I remem- to-day. Oh that I see you I hoped, but I am a very near relation ber you not máji; ceta' a'wa'cte açéi', aŋgini-máji. Çéçu maja' hnáji tē'di, a'wa'- well; so far I remain I sit, I have not recovered. Here land you did when, I was qpani cta'je tē ca'ca' bçi'. Kí çt-hna' wisíçē-máji; Pañ'ka nŋkagáhi poor you saw it the always I am. And you only I do not remember you; Ponka chief 9 zaníqti awásiçē; cénujin'ga-ma cti awásiçē, zaní. Ca' wistçai tē, méádi all I remember them; the young men too I remember them, all. Now I remem- when, last spring bered you

úckaⁿ wi^{n'} Caa^{n'} amápa pí tē éwa^{n'} égaⁿ, dí xī, úckaⁿ júaji gáxai.
 deed one Dakotas to them I ar. when, it being the cause as, I was when, deed wrong they did.

Gan' xī égaⁿ wisíçai. Hau. Edádaⁿ íuça níkaciⁿga-ma t'e-má zaníqti
 And that belong so I remember you ¶ What news the people the dead ones all ijáje wái^{n'}çéçaxú gíçaçé kaⁿbégaⁿ, zaníqti awána'aⁿ kaⁿbéa. Ca^{n'} i^{n'}çá- 3 his you write them for you send I hope, all I hear them I wish. Now I am maji^{n'}qti-hnaⁿ-ma^{n'} wisíçai tē di. Ácka çagçin^{n'} tē di, wiçá^{n'}be kaⁿbéa égaⁿ, always very sad I remem- ber you when. Near you sat when, I see you I wished as, cupí-hnaⁿ-ma^{n'}; éde i^{n'}taⁿ ean^{n'}gn^{n'}-máji i^{n'}çá-máji. Hau. Gan' xī Uma^{n'}haⁿ-

 I need to reach you; but now I am not so I am sad. ¶ And Omahas má ééma cuhiwaçé-hna^{n'}i wacta^{n'}bai xī, cuhli xī, wabágçeze íçaçé té; 6 the those they have been sent to you you see them when, reach when, letter you send will;

awána'aⁿ kaⁿbéa. Ca^{n'} éskana údaⁿqti ma^{n'}çin^{n'}i kaⁿbéa, íe údaⁿqti awána'aⁿ
 I hear about I wish. Now oh that very good they walk I wish, words very good I hear about them kaⁿbéa. Hau. Gan' xī éawaçéⁿqti Uma^{n'}haⁿ ééma cuhli xī, éskana

 I wish. ¶ And I have them for near kindred Omahas those reach when, oh that you can'ge-ma wi^{n'} a^{n'}çá'i kaⁿbégaⁿ, i^{n'}çin^{n'} gí waçákiçé kaⁿbégaⁿ. Ca^{n'} 9 the horses one you give me I hope, having coming you cause them I hope. Still çijin'ge, Úhaⁿ-jin'ga, é i^{n'}çin^{n'} gí kaⁿbégaⁿ. Can'ge jaⁿ-ma^{n'}çin^{n'} i^{n'}çin^{n'} çañká your son, Úhaⁿ-jingga, he having coming for me back I hope. Horse wagon carry it the one that wi^{n'} i^{n'}tē, wi^{n'}áqtei i^{n'}wi^{n'}ete. Can'ge a^{n'}çá'i xī, pahan'ga wabágçeze í one is dead to me, only one remains to me. Horse you give it, before letter coming is kaⁿbégaⁿ. Ian'kiçá-gā. Ceta^{n'} taté ebégaⁿ. Maja^{n'} çéçu can'ge çingai 12

 I hope. Cause it to be coming for me. So far shall I think. Land here horse there are none égaⁿ, can'ge t'a^{n'}aa çanájiiⁿ, ádaⁿ wína cuçéaçé. Kí Úhaⁿ-jin'ga gíçai xī, as, horse where they you stand, therefore I beg I send to you. And Úhaⁿ-jingga is not it, coming back

Uma^{n'}haⁿ jin'ga wi^{n'} i^{n'}çin^{n'} gí waçací kaⁿbéa.
 Omaha small one having is you ask him I wish.

NOTE.

513. 3. wai^{n'}çéçaxú, from "wagibaxú." See Dictionary.

TRANSLATION.

My near relation, I remember you to-day. I hoped to see you, but I am not in good health; I still have sickness left; I have not recovered. I am still poor in this land, as you saw me before you departed. And I do not remember you only; I remember all the Ponka chiefs, and all the young men. I remembered you last spring, when I went to the Dakotas and was coming back, at which time, owing to one occurrence, they did an unfortunate thing. And as that is the case, I remember you.

I hope that you will send back what news there is, and write for me the names of all the people who have died. I wish to hear about all of them. When I think of you, I am sorely grieved. When you dwelt near, I used to go to you when I wished to see you. But now I am not in that condition, so I am sad.

If you see those Omahas who have been sent to you, please send a letter, as I wish to hear about them. I hope that they are very well; I wish to hear very good words about them.

When those Omahas who are my near kindred reach you, I hope that you will give me one of your horses. I hope that you will cause them to bring it back for me, or else that your son, Uhaⁿ jiŋga, will bring it to me. As one of my wagon horses is dead, only one is left to me. If you give me a horse, I hope that a letter will come before it. Send it. I think that this letter is long enough. I send to beg of you because this land is without horses, and you are in the land where there are plenty of them. If Uhaⁿ jiŋga does not come back, please ask one of the young Omahas to bring the horse home to me.

HE-WAⁿJĪČA TO GAHĪGE-WADĀČIŊGE.

Nia ⁿ čingé'qti	agčf.	Umáha	akádi	agčf.	Ūeka ⁿ	ája ⁿ	ké	wágazu
I have no pain at all	I have	Omahas	to them	I have	Deed	you do	the	straight
	come back			come back.		that
aná ⁿ ka ⁿ bča.	Umáha	akádi	úda ⁿ qti	agčf.	nía ⁿ čingé'qti.	Éde	Umáha
I hear	I wish.	Omahas	to them	very good	I have	I have no pain at all.	But	Omahas
				come back.
3 akádi agčf. máji	tatéska ⁿ bčéga ⁿ ,	ché.	Éskana	čagčf.	ka ⁿ bčéga ⁿ ,	ché.	Čeama
to them	I go not home-	ward	shall, I think,	I said.	Oh that	you have	I hope,	I said.
					come back
Umáha	amá	úda ⁿ qti	naji ⁿ	amá:	níaci ⁿ ga	dáda ⁿ	gčf.	etčetewa ⁿ
Omahas	the	very good	are standing;	person	what	has come	soever	to take
	(sub.)				back			him
gčf. ⁿ	ará.	Ca ⁿ	wakéga	nié	čičin ⁿ ge	čí ⁿ te	winá ⁿ ka ⁿ	bčai há.
they are sitting.	Now	sick	pain	you have	it may	I hear of	I wish	Indeed I have them
				none	be	you	(pl. ob.)	as kindred
6 jin ⁿ ga	e'a ⁿ	xl	étewa ⁿ ,	aná ⁿ	ka ⁿ bča.	Ūgčaqti	agčf.	nuxáči ⁿ small	how	if,	even that	I hear it	I wish.	Suffering greatly	I have	have of outer come back,	garments	come back.
Umáha	akádi.	Ki	čéaka,	winégi	aká,	wafin	i ⁿ čin ⁿ wi ⁿ	Éskana
Omahas	to them.	And this one,	my mother's	the	blanket	bought for	Oh that	letter brother	(sub.)	me			the
culí	xl,	uqčé'qtei	wi ⁿ	a ⁿ čí ⁿ i	gičafai	ka ⁿ bčéga ⁿ .	Čéaka	wi ⁿ an ⁿ go teaches	when,	very soon	one	you give	you (pl.) send	I hope.	This one	my elder sister
you				me	is back			the
1 čna	agčf.	taité	ebčéga ⁿ ,	Caa ⁿ	amája.	Umáha	akádi	čábčai
she	go home-	shall	I think,	Dakotas	to them.	Omahas	at them	three alone	ward							sleep
								it goes
wabáxu	ča ⁿ .							to you
	letter	the.

NOTES.

He-waⁿjĭč is a Ponka of the Nikadaona gens. His name is given as pronounced by the Ponkas, but it is intended for the Dakota, He-waⁿjina (One Horn), which would be He-wiⁿqtei in Čegíha. Gahige-wadačingé is a Ponka of the Hisada gens.

514, 1. Niaⁿfiŋgēqti, contracted from nié aⁿfiŋgēqti, "Pain—I have not at all."

514, 3. tatéškaⁿbégaⁿ, in full, taté éškaⁿbégaⁿ.

514, 3. Omit "eho" in both sentences.—Frank La Flèche.

514, 7. winegi aka, i. e., the Omaha le-úpaⁿha, of the Ictasanda gens.

514, 9. Frank La Flèche says that the last sentence should read:

Umáha akádi agéi tó ^{back} ^{when} ^{three} ^{sleep} ^{when} ^{you} ^{goes to} ^{letter} ^{the}.
Omahas at them I came when three sleep when you goes to letter the.

"Umaha" is the Ponka form of "Umaⁿha"; and "wabáxu" letter, book, is equivalent to the Omaha "wabágeze."

TRANSLATION.

I have come back to the Omahas without any sickness at all. I desire to know just what thing you are doing. I have come back to the Omahas in very good health, without any sickness at all. But I said that I did not think I would go homeward to the Omahas. I say that I hope you may come back. These Omahas are doing very well. They are desirous of receiving any kind of person whatsoever who comes back. I wish to hear from you that you have no sickness or pain. I desire to hear how my young relations are, no matter what their condition may be. I suffered very much when I came back to the Omahas; I came back without any outer garments. But this one, my mother's brother, bought a blanket for me. I hope that when the letter reaches you, you will give me one very quickly and send it back. I think that my sister will go alone to her home among the Dakotas. The letter goes to you three days after my return to the Omahas.

UMÁHAⁿ TO WABÁGEZEⁿ.

December 16, 1878.

Waqiⁿha ^{Letter} ^{this} ^{I came} ^{I look it, as,} ^{my child,} ^{I see you} ^{like,} ^{it is very good for me,} atí ^{here} ^{be} ^{égaⁿ} ^{iⁿudaⁿqti-maⁿ}, iⁿ ^{I am very glad} ^{And,} ^{my child,} ^{whenever} ^{letter} ^{I send to you regularly} ^{shall.} ^{And} Caⁿ, ^{nisíha,} ^{ataⁿetē} ^{waqiⁿha} ^{cuhiáçē-hnaⁿ-maⁿ} ^{taté.} ^{Ki}

çisaⁿga ^{your younger} ^{brother} ^{younder} ^{reached} ^{as} ^{to it,} ^{aⁿwaⁿqpani} ^{égaⁿ} ^{cúçéákiçē} ^{há.} ^{çéçu,} ^{nisíha,} ³

anájiⁿ ^{I stand} ^{when,} ^{land} ^{here} ^{I stand,} ^{I work} ^{very good} ^{all} ^{I stand.} ^{Caⁿ,} ^{nisíha,} wigisiçē-hnaⁿ ^{I always remem-} ^{bered you} ^{when,} ⁱⁿ ^{the past,} ^{what} ^{one} ^{you had} ^{when} ^{I have it} ^{will,} ^{perhaps,} ^{I used to think it}

tēⁿdi, ^{edáda} ^{wiⁿ} ^{ahniⁿ} ^{tēⁿdi} ^{abéiⁿ} ^{téⁿte,} ^{ebçégaⁿ-hnaⁿ-maⁿ}

há. ^{My child,} ^{whenever} ^{still} ^{I see you, my own} ^{shall} ^{I am used to thinking}
Nisíha, ^{ataⁿetē} ^{caⁿ} ^{wigíhaⁿbe} ^{tatéškaⁿbégaⁿ-hnaⁿ-maⁿ} ^{há.}

6

NOTE.

515, 3. Çisaŋga, i. e., Nidahaⁿ, the real son of çáfiⁿ-naⁿpajl.

TRANSLATION.

My child, I was very glad when I came to this house and received this letter. It was very good for me, being just as if I saw you. And, my child, I shall send letters to you from time to time. And, as to your younger brother, who has reached you, I sent him to you because I was poor. My child, when I remain here, working the land, I do all the work very well. And, my child, as I am always thinking of you, I think that if you have any one thing I may have it. My child, I am constantly hoping to see you at some time or other.

ƧAƧIⁿ-NAⁿPAJĪ TO HIS SON NĪDAHAⁿ.

Waqiⁿha Ƨaⁿ ƧeƧeƧe Ƨaⁿ beƧe. Hau. Waqiⁿha cuƧeƧe, ƧaƧaⁿƧu-Letter the you sent it (the) I took it. Ƨ Letter I send to you, ƧaƧaⁿƧu-(ob.) back (ob.) Ƨ nājiⁿ. HnƧe Ƨi, ƧāƧaⁿ Nidahaⁿ Ƨaⁿ te WanāƧeƧiⁿƧi Ƨi-Ƨā hā. WaƧiⁿtaⁿ nājiⁿ. You take it when, that (ob.) Nidahaⁿ you give will. Hurrying very Ƨi-Ƨā hā. Work it to him much
3 tē beƧaƧiⁿ-maⁿ hā. Ƨaⁿ ūdaⁿƧiⁿƧi Ƨāⁿ anājiⁿ; ūƧaⁿ t'aⁿ anājiⁿ. Wanāthe I have failed, in. Indeed not very good like I stand; business plenty I stand. Hurry-(ob.) deed, at it
ƧeƧiⁿ Ƨi-Ƨā. Ƨaⁿ wiƧaⁿba-māji nānⁿde iⁿpi-māji-hnaⁿ-maⁿ hā.
ing be coming home. Still I do not see you heart I always have it bad for me

NOTES.

Nidahaⁿ went to the Ponkas without the consent of his agent, who threatened to punish him if he did not return by a certain time. This was the trouble to which ƧaƧiⁿ-naⁿpajĪ referred in the phrase, "ūƧaⁿ t'aⁿ anājiⁿ."

The second and third sentences were addressed to ƧaƧaⁿƧu-nājiⁿ, but all the rest was intended for Nidahaⁿ.

TRANSLATION.

I have received the letter which you sent home to me. I send a letter to you, O ƧaƧaⁿƧu-nājiⁿ. When you get it, please give it to Nidahaⁿ. O Nidahaⁿ, come home in a very great hurry. I can make no progress at all with my work. I am not prospering very well; I have plenty of trouble. Come home in a hurry. Now, when I do not see you, my heart is continually sad.

HÉ-WAⁿJÍÇA TO HEQÁGA-NÁJIⁿ.

January 22, 1879.

Caⁿ cécⁿ aⁿnájiⁿ tē údaⁿqti aⁿnájiⁿ caⁿja, caⁿ Cáuⁿáña angáçe taité, Now here we stand when very good we stand though, yet to the Dakotas we go shall, obégaⁿ. Wíáhaⁿ aká cécaka caⁿge cábéiⁿ wáçiⁿ, wáçiⁿ eti naⁿba 'íi, I think. My sister's the this one horse three has them, robe also two they have husband (sub.) given him.
 maⁿzepe-jin'ga naⁿba 'íi, ninba-wéawaⁿ eti 'íi, wamúske kē áhigi 'íi, 3 sharp iron small two they gave him, calumet also they gave him, wheat the much they gave
 him.
 údaⁿ u'ágça etéwaⁿ cingé'qti aⁿnájiⁿ. Cēja údaⁿqti caⁿnájiⁿ cēkigaⁿqti cēgaⁿ therefore suffering in the least without any we stand. Yonder very good you stand just alike so aⁿnájiⁿ. Wamúske kē uéwian'giçē aⁿçietáⁿ xi, Cáuⁿáña angáçe taité, we stand Wheat the we collect ours we finish when, to the Dakotas we go shall, obégaⁿ. Cēka, wian'ge aká, mⁿ'jinga wíⁿ ídaçai. Lúde-gaúbeiⁿ aká 6
 I think. This one, my elder the girl one bore. Lúde-gaúbeiⁿ aká 6
 the (sub.)
 Wajin'ga stēç-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ. Caⁿ e'aⁿ tē zaniqti winá'aⁿ kaⁿbēa, piqti.
 Wajin'ga remembers him always. Now how it is all I hear of you I wish, anew.
 Waⁿújingáçtei cēnké eti cūtaⁿ aná'aⁿ kaⁿbēa. Lē-wa'ú eti jan'ge cēaⁿba
 Very old woman the one who also straight I hear I wish. Lē-wa'ú eti jan'ge cēaⁿba (ob.) ter she too cūtaⁿ awána'aⁿ kaⁿbēa. Kí cūtaⁿ awána'aⁿ xi'etē, e'aⁿ dáxa-máji té xi, 9 straight I hear from them I wish. And straight I hear from them even if, how I do not will if.
 caⁿ wisíç-hnaⁿ-maⁿi. Kí çí, çíúdaⁿ caⁿnájiⁿ xi'etē wíjaⁿ'be taí; çíteqi yet I always remember you (pl. ob.). And you, good for you stand even if I see you (pl. ob.) will, hard for
 you xi'etē aⁿetáⁿ'be taí, çí. Wíeqti e'aⁿ maⁿbēiⁿ xi, iⁿ'çe-hnaⁿ caⁿcaⁿ. Ataⁿ'etē even if you see me will, you. I my very how I walk when, I am glad always. Whenever self usually wisíç-hnaⁿ-maⁿi. Ce-má nújinga cábéiⁿ juáwagçe-hnaⁿ-maⁿ-de e'aⁿi xi, 12
 I usually remember you Those with boy three I was with them regularly, and how they if,
 (pl. ob.) you are iⁿwin'çahna gíçaçē kaⁿbéçgaⁿ. Maⁿ-akibanaⁿ, kí çahúçicaⁿ, Wajin'ga-ða you tell me you send back I hope. Maⁿ-akibanaⁿ, and çahúçicaⁿ, Wajin'ga-ða ijin'ge, kí Han'ga-ekáde, cēna, wisíç-hnaⁿ-maⁿi. Kí agçí tē'di aⁿetáⁿ'b his son, and Han'ga-ekáde, enough, I always remember you. And I reached when you see me home
 'íçaçai caⁿeti. Údaⁿqti maⁿhniⁿ etéçewaⁿ, çíteqi xi, iⁿwiⁿ'ça gíçaç-gā. 15 you prom- heretofore. Very good you walk even if, you to tell me send back.
 ised
 Kí çíteqi etéçewaⁿ, edádaⁿ újawaqti ahniⁿ xi, iⁿwiⁿ'ça gíçaç-gā. Çéama
 And hard for you even if, what very pleasant you have it if, to tell me send back. These Umáha çkíde-huaⁿ-maⁿ eduçe-hnaⁿ-maⁿ-de caⁿ wisíç-hnaⁿ-maⁿi. Iⁿ'ççqti Omahas those who play regularly I usually join but yet I always remember you I am very (pl. ob.) glad etówaⁿ, caⁿ wisíç-hnaⁿ-maⁿ xi, iⁿ'pi-máji-hnaⁿ-maⁿ. 18
 even if, yet I always remember you when, I am always sad.

NOTES.

517, 2. Wajahaⁿ aka, i. e., Unajiⁿ-skā, son of Cahiepa, who had married Jé-ípe, the sister of He-waⁿ-jépa.

517, 6. Jadé-gaúbéiⁿ, the Ponka pronunciation of Taté-kahómni, a Dakota name, of which the Oegihia equivalent would be "Jadé-gaxúwixé." Jadé-gaúbéiⁿ is probably the son of Unajiⁿ-skā, as Wajūnga is the child of Heqaga-najiⁿ.

517, 13. Jahuéicaⁿ, i. e., Jahuéicaⁿ, is a son of Bird-head (Wajūnga-da). Haūga-ekade is the son of Maⁿten-sinde-ñūge, who was a member of the Omaha Maⁿñinka-gaxe gens. Maⁿten-sinde-ñūge has resided with the Ponkas for many years, and his son has a name peculiar to the Ponka Wacabe gens.

517, 14-15. aⁿetaⁿb 'içaçai, in full, aⁿetaⁿbe 'içaçai.

TRANSLATION.

Though we are doing very well while we are here, I think that we shall go to the Dakotas. My sister's husband has three horses, two blankets, two hatchets, a calumet pipe, and plenty of wheat; so we have not suffered at all by staying here. You fare very well yonder where you are, and in like manner are we doing well. When we finish collecting our wheat from those who have given it to us, I think that we shall go to the Dakotas. My sister has given birth to a girl. Tate-kahomni always thinks of Wajūnga. I wish to hear from you again about everything that has occurred. I desire to hear just how the very aged woman is. I wish to hear, too, about Jé-waⁿu and her daughter. And even when I hear correctly about them, I always remember you, though I may not be able to accomplish anything. As for you, if you prosper, I will go to see you; and if you have a difficult time, you will come to see me. I, my very self, am always glad, whatever may be my condition; yet I always remember you. I hope that you will send me word about those three youths with whom I used to go: Maⁿ-akibanaⁿ, Jahuéicaⁿ, and Haūga-ekade. I always remember you three. You promised me heretofore to visit me when I reached home. Send me word whether you are doing well or are in trouble. And even if you have a hard time, send me word if you have anything which is very pleasant. I always join these Omahas in their games, but still, I always remember you. Even when I am very glad, I always feel sad when I think of you.

CÚDE-GÁXE TO WĒ'S'A-LĀN'GA.

February 6, 1879.

Níkaciⁿga amá céama iⁿwin'kaⁿi béúgaqti. Waçúte tē áí ugúpiqti People the (sub.) these have helped me all. Food the tent very full ingáxai. Can'ge eti wiⁿ edin'gaⁿi. Içáñicai aká iⁿwin'kaⁿqtiaⁿi. Majaⁿ they have Horse too one they have be- Agent the has helped me very much. Land made for me. stowed on me. (sub.) 3 eti içáñicai aká aⁿfi ha; odádaⁿ uáji také' eti wan'giçe aⁿfi: çaná'aⁿ tai-too agent the has given what I plant with, the too all he has you hear it in or (sub.) to me (col. obj.) given to me:

égaⁿ waqiⁿha euéewikiéé. Aⁿbaéé qijjaⁿ Caaⁿáa bécé, can'ge naⁿba der that letter I cause him to send To-day your sister's at the Dako- I go, pony two it to you. daughter tas' land iⁿqíⁿbaⁿ tífai égaⁿ. Wabáxu wiⁿ tēaéé itizé gáa. Bécé té wabáxu wíí.

 to call me on have aa. Letter one you send at the to that I go when letter I give mine sent here place. you.

Awánaqéiⁿqti bécé há. Gañ'qi agéí qí, uáji tá múnke. Wahaⁿ-qíngé ijaⁿ 3
 I am in a great hurry I go And I come when, I plant will I who. Wahaⁿ-qíngé his back grandmother

égaⁿba wáqíⁿ gáfí gaⁿéa-gá. Ckaⁿhna qí, wáqíⁿ gáfí gaⁿéa-gá.
 her too having them to come back You wish it, having to come back desire thou.

NOTES.

Cúde-gáxe, commonly called "Smoke-maker," was a member of the Ponka Qixida or Soldier gens, of which Maⁿten-wáqíhi is the head. In the fall of 1878 he escaped from Ponka Agency, Ind. T., with his immediate family, He-waⁿjiéa and Uaⁿjiⁿ-ská, and arrived at the Omaha Agency in December, 1878.

518, 2. édiñgávi, i. e., é'di in'gávi, from é'di gígáa; synonym, i, to give.

519, 1. qijjaⁿ, i. e., Louis Roy's wife, who was a Yankton woman. Cúde-gaxe had married Louis Roy's mother; and Wésá-jañga's wife was Cúde-gaxe's daughter by a former wife.

519, 3. Wahaⁿ-qíngé sometimes means "an orphan," but here it is, perhaps, a proper name.

TRANSLATION.

All of these Indians have aided me. They have given me a horse, and have filled my tent with food. The agent has given me great assistance. He has given me land, and all the things for me to sow or plant. As I wish you to know this, I cause this letter to be sent to you. I am going to-day to your sister's daughter, who is among the Dakotas at Yankton Agency. They have sent me an invitation, and have promised to give me two horses. I give you a letter as I go. I go in very great haste. When I return, I will plant. Desire to come back with Wahaⁿ-qíngé and his grandmother. If you wish it, desire to bring them back.

CAN'GE-HI-ZÍ TO HIS BROTHER, WÉ'S'Á-LAN'GA.

March, 1879.

Jiⁿqéha, Monday té'di íe djúba uwíéa euééaéé. Edádaⁿ wiⁿ, jiⁿqéha, Elder brother, Monday on the words a few I tell you I send to you. What one, elder brother, iⁿteqíⁿqti-naⁿ eté aⁿqín'ge. Níaciⁿga ukééiⁿ wééigéaⁿ té itééa-gá; wáqe 6
 I have it very hard for me even I have none. Indian mind the put it down; white man wééigéaⁿ gáxa-gá. Níaciⁿga wééigéaⁿ júaji éiⁿ ukaⁿji-gá. Úekaⁿ qíudaⁿ mind do. Person mind not up to the do not aid him. Deed good for
 you
 eté té qíqáxa-gá; hánaaⁿ qíqáxa-gá. Iqígaⁿéai aká úju aká wáqítaⁿ-apt the (ob.) do for yourself; ready make yourself. Grandfather the principal the did not work

- baj'qti caŋgáhi tē, kī qáča aŋgági tai tē, úwawéci gáxe tai tē gíteqi;
 at all in our we reached when, and back we are com- will when, pay make will the difficult case yonder, where again ing back for him;
- áda" ewáji" aŋgú aŋgáigáči" aŋgáči tē ule čingé tē úda"qtia" te, ai tē.
 there- of his own we we having ourselves we have come the words none the very good in- will, he said
 fore accord back about it deed
- 3 Níaci"ga ukéči" kē bęúgaqi gíča-báji; wáqe kē' eti bęúga gíča-báji.
 Indians the all are sad; white people the too all are sad.
- Wéčigča" wi" čkáxe ɲi, Heqága-náji" éča"ba, gáxe-hna"i-gá. Wia"bča Decision one you make it, Heqaga-naji he too, do ye it alone. I left you
- agči tē, i"ča-maj'qti Wéčigča" čáxe tē éga"qti čkáxi ka"bęéga". Waqi"la
 I came when, I was very sad. Decision I made the just so you make it I hope. Letter
- 6 hnize ɲi, uqčé'qtei waqi"ha ča" a"i ičá-gá. Hau. Kag'ča Badize, iká-you take when, very soon letter the give send here. Friend Battiste, I have (ob.) me
- gewičé. Níaci"ga čéčanká účka" ča" úwakaŋ'-gá. Wáqe amá t'au'gačča" you for a Person those by you deed at any rate help them. White the fall hunt friend. (sub.)
- tēdihi ɲi, wáči"ta" čéči.
 it arrives when, to work have
 at about us promised.

NOTE.

519, 8—520, 2. Ipačai ɲju . . . ai tē. Čaŋge-hi"zi said that when Indian Commissioner Hayt visited the Ponkas, and spoke to them in council, he told them that the Indian Bureau could not send them back to their own land, on account of the expense of the removal; but if any of them went back of their own accord, nothing would be said about it. Such was the interpretation of his speech, according to Čaŋge-hi"zi; and perhaps there were others who understood it so.

TRANSLATION.

Elder brother, I send to you on Monday to tell you a few words. Elder brother, I have not even one thing which is very troublesome to me. Put down the mind of an Indian; take up the mind of a white man. Do not help the person whose plans are wrong. Make for yourself a way that tends to your advantage; make yourself ready. The President did no work at all when we reached the place where you are; and should we come back, it would be difficult for him to pay for the expense. Therefore he said that if we, of our own accord, brought ourselves back to this place, there should be no accusations, and it would be a very good thing. All the Indians are sad, and so are all the white people. Should you come to any decision, do you and Heqaga-naji act upon it. I was very sorry to leave you when I came back. I hope that you will make the very decision that I made. When you receive the letter, give me one very soon.

Friend Battiste, I consider you my friend. Aid those men with their undertaking. The white people promise to take up our case at the time of the fall hunt.

DÚBA-MA^WΦI^N TO TENŪGA-NÍKAGAHÍ (MACDONALD.)

March, 1879.

Kagé, waqíⁿ ha géléa^ŋ éaⁿ iⁿ teaⁿ agéí bélze há. Kí waqíⁿ ha éanú Younger letter you sent back the now I have I have And letter you beg brother, (ob.) come home taken it té, aⁿ ba^ŋé daxe há. Kí edádaⁿ íu^ŋé údaⁿ qti wiⁿ majaⁿ ééuadi éingé as, to-day I make it And what news very good one land at this place there is none

égaⁿ. Majaⁿ éanⁿ di wackaⁿ té enáqteí iníawá^ŋé té éé há. Yúwíⁿxe 3 some- Land in the making an the that only life-sustaining the that what. effort is it Going around maⁿ éiⁿ níají etégaⁿ. Caⁿ hnaⁿ gaⁿ wa^ŋékega uéaga, kí, Cínⁿ gajínⁿ ga éanká walking not living apt. Yet only so you were sick you told of and, Child the ones your own, who wíⁿ ecte iⁿ t'ají, e^ŋé té, nánⁿ de iⁿ udaⁿ. Kí enáqteí-báji tá aká há; éí even one not dead to me, when, heart good to me. And that alone not about to be again (b) aⁿ b áji tédíhi yí, iⁿ ecte éanⁿ de hnégaⁿ. Ééama níkaciⁿ ga d'úba géli; 6 day another it arrives when, for in- you are you go, These people some have at stances near it somewhat. come back iⁿ taⁿ géli; aⁿ ba-waqúbe éabéiⁿ agéli. Kí majaⁿ ééuadi géli té, wa^ŋé now has come back; sacred day three they have come back. And land in this place they have as, to farm for come back. themselves

wégaⁿ éai. Kí ébe níkaciⁿ ga utaⁿ nadi daⁿ be té di, t'é gígaⁿ éújiwá^ŋé, caⁿ they wish it for And who person in a place be- sees him when, to die not to be desired for in fact them. tween him, nánⁿ de-gípejiwá^ŋé hégaí. Caⁿ éskana níé éiⁿ g'g'qti maⁿ éniⁿ kaⁿ h'égaⁿ, 9 apt to make the heart sad not a little. Now oh that pain you have none you walk I hope, for him at all

Wakanⁿ da éinké éigaxe yí. Hau. Caⁿ níkaciⁿ ga ikágeawá^ŋé éí at'aⁿ, Dearly the one he makes it. ¶ Now people I have them as too I have who for you friends plenty.

éinⁿ gajínⁿ ga wa^ŋáxe, aⁿ ba^ŋé wísiⁿ éai. Jí-ují wiwíⁿ há té níé éé wa^ŋéinⁿ gai.
 child I make them, to-day I remember Household my own the pain even we have none.
 you (pl.).

Cetaⁿ wabéitaⁿ máji; aⁿ ba^ŋé wamúske uáji tá minke há. Níkaciⁿ ga amá 12
 So far I have not worked; to-day wheat I sow will I who People the ééama b'égagti ekaⁿ i, aⁿ ba^ŋé. Kí e-hnaⁿ gáté uwíⁿ éa etégaⁿ, níkaciⁿ ga these all stirring, to-day. And that only that thing I tell you apt, people amá ekaⁿ maⁿ éiⁿ i té e-hnaⁿ uwíⁿ éa etégaⁿ, e-hnaⁿ iníawá^ŋé.

 the stirring walk the that only I tell you apt, that only life-sustaining.

TRANSLATION.

Younger brother, I have just come home, and have received the letter which you have sent home. And I make a letter to-day, as you have asked for one. There is, as it were, no very good news in this land. The only thing by means of which a man can make his living is to do his best with the land. He who continues wandering is not apt to improve. When, in telling of your sickness, you said, "Not even one of my children has died," my heart felt good. But that will not be the only thing; on

HÚPEÇA^N TO CĒKI.

March, 1879.

Aⁿbačé wabčítaⁿ-qti-maⁿ tá minke. Kí wisččegaⁿ wawíⁿdaxu cuččáčč.
 To-day I work very hard will I who. And as I remember you I write to you about several things I send to you.

Čéama Umaⁿhaⁿ amá čisčč-hnaⁿi; učíkiai éqipiaⁿi. Caⁿ Pañ'ka amá
 These Omahas the always remember they talk it is pleasant Now Ponkas the (sub.) you; with you to them. (sub.) agčči gě učíča-hnaⁿi winá'aⁿ. Aⁿbačé wižaⁿ'be kaⁿbčégaⁿ. Kí caⁿ' 3 have the they have told of I have heard To-day I see you I hope. And in fact come back you of you.

wisččé xī, wižaⁿ'be kaⁿbčégaⁿ. Cañ'ge wačát'aⁿ, ádaⁿ wižaⁿ'be kaⁿbčégaⁿ.
 I remember when I see you I hope. Horse you have therefore I see you I hope.
 plenty of them.

Umaⁿhaⁿ amá majaⁿ ejal čaⁿ wačítaⁿ-má wactaⁿ'be čaⁿ iⁿ'tcaⁿ átačaⁿ
 Omahas the land their the those who worked you saw them in the now beyond it (sub.) it past

wačítaⁿ, gíččqtiāⁿ; ádaⁿ uwibča cuččáčč. Wayigčitaⁿ wčgaⁿ'čai égaⁿ, 6 work, are very glad; therefore I tell you I send to you. To work for them- they wish for us as,
 selves

waqtáhi, cčhi, xan'de, naⁿ'pa-jin'ga, házi, caⁿ' bčúga wa'í 'íčai É cčna fruit tree, apple plum tree, cherry, grape, in fact all to give they That enough tree, us promise.

uwibča. Čana'aⁿ tégaⁿ cuččáčč. Či umaⁿ'činka čé majaⁿ' ač'iⁿ níkač'iⁿga
 I tell you. You hear it in order I send to you. Again season this land having people that

bčúgaqti xéska-miⁿga čkina úwagⁿ; tá amá. 9
 all cow in equal shales they will put them in.

TRANSLATION.

I shall work very hard to-day. And as I think of you, I write about some things and send the letter to you. These Omahas always think of you; it is pleasant for them to talk with you. I have heard about you, as the Ponkas who have come back have been telling about you. I would like to see you to-day. And when I think of you I hope to see you. You have plenty of horses; therefore I hope to see you. The Omahas are now working much more of their land than when you saw them at work. They are very glad; therefore I send to tell you. As the President wishes them to work for themselves, he has promised to give them fruit trees, apple trees, plum trees, cherry trees, grape vines, in fact, all kinds. That is enough for me to tell you. I send to you that you may hear it. And during this year they will make an equal distribution of cows among the men who have farms.

[illegible]

APPENDIX.

Mr. Frank La Flèche, an Omaha who was referred to in the Introduction, came to Washington in August, 1881, having been appointed to a clerkship in the office of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. The collector wished to obtain Mr. La Flèche's assistance in revising the proof-sheets of this volume; but he did not meet with much success till over two hundred of the preceding pages were in type. As Mr. La Flèche's corrections and alternative readings are of considerable value, it has been thought best to publish them in this Appendix. The parts of the Appendix for which the collector is responsible are followed by "D."

ERRATA.

The following words occur so frequently in the first two hundred pages of the texts that a general reference to them will suffice:—

25, 3; 80, 17; et passim. For "áçita," read "áçit̃a."

10, 18; et passim. "Aⁿhaⁿ, yes." When it means simple assent, read "Aⁿhaⁿ;" but when it implies consent, the Omahas say, "Aⁿhaⁿ."

107, 13; et passim. For "aⁿiç̃a-gã," read "aⁿiç̃a-gã, hand it to me;" from the verb, "iç̃i iç̃e."

9, 7; et passim. For "ábae," read "ébae."

52, 4; et passim. Translate "çéç̃a-biamá," by "sent off, they say."

13, 10; 229, 7; et passim. For "çé te amá," read "ç̃e té amá."

143, 2; 211, 16; et passim. For "éç̃e," indeed, read "éç̃e."—D.

111, 16; et passim. For "éç̃i t̃é'di," read "e ç̃i t̃é'di."

10, 3; et passim. For "gañ'ki," read "gañ'q̃l," from "gaⁿ" and "q̃l."

9, 2; 10, 8; et passim. Hã, the masculine oral period, is supplied by Mr. La Flèche after many imperatives and other clauses. While the collector is familiar with this usage, he has good reasons for believing that such a usage is optional with the speaker. In like manner, the Dakota oral period "do" is obsolescent.

35, 9; 36, 1; et passim. For "Haú," read "Hau." When "Hau" is not addressed to a person, it marks the beginning of a paragraph, in which case the following words in the text and interlinear should begin with capitals. See 71, 15.—D.

16, 1; 16, 4; et passim. For "hégajiq̃ti," read "hégajiq̃ti."—D.

46, 8; et passim. For "i'u," read "iu."

57, 9; 210, 16; et passim. For "iⁿiç̃a-gã" or "iⁿiç̃a-gã," read "iⁿiç̃i iç̃a-gã," from "g̃iç̃i iç̃e."

80, 4; et passim. For "In'daké," read "H̃in'daké."

24, 1; et passim. For "kañ'ge," read "q̃añ'ge;" so for "kañ'gēq̃tei," read "q̃añ'gēq̃tei."

- 62, 4; 62, 5; et passim. For "kagéhä," read "kagéha."—D.
 28, 10; 28, 11; et passim. For "nan'de," heart, read "nän'de;" but "nan'de" signifies the side of a tent or lodge.
 13, 5; et passim. For "páha," to arise," as from sleep, read "dúha."
 16, 3; 16, 8; et passim. For "tá," a future interrogative, read "tä."
 13, 12; 44, 9; et passim. For "ta'phiw," read "ja'phiw."
 24, 3; et passim. For "tan'de," ground, read "jan'de."
 102, 2; 102, 4; et passim. For "jiga'w'hä," read "jiga'w'ha."—D.
 17, 16; et passim. For "úa'phi'ge," read "úa'phi'ge," from "úa'u" and "phi'ge."
 168, 14; et passim. For "u'ábae," read "uábae."
 32, 10; et passim. For "upé," read "udé;" for "upá-biamá," read "udá-biamá;" for "upá-bi ega'w," read "udá-bi ega'w."
 17, 5; et passim. For "uq'úqaha," read "úq'úqaha."
 112, 14; 247, 13; et passim. For "ús'u," read "úsu."
 24, 6; et passim. For "u," to wound, read "u."
 26, 17; et passim. For "waxá-biamá," read "wáxa-biamá."
 15, 12; et passim. For "wiñañ'ga," read "wiñañ'ga." This is obsolescent, "úwñañ'ga" having become the common form.

NOTES.

- 9, 6-7. Çé égima" ca'ca". Supply "há, á-biamá Macteiñ'ge-iñ aká," said, they say Rabbit the (sub.).
 9, 7. Join the two sentences thus: "Egiçe Uñí aká ábae aqé 'íça-biamá xí, Negíha, eubéé tá miñke há, á-biamá," etc.
 9, 11. Omit "aqá-biamá xí;" and change the second "aká," in line 12, to "amá," as the Rabbit was moving. Change "Uñí aká," 10, 3, to "Uñí amá," for the same reason. Other examples of this use of "amá" after the subject are as follows: After "Macteiñ'ge," 15, 5; 15, 11; 16, 12; 32, 12; and 36, 8. After "wa'újiñga," 17, 10. After
 "iqúcpa," 21, 5.
 10, 11-12. "Añgáçe tai, Let us (all) go," should be changed to the dual, "Añgáçe te há, Macteiñ'ge-iñ."
 11, 1. After "Macteiñ'ge-iñ aká," supply, "Gañ'xí éga" uné aqá-biamá xí," And so hunting he went, they say when, making one sentence with "wiñ íçá-b ega'w, t'éça-biamá."
 11, 3. Supply the feminine oral period, "hé," after "aqai."
 13, 7. For "a'w'aqai aqai te a'w," read "a'w'qa aqai tē-na'w."
 13, 8. For "Áta" ja'w' tada'w," read "Eáta" aja'w' tada'w."
 13, 9. Supply "phi" after "niaci'ga," and "aká" after "Macteiñ'ge."
 13, 10. For "ukinacke," read "uñinacke;" and for "ha'w' té," read "ha'w' té." 14, 2. As "Mi'w' çan," which was given at first, could not refer to the Sun-god, but to the sun which we see in the sky, Mr. La Flèche has substituted "Mi'w' aká." The former could not agree with "áíçá-biamá." Were it the subject of the verb, the sentence would read, "Mi'w' çan" na'ciáha íçé amá." 15, 1. Read: "Macteiñ'ge amá iya'w' éça'ba édi akáma, jígçe júkigçe." Or, they were together.
 "Macteiñ'ge aká édi akáma xí, iya'w' phi'ké jígçe júkigçe akáma." Rabbit the (sub.) there he was when, his the (ob.) dwelling he was with his, they sitting, they say grandmother in a lodge say.

15, 3. "Wasábe níkághí ñínké" would be followed by "ñí hē"; but as the phrase is "ñí hē," we must read, "Wasábe níkághí aká."

15, 6. For "ñíjébe é'di," etc., read "ñíjébe té'di a-ñají-bi ñí, xugé gáxa-biamá Mactéñ'ge aká." "Gáxa-biamá, he made it, they say," should be distinguished from "gaxá-biamá," referring to turning grass by hitting it, or by blowing on it, and from "gaqá-biamá," referring to one who outruns another.

15, 10. Read "Égíçe Mactéñ'ge ñínké é'di gáñ' ñínké amá."

15, 11. Supply the classifier "tē" after "ñíjébe."

16, 4. "Éde níaci'ga," etc. Read: "Éde níaci'ga béguaqti ugé'a'a-biamá."

16, 8-9. "Áqta' t'éwaqáqé tá. T'éqé té píbañí hē."—Or, "Áqta' t'éwaqáqé tada'. T'éqé ñéñei hē: How is it possible for you to kill them? They are hard to kill."

16, 10. Supply "aká" after "Wa'újinga."

16, 15; 18, 4. Supply "amá," the pl. sub., after "Wasábe."

17, 4. Supply "ñi," the mv. ob., after "Mactéñ'ge."

17, 6. Omit "té'di."

17, 9. Change the end of the line to "té'céñíai, á-biamá."

17, 14. Supply "aká," the sub., after "Wasábe"; and for "Áta' ja," read "Eáta' aju' á."

17, 18. Supply "aká," the sub., after "Mactéñ'ge."

18, 1. For "Wasábe," read "Wasábe-ma, the Black bears."

20, 1. Read: "Mactéñ'ge aká."

20, 2. Or, "wakan'dañíai éga," as he makes himself a god."

20, 6. Capitalize the first words in the text and interlinear. For "pai," read "pa-i."

21, 1. Supply "aká," the sub., after "wa'újinga," and capitalize "ke" and "come."

21, 8. Supply "ñí," when, after "ga'teqti."

21, 9. For "ikágewaqáqé amá," read "ikágewaqáqé ama qá'," referring to a single Pawnee. Corresponding changes should be made in the translation, page 22: "O grandchild! a young Pawnee, your friend, met me and took me to his home. As he made me eat, I did not come home."

21, 11. For "wakéga, á-biamá," read "wakéga amá, she was sick, they say."

23, 2. For "kíde," read "kéde," the recl. ob., when.

23, 4. For "éga'í édega," read "éga' édega."

23, 12. For "éñi" read "ñi," you are.

23, 19. For "nají'i-gá," read "najíñ'-gá," stand thou.

24, 4. Omit "aká" after "ñáqti-gikidabi."

24, lines 4-6 of translation. Read thus: "And when ñáqti-gikidabi thought, 'At last they will be apt to kill them!' he went thither." The last line should read, "They cut it up, and divided it between them."

25, 4. "Unai" should be rendered, "Were sought."

25, 5. For "ibisande atá-qti," read "ibisandeaqá-qti, pressing close against."

26, 3. For "áma amá," read "a'ma amá."—Frank La Flèche. I have suspected that there was another form of this word, judging from the Dakota equivalent "a'ma (uyma);" but I never heard it among the Ponkas. Compare níja and ní'ja; búja and bú'a; béni and béni'; mácaka and máca'ka, etc.—D. For "paháciaja," read "paháciajáta."

26, 9. Omit "é," and read "áwatéjáta," whence?

26, 10. For "çíadi ga^w a^wçizai," read "çíadi a^wçize há"; as "a^wçizai" requires the classifier "aká" or "amá" after the subject.

26, 10. For "uqíqpaçé," read "uqíqpaçé" making them full by pulling them."

30, 22. For "O elder brother, of what sort is it when you do that?" read: "O elder brother, how is it that you are?"

32, 1. For "iqa^w aká," read "iqa^w çínké."

32, 5-6. For "Macteiñ'ge ç'di ahi-bi çl," read "Macteiñ'ge ç'di hí çl."

32, 9. For "íba-ha^w-bi," read "íba-ha^w-bi."

33, 4. Translate "etai éde" by "should have."

33, 8. For "çahé kē bēazáçā-biamá," read "çuhé kē bēazáçē amá." For "uqéwiñ-waçai," read "uqéwiñ-çā-biamá, he collected it, they say."

33, 16. For "çehé," read "çéhe," and for "da^wbá-gā," read "da^wba-gā."

35, 2. For "wéçixuxá," read "wéçixuxá-hi." (Other Omahas, however, say, "wé-çixuxu-hi."—D.)

36, 1. For "najiñ'-gā," read "najiñ'-gā, stand ye."

36, 5. Translate each "tē" by "when."

36, 10. As the subject of this sentence is "wamiñ" instead of "Macteiñ'ge," the sentence should read thus: "Macteiñ'ge wamiñ má kē jide ké amá, çiqai tē." "Jide ké amáma" would refer to a line of red objects in motion.

38, 2. Omit "á-biamá" after "Uhu!"

38, 3. Supply "çā^wçti," heretofore, after "ka^wbçéga."

38, 5. Omit "á-biamá" after "Kagé."

38, 6. Omit "Kagé, á-biamá." (But we have such a use in English: "My friend," said he, "my friend, I have something to say to you."—D.)

38, 7. Omit "á-biamá" after "Añ'kaji."

38, 8. For "witef tee" read "witef te," the regular pronunciation.

38, 9. Supply "çl," when, after "çai"; and omit "á-biamá" after "ji^wçéha."

38, 10. Omit "ji^wçéha."

38, 11. Omit "aká" after "Ictínike."

38, 14. Omit "amá," after "Macteiñ'ge."

39, 2. Omit "aká."

39, 14; 39, 20. For "Ma^wçí^w-bagi a^wçí^w máma," read "Ma^wçí^w-bagi a^w máma."

39, 18; 40, 3; 40, 7. Omit "amá" after "Ictínike."

40, 20. Supply "ā," before "á-biamá. It is equivalent to "áha."

43, 3. Read, "Uhe a^wwa^wçā mañçéñ'-gā."

44, 16. For "Ga^w-hniñké," read "Gā-miñké, You who are that one out of sight."

44, 16. For "ēbécetē," read "ēbē ctēwa^w."

44, 18. For "gçí^w miñké," read "agçí^w miñké."

45, 6. For "uqápa^wñi oníñké," read "uqápa^w oníñké."

45, 8. For "éga^wçti" read "éga^wçti-na^w." (Or, "éga^wçti-hua^w."—D.)

46, 2. Omit "á-biamá" after "dūaça."

46, 10. Supply "aká," the sub., after "jiñ'ge."

50, 3. For "gçé çínké," read "çéçínké," this st. ob.

50, 3-4. Read: "Ga^w kida-bi ega^w, kūsandēçti iça^wçā-biamá. Uqpaçé í amá çl, uqá amá." (The sentences in the text are correct, but Nuda^w-axa gave short ones because he was dictating.—D.)

50, 4; 50, 10; et passim. For "ꞵepápa" and "ꞵepápa," read "ꞵepáha" and "ꞵepáha," as the speaker was a male.

50, 7-8. Read: "Wuhu+al i^cáge áhe ga^wpa inabiⁿ áhaⁿ, á-bi egaⁿ, wápaⁿ tē g^honudá-biamá bēúga."

50, 9. Supply "Gañ'ñl," the introductory "And," before "q^habé."

51, 5. Supply "ñl," when, after "fé amá."

52, 7. Supply "ññké," after "wa'ú."

52, 9; 52, 19. Read: "Hi+! á-bi egaⁿ, q^hába-biamá."

53, 8-9. Read: "Daⁿba-bi ñl, Hi+! á-bi egaⁿ, q^hába-biamá."

52, 17; 53, 7; 53, 17. Translate "u^hq^hpa^h-bikéama" by "had been caused to fall and lie there, they say."

53, 11. Omit "á-biamá."

54, 1. For "i^wñl agí te," read "i^wñl iwakí^h te hā, let him cause them to bring it to me." This should be the reading of 55, 1.

57, 1; 57, 10. Supply "aká" after "Si^hemakaⁿ."

57, 5. Omit the first "jaⁿ-biamá."

57, 7. Supply the feminine oral period, "hé," after "t'é ké."

58, 3-4. Read: "Hiⁿbññ'ge ité^hññal gē uñ-biamá újiha ké."
Beans they piled the he put in, sack the.
 theirs (scattered) they say

58, 7. Supply "amá" after "ñññññ."

58, 8. For "agí tē," read "gí tē."

58, 14. Supply "ké'di," in the, after "Qáde."

59, 2. For "úpaⁿ-biamá," read "úpaⁿ amá."

59, 35-36. For "collecting the beans he put them in a sack," read "he put in the sack their beans which they had piled up here and there."

60, 2. Read: "Ietínike é'di fé amá," or "Ietínike amá é'di a^há-biamá."

60, 3. Supply "ñl," if, after "Eátaⁿ ámaⁿ."

61, 6. "Jañgáqti ááññé," or "Jañgáqti-máce, Ye who are very large."

62, 1. For "Wab^hátē te'ja," read "Wab^háte tádaⁿ, on account of my eating them."

62, 9. For "q^hatá-biamá, they bit it, they say," read "q^hatá-biamá, they ate it, they say."

62, 18. Omit "aká" after "Ietínike."

63, 3. Supply "amá" after "Nikaciⁿga," and "aká" after "Ietínike."

63, 13. For "ññññ/q^htei," read "ñññññ/q^htei, you have none at all."

63, 15. For "tabádaⁿ," read "tádaⁿ."

63, 20. Supply "aká" after "Ietínike."

71, 15. For "hau, ó ga^w-amá," read "Hau. E ga^w amá, ¶ While moving, some time after that occurrence."

72, 5. Omit the first "á-biamá."

72, 7. Supply "amá," the sub., after "Aⁿpaⁿ." Read "ññaciⁿga-ma," the men; so also in line 8.

72, 13. For "ñizá-bi," read "ñizá-biamá."

72, 14. For "jññ'ga," read "jññ'ga-ma," the small ones (pl. ob.).

75, 4. Omit "éññhe fé^hññ."

75, 5. For "maⁿññ-biamá," read "g^hññ amá, he sat, they say;" as he could not walk when confined in the tree.

- 75, 6. Omit "áqfáa wéfé qí," and supply, after "wa'á amá," "wéfé ahf-bi qí," joining this to the next sentence.
- 75, 7; 75, 10. For "qí," again, read "qí," when.
- 75, 7. For "ti-biamá," read "ti amá."
- 75, 8. For waiⁿ-biamá," read "wáinⁿ-biamá."
- 75, 10. Supply "kē" after "sin'de."
- 75, 13. Supply "aká" after "Ietínike."
- 75, 11. Supply "amá" after "Ietínike."
- 76, 14. Supply "tē" after "daqfúge."
- 79, 16. Supply "egaⁿ," having, after "aⁿfiⁿ-bi."
- 79, 17. Supply "eti," too, after "kē," and read "aⁿfiⁿ-biamá" for "aⁿfiⁿ-bi."
- 80, 14. After "jīn'gajiqti," supply "h'c tē gaqáqti-bi."
horn the branching very (pale) much, they say
- 80, 17. For "fiñké," read "aká."
- 80, 18. Read: "ē'di ahf-bi qí, ē'di gēiⁿ-biamá, when he arrived," etc.
- 81, 8. For "aṅgaxai adaⁿ," read "aṅgaxai-daⁿ," we do it, when.
- 83, 1. For "taⁿwañgēaⁿ e," read "taⁿwañgēaⁿ-ma," the villages or nations.
- 84, 8. For "eⁿégaⁿ égaⁿ," read "eⁿégaⁿ-bi egaⁿ."
- 84, 10. For "ákizá-biamá," read "ákiza amá."
- 84, 12. For "wáqu fionuⁿ i kē íkíē-hnaⁿ-biamá," read "wáqu fionuⁿ i kēde íkíēa-biamá, they found by accident the awls which had been dropped."
- 84, 14. "sátāⁿhai," in five places.
- 84, 15-16. Read: "ēgiē máfe amá qí, nájīnga naⁿba naⁿ-biamá,"
At length writer they when, boy two grown, they say.
- 85, 1. For "áfaskabe áfa-biamá," read "áfaskabeⁿ-biamá, they made it stick;" and for "áma," the other, read "áman" or "aⁿma."
- 85, 15. For "wahútaⁿfiⁿ," read "man'dē."
- 87, 14. Supply "gaⁿ," as, before "pi."
- 88, 4. "áaⁿéaⁿ, there is a cause, blame."
- 96, 1. For "kē" read "qí," when.
- 96, 8. For "gaxá-bi egaⁿ," read "gláxa-bi egaⁿ, having made it for him, they say."
- 96, 11. Omit "aká" after "Ietínike."
- 97, 5; 97, 7; 97, 10. For "gaⁿtégaⁿ," read "gaⁿtegaⁿ."
- 97, 7. For "waonize te," read "onize te, you may take it."
- 97, 14; 97, 17. For "jīngá-baji," read "jīn'ga-baji."
- 97, 18. For "waⁿibagiqti," read "waⁿibagiqti."
- 99, 1. Read: "Inⁿgēaⁿ-siⁿ-snéde Mīyasi cénaⁿba ákikipá-biamá."
- 99, 7. For "ágēiⁿ te hā," read "ágēiⁿ-biamá, he sat on him, they say."
- 99, 8. "pamákode" or "pamaⁿkide."
- 99, 13. Translate "aká" by "the ones who."
- 100, 4. For "é wawagiká-biamá," read "é wawagiká-bi egaⁿ."
- 100, 7. For "ágigēiⁿ-daⁿ," read "ágigēiⁿ-bi egaⁿ."
- 100, 15. Omit "fiñké."
- 101, 1. For "naⁿaⁿi," read "naⁿaⁿ-bi."—D.
- 102, 13. of translation. Supply "cum ea" after "mane."

109, 6. After "ákingéá-biamá" insert the following: "Kí Míyusi aká ubáhaya

And Coyote the (pub.) to the side (of the path) na^msi áláta-biamá. Ádaⁿ bíonaⁿ ákusan'de áláta-biamá jenúga uimá." Buffal- the leaping had gone, they There missing far beyond had gone, they ball the

say. fore him in passing say (sub.).

say. fore him in passing say ball (sub.)

For "éakaⁿbeégaⁿ," read "éakaⁿ oheégaⁿ, it might be I think "

For "éskaⁿbégaⁿ," read "éskaⁿ ebégaⁿ, it might be, I think."

103, 13. Supply "amá" after "Lenúga."

104, 7; 104, 12. Supply "amá" after "Jenúga jif'ga."

104, 10. Supply "ä," the interrogative sign after "eka^{na}ona."

104, 13. For "jáha-bi," read "jahá-bi-dé, when he thrust at it, they say."

107, 1. Read:—

"Waha^{n'}ciige aká iya^{n'} júgigée akáma. ya^{n'}há, ní en^{n'}á bée te, á-biamá."

Orphan the his was with his, they Grand- vil- to the I go will, said he, they (sub.) grand- may. mother, lage mother. say.

107 2 Supply "6 biomé in" aké" after "délis b6-" and "6 biomé Wab-

107. 2. Supply “á-biamá iṣaⁿ aká,” after “Ṣájí-á hé;” and “á-biamá Wahaⁿṣi-cige aká” after “bẹ́ ta mífike.” Join the next sentences, thus: “È-ṣa aṣá-bi egaⁿ, jì ẹ̀an’di ahi-biamá.”

107, 4. After "a^{pe}i ti^{ai}-gū" supply "á-biamá," referring to the men. "Mucteⁱⁿge čida^{be} ti há^s" was said to the head-chief by his attendants. Then the head-chief gave his orders to the people: "Ké, a^{pe}iⁿ gū^g," etc., ending with "Égaxe i^{an}čai-gū;" after which supply "á-biamá níku^gai aká."

107, 5. The next words were said to the Rabbit by the chief: "Ké, waŋátcigáxe taté há, egá-biamá Macteiŋ'ge, Come, you shall dance, said he to the Rabbit."

107, 6. Read: "Ké, iⁿquxál-gă, á-biamá Macteiñ'ge aká."

107, 7. After "oniw' hā" supply "á-biamá nikaci^{ng}a amá," as the men said that to the Rabbit.

107, 9. "Ēgaxe iɕaⁿ/ɕai-gǎ. Gañ'ɣl ánasái-gǎ hǎ" is not as good as "Ēgaxe iɕaⁿ/ɕa-bádaⁿ ánasái-gǎ hǎ." See "bádaⁿ" in the Dictionary.

107, 14. For “~~éééé~~ ɣl,” read “~~icééca~~-bi egan’.”

107, 15. For “Ū^aeiŋ’ge ɕanájɪⁿ,” read “Ū^aeiŋgé ɕanájɪⁿl.”

108, 1. Frank La Flèche has returned to the regular pronunciation "wajjñ'ga."

108, 4. For "álgáça-biamamá," read "álgáça umáma, carrying on his arm—was, as he moved, they say."

109, 3. Read: "Kí Waha^{n'}éicige aká kída-biamá ɣí, t'éca-biamá."

110, 6. For "wéncii," read "wíncii;" and for "wábeinⁿwiⁿ," read "wábeinⁿwiⁿ."

110, 7. Supply "aká" after "Wa'újiũga."

110, 20. Change the first word, "ta," to "fiñkó," to agree with "biñkó-ama" that follows, implying that she was placed in a sitting attitude.

111, 10. For “niúficaⁿ,” read “néuficaⁿ.”

111, 18. For “ěbái tǐ,” read “ěbé iⁿte.”

112, 15. Supply "akā" after "Cinuda", which he gives as "Cinuda." See note on 26, 3.

116. 3-4. For “çé amá ɣl,” read “açá-biamá ɣl,” to agree with the following “çu-biamá.” For “çizé amá,” read “çizá-biamá,” having for its subject “nújĩnga” understood.

117, 1. Supply "caⁿ" after "wabágeze jiñ'ga."

117, 5. Supply "amá" after "Níaci'nga," as it refers to all the Indians.

117, 18. Supply "aká" after "nújiŋga."

118, 1-2. Change "kagá" and "kagó" to "kagéha," my friend. (But I have heard two or three say "kagá."—D.)

118, 9. Supply the interrogative "a" after "wédaxe taté."

118, 11. Read: "ijáje ɕadá-bi ega", Ni-úha-ma"ɕi-á!" etc.

118, 13; 118, 14; et passim. "Aki-biamá" may be translated by "reached there again, they say." This is a secondary meaning.

119, 8. Supply "aká" after "Nújiŋga."

120, 1. Supply "ɕiŋké" after each "ijaŋ'ge," and "ɕa" after "ta"waŋɕa."

120, 16. Supply "ɕa" after "ta"waŋɕa."

121, 10. Supply "ɕi," when, after "aki-bi."

122, 15. Joseph La Flèche gave me, "ɕéze ɕa", the tongues;" but his son Frank says that "ɕéze ɕa" means "the one tongue," and that we must say "ɕéze gě" for "the tongues." According to analogy, Frank is correct.—D.

124, 15. Change "agɕi" to "agɕi há."

125, 11. As several soldiers or policemen were addressed, read: "ahni" cki tai há," instead of the singular, "ahni" cki te."

126, 1. Change "gɕi" tē" to "gɕi" biamá."

126, 9. Supply "amá" after "wanáce."

131, 1. Read:—

Waha"ɕicige aká iha" iɕádi eɕa"ba gí'a-biamá ɕi, ijaŋ'ge ɕiŋké júgigɕa-biamá.
 Orphan the his his he too died for him, when, his sister the one he was with her, they say.

131, 3. Supply "aká" after "Waha"ɕicige."

132, 14. Supply "aká" after "nújiŋga."

132, 16. Change the first part of the line to "máqa-biamá. Kí jégɕa-biamá."

133, 16. Supply "aká" after "Je-mi"ga."

133, 17. For "ija"he," read "ija"he."

133, 18. Supply "aká" after "wa'ú."

134, 2. Supply "ɕiŋké" after "Je-jiŋ'ga."

134, 5. Supply "ta" after "Ictinike."

134, 11. For "aɕá-biamá," read "agɕá-biamá."

134, 12. For "amá aɕai," read "ɕi" ɕé."

134, 16; 134, 21; 135, 5. For "amá" read "ɕi."

135, 17. Supply "ta" after "Je-sa" jiŋga."

135, 20. Supply "kě," the recl. ob., after "Je-mi"ga."

136, 1. "Je-mi"ga kě ɕicpápa ɕiŋgě'qti gáxa-biamá," or "Je-mi"ga kě ɕiŋgě'gě-qti" biamá," the latter meaning, "They reduced to nothing at all the body of the female buffalo."

136, 13. Supply "wi," one, after "ékiga"qti."

136, 17. Change "ɕizai tē" to "ɕizá-biamá."

140, 4. Supply "kě," the long object, after "Maja", as "áhe" conveys the idea of length.

141, 6. Change "A-igɕi" biamáma" to "A-igɕi" amáma."

144, 19. Change "na"pehi"qti-t'é etéga" ɕaŋká amá" to "na"pehi" t'é téga"qti" ɕaŋká amá."
 the ones they say. "hungry to die very apt

147, 1. Change "ɕededi-amáma" to "ɕededi-ɕa" amá."

147, 4. Change "Nu aké" to "Nu aká."

- 149, 5. Supply "fiⁿ" after "qíjúka."
 149, 12. Supply "amá" after "ijii'ge."
 149, 16. Change "dájub inahiⁿ há" to "djúb inahí áhaⁿ."
 150, 10. Supply "kè" after "éde."—D.
 151, 2. Supply "xl," when, after "ákuⁿ-bi."
 151, 5. Change "qéaje-hnaⁿ.bi" to "qéaje-hnaⁿ-biamá."
 151, 9. Change "éépai" to "éépa-biamá."
 152, 18. Read: "Ci gaⁿte amá xl, Landé."
 152, 19. Change "e'égaⁿ égaⁿ" to "e'égaⁿ-bi egaⁿ."
 153, 3. Supply "akú" after "Jé-wa'tijiū'ga."
 154, 2; 154, 7. Supply "xl," when, after "égasáni."
 154, 13. Supply "fiⁿ" after "niaci'ga."
 154, 15. Supply "amá" after the second "Wa'újijaⁿ."
 156, 1. Change "atí tē" to "atí-bi xl: he came, they say—when."
 156, 5. Supply "xé" after "hi'qpé."
 162, 6. Change "snédeqti" to "snédeaqti."
 162, 8. Insert "taⁿ" the classifier, after "nújiŋga."
 162, 9. Insert "wiⁿ," one, after "ciñ'gajii'ga."
 163, 5; et passim. Change "háajiŋga" to "hájiŋ'ga."
 163, 6. Read: "śasaqtiaⁿ amá" and "úda'qtiaⁿ amá." Omit "e."
 163, 8. Omit the second "égiqe."
 163, 9. Insert the classifier "ké" between "hájiŋga" in the preceding line and "gaségaⁿ."
 163, 10. Omit the "ei" before "naⁿ;" and "Naⁿ amá" in the next line; making the text read thus: "Ci nújiŋga ída'ai fiñk'é naⁿ amá xl, ei agiahi-biamá."
 163, 13. Omit "ei" at the end of the line.
 163, 14. Insert the classifier "taⁿ" after "nújiŋga" at the beginning of the line. Omit "ei nújiŋga" at the end of the line.
 163, 15. Omit the classifier "fiⁿ" at the beginning of the line.
 163, 16. Insert "wiⁿ," one, after "Hi'qpé-ágqe."
 163, 18. Insert the classifier "fiⁿ" after "nújiŋga."
 163, 19. Insert the classifier "fiⁿ" after "nújiŋga," and omit the following "égiqe."
 164, 3. Change "wágiati ede," to "wágiati-dé, they came for them, when."
 164, 4. Change "éde," but, to "xl," when; and omit the "h" in "é'ewa'eje-hnaⁿi."
 164, 6. "Ke," Now!
 164, 7–8. Insert the classifier "ké" after the first "hi'qpé," and omit the second "hi'qpé."
 164, 11. Insert the classifier "fañká," the ones who, after "dába;" and change "fiñk'é'di" at the end of the line to "fiñk'é."
 164, 20. Read: "nújiŋga taⁿ é waká-bi egaⁿ," boy that mean, they having.
 (said ob.) say
 165, 2. Read: "An'kaji há, piñji éde ecéce há, No, it is bad, but you say it often"—said by the bad men. The text and translation give these as the words of Hi'qpé-ágqe.
 165, 14. Change the first clause, so as to read, "ei nújiŋga Hi' qpé-ágqe aká pa-hañ'ga aki-biamá."
 165, 20. Change "Ahi-baji-bi xl" to "Adaⁿ" Therefore.

534 THE PEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

166, 3. Insert the interrogative sign "h," between "ḥaa^hhe" and the following comma.

166, 14. Change "ḥi^a" to "amá."

166, 20. For "éskana," read "é eskaⁿ," that—it might be."

167, 6. Read:—

"wanān^u/deagḥájl aoniⁿ hē, you keep it because you do not loathe it."
"you do not loathe it you have it (fem.)"

167, 13. Omit "aká" after "wiwija."

167, 16. Insert the classifier "ḥiṅké" after "ijaⁿḥe."

167, 18; et passim. He writes "naⁿ" instead of "hnaⁿ," which latter form is used by Joseph La Flèche and others. The three forms are all used: "anaⁿ" being the ancient one; "hnaⁿ," a modern equivalent, used by old men of the present day; and "naⁿ," the latest, used by the young men.—D.

168, 1. Omit the second "Aki-biamá."

168, 3. Omit "ḡdi."

168, 5. Omit "aká" before "t'ḡḡḡ."

168, 10. Omit "Niaciⁿga" at the beginning of the line.

168, 15. Change "Niaciⁿga" to "Niaciⁿga amá," The men (pl. sub.).

168, 16. Insert "aká" after "miⁿjūga."

168, 17. Supply "amá" after "cínudaⁿ."

168, 18. dážqtei, "very late in the evening."

168, 19. For "maⁿhniⁿ," read "maⁿoniⁿ," the ancient form. See note on 167, 18.

169, 3. Omit "ḡdi," as superfluous after "cḥiḡetḡdi."

169, 4. Omit "á-biamá."

169, 6. Supply "tē" after "jaⁿḡḡ," so also in the next line, before "ḡetēḡ hē."

169, 20. For "aṅḡḡḡ tai," read "aṅḡḡḡ te há."

170, 3. Supply "wiⁿ," one, after the first "niaciⁿga;" and "ḥi^a" after the second "niaciⁿga," which is the object of the following verb.

170, 6. Omit "hiⁿḡḡḡ" at the end of the line.

170, 10. For "waḡáta-bájiḡḡⁿ-biamá," read "waḡáta-bájiḡḡⁿ-bi egaⁿ," when he ate nothing at all, they say."

170, 11. After "Ataⁿ/etḡqtei" supply "-naⁿ," (Or "-hnaⁿ,"—D.)

170, 13. Read: "Edádaⁿ ekaⁿ/na tē éḡijaⁿ taté há, á-biamá. Níkanaⁿ-jīha wáijijⁿ taté há, á-biamá."

177, 1. For "Uḡagacaⁿ/ji," read "Uḡagacaⁿ/ajl."

177, 12. Read: "Gaⁿ jū ḡanⁿ/di ahi-biamá." Omit "ḡdi ahi-biamá ḡi."

177, 16. He reads "Nikawasá" for "Nikawasaⁿ," but the latter is in common use.—D.

177, 17. Omit "éḡiḡe" at the beginning, and supply "há" before "á-biamá."

177, 20; 178, 12; 179, 5. For "t'ḡaⁿḡa-bájl é," read "t'ḡaⁿḡa-bájl tá-bi, ai."

178, 2; 179, 8. For "t'ḡḡa-bi," read "t'ḡḡḡ."

178, 18. For "egaⁿ," read "ḡi," when.

178, 19. For "ihéḡa-gā," read "ihéḡai-gā," place ye.

179, 2. Omit the first "éḡiḡe," and change "ḡḡḡḡḡ" to "ḡḡḡḡḡ-ḡi."

179, 3. Read thus: "Éḡiḡe wadaⁿbe aḡá-biamá ḡi, maⁿteá wiⁿ iḡa-biamá."

179, 19. For "nújūga aká," read "nújūga ḡi."

- 179, 20. Supply "ga^w," as, after "aŋga^wʔai."
- 180, 5. Supply "tē" after "cúde."
- 180, 12. Supply "wi^w," one, after "i^we'áǵēqteí."
- 180, 13. "Na'ekí" or "naekí," See note on 28, 3. Read "jiñ'ga-etēwa^w-bájl, by no means small"; and supply "ʔa^w" after "najiha."
- 180, 14. Read:—
 "Kí nuda^whaŋga ʔiⁿ qí tē úde ʔé tē'di, i^we'áǵe ʔiñké wébaha^waji amá."
 And war-chief the lodge the enter-went when, old man the (st. one) knew him not they say.
 (mv.) (ob.) ing
- 180, 15. Supply "qí," when, after "ga^wʔiñké'qti."
- 181, 11. For "e'ǵǵa^w," read "e'ǵǵa^w.bi."
- 181, 17. For "hni^w," read "oni^w."
- 182, 14. For "ʔañké," read "ʔañká."
- 182, 16. Omit "áha^w" after "inahi^w"; and supply it after "miñké."
- 182, 17-18. Read: "Wi^w ʔiñké najiha skú'qti ǵga^w, ga^w wi^w ʔiñké jidēqti, kí wi^w ʔiñké ziqti, kí wi^w ʔiñké júqti an áʔa."
- 183, 5. Supply "ʔañká" after "dúba."
- 183, 20. Supply "ǵē," the scattered inanimate objects, after "najiha."
- 189, 1. Read: "I'ádi aká nikagahi-biamá qí, ǵá-biamá," etc.
- 189, 2. For "Nika^whi," read "Nika^wahi"; and for "nika^whi-májl," read "nika^wahi-májl."
- 189, 3-4. Read "ádae há. Ú^wa'ʔiñ'ge a^wqtiñ'ga^w-májl há, áda^w ǵga^w wika^wbəhá há."
 For "a^wqti'ǵiǵa^w," read "a^wqti'ǵiǵa^w te há, you will be a great man."
- 189, 5. For "Nújiñga," read "Kí nújiñga aká."
- 189, 6. For "aká na^wqa," read "ta^w na^wqa-hi."
- 189, 6-7. Read: "Ǵǵiǵe a^wpa^w d'úba wéʔa-biamá qí, cañ'ge," etc.
- 189, 8-9. Read: "mi^wle a^wpa^w.ma wagʔáde aʔá-biamá. A^wpa^w-mádi ahi-biamá crawling the elk creeping up he went, they At the elk (pl. ob.) he arrived.
 to them say. they say.
- qí, ácaqteí wakida-biamá. Kí wi^w ú-bi ʔa^wja," etc.
 when, very close he shot at them, And one he wounded, though, they say.
- 189, 11. For "naji^w-biamá. Kíwéahidē'qti," read "naji^w amá há. Kíwéahidē'qti."
- 189, 12. For "wakan'diǵega^w," read "wakan'diǵa-bi ǵga^w."
- 189, 14. For "ēdedi-te amá," read "ē'diedi-te amá." (The former is generally used.—D.)
- 189, 16. Read: "ʔiéwa'ja^w ǵga^w, nija te," etc.
- 189, 17-18. Read "Báazá-bi ga^w a^wha-biamá."
- 190, 2. For "ǵáwada^wbe tē'di," read "ǵáwada^wba-bi qí."
- 190, 3. Read: "cí ní tē ʔata^w ʔé qí, cí Wē's'á aká ǵa^wbe atí-biamá. Cí a^whe amá."
 Omit the final "Cí."
- 190, 4. Omit "wéduba^w tē." For "áda^wbe tē'di," read "da^wba-bi qí."
- 190, 12. Read "a^wwa^wʔate te há, ecé te hē."
- 190, 17-18. Read: "Na^wbúqíqá ʔa^w ʔionúda-bi ǵga^w, eea^wadi iǵa^wʔa-biamá. Ké, a^wwa^wʔate taté há, á-bi qí, ǵǵiǵe wa^wú," etc.
- 190, 19. Omit "qí ʔasni^w-biamá."
- 190, 20. Supply "aká" after "Wē's'á-wa^wú."
- 190, 21. Supply "aká" after "nújiñga."
- 191, 5. Read "i^we'áǵe amá," and "wa^wú watoǵaxe-má."

- 191, 6. For "Ca'ekaxe tai á-biamá aça!" read "Ca'ekaxe tai há."
- 191, 10. For "Ɔionúda-biamá," read "Ɔa," the curvilinear inanimate object.
- 191, 11. Omit "Ɔionúd."
- 191, 12. For "á-bi ega," read "á-bi ɣl."
- 191, 21. For "tai," read "tá-bi."
- 192, 1. Change "wa'ú amá" to "wa'ú-ma," the women.
- 192, 2. Change the plural, "Ca'ekaxe tai," etc., to "Ca'ekaxe te, ai aça+," omitting "á-biamá."
- 192, 6; 192, 9; 192, 17; 193, 13. Supply "Ɔa" after "ra'búɣiqɣa."
- 192, 7. Change "ega" to "ɣl," when.
- 192, 9. Change "Ɔiñké" to "aká."
- 192, 10. Change "na' Ɔi' wateigaxe te" to "na'-ma wateigaxe tai há," the grown ones let them dance
- 192, 10-11. Change "Cémi'jii'ga Ɔanu' Ɔáɣi'cé wa'ɣateigaxe tai aça+" to "Cémi'-jii'ga-máce, wa'ɣateigaxe te, ai aça."
- 192, 12. Change "amá" to "Ɔi'."
- 192, 14. Change "úha' ágají-biamá" to "úha' wágají-biamá." The former takes a singular object, the latter, a plural.
- 192, 15. Read "na'pa'hi" instead of the alternative form, "na'pa'hi'." See note on 26, 3.
- 192, 17. Translate "aɣúha" by again. (But the meaning is rather, "in addition to," with an idea of finality.—D.)
- 192, 19-20. Read "Ukkie-na'-biamá ɣl, iɣádi aká na'a'-biamá." Also, "da'baɣ-gá há."
- 193, 2. Read "júɣe ɣɣi' aká hě, she is sitting with him."
- 193, 4. Supply "aká" after "wa'ú."
- 193, 4-5. Read "Éɣiɣe nú aká aɣá-biamá ɣl, wa'ú úda'qti wi' iɣa-biamá ɣl, gá-biamá," etc.
- 193, 6. Read: "tá miñke há. Ɔiadi ɣiha' eɣa'ba úwagiɣá-gá há, á-biamá. Gañ'ɣi wa'ú ai ugá," etc. "Eɣa'ba," she too; "ugá," to tell about her own.
- 193, 12. "Éɣi' ahí-bi ega." Or, "Éɣi' ahí-bi ɣl."
- 193, 16. Change "bɣé tá miñke, á-biamá," to "bɣé tá miñke há."
- 193, 16-17. "Cañ'ge ta' na'qa cánakagɣe iñ'gɣa'ɣi-gá." This should be changed, either to "Cañ'ge ta' cánakagɣe iñ'gɣa'ɣi-gá," or to "Cañ'ge ta' na'qa-hi iñ'gɣa'ɣi-gá." The former means "Put the saddle on the horse for me"; the latter, "Put it on the horse's backbone for me."
- 193, 17-18. "Wáɣaha . . . Aɣá-biamá" (the first one). Read: "Wáɣaha úda'qti aɣahá-bi ega', cañ'ge ta' etí úda'qti, cánakagɣe etí úda'qti' aɣá-biamá."
- 193, 19. Change "Nihañ'ga tē" to "Nihañ'ga tē'a"; and omit "Sigɣnɣúgihá-biamá."
- 193, 21. Change "ɣi tē piñjiqti" to "ɣi piñjiqti wi', a very bad lodge." "Sigɣnɣú-gihe aɣá-bi" may be changed to "U'ɣúgihe aɣá-bi: following his own—he went, they say."
- 194, 2. The first "akáma" may be omitted, if desired. Then read: "wáɣaha tē ɣiɣepaɣteia' akáma: ɣlothing—tue—torn in shreds as to it—he was, they say."
- 194, 3. Omit "ahí ɣl." Change "eɣá tē" to "eɣai tē."
- 194, 4. Change "ehnéga" to the ancient form, "eɣnéga."
- 194, 7. "áhnaha hné." Or, "áhnaha oné."
- 194, 8. Insert "wi', one," after "etí"; and "etí" after "wahíɣage."

- 194, 9. Change "hné te" to "né te hǎ"; and "ǎdédíǎn" to "ǎ'díedíǎn".
 194, 11. Change "gǎi^w" to the plural, "gǎi^wi hǎ."
 194, 13. "Ga^w" may be omitted.
 194, 14. Supply "kǎ" after "Ni-ǎũga." For "gǎxai," read "gǎxa-iǎ."
 194, 15. Omit "i^wǎǎge aká."
 194, 16. Supply "wi^w, 'one, after "ǎi."
 194, 17. For "ǎde ga^w," read "ǎde tǎ," the smoke.
 194, 20; 195, 6; 196, 2. For "ngídada^w-bi," read "ngídida^w-bi," from "ubida^w."
 195, 4; 195, 6; 195, 13; 197, 10. Supply "ǎa^w" after "waǎǎge."
 195, 5. Supply "ǎa^w" after "niniba." (This must refer to the pipe bowl, without the stem, as the whole pipe is "niniba kǎ.")—D. See liue 16.)
 195, 8. Supply "aká" after "Áma"; and change "ǎwíadǎibe, ǎhé te" to "ǎwíadǎibe hǎ." After "ǎenǎi" supply either "ǎ," the interrogative, or "ǎiste," as in the preceding line.
 195, 11. Instead of "Hau! ha!" the Omahas now use "Wábu'á!"
 195, 12. Read "ǎja^wi" at end of line.
 195, 14. Change "gǎéwaǎǎǎi" to the objective singular, "gǎéǎǎǎi, you sent him homeward"; and supply "hǎ" after "ǎwi^wabǎi."
 195, 16. "ǎaná-bi ega^w." Or, "ǎaná-bi ǎi."
 195, 17. Supply "aká" after "Áma."
 195, 20. Read: "ǎǎae-na^wi hǎ."
 196, 4. Omit "ǎ-ǎ-ǎ-biamá ci"; and supply "ǎi" after "ǎíkaǎi^wga."
 196, 5. Change "gǎéwaǎǎǎiǎé" to "gǎéǎǎǎiǎé."
 196, 9. Change "ati" to "atii."
 196, 10. Change "ǎubǎi" to "ǎubǎiǎi."
 196, 11. "ti tǎ." Or, "ti ǎi."
 196, 18. Read: "ǎéǎǎǎǎi" and "kǎǎéǎǎǎé."
 196, 19. Change "ati-hna^w" to "ti-na^w."
 197, 1-2. Change "tai" to "tǎité hǎ"; and omit "ǎ-biamá."
 197, 2. Change "ati" to "ti." And in lines 3 and 4 change "ǎéwaǎǎǎǎǎi" to "ǎéǎǎǎǎǎi."
 197, 5. Omit the second "ǎ-biamá."
 197, 9. Change "wénǎa-biamá, íbistá-biamá," to "wénǎa-biamá ǎi, íbistá-biamá, when he snatched it from them," etc.
 198, 6. Change "Ca^wckaxe tǎité ǎ, Will you really stop it?"
 198, 15. Insert "amá" after "Wǎs'ǎ-wa^wǎ."
 199, 1. Read: "ǎǎǎǎ Wǎs'ǎ-wa^wǎ ǎǎǎǎ-biamá; nú wi' ǎǎǎǎ akáma."
 199, 2. Change "ǎǎǎǎ-biamá" to "ǎǎǎǎ-bi ega^w:" he hated him, they say—having."
 199, 3; 199, 18. Supply "ǎa^w" after "ǎa^wwaǎǎǎǎ."
 199, 4. At the end of the line read: "gaǎǎǎ-biamá ǎi, agǎǎ-biamá: he killed her, they say—when—went homeward, they say."
 199, 7. Read: "ǎhé ǎa^wǎtǎi," and "ǎné tǎité hǎ."
 199, 8. Read: "ma^wni^w" and "wáui^w."
 199, 9. Change "ga" - - - ǎ-biamá" to "ǎga^w ma^wǎi né tǎité hǎ, ǎ-biamá," and "ma^wǎi hǎ ǎi" to "ma^wǎi naí ǎi."—Frank La Flèche. But "nai" is the plural of "na," to beg, and means "they beg"; hence I prefer writing "ma^wǎi hnaí ǎi," when ye go on high, to avoid confusion; though, perhaps, the context would determine which verb was intended.—D.

199, 12; 199, 14. "ahí-biamá" should be "akí-biamá," as in line 15, "he reached there again, they say."

199, 13. Supply "kē" after "ni."

199, 14. For "čékiča-biamá," read "gčékiča-biamá, he sent him back, they say."

200, 2. For "Cañ'ge wahičageqtia^{wi}," read "Cañ'ge číⁱ wahičageqtia^{wi}."

200, 3. For "bčabčázēqtí," read "bčabčázāčēqtí, torn very much accidentally or of its own accord."

200, 5. Read: "Níaci^{ga} wi^w waqpáni teábe tí hā, á-biamá."

200, 6. "E^{di}" is superfluous.

200, 8. Read: "ca^w hā, čagčí tē, it is enough, since you have come home."

200, 12. Omit the first "á-biamá"; and read: "wa^u gátēdi číⁱ qtáačē hā, I love the woman who is in that place (out of sight)."

200, 13. For "čéwakiča-gā," read "čéwakiča-gā hā, á-biamá."

207, 1-2. If we retain "čínkē," we must change the verb to "watčuzgčā^w amá"; but if we retain "watčuzgčā^w-biamá," we must change the classifier "čínkē" to "aká."

207, 3. Change the line so as to read thus:

"nú aká qúha-bi ega^w, gā-biamá: Egiče, etc."
man the feared, they having, said as follows, Beware.
 (sub.) say they say:

Supply "wi^w," one, after "níkaci^{ga}."

207, 4. "Názugáqčē: Facing the back of the lodge"—D.

207, 4-5. Read: "Egiče nú čínkē é čé amá qí, níkaci^{ga} wi^w a-i-biamá."

207, 6. Change "ubáha ija^w" to "ubáha^w a-ija^w."

207, 7-8. Read: "Egiče nú číⁱ ábae tē gí amá qí, agčá-biamá i^wé'áge ahí aká."

207, 8; 207, 13. "A^w ā." Or, "E^a ā."

207, 9. "Ecé te čéga^w." Change to "Ecé te čā^w éga^w hē: i^wé'áge," etc.
What you said so it : old man.
 in the past was

207, 12-13. Read:—

"Čí nú číⁱ ábae tē gí amá qí, čí agčá-biamá i^wé'áge aká."
Again man the hunting the was coming when, again went homeward, old man the.
 (mv.) back, they say they say

Change "atí hē" to "atí hē."

207, 15. Change "Da^wbá-bi ega^w" to "Da^wba-bi qí."

207, 17. Supply "kē" after "wa^u."

208, 2. Read: "égihe ičéča-biamá" at the end of the line.

208, 3-4. Read: "Nú číⁱ kí amá qí, égiče wa^u kē t'čēč ákiágčā-bitéama, níxa kē mábčāza-bikéama." Change "jan'de kē" to "jan'de kē'di." Or else, omit the phrase.

208, 5. Read either "akí biamá nú aká" or "kí amá nú čínkē." Supply "wi^w," one, after "čiⁱgájiⁿga."

208, 8-9. Read: "Ma^wčída^w wakan'dagiqtia^w-biamá qí, Dadiha, man'dē jīⁿga iⁿgáxa-gū hā, á-biamá."

208, 9-10. Read: "Wajiⁿga gu^w wakide-hna^w-biamá qí, ičádi aká ábae ačé Bird so shooting at them regularly, when, his the hunting to go they say father (sub.)

tá-bi éga^w gí^wze-hna^w-biamá."
in order that, taught him regularly, they say

208, 10. Read: "jégčā^w-bi qí," or else, "jégčā^w-bi oga^w."

208, 12-13. Frank La Flèche changes "Wa^a gáxe a-i-biamá" to "Wa^a a-i-biamá: singing—he was coming, they say."

208, 18. He translates "kagéha" by "friend"; though in this case it means, "younger brother," in my opinion.—D.

208, 19. Change the plural, "a^uféte tai," to the dual, "a^uféte té há."

209, 4. Change "ouásni áhaⁿ" to "ouásniⁿ-naⁿ áhaⁿ."

209, 5. Read: "dadíha, é amá xī, gisíxajī amá le té." Change the last part of the next line so as to read: "É fé amá xī, cī nūjīnga amá."

He went they when, again boy the say (mv. sub.).

209, 8; 209, 17. Omit "nūjīnga činké."

209, 9. Read: "Kagé, číadi cugi, á-biamá gaⁿ, agčá-biamá cī."

209, 11. Read: "é amá xī, gisíxajī amá." For "giáxa-biamá," read thus:— he made for him, they say.

"giáxa-bi egaⁿ, cī a^uféa ačá-biamá."
he made for having, again leaving him he went, they say.

209, 13. Read: "Cī nūjīnga amá a-i-bi egaⁿ, Číadi ičé xī, á-biamá."

210, 6. Supply "kč" after "ásku."

210, 7. Read: "Čijj^učé čictaⁿčijj-gá, á-biamá gaⁿ, dáhaⁿ átiáča-biamá ičádi aká."
Your elder brother do not let him go, said, they as, arising he started, they his the father (sub.).

210, 7-8. Read: "Nūjīnga činké gčé gaⁿčaqtiⁿ xī, égičé ckaⁿčijj ičaⁿ-biamá."
Boy the one to go wished very when, at length motionless become suddenly, they say.

210, 9. Read: "Čijj^učé mégaⁿ nčákikčijj há, á-biamá."

210, 10. For "učíhi," read "učíhii há."

210, 11. Put a period after "wegáxai-gá"; and omit "á-biamá."

210, 13. Omit "égičé čdi."

210, 15; 211, 7. Supply "čaⁿčtī," heretofore, after "wágaji."

210, 15; 211, 7; 212, 10; 214, 8. For "Égičé," read "Égaⁿ." If so.

210, 16; 211, 8. After "Hín'degaⁿ" supply "aŋgáče te há, let us two go."

210, 19. At the end of the line read thus: "ubétaⁿ ačínⁿ."

211, 1; 221, 20; 231, 10. Supply "tč" after "čijébe."

211, 2. Supply "kč" after "čáqti."

211, 3; 212, 2. Change "ekaxe" to the plural, "ekáxai." (The dual, ekáxe, would answer just as well. See the above note on 210, 16.—D.)

211, 4-5. Read:—

"Cī ičádi aká ábae ačé á-bi tč'di, Égičé čijinde gátčdi hne tai há, á-biamá."
Again his the hunting was about when, Beware gorge to that you go lest said he, they say.

211, 6. Supply "te há" after "aŋgáče," instead of "tai."

211, 9. Supply "wiⁿ," one, after "wa'újīngačteí."

211, 10. Read: "čéčinké é činké; this one who is sitting—she—is the one who."

211, 16. Change "á-bi egaⁿ" to "á-biamá." Change "epačaⁿ" to "epačaⁿhč," and "Aⁿ" to "Eⁿ."

211, 17. Change "wábčaskábe éčé" to "wábčaskábe-naⁿ-maⁿ éče."

211, 18. Change "čiča čtétewaⁿ" to "čiča-bi caⁿ gaⁿ."

211, 19. Supply "čaⁿ" after "čindéhi" and "čindé-čén'a." So in 212, 5.

212, 1. Change "aŋgáči" to "aŋgáčii há."

212, 4. Read: "xáⁿhá, tičá-gá, á-biamá. Añ'kačijj éče, epačaⁿ hč."

212, 5. Change "wábčaskábe éčé" to "wábčaskábe-naⁿ-maⁿ éče."

212, 6. Read: "ugáqpačé ičéča-biamá."

- 212, 7. Change "kə'di" to "ɸan'di."
 212, 13. Supply the interrogative sign, "h," after "ahniw."
 213, 16. Supply "ɸanká," they who, after "līgɸa^w jīn'ga."
 214, 2. Omit "ɸa^w"; and change "ekáxo" to "ekáxai há."
 214, 5. Omit "g'di" after "keɸan'di."
 214, 6. Change "aŋgáɸe tai" to the dual, "aŋgáɸe te há."
 214, 14. Supply "amá" after "nújīŋga"; also in line 15 after "iɸádi." Omit "si té."
 219, 1. Read: "Ukikiji dubá-biamá ɸi, enáqtei ɸigɸa-biamá. Iha^w iɸaŋ'ge etəwa^w" —"ɸi," when; "etəwa^w" or "etɪwa^w," even, instead of "etɪ wi^w." 219, 2-3. Read: "ábae aɸá-biamá ɸi, isan'ga aká ɸiaɸa gɸi^w-biamá." Supply "kə" after "ja^w/jīŋga."
 219, 4. Supply "ɸi," when, after "iheɸa-biama."
 219, 5. Change "iji^wɸe" to "iji^wɸe-má," his elder brothers (the ob.).
 219, 9. Change "Aki-bi" to "Kí-bi." (The former is generally used.—D.)
 220, 4. Supply "ɸiŋké," she who, after "wa^wn"; and "amá," the plural sub., after "dúba."
 220, 8. Read: "waŋ'giɸe aki-biamá ɸi, égiɸe," etc., "when all her brothers reached home, b.-hold," etc.
 221, 5. Supply "ɸiŋké," she who, after "Mi^w/jīŋga."
 221, 7. Supply "ɸiŋké" after "wa^wú"; and change "edáda^w" to "dáda^w."
 221, 11. After "á-biamá" supply "wa^wú aká."
 221, 12; 221, 19. Supply "amá," the mv. sub., after "nújīŋga."
 221, 13. Read: "ahi-biamá ɸi, Niaci^wga dúba," etc.
 221, 17. Read: "amá," the mv. sub., instead of "ni," which is superfluous.
 222, 1. Read: "waɸpáni-etəwa^w-báɸi akáma há, wa^wú aká égɸaŋge eɸa^wba."
 222, 2. Change "giɸa^wbe ɸi," to "giɸa^wba-bi ɸi, when he saw his, they say."
 222, 3. Supply "aká" after "iɸaŋ'ge."
 222, 8. Change "jīŋgáqtei-hna^wi" to "jīŋgáqtei-na^w." Read: "Jaha^wha, O wife's brother," instead of "Jaha^w." Omit the second "Jaha^w."
 222, 9. Change "áha^w" to "há."
 222, 11. Supply the classifier "tə" after "mandé jīn'ga," as there were several small boats.
 222, 15. Omit "gaŋ'ki."
 222, 17. Change "ɸiŋké" to "aká"; and supply "kə" after "mandé."
 223, 3. Supply "aká" after "nu."
 226, 1. Supply "aká" after "Háxige." Read: "Kí iji^wɸe aká," etc.
 226, 2. Read: "aɸé-na^w-biamá ɸi, ɸáqti wakide-na^w-biamá."
 226, 4. Read: "Kí iji^wɸe aká," etc.
 227, 2. Supply "kə" after "ɸáqti;" "ɸiŋké" after "Isaŋ'ga"; and "amá há" after "ceɸectəwa^w/ɸi."
 227, 3. Supply "ɸa^w" after "ɸijébe."
 227, 4. Change "ega^w" to "ɸi," when.
 227, 6. Change "ahi ɸi'ji" to "ahi-bi ɸi'ji"; supply "ɸi^w" after "isan'ga;" and read: "sigɸé ɸe té amá há," instead of "sigɸé ɸé te amá."
 227, 15. Prefix, "Kí a^wma^w," And the one, to "gá-biamá."
 227, 17. Supply "tə na^w-qtei: the ob.—alone," after "na^wbéhiu jīn'ga."

227, 19. Read: "Háxige aká ja^uabe gáxa-bi ega^u, ní kě'di uqáfa-bi ega^u," etc.
 227, 20. Frank La Flèche reads, "utána" instead of "uta^una."
 228, 1. Read: "Mi^uxa-jii'ga-na," the Ducks (pl. ob.); and change "edéce éápi^ucé" to "edéce-máce, what say you?"

228, 3. Period at the end of line; and omit the following "á-biamá."

228, 5. Change "a^ufi^u akí" to "a^ufi^u akii há."

228, 6. Read: "biamá xi, ímaxá-biamá: É^u xi-na^u éfa^ubai á, á-biamá xi, Mi^u fuma^uci cúdemaha^u."

228, 7. After "á-biamá" supply the following: "Gañ'xi Háxige aká Mi^uxa-jii'ga
 And Háxige the Duck
 (sub.)

fiñké i^ueta-éde té sañ'kiéa-bi ega^u, áhi^u hidé tē' cti júkiéa-bi ega^u, fieta^u ééfathe (ob.) corner of eye the made white for having, wing base the too made blue for having, let him go aud(ob.) him, they say him, they say deny biamá há. Kel ma^ufiñ'gá há. Mi^uxa-wagfa^uxe efi^uge tabáce, á-biamá há Háxige they say . Come! walk . Duck conjurer they call must, said, they say Háxige

 you

áka." Then read: "A^uba té éga^u amá xi, qífa gáxe éúe a^ufa-biamá,"— the Day the so they when, eagle made but he want, they say.
 (sub.) say.

in place of the text in lines 8 and 9.

228, 9. Read: "Égi^ufe jehúqabe ma^ua^ufa náñdĩngí^ué ja^u akáma há."

228, 10. Supply "Kí," And, before "Éjāta" and "Háxige."

228, 15; 228, 19. Omit "amá" after "Háxige." If "amá" be retained, we must change the preceding "g^ufé amá" to "ag^ufa-biamá."

228, 19. Change "édihi" to "tēdihi."

229, 6; 229, 8; 229, 9. Supply "wi^u," one, after "níaci^uga."

229, 16. For "éwafai. Zéawafé pi áta^uhé, á-biamá," read "waú ega^u, zéawafé-na pi áta^uhé há, á-biamá."

230, 10. Change "nía^ué" to "níawafé," I heal them.

230, 11. Read: "Wéduba ké."

230, 12. Change "a^ufi^u é^uhna^ui" to "a^ufi^u a^ué^uhna^ui."

230, 18. Read: "nájiñgai áha^u, á-bi ega^u, gaqíqixá-biamá, t'éfa-biamá." Supply "gē" after "wáfa^uha."

230, 19. Supply "fa^u" after "xéxe."

231, 8. After "Jijébe ágaba," supply "fa^u."

231, 11. Supply "ta^u," the standing inanimate object, after "Isa^uñ'ga."

231, 14. For "Kagé, i^ucáge-hna^u," read "Kagéha, i^ucáge amá."

231, 15. For "kagé" read "kagéha."

231, 16. For "éé" read "ééé," This is it.

232, 2. Read: "ati^u-hna^u-ma^u ké xihá guáfica^uaja^u," "ké" referring to line of bluffs.

232, 2-3. "Ji-ují fañká wañ'gi^uéqti éwakiéa-biamá, He sent away all of the families."

232, 4. For "u^ufiwidávu^u" read "u^ufiwidáxa^ui."

232, 5. For "taté" read "taité"; and for "te" read "tai."

232, 19-20. Read: "Háxige aká é akédega^u, xáciqti Wakan'dagi fañká nápu-Háxige the that was he, but, very long Water-monster the once he has (sub.) ago who

wá^ué aká há, ecé ci te ha, u^ué mañgfiñ'gá."
 cooked them to , you you will . to tell begone.
 pieces say reach it there

542 THE ČEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- 232, 20. Omit "aká" after "Wé'á-nídeka."
 233, 11. Or, "Ní égihe ákiáqça-biamá."
 233, 12. Read: "Ga" wawénaxíça-mu wáqí'a gá-biamá."
 233, 15; 247, 1; 247, 12; 247, 15. Omit "gañ'ki." (Intended for "ga" ɣl.—D.)
 233, 16; 235, 1. Supply "činké" after "isau'ga."
 234, 9. Frank La Flèche reads "bèé ta" for "bèé te;" and in 234, 10, "daxe ta" for "daxe te."
 234, 17. Supply "aká" after "I'ag."
 235, 6. Supply "wi," one, after "Jábe-wá'qjín'ga."
 235, 16. Change "čizaf-de" to "wáqizaf-de, when he takes them."
 236, 16. Change "ágimákaji-biamá" to "ágimaka-baji biamá." The former is incorrect, as we must say, "ágimákajl amá" when the subject is used without the classifier "aká" or "amá;" and "ágimaka-baji-biamá" when such classifiers are expressed.
 236, 19. Change "snéděqti" to "snédeáqti."
 244, 8. Omit commas at end of line.
 244, 10. Supply "amá" after the second "Háxige."
 244, 11. Supply "ké" after "Ietábęi."
 244, 13. Supply the interrogative sign, "ã," after "oné."
 245, 4. Change "wé'ni" to "wéui"; and "zéwaqč" to "zéwaqč-na."
 245, 11. For "áwategija" te," read "áwategija" taté ã."
 245, 16. For "wa'úi," read "waúi."
 246, 2. Omit "e."
 246, 3-4. Read: "Huhú! čéja amá Héga wazéqč amá áíama hã, á-biamá, Háxige ča"be hí ɣl."
 246, 6. Read: "Kl Héga é ečéga-bi ega", agiaqaf tč." (The last clause may be changed to "agiaqaf-biamá."—D.) Omit "činké'di" in the next line.
 246, 13. For "ɣí'u," read "ɣíu." So also in Note on page 250.
 246, 15. Read "aká qijébegča" čikiáha"i tč'di isau'ga činké igidaha"-biamá, há ča".
 246, 16. Omit "gá-biamá," and read: "Gañ'ɣl čikiáha"i ɣl, He!" etc.
 246, 17. For "égiča"i," read "égiča"-biamá."
 246, 18. Or, "qijébegča" ča" čikiáha"i ɣl, He! wisu"ji"qteqčé! ai hã."
 246, 19. For "Égiča-bajl-gã," read "Égiča-bajl-gã."
 247, 1. For "oné te," read "oné tai."
 247, 3. Read: "Čéčaňká zéawáqč bęieta" ɣl, ihičáawákíqč tá miňke hã."
 247, 7. Read "Ma"ze ké nájiděqti gáxa-bi ɣl, á tč núbaxa"-biamá." "Uibaxa"-biamá" means "he thrust it into the wound for him, they say."
 247, 8. Omit all as far as "ɣl," inclusive, the rest of the line being changed to "Ha"! ha"! é amá ɣl, Ca" qčáji."
 247, 10-11. Omit "Gaňki amá," and join the two lines, thus: "ja'tčqti ičé hã, á-biamá ɣl, ei éga" gi'a"-biamá." For "Gaň'ki jín'ga ké," read "Ga"-ke jín'ga ɣl: a little while he lay—when."
 247, 13. For "na"ba," read "na"bá čaňká." For "akíwa" (the Ponka form), read "akiča."
 247, 14. For "wáxai ɣl," read "wáxa-bi ɣl."
 247, 16. Omit "gigčá-ba," "á-biamá," and "Kl."
 247, 18. For "eti," read "ča"eti," heretofore. Omit "e."

- 248, 4. Read "Gé' gu'fa qí, na'wape amá há Wé'sá-nídeka."
 248, 7. Supply "fañká" after "Wakan'dagí."
 248, 9. For "sá-biamá," read "sá-biamá."
 248, 12. For "agfaí Haxige," read "agfa-biamá Haxige amá."
 248, 14. For "hna'-biamá," read "na' amá." (Or, "hna' amá."—D.)
 248, 17. For "ukíqataqtia' éi," read "ukíqataqtia' éi há, it is sticking very tight in his throat as he moves."
 248, 19. Supply "wí," one, after "Jábe-wá'ujínga."
 249, 1. For "aká," read "fañká."
 249, 3. For "mand úgfi," read "mandé ugfi."
 249, 7-8. Omit "ugfi' tá aká há, Uqéúqa"; and for "ugfi'-de," read "ugfi'-i-de."
 249, 10. Read "Háxige aká qéha uja'-i-de wé'sa-má dá," etc.
 249, 11. Omit "gē" and "gū'ki."
 249, 18. Supply "fínkē" after the first "isañga"; change "Ni'ja" to "Ni'ja-biamá"; and "giáxa-biamá" to "giqáxa-biamá," he made his.
 254, 5. For "ugácke tédi hidé té," read "ugácke hidé té'dí."
 254, 7. Read "wé'a-na'í há, níkawasa'."
 256, 3. For "ahí," read "ahí-biamá."
 256, 9. For "áha-i," read "áhu-biamá." (Then we should read: "Nuda'hañgá-biamá; neté amá wagáqfa-biamá."—D.)
 256, 11. Supply "aká" after "Héjañga"; so in line 14, after "I'wapa."
 257, 7-8. Read: "Fakúga-gā. Fa' ma'hni' éi'te, á-biamá." Make a similar change on page 258, lines 6 and 7.
 257, 15; 258, 12-13; 259, 6; 260, 10. "Edáda' náaxíqfa íqai qí, if any difficulties are found," or "if anything is found that gives me trouble."
 258, 9. For "taté," read "te há."
 258, 16. Omit "á-biamá" after "ba-gā."
 258, 18; 259, 18. For "éí atí wí," read "éí wí tí há."
 259, 8-9. Read "wada'ba-gā." Omit "á-biamá."
 259, 12. For "Qe-í!" read "He-í!"
 259, 15. Omit "aká" before "ágajade."
 260, 5. Supply "etí," too, after "Si té."
 260, 9. Read "wawénaxiqá uqá-bi ega', qáqti wí," etc.
 260, 15. Supply "amá" after "Héjañga."
 260, 16. Read: "Éga'qti qí i'wí'qfa-gā há."
 260, 18. Supply "aká" after the second "Héjañga."
 261, 7. Supply "té" after "na'bcé."
 261, 12. Read: "Kí wa'á wí' áci uqá-biamá qí, Míqáhe ké íqfa-biamá."
 261, 19. Supply "aká" after "Héjañga."
 262, 6. Supply "áda," good, after the second "wáqu." The following word, inuhi, shows that the adjective was omitted from the text.
 262, 8-9. Read: "Hi'bé íqáqídate té, á-bi ega', ibatá-biamá qí, na'bcíhi té ibatáqí-biamá,

she thrust it through,
they say,

baona'
missing in punching

éqfa-bi ega',
she sent it
suddenly,
they say

I sow mine will, said, having, they say

she sowed with when hand-stock the it, they say

IMAGE EVALUATION TEST TARGET (MT-3)

Photographic
Sciences
Corporation

23 WEST MAIN STREET
WEBSTER, N.Y. 14580
(716) 872-4503

- 310, Title. For "Orabs" read "Crawfish." So on 313, et passim.
318, 3; et passim. For "wahuta" read "wahuta"^{ph}.
370, first line of notes. Insert "suede" after "Wauence" and in the seventh line change "juangee" to "juange^{ph}."
372, 14. For "Nañge-ti^{ph}" read "Nañge-ti^{ph}." This battle is that which is referred to by Sanssouci in the notes on the next text, at the bottom of p. 381.
375, note on 374, 2. Change "Ūha-na^{ph}ba" to "Ūha-na^{ph}ba."
378 and 381. For "Ámahā" read "Áma^{ph}he."
381, note on 378. For "amahe" read "ama^{ph}he," and for "wamahe" read "wama^{ph}he."
381, note at bottom of page. This is the battle described by Nuda^{ph}axa, 372-5. Four Omaha messengers were with the Pawnees at the time of the battle, vide J. La Flèche and Two Crows (1882).
381, notes, et passim. For "wai^{ph}" read "wai^{ph}."
382, first line. For "Mi^{ph}qa qega" read "Nañka hega."
402, 13. "Ūi^{ph} ^{ph}an" should be "ai^{ph} kē," as the Pawnees pitched their tents (and built their earth-lodges) in the form of a parallelogram.
409-412. This text is full of mistakes, vide J. La Flèche, who was present with the Pawnees when they killed Paris Dorion. Two distinct fights have been treated in this text as one by Big Elk.
421, 4. W. objected to the use of "ukig^{ph}" in this connection, substituting "ug^{ph}," sitting in.
433, 2-3. áma aká dagaha^{ph}i, etc. J. La Flèche and Two Crows never heard of this. They doubt it.
435, 15. Je-sa^{ph} was not there, vide J. La Flèche and Two Crows.
438, 12. Omit "bu^{ph}," vide same authorities.
439, 18. For "Una^{ph}sude" read "Uná^{ph}sude," bare spots were made on burnt ground.
442, 13. we^{ph}na^{ph}phagi^{ph}, you cause me to be thankful.
444, 20. For "hide ke^{ph}" (though good Omaha) read "hídeá^{ph}," at or towards the mouth, down-stream, south (vide J. La Flèche and Two Crows).
445, first note. The same authorities denied that these white people were Mormons. They confirmed Sanssouci's statement in the notes on 444, 8, on p. 446.
449. The same authorities say that the sacred bag there mentioned was carried only when there was a large war party, and that such a party did not steal off one by one, as stated in the next sentence, which refers only to a small war party.
450, eleventh line from the bottom. Read: "and tied them around the horses' jaws."
458, note on 454, 6. "The four war-chiefs," etc., read "the two war-chiefs or captains were Two Crows and Wana^{ph}ci jūga, the two lieutenants being Ū^{ph}ñi na^{ph}pai and Sínde xa^{ph}xa^{ph}."
463, 1. Insert "amá," between "Wakidepi" and "ayig^{ph}pai^{ph}."
466, 7. Read "aká,"
the pl.
sub.
468, 3. For "nikagahi" read "nikaci^{ph}ga," and for "mazi" read "ta^{ph}nañge;" omit chief people cedar ash
"edabe."

546 THE ÇEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- 469, 1-2. Çe-ma uçağı-hnaⁱ, etc. Denied by J. La Flèche and Two Crows.
 470, 17-20. Not exactly correct, vide same authorities.
 471, 11. Supply "údaⁿ" before "te-hnaⁱ."
 471, 15. For "ujli-de" read "ujli^{good}ji".
 471, 16. Quça aka, i. e., Iñke-sabē men.
 472, note on 471, 15-16. Omit first sentence, vide J. La Flèche and Two Crows.
 472, translation, I. For "chiefs" read "people," and for "cedar" read "ash," to conform to changes in the text.
 474, translation, V, near the end. Read: "They had one or two drams." Omit "the young men of" before "the Iñke-sabē." Change the "members of the Quça section, who were the professional singers," to "The Iñke-sabē singers."
 481, translation, line 8. After "eccentric" insert "(or, are not progressive)."
 487, 16. For "çağıⁿ" read "çağıⁱ" (2d pl.), and change "iⁿwiⁿça-gü." to "iⁿwiⁿça-gü."
 488, 8. For "wédahaⁿ amá" read "wédahaⁿ-ma," as they did not die willingly.
 488, 9. For "çkaⁿhna" read "ckaⁿhna,"
 490, 1 and 2. Change "maⁿhniⁿ" to "maⁿçiⁱji."
 499 and 500, titles. For "Wata-najin," read "Wataⁿ-najiⁿ."
 510, first note. For "brother-in-law" read "son-in-law."
 515, note, et passim. Read "Niⁿdahaⁿ."
 523, title, et passim; Dele "n."
 523, 1. "gē" used for "gēdi." Compare the use of "tē" for "tēdi" when, referring to a single occasion. But "gē" and "gēdi" refer to different occasions, as the Ponkas returned in separate parties.

THE ØEGIHA LANGUAGE.

PART II.

ADDITIONAL MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

7
CARLETON UNIVERSITY

MYTHS AND STORIES.

ICTINIKE AND THE CHIPMUNK.

TOLD BY FRANK LA FLÈCHE.

- Ictinike amá aḥá-bi xī, a-tjaⁿ-biamá, miḥáha waiⁿ giⁿ jaⁿbi egaⁿ.
Ictinike the (mv. went, they when came and slept, raccoon robe wearing he reclined, having. sub.) say they say, they say, skin his they say
- Haⁿegⁿtee tḥiḥa-báji tēdi, jediⁿi tē há. Kī jé aká dīn'dīⁿ aḥaf tē'di Morning he woke not when, membrum virile rigid And mem. the right was when going
- waiⁿ ḥaⁿ uḥáha aḥaf tē há maⁿci. Kī maⁿciⁿqti gabhiḥa gēiⁿ tē há. 3 robe the with it went high in the And far up on high waving to and fro sat
- Ganⁿxī Ictinike aká tḥiḥa-biamá. Kī waiⁿ ḥaⁿ daⁿba-bi xī, úeki-
And then Ictinike the (sub.) awoke, they say. And robe the saw, they say when it gave him need.
- ḥá-biamá. Kī, "Ci-cte! Héga ḥéta". Áqtaⁿ égaⁿ iⁿḥé'aⁿ tádaⁿ? Iḥáxiḥe less trouble, they say. And Fie! buzzard this (st. ob.) How possible. you do so to me should? I awoke
- aḥaⁿ há, é amá xī, waiⁿ aká tḥapiḥiⁿqteí xīhá agi-biamá. Kī igiḥaⁿ- 6
I recline he was say- when, robe the very slowly down- was returning, And he knew his, they say.
- biamá. "Qé!" á-biamá. "Waiⁿ wiḥá é ḥaⁿ édaⁿ úciáxiḥe áhaⁿ." Gaⁿ jé say. Hother! said he, they say. Robo my that the (expresses I deceived ! And mem- brum virile
- ké giḥétaⁿ-bi egaⁿ, aḥá-biamá. Aḥá-biamá xī, Jaoninⁿge wiⁿ uḥé éḥa-biamá.
the wrapped up his, having went, they say. Went, they say when Striped chip- one travelling the path he came to him suddenly, they say.
- Jaoninⁿgeaká, "Tsi-tsi-tsi!" á-biamá. "Qa-i! ḥé-naⁿ égiḥaⁿ-gā." Ci égiḥaⁿ- 9 Strreaked chip- the Tsi-tsi-tsi! said, they say. Whew! only this say it! Again said it (to him),
- biamá Jaoninⁿge aká. "Qa! aⁿḥajinⁿga inahinⁿ áhaⁿ," á-bi egaⁿ, é'di they say Striped chip- the (sub.) Whow! he undercuts me truly I said, having there
- aḥá-biamá. Jaoninⁿge aká maⁿtáha ááḥa-biamá, maⁿcanⁿde ugiḥe. Kī went, they say. Striped chip- the (sub.) within had gone, they say, den entered his. And
- Ictinike aká jé ké gēḥa-biamá. Kī maⁿcanⁿde tē uḥábiⁿ-biamá. Kī 12 Ictinike the mem- the unwrapped his, they And den the (ob.) thrust it into, they say. And
- Jaoninⁿge itⁿ-biamá. Kī Jaoninⁿge aká jé ké hébe ḥasá-biamá. "Aⁿḥá-Striped chip- touched, they say. And Striped chip- the mem- the part bit off, they say. Pierce my

550 THE CEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- qəqəqəđja-gā! I'pēni tatē. ʕiūda" tatē hā," á-biamá Ietniko aká. Cí flesh often with your teeth! You escape shall. It shall be good for you said, they say Ietniko the (sub.) Again
- əpíha ʕépa-biamá jé kē. Cí hēbe ʕasá-biamá. Ca" éga"-hna" ʕusé nqín' further sent, they say men- the (fig. virile ob.) Again part bit off, they say. Still so only biting having off it
- 3 aʕá-biamá. Kí, "Tsi-tsi-tsi!" á-biamá ʕaonin'ge aká. "A"ha", Tei-tei-tei, he went, they say. And Tsi-tsi-tsi! said, they say Streaked chipmunk. the (sub.) Yes. Tei-tei-tei,
- á-gā ha. ʕiūda" tatē hā," á-biamá Ietniko aká. "Káta" éda" eʕéga"-bi say! It shall be good for you said, they say Ietniko the (sub.) What can be the matter? he thought, they say
- ega", Ietniko aká jé kē gēza-biamá. Kí égiʕe teékaqteí uʕácta-having Ietniko the (sub.) men- the (fig. virile ob.) took his back, they say. And behold very short it remained of a (fig. ob.)
- 6 bikámá. "He-i-ci! a"ʕiūájt inahi" áha", á-bi éga", gē'uda-biamá.
 after biting, they say. Alas! he has made me suffer truly! said, they say having took his out of the hole, they say.
- Ca" hēbe gēza-bi tō uáta" a"ʕa ʕépa-bi-dé, "Gáinike házi ʕéade tal,"
 Then part took his, when next threw it away, they say, You who are grapes they call shall that (unseen) you
- á-biamá. Kí edíta" maja" ʕa" házihi ʕa"bá-biamá. Kí' ei hēbe gēza-bi said, they say. And from that land the grape-vines came out of, they say. And again part took his, they say
- 9 éga", ei a"ʕa ʕépa-biamá. "Gáinike ʕan'de ʕéade tal," á-biamá. Kí having, again threw it away, they say. You who are that (unseen) plums they call shall, said, they say. And you
- edíta" ʕan'deli ʕa"bá-biamá. Ca" éga" waqtá kē bēga ugráibá-biamá.
 from that plum-tree came in sight, they say. Then so fruit the all he accomplished (the making of) all, they say.

NOTES.

This myth should follow that of Ietniko and the Buzzard. (See pp. 74-77.) It should precede that of Ietniko and the Four Creators.

552, 3. Tei-tei-tei! Could this have been intended as the explanation of the origin of the verb, tei, coi?

Je dá uʕiqaga told part of this myth, as follows: ʕétédedí-biamá ʕaonin'ge.

"I-eti-ni-ké ʕá-ʕi"-cé! Ca"-te-ʕá ʕá-gi-ʕi" ʕá-ʕi"-cé, ʕá-ʕi"-cé! Hé-eka-ʕa-ʕá!
 Ietniko you who move Letting it alone you carry yours on your back you who move you who move here they say Striped chipmunk.

Te!te!te!te!te! á-biama. "Wá! níkači"ga ictá ʕaŋ'ga pēji," á-biama Ietniko aká.
 Ah! person eye big bad said they Ietniko the (sub.)

[It is said that there was a striped chipmunk. And they sang thus: "O I. etniko, you who move! You who move, you who move carrying your own on your back though you do not disturb it! He-eka-ʕa-ʕa! Te!te!te!te!te!" "Ah! the bad person with big eyes!" said Ietniko.] Then Ietniko took four sticks (sic), one being part of a da"qē (artichoke?), one part of a potato plant, the third a turnip or a part of that plant, and the fourth part of a plum tree. He threw them among the "ja" (vegetation resembling and including sunflowers), saying to the first, Haú, gá-ninke da"qē

Ho! you who are that unseen choke one eŋige tai. Níkaciŋga ukéŋi i íŋicka^uŋé tai, ŋéŋe tai, i. e. "Ho, you who are out they call shall Indian mouth made to shall they eat shall you you move by you of sight! You shall be called 'da^uqé!' Indians shall move their mouths on account of you! they shall eat you!"

ŋuŋé na^upaji's version follows: The striped chipmunk ridiculed Ictinike and ran into his den. Ictinike took sticks, which he thrust into the den in order to reach the striped chipmunk. But the latter bit off the ends again and again (ŋada^uda^upa) till each stick was not more than four inches long. Ictinike threw the da^uqé stick among the ja (sunflowers, etc.). Uspáspa, níhaŋga áŋa^uábe éga (hollow places, resembling those seen where there is a spring on a hillside?) refers to the place where he threw the piece of the potato vine. He threw the piece of the turnip on the hill and the plum stick among the "ŋande hi eugaŋti" (very dense plum trees).

It is evident that the last informant modified his language, not caring to tell the myth exactly as he had heard it.

TRANSLATION.

After punishing the Buzzard, Ictinike resumed his wanderings. He stopped somewhere for the night, wrapped himself in his robe of racoon skins, and lay down. Before he woke in the morning, membrum virile rigit, carrying the robe up into the air. And the robe continued waving to and fro far above the head of Ictinike. At length Ictinike awoke, and when he beheld the robe it gave him needless trouble. Just as he said, "Fie! this is the Buzzard! How can you possibly take your revenge on me! I am awake," the robe was coming down again very slowly. Then he recognized it. "Bother! how could I have been deceived by my own robe!" So he wrapped up the membrum virile and journeyed on till he came suddenly upon a striped chipmunk. The latter said, "Tsi-tsi-tsi!" "Do not say that again," said Ictinike, but the chipmunk repeated the cry. "Whew! he really underrates me," said Ictinike, enraged at the chipmunk, whom he chased into his retreat in the side of a bank. Tum Ictinike membrum virile explicuit, et in foramen id trusit donec Tamias vario colore distinctum tetegit. Hic partem membri quod longissimum erat, praemordit. Itaque membrum ulterius intrusit. Iterum Tamias vario colore distinctus partem praemordit, et sic facere non intermisit. Tum dixit, "Tsi-tsi-tsi." "Sane," inquit Ictinike "die, 'Tei, tei, tei!'" Tum membrum ex foramine extraxit. Miratus est id tam saepe praemorsum esse ut modo curtissima pars remaneret. Itaque in foramen manum trusit et membri partem extraxit. As he threw it far to one side he exclaimed, "You shall be called, Hazi (?ha, skin; zi, yellow)." And grape-vines came out of the place where it had fallen. Again he thrust his hand in and took out another piece, which he hurled aside, saying, "You shall be called, ŋande." And plum bushes (ŋande hi) sprang up from the ground where the piece had fallen. In like manner he accomplished the creation of all kinds of fruits and vegetables.

ICTINIKE AND THE FOUR CREATORS.

TOLD BY FRANK LA FLÈCHE.

- Afá-biamá yí, ífá-chen-biamá, m'í'gè'n-bi egá'w'. "Níniújha cé'ca" í'í'í' Howent, they say when he dwelt they say, he took a they say, "Níniújha cé'ca" í'í'í' in a lodge wife
fá-gá. Fí'fá'ga Jábé fínk'é'di béc' tice," á-biamá. Ga' é'di afá-biamá.
send it him. Your grand- Beaver to the (st. obj.) I go must, said he, they say, And there he went they say.
3 Uúha' h' amá yí, "Hau, gé'cín' tié'gá," á-biamá Jábé aká. I' behi'
Part of the he was when Ho, in that direction pass along, said he, they say, Beaver (sub.), Pillow lodge opposite the, they entrance say ké'di á'g'fínk'í'á-biamá. "Wá'á'te eté'wa" fín'g'e' é'n'eti Fí'fá'ga' m'dá'da'qti by the he caused him to sit on it, Food soover there was heretofore, Your grand- what indeed
they say
é'at'é' teda'w', á-biamá Jábé í'g'á'q'a' aká. Ga' yí Jábé aká Jábé jín'g'a' dúbá he eat shall? said, they say Beaver his wife the (sub.), And Beaver the beaver young four
the (sub.),
6 wat'a'-biamá Jín'g'a'tei aká, gá-biamá, "Dad'ha, wé'be'í' t'á múnke, wá'á'te he had them, they say, Very small the said as follows, O father, I am that I who will, food
(sub.), they say
t'é," á-biamá. Í'cá'di aká gíg'g'á'q'ei-biamá. Ug'í'ha'-bi egá'w', Iet'mike fín-the, said he, they His the (sub.) he killed his own by his lit. He belied his own they say as, Iet'mike the st.
say, father
ké' é'at'é'k'í'á-biamá. Iet'mike aká é'at'a'-bají t'é'di, Jábé aká gá-biamá:
one they caused him to eat it, they say, Iet'mike the he ate it not when, Beaver the (sub.) said as follows, they say:
9 "É'g'í'ce wá'hí w'í'c'é'te'wa" ní'q'a' t'e há! "Fá'qa"j'i-gá ha!" á-biamá. Fí'w'ja Beware bone even one you break lest ! Do not break it by ! said he, they Yet by biting
Iet'mike aká sí'dá'hí wí'w' fá'qa'w'-biamá. Wénandá-bi-dé, wá'hí g'é' gí'dá'hí-Iet'mike the (sub.) toea one he broke it by biting, they say, Felt full after they when, bone the he gathered-
(pl. obj.) his own.
biamá. Í'á' ní'í'-bi-dé, ní'í'ha é'c'é'a-biamá. Ga'c'ga'teet'e'wá'j'i Jábé they say. Skin he filled they when, into the water he plunged it, they say, Not even a little while beaver (had elapsed)
12 jín'g'a'tei aká é'c'a'w' be' akí-biamá, gíní. Í'cá'di aká, "É'w'á'j'i" egá'-biamá yí, very small the (sub.) the emerging came thither again, he His the (sub.) How is it ? he said th' pre- when, they say, revived, father jín'g'e' aká, "Dad'ha, sí'dá'hí wí'w' a'w' fá'qa'w'j'i há," á-biamá. Á'da' ed'í'ta' Jábé his son the (sub.), O father, toea one he broke nino by biting said he, they say, There- fore since beaver
(pl. sub.) all too one, little too next to the, has been split by biting, Tobac- they say.
15 új'ha f'a'w' gí's'í'c'a-bají gá'xe agá'-biamá (Iet'mike amá). Kí cín'gajín'ga é' on-pouch the (sub.) member he did not re- pretend- he started hon- Iet'mike the (mv.) And cín'gajín'ga é'
(obj. ob.) member he did not re- ward, they say (sub.), And child that (afore said)

wawúgiká-bi ega^{n'}, "Céça" íc'c'í" ma^{n'}cin'-gá. Qa^{n'}xáña ígí'a^{n'} c'c'í-gá.
he meant them, they as, That visible having for walk thou. At a great distance throw it back to him, the owner.

Déctéña-na^{n'}, á-biamá. Kí cin'gajin'ga amá íc'c'í" aqá-biamá. Qa^{n'}xáña he talks fu- usually, said he, they And child the (mv. having it went, they At a great distance cessantly say. sub.) for the owner say.

ígin'ga c'c'í tábi xi, "Dúdiha! dúdiha!" á-biamá Ictinike aká. Ejáha 3 to throw it back to him, the owner about, when This way! this way! said, they say Ictinike the Further (sub.)

wéagáqí" hí amá xi'j'i, "Çiadi a^{n'}da^{n'}be hí te, ufça-gá," á-biamá. "Dadíha, having them he was reach- when, Your father to see me he shall tell him, said, they say. O father, for the owners ing there, they say reach there waetn^{n'}be c'í te, aí," á-biamá nújinga aká. "Gé wian'xuhai éga^{n'}, Qa^{n'}xáña you see them you shall, he said, they say boy the That we apprehended it as, At a great distance there (sub.).

wégin'ga c'c'í-gá, a^{n'}çá^{n'}i çá^{n'}eti," á-biamá Jábe aká. Ictinike júçó 6 throw it back to them, the owners, we said heretofore, said, they say Beaver the Ictinike to enter the lodge (= visit) (sub.).

aqá-biamá Jábe amá. Kí ç'a ahí-bi xi, Ictinike aká cin'gajin'ga-ma wi^{n'} went, they say Beaver the (mv. sub.). And there are, they when, Ictinike the the children one rived say there (sub.)

t'égikíçé ga^{n'}çá-biamá, gaçqáçé aqí^{n'}-biamá. Édo Jábe aká ufçí'agá-to kill him, his own wished, they say, making him cry out by hitting him he had him, they say. But Beaver the was unwilling for him, (sub.)

biamá. "Ca^{n'}çink'çen-gá! 'Áçéçéçé há," á-biamá. Ga^{n'}xi Jábe amá níña 9 they say. Let the (st. ob.) alone! You make him suffer said he, they And then Beaver the to the water (mv. sub.)

aqá-bi ega^{n'}, jábe jin'ga wi^{n'} aqí^{n'} aki'-bi-dé, wañ'giçé çatá-biamá.
went they say as, beaver young one he brought they when, all they ate, they say. back thither say

Kí c'í a^{n'}b áji xi, "Níníçijiha c'c'í" in'çí çen-gá. Çin'ga Si^{n'}hnedewá-
And again day an-when Tobacco-pouch that vis- give send it back hither Your grand- Musk. (st. ob.) to me father (sub.)

giçé çink'çí di b'çé táçé," á-biamá. Ga^{n'} ç'çí aqá-biamá. Ubáha hí amá 12 rat to the (st. ob.) I go must said he, they say. And there he went, they say. Part of the lodge opposite the entrance there, they say he was reaching xi, "Haú, g'çíçá" tiçá-gá," á-biamá Si^{n'}hnedewágiçé aká. I^{n'}behí^{n'} kéçí di when Ho! in that di- pass along said he, they say Muskrat the (sub.). Pillow by the rection áççinkíçá-biamá. "Waçáte c'téwa^{n'} çingé çá^{n'}eti. Çin'ga indáda^{n'}çti he caused him to sit on it, they say. Food soever there heretofore. Your grand- what indeed Either çatú teda^{n'}, á-biamá Si^{n'}hnedewágiçé igáççá aká. Kí Si^{n'}hnedewá- 15 he eat shall ? said, they say Muskrat his wife the And Musk. (sub.)

giçé aká, "Ní agíma^{n'}cin'-gá," á-biamá. Wa'ú amá agíçáçí-bi ega^{n'}, aqí^{n'} rat the Water fetch thou said he, they say. Woman the (mv. she went they as, she (sub.). after it say akí-biamá ní tç. Ugáçke ágají-biamá. Kí wa'ú aká ugáçka-biamá, ní took it home, wa- the he told her, they And woman the hung up the kettle over wa- ter they say. ter (ob.) say. (sub.) the fire, they say, (sub.)

tē,	Abixōtia ^{n'}	amá	ɣɪ,	bua ^{n'}	ɕa-biamá	ná	aká.	Bua ^{n'}	ɕa-bi	ɣɪ,	si ^{n'}
the	It was boiling	they	any	pushed	over kettle, they	man	(the	He pushed	they	when	wild
(oh).	very fast			any			sub).	over the	any		rice

3 gis'ta-bújl gáxe ngea-biamá (Iet'niké amá), Ki ein'gajin'ga panká d not remember. he pre- he started they (Iet'niké amá), And ein' child the (pl) that ing it tended homeward, say. Iet'niké the (mv. sub.), ob.

De'te-a-na^{na'} a-bi-a-má. Ki cin'ga-jin'ga a-má i'e'e'in a'e'i-bi-a-má. Qa^{na'} xáin
He talks in ussally said he, they And child the (mv. having it. a'e'i-bi-a-má. At a great reassandy any say. sub.) for the owner went they say, distance wéngüēi¹ hí amá xī'jī, "Ǿdi a¹ daⁿ be hí te, uŕeŕ-gā," á-biamá. "Dadíha, having them he was when Your to see me he shall tell him said, they say O father, for the reaching there, father reach there

9 wé'gia^{n'} ʔən ʔé'ʔən-gǎ, a^{n'} ʔa^{n'}i ʔa^{n'} ʔe^{n'}ti," á-biamá Si^{n'}hnedewá'giʔe aká. Ietníko throw it back to them, the we said heretofore said, they say Muskrat the Ietníko owners, (sub.), Ietníko

aká, igúqqaⁿ cínké é wagiká-bi éga^{n'}, "Ni agímaⁿ cín'-ga," á-biamá.
 the his wife the (at) that he meant his own, they say, as, Water fetch thou said he, they say.

xī, ní sláⁿčě'qti bacā^{n'}ča amá. Si^{n'}hnedewágiçe gixxe tō čraⁿ gixxe ga^{n'}ča when, wa- alone he was pushing it over, Muskrat he did the so to do he ter they say, wished

15 sin' áhigi gráⁿcha agá-biamá. Kí' ei grá-biamá aⁿb áji yi, "Phiágn" wild a great he left he started home, they And again said as follows, day áji yi, "Phiágn" rice quantity him say, they say, another when Your grandfather

hí amá ʔi, Naxideekaⁿni aká ʔixuepaⁿ ágaɗamúqti kédegaⁿ átaⁿ-bi egaⁿ, he was ar- when Blue Kingfisher (f) the large white as it lay bent down so far that it was horizontal (f) he stopped on it, they
 say

edítaⁿ ní kě gēan'ge aḥi-biamá. Huhú wíⁿ éḥaⁿbe aḥi' aḥi-biamá. Kí thence wa- the diving he went, they say. Fish one emerging he brought it back, they say. And ter (fig. oh.)

Ietníke ḥínké ḥatékíḥi-biamá. Kí Ietníke gḥé amá ḥí'jī, naⁿbúḥíeiⁿ Ietníke (st. oh.) he caused to eat it, they say. And Ietníke was starting when glove he said to eat it, they say.

masániha gisḥéḥi gáxo gḥé amá. Kí nújnga taⁿ é wagiká-bi egaⁿ, 8 on one side not remem- pretend- he was starting And boy the that he meant his as bering it ing home, they say. (st. oh.) own, they say

"Céḥa" iḥéḥi maⁿḥin'-gá! Quⁿxáa ígin'ḥa ḥéḥa-gá! Déteḥa- naⁿ,
That seen having it walk thou! At a great throw it back to him, the He talks in- natu-
(ev. oh.) for the owner distance owner! ceantly. ally á-biamá. Kí ein'gajin'ga amá iḥéḥi aḥi-biamá. Quⁿxáa ígin'ḥa ḥéḥé tábi said he, they And child the having it went, they say. At a great he was about to throw it say, (mv. sub.) for the owner distance back to the owner, they

say,

ḥí, "Dúdiha! dúdiha!" á-biamá Ietníke aká. Eḥá waḥagáḥiⁿ hí amá 6 when, This way! this way! said, they say Ietníke the (sub.). Further having them he was reaching there, they say ḥí'jī, "Ḥiadi aⁿdaⁿbe hí te, uḥa-gá," á-biamá, "Dúdiha, waetaⁿbe cí te, when Your father to see me he shall reach told him said, they say, O father. you see them you shall reach there

af, á-biamá nújnga aká. "Gé wian'ḥuhai éga," Quⁿxáa wégin'ḥa ḥéḥa-gá, he said they boy the That we apprehended it as, At a great throw it back to them, the said, say (sub.), owners, nⁿḥaⁿí ḥaⁿeti," á-biamá Naxídeckaⁿni aká. Gaⁿ é'di aḥi-biamá 9 we said heretofore said, they say Blue Kingfisher (?) the (sub.). And there went, they say

Naxídeckaⁿni amá, Ietníke júde. E'di hí amá ḥí, Ietníke aká ḥéḥaⁿpaⁿ Blue Kingfisher (?) the (mv. sub.) Ietníke to enter his lodge (= There he was ar- when Ietníke the large white to visit) riving, they say (sub.) willow ágaḥamúqti kédegaⁿ áne aḥi-biamá. Kí edítaⁿ ní kě uⁿsi égihe as it lay bent down so far that it climb- went, they say. And from it stream the leaping beneath was horizontal (?) ing it (fig. oh.) in the surface

áúḥa-biamá. Kí naⁿjiⁿcké'qtei Naxídeckaⁿni aká ḥízú-biamá. Ní 12 had gone, they say. And scarcely Blue Kingfisher (?) the (sub.) seized him, they Water
say,

ínandé'qti Ietníke ḥízú-biamá. Gaⁿ huhú wíⁿ ḥízú-bi egaⁿ, Ietníke gín'ḥa having his all Ietníke he seized him, they say. And fish one he took, they say as Ietníke he left of it for him

agḥi-biamá.
he started home,
they say.

Kí ei' aⁿb áji ḥí, "Ḥiága Sin'ga ḥínké'di béc tá mínke," á-biamá. Kí 15
And again day when, Your grand Flying- to the (st. oh.) I go I who will said he, they And other father squirrel say, é'di aḥi-biamá. E'di hí amá ḥí, Sin'ga aká, ígáḥaⁿ ḥínké é wagiká-bi there he went, they say. There he was arriv- when, Flying- the he meant his the (st. that he went his ing, they say squirrel (sub.), own, they say egaⁿ, "Wáxu céké íḥa-gá," á-biamá. Wáxu ḥízú-bi egaⁿ, ḥí té ágine aḥias Awl that seen (fig. oh.) hand said he, they lodge he took, they as, lodge the climbing went, (st. his own oh.) hither say, say, ob.)

biamá. Paháciáqti ahí-bi ḥí, candé ḥaⁿ jáḥihá-biamá. Jáge uqpaḥé 18 they say. At the very top he reached, when acrotum the he stabbed they say. Black to fall from a height
they say

556 THE PEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- gáxa-biamá, hégaŋi. Jáge ɛnt'kiéá-biamá Ietníke. Kí aŋéá-bi ɣi, he made, they say, not a few. black he caused to eat, they say Ietníke. And he started when walnuts home, they say
- na^{búŋci} masániha gisíŋaŋi gáxe ɛfé amá. Kí núŋŋa ta^a é wagiká-bi glove on one side not to re- pretend- he was starting And boy the that he meant his member ing home, they say (std. afore- own, they say an. ob.) said)
- 3 egaⁿ, "Céŋaⁿ íŋéŋiⁿ maⁿŋiⁿ-gá! Qaⁿxáa ígiaⁿ ɛa ɛŋa-gá! Déteáa-naⁿ," as, That seen having it walk thou! At a great throw it back to him, the He talks in-
(cv. ob.) for the owner distance owner! cessantly
ally,
- á-biamá (Sín'ga aká). Kí ein'gajín'ga amá íŋéŋiⁿ aŋá-biamá. Qaⁿxáa said, they say (Flying- the (sub.)). And child the having it went, they say. At a great squirrel) owner
- ígiaⁿ ɛa ɛfé ɛábi ɣi, "Dúdiha! dúdiha!" á-biamá Ietníke aká. Eáha he was about to throw it back when, This way! this way! said, they say Ietníke the Further to the owner, they say (sub.).
- 6 wéagáŋiⁿ hí amá ɣiⁿ, "ŋiadi aⁿdaⁿbe hí te, níŋa-gá, á-biamá. "Dadŋa, having them he was reach- when, Your to see me he shall, tell him, said he, they O father for the owners ing there, they say father reach there say.
- wactaⁿ be ɛí te, af, á-biamá núŋŋa aká. "Gé wian'ɣuhai égaⁿ, Qaⁿxáa you see them you shall he said, they say boy the That we apprehended as, At a great
there (sub.). distance
- wéŋiaⁿ ɛa ɛŋa-gá, aⁿ ɛaⁿ i ɛaⁿ eti," á-biamá Sín'ga aká. Gaⁿ ɛ'di daⁿbe throw it back to them, the we said heretofore, said, they say Flying the And there to see owners, squirrel (sub.). him
- 9 aŋá-biamá Sín'ga amá, Ietníke. ɛ'di hí amá ɣi, Ietníke aká wáɣu ɛízá-bi went, they say Flying- the (mv. Ietníke. There he was when, Ietníke the took it, they squirrel sub.)
- egaⁿ, ɣi tó ɛŋe aŋá-biamá. Paháŋia ɛtiamáŋaⁿ qti ahi-bi ɣiⁿ, eandé ɛaⁿ as, lodge the climbing went, they say. At the top he barely he reached when ac. cum the
(std. his own ob.) they say
- ɣiŋhá-biamá. Kí wamí sábeŋti badúja-biamá. "Qé! níŋiŋqetɛ ɣiŋáxe áhaⁿ," stabbed himself, they And blood very black he forced out by stab. Why! not paining he made say, at all for himself,
- 12 á-biamá Sín'ga aká. Sín'ga aká wáɣu ɛízá-bi egaⁿ, ɣi tó ɛne aŋá-biamá.
said, they say Flying- the Flying- the awl he took, they as lodge the climb- ing he went, they say.
squirrel (sub.) squirrel (sub.) (std. ob.)
- Kí jáge hégaŋiⁿ qti gáxa-biamá Sín'ga aká Ietníke.
And Black an exceedingly made they say Flying- the Ietníke.
walnuts great number for him, squirrel (sub.)

NOTES.

Ietníke married after his adventure with the Jáŋniŋge, as told in the preceding part of the myth. The order of his adventures is as follows: 1. With the Buzzard (see pp. 74-77). 2. With Jáŋniŋge. 3. With the Beaver. 4. With the Muskrat. 5. With the Kingfisher. 6. With the Flying squirrel.

The four Creators were the Beaver, whose deeds are told in the myth; the Muskrat, who made rice out of water, roots of trees, and men; the Flying-squirrel, who made nuts of his "eandé"; and the Kingfisher, who made all the fishes.

554, 16. Naxideekaⁿi (C), eq. to Nidaⁿ-bŋeŋa (P.), the blue kingfisher. - F. La Flèche.

Samuel Fremont (Wadjepa) said in 1889 that the nida bēxə and the naxide ckūni were different birds, resembling in plumage, beak, and fondness for fish, the naxide ckūni being slightly larger than the other fisher. Frank La Flèche insists that they are two names for the same bird.

TRANSLATION.

Ictinike married and dwelt in a lodge. One day he said to his wife, "Hand me that tobacco-pouch. I must go to visit your grandfather, the Beaver." So he departed. As he was entering the Beaver's lodge the latter person exclaimed, "Ho, pass around to one side." And they seated Ictinike on a pillow. The wife of the Beaver said, "We have been without food. How can we give your grandfather anything to eat?" Now, the Beaver had four young beavers. The youngest one said, "Father, let me be the one who shall serve as food." So the father killed him. After boiling her son, the Beaver's wife gave the meat to Ictinike, who ate it. But before Ictinike ate it the Beaver said to him, "Beware lest you break even a single bone by biting! Do not break a bone!" Yet Ictinike broke the bone of one of the toes. When Ictinike felt full, after eating, the Beaver gathered the bones and put them in a skin, which he plunged beneath the water. In a moment the youngest beaver came up alive out of the water. When the father said, "Is all right?" the son said, "Father, he broke one of my toes by biting." Therefore from that time every beaver has had one toe, that next to the little one, which has seemingly been split by biting. When Ictinike was about to go home, he pretended that he had forgotten about his tobacco-pouch, which he left behind. So the Beaver said to one of his children, "Take that to him! Do not go near him, but throw it to him when you are at a great distance from him, as he is always very talkative." Then the child took the tobacco-pouch and started after Ictinike. After getting in sight of the latter, the young beaver was about to throw the pouch to Ictinike when standing at a great distance from him; but Ictinike called to him, "Come closer! come closer!" And when the young beaver took the pouch closer Ictinike said, "Tell your father that he is to visit me." When the young beaver reached home he said, "O father, he said that you were to visit him." The Beaver replied, "As I apprehended that very thing, I said to you, 'Throw it to him while standing at a great distance from him.'" Then the Beaver went to see Ictinike. When he arrived there Ictinike wished to kill one of his own children (in imitation of what he had seen the Beaver do), and was making him cry by hitting him often. But the Beaver was unwilling for him to act thus, so he said, "Let him alone! You are making him suffer." And then the Beaver went to the stream where he found a young beaver that he took back to the lodge, and they ate it.

On another day Ictinike said to his wife, "Hand me that tobacco-pouch. I must go to call on your grandfather, the Muskrat." So he departed. As he was entering the Muskrat's lodge the latter exclaimed, "Ho, pass around to one side." And Ictinike was seated on a pillow. The Muskrat's wife said, "We have been without food. How can we give your grandfather anything to eat?" Then, said the Muskrat, "Fetch some water." And the woman brought the water. He told her to put it in the kettle and hang the kettle over the fire. When the water was boiling very fast the husband upset the kettle, and instead of water out came wild rice! So Ictinike ate the wild rice. When Ictinike departed he left his tobacco-pouch, as before. Then the Muskrat called one of his children, to whom he said, "Take that to him! Do not go near him, but throw it to him when you are at a great distance from him, as he is always very talkative." So his child took the tobacco-pouch to return it to Ictinike. But when he was about to throw it to Ictinike the latter said, "Come closer! come closer." And when he took the pouch closer Ictinike said, "Tell your father that he is to visit me." When the young muskrat reached home he said, "O father, he said that you were to visit him." The Muskrat replied, "As I apprehended that very thing, I said to you, 'Throw it to him while standing at a great distance from him.'" Then the Muskrat went to see Ictinike. And Ictinike said to his wife, "Fetch water." Ictinike's wife went after water. She filled the kettle and hung it over the fire till it boiled. When Ictinike upset the kettle, only water came out. Ictinike wished to do just as the Muskrat had done, but he was unable. Then the Muskrat had the kettle refilled, and when the water boiled he upset it, and an abundance of wild rice was there, which he gave to Ictinike. And thereupon the Muskrat departed, leaving plenty of wild rice.

On another day Ictinike said to his wife, "I am going to see your grandfather, the Kingfisher." When he arrived there the Kingfisher stepped on a bough of the large white willow, bending it down so far that it was horizontal; and he dived from it into the water. He came up with a fish, which he gave Ictinike to eat. And as Ictinike was starting home, he left one of his gloves, pretending that he had forgotten it. So the Kingfisher directed one of his boys to take the glove and restore it to the owner; but he charged him not to go near him, as Ictinike was very talkative and might detain him too long. Just as the boy was about to throw the glove to Ictinike the latter said, "Come closer! come closer!" So the boy carried the glove closer. And Ictinike said, "Tell your father that he is to visit me." And the boy said to his father, "O father, he said that you were to visit him." The Kingfisher replied, "As I apprehended that very thing, I said, 'Throw it to him while you stand at a great distance from him.'" Then the Kingfisher went to see Ictinike. When he arrived there Ictinike climbed upon a bough of a large white willow, bending it till it was horizontal; he leaped from it and plunged beneath the water. And it was with difficulty that the Kingfisher seized him and brought him to land. Ictinike had swallowed more of the water than he liked. Then the Kingfisher plunged into the stream, brought up a fish, which he gave to Ictinike. But the Kingfisher departed without eating any portion of it.

On another day Ictinike said to his wife, "I am going to see your grandfather, the Flying-squirrel." So he departed. When Ictinike arrived the Flying-squirrel said to his wife, "Hand me that awl." He took the awl and climbed up on his lodge. When he reached the very top per testes subulam impulit, causing a great many black walnuts to fall to the ground. Thus he provided black walnuts, which Ictinike ate. And when Ictinike departed he left one of his gloves, as before, pretending that he had forgotten it. In like manner did the Flying squirrel send the glove to Ictinike by one of his sons. And Ictinike sent by the son an invitation to the Flying-squirrel to visit him. When the Flying squirrel reached the lodge of Ictinike, the latter took an awl and climbed to the top of his lodge. He had barely reached the top of the lodge when per testes subulam impulit. And he forced out very dark blood. "Why," said the Flying-squirrel, "he has surely hurt himself severely!" So the Flying-squirrel took the awl and climbed up on the lodge. And the Flying-squirrel made a large quantity of black walnuts for Ictinike.

ICTINIKE, THE WOMEN, AND CHILD—AN OMAHA MYTH.

TOLD BY GEORGE MILLER.

- Ēgiŋe Ictinike amá aŋé amáma. Ēgiŋe ɿí wiⁿ ga^w te amá. Ni-ŋa^wha
At length Ictinike the was going, they say. At length lodge one of some sort was stl., they say. Bank of stream (mv. sub.) say.
- ké'ja aŋá-bi aⁿ, ní kē uhá-biamá. Ní kē ma^wtaja ɿan'de ēdedí kē amá, to the having gone, stream the followed, they say. Stream the beneath plum were there in abundance, they say
(lg. ob.) they say. (lg. ob.)
- jíde kē amá. "Wuhu+!" eŋégaⁿ-biamá. ɿigélonudá-bi egaⁿ, níɿátha 3 red lay (or they in abund- say. Oh! he thought, they say. Having stripped off his clothing, raccoon skin they say.
- pé'ji gē itéŋa-bi aⁿ, ɿan'de tē ággaŋge áúŋa-biamá. Maⁿŋin'ka kē ŋiŋaⁿ-bad the having put them plum the diving on had gone, they say. Soil the seizing a many down, they say, (col. account of (lg. ob.) large hand.
(in. ob.)
- qti ŋizá-biamá. Agŋé-bi ɿi, daⁿ'ba-bi ɿi, maⁿŋin'ka té amá. "Wuhu+!"
ful took it, they say. Had come when, looked at it, when, soil a they say. Oh!
back (to land), they say they say mass
- á-biamá. Cí ní ké'ja daⁿ'ba-bi ɿi eí ɿan'de tē égaⁿqti daⁿ'ba-biamá. Cí 6 said, they say. Again stream at the looked at it, when again plum the just so saw, they say. Again
(lg. ob.) they say (col. ob.)
- égaⁿqti áúŋa-biamá. Cí égaⁿ-biamá, maⁿŋin'ka-naⁿ aŋiⁿ agŋé-biamá. Cí just so Had gone, they say. Again was so, they say, soil only having it he returned (to land), they say. Again
- daⁿ'ba-bi ɿi, ní ké'ja, "Wáhuu+!" á-biamá. Cí ɿan'de kē jíde kē amá, looked at it, when, stream at the Really! said they say. Again plum the red in they they say (lg. ob.), he, abund- say (lg. ob.) line ance
- ní ké'ja. Cí égaⁿqti áúŋa-biamá. Cí égaⁿqti maⁿŋin'ka ŋizá-biamá. 9 stream at the. Again just so had gone, they say. Again just so soil took, they say.
- "Qa-i!" á-biamá. Cí égaⁿqti áúŋa-bi aⁿ, agŋé-bi ɿi, maⁿá ké'ja úŋixidá-Whew! said, they say. Again just so having gone thither, had come when, cliff to the gazed, they say they say back (to land), they say
- bi ɿi, égiŋe ɿan'dehi aká maⁿá ké'ja ágaŋámuqti ŋiŋiŋáqti najiⁿ akáma.
they when, behold plum trees the cliff at the having very heavy adhering to were stl., they say.
say (sub.) weight of fruit in bunches or clusters that bore down their branches
- Kí é ní ké'ja nfuwaŋŋiŋaⁿ ke-naⁿ ággaŋgaⁿ-biamá. Wáŋaha pé'ji tē 12
And that stream at the reflection in the water the only dived on account of that, Clothing bad the (lg. ob.) they say. (col. ob.) (col. ob.)
- ágaŋábi-bi aⁿ, é'di aŋá-bi aⁿ, ɿan'de gē ŋisc amá, áŋiciⁿ-bi aⁿ. Aŋé amá having put on his own, there plum the was pulling off, having put them into a blanket "pocket" made by curving the left arm, they say. Was they going, say they say they say (pl. ob.) they say.

amá ^{the} ^(mv.) ^(sub.) ^{is missing (?)} ^(fem.) ^{said.} "Nā! ^{Why!} ^{he lay} ^{for me} ^{the} ^{past} ^{not} ^{without inter-} ^{mission} ^{lies} ^{! (fem. in} ^{soliloquy)} ^{cha^a!"} á-bi egaⁿ, ^{having said, they} ^{said} ^{own} ^{was re-} ^{turning,} ^{when,} ^{head} ^{the} ^{part} ^{was falling from a} ^{height, they say.} ^{Oh!} ^{dear little child!} ^{Hiⁿ, sijiⁿqteí^a!"} é amá. ^{was saying,} ^{they say.} ^{Cried, they say} ^{woman} ^{both.} ^{And} ^{crying} ^{were at.} ^{when,} ^{Ictinike} ^{the} ^(mv.) ^{sub.)} ^{amá} 3

xi'aⁿ-bi aⁿ, ^{having painted his} ^{face, they say,} ^{earth} ^{having painted his} ^{face with it, they say,} ^{very dif-} ^{ferent} ^{having made himself,} ^{there} ^{arrived, they say.} ^{á-bi aⁿ, áhí-biamá.}

"Tēnā! ^{Why!} ^{for what pos-} ^{sible reason} ^{you (pl.) cry} ^{your sister-} ^{in-law} ^{likewise,} ^{said he, they} ^{say.} ^{Oh,} ^{grandfather} ^(f. sp.) ^{á-biamá.} ^{Hiⁿ, sijiⁿqteí^a!"}

Ictinike ^{the (mv.)} ^{sub.)} ^{here} ^{came} ^{having} ^{(past),} ^{plum} ^{uqá egaⁿ} ^{we pick} ^{we two} ^{about} ^{(them) reached there.} ^{This (f. g. entire) In-} ^{oh,} ^{dian cradle} ^{á-biamá.} 6

kē a'aⁿ ^{the} ^(f. g. ob.) ^{we left it} ^{reached there} ^{we two} ^{but,} ^{swallowing} ^(the child) ^{he had gone.} ^{Head} ^{the} ^{entire In-} ^{the} ^{head covering} ^{á-biamá.}

fanⁿdi ^{in the part} ^{put his own} ^{relation} ^{had gone} ^(fem.) ^{Really!} ^{said he, they} ^{say.} ^{Let me see,} ^{ax} ^{á-biamá.}

ípai-gā. ^{send ye} ^{hither.} ^{I chase} ^{him} ^{must,} ^{said he, they} ^{say.} ^{Ax} ^{when} ^{they having} ^(f.) ^{given it to him,} ^{they say,} ^{he went, they} ^{running fast} ^{á-biamá.} 9

maⁿfiⁿ amá. ^{he was walking, they} ^{said.} ^{Running fast} ^{having gone, they say,} ^{tree} ^{very thick} ^{being, in} ^{the past} ^{there, they say.} ^{á-biamá.}

iⁿteaⁿga-naⁿ ^{mice (or some} ^{only} ^{other rodents} ^{seeking} ^{was walking, they} ^{say.} ^{Wood} ^{do.} ^{the} ^{passed} ^{ax} ^{cayed (f. g. ob.)} ^{along,} ^{butt-end} ^{of the ax-head} ^{part} ^{á-biamá.}

iⁿteaⁿga-naⁿ ^{mice} ^{only} ^{having killed them one by one} ^{with it, they say} ^{blood} ^{streaming from} ^{various parts of it} ^{having made it,} ^{was returning,} ^{they say.} ^{á-biamá.} 12

Hau. ^{Having reached} ^{there again,} ^{they say,} ^{lodge} ^{at the} ^{(std. ob.),} ^{I killed} ^{I have} ^{your sister-} ^{in-law} ^{likewise,} ^{said he, they} ^{say.} ^{á-biamá.}

"Hiⁿ! ^{Oh!} ^{grandfather} ^{(f. sp.),} ^{place} ^{of reach-} ^{ing} ^{somewhat} ^{near} ^{perhaps} ^{(indirect} ^{question).} ^{Not at all} ^{by no means near.} ^{á-biamá.}

Hiⁿ ^{Hurrying,} ^{when} ^{I overtook} ^{him} ^{having said,} ^{ax} ^{blood} ^{streaming from} ^{various parts of it} ^{having} ^{he reached there,} ^{again, they say.} ^{á-biamá.} 15

Ki é amá ^{And that was it,} ^{they say} ^{plum} ^{ripe} ^{when} ^{on it} ^{gray} ^{adheres} ^{the} ^(class) ^{he cannot it,} ^{Ictinike} ^{they say} ^{á-biamá.}

amá ^{the} ^(mv.) ^{sub.)} ^{did it, they say.} ^{á-biamá.}

NOTES.

560, 1. jeqfi¹ ibiqa-bi aⁿ. This is referred to in the last sentence of the myth containing the Omaha explanation of the gray down (?) on ripe plums. All fruits and vegetables were thought to be of phallic origin.

560, 6. Uhiack egaⁿ etc, jigaⁿha, or jigaⁿha, uhiack egaⁿ etc. Both used.

560, 11. qa-biama wa'u-ma, instead of aqa-biama wa'u ama, as the women were requested to go.

560, 12. iteqa-bi te amede, the women were absent then; perhaps this explains the use of such a form.

561, 2. gēize agi-bi qf, implies that the mother went to the cradle, took it up, and was returning to the other woman when the severed head fell to the ground (?).

TRANSLATION.

Once upon a time Ictinike was going somewhere. Near the place was a lodge in which dwelt two women. Ictinike traveled till he reached the bank of a stream, and then he went along the bank. Beneath the water there appeared to be a great many plums, and they were red. "Oh!" said he, as he undressed; and, putting aside his miserable attire of raccoon skins, he dived down after the plums. But he seized a large handful of dirt. On returning to land and viewing what he had behold it was a lot of dirt! Again he looked at the water and there were the plums. So he dived again and with a similar result. Having returned the fourth time with nothing but dirt, he chanced to raise his eyes to a cliff above the stream, and there were many plum trees filled with fruit, which caused the branches to hang down over the stream. It was the reflection of these in the water that had deceived him. Then he put on his clothing, ascended the cliff, and gathered the plums, with which he filled one corner of his robe.

Then he went to the lodge. He rubbed semen over the plums, and threw them one by one down through the smoke-hole of the lodge. On seeing the first plum one of the women said, "Oh, sister-in-law! I have found a plum!" They scrambled for the plums. On entering the lodge, Ictinike observed, "Whew! my relations, my grandchild, and her sister-in-law have returned here! Why! those plums are very abundant, and yet you two have not picked any of them?" "Oh! grandfather, we have not gone anywhere. If they are near here, we may pick them for ourselves," exclaimed one of the women. "Ho, go and pick them," said he. The child of one of the women was still in the cradle, and the mother had set it up in the cradle against the side of the lodge. So Ictinike said, "When you go leave the child in the cradle with me, as it might get hurt if you took it among the plum trees." "Oh, grandfather! it shall be as you say," said the mother. Ictinike promised to watch over it as over a relation. So the women departed.

Presently Ictinike started to his feet in great haste, seized the kettle that had been placed there full of water, and hung it over the fire. Then he killed the child, and cut the flesh in narrow strips, which he boiled. But he put the head back in the cradle, wrapping it in the head covering, and arranged it just as if it was alive. He put wood on the fire without delay, and went out of the lodge from time to time to see whether the women were coming. At last the meat was cooked, and he sat eating it. Having devoured all of it before the women returned, he departed. When the women got home Ictinike was missing. "O sister-in-law," said one, "the old man is not here. Why! my child is still sleeping just as he was when I left him!" As she took up the cradle and was returning with it to the other woman the head of the child fell to the ground. "Oh! dear little child!" said she. Both the women wept.

And while they sat crying Ictinike, who had painted his face with clay, disguising himself, entered the lodge. "Strange! what cause have you for crying?" "Oh, grandfather! Ictinike came and told us about plums, and when we went to pick them we left the child here in the cradle; but he ate it and departed, after putting the head back in the cradle and wrapping the head-covering around it." "Really!" said he, "let me see; hand me the ax, I must pursue him." They gave him the ax and he departed, running very rapidly. He ran till he reached a very dense forest, where he sought for some wood mice. Passing the butt-end of the ax along a decayed log in which were some wood mice, he killed the mice and covered the ax with blood. He took the ax streaming with blood back to the lodge, and when he entered he said, "I killed him and I have now returned." "Oh! grandfather," said the women, "was not the place where you found him near here?" "Not at all! it is very far, but I overtook him by going very rapidly." This myth explains the cause of the gray down (?) on ripe plums: Ictinike was the cause of it.

ICTINIKE AND THE TURTLE—AN OMAHA MYTH.

TOLD BY GEORGE MILLER.

Ictinike amá ačé anáma.			Ėgičé watčeka baka ⁿ i tčé čéa ⁿ be			ahí-bi xī,
Ictinike	the	was going, they	At	creek	it bends	the	in sight	arrived, when,
(mv. sub.)		say.	length			(place		they say where) čgičé	xč	jaŋga	ga ⁿ	činké	amá,	ičúnaqídeadi	atíččé ⁿ čga ⁿ .	xigčéza-bi at	Big	turtle	was (st.) there awhile,	At a sheltered place	warmed by the sun	having come there	and sat.	Having drawn length			they say,					(himself) back,
ega ⁿ ,	bispáspa	agí-bi	ega ⁿ ,	ja ⁿ čé ⁿ qti	ačá-bi	a ⁿ ,	čamú	tčé	č'di	ahí-bi	3
they say	crouching at intervals	having been coming back, they say,		running fast	having gone, they say,		downhill	the	there	arrived,	they say
a ⁿ ,	gá-biamá:	"Těná! eáta"		čénajíqti	čagčé ⁿ	ä.	Ní	gákčé	bíze	te	ai
hav-	said as follows,	Why!	where-	paying no at-	you sit	!	Water	that	dry	will	said
ing	they say:		fore	tention			(lg. ob.)
				whenever
ega ⁿ ,	wanfa	ní	ugčé ⁿ	amá	béúgaqti	ní	učéthai	há.	Kí	á-biamá	xč
having,	quadruped	those dwelling in the	all	water	follow im-	mediately	after it		And	said, they say	Tur-
		water									tle
jaŋga	akí,	"Ná! čé átiagčé ⁿ -na ⁿ -ma ⁿ "		čá ⁿ ja,	edáda ⁿ	ččéwa ⁿ	aná'a ⁿ -máji.	6
big	the	Why!	this	I often come and sit	though, what	soever	I have not heard.
	(sub.)

564 THE QEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

Ga' min' céta' hí xī, cé átiáqéi'-ma'-ma' há. "Wana' qéin-gā há,"
And sun this far reaches when, this I usually come and sit. "Hurry!"

á-biamá Ietníke aká, "xáciqti cénujín'ga d'ába t'á-biamá íbize, nuóna" said, they Ietníke the very long young men some have died, they from thirst, utter

3 jin'ga eti t'é amá, sín'de jin'ga eti t'é amá, sín'de b'áska eti t'é ama, mixá young too is dead, they tail small too is dead, they tail flat too is dead, they raccoon jin'ga eti t'é amá.

small too is dead, they say.

Hau. "Ké, ańgáqé te há," á-biamá Xé ńańga aká. Júqé aqá-Come, let us two go said, they say Big turtle the With him went,

6 biamá Ietníke amá. Wáhi qéga-na' uné júqé amá. Wáhi wé'tiń they say Ietníke the (mv. sub.). Bone dried only was with him, they Bone striking úda'qti ípa-bi a', "Kagéha, ma'ńin'-gá hí. Áńéje tá minke," á-biamá very good having found it, Friend, walk! Mingo will I who, said, they say Ietníke aká. Qéke wáhi ké ńizá-bi a', aqé améde sakíbaqti júqé Ietníke the bone the having taken it, when he (the big right beside with him

9 ma'ńi'-bi a', "Kagéha, ńikaci'ga ma'ńi' xī, dáhi gázízi éga' ma'ńi'- having walked, they Friend, person walks when, neck stretching so he use.

na'í." Xé ńańga dáhi ké gúzié'qti-na' ma'ńi' ńi, jibe ké eti na'jágéqti ally walks. Big turtle neck the stretching it far, was walking, leg the too sticking them

ma'ńi' ńi, éga'-na' ńi xī, dáhiqti ké ehépa-bi a', gaza'qti was walking, was doing so regularly when, right on the the having put the horizon- knocked him

12 ihépa-bi a', gacta'-bají-bi a' xī, ga' gaqé-bi a', "Haha! a'ba and stunned him, not having stopped hitting when, so having killed him, Ha! ha! day wi'eti gúaxi'na'-ona' á-biamá, aqé amá aqín'-bi a'. Nqéé aká, Xé some (pl.) I do that for usually, said he they was going having kept it, He was kindling a Turtle ńańga ńínké jégépa' aká. Ca'qti ja'ńińgá-bi a', "Hau, ańa' tá minke big the (st. ob.) he was roasting the animal as he sat. In spite (of) having become sleepy, they Ho, Hau, aja' I will sleep

15 ńa'ja, ńja'xe ńaja'ńi te há. Hau, ńinin'de xī, Xé ńańga, 'P! ecé te há."
though, O ńja'xe you sleep shall Ho, you cooked when, O Big turtle, 'Puff! you shall Ga' ja' ké. Míyasi amá na'stápiqtei áiama. Xé ńínké ńizá-bi a',

And he lay sleep- ing. Coyote the walking very softly was com- Turtle the (st. ob.) having taken it, jegú gó wi' ńińúda-bi a', ńajú ańanká. Je-áńita tó wań'gíqé ńasni'- leg the (pl. one) having pulled out (or) sat biting off the meat. Animal limb the (ob.) all having 18 bi a', wáhi gó ńdi ugídadá'-bi a', et déde tó'di ípa'ńa-bi a', Ietníke they say, bone the there having pushed them back again fire in the have placed it (the turtle), they say, Ietníke

e'a' gáxe tó éga'qti gáxe ípa'ńa-bi a', aqá-biamá. Éqé Ietníke how he made the just so made it having placed the ani- mal, they say, went, they say. At length Ietníke

aká tsiéá-biamá. ^{the} ^{awoke, they say.} ^{Turtle} ^{the (st. sub.)} ^{ba'ú-bi a'.} ^{having pushed into the ashes to find the turtle, they say.} ^{éizá-bi a'.} ^{having taken it, they say,} ^{je-ánita} ^{animal} ^{té wi' uéa'í} ^{the one} ^{grasped it}

ega', éida' xi sí'a'pé'qti éizé gi. "Sa!" (á-biamá Ictinike aká) Cí wi' ^{having,} ^{pulled it} ^{when} ^{only that and he took nothing else} ^{it coming back} ^{Pshaw!} ^{(said, they say} ^{Ictinike} ^{the} ^{Again one} ^(sub.)

té éga' xi cí éga'qti sí'a'pé' éizé amá. "Qa!" é ga', cí wi' té éizé ^{the} ^{so} ^{when again} ^{just so} ^{only that} ^{he was taking,} ^{they say.} ^{Bshaw!} ^{said} ^{as,} ^{again} ^{one} ^{the} ^{took} ^{it} 3

xi cí sí'a'pé'qti éga' éizé amá. "Qa+!" é ga', cí wi' té éizé xi, ^{when again} ^{only that} ^{so} ^{he was taking,} ^{they say.} ^{Pshaw!} ^{said} ^{as} ^{again} ^{one} ^{the} ^{took} ^{when,} cí éga' sí'a'pé'qti éizé amá. "Qá-i-na+! Ija'xe-á', éja'a'áji te ehé éa'cti." ^{again} ^{so} ^{only that} ^{was taking it,} ^{they say.} ^{Surprising!} ^{O Ija'xe,} ^{you sleep} ^{not} ^{shall I said} ^{formerly.}

Ija'xe xigétiubá-bi a', a'he-na'-bi xi, "A'haji-gá," é-na'-biamá. "Qá- ^{Ija'xe} ^{having scratched his own,} ^{they say,} ^{died often, they} ^{say} ^{when,} ^{Do not flee,} ^{said often, they say.} ^{Sur-} 6

i-na+! A'ha', agéánsni éa'cti," á-biamá. ^{prising!} ^{Yes,} ^{I devoured it,} ^{my own} ^{formerly,} ^{said he, they} ^{say.}

NOTES.

Another version is given on pp. 60-69. George Miller did not know any more of the version just given, so it ends rather abruptly. See White Eagle's Ponka version on p. 68. 563,3, et passim, a', having (not they say), same as ega'.

564, 18. ugídada used instead of ubada or uibada because the Coyote had already eaten all the flesh of the turtle, so it was inside of him and part of him, his own property, so the bones, too, had become his. In the myth of Ictinike, the women, and child, ugíga is used instead of ugéa or uigéa, to describe Ictinike's act, though he had not yet eaten the child.

TRANSLATION.

Ictinike was journeying. When he came in sight at a bend of a stream, a Big Turtle was sitting there in a sheltered place warmed by the sun. Ictinike drew himself back out of sight, crouching at intervals as he retraced his steps, and ran down the hill to the place where the Big Turtle was. "Why! how is that you continue to pay no attention to what is going on? It has been said that yonder stream is to dry up, so all the quadrupeds that frequent the water have kept close to the (deep?) water," said Ictinike. And the Big Turtle said, "Why! I have been coming here regularly, but I have not heard anything at all. I usually come and sit in this place when the sun gets as high as it is at present." "Hurry!" said Ictinike, "for some of the young men died very soon for want of water. The young otters died, so did the young muskrats, the young beavers, and the young raccoons."

"Come, let us go," said the Big Turtle. So Ictinike departed with him. As he accompanied him, Ictinike sought for a dry bone. Having found one that would be good as a club, Ictinike said, "Friend, go on. Mingam." When he was alone, Ictinike seized the bone, and soon overtook the Big Turtle, walking beside him.

"Friend," said he, "when a person walks, he stretches his neck often." So the Big Turtle began to stretch his neck very far, and he was walking with his legs bent exceedingly. As he was going thus, Ictinike gave him a hard blow on the neck, knocking him senseless, and he did not stop beating him until he killed him. "Ha! ha!" said Ictinike, as he carried the body away, "there are some days when I act thus for myself." He kindled a fire and began to roast the Big Turtle. Notwithstanding his desire to feast on the Big Turtle, he became sleepy, and said, "Ho! I will sleep, but you, O 'Ija^xe,' must keep awake. When you are cooked, O, Big Turtle, you must say 'Puff!'" So he went to sleep. Then the Coyote was coming very cautiously. He seized the Turtle, pulled one of the legs out of the coals, and sat there biting off the meat. When he had devoured the meat on all the limbs, he pushed the bones back into their former places, arranged the fire over them, and departed after putting every thing just as he had found it. At length Ictinike awoke. He pushed into the ashes to find the Turtle, took hold of one limb and pulled it, when to his surprise only that limb came forth. "Pshaw!" said he. Then he tried another limb, with a like result, and still another, but only the bones appeared. When he had pulled out the fourth leg he was astonished. "Surprising! O 'Ija^xe,' I said to you, 'do not sleep,' but you have disobeyed me." Thereupon he scratched "Ija^xe," but the latter fled often. "Do not flee," said Ictinike. All at once he exclaimed, "Surprising! I had eaten the Turtle, but I had forgotten it!"

THE COYOTE AND THE SNAKE—AN OMAHA MYTH.

TOLD BY FRANK LA FLÈCHE.

- Míyasi amá ʔan'de áčijáqti ačá-biamá. Dúdaⁿ unégaⁿ maⁿčíⁿ-bi Coyote the (mv. ground crossing by the went, they say. Something as he sought it walked, they sub.) nearest way say), they
- ʔi, sabájiqti nřkaciⁿga wiⁿ, "Naⁿctan'gá há," á-biamá. "Wi^aⁿwa when very suddenly person one O stop walking I said, they say. Which one
- 3 etédaⁿ, ečé-gaⁿ-bi egaⁿ, učixidá-bi ʔi, iča-baji-biamá Či ečáha ača-can it be? he thought, they as (= hav- he looked around, when, he did not find him, Again further went, say ing) they say they say say)
- biamá. Kí "Aⁿčanⁿbetan'gá há," á-biamá. Kí Míyasi aká iča-biamá they say. And Pass to one side of me I said, they say. And Coyote aká iča-biamá
 the (sub.) found him, they say)
- We'sá. "Či-cte! čé maⁿbéiⁿ čaⁿja, ébč-čtewaⁿ (četaⁿ kaⁿbča-máji. ʔi Snake. Fle! this I walk though, who at all I pass to one I wish I not. You side of him)
- 6 gačé tiča-gá! Uhé kě iⁿčičan'-gá!" "Čé maⁿbéiⁿ čaⁿja, é'be wiⁿ to one pass! Path the (lg. ob.) give me room! This I walk though who one side)
- éčéjaⁿ té áhaⁿ, ebčégaⁿ-čtewaⁿ-máji há," á-biamá We'sá aká. "Égaⁿ
 I give him will (in so- I think at all I not said, they say Snake the (sub.). So room loquy)
- ʔi'čtē áwinan'ge tá minke há," á-biamá Míyasi aká. "Égaⁿ ʔi'ji, čat'é even if I run on you I who will said, they say Coyote the (sub.). So if you die taté," á-biamá Wé's'á aká. "Áqta" at'é tída. Ú'te a'qin'ge," á-biamá shall said, they say Snake the How possible I die shall! Cause of me—none said, they say surely (sub.)

 Míxasi aká. "Ké, an'gajáda-gá! Jíqin'ankíqin-gá," á-biamá Wé's'á aká.
 Coyote the Come step over me! Do it in spite of me! said, they say Snake the (sub.)
 (sub.)
 Kí Míxasi aká ágajáda-biamá. Kí Wé's'á aká qatá-biana. Kí Míxasi 3
 And Coyote the stepped over him, they And Snake the bit him, they say. And Coyote (sub.) say. (sub.)
 aká nie-etéwa"-báji-biamá. "Áwatée á. Áwigajáde xi at'é taté, eéé the pained at all not, they say. Where is it? I stepped over you if I die shall you said qat'eti. Áwaté at'é," á-biamá Míxasi aká. Ga' (qat'ba' ía-báji-bi ega' heretofore. Where is it I die said, they say. Coyote the And a second he spoken not, as! hav-(sub.) (sub.) time they say, ing) aqí-biamá Míxasi amá, jan'de áqin'qiti. Ga'té-ga' xi, wateleka wi' ahí- 6 went, they say Coyote the (mv. ground across by the After some- when stream one he (sub.) nearest way. time biamá. Kí niqáta" tí-bi ega', ní kó da'ba-bi xi, níuwaqéxié qin'ba-reached, they say. And to take a drink was about, as wa- the he looked at when reflection in the he saw him-(sub.) (= hav- ter (lg. ing) ob). they say reflection in the water self.
 (sub.)
 biamá. Kí cín'qti qin'ba-biamá. "Qa-é! égima"-máji-na"-ma' qat'eti.
 they say. And very fat he saw himself, they say. Whew! I never was so heretofore.
 A'cín' íqánahi' á" á-bi ega', xigéit'a"-etó'a"-na"-biamá. Kí qat'a"-bi ega', 9 Me fat I truly! said, as, he felt him- even (t) often, they say. And he drank, as they say self all over they say, (= hav- ing) ca' aqí-biamá. Ga'te xijí, "Aja'ta"qat'qin'ge íqánahi' áha," á-bi still he want, they say. A while when I am sleepy I truly! (in so- he said (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.)
 ega', qáde baza' ja'-biamá. Kí ca'ca' t'é amá, íbaqti. Kí ceta' há.
 as! hav- grass pushing in he lay, they say. And always he died, they much swollen. And so far (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.)

NOTES.

567, 7 níuwaqéxié. It is very probable, judging from the context, that this should be translated "reflection in the water." See níuwaqíkiha", 559, 12.

TRANSLATION.

The Coyote was going in a straight line across the prairie. While he was seeking something a person said very suddenly, "Stop!" The Coyote thought, "Who can it be?" He looked all around, but found no one. Then he went a few steps, when some one said, "Walk around me!" Then the Coyote saw that it was the Snake. "Fie!" said the Coyote, "when I walk here I do not wish to walk around any one at all. Do you go to one side. Get out of my way!" The Snake replied, "Though I am here, I have never thought for a moment of giving place to any one!" "Even if you think so," said the Coyote, "I will run over you." "If you do so, you shall die," said the Snake. "Why should I die? There is nothing that can kill me," said the Coyote. "Come! Step over me! Do it in spite of me," said the Snake. Then the Coyote stepped over him. And the Snake bit him. But the Coyote did not feel the slightest pain. "Where is it? You said that if I stepped over you I should die.

Where have I received my death-blow ?" said the Coyote. As the Snake made no reply, the Coyote departed. After sometime he came to a creek. As he was about to take a drink he looked at the water, and he saw his reflection in the water. He appeared very fat. "Whew! I was never so before. I am very fat!" Saying this, he felt himself all over again and again; but that was all which he did. He departed after drinking the water. By and by he said, "I feel very sleepy." So he pushed his way into the thick grass and lay there. He died while sleeping, never awaking, and he was much swollen.

THE COYOTE AND THE SNAKE.

TOLD BY GEORGE MILLER.

Egiŋe We's'n wi'n' e'di ja'n' akúma. Gɛadi' uska'n'ska'qti uhé ɛe ké'.
At length Snake one there was reel, they Across in a very straight line path was going.

"Wá'! ma'ciŋjaha ja'n'-gá, We's'n! Áwigajáde ɣi, ɛat'é tat'é," á-biamá
Why! further off lie, O Snake! I step over you lie, you die shall, said, they say
3 Míyasi aká. "Uhé ɛɛɛa'skáqti kédega" ɛi-edá a'ɛa' epeta' eté ɣi," Coyote the (sub.), Path just this size lies, but you rather you go to one side ought, á-biamá We's'n aká. "Qa-i! ma'ciŋjaha ja'n'-gá, ehé," á-biamá. "ɛi-edá" said, they say Snake the (sub.), Whew! further off lie, I say, said, they say. You rather (than I) ma'ciŋjaha ūha-gá," á-biamá We's'n aká. "Ahaú! áwigajáde tá minke further off pass (or go) that way, said, they say Snake the (sub.), Oho! I will step over you

6 ɛa'n'ja, ɛat'é tat'é há," á-biamá Míyasi aká. "Ná! wí nŋkaci'n'ga-ma wi'n' though, you die shall said, they say Coyote the (sub.), Why! I the people (pl. ob.) one a'n'gajáde tó'di t'é-na' há," á-biamá We's'n aká. "A'n'ha," á-biamá Míyasi steps over me when usually dies said, they say Snake the (sub.), Yes, said, they say Coyote

aká. Ga'n', "At'é tá minke," á-biamá. "Hindá! wi'n'wa wi'n'anke téska," the And, I will die, said, they say. Let us see! which one of we two tell may, in future,

9 á-biamá Míyasi aká. Ga'n' aɛá-biamá Míyasi amá. Wágajáde ɛɛɛqti ɣi, said, they say Coyote the (sub.), And went, they say Coyote the (mv. sub.), Stepped over very suddenly when, jibe sihi gedi da'et'e ɛaqtai tó. "Haú, ɛat'é tat'é há, áwigajáde édega."

lower foot on the one or the he was bitten. Ho, you die shall I stepped over you but.

"ɛi ɛat'é tat'é há," á-biamá We's'n aká. Ga'n' aɛá-biamá Míyasi amá.
You you die shall said, they say Snake the (sub.), And went, they say Coyote the (mv. sub.).

12 Ga'n' ma'ɛi'n' ɛi'n' tó, "Q-i! júga gúma'-máji-na'-ma' ɛa'n'eti. A'ci'n'
And he was walking when, Whew! body I never acted in that manner formerly. Me-fat íñánahí^{n'}-ā," á-bí n^{n'}, xigéñzi-bí n^{n'}, nan'ka kē' eti xīn^{n'}ba-bí n^{n'}, uqé-I truly ! having said, having stretched him- back the too having looked at him- he was they say, self by an effort, they (fig. ob.) self, they say, examkīn^{n'}be-na^{n'}-biamá. Ca^{n'}qti en' ugeñ'a tiéççē-na^{n'} amá. Íñçā-qti-eten^{n'}-na^{n'} ining himself often, they say. In spite (or too hitting the he took up the cry often, Gaped very even often notwith- standing) mouth and giving the scalp, yell they say, hard (f) égn^{n'}, "Qa+! Wē'sā le tē win'ke tē égn^{n'} ā," é-na^{n'} amá. Égiçe júga ēl^{n'} 3 having. Whew! Snake spoke the told the the so ! was saying often. At length body the

they say.

béñgaqti íba amá, badin'di^{n'}, ðacēje gē' etewa^{n'} bapúci^{n'}-qtia^{n'} amá. "Wē'sā entire was swollen, distended, tip of the the even was exceedingly puffed up, Snake they say, nose (pl. ob.) they say.

le tē win'ke tē égn^{n'} ā," ei é amá. Íñnaqídadi gēi^{n'} çínké, gagíçixé'qtei spoke the told the the so ! again was saying. At a sheltered place, he was at, coiled many times truth they say, warned by the sun

ja^{n'}tē ga^{n'} ca^{n'}ca^{n'} é'di t'é amá. É amá, áda^{n'} Wē'sā amá edáda^{n'} wanfta 6 slept as continually there dead they say. That was it, therefore Snake the what quadruped suddenly they say, (pl. sub.)

wáçqatí tē bēñga íba t'é-na^{n'}i tē.
they hit them when all swell- died usually.
ing

NOTE.

568, 12. Qui, pronounced Qa+il

TRANSLATION.

Once upon a time a Snake lay across a road, at right angles to it. The Coyote came, and said to him, "Why! Snake, lie further off! If I step over you, you shall die." To this the Snake replied, "Though the path is just this size (i. e., not large enough for both of us), you are the one, not I, to pass the other to one side!" "Whew!" said the Coyote, "do as I said, lie further off!" "It is you, not I, who must pass further from the path," said the Snake. "Well," said the Coyote, "I will step over you, and you shall die." "No," said the Snake, "when a person steps over me, he usually dies." "Yes, I will die. Let us see which one of us has told the truth," said the Coyote. When he stepped suddenly over the Snake, the latter bit him on the leg or foot. "Ho," said the Coyote to the Snake, "you shall die, as I have stepped over you." "You shall die," said the Snake. Then the Coyote departed. And as he went he said, "Whew! my body never was in this condition heretofore. I am very fat!" He stretched his neck as far as he could, looked at his back, and examined himself all over. Notwithstanding his condition, he gave the scalp-yell often. When he found himself gaping incessantly, with his mouth wide open, he said, "Whew! the Snake told the truth!" At length his entire body was swollen so much so that the skin was tight on him, and the tip of his nose was puffed up. "The Snake told the truth!" said he again. He seated himself at a sheltered place warmed by the sun, coiled himself as far as possible as a snake does, fell into a sound sleep, from which he never awoke. Thus he died. And on account of this event, when the snakes bite any quadrupeds, the entire bodies of the latter swell, and the animals die.

THE COYOTE AND THE GRAY FOX—A PONKA STORY.

TOLD BY ONE HORN.

1. Liŋaqúde wiⁿ eiⁿqtiaⁿ-biamá. "Kagé, edádaⁿ tŋciⁿiⁿ á," á-biamá Gray fox one was very fat they say. Younger what you are fat I said, they say, brother, by means of
2. Mixasi aká. "Aⁿhaⁿ, jiⁿčha, wamúske naságe 'aⁿ a-í xī, uŋciáa t'é
 Coyote the Yes, O older wheat baked hard car- they when in front dead (sub.) brother, rying come
3. đaxe ajaⁿ-naⁿ-maⁿ," á-biamá. "Gaⁿxī jaⁿčinan^{ge} kēdi aⁿwaⁿ'aⁿhai
 I pretend I usually recline said, they say. And then wagon in the they put me when reclining
- tēdi uánaⁿqpičē ajaⁿ-naⁿ-maⁿ. Ki uánaⁿsi agčé-naⁿ-maⁿ. Gaⁿxī bŋate* when I make them fall from a height by kicking I usually recline. And I leap I usually start home. And then I eat
- agčé-naⁿmaⁿ. Wamúske naságe é aⁿčaⁿ'ciⁿ há," á-biamá. Gaⁿxī,*
 I usually start home. Wheat baked hard that I am fat by by means of said, they say. And then,
6. "Jiⁿčha, égaⁿ, ekáxe wikaⁿbŋa," á-biamá. Liŋaqúde aká. "Čŋeqtei, jiⁿčē,
 Older brother, so you do I desire you, said, they say Gray fox the Especially elder (sub.) brother,
- si čjanŋ' égaⁿ, áhigi uŋciáa qpičē taté ebčégaⁿ." Gaⁿxī Mixasi aká* foot you large as, many you make them fall shall I think. And then Coyote the (sub.)
- uŋciáa jaⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿxī wáqč aká jaⁿčinan^{ge} kē u'aⁿhai tē. Gaⁿxī* in front re- they say. And then white the wagon in the put the past And then clined, (sub.) (cl. ob.) (cl. ob. in) sign.
9. gčégaⁿ-biamá wáqč aká: "Ččké wawin^{aj} áhaⁿ." Sihi tē baqtá-biamá.
 he thought as follows, white the (sub.): This (recl. ob.) It is not the (in so- lloquy). Feet the (ob.) he tied, they say.
- Jaⁿčinan^{ge} kēdi u'aⁿhai tē wáqč aká xī ejaⁿ tēdi akí-biamá. Wáqč* Wagon in the put the when white the house his at the reached home again, they say. White (recl. ob.) in man (sub.)
- ji pējiⁿ-qti wiⁿ tē aⁿča ččča-biamá Mixasi kē. Égičē wáqč aká máhiⁿ* house had very one the threw him suddenly, Coyote the At length white the knife (ob.) they say (recl. ob.) man (sub.)
12. ačíⁿ ahí tē Mixasi kēdi mása-biamá sihi gē baqtégaⁿ gaⁿ tē gáxai
 he brought there the Coyote at the cut cords with a feet the as they were and dead (= when) (recl. ob.) knife, they say, (pl.) tied
- daⁿete xī, 'aⁿ agčá-biamá. (Sihi mása-báji, hájinga íkaⁿtaⁿ enáqtei* perhaps when carry- ing on house. (Feet not cut, cord used for tying that only the back
- mási.) Ki nan^{ge} agčá-biamá Mixasi aká. Liŋaqúde ičnaxíčē agčá-* he cut with a knife. And running went homeward, Coyote the (sub.) Gray fox to attack him went homeward
15. biamá. "Kagčha," á-biamá, "ággaaⁿčáčē," á-biamá. "Čŋiwačáxiⁿ!
 they say. O younger brother, said, they say you have made me suffer said, they say. You brought it on yourself!

Qéñji gr-gr, á-biamá Lísáqude aká. Wáqé aká wá'i atí amá ké'di Silently come back, said, they say Gray fox the White man the trans- he came, they at the (sub.) (sub.) porting goods say, place

éja' éga' éíwáqá'á' á-biamá. "Kagéha, wi' éké'qtiá' á-biamá.
 you lay as you brought it on your- said, they say. O younger brother, you speak the very said, they say.
 down self, truth

Míyasi aká. Lísáqude aká gacta'ka-biamá.
 Coyote the Gray fox the tempted him, they say.

3

NOTES.

570, 9. Éké' wawí'aji áha", said because the man suspected some trick and had lost patience.

TRANSLATION.

A Gray Fox was very fat. The Coyote said, "Younger brother, what has made you fat?" "Elder brother," said the Gray Fox, "I lie down in the way of those who transport crackers, and I pretend to be dead. And when they throw me into the wagon I lie there, kicking the crackers out. Then I leap out and start home eating. It is the crackers which have made me fat. And, elder brother, I wish you to do likewise. You, elder brother, have large feet, so I think that you will knock out a great many crackers." And then the Coyote went to the place and lay down in the road. And when the white man came along he threw the Coyote into the wagon. The white man thought thus: "It is not the first time that he has acted thus!" So he tied the feet of the Coyote. Having put the Coyote in the wagon, the white man went to his home. He threw out the Coyote by a miserable outhouse. Then the white man brought a knife and cut the cords which bound the feet of the Coyote (he did not cut off the feet, he severed only the cords with which they were tied). He thought that (or acted as if) the Coyote was dead, so he put the Coyote on his back and started off to the house. (But the Coyote managed to get loose, and) he ran homeward. He went back to attack the Gray Fox. "O, younger brother," said the Coyote, "you have made me suffer." "You yourself are to blame! Be silent and come to me!" said the Gray Fox. "You brought the trouble on yourself as you lay down in the place where the white man came with the load of goods." "O younger brother, you tell the truth", said the Coyote. The Gray Fox had tempted him.

HOW THE RABBIT WAS DEPRIVED OF HIS FAT.

TOLD BY FRANK LA FLÈCHE.

Waníta amá ei' wáxa-biamá pahan'gadi. Wi'a'wa ei' uéúka'pi Quadruped the fat were made, they at the first. Which fat made him handsome
 (pl. sub.) say

fbaha' ga' éa-biamá. Kí waníta-ma b'éúgaqti w'éba"-biamá Kí ué'wi" to know he wished, they say. And the quadrupeds all he called to them, they say. And assem- bling

572 THE ӨҒИҘА LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- 3 ě'di ahi-biamá. Ki ci' ućúka"onin'de-ma đá ɸa" ɸa"n-bi-dé đahi kěđfta"
 there they arrived And fat those who did not look head the he held while neck from the there, they say. handsome with it part them, they say (lg. ob.)
- wáɸiskebá-bi-dé waci' gě wénacai-de, wáɸicta" ɸéčē-na'-biamá.* Ėgičē
 he scraped them while fat the he took when, letting them he was sending them reg- At with his hand, they say scattered (in. ob.) from them go ularly, they say. length
- 3 Mactein'ge ɸ'di aɸi' ahi-biamá. "Wiebēi" tá minke hā. Wi ci' a"ɸa"n'wan'ka"pi Rabbit there having he roached I am the one I who will I fat it makes me handsome him there, they say.
- tá minke hā," á-biamá Mactein'ge aká.* "Htndaké! gí-gā ha," á-biamá.
 I who will said, they say Rabbit the (sub.). Let us see! come I said, they say.
 say.
- Ga" ci' gáxa-biamá.* "ɸi da"qti ućúɸika"onin'de ci' tē," (á-biamá). Ga"
 And fat he made him, they say. You beyond it makes you ugly fat the, (said, they say). And
 say.
- 6 đá ɸa" uća"n-bi ega"n, đahi hidé ɸandita" ɸiskéba-biamá xi, ábaɸú ɸa" head the he seized, as (=hav- neck base from the scraped off with the when, space be- the part they say ing.) part hands, they say part between the part shoulders
- ućisp ićɸa-biamá níaci"ga aká.* Áda" ci'-na" ɸan'di ábaɸú unúcka ɸa" he pulled it suddenly, they person the (sub.). Thoro- fat only on the space be- depression the say. (sub.). fore part between the shoulders part
- enáqtei waci' hébe áɸaha-na"n amá, edita".* Ėgičē Miɸá akú enáqtei that only fat meat part adheres to, usu- they say since then. At length Raccoon the (sub.) he only
 ally
- 9 ci' ućúka"pi-biamá, áda" júga bēúga waci' áɸaha gáxa-biamá.
 fat made him handsome, there- body whole fat meat adhering to made for him, they say.
 they say, fore

NOTE.

571, 5. bēuqaqti, pronounced bēu+qaqti by the narrator.

TRANSLATION.

At the first the quadrupeds were made fat. And he who made them wished to know to which one the fat was becoming. So he called all the quadrupeds. And they collected there. He seized by the head each quadruped to whom the fat was not becoming, scraping off the fat from the neck downward, thus depriving the quadruped of it before releasing him. At length some one took the Rabbit to him. "I will be the one! Fat will become me," said the Rabbit. "Let us see! Come!" said he who made the quadrupeds. And he made the Rabbit fat. "Fat is more unbecoming to you than to any other quadruped," said the being. So the being seized the Rabbit by the head and scraped off the fat from the base of the neck. But he pulled suddenly at the flesh in the space between the shoulders. Therefore, since then there has been a depression in the space between the shoulders of a rabbit, and only in that place is there a piece of fat adhering to that quadruped. At length the person saw that the Raccoon was the only quadruped to whom fat was becoming, so he made the whole body of the Raccoon fat.

HOW THE RABBIT KILLED A GIANT.

TOLD BY GEORGE MILLER.

- Mactein'ge-i^{n'} amá ačé amáma égičé. Égičé ta^{n'}wa^{n'}gčá^{n'} wi^{n'} é'di Rabbit the was going, they say at length. At length nation one there
- ahí-biamá. "Mactein'ge-i^{n'} íkima^{n'}čí^{n'} atí hu^{n'}!" e-na^{n'}-biamá níaci^{n'}ga arrived, they say. Rabbit as a visitor has halloo! said often, they say people
- amá. "Ėbédi né ā, " á-biamá níaci^{n'}ga amá, ákipá-bi ega^{n'}. "Nā! gá^{n'} 3 the (pl. To whom you I said, they say people the (pl. having met him, they Why! Just sub.), go
- ėbédi ctécte pí tá minke, " á-biamá (Mactein'ge-i^{n'} aká). "Nā! íf amá to whom soever I will I who said, they say Rabbit the Why! lodge the (sub.), reach the (sub.), (pl. sub.)
- wačáta-bájii há. Jáqtigikidábi aká-na^{n'} wačáte t'a^{n'}i há. Ė'di né do not eat He for whom they shoot the only food he has There you at the deer (sub.) go
- etė xí^{n'} (á-biamá níaci^{n'}ga amá). Ca^{n'} íf uhan'ge naji^{n'} tédega^{n'}, é'di 6 ought said, they say people the (pl. sub.) Yet lodge end stood the, but (in there the past),
- ahí-biamá. "Kagčha, wačáte ctėwa^{n'} wačín'gai há," á-biamá íf uđai arrived, they say. Friend, food soever we have none said, they say lodge entered
- aká. "Nā! kagčha, edáda^{n'} ctécte caté amá-na^{n'}, čínge xí^{n'}, " á-biamá
the Why! friend, what soever they are eat- usu- there is when said, they say (sub.), ing ally none
- Mactein'ge-i^{n'} aká. Égičé Mactein'ge-i^{n'} gíku-biamá Jáqtigikidábi aká. 9 Rabbit the At length Rabbit the invited him to a Jáqtigikidábi the (sub.), (sub.) feast, they say (sub.)
- "Wuhu+! kagčha, číkui há. Wana^{n'}qčín-gā há," á-biamá čé íf uđai Oho! friend, you are Hasten ! said, they say this lodge en-invited to a feast tered
- aká. Kí ta^{n'}wa^{n'}gčá^{n'} amá na^{n'}pė-qi-na^{n'} amáma. Edáda^{n'} waníta t'čai the And nation the (pl. usually were fearing him greatly, What quadruped they (sub.), they say, killed
- ctéctewa^{n'} é bėúga ačín'-na^{n'} akáma. Kí é'di ahí-biamá Mactein'ge-i^{n'} 12 soever that whole he was usually keeping it, And there ar- they say Rabbit
rived,
- amá gíkuí t'čdi. Ėča^{n'}be hí xí'jí, "Ahaú! gėčica^{n'} tičín-gā há," á-biamá.
the he was at the. In sight ar- when, Oho! on that side pass along ! said, they say
(mv. sub.) invited to a feast rived
- Mactein'ge-i^{n'} amá u'a^{n'}si-qtei átiáča-biamá. Gčín'-biamá. Égičé Rabbit the (mv. leaping high passed along, they say. Sat they say. At length
sub.)
- úči-biamá. Wačáta-bi ega^{n'}, xigčákega^{n'} gčín'-biamá. Hėbe uđácta-bi ega^{n'}, 15 they gave food Having eaten different ate very rapidly sat, they say. Part having reserved it instead of to him, they say, things, they say, eating it, they say,

574 THE PEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- uqpe tē basnū ꝑeꝑa-biamá "Kagēha, uqpe tē dúatē," á-biamá bowl the pushed off suddenly, they say. Friend, bowl the the one on said, they say this side
- (Mactein'ge-i' aká). Ga^{n'}, "Kagēha, ca^{n'} dūxe te," á-biamá (Mactein'ge-i'^{n'}
Rabbit the And, Friend, enough I do will said, they say Rabbit
(sub.))
- 3 aká). Ga^{n'}, "A^{n'}ha^{n'}," á-biamá (Láqtigikidábi aká). Agꝑá-bi ega^{n'}, the And, Yes, said, they say Láqtig kidabi the Having gone back, they
(sub.) (sub.)
- unéꝑē qa^{n'}/ha kē wi^{n'}/áqteia^{n'} u'a^{n'}/si-bi ega^{n'}, wēna^{n'}ba^{n'} tēdihi wagáqꝑa^{n'} fire-place border the (lg. ob.) once having leaped, they say, the second time the, arrived there servant
- Láqtigikidábi eꝑá ꝑínké ma^{n'}/ge áꝑiáqti áta^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, u'a^{n'}/siqti ákiáqꝑa-Láqtigikidábi his the (st. chest straight having stepped on, with a great had gone (sub.) (ob.) across they say, leap homeward,
- 6 biamá Uꝑeꝑa-bi ꝑa^{n'} ikáge ꝑínké agꝑeꝑi^{n'} aki-biamá. Ikáge igáqꝑa^{n'} they say. What was not the his the (st. having his he reached there Ikáge his friend (sub.) (sub.) (ob.) own again, they say. his wife
- éꝑa^{n'}ba gíꝑēqti ꝑatá-biamá, waꝑitaji améga^{n'}. Égiꝑe ha^{n'}ega^{n'}tce xi, she too very glad ate it, they say, as they had not been eating, At length morning when
they say.
- íekiꝑá-bi ega^{n'}, eka^{n'}ꝑē wáqají-biamá. Cí ga^{n'} "Láqtigikidábi aká crier pro- claimed, they having dislodged the game commanded them, Again so Láqtigikidábi the (sub.) say.
- 9 t'ekiꝑē taí aká," e-na^{n'}-biámá níaci^{n'}ga amá. Ábae amá aꝑá-biamá.
he is the one for whom they were saying often, people the (pl. Hunter the (pl. went, they say.
(sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.)
- Qeabé eúgaqti éi^{n'}te eka^{n'}/ꝑa-bi a^{n'} gatéga^{n'}qti wakída biamá. Mactein'ge-i'^{n'} Tree very thick perhaps dislodged the hav- just in that their shot at them, they (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) ing manner say. Rabbit
- amá é'di ahí ꝑeꝑa-biamá gieka^{n'}qti. Égiꝑe Láqtigikidábi aká xiꝑeiqti é'di the there started off in order to reach there soon, they very hastily. Behold Láqtigikidábi the very long there (sub.) (sub.) say ago
- 12 ahí-bi ega^{n'}, aꝑē amáma. Cí wédaji wakída-bi ega^{n'}, é'di éga^{n'}qti having arrived there, was going (else- Again elsewhere having shot at something, immediately they say, where), they say, they say, they say,
- cí hí ꝑeꝑē ga^{n'} xi égiꝑe xiꝑeiqti é'di ahí-bi ega^{n'}, aꝑē amáma cí, again started off in and (?) when behold very long there having arrived, they was going (else- again order to reach there soon ago they say, where) they say
- Láqtigikidábi amá. "Ámakájiwáꝑē áha^{n'}," eꝑéga^{n'}-biámá Mactein'ge-i'^{n'} aká.
Láqtigikidábi the (mv. sub.) Enough to make one (in so- thought, they say Rabbit the (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) fluency), (sub.)
- 15 Cí wédaji wakída-bi ega^{n'}, cí é'di éga^{n'}qti ahí ꝑeꝑa-biamá. Éta^{n'}ꝑi^{n'} Again elsewhere having shot at something, again immediately started off in order to reach He first they say, there soon, they say,
- ahí-biamá Mactein'ge-i'^{n'} aká. "Kagēha, a^{n'}ꝑáde taí ha^{n'}," á-biamá arrived there, Rabbit the Friend, let us cut it up said, they say
they say (sub.)
- Mactein'ge-i'^{n'} aká. Kí níaci^{n'}ga ꝑeꝑáki áqti t'éꝑē aká uꝑ'agá-biamá.
Rabbit the And person this one deer he who killed was unwilling, they (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) (sub.) say.
- 18 "Ná! kagēha, Láqtigikidábi aká atí te etea^{n'}i há^{n'}," á-biamá "Ná!
Why! friend, Láqtigikidábi the come will by and by said, they say. Why!
(sub.) (sub.)
- kagēha, waníta t'éwaꝑai xi, waꝑádaí-de énaíqꝑa^{n'}ꝑa^{n'} wa'í-na^{n'}i^{n'} á-biamá friend, quadruped they kill when they eat when in equal piles they usually give said, they say them them up or shares to them,

- (Mactein'ge-i' aká). Ca'-na' ué'agá-biamá níaci'ga aká, Láqtigikidábi Rabbit the Still (despite) he was unwilling, they person the Láqtigikidábi (sub.), what was said say (sub.)
- na'pu-bi ega'. Mactein'ge-i' amá xu'é' afa-bi ega', sihi té ufa' ífa'- he feared to see as. Rabbit the (mv. with a having gone, they feet of the he seized and-him, they say (sub.) rush say, say, the an- (ob.) deny, as he stood,
- biamá. Umásna-biamá. Égiçe éa'be atí-biamá Láqtigikidábi amá.
 they say. He slit the skin with a At length in sight came, they say Láqtigikidábi the (mv.
 knife, they say. (sub.)
- "Piiji okáxe! Cañk'éa-gá," á-biamá (Láqtigikidábi aká). "Edáda" 3 Bad you do Let the (recl. ob.) said, they say Láqtigikidábi the (sub.). What
- piiji daxe á, "á-biamá (Mactein'ge-i' aká). "Waníta t'éwafai-de bad I do ? said, they say Rabbit the (sub.). Quadruped when they kill
 them
- wadídai-de énahefa'fa' níkaci'ga-ma wa'f-na'i" (á-biamá Mactein'ge-i'
 when they cut them in equal piles or the people (pl. ob.) they usually said, they say Rabbit up shares give to them
- aká). "Cañk'éa-gá, ehé," á-biamá Láqtigikidábi aká. Ca'-na' 6 the (sub.). Let the (recl. ob.) I say, said, they say Láqtigikidábi the (sub.). Still (despite alone, what was said)
- Mactein'ge-i' aká ubásna'-biamá "Dáda" éin dixa' éin áha," á-biamá Rabbit the pushed (the knife) into What the I blow it (a the ! said, they say (sub.) the meat, they say (mv. light ob.) (mv. ob.)
- (Láqtigikidábi aká). "A'n'bixan'-gá! a'n'bixan'-gá!" á-bi ega', epáhefa'fa' Láqtigikidábi the (sub.) Blow me (as a light ob.) blow me (as a light ob.) having said, thither by degrees
 they say,
- aéa-biamá. Bixa'-bi ega', Mactein'ge-i' éé amá gaqáda'qtei. Gan'xi 9 went, they say. Having blown him, they say, Rabbit was going, with his fur stand-say, they say ing out all over from his being blown at.
- éé amá Láqtigikidábi aká píqti ké éizá-bi ega', íf'a'he ééa-bi ega', was going, Láqtigikidábi the deer the having taken it, they put the lg. suddenly, having they say (sub.) (recl. ob.) say, ob. in his belt, they say,
- aéa-biamá. Láqti ána t'éwafai-ma b'úga ífwaji na' akí-na'-biamá.
 went, they say. Deer how many those which were all putting them usu- he usually reached killed (pl. ob.) the lg. objects ally home, they say.
 in his belt
- Níkaci'ga snédeáqti-biamá. Ca' gáxe akí-bi ega', píqti ána t'éwafai-ma 12 Person very tall, they say. Having quit having reached, deer how those which were again, they say, again, they say, many killed (pl. ob.)
- b'úgaqti Láqtigikidábi aká ífwaji akí-biamá. Ha' xi, Mactein'ge-i'
 all Láqtigikidábi the putting them, the reached home, Night when Rabbit (sub.) the lg. objects in his belt they say,
- amá ugáca' amá ca' Láqtigikidábi íf té ufe'a' ga' ha' té naji'
 the (mv. sub.) was traveling, they until Láqtigikidábi lodge the going awhile night when he was
 (std. sub.) around it
- á'anká. Wag'éicka wi' éizá-bi ega', égiça'-biamá: "Wag'éicka, né te 15
 std. Insect one having taken it, they said to it, they say: O insect, you will go
- fa'ja, tactádéqti té'di náqta te há," á-biamá. Égiçe ha'ega'tce xi though the flank itself in the you bite will said, they say. At length morning when (= just on the flank)

576 THE ƧEƧIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

Ƨaqtigikidabi wakéga, á-biamá. Taetáde Ƨan'di Ƨa'i'i'Ƨá amá. Kí Ƨi'ú Ƨaqtigikidabi sick, said, they say. Plank in the itched him, they say. And scratched with his fingers
 tē ca' Ƨietn'áji'qti ca'ca' ga' jú Ƨa' uƧi'ude amá ga' t'ē amá. Kí when still not ceasing at all continually at flesh the scratched a hole in, and did they say. And last (?)
 3 níkae'ga amá éƧiƧa'-biamá: "Maetein'go-i' ta'wa' gíƧƧa'i-gā," people the (pl. sub.) said to (each other), they say: Rabbit village make ye for him
 "erect a village
 for him.
 á-biamá. Kí Maetein'go-i' aká éƧiƧa'-biamá: "Wí ta'wa' gíƧƧa'i said, they say. And Rabbit the (sub.) said to (one), they say: I village they place for one ma'hƧi'- máji," á-biamá. "Wa'újinga waƧpáƧi'qti aƧa'bƧa uta'nadi, áda"
 I walk I not said, they say. Old woman very poor I left her, my in a lonely therefore
 6 aƧé' tá minke," á-bi oga', aƧá-biamá. Ceta'.
 I start will I who having said, they started home, they say. So far.

NOTES.

The use of egiƧe at the end of the sentence, instead of at the beginning, is peculiar to the narrator.

This Omaha version is fuller than the Ponka one found on pp. 22-25.

514, 10, et passim, -bi a', used by the narrator instead of -bi ega'.

575, 10. Ƨe ama Ƨaqtigikidabi, rather "Ƨe ama Ƨi, Ƨaqtigikidabi," etc. Ƨi, when.

TRANSLATION.

When the Rabbit was journeying, he reached a certain village. The people said, "The Rabbit has come as a visitor, halloo!" On meeting him they said, "Whom did you come to see?" "Why, I will go to the lodge of any person," said the Rabbit. "Why! the people have nothing to eat. Ƨaqtigikidabi is the only one who has plenty of food. You ought to go to his lodge," said they. Still the Rabbit passed on to the end lodge and entered it. The host said, "Friend, we have nothing whatever to eat." "Why! my friend, when there is nothing, the people usually eat anything (that they can get)," said the Rabbit.

At length Ƨaqtigikidabi invited the Rabbit to a feast. "Oho! friend, you are invited! Hasten!" said the man whose lodge the Rabbit had entered. All the people were afraid of the Giant. No matter what animal any one killed, the Giant kept all of the meat. The Rabbit arrived at the lodge of the Giant. As he entered the host said, "Oho! pass around to that side." But the Rabbit leaped over and took a seat. At length food was given him. He ate at it very rapidly, but he left some (which he hid in his robe). Then he pushed the bowl aside. "Friend," said he to the Giant, "here is the bowl." Then he said, "Friend, I must go." He leaped past the fire-place at one leap, at the second leap his feet touched the servant of the Giant on the chest, and with another leap he had gone.

When he had reached the lodge, he gave to his host the food which he had not eaten. The man and his wife were very glad to eat it, as they had been without food.

The next morning the erier passed through the village, commanding the people to be stirring. And they said, "Jaqtigikidabi is the one for whom they are to kill the game." So they went hunting. They scared some animals out of a dense forest, and thus they shot at them. The Rabbit went thither very quickly. But he found that the Giant had anticipated him, having taken all the game as he departed. When the Rabbit heard the shooting in another place, he went thither immediately, but again he found that the Giant had anticipated him. "This is provoking!" thought the Rabbit. When some persons shot at the game in another place, the Rabbit noticed it and went thither immediately, arriving there in advance of the Giant. "Friend," said he to the man who had killed the deer, "let us cut it up!" But the man was unwilling, saying, "No, friend, Jaqtigikidabi will come by and by." "Fie! friend, when one kills animals he cuts them up and then makes an equal distribution of the pieces," said the Rabbit. Still the man refused, as he feared the Giant. So the Rabbit rushed forward and grasped the deer by the feet.

When he had slit the skin the Giant arrived. "You have done wrong! Let it alone!" said he. "What have I done wrong?" said the Rabbit. "When one kills game, he cuts it up and makes an equal distribution of the pieces." "Let it alone, I say," said the Giant. But the Rabbit continued to insert the knife in the meat. "I will blow that thing into the air," said the Giant. "Blow me into the air! Blow me into the air!" said the Rabbit. So the Giant went closer to him, and when he blew at him the Rabbit went up into the air with his fur blown apart. Striding on, the Giant seized the deer, put it through his belt, and departed. That was his custom: he used to suspend all the deer that were slain by his belt and take them to his lodge. He was a very tall person. At night the Rabbit wandered about, and finally went all round the Giant's lodge. He seized an insect (louse) and said to it, "O, insect, you shall go and bite him right in the side." At length, when it was morning, it was said that the Giant was ill. His side itched him. And as he continued to scratch there, he made a hole in his flesh, and died. And the people said, "Make a village for the Rabbit!" But the Rabbit said, "I do not wish to be chief. I left my poor old woman by herself, so I will return to her."

THE RABBIT AND THE TURKEYS.

TOLD BY GEORGE MILLER.

Mactein'ge-i^{n'} amá ačé amáma. Ègiçe Zizika d'úba čdedf amáma.
Rabbit the (mv. was going, they At length Turkey some were there, they say.
sub.) say.

Ė'di ahí-bi a^{n'}, "Gü-gä há, wíquxa taí minke," á-biamá. Ga^{n'} Zizika amá
There having arrived, Come ye I I will sing for you (pl.), said he, they And Turkey the (pl.
they say, say, say, sub.)

atí-bi a^{n'}, "Ahaú! wéquxa taí há, Mactein'ge-i^{n'}," á-biamá. "Wíquxa taí 3 having come, Oho! sing for us will Rabbit, said they, they I sing for
they say, say.

578 THE CEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- mínke ɸaⁿja, ɸaŋgɛgaⁿ-máce ágaí-í-gá. Égiɛ ictá ɸáɸa tal. Wiⁿ ictá you (pl.) though, ye who are somewhat large be ye outside. Beware eye you open feat One eye
- ɸáɸai ɸi, ictá ɸíjéde taíte há," á-biamá. Gaⁿ waaⁿ-biamá. "Hé!
 you (pl.) it, eye ɸíjéde shall há," said he, they And waaⁿ-biamá. they say. Atlas!
- 3 wadaⁿ'be ɸínké! Ictá jidé! Ictá jidé! Iⁿ'be-naⁿ ɸi'an'dje! Iⁿ'be-naⁿ looker the one who! eye red! eye red! Tail (of regu- he opens out! Tail (of regubird) lary bird) lary
- ɸi'an'dje." ɸaŋgá-ma áɸutaⁿ wáɸizá-bi aⁿ, újha ují gɸiⁿ'-bi aⁿ, wiⁿ'
 he opens out. The large ones straight having taken them, sack filling having sat, they one (pl. ob.) way they say, say, say.
- ictáxaⁿxaⁿ gáxa-bi ɸi, "Téná! náɸubáqti ɸaŋgɛgaⁿ an'gaíⁿ cénaawáɸe eyes opened a little made, they when, Why! almost us who are somewhat large exterminating
 (pl. ob.) say us
- 6 aɸé aká há," á-bi aⁿ, "Ku+!" é gaⁿ, giaⁿ aɸá-biamá. ɸéaka Mactein'ge-iⁿ
 he is going having said, Sound of said as flying went, they say. This one Rabbit they say, whirl of the wings! (sub.)
- waⁿ'n agɸá-bi aⁿ, akí-bi aⁿ, "ɸaⁿhá, gáké égiɛ ctaⁿ'be te. Awáⁿ carrying a bundle having gone having reached that Grandmother, beware you look lest. I carried or pack homeward, they say, home, they say, (lg. ob.) at it on my back
- agɸi ɸaⁿ'ja, ákida gɸin'-gá," á-biamá. Égiɛ náqpe gasé ɸé amá. "Edáda"
 I came though, guarding it, said he, they say. At length a spit to cut was going, they say. What
- 9 "iⁿ'gɸi edaⁿ" ɸégaⁿ-bi aⁿ iɸaⁿ' aká újha ké ɸická-bi aⁿ, wadaⁿ'be ɸi, did he bring home on his back? (fem.) having thought, his grand- the sack the having untied, looked when, soliloquy they say mother (sub.) (lg. ob.) they say
- béuga giaⁿ'-bi aⁿ, qáde ɸi té sápiqtiáⁿ ɸihuɸaⁿ té ɸhe agɸá-bi aⁿ, all having down, they say, grass lodge the hitting hard smoke-hole the passing having started (ob.) (ob.) against! (col. ob.) way home, they say,
- naⁿ'jietcé'qtei wiⁿ waté ɸgaqɸi amá iɸaⁿ ɸínké. Égiɛ akí-biamá há barely one skirt was killing it with, his the at. At length reached home, they say they say grand-mother
- 12 Mactein'ge-iⁿ amá. "Hiⁿ! epaɸaⁿ 'agɸaúgiɸe ɸánahiⁿ ehaⁿ," á-biamá.
 Rabbit the (mv. sub.). Oh! grandchild I have made my own suffer I truly! (fem.) said she, they say.
- "Wáhuá! ɸaⁿhá, ctaⁿ'baji te, ehé ɸaⁿ'eti." Gaⁿ Zizika ɸínké ɸioná aká Really! grand- you are not to look I said formerly. And Turkey the one was stripping mother, at it, off its feathers
- Mactein'ge-iⁿ aká. ɸioná-bi aⁿ, ɸietaⁿ'-bi ɸi, ci dáda-bi aⁿ, eíbe té Rabbit the having stripped off its finished, when, again having dissected entral, the (sub.) feathers, they say, they say it, they say, (col. ob.)
- 15 ɸizá-bi aⁿ, iɸaⁿ ɸínké gíí ɸéɸa-bi aⁿ, "ɸaⁿhá, gáté eíbe té ɸizá-gá having taken, his grand- the giving to having sent sud- Grand- that entral the take it they say, mother (st. ob.) his own denly, they say, mother, (col. ob.) (col. ob.) (col. ob.)
- há." Iɸaⁿ ɸínké waɸítaⁿ maŋ'gɸe najiⁿ ɸi, wamí gáɸé hébe gíá'ɸa ɸéɸa-bi aⁿ,
 His the one working erect stood when, blood lump part having thrown away at her, they say,
 grand- who (ob.) mother

- híutá'na tē'di, "Wuhu+! ʔa'há, t'ea'ʔagiʔē'qti ja'," á-biamá. Ga'n'ʔi pudendum at the, Oho! grand- you have indeed killed me, said he, they And then multebre (in this case)
- wa'újinga aká, "Hi", epaʔa' t'eágiʔē'-qti ma' eha", á-biamá. Ga' old woman the On! grandchild, I have indeed killed him, I (fem. in said she, they And (sub.) my own soliloquy), say.
- wa'újinga aká áciaja neʔa-biamá. Ga' Zizika ʔínkē ʔáʔi' wēku 'ʔa-biamá 3 old woman the outside of kindled a fire, And Turkey the one Pawnee to invite he spoke of, (sub.) the lodge they say. who (ob.) them to, they say
- Mactein'ge-i' aká. Ga' wáʔa ʔa-biamá. Ga' akí-bi ega', ē'qti ʔjébe-Rabbit the And messenger went, they And having reached he him-(sub.) to invite say. home again, self guests to a they say door-feast
- gʔa' ʔa' bahe ʔē gʔi'-biamá, gáʔi ʔiʔa' tē, "Náwa, Sié-maka"
flap the knocked it out sat, they say, it fell back and made when, He! Sié-maka part from the lodge by pushing a sudden tapping sound
- ʔee ʔu," ē gʔi'-biamá. Iʔa' aká ga' ʔi áciaʔita", "ʔépaʔa'! ʔáʔi' in- 6 cl I, say- ing it sat, they say. His grand- the and when from the out- side of the lodge, My grandchild! Pawnee they
- ʔi'baha'-baji'-qtei eha'+!" ē gʔi'-biamá. ʔáʔi' wēku-bi aʔi' win'ka-do not know him, my kins- ! (fem. in say- sat, they say. Pawnee that he had said he did not man, at all soliloquy)! speaking ing to his own invited them to a feast he did not speak
- baji'-qti ga' ē'qtei ʔe hēbe ugíkie gʔi'-biamá.
a single as he words part sat, they say.
word that himself (words !)
was true

NOTES.

See Susanne La Flèche's version, pp. 65-66.

578, 10 and 11, sapiqtla' and na'ji'ctēqtei, pronounced, sa+piqtia' and na'+ji'ctēqē-qtei.

579, 1 and 2, t'ea'ʔagiʔē-qtei ja' and t'ea'ʔagiʔē-qti-ma', references uncertain; the Rabbit and his grandmother probably spoke of the catamenia, which they say originated when the Rabbit threw the blood. Otherwise the references are to the injury done to the Rabbit by the old woman's disobedience.

579, 5, bahe ʔē is used instead of bahe ʔēʔē, because the door-flap was knocked out from the Rabbit, toward the spectator, his grandmother. Nawa! is a Pawnee intj.,

The Rabbit was known to the Pawnees as Sié maka. It is uncertain whether this was a Pawnee name, or the Pawnee pronunciation of an Omaha name. The next word, ʔépaʔa, is the Omaha notation of the Pawnee, recaru (re-sha-ru), chief. All this paragraph about the Pawnees appears to be a modern addition to the myth.

TRANSLATION.

The Rabbit was going somewhere. At length he reached a place where there were some (wild) Turkeys. "Come," said he, "I will sing dancing songs for you." Then the (wild) Turkeys went to him, saying, "Oho! The Rabbit will sing dancing songs for us!" "When I sing for you, you larger ones must go around the circle next to me. Beware lest you open your eyes! Should one of you open his eyes, your eyes shall be red," said the Rabbit. Then he sang,

"Alas for the gazer!
Eyes red! Eyes red!
Spread out your tails!
Spread out your tails!"

Wherever he found a large one, he seized it and put it in his bag. While he was acting thus one of the Turkeys opened his eyes a little, and exclaimed, "Why! he has nearly exterminated us large ones!" Off they flew with a whirring sound. The Rabbit took home those he had in the bag, saying to his grandmother, "Do not look at what is in that bag! I have brought it home on my back, and I wish you to guard it." Then he went to cut sticks to serve as spits when the Turkeys were roasted. When the old woman was alone she thought, "What could he have brought home on his back?" So she untied the bag, and when she looked in, out flew all the Turkeys, hitting their wings hard against the grass lodge, and flying out the smoke-hole. The old woman barely killed one by hitting it with her skirt. At length the Rabbit came home. "Oh! I have inflicted a severe injury on my grandchild!" said she. "Really! Grandmother, I told you not to look at it!" And then the Rabbit plucked the feathers from the Turkey. When he finished that, he dissected the Turkey, took the entrails and thrust them at his grandmother, saying, "Grandmother, take those entrails." The old woman was standing erect as she worked, and as the Rabbit thrust the entrails at her he threw some clotted blood, which hit the pubendum muliebri. "For shame! Grandmother, you have scared me nearly to death!" said he. And the old woman replied, "Oh! I have scared my grandchild nearly to death!" And she went outside the lodge and kindled a fire. Then the Rabbit said that he would invite the Pawnees to feast on the Turkey. So he went as a messenger to invite them to the feast. On his return he himself knocked the door-flap out from the lodge (towards his grandmother?), and when it fell back in place with a sudden tapping sound he called out, as if a Pawnee were speaking, "Nawa! Siċe-maka^a the chief!" Then the grandmother, who was outside, heard this, and she said, "Oh! how well acquainted the Pawnees are with my grandchild!"

The Rabbit lied when he said that he had invited the Pawnees, for he himself sat there in the lodge making the replies to his own words.

THE BIRD CHIEF.

TOLD BY FRANK LA FLÉCHE.

Wajin'ga-má beŋgaqti wċba^a-biamá. Wajin'ga wi^an'wa máxe ké'ja
The birds (pl. ob.) all they called them, they say. Bird which one upper world at the íta ġia^{n'} of čáċi^{n'}ce nuda^{n'}hanga onin' taté hă, á-biamá. Kĭ beŋgaqti for flying you you who leader you be shall said, they say. And all ékitaⁿháqti maⁿ/ei aqí-biamá. Kí xíqaaqádjaⁿ aká Qíqá áhíⁿ kigééⁿ híⁿ at equal heights high in went, they say. And Wren the (sub.) Eagle wing beneath feath-

 the air
 ekúbe qaⁿ ugqíⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ wajín/ga amá bəúgaqti áhíⁿ uqéa-bi egaⁿ, hidéⁿ thick the sat in, they say. And bird the (pl. all wing fired, they as, below part sub.) say gí-bi qí, é-naⁿ aqí-biamá Qíqá amá. Kí Qíqá qíⁿ cetaⁿ/amá qí, xíqaaqádjaⁿ 3 were-re- when, he only went, they say Eagle the (mv. And Eagle the was so far, when, Wren turning, they say sub.) (mv. one) they say amá ákihaⁿ aqí-biamá. Kí wajín/ga amá bəúgaqti hidé gqí-bi qí, Qíqá the beyond went, they say. And bird the (pl. all below had re- when, Eagle
 (mv. sub.) turned, they say amá-naⁿ gaⁿ/təqti qí aqí-biamá. Kí énaⁿ-bi éskaⁿ eéégaⁿ-bi egaⁿ, the only a long time when returned, they say. And enough, they perhaps they thought, as (mv. sub.) say say (=hav- ing).
 wáqawá-biamá wajín/ga amá. Égiqé xíqaaqádjaⁿ é-naⁿ gqíííí amá. Kí 9 they counted them, they bird the (pl. Behold Wren only he had not returned, And say sub.) they say.
 íqápa-biamá. Égiqé aqí-biamá gaⁿ/təqti qí. Qíqá aⁿ/qtiqíqégaⁿ amá qí, they waited for him, At length he returned, they a long time when. Eagle was thinking too they when, they say. say highly of himself, say égiqé xíqaaqádjaⁿ aká é áta gúxaií-biamá.
 behold Wren the that chief was made, they say.
 (sub.) one

NOTE.

580, 1. bəugaqti, pronounced bəu+gaqti. So in line 2.

TRANSLATION.

All the birds were called together. To them was said, "Whoever one of you can fly furthest in the sky shall be chief." And all the birds flew to a great height. But the Wren got under the thick feathers of the Eagle and sat there as the Eagle flew. When all the birds had become weary in their wings, they flew down again; but the Eagle soared aloft. And when the Eagle had gone as far as he could, the Wren went still higher. And when all the birds had reached the ground, the Eagle returned alone after a great while. As they thought that all were there, they began to make a reckoning. Behold, the Wren was the only absentee! So they awaited his return. After a long time he returned. The Eagle had been thinking too highly of himself, being sure of the appointment; but the Wren was made the chief one.

THE BUFFALO AND THE GRIZZLY BEAR—AN OMAHA MYTH.

DICTATED BY GEORGE MILLER.

Ēgiċe Maⁿteu amí aċé amúma, wutēka éⁿte uhá-bi aⁿ. Ğaċige wiⁿ
 At length (grizzly the was going, they say, stream perhaps having followed its course, they say.) Headland one bear (mv. sub.)

najiⁿ tē amí xi, uskaⁿ skaⁿ qti aċi-biamá. Ğaċige tē éċaⁿ be ahi-bi xi, it was standing, they say when, in a straight line went, they say. Headland the in sight arrived, when, they say (std. ob.)

3 Ēgiċe Jenúga wiⁿ kíċe tē najiⁿ akáma. Maⁿteu aká híde nístustu behold Buffalo bull one under the was std., they say. Grizzly bear the have backing step by step (std. ob.)

agi-bi egaⁿ, ní kēⁿ aċi-bi aⁿ, ní kē uhá aċi-bi aⁿ, ugáⁿ ahi-bi having come, they say, stream to the having gone, stream the following having gone, peeping arrived, they say say, (fig. ob.) they say, (fig. ob.)

xi, to-díxe taⁿ amí qéúqtiⁿ pamanⁿ gēēqti najiⁿ amí Jenúga taⁿ uxiċgiⁿ age when, scabby std. they say very lean with bowed head was std., they say Buffalo bull the indisposed to move (std.)

6 gaⁿ. Maⁿteu amí gēáda-bi aⁿ, xuⁿ aċi-bi aⁿ, Jenúga najíha éaⁿ uċaⁿ aa. Grizzly bear the crept up on hav. with a went, they say. Buffalo bull hair of the the grasped (mv. sub.) him, they say ing. rush say ing. head part iċaⁿ-bi aⁿ, ċiċáza-biamá. ċiċúwiⁿ xe aċiⁿ-bi aⁿ, ċijaⁿ jaⁿ, "Ía-gā há!

 suddenly, hav. pulled him by the Pulling him had him, they say. shook him they say ing. hair, they say. around say ing. often, Speak !

Ía-gā há! Gáċuqti maⁿ bēiⁿ áċiⁿ hē xi aⁿ ċaⁿ ċakijáje amí. Kē, na, ía-gā!"
 Speak ! That unseen place I walk I who when you threatened to they say. Come, now, speak!
 (said, they say.) Paw flat too hit him with it hav. tip of nose the (ob.)

9 (á-biamá). Naⁿ bē bēáska eċi ítiⁿ-naⁿ-bi aⁿ, ċaċje tē. "Tēná! eútaⁿ (said, they say.) Paw flat too hit him with it hav. tip of nose the (ob.) Fle! why íwikijáje tā, gaⁿ qti maⁿ niⁿ ċáċiⁿ eċ," á-biamá Jenúga aká. "Añkaji há!

 I threaten to should, just in the you walk you who said, they say Buffalo bull the (sub.). Not so attack you manner (you mention)

aⁿ ċaⁿ ċakijáje amí, "á-biamá Maⁿteu aká. Najiⁿ ha éaⁿ ċietaⁿ-bi aⁿ, uċeáⁿ you threatened to at- they say, said, they say Grizzly the Hair of the the let it go, they hav. around tack me bear (sub.) head part say, ing. him

12 aċi-bi aⁿ, sínⁿ de kēⁿ uċaⁿ-bi aⁿ, eċi ċiúubēiⁿ aċiⁿ-bi aⁿ, ċietaⁿ tá-bi xi, having gone, tall the having grasped, again pulled him having had him, about to let him when, they say, they say, round and they say, go, they say candé éaⁿ naⁿ bē bēáska ítiⁿ-biamá. Jenúga éiⁿ gabéúbēaje maⁿ ċiⁿ amí.

 scrotum the paw flat hit him there, Buffalo bull the legs wide apart was walking they say.
 part with it, they say. (mv. ob.)

"Ūⁿ huⁿ huⁿ huⁿ huⁿ +! niájiqteiaⁿ ekáxe áhaⁿ," á-biamá Jenúga aká. Maⁿteu Oh! Oh! Oh! Oh! not pulling at all you ! (in sol. said, they say Buffalo bull the Grizzly bear (sub.) make (loquy), say amá apei-biamá, nin de kúeti égaⁿ. Jénúga aká geé'egaⁿ-biamá. "Ákiéá-gā the went, they say, home (see note) some- what. Buffalo bull the thought as follows, they Return the (sub.) say, blow

haú! ǃ' etí égaⁿ-qti égaⁿ-naⁿ níⁿ éaⁿ'eti waijⁿ tó, eé'egaⁿ amá ǃ, Maⁿteú
I You too just so often like you were in the past the disposition the was think- they when, (grizly-bear

aká íbahaⁿ-biamá. "Wá! edécegaⁿ á, á-biamá Maⁿteú aká. "Edécha-máji 3 the knew it, they say, Why! what do you I said, they say Grizly the (sub.) I said nothing há, é amá Jénúga. Cí qúéa agí-bi aⁿ, eí Jénúga ǃíxúwíxé'qti apeiⁿ-was saying, Buffalo bull. Again back to having come, again Buffalo bull turned him around had him, they say starting, they say, very fast

biamá. Cí hé tó uéaⁿ-bi aⁿ, ǃ' éaⁿ etí ǃíuúbeíⁿ-naⁿ apeiⁿ-biamá eí.
they say, Again horn the having grasped, head the too pulled it round and and him, they again.
(sub.) (oh.) they say, round often say

"Ná! gájaⁿ ehé ǃ'eti wé'éja éaⁿ'eti," á-biamá Maⁿteú aká. Cí sín'de ké 6 Fie! you do that I said when you denied formerly, said, they say Grizly the (sub.) Again tail the (oh.) (fig. oh.)

uéaⁿ-bi aⁿ, eí pahan'ga gí'aí tó' égaⁿ gí'aⁿ-biamá. Naⁿbé béška having grasped it, again before did to him the so did to him, they say, Paw flat
they say,

íti-biamá. Cí gabábéape má'ǃiⁿ amá Jénúga. "Úⁿhuⁿhuⁿhuⁿhⁿ+ hit him with, Again legs wide apart was walking, they say Buffalo bull. Oh! Oh! Oh! Oh! Oh!
they say,

niájíteiaⁿ ekáxe áhaⁿ," á-biamá Jénúga aká. Cí apei-biamá Maⁿteú amá. 9 not paining at all you make I (in sol- loquy), said, they say Buffalo bull the (sub.) Again went, they say Grizly the (sub.) bear (sub.)

Cí Jénúga aká égié égaⁿ geé'egaⁿ-biamá eí: "Wáhuá! Ákiéá-gā haú!
Again Buffalo bull the at length so thought as follows, again: Really! Return the (sub.) they say blow

ǃ' etí waijⁿ tó' égaⁿ-qti égaⁿ-naⁿ níⁿ éaⁿ'eti, eé'egaⁿ amá. Cí Maⁿteú amá
You too disposi- tion the just so often like you were formerly, was thinking, they Again Grizly the (sub.) (oh.) say, bear (mv. sub.)

eí íbahaⁿ-biamá, "Wá! edécegaⁿ á, á-biamá. "Edécha-máji há, é amá 12 again knew it, they say, Why! what do you I said, they say, I said nothing, was saying, they say

Jénúga. "Gájaⁿ ehé ǃ'eti wé'éja éaⁿ'eti," á-biamá, qúéa agí-bi égaⁿ.
Buffalo bull. You do that I said when you denied formerly, said, they say, back to the start- ing point
they say,

ǃ'ídúze uéaⁿ íaⁿ'-bi aⁿ, eí ǃíxúwíxé'qti apeiⁿ-bi aⁿ eí naⁿbé béška eí Pulled him seized him (on the head) they say suddenly, have, again turned him around having had him, again paw flat too
they say ing, they say íti-naⁿ-biamá. Cí sín'de ké uéaⁿ-bi aⁿ, eí naⁿbé béška eí íti-biamá, 15 hit him with it often, Again tail the having grasped it, again paw flat too hit him with it,

they say (g. oh.) they say, they say, pahan'ga gí'aí tó' égaⁿ gí'aⁿ-biamá. "Úⁿhuⁿhuⁿhuⁿhⁿ+! niájíteiaⁿ before did to him the so did to him, they say. Oh! Oh! Oh! Oh! Oh! not paining at all ekáxe áhaⁿ," á-biamá Jénúga aká. Cí apei-biamá Maⁿteú amá. Cí Jénúga you make I (in sol- loquy), said, they say Buffalo bull the (sub.) Again went, they say Grizly the (mv. sub.) Again Buffalo bull eé'egaⁿ amá, "Wáhuá! Ákiéá-gā haú! ǃ' etí waijⁿ tó' égaⁿ-qti égaⁿ-naⁿ níⁿ 18 was thinking, they Really! Return the blow I You too disposi- tion the just so often like you were ča^{n'}eti," ečēgaⁿ amá. Či Maⁿteú amá čí íbaha^{n'}-biamá. "Wá! edčēgaⁿ for acoly, was thinking, they Again Grizzly the (mv. again knew it, they say. Why! what do you say

ā," á-biamá (Maⁿteú aká). "Edčha-máji há," é amá Jenúga. "Ákičá-gá
I said, they say Grizzly the (sub.). I said nothing was saying, Buffalo bull. Return the blows

3 háu! Čí eti waji^{n'} tē égaⁿ qti égaⁿ-na^{n'} niⁿ ča^{n'}eti, ehé há," á-biamá. "Aⁿha^{n'},"
I You too dispos- the just so often like you formerly. I said said, they say. Yes, á-biamá Maⁿteú aká. Jenúga amá nístustú ačá-biamá. Sinⁿde kē číhaⁿ said, they say Grizzly the Buffalo bull the (mv. lucking step went, they say. Tail the raised (lg. ob.)

čéča-biamá. "Ná! aⁿhaji-gá há, á-biamá Maⁿteú aká. Jenúga amá suddenly in the air, Why! do not flee I said, they say Grizzly bear the Buffalo bull the (mv. sub.)

6 xia^{n'} ča gčihčá-bi a^{n'}, uxičája^{n'}-biamá Jenúga amá nístustú maⁿčí^{n'}- having thrown himself down sud- turned himself back and forth, Buffalo bull the backing step walked, denly, they say. they say (not rolling over and over in one direction), the (mv. sub.)

biamá, maⁿ-na^{n'}u. "Ná! aⁿhaji-gá, ehé," á-biamá Maⁿteú aká. Kí they say, pawing the ground. Fie! do not flee, I say, said, they say Grizzly bear the And (sub.)

Jenúga aká ičnaxčá tai égaⁿ nístustú maⁿčí^{n'}i tē. Kí Maⁿteú aká Buffalo bull the to attack him in order to backed step walked the And Grizzly bear the (mv. sub.) (com- pleted act).

9 búazá-bi ečēgaⁿi tē. Jenúga aká Maⁿteú eca^{n'}qtei hí xí, judé čahégathat he was he thought the Buffalo bull the Grizzly bear near to him arrived when, having puffed scared (com- pleted act).

baji-bi a^{n'}, xu^{n'}é ačá-biamá. Maⁿteú maⁿčíhaqti a^{n'}čé ičéča-biamá. Gí exceedingly (in with a rush went, they say. Grizzly bear very high in the air threw suddenly, they say. Re- turning xí, čí ičáa^{n'}čé júha-bi a^{n'}, čí maⁿčíáha a^{n'}čé ičéča-biamá. Kíhadi kíhē xí, when, again "on the fly" having gored him, they say, again high in the air threw suddenly, they say. Downward laid when, again

12 anⁿde ábasanⁿda-bi xí, baⁿna^{n'}-bi a^{n'}, Maⁿteú amá ačá-biamá mindáda, ground pushing against the when, having failed to gore Grizzly the (mv. went, they say crawling by degrees, the animal on the ground, they say him, they say, bear sub.)

baⁿna^{n'}onaⁿ ačí^{n'}-biamá. Maⁿá kē utčéje kē égiha áuáča-bi a^{n'}, Maⁿteú amá thrusting at him had him, they say. Cliff the thicket the into it having gone, they Grizzly the (mv. sub.) often and missing him each time (lg. ob.) (lg. ob.) say, bear iⁿtéde Jenúga amá uxičájspe číⁿ-bi a^{n'}, ákusanⁿde maⁿá xa^{n'}ha kē áuáčabut now Buffalo bull the (mv. to hold him- having failed, beyond cliff bank the had gone, act back they say, (lg. ob.)

15 biamá. Gáčuqti ahi-bi a^{n'}, sinⁿde kē číqa^{n'} tēgaⁿ naji^{n'}-biamá Jenúga aká.
they say. At that very place having reached, tail the raised and bent stood, they say Buffalo bull the (sub.) unseen place there, they say. (lg. ob.)

Maⁿteú aká maⁿá kē ugičáⁿ agéⁿ-bi a^{n'}, "Jenúga háu! ikágeankičé taté Grizzly the cliff the peeping having come back, they say, Buffalo bull ho! we shall be friends (sub.) bear (lg. ob.)

hau+! waji^{n'} tē eiwakigaⁿ égaⁿ," á-biamá.
(called to dispo- the we are alike some- what, said, they say. out at a distance)

NOTES.

The narrator did not remember more of the myth.

582, 5. q̄aqtia, pronounced q̄a+qtia.

582, 14. niajūtei ekaxe aha, though in the negative, must be rendered by an affirmative, nie a'ekaxe aha, you cause me great pain!

583, 1. ninde kueti ega, i. e., bob-tailed. Kueti refers to the shape of the hams of the Grizzly bear.

584, 13. baona'ona aq̄i-biama, pronounced ba+ona'ona aq̄i-biama.

TRANSLATION.

The Grizzly bear was going somewhere, following the course of a stream. At last he went straight toward a headland. When he got in sight a Buffalo bull was standing beneath it. The Grizzly bear retraced his steps, going again to the stream, following its course till he got beyond the headland. Then he drew near and peeped, and saw that the Buffalo bull was a scabby one, very lean, and standing with his head bowed, as if very sluggish. So the Grizzly bear crawled up close to him, made a rush, seized the Buffalo bull by the hair of his head and pulled down his head. He turned the Buffalo bull round and round, shaking him now and then, saying, "Speak! Speak! I have been frequenting this place a long time, and they say that you have threatened to fight me. Speak!" Then he hit the Buffalo bull on the nose with his open paw. "Why!" said the Buffalo bull, "I have never threatened to fight you, who have been frequenting this country so long." "Not so! you have threatened to fight me," said the Grizzly bear. Letting go the hair he went around and seized the Buffalo bull by the tail, turning him round and round. Just as he was quitting him he gave him a hard blow with his open paw on the scrotum. This made the Buffalo bull walk with his legs far apart. "Oh! Oh! Oh! Oh! Oh! you have caused me great pain," said the Buffalo bull. The bob-tailed Grizzly bear departed. The Buffalo bull thought thus: "Attack him! You too have been just that sort of a person." But the Grizzly bear knew what he thought, so he said, "Why! what are you saying?" "I said nothing," said the Buffalo bull. Then the Grizzly bear came back. He seized the Buffalo bull by the tail, pulling him round and round. Then he seized him by the horns, pulling his head round and round. "Now, when I said that you thought of doing that, you denied it," said the Grizzly bear (referring to his previous charge of threatening to attack him). Then he seized the Buffalo bull by the tail, treating him as he had done previously. He hit him with his open paw. And the Buffalo bull walked with his legs wide apart, exclaiming, "Oh! Oh! Oh! Oh! Oh! you have caused me great pain." Again the Grizzly bear departed. And the Buffalo bull soliloquized as before. But the Grizzly bear knew it, and attacked him as he had previously done. A third time did the Grizzly bear depart. But when he asked the Buffalo bull what he had been saying, the latter replied, "I said nothing of importance. I said to myself, 'Attack him! You too have been just that sort of a person.'" "Yes," said the Grizzly bear. Then the Buffalo bull stepped backward, throwing his tail into the air. "Why! do not flee," said the Grizzly bear. The Buffalo bull threw himself down, and rolled over and over. Then he continued backing, pawing the ground. "Why! I say, do not flee," said the Grizzly bear. When the Buffalo bull backed prior to attacking the Grizzly bear, the latter thought that he was scared. But the Buffalo bull approached the Grizzly bear, puffing a great deal, till he drew very near, when he rushed on him. He sent the Grizzly bear flying through the air. When the Grizzly bear was returning to the ground, the Buffalo bull caught him on his horns and threw him into the air. When the Grizzly bear fell and lay on the ground, the Buffalo bull thrust at him with his horns, just missing him, but piercing the ground. The Grizzly bear crawled off by degrees, the Buffalo bull following him step by step and thrusting at him now and then, though without piercing him. This time, instead of attacking the Buffalo bull, the Grizzly bear plunged headlong over the cliff, landing in a thicket at the foot of the headland. The Buffalo bull rushed so fast that he could not stop himself at the place where the Grizzly bear plunged over the cliff, but he continued along the edge of the cliff for some distance. And when he had thus gone, he stood with his tail partly raised (and bent downward). Then the Grizzly bear returned to the bank and peeped. "O, Buffalo bull! Let us be friends. We resemble in disposition," said the Grizzly bear.

ADVENTURES OF THE ORPHAN

TOLD BY GEORGE MILLER.

- Ta'wa'gçaⁿ d'úba gçi'ⁿ-biamá. Ki wa'újiŋga wiⁿ Waha'ⁿçicige Nation some sat, they say. And old woman one Orphan júgigçe ta'wa'gçaⁿ gaqája gçi'ⁿ-biamá. Gaⁿ waqpaç'iⁿqtia'ⁿi tē, úiçipu, she with her nation apart from sat, they say. And they were very poor low tent (of poor people) qáde úi tē, gçi'ⁿ-biamá. Ki úúcpa aká úi-gaxe-na'ⁿ-biamá "ya'há, man'dē grass lodge the sat, they say. And her grand- the used to play games, they say. O grand- mother how (stl.ob) (sub.)
 3 jín'ga wiⁿ iŋgáxa-gá, "ú-biamá. Iya'ⁿ aká giáxa-biamá. Ma'ⁿ etí giáxa-small one make for me, said, they say. His grand- mother made it for him. Arrow too made for him, (sub.) (sub.)
 biamá. Gaⁿ wajín'ga wakíde-na'ⁿ-biamá úúcpa aká. Ca'ⁿ wajín'ga-ma they say. And bird used to shoot at them, they her grand- child the (sub.). And the birds idíçahē kē égaxe'qti mívaji akí-na'-biamá Ki wakíde-pi-qtí-biamá belt the all around in a putting them in his he used to reach home, And he was a very good marksman, they say
 (fig. ob.) circle belt they say.
 6 nújiŋga aká, edádaⁿ çí'ⁿ etēwa'ⁿ t'ççē-na'ⁿ-biamá. Iji çan'ú za'ç'-qti-na'ⁿ-boy the what the soever he usually killed it, they Tents at the they used to make a great noise, (sub.) (sub.) (mv. ob.) say. (cv. ob.)
 biamá, mi'ⁿ caⁿ ma'ⁿci tiçan' tē'di. Iya'ⁿ çínké ímaxá-biamá: "ya'há, they say. sun the high in the the (cv. ob.) be- when. His grand- mother the (st. ob.) he questioned her, they say. O grand- mother,

- gáama za'á' amá eíta'i á," á-biamá. Ixa' akú égiéa'-biamá, "Gáama those un- they are eíta'i á," á-biamá. Ixa' akú égiéa'-biamá, "Gáama seen ones ing a noise why are they said, they say. his the Those grand- (sub.) said to him, they unseen ones mother (sub. of an action)
- ta'wa'gáa amádi wajin'ga wi' hí-na' amá jidéqti Ili fan'di má'a nation near those bird one reaches there reg- very red. Tents by the cotton-
 (sub. of an action) ularly, they say (ob. ob.) wood
- qfábé snédeáqti teéa' áta'-na'-biamá wajin'ga aká. Ili fan' beúgaqti 3 tree very tall the (std. ob.) in the past he stands on regularly, bird the (sub.). Tents the all (cv. ob.)
- wajin'ga aká ugájide-na'-biamá maja' fa". Édega' níkagahí aká bird the (sub.) sheds a red light over them, land the (cv. ob.). But chief the (sub.)
- kídewákíéa'-biamá. É'be t'ééé fínké ijan'ge fínké gáa' te," á-biamá causes them to shoot at it, they Who kills it the one his daughter the one marry may, said she, they say. who who her her
- "xa'há, é'di bécé tá minke," á-biamá. "Awádiqti né te eha'+! 6
 O grand- there I go will I who, said, they say. To what place you can ! (fem) mother, indeed go
- Wawéqtaqtaí hē. Íéiqta taí hē," á-biamá ixa' aká. "Uéáde-qti éiéin'ge
 They are those who abuse people (fem) Abuse you will (pl.) (fem) said, they say his the Real cause for you have grand- (sub.) mother (sub.) none
- eha'+! "Ca' iúépa aká mau'dé gétza-bi éga", aení tē, áci. "Égiéé oné
 ! (few) Yet her the (sub.) bow took his, they as (=hav- ing.) went out of doors. Beware you grand- child
- te, ehé," á-biamá ixa' aká. "Ga' gágēdi íí-gaxe ma'béi' tá minke," 9 feet, I say, said, they say his the (sub.). At any rate to those to play games I walk will I who, grand- mother (sub.) unseen places
- á-biamá iúépa aká. Égiéé iúépa amá aení-biamá ca'ca' tē ta'wa'gáa'.
 said, they say her the (sub.). At length her grand- child the (mv. sub.) went, they say without the nation.
 child (sub.) stopping
- Ili fan' xan'ge aení-bi xi, ugájide amá ta'wa'gáa' fa". Níaci'ga amá Tents the near at hand say they when, it shone with a red nation the (cv. ob.). People the (pl. sub.)
- ákié'qti amáma kíde amáma wajin'ga fínké. É'di ahí-biamá Waha'fíéíge 12 were (mv.) in a great crowd, they say were shooting at it as they moved, they say bird the (st. ob.). There arrived, they say Orphan
- amá. Níaci'ga wi' ahí-bi éga', "Gí-gǎ há, Waha'fíéíge! éakíde te," the (mv. sub.). Person one reached there, they say as (=hav- ing), O come Orphan! you shoot may at it
- á-biamá. Na'wápábi éga', wábaga naji'-biamá Waha'fíéíge aká.
 said, they say. Feared them, they say as drawing back thro' shame or diffidence stood, they say Orphan the (sub.).
- Níaci'ga amá a-í-bi éga', "Gúdiha! gúdiha éga"! Waha'fíéíge kíde 15 Person the (mv. sub.) coming, they say as, That way! that way some- what! Orphan shoot at it
- taté," á-biamá. Waha'fíéíge aká wajin'ga kída-biamá. Na'ji'etcé'qtei shall, said, they say. Orphan the (sub.) bird shot at it, they say. Barely 588 THE ƆEGIIIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

múona^a íƆéƆa-biamá. Ietníke aká kide ɣi, sakib' íhé ƆíqƆe wiⁿ he suddenly missed hitting it, they Ietníke the shot at when beside lying reel one
say.

Ɔidaⁿ ƆéƆa-biamá. Níaciⁿga amá á-biama, "Wuhu+! Wahaⁿ Ɔíngé aká pulling he sent it, they People the (pl. said, they say, Oh! Orphan the (sub.)
(the string)

3 aⁿ Ɔiⁿ t'éab aƆiⁿ!" "Wie bɛiⁿ," á-biamá Ietníke aká. Wajín'ga amá came very near killing it! I I am, said, they say Ietníke the Bird the (mv. (sub.)
the (sub.)

ɣiaⁿ aƆá-biamá ɣi, níaciⁿga amá ɣaⁿ uéƆa agƆá-biamá. Gaⁿ Wahaⁿ Ɔíéɣe flying went, they say when, people the at any seat- went homeward, And Wahaⁿ Orphan (pl. rate tery they say.

eti agƆá-biamá. Ki akú tɛ, íɣaⁿ Ɔínkɛⁿdi. "ɣaⁿha', wajín'ga Ɔínké too went homeward, And he reached his at the st. one. O grand- bird the one they say. mother who

6 aⁿ Ɔiⁿ t'éab áƆiⁿ há, á-biamá. "ÍƆaⁿbaⁿ Ɔáji-á he+! ÍƆiqta taí hɛ.
I came very near killing it said, they say. A second go not ! (fem) Abuse will (pl.) (fem).
time

Ɔnáji te aⁿ Ɔaⁿi Ɔaⁿeti," á-biamá íɣaⁿ aká. Ɔi aⁿba áji tɛ ei
You go shall we said heretofore, said, they say his the Again day an- other the again act (sub.) mother

haⁿegaⁿtee tɛ ɛⁿdi aƆá-biamá. Ɔi zaⁿéqtaⁿ-biama. Ɔi alí-biamá ɣi, morning the there went, they say. Again there was a great noise, Again arrived there, when
they say.

9 égaⁿ-biama. Ɔi níaciⁿga kide ágaji aká ei égaⁿ kide ágaji-biamá. Ɔi kidaí so, they say. Again person to shoot com- the again so to shoot commanded him, Again shot at at it manded (sub.) him at it they say. it

tɛ égaⁿ-biama. Ɔi naⁿjiⁿetecⁿqtei múonaⁿ-biama. Ɔi Ietníke aká kide the so, they say. Again barely missed hitting it, they Again Ietníke the shot at (past act) say.

ɣi sakib' íhé ƆíqƆe wiⁿ Ɔidaⁿ ƆéƆa-biamá. (And so on, as on the first day.
when beside lying reel one pulling he sent it, they (the string) say.

12 Similar adventures on the third day.) Aⁿba wɛduba tɛ ahí tɛ wajín'ga Day fourth the ar- the bird
rived (=when) there

Ɔínké kida-biamá. Kúsandéqti íƆaⁿ Ɔa-biamá. "Wuhu+! Wahaⁿ Ɔíngé the one shot at it, they. Through and he placed it, they Oh! Orphan who say.

aká t'ééɛ, á-bi ɣíji, Ietníke aká, "Sa! sù! Wí t'éáƆé! Wí t'éáƆé!
the has said, when, Ietníke the (See note) I I killed it! I I killed it (sub.) killed it, they say (sub.)

15 UƆáde Ɔíéin'ge! UƆáde Ɔíéin'ge!" á-biamá. Gaⁿ uhéwakiƆa-baji-biamá Cause for you have Cause for you have said, they say. And he would not let them have their (com- none! (com- none! way, they say plaint !)

Ietníke aká, gaⁿ Wahaⁿ Ɔíéɣe wajín'ga t'éai tɛ ɣínacé-biamá. Gaⁿ Ietníke the and Orphan bird killed it the snatched from him, And (sub.) they say.

níaciⁿga amá ákie ábanaⁿ wajín'ga Ɔínké najíⁿ-biama. Ki Wahaⁿ Ɔíéɣe people the (pl. in a viewing bird the (st. stool, they say. And Orphan sub.) crowd the spec- (sub.) ob.)

amá ɛ'di aɸá-bi ega^{n'}, hi^{n'} wi^{n'} ɸionúda-bi xi, wajin'ga beŋuqti gɸɛzathe there went, they as feather one pulled out, they when, bird whole took his (mv. say) (-hav- ing), say biamá, jideqti. amá. Agɸá-biamá. Ga^{n'}xi níkagahi aká gá-biamá, they say, very red they say. Went homeward, they say. And then chief the said as follows, they say,

"Wijan'de ɸi^{n'} aɸi^{n'} gɸi-gá," á-biamá. Ga^{n'} wajin'ga ɸinké aɸi^{n'} agɸá-bi 3
 My daughter's the husband (mv. one) be bringing him hither, said, they say. And bird the one who took it homeward, they say ega^{n'} níkagahi aká ɛɸi^{n'} aki-i-biamá, Ietínike aká eti aɸi^{n'} aki-i-biamá.

 as chief the (sub.) had it taken there to him, they say, Ietínike the too was taken there to him, they say.
 (=hav- ing)

Ijan'ge ɸanká na^{n'}bá ɛi^{n'}te na^{n'} ɸinké Ietínike aká gɸá^{n'}-biamá Ga^{n'} his daughter the ones two perhaps grown the one who Ietínike the took her to wife, they say. And mi^{n'}gɸa^{n'}i éga^{n'}, ga^{n'} gɸi^{n'}-biamá Ietínike aká. Waha^{n'}ɸieige aká aki-biamá. 6 took a wife as, so sat, they say Ietínike the Orphan the reached there his home, they say.

"ɸa^{n'}há, wajin'ga ɸinké t'eáɸé agɸi," á-biamá. "Hé! eɸaɸa^{n'}! hé, eɸaɸa^{n'}!" O grand-mother, bird the (st. ob.) I killed I have said, they say. Oh! grandchild! oh! grandchild!

á-biamá. "ɸa^{n'}há, wɛɸita^{n'}-t'egge ingáxa-gá há, uɸiza^{n'} t'ɛ'di," á-biamá.
 said, they say. O grand-mother, (See notes.) make for me ! middle at the, said, they say.

Ga^{n'} xi tɛ ugájide'qti gɸi^{n'}-biamá Waha^{n'}ɸieige aká iɸa^{n'} ɛɸa^{n'}ba. Kí, 9
 And tent the filled with a very sat, they say Orphan the his she too. And, (st. ob.) red light (sub.) grand-mother

"ɸa^{n'}há, waɸigije wi^{n'} ingáxa-gá," á-biamá Ga^{n'} iɸa^{n'} aká waɸigije gi-
 O grand-mother, hoop (of hide!) one make for me, said, they say. And his the hoop made (sub.) grand-mother áxa-biamá. Waɸigije biz' iɸa^{n'}ɸa-bi t'ɛ'di, uhíta-bají-biamá Waha^{n'}ɸieige for him, they say. Hoop to dry was placed, when, was anxiously waiting for Orphan it, they say

aká. Egiɸe bize amá. "Hau, ɸa^{n'}há, uɸiza^{n'} tɛ gɸi^{n'}-gá há," á-biamá. 12 the At length dry they say. Ho, grand-mother, middle the sit ! said, they say. (sub.)

Ga^{n'} Waha^{n'}ɸieige aká áciajá a-i-naji^{n'}-biamá, iijebe ionugajáɸica^{n'} t'ɛ'di
 And Orphan the (sub.) outside came and stood, they say, door towards the right at the hand naji^{n'}-biamá. Kí gá-biamá iɸa^{n'} ɸinké, "ɸa^{n'}há, eɛ te há, Ié níkaci^{n'}ga stood, they say. And said as follows, his the (st. ob.), O grand-mother, you shall, Iaf. person (sub.)

wáda^{n'}b éga^{n'} na^{n'} gá^{n'}-qti éde euɸé hɛ, eɸaɸa^{n'} hɛ, eɛ te há, ɸa^{n'}há," 15 they are usually so of that very but goes grand-child (fem.), you shall. O grand-mother, (fem.) say it á-biamá. Ga^{n'} iɸa^{n'} aká ɛgɸa^{n'}-biamá. Ijanáta^{n'} waɸigije ɸa^{n'} banan'ge said he, they say. And his the (sub.) said to him, they say. From the tent hoop the making it roll (ev. ob.) by pushing iɸa^{n'}-biamá. Iijebe tɛ áci ɛɸa^{n'}be atí-bi xi, tɛ ɸe uɸai aká wi^{n'} ga^{n'} she sent it hither, they say. Doorway the out- side emerging it came, when, Iaf. this told of the one so (sub.)

590 THE PEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- tiča^{n'}-biamá. Waha^{n'}čicige aká kúsandé'qti iča^{n'}ča-biamá, ŋjébe tē'di became suddenly (a cv. ob.), they say. Orphan the (sub.) through and through placed it, they say, doorway at the
- č'ča-biamá. Ga^{n'} iya^{n'} č'ča^{n'}ba dāda-bi ega^{n'}, iya^{n'} aká beŋgaqti ágakilled it, they say. And his grand mother she too they cut up the animal, they say as (=hav. ing), his grand- (sub.) whole cut into slices, they say
- 3 biamá. Ta^{n'}wa^{n'}gča^{n'} wačita-baji-biamá. Iya^{n'} aká č'čiqi hēbe gāxathey say. Nation did not eat anything, they say. His grand- mother the [See note.] piece made,
- biamá. Čicta^{n'}-bi xi, "ŋa^{n'}há, č'čiqi č'čē ani^{n'} né tē : ná, "nikagahi they say. Finished, when, Ō grand- mother, [See note.] pile hav. you will, y chief
- č'inkē'di. Gēce te há, jini, gūtē č'čidi č'atē teda^{n'}, á-biamá. "A^{n'}, to the (st. ob.) You say as follows will, Ō son's wife, that your father eat he may said, they say. (See note.) Yes,
- 6 ga^{n'}, éga^{n'} tatē, epača^{n'}, "á-biamá iya^{n'} aká Ga^{n'} é'di ača-biamá iya^{n'} amá and, so shall, grandchild, said, they say his the grand- (sub.) And there went, they say his the grand- (mv. sub.)
- Ga^{n'} ŋjébe tē'di ubáha^{n'} č'ča-bi ega^{n'}, ŋigčisa^{n'}ča č'ča-bi ega^{n'}, ači-biamá
And doorway at the part of tent sent it hav. turned herself around aud. hav. she was return- ing home, they say
- wa'ŋjinga aká. Ki gā-biamá ŋaja aká, "Da^{n'}bai-gā, da^{n'}bai-gā, da^{n'}bai-gā," old woman the (sub.) And said as fol. in the the one Look ye! Look ye! Look ye!
- 9 á-biamá. Da^{n'}be č'ča^{n'}be ahi-bi xi, niaci^{n'}ga ctewa^{n'} č'ingá-biamá.
said, they say. To look emerging arrived when. person soever there was none, they say
- (Waha^{n'}čicige aká iya^{n'} č'inkē wačionaji gičaxa-biamá, áda^{n'} hāci tē'di, Orphan the his the one invisible made his, they say, there- fore after when,
- a^{n'}ba wēduba^{n'} tēdili xi, "ŋa^{n'}há, wačiona ekí tatē há, in'ta^{n'}, "á-biamá)
day fourth time the, it when, Ō grand- mother, visible you shall now, said h., they say.
- 12 Ki Ietníke aká gā-biamá, "Wa'ŋjinga wi'áqtei uetē dega^{n'} é tē há,"
And Ietníke the (sub.) said as follows, they say, Old woman just one remains but that is the one (f)
- á-biamá. Či duba^{n'} éga^{n'} tē Wēduba^{n'} tēdili xi, ŋčikha^{n'} wi^{n'} said, they say. Again four times it was so. Fourth time the, it ar- rived there when, sack of buffalo meat one
- č'bi-biamá iya^{n'} aká, wajin'ga č'inkē ágača^{n'}-biamá. "ŋa^{n'}há, in'ta^{n'} wačiona carried on her back, they say his the (sub.) bird she carried the (cv. ob.) Ō grand- mother, now visible
- 15 ekí tatē há, "á-biamá. Ga^{n'} iya^{n'} amá ača-biamá, wajin'ga č'inkē you shall come back said, they say. And his the (mv. sub.) went, they say, bird the (st. ob.)
- ágača^{n'}-biamá. Ki xi tē ŋan'go ahi-bi xi, xi tē ugáide ača-biamá.
she carried the (cv. ob.) And tent the (st. ob.) near arrived when, tent the (st. ob.) began to shine with a red light, they say.

- Ifi ɣa^wha kɛ aɕiⁿ-biamá. Níkaciⁿ'ga amá égiɕaⁿ'-biamá, "Wuhu+!
 tents border the (fig. went, they say, People the (pl. said to (some one), Oho!
 (ob.) sub.) they say, sub.) they say,
- Wahaⁿ'ɕiŋgé aká wajín'ga t'ɕa-bi aⁿ'ɕaⁿ'i ɣi'etɛ, Ietníke t'ɕɛ ɛɛaí Orphan the (sub.) bird that he we thought when, Ietníke killed it you said killed it it
- ɕaⁿ. Wahaⁿ'ɕiŋgé iɣaⁿ' amá ɕɛ 'iⁿ' atí. Ēbédi 'iⁿ' ɕɛ daⁿ," é-naⁿ- 3 in the Orphan his the this carry- has To whose carry- she ! said reg-past. (mv. sub.) mother ing on come. lodge ing on goes ularly,
- biamá. Gaⁿ' daⁿ'be najiⁿ'-biamá níkaciⁿ'ga amá. "Wuhu+! níkagahí ɣí they say. And seeing stood, they say people the (pl. sub.) Oho! chief tent
- tɛ'di 'iⁿ' aɕaí," á-biamá. Ijébe tɛ'di ahí-bi egaⁿ' wa'iⁿ' tɛ gapuk'ítɛ to the carry- she said, they say Doorway at the reached, as (=hav- load on the making the ing on went, say, they say they say ing,) her back (ob.) sound "pu-her back ki" by falling
- gáxa-biamá. "Hiⁿ' ɣini+, ɕiádi ɕisan'ga mégaⁿ' ɕéte ɕatɛ tai-edaⁿ," 6
 she made it, they Oh! son's your your brother likewise this pile they may (pl.)
 say. wife, father eat it (fem.)
 [See note.]
- á-biamá. "Duⁿ'bai-gá, daⁿ'bai-gá, daⁿ'bai-gá! Gátɛ ɛti gaⁿ'-naⁿ' áhaⁿ," said, they See (ye)! see (ye)! see (ye)! That too she has done !
 say. say. say. thing it regularly
- á-biamá níkagahí aká. Gaⁿ' Ietníke aká gá-biamá, "Wa'újinga wi'áqtei said, they chief the And Ietníke the said as follows, Old woman only one say (sub.) they say, they say,
- uctɛ degaⁿ' é ɕiⁿ' tɛ, gaⁿ'ɣi ɛbɛ tádaⁿ," á-biamá. Kí daⁿ'be a-i-biamáⁿ 9 re- but she is the and then who could? said, they say. And to see her they came, maina the one they say.
- Kí égiɕe Wahaⁿ'ɕiŋgé iɣaⁿ' aká é akáma. "Wahaⁿ'ɕiŋgé iɣaⁿ' é aká hé," And behold Orphan his the she was the one, Orphan his she is the grand- (sub.) mother they say, grand- one (fem.),
 mother
- á-biamá. "Haú, wiɣan'de aɕiⁿ' gú-gá," á-biamá. Gaⁿ' ɕéte wa'iⁿ' tɛ ɕizai said, they say. Ho, my daughter's bring (ye) him said, they say. And this bundle or the they husband hither, pile pack pile took
- tɛ, iɣaⁿ' ɕiⁿ' wa'iⁿ' hi tɛ ɕizai tɛ, wajín'ga ɕínké ɛti ɕizá-bi egaⁿ' 12 when, his the pack that she took they when, bird the (st. too took, they as grand- (mv. ob.) mother took it thither (ob.) say say (=having,)
- ubáɣiɕaⁿ'ɕa-biamá. Ietníke t'ɕɛ ɕiⁿ'ké iɕaⁿ'ɕɛ ɕínké edábe iɕaⁿ'ɕa-hung it up, they say. Ietníke killed it the one who he put it the one also they put it down, who down, who
- biamá. Ii tɛ ugáɣide'qti gáⁿ'-biamá. Gaⁿ' Wahaⁿ'ɕiŋgé aká aɕiⁿ' akú-bi they say. Tent the shining with a sat, they say. And Orphan the taken him back
 (std. ob.) very red light thither, they say
- egaⁿ, jingá ɕínké gáⁿ'-biamá. Gaⁿ' gáⁿ'-biamá, miⁿ'gáⁿ'-bi egaⁿ' 15 having, small the one he took to wife, they So sat, they say, taken a wife, having,
 who say, they say
- Najíha ɕaⁿ' fɛiskiski-qtiⁿ'-biamá, gahá-bají ɕaⁿ'ɕaⁿ'-bi egaⁿ', qɕaⁿ'jɛ-qtiⁿ'- hair the part exceedingly tangled, they say, uncombed remained, they having, exceedingly tangled,
 say
- biamá. Ietníke igáɕaⁿ' aká, "Wiⁿ'hɛ, umiⁿ'je he iⁿ'biqpaɕɛ te hɛ!
 they say. Ietníke his wife the (sub.), Younger couch (or lice he made fall by will !
 sister rug) pressure on me (fem.)
 accidentally
- Maⁿ'ɕajaha égaⁿ' gɛiⁿ'kiɕaí-á hɛ! Wanán'deɕagáɣi ehaⁿ'+! á-biamá. 18
 At a greater distance cause ye him to sit ! (fem.) You do not loathe him ! (fem.) said, they say.

592 THE ʕEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

Waha^{n'} ʕieige igáqʕaⁿ éʕaⁿba gí ʕa-buǵi^{n'} qti gʕei^{n'}-biamá. Wa'ú aká giáhe Orphan his wife also too very sad sat, they say. Woman the to comb (sub.) for him

ʕa-bi ʕi, uʕí'age-na^{n'}-biamá Waha^{n'} ʕieige aká. Ga^{n'} gʕei^{n'}i té, mi^{n'} gʕa^{n'}i promised, but, always unwilling, they say Orphan the sign of complete they say action.

3 égaⁿ. A^{n'}ba mi^{n'} ma^{n'}ei tiʕa^{n'} amá ʕi^{n'}, wa'ú ʕínké júgigʕe aʕá-biamá having. Day sun was becoming high in the air, when, woman the one with her he went, they
they say they say

maja^{n'} gacbaʕa. Ahíi té há. Neúʕicaⁿ wi^{n'} eea^{n'} gʕei^{n'} ʕi^{n'}te éʕa ahí-land beyond (the vil- They ar- Lake one near to sat per- there arlage.) rived there rived, rived, biamá wa'ú júgigʕe. Gʕei^{n'}-biamá, ni-ʕa^{n'}ha kedi. "Ni ʕéʕaⁿ ma^{n'}te they say woman with her, his own. Sat, they say, shore by the. Water this (ev. beneath

ob.)

6 beé tá minke ʕa^{n'}ja, égiʕe ʕagʕé te há. Agʕí-máji eté'tewaⁿ, ga^{n'}
I go will I who though, beware you go lest I come back I notwithstand- still
ing.

gʕin^{n'}-gá. Agʕí tá minke há," á-biamá Waha^{n'} ʕieige aká "ǵé gáʕaⁿ édaⁿ sit. I come will I who said, they say Orphan the Fore- that in parback lar (t)

wégaškaⁿa^{n'} ʕa-gá," á-biamá. ǵé ʕaⁿ idaⁿbé'qti unúcka-biamá. Ga^{n'} examine me as to it, said, they say. Fore- head the part in the very mid- was a depression, they And die say.

9 waha^{n'} ʕieigai égaⁿ waqpaʕi^{n'} égaⁿ uhi^{n'} égaⁿ níʕé da^{n'}eté-a^{n'}i té, snaf orphan as was poor as was brought up as hurt perhaps sign was completed of scared action,

té, ǵé ʕa^{n'}di. Gaⁿ ní ké júhe aʕá-biamá. Ga^{n'} ǵa^{n'}ti ʕaⁿ ʕa^{n'}be sign fore- on the part. And stream the (fig. ob.) forth- went, they say. And only the head the part emerging

naji^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, ʕigʕisa^{n'}ʕi^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, wa'ú ʕínké ugʕie ʕa-biamá. "Edádaⁿ stood, they having, turned himself around, having, woman the one speaking sent (his voice) What say they say own say.

12 uwíʕa té síʕa-gá," á-biamá. "Ca^{n'} há," á-bi ega^{n'}, ní ké égiha áiaʕa-
I told you sign remember said, they say. Enough said, having stream the beneath had gone past or complete action (fig. ob.) the sur- face biamá. Ga^{n'} wa'ú ʕínké xagé ʕínké té ga^{n'} gʕáji té étaⁿ ni-ʕa^{n'}ha they say. And woman the st. was weeping (as as still he did not come back so far bank, or shore one she sat)

ké uhá gaⁿ xagé ma^{n'}ʕi^{n'}-biamá. Ietáha ké ujéʕa-bi ega^{n'}, ja^{n'}-biamá the follow- still weeping walked, they say. Eyelid the (fig. ob.) weary, they being, slept, they say
(fig. ob.) the sur- face

15 wa'ú aká. Maja^{n'} ʕaⁿ ni-ʕa^{n'}ha ké'di pahan^{n'}ga ahíi ʕa^{n'}ja akí-bi ega^{n'}, woman the Land the bank, (or shore) by the first they reached there again, they say (sub.) (place)

é'di ja^{n'}-biamá. Ja^{n'}té'qti ja^{n'} ké ʕi, é'di akí-biamá nú aká. ʕiʕi-biamá.
there she lay down, they say. Sound asleep she was lying when, there man the (sub.) he woke her by taking hold of her, they say.

"Agéí hā. Áíhan gā há," á-biamá. Áíhan tíé'ga wada'be xí'jī, é'gíe
 I have Arose ! said, they say. Arose suddenly, she locked when behold túr-tú

náci'ga aká úda'qti akáma, najíha ké' etí úda'qti-bi ga' wábagá' ga' person the was very good, they say, hair the too very good, they as hesitated thro' as (sub.) (fig. ob.) say shame or diffidence

xigísa'fá-biamá wa'ú aká. "Hí'! ná! wawé'qá'qá eha'! Níaci'ga 3 she turned herself around, woman the Oh! do! you are one given to ! (fem.) Mau they say (sub.) abusing people

wí' waqá'qí'qti ábéixé dega' ní é'céandi é'gíhié' dega' gí'fí'jī é'ga' one very poor I took him as my hus- but water at this he went be- dega' but he has band not returned axáge í'áapé minké. Wawé'qá'qá eha'! á-biamá. "Téna'! wíe bér'!"

 I weep I wait for I who sit. You are one given to ! (fem.) said, they say. Why! I I am, him abusing people

á-biamá nú aká Ca' na' ána'a'-bají-biamá wa'ú aká. "Téna'! gá'ga" 6 said, they say man the Yet still she paid no attention to him, woman the Why! that (sub.) they say (sub.) (place) wé'gaska'a'fá'fó te ehé é'a' etí da'ba-gā há." Wa'ú aká xigísa'fá-bi you examine me as to it will I heretofore see it ! Woman the turned herself (sub.) around, they say ega', da'ba-bi xí, í'téde ágin í'á'-bi ega', í'agikigí'fá-biamá. Kí nías saw him, they when now (a embraced him, her as kissed him, her own, they And shore (= hav- say reversal of previous they say (= hav- ing), say. ing), act, etc.)

xí'ha ké'di a'fá-bi ega', í'atí'xe ní-xa'ha í'gabé'qí' gě u'fěwí'fá-bi 9 (of the to the went, they as green acum shore blown up the collected, they lake) say (= hav- ing), that arises on water in (the water) there from the scattered

ega', wai' gí'xáxa-biamá wa'ú é'ínké, waté etí gí'xáxa-biamá Waha'-' as robe made for her, his own, woman the st. skirt too made for her, his own, Or-(= hav- they say ob.), they say.

é'icé'ge aká wajín'ga a'ete wapí'gahabáda-é'ga'-má hí'bc é'a' etí wáji phan the bird as if those resembling short-eared owls moccasin the too laid in (sub.) great numbers

uta'-biamá, wai' é'a' etí wáji wai'-biamá, ja'- wé'tí' etí wí' a'fí'-bi xí, 12 wore as moccasins, robe the too laid on wore as a robe, wood for hit- too one he had, when they say, part in great numbers they say, ting they say í'ka'ta' etí wáxa-biamá. Ja'- wé'tí' ké í'hé'fě-na'-bi é'an'di wajín'ga aká tied to it too he made them, they Wood for hit- (the laid down the (fig. when bird the

 (fig. ob.) usually, they say (sub.)

gahut' (a') í'hé- na'- biamá. Ga' í'gá'qé'a' é'a'ba agé'a'-biamá dá'zě-qteí crying out from was usually they say. And his wife she too they started home, late in the being hit placed horizontally suddenly afternoon

xí. É'fá'be aki-biamá qí ké. Í'í ké baza' agé'a'-biamá xí é'gíe náci'ga 15 when. Emerging they reached tent the Tent the pushing went back, they when at length people (= in there again, they say (fig. line) them say amá é'gí'fá'-na'-biamá, "Ná! Waha' é'ín'gě í'gá'qé'a' ní'ka'ci'ga áj'iqti the (pl. said to (one) regularly, they Why! Orphan his wife person very difsub.) say, ferent

594 THE CEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

akédegaⁿ júgçe agçfi há. Wahaⁿçingçe t'ççai ebççgaⁿ. Haⁿegaⁿteeúdi he is but with him she has come back Orphan he has killed I think. In the morning now past égaⁿ uéá-biamá. "Ná! nfkaciⁿga aká údaⁿ hégabáji," énaⁿ-biamá nfaciⁿga so went, they say. Why! person the good not a little, said, usually, they people

3 amá. Aki-biamá jí tē di ꝑçama wajinⁿga amá hutaⁿ za'e'qtiaⁿ the (pl. Reached there, tent to the. These bird- crying out made a great sub.) his home, they say noise biamá jí tē akt-bi egaⁿ. Ietnike igáçenⁿ aká, "I'téde, wileⁿ wfei'o they say tent the reached having. Ietnike his wife the (sub.). But now, younger may sister's husband

umiⁿje çaiⁿ hébe úççfiⁿ te, ehé," á-biamá. "Ná, jaⁿçehá, çieioⁿ hé ççieç rug the part sit on may, I say, said, they say. No, elder sister, your loose beware
husband

6 ççibiqçáçç te hē," á-bi egaⁿ, umiⁿje igiçibéççí ççç-biamá. Ietnike he let it fall on last said, having. rug turned it up for the owner sent it off, they Ietnike you by pressure accidentally igáçenⁿ aká xagç-naⁿ caⁿenⁿ-biamá. Kí' ççieç içádi aká ççieçⁿ-biamá, his wife the weep- regu- larly always, they say. And at length her the said to (him), they say, (sub.) ing

Ietnike é waká-bi egaⁿ, "Majaⁿ çççⁿ çççⁿsk édegaⁿ wççççenⁿ gçqáç Ietnike that he meant, they say Land this this size but plan with many branches

9 uéççai çaiⁿçti. Cin'gajinⁿga xagç iⁿçactaⁿji há," á-biamá i'e'áçge aká.
they told in the Child weeping does not stop said, they say old man the (sub.)
of you past for me

Ietnike igáçenⁿ é waká-biamá, Wahaⁿçieçge qáçai tē. Kí Ietnike Ietnike his wife that meant, they say, Orphan she loved the. And Ietnike aká ççieç ççieçⁿ-biamá, Wahaⁿçieçge ukia-bi egaⁿ, "Kagç, maⁿsa máqaⁿ

the at length said to (him), they Orphan spoke to him, Younger arrow, shaft to cut (sub.) say, they say brother, with a knife

12 aŋgáç te há. Ççáhaⁿ maⁿ iⁿwin'gaxe te há," á-biamá Ietnike aká.
let us two go Your wife's arrow let us make for them said, they say Ietnike the (sub.)
brother

Kí Wahaⁿçieçge aká ía-bají-biamá. Kí' ei ççieçⁿ-biamá Ietnike aká,
And Orphan the did not speak, they say And again said to him, they say Ietnike the (sub.)

"Kagç, ççáhaⁿ maⁿ iⁿwin'gaxe te há Maⁿsa máqaⁿ aŋgáç te há," Younger your wife's arrow let us make for them Arrow-shaft to cut let us two go

15 á-biamá. "Ké, jì'ççha, égaⁿ te há," á-biamá Wahaⁿçieçge aká. Gaⁿ said, they say. Come, elder brother, so let said, they say Orphan the (sub.). And Ietnike aká gí'çççtinⁿ-biamá, júgçe açç ta aké-gaⁿ. Wáçalm tē itéçç

I-tinke the was exceedingly delighted, with him he was about to go, as. Clothing the to put (sub.) they say away

íçç çç, uéççagá-biamá Ietnike aká. "Gaⁿ áççhá-gá! Eátaⁿ itéççç tã," spoke when, of was unwilling for him, Ietnike the (sub.). Still (at any rate) Why you put should I it away

18 á-biamá Ietnike aká Gaⁿ júgçe açç-biamá. Qçabé éugaçti çí'te çaiⁿhaⁿ said, they say Ietnike And with him went, they say. Free very thick it may border
(sub.)

ké' ahí-biamá ʔi, éʔiʔe zizíka ʔiáʔ' aʔá biamá. Kí ʔeʔabé á-íʔaʔ'-biamá.
 the reached there, when, behold wild flying went, they say. And tree alighted on, they say.
 (fig. ob.)

"Wá! kagé, wakída-ʔá há. Wíʔ' bʔáte aʔaʔ' te há, basnaʔ' á-biamá
 Oh! younger brother shoot at them! One! Eat fire may pushed on a stick to be roasted (?) said, they say

Ietníke aká. "Ná, jíʔéʔha, wanaʔ' ʔeʔiʔti aʔʔáʔe," á-biamá Wahaʔ' ʔeʔiʔe 3
 Ietníke the No, elder in great haste we go, said, they say Orphan
 (sub.)

aká. "Wá! kagé, wíʔ' t'ean'kiʔá-ʔá há," á-biamá Ietníke aká. "Dáda", the Why! younger one kill for me said, they say Ietníke the What,
 (sub.)

wíʔ' ʔé dáda" ʔéʔ-naʔ'di, ʔaetaʔ' jí á ʔnahi" áha", á-bi egaʔ' Wahaʔ' ʔeʔiʔe my elder what speaks about does not stop! truly! (In said, having, Orphan brother whenever speaking soli-ʔu.), they say amá é'di aʔá-bi egaʔ', wakíde tégá" man'dé ké ʔéʔiʔe amá. Úsaʔa maʔ' 6

 the there went, they having, to shoot in order how the was taking his Rarely, or arrow
 (inv. sub.) say (fig. ob.) own, they say. just about to ké ʔidaʔ' ʔti ta taʔ' ʔi, "Uá há!" á-biamá Ietníke aká, jíʔi iá-bi egaʔ'. Kí the pulled hard for the when, Lodgo! said, they say Ietníke the why- spoke, having. And

 (fig. ob.) on the bow. cure (std. ob.) string sig. ob.) on a limb (sub.) they say Wahaʔ' ʔeʔiʔe aká wakída-bi egaʔ', wíʔ' kúsundeʔ' ʔti ʔaʔ' ʔa-biamá. "Uá Orphan the shot at, they having, one through and through placed (the bird), they say. Lodgo (sub.) say on a limb há, uá há!" á-biamá Ietníke aká. Uʔʔáʔé í ʔi, hebádi uá amá. 9

 ! lodge ! said, they say Ietníke the Falling from it when, on the way it lodged in a limb, they say.
 (sub.) a height w. c. ling

"Wuhú! káge-saʔ'ga, iʔ'ne hí ʔéʔa-ʔá há," á-biamá Ietníke aká. "Ná", Oh! friend younger climb reach send off! said, they say Ietníke the No, (sub.) brother, for me

jíʔéʔha, ʔaʔ' aʔʔáʔe te há', á-biamá Wahaʔ' ʔeʔiʔe aká. "Wá! éata" maʔ' elder still let us two go said, they say Orphan the Why! where- fore arrow brother, (sub.)

ké' eti ʔaaʔ'na tá, á-biamá Ietníke aká. "Aʔiʔi ʔéʔa-ʔá há" "Ná! dáda" 12 the too you abandon should! said, they say Ietníke the Reach there send off! Fle! what (sub.) don say for it [=Go quickly after it].

wíʔ' ʔé dáda" ʔéʔ-naʔ'di ʔaetaʔ' jí ʔnahi-na" áha", á-biamá Wahaʔ' ʔeʔiʔe my elder what speaks when- does not stop uen! (In so- said, they say Orphan brother about ever speaking ally liŋŋŋŋ).

aká. Áne ʔé ʔaʔ' ʔa amá. ʔeʔabé té'di aʔá-biamá Wahaʔ' ʔeʔiʔe amá, híde
 the Climb- to was wishing, they Tree to the went, they say Orphan the base (sub.) ing go say. (std. ob.) (inv. sub.)

té'di. "Wá! eéma itéwaʔé maʔ' ʔiʔiʔ-ʔá há. Uteʔe uʔéʔaʔ' ʔé ʔi ʔeʔe tai 15 to the. Why! those to place them walk! Thickot impoles your when tear it best (sub.) say

éʔiʔe," á-biamá Ietníke aká. Wajín'ga ʔé wéʔiʔaʔ' nácki wáji-ma é beware, said, they say Ietníke the Bird this ornament head those put that (sub.) (sub.) on thick

wáwaká-bi egaʔ', eaʔ' waiʔ' ʔé' etéwaʔ' wáji waiʔ' te há wajín'ga ʔaʔ'ká.
 meant them, they having. in fact robe blue even put on wore as (com- bird those who.
 say scattered thick a robe nate action)

596 THE CEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

Ga' Waha' ^{Orphan} ^{clothing} ^{the} ^{pulled off his} ^{having} ^{to put his} ^{own down} ^{was going,} ^{tree} ^{base}
 And Orphan clothing the pulled off his having to put his own down was going, tree base tō'di. Ietniko aká ^{the} ^{said to (it), they say} ^{Tree} ^{this} ^{tall} ^(std. ob.) ^{said, they} ^{becomes so,} ^{say} to the Ietniko aká ^{the} ^{said to (it), they say} ^{Tree} ^{this} ^{tall} ^(std. ob.) ^{said, they} ^{becomes so,} ^{say}

3 Ietniko aká, ^{the} ^{white} ^{spoke,} ^{having} ^{Orphan} ^{heard} ^{a little} ^{as} ^{word the} Ietniko the white spoke, having Orphan heard a little as word the wémaxe amá. "Ná! jī'ēcha, edēce ^{elder} ^{what did you say} ^I ^{was saying,} ^{head} ^{back} ^{looked} ^{having} was asking him about it, they say. Why! elder what did you say I was saying, head back looked having.

"Edēche tā. Ga' i'gi ^{What I should} ^{still} ^{return} ^{this (mv.)} ^{so} ^{he brings it back,} ^{I cut it} ^{will} ^{I who,} ^{I was saying as I} ^{said,} say What I should I still return this (mv.) so he brings it back, I cut it will I who, I was saying as I said,

6 káge-san'ga, ^{friend} ^{younger} ^{brother,} ^{said, they say} ^{Ietniko} ^{the} ^{(sub.),} ^{And} ^{again} ^{was going,} ^{climb-} ^{ing} ^{tree} ^{the} ^{And}
 káge-san'ga, friend younger brother, said, they say Ietniko the (sub.), And again was going, climb- ing tree the And ei' ^{again} ^{said to (it), they say} ^{Ietniko} ^{the} ^{(sub.),} ^{Tree} ^{this} ^{tall} ^(std. ob.) ^{said, they say} ^{Ietniko} ^{it becomes,}

 ei' ^{again} ^{said to (it), they say} ^{Ietniko} ^{the} ^{(sub.),} ^{Tree} ^{this} ^{tall} ^(std. ob.) ^{said, they say} ^{Ietniko} ^{it becomes,}

aká, ^{the} ^{white} ^{spoke,} ^{they say} ^{And} ^{again} ^{Orphan} ^{heard} ^{a little} ^{as} ^{again} ^{was asking} ^{him about it,}
 aká, the white spoke, they say And again Orphan heard a little as again was asking him about it,

9 amá. "Ná! jī'ēcha, edēce ^{elder} ^{what have you been} ^I ^{again} ^{was saying,} ^{Why!} ^{what} ^{I say should} ^{something} they say. Why! elder what have you been I again was saying, Why! what I say should something

káge-san'ga, ^{friend} ^{younger} ^{said, they say} ^{Ietniko} ^{the} ^{(sub.),} ^{And} ^{very} ^{nearly} ^{he has} ^{reached} ^(mv.) ^{I was saying as I} ^{said,} káge-san'ga, friend younger said, they say Ietniko the (sub.), And very nearly he has reached (mv.) I was saying as I said, á-biamá Ietniko aká. Ga' ei' ^{said, they say} ^{Ietniko} ^{the} ^{(sub.),} ^{And} ^{again} ^{further} ^{was going,} ^{climb-} ^{ing} ^{And} ^{again} ^{said to (it), they say}

 á-biamá Ietniko aká. Ga' ei' said, they say Ietniko the (sub.), And again further was going, climb- ing And again said to (it), they say

12 Ietniko aká, ei' ^{Ietniko} ^{the} ^{(sub.),} ^{again} ^{white} ^{spoke,} ^{they say} ^{Tree} ^{this} ^{tall} ^(std. ob.) ^{said, they say} ^{And} ^{it becomes,}
 Ietniko aká, ei' Ietniko the (sub.), again white spoke, they say Tree this tall (std. ob.) said, they say And it becomes,

Waha' ^{Orphan} ^{heard} ^{a little} ^{as} ^{again} ^{was asking him about} ^{it, they say.} ^{Why!} ^{elder} ^{what have} ^{you been} Waha' Orphan heard a little as again was asking him about it, they say. Why! elder what have you been

éga'-na' ^{saying occa-} ^{sionally} ^I ^{again} ^{was saying,} ^{Why!} ^{what} ^{I say should} ^{friend} ^{younger} ^{said, they say}
 éga'-na' ^{saying occa-} ^{sionally} ^I ^{again} ^{was saying,} ^{Why!} ^{what} ^{I say should} ^{friend} ^{younger} ^{said, they say}

15 Ietniko aká. "Ga' ^{Ietniko} ^{the} ^{(sub.),} ^{And} ^{very} ^{nearly} ^{he has} ^{reached} ^(mv.) ^{I was saying,} ^{as I} ^{said, they say} ^{Ietniko} ^{the} ^{(sub.),}
 Ietniko aká. "Ga' Ietniko the (sub.), And very nearly he has reached (mv.) I was saying, as I said, they say Ietniko the (sub.),

Ci' ^{Again} ^{was going,} ^{again} ^{climb-} ^{ing} ^{And} ^{very} ^{apprehensive} ^{was walking,} ^{they} ^{word} ^{the} ^{he heard} ^{something}
 Ci' ^{Again} ^{was going,} ^{again} ^{climb-} ^{ing} ^{And} ^{very} ^{apprehensive} ^{was walking,} ^{they} ^{word} ^{the} ^{he heard} ^{something}

etēwa' ^{not with-} ^{standing} ^{always} ^{denied it,} ^{as,} ^{And} ^{at length} ^{again} ^{said to it, they say,} ^{Tree} ^{this} ^{tall} ^(std. ob.)
 etēwa' ^{not with-} ^{standing} ^{always} ^{denied it,} ^{as,} ^{And} ^{at length} ^{again} ^{said to it, they say,} ^{Tree} ^{this} ^{tall} ^(std. ob.)

18 tígē, ei' ^(std. ob.) ^{again} ^{said, they} ^{And} ^{at that} ^{time} ^{understood} ^{as,} ^{again} ^{he was questioning} ^{Why!} ^{elder} ^{brother,}
 18 tígē, ei' (std. ob.) again said, they And at that time understood as, again he was questioning Why! elder brother, edéee' éga'-na' á," ei' é' amá. "Edéha-máji, á-biamá. Qéabé' éé'té máxo what have you been say- again was saying, I said some- I not, said he, they Tree this upper ing occasionally they say, thing say. say. (std. oh.) world íqábat'u te, ehée há," á-biamá íetínike aká. Ga' qéabé' té' uti' íh'íqáqá let it extend to, I said, said, they say íetínike the And tree the hitting he brought (sub.), (sub.), (std. oh.) it a horizontal

oh. against it here and there.

néfca' naji'-biamá. "Qéabé' éé'té' snedé' tíg'éé' te, ehée há," á-biamá. Ga' 3 going he stood, they say. Tree this tall let it (the lg. I said, said, they say. And around it (std. oh.) oh.) become suddenly, qéabé' aká máxo íqábat'u amá. Waha' éíéíge máxo íqábisaude' qti k'e'm tree the upper Orphan upper in a very narrow space at the (sub.) world extended to, they say. world between the tree and the upper world naji' amá. "Hé-á!" é' áma há', Waha' éíéíge. Ga' xag'é-na' ca'ca' amá.

was said, they say. Alas! was saying, Orphan. And was crying always they say.

Najíha éu' é'ti naqéu' íé-qti'a' amá. Égiéé' sabájiqti Qíéá W'égamíhe 6
Hair the part too was exceedingly tangled, they say. At length very suddenly Eagle Young White Eagle

wíqádaí-ma wí' ahí-biamá, xag'é naji' tu'. "Níaci'ga edéee' éáta'cé' á," those called that one arrived there, weeping stood the Person what are you saying about it, they say, (std. oh.), as you stand á-biamá. "Há, jiga'! há, jiga'! há, jiga'! á-biamá Waha' éíéíge aká. said, they say. Oh! grand- oh! grand- oh! grand- said, they say Orphan the father father father (sub.)

"Háu, kéga'ngá! ugéu'-gá há," á-biamá Qíéá aká. "A'ha' jiga'ha," á-biamá 9
Ho, come, do so! confess! said, they say Eagle the Yes, O grand- said, they say (sub.) father,

Waha' éíéíge aká. "Jiga'ha, qéabé' eúgaqti íh'éé' qé'xi ga' qti-na' éan'di, Orphan the O Grand- tree dense very laid down foot of just that sort (l) at the (sub.) father, the bluff place, jiga'ha, waníta a'pa' núga jín'ga édega' áqagíá' nañkíáce-na' wí' héi' há, O grand- quadruped ok male small but (in the you were flying over it regularly one I am father, animal part) jiga'ha," á-biamá Waha' éíéíge aká. "Háu, ca' há," á-biamá Qíéá aká.

O grand- said, they say Orphan the Ho, enough said, they say Eagle the father, (sub.)

"Qíníga' wí' tí taté," á-biamá. Ga' aqá-biamá Qíéá ama. Cí gí'faji'qti éí 12 Your one come shall, said, they say. And went, they say Eagle the (mv. Again very sad again grandfather (sub.),

Waha' éíéíge xag'é naji' amá. Cí égiéé' Héga amá ahí-biamá. Cí fe' égiéu'í Orphan crying was said, they Again at Buzzard the arrived, they Again word said to say, length (mv. sub.) say, him

té' égiéa'-biamá. Cí Waha' éíéíge fe' té' égiéa' amá. Cí waníta wí' the said to him, they say. Again Orphan word the was saying they Again quadruped one say (l)

úwagíéá amá. Cí éga' "Háu, ca' há. Qíníga' wí' tí taté," á-biamá. 15 he was telling about to And so, Ho, enough Your one come shall, said, they say.
them, they say. grandfather

Ga' aqá-biamá Héga amá. Cí gí'faji'qti éí Waha' éíéíge xag'é naji' amá.
And went, they say Buzzard the (mv. Again very sad again Orphan crying was said, they (sub.) say,

Cí égiéé' máxo amá ahí-biamá. Cí égiéa'-biamá fe' té. Ga'xi éí Again at length Crow the (mv. arrived there, Again said to him, they say word the. And then again
sub.) they say.

Waha^uʘeige ei ʘeige^u amá, ei waníta wí^u úwagié^u amá. "Hau, ca^u há.
Orphan again was saying, they again quadruped one he was telling about Ho, enough say, to them, they say.

ʘiúga^u wí^u tí taté,^u á-biamá. Ga^u aqá-biamá ʘaxe ama. Ci gíʘajiqti Your one come shall, said, they say. And went, they say Crow the (mv. Again very sad grandfather sub.).

3 ei Waha^uʘeige xagé nají^u amá. Ci ʘeige Wajibesnéde amá ahí-biama.
again Orphan crying was sd., they say. Again at length Magpie the arrived there,
they say.

Ci ʘeige^u-biamá íe té. Ga^uʘí ei Waha^uʘeige ei ʘeige^u amá, ei again said to him, they say word the. And then again Orphan again was saying to him, again
they say.

waníta wí^u úwagié^u amá. "Hau, ca^u najín-gá. ʘiúga^u tí taté,^u quadruped one was telling about to them, they say. Ho, still stand. Your grand-(yet) father come shall,

6 á-biamá. Ga^u aqá-biamá Wajibesnéde amá. ʘeige Qíé^u amá ahísaid, they say. And went, they say Magpie the (mv. sub.). At length Eagle the arrived there,

biamá. "Há, atí há," á-biamá Qíé^u aká. "Há, ʘiga^u! há, ʘiga^u!
they say. Ho, I have come said, they say Eagle the (sub.). Oh! grand- father! oh! grandfather!

há, ʘiga^u! "é amá Waha^uʘeige waha^uʘe ga^u. "Hau! áhi baca^u ʘa^u oh! grand- was saying, Orphan making a spe- aa. Ho! Your wing bent part the father! they say cial petition (part)

9 a^uwa^uʘ-ada^u nan'ka ké ga^u na^usa^u ʘééa-gá. ʘeige ietá níḡa té. Ietágrasp me and back the at he with legs stretch'd Beware eye you open lest. Eye (fig. any rate out.

ʘipi^uze ja^ugá," (á-biamá Qíé^u aká). Gí^uin agqá-biamá, qḡabé uḡea^u closed recline, said, they say Eagle the (sub.). Carrying started home, they tree around him on his back say, gawi^uxe ga^u. Uḡéa-ḡti-na^u-bi ʘan'di qḡabé gaḡá gē áta^u iḡa^u-na^u-flying around aa. He was generally very tired (or every time that he was tired) when tree branch the trod suddenly, (scat- tered) on each time,

12 biamá. 'A^uʘigíé^u-bi ʘi- na^u ei agqé-na^u-biamá. Kí ei ʘeige Héga they say. He rested, they when often again started home often, they And again at Buzsay, say, zard

amá ahí-biamá. "Há, atí há," á-biamá Héga aká. "Há, ʘiga^u! há, the roached there, Ho, I have come said, they say Buzzard the (sub.). Oh! grand- oh!
(mv. sub.) they say come father!

ʘiga^u! há, ʘiga^u! "é amá Waha^uʘeige, waha^uʘe ga^u. "Hau! áhi baca^u grand- oh! grand- was saying, Orphan, making a spe- aa. Ho! Wing bent father! they say cial petition part

15 ʘa^u a^uwa^uʘ-ada^u nan'ka ké ga^u na^usa^u ʘééa-gá. ʘeige ietá níḡa té
(the) grasp me and back the at any he with legs stretched Beware eye you open lest (part) (fig. rate out.

há. Ietá-ʘipi^uze ja^ugá há. Ma^uʘi^u wáspa-máji," á-biamá Héga aká. Ga^u Eye closed recline ! Walking I do not behave, said, they say Buz- the And zard (sub.).

ei gí^uin agqá-biamá, qḡabé uḡea^u gawi^uxe ga^u. Uḡéaḡti-na^u-bi ʘan'di again carry- started home, they tree around flying around aa. Every time that he was when ing him say, on his back tired, they say

q̄abé gaqá ḡé átaⁿ íaⁿ-naⁿ-biamá. 'Aⁿzigíá-bi xī- naⁿ cī aḡé-naⁿ-tree branch the trod stood suddenly, each time, He rested, they say when often again started home, (seated) they say. often, biamá Kī cī x̄áxe amá ahí-biamá. "Hau, atí hā," á-biamá x̄áxe they say. And again Crow the (mv. arrived, they say. Ho, I have said, they say Crow (sub.) come

aká. "Há! ñigaⁿ! há, ñigaⁿ! há, ñigaⁿ!" á-biamá Wahaⁿñicige wahaⁿ'e 3
the Oh! grand. oh! grand. oh! grand. said, they say Orphan making a special petition (sub.), father! father! father! father!

gaⁿ. "Hau! Áhi bacaⁿ ñaⁿ aⁿwaⁿñ'- adaⁿ nañ'ka kē gaⁿ naⁿsaⁿñ' ééa-gā.
as Ho! Wing bent part the grasp me and back the at any He with legs stretched (part) (fig. ob.) rate out.

Égige ictá nífca te hā. Ictá-ñipiⁿze jañ'-gā há," á-biamá x̄áxe aká.
Beware eye you open leat Eye closed recline I said, they say Crow the (sub.)

Gí'ín aḡá-biamá, q̄abé uñicaⁿ gawí'xe gaⁿ. Ujécaqti-naⁿ-bi ñan'di 6 Carrying started home, they tree around flying around as. Every time that he was when him on his back tired, they say

q̄abé gaqá ḡé átaⁿ íaⁿ-naⁿ-biamá. 'Aⁿzigíá-bi xī-naⁿ cī aḡé-naⁿ-tree branch the trod on stood suddenly, each time, they say. He rested, they say when, often again started home (pl.) often,

biamá. x̄áxe ñiⁿ éđíhi xī'jī, maⁿñ'aⁿ ictáxaⁿxaⁿ gáxa-bi egaⁿ, égige they say. Crow the reached when secretly eyes slightly made, they having, behold (mv. one there say jan'de kē uḡázi daⁿ'ba-biamá. Píqti wahaⁿ'e jaⁿ-biamá: "Há, ñigaⁿ! 9 ground the made a saw, they say. Anew making a special petition he lay, they say: Oh! grand-(fig. ob.) glare father!

há, ñigaⁿ! há, ñigaⁿ!" é amá Wahaⁿñicige. Égige Wajibesnéde amá oh! grand. oh! grand. was saying, Orphan. At length Magpie the mv.
father! father! they say one átiatingá-biamá, hutaⁿ. "Atí hā," á-biamá Wajibesnéde aká. "Há, ñigaⁿ!

was coming very suddenly, crying I have said, they say Magpie the Oh!
they say. out. come (sub.) grand-
father!

há, ñigaⁿ! há, ñigaⁿ!" é amá Wahaⁿñicige, wahaⁿ'e gaⁿ. "Hau! Áhi 12 oh! grand. oh! grand. was saying, Orphan, making a special petition as. Ho! Wing father! father! they say

bacaⁿ ñaⁿ aⁿwaⁿñ'- adaⁿ nañ'ka kē gaⁿ naⁿsaⁿñ' ééa-gā. Égige ictá bent part the grasp me and back the at any He with legs stretched Beware eye (part) (fig. ob.) rate out.

nífca te hā. Ictá-ñipiⁿze jañ'-gā há," á-biamá Wajibesnéde aká. Kī you open leat Eye closed recline I said, they say. Magpie the (sub.) And

Wajibesnéde amá gí'ín akí-biamá. Wajibesnéde aká é'q̄teí akíjaⁿ-biamá. 15
Magpie the (mv. carrying reached there Magpie the very dead reached there again (sub.) him on again, they say. (sub.) and lay down, they his back say.

Wahaⁿñicige aká wahaⁿ'a-bi egaⁿ, "Há, ñigaⁿ! há, ñigaⁿ! há, ñigaⁿ!"
Orphan the made a special pe- having, Oh! grand. oh! grand. oh!
(sub.) titon, they say. father! father! father!

á-biamá. Q̄abé tē uñicaⁿ aña-bi xī égige Ictínike aká wáñaha eñaf said, they say. Tree the around it went, they when behold Ictínike the clothing his
(std. ob.) say

tē é'di aⁿñca aḡá-bi tē amá, wáñaha Wahaⁿñicige eñaf tē áñaha 18 the there abandon- he had gone back, they say. clothing Orphan his the
(col. ob.) ing wearing it

600 THE ÇEGİHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- agá-bi té amá. Ietínike aká wáçaha të áçaha akí-bi ega^{n'}, wajín'ga had gone back, they say. Ietínike the clothing the wearing having reached there bird (sub.) (cl. ob.) it again, they say.
- çánkú huta^{n'}-bají'-qti-bí etöwa^{n'} é'qtei huta^{n'} gráxe-na^{n'}-biamá. "Qetáji
the ones not crying out at all, they notwith- he himself crying out pretended often, they say. "Qetáji who say standing silent
- 3 éga^{n'} gfi^{n'}-i-gá. Naxíde wánazá'e," é-na^{n'}-biamá Ietínike aká. Égiçe do sit ye. Inner ear you make a great said often, they say Ietínike the At length
(sub.)
- Waha^{n'}çieçe hidé gfi^{n'} të wajín'ga aká wáçaha aká ígiçaha^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, Orphan bottom returned when bird the wore them the (col. sub.) having known him, their own (master), they say.
- huta^{n'} za'é'qti gfi^{n'}-biamá, Ietínike aká wáçahá-bi ega^{n'}. Ietínike aká crying making a great noise sat, they say. Ietínike the having worn them, they say. Ietínike the (sub.)
- 6 égiça^{n'}-na^{n'}-biamá, "Qetáji éga^{n'} gfi^{n'}-i-gá. Naxíde wánazá'e," á-biamá.
was saying often to (the birds), they say. Silent do sit ye. Inner ear you make a great said, they say.
uproar by crying out,
- Waha^{n'}çieçe ak' ma^{n'}jíha ké ugína-bi xi', égiçe Ietínike amá éti
Orphan the quiver the sought his own, when, behold Ietínike the it too (sub.) (l. ob.) they say (mv. sub.)
- açi^{n'} agí-bi té amá. Ma^{n'}jíha egi^{n'}-bi ké çiqçe ma^{n'}jíha ké é'di a^{n'}ça he had returned home with it, they Quiver his, they the (lg. rushes quiver the (lg. there leaving say. say ob.) it
- 9 agí-bi ké amá. Ma^{n'} të da^{n'}ba-bi xi', égiçe hidé gapái d'úba çiqçe të'di he had returned home, Arrow the saw, they when behold base cut sharp some rushes in the they say. (col. ob.)
- açi^{n'}-bi ké amá. Míxáha wai^{n'} ça^{n'} eti é'di a^{n'}ça agí-bi ça^{n'} amá. Gí'çahe had the col., they Raccoon skin robe the too there it had been left when he had come say. (gar- back, they say. Very ment)
- bají'-qti ma^{n'} të çizá-bi ega^{n'}, hidé gapái të çiçúçuta^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, cé waníta sat arrow the having taken, they base cut sharp the having pulled straight that quadruped say, often, they say,
- 12 úwagiçai-ma ça^{n'} bçúgaqti éga^{n'} t'çwakiça-bi ega^{n'}, agí-biamá. Ietínike those about which in the past about all he killed them pur- having. he started home, Ietínike he had told they say posely, they say they say.
- míxáha wai^{n'} ça^{n'} içéçi^{n'} agí-biamá, ma^{n'}jíha ké' eti. Wajín'ga aká raccoon robe the the having he went homeward, quiver the too. Bird the skin (gar- for the owner they say (lg. ob.)
- çan'ge gí të ígiçaha^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, huta^{n'} të' eti-bi ega^{n'} gia^{n'} átiçaçá-biamá.
near com- the having known him, their cried out the too, they so ñ ying they began, now and ing own (master), they say, say say then, they say.
- 15 Ietínike aká é'di da^{n'}qti íxijú-bi ega^{n'}, wajín'ga çánkú qetáji-na^{n'} gfi^{n'} Ietínike the there beyond was proud, as, bird the (pl. ob.) silent often to sit (sub.) measure they say
- wágají-biamá. Égiçe Waha^{n'}çieçe amá eçtë agí-biamá, ijéçe té ubíha^{n'} commanded them, At length Orphan the that seen coming back, doorway the was com-they say. (mv. std. ob.) they say, ing in (sub.)
- agí-biamá. Égiçe ga^{n'} akáma, Ietínike aká wáçaha të áçahá-bi ega^{n'}.
at the entrance, At length some sat, they Ietínike the clothing the having put on the they say. time say, (sub.) (col. ob.) clothing, they say.
- 18 Kí égiça^{n'}-biamá Waha^{n'}çieçe aká, "Ná! çí gáté ána^{n'}ha të ga^{n'} ána^{n'}ha
And said to him, they say Orphan the Why! you that you wore na still you wear (sub.) (col.) it

há," á-bi ega^{n'}, ígia^{n'} ɸa ɸéɸa-biamá. Ga^{n'} wáɸala tē gígízá-biamá.
 having said, they he threw it back to him suddenly, So clothing the took back his own, they say, they say.

Waha^{n'} ɸicige najíha gē' etēwa^{n'} naqɸa^{n'} jēqti kí amá. Akí-bi ega^{n'}, Orphan hair the (pl.) even exceedingly tangled re- turned they say. Having returned there, they say.

ga^{n'} amáí tē. Néxe gaɸú wiⁿ gáxe-wakiɸá-biamá. Igáɸaⁿ ɸínké 3 they were so for some Drum one he caused them to make it, they His wife the (st. ob.) time.

uɸa-bi ega^{n'}, "Áⁿwaⁿ íihá-qti áɸiⁿhú ɸaⁿ agɸí há. Iⁿc'áge uɸa-gá há.
 having told her, they Me very lonely I who moved in the I have Old man tell it to him ! say, they say.

Níkaci^{n'} ga-ma bēúgaqti wateigaxe ewékaⁿ bēa há," á-biamá Kí igáɸaⁿ
 The people (pl. ob.) all to dance I wish for them said, they say. And his wife aká íadi ɸínké uɸa-biamá. Kí íadi aká Iⁿc'áge wiⁿ agíɸe-wakiɸá-bi ega^{n'}, 6

 the her the (st. ob.) told it to him, And her the old man one having caused them to fetch him, they say, (sub.) father (sub.)

Iⁿc'áge ɸín hí ɸi, ɸé Waha^{n'} ɸicige íe edádaⁿ edé ké bēúgaqti uɸa-bi ega^{n'}, old man the ar. when, this Orphan word what he the all having told to him, (mv. rived ob.) there said some-thing they say, íekíɸe uɸá ɸíkíɸá-biamá Kí Iⁿc'áge amá égiɸaⁿ aɸá-biamá, íí ké uh' as a crier to tell it sent him, they say. And old man the to say it lodge the fol- (mv. sub.) to (some- one) (lg. lowing. line)

"Waɸéigaxe te, aí aɸa+! Ií ɸaⁿ bēúgaqti cín'gajín'ga áɸaⁿska ké etēwaⁿ 9
 You are to dance, he indeed! Lodges the all children of what size the soever (ev. ob.) lg. line bēúgaqti waɸéigaxe te, aí aɸa+!" á-biamá. Waha^{n'} ɸicige aká igáɸaⁿ all you are to dance he indeed! said, they say. Orphan the his wife (sub.)

ɸínké gaⁿ ípa^{n'} ɸínké eti júwagigíɸá-bi ega^{n'}, uɸúciaa aɸá-biamá, néxe-gaɸú the one and his the one too having gone with them, his to the middle went, they say, drum (ob.) who grand- mother (ob.) own, they say, of the tribal circle tē aɸi^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}. Igáɸaⁿ ɸínké ugíkiá-bi ega^{n'}, égiɸa^{n'}-biamá (Ídiɸage 12 the having had it. they His wife the (st. ob.) having spoken to her, said to her, they say Belt sagíqti gáxa-biamá)," Ídiɸage gáke aⁿwa^{n'} ɸaū-gá há, ɸidin'dm-gá há.

 very tight made it, they say, Belt that (lg. ob.) grasp me ! pull hard !

Égiɸe níetaⁿ te há," á-biamá. Cí ípa^{n'} ɸínké ei ámaɸáɸicaⁿ uɸa^{n'} ágigíɸá-Beware you let lest said he, they Again his the (st. again on the other to grasp commanded her, his own, go say, mother biamá. "Íaⁿhá, ɸieta^{n'} íi-gá há. Égiɸe níetaⁿ te há," á-biamá. Ga^{n'} 15 they say. O grand- mother, do not let go ! Beware you let go lest said he, they And say.

níkaci^{n'} ga amá bēúgaqti eⁿdi uɸúciaa ahí-bi ega^{n'}, gɸi^{n'}-biamá Waha^{n'} ɸicige people the all there at the middle having arrived there, they say, Orphan (pl. sub.) of the tribal circle aká uɸa^{n'}da ɸaⁿdi. Néxe-gaɸú tē uti^{n'} ihéa-bi ɸi, bēúgaqti níkaci^{n'} ga-ma the middle in the Drum the to hit he laid the when, all the people (pl. ob.) (sub.) (place.) (ob.) it stick hori- zontally, they say gahá ihé wáxa-biamá. Giújawáqtiaⁿ-biamá níkaciⁿ'ga amá néxe-gaqú tē he made the crowd rise (about a foot) and come down again, they say. They were much pleased, they say people the (pl. sub.) drum the utiⁿ' tē di. Ičaⁿ'baⁿ' utiⁿ'-bi xī, maⁿ'ciúha jín'ga gahá ihé-biamá. Φ éaká he hit it when. A second time he hit it, when, up in the air little the crowd arose and came down again, they say. This (sub.)

3 ixaⁿ' aká, "Iⁿ, júcepačaⁿ +! anaⁿ'piqti-maⁿ' hē," á-biamá. Júga ké bēúga his the (sub.), Oh! grandchild! I usually (?) dance very well (fem.) said she, they say. Body the (lg. ob.) every gahá ičaⁿ'-biamá xī, gateg' ičaⁿ'-biamá. Kí ičaⁿ'baⁿ' utiⁿ'-bi xī, arose and came down again, they say when, in that manner she became suddenly. And a second time hit, they say when, maⁿ'ciúhaqti ihé wáxa-biamá. Gí-bi xī, jan'de ké kí-báji ei utiⁿ'- mv. very high up placed he made them, they say. They were when, ground the not reach- again he hit it, (lg. ob.) ing there again

6 biamá. Cí pí paháci éwəpá-biamá. Gakúkučaⁿ-biamá. Níkaciⁿ'ga-ma they say. Again anew up above he sent them, they say. He beat rapidly, they say. The people (pl. ob.)

bēúgaqti maⁿ'ciúhaqti ičəwəpá-biamá. Kí gakúkučaⁿ-bi egaⁿ', níkaciⁿ'ga-ma all mv. very high up he sent them thither. And having beat rapidly, they say, the people (pl. ob.)

uxide etəwaⁿ' wəfəna-báji-biamá. Níkaciⁿ'ga-ma gaⁿ'təqti xī tē'qtiglimpse even they were not visible, they say. The people (pl. ob.) a long time when fully dead

9 naⁿ' gəiháha wáxa-biamá. Níkaciⁿ'ga-ma bēúgaqti gaⁿ' tēwəpá-biamá, usu- returning and he made them, they say. The people (pl. ob.) all so he killed them, they say, gat'əwəpá-biamá. Φ éaká wa'újiŋga aká, igáqčaⁿ' aká cénaⁿ'ba écti

 This (sub.) old woman the (sub.), his wife the (sub.) only those two too maⁿ'ci gadaⁿ'i čaⁿ'ja, idičage ké učaⁿ'wakičai gaⁿ' čietaⁿ'ji wágaji: sihi high in the air were blown (up) to through, belt the (lg. ob.) he made them grasp as not to let go he com- mandated them: feet

12 tē maⁿ'ci gadaⁿ'-biamá, júga aká basⁿ' jaⁿ'-biamá. Ietníke iŋgaⁿ the high in the air were blown (up) to, they say, body the (sub.) upside down lay, they say. Ietníke his fath- er-in law

éčaⁿ'ba ixaⁿ' ké' eti cénaⁿ'báqti ugrácta-bi egnⁿ', iŋgaⁿ' číⁿ wahaⁿ'é-cti he too his moth- er-in-law the too only those two having been left (not killed) by hitting the ground, they say, his fath- the making a special petition (with fervor)

gí-naⁿ' amá: "Há, nishiha! wíjan'de mégaⁿ', cəgəčé. Φ á'ean'gičai-gá!" é was coming back, Oh! my child! my son-in-law likewise, I return to you. Pity ye me, your relation! said often, they say

15 etəwaⁿ' Wahaⁿ'čieige aká, "Aⁿhaⁿ'! Gí-gá há," á-bi etəwaⁿ', ei pí utiⁿ'-naⁿ'- notwith- standing Orphan the (sub.), Yes! Come! said, they say nevertheless, again anew beat often bi čan'di, ei pí gud' ičéčə-naⁿ'-biamá. Wahaⁿ'é iŋgaⁿ'-qti-bi xī, they say when, again anew beyond sent him thither often, they say. Making a spe- cial petition fully sated (or satiated) they say gat'čəa-biamá. Cí igáqčaⁿ' ké' ei égaⁿ'qtiⁿ' amá, ei wahaⁿ'é tē. Cí he killed him by letting him fall, they say. Again his wife the again was just so, they say, again made a special pe- tition. Again

18 Wahaⁿ'čieige aká, "Aⁿhaⁿ'! Gí-gá há, wá'ujin'ga," á-bi etəwaⁿ', ei pí Orphan the (sub.), Yes! Come! old woman, said, nevertheless, again anew they say less, gud' ičéčə-naⁿ'-biamá, ei gat'čəa biamá. Ietníke enáqtei ucté amá.

 beyond sent her thither often, they say again he killed her by letting her fall, they say. Ietníke he alone was left they say.

"Há, káge-sań'ga! HÁ, káge-sań'ga! cagéc hă. Wihań'ga m'ega", Oh! friend younger Oh! friend younger I go to you My potential wife, likewise.
 brother! brother!
 ǵá'eañ'ǵiǵáń-gă, (á-biamá Ietnike aká). Ietnike ga" ǵat'écǵa-biamá.
 pity ye me, your relation said, they say Ietnike the (sub.). Ietnike at length he killed him by letting him fall, they say.

NOTES.

This myth is a variant of "The Young Rabbit and Ietnike," on pp. 50-57. It agrees in many particulars with a myth told by another Omaha, Richard Rush, or Mac'awakude, of the ǵa'ze gens.

588, 1. et passim, sakib' ihé, a common but faulty rendering of sakiba she (F.).

588, 7. ǵnaji te, a"ǵa"i ǵa"eti, used by old women instead of ǵnaji te, eke ǵa"eti. With this use of the plural for the singular, compare the use of the singular for the plural in the letters and speeches of chiefs, in the first and second parts of this volume.

588, 14. sa! sa! archaic interjection of reproof, objection, or disputation.

588, 15. uǵade ǵiǵiŋge (vide F.) is always used in connection with a fear of some mysterious person or object, and it seems out of place here.

589, 1. wajiŋga beŋgaqti ǵiǵa-biama, he took the entire bird (in a magical way), as it was his because he killed it. But there still appeared to be a dead bird there, as is seen from the next line but one.

589, 3 and 4. Ga" wajiŋga ǵiŋke aǵi" aǵa-bi ega", nikagahi aka eǵi" akii-biama, Ietnike aka eǵi" akii-biama. This to F. is full of mistakes, being poor Omaha. First, aǵa-bi implies that all the people dwelt in the chief's tent (or else that when they killed the red bird they were a great distance from the village), so we should substitute aǵá-bi. A similar objection might be urged against akii-biama or aki biama, for which ahi biama should be read. The whole sentence, according to F., should be: Ga" wajiŋ'ga ǵiŋké nikagahi ǵiŋké eǵi" ahi-biamá, Ietnike eǵi" á'di aǵi" ahi-biamá.
 And bird the one chief the one hav. reached there, Ietnike too there hav. reached there.
 who who ing it they say, ing they say.
 for him

589, 8. weǵita"teǵé, archaic term, name for an appliance that is obsolete among the Omahas, but still in use among the Dakotas. It consists of two forked posts supporting a transverse pole, set up between the fire-place and the seat at the back of the tent. It was used for suspending the shield, saddle, bow, etc., of the owner of the tent.

589, 14. eé used here and elsewhere by G., when ǵéce would seem proper (before the words commanded to be spoken).

589, 14. ǵe nikaci"ga, etc., not plain to F.

590, 5. ǵate te-da"á, archaism for ǵate te hě, as is ǵate tai-eda" (591, 6.) for ǵate tai hě.

590, 8. tiaǵa aka, the chief.

591, 13. Ietnike t'ǵéǵi ǵiŋke iǵa"ǵé ǵiŋke, etc. Iǵa"ǵé ǵiŋke is superfluous (vide F.).

591, 17. Ietnike iǵaǵa" aka, Wihe, umi"je he i"biǵpaǵé te hě, etc. See a similar speech in the story of Hi"qpe-agéc, pp. 167, 174.

594, 8. Maja" ǵeǵa" ǵeǵa"sk edega", etc. Said by the chief to ietnike: "This world is very large, but they have reported that you have various kinds of knowledge.

604 THE ʔEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

Use one of these to make my daughter stop weeping (i. e., get rid of the Orphan)."

594. 10. jugʔe aʔe ta akega, the final word is contracted from aka and ega.

597. 4 and 5. Wahaʔicige maxe iʔabisandēqti kēja, etc. Maxe is prolonged, thus, ma+xe. He-i, pronounced, Hé+.

602. 1. gaha he refers to the crowd (long line) of people; gateg iʔa (602, 4.) to one person, the grandmother, who came down on her feet; gēihaha (602, 9.) shows that they came down one by one and lay as they fell.

TRANSLATION.

Once upon a time there was a village of Indians. And an old woman and her grandson, called the Orphan, dwelt in a lodge at a short distance from the village. The two were very poor, dwelling in a low tent made of grass. The grandson used to play games. One day he said, "Grandmother, make a small bow for me!" The grandmother made the bow and some arrows. The boy went to shoot birds. And after that he used to bring back many birds, putting them all around his belt. The boy became an excellent marksman, usually killing whatever game came in sight of him. About ten o'clock each morning all the people in the village used to make a great noise. At last the Orphan said, "Grandmother, why do they make such a noise?" The grandmother said, "There is a very red bird that goes there regularly, and when he alights on a very tall cottonwood tree he makes a very red glare over the whole village. So the chief has ordered the people to shoot at the bird, and whoever kills the bird can marry the chief's daughter." "Grandmother," said the Orphan, "I will go thither." "Of all places in the world that is the worst place for you to visit. They like to abuse strangers. They will abuse you. There is no reason why you should go." The boy paid no attention to her, but took his bow and went out of the lodge. "Beware lest you go," said his grandmother. "I am going away to play games," said the Orphan. But he went straight to the village. When he drew near the village, he noticed the red light all around. He also saw a great crowd of people, who were moving to and fro, shooting at the bird. The Orphan reached them. One man said, "Come, Orphan, you may shoot at it." But the Orphan continued to hesitate, as he feared the people. But the people continued to approach him, saying to the rest, "Stand off! Stand off! Let the Orphan shoot!" So the Orphan shot at the bird. And he barely missed it. Just then Ictinike shot, and sent a reed arrow beside that of the Orphan. The people said, "Oh! the Orphan came very near killing it!" But Ictinike said, "I am the one who came near killing it." When the bird flew away the people scattered, returning to their lodges. And the Orphan went home. Said he to his grandmother, "I came very near killing the bird." "Do not go again! They will abuse you. Did I not say, do not go?" said the old woman. On the morning of another day he went thither. And the people were making a great noise. And it happened as on the previous day; he was told to shoot at the bird, and he barely missed it. On the third day he met with similar bad luck. But on the fourth day he hit the bird, wounding it through and through. "Oho! the Orphan has killed it," said the people. "Nonsense!" said Ictinike, "I killed it! I killed it! You must not grumble! You must not grumble!" And as Ictinike would not let the people do as they wished, he snatched the honor of the occasion from the Orphan.

And the people came in crowds to view the spectacle, the body of the famous bird. And when the Orphan approached the spot, he pulled out a feather, so the people thought, but he really took the entire bird, and carried it home. And the chief said, "Bring my son-in-law hither!" So the people took the bird, as they imagined, that had been killed by Ietiniike, and brought it and Ietiniike to the chief. And Ietiniike married the elder daughter of the chief, making his abode in the chief's lodge.

In the meantime the Orphan had reached home. "Grandmother," said he, "I have killed the bird." "Oh! my grandchild! Oh! my grandchild!" said she. "Grandmother, make me a 'weçita-tegçe' between the fire place and the seat at the back of the lodge," said the Orphan. And after she made it (the Orphan hung the red bird upon it?). And the Orphan and his grandmother had their lodge filled with a very red light. By and by the young man said, "Grandmother, make me a hide hoop." And his grandmother made the hoop for him, placing it aside to dry. But the Orphan could hardly wait for it to dry. At last it was dry. "Ho, grandmother, sit in the middle (between the fire-place and the seat at the back of the lodge?)," said he. Then the Orphan went out of the lodge and stood on the right side of the entrance. Said he, "Grandmother, you must say, O grandchild, one of the Buffalo people goes to you." And the old woman obeyed. She rolled the hoop from the lodge to the Orphan. When the hoop rolled out of the lodge, it changed suddenly into a buffalo, and the Orphan wounded it through and through, killing it near the entrance. He and his grandmother cut up the body, and his grandmother cut the entire carcass into slices for drying. At this time the people in the village had nothing to eat. The grandmother prepared a quantity of dried buffalo meat mixed with fat, and the Orphan told her to take it to the lodge of the chief, and to say, to the chief's (unmarried?) daughter, "O, daughter-in-law! your father may eat that." The old woman threw the bundle into the lodge, turned around suddenly, and went home. When the bundle was thrown into the lodge, the chief said, "Look! Look! Look!" And when one of the daughters went to look she could not see any one. (The Orphan, by his magic power, had rendered his grandmother invisible; therefore on the fourth day he said, "Grandmother, you shall be visible when you return.") And Ietiniike said, "Only one old woman dwells apart from us, and she is the one." And it was so four times. When the fourth time came, the old woman carried a sack of buffalo meat on her back, and on top of the sack she carried the bird. Then said the Orphan, "Grandmother, now you shall be visible when you return." So the old woman departed. When she was very near the chief's tent, that tent began to shine with a red light. As she passed along by the lodges the people said, "Oho! we did think that the Orphan had killed the bird, but you said that Ietiniike killed it. Now the Orphan's grandmother has brought it hither. To whom will she take it?" And the people stood looking. "Oho! she has carried it to the chief's lodge!" When she reached the entrance, she threw down the sack, letting it fall with a sudden thud. "Oh! daughter-in-law, your father and brothers may eat that," said she. "Look! Look! Look!" said the chief, "she has done that often!" And Ietiniike said, "Only one old woman is left there, and she is the one. Who else could it be?" And they went to see. And behold it was the grandmother of the Orphan. "It is the Orphan's grandmother," said (one of the daughters). "Ho! bring my son-in-law to me," said the chief. And they took the pack which the old woman had brought and they hung it up with the bird. They placed it beside that which Ietnike had (seemingly) killed, and which had been hung up. And as they sat in the lodge it was filled with a very red glare. When they had returned with the Orphan, he married the younger daughter of the chief, making his abode in the chief's lodge. The Orphan's hair had not been combed for a long time, so it was tangled and matted. So Ietnike's wife said to her sister, "Sister, if he sits on the rug, he will make lice drop on it! Make him sit away from it! Is it possible that you do not loathe the sight of him?" The Orphan and his wife were displeased at this. When the wife wished to comb his hair, the Orphan was unwilling.

At length, one day, when the sun was approaching noon (i. e., about 10 a.m.), he and his wife left the village and went to the shore of a lake. As they sat there the Orphan said, "I am going beneath this water, but do not return to your father's lodge! Be sure to remain here, even though I am absent for some time. I will return. Examine my forehead." Now, in the middle of his forehead was a depression. He had been a poor Orphan, and was brought up accordingly, so he had been hurt in some manner, causing a scar on his forehead. Then he started to wade into the lake. He waded until only his head was above the surface, then he turned and called to his wife, "Remember what I told you. That is all!" Having said this, he plunged under the surface. His wife sat weeping, and after awhile she walked along the lake shore, weeping because he did not return. At last her eyelids became weary, and she went to sleep at the very place where they had first reached the lake. When she was sleeping very soundly her husband returned. He took hold of her and roused her. "I have returned. Arise!" On arising suddenly and looking behold, he was a very handsome man, and his hair was combed very nicely, so the woman hesitated, thinking him a stranger, and she turned away from him. "Oh fie! you like to make sport of people! I married a very poor man, who plunged beneath this water, and I have been sitting weeping while awaiting his return," said she. "Why! I am he," said her husband. Still the woman paid no attention to his words. "Why! see that place about which I said, 'Examine it!'" When the woman turned around and saw it she no longer hesitated, but embraced him suddenly and kissed him. Then the husband went to the shore, drew together a quantity of the green scum that collects on the surface of water, and made of it a robe and skirt for his wife. The Orphan had birds resembling short-eared owls over his moccasins and robe, and he had some tied to his club. Whenever he laid down the club the birds used to cry out. Late in the afternoon he and his wife departed for the village. When they arrived the people exclaimed, "Why! The wife of the Orphan has returned with a very different man. I think that the Orphan has been killed. He went off in the morning. Why! this is a very handsome man." When the Orphan reached the chief's lodge all the birds made a great noise. Then said the wife of Ietnike, "Sister, let my sister's husband sit on part of the rug." "Why, elder sister! your sister's husband might drop lice on your rug," said the younger sister as she turned up one end of the rug and threw it towards the elder sister. Whereupon Ietnike's wife began to cry, and she cried incessantly. At last her father said to Ietnike, "This world is very large, but you are known everywhere as one who possesses various kinds of knowledge. Use one of these and make my daughter stop crying."

By and by Ietnike said to the Orphan, "Younger brother, let us go to cut arrow-shafts. Let us make arrows for your wife's brother." But the Orphan did not speaking. So Ictinike addressed him again, "Younger brother, let us make arrows for your wife's brother. Let us go to cut arrow-shafts." Then the Orphan replied, "Come, elder brother, it shall be so." And Ictinike was highly delighted because the Orphan was about to go with him. When the Orphan spoke of laying aside his magic garments Ictinike objected. "Wear them at any rate! Why should you put them away?" So they departed together. When they reached the edge of a very dense forest, some wild turkeys flew off and alighted in a tree. "Oh! younger brother, shoot at them! I will eat a roasted one as I recline," said Ictinike. "No, elder brother," said the Orphan, "we are going in great haste." "Oh! younger brother, kill one for me," said Ictinike. "When my elder brother speaks about anything he has so much to say he does not stop talking!" said the Orphan, who then went towards the tree, taking his bow, in order to shoot at the turkeys. Just as he stood pulling the bow, Ictinike said in a whisper, "Let it lodge on a limb!" And when the Orphan shot he sent the arrow through the bird. "Let it lodge on a limb! Let it lodge on a limb," said Ictinike. And it fell and lodged on a limb. "Oho! younger brother! climb for me, get it and throw it down," said Ictinike. "No, elder brother, let us go on," said the Orphan. "Why! you ought not to leave your arrow as well as the bird," said Ictinike. "Go up for it and throw it down!" "Why! when my elder brother speaks about anything he has so much to say he does not stop talking!" said the Orphan. He decided to go and climb the tree. So he went to the base of the tree. "Ho! lay your garments there! If you get caught in the branches the garments will be torn," said Ictinike, referring to the magic clothing. So the Orphan stripped off his garments, placing them at the foot of the tree. As he climbed, Ictinike said in a whisper, "Let this tree shoot up high very suddenly!" As the Orphan heard him whisper, he turned his head and questioned him: "Why! elder brother, what did you say?" "I said nothing of any consequence, younger brother. I was merely saying, 'When he brings that bird back I will eat it.'" So the Orphan continued climbing. When Ictinike whispered again, the Orphan repeated his question. "I said nothing of importance," said Ictinike. "I was merely saying, 'He has nearly reached it for me.'" Then the Orphan climbed higher. Ictinike whispered again, and made a similar reply to the query of the Orphan, who began to apprehend mischief. When Ictinike whispered the fourth time the Orphan said, "Fie! elder brother, but you have been saying something!" "I said nothing of importance," said Ictinike. "I said, 'Let this tree extend to the upper world.'" And as Ictinike went around the tree he hit it at short intervals, saying, "I say, 'Let this tree shoot up high very suddenly.'" And the tree extended to the upper world. And the Orphan stood in a very narrow place between the limb of the tree and the upper world. "Alas!" said he. And he wept incessantly. His hair, too, became exceedingly tangled. At length a young Eagle went to the weeping man. "O man, what are you saying," said he. "O grandfather! O grandfather! O grandfather!" said the Orphan to the young Eagle. "Come! do say it. Tell your story," said the Eagle. "Yes, grandfather, I am one of those who left at the timber at the foot of the bluff some parts of a young male elk for you all to fly over and eat." "That is right. One of your grandfathers shall come (to rescue you)," said the Eagle. So the Eagle departed. And the Orphan stood weeping, being very sorrowful. Presently the Buzzard went to him. And when the Orphan told him of another ma, which he had left for the buzzards, he was told, "That is right. One of your grandfathers shall come (to rescue you)." Then the Buzzard departed, leaving the Orphan weeping. By and by the Crow approached. And when the Orphan told him of an animal which he had left for the crows to eat he was told that another grandfather (a crow) should come to aid him. After the departure of the Crow the Magpie came. He made a like promise and departed. Then came the promised Eagle. "O grandfather! O grandfather!" said the Orphan, praying to him. "Ho! Catch hold of my wings at the shoulders, and lie on my back with your legs stretched out. Beware lest you open your eyes! Lie with closed eyes," said the Eagle. So he departed, flying with the Orphan on his back, flying round and round the tree till he became very tired. Then he alighted from time to time to rest himself, and when rested he resumed his flight. Finally he left the Orphan standing on a lower limb. Then came the Buzzard, who took the Orphan on his back, after giving him directions similar to those given by the Eagle. The Buzzard flew round and round the tree, going lower and lower, alighting from time to time to rest himself, and resuming his downward flight when rested. Finally he left the Orphan standing on a lower limb. Then came the Crow, who took the Orphan still lower. But while he was on the Crow's back he opened his eyes slightly and he saw the ground emitting a yellow light. So he lay down again on the Crow's back and begged him to continue to help him. But about this time came the Magpie very suddenly. And the Magpie carried the Orphan lower and lower till they reached the ground. When they reached there the Magpie lay insensible, as he was exhausted. When the Orphan went to get his garments he found that Ictinike had departed with them, leaving his own garments at the foot of the tree.

Now, when Ictinike returned home wearing the magic garments the birds on them did not cry out at all, so Ictinike pretended that they wanted to cry out, saying, "Keep quiet! You make a great noise in people's ears!" But when the Orphan returned on the Magpie's back to the foot of the tree the birds on the garments knew about it, and they cried out with a great noise for some time, as Ictinike had on the garments. Then Ictinike exclaimed, "Do keep quiet! You make a great noise in people's ears!"

When the Orphan hunted for his quiver he found that Ictinike had taken it, leaving instead his quiver with the reed arrows. When he looked at the arrows he found among them some wooden arrows having the points cut sharp with a knife. He also found that Ictinike had left there his robe of raccoon skins. The Orphan was highly displeased, but he seized the arrows, straightened the wooden ones, and with them he killed all the animals about which he had told his deliverers. Then he started back to the village wearing the robe of raccoon skins and taking the quiver. When he drew near the village the birds knew it, and they cried out and flew a little now and then. This made Ictinike feel very proud, and he commanded the birds to keep silent.

At length the Orphan returned and entered the lodge. He sat there a while, Ictinike still wearing the magic garments. At last the Orphan said to him, "Fie! you used to wear that thing, so wear it again!" throwing to him the raccoon skin robe. And the Orphan took back his own garments. But his hair was still in great disorder. After his return nothing special happened for some time. The Orphan caused a drum to be made. Said he to his wife, "I have returned after being in a very lonely situation! Tell the venerable man (your father) that I wish all the people to dance."

And his wife told her father. And her father commanded an old man to go around among the people and proclaim all the words that the Orphan had told. So the old man went through the village as a crier or herald, saying, "He says indeed that you shall dance! He says indeed that all of you in the village, even the small children, are to dance!" The Orphan, his wife, and his grandmother, having the drum, went inside the circle (of lodges). The Orphan fastened his belt very tightly around his waist and then said to his wife, "Grasp my belt very hard. Beware lest you let it go!" Then he told his grandmother to grasp the other side (of the belt), saying, "Do not let go!"

When all the people assembled inside the circle of lodges the Orphan sat in the very middle (surrounded by the people). And when he beat the drum he made the people rise about a foot and then come to the ground again. The people were enjoying themselves when he beat the drum. When he beat it a second time he made them jump a little higher. Then said his grandmother, "Oh! grandchild! I usually dance very well." He made her jump and come down suddenly as he beat the drum, just as he had done to each of the others. When he gave the third beat he made the people jump still higher, and as they came down he beat the drum before they could touch the ground, making them leap up again. He beat the drum rapidly, sending all the people so high into the air that one could not get even a glimpse of them. And as they came down after a long time, he caused them to die one after another as they lay on the ground. He thus killed all the people by concussion, which resulted from his beating the drum.

Though the Orphan's wife and grandmother were taken up into the air at each beat of the drum, it happened that only their feet went up into the air and their heads and bodies were turned downward, because the women held him by the waist, as he had ordered them. Of all the people only three survived, Ietinike, the chief, and the chief's wife. As the chief was coming down he implored the Orphan to spare him. But the latter was inexorable, sending him up repeatedly until he grew tired of hearing the chief's entreaties. Then he let him fall to the earth and die. In like manner he caused the death of the chief's wife. Only Ietinike remained. "O younger brother! I go to you and my wife's sister! Pity ye me!" said Ietinike. But the Orphan beat the drum again and when Ietinike fell to the ground the concussion killed him.

LEGEND OF UKIABI.

TOLD BY YELLOW BUFFALO.

Gan' nīkaci^{n'}ga aká qubai tē, wač'pi-na^{n'} átai tē, Ukiabi aká. Gan'qi
 And person the was mysteri- doing things ex- the Ukiabi the And then (sub.) ous, skillfully ceeded (past act), (sub.)

ijin'ge aká dúbai tē, wi^{n'} aká na^{n'}i tē, čábē^{n'} jūngai tē. Han. Gan'qi na^{n'} his son the were four, one the was grown, three were small. ¶ And then grown
 (sub.) (sub.)

aká qubé égi^{n'}ga^{n'} qtia^{n'}i tē. Han. Gan'qi ca^{n'}qi ičadi činké řégič ga^{n'} čai tē. 3
 the mysteri- was just like his (father). ¶ And then strange to his the one to kill him, wished.
 (sub.) ous say, father who his own,

Hau. Ga^{n'} ma^{n'}ciaa i^{n'}be-zíga-ma wi^{n'} ma^{n'}xo íbisandé'qti gawi^{n'}xo
 ¶ And up in the air yellow-tailed hawk ens upper world pressing close against flying in a circle ma^{n'}ɕi^{n'} gáxai tē há, ijin'go aká. Wajin'ga júxíɕé amá. Gan'yi íɛádi aká walking made his son the Bird he changed himself And then his the father (sub.)

3 a^{n'}b íja^{n'}i tē há. Iɛádi aká ja^{n'}-bi yi, égiɕe uɛíxide ɕéɕai tē. Égiɕe ígiɕai tē, day lay down by His the lay down when, as he looked all around At he found him, length suddenly, length his own, ígidaha^{n'}qti ɕéɕai tē, t'ɛwaɕe ga^{n'}ɕai tē ígidaha^{n'} ja^{n'}i tē íɛádi aká. Wa'íjina he recognized his own (son) suddenly to kill wished the knowing it reclined his the Old woman ɕinké uɕtkiai tē. "Wá'ujin'ga, ɕi - giɕaeɕje aká píjiji teábe gáxai," the st. he spoke to her, Old woman, Lúigo shivers for the had very did, one his own, another by his (sub.)

6 égiɕe^{n'}-biamá. Hau. "Aɕúha he," á-biamá. "Edáda^{n'} píjiji gáxe tɛi^{n'}te," said to her, they say. ¶ Again said, they say. What he do should I (fem.)

á-biamá íha^{n'} aká. "An'kaji, wá'ujin'ga, t'ea^{n'}ɕé ga^{n'}ɕai," á-biamá.
 said, they say his the mother (sub.). Not so, old woman, to kill me wishes, said, they say.

Hau. Ga^{n'} íhuɕa^{n'} íhe aɕai tē, gɛɛda^{n'} gáxe, íɛádi aká. Iénaxíɕai ¶ And smoke-hole passing that he went, hawk made, his the father (sub.). He dashed on him

9 ijin'go ɕi^{n'}. Maja^{n'} a^{n'}ba xúwi^{n'}xo ɕiqé aɕi^{n'} tē. ɕi ɕan'di ɕiqé aɕi^{n'} tē. ɕi his son the (mv. ob.). Land day turning in pursu- had him. Tent the place pursu- was re- Tent ing that way ing

ɕan'di égiha kigɕé amá. Hi^{n'}qpe gáxe ja^{n'} ké amá. ɕi ígidaha^{n'}qti íɛádi to the down had gone thither, they say. Plumage made was lying, they say. Again he fully recognized his own father

amá. Aɕi^{n'} aɕi^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, aɕi^{n'} aɕi^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, ni ma^{n'}te íɛé amá. ɕi the (mv. sub.). Having taken him along, they say, having taken him along, they say, water beneath was going Again thither, they say.

12 huhú gáxe amá. ɕi íbaha^{n'}-biamá íɛádi aká.
 fish made they say. Again recognized him, they say his the father (sub.)

Hau. ɕi aɕi^{n'} aɕi^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, aɕi^{n'} aɕi^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, aɕi^{n'} aɕi^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, ¶ Again having taken him along, they say, having taken him along, they say, having taken him along, they say, wakan'dagi wi^{n'} ni úja^{n'} ké amá. Wakan'dagi ké uɕé ɕé-ga^{n'} ɕiɕɕe^{n'}a water monster one water was lying in it, they say. Water monster the enter. went, and inside the animal

15 ké ma^{n'}te ja^{n'} amá. ɕi íɛádi aká ɕi éga^{n'} ma^{n'}tája áúɕai tē. ɕi ákusan'de the wishin was lying, they say. Again his the again so within had gone. Again out at the other end ɕɕa^{n'}be ahí-biamá.

 emerging had reached there, they say.

Hau. ɕi aɕi^{n'} aɕi^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, ɕi yi tē égiha kigɕé amá. Hé gáxe ¶ Again having taken him along on the again tent the down had gone, they say. Louse made way back, they say. (st. from above ob.)

18 amá yi, ɕi íɛádi amá ígidaha^{n'}-biamá. Ca^{n'} edáda^{n'} waníta ɕú gáxe they when, again his the (mv. sub.). recognized him, their own. In fact what quadruped prairie made
 say they say

ɕtəwa^{n'}, íɛádi aká éga^{n'} gáxe amá. Hau. Ma^{n'}teú gáxe yi, ɕi íɛádi aká éga^{n'} even, his the so made they say. ¶ Grizzley made when, again his the so father (sub.) hear father (sub.)

- gáxe amá. Ingčan'ga gáxe ʔi, ci iǎdi aká égaⁿ gáxe amá. Mi'xa suⁿ made they say. Wild cat made when, again his the so made they say. Swan
- jan'ga ská'-qti-ma wiⁿ égaⁿ gáxe ʔi, ci iǎdi aká égaⁿ gáxe amá. Ci those very white one so made when, again father (sub.) so made they say. Again
- gǎdaⁿ gáxe ʔi'etě, égiǎe íwackaⁿ tǎ zani énaǎe tǎ, uǎǎa tǎ Ukiabi ijin'ge. 3 hawk made when, at strength (or the all he had ex- he became length power) pended, weary Ukiabi his son.
- Hau. Maⁿ'xe ǎǎkǎ baqápi iǎé gaⁿ'ǎa tǎ, ǎetaⁿ aǎjaⁿ tǎ (maⁿ'xe kǎ Upper this to force his way wished when, this far he came when upper the world (fig. ob.) through by pushing and re- world (fig. ob.)
- baqápi aǎjaⁿ tǎ, nin'de gataⁿ ǎǎji amá, sindéhi ǎaⁿ átaⁿi tǎ iǎdi aká.
he pierced came when, hama that far did they as sacrum the trod on it his the
it and re- not go say, part (sub.)
- Gaⁿ é t'éǎi tǎ. Haⁿ íǎuǎǎe aǎiⁿ égaⁿ aⁿ'ba kǎ ékitaⁿháqti t'éǎi tǎ. 6
And that killed him. Night throughout having had him day the just half in sight killed him.
- Haⁿ'egaⁿtǎ'qti xagá tǎ ʔi tǎ'di. "Ukiabi ijin'ge ǎaⁿ'qti gaⁿ t'é amá," Early in the morning they cried tents at the. Ukiabi his son strange to say is dead, they say.
- ǎi tǎ. Gaⁿ'ʔi daⁿ'be é'di aǎi-biamá. Égiǎe t'e kǎ amá. Égiǎe maⁿ'ǎǎqti they said. And then to see him there arrived, they say. Behold dead lay they Behold very flat on his back
- jaⁿ kǎ amá, Ukiabi ijin'ge kǎ, t'e kǎ amá. Wascǎde nǎka iǎdi aká 9 was lying, they say. Ukiabi his son the dead lay they say. Indian red paint his father (sub.)
- ǎizá-bi égaⁿ, júga ǎjidekiǎ-biamá, xagá-baji'qti gǎiⁿ akáma. ǎǎxe wiⁿ having taken, they say, he reddened for him in body not crying at all was at, they say. Gourd one
- gasáǎu gaⁿ waaⁿ gǎiⁿ akáma. Égiǎe waaⁿ tǎ ǎactaⁿ-bi égaⁿ, xagá-biamá.
rattled by so singing was at, they say. At song the having stopped singing. he cried, they say.
- Níkaciⁿ'ga xagé tiǎǎǎ amá ʔi, bǎǎga xagá-biamá taⁿ'waⁿ ǎaⁿ'di, xagé 12
People were taking up the crying when, all cried, they say village at the, crying
- uǎkaⁿ-biamá. Níkaciⁿ'ga amá Paⁿ'ka amá Ukiabi i'ǎǎge ijin'ge t'éǎiǎi they helped him, they say. People the (pl. sub.) Ponka the (pl. sub.) Ukiabi old man his son killed his own
- tǎ nǎn'de ǎǎǎi e-naⁿ áta éǎkaⁿi.
the heart bad only that ex- they as-
(act) tremed summed it.

NOTES.

Another version of this legend was published in the proceedings A. A. A. S., Ann Arbor meeting, 1885, p. 399. Ukiabi was the chief of the Hisada, a Ponka gens.

The lament of Ukiabi, as given by Jenuga zi or Yellow Buffalo, was as follows:

"Tá-ku-ǎa ha maⁿ.bǎiⁿ ǎé á-ǎiⁿ.bǎ ǎa ha+a+ Nǎn'de í-sa aⁿ.ǎiⁿ'ge á-ǎiⁿ.bǎ ǎa ha+a+
Tá-ku-ǎa ha maⁿ.bǎiⁿ ǎé á-ǎiⁿ.bǎ-gaⁿ ǎa ha+a+ Nǎn'de í-sa-aⁿ.ǎiⁿ'ge hiⁿ.si ǎa ha+a+!"

It may be translated freely thus:

"I am walking to and fro!
I find nothing which can heal my sorrow."

Ukiabi was buried in the side of a high bluff back of Fort Randall. This bluff is known to the Ponkas as "Ukiabi qai ɕa", Where Ukiabi was buried."

Yellow Buffalo said that his maternal uncle saw Ukiabi (!). The face of Ukiabi was exceedingly hideous. Lumps were on his forehead, his eyes were large, and his nose, which was small and turned up at the tip, had an indentation across the ridge, which made it appear broken. It seems probable that a historical Ukiabi is here confounded with the original one, judging from the statement in the next legend about the origin of the game of plumstone shooting.

TRANSLATION.

Ukiabi was a mysterious person, exceeding all others in performing wonderful deeds. He had four sons, one of whom was grown, and the rest were small. The grown son closely resembled his father in being mysterious. He looked on his father as a rival and wished to kill him. One day the son changed himself into a yellow-tailed hawk, and flew round and round far above the clouds, very near the upper world. That day his father was reclining in the lodge. By and by the father looked all around and discovered his son in the distance. He recognized him at once, and knew that his son wished to kill him. So he said to his wife, "Old woman, ɕi-giɕaciɕe does very wrong." "Do say something else," said she. "He has no bad intention, I am sure." "You mistake, old woman, he wishes to kill me."

Then the father changed himself into a hawk, and darted through the smoke-hole of the lodge. He dashed toward his son. All day long he traversed the earth in close pursuit of his son, turning to the right or left whenever the latter did so. He chased him back to the lodge and down through the smoke-hole. The son took the shape of a plume and was lying there when the father entered. The father recognized him immediately. Then the chase was resumed; he chased him and chased him until the son went beneath the water and became a fish. Again the father detected him.

He chased him, and chased him, and chased him, till the son reached a water monster that was lying in the stream. The son rushed into the mouth of the water monster and lay concealed within his body. The father too entered the monster, driving the son out at the other end.

Again Ukiabi chased his son till he dashed down through the smoke-hole. He assumed the form of a louse, but his father recognized him. No matter what form he took his father assumed the same form. Among the forms taken were those of a prairie chicken, a grizzly bear, a wild cat, and a very white swan. Finally the son became a hawk. Then he had expended all his mysterious power, and he became weary.

He tried to force his way up through the foundation of the upper world. When his body from the hips upward was through the hole in the upper world, and only that part from the hips downward remained on this side, the father trod on the os sacrum of the son, thus killing him. The pursuit had lasted throughout the night, and until half of the sun was visible above the horizon; just at that moment did he kill him. Early in the morning the people cried in the lodges. "Strange to say, Ukiabi's son is dead!" said they. And then every one went to see him.

There he lay dead! He lay flat on his back. The father took some Indian red paint and reddened the body in spots. He did not cry for some time, but sat there singing and shaking a gourd rattle. At last he concluded his song, and then he cried. First one household and then another took up the wail, until all the villagers condoled with Ukiabi. The Ponkas have thought that there never was such an exhibition of grief as that shown when the venerable Ukiabi killed his son.

UKIABI, THE SUITOR—A PONKA LEGEND.

TOLD BY YELLOW BUFFALO.

- Ukiabi i'e'áge aká níkaci'ga na'ba wagaqqa' wápe' tē hā', nú.
 Ukiabi old man the person two servant he had them man.
- Mi' ičé xi, júwagče gēi'-biamá. Gá-biamá, "Kagēha, wa'ú gátēdi Sun went when, he with them sat, they say. He said as follows, O friend, woman in that (down) tent (?)
- (wápeixáji) čínké agčā' ka'beñ," wagaqqa' čanká úwagičai tē. Kí, 3 has not taken a the one I take her I wish, servant the ones he told it to when. And, husband wife for a wife them
- "Ė'di i'wín'čakič né tai, akiwaqti, kagēha, á-biamá Ukiabi aká.
 There you speak to her you will, both, O friend, said, they say Ukiabi the
 for me go (sub.).
- Igáqqa', wa'újinga aká, gá-biamá, "I+, ačúhaqtia", á-biamá. "Mi'jinga
 His wife, old woman the said as follows, How absurd! do speak about said, they say. Girl (sub.), they say, (fem.) something else!
- úda'qti t'a' akádi áqta' čí'if tába," á-biamá. 6
 very good have among those who how possi- they should / said, they say.
 ble give one (pl.) to you
- Hau. "Ké, č'di ma'čai'i-gā," ai tē. Ga' č'di ačá-biamá. Jíja Come, there walk ye, he the And there went, they say. To the said (past act). tent
- af-biamá aktwa. Nú aká (mi'jinga ičádi aká) gá-biamá: "Haí," were coming both. Man the girl her father the said as follows, He!
 in this direc- (sub.) the (sub.) they say: tion (etc), they say
- á-biamá. Nú čínké- ga', wa'ú čínké- ga', wáčaha'í tē aktwa. "Čin'gajin'ga 9 said, they say. Man the (st. both, woman the (st. and, they prayed to them both. Child sub.) oh.)
- čéčinke úda'qti čat'a'í. A'bačé níkaci'ga wi' gčā' ga'čai čga', this st. one very good you have a This day person one to marry her wishes as,
 child.
- čigáqqa' čča'ba aŋgúčikič aŋgáti," á-biamá. Nú čínké faji amá. Wa'ú your wife her too we speak to you we have come, said, they say. Man the st. did not they Woman one speak say.
- aká la-biamá, uqčé'qti, "Ėbē ā nāci'ga gčā' ga'čai čínké," á-biamá. 12
 the spoke, they very soon, Who I person to marry her wishes the one said, they say.
 (sub.) say, who

"Wikáge aká Ukiabi aké," á-biamá. "Ná, gúdiha gigéai- á! Á'ʒi'ska
 My friend the Ukiabi the one said, they say. Pie! further off enter ye your (sub.) referred to, own lodge (fem. imper.)! Almost (!)

níaci'ga éga' báda". Cin'gajin'ga ʒéʒinké úda'qti at'a' hē. Níaci'ga person so ! Child this (st. ob.) very good I have her (fem.) Human being

3 wáʒixe agíʒa'bēa, Wakan'da wáʒixe ctēwa' agíʒa'bēa-máji hē'. Ga' to take as I wish her, my Mysterious to take as soever I do not wish her, my And her husband own, Power her husband own (fem.)

agéa-biamá. Aki-biamá. Égiʒe Ukiabi i'e'áge aká ʒizú ja' akáma.
 started back, they Reached home, Meanwhile Ukiabi old man the stretched ja' akáma.
 say. they say. Ukiabi (sub.) out was recd., they say.

ʒíha' amá. Mañ'ʒe ʒéi'-biamá. Ukiabi agéa-biamá wagíqʒa' amá.
 Arose from recl., Erect sat, they say. Talking to- started back, they servant the (pl.
 they say. together say. sub.)

6 "Kagéha, íe té púji á. Wikáge añgúʒaji té," á-biamá. Áma aká
 O friend, speech the bad ! My friend let us not tell him said, they say. Other said
 (sub.)

gá-biamá: "Tēná' ! ígidaha' ʒéi'í. Eáta' añgúʒaji táda'." said as follows, Why! Knowing his he sits. Why we two not tell should !
 they say: own about it

Ga' aki-biamá. "Hau, ʒikáge améga' ʒagʒí," á-biamá Ukiabi i'e'áge
 And they reached home, they say. Ho, your friend he like- you two said, they say Ukiabi old man wise have come back.

9 aká. Íqaga ʒéi'-biamá. "Añgúʒe, kagé-i," á-biamá. "Ahaú! edáda' edai the Laughing he sat, they say. We have come back, younger said, they say. Oho! what they said (sub.) often (masc.), something éi'te, ʒikáge m'éga", wágazúqti i'wi'ʒai-gá," á-biamá. Ga', "Kagéha, per- your friend likewise, very correctly tell ye me, said, they say. And, O friend, haps,

uʒí'agái," á-biamá. "Cin'gajin'ga ʒéʒinké a't'a'í ʒa'ja, níaci'ga wáʒixe they were un- said, they say. Child this st. ona we have though, human being to take as willing, said, they say. her her husband

12 agíʒa'bēa, Wakan'da wáʒixe ctēwa' agíʒa'bēa-máji hē. Gúdiha
 I wish her, my Mysterious Power to take as soever I do not wish her, my Further own, her husband own (fem.) off

gigéai-á hē', kagéha, ewéagái," á-biamá. Ūwakiá-biamá Ukiabi i'e'áge enter ye your O friend, she did speak said (they say). He spoke to them Ukiabi old man own lodge (fem. imper.) to us what precedes,

aká. "Céʒa' hi'qpe ʒa", wá'ujin'ga, i'í ʒa-gá" (á-biamá). Ikáge áma the That (ev. ob.) plume the (ev. ob.) O old woman, hand mine to me said, they say. His friend other (sub.) one

15 ʒinké indé ʒa' súbekiʒai té. Hi'qpe ʒa' ʒaqpi ʒa' ʒi té, máca' the (st. ob.) faco the he blackened the (past act). Plume the crown the put the put the (st. ob.) (part) for him (past act). (ev. ob.) head (part) many small ob. on for him feather áʒahaháqti giáxai té. Ci áma ʒinké ei éga' gáxai té. Ūwakiaí té.

 sticking to it here made for him the (past act). Again other one did the (past act). He spoke to the (past act).
 and there him (past act).

ʒéha wai'í té, wáhi' ei'ʒé. Maja' wi' áʒadai té. "Maja' ʒáʒandi Buffalo wore as the robe with the hair Land one he men- tioned it the (past act). Land to that (place) hide robes (past act), outside.

né tai." (Wé'e akíča ačí'i tē.) "Ujéči ekáxe tai. Maⁿéin'ka éipíqti you will go (pl.) I too both had the (past act) Hole for a pole you make it (pl.). Earth made very skillfully ičaⁿ/čačē égaⁿ hiⁿqpe áčaji tai. Níkaciⁿ/ga wiⁿ níxu tai. Gí-bajji-gá.

you place it so plume you put small objects on it (pl.). Person one you will mark (pl.). Do not be (ye) coming back.

Níctaⁿ xi, é'di gčíⁿ/i-gá. Cupí tá minke," á-biamá.
You finish when there sit ye. I will reach there where you will be, said, they say.

3

Ukiabi amá ačai tē majaⁿ/ čan'di. Qčabádi ingčan'ga égaⁿqti júyíčá-Ukiabi the (mv. sub.) went the (past act) land to the (place). Among the trees wild cat just so he changed himself into, biamá Ukiabi aká. Siéize xan'de naⁿp'an'de, déde etē naⁿnúqčín átiatiqčéthey say Ukiabi the (sub.) He raised his feet ground shook slowly from walking, fire even made blaze up became suddenly as he was approaching, biamá. Wagáqčaⁿ amá ígíčahaⁿ/ gčíⁿ/-biamá. "Čikáge xan'ge a-í," á-biamá.

they say. Servants the (pl. sub.) knowing him, their own sat, they say. Your friend near is coming, said, they say.

6

Atíi tē há. Tí amá (xi) gá-biamá ikáge éčaⁿ/ba, "Kagčha, xáci aⁿ/četa'i
He came He came, they say when said as follows, his friend he too, O friend, long ago we finished it

čaⁿ/ja, čatiúji," á-biamá. "Ahaú," á-biamá Ukiabi iⁿ/e'áge aká. "Ké, čagčé though, you did not say, they say. Oho! said, they say Ukiabi old man the (sub.). Come, you start back

tai. Wé'e čaⁿ ičaⁿ/čai-gá. Xaⁿ/si sátān tē gátē aniⁿ/-daⁿ čagčé tai," ai will (pl.) Heo the (ev. ob.) put down (pl.) Plum-stone five the (col. ob.) and you start will said tē. "Ljčbe tē'di čanájiⁿ tai. Ljči hidé tē čátaⁿ/čicaⁿ čanaⁿ/tata tai.

9

the (past act), Door-way at the you stand will (pl.). Tent-pole base the on the left of you patter on the will ground with the (pl.).

Xaⁿ/si sátān čéčapa tai," (á-biamá Ukiabi iⁿ/e'áge aká. Wagáqčaⁿ amá Plum-stone five you show to her will (pl.), said, they say Ukiabi old man the (sub.). Servant the (pl. sub.)

ačá-biamá.)
went, they say.

12

Égiče miⁿ/jinga wáčixáji aká áci éčaⁿ/be atíi tē há. Nístu
At length girl unmarried the (sub.) out of doors emerging (from the tent) came Stepping backward

agčai tē há. Égiče wa'ú amá wíuhe amá. Égiče xigčisaⁿ/ča- daⁿ jaⁿ/čín they went back At length woman the (mv. sub.) was following close after them, they say. At length turned themselves around and running agčá-biamá. Kí wíuhe amá wa'ú amá. Gaⁿ ačíⁿ/ agčá-biamá wa'ú čínⁿ went homeward, they say. And was following close behind them, they say woman the (mv. sub.) And having they went homeward, they say woman the (mv. ob.)

15 nú amá. Wa'ú amá waté gčíbčazé maⁿéin'-biamá, najíha čaⁿ/ etí men the (pl. sub.). Woman the (mv. sub.) skirt tearing her own walked, they say, hair the too xigčičazá-biamá, waté čaⁿ xigčičingé'-qtiaⁿ/-biamá. Majaⁿ/ čan'di ačíⁿ she pulled her own hair down over her forehead, they say, skirt the (garment) she utterly destroyed it for herself by tearing, they say. Land at the (place) having her akí-biamá. Ukiabi gǫí' akádi júǫte aǫí' akí-biamá. Ukiabi í'c'áǫe aká they reached Ukiabi sat to the one who. with her having they reached Ukiabi old man the there again, they (sub.) her there again, they say. (sub.)

616 THE FEGHIA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

ikáǫe méǫa' ja' a'há-biamá (or ja' a'he-da'etèa' biamá). Wagáǫq'a-ma his friends likewise cum ea concubuisse aiant. cum ea forte concubuisse aiant. The servants

3 wí' ní uǫjikiǫá-biamá, indé ǫa' bǫúǫa núǫakiǫá-biamá, wa'ú ta'. Èdilihi one water he caused to fill for her, face the whole made wet (for her), they woman the At that they say, part say, (std. ob.), time ǫíwají'ská'-biamá. Ukiabi tǫ, "ǫa' si tǫ wáǫa' aní' tǫ. Uǫíli-báǫi taité.

she regained her senses, they He spoke to her Píum-stone the gambling you will They shall not win from
say. (past act.) (col. ob.) have (them)

ǫat'áǫi ǫáci taté. Wa'úǫǫáǫteí eí taté. T'ǫ wíka' bǫa ǫí, ǫat'ǫ íe, You do not die a long time shall Very old woman you shall To die I wish for you If you die will,
(s.). reach there (s.).

6 éde t'ǫ wíka' bǫa-máǫi. ǫíha' íe píǫí ingáǫe. Èe há, úcka' tǫ but to die I do not wish for you. Your mother word bad made for me. That is it deed the (ob.)

wíǫaxe," aí tǫ.
I did to you, he the said (past act).

Hau. "Ké, ǫagǫé te. Ugáhanadáǫe ea' tǫ, ǫáǫa ǫagǫé tǫcǫ.
Come, you start home will. Dark still when, to the you start must.
to the home

9 A'ba ǫan'ǫe ǫé ǫí ea'," á-biamá. Wa'ú amá agǫá-biamá. Kí Day near goes when all right said he, they say Woman the (inv. sub.) started home, they And
say.

Ukiabi í'c'áǫe aká eú gáǫa-biamá. Lí éta'ǫí agǫá-biamá.
Ukiabi old man the pairie made, they say. Tent he first started home, they (sub.) (s.) say.

NOTES.

613. 6. ǫíǫí, perhaps the fem. of ǫíǫí.

613. 8. a-i-biamá, prob. intended for ahi-biamá, judging from the preceding v., aǫa-biamá.

613. 8. akiwa, i. e., both old men.

613. 11. Nu ǫíǫke íǫí ama, etc. A survival of "mother-right." As Ukiabi had one wife, the mother of his sons, his seeking a young wife is a sign that polygamy was then practiced.

TRANSLATION.

Ukiabi the venerable man had two men as his servants. He sat with them one day at sunset and said, "O friends, I wish to marry the single woman who dwells yonder (describing her residence). Both of you will go and court her for me." But Ukiabi's wife said, "How absurd! Do speak about something else! Why should those who have pretty daughters give you one?"

"Go thither," said Ukiabi. So the men departed. They reached the lodge where the young woman dwelt, and thus presented their request to both of them: "You have a very pretty daughter whom a man wishes to marry, so we have come to-day to speak to you about it." The husband said nothing, but the wife spoke immediately, "Who is the man that wishes to marry her?" The two men replied, "Our friend, Ukiabi, is the person." "Fie! Go to your own lodge in the distance! He can hardly be considered a human being! I have a very pretty child, and I wish her to marry a human being. I do not wish her to marry a mysterious power." So the men departed. Meanwhile Ukiabi lay stretched out. But he arose and sat erect.—Let us return to the messengers. As they went homeward they talked together. One said, "My friend, the woman's words were bad! Let us not tell our friend about them!" But his comrade replied, "Why! He knows all. Why should we not tell about them?"

When they returned Ukiabi said, "Ho, you and your friend have come back. Tell me just what they said." So they told him. After hearing their report Ukiabi told his wife to hand him a plume. Then he blackened the face of one of his friends, put plumes all over his crown, and attached quill feathers to it here and there. He decorated the other man in like manner and made each man wear a buffalo robe with the hair outside. Then he instructed them how to act. He named a place whither they were to go. "Go to that place and make a hole for a pole." (Both servants had hoes.) "When you shall have prepared the ground sufficiently strew plumes on it and draw the figure of a man. Do not return. Remain there when you shall have completed the task. I will join you."

At the appointed time Ukiabi went to the place in question. When he was in a forest he changed himself into a wild cat. When he raised his feet the ground shook, and his steps made fire blaze up at sudden intervals. His servants were aware of his coming. "Your friend draws near," said one. He arrived. When he got there his servants said, "O friend, we completed our task long ago but you did not come." Ukiabi replied, "Well, you can go again. Leave the hoes. Take these five plum-stones to the lodge of the young woman. Stand at the entrance. Patter with the soles of your feet on the ground at the left side, by the tent-pole. Show her the plum-stones."

The servants departed. At length they reached the lodge where the girl dwelt. She came out from the lodge. They did as Ukiabi had ordered, and then they stepped backward, moving towards their home. The woman followed close after them. After walking backward for some time the two men turned around and ran homeward, closely followed by the woman. Thus the men drew the woman after them. As she went she acted as a deranged person does, tearing her skirt and pulling her hair down over her forehead. She continued acting thus till she had torn off every shred of her skirt, and she was entirely nude. At last they reached the place where they had left Ukiabi. The two men and the woman reached him. Ukiabi amicosque cum ea concubuisse, aiant. By and by Ukiabi made one of the servants fill a kettle with water for the woman and he washed her face for her. Whereupon she regained her right mind.

Then Ukiabi addressed her thus: "Keep the plum-stones for gambling. You shall always win. You shall live many years. You shall be a very aged woman before you die. Had I wished you to die you would have died ere this; but I did not wish you to die. Your mother spoke bad words about me, and for that reason have I done this thing to you. Well, you can go home. You must start for home while it is yet dark. By the time that day is at hand all shall be well with you."

Then the woman departed. But Ukiabi took the form of a prairie hen and was the first one to start home.

A DAKOTA STORY.

TOLD BY FRANK LA FLÈCHE.

- Pahan'gadi Caa' wi' t'é amí xí', ičádi aká iha' éča'ba čahéača ɿ Formerly Dakota one died they when, his the his she too on the lodge father (sub.) mother hill
- gičáxa-biamá. Kí ɿ t'é ma'te sadé'gče gičáxa-bi ega', gahá ihé'gičá-made for their own, And lodge the within scaffold made for him, as (=hav- ing), on it they had they say. (st. ob.)
- 3 biamá. Kí cénuijin'ga wi' ičča-bi ega', ičádi čínké agčé'čín-biamá.
 they say. And young man one dwell in a as (=hav- ing), his the had his own, they say.
 lodge, they (st. ob.)
- Kí é'giče i'čé'ige na'ba č'di ahi-biamá, kí nini i' jú'gče gčín'-biamá
 And at length old man two there arrived there, and tobacco to with him sat, they say they say, use (=smoke)
- wi' čínké. Ca' dčéte ičáča. É'giče čé cénuijin'ga ičádi aká gá-biamá:
 one the (st. ob.). Yet they talked first At length this young man his the said as follows, they say about one thing then about another.
- 6 "Kagéha, čikáge mčé'ga", wai'é ke'di macté wai' máa'ŋčá'ga a'ngáče tai O friend, your friend likewise, the at the warm robe we cut it apart for ourselves we go shall corpse (!) (recl. ob.)
- há, ɿha t'é, á-biamá. Kí cénuijin'ga aká ué'í'agá-bi ega', "An'kaji há.
 tent the said he, they And young man the was unwilling, as, Not so skin (ob.), say. (sub.) they say
- Éga' gáxa-bajii-gá há. Cénuijin'ga ča'éga'-qti t'é há, e-na' etčétéwa', So do not ye ! Young man [in a] very displea- died alone even if,
 ble [manner]
- 9 uí'a gičá'čai éga', ɿ gičáxe ihé'gičái há. Ča'ńkéčai-gá há," á-biamá.
 to mel- desired for as, lodge making for they laid their . Let the recl. ob. ! said he, they low or decay in (the tent) their own their own own. alone say.
- Kí ca' ičádi aká, "T'é čti čicta' ke xí', č'di ígiúda' dčétea' tída".
 And yet his the Dead too he lies finished if, there for his good perhaps will !
 father (sub.), (sub.) (sign of surprise or doubt).
- Wai' wačín'gai éga', ɿha t'é hčébe máa'ŋčá'ga a'ngá'čai há," á-biamá.
 Robe we none as, tent the part we cut off for ourselves we wish said, they skin say.
- 12 Kí cénuijin'ga aka, "Wáhu'á ! ué'ihčéqti eka'ónai áha". Hín'daké ! čé ete-
 And young man the Really ! to have your wish fully gratified you wish ! Let us see ! go ye at

- cte-aⁿ'i-gā há," é wéhusá-biamá. Kí iⁿc'áge aká wañ'giçe fa-baj'qti any rate ! that he scolded them. And old man the all not speaking (sub.) at all
- najiⁿ'-bi eguⁿ', ačá-biamá wat'é ké'a. Kí cénuijín'ga aká iⁿc'áge-ma stood up, as (=hav- ing), went, they say corpse to the (recl. ob.). And young man the old men
they say
- ičai xī, wa'u činké ugiká-bi egaⁿ' gá-biamá: "Čánaⁿhá, wasésaⁿ čaⁿ 3 they when, woman the st. spoke to her, as (=hav- ing) said as follows, O wife white clay the had gone they say: piece
- i'čeiⁿ'čizá-gā há. Čé-ma wiⁿ' t'éčéčé-qti-maⁿ' táce," á-biamá. Kí wa'u aká take mine for me ! Those in one I kill him indeed (or must, sc.3, they say. And woman the slight fully) (sub.)
- uči'agá-bi egaⁿ', "Caⁿméwačá-á hé'. Waiⁿ' čingai hé. Waiⁿ' máxiqaⁿ tai was unwilling, they say as, Let them alone ! Robe they have n me (fem.). Robe let them cut off for themselves
- hé," á-biamá čaⁿ'ja caⁿ' nú aká čactaⁿ'-baj-bi egaⁿ', wa'u činké wégičze 6 (fem.), said she, they thought set man the not stopping speak- ing, they say q, woman the st. was taking one it for them (sic),
- amá há wasésaⁿ čaⁿ. Gañ'xī nú aká čizá-bi egaⁿ', isanxičá-biamá há they say white clay piece. And then man the took it, as (=hav- ing), he whitened himself with it, they say
- wasésaⁿ čaⁿ, caⁿ' bečga, indé, na'ekí čaⁿ etewaⁿ'. Čictaⁿ'-bi xī iⁿc'áge-ma white clay the in fact all this face, head the even. He finished, when the old men piece, body), they say
- ačai tē sakiba ihe ačá-bi egaⁿ', čta'čei čdi ahí-biamá há, wat'é ké'di. 9
they the passing along- went, they say as (=hav- ing), he first there arrived, they corpse at the went side of (recl. ob.). they say
- Sadčgče tē ána-bi egaⁿ' gahú jaⁿ'-biamá, dá čaⁿ ímaⁿ'čúhe tē čaⁿ'be Scaffold the he climbed as (=hav- ing) on it he lay, they say, head the part "breast of the the (st. ob.) they say: (where the skins are joined, above the entrance)
- ičaⁿ'čé. Kí égiçe iⁿc'áge amá álamamá ulčaⁿ'be tē šapičeiⁿ'qtei ukkie.
he placed the part. And at length old men the (pl. sub.) were coming, up-hill the very slowly talking together.
- Cénuijín'ga aká waná'aⁿ jaⁿ'-biamá. Kí égiçe xī tē'di ahí-bi xī, iⁿc'áge 12
Young man the to listen to he lay, they say. And at lodge at the arrived, when, old men (sub.) them they say
- amá gčiⁿ'-biamá wañ'giçe. Kí pahan'ga aká gá-biamá: "Kagča, čikáge the they sat, they say all And first one the said as follows, O friend, your
(pl. sub.) they say: friend
- mégaⁿ, niní ují-gā há. Čénaⁿ háci čikáge niní iⁿ juan'gigče tabáce," likewise, tobacco fill yo ! This time after your friend tobacco to use we with him, must (pl.), [This last time] our own
- á-biamá. Kí wiⁿ', "Aⁿ'haⁿ, čikáge wiñ'keqtiaⁿ' há. Égaⁿ údaⁿ há," á-bi 15 said, they say. And one, Yes, your friend does indeed speak truly. So good said, they
say
- egaⁿ', niní ují-biamá. Ují čictaⁿ'-bi egaⁿ', čaná-biamá. Zí ama xīⁿ niníba as tobacco filled, they say. Filled they say as (=hav- ing), drew a whiff, they said, they (=hav- ing), say, low they pipe
- ké ímaⁿ'čúhe tēmáčicaⁿ čisaⁿ'ča. Maⁿ'ci učixidá-bi egaⁿ' "Hau ! kagča, the "breast of the towards the he turned. Up in the he gazed, they as (=hav- ing), Ho, friend
(st. ob.) tent" (where the skins are joined, above the entrance)

niní gake'. Ga^{n'} ʒénaⁿ háci niní iⁿ jua^{n'} ʒigíʒəi. Kí akíʒaha a^{n'} ʒi^{n'} taf to- that (lg. And this time after tobacco to we are with you, And apart we be shall barco ob.). [This last time] use our own.

há, niní gake', á-bi ega^{n'}, ejaʒicaⁿ uʒixidá-biamá xí ʒá ʒa^{n'} ga^{n'} ʒa^{n'} tobacco that said, as (=hav- in that direc- he gazed, they say when head the in the the (lg. ob.) they say ing), tion tion he gazed, they say when head the in the the part manner part described

3 ʒə-biama. Kí, "Wá! kagəha, ʒikáge mégaⁿ, ʒə-ʒaⁿ da^{n'} bai-gá há," found it, they And, Oh! O friend, your friend likewise, this place look ye
say.

á-biamá. Kí na^{n'} bá aká da^{n'} ba-bi xí, "Wuhú! kagəha, ée aká há," á-bi said, they say. And two the looked, they when, Really! O friend, it is about whom we said, they (sub.) say say say say say say ega^{n'}, a^{n'} he agəá-biamá wa^{n'} ʒiʒe. Kí cénujinⁿ ga aká xihá u^{n'} si-bi ega^{n'}, as feeling went back, they all. And young man the down- leaped, they as (=hav- ing), say say say say say say

6 wənaⁿ xiʒá-biamá. Kí na^{n'} bá-ma waqəí qiaʒa-bi ʒa^{n'} ja, cəwaʒa-bai-bi attacked them, they say. And the two being scared fell to the ground, they said no attention to
they say

ega^{n'}, iʒádi ʒi^{n'} ákihaⁿ gəʒiqa-biamá. Kí i^{n'} ʒəge amá úqəí-bi xí, waqəí as his the beyond he pursued him, his And old man the was over when, being (=hav- ing), father (inv. ob.) own, they say. (inv. sub.) taken, they say qiaʒa-biamá. Kí ijinⁿ ge aká ágigəjádəqti gəi^{n'}-bi ega^{n'}, "Na^{n'} xide ʒiʒinⁿ ge he fell to the ground, And his son the sitting astride his seat, they as Hearing you have they say. (sub.) own own say say say say

9 ʒənahinⁿ i aha^{n'}. Niní iⁿ wí^{n'} ji-gá há," á-biamá. Kí i^{n'} ʒəge aká, "Há!
you truly ! Tobacco fill for me ! said, they say. And old man the Ho!
(sub.)

ʒupá! há! ʒupá!" á-bi ega^{n'}, ʒizúe ja^{n'} niní uʒi ja^{n'}-biamá. Kí cénujinⁿ ga O grand- Ho! O grand- said, as stretched ly. to filling he lay, they And young man child! child! they say (=hav- out lug haeco for him say.

ʒinké niní kə i^{n'} ʒicta^{n'} amá xí, gá-biamá i^{n'} ʒəge aká: "Há! ʒupá! há!
the (st. tobacco the used was finishing, when, said as fol- old man the Ho! O grand- Ho!
oue) (lg. ob.) they say lows, they say (sub.): child! child!

12 ʒupá! ʒupá, ʒá'eán'giʒ-ádaⁿ a^{n'} ʒictanⁿ-gá. ʒénaⁿ háci niní iⁿ jua^{n'} ʒigíʒe O grand- O grand- pity me and let me go. This time after to- to we be with child! child! [This last time] bacco use you, our own

tá-bi, a^{n'} ʒa^{n'} ʒai égaⁿ caŋgáhi há. ʒupá, ʒá'eán'giʒá-gá," á-biamá. "Égaⁿ about, we thought as we went there O grand- pity me, your own said, they say. So that, child,

na^{n'}jinⁿ ada^{n'} a^{n'} ʒistúba-gá há," á-biamá cénujinⁿ ga aká. Ga^{n'} xí i^{n'} ʒəge stand up and extend your hand ! said, they say young man the And then old man toward me in entreaty (sub.).

15 aká na^{n'}jinⁿ-bi ega^{n'}, ʒistúba-biamá. "Há! ʒupá! h'í! ʒupá!" é ca^{n'} ca^{n'} the stood up, they say (=hav- extended his hands Ho! O grand- 210! O grand- say- con-(sub.) say say say toward him, they child! child! ing stantly naji^{n'}-biamá. Cénujinⁿ ga aká ʒa t'gaⁿ-qti-bi etəwaⁿ, a^{n'} ka^{n'}ba^{n'}ji-na^{n'}-biamá.

he stood, they say. Young man the to just about to, even though, was not so regularly, they say.
(sub.) laugh they say

"Ke! maŋgəinⁿ-gá há. Égiʒe ʒa^{n'}ba^{n'} a^{n'}ja^{n'} minké di a^{n'}wa^{n'}ənica^{n'} ca^{n'} taf Come! begone ! Beware a second I He by me who lie you go around us often lest
time

há. Hí-bajíi-gá há," á-bi ega", gēckíā-biamá há cénuijín'ga aká. Gan'xi do not yet arrive | said as made him go homeward, young man the And then there say they say (-hav- ing), they say (sub.).

cénuijín'ga amá qáča ačá-biamá. Kí égríče i'e'áge na"bá aká ceta"-na" qúčai young man the back to went, they say. And at old man two the still they fell (mv. the start- ing place (sub.) down (=scaffold)

čan'di akíča ja" akáma. Kí xan'ge fú amá xi' akíča baquí áíča-biamá, 3 at the both were lying, they And near at was young, when both with they had gone someplace say. say. (time) they say robes over where, they say, say, their heads say, waqé-bi ega", ca" ca"čan'kéwačé ačá-biamá. Ačé-bi xi' ei éta"či they were as, yet he let them alone he went homeward, He went when again he first towards, they say, they say, they say, homeward, they say akí-biamá xi' té'di cénuijín'ga amá Gan'xi xigéřja-bi ega" čizúe ja"- reached home, lodge at the young man the (mv. And then washed himself, as stretched out lay, they say (std. ob.) sub.) they say (=hav- ing) out biamá. Kí igáqča" čínké ugíkiá-bi ega", "Égríče gēfi xi' íčaqá te há. 6 they say. And his wife the at. one his own, they say as Beware they when you lost (=hav- ing), returned laugh

Íqaji ga"ča wačkan'-gá há. A"či" waqé gaskí t'éawáča"či há," á-biamá.
 Not to desire make an effort | Nearly being panting I killed them (ac-laugh said, they say. cidentally)
 [I made them die from exhaustion.]

Kí i'e'áge-ma gēfi-bi xi' ja" gáxe ja"-biamá akíča. Kí i'e'áge aká And the old men returned when to/ feigning they lay, they both (i. e., And old men the home, they say sleep the man and wife). (coll. sub.).

wan'gíče ja"-bajíi-qtí níní i" júkigéče gēfi"-biamá, íabajíi-qtí etí. Ca"qtí 9 all not sleeping at all to- us- with one they sat, they say, not speaking too. Still, indeed

ja"-bajíi, a"ba amá, wan'gíče. Kí ha"ega"teo xi' cénuijín'ga aká not sleeping, it was day, they all. And morning when young man the
 say, (sub.)

đáha"-bi xi' i'e'áge aká wan'gíče gí"ča-bajíi-qtí gēfi"-akáma. Kí cénuijín'ga arose from when old men the all very sorrowful were sitting, they And young man sleep, they say (coll. sub.)

aká gá-biama: "Čikáge méga" wai" máčaqá" čagēfi gē wi" a"č-gá há. Wí 12
 the said as follows, Your likewise robe you cut off you have the one give to me | I (sub.) they say: friends (n. ob. jects)

etí wai" a"čín'gē-qtí-ma" há," á-biamá. Kí íčádi aká, "Tēnā'! é'di aŋgáhi too robe I have none at all said he, they And his the Why! there we arrived say, say, father (sub.) there ča"ja a"čí'a aŋgáhi há, weána"xíčai éga". A"či"-na" t'éawača-bačíi há," though we failed we have we were attacked as. Nearly we were killed (accome back cidentally)

á-biamá. "Tēnā'! éga" taté ubéi'age ga", Čá-bajíi-gá há, ehé xi' ca" 15 said he, Why! so shall I was unwill- as, Go ye not | I when yet they say, ing said

a"čaná"-báji onái há. I"ta" éde faxágai té há," á-biamá cénuijín'ga you did not hear me you went Now but you weep the said, they say young man act (?)

622 THE ʕEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

aká. ʕi ha^{u'} ʔi cénujin' ga aká, "ʕi aʕútha ígaska" ʕé ma^{ʕi'} i-gá há. Wí the (sub.) Again night when young man the Again in addi- tion to to try it walk ye I eti hébe i^{u'} ʕi^{u'} gí-gá há, ʕikáge iníge^{u'}, wai^{u'} a^{u'} ʕin' gí-qti-ma^{u'} áʕa," too piece having it for me he ye comp- ing back I your friend his wife, robe I have none at all in- deed.
3 á-biamú. Kí i^{u'} ʕe'áge aká wan' gíʕe wámanká e^{u'} ʕwa^{u'} - buji-biamá, u^{u'} ʕa^{u'} - bi said, they say. And old men the all became altogether out of pa- tience with him, they say, unwilling, they say e^{u'} ʕa^{u'}. Sasú
as. François (Frank).

NOTES.

619, 10. ʔima^{u'} ʕube tó ʕa^{u'} be íʕa^{u'} ʕé, he pulled out some of the skewers, and thrust his head out between the skins.

620, 1. nini gake', tobacco is named, but gáké shows that the pipe (niníba) is meant. While this was said the pipe was held out to the corpse.

620, 6. wa^{u'} ʕi ʕia^{u'} - bi, the two old men fainted.

TRANSLATION.

Long ago a Dakota died and his parents made a lodge for him on the bluff. In the lodge they erected a scaffold on which they laid the body. Now, there was in that vil- lage a young married man, whose father dwelt with him. And two old men visited the father, and smoked with him, talking about various things. At length the father of the young man said, "My friends, let us go to the corpse and cut off summer robes for ourselves from the tent skins." But the young man opposed this, saying, "No! Do not do so! The death of the young man was a very pitiable occurrence, and, as they had nothing else to give up for him, they erected the tent there and placed him in it that he might decay in it. Let him rest undisturbed!" In spite of his son's words the father remarked, "As he is already dead, what possible benefit can he get from the tent? We have no robes, so we wish to cut off parts of the tent skins for ourselves." Then the young man said, "Really! You have determined to have your own way! Well then! Go as you have said and we shall see what will happen!" He spoke thus by way of reproof. And the old men arose without saying a word, and went to the place where the corpse lay. When they had gone the young man said to his wife, "O wife, get my piece of white clay. I must scare one of those old men nearly to death." But the woman was unwilling, saying, "Let them alone! They have no robes. Let them cut off robes for themselves." But as the husband would not stop talking about it, the wife got the piece of white clay for him. The husband took it, and with it he whitened his whole body and even his head and face. When he had finished he went in a course parallel to that taken by the old men, and reached the corpse before they arrived. He climbed the scaffold and lay on it, thrusting his head out through the tent skins just above the door-way. At length the old men were ap- proaching, ascending the hill and talking together in a low tone. The young man lay listening to them. At length when they had reached the lodge, the old men sat down. And the leader said, "Friends, fill your pipe. We must smoke this last time with our friend up there." And one of them said, "Yes, your friend has spoken well. That should be done." So he filled the pipe. He drew a whiff, and when the fire glowed he turned the pipe stem towards the seam of the skins above the door-way. He looked up towards the sky, saying, "Ho, friend, here is the pipe! We must smoke with you this last time. And then we will separate. Here is the pipe." As he said this he gazed above the door-way and saw the head extending from the tent in the manner that has been described. "Oh! my friends," said he, "look at this place behind you!" And when the two looked they said, "Really! friend, it is he!" And all fled. Then the young man leaped down and attacked them. Two of them fell to the ground in terror, but he did not disturb them, going on in pursuit of his father. When the old man was overtaken he fell to the ground, as he was terrified. The young man sat astride upon him, and said, "You have been very disobedient! Fill the pipe for me!" And the old man said, "Oh! my grandchild! Oh! my grandchild!" hoping that the supposed ghost would pity him. Then he filled the pipe as he lay stretched out and gave it to his son. And when the young man stopped smoking the father said, "Oh! my grandchild! Oh! my grandchild! Grandchild, pity me and let me go. We thought that we must smoke with you this last time, so we went to the place where you were. Grandchild, pity me." "If that be so, arise and extend your hands to me in entreaty," said the young man. So the old man arose and did so, saying continually, "Oh! my grandchild! Oh! my grandchild!"

It was as much as the young man could do to keep from laughing. At length he said, "Well! begone! Beware lest you come again and go around my resting-place very often! Do not visit it again." Then he let the old man go. On returning to the burial lodge he found that the two old men were still lying where they had fallen. When he approached them they slipped off with their heads covered, as they were terrified, and he let them go undisturbed. When they had departed the young man hastened home. He was the first to reach there, and after washing himself he reclined at full length. He said to his wife, "When they return, be sure not to laugh. Make an effort to restrain yourself. I came very near making them die from exhaustion." And when the old men returned the husband and wife lay as if they were asleep. But the old men did not lie down; all sat in silence, smoking together till daylight. When the young man arose in the morning the old men appeared very sorrowful. Then said he, "Give me one of the robes that you and your friends cut off and brought back. I too have no robe at all." But his father said, "Why! We went there but we did not get anything, as we were attacked. We came very near being killed." To this the son replied, "Why! I was unwilling for this to happen, so I said, 'Do not go, but you paid no attention to me and went. But now you think differently and you weep.'" And when it was night the young man said, "Go again and make an attempt. Bring back a piece for me, as I have no robe at all." The old men were unwilling to go again, and they lost their patience, as he teased them so often.

YANKTON STORY.

TOLD BY GEORGE MILLER.

Gaⁿ Ihan'ktaⁿwiⁿ taⁿwaⁿgⁿgaⁿ mciⁿte, cénujin'ga wiⁿ miⁿ íápe-naⁿi
 And Yankton village those per- haps (?) young man one human waited for regularly

tē. Níkagáhi ijan'ge naⁿba ukikiji tē, wáçixa-báji tē, nújिंगá cti wiⁿ tē, Chief his daughter two near kin- the they did not take the boy too one the (com- dret (past husbands (past the pleted- sign), sign), act), act),
 act).

3 jingá. Kí naciⁿga éé miⁿ íápa-bi ehé aká, é wa'ú çanká úwakie gaⁿçai small. And man this that he waited for I said the he woman the (pl. to talk to a woman (sub.), ob.) them desired tē, é wépaí tē. Haⁿ xi, íí tē'di ahíi tē, íí-saⁿçé. Íí náza tē'di jaⁿi the he waited for the Night when, tent at the arrived the tent whitened. Tent rear at the lay (past the (past (past the (past act), act), act), act),

 the (past
 act),

tē. Gaⁿ íe wána'aⁿ jaⁿi tē. Égiçé cémíjin'ga aká akíçen ukíkíe
 And speak- ing listening to lay the At length young woman the both talked (past the (past
 act), act), together

6 átiágça-biamá. Gé átiágça-biamá: "Wihé, é'be níkaciⁿga wiⁿ Kageⁿ began suddenly, they To say began suddenly, they Younger who person one Younger say: say: sister, brother (fem.)

ú'aⁿ t'aⁿ-wéakiçai xi, an'gráçixe taté," ú-biamá. "Wuhu+!" çéçé" jaⁿi tē. causes him (for us, his sis- If, we take him for a husband shall, said, they say. Oh? thinking he lay the ters) to enrage the enemy, etc. (past
 act),

Gaⁿ wéçigçaⁿ gáxe jaⁿi tē. Agçé-bi egaⁿ, éwaçé-mádi akí-bi egaⁿ, hiⁿbé
 And plan making he lay the Having gone back, to his kindred having returned, they say, moccas-(past the (past
 act), act), sin

9 baté wacií tē. Gaⁿ giáçai tē. Éze íçaⁿbaⁿ xi, nújिंगa uné açai tē, to saw employed the So they did it the Evening a second when, boy to seek went the them (past act), for him (past act), time there they say, him (past
 act),

indé çáⁿ íçidahaⁿçiwáçé tē'di. Gaⁿ nújिंगa çin' é'dedí çin' amá, íí-gaxe.
 face the can not be recognized by when. And boy the was mv. there they say, playing.
 (part) one another (mv. ob.) they say,

Gaⁿxi íçai tē. Gaⁿxi, "Çi-gá haú, Kage-i," ú-bi egaⁿ gaⁿ açai tē.
 And then found the And then, Come! Younger having said, so having he the him (past act), they say (inasc.) him went (past
 act),

12 Gaⁿ haⁿ tē íçáugçéçti gaⁿ gíiⁿ açai tē, jan'de áçipiçti. Gaⁿ nudaⁿ
 And night the throughout so carrying went the ground across-by the And to war him on the (past his back act), nearest way.

gríⁿ aⁿai tē. Jēnūga wíⁿ t'éⁿa-bí egaⁿ, janūga umaⁿe nín'de gáxai tē.
 carry- went the Buffalo bull one having killed, they say, fresh meat provisions cooked made the ing him (past act), on his back.

Gaⁿ umaⁿe tē 'íⁿ-bí egaⁿ, nūjīngá eti ágaládi gríⁿ tē. Watēka édegaⁿ
 And provisions the having carried on boy too in addition to it carried the Creek but (past act), (encl. ob.) him on his back, they say.

ahí-bí egaⁿ, nūjīngá utējēadi gríⁿkiáⁿ-bí egaⁿ, umaⁿe hébe 'íⁿ tē, já. 3 having reached it, boy in the bushes having seated him, they say, provisions part gave the dried (past act), they say, to him (past meat).

"Égiⁿé né te. Gaⁿcaⁿ gríⁿ-gá. Égiⁿé uéⁿgasíⁿ tē, gaeibana!
 Beware you lest. Always sit. Beware you peep lest, outside (the underground)

Agéí tó mínke há." Gaⁿ aⁿai tē, wadaⁿbe. Níaciⁿga etē wéⁿa-háji akí
 I will return hither And went the as a scout. Person at all found them not he reached there again tē'di, ukíⁿ-bí egaⁿ, nū naⁿqti ukíⁿ gáxai tē, "Núdaⁿhangá, níaciⁿga etē 6 when, having spoken to him, man fully speaking made the

 they say, they him grown to him (past act).

éingal. Edádaⁿ etēwaⁿ éingal." Uí gríⁿ egaⁿ ei aⁿai tē. Aí is wanting. Whatsoever is wanting. Again having carried again went the him on his back (past act).

gaⁿ amá égaⁿ gríⁿkiáⁿ tē, utējēadi dāzēqteí hí yí. Uí wadaⁿbe aⁿai having gone thus for some time he seated him the amid the late in the he when. Again as a scout went (past act), (past act), undergrowth evening reached there.

tē. Égiⁿé wakíⁿa-biamá. Égiⁿé níaciⁿga wíⁿ aⁿpaⁿ wíⁿ t'éⁿé akáma. 9
 the At length he shot at something, they say. At length person one elk one was killing it, they say.

Kí nūjīngá éínké agíngé gaⁿéⁿ-bí yí'etē, gíteqí tē caⁿ gaⁿ uéⁿdaⁿbe gríⁿi
 And boy t'ye (st. to fetch him wished, they even difficult the yet still considering he sat ob.) say when, for him (=as)

tē. Gaⁿ níaciⁿga taⁿ gáidai tē. Gaⁿ wéⁿé etēwaⁿji t'éⁿai tē níaciⁿga the And person the he crept up the And not having seen him he killed the person (past act), (st. ob.) him (past act), at all him (past act).

ké'. Gaⁿyí nūjīngá éínké agíngéai tē. "Núdaⁿhangá, níaciⁿga wíⁿ t'éⁿé 12
 the And then boy the (st. ob.) he fetched the O war captain, person one I have killed (past act), (past act), (past act).

há. Wanaⁿqín-gá há," aí tē. Gaⁿ gríⁿ egaⁿ é'di aⁿai tē, naⁿei. É'di Hasten ! said the And having carried there went the running. There (past act), him on his back (past act).

ahí-bí egaⁿ, nūjīngá éínké níaciⁿga ké' gahá átaníkiáⁿ tē. Gaⁿyí agáai having reached, boy the (st. ob.) person the on it caused him to tread the And then started home they say, (past act), body (past act).

tē. Níaciⁿga najíⁿha éaⁿ eti hébe éizá-bí egaⁿ, gaⁿ nūjīngá éínké gríⁿ 15 the Person half the too part having taken, they so boy the one carry-(past act), (part) say, ing him on his back

- agəai tē. Gaⁿ wa'ú pañká wasiŋcəqti gəc tē gaⁿ, "Mí'agəaⁿ tá minke," started the And woman the (pl. thinking in- started the as, I take for a will I who,
home (past ob.) tently of them back (past act) wife
- eŋəgaⁿ égaⁿ, gí'cəqti gəc tē. Kí pahan'ga majaⁿ aŋi ɸan'di akíi tē, having thought, very glad started the And before land he was at the he ar- the (past act) home (past act) approach- (land) rived (past again act),
- 3 ɸi-úŋcəŋe ɸan'di. Égiŋe ɸi wiⁿ ɛ'dedí te amá. ɸíi bə'ŋgaqti wahaⁿ-bi deserted village at the At length tent one was std. there, they say. Tents all removed, they site (land). say
- ɸi', ɸi wi'áqteí ɛ'dedí te amá. É'di ahi-bi ɸi, égiŋe ɸiŋcə tē' cəwəⁿ when, tent just one was std. there, they say. There arrived, when, behold door-way the en
they say
- maⁿɸin'ka áji-bi egaⁿ, iⁿteaⁿqteí wahaⁿ aŋá-bi ké amá, ɸi amá ucté amá.
earth having been put on just now migrating they had gone off in a ig. line, they say, tents (sub.), the others (sub.).
- 6 Cí ujan'ga kə uhá aŋai tē, ugáŋaⁿ jan'ge wíuhe aŋai tē. Égiŋe níaciⁿga
Again road the follow. went the road of the migrating following went the At length person
(fig. ob.) ing it (past act), party closely after them (past act),
- naⁿba ɸahádi gəiⁿ akáma. É'di ahi-bi ɸi, égiŋe ɸé núnjiga ɸínké iŋádi two on a hill were sitting, they There arrived, when, behold this boy the one his
say. they say
- aká ihaⁿ aká cənaⁿba akáma. Ái-bi egaⁿ, núnjiga ɸagikigəi-bi egaⁿ, the his the those two were at, Having come, they boy having kissed their own, they (sub.) mother (sub.) they say. say,
- 9 níaciⁿga ɸínké ɸagikigəi-biamá, iŋádi aká cti, ihaⁿ aká cti. "Údaⁿ hégaŋi man the one they kissed him, they his the too, his the too. Good very who say, father (sub.) mother (sub.)
- ekáxe édegaⁿ ɸaŋigəiŋáji, á-biamá. Níaciⁿga aká núnjiga ɸínké aŋai aŋai you did but you injured yourself, said, they say. Man the boy the one who took away
(sub.)
- tē ɛbé cəwəⁿ uŋá-báji tē. Kí ian'ge amá núnjiga ɸínké ɸínge tē'di when who soever he did not tell the And his sister the (pl. boy the one was miss- when it to (past act), sub.) who ing
- 12 ɸgiŋa-báji tē'di, t'ɛŋiŋa-biamá. Núnjiga iŋádi aká gá-biamá: "Ániⁿ né they did not when. they killed themselves, Boy his the said as follows, You took him find him, their own they say. father (sub.) they say: away
- tē'di uná eté ɸi údaⁿqti ekáxe ɸaⁿja, ian'ge aká enáqteí nú ukíji égaⁿ when you ought very good you do though, his sister the him only man near tell it (sub.) relation (brother)
- t'ɛŋiŋaŋi, caⁿ uŋpáŋe tē gaⁿ t'ɛ daⁿetē eŋəgaⁿ égaⁿ gaⁿ t'ɛŋiŋaŋi ian'ge prized him, so lost the and dead perhaps they thought as so killed them- his sister their own, as
- 15 akíŋa. Gaⁿ ɸi ɸé níaciⁿga aká gaⁿ iŋádi ɸínké uŋai tē ɸé ɸe kə both. And then this man the at any his the (st. told the the this spoken the (sub.) rate father ob.) to him (past act)
- bə'ŋga, e'aⁿ níaciⁿga t'ɛŋi tē. "Ké, aŋgáŋe taí. Caⁿ há. Wanáte te all, how man he killed the Come, let us go. Enough. You eat shall (past act)
- há," aí tē. "Maⁿɸiⁿ-gá. Cúŋé tá minke," aí tē níaciⁿga aká. Gaⁿ said the Walk yo. I will go to you, said the man the So he (past act) (past act) (sub.)

g'fín'í tē. Íkisaⁿ fín' fín' qí, qáfa ag'fál tē. Wa'ú f'c' t'éxiq'c' f'ankáa akfi he sat the Out of sight they when, back he start- the Woman this kill-d to the ones he (past (past went they when, again ed back (past act), themselves reached again act).
 tē. Lij'be maⁿ fín'ka maⁿ-básē ájii tē u'fíqpa'fá-bi egaⁿ, í maⁿte ahfi the Door-way earth cubes of sod piled up the having made fall from a height tent within ar-(past (past act). (col. ob.) by pulling, they say, rived
 tē. É'giq'c' wa'ú akífa jaⁿ xi'aⁿhe ihéwa'fá-bi f'ankáma. É'di ahí-bi egaⁿ, 3 the Behold woman both reclining together (?) they had been laid, they say. There having arrived, (past act). they say, u'fízaⁿ tē utaⁿ na úbasne jaⁿ akáma. Gañ'xi t'éxiq'c' akáma.
 middle the space making a he was lying, they And then he was killing himself, (past act). split by say, they say, pushing (?)

TRANSLATION.

There was once a Yankton village in which was a young man who was waiting for a chance to marry. The chief had two daughters, full sisters, who were unmarried, and one son who was the youngest child. And this man who, as I have said, was waiting for a chance to marry, wished to court the sisters, and he was waiting on their account.

One night he went to their tent, which was a whitened one, and he lay down outside at the rear of the tent in order to listen to what the sisters might say. At length the sisters began a conversation. One said, "Younger sister, we shall marry the person who takes our little brother and enables him to insult our enemies." "Oho!" thought the listener. As he lay there he matured a plan. Returning home he asked his female kindred to sew moccasins. And they did it for him. The next evening, when it was too dark for persons to distinguish one another's faces, he started to seek the boy. The boy was playing, and the young man found him. When he said, "Come, younger brother," the boy went with him. The young man carried him on his back all night long, going across the prairie in a straight line. When he carried him thus he was going on the war path. He killed a buffalo bull, cut up the carcass, and cooked the fresh meat that it might serve as rations for the journey. He carried the provisions on his back, and besides them he carried the boy. When he reached a stream he seated the boy among the undergrowth and gave him some dried meat to eat. Then said he, "Do not depart! Remain here! Beware lest you peep outside of the undergrowth! I will return." Then he went as a scout. Not discovering any one at all, he returned to the boy, and spoke to him as if he were a full-grown man, "O war captain, there is no one at all. I did not find anything whatever." Then he took him on his back again, resuming his march. Late in the evening he seated the boy amidst the undergrowth and went off as a scout. At length there was some one shooting. It was a man who killed an elk. The young man wished to fetch the boy, but it was difficult, so he sat considering what to do. He crept up carefully towards the man and killed him before his presence could be detected.

Then he fetched the boy. "O war captain, I have killed a man. Listen!" He carried the boy on his back, running to the place. On arriving there he caused the boy to tread on the dead man. Then the two started home, taking part of the scalp of the slain man. As the man started back, he thought intently of the women, "I will take a wife," and he was very glad. On returning to the place where he had first met the boy and had overheard the sisters, behold, nothing remained but a single tent and the deserted village site. All the inhabitants had removed, leaving only the one tent standing. On reaching it he noticed that small pieces of sod had been piled up against the door-way, and that but a short time had elapsed since the departure of the other inhabitants. He followed close behind the villagers, and at length saw two persons sitting on a hill. Nearing them, he saw that they were the parents of the boy whom he was carrying.

They came towards him and kissed their son and also the young man. "You have done very well, but you have injured yourself," said they. When the young man carried off the boy he did not tell any one at all what he intended doing. And when the sisters did not find the boy, their brother, they killed themselves. The boy's father said to the young man, "You should have told about it when you carried him off. You have done well, but since his sisters had only him as their real brother they loved him, and, thinking that he was either lost or dead, they killed themselves." Then the young man related every occurrence to the boy's father, telling how he had killed the man.

The father said, "Come! Let us go. It is enough. You must eat." The young man said, "Depart ye! I will join you later." So he sat there and they departed. When they had gone out of sight he retraced his steps till he reached the place where the sisters had killed themselves. He pulled down the cubes of sod that had been piled up against the entrance, and then went into the tent. There were the two women, side by side, just as they had been laid there. He went to them, forced his way in between them, and lay down. Then he killed himself.

ADDRESS TO THE YOUNG MEN.

- Niaciⁿga-máce, waçáxigéftaⁿi núde taxux' uçéji-qi xi-naⁿ, edádaⁿ wiⁿ
 O ye people, you work for your- throat you are very when reg- what one selves full of ularly.
 [you pant very hard after working]
- çaxíckaxe taí há. Wackaⁿi-gá Ē'be uçínajiⁿ-bají-gá. Níkaciⁿga ukéçíⁿ you make for will Try (pl.). Who do not depend (yo) on him. Indian yourself pl.
- 3 ań'gaçiⁿ bçúgaqi Wakan'da aké-gaⁿ wáxai té há, majaⁿ çan'di, çan'ja
 we who move all Wakanda the sub. so made us the land on the, though (past act).
- edádaⁿ weágiúdaⁿ aⁿmaⁿçíⁿ wegáxai gē bçúgaqi çíngé há. Majaⁿ çéçanⁿ what for our advantage we walk maⁿ for us the all wanting Land this (pl. ob.) (place)
- bçúgaqi wáqe-ma ugípi égaⁿ waníta weágiúdaⁿ Wakan'da çínké wegáxai
 all the white peo- full as quadruped good for us Wakanda the st. made for us ple one
- 6 çan'ja, bçúgaqi múçíngaf. Pahan'ga té'di waníta çíⁿ em çíngé'qi gaⁿ though, all exterminated by shooting Before when quadruped the his without any so (class) at all t'en'fē a'ma'fēni, a'fan'xigē'fē'qti a'ma'fēni, nū ēga'qti a'ma'fēni Kī we kill'd we walk'd, we deciding altogether for we walk'd, man just like we walk'd. And i'p'tea' tē'di ūka'n gē e-na' a'ngisicē'qti a'ma'fēni taitē ŋingē. Wāqe-ma now when deed the only those we remember well we walk shall wanting. The white peo(pl.) (pl.)

 ūka'n ejaī kē a'fa' baha'-bāji etētēwa', ea' ejaīca'n wia'ŋiqe taī. Ēdī 3 deed their the we do not know notwithstanding, yet towards them let us shape our course. In that case good for us we shall walk.

NOTE.

According to George Miller, an Omaha, the old men of his tribe often make such an address to the young men.

TRANSLATION.

O ye people, if you ever accomplish anything for yourselves it will be only when you work so hard for yourselves that you pant incessantly thereafter. Do your best! Do not depend on any one else. The Mysterious Power made us all Indians in this country, but all those things which he made for our constant good have disappeared. The entire country is full of white people, so the quadrupeds which had been made by the Mysterious Power for our advantage have been exterminated, they have been shot. In the former days we went about killing the quadrupeds who had no owners, we governed ourselves, going wherever we pleased, we went about just as men should do. But now it is impossible for us to think any longer about those deeds of the past. Although we are ignorant of the customs of the white people, let us shape our course in that direction. In that case we shall prosper.

LETTERS.

LENUGA NAJIN TO HIS FRIEND GRAY HAT.

ŋē'ŋu Waŋŋe qūde gēi xi, uākie. Iŋa'ŋai kē'ja pī, Wāji'dāŋi here hat gray had when, I talked to him. Grandfather at the place I was Washington
 ē ūwake, maja'n ē'ē'a' wiwīja Iŋa'ŋai ŋinkē wēbē'wi' pī. Nīkaci'ga 6 that I mean, land this (cv.) my He whom they have for a grand- the (st. ob.) I sell it I was there. People
 father
 kēdī amā hīdeajā amā Māhi'-ja'ŋa-ma ēkiga'qti waja'be. Kī ēgīe those who were there those lower down the Missouri R. the Americans just like I saw them. And at length

630 THE ʔEǾIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

maja^{n'} wéǾéi^{n'} wi^{n'} tē^{n'} di waǾpáni^{n'} ji aná. IǾga^{n'} Ǿai aká ujan^{n'} Ǿe úda^{n'} wi^{n'} a^{n'} i^{n'} land sold their when they were not poor. Grandfather the road good one gave

há. IǾǾǾǾ-máji, áda^{n'} waǾpáni. A^{n'} wa^{n'} Ǿpáni áda^{n'} ki Ǿskana Wakan^{n'} da^{n'}
I have not found there- poor. I am poor there- and oh that! God

3 Ǿinké ijin^{n'} Ǿe Ǿinké, a^{n'} ba eá kǾ'ja ǾǾa^{n'} be pi ka^{n'} ebǾǾga^{n'}. Éde the one his son the one day their to the in sight I reach I hope. But ugáhanaǾáze kǾdi^{n'} na^{n'} ca^{n'} ca^{n'} bǾi^{n'}. Éskana ǾǾceta^{n'}, Máhi^{n'}-jan^{n'} ga-máce, darkness in it usually always I am. Oh that! henceforth, O ye Americans, uga^{n'} ba kǾ'ja Ǿskana pi ka^{n'} ebǾǾga^{n'}. I^{n'} wi^{n'} ǾǾa^{n'} i^{n'} Ǿi, Ǿska^{n'} ebǾǾga^{n'}.

light to the oh that I hope. You help me If it may be I think that,

6 cin^{n'} gajin^{n'} ga wiwíja ni^{n'} aǾai ka^{n'} ebǾǾga^{n'}. Ukít^{n'} Ǿ Ǿéamá Caa^{n'} amá pi-child my alive go I hope. Nation or these Dakota the bad baji hǾgabáji Ǿi, ca^{n'}, Máhi^{n'}-jan^{n'} ga-máce, edáda^{n'} gǾ áhigíqti waǾǾi^{n'} a little when, still, O ye Americans, what a great many you give waǾpáni-baji. Wí na^{n'} xíde a^{n'} ská^{n'} qti, íe ǾǾǾai aná^{n'} minké. Nicúde they are not poor. I have a very good hearing, word your (pl.) I am hearing as I sit. Missouri R.

9 ǾǾ-kǾdi wáǾe áhigíqti, waǾpániqti at^{n'} tá minke. NǾaci^{n'} ga-ma úcka^{n'} this by the white a great many, very poor I die will I who. People the (pl. ob.) deed pǾǾi amá waǾǾákihídaí Ǿi, íe ǾǾǾai aná^{n'} minké. UgáhanaǾáze kǾdi^{n'} had the ones you attend to them If word your (pl.) I am hearing as I sit. Darkness in the ca^{n'} ca^{n'} bǾi^{n'}. ǾǾceta^{n'} Ǿskana a^{n'} cta^{n'} be eg Ǿtea^{n'} i^{n'} éde. Waga^{n'} ze wi^{n'} always I am. By this time oh that you see me so (?) should at but. Teacher one 12 Pañ^{n'} ka Ǿi Ǿan^{n'} di naji^{n'} há, ǾǾǾu naji^{n'}. WaǾpáni tǾa^{n'} a^{n'} Ǿa^{n'} baha^{n'} waga^{n'} ze Ponka vil. at the stands here standa. Poor there he knows about teacher ta^{n'}. EdáǾ^{n'} i^{n'} teqi gǾe waga^{n'} ze ta^{n'} na^{n'} a^{n'} taté. Úcka^{n'} i^{n'} teqi gǾe the. What hard for the teacher the he hears shall. Deed hard for the baxúakiǾǾ-na^{n'} ma^{n'} tá minke. Kí íe kǾ waga^{n'} ze ta^{n'} Ǿéna^{n'} a^{n'} Ǿi, I cause him to write I use will I who. And word the teacher the you hear when,

15 wiñ^{n'} ke Ǿska^{n'} enǾga^{n'} i, gebǾǾga^{n'}, Máhi^{n'}-jan^{n'} ga-máce. IǾǾǾia^{n'} wa^{n'} Ǿai^{n'} ma^{n'}
He speaks perhaps you think I think that, O ye Americans! Those whom we have had wáǾazu-báji. Úcka^{n'} gǾe iñ^{n'} uda^{n'} i gǾe iǾǾǾa^{n'} máji há. NǾaci^{n'} ga-ma not straight (pl.). Deed the good for the the I have not found The persons (pl. ob.).

wáǾazúqti^{n'} ma wi^{n'} ka^{n'} bǾa. WáǾazú^{n'} ma wi^{n'} tǾǾakiǾǾ Ǿi, iñ^{n'} wiñ^{n'} ka^{n'} i Ǿi, the very honest ones one I desire. The honest ones one you and him If, he helps me If,

18 iǾáni^{n'} ja tǾ há. Kí WaǾǾǾe quǾe Ǿí, íe taté aná^{n'} tǾ ǾǾceta^{n'} qti ǾǾǾǾe
I may live by means of him. And Hat gray you he shall I heard when from that really it hapwáǾazu jingáqtei. WáǾazu tǾ Ǿga^{n'} na^{n'} ka^{n'} bǾa. Úda^{n'} há, ebǾǾga^{n'}. straight very small. Straight the so only I desire. Good I think that.

GúǾíha ani^{n'} ja (Ǿ)te áha^{n'}, áda^{n'} wéǾíhíde sagígi- na^{n'} ka^{n'} bǾa. Ja^{n'} Ǿínan^{n'} ge In future I live may I there- tool hard ones of only I desire. Wagon

ka ⁿ 'bēa. I desire.	Ḷ'eskā Cattle	ka ⁿ 'bēa. I desire.	Ḷ'eskā Cattle	ja ⁿ wood	ḳ ⁿ '-ma those who carry on their backs	ka ⁿ 'bēa. I desire.	Wé'e Plow	ka ⁿ 'bēa. I desire.
Qádigáona Seythe	ka ⁿ 'bēa. I desire.	Ḷ'an'dina ⁿ 'epé Spade	ka ⁿ 'bēa. I desire.	Wémagíxe Saw	ka ⁿ 'bēa. I desire.
Ma ⁿ 'zē Iron	wfugáda ⁿ used for nailing	ka ⁿ 'bēa. I desire.	Ca ⁿ 'ge Horse	wáḩaha clothing	ka ⁿ 'bēa. I desire.	Wamúsk-ina ⁿ 'núbē "Wheat-grinder" (= grist-mill)		3
ka ⁿ 'bēa. I desire.	Kí é abēi ⁿ ' And that I have	ḳí, iḩáni ⁿ 'ja when I live by means of it	té áha ⁿ , will I	ebéḩga ⁿ . I think that.	Maja ⁿ ' Land	gē ja ⁿ 'ga pl. lu ob. large ctēwa ⁿ by any means	abēi ⁿ ' I have	máji há; I not	áda ⁿ wéḩihíde there- fore	sagígi- tool	na ⁿ only	ka ⁿ 'bēa há. I desire	Usní Winter
gḩéba ten	kí é'di and on it	ḩábēi ⁿ three	Iḩga ⁿ 'tai ḩínké ⁿ 'ja the one had as a grand- father	pí to the	tē agḩí I was the there I have come back	tē, kí ceta ⁿ ' the, and that far	wéḩihíde tool	6
sagí- hard	ctēwa ⁿ by any means	abēi ⁿ ' I have	máji. I not	áda ⁿ wéḩihíde there- fore	sagí gē tool hard the pl. lu ob.	ka ⁿ 'bēa. I desire.	Waga ⁿ 'ze ta ⁿ Teacher the (std.)
ka ⁿ 'bēa I desire	tē a ⁿ 'ḩa ⁿ 'baha ⁿ . the he knows about me.	Kí ékiga ⁿ 'qti And just like it	i ⁿ 'ḩéckaxái for me you make it	ka ⁿ ' I hope that.	ebéḩga ⁿ . What	Edáda ⁿ What
wí ⁿ one	iḩáni ⁿ 'ja I live by means of it	té ctēwa ⁿ ' may soever	ḩíngcē há. there is none	Enáqtei That only	iḩáni ⁿ 'ja I live by means of him	té há. may		9

NOTES.

This was the first text of any sort dictated to the writer (in 1872). "Gray Hat" was the name given by the Ponkas to the late William Welsh, of Philadelphia. A translation of this letter appeared in the "Spirit of Missions" (of the Protestant Episcopal Church) for 1872.

629, 5. Waḩage qude gēi ḳí, rather, Waḩage qude iḩe gēi ḳí, When Gray Hat came back by this route. Wajiⁿ'daḩiⁿ, Washington, in Ponka notation; but the native phrase, wajiⁿ'daḩiⁿ, means, foolish disposition.

630, 4 and 5. One "eskana" is enough; omit the other (i. e., either. one).

630, 8. Wi naⁿ'xide aⁿ'skāqti, etc. The speaker names himself, but the true reference is to his people, the Ponka. Nearly all the personal statements should be so construed.

630, 11. ḩecetaⁿ eskana aⁿ'etaⁿ'be eg eteaⁿ'i ede, I think that you (pl.) should at least have seen me (i. e., should have come to see me) by this time. L. gave another reading: ḩecetaⁿ eskana aⁿ'etaⁿ'be égaⁿ etai éde, I think that you should have visited me ere this.

630, 15. For gebéḩgaⁿ, L. reads, kaⁿ'bēgaⁿ, I hope. But the other, too, makes sense.

631, 1. ḩeskā jaⁿ ḳⁿ'-ma, those cattle which carry yokes, i. e., oxen.

631, 4. iḩániⁿ'ja té áhaⁿ, ebéḩgaⁿ. L. reads, iḩániⁿ'ja éte áhaⁿ, ebéḩgaⁿ, I think, "I ought to live by means of it!"

Wagaⁿ'ze in this letter refers to the missionary, i. e., the author.

TRANSLATION.

O Gray Hat, when you came hither after your visit to the tribes up the Missouri River I talked with you. (And now I talk about the same business.) I have been to the place of the President, I mean Washington. I went thither to sell my land to the President. I saw some people down the Missouri River who were just like Americans, and I noticed that when they sold their land they were rich.

The President gave me a good road. I have not found it, therefore I am poor. I am poor, I say, for that reason. I am always in darkness. I hope that I may soon come out into the day of God and his Son. O ye Americans, I hope that henceforth I may reach the light. I think that if you will help me my children will improve, thus realizing my hopes. O ye Americans, though these Dakota tribes are very bad you give them many things and they are wealthy. But my people have behaved well, they have obeyed your words (though you have not given us many things). (If there are a great many white people along this Missouri River, I shall die poor. When you are attending to the Indians who will not behave I am obeying your words. I am ever in darkness. I think that you should at least have visited me before this time.

A missionary is here at the Ponka village. He knows about my poverty. He shall hear of the things which are difficult for me to endure. From time to time I will get him to write about those things. And when you hear his words, O ye Americans, I imagine that you will think "He tells the truth."

Those whom we have had as our agents have not been upright. I have not found any of their acts advantageous to me. I desire to have one of the truly honest persons. If you send me one of that kind and he aids me, I may improve by means of his assistance.

O Gray Hat, when I heard that you were to speak (in our behalf?) our affairs really improved a little from that time onward. I desire only what is right. I think that it is good. In future I ought to improve. Therefore I desire substantial appliances of different kinds. I desire wagons, cows, oxen, plows, scythes, spades, cross-cut saws, nails, harness, and a grist-mill. If I obtain the things which I have named, I think that I ought to improve by means of them.

The lands which I have are by no means large, therefore I desire substantial appliances of different kinds. It has been thirty-three winters since I returned home after my first visit to the President, and I have not yet had even one substantial implement. Therefore I desire them. The missionary knows what I wish to obtain. And I hope that you may do for me just as I desire. There has not been even one thing here of advantage to me. My only present dependence is the missionary.

HEGAGA SABÉ AND JAŁAŃGA NAJIN TO BETSY DICK.

Nújinga	aká	čida ^{n'} be	ga ^{n'} čai.	Wačaha	úwačagioná	tě	gĩa ^{n'} be boy	the	to see you	desires.	Clothing	you told us about	the	to see his (sub.)							own
ga ^{n'} čai.	Uqčéčtei	čai ^{n'} tě	ga ^{n'} čai.	T'a ^{n'} adi	čatí	tě'di	can'geajin'ga
he desires.	Very soon	you the	he desires.	Last fall	you	when	caut. I gave give it			came		you
		to him
ani ^{n'} čagčé.	gčf.	Nújinga	čifí	činké	é	áji	hā, gčfzaji
you took it home-	it has	boy	he gave	the one	he	diff.	he did not ward,	returned.		it to you	who	ferent	take it	back caut.
Pan'ka	áji	can'ge	ta ^{n'} iha ^{n'}	ta ^{n'} ačfí ^{n'}	aká,	é	gčfzai
Ponka	an-	horse	the	its	the	he has	the other			(std.)	moth-	(std.)	her	(sub.)
			er				he took it back
							caut.
							Do not look for
gčfčji-gā!	A ^{n'} wa ^{n'} wana	ngáca ^{n'} -háji.	Oka ^{n'} aji	gčfí ^{n'} .	Wawáqpani	hégabáji.
it, as your own!	Whither	they have not gone	Motionless	sits.	We are poor	not a little.
		traveling
Gajde-ma ^{n'} čín,	níkagahi	wací	enai	t'č.	Čúde-gáxe	ijín'ge,	Qegčfíqan ^{n'} ,
Gajde-ma ^{n'} čín,	chief	adherent	the	dead.	Snake-maker	his son,	Qegčfíqan ^{n'} ,
t'č	čicta ^{n'}	gčfí ^{n'} .	Pahan'gadi	wabáxu	wi ^{n'} eučéčé,	gčfčji.	I ^{n'} tea ^{n'} čf dead	finished	sits.	Formerly	letter	one	I sent to you,	it has not returned.
							Now
							again
							that one
eučéčé.	Mi ^{n'}	čé	hěbe	čigĩa ^{n'} be	ga ^{n'} čai	nújinga.	T'a ^{n'} da ^{n'}
I said to you.	Moon	this	part	to see you,	desires	boy.	In the fall
				his own			you came
							when
ča'čfíčé	nújinga.	Can'ge	wi ^{n'} čifí.	Edída ^{n'}	úwačaginá	čagčf	hčfúga
had pity on	boy.	horse	one	he	What	you told us about	you you						came	all
						back	have heard of
							their own,
čfina-báji.	Néxigayú	enáčtei	čfmai.	Mi ^{n'}	čé	hěbe	gĩa ^{n'} be they did not	Drum	alone	they	Moon	this	part	to see their beg of you.			asked				own
			of you.				they wish.
							To go
							to you
čfai	nújinga	wíja.	Wabáxu	wi ^{n'}	tia ^{n'} čakičé	čfəčé	éde speaks	boy	my.	Letter	one	you cause to	you prom-	but of it					come inther	ised	it has not come.
							What
							(obj.)
učáket'a ^{n'}	čfíj,	aná'a ^{n'}	ka ^{n'} bča.	Wabáxu	ča ^{n'}	čuhí	tě
you acquire	if,	I hear	I desire.	Letter	the	reaches	the
						you	on the following day
							the
							you find it
wabáxu	tia ^{n'} čakičé	ka ^{n'} bča.	Ča ^{n'}	čakí	čfnte	aná'a ^{n'}	ka ^{n'} bča.
letter	you cause to	I desire.	How	you	it may	I hear it	I desire.
	come to me			reach	he
				home

NOTES.

Written in 1872. Dictated by Black Elk (Hegaga sabe), afterwards John Nichols, or Pahaŋga-ma^{n'}čín, son of the chief by that name, of the (Ponka) Wacabe gens. Jałanğa najin was a leader of a dancing society. He should not be confounded with the head chief, Januga najin, or Acawage (sometimes called Jałanğa najin). A letter of (the younger) Jałanğa najin, written after he became a Christian and a farmer, will be found on a subsequent page in this volume. Jałanğa najin jūnga, the younger Jajañga najin, now called Jenuga zi, Yellow Buffalo Bull, came to Washington in April, 1889, and furnished the author with an account of his dancing society, two legends of Ukiabi (pp. 609, 613), and other information. Betsy Dick was an Omaha doctor, mystery woman, leader of a dancing society, interpreter, etc. She spoke several Indian languages besides having a knowledge of English. From her the writer obtained several Oto myths.

633, 3. Nujñga ñi ñinke e nj hā. Note the use of ñinke, when the sentence affirms no voluntary action, but the mere fact of his being a different person. Had a voluntary action been predicated of him, the sentence would have begun thus: Nujñga ñi aka.

633, 6. nikagahi waci eja! t'e. L. inserts ede before t'e: He was the chief's servant, but he is dead.

633, 7. t'e *ñictu*ⁿ *gñi*ⁿ, He is at the point of death, or, He is about to die.

633, 11. Nujñga used without aka, probably incorrectly.

TRANSLATION.

Standing Buffalo wishes to see you. He desires to see his clothing about which you told us. He wishes you to give it to him very soon. The colt which I gave you when you were here last fall, and which you took home with you, has returned. The youth who gave it to you is not the one who now has it; he did not take back the colt. He who has taken it is the Ponka, who has the colt's mother. Do not look for it as your own. The people have been nowhere. They are staying at home. We are very poor. Gajide-maⁿ *ñi*ⁿ, the chief's adherent, is dead. Smoke-maker's son, Qega-*ñiqu*ⁿ, is about to die. I sent you a letter formerly, but no reply has come. Now I send this one to you. Standing Buffalo wishes to see you before the end of this month. When you came here in the autumn he had pity on you and gave you a horse.

All have heard about the things concerning themselves, about which you told us (i. e., promised us) when you returned to us. They did not beg these things of you. They asked you for nothing but a drum. They desire to see what belongs to them before the end of this month. My young man (Standing Buffalo) speaks of going to you. You promised to send me a letter, but it has not come. I wish to hear whether you have acquired anything. When this letter reaches you, I wish you to send me one on the day after you receive it. I desire to hear how you reached home.

HEQAGA SABE TO KUCACA, AT THE OMAHA AGENCY,
NEBR. March 11, 1872.

Cupí taté ebé'egaⁿ. Maⁿ'zopé niníba iⁿwiⁿ'çane eceé, aⁿ'çá'i çictaⁿ.
I reach shall I think Hatchet pipe you seek for me you you gave finished.
you that.
Ceki gí xí, aⁿ'çá' gíkiçá-gá! Jé'çhiⁿ'de waçége aⁿ'çá'i 'çáçé aⁿ'çá'ha.
Ceki here when, cause him to bring it Woven yarn head-dress you gave you I wish my own.
turn- back!
ing me promised

Céna.
Enough.

3

TRANSLATION.

I think that I shall be with you. You said that you would seek a hatchet-pipe for me: you have already given it to me. Get Ceki to bring it when he returns. I desire my head-dress of woven yarn, which you promised to give me. Enough.

HEQAGA SABE TO CEKI, A PONKA STAYING AT THE OMAHA AGENCY. 1872.

Ceki, maⁿ'zeskā çípa aⁿ'çá'iⁿ, bē'ize. Níaciⁿ'ga çábçá'iⁿ aⁿ'çá'i éde Ceki, money your I have, I took it. Person thres contended with me for it awá'í-máji: Içádiçai çínké, íeskā, Maⁿ'teú-níja. Aⁿ'waⁿ'ekaⁿ'jan'ga, ádaⁿ
I did not give it to them: Agent the, interpreter, Maⁿ'teu-níja. I am strong, there-fore awá'í-máji Maⁿ'zeskā wíja gē'cha it'cwikiçé, éde wíjahaⁿ t'é ádaⁿ awá'í. 6
I did not give it to them. Money (?) my ten I put away for but my wife's brother dead there-fore I gave to them.
Can'ge maⁿ'ba, çeskā mīⁿ'ga edábe, edádaⁿ gaⁿ'çá aⁿ'çagúji uáket'aⁿ, éde Horses two, ox female also, what to desire you com-manded me I acquired, but wíjahaⁿ t'e, ádaⁿ zani çíngé, bē'ugaqi çíngé. Maⁿ'zeskā çagictaⁿ'be my wife's brother dead, there-fore all there is none, every one there is none. Money you see your own kaⁿ'hēn, ádaⁿ it'çáçé. Umáha çé uné amá kí xí, aná'aⁿ kaⁿ'hēn. 9
I desire, there-fore I put it away. Omaha but, falo hunters reach when, I hear I desire.
Waqiⁿ'ha etaⁿ'be xí, égasani tiaⁿ'çakiçé te aná'aⁿ xí. Céna.
Paper you behold when, the follow-ing day you send to me please I hear when. Enough.

NOTES.

635, 5. íeskā, the U. S. interpreter, David Le Clere.

The reading of the last line (635,10) is conjectural. If we transpose te and xí, the sentence will read, egasani tiaⁿ'çakiçé xí, ana'aⁿ te, if you will send me (one) on the next day, I may hear it.

TRANSLATION.

Ceki, I have your money; I took it. Three persons contended with me for it, trying to get it from me, but I did not give it to them. (I refer to) the agent, the interpreter, and Grizzly-bear's Ear. I am strong, therefore I have not given it to them. I had put away ten dollars of my money for you, but my wife's brother died, therefore I gave it away to the people. I had acquired two horses, and also domestic cows, which you told me to desire, but my wife's brother died, therefore all is gone; everything is gone! I wished you to see your own money, so I put it away. I wish to hear when the Omahas who went on the buffalo hunt reach home. When you see the letter, please send one to me on the following day, and I may hear of it (†). Enough.

HEQAGA SABA TO DR. POTTER, YANKTON, DAK. 1873.

Wáqe daxe iⁿ'taⁿ miⁿ cádc. Pahan'gadi iⁿwiⁿ'fakaⁿ'aji éde, wagnⁿ'ze White I act now moon als. Formerly you did not help me but, teacher
 man

wáqe údaⁿ hégnaji tē, wékionnⁿ'fákiqē qī, edádaⁿ'etēcte tiaⁿ'fakiqē kaⁿ'bēa, white good not a little as you make me thankful if, whatsoever you send to me I desire,
 man (†) suddenly

3 kagēha Wigisiqē-naⁿ eaⁿ'eaⁿ. Iēdi údaⁿ wēdahaⁿ-máji. Naⁿ'paⁿ'hiⁿ
 O friend. I remember you only always. Agent (or good I do not know them. I am hungry
 Father)

agisiqē-naⁿ-maⁿ. Iⁿ'teaⁿ wáqe iēdi Pan'ka-ma qēskā wiⁿ aⁿ'f. Údaⁿ I remember it usually. Now white agent (or the Ponkas (pl. ox one has man father) ob.) given to me. Good niⁿ' éde fíuqai. Iēdiqai áji wiⁿ údaⁿ'qti atf, é áwake. Wáqtaⁿ'aⁿ'fakiqē you are but he has ex- Agent an- one very good has that I mean. You are pleased with called you. other come

6 qī, edádaⁿ wēqihide aⁿ'fá'í kaⁿ'bēa, dadíha.
 if, what tool you give to me I desire. O father!

NOTES.

Dr. J. A. Potter, of Yankton, South Dak., was agent among the Ponka before 1869.

636, 1. Pahan'gadi . . . kageha. F. said that the words were used incorrectly, and that it was impossible to discover the meaning. G. said it was a badly constructed sentence (ukigē piiji), and that the words were "uēdaⁿ'be piiji," bad for one to consider. But W., an older Omaha, found the sentence a plain one. His explanation is given in the translation. For kaⁿ'bēa, I wish, F. substituted, kaⁿ'bēgnⁿ, I hope.

TRANSLATION.

I have been living as a white man for six months. Formerly, when I was a wild Indian, you did not help me. At that time I had no one to teach me. But now I have the missionary, and I wish to improve. So if you are willing to make me thankful suddenly (or unexpectedly), I hope, my friend, that you will send me something or other.

I am always thinking about you. I have not known good agents. I have been always thinking about my hunger. Just now the white agent has given me one of the Ponka oxen. You are good, but he has excelled you. I refer to another agent, a very good man who has come recently. O father, if you are pleased with what I am doing, I wish you to give me some tool or other useful appliance.

HEQAGA SABA TO KUCACA. 1872.

Wabáxu	faná	éé	cuéééé.	Ééka	íéáíéai	aká	úda ⁿ qti	aká,	éga ⁿ
Letter	you	this	I send to you.	This one	agent	the	very good	the	so
	asked			(sub.)		(sub.)		(sub.)
edáda ⁿ	íju	taité	weágibáha	gáí ⁿ ,	uná'a ⁿ	a ⁿ éagáí	té	uána'a ⁿ .	Máca ⁿ	ská
what	impor-	tant	showing to us,	alts,	to hear	you com-	as	I have heard	Feather	White
		be (pl.)	his own		about it	manded me		about it.
cúééíéé	waqí ⁿ ha.	Céki	ma ⁿ zéká	té	abéí ⁿ .	Agéí	te,	ecé.	Wéba ⁿ xú-gá!	3
I sent it to you	paper.	Ceki	money	the	I have,	I came	will	you	Write to us!
for him						home	said,
Wí	ubáa ⁿ	te,	ecé.	Waqí ⁿ ha	uqéé'qtei	ka ⁿ béa,	wabáxu	é	áwake.	I ⁿ 'ja-
I	I take	hold	will,	you	Paper	very soon	I desire,	letter	that	I mean.
			said.							We usually
na ⁿ 'i	Umáha	íéáíéai	éinké.	Wí	wabáxu	gíán'kié	té,	aná'a ⁿ	ka ⁿ béa.
doubt	Omaha	agent	the one	I	letter	is caused to	when,	I hear it	I wish.
him			who,			come back
						for me
Éga ⁿ	aná ⁿ éai.
so	we desire.

6

NOTES.

Kucaca, prob. the Omaha notation of the Pawnee name for Rousseau Pepin or Pappan, an Omaha.

637, 1. íéáíéai, i. e., C. P. Birkett, of Nebraska.

637, 2. Mácaⁿ ská, White Quill-feather, a Ponka, who died afterwards at the Omaha Reservation in Nebraska.

637, 5. Umáha íéáíéai éínke, the Omaha agent, Edward Painter, M. D., of Maryland.

TRANSLATION.

I send you this letter for which you asked. This agent whom we now have is very good; so he continues showing to us ("to whom he belongs as agent") the things which shall be important for us. As you commanded me to hear about it, I have done so. I sent a letter to you for White Quill-feather. O Ceki, I have the money. You said, "I will return." Write to us. You said, "I will take hold of it." I desire a paper very soon, I mean a letter. We usually doubt the Omaha agent. When a letter is sent to me, I wish to hear what you intend doing. All of us have a similar desire.

6"

Photographic Sciences Corporation

23 WEST MAIN STREET
WEBSTER, N.Y. 14580
(716) 872-4503

CARLETON UNIVERSITY

CARLETON UNIVERSITY

CARLETON UNIVERSITY

CARLETON UNIVERSITY

CARLETON UNIVERSITY

CARLETON UNIVERSITY

CARLETON UNIVERSITY

CARLETON UNIVERSITY

CARLETON UNIVERSITY

NOTES.

All the Ponkas, except Jiŋga-nuda^a, mentioned in this letter, were scholars of the author. Standing Buffalo was the younger man of that name.

The creek called "Cehit'a", or "Where apple trees abound", is probably Willow Creek, a tributary of the Niobrara River, Nebraska.

TRANSLATION.

Little Picker (or Grazer) fell, but he has returned alive without being struck by the Dakotas. They dashed on us again. We chased them to the head of Willow Creek (?). We overtook seven horsemen, who assaulted us. We threw ourselves to the ground, to hide, one after another (?). Knows-the-Land was brave; Big Grizzly-bear was brave and dangerous (to the foe); he survives. Standing Buffalo was brave. Standing Buffalo wounded a Dakota with an arrow when he stood very close to him. Boy Warrior was brave.

HEQAGA-SABĚ AND OTHERS TO AN OMAHA.

T'a ^a adi	Umáha	ŋi cupi.	Ki	nújŋga	wiwiŋa	wéŋi'a ^a	úwaŋŋiŋa,
Last fall	Omaha	house	And	boy	my	ornament	you told them about it,
		I went thither to you.
nuŋna ^a ha,	qiŋá	maca ^a	wi ⁿ ,	céna,	i ⁿ wi ⁿ ŋaná'a ^a .	T'a ^a da ⁿ	ŋatí hā. Ma ⁿ zépé-
otter skin,	eagle	quill-feather	one,	enough,	you heard about for me.	In the fall	you came hither
							Hatchet
ninŋba	uwáŋŋiná,	ŋiná'a ⁿ i	hā,	zaní	nújŋga.	Ma ⁿ zē-unáŋi ⁿ	máca ⁿ -ŋúŋŋa ⁿ 3
pipe	you told them about it,	they have heard of it, their own		all	boy.	Iron shirt	head-dress of eagle tail feathers
waŋáŋe,	ŋehá-nacábe,	hi ⁿ bé,	waŋá'i	ŋeŋé,	ma ⁿ zē-úka ⁿ ta,	céna,	úwaŋŋiná,
head cover- ing,	buffalo robe smoked	moc.	you give	you prom- ised.	metal	armlets,	enough, you told them about it, i ⁿ ŋina-ctéwa ⁿ -báŋi.	Waji ⁿ	ŋiŋa	waŋá'i	ŋeŋé.	Gata ⁿ adi	ukét'a ⁿ	éška ⁿ a ⁿ - 6
we did not beg of you in the least.	Disposition	your own	you give to us	you prom- ised.	At last	to acquire it	perhaps we
ŋa ⁿ ŋai,	éde	edáda ⁿ	úwaŋŋiná	a ⁿ ŋaŋi'ŋtia ⁿ .
thought,	but	what	you told them about	is not so at all.

NOTES.

The letter was dictated by Heqaga-sabě in the presence of ŋaŋaŋga-najiⁿ, Ni-ane, and Miŋasi-nikagahi.

639, 1. ŋi cupi seems elliptical; perhaps it should be ŋi ŋaŋa cupi (to the village I went to you) I went to your village, as he did not go to a single Omaha house to the exclusion of all others.

639, 4. waŋáŋe appears superfluous here. Maⁿzē unáŋiⁿ refers to some present rather than to the Ponka man, Iron Shirt.

TRANSLATION.

Last autumn I went to your house(s) on the Omaha land. And you told my young men about trinkets; you heard about only an otter skin and an eagle quill-feather for me. You came to this place in the early fall. All the young men have heard of their hatchet-pipe of which you told them. You promised to give us an iron shirt (sic), a head-dress of eagle tail feathers, a buffalo robe smoked dark, moccasins, and metal armlets. You told them about it; we did not beg of you at all. Of your own mind you promised to give them to us. We have thought, "At last after much delay he may have acquired them;" but what you told them about is not so at all.

UHAŊGE-JA^N TO CAŊGE-SKA, AN OMAHA CHIEF.

- T'aⁿadi cupi fe údaⁿ iⁿŋéckaxe, wéŋŋŋaⁿ áwatégaⁿ wágazúŋti
 Last I reached word good you made for thought in what way very straight fall there where you are me, (or plan)
- ian'kiŋá-gá, dadŋa. Aⁿbaŋé cubéŋ kaⁿbŋa, éde aⁿwaⁿ'kega. Ki écamá send to me, O father. To-day I go to I desire, but I am sick. And these you are
- 3 Caaⁿ amá cŋi 'ágŋa wáŋi, ádaⁿ ŋúahégaⁿ cubŋa-maji. T'aⁿ ŋi, cubéŋ Dakota the (pl. sub.) too suffering they have there- I do not go to you. Fall when, I go to as, fore- unseen danger some- what
- kaⁿbŋa. Caŋ'geŋajin'ga wiⁿ agŋaⁿbŋa pí. Paŋ'ka céŋu iⁿŋiⁿŋiⁿ
 I desire. Colt one I abandoned my own I reached Panka there where you are there, there
- giwaŋákiŋe kaⁿbŋa. Wahaⁿŋiŋe ninŋba wiⁿ aⁿi 'ŋé kaⁿbŋa: uŋŋa-gá.
 cause them to be I desire. Orphan pipe one to give prom- I desire: tell it to him.
 returning
- 6 Edádaⁿ iⁿwiⁿ'ŋana te wiⁿ'aqteŋtē uná'aⁿ'aⁿ'ŋákiŋŋi. Edádaⁿ wiⁿ'áŋŋti
 What you told to me the even one you did not cause me to hear about it. What just one
- ŋŋnai nŋaciⁿga naⁿ'ba: néŋgaŋú ŋŋnai. Aⁿ'ba éŋŋuádi gaⁿ'ŋai, éde nŋa, asked of person two: drum asked of you. Day on this they desire it, but you have
 you
- ádaⁿ céna ekaⁿ'na te, zaniŋti giŋaⁿ'ŋa-baji'ŋtiⁿi. ŋe ŋiŋŋa wiⁿ'ŋakáŋi.
 there- enough you desire it may, all they do not wish at all for their own. Word your you do not speak
 fore
- 9 Kúge wiⁿ' aŋŋáŋi ádaⁿ céna gaⁿ'ŋai kúge. Wa'ú niⁿ éde ŋe ŋiŋŋa Box one we have there- enough they de- box. Woman you but word your own
 fore
- ŋaŋŋáŋti ŋŋae. Uŋŋŋita-báŋi Wéŋŋiⁿ úwaŋŋiŋá té ádaⁿ eaŋé 'ŋai éde, very large you They are waiting very Trinkets you told them the there- to go to they speak. anxiously for what was promised. about them (past act) fore you spoke
 of it
- nŋa ádaⁿ eaŋá-báŋi 'ŋai há. Céna.
 you there- not going to you they speak of it Enough.
 have fore

NOTES.

640, 9. čičiŋa, superfluous according to F.

640, 11 and 11. Ugiŋita-bajl . . caŋa-bajl 'ičai hā. F. gives another reading: Wéŋi'a' ūwaŋagibūā tē ugiŋita-bajl hā, āda' caŋé 'ičai éde, an'a hā, āda' caŋa-bajl 'ičai hā, You told them about the trinkets, so they were waiting very anxiously for what was promised. Therefore they talked of going to (visit) you (not waiting on you any longer), but now that you have failed (to send them), they speak of not going to (visit) you.

TRANSLATION.

When I was with you last autumn you made very good words for me. O father, send me a decision in whatever way it may be very honest. I wish to go to you to-day, but I am sick. And these Dakotas also are abusing us, therefore I do not go to you on account of my fear of some unseen danger. I wish to go to see you next autumn. I left one of my colts there (with the Omahas). I desire you to induce the Ponkas who are with you to bring it back for me. I wish the Orphan to promise to give me a pipe. Tell him about it. You have not caused me to hear about even one of the things about which you told me (i. e., you have not sent word about their coming). Two men asked just one thing of you; they begged a drum of you.

They desire it on this very day, but you have failed, so you need not think of it any longer. They do not wish you to give them anything. You have not spoken true words. We have a box, therefore they have no further desire for one (from you). You are (as) a woman, but you speak very great words! They are waiting very anxiously for what was promised. You told them about the trinkets, so they promised to go to see you; but now that you have failed (to send them) they speak of not going to you. Enough.

UHAŅGE-JAN TO AGENT C. P. BIRKETT. 1873.

Edādaⁿ iⁿ'teqi uwibēa. Paŋ'ka nīkagāhi ūju, Ma'tcū-wāčihī,
 What hard for me I tell you. Ponka chief principal, Ma'tcū-wāčihī, Acūwage, ŋāxe-sābē, Wajī'agahīga, Gahīge, jaⁿ'inaŋge aⁿ'fūji, čē iⁿ'teqi Acawage, Black Crow, Wajī'agahīga, chief, wagon has not given me, this hard for me hēga-māji. Gaⁿ'adr'qti jaⁿ'inaŋge čīqti, nān'de čičiŋa, Major, jaⁿ'inaŋge 3 not a little for me. Just now wagon you your- self, heart your own, Major, wagon wiⁿ aⁿ'čū'i kaⁿ'bēa. Ičigēaⁿ tē Paŋ'ka nīkagāhi čānkā wečēkaⁿ'nāji, one you give I desire. Decision the Ponka chief the ones you do not desire for them, čīqti iŋigēaⁿ wačū'i kaⁿ'bēa. Nīkagāhi bēūga čēču ečēgaⁿ nan'di kī just you you deciding give to them I desire. Chief all here thinking usually and when jaⁿ'inaŋge kē aⁿ'f-bāji ŋi, taⁿ'waⁿ'gēaⁿ pūji tatē, ebēgaⁿ, Major. Kī 6 wagon the do not give to me if, village bad shall be, I think that, Major. And edádaⁿ páji dāxa-máji. Jaⁿinaŋge nájŋga wa'í 'íga- biamá, éde ubé'fage.

642 THE CEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

 what bad I do not. Wagon boy to give they it is said, but I was unwill-to them prom- ing.

Maⁿteu-nájiⁿ taⁿwa'ggaⁿ oíⁿ fan'di jaⁿinaŋge naⁿbá etégaⁿ; wénaⁿba tē Standing Bear gens his in the wagon two probable; the second the 3 wíni, éskaⁿ ebé'gaⁿ. Iⁿwin'kaⁿ wackan'-gā!
 it is mine, per- I thought. To help me try!

NOTE.

641, 2. aⁿiíji (the 3d sing.) should be aⁿi-baji, in the plural, to agree with the pl. subj. the chiefs.

TRANSLATION.

I tell you what is difficult for me to bear. The principal Ponka chiefs, Grizzly-bear that starts-the game-from-the-chicket, Striped-horse (Zebra), Black Crow, Bird-chief, and The Chief, have not given me a wagon; this is very hard for me. Just now, Major, I wish you yourself of your own will to give me a wagon. You do not desire the Ponka chiefs to make the decision; I wish you alone to decide and give (the wagon) to them. I think, Major, that there will be trouble in the tribe if all the chiefs who are here, after thinking of the matter, do not give me a wagon. Yet I have done nothing wrong. They promised to give the wagons to the young men, but I was unwilling. There are probably two wagons which will belong to Standing Bear's gens, and I suppose that the second one may be mine. Try to help me!

FRANK LA FLÈCHE, SR., TO HIS DAUGHTER, SUSANNE.

November 12, 1877.

Majaⁿ ɕaⁿ an'ɕiɕaⁿɕai tē' aⁿɕi'a taŋ'gataⁿ ebé'gaⁿ. Umáha ɕi ɕaⁿ Land the we desire for our- the we shall fail to obtain I think that. Omaha yil ɕaⁿ selves lage

iⁿ'taⁿ aⁿná taŋ'gataⁿ. ɕé'cetaⁿ-naⁿ úwawéci kē cetaⁿ-naⁿ 'iaⁿ'ɕa-baji'-qtiáⁿi.
 now we shall ask for. Up to this time pay the so far only we have not at all mentioned it.

6 Índádaⁿ níe etē waɕin'gai. Gaⁿ ɕi'áqti ɕi, gaⁿ úwawéci 'iaⁿ'ɕa taŋ'gataⁿ.
 What pain so- over we have none. And failing al- If, then pay we shall mention it.
 together

Cé ma'iaⁿ níaciⁿga uké'ɕiⁿ majaⁿ eiaí ɕ'di uɕiɕine taí hā, ewégaí hā.
 That land Indian common land their there you can seek for they said the yourselves foregoing to us

Águdi edé cetaⁿ an'gaⁿ'ɕa-báji. Gaⁿ can'ge ɕanká ɕé'gɕaŋge ɕaⁿ'ba
 Where what they said so far we have not desired it. And horse the (pl. ob.) your husband he too

9 wákihidai-gā. Gaⁿ cēna gaⁿ'te uwíɕa cué'ɕaɕé. Íeskā aⁿ'wan'gaɕiⁿ attend ye to them. And enough for a while I tell you I send to you. Interpreter we have them an'gáti wíutan'ga ɕedéni ɕataⁿ'i, píbaⁿi.
 we had as soon as whisky he drank, be (was) bud.
 come hither

NOTES.

This Frank La Flèche is the younger brother of Joseph La Flèche of the Omaha tribe. Frank is a chief of the Ponka half-breed "band." His daughter Susanne is the wife of Makata. She and her husband were at the Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory, when this letter was written.

The author was present at the interviews with the President and other officials, as a check on the interpreters, whom he corrected once or twice.

642, 0. ieskâ. This interpreter was Baptiste Barnaby, who was not a Ponka. He was fond of liquor; so the agent brought the chief of police, Big Snake or Uhañge ja", to watch him and keep him sober. Big Snake did his work well.

TRANSLATION.

I think that we shall fail to obtain the land which we desire for ourselves (i. e., the old reservation in Todd County, Dakota). We shall now ask for the Omaha Reservation (as our home). Up to this time we have not mentioned the damages at all (but we shall do so hereafter).

We have no sickness whatever. If there is a total failure (to get either our old land or the Omaha Reservation), we will speak of the damages (or pay). They have said to us, "You can seek a land for yourselves in the Indian Territory." We have not yet expressed a wish to go where they have said. Now, you and your husband must attend to the horses. I send you all that I have to tell you for some time. The interpreter is bad; he drank whisky as soon as we brought him here.

WAQPECA, AN OMAHA TO MR. PROVOST.

August 24, 1878.

Wamúske	d'úba	a ⁿ wa ⁿ 'i-gā	há,	kagéba.	Na ⁿ jú	éna	wí'i	téinke,	a ⁿ éá'i
Wheat	some	lend me	!	O friend,	Thresh-	that	I give	will,	you give ing	quantl.	back	to you	to me
						ty	to you

té. Wégaⁿze d'úba kaⁿ'bça.
when Measure four I desire.
(or if)

TRANSLATION.

My friend, lend me some wheat. If you give it to me I will give you back that much of threshed (wheat). I desire four bushels.

MAQPIYA-QAGA TO CĀKUČŪ-ČAKITÁWE.

- Waqiⁿ'ha gúčaⁿ cučé. Caⁿ' gaⁿ' wisíčai tē waqiⁿ'ha cuhí-naⁿ taté.
 Paper that (ob.) goes to you. At any rate I remember the paper reach un- shall.
 you (pl.) you ally
- Gataⁿ'adi ájaⁿ'i édaⁿ, ebéčaⁿ, cí winá'aⁿ'i kaⁿ'bča. Umaⁿ'haⁿ-ma maⁿ'zēskā
 By this time have I (in a I think that, again I hear I wish. The Omahas maⁿ'zēskā you (pl.) so- acted illoquy), from you money
- 3 čizá-báji caⁿ'caⁿ iⁿ'taⁿ. Pahan'ga gē'di maⁿ'zēskā čizé caⁿ'caⁿ'i, éde iⁿ'taⁿ do not receive always now. Before at differ- money received always, but now ent times
- čizá-báji, wa'í-baj'qtiaⁿ'i. Ádaⁿ maⁿ'zēskā čanā tē učihaji tē, wa'í-báji they do not get it, they do not give it to us at all. There- money you the you have will, they do not fore begged not your way about it give it to us
- caⁿ'caⁿ égaⁿ učihaji há. Wamúske kē gaⁿ' hégaji abčín' ehé čandi, caⁿ'caⁿ.
 always so you do not desire wheat the and not a little I have I said in the it continues.
 (f) past,
- 6 Majaⁿ' čaⁿ wamúske maḡá uáji, wégaⁿ'ze gčébahíwiⁿ naⁿ'ba abčín'. Éskana Land the wheat large Isowed, measure hundred two I have. I hope čéču niⁿ' ebéčaⁿ wamúske t'aⁿ' xi, wačáte t'aⁿ' xi. Wataⁿ'zi kē' cti hégaji here you are I think that wheat abounds if, food abounds if. Corn the too not a are little
- abčín'. Wáqe nú epá kē hégaji abčín'. Wáqe waqtá epá kē bčúga abčín'.
 I have. White man potato his the not a few I have. White fruit his the all I have.
 man
- 9 Abčín' gē'cte hégaji abčín'. Níkagahiⁿ-ma pahan'gadi weat'abčé Umaⁿ'haⁿ-má;
 I have the things not a I have. The chiefs (pl. ob.) formerly I hated them The Omahas (pl. ob.); (what) soever few
- kí iⁿ'taⁿ níkaciⁿ'ga amá údaⁿ'qti maⁿ'čín'i, iⁿ'taⁿ níkagahiⁿ-ma weat'abčá-máji and now people the (pl. very good they walk, now the chiefs (pl. ob.) I do not hate them
 sub.)
- há. Caⁿ' kíkui gazaⁿ' gaⁿ' údaⁿ'qti gaⁿ' é'di maⁿ'bčín' há. Níkagahiⁿ tē é' údaⁿ
 At any calling rate to feast among so (!) very good so (!) there I walk Chief the it good
- 12 égičé weat'abčé kē égičé pfiiji dáxe te há. Níkaciⁿ'ga čín' wiⁿ' waqpáni xi, behold I hate them the behold bad I may do . Person the one poor if, (mv.)
- nítaⁿ etégaⁿ há, níkagahiⁿ amá iⁿ'čín'gai há. Níkaciⁿ'ga wiⁿ' dádaⁿ gaⁿ'čai, you work ought chief the (pl. said the fore- Person one what he desires, sub.) going to me
- waqpáni xi, uíkañ-gā, aí há níkagahiⁿ amá. Ádaⁿ níkaciⁿ'ga waqpáni čín' poor when, help him, said they chief the (pl. There- person poor the sub.) fore (mv. ob.)
- 15 ča'čáčé iⁿ'taⁿ. Čan'ge wábčín' čanká caⁿ cénawáčé, níkaciⁿ'ga waqpáni
 I pity him now. Horse I have the ones at are expended, person poor them that (ob.) length (f)
- čtēwaⁿ' awá'i-naⁿ-maⁿ'. Kí jaⁿ'maⁿ' čín' iⁿ' čanká enáqtei uctaf há. Wiⁿ'be soever I used to give to them. And wagon the ones they re- only they re-carried that main I see you

- tat éskaⁿ ebé'gaⁿ. In'teaⁿ can'ge ubáhadi áji aⁿčín'ge há. Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá shall perhaps that I think Now horse on their flank an- I am with , Omaha the (pl.
(-inside them) other out sub.)
- wáqe gáxe gaⁿ'žai há. Susi júwagčai níkačigá gčéba-dúba wáqe gáxe white act desire La Flèche he with them person forty white man act
- júwagčee gaⁿ'čai. Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá bčúga uęf'agai; níkačáhi tš téqigičai 3 he with them desire. Omaha the (pl. sub.) all are unwilling; chief the prize their own
- cénujin'ga bčúga. Wáqe gáxe-má é wiaⁿ't'acai há. Ki wáqe gáxaji amá young man all. White those who act that we hate them And white do not act the (pl. sub.)
- umaⁿ'činka čé eahí-naⁿ tá amá, níkačáhi amá. Wiⁿ'čidaⁿ'bai ži wáqe gáxe season this will be reaching you, chief the (pl. sub.) One sees you when white man act
- amá dádaⁿ čaⁿ'f-búji etégaⁿ há: níkačigá ukéčín tš é aⁿ'čá gaⁿ'čai há, 6
the (pl. sub.) what you do not give to him should Indian common the that abandon they wish (thing)
- wáqe gáxe amá Ki wí níaciⁿ'ga ukéčín tš aⁿ'čá bčá kaⁿ'bčá-máji há.
white act the (pl. sub.) And I act Indian common the I throw away I do not wish (thing) for myself
- Wižan'ge aⁿ'čina t'á-bačín', wakégai. Éde iⁿ'taⁿ gígčázu. Četaⁿ' čdičti
My sister came very near dying, she was sick. But now she has recovered. So far just there
- žaⁿ'ba-máji há, wačítaⁿ kč áakihíde maⁿ'bčín' há. Ijin'ge amá é iⁿ'wiⁿ'čá 9
I have not seen her work the (ob.) I attend to it I walk Her son the that to tell me (mv. sub.)
- atí-naⁿi. Wačteá jin'ga hégaji č'ja bčé, ki maⁿ'čáⁿ weáčuhe, ádaⁿ č'ja has come regularly. Vegetable small not a few unto I go, and there, stealing I fear for them, thither fore
- pí-máji-naⁿ-maⁿ' četaⁿ'-naⁿ. Ičti tš'di wabčítaⁿ maⁿ'bčín'. Majaⁿ' čaⁿ
I have not been going so far. The very house at the I work I walk. Land the (ob.)
- wéahide anájiⁿ há, ádaⁿ č'ja pí-máji-naⁿ-maⁿ'. Éskana majaⁿ' čaⁿ žaⁿgá 12 distant (from) I stand there- there I have not reached there Oh, that! land the (ob.) large
- níčpi kaⁿ'bčégaⁿ há. É cupí ži, majaⁿ' čaⁿ žaⁿgá níčpi ži, učúžaⁿ'be you pul- I hope That I reach when, land the large you pul- when, I examine it verize it (ob.)
- etégaⁿ há. Wa'ú wiⁿ agčáⁿ' kaⁿ'bčá, čáčín wa'ú wiⁿ.
api Woman one I marry her I wish, Pawnee woman one.

NOTES.

The sender of this letter was a member of the "chiefs' party" in the Omaha tribe. Cákučú-čakitáwe, or "Sun" was a Pawnee.

645. 2. Susi, said to mean the late Joseph La Flèche; but its derivation was not explained. Júwagčai (instead of Jugčai, they are with him) shows that the speaker regarded La Flèche as inferior to the forty men.

645. 13. E., said by F. to be unnecessary here. G. gave, as an equivalent to the last sentence but one, Éskana cupí égaⁿ ži, žaⁿ'be ži, učúžaⁿ'be etégaⁿ há, Oh! if I could only go to you and see it, I might examine it.

TRANSLATION.

That letter goes to you. At any rate, as I think of you (pl.), letters shall be reaching you regularly. Just about this time I am thinking how you are getting along. And I wish to hear from you again. The Omahas do not receive any more money annuities. They used to receive money at different periods in the past; but now they do not receive it, as (the white people) do not give it to us at all. Therefore you will not have your way about the money for which you asked; as they continue to give us none, you can not have your way. I said that I had plenty of wheat, and so it continues. I sowed a large piece of land in wheat, and I have two hundred bushels. I long for you to be here when wheat and other kinds of food abound. I also have plenty of corn. I have plenty of Irish potatoes. I have all the (fruits or) vegetables of the white men. I have an abundance of whatever I have. Formerly I hated the Omaha chiefs. But now the people are prospering, and I do not hate the chiefs. I adhere to the chiefs' side, going in and out among them, and attending the feasts, so I am prospering. The chieftainship is good, and if I should hate them I might do wrong. The chiefs have said to me, "You ought to do something for a poor man if you see one in that condition. When a man desires something, and is poor, do you aid him." Therefore I pity the poor man now. All the horses which I had have been expended, as I have been making presents regularly to various poor men. And only those horses remain which draw my wagon. I hope that I shall see you. Now I am without any horse beside them (the wagon horses).

The Omahas wish to live as white men. La Flèche and forty men (who side) with him desire to live as white men. All the Omahas are unwilling. All the young men prize their chiefs. We hate those who live as white men. The chiefs and those who do not live as white men will be coming to you this year. If you see one of those who live as white men, you should not give him anything, for those who live as white men desire to abandon the life as Indians. But I do not wish to throw away from myself the Indian way. My sister came very near dying from illness. But now she is convalescent. I have not yet been there to see her, as I have been very busy attending to my work. Her son has been coming regularly to tell me how she is. I am progressing with the raising of many small vegetables, and I fear lest they should be stolen; therefore I have not been going thither. I keep at my work very close to the house. I am far from the land (where you are now), therefore I have not been there. I hope that you may cultivate a large tract of the land (in which you now dwell). When I go to see you, I will be apt to examine it to see whether you cultivate it extensively.

I desire to marry a Pawnee woman.

TWO CROWS TO THE WINNEBAGO AGENT. 1878.

Húnga	íáíáíai	nínké,	níkaci'ga	éíéíja	wi'	a'wan'kie	cug'éé.
Winnebago	agent	you who are,	person	your	one	having spoken to me	has gone back to you.
Can'ge	i'wi'qpaé'-	de	na'ba	wé'baha'	ubésni'	éé há,	a'fa'wankié há.
Horse	I lost	when	two	he knew them,	he found it out	that is it	he spoke to me about it.
Ki	gan'xi	i'ba'	há;	cupí	xi	uékíe	juan'gé
And	at length	he called me		I reach you	if	to speak about it	he with me promised Person
							3
Húnga	wama'fa'	fa'ká	wé'baha'	éé há,	éde	ieskú	a'fín'gega'
Winnebago	thief	the ones who	he knows them	that is it	but	interpre-	ter
						as I have none	I do not go to you
éga'	wabágeze	wíáxe	há.	Éde	ékana	ééba'	áda'
as,	letter	I make to you		But	oh that	you call him	and very straight
							you ask him
ka'bécéga'	Si'	wanúde	éé há.	Wágazúqti	uéké	xi,	aná'a'
I hope,	(Henry) Rice	it is he		Very straight	he tells you	if,	I hear it
							I hope
Éga'qti	xi'ji,	Uma'ha'	íáíáíai	éínké	wabágeze	íkiá-gá.
Just so	if,	Omaha	agent	the one who	letter	send hither to him.

NOTES.

The Winnebago agent was Howard White. Two Crows, or χ axe fa'ba, is a leading man of the Omaha Haúga gens.

647, 1. níkaci'ga éíéíja, Henry Rice, a half-breed Winnebago, who had learned where two of the stolen horses were secreted.

TRANSLATION.

You who are the Winnebago agent, one of your Indians has gone back to you after talking with me. He is one who knew two of my horses which I have lost, and as he found out about them; he spoke to me on the subject. And at length he called to me (to go to the Winnebago Agency) and promised to join me in speaking about the matter if I went to (see) you. It is he who knows the Winnebago Indians that are the thieves; but since I have no interpreter I am not going to see you, so I send you a letter. But I hope that you will summon him and question him very particularly. He is (Henry) Rice. I hope that I may hear (what he says), if he tells you a straight story. If it be just so, send a letter to the Omaha agent.

CANĖE-SKĀ (WHITE HORSE) TO WIRU_YRA^N NINE, AN OTO.

- Caⁿ čijin'ge t'é, Heqága-jin'ga, aⁿ'ba waqúbe t's'di t'é hā Aⁿ'ska
 Now your son dead, Little Elk, day mysterious on the died By the by wakég éde džúba jaⁿ' t's'di t'é hā. Níkaciⁿ'ga uekúd éde t'é hā. Umaⁿ'haⁿ sick but a few deep after died Person kind but died Omaha 3 amá gí'ča-baj'qtinⁿ'i hā. Níkagáhi. wan'giče gí'ča-báji, ei níkaciⁿ'ga the (pl. are very sad Chief all are sad, again people
 sub.)
 cénujin'ga eti gí'ča-bajji. E-hnaⁿ' cénujin'ga áta gáxai, taⁿ'waⁿ'gčāⁿ gčúba, young man too are sad. He only young man excel- made, tribe whole,
 lent
 éde gí'tai hā. Ádaⁿ níkaciⁿ'ga gčúba gí'ča-báji hā Čijin'gegaⁿ, čagína'aⁿ but died to it Therefore people all are sad As (he was) your you hear of son, your own
 6 tégnaⁿ ádaⁿ waqin'ha cučéčé hā. Níkaciⁿ'ga-ma Umaⁿ'haⁿ-ma wawúkegal in order there paper I send to you The people the O.: shas we are sick that, fore
 hā. Wáwakegē- de Maⁿ-gá'aji éeti t'é tai égaⁿ. Haⁿ'adi jaⁿ'be; wakéga
 We are sick dur- Maⁿ-ga'aji he too is apt to die. Last night I saw him; sick lug pšiji.
 bad.

NOTES.

648, 2. wakeg ede, contr. fr. wakega ede.648, 2. uekud ede, in full uekudaⁿ ede.CanĖe-skā was the chief of the Maⁿčinka-gaxe gens of the Omahas.

TRANSLATION.

Your son, Heqaga jīŋga, is dead. He died on Sunday. By the by, he died after being sick only a few days. He was a kind man, but he is dead. The Omahas are very sad. All the chiefs, and the young men, too, even the common people, are sad. All the nation regarded him as the most excellent young man whom they had, but they have lost him by death. Therefore all the people are sad. As he was your son, I send you a letter that you may hear about him. We have sickness among us, and Maⁿ-ga'aji, too, is apt to die. I saw him last night. His sickness is bad.

MAQPIYA-QAGA AND OTHERS, TO WIRUKRAⁿ NIÑE. 1878.

- ɕijjin'ge aⁿba waqúbe tē'di t'é hā. ɕaná'aⁿ tégaⁿ waqin'ha ádaⁿ
 Your son day mysterious on the dead . You hear it in order that paper therefore
 cuééñe. Wikáge wé'tai taⁿwaⁿgəaⁿ bəúgaqti wéəa-bajji hā. Níkagáhi I send it to you. My friend dead to us nation all we are sad Chief amá etí bəúga gí'əa-bajji. ɕijjin'ge ikáge amá wan'giəe wakéga-bajji hā. 3 the (pl. too all are sad. Your son his friend the (pl. all are not sick sub.) Wawákega-bajji hā. ɕijjin'ge enáqtei wakégaí, t'é. Níaciⁿga uckúdaⁿ, kí We have not been sick . Your son he only was sick, dead. Person kind, and t'é hā. Kí aⁿniⁿ' taⁿgataⁿ. Éátaⁿ aⁿéigaxo taité aⁿəaⁿ'bahaⁿ-bajji.
 dead . And we live will. How we do for you shall we do not know.
 Wikáge aká Kieké aká caⁿge wiⁿ gí'í hā, t'é ké'. Kí Ūhaⁿ-jín'ga, 6
 My friend the (sub.) Kieke the (sub.) horse one gave his dead the (fig. obs.). And Ūhaⁿ-jín'ga.
 Gahíge-wadaéínge, ɣebáha, caⁿ ɕaná'aⁿ tégaⁿ gúəaⁿ cuéəankiəai.
 Gahíge-wadaéínge, ɣebaha, now (or well) you hear it in order that ob. we send it to you.
 Gahíge-wadaéínge igáqəaⁿ ɕagəai tē'di t'é hā. Caⁿ' wabáqəeze ɕéəaⁿ Gahíge-wadaéínge his wife you went homeward when dead . And letter this ob.
 enhi wíutaŋgáqti cí wiⁿ' íəa-gā há. Aⁿéina'aⁿ aŋgaⁿ'əai. 9 reaches you just as soon as again one send hither ! We hear about you we desire.

NOTE.

649, 5. aⁿniⁿ' taŋgataⁿ, so understood by the author; but it may be intended for aⁿniⁿ'ja (or aⁿniⁿ'ja) taŋgataⁿ.

TRANSLATION.

Your son died on Sunday. I send you a letter that you may hear it. As we have lost my friend by death, all of us in the nation are sad. All the chiefs, too, are sad. None of your son's friends are sick. We have not been sick. Your son alone was sick and is dead. He was a kind man and he is dead. And we will live. We do not know how we shall do (any thing) for you. My friend, Kieke, gave a horse on account of the dead (man). Ūhaⁿ-jín'ga, Gahíge-wadaéínge, ɣe-baha, Kieke, and I send the letter to you. Gahíge wadaéínge's wife died after you started back. As soon as this letter reaches you send one hither. We desire to hear from you.

MA^NTCU-NA^NBA TO WIYAKOI^N.

September 14, 1878.

Činégi aká Sindé-gčecká úkie aká wabágčeze čéčaⁿ cuččiččé há.
 Your the Spotted Tail paid a the one letter this (ob.) sends it to mother's (sub.) brother friendly who visit to you

Sindé-gčėje gaqčaⁿ aⁿwaⁿwaqa majaⁿ čuⁿ iⁿwiⁿčé čča-gū há. Naⁿbé Spotted Tail migrating whither land the (ob.) to tell me send hither I Hand

3 ubčaⁿ tč agisičč-naⁿ-maⁿ; iⁿbaⁿi čde, agisičč-naⁿ-maⁿ. Majaⁿ dádaⁿ
 I took the I remember from time he call'd hut, I remember from time Land what hold (act) to time; me I to time.

gčiⁿ tatč wágazu anáⁿ kaⁿhča. Caⁿ gaⁿ aⁿwaⁿkega héga-máji, he sit shall straight I hear I wish. At any rate I am sick I not a little,

Umaⁿhaⁿ aⁿgataⁿ wawákega héga-báji Čenujin'ga wahčhaji'qti dāxe Omaha we who stand we are sick not a little. Young man very stout-hearted I made
 him

6 kč iⁿt'e há, ádaⁿ iⁿča-máji há, iⁿča-máji héga-máji. Heqaga-jin'ga the dead I am and I am sad I not a little. Little Elk (recl. ob.) there-fore

ijáje ačiⁿ. Hau. Čéna 'fwikíčč. Ie djúbaqtei cuččáčč.
 his he had. ¶ I though I have spoken Word very few I send to you.
 name with you.

NOTES.

Maⁿtcu-naⁿba, Two Grizzly bears, or Cude-nazi, "Yellow Smoke" (of the white people) was the leading chief of the Omaha Hañga gens up to 1880. Wiyakoiⁿ, or Feather ear-ring, is a Yankton, Dakota, chief.

650, 1. Sindé-gčecká, the Omaha notation of the Teton Dakota Sinte glecka (Sinte gleška); the regular Omaha and Ponka equivalent is Sinte gčėje (line 2).

TRANSLATION.

Your mother's brother, who went to visit Spotted Tail, sends this letter to you. Send me word to what land Spotted Tail has removed. From time to time do I think how I shook hands with him. I also remember how he invited me to visit him. I desire to hear truly in what sort of land he is dwelling. I am very sick; we Omahas have much sickness among us. I have lost by death a young man whom I regarded as very stout-hearted. Therefore I am grieved. I am very sad. His name was Heqaga-jin'ga.

I have spoken enough with you. I send you a very few words.

652 THE ČEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

will hear that. And my wife is sick. I am apprehensive about your going to the Ponkas. I hope that you may not go. By Sunday the threshers will have returned to this place. Your elder brother made twenty wagon-loads of hay, which he has in his barn. He has done very well with the barn. When you receive the letter which I send you, and look at it, give me one in return. Tell me how you are getting along. I wish to hear it.

MANTCU-NA^NBA TO PAWNEE JOE. 1878.

Caⁿ waqiⁿ'ha pahan'gadⁱ c^tē euč^ēwikič^ē-naⁿ-maⁿ' tiaⁿ'čakič^ēji caⁿ'caⁿ.
Now paper formerly at various times I used to send to you by some one you have not sent hither to me always.

Nikaciⁿ'ga majaⁿ' čaaⁿ'na nai tē jaⁿ'be xi, iⁿ'ča-m^ēji-naⁿ-maⁿ'. Nikaciⁿ'ga Indian laud you abandoned went the I see when, I am sad from time to time. People

3 wiwⁱja naⁿ'ba Umaⁿ'ha-jin'ga wⁱniⁿ' maⁿ'niⁿ'- bⁱdaⁿ čskaⁿ čaⁿ'ēwač^ēč^ē my two young Omaha you keep you walk and (pl.) oh that you have pity on them kaⁿ'b^ēgaⁿ. Ūdaⁿ'qti awⁱgⁱnaⁿ'aⁿ kaⁿ'b^ēga. Ki ukⁱt^ē čaⁿ'ha caⁿ' Ač^ēbahu, I hope. Very good I hear of them, my own I wish. And foreigner border for ex-ample. Arapaho,

Maqpiyaⁿ, Pⁱdaⁿka, Čⁱhič^ēga, jaⁿ'ze, Waⁱjaⁿje, Uⁱgaⁿpa, Paⁿ'ka, gⁱna
Arapaho, Comanche, Cheyenne, Kansas, Osage, Quapaw, Ponka, that number

6 wač^ētaⁿ'be xi, ūdaⁿ maⁿ'niⁿ' ādaⁿ aⁿ'č^ēsič^ēji. Ki wⁱ, wič^ēč^ē-naⁿ-maⁿ'.
you see them it, good you walk there-fore me you forget. And I, I remember you from time to time

Wič^ēti, ukⁱt^ē dⁱūba iⁿ'teaⁿ waⁿ'be hⁱ. Sind^ē-g^ēčeka taⁿ'waⁿ'g^ē č^ēā
I too, foreigner some now I have seen them Spotted Tail nation his amⁱ, taⁿ'waⁿ'g^ē č^ēā d^ēč^ēba, waⁿ'be hⁱ.

the (pl. sub.), nation (or gens) seven, I have seen them

9 Hau. Waⁿ'be nikaciⁿ'ga wiwⁱja caⁿ'ge g^ēčba-d^ēčab^ēiⁿ ki č^ēdⁱ
I I saw them Indian (or people) my own horse eighty and on it

d^ēč^ēba waⁿ'i Čaaⁿ' amⁱ. Wⁱ ūju min^kč^ē Sind^ē-g^ēčeka caⁿ'g^ēgiⁿ pⁱ seven gave to us Dakota the (pl. sub.). I prin- cipal I who Spotted Tail riding a horse I reached there aⁿ'i. Mik^ōji nikagⁱhi ūju čⁱnk^ē waiⁿ' wiⁿ' ūdaⁿ-qti wiⁿ' pⁱ č^ēde čⁱ

I gave to him. Minnecon- jon chief prin- cipal the one who robe one very good one I but again reached there 12 aⁿ'i hⁱ Dⁱdaⁿ wiⁿ'č^ētē in^ēgⁱxa-bⁱji pⁱ. Maⁿ'jaⁿ' āgⁱdi wⁱgⁱazu ag^ēiⁿ' xi, I gave to him What even one they did not do for me I was there. Land where straight I sit when, aⁿ'č^ēgietaⁿ'be te hⁱ, aⁿ'i hⁱ, Sind^ē-g^ēčeka iⁿ'č^ēiⁿ'gai. Wⁱč^ēaha, unⁱjiⁿ you may see me, your own said he Spotted Tail said the fore-going to me. Clothing, shirt āb^ēaha g^ē, zanⁱ'qti awⁱ'i. Utaⁿ' g^ē'eti, caⁿ' hiⁿ'b^ē g^ē'eti, awⁱ'i. B^ēuga

I wore the pl. every one I gave to them. Leg- the too, even mocca- sin pl. ob. the too, I gave to them. The whole 15 awⁱ'i hⁱ.

I gave to them

Hau. Gañ'xi fí maⁿniⁿ, e'aⁿ maⁿniⁿ, údaⁿ maⁿniⁿ égaⁿ iⁿwiⁿé
 ¶ And now you you walk, how you walk, good you walk so to tell me ípa-gǎ. Winá'aⁿi kaⁿbǎ. Caⁿ gañ'xi ǎǎiⁿ níkaǎíhi ána t'ai tǒ aná'aⁿ send to me. I hear about I wish. Well and now Pawnee the chief how have the I hear it you (pl.) many died kaⁿbǎ. Ci cénujin'ga wahǎhaji kí wanáce wahǎhaji ána t'ai tǒ 3
 I wish. Again young man stout-hearted and police stout-hearted how have the many died
 aná'aⁿ kaⁿbǎ.
 I hear it I wish.

Ahau. Ci waǎte ekáxe ké, wataⁿ'zi ǎǎíekaxe ké uǎket'aⁿ éiⁿte, ¶ Again food you make the (ob.), corn you make for the you have ac- perhaps, quired yourself
 caⁿ' aná'aⁿ kan'bǎ. Ci wamúské uǎǎi ké' etí uǎket'aⁿ éiⁿte aná'aⁿ 6 still I hear it I wish. Again wheat you the too you acquire it perhaps I hear it planted (ob.)
 kaⁿbǎ. Ci ǎé wanáte, ǎé amá úhiácka wanáte aná'aⁿ kaⁿbǎ.
 I wish. Again but- you eat them, but. the close by you eat them I hear it I wish.
 faló (sub.)

Hau. Ci úckaⁿ wiⁿ' wiwíja uwíǎa téinke. Waǎte aǎíǎaxe ¶ Again dead one my I tell to you will. Food I make for myself héga: wamúské wégaⁿ'ze kúge ǎǎǎiⁿ uǎket'aⁿ, ǎawí uǎǎi égaⁿ uǎket'aⁿ. 9 a little: wheat measure box three I have ac- I have acquired, quired.
 Ci wataⁿ'zi ké ci ékigaⁿ. Wáge waqtá eǎí, cé, núǎǎe, majaⁿ'qǎ,
 Again corn the again like it. White vegeta- their, apple, turnip, onion, (ob.) man ble
 ǎaⁿ'xi etí, nú etí, húzi ǎaⁿ'ga etí, naⁿ'pa etí, caⁿ' wáge waqtá-jínga parsnip too, potato too, grape large too, cherry too, in fact white small vegetable
 man
 ujǎi gǎ bǎǎga bǎǎjut'aⁿ, uhíǎǎe. Kí wáge amá ǎéama píqti wackaⁿ' 12 planted the whole I have brought I have And white the (pl. these anow to make an pl. in ob. to maturity, raised. man sub.) effort aⁿ'agǎǎi, "Uǎǎǎi'agǎǎi-gǎ," aǎ há. Níkaciⁿ'ga wahǎhaji'qti naⁿ'ba iⁿ't'ai they have Do not be lazy, they Person very stout-hearted two have died commanded me. say to me

há. ǎǎǎiⁿ-ǎahíge ijin'ge, Heǎǎga-jin'ga, t'é há.
 Pawnee Chief his son, Little Elk, dead
 Hau. Wacúce cénujin'ga cénaⁿ'ba áta aǎǎaxai, kí aǎíǎa t'ai há. 15
 ¶ Bravo young man those two excel- made, and both died
 lent

Taⁿ'waⁿ'ǎǎaⁿ wéǎa-bǎǎi. Caⁿ' Umaⁿ'haⁿ-jin'ga-ma aǎíǎa wagína'aⁿ wakiǎǎ-gǎ!
 Nation we are sad. Now the young Omahas (pl. ob.) both cause them to hear about them,
 their own.

Akíǎa wagína'aⁿ túbace. Úwagíǎǎ-gǎ Umaⁿ'haⁿ-jin'ga.
 Both they must hear about them, Tell to them young Omaha.

Ahau. Majaⁿ' íepahaⁿ Umaⁿ'haⁿ majaⁿ' eǎí bǎǎga bǎǎǎbǎ. 18 ¶ Land you know it Omaha land their the whole I have pulverized.

Wiⁿ'áqteí iⁿ'teqí: wanúǎǎe, ǎéskǎ, kúkusi, wajin'ga-jíde, cetanⁿ' úhíǎi
 Just one hard for domestic ani- cow, hog, chicken, so far many me: mal.

wǎǎǎiⁿ-mǎǎi. Uǎǎǎe'qteí waqíⁿ'ha níze ǎí, ǎiaǎ'kíǎǎ-gǎ, waqíⁿ'ha égaⁿ
 I do not have them. Very soon paper you when, cause to be return- paper such (for ing hither, like)

654 THE OEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

wi ^{n'} one.	Íe Word	áhig. many	gian'kié-gā. cause to be return- ing hither.	Cubéé I go to you	ka ^{n'} béa I wish	etéwa ^{n'} even though	béí'a-na ^{n'} -ma ^{n'} I have failed from time to time.
I ^{n'} teqi há Hard for me	Cu ^{n'} Well,	maja ^{n'} I and	ákiliíde, I attend to it,	áda ^{n'} there- fore	cubéé I go to you	ka ^{n'} béa I wish	béí'a-na ^{n'} -ma ^{n'} I have failed from time to time.
3 a ^{n'} baéé to-day	máéé winter	uúgacibe throughout	wíja ^{n'} be I see you	ka ^{n'} hē I wished	éde but	béí'a I fail	xí, when
cubéé-máji I do not go to you	xí it.	Uma ^{n'} 'ha ^{n'} -má The Omahas	écamá these	a ^{n'} baéé to-day	wakéga sick	héga-báji, not a little,	áda ^{n'} there- fore
nikaci ^{n'} ga Indian	wahéhaji about-hearted	na ^{n'} ba two	t'ai há. died	Cín'gajia ^{n'} ga Child	wa'ú woman	edábe also	t'ai há. died
6 wakéga sick	faná'a ^{n'} you hear it	te may	waqi ^{n'} ha paper	cuécaéé. I send to you.	Céna Enough	fe word	cuééwikiéé. I send to you by (some one).
wéduba the fourth	té'di on the	Wacúce Wacuco	t'é. dead.	(Ma ^{n'} tcú-na ^{n'} ba) Two Grizzly bears	isan'ga his younger brother	júgigéé he with his own	baxúí, writes,
Mitcáppe-jín'ga Little Star	ijáje his name	aéi ^{n'} he has.

NOTES.

652, 4. Aqabahu, evidently Ma^{n'}ten-na^{n'}ba's notation of Arapaho, the real name of the latter being Maqpiya to, given in the text as Maqpiyaú. This last is the Omaha and Ponka notation of the tribal name.

652, 8. ta^{n'}wa^{n'}gáa^{n'} deéa^{n'}ba, the seven villages or peoples of the Teton Dakota may be intended, rather than the Otceti cakowi^{n'} or Seven Council fires, i. e., the whole Dakota nation. Mikooji, the Omaha notation of Mikooju or Minneconjou, is one of the seven Teton divisions.

652, 9. For "Waja^{n'}be" read "Waja^{n'}be tédi," when I saw them.

654, 7. The name Ma^{n'}ten-na^{n'}ba is supplied by the author in order to complete the sense. It was understood by the senders of the letter.

TRANSLATION.

Though I sent you letters at various times, you have never sent me any. I am sad when I behold the Indian land which you abandoned when you went away. I hope that you have pitied my two Omaha young men whom you have kept. I wish to hear a very good account of them. You are on good terms with the neighboring tribes, the Arapahos, Comanches, Cheyennes, Kansas, Osages, Quapaws, and Ponkas; therefore you forget me. And I, for my part, am thinking about you very often. I, too, have just seen some nations. I have seen the tribe of Spotted Tail, the Seven Nations.

When I saw them the Dakotas gave to my Indians eighty-seven horses. I, the principal one, for my part, gave to Spotted Tail the horse on which I had ridden to him. I gave to the principal Minneconjou chief a very good robe which I took there. I was there without their doing anything at all for me in return. Spotted Tail said to me, "When the question of my land is fully settled you may see me." I gave to them all the clothing, the shirts which I wore. I gave them the leggins and moccasins too. I gave them everything.

And now with reference to your own condition, send me word how you are getting along, whether you are doing well. I desire to hear from you. And I wish to hear how many of the Pawnee chiefs have died. I also wish to hear how many of the stout-hearted young men and policemen have died.

And I wish to hear how you are succeeding with your food, what you have done towards raising a crop of corn. And with reference to the buffalo which you eat, I wish to hear whether the buffalo which you eat are close by (your land).

I will tell you one of my deeds. I have made a little food for myself. I have acquired 3,000 bushels of wheat; what I have acquired is difficult to be counted. And so it is with the corn. And as to the vegetables of the white people, apples, turnips, onions, parsnips, potatoes, large grapes, cherries, in fact, all the small vegetables (and fruits) of the white people have I brought to perfection. I have raised them. And these white people have told me to make another attempt. They say, "Do not be lazy."

I have lost two very stout-hearted men. Pawnee Chief's son, Little Elk, is dead.

We prized Brave and the young man just named, above all others, yet both died. We people are sad. Cause both of the Omaha young men who are with you to hear about (the deaths of) these two. Both must hear about (the deaths of) their kinsmen. Tell the young Omahas!

I have pulverized (made fallow) the whole Omaha land which you know. Just one thing is hard for me. I have few domestic animals, cows, hogs, chickens. When you get the letter, return a similar one very quickly. Send back many words to me. Even though I have been wishing to go to you, I have been always failing to accomplish my desire. It is hard for me. Yet I attend to the land, therefore I am ever unable to go to see you. Throughout the winter have I wished to see you, but if I can not visit you, you shall hear from me again.

These Omahas are very sick to-day; two stout-hearted men have died. Children and women also have died. Therefore I send a letter to you that you may hear of the sickness. I have written enough to you. Brave died on Thursday. (Maⁿteu-naⁿba's) younger brother, Little Star, writes with him.

SPAFFORD WOODHULL, AN OMAHA, TO JOHN HERON, PLUM CREEK, NEBR.

September 24, 1878.

Kag'cha, fe djúbaqtei wídxu euécaqé. P'émá nújinga juáwagqé cupí Friend, word very few I write to I send to you. These boy I with them I went to you

amá maⁿzēska wagáxe éfiéⁿ gisíqé-naⁿi édegaⁿ maⁿzēska éíá hégá-búji
the (pl. sub.) money debt they have for you remember it from time to time but money they not a little have failed cetaⁿ. Caⁿ éfi-búji xáci té iⁿfa-múji há. Caⁿ mⁿ naⁿbá tédfhi xi, cupí 3 so far. And they do not a long time I am sad. And moon two it reaches when, I reach to you there you et'gaⁿ, cetaⁿ majaⁿ éagqéⁿ ké'ia. C'éu wataⁿqé waqéci teqaⁿ qehá-naságe apt, that far land you sit at the. There to in place you hired in the hardened buffalo hide

656 THE ʔEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- dúba teʔa^{n'} nájĩnga amá gínú'aⁿ ga^{n'}ʔai ʔéamá. E'a^{n'} ekáxo tē wagáxo tē four in the boy the (pl. to hear of they wish these) How you make the debt the past (the sub.) their own (the sub.) it
- é d'úba iepacéʔa^{n'} tē i'wí^{n'} ʔ ʔa-gá. Gañ ʔi tū^{n'} ʔē ʔieta^{n'} teʔa^{n'} dúba ʔa^{n'} that some you have rubbed the to tell me send hither. And then tanning finished in the four the it out
- 3 wata^{n'} ʔē waʔáci teʔa^{n'} e'a^{n'} ekáxo tē aná'aⁿ ka^{n'} bēa, wfeŋ. Wágazúqti to tan hides you hired in the how you make the I hear it I wish, I too. Very straight them past it
- i'wí^{n'} ʔ ʔa-gá. Cúpi etégaⁿ ca^{n'} ʔádiʔai i'ʔin'ginahi^{n'} tēdhi ʔi, cúpi to tell to send hither. I reach apt now ag-nt willing for me, his in case that, I reach me you you own
- tá minke. Cēna wawíʔaxu euʔéʔe há. Ca^{n'} uqʔé'qtei gʔia^{n'} ʔukiʔe
 I will. Enough I write them to I send it to And very soon you cause to have you you you returned to me
- 6 waqí^{n'} ha.
 paper.

NOTES.

The writer, Pidaiga, belongs to the Omaha ʔeda-it'ajl sub-gens of the ʔatada gens. He and other Omahas owe Mr. Heron some money. They ask in this letter what he intends doing about the hides which they had tanned for him. Will he credit them for the hides, and so allow them to cancel part of their debt?

655, 4. ʔeha-nasage, to be distinguished from ʔaha-nuʔa, a green hide.

TRANSLATION.

My friend, I send you a very few words in writing. These young men with whom I visited you have thought from time to time of what they owe you, but so far they have utterly failed to pay their debt. And I am sad because they have given you nothing for a long time.

These young men wish to hear about the four buffalo hides which you hired them to tan when we were with you. Send word hither whether you will cancel part of the debt with (this work on) them, and how you propose doing. And I, too, wish to hear how you will allow for the four hides which you hired them to tan. Send and tell me just how it is. Now, I am apt to reach your land, that is, if the agent is willing for me to go I will come to you. I have sent you enough in writing. You (will please) send a letter back very quickly.

WAQPECA, AN OMAHA, TO TATAŊKA-MANI, A YANKTON.

September 25, 1878.

- Wabáʔeʔe wiⁿ euʔéwikiʔe. I'ʔa-máji héga-máji. Isan'ga wja t'é Letter one I send for you. I am very sorrowful. His younger brother my dead
- há, údaⁿ waqí^{n'} ha euʔéʔe. Wagiaⁿ-ma^{n'} zē, wikáge, uʔa-gá. Pahan'gadi there paper I send to you. Wagiaⁿ-ma^{n'} zē, my friend, tell it to him. Formerly
- 9 wacta^{n'} be tē údaⁿ qti égaⁿ ji há. Can'ge cáde waʔáʔi-má etē ʔin'gá, é wa'fi.
 you saw us the very good not so Horse six the ones which are want- that are you gave us you gave us even ing given away

Cé'ja	pl	ag'gi	té'di,	wáteigáxe	atí:	can'go	waçin'gôqtia'i.	Çaná'a'n
There	where	I	I came	back	when.	to dance	they horse	we had none at all.
you are								You hear it
wika'bên.	Çisan'ga	can'go	çingé	hé'ga-báji.	Úeka'n	wi''	pláji	hé'ga-báji
I desire for you.	Your younger	horse	he is very	dutiful of.	Dead	one	bad	very
	brother
uwibên	enénçé.	Wawákega	dúba	ja''	çi,	t'é-na'i,	níkaci'n'	ga áhigi	t'ai.
I tell you	I send to you.	We are sick	four	sleep	when,	they usually	person	many	have die,				died
Cin'gajin'ga	çija	awúna'a'n	ka''bên.	Çiji'n'çé	eti	e'a''i	çí'te	awúna'a'n	ka''bên.
Child	your	I hear of them	I wish.	Your elder	too	how	they	I hear of them	I desire.
				brother			may be

NOTES.

657, 1. Céta pi ag'gi té'di wáteigáxe atí. Waqpeca gave another reading, as an equivalent: B'ja enégaçi enégaçi té'di çihniñké'ja wáteigáxe atí. When we returned

There we reached we had when at you (=at to dance they came.

from our visit to you, those who dwell at your place came hither to dance.

657, 2. Çisañga, i. e. Waqpeca.

TRANSLATION.

I send a letter for you. I am very sorrowful. My younger brother is dead; therefore I send you a letter. Tell it to my friend Wagia'-ma'zê. When you saw me formerly I was doing very well, but it is not so (now). The six horses which you gave us are wanting; they have been given away. On my return from visiting you they came to dance; (but) we had no horses at all! I wish you to hear it. Your younger brother is very destitute of horses! I send to tell you a very bad thing: when any of us are sick for four days the sick ones usually die. Thus many persons have died. I wish to hear about your children. I wish to hear about your elder brothers also, how they are.

GAHIGE. AN OMAHA, TO WIYAKOI^s, A YANKTON.

September 28, 1878.

Dadlha,	i''ta''	a''baçé	téqi	içápaha''.	Ca''	edáda'',	dadlha,	wéçigça''
Father,	now	to-day	trouble	I know it.	And	what,	O father,	plan
etéwa''	çingé.	I''tea''	a''ba	waqúbe	çéke	Kagé	té há,	Wacúce	ijáje soever	there is none.	Now	day	mysterious	this	Fourth	dead	Wacúce	his he had.
						son		name
Mañdañ	çí''	uñça-gá.	Çi,	dadlha,	cénujin'ga	átaqti,	Heqága-jin'ga,	çi	t'é
Mandan	told him.	Again,	father,	young man	very ex-	cellent.	Little Elk,	again	dead
há.	Ta''wa''gça''	i''ta''	wawákega	héga-báji	éga''	wéçigça''	etéwa''	çingé.
	Nation	now	we are very sick	as	plan	soever	there is	none.
Waqi''ha	wi''	dadlha,	Heqága-ma''	çí''	tíçé	ça''	a''ça''baha''-báji,	níaci''ga
Paper	one.	O father,	Hehaka-mani	cause it	the	to come	we do not know it,	Indian (oh.)

658 THE ČEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- ukéčⁱⁿ baxúⁱ čaⁿ égaⁿ. fe tš wiⁿdéna na^a'i éde fe číta na^a'gaⁿ čai.
common it was written the as. Word the one-half they heard but word your to hear wish
- fe áhigi íbahaⁿ'ji égaⁿ, ádaⁿ waqⁱ'ha íwimáxe eučénčš. Dádaⁿ é wakaí Word many he did not know as, there-fore paper I ask you I send to you. What that he means
- 3 tš aⁿná'aⁿ aŋgaⁿ'čai há. Níkaciⁿ'ga-ma, dadíha, Umaⁿ'ha-má, pí the we hear it we wish The people, O father, the Omahas, anew
- ča'čwačá-gá. Wéčigčaⁿ údaⁿ wegáxa-gá. Iⁿdádi čingč čaⁿ'ja, dadíha, pity them! Plan good make for them. My father there is none though, O father,
- čaniⁿ'ja tš iⁿ'udaⁿ'qti anájiⁿ. Umaⁿ'ha-má ča'čwačáčš égaⁿ čéhe há, you live the very good for me I stand. The Omahas you pity them so I say that
- 6 taⁿ'waⁿgčaⁿ' čaⁿ.
nation the.

NOTE.

657, 9. Waqⁱ'ha wiⁿ, dadíha, etc. This order has been corrected by three Omahas, who gave two readings: 1. If "wiⁿ" be dropped, read, Dadíha, waqⁱ'ha Heqága maⁿ'čⁱ tíčš čaⁿ aⁿčaⁿ'bahaⁿ-báji, O father, we do not understand the letter which Walking Elk has sent hither. 2. If the "wiⁿ" be retained, read, Dadíha, Heqága maⁿ'čⁱ waqⁱ'ha wiⁿ tíčš édegaⁿ aⁿčaⁿ'bahaⁿ-báji há', O father, Walking Elk has sent a letter hither, but we do not understand it. Walking Elk had sent a letter, written in Omaha, asking about a certain herb.

TRANSLATION.

My father, on this very day I experience trouble. O father, I can come to no decision whatever. During this present week he whom we called "Fourth son" has died; his name was Wacuce. Tell Mawataⁿna. Furthermore, father, a most excellent young man, Little Elk, is dead. We have much sickness in the nation at present, and so there is nothing to be done. Father, we do not understand the letter which Heháka mani has sent, as it is written in the Indian language. The Omahas understand about one-half of the words, but they wish to hear your words. (The reader) did not know many of the words, therefore I send a letter to you to question you. We wish to hear what he means.

O father, pity the Omaha people again. Come to a good decision in their behalf. O father, though I have no father of my own, I am benefited by your being alive. As you have (already?) pitied the Omahas, I say that which I think concerning the nation.

MA^NTCU-NA^BBA TO HEQAKA-MANI AND TATAŅKA-I^NYAŅKE, YANKTONS.

October 3, 1878.

- Heqága maⁿ'çi^a Łaaŋ'ga naŋ'ge éçaⁿ'ba, waqiⁿ'ha tšéačáí čaⁿ bėizě Elk walks Buffalo runs he too, paper which you have I have sent hither taken it
- égaⁿ ɳaⁿ'be hā. Či waqiⁿ'ha čéčaⁿ cučéačé. Wačigčaⁿ etěwaⁿ' čingé hā.
as I have . Again paper this I send to you. Plan soever there is accu is none
- Nikaciⁿ'ga áhigi t'é, cin'gajin'ga wa'ú etí edábe t'é. Níkaciⁿ'ga naⁿ'ba 3 Persons many dead, child woman too also dead. Person two wahčhaji égaⁿ in'tai hā, ádaⁿ axáge-naⁿ-maⁿ' caⁿ'enⁿ. Wacúce Mawádana stout-hearted so have died there I am usually crying always. Wacuce Mandan to me
- in'égi činké t'é hā, é niníba ačín' činké éde t'é hā. Či áma kě, Heqága-his the one dead he pipe had the one but dead . Again other the, Little mother's who
(ant) who (ant)
- jin'ga ijáje ačín'. Nłaciⁿ'ga wahčhajičti wačáxai éde t'ai hā. łepahaⁿ 6 Elk his name he had. Person very stout-hearted I made them but they are dead You know
him
- etaí, dúdaŋagáčiⁿ caŋ'ge wiⁿ éčaoniⁿ čatí, caŋ'ge aⁿ'paⁿ-hiⁿ-égaⁿ tē, é ought, we sat on this side horse one you brought here horse the color of elk hair the, that
for him,
- Heqága-jin'ga ijáje ačín' kě. Čéjataⁿ caŋ'ge wáčiⁿ agčí, wačá'i-ma bėúga Little Elk his name he had the (fig. ob.) From yon- der place horse they brought them back those you gave all hither
- iⁿ'maⁿ'čuⁿ'i Húŋaŋa amá. Wakéga tē cetaⁿ'ha aⁿ'čietaⁿ' etěwaⁿ'ji, ádaⁿ 9 have stolen Winnebago the (pl. (sub.)). Sick the so far stopped on not at all, there from me (ant)
- daⁿ'qti iⁿ'pi-máji héga-máji. Ičéu agčíⁿ tē'di níkaciⁿ'ga áhigi in'tai, ádaⁿ beyond I am sad not a little. I talk I sit when person many have died there- fore measure
- naŋ'dé iⁿ'pi-máji hā. Kí čéčé wiwŋa amá, Paŋ'ka amá, wébaⁿ tšéai hā, heart I am sad . And kin- dred my the (pl. sub.), Ponka the (pl. to invite have sent us hither
- éde bēc taté ičápahaⁿ-máji hā, aⁿ'wan'kega anájiⁿ égaⁿ. Céamá Čaaⁿ'qti amá 12 but I go shall I do not know I am sick I stand as. Those Real Dakota the (pl. sub.)
- Sindé-gčécka dádaⁿ wéčigčaⁿ gáxai aná'aⁿ kaⁿ'bča Maⁿ'zėska' etí bėiza-máji, Spotted Tail what plan they make I hear it I wish. Money too I have not received,
- wáge amá aⁿ'i-báji. Čaŋ'ge cėnawáčé égaⁿ aⁿ'waⁿ'qpani héga-máji, caⁿ' white the (pl. they have not made an end of as I am very poor, and man sub.) given to me. them
- waqiⁿ'ha cučéwikičé, fe džúbačti cučéwikičé. 15
paper I cause (some one) word very few I cause (some one) to take it to you.

NOTES.

659, 5. éinke, superfluous (side F.), but given by the chief, who is one of the aged men, and an orator. Perhaps there have been some changes in the language within the past ten years. F. and G. are young men.

659, 5. e, superfluous, side F. In the next line F. reads "wadxé," referring it to one man, Little Elk; but Ma'ten na'ba said, "wadxai," and seemingly referred to both men.

659, 7. *dudañgaçi*ⁿ, contr. of *duda añaçi*ⁿ.

659, 8. Cejata, etc. F. at first accepted this reading, having inserted the commas after "agçi" and "waça'i-ma." Subsequently he gave the following reading: Ocjata cañ'ge wáçiⁿ agçi-i-ma, waça'i-i-ma, bę́ga wéma'çaⁿi há Hą́gañga amá, The Winnebago have stolen from us all the horses which you gave us, and which we brought back from yonder place where you are. But G. says that Ma'ten na'ba used "i'ma'çaⁿi," as he spoke as a chief, regarding his people's horses as his own.

659, 9. Wakega té, etc. F. and G. read, Wakéga té' a'w'četaⁿ ctéwaⁿ máji há, ádaⁿ da'qti i'pimáji há, The sickness has not stopped on me at all, therefore I am much sadder than I have ever been.

659, 12. bę́tate, etc. As Ma'ten na'ba spoke for his tribe, this sentence would be, if expressed in ordinary language, Éde ańgáęe taité a'čaⁿbahaⁿ.báji há, wawákega a'nájiⁿ égaⁿ, in the 1st. pers. pl.

TRANSLATION.

O Walking Elk and Running Buffalo, I have received and read the letter which has come. And I send this letter to you. I can not come to any decision. Many persons are dead, including women and children. Two very stout-hearted men have died, so I am crying incessantly. Wacuce (or, Brave), the mother's brother of your Mawata'na, and the one who has been the keeper of the sacred pipes, is dead. The other dead man was named Little Elk. I regarded them as very stout-hearted men, but they are dead. You ought to know one of them, Little Elk. When we dwelt on this side of (Omaha Creek?) you brought a horse to give to him. It was a dun horse. The Winnebagos have stolen from me all the horses which the Omahas received from you and brought back to yonder place(?). The sickness has not yet stopped its violence among my people in the least degree, therefore I am much sadder than I have ever been. Even while I sit talking thus many persons have been lost to me by death, therefore I am sad. And my relations, the Ponkas, have sent here to invite us to visit them, but we do not know whether we shall go or not, because we still have sickness among us. I wish to hear what plans have been made by those real Dakotas, who are under Spotted Tail. I have received no money, as the white people have given me none. I am very poor because the horses have been expended, so I send you a letter by some one, I send you a very few words by some one.

WAQPECA TO TATAŃKA-MANI.

October 9, 1878.

Wágazúqti winá'aⁿ tē nán'de i'u'da^a há. Cin'gajin'ga wiwíu eístēē-Very straight I have heard the heart good for me Child my usually from you remembers naⁿ'i. Wa'ú wiwíu eístēē-naⁿ'i. Waqí'ha cuaf tē'di nú sátaⁿ wahčhaji'qti you. Woman my usually remem- Paper want to when man five very stout-hearted bers you.
 t'ai há. Caⁿ' edáda^a cañ'gaxai bēúgaqti aṅgúket'aⁿ'i. Wamúskē eti 3 have And what they have done the whole we have acquired. Wheat too died aṅgúji kē aṅgúket'aⁿ'i. Iⁿ'ta^a ēcēta^aēcē ēcē ēcēta-ma bēúgaqti awásiwe sowed the we have acquired. Now from this time kin. those who are the whole I re-forward dred your ēcē-naⁿ-maⁿ' tātē, ebēgaⁿ. Gebēē tātē, ebēgaⁿ. Wācutáda ē'ja bēē tātē, member them from shall, I think that. I go that shall, I think that. Oto to I go shall, time to time way (pointed out) ebēgaⁿ. Aⁿ'ba waqúbe naⁿbá tēdhi xi, Umaⁿ'ha amá d'úba afe taitē, 6
 I think that. Day mysterious two by that time, Omaha the (pl. some they go shall,
 sub.)
 ebēgaⁿ. Wakéga ēbēiⁿ'ha eáwagaⁿ'i. Aⁿ'ba waqúbe wi'áqteci xi'etē
 I think that. Sick in three so we are (?). Week just one even ways (?) when t'c-naⁿ'i. Niaciⁿ'ga amá ní-masániajá-ma e'aⁿ'i ā. Awána'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa, they usually die. Person the (pl. those on the other side of how are I I hear about I wish, sub.) the river they them
 Síndē-gēcka xi-ma.
 Spotted Tail those in his village.

NOTES.

661, 3. cañgaxai, in full, caⁿ aṅgaxai.

661, 5. gebēē tātē, I shall go that way (pointed out, and understood by both parties, though the way is not described fully).

661, 8. Niaciⁿ'ga ama, Spotted Tail's people, who were at this time dwelling on the old Ponka Reservation, in Todd County, Dakota Territory, nearly opposite the Yankton Village at Choteau Creek.

TRANSLATION.

I am glad to hear such a full account of you. My child and my wife generally think of you. Just as this letter starts to you five of the most stout-hearted men among us have died. We have succeeded in all that we have undertaken. We have done well, too, with the wheat which we sowed. Now from this time forward I think that I shall remember all of your kindred from time to time. I think that I shall go that way. I think that I shall go to the Otos. I think that in two weeks some of the Omahas shall depart. We have three kinds of sickness among us (?). The sick ones usually die when they have been ill not more than a week. How are those people on the other side of the Missouri River? I wish to hear about them, that is, the people in Spotted Tail's village.

ICTAΦABI, AN OMAHA, TO HEQAGA-SABĒ, A PONKA, AT YANKTON AGENCY, DAK.

October 14, 1878.

Wawákegal. Wacúce t'é, Heqága-jín'ga t'é, ǵahé-tap'ē t'é, Cúǵa-
We have been sick. Wacúce dead, Little Elk dead, ǵahé-tap'ē dead, Cúǵama'ǵi' t'é, níkačig'a úda'qti t'ai há. Wa'u wiwíha wí cénm'ba, wawákegal, ma'ǵi' dead, person very good died Woman my I those two, we have been sick, 3 na'jic'eké'qtei a'ni'ǵai. A'ni'ǵa ǵi, wísiǵē há, áda' wawíǵaxú. Cé-ma barely we are alive. We are alive when, I remem- there- I write things to Those ber you fore you.
 cín'ǵajín'ga-ma Ihañ'kta'wi' d'úba wiwíha-má wadáxe-má úwagiǵa-gā, children Yankton some those who are my those whom I made tell it to them, ta'wa' ǵa'. Maja' ǵa' a'baǵé pǵiǵi héga-báǵi há: a'ba wi' ǵi, village the. Land the to-day is very bad day one when.
 6 níkačig'a na'bú etē t'ai, kǵi ǵábǵi' etē t'ai, kǵi d'úba etē t'ai, a'ba wí'ǵqtei person two for in- died, and three for in- died, and four for in- died, day just one (tance stance)
 ǵi. Kǵi cǵǵa' ǵé cǵhí tē etā'be tē ékita'há wai'wí'ǵaxú-gā. Ca' e'a' when. And that this reaches the you see it the at the same write things to me. Now how (ev. ob.) time
 ǵanǵi' ǵi, wai'ǵǵǵaxú ka'ǵǵa. I'wi'ǵ ǵǵa-gā you stand if, you write things I wish. To tell me send to me,
to me

NOTES.

662, 3 and 4. Cé-ma . . . úwagiǵa-gā. This sentence may be expressed differently, thus: Ihañ'kta'wi' d'úba cé-ma cín'ǵajín'ga wadáxe-ma úwagiǵa-gā.
Yankton some those children those whom I tell it to them.
made (or adopted)

662, 7. ǵé is superfluous (F.).

TRANSLATION.

We have been sick. Wacúce, Little Elk, ǵahé-tap'ē and Cúǵa-ma'ǵi', who were very good men, have died. My wife and I have been sick, and we barely escaped dying. As we live, I remember you, therefore I write several things to you.
 Tell some of those Yanktons in the tribe, those whom I regard as my children. This country is very bad to day; in one day two, three, or even four persons die. And when this letter reaches you, and you see it, write to me in return one of equal length and about several topics. I wish you to write to me how you are progressing. Send hither to tell me.

LION TO BATTISTE DEROIN AND THE OTO CHIEFS.

October 9, 1878.

- Kag'cha, uwkie cué'acé Kag'cha, wiha^{n'}be ka^{n'}bé'ede a^{n'}wan'kega há.
 My friend, I speak to you I send to you. My friend, I see you I wish, but I am sick
- Angíni yi, cupí tá minke, wiha^{n'}be tá minke. Kí i^{n'}tea^{n'} Uma^{n'}ha^{n'} amá
 I recover when, I reach you will I who, I see you will I who. And now Omaha the (pl. sub.)
- cupí-máji ca^{n'}té ca^{n'}é 'icé-na^{n'}i. Ca^{n'}é 'icé té ubé'age: wawákega 3
 I do not reach you yet going to you they usually speak of it. Going to you speak the I am unwilling! we are
- héga-báji, kí éfeti waékega. Ata^{n'} angíni yi, ékita^{n'}há cañgáhi tañ'gata^{n'} very sick, and you too you are sick. When I recover when, at the same time we shall reach you
- éfskié. Wawásninde tañ'gata^{n'} wamúské ké na^{n'}jú éi'af; éicta^{n'}i yi, all together. We shall delay wheat the thresh they fin- when, ish have failed;
- cañgáhi tañ'gata^{n'}. Waékega té éat'af té angúcti a^{n'}t'af té i^{n'}éa-máji há. 6 we shall reach you. You are sick the you die the we too we die the I am sad
- Ca^{n'} waqí^{n'}ha é'éa^{n'} níze yi, ugé'qtei cí éga^{n'} waqí^{n'}ha wi^{n'} g'cian'kiéa-gá.
 Now paper this ob. you re. when, very soon again like it paper one send back to me.
- yi^{n'}ba^{n'}na^{n'} cuhi ewéka^{n'}béa-máji. Waqí^{n'}ha na^{n'}hébai-gá, ecé íca^{n'}é taí.
 Missing one another in going to you I do not wish for them. Paper wait ye for it, you you send please, say hither
- Uma^{n'}ha^{n'} má béuga é áwawaké: wí pahan'ga cuhi ka^{n'}béa-máji, éfskié 9
 The Omahas all that I mean: me before to go to you I wish not. all together
- cañgáhi añgáçai ata^{n'}eté.
 we reach you we go at some future time.

NOTES.

Lion was the keeper of the sacred pipe in the Jada gens. He was the friend of Battiste Deroin and Okaçe-yiñe. Battiste is the Oto half-breed interpreter.

663, 4. ekita^{n'}ha refers here to both tribes, Omahas and Otos. There had been much sickness in each tribe, and when both should recover the Omahas intended visiting the Otos.

TRANSLATION.

My friend, I send to you to speak to you. My friend, I wish to see you, but I am sick. When I recover I will come and visit you. (Note by author.—This may be intended for the whole tribe, instead of the speaker alone.) And now the Omahas are speaking of going to you before I do. I am unwilling for them to speak of going to you. We have many sick among us, and you, too, have sickness. When both you and we recover, we shall all come together to see you. We shall delay, as they have not finished threshing the wheat. When they finish it, we will come to you. I am sad because you and we too are losing our people by sickness. When you receive this letter send me back one like it very soon. I do not wish the Omahas and the letter to miss (or pass) one another on the way when the former go to you. I desire you to send word hither, saying, "Stop on the way and wait for a letter!" I refer to all the Omahas. I do not wish them to anticipate me in going to you. At some future day we (will) all go together to visit you.

CKAŁOE-YİNE, A MISSOURI, TO BATTISTE DEROIN.

- C̄eja n̄iaci'ga a'č̄a'n't'ač̄e č̄ink̄e w̄agazu aná'a' ka'w'b̄eja: i'w̄i'č̄e ič̄a-ḡa.
 There person he who is jealous of me straight I hear I wish: to tell me send where you are hither.
- K̄i caḡeč̄ ka'w'b̄eč̄e w̄agazuč̄i, i'w̄teq̄i h̄a. Gañ'q̄i i'w̄i'č̄an̄a t̄ič̄ač̄e, w̄agazu
 And I go back I wish, but it is not straight, it is hard And then you tell to me you send straight to you for me hither.
- 3 aná'a' ka'w'b̄eja. Č̄e wab̄aḡeze č̄a' n̄ize q̄i, uq̄eč̄'q̄tei w̄i' ian'kič̄a-ḡa.
 I hear I wish. This letter the (ob.) you receive it when, very soon one send hither.
- Cin'gajin'ga č̄ič̄a, Bač̄ize, wak̄eja t̄e i'w̄i'č̄a-ḡa: aw̄ana'a' ka'w'b̄eja. Ca'w' Child your, Battiste, sick the tell to me: I hear of them I wish. And Uma'ha'n-madi i'w̄uda'q̄ti an̄q̄i. K̄iku č̄uče-na'ma'w'. A'w̄ba wi'd̄eč̄a among the Omahas very good I stand. Calling to feast I usually am a member. Day part
- 6 t̄e hič̄ač̄ t̄e'di Ume'ha' aná' w̄ateiḡaxe č̄uče-na'ma'w'. W̄ah̄ič̄ač̄a the Saturday on the Omaha the (pl. sub.) dance I usually join. Pottawatomi
- W̄ač̄utada amá ač̄ač̄ č̄i'te aná'a' ka'w'b̄eja. Ač̄a-b̄ač̄i da'w'č̄eč̄a'w̄i, ah̄i Oto the (pl. sub.) went whether I hear it I wish. They did not go for example, they reached there
- da'w'č̄eč̄a'w̄i, aná'a' ka'w'b̄eja. Ed̄ada'w̄ ed̄eč̄e t̄ič̄ač̄e q̄i, caḡeč̄ t̄a minke. Ca'w' for example, I hear it I wish. What what you you send when, I go back I will. And
- 9 caḡeč̄ ka'w'b̄eč̄e i'w̄teq̄i h̄a. T̄eq̄i q̄i'č̄t̄e, caḡeč̄a-m̄ač̄i t̄einke. W̄agazu
 I go back I wish, but difficult for me Difficult if, I will not return to you. Straight
- i'w̄i'č̄an̄a t̄ič̄ač̄e ūda' q̄i, caḡeč̄ t̄a minke. L̄i guč̄ica'w̄ č̄ank̄a č̄ač̄ q̄i, you tell it to me you send it hither good if, I go back I will. Lodge beyond the ones who went if,
- aw̄ana'a' ka'w'b̄eja, w̄agazu. Can'ge-sk̄a (W̄ač̄utada n̄ikaḡahi) Pañ'kaja č̄e
 I hear about I wish, straight. White Horse Oto chief to the Ponkas to go
- 12 'č̄e aná'a' ka'w'b̄eja, w̄agazu. Pañ'kaja č̄e ga'w'č̄ač̄i q̄i, wab̄aḡeze ian'kič̄a-ḡa.
 spoke I hear it I wish, straight. To the Ponkas to he wishes if, letter send to me.

NOTE.

This letter was dictated in Omaha by Lion, acting as interpreter for Ckałoe-yine, who spoke in Oto. Battiste Deroin married the sister of Ckałoe-yine.

TRANSLATION.

I wish to hear the truth about the man yonder, who is jealous of me. Send hither and tell me. I wish to return to you, but affairs are not right, so it is hard for me (to act). Please send and tell me how it is; I wish to hear the exact state of affairs. When you get this letter send me one very soon. Tell me about the sickness of your children, Battiste; I wish to hear about them. I am still dwelling very pleasantly among the Omahas, and I am attending feasts from time to time. I wish to hear whether the Otos went to the Pottawatomis. I wish to hear whether they went or stayed at home. If you send hither and say anything, I will return to you. I still wish to return to you, but it is difficult. If it is (still) difficult, I will not return to you (now). If you send and tell me the truth, and all is well, I will go back to you. I wish to hear about those lodges beyond (your village?), whether they went or not. I wish to hear whether White Horse (the Oto chief) spoke of going to the Ponkas. If he wishes to go to the Ponkas, send me a letter.

MAQPIYA-QAGA TO CÁ-KU-ΦŪ ΦA-KI-TÁ-WE.

October 12, 1878.

Waqiⁿha cuéewikiééé fáⁿ gēfūji éde wíáhaⁿ t'é há fána'aⁿ t(e) ebéégaⁿ Paper I sent by some the has not but my brother- dead you hear it may that I think one to you (ob.) returned in law

waqiⁿha cuééaéé. Níkaciⁿga ékigaⁿqti wíááxe éde wíáan'ge egéan'ge t'é paper I sent to you. Indian just alike I make you but my sister her husband dead
 há. Cin'gajin'ga eá fánká ádaⁿbe éingai ádaⁿ e'aⁿ cubéá-máji. Ifúji té 3 Child his the ones who to look they have there how I do not go to you. House- the after none fore

wakéga-báji uwléa téaⁿ iⁿtaⁿ wakégai, wan'giéé'qti. Cétaⁿ ucté fánká they were not sick I told to you in the past now are sick, every one. So far the rest gigéazu-báji'qtiaⁿi. Sataⁿ jaⁿ xi-naⁿ t'ai há. Wakéga té pláji. Pahan'gadi have not recovered at all. Five sleep when us- they Sick the bad. Formerly ally die

nán'de iⁿudaⁿqti-maⁿ éde, iⁿtaⁿ iⁿfa-máji há. Cubéé ehé téaⁿ cubéá-máji 6 heart very good for me but, now I am sad I sad in the past I go not to you

tá minke há. Waqiⁿha fáⁿ cuhi xi, uqéé'qtei géian'kiéa-gá, wíáa'aⁿ
 I will Paper the reaches when, very soon send it back to me, I hear from you you

kaⁿbéa-qti. Níkaciⁿga-ma ádaⁿqti-naⁿ t'ai há. Níaciⁿga uckúdaⁿqti
 I wish very. The people very good some die Person very kind juáwagge áhigi t'ai há. Nán'de iⁿfa-máji'qti-naⁿ caⁿcaⁿ. Maⁿzúská' eti 9

 I with them many have died Heart very sad for me con- always. Money too tinues

wa'f-báji caⁿcaⁿi. Caⁿ ádaⁿ maⁿzúská wíⁿéetá ctaⁿbáji-naⁿ. Wékaⁿtaⁿ they have not always (pl.). And there- money even one you (see 4.) un- ally.
 given to us fore do not see ally. Lariat

666 THE ČEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- čnajiha gazan' de wi' gian'kičai-gä. Wäčaha abči' éde, witähaⁿ t'č, čingč—hair on a buf- to plait one send back to me. Clothing I had but, my brother- dead, there is falo's head
- bčugaqti čingč. Ča' edädaⁿ wčxi'aⁿ ctčwaⁿ aⁿčingč. Uma'činka čč all is gone. Now what ornament soever I have none. Season this
- 3 ičingč ča' mäčč äma tčü ctčwaⁿ wäčaha ačikaⁿbča tčinke. Egaⁿ gč'di throughout in fact winter the at the soever clothing I will desire for myself. So at different times
- wäⁿbe te. Paⁿ'ka amädi wi' itize wabüččeze čüččäkičč. Paⁿ'ka akč
 I see you may. Ponka with them one together letter I send it to you Ponka it is (or at the same time) (by a messenger)
- wi' tian'kičai. Paⁿ'ka akč waqⁿ'ha wi' tian'kičai, Paⁿ'ka nikagahi wiⁿ, one he has sent to me. Ponka it is paper one he has sent it to me. Ponka chief one,
- 6 Maⁿ'tčü-najiⁿ ai akü, wi ikügeüčč.
 Standing Grizzly they the bear say one who, I I have him for a friend.

NOTES.

Oäkučü čakitäwe was a Pawnee.

665, 1. te ebčegaⁿ, pronounced rapidly by the speaker, tebčegaⁿ.

666, 2 and 3. F. inserts "č" and omits "caⁿ," though the latter is thus used by many Omahas.

666, 3. Egaⁿ gč'di, meaning conjectural: perhaps he expected to get the clothing for himself at different times. F. renders it "then."

TRANSLATION.

The letter which I sent you by some one has not been answered, but my brother-in-law has died, and I send this letter to you because I think that you will (thus) hear it. I regard you as a person just like him, but my sister's husband has died. His children have no one to look after them, therefore it is impossible for me to go to you. I told you heretofore that those in the household were not sick; but now every one is sick. The rest of the people have not yet recovered at all: they usually die in five days. The sickness is bad. Formerly I was very glad, but now I am sorrowful. Though I said in the past that I would go to you, I will not go (now).

When the letter reaches you, send me back one very soon, as I am very anxious to hear from you. Some of the very best men have died. Many very kind men with whom I went have died. I continue very sad all the time. They continue to give us no money. And therefore you have not been seeing even one dollar (of our money?). I had clothing, but my sister's husband died, and there is none (left)—all is gone. Indeed, I have not even any trinkets. Throughout this year and even throughout next winter I will desire clothing for myself. When I shall have acquired (these garments) at different times in the future (?), I may see you. I send the letter to a Ponka as well as to you. He is the Ponka who has sent me one. He is the Ponka who has sent me a letter. He is a Ponka chief, Standing Bear, whom I regard as my friend.

MA^NTCU-NA^NBA TO BATTISTE DEROIN.

October 10, 1878.

- Íekadábi, níkagáhi nañkáce wañ'giçe, níkaciⁿ/ga wíja euçaf. Cín'ga-Iekadabi, chief ye who are all, people my have gone to you. Child
- jín'ga wíja etti euçaf. Çidaⁿ/be euçaf. Umaⁿ/haⁿ údaⁿ wábeçinⁿ-má zañí my too has gone to you. To see you have gone to you. Omaha good those whom I have all
- euçaf. Údaⁿqti wíⁿ ké té há, Heqága-jín'ga, Çáçinⁿ-gahíge ijin'ge; ucté 3 have gone to you. Very good one the dead (rev. ob.) Little Elk, Pawnee Chief his son; the rest
- amá euçaf há. Waçikegá-bi aí té, aná'aⁿ caⁿ çidaⁿ/be gaⁿ/çai égaⁿ euçaf.
 the have gone (pl. sub.) to you. That you had been sick they said, I heard it yet to see you they wish as they have gone to you.
- Kagcha, níkagáhi nañkáce, çá'ean'giçái-gá. Cé-ma níkaciⁿ/ga údaⁿqti Friend, chief ye who are, have pity on me. Those person very good
- giwakiçái-gá, çá'çeaçé giwakiçái-gá, nán'de - gíudaⁿqti giwakiçái-gá. 6
 send ye them back to me, you pity him send ye them back to me, being very glad send ye them back to me.
- Cénujín'ga wasísige çieçha-ma wáçahaⁿ/i-gá! Níkagáhi ijin'ge çínké Young man active those who are your pray ye to them, your own! Chief his son the (st. an. ob.)
- gçáhaⁿ/i-gá! Kí iéská nañká, çietí, Badíze isañ'ga éçaⁿ/ba, Wáçutáda pray ye to him, your own! And inter. ye who are, you, too, Battiste his younger brother he too, Oto
- níkagáhi fe úwagikaⁿ/i-gá, iéská nañkáce. Umaⁿ/haⁿ taⁿ/waⁿgçaⁿ najinⁿ 9 chief word help ye them, inter. ye who are. Omaha nation stand
- níkaciⁿ/ga amá wasísige útacaⁿ euçaf. Éskaⁿ çá'ean'giçá-bádaⁿ 'çai people the (pl. sub.) active exceed- ingly have gone to you. Oh that you have pity on me and (pl.) they promise
- etégaⁿqti ingáxa-gá. Umaⁿ/haⁿ níkagáhi wañ'giçe cénujín'ga çé ti-má very apt make for me. Omaha chief all young man this those who have come
- téqiwagiçéⁿqtiⁿi. Íe edádaⁿ edaf xi, Umaⁿ/haⁿ níkagáhi égaⁿqti wagíaxe- 12 they prize them very highly. Word what what when. Omaha chief just as they usually do for them
- naⁿ/i, çé ti-má nújinga. Hau. Cína Wáçutáda níkagáhi nañkáce, wíbeçinⁿtheir own, these who have come boy. ¶ Enough Oto chief ye who are, I have prayed to
- haⁿ/i, kagcha. Hau. Íe té cína wíbeçahaⁿ euçéçéçé.
 you my friends. ¶ Word the enough I pray to you I send it to you.

TRANSLATION.

O Iekadabi, and all ye chiefs! my people have gone to you. My child, too, has gone to you. They have gone to see you. All those good Omahas whom I govern have gone to you. The best one of them, Little Elk, son of Pawnee Chief, has died; but the rest have gone to you. I heard it said that you had been sick, yet they have gone to you, as they wished to see you. O my friends, ye chiefs, have pity on me! Send back to me those very good men; pity them and send them back to me; send them back to me after making them very glad! Pray to those who are your active young men! Pray to your chiefs' son! And O you interpreters, you, Battiste, and your younger brother, help the Oto chiefs. The most active of the men who dwell in the Omaha territory have gone to you. Oh that you would pity me and for my sake so act that the Otos shall be sure to promise (them good things). All the Omaha chiefs prize highly those young men who have gone to you. Whatever those young men say, the Omaha chiefs usually do just so for them. My friends, you Oto chiefs, I have petitioned to you enough. I have sent enough words to you to petition to you.

KI-WÍ-GU-TI-DJA-ČÍ-CI TO ČÍ-ČE-ČÍ-TA-WE.

October 21.

Wí minké, Acáwage čáčiúče, waqinⁿ ha cučéwikičaiⁿ hă, čijⁿ čé mégaⁿ.
 I I who sit, (Pawnee words), paper I cause -one one to your elder likewise.
 take it to you (pl.) brother

Caⁿ majaⁿ čéčaⁿ čaaⁿ na naí čaⁿ aⁿ waⁿ qpaníqti anájiⁿ hă. Caⁿ aⁿ bačé
 And land this (ev. oh.) (or place) you abandoned went place me very poor I stand And to-day

3 wiaⁿ be kaⁿ bča, uⁿ aⁿ čingéⁿ qti waqinⁿ ha cučéwikičaiⁿ Gaⁿ -naⁿ júga
 I see you I wish, for no reason what- paper I cause some one to And usually (f) body ever take it to you (pl.).

wíqtei čí údaⁿ maⁿ bčeiⁿ éte-maⁿ, caⁿ gaⁿ edádaⁿ ačídaxe tē údaⁿ qti
 I my again good I walk I do this at least, at any rate what I have made the very good very self for myself

anájiⁿ éde, aⁿ bačé wamúskē itéačē níkaciⁿ ga cáčē ačeiⁿ éna-bčéga itéčē
 I stood but, to-day wheat I piled it up person six had it all together put in a heap

6 náčinge hă.
 was burnt
 to nothing

NOTES.

Kiwigutidjačici, a Pawnee name of Jenuga wajiⁿ piáji, Mad Buffalo, an Omaha. Acáwage čáčiúče, Big Spotted Horse, the name of a Pawnee, in the Omaha notation of Pawnee words. Číčéčitawe, the Omaha notation of a Pawnee name.

668, 3 and 4. júga wíqtei čí udaⁿ maⁿ bčeiⁿ éte-maⁿ. L. gave as the corresponding Łoiwere, ró mianáqtei pí hamányi ihákixráyiⁿ ke. But ihákixrayiⁿ ke is the Omaha ačibčé hă.

TRANSLATION.

I, for my part, O Big Spotted Horse, have sent a letter to you and your elder brother (Čiŋŋitawe?). I dwell a very poor man in this country in which you left me. I wish to see you to-day, (but) I send you a letter at any rate (though I can not say when I may come). And while I myself am at least doing well and I am prospering in what I have been doing for myself, to-day all of the wheat which belonged to six persons, including myself, and all which I had put into a heap, was consumed by fire.

MA^NTCU-NA^NBA TO HEQAKA-MANI AND TATAŅKA-I^NYAŅKE.

October 16.

- Čutaⁿ qti uwibŋa euŋŋaŋ hā iⁿ teaⁿ čí wikáge mégaⁿ. Taⁿ waⁿ gŋaⁿ Very straight I tell you I send it to you now you my friend likewise. Nation
- pūji čaⁿ hégaji hā: miⁿ čábŋiⁿ wawákegaí, cetaⁿ wagíni-báji; ádaⁿ čat'č bad the not a little moon three we have been sick, so far we have not recovered; there you die
- taité uwibŋi'agaí, íwit'ábŋai-máji. Égiŋe waŋŋkega čat'ai xí, aⁿ čagŋaí taí. 3 shall I am unwilling for you (pl.). I do not hate you (pl.). Beware you sick you die if you blame me lest.
- Céna. í-bajŋi-gā. Wakéga tē pūji caⁿ caⁿ qtiⁿ i. Maⁿ zeskā' čti Enough. Do not be coming! Sick the bad remains indeed! Money too
- aⁿ čiza-báji, wawáqpani hégā-báji. Caⁿ ge-ma Húnaŋga amá cénawaŋaí, we have not received, we are very poor. The horses Winnebago the (pl.) have made an end of them.
- wamaⁿ čaⁿ i; ádaⁿ aŋína kaⁿ bŋa aŋŋiⁿ, iⁿ ča-máji iⁿ taⁿ. Taⁿ waⁿ gŋaⁿ má 6 they have stolen them; there-for I fight I wish I sit, I am displeased now. The nations
- Paⁿ kama gŋŋbahiwiⁿ kí čdi áta t'ai; Máqude-má čti, Záge, Wačutáda, the Ponkas a hundred and over have died; the Iowas too, Sacs, Otos,
- č'áŋiⁿ, taⁿ waⁿ gŋaⁿ má čti bŋuŋa wakéga hégā-báji. Níkagáhi úju Pawnees, the nations too all have been very ill. Chief principal
- čanká wécpahaⁿ hā. Gŋedaⁿ nájiⁿ íjaje aŋiⁿ aká íŋigŋaⁿ tá aka há', č 9
 the ones who you know Hawk stands his he who has it, he will decide that one (the sub.) (he afore-said)
- wáguzu íŋigŋe tá aka há'. Caⁿ ge cāŋŋe ča'í hā, Gŋedaⁿ nájiⁿ. Ícpahaⁿ straight he will do for you. Horse six you gave to him Hawk stands. You know him
- taté. Céna euŋŋewikiŋé.
 shall. Enough I have sent to you by some one.

NOTES.

669, 1. Čuta^qti uwibęa, etc. Given just as dictated. The author is sure of this. But the sentence is reconstructed thus by F.: I^{ten} wikage megaⁿ, čuta^qti uwibęa cuęeačai hā. This accords with the general usage, as observed in the epistles collected by the author.

The two Yanktons, Heqaka-mani and Tatańka-i^yyańke, had written to say that they were coming to visit the Omahas.

TRANSLATION.

Just now I will send and tell you and my friend the exact truth. The nation is in a very bad condition; for three months we have been ill, and we have not yet recovered. Therefore I am unwilling for you to die (by taking the sickness from us); I do not (send this word because I) hate you. Should any of you die from the sickness you would blame me. Enough! Do not come! The sickness is continually bad! And, moreover, we have not received money; we are very poor. The Winnebagoes have made away with our horses; they have stolen them; therefore I am wishing to fight them; I am displeased at present. With reference to the (other) nations, over a hundred Ponkas have died; and the Iowas, Saes and Foxes, Otos, and Pawnees have had much sickness among them. You know the Omaha head-chiefs. That one of them who has the name of Standing Hawk will decide; it is he who will do for you what is right. You will surely recognize Standing Hawk (by this): you gave him six horses. I have sent you enough.

LION TO BATTISTE DEROIN AND THE OTO CHIEFS.

October 19, 1878.

Waqiⁿha aⁿbačę bęize, uqęę^qteci uwikie cuęęačę, kageha. Nıkaciⁿga Paper to-day I have received it, very soon I speak to you I send it to you, my friend. Persons d'uba aⁿwań'kie atfi, ikageawačę-de atfi. Aⁿwań'kie aná'aⁿ ęi, nāń'de some to speak to me have I made them my friends, they have come, to speak to me I heard it when, heart 3 iⁿudaⁿ qti-maⁿ. Čęna. Gań'ęi nıkaciⁿga t'ę hā, ęyuhabi sfdadi áma was very good for me. Enough. And now person dead kuhabi yesterday the other t'ędi t'ę hā, ę nıkaciⁿga wiwįa, nųjįga wiwįa. Ę'be taⁿwaⁿgęaⁿ t'ę on the dead he person my, boy my. Who nation die etęetęwaⁿ, zaní wiwįa, iⁿęa-mąji hā. Či nıkaciⁿga wiwįa amá euhí soever, all mine, I am sad Again person my the (pl. sub.) have reached you 6 ean'ęe wačęi t'ę awána'aⁿ iⁿęę-qti-maⁿ, nāń'de iⁿudaⁿ.
 horse you have given to them I heard it of them I was very well pleased, heart good for me.

Hau. Gan'xi ta'wa'ggaⁿ p̄iētai ɕaⁿ pahan'ga tē'di t'ē iⁿwi'ɕanā
 And then nation your (pl.) the before when dead you told to me t̄iɕačē awina'aⁿ tē iⁿɕa-māji hā. Kī iⁿ'teaⁿ wiⁿēctē t'ē iⁿwi'ɕana-bāji you sent I heard of them the I was and And now even one dead you have not told to hither me ádaⁿ nan'de iⁿ'udaⁿqti-maⁿ. Kī haú, n̄kagúhi nan'káce, cénujin'ga 3 there- heart mine feels very good. And ho! chief ye who are, young man
 fore
 edábe, t'ē wini'aⁿi-māji iⁿ'ēō-qti-maⁿ. ɕēcetaⁿ edádaⁿ wiⁿē luɕa also, dead I have not heard of you I am very glad. From this time what one news iⁿwi'ɕana- naⁿ'i kaⁿbēgaⁿ. Angini etégaⁿ. ɕē wabágēze bēizē tē'di you tell to me only I hope. We recover apt. This letter I receive it when wáge xi tē'di at̄. Caⁿ wiɕaⁿ'bai-māji x̄áci taité hā Wamúskē 6 white house into it I have And I do not see you (pl.) a long shall Wheat man come iⁿɕiⁿ'naⁿju-bāji x̄áci taité, ádaⁿ wiɕaⁿ'bai-māji x̄áci taité. Máčē uskaⁿ'skaⁿ they not thresh my a long shall, there- I see you (pl.) not a long shall. Winter in a straight time fore time
 usn̄i ídaⁿbē'qti tēd̄ihi xi, iⁿɕiⁿ'naⁿjú taité.
 cold in the very mid- by that time, they threaten it shall.
 die for me

TRANSLATION.

My friends, I received the letter to-day, and I send you a reply very soon. Some Indians have come to talk with me; I made them my friends and they have come. When I heard them speak to me I was very glad. Enough (about this). And now a man is dead: Iquhahi died day before yesterday. He was my Indian, my young man. No matter who dies in the nation, I am grieved, for all are mine. And when I heard that my people had reached you, and you had given them horses, I was well pleased, my heart felt good.

I was sad when I heard formerly what you sent to tell me of the deaths in your nation. But now you have not told me of the death of even one person, therefore I feel very glad. And ho! ye chiefs, and ye young men, too, I am delighted because I have not heard of your deaths! I hope that henceforth you will make it a rule to tell me (at least) one piece of news (when you write). We are apt to recover. I have come to a white man's house when I have received this letter. I shall not see you for a long time. My wheat can not be threshed for a long time, therefore I shall not see you for a long time. They will not thresh it for me before midwinter.

MAN'CU-NANBA TO BATTISTE DEROIN AND THE OTO CHIEFS.

- Luepáha, wibçahaⁿ. Wéçigçaⁿ ðaxe tē égaⁿqti iⁿçéçkaxe Wáçutáda Grandchild, I pray to you. Decision I make the just so you make it Oto
- níkagáhi nankáçe éðabe wibçahaⁿi. Nán'de iⁿçan-máji. Aⁿ'ba içáugçø chief ye who are also I pray to you (pl.). Heart I am sad. Day throughout
- 3 axúge caⁿcaⁿi éde, naⁿbá jaⁿ winá'aⁿi tē iⁿçéçqti-maⁿ. Wanágçø aⁿçá'i-ma
 I weep always but, two sleep I have heard the I am very glad. Domestic animal the ones which you gave to me
- wéçihíde wéðaxe ádaⁿ wakaⁿ'bea-naⁿ-maⁿ, égaⁿ wína égaⁿ aⁿçá'i tē nán'de tool I treat them there- I desire them only, as I have as you have the heart us (or I use fore them for) begged of you given to me
- iⁿ'udaⁿ, çí wakéga tē aŋgíni-máji-naⁿ-maⁿ, ádaⁿ cénujin'ga wahçhajiⁿqti good for me, again sick the I have not yet recovered, there- young man very stout-hearted
 fore
- 6 wiⁿ iⁿ't'e, Waníta-wáge ijin'ge, Içuhábi ijáje açiⁿ.
 one of mine is dead, Lion his son, Içuhabi his name he had.
- Hau. Çihaⁿ mégaⁿ nié çíçin'ge çanájiⁿ nán'de iⁿ'udaⁿ. Kí çíçan'ge
 I Your likewise pain you have you stand heart good for me. And your sister
- Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá çá'ççai, wanágçø dúba 'fi há, ádaⁿ çíháhaⁿ waçigçitaⁿqti, Omaha the (pl. have pitied domestic ani- four have there- your sister's works very hard for sub.) her, mal given to her husband himself,
- 9 ádaⁿ nán'de iⁿ'udaⁿqti anájiⁿ. Ijuji wiwíja údaⁿqti anájiⁿ. Céná çuçéwikiçé.
 there- heart very good for me I stand. House- hold my very good I stand. Enough I have sent to you.

NOTES.

672, 5. aŋgíni-máji-naⁿ-maⁿ, used by a chief, really, wagíni-búji há, we have not (yet) recovered.

672, 8. çíçahaⁿ, Çkaje-yíñe, or Sam Allis, the brother of Deroín's wife.

TRANSLATION.

My grandchild, I petition to you. I ask you and the Oto chiefs to do for me just according to the plan which I have made. I am sad at heart. Throughout the day I am ever crying, but I am delighted to hear from you after an interval of (only) two days. From time to time have I regarded the domestic animals which you have given me as helpful appliances in connection with my work, and so I have desired them. I have been glad on account of your giving me these things when I begged them of you. I (i. e., my people) have not yet recovered from the sickness, therefore I have lost one of my most stout-hearted young men, Içuhabi by name, the son of Lion.

I am glad because you and your mother continue well. The Omahas have pitied your sister, and have given her four domestic animals; therefore your wife's brother works very hard for himself, and so I continue well pleased. The members of my household are doing very well. I have sent you enough.

JABE-SKĀ TO GACTAGABI, A PONKA, AT YANKTON AGENCY, DAKOTA TERRITORY. 1878.

Paŋ'ka nŋkaci^{n'}ga gŋčbahiwiⁿ t'á-bi ai éde ɕaná'aⁿ tégáⁿ waqin^{n'}ha Ponka Indians a hundred have died, they but you hear it in order that paper it is said say cuhiwíkiɕé. Niaci^{n'}ga wi^{n'}áqtei t'é kě uɕai, uɕé tó uɕá-báji, ijáje aⁿwa^{n'}-

I cause it to reach you. Person just one dead the they remain- the they did not his name we did not (recl. told, der tell, name)

na'aⁿ-báji. Jenúga-ɕáge-jaŋ'ga enáqtei aⁿná'aⁿi há. ɕaná'aⁿ tégáⁿ cuhiáɕé 3 hear them. Buffalo bull hoof large he only we have heard You hear it in order that I cause it to reach you waqin^{n'}ha. Jenúg-ɕáge-jaŋ'ga t'é kě ta^{n'}waⁿgɕaⁿ bɕúga wéɕabaji^{n'}-qtia^{n'}i, paper. Je ga cage jaŋga dead the nation whole they are very sad, (recl. ob.)

á-bi ɕa^{n'} amá.
it is said in the letter.

NOTE.

Jabe-skā or Waɕacpe, an aged Ponka, who was a refugee among the Omahas from 1877 to 1880. Gactaga-bi was also called Wahutaⁿɕé (Gun) and Macaⁿ (Feather).

TRANSLATION.

They say that a hundred Ponkas have died (in the Indian Territory), and I send you a letter that you may hear it. They tell of just one man who has died, they have not told (the names) of the rest, (so) we have not heard their names. We have heard the name of Jenúga cage jaŋga alone. I send you the letter that you may hear it. It is said in the letter (which came from the Indian Territory) that the whole tribe is very sad on account of the death of Jenúga cage jaŋga.

WAGA-GAXE TO ICTA-MAⁿɕÉ, AN OTO.

October 25, 1878.

Wamúskě kě i^{n'}naɕin'ge. Iɕepahaⁿ ɕagɕé náɕiŋge. Wamúskě kě 6
Wheat the is burnt to nothing for me. You knew you went back it is consumed. Wheat the (recl. ob.)

náɕiŋge. Iɕepahaⁿ ɕagɕéde náɕiŋge, wamúskě kě. Éde wagáxe t'é cě is consumed. You knew it you went back, but it is consumed, wheat the (recl. ob.). But dobt the even ewéɕi'a tǎ minke. Índádaⁿ cě ídaxa-máji, wamúskě kě náɕiŋge

I fail for them will I who. What soever I do not make by wheat the is consumed (recl. ob.)

aⁿɕa^{n'}sabe teábe. Éde ta^{n'}waⁿgɕaⁿ wakéga teábai égaⁿ, wiúhaⁿ i^{n'}teaⁿ 9
I suffer greatly. But nation sick very much as, your brother-in-law now

674 THE ČEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- té hā, Čúga-ma^{n'}č^{n'} ijaže ač^{n'}. Nié a^{n'}č^{n'}gō-qi-ma^{n'}. Cupí 'iáčē toča^{n'} dead Čuka-ma^{n'}č^{n'} his he had. Pain I have none at all. I reach what I said in the name you past
- wagáxe ewčbē'a tō a^{n'}č^{n'}wa^{n'}čispéga^{n'}, cupí-múji té. Čátēga^{n'} cupí debt I fail for them the as I am kept back (or re- I may not reach you. In that man- I reach strained) on account of it. ner you
- 3 'iáčē toča^{n'}, nié a^{n'}č^{n'}gō xi, cupí tá minke; ki wagáxe tō nié a^{n'}č^{n'}gō what I promised in pain I have none if. I will reach you; and debt the pain I have none
 the past.
- xi, učúhiágič etéga^{n'}. Čekē čihā^{n'} wakégede i^{n'}ten^{n'}qtei gini. Nújinga if, I cause it to be apt (or This (recl. your was sick, but just now she has recovered. Boy (to pay or can- cel it) may). ob.) mother
- iúčepaawáčē cin'gajin'ga čija čihā^{n'} wasčē- na^{n'}i. Ūcka^{n'} e'a^{n'} ni^{n'} tē
 I have them for infant your your mother remembers usually. Deed how you are the grandchildren
- 6 wágazúqi aná'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bēa, áda^{n'} edábe wabáxu cučēčē. Ki cin'gajin'ga very straight I hear it I wish, there- also letter I send to you. And child
 fore
- čankúcti nié čingai xi, awána'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bēa. Ki čigáqen' činkē eti nié čingai the pl. ob. too pain have none if, I hear of them I wish. And your wife the one too pain she has none
 who
- xi, aná'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bēa. Ki wabágčeze tia^{n'}čakičē (ka^{n'}bēa). Ičáwipe éde, if, I hear it I wish. And letter you send hither I wish. I have waited but,
 to me for you
- 9 wabágčeze tia^{n'}čakičāji. Cubčē te, ečē xi, wabágčezo ian'kičā-gā.
 letter you have not sent hither to me. I go to you will, you say if, letter send to me.
- Gan'xi Wáčutáda- má ičā- bi ai, e'a^{n'} ūcka^{n'} tē awána'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bēa. Ki And then Oto the have it is they how deed the I hear of them I wish. And
 (pl. sub.) (by re- quest)
- ná-baji eka^{n'}na xi, ie wágazu aná'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bēa. Ki né te xi, wágazu you do not eka^{n'}na xi, ie wágazu aná'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bēa. Ki né te xi, wágazu go you wish if, word straight I hear it I wish. And you will if, straight
- 12 aná'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bēa. Čan'ge wi^{n'} ani^{n'} améde a^{n'}čá'i ka^{n'}bēa. Edčē xi, I hear it I wish. Horse one you have they say, you give I wish. You say something but (or as) to me
- cupí tá minke. Wédaji wačá'i wika^{n'}bēa-múji. Nize xi, uqčē qtei
 I will reach you. Elsewhere you give I do not wish for you. You re-ceive it, very soon
- wabágčeze ičāčē ka^{n'}bēa. Ča^{n'} ta^{n'}wa^{n'}gčēa^{n'} čičija níkagáhi amá fe dáda^{n'} letter you send hither I wish. And nation your chief the (pl. word what
 sub.)
- 15 etē awána'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bēa. Ki a^{n'}bačē indáda^{n'} i^{n'}wi^{n'}čaka^{n'}i tē učúwináji.
 over I hear of them I wish. And to-day what you have aided me the I depend on you for it.
- Gan' edčē tē wágazúqi aná'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bēa.
 And what you the very straight I hear it I wish.
 say
- Hau. Pan'ka-ma ečācti ie xi wágazu aná'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bēa. Pan'ka-ma
 The Ponkas there too word the straight I hear it I wish. The Ponkas
- 18 níkagáhi dčēabčē^{n'} gči amačā^{n'} juáwagčē pí amačā^{n'} fe dáda^{n'} chief eight those who came back I with them those whom I reached, word what
 what
- a^{n'}čā^{n'}wankiaí asičē-na^{n'} ca^{n'}ca^{n'}. Dáda^{n'} učúwikičē čati tē'di Pan'ka fe they spoke to me about I have always remembered. What I spoke to you about you when Ponka word
 hither

uŃu'wikie' asieŃe-naⁿ-maⁿ'. Iⁿ'baⁿi' egaⁿ asieŃe-naⁿ-maⁿ'. E' waŃaⁿ'be kaⁿ'beⁿ.
 I spoke to you I am thinking of from They called as I am thinking of it That I see them I wish.
 about time to time. me from time to time.

le uŃu'wikie' asieŃe-naⁿ-maⁿ', wu'guzu iⁿ'na'an'-gũ. Ki Maⁿ'teu-waŃihi, Word I spoke to you I am thinking of from straight hear for me. And Maⁿ'ten-waŃihi.
 about time to time.

Aca'wage, We's'a-nan'ga, le eŃai asieŃe-naⁿ-maⁿ'. Iⁿ'baⁿi' Maⁿ'teu-waŃihi; 3 Acawage, Big Snake, word their I am thinking of from He called Maⁿ'ten-waŃihi;
 about time to time. me le kē gisiŃeŃai. ŃagisiŃeŃ xī, hī-gũ. Pañ'kaŃa Ńi Ńan'di waŃiⁿ'ha word the he has caused You remem- when, reach. At the Ponkas village at the paper him to remem- ber it there.

iŃe'waŃiŃiŃeŃ tai. WaŃiⁿ'ha ŃwiŃiŃa.
 I ask it to go please. Paper I ask as a fa-thither for them favor of you (I see note.).

NOTES.

673, 6 and 7. Observe how JaŃga-gaxe says one thing four times. He could have expressed himself in one sentence, thus: Wamúskē kē iepahaⁿ ŃagŃeŃe (or, ŃagŃeŃegaⁿ) iⁿ'naŃiⁿ'ge hā, My wheat which you knew about when you went home has been consumed by fire. JaŃga-gaxe was an Omaha.

674, 4. uŃuhiagiŃeŃ etegaⁿ, in full, uŃuhiagiŃeŃ etegaⁿ.

674, 10. Gañ'Ńi WaŃutada-ma iŃa-bi ai, etc. This should be changed, in order to conform to the standard Omaha, to read thus: Gañ'Ńi WaŃutáda-ma iŃa-bi ai, aná'aⁿ hā. Egaⁿi tē aná'aⁿ kaⁿ'beⁿ, And I have heard that the Otos have gone away. If it is so, I wish to hear it (F). Had the Otos gone of their own accord WáŃutáda amá á-iŃa-bi should have been used; WáŃutáda-ma iŃa-bi shows that they went because they were forced or requested.

674, 12. amede. F. prefers the fuller form, amédegaⁿ, as it is said that (you have a horse).

675, 4. Pañ'kaŃa Ńi, etc. Explained by the third sentence preceding it. JaŃga-gaxe wished his Oto friend to send a letter to the three Ponka chiefs, Maⁿ'ten-waŃihi, Aca'wage, and We's'a-ŃaŃga.

675, 5. WaŃiⁿ'ha ŃwiŃiŃa (sic). Not plain to any of the author's Omaha informants, who have aided him since 1882. L. suggested WaŃiⁿ'ha wíŃiŃa, I ask a letter to him (or, them), as a favor from you. F. rendered this, I ask a letter for you (sic!). He gave another reading, WaŃiⁿ'ha tiañ'kiŃa-gũ, Send a letter to me. W. said that either wíŃiŃa or tiañ'kiŃa-gũ should be used. But G. substituted, WaŃiⁿ'ha ŃwiŃiŃa, They (the Ponkas) beg you to send a letter to them. The context seems to require this last.

TRANSLATION.

My wheat has been consumed by fire. What you knew (about) when you started home has been burnt. The wheat has been burnt. The wheat that you knew (about) when you started back has been burnt. And I shall not be able even to cancel my debt. There is nothing at all by means of which I can do anything; I suffer greatly from the burning of the wheat. But (that is not all)—there has been much sickness in the nation, and your brother-in-law, CuŃa-maⁿ'Ńiⁿ, has died. I am very well. I an'gañi' cti wawókoga héga-bájii há. Nínci'ga sítā' t'af. ǰaná'a' ǰa'ja, we who move too we are very sick Men five dead You have thought.

 (pl.) heard it
 ca' uwibēn. Heqága-jín'ga t'ē, Wacúce ci ǰepaha' t'ē, Cúga-ma'ñi' t'ē, still I tell it to Elk little dead, Brave again you know dead, Cúga-ma'ñi' dead,
 you.
 ǰepaha'. ǰahé-jáp'ē ǰepaha'. ǰuhábi t'ē. Céna t'ni há. Kí ceta' 3 you know him. you know him. ǰuhabi dead. Enough they are dead And so far wakéga aká wáǰicta'-báji-a'í. Kí i' cte uǰēn'be aŋgáǰe éga'.
 sickness the he has not stopped on us. And as if up-hill we go so.

NOTES.

676, 3, 4, 5. Ca', superfluous, vide F.

677, 4. wakega aka, etc. The sickness is here spoken of as a person, or as the voluntary cause of distress to the people. L. read, Kí ceta' wakéga aká wáǰicta'-báji ǰa'ja, ca' uǰēn'be aŋgáǰe éga', The sickness has not yet ceased among us, but it is still on the increase. This is the meaning of the figure of speech, "we are, as it were, going up-hill." It does not refer to improvement. W. said that L.'s reading was equivalent to the other one.

Heqaga-sabé was a Ponka and a refugee at Yankton Agency, Dakota.

TRANSLATION.

I sent a letter to the Ponkas (in the Indian Territory). And I have heard one item of news about them: they say that "many Ponkas have died," it is said that there have been over a hundred deaths, and that five chiefs have died. Only one principal chief, Big Elk, has died. And although they usually have horses, it is said that as they are dying from hunger they are selling them. In fact, it is reported that all are sick, and they have many troubles. I have heard no more to-day. We Omahas, too, have many sick among us; five men have died. Though you have heard it, still I tell you. Little Elk, Brave, Cúga-ma'ñi, and ǰahé-jáp'ē, whom you knew, are dead. ǰuhabi, too, is dead. These are all who have died. The sickness has not yet ceased among us; it is rather on the increase.

JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE TO A. B. MEACHAM, OF "THE COUNCIL FIRE."

December 20, 1878.

Kag'cha, a'bač' wisič'-ga', wabáǰeze wiǰaxu, fe djúba. Kag'cha,
 My friend, to-day as I remember, letter I make to you, word a few. My friend.
 iǰáe tē éska' ǰaná'a' ka' ebčéga' há. Edáda' wi' máǰadi uwibēn há. 6
 I speak the perhaps you hear it I hope What one last winter I told you Wiǰaxu bēicta' máǰadi, fe kē ca'ca' ci uwibēn há. Maja' ǰéču a'ma'ñi'
 I wrote to you finished last winter, word the always again I tell you Land here we walk tē Wakan'da aká ǰéču jút'a' wáxai éga', ǰéču a'ma'ñi' há. Wáǰe amá the God the here made us have bodies as, here we walk While the (pl.) (sub.) man sub.)

678 THE CEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

ččeu atí-bají tē'di majan' angúmai tē éskaⁿ a'čaiⁿ čai há. Kí Isgaⁿ čai aká here had not when land our the perhaps we thought . And Grandfather the (sub.)

majaⁿ čaiⁿ wéčaiⁿ wíⁿ bi ai égaⁿ, wéčaiⁿ wíⁿ há; kí majaⁿ jī'áqtei angúgigčetai land the that it was sold he said as, it was sold and land very small we have reserved of our own

3 há, angúgčaiⁿ i há. Či wáqe amá wéčizai gaⁿ čai há, majaⁿ wéčaji čai wákíčē we have our own . Again white the (pl. they take they wish . land elsewhere to send us man sub.) from us

gaⁿ čai há: wéteqi hēga-báji. Aⁿ čte majaⁿ čaiⁿ wéčizai tē wáwačaiⁿ tē they wish hard for us not a little. As if land the they take they kill us the (sub.) from us čkigaⁿ qtiⁿ i há. Kí aⁿ niⁿ ja angaⁿ čai ádaⁿ wabáqčēze čē wíčaxu há. Kí it is just like it . And we live we wish there letter this I write to you And

6 níkaciⁿ ga ukéčaiⁿ amá píji áhaⁿ čonégaⁿ i há, ádaⁿ wáqe angáxe tá-bi a'čaiⁿ Indian common the (pl. bad (thought) you think there white man that we will act we say sub.) (us)

an'gučičaiⁿ há. Ie tē wíⁿ kēqti an'gučičaiⁿ há. Kí wáqe angáxe tē di we tell to you Word the speaking the we tell it to you . And white man we act when majaⁿ čaiⁿ angúgčaiⁿ angaⁿ čai há. Ádaⁿ wáqe angáxe angaⁿ čai há.

land the we keep our own we wish There white man we act we wish

9 (Čaⁿ edádaⁿ wéteqi kē zaniⁿ qti uwíčē kaⁿ bēa čaiⁿ ja, bē'a égaⁿ aⁿ ba áji
And what hard for the all I tell to you I wish though, I fail some what day anus other qíⁿ i, čí d'uba uwíčē tē.) Kageča, wáqe amá Máhiⁿ-an'ga if, again some I tell to you will. My friend, white the (pl. American man sub.)

amá níkaciⁿ ga ukéčaiⁿ wadaⁿ be amá edádaⁿ uéčaiⁿ qí, ádaⁿ (wágazu) the (pl. Indian common those who have seen what they tell when, good straight sub.) them you

12 uéčaiⁿ naⁿ i há. Kí wadaⁿ ba-bají qti amá, "Níkaciⁿ ga ukéčaiⁿ ma píbají amá," they usually tell . And those who have not seen them at Indian those who are are bad it is said you all common

č-naⁿ i há; ukíkiat tē di, "Níkaciⁿ ga ukéčaiⁿ ma píbají qti," č ukíkie-naⁿ i há.
they usually say they talk when, Indian common, those are very bad, that they usually talk together together who are

Kí, kageča, éskana nán'de čičiⁿ čaiⁿ čagčičibe ádaⁿ Wakan'da činké
And, my friend, oh that heart your the you open your and God the one
(ev. ob.) own (in speech f)

15 časičáčē ádaⁿ níkaciⁿ ga ukéčaiⁿ ma ča'čawačičai kaⁿ a'čaiⁿ čai há. Čaⁿ haⁿ you remem- and those who are common Indians you have pity on us we hope In fact night ber him

gē aⁿ ba gē'čti, xúⁿ he-naⁿ ca'eaⁿ qti a'čaiⁿ i há. Kageča, čí fe áji wíⁿ the day the too, usually we fear always we are My friend, again word an-unseen danger other djúbaqtei čáxe kaⁿ bēa. Kageč, fe čí djúba áji uwíčē tē minke há.

a very few I make I wish. Friend, word again few different I tell to I will
it you

18 Wáqe waníce-má ičádiaⁿ waⁿ čē tá-bi, ečaiⁿ há. Ede waníce-ma wiaⁿ bahaⁿ i White the soldiers (pl. that we are to have them for you (pl.) say . But the soldiers (pl. we know them man ob.) agents

há. Wiaⁿ bahaⁿ i égaⁿ, naⁿ aⁿ waⁿ paí há. Aⁿ waⁿ gaⁿ čai-bají há. Čaⁿ
We know them as, we fear to see them We do not want them In fact sub.) all of them do not want them the soldiers (pl. And person níkaciⁿ ga ukéčaiⁿ amá waⁿ gíčē qti wagaⁿ čai-bají waníce-ma. Kí níkaciⁿ ga Indians the (pl. sub.) all of them do not want them the soldiers (pl. And person

- pahan'gamadlta'-má ípádia'wa'çai éga'n, wea'n'baha'i há. I'cte eonáqtei from the first ones the (pl. ob.) we had them for agents as, we know them as if they only
- nikaci'ga éga'qti-na'i há. Ki nikaci'ga, wa'ú da'cté, wi' íqta ga'çai human beings usually just so And Indian, man woman or, one to desired
- çi ápiza-báji'qti íqta-na'i há. Ki çí t'éwaçé ga'çai çi'cté, t'éwaçé-na'i há. 3 if without taking her abused her And again to kill them they wished even if, they usually killed them
- Ca' kúkusi einuda edábe ékiga'qti wáxe-na'i, t'éwaçé tē. Áda'n
 In fact hog dog also just like usually treated them, killed them the. There-fore
- a'wan'ga'ça-báji. Níkaci'ga ukéçin amá edáda'n píjji gáxai tē é pahan'ga we do not want them. Indians the (pl. sub.) what bad they did the they before
- gáxa-báji-na'i há. Wanáçe amá é pahan'ga gáxai ctéwa'n, úcka'n píjji tē 6 they usually did not Soldier the (pl. sub.) they before did it even when, dead bad the
- ágigçaqáde-na'i. Ágigçaqádai éga'n, níkaci'ga ukéçin úcka'n píjji eja usually covered their own. They covered their as, Indian dead bad his
- Iíga'çai çínké gíbhaha-na'i. . . . (Ki, kagéça, çí fe d'úba uhéçé Grandfather the (st. ob.) usually showed it to him. And, my friend, again word some I add
- há. Ca' fe ańgúçai tē níaci'ga ukéçin fe ejaí, ucté wágazúqti, wi'n'kéqti 9
 And word our the Indian word their, the rest very straight, very true
- edíçe há, çá'ja fe wi'n'ke ctéwa'n Iíga'çai çínké wéçiza-báji éga'n, ípádiçai there are here and there though word they speak truly even when the President does not, as it were, take agent them from us,
- çínké fe eja enáqtei gíçizai tē, é wéteqi héga-a'çin-báji, é weágitéqi úju
 the word his only takes from the, it is very hard for us, it out own troubles (?) chief
- té.) Ki fe wi'n' çí éçipe tá minke çá'ja, éga'qti éçipe tá minke. 12 the, it And word one again I will say that though, just so I will say that.
- Níkaci'ga ukéçin-ma maja'n Iíga'çai aká wéçin-wi'n-má wa'çé gçin'-ma i'cte
 The Indians land President the (sub.) those who have sold plowing those who as if continue
- nikaci'ga ukéçin-ma Caa'n wáçadaí-ma weat'çai há. Ki çí níkaci'ga the Indians the Indians those who are called they hate us And again the In-
- ukéçin-ma bçúgaqti eáwakiga'qti ska'n eonéga'n há, édega'n eáwakiga'n-báji 15 dians all we are just alike you think that but we are unlike
- há. D'úba wáçe amajáçica'n ga'çai há, ki d'úba ańkabáji há. É Caa'n
 Some towards the white men desire and some are not so. They Dakota
- wáçadaí-ma. Ki ékiga'qti a'çin'-bi eonéga'i çi ań'ka-a'çin-báji há, are the ones called. And just alike that we are you think when we are not so
- ékiga'-a'çin-báji há. Ukít'çé ájicçin'çan a'çin'i há. Ki, wáçe-máçe, çicti 18
 we are not alike Nation of different sorts we are And, O ye white people, you too
- ájicçin'çan on'i há, ki ańgúçti áwaga'n'i há. Caa'n amá çti weat'çai çi, çí of various kinds you are and we too we are so. Dakota the (pl. sub.) too they hate us if, again
- çicti weat'çat'áonai çi, eíta'n a'çin' a'ni'ja túbá. Éga'n çi, a'ni'n'ja ańga'çai you too you (pl.) hate us if, how we are we live possibly (?) So if, we live we wish (That being the case)

680 THE CEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- égaⁿ, élmaceaméicaⁿ aṅgáḩe aṅgaⁿḩai. Aⁿḩiⁿai etéetōwaⁿ, caⁿ aṅgúket'aⁿ aa, towards you (pl.) we go we wish. We fall notwithstanding, yet we acquire aṅgaⁿḩa taṅ'gataⁿ, wáḩe gáxe té. Kí edí-naⁿ weágiudaⁿi etégaⁿi. Cí fe gátē we will wish, acting the white the And 'n it only it will be good it is apt. Again word that 3 écna uwíḩea há. Cí fe áji uwíḩea tí mĩnke. Kí aⁿniⁿta aṅgaⁿḩa égaⁿ, enough I tell you . Again word differ- e. t. I will tell to you. And we live we wish as, aⁿwaṅ'xigéitaⁿi há. Kí aⁿwaṅ'xigéitaⁿi té weágiudaⁿi té aⁿḩaⁿbahaⁿḩti we work for ourselves . And we work for ourselves the it is good for us the we know it very well égaⁿ, aⁿwaṅ'xigéitaⁿi há. Degaⁿ umaⁿḩinka éé wéteqiⁿḩti égaⁿ aⁿḩiⁿ há :
as, we work for ourselves . But season this we are in great so (!) we are trouble 6 macté hégaji égaⁿ wamúskē sí gē wénat'éga há, ádaⁿ éuga-jĩṅ'ga fáḩeiⁿ warm very as wheat seed the withered by there- ten-cent piece three dúba cetaⁿ w ágiḩaxai. Ádaⁿ edádaⁿ etēwaⁿ aṅxíaxa-bajiⁿ-ḩti éwagaⁿi.
four so far we have made of our own. There- fore what soever we have not made it all for we are like that. ourselves Kí caⁿ waqtá ájiḩaⁿḩaⁿ aṅgáḩiⁿ há, aṅxíaxai, nú, wataⁿzi daⁿetē. Kí
And in fact vegetable of different kinds we have . we have made potato, corn for instance. And 9 níkaⁿcíⁿga cemá, qíⁿha-skā'-ma aⁿwaⁿdaⁿbai té, "Ūdaⁿ maⁿḩiⁿí áhaⁿ, " aⁿḩaⁿḩai person these (pl. those who have white oh.), skins (pl. ob.) we see them when, Good they walk 'n), we think
há. Ádaⁿ aṅgaⁿḩai há. Kí wéḩihíde edádaⁿ éiḩai gē ḩéugaḩi iníjawaḩē There- fore we desire it . And tool what your own the (pl. ob.) all life sustaining aⁿḩaⁿbahaⁿi-de umaⁿḩinka fáḩeiⁿḩti edítaⁿ wéḩihíde aṅgáḩiⁿ há. Kí we have known, as, season just three from tool we have . And 12 aⁿwaⁿḩitaⁿ aⁿḩaṅ'gaskaⁿḩai údaⁿ té aⁿḩaⁿbahaⁿḩtiaⁿi, ádaⁿ aṅgaⁿḩai we work we try it good the we know it very well, there- fore we wish it
há. Kí wabáḩeze ééḩaⁿ iⁿḩibaxúti té Wakan'da aká juáwagēⁿḩti gḩiⁿ
And letter this (cv. ob.) we write it for the God the (sub.) really with us he sits égaⁿi, ádaⁿ éskana majaⁿḩaⁿ 'iáwafáḩa-bajiⁿḩti kaⁿaⁿḩaⁿḩai. Aṅgáḩaḩiⁿ so, there- fore oh that land the (ob.) you do not talk about us at all we hope. We keep our own 15 aṅgaⁿḩai éde aⁿḩéḩaⁿi. Kí níkaⁿcíⁿga uáwafagikaⁿi-macéⁿ etí, aⁿḩéḩaⁿi, we wish but we pray to you. And person ye who help us too (or we pray to you, on the one hand), kí ámaḩéicaⁿ-macéⁿ etí aⁿḩéḩaⁿi há. Umaⁿhaⁿ-ma níkaⁿcíⁿga-má and ye who are on the other side too we pray to you . The Omahas (pl. ob.) the Indians (the pl. ob.) ḩa'áwafáḩi-gā. Ukítē-ma zaniⁿḩti é aⁿwaⁿwáka-báji, aṅgúona é have pity on us. The nations all that we do not mean them, we only that 18 aⁿwaṅ'xikaí.
we mean ourselves.

NOTES.

678, 8. Parenthetical remark. Mr. La Flèche ended the first day's dictation here. On another day he resumed at line 10.

678, 11. wagazu, parenthetical and explanatory of his use of udaⁿ.

679, 8. Another parenthetical remark, at the beginning of the third day's dictation.

680, 5. egaⁿ aⁿfiⁿ, contracted by the speaker, in dictation, to eg aⁿfiⁿ.

TRANSLATION.

My friend, as I think of you to-day, I write you a letter of a few words. My friend, I hope that you may hear what I speak. Last winter I told you about one thing. I continue to tell you the words which I succeeded in writing to you last winter. As God made us here in the land in which we dwell, here we dwell. Before the white people came we thought that the land was ours. But the President said that the land was sold, and so it was sold. We reserved for ourselves a very small part of the land, and that we have for ourselves. But the white people wish to take that from us and send us to another land; that is very hard for us! To deprive us of our land would be just like killing us. But we wish to live, therefore I write a letter to you. And you think "Indians are bad!" Therefore we tell you that we will live as white people. This is the very truth which we tell you. And when we live as white people, we wish to keep our own land. Therefore we wish to live as white people. (Although I wish to tell you all the things which are difficult for us, I can not do it; so perhaps on another day I will tell you some again.) . . . My friend, when white people, Americans, who have seen Indians tell you anything, they usually tell you what is true about them. And those who have not seen them at all generally say, "It is said that Indians are bad." When they talk together they say, "The Indians are very bad." Now, my friend, we hope that you may speak what is in your heart, and, having God in mind, have pity on us who are Indians! Whether it is night or day, we are ever apprehending some trouble. My friend, I wish to make a very few remarks upon another matter. You white people say that we are to have the white soldiers for agents. But we know about the soldiers. And as we know about them, we fear to see them (among us). We do not want them. We know about them because the first agents that we had were soldiers. They usually act just as if they were the only human beings! And when they wished to abuse a man or a woman, they usually abused the person in utter defiance of all our ideas and customs. Even if they wished to kill them, they usually killed them. In fact, they usually treated them just as so many hogs and dogs. Therefore we do not want them (among us again). When the Indians did wrong, they were not usually the first offenders. Even when the soldiers did wrong first, they usually concealed their bad deeds, and showed to the President the bad deeds of the Indians. . . . (And, my friend, I add some words again. Though there are here and there among us Indians those who speak very true and honest words, the President does not, as it were, accept them from us as true. He accepts only the words of the agent. That is very hard for us to bear. That is the chief thing which gives us trouble.) And though I will repeat one subject, still I will say it just as I have done. The President (?) hates us Indians who have sold our land to him, and who continue the cultivation of the soil, treating us as if we were those Indians called the Sioux. You think that we are just like all Indians; but we are unlike them. Some Indians desire (to act) on the side of the white people, and others are not so. The latter are those called Sioux. And when you think that we are just alike, we are not so, we are unlike. We Indians are of different nations. You, for your part, O white people, are of various kinds, and we are so too. If on the one hand the Dakotas hate us, and on the other hand you dislike us, how can we hope to live! That being the case, we wish to live, and so we wish to proceed towards you. Even though it is possible for us to fail, still we wish to acquire the privilege of living as white people. For only in that way can we prosper. Now, I have told you enough about that subject. I will tell you about another matter. We work for ourselves because we wish to live. We work for ourselves because we know full well that it is good for us. But this season we are in great trouble. Our wheat has been withered by the heat; therefore we have not realized from our wheat crop more than thirty or forty cents a bushel. Consequently it seems as if we had not accomplished anything at all for ourselves. Yet we have different kinds of vegetables; we have cultivated them for ourselves; potatoes and corn, for instance. And when we see these white persons (who are near us) we think, "They surely prosper!" Therefore we desire (to imitate them). It has been just three years since we began to have tools, as we have learned that all tools that are your own are life-sustaining. And we know very well that we ought to try to work at various occupations, therefore we desire to do this. And when we write this letter to you God is, as it were, sitting with us; therefore we hope that you will not talk at all about (depriving us of) our land. We wish to keep our own, therefore we petition to you. We petition on the one hand to you who have aided us Indians, and we petition on the other hand to you who are on the other side. Pity us Omaha Indians. We do not refer to all tribes, we refer to ourselves alone.

LE-UYA^NHA TO A. B. MEACHAM. (Same date.)

Kagčha, wfbčahaⁿ cuččəčə tá minke. Ėbč ɕiⁿ ctčctəwaⁿ majaⁿ
 My friend, I pray to you I send to you I will. Who he is soever land ɕan'di nŋa maⁿɕiⁿ gaⁿɕai, ebčəgaⁿ. Níkaciⁿga fe awína'aⁿ ɣi, iⁿcte in the alive to walk he wishes, I think that. Person word I hear them when, as if 3 sniaⁿtčəqti ɕgaⁿ. Kɪ majaⁿ ɕaⁿ pahan'ga a'wan'ɣigčitaⁿ tč wačəte
 I am very chilly so. And land the before we worked for ourselves the food a'ɕaⁿniŋəqtiⁿ aŋɣigčitaⁿi hə. Gand' ɕ ɹdaⁿ ɕskaⁿbčəgaⁿ. Níkaciⁿga we lived by means of we worked for ourselves And then that good I think that. Person qɪⁿha-jide ɕiⁿ ctčctə majaⁿ ɕan'di nŋa maⁿɕiⁿ gaⁿɕai hə. Gátə majaⁿ red-skin he is soever land in the alive to walk he wishes That land 6 inŋawəčə tčgaⁿ Wakan'da iⁿwiⁿɕai ɕgaⁿ, fe uwfbə cuččəčə. Ėskana life-sustaining in order that God told me as, word I tell you I send it to Oh that wfbčahaⁿ cuččəčə fe tč nŋze kaⁿbčəgaⁿ. Kč, kagčha, ɕəna wfbčahaⁿ
 I pray to you I send it to word the you receive it I hope. Come, friend, enough I pray to you cuččəčə.
 I send it to you.

NOTES.

682, 2 and 3. Níkaciⁿga . . . sniaⁿtčəqti ɕgaⁿ. Refers to what the white people were talking about. Such talk chilled him, made him shudder.

682, 4. Gand e ɹdaⁿ, etc. Gand (e) has a good meaning, being prob.=gañɣi (W.).

TRANSLATION.

My friend, I send to you to petition to you. I think that whosoever exists wishes to live on the land. When I hear the words of (white) persons I am, as it were, very chilly! When we first worked the land for ourselves we lived by means of food. And (?) I think that it is good. Whatever Indian (person with red ^{color}) exists desires to continue alive in the land. As God has told me that thing in order for the land to be life-sustaining, I send to tell you the word. I hope most earnestly that you will accept the words which I send you for the purpose of petitioning to you. Well, my friend, I have sent you enough of a petition.

HUPEÇA TO A. B. MEACHAM. (Same date.)

Kagécha, íe wíⁿ uwí^bça tá minke há. Caⁿ wágazúqti uwí^bça
 My friend, word one I will tell you And very straight I tell you axídaxe. Níkaciⁿ/ga uké^çiⁿ añ'ga^çiⁿ úekaⁿ çíçha qtáaⁿçé añ'ga^çiⁿ, áhigíⁿ/qti
 I make it for Indian common we who are deed your we who are loving it, very many myself (mv.)
 aⁿ/çíⁿ-báji. Iáigaⁿ/çai majaⁿ wéçíⁿwiⁿ-má wañ'gíçé aⁿ/çíⁿ. Níkaciⁿ/ga uké^çiⁿ 3 we are not. President land those who sold it all we are. Indian common añ'ga^çiⁿ aⁿwañ'xigéçitaⁿ añ'ga^çiⁿ. Aⁿwañ'xigéçitaⁿ añ'ga^çiⁿ waçánaⁿoniⁿ á.
 we who are we are working for ourselves. We who are working for ourselves (as do you forget us
 mv. we mv.)
 Níkaciⁿ/ga uké^çiⁿ údaⁿ añ'ga^çiⁿ íe aⁿ/çíⁿi-naⁿ/i. Níkaciⁿ/ga uké^çiⁿ ptiⁿiⁿ-má Indian common good we who are word we have given Indian common those who
 mv. you from time to time. are bad edádaⁿ gáxe gaⁿ/çaji-má çkigaⁿ/qti wackáxe-naⁿ/i. Kí níkaciⁿ/ga údaⁿ-ma 6 what to do they who do not just alike you usually make us. And Indian those who wish wéçáⁿiⁿ aⁿmaⁿ/çíⁿ añgaⁿ/çai. Céna uwí^bça.
 distinguished we walk we wish. Enough I tell you.
 (from others)

TRANSLATION.

My friend, I will tell you one thing. And on my own account I will tell you the exact state of affairs. We Indians who are loving your ways are not very many. We are all those who sold the land to the President. We Indians are working for ourselves. Have you forgotten us who have been working for ourselves? We who are good Indians have given you words regularly. You have treated us just as you have the bad Indians, who do not wish to do anything. But we good Indians wish to continue distinguished from others. I have told you enough.

MAWADAⁿƆIⁿ TO A. B. MEACHAM. (Same date.)

- Kagé'ha, le djúbaqtei ié'ae wifé'ahaⁿ eué'ae'è tá minke. le é'ha
 My friend, word very few I speak I pray to you I will send to you. Word
- jiⁿá-qtei aná'aⁿ ɣí'etè, gíekaⁿ/qti ubé'aⁿ-naⁿ-maⁿ hä. Aⁿ'ba'é, kag very small I hear even if, very quickly I usually take hold of it To-day, my frie
- 3 Ɔa'éawaqé'í'hai kaⁿbé'gaⁿ. Ɔa'éawagí'hai-gü. Píqti, kagé, uúwagíkaⁿ/i-ga.
 you take pity on us I hope. Pity ye us! Anew, friend, help ye us!
- Kí majaⁿ júat'aⁿ Ɔan'di, kagé, éskana é'di caⁿ'caⁿ aní'a wabé'ítaⁿ
 And land I have grown in the, friend, oh that there always I live I work
- maⁿbé'iⁿ kaⁿbé'gaⁿ. Ataⁿ at'é eté'té'waⁿ ein'gajín'ga wiwí'a-ma éskana
 I walk I hope. When I die soever child those who are my oh that
- 6 ujan'ge é'í'hai uhaí kaⁿbé'gaⁿ. Kí úckaⁿ é'í'í'hai é'dí'hi ɣí, "Cín'gajín'ga road your they fol- I hope. And deed your in that case, child
- añ'í'í'hai-ma íbahaⁿ a'íⁿ eté'gaⁿí á'haⁿ, aⁿƆaⁿ'í'hai. Úckaⁿ é'í'í'hai uhaí those who are our knowing to have will be apt ! we think. Deed your they follow
- ɣí-onaⁿ, "Údaⁿ etai á'haⁿ," aⁿƆaⁿ'í'hai, qí'án'í'hai. Aⁿ'waⁿ'haⁿ'e añ'guⁿ'í'hai há.
 when, only, Good will (be) ! we think, we love it. We pray for some-thing we wish
- 9 Ké, kagé'ha, céna uwi'é'ha eué'ae'è hä.
 Come, my friend, enough I tell you I send to you

NOTE.

The text is given as corrected. When it was dictated two explanatory words were mentioned before aⁿƆaⁿ'í'hai, in line 7. The former, eweaiⁿ/gí'í'hai, means, "we think about them." The latter, aⁿwañ'gí'í'hai, from wá'í'í'hai, means, "we desire (it for) them, our own (kindred)."

TRANSLATION.

My friend, I will send you a very few words which I speak as I pray you (to do something). Even if I hear but a very small part of your words, I am always very quick to take hold of it. To day, my friend, I hope that you will pity us. Pity ye us! Friend, help us again! Friend, I hope that I may ever continue to live and work in the land where I was made. Whensoever I may die, I hope that my children may follow your road. And in that event we think "Our children will be apt to have a knowledge of your deeds!" We think that only when they follow your customs can there be happiness. We love (that course). We wish to pray for something (for our children?). Well, my friend, I have told you enough.

TRANSLATION.

(He dwelt at the Skidi village.) I have heard it said that he is dead. If it be so, I wish to hear very accurately about it. O you who are the (Pawnee) agent, I ask a favor of you, I petition to you. O ye who are the Pawnee chiefs, I ask a favor of you; get for me all that the deceased owned. If you act uprightly for me in getting my own property for me, send hither to tell me about it. And if you send hither honestly to tell me about my own, I (will) send to you to petition to you, which is just the same as my seeing you (face to face?). Formerly he (the dead man) abandoned this land and departed. His land here has been lying altogether idle; but when he was yonder where you are he had possessions; and I wish you to send and tell me just what he had, whether articles in the lodge, horses, oxen, wagons, or anything else. And I wish to learn whether he left a child. Speak first to the chief Recaru kiribaski about it. My friend, ask him what he (the deceased) had. My friend, the interpreter, I petition to you. You are apt to know what he (the dead man) owned. My friend, I have not continued to act as a common Indian. As I act like the white people, I wish to improve my own property very honestly by means of what he (the deceased) owned at the time of his death. If you can settle the affair for me, send to tell me about mine very quickly. When I hear about my own I will come to a decision.

HUPEÇA TO ÇI-QKÍ-DA-WI ÇE-ÇÁ-ÇU.

Ca^{n'}, Çáç'i-máce, wisíç'e-na^{n'}-ma^{n'}i. Wi^{n'}ai ka^{n'}béçga^{n'} çá^{n'}ja, wabéç-
Well, O ye Pawnees, I think of you occasion- I see you I hope though, I have ta^{n'} édega^{n'} i^{n'}ta^{n'} béçeta^{n'} çí, wisíçai. Níkaci^{n'}ga wi^{n'}ai-bai-máce, ána çat'ai been working, and now I have finished if, I remember Person ye whom I have seen, how you have you (pl.).

3 winá'a^{n'}i ka^{n'}bça : íwimáxe cuççáçç. Níkaci^{n'}ga añ'gaç'i^{n'} wacta^{n'}bai teçá^{n'} I hear about I wish: I ask you a question I send to you. Person we who move you saw us in the you past

i^{n'}ta^{n'} áda^{n'} a^{n'}ç'i^{n'}. Maja^{n'} çan'di çatfi tç'di wacta^{n'}be, maja^{n'} añç'i^{n'}i çá^{n'} now good we are. Land in the you came when you saw us, land we sit in the hither

wacta^{n'}bai wáqe amá cka^{n'}i béçgaçti éga^{n'} añçáçai. Maja^{n'} sagiqti íaíga^{n'}çai you saw us white the (pl. they stir all so we do. Land very firm President people sub.)

6 aká wegáçai wçççqti a^{n'}ma^{n'}ç'i^{n'} áda^{n'} wisíçai i^{n'}çá-máçí íwimáxe cuççáçç há.
the has made for we are very glad we walk there- I remember I am sad I ask you a question I send to (sub.) us

NOTES.

Çiqkidawi çecaçn, the Omaha notation of the Pawnee, Riqkidawi recaru, according to L. Sanssouci.

686, 2 and 3. ana çat'ai winá'a^{n'}i ka^{n'}bça, others express it more fully: ána çat'ai éda^{n'} ebéçga^{n'} aná'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bça (501, 9), and ána ca^{n'} çat'ai çíçte winá'a^{n'}i ka^{n'}bça (512, 1). See, also, 482, 11 (tç íçte ca^{n'} aná'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bça), and 508, 1 (tçska^{n'}i gíná'a^{n'} ga^{n'}çai).

TRANSLATION.

O ye Pawnees, I think of you from time to time. I hoped to see you, but I have been working, and now that I have finished I remember you. O ye Indians whom I have seen! I wish to know how many of you have died, and so I send to you to ask you (about it). We Indians whom you saw in the past are now doing well. When you came here you saw us on the land, on the land in which we dwell, and there are we imitating all the acts of the white people. The President has given us very good titles to our lands, so we are rejoicing and going forward; but when I think of you I am sad, and so I send to ask you a question (about yourselves?).

TA'WA'GAXE-JIŅGA TO HEQAKA-MANI AND ICTA-JA'JA', YANKTONS.

Pahan'gadi uma'činka áma tē'di nīkaci'ga wacta'be čatī. Kī č'di Formerly season other in the person you saw them you came And then nīkaci'ga dūba fe úda'qti wačū'i tē gisīčē-na' ca'ca'. Kī i'na' wačīta' p-son four word very good you gave the they re. contin. always. And now to work čicta'ī ŋī, čida'be taitē ebčēga'. Wawākega hēga-bāji. Nīaci'ga a't'ai 3 they finish when, they shall see you I think that. We have been very sick. People we have
hā. Wēča-baji'qti'a'ī, áda' čī čga' a'čisičai caŋgāhi taŋ'gata'. Nīkagāhi
We are very sad, there- you so we remem- we shall reach you. Chief
ber you
amá čahī tē'di čēna-čtēwa'-'bāji, áda' aŋgū wačāsičai-bi eska' č agčī the (pl. they when you (pl.) showed not even there- we that you remembered us (introductory that) perhaps that they sub.) reached you the slightest attention, there- us (introductory that) returned nīkagāhi amá, áda' caŋgāčai. Djo aká caŋ'ge čī' tē čatī tē'di čde 6 chief the (pl. there- we go to you. Joe the (sub.) horse he gave the you when but sub.) fore fore to you (sub.) to you (act) hither čačū-bāji; i'na' ikāge čīnkē gisīčai. Maxē-čā'ba aká caŋ'ge čī' tečā' he does not go now his friend the (st. he remem- Two Crows the horse that he gave to to you; bers him. (sub.) you in the past čatī tē'di, i'na' ikāge čīnkē gisīčai. A'pa'na'ga aká čatī tē'di caŋ'ge you came when, now his friend the (st. he remem- Big Elk the you when horse hither bers him. (sub.) came hither čī'ī; i'na' ikāge čīnkē gisīčai. Čatī tē'di Hūpeča caŋ'ge wī' wī'ī; i'na' 9
he gave you; now his friend the (st. he remem- You when Hupeča horse one I gave now gave you; bers him. (st.) came hither you agīsičē, wīkāge. Čēna ijāje aŋgīdaxu cučēčai. Uctē amá waŋ'gičē I remember my friend. Enough his name we write our we send to you. The rest all it, own caŋ'ge čī'ī-ma čīkāge amá bēūga waŋīa'be čačē ta amá. Čin'gajin'ga horse those to whom you friend the (pl. all to see them, they will go to you. Child gave sub.) their own wīa úwagičā-gā. A'waŋ'kega čēga' a'čīn-na' at'ūčīn. Anīa ŋī, 12 my tell it to them. Me sick but so nearly I died. I live it, awāgisīčē, awāgiŋa'be ka'ba.
I remember I see them, my own I wish them, my own,

NOTES.

687, 2. nikaciⁿga duba, four persons, Joseph La Flèche, Two Crows, Big Elk, and Taⁿwaⁿ-gaxe jiŋga. Hupeča, the fifth man, dictated the sentence in which his name occurs.

687, 4. ɸi egaⁿ, emphatic, ɸieniⁿgaⁿ, etc. (F.), you truly are the one. W. makes ɸi egaⁿ, etc., = Uwikie anaŋkáce, aⁿɸisiɸai egaⁿ caŋgahi taŋⁿgataⁿ, O ye whom I have addressed, since we remember you, we will go to you.

687, 5. cena-etēwaⁿ-baji, etc. They did not receive even the slightest attention (F.); You (pl.) showed not even the slightest attention (eeŋactēwaⁿ-baji!); They did not get anything at all (W.). The Omaha chiefs went to the Yankton without taking the "young men." The Yankton paid them no attention, so the chiefs thought that it was because the Yankton wished the "young men" to come.

TRANSLATION.

Last year you came to visit our tribe. Then you made very fair promises to four men, who have not forgotten them. Now they have done their work, and I think that they will visit you. We have had considerable sickness, and our people have died. This has made us very sad. Therefore we remember you especially, and we shall visit you. When the chiefs went to see you you did not pay them much attention, so they concluded that it was because you thought of us, the members of the progressive party, and they said so on their return to us; therefore we are going to visit you. Joe gave you a horse when you came, but he did not go to you (with the chiefs); and now he remembers his friend. Two Crows gave you a horse when you came (to see us), and now he remembers his friend. Big Elk gave you a horse when you came, and now he remembers his friend. When you came, I Hupeča gave you a horse, and now, my friend, I remember it. Only we write our names and send to you. All your other friends to whom you gave (i. e., promised) horses will go to you in order to see their own (horses). I, Taⁿwaⁿ-gaxe jiŋga, wish you to tell my adopted children among the Yanktons that I have been sick, and that I came very near dying. If I live I will remember them, and I desire to see them.

TA^NWA^NGAXE-JIŊGA TO MI^NGABU, A YANKTON.

Céapátaⁿ, nísíha, can'ge aⁿɸá'í-ma wan'giɸé'qti ɸiŋgaí. Gaⁿ wíɸíŋaⁿbe
From your place, my child, horse those which all are gone. And (so) I see you, my own kaⁿhɸa. Ádaⁿ edádaⁿ etéetēwaⁿ, nísíha, íe údaⁿqti aⁿɸá'í tɸeɸé kaⁿbéégaⁿ.

I wish. There-fore what soever, my child, word very good you give you send to me hither I hope.

3 Waqíⁿha uqɸé'qti ɸiŋaⁿkiɸá-gá.
Paper very soon send back to me.

TRANSLATION.

My child, all those horses which you gave me at your place, and which I brought away, are gone! So I wish to see you. Therefore, my child, I hope that you will send and give me very good words of any kind whatsoever. Send back a letter very quickly.

MA^NTCU-NA^NBA TO PANYI-NAQPAOL.

- laⁿekáha, wiúepa mégaⁿ, waqiⁿ'ha gaⁿ' euééwikiéé. Caⁿ' níkaeiⁿ'ga
 My sister's son, my grand- likewise, paper any- I cause to be taken And person child
- d'úba taⁿ'wu'gəaⁿ ɕiɕhai gaqəaⁿ' ɕé gaⁿ'ɕai ai, aná'aⁿ, éde íwimáxe
 some nation your migrating to go wish they I have but I ask you say, heard,
- euééɕé. Ki ána ná-báji éⁿ'te ei aná'aⁿ kaⁿ'bəa, wágazúti aná'aⁿ 3
 I send to you. And how many you do not perhaps again I hear it I wish, very rough I hear it
- kaⁿ'bəa. Ki gañ'xi níkaɕáhi nañkácé, ei ána ná-báji éⁿ'te ei wágazu
 I wish. And and then chief ye who are, again how you do not perhaps again straight many go
- winá'aⁱ kaⁿ'bəa. Gañ'xi aŋgú ɕéɕutaⁿ tó wakéga tó wagíni aŋgáɕai
 I hear from you I wish And then we from this the sick the we recover we go
 (time)
- há. Usni tó ɕkitaⁿ ɕíngé taté. Né tai tó iⁿ'ɕa-máji. Majaⁿ' ɕaⁿ úmaka 6 Cold the as far as none shall (be). You will go the I am sad. Land the cheap
- ekáxe ɕaaⁿ'nai tó iⁿ'ɕa-máji. Gañ'xi majaⁿ' ɕaⁿ údaⁿ pahan'ga iⁿ'tiáⁿ you make you abandon it the I am sad. And then land the good first now iɕápahaⁿ. Iⁿ'tuⁿ majaⁿ' ɕaⁿ údaⁿ pahan'ga tó iɕápahaⁿ, údaⁿ majaⁿ' ɕaⁿ
 I know it. Now land the good first the I knew it, there-fore
- téqíagiɕe. I'e'age ut'ai ɕaⁿ winá'aⁱ kaⁿ'bəa. Ádaⁿ uqéé'qtei ɕáze híbe 9
 I prize mine. Old man they died in the I hear of you I wish. There-fore very soon evening part
- níze xi, iɕaɕé tó.
 you when, you will please
 receive it send it hither.

NOTES.

This letter was sent to Panyi-naqpaol and his son, who were Otos.

689, 9. I'e'age ut'ai ɕaⁿ, etc. An appeal to the patriotism of the Otos. "I wish to hear from you concerning the place where your old men (ancestors) have died (and where their bones lie)." Do you prize it? Or have you lost all love for the land and its associations?

TRANSLATION.

My sister's son and my grandchild, I have sent you a letter at any rate. I have heard that some persons of your nation wish to migrate to another country, and I send to you to ask you about it. I wish to hear how many of you are not going; I wish to hear the facts. And I wish to hear from you, O ye chiefs, how many of you are not going. And we, from this time forward, are progressing towards recovery from the sickness. By the time that the cold weather is over there will be none of it. I am sad on account of your contemplated departure. I am displeased because you set little value on the land which you are abandoning. But I, for my part, now know that the land is the chief good thing (for us). I know now that the land is the best thing for us, therefore I prize my country. I wish to hear from you what you think about the place in which your ancestors died. Therefore please send a letter very quickly, on the very evening of the day when you receive this letter.

ICTAÇABI TO HEQAGA SABĖ, MACAⁿ, AND MAWATAⁿNA, YANKTON AGENCY, DAKOTA TERRITORY. 1879.

Caⁿ zaniⁿ wibçahaⁿi hā, nikaⁿciⁿ/ga nañkácē. Ki caⁿ/ aⁿ/baçé/qtei
Now all I petition you (pl.) , person ye who are. And at any rate this very day uágaenⁿ kaⁿbçégaⁿ gaⁿ wiñanⁿ/bai knⁿ/bça. Çé-ma cinⁿ/gajinⁿ/ga-ma

I travel I hope as I see you (pl.) I wish. These the children

3 waðáxe-ma awáguiaⁿ/be kaⁿ/bça hā. Nanⁿ/de isaⁿ/çinⁿ/ge. Ce Smdé gçecká those whom I made I see them, my I wish Heart cause of gladness I That Tail spotted ataⁿ gçinⁿ/ éiⁿ/te é iⁿ/wiⁿ/ç íçai-gā. Gáçaⁿ etaⁿ/be xi uqçé/qtei çkitaⁿ how far sits perhaps that to tell me send ye! That (ev. ob.) you see it when very soon simultaneously

iⁿ/baxúti-gā.
write ye to me.

NOTE.

Ietaçabi was an Omaha; Heqaga sabĖ and Macaⁿ were Ponkas, refugees among the Yanktons; and Mawataⁿna was a Yankton.

TRANSLATION.

Now I petition to you all, O ye Indians! And as I hope to start on a journey this very day, I wish to see you. I wish to see those persons (Yanktons) whom I have regarded as my children. I have nothing to make me glad. I wish you to send and tell me how far distant Spotted Tail and his people are dwelling (from you?). When you see this letter, do not let any time pass before you write to me.

LE-MIⁿ-WAⁿU, A PONKA WOMAN, TO HER DAUGHTER, MARY NAPECA, AT SANTEE AGENCY, NEBRASKA.

6 Çiadi çidaⁿ/be gaⁿ/çéde t'ée hē. Wáqa-nájiⁿ çidaⁿ/be gaⁿ/çai. I'e'áge Your father to see you wished, but he is dead Wáqa-najin to see you wished. Old man t'ée hē. Çiñanⁿ/ge çidaⁿ/be gaⁿ/çéde, çéi'e waçitaⁿ égaⁿ, añgúça-báji is dead Your younger sister to see you wished, but, your sister's works as, we do not go tanⁿ/gataⁿ. Máçadi çianⁿ/ge nújiñga wiⁿ/ íduçéde, gí'tee hē. C'ea tē we shall. Last winter your younger sister boy one gave birth to, he is dead Yonder the 9 e'aⁿ/ çingé çanájiⁿ, cinⁿ/gajinⁿ/ga çañká e'aⁿ/ çingé najiⁿ xi, awána'aⁿ nothing being the matter you stand, child the ones nothing the matter they stand if, I hear of them

kaⁿ/bça. Çisanⁿ/ga ákú naⁿ/baⁿ/ indé-wagáxe gçíçai hē. I'e'áge aká
I wish. Your younger brother (sub.) twice "face-picture" has sent it back. Old man the (sub.)

gáñarátanⁿ wakéga a-i tē caⁿ/caⁿ í'te hē. U'aⁿ/çingé çianⁿ/ge aká çidaⁿ/be from that un- seen place sick he was the continuing died . For no reason your younger sister the (sub.) to see you 12 gaⁿ/çai.

wishes.

NOTES.

This is one of the few letters dictated to the author by women.

690, 6. Φhadi probably refers to Hexapa, mentioned by Jabe skā in his letter, p. 477.

690, 7. Φhāŋge, see 477, 3.

TRANSLATION.

Your father wished to see you (again), but he died (without seeing you). *Waqā-naji*ⁿ wished to see you. The venerable man is dead. Your younger sister wishes to see you, but her husband is working, and so we will not go away. Last winter your younger sister gave birth to a boy, but he died. I wish to hear whether you and the children, in yonder land, are well and happy. Your younger brother has sent his picture back twice. The old man was ill as he came from that land (Indian Territory?), and, as the illness continued, it killed him. In vain does your younger sister wish to see you.

LOUIS SANSSOUCI TO HAŊGA-CENU.

Waqiⁿ'ha giaⁿ'ḡakiḡé ḡaⁿ ḡḡi. Winá'aⁿ tē údaⁿ hā. Φanḡa maⁿ'niⁿ
 Paper you have sent back to me the has re- I hear from the good You live you walk turned. you
tē taⁿ'wiⁿḡḡaⁿ'ma ḡiⁿ'ḡai, ḡiná'aⁿi ḡi, nān'de ḡiudaⁿ'i. Iuḡa aⁿ'ḡá'i kē the the gentes are glad, they hear when, heart good for them. News you give the from you. me
uḡḡagacāⁿ maⁿ'niⁿ kē'a údaⁿ'ḡti maⁿ'niⁿ tē etí ḡi, et pūḡi tē etí iⁿ'wiⁿ'ḡa- 3 you travel you walk to the very good you walk the too when again had the too you have not náḡi. Ki údaⁿ maⁿ'niⁿ ḡi, iⁿ'wiⁿ'ḡaná ḡi, et pūḡi ḡiḡetē iⁿ'wiⁿ'ḡaná ḡi, told And good you walk it, you tell me it, again had even if you tell me it,
 me.
iⁿ'udaⁿ tēiⁿte. Édī ḡi, taⁿ'waⁿḡḡaⁿ'ma ḡéna uáwagḡbēa tē. Úckaⁿ aⁿ- good for it may be. In that case, the gentes these I will tell it to them. Deed you
 me.
ḡaⁿ'ḡawaⁿ'xe tē uwiḡbēa tá minke. Níkaciⁿ'ga umaⁿ'ḡinka ḡénaḡtei t'e-má 6 asked me about the I will tell to you. People season only this those who died
waḡána'aⁿ ekaⁿ'na tē uwiḡbēa tá minke. Wacúce, ḡahíge isaḡ'ga; Maⁿ- you hear about you wish the I will tell it to you. Wacuce, ḡahíge his younger Two them brother;
teú-naⁿ'ba isaḡ'ga, Cúḡa-maⁿ'ḡiⁿ; ḡáḡiⁿ-ḡahíge iḡiⁿ'ge, Heḡáḡa-iḡiⁿ'ga;
 Grizzly bears his younger Cúḡa-maⁿ'ḡiⁿ; Pawnee-Chief his son, Little-Elk;
 brother,
Wáqa-náḡi isaḡ'ga, Iḡuhábi; ḡahé-ḡap'ḡ, Maⁿ'teú-naⁿ'ba iḡaⁿ'eka; Wéḡiⁿ'ete 9
 Wáqa-naḡi his younger Iḡuhabi; ḡahé-ḡap'ḡ, Maⁿ'teú-naⁿ'ba his sister's son; Wéḡiⁿ'ete
 brother,
akádi Nímaⁿ'ha iḡiⁿ'ge, He-snáḡa; Iⁿ'tean'ḡaḡa, Maⁿ'teú-naⁿ'ba isaḡ'ga;
 in the Nímaⁿ'ha his son, He anaja; Iⁿ'tean'ḡaḡa, Maⁿ'teú-naⁿ'ba his younger
 brother;
ḡḡedaⁿ'-náḡi iḡáhaⁿ, Wáḡ'ajl, Ictásanda akádi, Kíḡahánu iḡiⁿ'ge; Cyú-Standing Hawk his brother- Wáḡ'ajl, Ictasanda in the, Kíḡahánu his son; Prairie-
 in-law.

- jĩnga ijin'ge, Maŋgĩ-jĩn'ga; Jĩ-čĩiⁿ ijin'ge; Ğĩde-gĩhi ijan'ge, Ȳaⁿ'zechicken his son, Small-Breast, Buffalo Rib his son, Fire Chief his daughter, Ȳaⁿ'zehaŋ'ga igĩqqaⁿ; Sĩ-jaŋga igĩqqaⁿ; Maŋ'gĩqqaⁿ igĩqqaⁿ, Maⁿ'teu-xi ijan'ge; haŋga his wife; Big Foot his wife; Maŋgĩqqaⁿ his wife, Maⁿ'teuxi his daughter;
 3 Wacũce ijan'ge naⁿ' kē; Waũqtawāqē igĩqqaⁿ; Iekadābi iũtepa; Ğa-saⁿ'- Wacũce his daughter grown the Lover his wife; Iekadabi his grandchild; Pasaⁿ.
 nĩjiⁿ iũtepa; Čĩge-dũba ijan'ge; He-saⁿ'nida ijan'ge; Kawāha ijan'ge; nĩjiⁿ his grand- child; Čĩge-duba his daughter; Horn-on-one-side his daughter; Kawaha his daughter;
 Taⁿ'waⁿ'raxe iⁿ'c'āge iũtepa; Wacũce ijin'ge, Ğĩdi-ā-i-najiⁿ; ki Paŋ'ka Village-maker old man his grand- child; Wacũce his son, Ğĩdi-ā-i-najiⁿ; and Ponka 6 iⁿ'c'āge, He-xĩpa t'e. Iũqqa āji t'aⁿ' qāⁿ'ja, uwiŋqqa-nĩji t'a minke old man, Scabby-Horn dead. News other exists though, I will not tell you.
 Waqĩna'aⁿ ckaⁿ'na Ȳi, pĩ waqĩⁿ'ha ičā-gā. Maⁿ'teu-naⁿ'ba akĩ wabājiⁿ you hear about you wish it, anew paper send hither. Two Grizzly bears the message then (sub.)
 čĩtē cnečĩni: Waqĩⁿ'ha naⁿ'baⁿ cnečĩwikič' qāⁿ gqĩaⁿ'čakič'ji-naⁿ, ādaⁿ this sends to you; Paper twice I have sent it to you by some one (see note) you have not sent it us- ally, there- fore 9 ičāⁿ'baⁿ' ačĩna'aⁿ'ji tatē. Ūdaⁿ'qti maⁿ'bēiⁿ.
 a second time (=ever) you shall not listen to it. Very good I walk.

NOTES.

Louis Sanssouci is the son of an Omaha mother.

Haŋga-cenu was an Omaha staying at the Pawnee Agency.

691, 3. tē cti . . . tē cti (F.'s reading); but W. gave, ādaⁿ'qti maⁿ'niⁿ tē'cti cĩ pĩji tē'cti iⁿ'wiⁿ'čanāji.

692, 7. qāⁿ, intended for qāⁿ'ja, though, which makes sense.

TRANSLATION.

The letter which you sent me has come. It is good for me to hear from you. The gentes rejoice because you continue alive; they are happy to hear from you. When you gave me the news concerning your travels, you did not tell me whether you had been very prosperous or unfortunate. You ought to tell me if you are doing well, and even if you are not prospering. In that case, I will tell it to these gentes. I will tell you the thing about which you asked me. You wish to hear about those (Omahas) who have died only during this year. I will tell you. (Their names are as follows:) Wacũce, Gabige's younger brother; Čĩqqa-maⁿ'qĩⁿ, Yellow Smoke's younger brother; Little Elk, Pawnee Chief's son; Iqũhābi, Waqqa-najiⁿ's younger brother; Ğĩhe-jap'ē, Yellow Smoke's sister's son; He-sũta, Nemaha's son, of the Elk gens; Iⁿ'teŋgaqqa, Yellow Smoke's younger brother; Standing Hawk's brother-in-law, Wac'aji, of the Ietasanda gens, and son of Kidahamu; Prairie Chicken's son, Small Breast; Buffalo Rib's son; Fire Chief's daughter, the wife of Ȳaⁿ'ze haŋga (or Henry Blackbird); Big Foot's wife; Maŋgĩqqaⁿ's wife, the daughter of Maⁿ'teu-xi; Wacũce's grown daughter; Lover's wife; Iekadabi's grandchild; Ğa-saⁿ'-najiⁿ's grandchild; Four Hoof's daughter;

Horn-on-one-side's daughter; Kawaha's daughter; the grandchild of the elder Village-maker; Waence's son, Edi-ai-naji; and the Ponka old man, Hexapa. There is other news, but I will not tell you. If you wish to hear it, send a letter again. Yellow Smoke sends you this message: I have sent you two letters, but you have not replied; therefore you shall not hear from me again. I am doing very well.

CA'TA'-JIŃGA TO T. L. GILLINGHAM.

- Ca'ta'-jin'ga wačita' čéeka'na tē wačita'qti. Na'za ú'e ča' cti Little Wolf to work you wished for the he has worked very hard. Fence field the too
- áнасă. Kí' éga' úda' čéeka'na tēga' gáxe. Kí' éga' gáxe éde čéama he has fenced in. And so good you wished for him like the he has done. And so he has but these (sub.)
- Uma'ha' amá piáji-na' giáxai-na' ca'ca'. Ú'e-ičamasč čičč'a'; ca' 3 Omahas the (pl. sub.) bad only have done to him usually always. Fence of a field they have pulled to pieces;
- ge-ma čatēwakíče-na' i' ú'e epá ča'ndi. Ga'ŋ'ŋi wawčei 'i-baji-na' i', gí'čaji'qtihorases they have caused ally us- field his in the. And then pay they have contin- very sad he not given nally, (has been)
- na' i'. Éskana fe čiči'a i'wí'čaka' i'čačč ka' bča. Ičádi činkčé níf i'ča-gá.
 usually. Oh that word your you help me you send I wish. His the one to tell send father who to him hither.
- Ga'ŋ'ŋi áahuečge ča'ŋ'ja i'čádičaf aká wačita'-báji-na' i', áda' i' ča'máji-na' 6
 And then I insist on it though agent the does not deal with usu- there- I am sad usu- ally
- ma' i'. Áda' fe čiči'a i'wí'čaka' i'čačč ka' bča. Ga'ŋ'ŋi, kagčha, "Wanágčge I am. There- word your you help me you send I wish. And then, my friend, Domestic animal
- wáčín-gá," ečé ga' éga' dáxe éde, gččba-čáđč wábč'i éde, čéama i' ma'- keep them, you said it as so I have done but, sixty I had them but, these (sub.) they stole
- ča' i', ečéwakičaf. Či' hacída' gččba-čáđč či' i' ma'č'a' i'. Na'ba'kigčge 9 from me, have made an end of them. Again after wards sixty again they stole from me. On two occasions
- wanágčge bčúga t'ea'kičč-na' i'. Kagčha, ja' ca'ŋ'ge-ŋi dáxe ŋi'čtč, domestic animal all they have killed usu- ally. My friend, wood horse-house I made even when,
- i' ma'č'a'-na' i'.
 they have usu- stolen from me ally.
- Hau. Ga'ŋ'ŋi, kagčha, čáč'i-na'páji ijin'ge ca'ŋ'ge ta' i' ma'č'a' i' há. 12
 And then, my friend, Pač'i-na'páji his son horse the he has stolen from me
- I'nbaxu gč'i' aká, i'čádičaf cti, wáqe uet'é amá cti, ca'ŋ'ge ta' i' baha'ŋi.
 To write for he sits the one agent too, white the others (pl. sub.) too, horse the they know him.
- Éskana, kagčha, i'wí'čaka' ka' bčéga' ca' éga' giáxai wáčagáji etéde.
 Oh that, my friend, you help me I hope. And so to do to you should have commanded them.
- Ga'ŋ'ŋi ŋi'naí, t'ea'č'č ga'č'i. A' hucigai. Dáda' wiwíga tē waqpač i'ŋ'ga'čaf. 15
 And then they fought, to kill me they wished. They spoke angrily to me. What mine the to lose (?) they wished for me.

- Ádaⁿ iⁿ maⁿ ʔaⁿ enáqti najiⁿ. Wáq̄e b̄q̄ga aⁿ ʔaⁿ bahaⁿ i, ʔé iⁿ maⁿ ʔaⁿ i
 There- to steal from alone they stand. White man all they know about me, this they stole from fore me me
- t̄ē. Ádaⁿ ʔskana, kaḡeḥa, waʔitaⁿ áʔaḡóji kaⁿ b̄q̄gaⁿ ʔétaⁿ. Aⁿ waⁿ tiⁿ
 the. There- oh that, my friend, to deal with you com- I hope this (std. oh.). He hit me fore me offenders mand him
- 3 t̄eaⁿ ʔé gaⁿ ʔai x̄iⁿ t̄et̄ē, iⁿ ʔitaⁿ-báji. “Ḡiʔit̄ ʔgan̄-ḡa,” ʔeé kaⁿ b̄q̄gaⁿ. T̄éiq̄ti to kill me he wished even he did not deal with Do deal with the of- you I hope. Very hard fore me when, the offender for me, fender for him, say it
- iṅḡaxai uⁿ áq̄ga uwib̄ga cuʔcaʔé. T̄iʔaʔáji x̄i, waiⁿ maⁿ ʔaⁿ caⁿ caⁿ iṅḡaxe they have the suf- I tell you I send to you. You do not if, to steal them from always he will done for me fering I send to you. send hither me do it a-
- tá-aká Caⁿ ge taⁿ enáqte iⁿ ʔiⁿ ʔiⁿ ḡé; uet̄é t̄ē iⁿ ʔitaⁿ-báji. Ūkaⁿ wiⁿ gainst Horse the that alone he has brought rest the he has done with them as
 me. (std. ob.) mine back; nothing for me. Dead one
- 6 ʔé x̄ina akádi, waⁿ ú ní aḡi iʔé-ma wábisánⁿ de wat̄éi-naⁿ i; ʔéde waʔitaⁿ-báji
 this he about the woman water those who go holding them he does not deal fight one who (?), after it down by pres- ure them ually; but with them as offenders
- iʔád̄iʔai aká. Isan̄ ga m̄gaⁿ ḡaxai, ʔé wábisánⁿ de wat̄éi, ʔitaⁿ ʔkaⁿ b̄ga agent the His younger likewise does it, this holding them colto, to treat I wish it (sub.), brother down by pres- ure offender for him
- ʔaⁿ ja, caⁿ ʔitaⁿ-báji.
 though, yet he does not deal with him.

NOTES.

Mr. Gillingham was one of the two teachers in the agency day school when Dr. Painter was agent. He succeeded Dr. Painter as agent for the Omahas. When this letter was written he was living at St. James, Nebr.

693, 2. tegaⁿ gaxe, contr. fr. t̄ē egaⁿ gaxe.

692, 13. Iⁿ baxu ḡéiⁿ aka, the author. ʔaʔiⁿ naⁿ paj̄i ijiṅge, i. e., Niⁿ dahan̄.

693 and 694, 15. t̄eaⁿ ʔé gaⁿ ʔai. Caⁿ taⁿ jiṅga was assaulted by Taⁿ waⁿ gaxe jiṅga, while the author was at the Omaha Agency. These two men belong to the same Omaha gens.

TRANSLATION.

As you desired Little Wolf to work, he has worked. He has also inclosed his field with a fence. You wished him to work well in this manner, and so has he worked. So has he done, but these Omahas have been constantly doing evil to him. They have pulled the fence to pieces, and have turned horses into his field to devour the crops (against his wishes). And then, as they have never allowed him any damages, he has been always displeased. I earnestly wish that you would send here and aid me with your words. Send to tell the agent! Though I have insisted on it, the agent has never dealt with them as offenders; therefore I am always sad. Therefore I wish you to send here and help me with your words. And as you said, “My friend, keep domestic animals,” so have I done; but these men have stolen from me sixty which I had, making an end of them. And subsequently they stole sixty more from me. On two occasions have they killed all my domestic animals (poultry!). My friend, even when I had made a wooden stable they stole my animals from me.

My friend, jači'-na'pajĭ's son has stolen my horse. He who is writing this for me, the agent, and the other white people, know the horse. I earnestly desire, my friend, that you would aid me. You should have commanded them to treat him likewise. And then they fought; they wished to kill me. They spoke saucily to me. They wished me to lose my possessions. Therefore they have done nothing but steal from me. All the white people (here) know about me, and how they (the Indians) have stolen from me. Therefore, my friend, I hope that you will tell this (agent) to deal with them as offenders. Even when one hit me and wished to kill me the agent did not deal with him for me. I hope that you will say to him, "Do deal with the offender for the sake of the plaintiff!" I send to tell you how I suffer from the hard treatment which I have endured from the Omahas. If you do not send here (to stop it) the young man will always work against me by stealing my horses, etc., from me. The agent has made the offender restore my horse; but he has done nothing else for me. There is one thing which is done by the one who fights (i. e., Ta'wa'-gaxe jiŋga). When the women go for water, he usually holds them down and ravishes them; but the agent does not punish the offenders. This man's brother also does it; he, too, ravishes them by holding them down. Though I have wished him (the agent) to deal with the Omaha as an offender, he has not done so.

JAČI'-NA'PAJĪ TO HIS SON, NI'DAHA'.

Jači' akādi ci xī'ji, uqčē'qti gī-gā. Né xī'ji, úcka' pšij'qti uá'a'si To the Pawnee you if, very soon return. You if, dead very bad I have reach leaped into hā, áda' uqčē'qti wīa'be ka''bēa hā. Či', uqčē'qti, Tcāza-čīn'ge, čīsaŋ'ga there, very soon I see you I wish You, very soon, Tcāza-čīn'ge your younger fore brother júwagče gī-gā. Tcāza-čīn'ge, né tē'di úcka' pšij'qti ani' né hā. Níkaci'ga 3 with them return. Tcāza-čīn'ge you when dead very bad you took away People went amá bčúgaqti íai hā. Wamúskē ují kē'di čagčēi ka''bēa. Ákihi'de the (pl. all have Wheat planted in the you return I wish. Attend to it sub.) spoken
 wacka' gī-gā. Waqī'ha cuhí xī'ji, waqī'ha uqčē'qti gīaŋ'kičā-gā, try return ye! Paper reaches when, paper very soon cause to be returning to me, čiji'čē méga'. Ččaka íčādičai aká ha' gččba-čābčēi ja' úcka' t'a' 6 your elder likewise. This one agent the (sub.) night thirty sleep dead to
 brother
 ingáxai, áda' in'ča-máji- na' ca''ca'. Áda' uqčē'qti čagčēi ka''bēa. Jači' has made there- I am sad usu- always. There- very soon you return I wish. Pawnee for me, fore
 a-ná ča'čēičai xī'ctē, uqčē'qti učā gīčai-gā. I'wī'ča gīčai-gā.
 the (pl. they have pitied even if, very soon to tell be sending be ye sending sub.) you it back (pl.) back.

NOTES.

695, 1. ga^hiⁿ akadi, refers to the Pawnees being settled in a village, "sitting." Had they been traveling, amadi would have been used.

695, 1 and 3. uekaⁿ piijiqti, etc. See the charge made against Niⁿdahaⁿ in the preceding letter. The father says that he was punished (for his son's offense).

Niⁿdahaⁿ is addressed in lines 1 and 2; Teazaⁿ fiⁿge, in lines 2, 3, and 4; and Niⁿdahaⁿ from line 5 to the end.

TRANSLATION.

If you have reached the Pawnee settlement, return very soon. After your departure I got into great trouble; therefore I wish to see you very soon. You, Teazaⁿ fiⁿge, return very soon with your younger brothers! Teazaⁿ fiⁿge, when you went, you took away a very bad deed (sio). All the people have spoken of it. I wish you to return in time for the sowing of the wheat. Make an effort to return and attend to it! When the letter reaches you, send one to me very quickly. (I speak to you, Niⁿdahaⁿ) as well as your elder brother. This agent has made trouble for me for thirty days; therefore I am sad all the time. So I wish you to return very soon. Even if the Pawnees have pitied you, send back very soon to tell (about your return). Send back to tell me!

MA^NTCU-NA^NBA TO WIYAKOI^N.

- Jaⁿckáha*, fuⁿca dádaⁿetē aⁿfiⁿge. Caⁿ aⁿwaⁿqpani, jaⁿckáha.
 Slater's son, news whatever I have none. Still I am poor, sister's son.
- Aⁿctaⁿbe* tē caⁿcaⁿqtiⁿi. Taⁿwaⁿggaⁿ etē nānⁿde iⁿgisa-múji aⁿgaⁿ.
 You saw me the it has always continued so. Nation too heart I am uneasy about my own I am so.
- 3 Waqpáni bēiⁿ. Ádaⁿ nugēādi wiⁿaiⁿbai xi, újawa ckáxi agisiⁿce, nānⁿde
 Poor I am. There-fore last summer I saw you when, abundance you made I remember, heart
- iⁿudaⁿ-naⁿ-maⁿ*.
 it is very good for me.
- Hau*. Aⁿpaⁿ-wadaⁿbe fiⁿke Ihaⁿhtaⁿwiⁿ amādi ēdi fiⁿkeiⁿte
 He who sits looking at the Elk (pl.) Yankton at the (pl.) there he sits whether
- 6 iⁿwiⁿē iⁿga-gā. Maⁿze-naⁿpⁿiⁿ isaⁿga, máçadi Umaⁿhandi tí hā, é send hither to tell me. Iron Necklace his younger brother, last winter to the Omahas came that
- áwake*. Paⁿka d'úba gi-bi af, éde cetaⁿ agi-bajji. Cúde-gáxe ijáje
 I mean him. Ponka some that they they but so far they are not returning. Smoke Maker his nam
- aⁿfiⁿ*, jaⁿgáqti sepahaⁿi. Umaⁿhaⁿ d'úba Paⁿkaⁿ aⁿai, iⁿtaⁿ aⁿba-waqúbe
 he has, very great you know him. Omaha some to the Ponkas went, now mysterious day (=we-w)
- 9 sítāⁿ aⁿai. Cetaⁿ aⁿgú aⁿnáⁿ-aⁿ-báji Umaⁿhaⁿ amā éⁿama caⁿ five have gone. So far we we have not heard. Omaha the (pl. sub.) these in fact aⁿwaⁿwaⁿa aⁿaf wéⁿdaⁿhaⁿ-maⁿjī. Caⁿ úⁿkie aⁿaf-báⁿjī, éⁿ íⁿé uné cⁿtí aⁿaf-báⁿjī.

 whether they I do not know about And to talk they did not and to hunt too they did not gone have them. go, buffalo go.

Waⁿtaⁿ uⁿíⁿé aⁿaf, wáⁿqe amáⁿdi. Áⁿhigi t'ai náⁿciⁿ'ga. Gáⁿfaⁿ waqⁿiⁿ'ha, Work to seek have white among Many have people. That (ev. oh.) paper, their own gone, people them.

jaⁿekáⁿha, níⁿze xī, uqⁿé'qⁿtei ian'kiⁿá-gá. Kí Aⁿ'paⁿ-wadaⁿ'be éⁿinké é'dedí 3 sister's son, you're when, very soon send to me. And He who sits looking at the Elk (pl.) he is conceive it

xī, iⁿwiⁿ'fa gíⁿfa-gá, wanaⁿ'qⁿéiⁿqⁿti. Wigáⁿqⁿfaⁿ aká éⁿai. Íⁿfa jīⁿjīⁿ'ga
 If, to tell me send back, very hastily. My wife the has him (sub.) for a re- News small ones lation. of various kinds fat'aⁿ xī, iⁿwiⁿ'fa gíⁿfa-gá. Cúⁿfaⁿ-maⁿjī xī, wigáⁿqⁿfaⁿ cuⁿéⁿé taté. Cuⁿéⁿé you have If, to tell me send back. I do not go to you If, my wife shall go to you. To go to

 you

gaⁿ'é égaⁿ, íwimáⁿxe cuⁿéⁿéⁿé. Caⁿ' íⁿfa éⁿingé'qⁿti égaⁿ, iⁿ'taⁿ waqⁿiⁿ'ha 6 as she desires it, I ask you a question I send to you. And news there is none at all as, now paper
 I send to you.

NOTES.

696, 2. náⁿde íⁿagísa-maⁿjī aⁿgaⁿ. Without aⁿgaⁿ, the phrase would mean, "I am uneasy about my own nation." Used with aⁿgaⁿ, it refers to the pleasure which he would feel if the Omahas gave many horses and other presents to their Yankton visitors. Waqpani bēiⁿ, used (vide W.) as well as aⁿwaⁿqpani (see line 1).

696, 3. Adaⁿ nugeáⁿdi wíⁿaⁿ'bai xī, etc. xī generally has a future reference, but it can refer to the past. A fuller reading is, Adaⁿ nugeáⁿdi wíⁿaⁿ'bai té'di, úⁿawa cⁿkáⁿai téⁿ agísiⁿéⁿé té', náⁿ'de íⁿudaⁿ-naⁿ'-wáⁿ' (W.).

696, 5. éⁿinkéíⁿte, contr. fr. éⁿinké éíⁿte. So gaⁿ'é égaⁿ, for gaⁿ'fa égaⁿ, in line 697, 6.

TRANSLATION.

Sister's son, I have no news at all! Sister's son, I am poor. It has ever been with me as you saw me. I can not be made glad by the generosity of my own nation. I am poor; I feel glad when I think of the abundance of good things which you made when I saw you last summer.

Send and tell me whether He-who-sits-looking-at-the-elk is with the Yanktons. I refer to the younger brother of Iron Necklace, who came here to the Omahas last winter. It is said that some Ponkas are coming back, but they have not yet come. One, whom you know very well, is named Smoke Maker. It has now been five weeks since some Omahas went to the Ponkas. We have not yet heard about (the arrival of the party?). I do not know positively whither these Omahas went. They did not go to pay a friendly visit, nor did they go to hunt the buffalo. They went to seek work among the white people. Many Indians have died. Sister's son, when you receive that letter, send to me very soon. Send back to tell me very hastily whether He-who-sits-looking-at-the-elk is there. My wife has him for a kinsman. If you have small news items of different kinds, send back and tell me. If I do not go to you, my wife shall go. I send to ask you a question, because she wishes to go to you. There is hardly any news at all (when) I send you this letter.

LANGA-GAXE TO ICTA-MAⁿJE.

Waqiⁿ'ha xáciqti égaⁿ cuééwikié' hñji xí'etē, wágazu gáxa-gā.
 Paper a very long time ago I caused to be taken to you it has not reached there even if, straight make it.

Cin'gajin'ga éta nié éingé xí, awána'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa. E'aⁿ' maⁿ'niⁿ' tē údaⁿ'qti Child your have no pain if, I hear about them I wish. How you walk the very good

3 maⁿ'niⁿ' winá'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa. Pañ'kaja waqiⁿ'ha éinké é ééaéé ñ. Pañ'kaja you walk I hear it I wish. To the Ponkas paper the (ev. that have you I sent it. To the Ponkas waqiⁿ'ha éaⁿ é éeaⁿ'éakié tē, íe edaí tē wágazu iⁿ'wiⁿ'éa gíen-gā.

 paper the that you have sent it the, words what the straight you tell me send back.

Awána'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa, Pañ'ka, wíetl. Taⁿ'waⁿ'gēaⁿ nañkácē, úckaⁿ e'aⁿ' wágazu
 I hear about them I wish, Ponkas, I, too. Nation ye who are, deed how straight

6 winá'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa. Cāaⁿ ééama iⁿ'teaⁿ gēébahíwiⁿ naⁿ'ba atí-biamá. Atí
 I hear about you I wish. Dakota these now two hundred have come it is They come éteaⁿ' tía ama. Aⁿ'bāé atí taité. É'ja wa'újinga éinké aína'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa, will, at some future time. To-day they shall surely come. There old woman the one I hear about I wish.

éeti nié éingé xí. Miⁿ'-aⁿ'bá-éiⁿ áwake. Éeti nújinga (Iⁿ'bēítu) cin'gajin'ga she, too has no pain if. Moon Moving by I mean her. She, too boy Blackbird child

9 éñá éanká awána'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa, nié éingé xí. Wa'ú gēaⁿ' éinké aná'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa, her the ones I hear about I wish, has no pain if. Woman the one whom he I hear I wish.

éeti nié éingé xí. Índádaⁿ wakéga etē aⁿ'éin'ge, nié aⁿ'éin'gēqti há. Ééama she, too has no pain if. What sick soever I have pain I have none at all. These taⁿ'waⁿ'gēaⁿ' amá u'úgga téabai. Gaqgaⁿ' u'úéai bēúga, taⁿ'waⁿ'gēaⁿ'. nation the (pl. sub.) suffer exceedingly. Migrating have scattered all, nation.

12 Iéáíéai aká maⁿ'zéská wa'í-báji. Waqiⁿ'ha cuhí tē níze xí, uqéé'tqei Agent the money has not given to them. Paper reaches the you receive it when, very soon iaⁿ'éakié te. Éíxaⁿ' etí éiúgaⁿ edábe nié éingé xí, awána'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēa.

 you will send it to me. Your too your grand-father also (more than two) have no pain if, I hear about I wish.

Hau. Índádaⁿ wanágge wajin'ga, kúkusi etí uhiwaéai gíek uhiwaéai-gā.
 What domestic animal bird, hog too they raise them quickly raise them

15 Majaⁿ' éaⁿ méadi níube ákihíde éiúba-gā. Waqtá daⁿ'etē gíek ují xí, Land the last spring you atter-ling to it plow it! Fruit (or whatever) is quickly planted if, waqítaⁿ údaⁿ há. Waqítaⁿ údaⁿ'qtiⁿ. Can'ge daⁿ'etē wániⁿ xí, gaⁿ' gíekaⁿ'qti to work good Work (is) very good. Horse soever you have if, so very quickly then waqitaⁿwákié-gñ, majaⁿ éan'di. Can'ge-ma éiháma ééwaqéji-gñ, gaqé cause them to work, land on the. The horses do not give them to any one aside that comes along.

 ééwaqéji-gñ. Iⁿtaⁿ waqitaⁿ té e-naⁿ údaⁿ, gátégúⁿ uwibéá euééaéé. Caⁿ do not send them. Now work the that only good, in that manner I tell you I send to you. And wabáqéze níze qí, íe údaⁿqtiaⁿ uqééqteí íaⁿéñkiéé té.
 letter you re- when, word very good very soon you send hither will.
 ceive it by some one

3

NOTES.

698, 3. waqíha éínke, i. e., waqíha éaⁿ. Naña, in Iowere, stands for both éínke and éaⁿ, in Pegiha, as the sitting and the curvilinear are undifferentiated in the former language.

698, 6 and 7. Ati eteaⁿ taama, a parenthetical expression.

698, 8. Iⁿbéitu, parenthetical, the Omaha notation of the Oto Idríqtu.

698, 9. Wa'u gñáⁿ éínke, etc. Amended thus: Wa'á gñáⁿ éínké níé éíngé qí, aná'aⁿ kaⁿbéa, I wish to hear whether the woman whom he has married is well (W.)

698, 11. taⁿwaⁿgñáⁿ ama and taⁿwaⁿgñáⁿ, the Omaha people.

TRANSLATION.

Even if the letter which I sent you a very long time ago has not reached there, act fairly! I wish to hear whether your child is well. I wish to hear how you are, whether you are doing well. Have you sent the letter to the Ponkas? Send back and tell me just what words they say in reply to the letter which you sent them. I, too, wish to hear about the Ponkas. O ye gentes, I wish to hear just how you are getting along. It is said that two hundred of these Dakotas have now come. (If they have not arrived, they will come at some future time.) They shall come to-day. I wish to hear about the old woman, my relation, who is there, whether she is well. I mean Mí-aⁿba-éíⁿ. I wish to hear about the children of her son, Blackbird. Are they well? I wish to hear about the woman whom he has married. Is she well? I have no sickness whatever; I am without any disease. These Omaha gentes have suffered exceedingly. All the nation has scattered; the people have removed. The agent has not given them money.

When the letter reaches you please send me one very soon. I wish to hear whether your grandparents are well.

Whatever domestic animals, birds, and hogs the white men raise, do you raise quickly! Cultivate the land carefully which you cultivated last spring. It is good work to plant vegetables quickly. Work is very good. If you have horses make them work the land very quickly. Do not give away the horses to anybody that comes along. Do not send them off to another land. I send to you to tell you that work is now the only good thing. When you receive the letter please send me very good words speedily.

LENUGA-WAJIⁿ TO WAJIⁿSKĀ, AN OTO.

- fe djúbaqtei wabúgēze wídxaxe cuééačē. Caⁿ úckaⁿ e'aⁿ xī, winá'aⁿ Word very few letter I make to you I send to you. And deed how if, I hear from you
- kaⁿ'bēa. Wietí údaⁿ'qti anájiⁿ cēču. Cē'a nugéadi cupí tē'di fe wíⁿ' wí'
 I wish. I too very good I stand here. Yonder last summer I reached when word one I gave you
- 3 pí éskaⁿ bēgaⁿ. Eátaⁿ čatšáji. Cē'a Gahige-wadáčinge cuhí tečan'di fe
 I was there I thought that. Why you have not come. Yonder Saucy Chief reached in the past word
- wíⁿ' iⁿ'čín' gēf. Edádaⁿ tē wíwja gaⁿ wíbaⁿ gaⁿ aⁿ'ba áakihidēqti agčíⁿ.
 one he brought back to me. What the my as I called as day I watched it very I sat. closely
- Kí Gahige-wadáčinge fe wíⁿ' ačíⁿ' gēf: ihučají'qti čatf xī, iⁿ'udaⁿ'qti-maⁿ' tē.
 And Saucy Chief word one brought it back: you did not consult me at all had come it would have been good for me.
- 6 Kí aⁿ'ba wíbead. tē ákihaⁿ hí égaⁿ, čatšáji tē há. Caⁿ' číhaⁿ' číadi céna
 And day I mentioned the beyond reached as, you did not come. And your mother father only
- awásičē-naⁿ-maⁿ', iⁿ'udaⁿ'qti-maⁿ'. Caⁿ' edádaⁿ wí' tē čatšáji tē (iⁿ'čapagča
 I remember usually I do, it (is) very good for me. Now what I gave the you did not come you hesitated on account of it
- čáji tē), iⁿ'ča-máji teábe. Aⁿ'etē čí iⁿ'čín' ča'in'ge gaⁿ. Kí edádaⁿ aⁿ'čá'šá'ji you were not coming, I am sad very. As if you you despised mine so. And what you did not give me
- 9 tē iⁿ'čapagča čáji tē. Kí cē'a cupí tē'di edádaⁿetē aⁿ'čá'šá'ji-máji, the you hesitated on account of it you were not coming And yonder I reached when whatsoever I did not make for myself,
- wabčítaⁿ-máji. Kí agčí xī, wabčítaⁿ-qti-maⁿ'. Caⁿ' wamúskē, nú etí,
 I did not work. And I have returned when, I have worked very hard. And wheat, potato too,
- wahába etí, aⁿ'gúji, égaⁿ čaⁿ'čickaxe kaⁿ'bēgaⁿ. Majaⁿ' čan'di waⁿ'čigčítaⁿ corn too, we have planted, so you do for your- self I hope. Land in the to work for him- self
- 12 údaⁿ'qtiⁿ'i. Majaⁿ' čan'di wéčigčaⁿ gáxa-gü. Níkačíⁿ'ga waⁿ'čigčítaⁿ čtaⁿ'be is very good. Land in the mind make it. Person works for himself you see him
- xī, "čé čégimaⁿ tá minke," ečégan-gü. Kí é údaⁿ ebégaⁿ, majaⁿ' čan'di when, this I do this I will, think that! And that good I think that, land in the
- waⁿ'čigčítaⁿ tē. Céna uwíbea cuééačē. Wabúgēze iⁿ'čénai égaⁿ, cuééačē.
 to work for him- the. Enough I tell you I send to you. Letter you (pl.) as, I send it to have begged of me you.
- 15 Éskana enégaⁿ xī, fe dádaⁿetē winá'aⁿ kaⁿ'bēgaⁿ, fe údaⁿ'qti. Nugéadi Oh that you think that if, word whatsoever I hear from you I hope, word very good. Last summer
- pí tē'di dūba jaⁿ' xī agčí.
 I when four sleep when I came back.
 was there

NOTES.

jenuga-wajiⁿ—see 651.

700, 5. ihuⁿajiⁿqtiⁿ ⁿatiⁿ ⁿl iⁿudaⁿ-qtiⁿmaⁿ te, explained thus by L.: I would have been very glad if you had come without consulting (or heeding) Saucy Chief at all.

700, 7 and 8. iⁿacpagⁿa ciⁿajiⁿ tē, parenthetical and explanatory: we can read either "edadaⁿ wiⁿ tē iⁿacpagⁿa ciⁿajiⁿ tē iⁿfaⁿ-majiⁿ teabe," or "edadaⁿ wiⁿ tē ⁿatiⁿajiⁿ tē iⁿfaⁿ-majiⁿ teabe." The former can be rendered thus: I am much displeased because you hesitated about coming on account of (your having given me nothing in advance of) what I gave you. (See line 9.) The latter is plain: I am much displeased because you did not come when I gave you something.

TRANSLATION.

I send you a letter of a very few words. I wish to hear from you how matters are. I, for my part, am doing very well in this place. I thought that when I went to see you last summer I went to give you one piece of advice. Why have you not come? When Saucy Chief returned from his visit to you he brought me one word (from you?). I invited you to come as I had something, and so I watched the days very closely, expecting your arrival. And Saucy Chief brought back one word: I would have been very glad if you had come without consulting him at all! And when the time had gone beyond the day which I mentioned to you you had not come. I remember your father and mother from time to time with pleasure. But I am much displeased because you did not come when I offered to give you something. It was as if you despised my possessions (which I intended giving you after your arrival). You did not come because you held back on account of your having given me nothing (when I was there). And when I reached yonder where you are I had made nothing at all for myself, I had done no work. But since my return home I have been working very hard. We have planted corn and potatoes, and have sowed wheat, and I hope that you may do likewise. It is very good to work for one's self in the land. Come to some decision with regard to the land. When you see a man working for himself think, "I will do thus." I think that it is good for one to work the land for himself. I have told you enough. I send you a letter because you begged one of me. If you think thus (i. e., wish to do as I have advised), I would like to hear from you any good words whatever. When I was with you last summer I returned here in four days.

MA^NTCU-NA^NBA TO WIYAKO^N.

Jaⁿekáha, íe ⁿíja tē ana'aⁿ há. Aⁿwaⁿ'ⁿakié tíⁿfaⁿ tē iⁿ'ⁿéⁿqtiⁿ-maⁿ Slater's son, word your the I have . You speak to me you have the I am very glad heard it sent hither

há. "Negíla, winégi méga," eéⁿ tē aⁿ'ⁿéⁿgehaⁿ'ⁿqtiⁿ há, éde níⁿkaciⁿ'ⁿgaⁿ-ma Mother's my moth- likewise, you the you prayed to me most but the people brother, er's brother said that earnestly íⁿ'ⁿéⁿge hága-báji á, iⁿ'ⁿéⁿge- naⁿ uetaí. Kí Paⁿ'ⁿkaⁿ etí áⁿíⁿéⁿai há, áⁿíⁿéⁿai 3 have aban- very ! old man only they re- And to the Ponkas too they have to the Pawnees doned the place main. gone

etí áⁿíⁿéⁿai há, Waⁿéⁿtadaⁿ etí áⁿíⁿéⁿai há, méⁿha etí gaⁿ'ⁿu aⁿéⁿai. Ádaⁿ too they have to the Otos too they have spring to to they There-gone slides scrape went. fore

702 THE ƆEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- iⁿe'áge-naⁿ uetaí. Ɔeae i'áfaⁿ b'á'na taté eb'ágeⁿ. Ũdaⁿ dáxe b'á'na taté old man only are left. What you mentioned formerly I shall surely I think that. flood I do it I shall surely fall
- eb'ágeⁿ. A'Ɔiqib'ea n'faciⁿ'ga Ɔi'údaí égaⁿ úkizáqti atfi, ádaⁿ, Ɔaⁿekúha,
I think that. I hesitate on account of proba- person so, so as not at home they there- sister's son, ble failure come.
- 3 Ɔináqtei Ɔikáge mégaⁿ, iⁿ'udaⁿ ekáxe- naⁿ'i ádaⁿ awáckaⁿqti taté.
you only your friend likewise, good for you make usually there- I make a great ef- shall.
fort
- B'á'na taté Ɔaⁿ'ja caⁿ' aⁿƆaⁿ'Ɔacigáji-gá. Ɔ'íkáge mégaⁿ, caⁿ' b'á'naqti Ɔaná'aⁿi
I shall fall though still do not speak against me on Your friend likewise, still I fall also- you (pl.)
account of it! hear it
- et'etéwaⁿ Ɔá'eán'giéi-gá. Taⁿ'waⁿg'Ɔaⁿ' waqpaíⁿ tē áhigi uwib'ea éé há even if pity (ye) me! Naíon poor the much I have told that
you
- 6 b'á'na tē. Ci waiⁿ tē iⁿ't'aⁿi Ɔaⁿ' awá'í etéde aⁿƆin'ge há Muⁿ'zēskaⁿ' eú
I fall the. And robe the I had it the I should have I have none Money too given to them, but
- b'á'na-máji. Ki níkaeiⁿ'ga-ma, q'áwi'áí héga-máji. Dádaⁿ wí'f-máji taté
I have not re- And the people, I love you (pl.) very much. What I shall not give to you ceived.
- iⁿ'Ɔa-máji há. Iwí'áb'ei-máji. Ataⁿ' aⁿn'íai tē cetaⁿ' ean'ki'ei caⁿ'caⁿ'
I am sad I do not hate you (pl.). How long we live the so long we have each other as kindred
- 9 taté. Ɔí can'ge t'aⁿ' amá gazaⁿ' Ɔanájiⁿ, ádaⁿ wa'áqpaíⁿ et'etéwaⁿ'ji shall. You those who have many among you stand, there- you are poor not by any means horas fore
- há. Éde wí, can'ge Ɔing'ádi'qti anájiⁿ. B'á'na Ɔútaⁿ'qti uwib'ea.
But I just where there are no horas I stand. All very straight I tell you.
- Níkagáhi nan'káce, wanáce Ɔie'fia Ɔan'ká, níka'áhi ijin'ge nan'káce, Ɔi Ye who are chiefs, a soldier your they who are, chief his son ye who are, aga n
- 12 níka'áhi ijan'ge-maceⁿ etí, aⁿwaⁿ'qpaíⁿ égaⁿ caⁿ' Ɔá'eán'Ɔa'ce te wib'ehaⁿ' chief ye who are their too, I am poor I still you pity me the I pray to you daughters
- cu'Ɔa'Ɔé. Aⁿ'waⁿ'qpaíⁿ tē caⁿ'caⁿ'-qti-maⁿ, ádaⁿ Ɔe-má níkaeiⁿ'ga-ma
I send to you. I am poor the I am continually, there- Ɔe-má níkaeiⁿ'ga-ma fore the people
- ti-nú i'á'gaskaⁿ'b'ee et'etéwaⁿ' caⁿ' wá'bei'a taté eb'ágeⁿ. Wí'behaⁿ' tē those who I make the exper- notwithstand- still I shall fall in regard I think that. I pray to you the have come iment ing to them
- 15 céna há. Síndé-g'eeeká édedí g'í'té u'efkie te iⁿ'wí'Ɔ Ɔa-gá. Waqin'ha enough Spotted Ball whether they (in pl.) has spo- the to tell me send hither. Paper are there ken to you
- Ɔaⁿ' b'á'zē há, i'á'Ɔa'Ɔé. Miⁿ'Ɔumaⁿ'ei wa'á'tē hí tē'dí b'á'zē há.
the I have you have Noon meal arrived when I re-
ob. received it hither, ceived it

NOTES.

701, 2. The idea is, "You have appealed to me so strongly that I can not refuse you, when you address me as your mother's brother. Yet I do not see how I can do anything for you."

702, 4. aⁿƆaⁿ'Ɔacigáji-gá, fr. i'Ɔacige. Changed by W. to aⁿƆaⁿ'Ɔacigáji-gá (fr. i'Ɔacige), Do not talk against me because I give you no food! Amended by G. thus: AⁿƆaⁿ'Ɔacigáji ka'bi'ega', I hope that you will not talk against me, etc. U'acige still has a personal reference, and it is very probable that such a use of ꝑacige and i'acige may yet be found.

702, 6. wai' tē i't'a'i ꝑa' awa'i etede a'ꝑi'inge hā. The use of "tē" is puzzling. W. suggests this: Wai' i't'a'i ꝑa' ena ectēwa' awa'i etede, a'ꝑi'inge ga' ectēwa' (or ectēwa' a'ꝑi'inge ga') b'ē'i'a tate eb'ega', I ought to give them even my only robe, but I have none, so I think that must fail (to do as they wish). G. reads, Cī wai' i't'a'i ꝑa' awa'i etedega', a'ꝑi'inge hā, ada' b'ē'i'a tate eb'ega', I should have given them my robe, but I have none, therefore I think that I shall fail.

702, 8 and 9. ca'ñkiꝑai ca'ca' tate, arobaic, sic G., for ca'ñkiꝑ ca'ca' taite, which is the modern expression, the change to the pl. being made now in the future sign, rather than in the verb itself.

TRANSLATION.

Sister's son, I have heard your words. I am delighted at your sending to speak to me. As you have said, "Mother's brother, and you, O mother's brother," you have petitioned to me most earnestly; but the people have left the place almost destitute of inhabitants; only the old men remain. Some have gone to the Ponkas, others to the Pawnees, and others to the Otos. Some have gone to dress spring hides. Therefore only the old men are left here. I think that I shall be unable to do what you have mentioned. I think that I shall fail to do what is good. (If) they come when no one is at home, when the people are scarce, I hesitate on account of probable failure; therefore, O sister's son, I shall make a great effort, because you and your friend alone have generally treated me kindly. Though I shall fail, still do not speak against me on account of it! I appeal to you and your friend; even if you hear that I have failed altogether, pity me! I have told you often that the nation is poor; that is the cause of my failure. I should have given them my robe, but I have none. Besides, I have not received any money. I love your people much. I am sad because I shall not give you anything. I do not hate you. As long as we both shall live shall we regard each other as kindred! You are among those who have plenty of horses; therefore you are far from being poor. But I dwell just where there are no horses. I have told you all very particularly. O ye chiefs—(I include) your policemen (too), ye sons and daughters of chiefs—as I am poor I send and petition to you to pity me! My poverty continues, therefore I am sure that I shall fail to do anything for these Indians who have come, even if I make the experiment. I have petitioned to you enough. Send and tell me whether Spotted Tail's people have spoken to you about the place where they are. I have received the letter which you sent. I received it at dinner time.

CANGE-SKĀ TO BATTISTE, THE PAWNEE INTERPRETER.

- Ca^{n'} cé nŋkaci^{n'}ga éčē wŋaqti cučaf hā. Kī iéskā ninké nŋkagāhi Now that person kin- my real have gone . And inter- you who chief man to you are
- céna^{n'}ba ča'čwačafčē ka^{n'}bčēga^{n'}. Ca^{n'} maja^{n'} ča^{n'} wéahfide ča^{n'}ja, waqpáni those two you pity them I hope. And land the distant though, poor only ob.
- 3 éga^{n'} čida^{n'}be cučaf. Nān^{'de} gŋuda^{n'}qti wackáxe ka^{n'}bčā. Uáwačaxa^{n'}i as to see you have gone to you. Heart very good you make them I wish. You aid us
- ka^{n'}bčā. Kī gátē áji wi^{n'} uwibčā. Uma^{n'}ha^{n'} ijan^{'ge} aká edáda^{n'} a^{n'}čā
 I wish. And that an- one I tell you. Omaha his sister the what he aban-other done
- čé gē wi^{n'} gičā^{n'}čai, áda^{n'} čičaha^{n'} eučéčai hā. Wi^{n'} ča^{n'}i ŋi, Uma^{n'}ha^{n'}-má he the one wishes her there- to pray to she sends to . One you give if, the Omahas went (pl. in ob.) you
- 6 ačī^{n'} wáčafčai tai. Kī Kucaca iha^{n'} éčā^{n'}ba úwagičā-gā hā. Kī e'a^{n'} to keep it you will employ them. And Kucaca his she too tell it to them I And how mother
- ŋi'čtē, Kucaca waqī^{n'}ha wi^{n'} gīan^{'kičē} tē hā. Wágazu i^{n'}wi^{n'}čā éi^{n'}te.
 even if, Kucaca paper one he will send back to me. Straight to tell me whether.
- Kī cé nŋkaci^{n'}ga éčē wiwŋa cuhí ŋi, e'a^{n'} cuhí éi^{n'}te awáginá'a^{n'}
 And that person kin- my reach you if, how reach you whether I hear about them.
 man reach you my own
- 9 ka^{n'}bčā. Waqī^{n'}ha ia^{n'}čakičē ka^{n'}bčā.
 I wish. Paper you send hither to me I wish.

NOTES.

704, 3. uawačaxa^{n'}i, from úwačaxa^{n'}. See ulŋa^{n'} and uwagičā^{n'} in the Dictionary.704, 4. Uma^{n'}ha^{n'}, i. e., Sida ma^{n'}čī^{n'}, who died among the Pawnees.

TRANSLATION.

Now, those men. my near kinsmen, have gone to you. I hope that you, the interpreter, and chiefs will pity them. Though the land is distant, they have gone to see you because they are poor. I hope that you will treat them kindly and make them very glad. I wish you to help us. And I will tell you about another matter. The sister of the Omaha (who died among the Pawnees) wishes to have one of the things which he left when he departed, therefore she sends to you to petition to you. If you give her one, please ask the (visiting) Omahas to keep it for her. Tell Kucaca and his mother. And Kucaca will please send back to me a letter, telling me how they are. Perhaps he will tell me correctly. And when those Indians, my relations, reach you, I wish to hear about them, and how they reach you. I wish you to send me a letter.

WAJINGA-SABĖ TO BATTISTE DEROIN AND KE-ŲREĖ.

Ca^{n'} Wāqutāda amā majā^{n'} maetē kē'm gaqqa^{n'} qē ga^{n'}qai qī'etē,
 And Oto the (pl. sub.) land warm to the (ob.) migrate to go they wish even if, i^{n'}wi^{n'} qē iqa-gā. Ci qāji ga^{n'}qa-bāji qī'etē, qūta i^{n'}wi^{n'} qē iqa-gā.
 to tell me send hither. Again not they do not wish even if, straight to tell me send hither.

NOTES.

Wajinga-sabē, Black Bird, is an Omaha, grandson of the celebrated chief of that name. Ke-ŲreĖ, Spotted Turtle, is an Oto chief.

705, 2. qāji ga^{n'}qa-bāji is a mistake. It should be either qē ga^{n'}qa-bāji, literally, they-do-not-wish to-go, or qā-bāji ga^{n'}qai, literally, they-wish not-to-go.

TRANSLATION.

Send me word whether the Otos wish to migrate to the Indian Territory, or whether they do not wish to go.

UNAJI^N-SKĀ TO GAIHGE.

Ga^{n'} agqēi hā. Umāhamādi agqēi égaⁿ qā'ea^{n'}qai égaⁿ in'kaⁿ-na^{n'}i. 3
 Just I have returned To the Omahas I have returned as they pity me as they have as a rule.
 Djō qinkē'di agqēi égaⁿ, ē'di anājiⁿ hā. Waqūtē ūdaⁿqti beāte a^{n'}qēqteci Joe to him who I have returned as there I stand Food very good I eat it very gently a^{n'}qēi. Cēama Ca^{n'} amā atī-biamā. Hūwānga amādi atī-biamā. Ceta^{n'} he keeps These Dakota the (pl. sub.) have come, it is said. Winnebago to the (pl.) have come, it is said. So far waqa^{n'}ba-māji. Gasūni ctēctē waqa^{n'}be tā minke. U'ūgaqti-égaⁿ agqēi hā 6
 I have not seen them. To-morrow or (some day) there. I see them will I who. I suffered greatly I have come Ki ca^{n'}ge-mū cti ūjēqai égaⁿ, ceta^{n'} gaeibe agqēi-māji hā. Uāwakic tē
 And the horses too are tired as, so far outside I have not gone back I talk to them the (act) cti ceta^{n'}-naⁿ a^{n'}qa^{n'}bēaⁿ-ctēwaⁿ-māji. Ca^{n'} qēqū agqēi tē iepahaⁿ tai-égaⁿ, too so far only I am far from having enough of it. And here I have the returned you (pl., in order know it that (pl.), uwiqēa cuqēqai hā. Caⁿ maja^{n'} qēqū agqēi tē i^{n'}ctē nyū i^{n'}uda^{n'}qti égaⁿ 9
 I tell you I send to you (pl.) And land here I have the more to breathe is very good for me
 hā. Caⁿ pahan'ga a^{n'}wa^{n'}da^{n'}baī gē égaⁿ ca^{n'}ca^{n'}qti qēi^{n'} amā hā. Ki
 And before we saw them the (pl. in ob.) so continually are sitting And

706 THE CEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- wamúskē eti bḗga ugʃi améga, úda'qti gēi' amá há. Ca' e'a' eé wheat too all as they have planted their own, very good they are sitting And how this
- ma'bēi' tē ga' wisʃai ma'bēi'. Ca' eéu agēi tē céama wáge amá
 I walk tho at any rate I remember you (pl.) I walk. And here I re- turned the those white the (pl. sub.)
- 3 úda'qti waja'be há. Ca' úcka' wabḗpi-máji dí a'ckáxe tēa'ja, anʃa very good I see them And deed. I did them (!) wrong I was you made although, in I live (=reck- oned) me the past,
- ka'bḗga, égima' há. Ca' uma' ʃinka ánaetcéte anʃa ka'bḗga, aa'he:
 I hoped, I did that And season how many so- ever I live I hoped, I fled:
- wakéga tē na'ape há. Céama wáoni' ʃanáji'-ma ʃa'éwaʃaʃe'qti ka' sick the I feared the seen danger Those you keep you stand the ones who you have great pity on Oh that
- 6 ebé́ga' há, iʃádiʃai eʃe wáwiké há. Ca' éskana iʃae tē ʃúta'qti úwa-
 I think that agent you I mean you And oh that I speak the very straight you
- ʃágioná ebé́ga' há. . . . Céama uúwakʃi-ma, i'na'ha, iɖawáʃe-ma tell them I think that Those those who are my near kindred, my mothers, the ones who gave me birth
- wákihída-gá; watʃaqtí awáʃia'be ka'bḗga' há Nanká-t'a'i eéti éga' attend thou to them; all together I see them, my own I hope Has-a-Back he too so
- 9 wákihíde ka'bḗga', uúwakʃi-má. Cáhiéʃa i'ɖádi eéti éga' céma uáwa-he attends to them I hope, those who are my near kindred, Cheyenne my father he too so those those who
- kʃi-ma wákihíde ka'bḗga'. Ma'téu-náji' eʃa'ba gáʃa' wí'fi. Wáʃutáda are my near kindred he attends to them I hope. Standing Grizzly bear he too that I give to you (pl.). Oto
- ʃankádi anʃagēi tē'di ca'ge dúbá wáoni' ʃakí-bi, é tēʃai há, é tē Ba-to the (pl.) we came back when horse four you had reached there again with them, it was said, that they sent hither said Bat-
- 12 díze aká. Kí wi'na' wáʃata' ca'ge-ma wáʃi' kí éi'te i'wi' ʃa iʃa-gá há, taste the (sub.) And whence the horses they reached there again with them if to tell me send hither
- Gahíge.
 Gahige.

NOTES.

The writer refused to send this letter to the Indian Territory, so Unaji-ská applied to some one else to act as his amanuensis.

Unaji-ská was a son of Cahieʃa, a Yankton who was adopted by the Ponkas. This letter was sent to the Ponka Gahige.

706, 3. Ca' úcka' wabḗpi-máji, etc. Addressed to the Ponka agent, Mr. White-man. At first Unaji-ská dictated the following: Ca' úcka' wabḗpi-máji'-qti-ma' dí ʃa'ja, And although I did the tribe (!) a great wrong by (or, before) returning (to the Omahas). But on reflection, as this had "a bad meaning" (sic), he changed it.

706, 7. Cema uúwakʃi-ma. The idea of suckling is implied here in this phrase (from uʃi, to fill with a liquid or many small objects), in other cases it refers to those who suck the breast together. The messages to Gahige were resumed in this line.

706, 8. Nanká-t'a'i, a name of Gacudiʃa, Wáʃidazé, "Fire-shaker," a shaman in 1871, but now a leader of the civilization party in the tribe. 706, 9. Cahieʃa, the real father of Unaji-ská. 706, 11. Badize, Battiste Barnaby, the Ponka interpreter.

TRANSLATION.

I have returned. As I have come back to the Omahas, they have condoled with me because they pity me. I have returned to Joe's (lodge), and there I stay. He treats me very kindly, and I eat excellent food. Those Dakotas have come, it is said, to the Winnebago Reservation. I have not yet seen them. I will see them to-morrow or at some future day. I suffered exceedingly before I returned here (or, as I returned to this place). I have not yet returned to the Yankton Reservation because the horses are weary. And, moreover, I have not yet begun to have enough of intercourse with the people here. I send to tell you, in order that you (pl.) may know that I have returned here. It has been very good for me merely to breathe the air (with a sense of freedom) since I have come here. The Omahas continue just as they were when we saw them formerly. They are prospering, as they have sown their wheat. And no matter how I get along here, I continue to think of you all. And when I returned here I beheld the white people who are neighbors to the Omahas, and these white people are doing very well. Although you reckoned that I was returning hither on account of bad deeds which I had done, it was not so. I did that because I wished to live. As I hoped to live for a number of years to come, I fled (from Indian Territory). I feared to encounter the sickness. I hope that you will have great pity on those (Indians) whom you continue to keep. I refer to you, O agent! I hope that you will tell them exactly what I speak. . . . Attend to those who are my near kindred, my mothers, the ones who gave me birth. I hope to see them all together. I hope that Has-a-back will likewise attend to those who are my near kindred. I make a similar request of Cheyenne, my father. I give this message to you (whom I have named?) and also to Standing Bear. Battiste has said that word has been sent hither that when we came back hither from the Otos, you returned there (the Ponka Agency?) with four horses. O Gahige, send and tell me where they obtained those horses which they took home (to the Ponkas).

UNAJIN-SKÄ TO WĒS'Ä-JAŅGA.

Aⁿ'ba ččəu Caaⁿ' amá waʒaⁿ'be hä, Umáha ʒi ʒan'di. Aⁿ'daⁿ'bai Day here Dakota the (pl. sub.) I saw them Omaha village in the. They saw me égaⁿ čá'eaⁿ'ččəti in'kaⁿ'i hä. Iⁿ'ča-máʒi tčábe. "Awádi né- gaⁿ as they pitied me exceedingly they con- I am sad very. Where you went as doled with me doled with me

nán'de waqʒáni- wačáʒai, xeúwačáʒai, in'čín'gai ččama. ʒaⁿ'ja, "Wanáce, anxious you (pl.) have you (pl.) have made they said the these. Though, Policemen, made us us weep, foregoing to me

čfe aⁿ'wa'jaⁿ'i," ehé. "Jingáqtei če-má gí ʒaʒiwačáʒai, wanáce-máčč." Caⁿ' you are they who caused I said. Very small these ones you have made them O ye policemen? Yet me the trouble, made us weep, foregoing to me

účkaⁿ u'áqča ké nán'de wʒa ičaⁿ'ačč čaⁿ' ean'kigaⁿ'i hä, gí'čə-baʒi'qtiaⁿ'i.
 deed I suffer the heart my I put it in the they were like they were very sad.
 (coil)

- Umáha amá edábe nán'de ɛkiga^{n'}qti^{n'}i ɕa^{n'}ja, e^{n'} taté a^{n'}ɕa^{n'}baha^{n'}ji.
Omaha the (pl. sub.) also heart they are very similar though, what shall we two do not know it.
- É uwíɕa cuɕáɕai. E'a^{n'} ɛkaxai gē wa^{n'}ete wi^{n'}áqtei égaⁿ uyíhai-gā.
That I tell you I send to you. How you do the at least this scattered one time just one as follow it for yourselves.
(in an. obj.)
- 3 Égaⁿ né ɛti ukít'ē gíɕajiwaɕáɕe-na^{n'}i. B'giɕe^{n'}qti éde ca^{n'} ɕa'ɕiɕe^{n'} teábe-
So only too nation you have usually made them A total stranger but yet they pitied very [See note.] sad.
- na^{n'}i. Ké, i^{n'}teqi égaⁿ ɛéhe. Ci gátē uɕa^{n'}ha. Ci ga^{n'} uwíɕa cuɕáɕai.
usually. Come! hard for as I say Again that apart. Again so I tell you I send to you.
me that.
- Ceta^{n'} uágaca^{n'} taté híáji, itáxaɕáɕeⁿ ké. Ejaⁿ ké ɛtēwa^{n'} ca^{n'} nán'de
That far I travel shall it has not towards the head the There the notwith- yet heart reached, of the river (lg. ob.). (lg. ob.) standing
- 6 ké égaⁿ taíte ebéégaⁿ. Ejaⁿ amá fe ɛjaí gē aná'aⁿ ɕa^{n'}ja, éti fe the so shall I think. There the (pl. word their the I hear it though, they word (coll. f) (pl. ob.)
- uɕa^{n'}adiqti^{n'} wí áɕi^{n'}heɕáɕeⁿ ɕa^{n'}ja, "Win'kēqti^{n'}i áhaⁿ" ebéégaⁿ. Ata^{n'} are altogether at one I towards me as I move though, They have spoken the full truth ! (in so- I think. When side (in so- liloquy)
- é iɕápaⁿhaⁿ ɕi', waqi^{n'}ha wi^{n'} cuhí ete há ɛí. Haú-ha! Waqi^{n'}ha wi^{n'} ingáxai tit know about it (in future). it may again. Well! Paper one they make it for me reaches you
- 9 ka^{n'}ɕa, iɕádiɕaí-á! Iɕádiɕaí ɕá'ea^{n'}ɕaɕe^{n'}qti ka^{n'}béégaⁿ té-naⁿ ca^{n'}ca^{n'}qti bēi^{n'}.
I wish, O agent! Agent you pity me greatly I hoped usually I really continue.
- Cé pí té edádaⁿ mi^{n'}-maji há. Waqi^{n'}ha bēɕaɕaɕe^{n'} mi^{n'} agēí há. Kí That I the what I did not wear . Paper (or calico) very thin I wore I came back . And reached as a robe
- níaci^{n'}gaⁿ-ma ɛé há, ɕá'ea^{n'}ɕaí té iɕádiɕaí údaⁿqti aŋgáɕeí^{n'} ɛskaⁿ béégaⁿ
the people said it . they pitied me the agent very good we had you I thought that
- 12 ɕa^{n'}eti. Éé há, iɕáɛt-a^{n'}ɕáɕ égaⁿ há, ɕa^{n'}ja edádaⁿ té ní'a égaⁿ égaⁿ áhaⁿ formerly (not now). That is it . you, my friend, some- what though what the you some- so ! (in so- liloquy) asked
- ebéégaⁿ há. Waɕáɕ uɕáket'aⁿ ɕi', údaⁿ iɕápaⁿhaⁿ téi^{n'}te ebéégaⁿ.
I think that . You try you acquire it if, good I know it might (in past) I think that.
- Waɕáɕaⁿ teɕa^{n'}ja, ní'a téha, ebéégaⁿ. Kí ɛcama ca^{n'}-naⁿ weɕéwacka^{n'}-naⁿ
You tried though, in the past, you perhaps, I think. And those at any rate (!) you make efforts for them
- 15 ca^{n'}caⁿ ka^{n'}béégaⁿ. Iɕádiɕaí 'a^{n'}qti^{n'}ɕigiɕégaⁿ ɕa^{n'}eti. Indád údaⁿ always . I hope. Agent we regarded you, our own, in the past. What good too highly
- weɕéckaxe té wíɛtē iɕápaⁿhaⁿ-maji há ɕa^{n'}ja edádaⁿ wi^{n'} éwaⁿ té'etē you made for us the I for my part I do not know about it . Though what one is causing the trouble
- égaⁿ áhaⁿ ebéégaⁿ. Ca^{n'} fe áhigí^{n'}qti wi^{n'} taté ɛtē ɛí i^{n'}teqi égaⁿ há.
so ! (in thought) I think. Yet word very many I give shall even again hard for some- what
- 18 Céna ga^{n'} ca^{n'} iɕáé té, ga^{n'} ɕaná'aⁿ t ebéégaⁿ, égaⁿ ga^{n'} uwíɕa Enough so at any rate I have the, so you hear it will I think, so thus I tell you spoken
- iɕádiɕaí-á! Gátega^{n'} ɛcna, iɕádiɕaí-á! Ga^{n'}ɕi níaci^{n'}ga wi^{n'} t'e gíɕa-O agent! Thus enough, O agent! And then person one died you have sent ɕaf- de iɕápaⁿ-májⁱ hă. Wanáce jaⁿ'ga t'éc^e hă ecaf- de iɕápaⁿ-májⁱ hă.

 back when I do not know him Policeman large is dead you when I do not know him É ɕítaⁿ aná'aⁿ kaⁿ'bɕa hă. Caⁿ' níaciⁿ'ga ɕat'ai tē é wágazu tí ā. É That straight I hear it I wish Now person you have the that correct has ? That Wanáce jaⁿ'ga enáqtei áɕiqúde hă. Níaciⁿ'ga gɕɕbahfwiⁿ kí é'di gɕɕba-sátāⁿ 3 Policeman large that only not plain Person one hundred and he- sides fifty kí é'di naⁿ'ba ɕat'ai tē wágazu iɕápaⁿ agɕɕ. Ágahádi éí ána ɕat'ai and besides two you died the straight I knew it I came back. Besides again how you have tē é wáɕawa baxú aⁿ'f iɕáí-gă. Gaⁿ' gátcegaⁿ hă, Wé's-á-jaⁿ'ga iɕádiɕai the that counting give send to me. And thus it is Big Snake agent eɕaⁿ'ba.
 he too.

NOTES.

Wes'ā-jaⁿga or Uhañge-jaⁿ (see 638) was then on the Ponka reservation in the Indian Territory.

708, 3. Égaⁿ né cti. F. said that it should be, "Égaⁿ-naⁿ cti." The author inferred from analogy that the full form was "Égaⁿ-naⁿ éti," only in that manner those too (obj. of some action), confirmed by W. The idea is that the Ponkas, by continuing divided, not only brought trouble on themselves, but in that very course of action they made the neighboring tribes of Indian sad.

708, 6. tait ebɕegaⁿ, in full, taite ebɕegaⁿ.

708, 11. níaciⁿga-ma eé hă (=egíɕaⁿ hă, vide W., but prob. needs modification), where we would expect to find, "níaciⁿga ama ai hă."

708, 12. Eé hă, may be intended for "That is it." Otherwise its connection with the rest of the text is not clear.

708, 13. Waɕack, in full, waɕackaⁿ, as in line 14.

708, 15. Indad, in full, Indadaⁿ.

708, 18. ɕana'aⁿ t ebɕegaⁿ, i. e. ɕana'aⁿ te ebɕegaⁿ.

709, 1 Wanace-jaⁿga, his Indian names were Wajiⁿagahiga (Bird Chief) and Agiteita (a Ponka modification of the Dakota, Akičita, Soldier or Policeman. On the agency roll he was recorded as "Big Soldier," of which Wanace jaⁿga is the translation.

TRANSLATION.

On this day I have seen the Yanktons at the Omaha village. When they saw me they pitied me exceedingly, and consoled with me, as I was very sad. These said to me, "Your departure to another place has made us very anxious and has caused us to weep, just as if we were children." But I said, "O policemen, you are to blame for this trouble which I have. O ye policemen, you have caused these youngest ones (or, children) to be sorrowful." Yet they, being like me, were very sad when they heard the things which I had suffered and had treasured up in my heart. The Omahas have hearts just like those of the Yanktons, but we do not yet know how it shall result (i. e., what the Omahas and their agent shall decide with reference to us). I send to tell you that. Let all of you make up your minds for this once, at least, to do but one thing. You have been making the nations sad by the course which you have been pursuing. You have been total strangers, but they have shown great kindness to you. Well, I say that, though it is somewhat hard for me (to speak thus). And that is a different subject about which I send to tell you. The time for me to travel towards the north (or, up the Missouri R. to the Yanktons) has not yet come. I think that even over there their hearts will resemble those of the Omahas and the visiting Dakotas. Though I understand their language, their words, too, are not exactly in harmony with mine, yet I think that they speak the very truth! When I know about it I will be apt to send you a letter again.

Well, O agent, I wish them to send me a letter! I have been continually hoping that you would pity me exceedingly. When I left the place where you are I wore no comfortable robe; I came here with only a very thin piece of cotton cloth on me. And the people said that they pitied me, so I thought at one time (but I do not think so now) that we had in you a very good agent! That is it. Though you have made me somewhat ashamed, I think that you have failed in some endeavor. Had you tried till you acquired it I think that I might have known what was good. You did make the effort, but I think that perhaps you failed. Now, I hope that you will exert yourself in behalf of those still under your care. We did think heretofore that we were very fortunate in having you for our agent. But what good thing have you done for us I, for my part, do not know. Although I think that one thing has been causing the trouble. Now, it is hard for me to give you very many words. I have spoken enough, and I think that you will understand it, so I tell you, O agent! This is sufficient, O agent!

You have sent us words that one man has died, but I do not know him. You say that Big Soldier has died, but I do not know him (by that name). I wish to understand it thoroughly. Has the account of the deaths of your people come in a correct form? Only the name of Big Soldier is not plain. When I returned here I knew about the deaths of one hundred and fifty-two of your people. I wish you to count those who have died in addition (to the first) and write me an account. Thus it is, O Big Snake, and you, O agent!

LION TO BATTISTE DEROIN.

December 12, 1878.

Wabágčezē tia^{n'}čakičé čaⁿ bēfzē a^{n'}bačé. Wabágčezē bēfzē tē'di Letter you have sent the I have to-day. Letter I have when either to me (ob.) received it nān'de i^{n'}č'i^{n'}uda^{n'}-qti-ma^{n'}. Níkaci^{n'}ga wana^{n'}ju-mádi éde níkaci^{n'}ga wi^{n'} heart I had it very good for me. People among the threshers but people one 3 na^{n'}tai ča^{n'}ja, ceta^{n'} nīa ja^{n'}. Ičápaha^{n'}-māji nīa tēctē, t'é tēctē killed by though, so far alive lies. I do not know it whether he will whether he will the machine live, die ičápaha^{n'}-māji. Hīje tē Kické isan'ga, Ma^{n'}teu-ča é. Pīji tē hégaji gāxai
 I do not know. His the Kické his younger Ma^{n'}teu-ča that. Bad the not a was made name brother
 júga bēúga. Wéna^{n'}ju ak éwa^{n'}i.
 body whole. Threshing- the caused it.
 machine (sub.)

Hau. Níkagáhi nanákacé, iéskā ninké'cé, wačáckaⁿ kaⁿbé'gaⁿ ádaⁿ ¶ Ye who are chiefs, inter- you who are, you make an effort I hope there-preter fore
 uckúdaⁿ wačáčkaⁿ kaⁿbé. Wačáckaⁿ tá-bi ehé tē, cin'gajin'ga to do good you exert your- I wish. That you are to persevere I said the, child deeds selves wabágčeze ápadewačákiče ehé tē, é áwake. Níkaciⁿga ána niⁿ éⁿte 3 book you cause them to read I said the, that I mean it. People how you it may many are be jan'de wačáckaⁿ čitaⁿi-gā. Wačáckaⁿ tá-bi ehé tē, é áwake. Éskana ground you persevere work ye! That you are to persevere I said the, that I mean. Oh that ci ičádičai činké cé daⁿbéčakičai kaⁿbé'gaⁿ. Wabágčeze čaⁿ učikaⁿi again agent the one that you cause him to see it I hope. Letter the it helps you kaⁿbé'gaⁿ, wackaⁿ kaⁿbé.
 (ob.)
 I hope, he makes an effort I wish.

6

Hau. Níkaciⁿga céma áma-má edádaⁿ edai ctéctéwaⁿ ía-bajji-gā, ¶ Person those the others what they say what soever do not speak, wadaⁿba-bajji-ga. Níkaciⁿga cčeu she gčí čin Pan'ka níkagáhi činké ččeu do not look at them. Person yonder passed he who Ponka chief the one here was re- turning gčí há. Gčí tē'di jaⁿ'be tē'di iⁿča-máji éde cetaⁿ uákia-máji wágazu. 9 has He re- when I saw him when I was sad but so far I have not spoken straight.
 returned turned
 Umaⁿhaⁿ ičádičai aká níkagáhi edábe wágazu giáxai tēdihi xi, čaná'aⁿ taité,
 Omaha agent the chief also straight they make when it shall you shall hear it, (sub.) for him reach,
 níkagáhi nanákacé, Wáčutáda nanákacé, iéskā ninké'cé e-lábe.
 ye who are chiefs, ye who are Otos, you who are the i., also.
 interpreter

Hau. Úckaⁿ wiwíja tē čaná'aⁿ tai, wčéigčáⁿ wiwíja tē. Níkaciⁿga 12 ¶ Deed my the ye will hear it, decision my the. Indian ukéčín ikágeawáča-máji há; čináqtcí ikágewičai. Caaⁿ amá atfi éde common I do not have them for my friends you only I have you for friends. Dakota the (pl. sub.) have but come uáwakia-máji. Uáwakia-máji agčai. Ikágeawáča-máji ehé tē. Níkagáhi I did not speak to them. I did not speak to them they went back. I did not have them for friends I said the. Chief amá iⁿčé'age amá é éwaⁿi; ádaⁿ ikágeawáča-máji, uáwakia-máji. Enáqtcí 15 the (pl. sub.) old man the (pl. sub.) that caused it; there- fore I did not have them for friends, I did not speak to them. They only ikágewáčé gaⁿčai tē iⁿčé'age amá, e-naⁿi níkagáhi amá. Caⁿ níkaciⁿga to have them for friends wished the old man the (pl. sub.), they only chief the (pl. sub.). And person čemá wáge-ma, majaⁿ ččeu najiⁿ-ma zani ikágeawáčé há. Caⁿ uckúdaⁿqti these the white land here those who stand al; I have them for friends. And doing very good (pl. ob.) people, deeds ké edádaⁿ ičáyičáxe pahan'gadítaⁿ ké čgijaⁿ kaⁿbéčaqti. Piúji tē xi, čí 18 the what I did for myself from the first the you do that I strongly desire. Bad will if, you čkáxa-báji wikaⁿbéai. Čin'gajin'ga ča'čwačagičá-ba wačítaⁿ wackaⁿi-gā.

 you do it not I wish for you (pl.). Child do pity them your and (pl.) to work persevere ye!

712 THE FEGIIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

Ēdī ʔi, Wakan'da aká ʔa'écíʔe taí, kí edádaⁿ etéetē údaⁿ éʔgaxe taí. Caⁿ In that case, God the will pity you, and what soever good will do for you. And aⁿwaⁿʔʔakíé wabáʔʔeze tíʔaʔē tē nān'de iⁿud égaⁿ, éskana údaⁿqti maⁿniⁿ you spoke to me letter you sent the heart good as, oh that very good you walk 3 kaⁿbé'gaⁿ. Níkaciⁿga céʔaŋka ʔʔádiⁿáa aʔé gaⁿʔa ʔaŋka éʔiʔaⁿ-bajji-gā.
I hope. Person those across to go the ones who wish it do not say anything to (them)
 Éʔiʔégaⁿ éʔice taí. Éʔiʔaⁿ-bajji-gā. Caⁿ wícti aⁿwaⁿʔpani ʔaⁿja, caⁿ Beware you say lest. Say it not to (them). And I too I am poor though, yet waʔitaⁿ tē é údaⁿ hā. Ké, céna uwíʔa cuʔéaʔai.
to work the that good Come, enough I tell you I send to you.

NOTE.

710, 5. Wenaⁿju ak ewaⁿi: ak a contraction of aka.

TRANSLATION.

I have received to-day the letter that you sent me. It made me very glad. Among the men who have been threshing there is one who has been severely injured by the machine, but he is still alive. I do not know whether he must die, or whether he can live. He is the younger brother of Kicke, and his name is Maⁿteu-da. His whole body is in a shocking condition. It was caused by the threshing-machine.

O ye chiefs, and you interpreter! I hope that you may make an effort, therefore I wish you to exert yourselves in doing good actions.

When I say that you should persevere I refer to what I said about your causing your children to be educated. As many men as there are among you I exhort: Persevere in working the ground! I mean that when I say, "Persevere." I hope that you will let your agent see this letter. I hope that the letter may aid you, and I wish him (the agent) to persevere.

No matter what those other Indians say, do not speak, do not look at them. The man who passed yonder where you are on his way back hither (I mean), the Ponka chief, has returned here. I was sad when I saw him after his return, but I have not yet had a chance to talk to him. When the Omaha agent and the chiefs shall have made a decision in his favor you shall hear it, O ye chiefs, ye Otos, and you also, O interpreter!

You shall hear of my acts and of my plans. I do not regard the majority of Indians as my friends; I have none but you for my friends.

The Yanktons came here, but I did not speak to them. They went back without my speaking to them. I have said that I did not regard them as my friends. The old men, the chiefs, are to blame for this; therefore I did not regard them as friends. I did not speak to them. The old men wished to be the only ones to have them for friends; they alone are chiefs. I regard as my friends all these white people who occupy the land. And what very good deeds I have done for myself from the first, I strongly wish you to imitate. If anything should be bad I would not wish you to do it. Pity (i. e., be kind to, or do what is for the good of) your children, and persevere in working. In that case God will be kind to you and will do for you something or other which is good. As I am glad because you sent a letter and spoke to me, I hope that you may continue to be very prosperous! Do not say anything to those Indians who wish to go south! Beware lest you say (anything) to them! Say nothing to them! And though I, too, am poor, the work (which I have) is good.

Well, I have told you enough.

ᑃᐱᑕᐢ^N-Nᐱ^Nᑭᐱᐣ TO HEQAKA-MANI, ICTA-JA^NJAN, AND PTE-WAKA^N-INAJJ^N.

December 21, 1878.

Níkagáhi-má, kagécha, úcka^m wécpahaⁿ iⁿéigaⁿçai égaⁿ ceaⁿ/ça-báji
The chief (pl. obj.), my friend, deed you knew us we desired for as we paid no attention to it.

hă, ɕakɕagɕal tẽ'di. Iⁿtaⁿ wẽɕa-báji. Ki ɕakɕagɕal tẽ'di iⁿtaⁿ wẽpibáji.
 you had gone when. Now we are sad. And you had gone when now bad for us (un-back fortunate).

Gá waqinⁿ/ha cuécaéé ɕaⁿ/ja, éskana íe údaⁿ/qti wigínaⁿ/i kaⁿ/bea. 3
That paper I send to you though, oh that word very good I hear from you, my own (pl.) I wish.

Uqé'qti waqín/ha ia^{n/}čakice te. Ca^{n/} éskana ie úda^{n/}qti winá'a^{n/}i Very soon paper you send hither will. And oh that word very good I hear from
you. (pl.)

kaⁿbé'gaⁿ. Níkaci^{n'}ga d'úba uya^{n'}h aⁿçi^{n'} weácpaha^{n'}i; uya^{n'}ha aⁿma^{n'}çi^{n'}i. you, (pl.)
I hope. Person some apart from the rest we are you know us; apart from the rest we walk.

Ǿiskie' uʔaⁿh aŋgataⁿ aŋ'guilha-b'ŋi. Ceaⁿ'ɕiɕa-baji'qti ɕageaɪ, ki waɕatə 6
 All to- apart we who we do not follow. them. We disregarded you also- you went and food together stand together back

aⁿčí'i-bají'qti ɕagɕaí wépi-báji.
we gave you none you went bad for us.
at all back

NOTES.

The writer gives his reason for slighting his Yankton visitors. The apparent want of hospitality was not owing to a dislike for the Yanktons. The latter were the guests of the Omaha chiefs, but the chiefs and the progressive Omahas would not work in unison. The progressive men did nothing because they wished the visitors to find out the real intentions of the chiefs.

713, 5. uxaⁿh aⁿçin, in full, uxaⁿha aⁿçin.

TRANSLATION.

My friends, we did nothing prior to your departure, because we wished you to find out the ways (or, minds, etc.) of the (Omaha) chiefs. Now we are sad. And we are sad now on account of your having gone home. Though I send this letter to you, I hope that I may hear very good words from you. Please send me a letter very soon. I hope that I may hear very good words from you. You know about us that we are some Indians who walk apart from the rest; we continue apart from them. All we who stand apart from them do not follow them. We are sad because we did not pay any attention to you before you left, allowing you to depart without giving you any food at all!

MAⁿTCU-NAⁿBA TO MATO-MAZA, A YANKTON.

- Caⁿ čijigaⁿ mēgaⁿ wibčahaⁿ cuččāčč taf minke. Nīkaciⁿga amā ččama And your grand- like- I pray to you I will send to you (pl.). Person the (pl. these father wife
- Heqāka-māni d'ūba juwagče ti-mā i wīaqti tī hā. Wačūtč dādaⁿ bēātč Walking Elk some there, with whom he house my own came . Food what I ate came hither
- 3 waⁿdaⁿ juwagčēgaⁿ, wačūtč čactaⁿ eugčaf. Caⁿ uīgčacige tā minke.
 together I having been with food finished eat- they went And I will complain of my own (tribe).
 them, ing it back to you.
- Iⁿ ča-māji uīgčā tā minke. Umaⁿhaⁿ amā ččama nīkagāhi amā cēnujinⁿga I am displeased I will tell of my own. Omahas the (pl. these chief the (pl. young men
 sub.) sub.)
- ama edābe, "Kč, ūwa'li-gā," ehč xī, wačūtč-bāji aⁿčīⁿ-naⁿ maⁿčīⁿi, ādaⁿ the (pl. also, Come, give ye food to I said when, not sparing them having me they walked, there-sub.) them, (articles of food) fore
- 6 umaⁿčinka wiⁿ iⁿ ča-māji tatč ebčēgaⁿ. Caⁿ ādaⁿ ččama Umaⁿhaⁿ amā season one I shall be displeased I think it. And there- these Omaha the (pl.
 sub.) fore
- iⁿku najiⁿi. Bēā-māji-naⁿ-maⁿ. "Aⁿwan'kega," ehč. Iē aⁿwaⁿhaⁿ-māji inviting they stand. I make it a rule not to go. I am sick, I say. Word I am not followed
 me
- aⁿčaⁿwankēgai. Heqāka-māni, "Māčč dūba waqāⁿba-māji taf," č cagčaf.
 I am sick on account of Walking Elk, Winter four I shall not see them, said went back to you.
- 9 Čēna gaⁿ iuča cuččāčč. Gaⁿ čijigaⁿ gčī daⁿčtēaⁿi xī, waqīⁿha itizč Enough at any rate news I send to you. And your grand- has even if (i) when, paper together father returned
- ctaⁿbe taf.
 you will see it.

NOTES.

Mato-maza, called Maⁿtcu-maⁿzē by the Omahas, was the son-in-law of Wiyakoiⁿ.
 714, 5. wačūtč-bāji aⁿčīⁿ-naⁿ maⁿčīⁿi. They were unwilling (to spare the food to them) and they carried me along with them. The idea is, I could not when standing alone go against the voice of the majority.

TRANSLATION.

I will send to you and your wife's father to petition to you. These Indians who came hither with Walking Elk entered my own house. When I had entertained them, sharing with them what kinds of food I had to eat, they returned to you. But I will complain of my own people. I will tell of my sorrow. When I said to these Omahas, the chiefs and young men, "Come, give food to them!" they refused to do it, and I could not act in opposition to them. Therefore I think that I shall be sad for a year. As the Omahas know my feelings, they continue inviting me to feasts. But I make it a rule not to go. I say that I am sick. I am sick because they have not heeded my words. When Walking Elk departed, he said, "I shall not see them for four years." I have sent enough news to you. And whenever your wife's father returns, please examine this letter together.

LOUIS SANSSOUCI TO WILLIAM PARRY.

- Waqiⁿ/ha wíḏaxe te ehé tē íe égaⁿqti agíḏaxe kaⁿ/bēa. Taⁿ/waⁿgēaⁿ Paper I make to will I the word just so I make my I wish. Nation you said own I wish.
- zaniⁿ/qti nīe waḥinⁿ/gai. Kí nīe waḥinⁿ/gai caⁿ/ eté eḥwāḥē. Iuḥa aⁿ/ḥinⁿ/ge all we have no pain. And we have no pain as it may reasonable. News I have none should be
- ḥaⁿ/ja, caⁿ/ íe ewígehē tē égaⁿ agíḏaxe kaⁿ/bēa. Aḥúhage eḥéu ḥatí tē, 3 though, yet word I said that the so I make my I wish. Last here you the,
 to you own I wish. came hither
- "Íeskā tē anaⁿ/etaⁿ tī minke," ehé, ebēḥgaⁿ. Kí égaⁿ ḏáxe ḥaⁿ/ja, níkagáhi Inter. the I will stop walking. I said, I think it. And so I have done though, chief preter
- anā gícaⁿ-qti-báji ebēḥgaⁿ ḥaⁿ/ja, wí eátaⁿ ámaⁿ taté aⁿ/ḥinⁿ/ge ebēḥgaⁿ, the (pl. sub.) were not fully satis- I thought though, I how I shall do I have none I thought, fied
- anaⁿ/etaⁿ há. Éⁿ/di uwédi-máji. Angíxaⁿ/ḥai xí, íḥádiḥai ḥínké uḥúkie tai, 6
 I stopped walking There I am not in it. They wish me, if, agent the (obj.) let them talk with him about it,
- aṅgíxaⁿ/ḥa-báji xíⁿ/etē, cí égiḥaⁿ tai. Wimínkēⁿ/di eⁿ/aⁿ/ éṅgē. Gahíe they do not want me, even if, again let them say it to him. With reference to me there is no cause for complaint (against them) Council
- ṅaⁿ/ga wiⁿ aṅgáxi. Íḥádiḥai ḥínké aⁿ/waⁿ/ci égaⁿ, égaⁿ ḥḏaxe, éde gahí great one we have made. Agent the st. asked (or employed) me as, so I did for him, but council
- íe úckaⁿ gaⁿ/ḥai tē égaⁿqti aṅgáxi. Cēⁿ/a cubḥé kaⁿ/bēde eⁿ/aⁿ/ taté íⁿ/te. 9 word deed they wished the just so we made it. Yonder I go to I wish, but how it shall be is uncertain.
- Ictá eḥḥaⁿ zeaⁿ/ḥai égaⁿ cubḥé kaⁿ/bēa. Wáqe aṅgújai amá iⁿ/winⁿ/kaⁿ gaⁿ/ḥai Eye this they practice on me so I go to you I wish. White people our the (pl. sub.) to help me wish
- há. Níkaciⁿ/ga ḥiḥaⁿ amá wáqe amá iⁿ/winⁿ/kaⁿ tē égaⁿ tá-bité eonégaⁿ Person your the (pl. sub.) white people the (pl. sub.) they helped me the so that they shall be you think it
- ā. Ikágewiḥai éskaⁿ/bēgaⁿ ádaⁿ íe tē égiḥe há. Uḡḥéⁿ/qti íe tē qáḥa 12
 I have you (pl.) for friends I think so there-fore word the I have said it (what pre-ceeds) Very soon word the back again
- tíⁿ/ḥiⁿ ḥakiḥé kaⁿ/bēgaⁿ, kagḥa. Ḥikáge-ma úwagiḥaⁿ-gā, Míⁿ/ḡáⁿ cti.
 you will cause some one to bring my own I hope, my friend. Your friends tell it to them, Star too.

NOTE.

Sanssouci was the blind interpreter at the Omaha Agency. He dictated the following translation as far as the end of the last question. What follows that question was translated from the original Omaha text by the author. Sanssouci's words are given verbatim, although not always in the best English. His successor as interpreter was an Iowa, Charles P. Morgan, who had been interpreter for the Ponkas. Mr. Parry's home was in Richmond, Indiana.

TRANSLATION.

I promised to write to you, and I want to fulfill my promises. We are all well and doing as well as might be expected. I have not much news to write, but still I wish to fulfill my promise this time. When you were here last I told you that I was going to resign my office. I have done so, and the chiefs were not very well satisfied about it. But I can not help it. I am out of it now. If they want me, they can say so to their agent; and if they do not want me, they can say so. It will be all right with me. We have had a great council here. The agent asked me to interpret for him, so I did so, and got the thing worked out very nicely. I wish to go ^{east} to visit you if I can and to have my eyes attended to. The people here are trying to raise the money to send me. Do you think that your people will help me as well as my people (i. e., the white people) here? I consider you my friends, so I have said what I have. My friend, I hope that you will send me word back very soon. Tell your friends, William Starr and others.

ICTAÇABI TO CÜŞYIQOWE.

January 14, 1879.

- Jahaⁿ'ha, nīkaciⁿ'ga çīçīa çanká wiñⁿ'be kaⁿ'bça. Nīkaciⁿ'ga júwaçá-Brother-in-law, people your the ones I see you I wish. People you with who (sing.)
- gçe çanká wiñⁿ'be kaⁿ'bça. Iⁿc'igēqti cí çī, edádaⁿ íwiçáxe kaⁿ'bça hā.
 them the ones I see you I wish. Very old man you when, what I make for you I wish who (sing.) reach by means of
- 3 Nīkagāhi Maⁿteú-naⁿ'ba aká ingáxai hā, ádaⁿ eubçé kaⁿ'bça, nīkaciⁿ'ga
 Chief Maⁿten-naⁿ'ba the has done for there- I go to I wish, people (sub.) me fore you
- çīçīa çanká wiñⁿ'be kaⁿ'bça çé uqçé'qtei. Waçakarutce ée hā, ɣaⁿ'be your the ones who I see you I wish this very soon. Waçakarutce it is he I see him
- kaⁿ'bça çīnké: e ɣaⁿ'be tui hā, nīkagāhi aká. Gañçī uqçé'qtei gáçaⁿ
 I wish the one him I see will chief the (sub.). And then very soon that (ev. ob.)
- 6 ctaⁿ'be çī, ɣahaⁿ'ha, waqīⁿ'ha wiⁿ tiañ'kiçá-gā. Aɣigçictaⁿ'-qti-maⁿ' hā.
 you see when, O brother-in-law, paper one send hither to me. I have fully prepared myself for it
- Nīkaciⁿ'ga 'aⁿ aká wabáxukiçāçīⁿ aká é baxti tē, wiⁿ bēfize-naⁿ'-maⁿ'.
 Indian how the he whom they have as their he write when, one I usually receive it.
 (sub.) amanuensis

NOTES.

Cüşyiqowé (Çeğiha, Çançe íça-ççé), He who has mysterious interviews with a Horse (or, Wolf), the name of the Oto head chief.

716, 1, 2, and 4. wiñⁿ'be kaⁿ'bça, used for the pl., wiñⁿ'bai kaⁿ'bça.

716, 7. Nīkaciⁿ'ga 'aⁿ aka, etc. A better reading suggested by G.: Nīkaciⁿ'ga çtaⁿ' wabáxukiçāçīⁿ tīçai etēwaⁿ' wiⁿ bēfize-naⁿ'-maⁿ'.

 how they cause him he sends soever one I usually receive it.
 to write it hither

TRANSLATION.

Brother-in-law, I wish to visit your people. I desire to see those with whom you dwell. When you become a very aged man I wish to do some work for you at your request. The chief, Two Grizzly Bears, has done (something) for me, therefore I wish to go to see you. I wish to see your people very soon hereafter. Waçakerutce is the chief whom I wish to see. Brother-in-law, when you receive this letter send me one very soon. I hold myself in readiness to start to you. When Indians of any tribe have some one to write letters, stating how the people are, and he sends a letter, I usually receive it.

TA'WA'-GAXE-JINGA TO A. B. MEACHAM.

January 16, 1879.

Hújaŋga caŋ'ge wémaⁿčaiⁿ waw'cei kaⁿ'bēa, ŋigaⁿ'ha. Caŋ'ge gēčba-Winnebago horse they stole from pay I wish, O Grand-ŋiwiⁿ āta wénacaiⁿ hā. Pahaŋ'gadi Isaⁿ'yati caŋ'ge gēčbahwiⁿ ki ē'di dread and they snatched over from us Formerly Sañce horse a hundred and be-gēčba-čēčabēiⁿ iⁿ'nacai ē'gaⁿ, waw'cei kaⁿ'bēa, ŋigaⁿ'ha. . . . 3 eighty took from me as, pay I wish, O Grand-Wāgazūti aⁿ'nā'aⁿ aŋgaⁿ'čai, ŋigaⁿ'ha. Majaⁿ' čaⁿ agēčaiⁿ hā: waqiⁿ'ha sagi Very straight we hear it we wish, O grandfather. Land the I work my paper hard (ob.) own kaⁿ'bēa. Čēčaiⁿ ičādičaiⁿ bēčga učiakič bēčetaⁿ fe tē ačiⁿ eugēčakič, ei
 I wish. That (mv. agent all I have talked I have fin- word the I cause him to take it again (ob.) to him about it ished gāčaiⁿ waqiⁿ'ha čuēčāč. Caⁿ' awā'e tēdihi ŋi, iⁿ'teqi tat ēskaⁿ'bēčgaⁿ, 6 that (ob.) paper I send to you. And I plow when the time hard for shall I think that, comes, me
 caⁿ' ē'di ēskana maⁿ'zēskā d'ūba iⁿ'čēpaha kaⁿ'bēčgaⁿ. Caⁿ', ŋigaⁿ'ha, yet there oh that money some you show to me I hope. And, O Grandfather.
 eēna uwibēa. Uwibēa tē ēskana ēgaⁿ'qti iⁿ'čēčkaxe kaⁿ'bēčgaⁿ. Iiⁿ'gaⁿ'čaiⁿ enough I have told you. I have told the oh that just so you do for me I hope. Grandfather aninkē, wibēahaⁿ' hā. Nikačaiⁿ'ga ukēčaiⁿ wēgičigēčaiⁿ aninkē, wibēahaⁿ. 9 you who I pray to you Indian common the one who plans you who are, for them are, I pray to you.
 Gaⁿ' gātē eēna wibēahaⁿ hā. Ki ūckaⁿ āji ei wiⁿ' uwibēa tū minke.
 And that enough I pray to you And deed an- again one I will tell you.
 other
 Éskana edādaⁿ iⁿ'teqi kē wačionaqti wiⁿ'be učiwikič kaⁿ'bēčgaⁿ. Éskana Oh that what difficult the very plainly I see you I talk to you I hope. Oh that for me (coll.)
 enēgaⁿ'qti iⁿ'čēčkaxe kaⁿ'bēčgaⁿ. Edē tēdaⁿ ebēčgaⁿ āwinā'aⁿ tū minke. 12 just so you think you do for me I hope. What will he say? I think I will hear from you.
 (a soliloquy)
 Éskana fe tē nīzē kaⁿ'bēčgaⁿ. Caⁿ' edēce ŋi, uqēč'qtei gēčāč tat ēskaⁿ
 Oh that word the you take I hope. And what you say, very soon you cause to shall so (ob.) it return hither
 aⁿ'čaiⁿ' čai.
 we think.

NOTES.

This letter was sent by Ta^{wa}-gaxe-jĩnga, ȝa^{ci}-na^{paj}, Two Crows, Hupe^{pa}, Mazi-kide, Matthew Tyndall, ȝe-uxa^{ha}, and Na^{pewa}ȝe, Omahas of the civilization party, to A. B. Meacham, editor of "The Council Fire," at Washington, D. C. Though addressed to Colonel Meacham, it was intended for the President, the Secretary of the Interior, and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. Part was not written in Omaha, but in English, as the author found it easier to make a translation as fast as he wrote. See the third line of the text, where a hiatus occurs.

717, 1, et passim, ka^{bęa}, I wish, spoken by one man, but intended for the expression of all.

717, 6. tat eska^{bęęęa}, in full, tate eska^{bęęęa}.

717, 12. Ede teda^a ebęęęa^a, etc. When pronounced rapidly, "a^a" was dropped before "ebęęęa^a." L. agreed with Ta^{wa}-gaxe-jĩnga in the use of "Ede," though that is 3d. s. L. gave as the equivalent ȝoiwere, Taku cęera ihęre arinaqo^a (hamina) hniye kę,

I think, "What will you say?" I will (sit, waiting to) hear it from you. But W. (1888) changed Ede teda^a, etc., to Edęce tatę awiną^a tą minke hą, I will hear from you what you shall say.

717, 13 and 14. tat eska^a a^{ęa}ęęi, in full, tate eska^a a^{ęa}ęęi.

TRANSLATION.

Grandfather, we wish pay for the horses which the Winnebagos have stolen from us. They have stolen from us more than a hundred horses. Grandfather, we also desire pay for the hundred and eighty horses which the Santees stole from us formerly. (The former agent, Dr. Graff, wrote to Washington about it; and he said to us, "You shall be paid; the Grandfather has promised it." We have been expecting it ever since, and if it ever came we suspect that the chiefs devoured it.) O Grandfather, we wish to hear correctly about it. We work the land, and we wish to have good titles to it. We have already spoken to the agent who has gone to you, telling him of all this, and getting him to take it back to you. And now we send it to you in a letter. When plowing time arrives we think that we shall have trouble; yet we hope that then you will show us some money. We have told you enough on this point, O Grandfather! We hope that you will do for us just as we have told you. O Grandfather, we petition to you! We petition to you, O you who govern the Indians! Now, we have petitioned to you enough on that subject. And we will tell you about something else. We hope that we may be allowed to see you face to face and speak to you about the things which give us trouble. We hope that you will think favorably of this and do accordingly for us. We think, "What will he have to say?" We sit awaiting your reply. We hope that you accept these words. And if you have anything to say to us we hope that you will send it back to us very soon.

MI'XA-SKĀ TO MAZA-NAP'I'N, A YANKTON.

January 26, 1879.

Negha, cubéc' tá minke. Kí wíjañ'ge eti i'naⁿhá eti wíjañⁿ'be kaⁿbéa.
 Mother's brother, I will go to you. And my sister too my mother too I see them I wish.
 Aⁿ'ba gaⁿ' aⁿwaⁿ'qpani gaⁿ' wíjañⁿ'be kaⁿbéa gaⁿ' cubéc' tá minke. Iⁿ'naⁿhá Day as I am poor as I see you I wish as I will go to you. My mother t'c' tē cetaⁿ' iⁿdádi waqpani hádaⁿ wíjañⁿ'be kaⁿbéa-qi-maⁿ' há. Hmdá, gaⁿ' 3 died so far my father poor, there. I see you I have a strong desire Let me see, as miⁿágeaⁿ gaⁿ' aⁿwaⁿ'qpani gaⁿ' wíjañⁿ'be kaⁿbéa-qi-maⁿ' há. Kí Wihé eti
 I have taken a wife as I am poor as I see you I have a strong desire And Fourth too iⁿ'teaⁿ wáxiex gaⁿ' égaⁿ faná'aⁿ táí ebéégaⁿ cuééaé. Kí fatíi tecti edádaⁿ now has taken a husband as so you will hear it I think it I send to you. And you in the what abéiⁿ'-máji hádaⁿ éiéñ'ge-naⁿ fagfaí. Kí Umaⁿ'haⁿ Badíze cuéé' tá-éinké, 6
 I had not I, there- you without usual- And Omaha Battiste he is the one who will wáwaⁿ. Kí é'di cubéc' tá minke. Pañ'ka naⁿ'ba é'ti enéé' tá aká. (Céna to dance the pipe dance. And there I will go to you. Ponka two they will go of their own accord (Enough etégaⁿ há. Céna tá aka.) it may be Enough it will be.)

NOTES.

MI'XA-SKĀ was formerly called, Waqwataⁿ-éñge, the Omaha notation of the Oto Waqwataⁿ-yíñ'e, Poor Boy. He was the son of Wasabé-jañga, an Omaha.

719, 3 and 6. hádaⁿ, a peculiar contr. of há, the oral period, and ádaⁿ.

719, 6. Badíze, a man who had a negro father and an Omaha mother.

719, 7 and 8. (Céna etégaⁿ há, etc.), an observation made to the author, and not part of the letter.

TRANSLATION.

Mother's brother, I will go to you. I wish to see my sister and also my mother. I wish to see you, as I have been poor for days, so I will go to you. My father is still poor because my mother is dead, therefore I have a strong desire to see you. By the way, I have a strong desire to see you because I am poor through having taken a wife. I send to you that you may hear that Fourth-sister has just taken a husband. When you came hither in the past you generally went back without anything, because I had nothing to give you. The Omaha Battiste is the one who is going to see you for the purpose of performing the pipe dance. And then I will go to you. Besides us there are two Ponkas who will go to see you. (To the author: "That is enough! That will be sufficient.")

CANGE-SKĀ TO WIYAKOİP.

January 27, 1879.

- Negİha, ca^{n'} winégi cti in'te ga^{n'} wiáhaⁿ cti in'te ga^{n'} a^{n'}wa^{n'}qpani Mother's at any my too is dead as my brother- too is dead as I am poor brother, rate mother's brother in-law
- héga-máji. Cé cin'gajin'ga daxe cínké agİaⁿbe ka^{n'}bça. A^{n'}wa^{n'}qpani
 I am very. That child I made the one who I see my own I wish. I am poor
- 3 héga-máji ga^{n'} ada^{n'} ta^{n'}wa^{n'}gça^{n'} çiçİa, negİha, awİaⁿbe ka^{n'}bça. Kİ
 I am very as there-fore nation your, mother's brother, I see them I wish. And
- waqin'ha çanⁿ cuhl tēdihⁿ qİ', cin'gajin'ga wiwİa uçİkie ka^{n'}. Ja^{n'}be paper the reaches you when the time arrives, child my you talk please. I see him
 (ob.)
- ka^{n'}bça tē İnahİⁿ qİ, waqin'ha İa^{n'}çİkieⁿ ka^{n'}bçegaⁿ. Ca^{n'} wagazuaⁿçİkieⁿ
 I wish the he is if, paper you came to be coming hither to I hope. And you straighten it for me
- 6 qİ, İwin'çana İçaçē te. Kİ çēçu nikaci^{n'}ga çiçİa amā afİİ hā. Kİ if, you tell me you will send hither. And here people your the (pl. sub.) came hither. And
- a^{n'}wa^{n'}qpani ēga^{n'} edādaⁿ wi^{n'}aqtel'etē İwin'gaxa-bāji cagçaf. Kİ İe kē
 I was poor so what even one we did not do for them they went back to you. And word the
- jūaji wēgaxe cagçā-biama. Kİ ē'di ca^{n'} jūga wināqteci cubēc ka^{n'}bça. Kİ interior made for us they went back to you, it is said. And then at any body I alone I go to I wish. And
- 9 e'a^{n'} ma^{n'}ni^{n'} ca^{n'} niē çiçin'ge qİ, ca^{n'} ūdaⁿqti ma^{n'}ni^{n'} qİ, winā'aⁿ ka^{n'}bça.
 how you walk at any you have no pain if, at any rate very good you walk if, I hear from I wish.
- Ca^{n'} ukİt'ē İ'taxaⁿ amā e'a^{n'}i gē' ctēwa^{n'} ca^{n'} İe wāgazu anā'aⁿ ka^{n'}bça.
 And foreigners those who are up towards the head how (pl.) soever their af- still word straight I hear it I wish.
 fairs may be
- Ca^{n'} ta^{n'}wa^{n'}gça^{n'} çiçİa-mā cti ūckaⁿ e'a^{n'} ma^{n'}çin' qİ, ca^{n'} e'a^{n'}i gē' ctēwa^{n'}
 And nation those who are too deed how they walk if, at any rate how (pl.) soever their yours affairs may be
- 12 ca^{n'} wāgazuqti anā'aⁿ ka^{n'}bça.
 still very straight I hear it I wish.

NOTE.

720, 11. e'a^{n'}i gē' ctēwaⁿ however their different affairs may be: gē shows that the affairs, etc., belong to different times or places.

TRANSLATION.

Mother's brother, I am very poor on account of the deaths of my mother's brother and my brother-in-law. I wish to see that one whom I made my child. I am very poor, therefore I wish to see your nation, O mother's brother! And when the letter shall have reached you please talk to my child. Should he be willing for me to see him, as I desire, I hope that you will send me a letter. When you get the matter settled for me in a satisfactory manner, please send to tell me. Your people came hither. But they went back again to you without our doing even one thing for them on account of my poverty.

And it is said that they started back to you after making some uncomplimentary remarks about us. Consequently I wish to go to you by myself. I wish to hear from you, how you are, whether you are well and prospering. I desire to hear a correct account of the various affairs of the Dakota tribes up the Missouri River. I also desire to hear a very correct account of the various affairs of your own nation, and what they are doing.

MA^NTCU-NA^NBA TO WIYAKOI^N.

Ké, jaⁿckáha, wawína cué'acé tá minke. Maⁿtcú-cáge, naⁿbé ejaí gě Come, sister's son. I beg from you. I will send to you. Grizzly bear claw, hand their the (pl. in, ob.

d'úba aniⁿ xi, wabággeze 'iⁿ-amádi uji-adaⁿ e'di ian'kié'-ga. Tfi xi, some you have if, letter where they carry put it in and there send it hither to it comeⁿ if, jaⁿckáha, iⁿ'cè-qi-maⁿ tá minke. Wáfi'aⁿ 'cáçé ayíçaxe tá minke. Níkaciⁿ ga 3 sister's son I will be greatly pleased. You treat me as your kinsman (i. e., very kindly) I will make for myself. People

cé ageiⁿ minké guáçicaⁿ taⁿ'waⁿgçaⁿ dúbahai éđítaⁿ iⁿ'nai tçai édegaⁿ that I am sitting beyond nation in four places thence to beg from me have sent but (near the speaker)

aⁿ'cá'i xi, e'ia awá'i tá minke, ádaⁿ iⁿwiⁿ'çaxaⁿ qti kaⁿ'bça há. Awáckaⁿ you give if, there I will give to them, there-fore you give me all possible help I wish I try tégaⁿ cche há. Gañ'xi fuça áji çingé'qtiaⁿ ádaⁿ uwíçça-máji. Céna gaⁿ 6 in order I say And then news differ-ent there is none at there-fore I do not tell you. Enough as wíçaxu cué'acé. Çicti e'aⁿ çanájiⁿ xi, údaⁿ çanájiⁿ xi, winá'aⁿ kaⁿ'bça.

I write to I send to you. You too how you stand if, good you stand if, I hear from you I wish.

NOTE.

721, 4. taⁿwaⁿgçaⁿ dubahai, probably refers to the four Pawnee divisions of Skidi, Trawi, Pitabawirat, and Kitchehaqi.

TRANSLATION.

Well, sister's son, I send to beg something from you. If you have some claws of grizzly bears, send them to me in the mail-bag from your post-office. When they come, sister's son, I will be well pleased. I will consider that you are treating me, your kinsman, with the greatest kindness. I have received a letter from that nation dwelling beyond me in four villages begging (a necklace of bears' claws?) from me. If you will give it to me, I will give it to them in that place, therefore I wish you to afford me all possible help. I promise to do my best and get something in return from them, which I can send to you.

Now, there is no other news at all, therefore I do not tell you anything. I have written enough to you. I wish to hear how you are and whether you are prospering.

CUDE-GAXE, TO LOUIS ROY AND MA^NTCU-INC^AGE.

February 6, 1879.

Cubčé hă. Awánaⁿqčîⁿ/qti cubčé hă. Wiŋaⁿbe tá minke, dadîha.
 I am going . I am in a great hurry I am going I will see you, O father.
 to you to you to you Aⁿbačé, dadîha, iⁿwiⁿ/čaxaⁿ/ te hă. Aⁿwaⁿ/qpaniⁿ/qti ngčîⁿ. Nîkaciⁿ/ga
 To-day, O father, you will please help me I am very poor I sit. People 3 čîčîŋa čaⁿ/ bčîŋa waŋaⁿbe kaⁿ/bčî. Nîkagîhi đčîⁿba nañkácé, wîbčahaⁿ your the all I see them I wish. Chief seven ye who are, I pray to you (ev. ob.)
 cuččāčai. Wanáce nudaⁿ/haŋga dūba nañkácé, wîbčahaⁿ cuččāčai.
 I send to you. Captain of police four ye who are, I pray to you I send to you (pl.). (pl.).

NOTES.

Maⁿten-inc^age, Venerable-man Grizzly-bear, a name of Padani-apapi, Struck-by-the-Ree, the head chief of the Yanktons. Louis Roy, a half-breed Ponka, son of the former interpreter, Frank Roy. Louis married a Yankton woman before 1871; so he had a right to dwell on the Yankton reservation. Louis's mother was the wife of Cude-gaxe when this letter was written. Cude-gaxe was a Ponka.

Only the first and second sentences in line 1 are addressed to Louis Roy. The rest is intended for Padani-apapi, whom Cude-gaxe calls Grandfather.

722, 3. čaⁿ refers to the Yankton tribal circle. We may, however, substitute čaŋka, the ones who.

722, 3. Nîkagîhi đčîⁿba, the chiefs of the seven Yankton gentes (excluding the half-breed gens).

722, 4. Wanace nudaⁿhaŋga dūba, the four captains of police. See Omaha Sociology, § 195, in 3d Ann. Rept. Bur. Ethnology.

TRANSLATION.

I am going to you. I am going to you in a great hurry. O father, I will see you. O father, you will please aid me to-day. I dwell in great poverty. I wish to see all of your people. O ye seven chiefs, I send to you to petition to you. O ye four captains of policemen, I send to you to petition to you.

EDWARD ESAU TO JOSEPH ESAU, AT PAWNEE AGENCY.

February 17, 1879.

- Pahan'gadi wawidaxu cučcaččə ɕa^{n'}ja, wabágčeze qáča gél(ɕačá)j.
 Formerly I wrote several I sent to you though, letter back you have not things to you sent it back.
- I^{n'}teaⁿ Pan'ka amá agčči ɕi, učičai, čida^{n'}ba-bi ai égaⁿ, íe djúbaqtei Now Ponka the (pl. they when, they told that he had seen he as, word very few sub.) have come about you, you said
- uwibčə tí minke. Čéču jáwigčə tečan'di eta^{n'}be tečan' ca^{n'}ca^{n'}qti ma^{n'}bəi^{n'} 3
 I will tell to you. Yonder where I was with you in you saw me in the always I walk the past past
- há. Ca^{n'} nie ctě a^{n'}čín'gě-qti-ma^{n'}, wa'ú wiwíča cin'gajin'ga wiwíča-má
 And pain even I am really destitute of, woman my child those who are mine
- cti. Ca^{n'} i^{n'}čč-qti ga^{n'} ma^{n'}bəi^{n'} há. Kí edádaⁿ áhigi abčín'-máji.
 too. And I am very so I walk . And what many I have not.
 glad
- A^{n'}wa^{n'}qpani teábe ma^{n'}bəi^{n'}. A^{n'}ba gé ca^{n'} wičan'be ka^{n'}bəi^{n'}-qti-ma^{n'} há. 6
 I am poor very I walk. Day the at any I see you I have a strong desire
 (pl. in ob.) rate
- Ci^{n'} ú'a^{n'}čín'gě-qti ebčégaⁿ-na^{n'}-ma^{n'} há. Kí maja^{n'} wéahidč'qti čanájín Yet all in vain I usually think it . And land at a great distance you stand
- údaⁿ, é áwake, wičan'be té bčé'a há. Ca^{n'} Uma^{n'}haⁿ-má wacta^{n'}be because, it I mean, I see you the I am un- And the Omahas you saw them able
- ca^{n'}ca^{n'}qti^{n'} i^{n'}taⁿ údaⁿqti ačai. Ca^{n'} waqi^{n'}ha pahan'gadi cučcaččə ɕa^{n'} 9
 continued all the now very good they go. And paper formerly I sent to you the ob.
 time
- gél(ɕi)j égaⁿ, ičičuhégaⁿ íe té djúbaqtei wídxə há. Čé wabágčeze qáča has not as, as I apprehend word the very few I make for . That letter back returned unseen trouble you
- gčia^{n'}čakiččə ɕi, ci íe d'úba uwibčə tá minke. Ca^{n'} uqčč'qtei i^{n'}baxu you cause it to have it, again word some I will give to you. And very soon write to me
 returned
- íča-gá. Winá'a té ka^{n'}bəi^{n'}-qti-ma^{n'} há. 12
 send it I hear from the I have a strong desire hither. you

NOTES.

Edward Esau, or Hutaⁿtaⁿ, an Omaha, is the maternal uncle of the younger Frank La Flèche. His cousin, Joseph, became interpreter for the Ponkas in 1880.

723, 2. ɕ, used here in a past sense; but tēdi is the common term.

723, 4. Supply nie wačín'gěqti^{n'}i, they are really without it, after wiwíča-ma cti.

TRANSLATION.

I wrote about several matters to you formerly, but you have not sent a letter back again. Now that the Ponkas have returned they have told about you, saying that they saw you, so I will tell you a very few words. I have always continued as you saw me when you and I were together. I am well, and my wife and children are also in good health. I live very happily. I have not many things. I am very poor. Day after day I have had a strong desire to see you. But I reflect each time that it is all in vain. I am unable to see you. I refer to the great distance of the land in which you dwell. As no reply has been received since I sent you letters, I send you now a very few words, as I apprehend unseen trouble. If you send a letter in reply, I will tell you of some other matters. Write and send a letter to me very soon. I have a strong desire to hear from you.

724 THE ČEGIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

JAČI^N-NA^NPAJĪ TO NI^NDAHA^N, AT THE PONKA AGENCY.

February 22, 1879.

- Wabčitaⁿ tē bē'a-qi-maⁿ tá mīnke, ebčégaⁿ. Wiⁿaⁿ'ba-máji xī'ji,
I work at dif. the I shall utterly fail to complete it, I think it. I do not see you if,
- wačitaⁿ tē nān'de aⁿ'čaⁿ'sa-máji-naⁿ-maⁿ. Wanaⁿ'qčīⁿ-qi gí-gā. Caⁿ' work the heart I am usually uneasy on account of it. In great haste be return- ing. And
- 3 údaⁿqti anájiⁿ. Caⁿ' edádaⁿ íuča čingé égaⁿ. Wačitaⁿ tē enáqti uhíta-
I stand. And what news there is none so. Work the it only causing im- patient or anxious
- jíwáčč, ádaⁿ wanaⁿ'qčīⁿqti čagčí kaⁿ'bčégaⁿ. Čéaka číáhaⁿ akácti looking for there- fore making great haste you come back I hope. This one (sub.) your brother- in-law the sub.,
- wačisnindai ádaⁿ nān'de gípi-báji há. Gáčaⁿ waqíⁿ'ha euhí tē'di, you (pl.) are tardy there- fore heart is bad for him That ob. paper reaches when,
- 6 cki ekaⁿ'na xī'ji, waqíⁿ'ha wanaⁿ'qčīⁿqti gían'kičá-gā. Caⁿ' údaⁿqti you are return- ing if, paper making great haste you send it back to me. And very good
- nié čingé gaⁿ anájiⁿ, nújīngá cti waⁿ'gíče údaⁿqti iⁿ'najiⁿ.
without pain so I stand, boy too all very good they stand for me.

NOTE.

724, 5. wačisnindai refers to jačiⁿ-naⁿpajī's son, Niⁿdahaⁿ, and his comrade, Teaza-čingé (see p. 695) who were at the Ponka Agency, Indian Territory. The sentence should read thus: Wačisnindai égaⁿ, čéaka číáhaⁿ akácti nān'de gípi-báji há, As you delay your coming, this one, too, your brother-in-law (i. e., Mactiⁿ-aⁿsa) is sorrowful.

TRANSLATION.

I think that I shall utterly fail to complete my different kinds of work. As I do not see you, the work usually makes me uneasy. Return in great haste. I am very well. There is hardly any news. The work is the only urgent matter, therefore I hope that you will return very speedily. This one, too, your brother-in-law, is sorrowful because you delay your return. When this letter reaches you, send me a letter immediately if you wish to come home. I am very well, and all my young men (i. e., men of my party?) are well too.

MAⁿTCU-NAⁿBA TO ICTAⁿABI.

fe djúbaqtei cuⁿéwikié tá múnke há. Uáwa'í tá amá édo íepahaⁿ'ji.
 Word very few I will cause some one to take to . They will give things to but you do not know you us it.

Íéskā d'úba wa'í 'íéai, íéskā nīja wa'í 'íéai, wanágé aⁿwaⁿ'gaíⁿ tá-bi Oxen some. they have prom- oxen alive they have prom- domestic an- that we may keep them ised to give to us, ised to give to us, imals kaⁿ'bécgaⁿ. Céhi etí d'úba wa'í 'íéai, é íepahaⁿ wíkaⁿ'bēa há. Caaⁿ' 3

 I hope. Apple tree too some they have prom- that you know I desire for . Dakota ised to give to us, ised to give to us, it you amá íéama taⁿ'waⁿ'gēaⁿ sātāⁿ wadaⁿ'be gaⁿ'íai. Paⁿ'ka úíqé abéiⁿ' the (pl. these nation . five to see them they wish. Ponka refugee I have

 sub.)

í'c'áge íⁿ't'e. Gataⁿ'adi edádaⁿ ínigēaⁿ tē níetaⁿ téiⁿ'te, gí-gá. íagíííji old man is dead Now, at last what you planned the you have shall, if, return ye. You do not for me. finished come back íí úwa'í tē uéíqéíí'ge taté ebécgaⁿ. Paⁿ'ka etí d'úba agí amá. 6 if they issue the shall not be sufficient to I think it. Ponka too some are re- it is them give you a share turning, said.

Maⁿ'teú-nájiⁿ agíí há. Agíí tēdīhi íí, waⁿ'(taⁿ tá amá há.
 Standing Grizzly bear is re- He has by the time the- I act in his case turning returned that

NOTE.

Ietaⁿabi was the son-in-law of Maⁿteu-naⁿba. He had gone to visit the Otos.

TRANSLATION.

I will send you a very few words. They are going to issue things to us, but you do not know about it! They have promised to give us some cattle as live stock, and I hope that we may keep them as domestic animals. They have also promised to give us some apple trees; I wish you to know that. These Dakotas wish to go to see five nations. The aged Ponka man whom I had as a refugee is dead. If by this time you have accomplished what you planned, return! If you do not return, I think that you will miss your share of the issue. It is said that some Ponkas have returned from the Indian Territory. Standing Bear is returning. When he shall have returned, the Omahas will act in his case.

RICHARD RUSH TO UNAⁿJÍ-SKĀ.

Íígaⁿ'ha, íe djúbaqtei wííaxu há. Kí íⁿ'udaⁿ'-qíi-maⁿ' há.
 Grandfather, word very few I write to you . And I am doing very well

Íí'íí Paⁿ'ka íí d'úba agíí. íéama Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá e'aⁿ' wégaxe táíte 9 if Ponka lodge some have re- These Omaha the (pl. how they shall do to them turn ed. sub.)

cetaⁿ' wágazú-etēwaⁿ'ji. Maⁿ'teú-nájiⁿ aká íúwagē agíí. Wáqe íéíu so far is by no means certain. Standing Grizzly bear the he with them they have White here (sub.) returned. man ti^{fi'} ti^{tēdhi} xi^{ji}, wāgazu taté hā. Kī wabāgēze wīna^{fa'} he who has he it reaches when, it shall be straight And letter I have the come and has there is mv. come from you (ob.)

ka^{n'} bēa-qti-ma^{n'} hā. Wāgazu i^{n'} pēckaxe ka^{n'} bēgā^{n'}. Ma^{n'} zēskā' cti ceta^{n'}
 I desire it greatly Straight you do for me I hope. Money too so far

3 bēiza-māji, āda^{n'} wawēci a^{n'} pēn'ge hā. Kī ca^{n'} jinga^{n'} fa^{n'} na^{n'} pēgē ta^{n'}
 I have not re- āda^{n'} there- pay I have none And colt you abandoned when the ceived, fore (std. ob.)

e'a^{n'} ckāxe xi, anā'a^{n'} ka^{n'} bēa. Uqēc wai^{n'} baxū-gā.
 how you do If, I hear it I wish. Soon write to me about the things.

NOTES.

Richard Rush is an Omaha. Unaji^{n'} skā was at the Yankton Agency.

725, 10, and 726, 1. Waqē cēu ti ēi^{n'} refers to Mr. T. H. Tibbles, of Omaha, who visited the reservation after the release of Standing Bear.

TRANSLATION.

Grandfather, I write a very few words to you. I am doing very well. Some Ponka lodges have returned. It is still by no means certain how these Omahas shall decide with regard to them. Standing Bear has returned with them. When the white man who came to the reservation some time ago shall have come again the question shall be settled. I am very anxious to get the letter which I begged of you. I hope that you will do for me what is right. I have not yet received any money, so I have no pay. I wish to hear what you intend doing about the colt which you left here when you went to the Yanktons. Write to me soon about these things.

JAQI^{n'}-NA^{n'}PAJĪ TO MŪ^{n'}LOE-QA^{n'}LOE, AN OTO.

Qatī 'iqa^{n'} tē, i-āji-gā. A^{n'}wa^{n'} qpani hēga-māji. Égi^{n'}ce qatī xi, u'a^{n'}
 You have the, do not come. I am very poor. Beware you if, all in spoken of com- ing come on account

6 pēngē'qti qatī te. Nān'de pēpēji'qti pēgē xi wicti éga^{n'} nān'de i^{n'} pēn'uda^{n'} vain you test. Heart very sad for you go I too so heart not good for me come on account back māji i^{n'}ānāhi^{n'}-māji. Ca^{n'} wāqē, "Waxigēta^{n'}-i-gā," ai éga^{n'}, āakihide; wāqita^{n'} of it I am not willing. And white people, Work for yourselves! said hav- I pay attention work to it;

tēnāqti asīcē hā.
 only the I think of it

NOTE.

Mū^{n'}loe-qa^{n'}loe, Large Black bear, in Omaha, Wasabe-jaūga.

TRANSLATION.

You have spoken of coming hither; but do not come! I am very poor. Beware lest you come altogether in vain! I am unwilling for you to start for your home with a very sad heart, in which case I too would be very sad. The white people have said, "Work for yourselves!" I have followed their advice. I think of nothing but work.

HUPEÇA TO INSPECTOR J. H. HAMMOND.

- Kag'cha, aⁿnha tai égaⁿ nha weçéckaⁿ ná uáwaçiginaí. Ang'isiçai
My friend, we live in order that to live you wished for us you told us. We have remembered it
- aⁿ'b iéángçee. Wakanⁿ'da çinké híladí tí égaⁿ, úawaçúkiáí. Wajíⁿ'waská'-qti through the day. God the one down to the bot- had as, you talked to us. We are very sensible tom either
- égaⁿ wackáxe. Níkaciⁿ'ga aká wawéçigçaⁿ' aká xáci húga-báji; máçé 3 no you made us. Person the (coll. sub.) ruler the (coll. sub.) a long while not a little; winter [=those who (coll.) give directions]
- gçéba-çábeⁿ ki é'di dçéabçéⁿ wawéçigçaⁿ'i; éde uhé ang'íçee táí fbahaⁿ-báji, thirty and besides eight they have ruled over us; but the path we will go along they have not known,
- uáwaçigça-báji. 'Agça-qti aⁿ'çíⁿ çatí. Çatí égaⁿ, uáwaçiginaí té aⁿ'ná'aⁿ.
they have not told us. Suffering greatly we were you came hither. You as, you have told us the we have heard it.
- Uáwaçiginaí té waⁿ'giçé'qti éizá-báji ctéçéwaⁿ aⁿ'çan'gaskaⁿ'çé tan'gataⁿ. 6
You have told us the all have not re- even though we will try it.
ceived it
- Níkaciⁿ'ga aká çéaka wawéçigçaⁿ' aká naⁿ'etaⁿ'i té é'be úwagiçá xí, na'aⁿ'
Person the (sub.) this those (coll.) who give directions they stop the who to tell them if, hear walking
- tai édaⁿ, aⁿ'çan'çai. Ki çí úwaçiginaí tedíhi xí'ji, na'aⁿ' iⁿwin'gaⁿ'çai. Ki apt! (in solil. we think. And you you tell us on its ar- rival when, to hear it we desire for them. And ouy),
- níkaciⁿ'ga amá wáçe-macé' ctí taⁿ'waⁿ'gçaⁿ' çanújiⁿ gçé' wawéçigçaⁿ' çíngé 9
person the (pl. sub.) ye white people too nation (or city) you stand the (pl. in. ob.) ruler none
- xí, wágazu-báji te há. Ki taⁿ'waⁿ'gçaⁿ' an'gataⁿ wawéçigçaⁿ waçín'gai xí, if, they will not be straight And nation we who stand ruler we have none if, wágazu-aⁿ'çíⁿ-báji taité çskaⁿ aⁿ'çan'çai Ádaⁿ níkaciⁿ'ga d'úba wajíⁿ'skáqtei we shall not be straight we think that probably. There- fore person some very sensible
- wackaⁿ'iañáqti majaⁿ' çan'di te éna'aⁿ etai xí'ji, wéçagickáxai kaⁿ' 12 very strong land in the word they listen to it if, you make it for us we
- aⁿ'çan'çai.
hope.

NOTE.

Though the speaker and his associates were opposed to the old chiefs, they were not prepared to do without leaders.

TRANSLATION.

My friend, you told us that you wished us to improve our condition that we might live. We have remembered your speech throughout the day. When you spoke to us, it was just as if God had come down from above. You have made us very sensible.

Those men who are chiefs have held their positions for a very long time; they have ruled us for thirty-eight years. But they do not know the path which we ought to follow in order to improve ourselves, so they have not told us about it. Hence we were suffering much when you came. When you came we heard what you told us. Even though all have not received what you told us, we will try it. We think that if these men who are chiefs should resign and there should be none to succeed them, who would obey if any one should tell the people anything? We desire them to hear what you have to tell us when your reply shall have come. Now it is the case with you white people, if you have no persons in authority in your cities there will be a bad state of affairs. And in like manner we think that if we should have no rulers in our nation our affairs would be in disorder. Therefore we hope that you will arrange for us to have some very sensible and very strong men in our land whom the people will be apt to obey.

JAʒIⁿ-NAⁿPAJⁱ TO INSPECTOR HAMMOND.

Nikaciⁿ ga dūba, sātāⁿ, cāʒē daⁿ/cēaⁿ/i, āhigi ukikie, ēⁿ/di wackaⁿ/jaŋga Person four, five, six it may be (t), much they talk then strong edādaⁿ gāxai, ēgaⁿ aŋgaⁿ/ʒai. Wanⁿ/gaʒiⁿ ʒi, fe aⁿwanⁿ/gagināⁿ/aⁿ taí, ádaⁿ what they do, so we wish. We have them if, word we obey them, our will there-3 gē te aŋgaⁿ/ʒai.
 what has been specified (t) we wish it.

TRANSLATION.

When four, five, six, or many persons talk together, what they do is enduring; and this is what we desire. If we can have them, we will obey them. Therefore we desire what has been specified.

MAZI-KIDE TO INSPECTOR HAMMOND.

ʒati tēⁿ/di iwiɗahaⁿ-maʒi, jīⁿ/ʒēha. Ūwaʒakiē-médegaⁿ fe ʒiɗa tē anáⁿ/aⁿ;
 You when I did not know you. O elder Since you have spoken to us word your the I have came brother. heard;
 nānⁿ/de iⁿ/ʒiⁿ/udaⁿ. Ki ʒēⁿ/ria nikaciⁿ/ga d'úba waʒitaⁿ weʒéckaⁿ/ná-médegaⁿ heart mine is good And these (pl. ch.) person some to work as you have wished (for) them
 by means of it. (pl. ob.)
 6 wiɗigaⁿ mégaⁿ, ēⁿ/duche. Ki nikaciⁿ/ga ʒéama, níkaɗáliⁿ-ma maⁿ/naⁿ/ʒiⁿ, my grand- like-wise, I belong to. And person these, the chiefs have made mis-father takes, waʒitaⁿ-ma ʒéama nikaciⁿ/ga d'úba waʒitaⁿ gaⁿ/ʒaiⁿ-ma ēⁿ/duche. Éde the ones who these person some those who wish to work I belong to. But work
 umaⁿ/ʒinka naⁿ/ba iⁿ/teaⁿ iŋiawáʒē íbahaⁿ/i; sí masáni ʒizé aʒuí.
 season two now (what is) favora- they know; foot on one taking they ble to life it go.

NOTES.

728, 4. Uwaçakie-medegaⁿ, etc. W. gave another reading, though he said that the text (-medegaⁿ) was correct: Kagéha, níkaeiⁿga úwaçakie ma ie çija té iⁿwiⁿçai égaⁿ, aná'aⁿ té nán'de iⁿçeiⁿudaⁿ, Friend, those persons to whom you spoke told me your words, and when I heard them they made me glad.

728, 8. ai masani çize açai. This means, "They learn a little about the way and advance one foot; then they learn a little more and advance the other."

There were other speakers after Mazi-kide, but their words were not recorded in their own language.

TRANSLATION.

O elder brother, I did not know about you when you came. Since you have spoken to us, I have heard your words, and they make me glad. Since you and my Grandfather (the President?) have wished some of these Indians to work, I have joined them. These Indians, the chiefs, have made blunders. I have joined those Indians who wish to work. It has been two years since they found out that it is life-sustaining. They are advancing one step at a time.

WAQPECA TO UNAJI^N-SKA.

March 24, 1879.

Negíha, wabágçeze bęízě ɣi, nán'de iⁿçeiⁿudaⁿ-qti-maⁿ. Negíha, Mother's brother, letter I re- when, heart mine was very good by means of it. Mother's brother, wijiⁿçé nįa, wakéga té giniⁿ. Éskana íçae té bęúga égaⁿ ekáxe
 my elder brother lives, sick the he has re- Oh that you the all so you do covered from.
 kaⁿbęégaⁿ. Hnč teçauⁿdi nán'de iⁿpi-máji. Kí iⁿtaⁿ an'ka-máji. Caⁿ 3
 I hope. You went in the past heart bad for me. And now I am not so And Pan'ka amá edádaⁿ gíteqiⁿqti wiⁿ ákipai, wáqe wanáçe aⁿbaçéⁿqtcí Ponka the (pl. sub.) what very difficult one have met it, white soldiers this very day wáçiⁿ açai: Maⁿtcú-májiⁿ, Máxe-ní-çataⁿ, Jé-sigçé, Cyu-f-hnaⁿ, Waçtqe-xáci, have taken them away: Mastou náji, Máxe-ní-çataⁿ, Buffalo Tracks, Prairie chicken is coming. Runs a long time, Maⁿtcú-dáçiⁿ, Čangč-hiⁿ-zi. Buçíte ijin'ge çáji, ihaⁿ aká Çuzáçi gęizai égaⁿ. 6 Fouliah Grizzly bear, Horse with yellow hair. Charles Pepin his son did not his the Rosalie having taken him from her own.
 Wamúsčé uáji bęíçetaⁿ ɣi, Waçútada wajaⁿbe bęé téinke, negíha. Caⁿ When I sow I finish when, Oto I see them I may go, O mother's brother. And aⁿba ięáugçee ó'ta çanújiⁿ kaⁿbęégaⁿ. Wackan'-gá. Wanáçe çíçize tai, day through there you stand I hope. Make an effort. Soldier they will take you, ebęégaⁿ. Čúde-gáxe, winéçi, wiłimi mégaⁿ, wakéga-báji ɣi, awána'aⁿ 9
 I think it. Smoke-maker, my mother's my father's likewise, not sick I hear about them kaⁿbęa. Ictáçabi aká Wáçutádaja wáwaⁿi ahii, caⁿge cáčé-naⁿba
 I wish. Ictáçabi the (sub.) to the Otos to dance the pipe-dance reached there, horse twelve wáçiⁿ agçfi.
 he has brought them back.

NOTES.

729, 5. ḡaxe-ni-ḡataⁿ, a name of ḡeje-baje, or Buffalo Chips, one of the Ponkas arrested at Omaha Agency in March, 1879, by order of Commissioner Hayt.

729, 6. Buḡite, the Ponka notation of the French pouliche, a she colt. This was the Ponka name of Charles Pepin's elder brother, who died on the old Ponka reservation, in Dakota. His son by Rosalie Primeau (ḡuzaḡi) was John Pepin, a scholar of the author in 1872.

TRANSLATION.

Mother's brother, when I received your letter it made me very glad. Mother's brother, my elder brother is alive; he has recovered from the sickness. I hope that you will fulfill all your promises. I was sad when you went away (in the past). But now I am not so. For the Ponkas (who were here) are in great trouble; this very day the white soldiers came and took them away (to Omaha City). (The names of the arrested Ponkas are as follows:) Standing Bear, Crow Drinks Water, Buffalo Tracks, Prairie-chicken is Coming, Runs a Long time, Foolish Grizzly bear, and Horse with Yellow Hair. John Pepin did not go, as his mother, Rosalie, (now wife of the Omaha Silas Wood) took him. Mother's brother, when I finish sowing wheat I may go to see the Otos. Throughout each day I hope that you may remain there (where you are). Persevere. I think that the soldiers will arrest you (if you return here). I wish to hear whether Smoke-maker, my mother's brother, and my father's sister are well. Ietaḡabi went to the Otos to dance the pipe-dance. He has come home with twelve horses.

MAⁿTCU-NAⁿBA TO WIYAKOIN.

April 3, 1879.

- Caⁿ, ḡaⁿekáha, uḡḡaḡeḡe cuḡaḡe tá minke. Kí aⁿwaⁿḡpani ehé
 And, sister's son, I complain of my own I will send to you. And I am poor I said
- uwíḡa-naⁿ-maⁿ. Kí Heḡáḡa-naⁿḡiⁿ máḡadi caⁿ wadaⁿbe atfi, kí
 I usually told you. And Walking Elk last winter at any rate to see na came, and
- 3 aⁿwaⁿḡpani ehé éḡaⁿ, caⁿcaⁿ waḡpáni tē cuḡeḡ. Gaⁿḡi Heḡáḡa-naⁿḡiⁿ
 I am poor I said as, always poor the he went back to you. And Walking Elk
- amá aḡkaⁿtaⁿi cagḡaḡ, ḡaⁿekáha. Kí wiḡeḡa aⁿba atanⁿḡi aⁿḡeḡe tédaⁿ, the (mv. tied no they went O sister's son. And my grand- day when (fut.) he loose me will (in sub.) back to you, child soliloquy).
- ebḡeḡaⁿ amáḡiⁿ caⁿcaⁿ tá minke. Céna, ḡaⁿekáha, íe uḡḡaḡeḡe cuḡaḡe.
 I think it I stand always will I who. Enough. O sister's son, word I complain of my own I send to you.
- 6 Ahaḡ. Caaⁿ-ḡti-máḡa cí tēdi edádaⁿ íe uḡḡaḡeḡe íiⁿte anáⁿaⁿ
 To the real Dakotas you went when what word they spoke to you about if I hear it

- kaⁿ'bēa. Caⁿ edádaⁿ uwibēa tē ŋingé égaⁿ hā. Caⁿ' luēa ŋingé eti
I wish. And what I tell you the there is so. And news none too
- anújiⁿ. Pan'ka éé Maⁿteu-mújiⁿ gēí éde waníce amá agiati égaⁿ, I stand. Ponka this Standing Grizzly came but soldier the (pl. came for as,
sub.) him
- Umaⁿ'haⁿ tuⁿ'wa'geaⁿ ŋan'di wáŋiⁿ ageŋai. Kí eⁿ'n' gráxai taité cetaⁿ' 3
Omaha city to the they took them back. And how they shall do to them so far
- ieápahaⁿ-múji: agí taité eti ieápahaⁿ-múji, ei Pan'ka majaⁿ' ŋaⁿ'iá
I do not know: they shall be turning too I do not know, again Ponka land to the
- wáŋiⁿ hí taité eti ieápahaⁿ-múji. Kí, "Iwin'ŋan-gā," úji égaⁿ, uégaⁿ-múji:
they shall take them too I do not know. And, Help me! as he did not I did not help him:
- é iⁿ'ŋa-múji tē. luēa uwibēa cuéaŋé Umaⁿ'haⁿ ŋi d'ŋaⁿ'ba gaŋŋaⁿ' 6 that I am said for the. News I tell you I send to you. Omaha lodge seven migrating
- aŋai éde, ageŋ-báji caⁿ'ca. ŋúŋiⁿ'ŋa d'úba gaŋŋaⁿ' aŋai éde cetaⁿ' went but, they have not always. To the Paw- some migrating went but so far nees
- ageŋ-báji. luēa pūji'qti iⁿ'teaⁿ aná'aⁿ. Hídeŋa Wáŋutáda ŋi ŋaⁿ' they have not returned. News very bad now I have heard. Down the stream the village
- guúŋeŋaⁿ'ŋa díxe wakéga égaⁿ-bi; júga qéŋqé, áhigi t'á-biamá. ŋiádi 9 beyond It is said that they have the small-pox; body broken out many have died, it is said. Your father sores
- makaⁿ' iwaⁿ'xekiŋ-gā, wáŋe amádi. Zéŋeŋai ŋi, díxe éŋgaⁿ-báji tai.
medicine cause him to ask about it, among the white They pre- If, you will not have the small-pox.
people. scribe for you
- Anŋúeti Umaⁿ'haⁿ amá éawagaⁿ taŋ'gataⁿ, makaⁿ' aⁿ'ŋaⁿ'ŋiwaⁿ'xe taŋ'gataⁿ.
We too Omaha the (pl. we will be so, medicine we will ask about it for ourselves.
sub.)
- Pan'ka iⁿ'e'áŋe wiⁿ' abéiⁿ' éde t'éé hā. Wasábe-ŋeá ijáŋe aŋiⁿ' Cúde- 12
Ponka old man one I had but he is dead Black bear lean his he had. Smoke-name
- gáŋe uŋe-gā. Cí íe edádaⁿ uwibēa ké fútaⁿ'qti uwibēa cuéaŋé.
maker tell it to him! Again word what I tell to you the very correctly I tell it to I send to you.
you
- Waqiⁿ'ha gáŋaⁿ níŋe kí, uqéé gíāŋ'kiŋ-gā.
Paper that you re- when, soon send it back.
ceive it

NOTES.

730, 4. wíŋepa, Walking Elk. Maⁿteu-naⁿba expected a great many good words from Walking Elk whenever (in future) the latter should "untie" him. (L.)

731, 8 and 9. Wáŋutáda ŋi ŋaⁿ' guáŋeŋaⁿ, i. e., near Vinita, Indian Territory.

TRANSLATION.

Sister's son, I will send to you to complain of my own (people?). I have told you often that I was poor. Yet Walking Elk came at any rate last winter to visit us; and, as I had said that I was poor, he returned to you without any presents. And then, O sister's son, as he returned to you, Walking Elk placed restrictions on me. So I will continue to think, "On what day will my grandchild untie me?" I have sent you enough words of complaint about my own (people), O sister's son!

IMAGE EVALUATION TEST TARGET (MT-3)

Photographic
Sciences
Corporation

23 WEST MAIN STREET
WEBSTER, N.Y. 14580
(716) 872-4503

When you visit the real Dakotas (i. e., the Tetons), I wish to hear about what matters they talk to you. There is hardly anything for me to tell you. There is no news where I am. This Ponka, Standing Bear, came back, but the soldiers came after him and carried him and his party to Omaha City. I do not know yet how they will treat them; whether they will return hither, or whether they will take them to the Ponkaland (in Indian Territory). As they did not say "Help me!" I did not help them. I am sad on that account. I send to tell you news. Seven lodges of Omahas went away, and they have not returned. Some migrated to the Pawnees, but they have not yet returned.

I have just heard a very bad piece of news. It is said that the people in the south, beyond the Oto village, have the small-pox; that their bodies have broken out in running sores, and that many have died. Get your agent to ask for medicine among the white people. If you are vaccinated you will not have the small-pox. We Omahas will do likewise; we will ask about the medicine for ourselves. An aged Ponka man whom I kept has died. His name was Lean Black bear. Tell Smoke-maker.

Now, I send you a correct account of the matters of which I tell you. When you receive the letter, return one to me soon.

JAČI^N-NA^NPAJĬ TO MŮ^NTCE-QA^NLOE.

Aⁿwaⁿwaⁿá-ctě uágacaⁿ-máji, ádaⁿ canⁿge aⁿčínⁿge, aⁿwaⁿqpani há.
 In any direction what- I have not traveled, there- horse I have none, I am poor ever
 Í-äjiⁿ-gá há. Ěgičě 'aⁿčínⁿgěⁿqti uágacaⁿ čatí te. Čičajiⁿqti čagčě ičá-
 Do not be I Beware altogether in vain you travel you lest. You are very you go I am coming
 3 nahiⁿ-máji. Níkaciⁿga d'úba ikágeawáčě čaⁿja, wačitaⁿ ákihiⁿdai égaⁿ, not willing. Person some I have them for though, work they attend as, friends
 níaciⁿga ukéčiⁿ úckaⁿ ejaí tě gáxe aŋgaⁿča-báji. Ádaⁿ í-äjiⁿ-gá há. Čéna.
 Indian common deed their the to do we do not wish. Therefore do not be Enough.
 coming

NOTE.

See 726. After jačín-naⁿpajĬ had sent that letter, Mŭⁿje-qaⁿje wrote again, insisting on coming to visit the Omahas. This elicited the above letter.

TRANSLATION.

I have not traveled in any direction whatever, so I have no horses; I am poor. Do not come! Beware lest you travel and come altogether in vain! I am not willing for you to start home much displeased. Though I have some persons as friends, they attend to work, and so we do not wish to do the deeds of wild Indians. Therefore do not come! Enough!

TA^NWA^N-GAXE-JIŅGA TO MAWATA^NNA.

Ca ⁿ ga ⁿ maja ⁿ ɕa ⁿ bɛita ⁿ éde edáda ⁿ bɛ́ga uáji bɛ́cta ⁿ ɣi, Ihañk'-
At any rate land the (ob.) I have but what all I plant I finish when, Yank-ta ⁿ wi ⁿ ɣi ɣa ⁿ /be té, ebɛ́ga ⁿ . Ca ⁿ Ihañk'ta ⁿ wi ⁿ ɣi guáɕica ⁿ Caa ⁿ ájiton vil- I will see it, I think it. And Yankton vil- beyond Dakota difɕa ⁿ ɕa ⁿ waja ⁿ /be ka ⁿ /bɛa. Ca ⁿ ɕisañ'ga, Úqɛ etéga ⁿ , cañ'ge ɣiɣi ca ⁿ 3 ferent ones I see them I wish. And your younger brother, To over- apt, horse houseful in fact ha ⁿ /da ⁿ cañ'ge sáta ⁿ gínacín'ge, wé'ɣa, kúkusi cti, bɛ́ga gínacín'ge.
at night horse five he lost by fire, plow, hog too, all he lost by fire.
ɕaná'a ⁿ téga ⁿ uwibɛa cuɕéaɕɛ. Ca ⁿ ga ⁿ -na ⁿ cupi te ebɛ́ga ⁿ uwibɛa
You hear it in order I tell it to I send to you. And at any rate I will reach I think it. I tell you cuɕéaɕɛ. Ca ⁿ nɛaci ⁿ ga d'úba nújiŋga wágaɣúqti Ihañk'ta ⁿ wi ⁿ ikágea ⁿ - 6
I send to you. And person some boy very straight Yankton we have them wa ⁿ /ɕai wagañap'ɛ'qti juáwagɛ. A ⁿ /ɕte-na ⁿ ɣi wiwíɣa uágidɛ cuɕɛ.
for friends being very near to I was with them. Usually, as it house I enter my I return Uqɛ'qti waqí ⁿ ha gɛ wi ⁿ iañ'kiɕá-gá. Nɛaci ⁿ ga-ma e'a ⁿ /i ɣi, i ⁿ wi ⁿ ɕa-gá Very soon paper the (pl. one send hither to me! The people how they if, tell me.
Wágaɣúqti i ⁿ wi ⁿ ɕa ɕa-gá.
Very straight to tell me send hither!

9

NOTES.

733, 3. Uqɛ etegaⁿ (Uqɛ etegaⁿ), a war or bravery name, "Apt to overtake the foe," a name of Mandan (Mawataⁿɕiⁿ), the Omaha, half-brother of the Yankton Mandan (Mawataⁿna).

733, 5. Caⁿ gaⁿ-naⁿ, etc., said by W. to be bad Omaha. He gave other readings: Caⁿ gaⁿ cubɛ́é etégaⁿ, *I will be apt to go to you at any rate; or, Caⁿ gaⁿ/qti cubɛ́é etégaⁿ, I will be apt to go to you, no matter what happens! Or, Edádaⁿ áñkipá etéctéwaⁿ, cupi te ebɛ́gaⁿ, etc., *I think that I shall reach your land in spite of anything that I may encounter, etc. Or, Iⁿbaⁿ-báji etéctéwaⁿ, caⁿ (wiewájiⁿ) cupi te ebɛ́gaⁿ, Even though I should not be invited (to your land), still, I (of my own accord) think that I shall reach your land.

733, 7. Aⁿ/ɕte-naⁿ, etc. Aⁿ/ɕte ɣi wiwíɣa uágidɛ égaⁿ/qti cubɛ́é, I go to you just as if I was entering my own house. (G.) W. and Taⁿwaⁿ-gaxe-jiŋga agree in the use of cuɕɛ. Aⁿ/ɕte-naⁿ ɣi wiwíɣa-qti uágidɛ cuɕɛ égaⁿ hñ (W.) differs from the text only in the use of the emphatic ending, -qti, very, and égaⁿ, so, like.

TRANSLATION.

I work my land, but I think that when I finish planting everything I will visit the Yankton villages. I also wish to see the various Dakota tribes that dwell beyond the Yanktons. Your younger brother, Nandan, had his stable, five horses, his hogs, and plows consumed one night by a fire. I send to tell you. I also send to inform you that I think of visiting you. There are some men among the Yanktons, young men whom we regard as warm friends, with whom I associated when very near their lodges. And if I now go to see you it will be as if I entered my own house. Send me a letter very soon. Tell me how the people are. Send and tell me the truth.

HUPEČA TO A. B. MEACHAM.

- Kagčha, úckaⁿ uáwačagioná tíčačai tē angáxai. Wačftaⁿ e'aⁿ ckáxai
 My friend, deed you told to us you have the we have done Work how you (pl.) sent hither it. do it.
- gē a'čan'gaskaⁿ čai, a'čičtaⁿi. Níkaciⁿga an'gačaiⁿ pahan'ga Wakan'da the we have attempted, we have fin- Person we who are before God (pl. in. ob.) lished.
- 3 aká jút'aⁿ wáxai tē edádaⁿ ctēwaⁿ a'čaⁿbahaⁿ-báji. Kagčha, wačftaⁿ tē the made us have the what soever we did not know. My friend, work the (sub.) bodies
- a'bač'qci a'čičtaⁿi tē uwíča cučéačē. Níkaciⁿga ukéčaiⁿ an'gačaiⁿ úckaⁿ this very day we have fin- the I tell it to I send to you. Indian common we who are deed ished you
- čičha údaⁿ ctēwaⁿ íbahaⁿ-báji, angú-onaⁿ a'čaⁿbahaⁿ, Umaⁿhaⁿ an'gataⁿ.
 your good soever they know not, only we we know it we who are Omahas.
- 6 Kagčha, níkaciⁿga ukéčaiⁿ ucté-ma gí'ča-bajiⁿ-qti-naⁿ caⁿ a'ba íčúgčē,
 My friend, Indian common the others are usually very sad yet day throughout, kagčha, gí'čaji-méde angúhaji angaⁿ čai. Ěskana uáwačaⁿ kaⁿ a'čaⁿ čai.
 my friend, those who have been sad we do not fol- we wish. Oh that they help us we hope.
low
- Níkaciⁿga ukéčaiⁿ an'gačaiⁿ wáčaha angúčai gē áčaha ctēwaⁿ ga'ča-báji
 Indian common we who are clothing our the to wear at all they do not wish
(pl. in. ob.) clothing
- 9 wáče amá. Kí, wáče-máčē, edádaⁿ aoniⁿ gē bēuga angaⁿ čai. Pahan'ga white the (pl.) And, O ye white people! what you have the all we desire. Forpeople sub.) in. ob.)
- tē di ugúhanačazē'qti angúmaⁿčaiⁿ-naⁿ caⁿ caⁿ, níkaciⁿga ukéčaiⁿ a'maⁿčaiⁿ erly in great darkness we were always walking, Indian common we walked erly
- tē di. Kí a'bač'qci a'čičdaⁿbaí tē di, a'ba údaⁿqti wéahidē'qti when. And this very day we have seen you when, day very good to a very great distance
- 12 angúčixide eáwagaⁿi. Wáče-máčē, majaⁿ núčuan'da čē níkaciⁿga we look to a dis- we are so. O ye white people! land island this Indian tance

- ukéçinⁿ-ma Wakanⁿda aká uéawákíçai. Wfugáçe etéwaⁿ aⁿéigaxa-bájl.
 the common ones God the caused them to own In the way in the least we did not regard (pl. ob.) (sub.) it.
- Ni-çanⁿga masáni kē majaⁿ uéúçiqiçinⁿgai çáⁿ majaⁿ wiwíça çáⁿ çatí.
 Big Water other side the land it did not hold out for the land my the you you (all) come hither.
- Ki çaníça tai égaⁿ majaⁿ wiwíça çáⁿ çatí égaⁿ, çaníçai. Majaⁿ wiwíça 3
 And you live in order that land my the you having come hither, you live. Land my
- çáⁿ çatí tēⁿdi, çanⁿge-ma ciⁿqti wajaⁿbe-naⁿ-maⁿ, çeskā cti ciⁿqti
 the you have when, the horses very fat I have usually seen them, oxen too very fat
 come
- wajaⁿbe-naⁿ-maⁿ, wamúské uji gē cti, wegaⁿze gēçba-dúba, gēçba-sátāⁿ,
 I have usually seen them, wheat sown the too, measure forty, fifty.
 (pl. in. ob.)
- uji-naⁿ gēⁿ wajaⁿbe, majaⁿ wiwíça çanⁿdi. Wataⁿzi gēⁿ cti gēçba-dúba 6 they usually the I have seen land my in the. Corn the too forty sowed (pl. in. ob.)
- uji-naⁿ wajaⁿbe; naⁿza gēⁿ cti údaⁿqti gēiⁿ; çanⁿge íf gēⁿ cti údaⁿqti, they usually planted I have seen; fence the too very good sit; horse house the too very good,
 (pl. in. ob.)
- íí-ugçinⁿ gēⁿ cti, údaⁿ gēiⁿ; kúkusi wiⁿáqtei gēçba-sátāⁿ etçanⁿi: majaⁿ dwelling- the too, good sit; hog one fifty perhaps: land house (pl. in. ob.)
- wiwíça çáⁿ íçiqíçaxai wáçe amá. Gíçeqti-naⁿ caⁿcaⁿi. Wí íⁿçamáji-naⁿ 9 my the have made while the (pl. sub). They are usually always. I I am sad usually
- caⁿcaⁿ bçinⁿ. Iⁿteaⁿqtei iⁿçē hā, ádaⁿ wawíçaxu cuçéaçç. Iⁿwiⁿçaxaⁿ always I am. Just now I am glad there-fore I write several I send to you. You help me
- kaⁿbçégaⁿ. Iⁿwiⁿçaxaⁿ çíçí, iⁿçē-naⁿ caⁿcaⁿ etégaⁿ. Níkaciⁿga ukéçinⁿ-ma
 I hope. You help me if, I am usually glad always apt. Indian the common ones
- wanfa pñiçiqti te çinⁿ ékigaⁿqti wackáçai, wáçe-máçç. Tēnā! wamí 12 quadruped very bad will the (my. an. ob.) just like it you make us, O ye white people. Fic! blood
- eaⁿçikigaⁿi: qinⁿha-skāⁿ çíçaxai, qinⁿha-jíçe wáçni. Pahanⁿga tēⁿdi edádaⁿ we are like you: white skin he made you, red skin he made us. Formerly what
- etewaⁿ aⁿçanⁿbahaⁿ-bájl, iⁿtaⁿ úckaⁿ çieçhai gē aⁿçanⁿçibahaⁿi. Úckaⁿ soever we did not know, now dead your the (pl. in. ob.) we know you by means of them. Dead
- çieçhai gē aⁿçanⁿçibahaⁿi tēⁿdi, úckaⁿ çieçhai gē aⁿçanⁿguçihé angāⁿçai: 15 your the (pl. in. ob.) we know you by means of them when, dead your the (pl. in. ob.) we follow you in we wish.
- Aⁿçanⁿguçihé tanⁿgataⁿ hā. Aⁿçanⁿniā etai tē wiⁿ uáwagiçai-gā,
 We will follow you in them We may improve by the means of (things) one tell it to us,
- wáçe-máçç. Eⁿaⁿ íçiqiúdaⁿi gēⁿ wiⁿ uáwagiçai-gā, kagçha. Qtaⁿçieç
 O ye white people. How they are for your good the (pl. in. ob.) one tell to us, my friend. We love you
- hēga-bájl, kagçha. Níkaciⁿga ukéçinⁿ dⁿúba macté majaⁿ kēçha hí éde 18 not a little, my friend. Indian common some warm land to the reached but

736 THE ČEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- gčl. Či'ča-báji teábe, nřkaci'ga uké'čl'. Waŋa'be, Paŋ'ka čanká. Těná!
 They are sad very, Indian common. I have seen them, Ponka the ones who. Fie!
 have come back.
- účkaⁿ čleřja řbahaⁿ da'be ga'čai čanká eátaⁿ t'č weččekaⁿnař ř.
 deed your to know to see they wish the ones why to die do you wish for them I
- 3 Wakan'da člńké wř eskana ře čaná'a'ř řđř-macě, Wakan'da člńké ře God the one who I oh that word you hear it O you who are there, God the one word who
- čaná'aⁿ-bařř'čtia'ř. Wačá'ččé etě řepahaⁿ-bařř čska'bččgaⁿ, wáqe-máč.
 you do not obey him at all. Pity even you do not know it it may be, I think it, O ye white people
- Nřkaci'ga uké'čl' čanká wařřgčřta'čti ga'čai éde wáničúwřxe wáni'
 Indian common the ones who to work hard for them- they but you have led them you have kept them selves wished around
- 6 Paŋ'ka čanká. Wačř'ha cuřř řčđř, wačř'ha-gáwa bačú-de ca' maja'
 Ponka the ones who Paper reaches when, paper spread open written when and land
- bčúga učř'ai řč, gaŋ'čř wř' řaŋ'kičá-gá.
 whole scattered the, and then one send hither to me!
 in

NOTES.

The translation of this letter appeared in The Council Fire of 1879.

734, 4. Nřkaci'ga uké'čl' aŋgačř', does not include the Omahas; so the phrase may be rendered by "The Indians who are like us," etc. But in 734, 5, aŋganaⁿ . . . Uma'haⁿ aŋgataⁿ, refers to the Omahas alone.

TRANSLATION.

My friend, we have done the deeds of which you told us when you sent hither. We have attempted the various kinds of work that you have done, and we have succeeded. When God first made us, we Indians did not know anything whatever. My friend, I send to you to tell you that we have finished the work on this very day. The wild Indians of our race do not know anything about your ways; but we Omahas alone know about them. My friend, the other Indians are very sad throughout the day; but we do not wish to follow them. We hope that you will aid us. The white people do not wish us Indians to wear any part of our own clothing. O ye white people! we desire all the things which you have. Formerly, when we lived as wild Indians, we continued in great darkness. But to-day as we have seen you, we can perceive by steady gazing a very good day at a great distance. O ye white people! God caused the Indians to own the land on this island. We did not regard you as being in our way at all! You came to my land because the land on the other side of the water was insufficient for you all. You came to my land in order to live, and so you have improved. Since you have come to my land, I have seen in my land very fat horses and cattle, as well as from forty to fifty bushels of wheat sown (by one man). I have seen forty bushels of corn planted; excellent fences, stables, and dwellings. One hog has, perhaps, increased (in a few years) to fifty. The white people have acquired these things for themselves from my land; and they are always very glad. But I was ever sorrowful. Now I am glad, therefore I write to you about several matters. I hope that you will help me. If you help me, I shall be apt to rejoice continually. O ye white people! you have regarded us Indians just as so many very bad quadrupeds! Fie! we resemble you in having blood, though you were made with white skins and we with red ones.

In former days we knew nothing at all; but now we have learned your deeds from you. As we have learned your methods, we wish to imitate you in practicing them. We will follow you in this respect. O ye white people, tell us one of the things by means of which we may improve! My friend, tell us one of the many things which have been advantageous to you. My friend, we have great love for you.

Some Indians went to the Indian Territory, but they have returned. The Indians are very sad. I have seen them. They are the Ponkas. Shame on you! why do you wish those to die who desire to see and know your ways? O ye whom I regard as hearers of God's words (among those who are otherwise), you have not obeyed God's words at all! I think, O ye white people, that you do not even know what pity is. The Ponkas desired to work very hard for themselves, but you have kept them in an unsettled condition. When this letter reaches you, and it is put in a newspaper and scattered over the whole country, send me a paper.

JOHN SPRINGER TO JOHN PRIMEAU.

April 26, 1879.

Kag'cha, can'ge taⁿ cetaⁿ ikikáwi'ácha-máji. Can'ge taⁿ q'áá éde iⁿteaⁿ
 My friend, horse the so far I have not bartered. Horse the lean but now
 (std. an. ob.) (std. an. ob.)

ciⁿ fé há. Kí iⁿteaⁿ wabéftaⁿ héga-máji, wébéiⁿwiⁿ-máji téinke. Béftaⁿ fat goes. And now I have plenty of work, I may not sell. I finish it xí, can'ge ikikáwiⁿáché tá minke. Iⁿteaⁿ áúji aúgúai níé éíngé, údaⁿqti 3 when, horse I will trade. Now house- our pain has none, very good hold aⁿnájiⁿ. Kí Ihañk'taⁿwiⁿ áíi fáⁿá oné wíkaⁿbéa. Cín'gajín'ga wiwíja é'áa we stand. And Yankton vil- to the you I wish for you. Child my there lago go

ctaⁿbe né wíkaⁿbéa. Kí Maⁿtcuⁿ-nájiⁿ ífámaxe te úckaⁿ e'aⁿ ífápahaⁿ-máji you see you I wish for you. And Standing Grizzly I ask him a may dead how I do not know him go question

há. Wabáq'ceze ci uq'cé tiaⁿ fakiq' kaⁿbéégaⁿ, waqíⁿha fé nízé xí. 6 Letter again soon you send hither I hope, paper this you when.
 to me receive it

NOTES.

John Springer was a half-blood Omaha. John Primeau was a half-blood Ponka, who resided on the Santee reservation, Knox County, Nebr.

737, 5. Kí Maⁿtcuⁿ-nájiⁿ, etc. If té, the, be substituted for te, may, we may translate thus: "I do not know about the matter concerning which I questioned Standing Bear."

TRANSLATION.

My friend, I have not yet exchanged the horse for one of equal value. The horse has been lean, but now he is getting fat. At present I have plenty of work, and I may not sell it. When I finish the work I will trade the horse (for another ♀). All in our household are in good health, we are doing very well. I wish you to go to the Yankton village. I desire you to go to see my child that is there. I do not know how I can ask Standing Bear a question (†). I hope that when you receive this letter you will send me one soon.

A^NPAN^N-LAŅGA, AND OTHERS, TO INSPECTOR J. H. HAMMOND.

May 8, 1879.

Níkaciⁿ/ga amá čéama ikágewačáččě Umaⁿ/haⁿ úwačakié amačáⁿ/ caⁿ/Indian the (pl. these you have them for Omaha those whom you talked to at any sub.) friends in the past relo iⁿtáxaⁿ waⁿácaⁿ oné tē caⁿ/ čagčí ičáčipai éde, čagčíjži égaⁿ, majaⁿ/ ukí towards the traveling you the still you have they have but, you have as, land home head of the river went returned waited for you not returned

3 čičha čanⁿ/di čaki čkaⁿ ečégaⁿ égaⁿ, učúčikié gaⁿ/čai, učinaⁿ/ gaⁿ/čai.
your in the you have perhaps they think as, to talk to you they wish, to hear about they wish.
reached home about something you

Kageha, ie wiⁿ/ učúčikié gaⁿ/čai há, úkaⁿ wiⁿ/ učúčikié gaⁿ/čai. Uqčč/ qtei
My friend, word one to talk to you they wish deed one to talk to you they wish. Very soon about it about it

wabáqčeze wiⁿ/ iwakiča-gá há. Čatfáži taté xi, ie tē čí'í euhíčč 'čai há.
letter one send to us You shall not if, word the to give to send they come hither to you thither promise

TRANSLATION.

These Indians whom you regard as your friends, the Omahas to whom you spoke, have waited for you to return from your journey up the Missouri River. But since you have not returned they think that you may have gone on to the land where your home is, and so they wish to speak to you about something. Then they desire to hear from you.

My friend, they wish to speak to you about one matter, one deed. Send us a letter very soon. If you do not intend coming hither, they promise to give you the words and send them thither to you.

MA'N'E-GAHI TO LOUIS ROY.

May 24, 1879.

Umáha-mádi agfí. Umáha fécama wiji' fē amá, winégi amá edábe,
 To the Omahas I have returned. Omaha these my elder the (pl. sub.), my mother's brother also, a' fēqti a' fī' éga, i' uda' qti ma' bēi'. Maja' pīji' hégaji, út'e kē very gently have me as, very good for me I walk. Land very bad, cause the (or carefully)

hēga-ctēwa' jī, macté hégaji-na' ca' ca'. Wiya' be ka' bēn-qti ca' ca' 3 far from being few, warm very un- ally always. I see you I have a strong desire ma' bēi'. Wisi fē-na' ca' ca'. Wa' u' fē fēha uckúda' ga' -ada' awási fē-na'

 I walk. I remember un- ally always. Woman your kind as, there- fore I remember un- ally

ca' ca'. Hi' bē úda' ingáxe- na', áda' awási fē-na'-ma'. fīádi wa fátē always. Moccasin good made for neu- ally, there- fore I am usually thinking about Your father food uké'ta' fā' u fēde uhi juwígē, wa' da' uáhi hā, ga' -ada' wisi fē-na'-ma'. 6

 he acquired the together I was with you in together I grew up as, there- fore I am usually thinking (ob.) in work growing of you.

Éde wiya' ba-múji i' teqi i fānahi' ma' bēi'. Éduána ea' fā-báji tē
 But I do not see you hard for me I accept it I walk. Antoine not related to the ékiga' qti a', áda' jī tē ctēwa', ja' ba-múji, ca' dī hā. fīáha' aká ca' fēge is just like it, there- lodge the even, I did not see it, I was com- ing back hither just so Your the horse brother-in- (sub.) law ta' fī' ta' ab fēi' dī te a' éde, agfí fē-ctēwa'-máji. Ca' ha' -ima' fī' 9 the he the I am bringing will he but, I did not think of it at all. Just walking by night (std. gave (std. it back hither said (as I was)

dī hā. Uq fē' qte wiya' be tá minke etéga'. Dega' wabáxu fā' nize xi, I was coming back Very soon I will see you it is probable. But (I) letter the you when, (ob.) receive it uq fē' qte waqí' ha gí fā fāki fē te. Edéce xi, cupí tá minke. Nú wata' zi very soon paper please be sending it back to me. What you if, I will reach you. Potato corn edábe uáji édega' ceta' agfí'a. Agfí'eta xi, cupí etéga' hā. Hi' bē éskana 12 also I have but so far I have not finished mine. I finish when, I reach it is probable. Moccasin oh that fīgú fā' i fā' anki fā' ka' bē fēga'.

 your wife she puts them by in order to save I hope, for me

NOTES.

Ma'e-gahi was a Ponka. Louis Roy, a half-blood Ponka, was then staying on the Yankton reservation, Dakota.

739, 10. Dega". W. substitutes, "Ga", And. G. agrees with the author in giving a reading of equal value (both sentences being connected): Uqčeqtei wia"be ta miñke etega" ča"ja, wabaxu ča", etc. i. e., Though I shall probably see you very soon, please send me a letter very quickly after you receive this one.

TRANSLATION.

I have come back as far as the Omaha reservation. These Omahas, my elder brothers, and my mother's brothers also, have treated me with the greatest consideration, so I continue to prosper. The land (in the south ?) is very bad, it contains many things that tend to shorten life, and it is always very warm. I always have a strong desire to see you. I always think of you. Your wives have been very kind, therefore I have always remembered them. They usually made moccasins for me, so I am generally thinking about them. You and I were raised together on the food which your father acquired, therefore I am usually thinking of you. But I continue in great distress because I do not see you. Antoine (your brother) has been just as if he was not related to me at all, therefore I started back hither without even seeing his house. Your brother-in-law said that I was to bring back to the Omaha reservation the horse which he had given you, but it escaped my memory altogether. I came hither traveling by night. It is probable that I shall see you very soon. When you get this letter, please send one back to me very soon. If you say anything I will come to you. I have been planting potatoes and corn, but I have not yet finished my work. When I finish it I will probably come to you. I hope that your wife will put some moccasins aside for me.

TWO CROWS AND OTHERS TO JOSEPH LA FLÈCHE, AT 'OMAHA.

May 28, 1879.

Cé-ma ukikie wécpaha" xi wackan'-gā.	Ca" 'iáwaččé-na"i gě éskana
Those talking you know when make an effort!	And they are usually the oh that whom you together them	talking about us (pl. in obj.)
pi fe úda"qti, éskana čáxe ka" a"čá" čai.	Wačáčka" ka" a"čá" čai.
new word very good, oh that you make it we hope.	You make an attempt we hope.

NOTES.

Joseph La Flèche went with his daughter Susette to the Indian Territory, to visit his younger brother, Frank, a Ponka chief.

Two Crows said that when the letter was received La Flèche would think "Wacka" 'čai tená," i. e. "they talk of nothing but perseverance!" G. (1889) gave what is plainer to the author: Wacka" tš - ná - qti 'čai š.

Persevere the only very they speak of

TRANSLATION.

Do your best when those whom you see and know are talking together! We hope that when they talk about us alone, you will make very good speeches (in our behalf). We hope that you will persevere.

FRED. MERRICK TO G. W. CLOTHES.

Aⁿba^é wawidaxu cuéa^é hā. Cé^éu pí tē níⁿkaciⁿga juáwag^é aká
 To-day I write to you I send to you . Yonder I the Indian I with them about several things reached there the (coll. au³.)

gludaⁿqtiaⁿi, údaⁿqti juáwag^é. Majaⁿ bē^é iú^éé^é éⁿáⁿjuáwag^é bē^émáji.
 it was very good for very good I was with them. Land I go I to the I with them I did not go.

Kí májaⁿ é^éé^éuádi ag^éí tēd^éíhi xi, wabē^étaⁿqti-maⁿ. Kí úckaⁿ é^égice tē^éaⁿ 3
 And land in this place I have come back by the time that, I have worked. And deed you said in the (some one) past

anáⁿaⁿ kaⁿbēⁿqti-maⁿ. Wahá ekaⁿna 'fē^éé^é tē^éaⁿ 'égaⁿqti gáxa-gú. Caⁿ I hear it I have a strong desire. Animal you wish you in the just so act! And skins for spoke of past anáⁿaⁿ kaⁿbēⁿqti-maⁿ hā, u^éáket'aⁿ tēd^éíhi xi. Waq^éiⁿha é^é cuhí tē I hear it I have a strong desire you acquire it by the time that. Paper this reaches the

 you

éskana fe aⁿé^éi 'fē^éé^é kaⁿbē^égaⁿ, uq^éé'qtei. Níⁿkaciⁿga wagáxe é^éé^éiⁿ aká 6 oh that word you give you promise I hope, very soon. Indian debt he has the
 for you (sub.)

gisí^éai aⁿba i^éiug^é. Kí aⁿba wi^éaⁿbe tē étandaⁿ wactaⁿbe taté ebē^égaⁿ.
 remembers day through. And day I see you the by that time you shall see it (ob. not I think it. named)

Caⁿ iⁿudaⁿqti-maⁿ, éskana uq^éé'qtei waq^éiⁿha iaⁿé^éaki^é kaⁿbē^égaⁿ. Kí And I am doing very well, oh that very soon paper you send hither to me I hope. And ú^ééitaⁿ t'aⁿ héga^éji hā, wamúskē kē^é etí héga^éji, ádaⁿ aⁿwaⁿsnindē^é-qti-maⁿ 9 work abounds very much wheat the too very much, there- I am delayed a long time

 fore

hā. Cí wahá u^éáket'aⁿ ekaⁿna tē hā. Kí níⁿkaciⁿga é^é cahí aká Again animal skin you acquire you wished . And person this he reached the you (coll. au³.)

wan^égí^é u^éáket'aⁿ égaⁿéai. Níⁿkaciⁿga aká égisí^éé-naⁿi hā. Ikáge^éé^éqti all you acquire they wish it for you. Person the they are usually remembering you Having you for a (coll. sub.) real friend

xi^éaxai.
 they make for themselves.

12

NOTE.

Fred. Merrick, or Siⁿgaⁿ-qega, was an Omaha. He wrote this letter to a white man residing at Columbus, Nebr.

TRANSLATION.

I write to you to-day about several matters and send to you. When I was there with you the Indians whom I accompanied were well pleased, and it was very good for me to be with them. I did not accompany them to the land to which I promised to go. By the time that I returned to this land I had plenty of work (?). I have a strong desire to hear respecting the matter about which you spoke to me. You spoke of your desire for skins of animals; act accordingly! I am very anxious to hear about them against the time that you acquire them. When this letter reaches you I hope that you will promise to give me information on the subject very soon.

The Indian who owes you a debt thinks of it throughout the day. I think that you shall see it by the day that I see you.

I am very well. I hope that you will send me a letter very soon.

There is a great amount of work here, and the wheat crop is bountiful, therefore I am delayed a long time. You wished to acquire skins of animals. All these Indians who came to you wish that you would acquire them. The men are usually thinking of you. They consider you as their true friend.

HOMNA TO HEQAKA-MANI, ICTA JAN^NJAN^N, AND MA^NATCEBA (sic), YANKTONS.

- Níkaciⁿga fúbéiⁿ céna wawídxúí há. Caⁿ, níkaciⁿga-mácé, éwíçai, Indian three enough I write to you (pl.) on different sub- And, O ye Indians, I have you for kindred.
- kí ikágewiçé'-eti-maⁿi. Kí majaⁿ ké wéahidé'qti pí édegaⁿ, iⁿteqí égaⁿ and I also have you for my friends. And land the at a great distance I had arrived, it was hard as for me.
- 3 agéí. Níkaciⁿga céama eáwaçé amádi agéí, kí iⁿudaⁿ-qti-maⁿ, iⁿçé-qti
 I returned hither. Persons these I have them to the ones I re- and I was doing very well, I was very well pleased maⁿbéiⁿ xi, wáçe amá aⁿçizai. Kí majaⁿ gúhiçáⁿiú aⁿçéⁿ akí té'di, I walked when, white the (pl. sub.) they took me. And land to that (land) out they took me back thither when, wáçe amá aⁿwaⁿiáí. Aⁿçictaⁿ-bi al édegaⁿ, cetaⁿ aⁿwaⁿçáⁿi, aⁿwaⁿcte white the (pl. sub.) were talking about me. That they had let they but, so far they hold me, I am left 6 jín'ga há, aⁿçictaⁿ-báji. Níkaciⁿga céama, Umáha amá eti uáwagixáⁿqti.
 a little they have not released me. Person these, Omaha the (pl. sub.) too have given me much help.
 Cetaⁿ Umáha majaⁿ eíá çan'di bazaⁿ akí-múji, çáⁿha ké'di agéí. Kí
 So far Omaha land their to the among I have not reached there border to the I have And aⁿçictaⁿi té'di, caⁿ níkaciⁿga ukéçíⁿ úekaⁿ jújuáji ké' etéwaⁿ éskaⁿ they let me go when, at any rate Indian common deed had one of the soever oh that 9 anaⁿcibe kaⁿbéçgaⁿ. Caⁿ aⁿbaçé wisiçé-qti, wabágçeze wawídxúí.
 I take my feet out of (?) I hope. And to-day I think much about you, letter I have written to you on different subjects.

Ki úcka ^a e'a ^{n'} ma ^{n'} ni ^{n'} qi, ca ⁿ wágazu éskana i'wi ^{n'} fanai ka ⁿ b'e'ga ⁿ (ca ^{n'}
And deed how you walk it, yet straight oh that you (pl.) tell it to me I hope yet úcka ^a ája ⁿ e'a ^{n'} ma ^{n'} ni ^{n'} qi). Ki nkaci ^{n'} ga d'úba é'uma úcka ⁿ gé gíteqi deed you do it how you walk it. And person some them deed the hard for (pl. (the at)
avá. Ikágecié'qti q'ji, úcka ⁿ g'e' gíteqi amí há' éu ^{n'} ja, nkaci ^{n'} ga d'úba 3 the (pl. el.). They have you for when, deed the (pl. hard the (pl. , though, person some éwa ^{n'} i, nkagahi- ma wágeu, éila ^{n'} ba-báji é wakaí. Ca ^{n'} nkaci ^{n'} ga they chief the (pl. they accuse they did not see you it they mean. And person ééínke ijuje tó epáxu etéga ⁿ . Ki' wabágeze i ^{n'} éi ^{n'} éizai qi, i'wi ^{n'} éa tíéé this at one his the you write it is proba- And letter he receives when, to tell me to send to me etéga ⁿ . Dúba-ma ^{n'} éi ⁿ é wágazúqti nkaci ^{n'} ga i ^{n'} éi ^{n'} éize tá éínke. 6
he is apt. Dúba-ma ^{n'} éi ⁿ he very straight person the one who will receive it for me.

NOTES.

Homna, Smelling of fish, the Yankton equivalent of the Ponka Hubéaⁿ. This Ponka was also known as Yaxe-ni-éataⁿ (see 739, 5), Je-je-baje, Buffalo Chips, and Nudaⁿhañga, War captain.

Heqaka-mani was Walking Elk.

743, 1 and 2. (caⁿ ucka^a ájaⁿ e'a^{n'} ma^{n'}ni^{n'} qi) a parenthetical expression, which can be omitted, as it is redundant, being a mere equivalent of what precedes: "that is, how you progress with the things which you have undertaken."

TRANSLATION.

I write to you three men on various matters. O ye men, I regard you as my kindred and friends. I arrived at the very distant land, and as it was difficult for me to remain, I returned hither. I returned to these Indians, my kindred, and when I was doing very well and continued very happy the white people arrested me. And when they took me back to Omaha City the white people talked about me (i e., entered suit). They subsequently said that they had let me go, but they still hold me a little under restraint; they have not released me. These Omahas have given me much aid. I have not yet returned to the Omaha reservation, where I could associate freely with the people. I have returned to the border of the reservation. When they release me, I hope that I may get my feet out from the various kinds of bad deeds of wild Indians. As I am thinking much about you to-day, I write to you a letter on different subjects. I hope that you will tell me fully what things you have been doing (that is to say, how you progress with the things which you have undertaken). Some of these people have had trouble. When they had you for true friends they got into trouble, and this was caused by some persons, that is, the chiefs, whom they accuse of keeping them from visiting you. You may write the name of this Indian sitting here. When he receives a letter for me at my request, he will be apt to send and tell me. Dúba-ma^{n'}éiⁿ is the one who will receive my letters for me, as he is a very upright man.

NANZANDAJĪ TO JAMES O'KANE.

June 24, 1879.

Ca^{n'}, kageha, a^{n'}bačé wisíččé wawíčaxu cuččáččé, íe djúbaqtei šgaⁿ.
 And, my friend, to-day I remember you I write to you about several things I send to you, word very few.

- Ikágekíččé úda^{n'}qti a^{n'}čín ča^{n'}eti, a^{n'}qíha^{n'}ba-báji xáci a^{n'}čín. Ca^{n'} Regarding one very good we were formerly, we have not seen one another a long time we are. And 3 wačásiččéba-báji'-qti-ja^{n'} éi^{n'}te, ca^{n'} a^{n'}čisiččé-na^{n'} a^{n'}čín. Ca^{n'} čikáge you have not been thinking of us at all if, per- yet we think of usu- we are. And your friend haps, ally
 nán'de ča^{n'} gí'čaji'-qti-na^{n'} ca^{n'}cu^{n'}, xagé-na^{n'} ca^{n'}ca^{n'}. Čikáge wa'ú heart the very sad for him usu- always, he weeps usu- always. Your friend woman (ob.) ally gíwakéga gí'te tégaⁿ. Ca^{n'} éskana wabágčeze nížé xí, e'a^{n'} ma'ni^{n'} éi^{n'}te sick for him his dies is apt. And oh that letter you re- when, how you walk if ceive it
 6 ca^{n'} winá'a^{n'} ka^{n'}bča. Ca^{n'} účita^{n'} ačágčani^{n'} éi^{n'}te a^{n'}čina'a^{n'} a^{n'}ga^{n'}čai.
 at any I hear from I wish. And work you have your own if we hear from you we wish.
 rate you
 Ca^{n'} Mejík a^{n'}pa^{n'}ha, jáqtiha da^{n'}etčé, ačín^{n'} éi^{n'}te, íčamáxe xí, i'wi^{n'}čaná
 And Messick elk hide, deer hide or, he has if, you ask him when, you tell it to me
 ka^{n'}bčégaⁿ. Ca^{n'} jáqtiha na^{n'}ba úda^{n'}qti ka^{n'}bča, i^{n'}čéni^{n'}wi^{n'} xí, ia^{n'}čakičé
 I hope. And deer hide two very good I desire, you buy them if, you send them for me hither to me
 9 ka^{n'}bčégaⁿ, uqčé'qtei. Či a^{n'}pa^{n'}ha wi^{n'}áqtei etčéčéwaⁿ ka^{n'}bčáqti. Ca^{n'} I hope, very soon. Again elk hide just one even if I desire greatly. And e'a^{n'} ma'bčín^{n'} tš a'čá^{n'}cpahaⁿ. Níč a'čín'gčé-qti-ma^{n'}.
 how I walk the you know me. Pain I have not at all.

NOTES.

NanzandajĪ was an Omaha. O'Kane's residence was at Kearney Junction, Nebr.

744, 3. Čikage, i. e., Pidaiga or Spafford Woodhull: see 656, note.

744, 7. Mejík, i. e., T. M. Messick, a white trader.

TRANSLATION.

My friend, I remember you to-day, and I write to you about various matters, sending you a very few words. We have been very good friends, though we have not seen each other for a long time. Even if you have not been thinking of us at all, we are usually thinking of you. Your friend is now very sad at all times; he is weeping continually. Your friend's wife is ill, and will probably die. I hope that when you receive the letter I may hear from you how you are getting along. If you have any work of your own, we wish to hear from you. When you ask Mr. Messick whether he has any elk or deer skins, I hope that you will tell me what he says. I desire two very good deer skins. If you buy them for me, I hope that you will send them to me very soon. I also desire at least one elk skin. You know how I am doing. I am very well.

WAQPECA TO UNAJI^N-SKĀ.

June 3, 1879.

Ca^{n'} winá'aⁿ ka^{n'}bā, kī a^{n'}ba áhigi winá'aⁿ-máji hā. Winégi
 And I hear from you I wish, and day many I have not heard from you My mother's brother gí améde, gēlāji, Cáhíčē. Cē'ja fanájiⁿ, negíha, i^{n'}čēqti-ma^{n'}. Wisíčē-naⁿ is returning he has not returned, Cheyenne. Yonder you stand, mother's brother, I am very glad. I think of usually they say, but, returned, ca^{n'}ca^{n'}. Wabáqēze nížē xī, uqčē'qti tíčāčē ka^{n'}bē'gaⁿ. Djó aká Pañ'ka 3 always. Letter you receive it when, very soon you send it hither I hope. Joe the (sub.) Ponka ahí éde, agēí uqčē'qti. Winégi cukí éi^{n'}te cta^{n'}be xī, i^{n'}wi^{n'}čaná íčāčē reached but, he re- turned there to you My mother's brother if you see him when, you tell it to me you send hither
 there
 te hā', uná'aⁿčákíčē té, cta^{n'}be té'di. Pañ'ka céčū gēí tē ceta^{n'} will . you cause me to hear about it will, you see him when. Ponka yonder has come back so far wágazu-báji, ébécetē íbaha^{n'}jí.
 is not straight, whoever does not know it.

6

NOTES.

745, 1. Winégi, i. e., Cheyenne. In line 2, Negíha refers to Unajiⁿ-skā, son of Cheyenne. Note that Waqpeca calls both father and son his "mother's brothers." See Omaha Sociology, § 75, in 3d An. Rept. Bureau of Ethnology, 1885.

745, 2. gi amede, in fui, gi ama ede.

745, 5. uná'aⁿčákíčē té cta^{n'}be té'di, equivalent to the two preceding phrases.

TRANSLATION.

I have wished to hear from you, but for many days I have not heard from you. It is said that my mother's brother, Cheyenne, is coming back, but he has not yet returned. I am delighted, mother's brother, that you are staying there where you are. I am always thinking of you. I hope that when you receive this letter you will send one hither very soon. Joseph La Flèche went down to see the Ponkas in the Indian Territory, but he will return very soon. If my mother's brother (your father) has reached the Yankton reservation, please send and tell me when you see him. Please let me hear about him when you see him. It is still uncertain whether the Ponkas will return to their old reservation (in Dakota). No one knows about it.

JOHN PRIMEAU TO REV. A. L. RIGGS.

June 5, 1879.

- Aⁿ'bačé níaciⁿ'ga wáaⁿ'be, ukíkíai aⁿ'bačé Umáha amá. Kí Omaha To-day people I have seen they have to-day Omaha the (pl. And Omaha them, talked together sub.).
- City ejátaⁿ níaciⁿ'ga wúki wiⁿ' atí, Paⁿ'ka wúki aké. Íe údaⁿ'qti níaciⁿ'ga
 City from it person or advocate one has Ponka advocate the one Spoko very good man Indian come, who is he.
- 3 aká wúki aká. Maⁿ'teú-nájiⁿ níaciⁿ'ga uíjaⁿ teúbai, wáwíuⁿ'é aké, údaⁿ'- the advocate (sub.). Standing Bear person has aided greatly, lawyer the one very (sub.) who,
- qti gígaⁿ'čai. Iⁿ'teaⁿ'báče íai tē uwíbea tá minke. Íígaⁿ'čai činkéⁿ'ja Paⁿ'ka good desires for This day, now what they I will tell you. Grandfather to the Ponka him spoke
- čanká 'íwačé ačé 'íčai, Ísaⁿ'yati čanká eti, Umáha čanká eti, Húwánga the ones to talk to go he has Santee the ones too, Omaha the ones too, Winnebago who about them promised, who
- 6 čanká eti, ádaⁿ úckaⁿ gē bēúga wágazu gáxe gaⁿ'čai. Caⁿ' íe kē áhigi the ones too, there- deed the (pl. all straight to make he wishes. And word the many who fore in. ob.)
- čaⁿ'ja, djúba čáxe, awánaⁿ'qčaiⁿ égaⁿ. Monday téⁿ'di dí há. Kí Wednesday though, few I made, I was in haste as. Monday on I was coming hither And Wednesday
- téⁿ'di atí há, Umáha íí čanⁿ'di. Kí aⁿ'ba-waqúbe čictaⁿ' Monday téⁿ'di on I came hither Omaha vil- to the. And Sunday finished, Monday on lage
- 9 cagčé tá minke. Čawíni Čáni čaⁿ'ba Paⁿ'ka wúki uwáčaginá té. Čási,
 I will start back to you. David Charles he too Ponka they aid them you tell it to them will. Dorsey,
- Mr. Hamilton' eti jaⁿ'be. Céna.
 Mr. Hamilton too I saw. Enough.

NOTES.

John Primeau had acted as Ponka interpreter for Rev. A. L. Riggs at the Santee Agency, Nebr., since 1871, and perhaps for a longer period.

John Primeau came to the Omaha Agency and visited the Presbyterian Mission while Mr. T. H. Tibbles was consulting with the Omaha about the Ponka case.

TRANSLATION.

I have seen the Indians to-day; the Omahas have been talking together to-day. A lawyer has come from Omaha City, and he is the one who has been helping the Ponkas. This advocate spoke very good words. The lawyers have afforded considerable help to Standing Bear. They desire for him what is very good. I will tell you what they spoke about this very day. He has promised to go to the President to speak for the Ponkas. And not only for them, but also for the Santees, Omahas, Winnebagos, and, in fact, he wishes to rectify the affairs of all of them. And though there were many words, I record but a few, as I am in haste. I started hither on Monday, and on Wednesday I reached here at the Omaha Agency. On Monday next I will start back to you. Please tell Charles and David Le Clerc about the man who has been aiding the Ponkas. I have seen Messrs. Dorsey and Hamilton. Enough.

MA^NTCU-NA^NBA TO UNA^JIN-SKĀ.

Waq'i'ha fé'ca i'nt'a'qci béizé. Caa'na' amá cag'al té'di i'nt'a'qci Paper this just now I have re- Dakota the (pl. started when just now ceived it. ced it to you.

béizé. Wawéa'máxe tí'cái té uwibéa cué'ca'cē tá minke. Edáda' núnjnga
 I have To ask me some ques- they the I tell it to I will send it to you. What boy received it. tions sent hither to you amá ci'í amá icá'paha-máji, ca'w' wé'amáxe tá minke, ca'na' a'xíqibéa, yáci 3 the (pl. ci'í they gave to I do not know it, yet I will ask them a question though I hesitate from a long sub.) you you time

hégají. Cí catí xi, wé'panaxai xi, úda' tē'nte. Ga'w' Pa'n'ka amá é'ama very. Again you when, you question they about sev- If, good it would be. Ga'w' Ponka the (pl. these eral things (sub.) (pl.) (these)

Djó aká é'ja ahí, íu'pa éwá té ubé'á tá minke. *Či*ádi Pa'n'ka šlusá-biamá, Joe the there reached there, news his the I will tell it. father Ponka They scolded him, it is said, (sub.) (sub.) (pl. in ob.)

gi agají-biamá, ca'w' eca'w'adi gei'w' čínké amá. Cēki amá xi *sáta*n 6 they ordered him, yet near to them he was sitting, it is said. Cēki amá xi *sáta*n re- it is said, (sub.) (mv. lodge five turn- ing)

júwage agi-bi améde a'w'ba-waqúbe na'w'ba gi té ceta'w' Djo Zuzet'te he with them was returning hither, mysterious day two re- the so far Joe Suetie they say, but turning é'ca'w'ba Pa'n'ka xi čan'di ahí-bi ega'w', Pa'n'ka u'čá-biamá. I'nt'a'w' 7 he too Ponka village at the having arrived there, Ponka told it, they say. Now šan'geq'tci *agé*fi té, Uma'ha'w' xi čan'di. I'nt'a'w' a'w'ba-waqúbe dúba gi 9 very near the they they the, Omaha village to the. Now mysterious day four re- turn-time they have re- turned té ceta'w', Cēki. Pa'n'ka na'w'ba waka'w'ta'-biamá, Wé's'a-ja'n'ga, Gahíge the so far, Cēki. Ponka two were tied, they say, Big Snake, The Chief é'ca'w'ba. Úkie agé í'čé-bi ega'w', Pa'n'ka *í'čé*di'čai aká *ihuwa*čá-biamá:

 he too. To pay a go to go they spoke having. Ponka agent the he consulted them:
 friendly visit (sub.) (sub.)

"I'nt'a'w', na'hé'bai-gai. *Či*šiga'w' *ihuwa*čé *é'ca*čé tá minke. *Í*nahi'w' xi, oné 12 Hold on! wait ye! Your grand- to consult them I will send thither. He is will- ing if, you
 father

táitē. *Í*nahi'w' xi, uma'w' *é*ti wé' é'ga'w', né táitē, á-biamá. Kí ca'w' 13 shall go. He is will- ing provisions too I gave having, you shall go, he said, they say. And yet na'a'w'-báji Wé's'a-ja'n'ga Gahíge é'ca'w'ba. Ga'w' Pa'n'ka júwage agá-bi they did not Big Snake The Chief he too. So Ponka with them went, they listen to him

Čahí'čéa xi čan'di. É'di ahí-bi xi, Čahí'čéa *í'čé*di aká í'čé-bi-amá, Wé's'a- 15 Cheyenne vil to the. There arrived when, Cheyenne father the (sub.) held them, they say, Snake lage there, they ja'n'ga Gahíge é'ca'w'ba. Ga'n'xi *u*et' amá *waná*ce amá *wá*gihi'bi-amá Big The Chief he too. And then those who re- mained (= the police the (pl. sub.) they came there for them, they say

748 THE ČEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

- ga^{n'}, wáfi^{n'} aki-biamá. Waka^{n'}taⁿ ča^{n'}ja, uqé^{n'} wáficke tá-bitčamá. I^{n'}taⁿ as, they took them back home, They tied them though, soon they shall be untied, they say. Now
 they say.
- Pañ'ka ucté amá ximéğčáⁿ gí ga^{n'}čai éde, Djó aká cka^{n'}aji gfi^{n'} wágaji.
 Ponka the remainder to steal away re- wished but, Jóe the not moving to sit commanded turn- ing (sub.) them.
- 3 Ma^{n'}teu-nájiⁿ čéčinke an'guin'čáⁿi. Uma^{n'}haⁿ maja^{n'} uhan'ge wáqe eñá Standing Bear this st. one we aided him. Omaha land end white their people own
- hébe ugfi^{n'} gfi^{n'}. Kí a^{n'}bačé an'guin'čáⁿi, mácaⁿ híde uča^{n'} juáwagče.
 part sitting in it he sits. And to-day we have aided him, quill base to take hold of it I was with them.
- Ceta^{n'} Wakan'da čaha^{n'}-ma wáúie edábe Uma^{n'}haⁿ aká etí cčna uřaⁿi
 So far. God those who pray lawyer also Omaha the (coll. too enough have aided him to Him (sub.)
- 6 Ma^{n'}teu-nájiⁿ. A^{n'}bačé wáúie wiⁿ juan'gče gfi^{n'}, a^{n'}čan'gukié aňgfi^{n'}i.
 Standing Bear. To-day lawyer one he with me he sat, we talked together we sat.
- Iřga^{n'}čai činké ačé řičai, wáúie aká. É agfi^{n'} tēdihi ři, wágazu tēi^{n'}te.
 Grandfather the one to go he spoke lawyer the He he has by that when, straight it may be.
 who of it. (sub.) returned hither time
- Juan'gče aňgfi^{n'} taité, kí maja^{n'} čé'ja, a^{n'}wa^{n'}wa gfi^{n'} tēi^{n'}te a^{n'}čan'baha^{n'}-báji.
 We with him we shall sit, and land yonder, which (of the he sits it may be we do not know it.
 two /)
- 9 Wakan'da čaha^{n'}-ma, wáúie amá edábe Pañ'ka čí^{n'} enáqčei uřúki-báji;
 God those who pray lawyer the (pl. also Ponka the they only they do not side to Him, (sub.) (coll. with;
- nřkaci^{n'}ga ukéčíⁿ bčúga uáwagikí řai, ádaⁿ wéčé hčga-báji.
 Indian common all to side with us he there- we are very glad.
 speaks, fore
- Ahaú. Uma^{n'}haⁿ an'gataⁿ nře wačín'ge hčga-báji; wačátē aňřřaxē ¶ Omaha we who stand pain we have none very (pl.) food we have made for ourselves
- 12 bčúga a^{n'}čřjut'a^{n'}i; ádaⁿqti a^{n'}nájiⁿi. Ceta^{n'} Ma^{n'}teu-nájiⁿ řa^{n'}ba-máji há.
 all we have raised very good we stand. So far Standing Bear I have not seen it; him
- I^{n'}taⁿ, gasáni da^{n'}etē, řa^{n'}be tá minke.
 Now, to-morrow perhaps I will see him.
- Hau. Čéama, Mácaⁿ-řúⁿ, Ietá-jaⁿja^{n'}, Miřáha-čáge, cčna, Sindé-¶ Those, Wiyakoin, Ietajaⁿja^{n'}, Raccoon skin head- enough, Spotted dress,
- 15 gčeečá da^{n'}be tai égaⁿ cagčai. Čupí tá minke.
 Tail to see him in order they have I will reach there.
 that (pl.) started back to you.

NOTES.

747. 2. waweaⁿmaxe řičai tē. W. gives as an alternate reading, Wawéawamáxe řičai tē, with reference to what was sent hither to ask us questions. G. substituted Wawéaⁿčamáxe řičačé tē, with reference to what you sent hither to question me about.

747. 8. Pañka, or change uča^{n'}-biamá to uča^{n'} amá. Either supply aka, the sign of a voluntary action, after Pañka, or change uča^{n'}-biamá to uča^{n'} amá.

748. 15. cagčai. After this Ma^{n'}teu-naⁿba added the following, recorded at the time in English: "If you hear of their going, send me word the same day." This must refer to the contemplated visit of the three Yanktons to Spotted Tail.

TRANSLATION.

I have just received this letter. I received it just now as the Dakotas started back to you. I will send to you to tell you that they sent here to ask us some questions. I do not know what the young men have given you, still I will ask them the questions, though I hesitate a very long time from fear of failure. You ought to come and question them yourself! Joseph La Flèche reached the Ponkas in the Indian Territory. I will tell the news which he brought about them. He said that the Ponkas had scolded your father and had ordered him to return hither, but he was staying near them. When Joe and Susette reached the Ponka village, the Ponkas told him, so he says, that Ceki had started this way with five lodges about two weeks previous to their arrival. It is now very near the time for them to have come to the Omaha village. Up to this time it has been four weeks since Ceki and his companions started. He also said that two Ponkas, Big Snake and The Chief, had been arrested and confined. When they had spoken of going to make a friendly visit to another tribe, the Ponka agent consulted them. "Hold on! Wait! I will send and consult the President. Should he be willing, you shall go, and I will give you provisions for the journey," said the agent. But Big Snake and The Chief would not obey him. They and the Ponkas went away and traveled to the Cheyenne village. When they got to the Cheyenne village, the Cheyenne agent arrested Big Snake and The Chief. Then the policemen took them and the rest of the Ponkas and brought them back to the Ponka reservation.

It is said that the two, who have been confined, will be released soon. At this time the rest of the Ponkas wished to steal off and come back to us, but Joe told them to remain where they were.

We have aided Standing Bear. He is dwelling on a piece of land belonging to the white people, near the boundary of the Omaha reservation. We have aided him to-day; I was with those who "touched the pen-handle." Up to this time only those who pray to God (among the white people), the lawyers, and the Omahas have aided Standing Bear.

A lawyer sat with me to-day; we sat together talking with one another. The lawyer promised to go to see the President. By the time that he gets there the matter will be settled. We shall dwell together, but we do not know in which of two lands yonder he will dwell. The lawyers and those who pray to God take sides not only with the Ponkas, but they speak of befriending all of us Indians. Therefore we are very glad.

We Omahas are in excellent health; we have made food for ourselves; we have raised all that we planted; we are very prosperous. I have not yet seen Standing Bear. I will see him to-day or to-morrow.

These men, Wiyakoiⁿ, Icta-jaⁿjaⁿ, and Raccoon-skin Head-dress, have started back to you in order to go on a visit to Spotted Tail. (Send me word the very day that you hear of their departure.) And I will go to see you.

TO INSPECTOR J. H. HAMMOND, FROM SEVERAL OMAHAS.

June, 1879.

- Two Crows said:—*Ga^{n'}, ji^{n'}écha, çatí tē'di twidaba^{n'}-máji há. Kí And elder brother, you came when I did not know you And níkaci^{n'}ga ééma úwafakíé-ma wiwíja-ma ífæe fagéé tē i^{n'}wi^{n'}éai. Kí wisíéperson these those to whom you talked those who are mine you spoke you the they have told me And I think of you 3 na^{n'} ca^{n'}ca^{n'} há. Kí maja^{n'} ééfa^{n'} a^{n'}éa^{n'}nié etéga^{n'} tē bēúgaqti úwafáginá usually always And land this we live by ought (pl.) the all you told it to us fagéai. Kí ci pi^{n'}qti éskana a^{n'}éa^{n'}wacka^{n'} etéga^{n'} xi, wi^{n'} weééckaxai you started back. And again anew oh that we get strong by ought (pl.) if, one you make for us ka^{n'} a^{n'}éa^{n'}éai. Éskana, can^{n'}ge, kagécha, waka^{n'}béa há. Waéita^{n'}-ma júbaji, we hope. Oh that, horse, my friend, I desire them The working ones are inferior, 6 núciúha, éga^{n'}, wacka^{n'}-fi^{n'}á-na^{n'}. Níkaci^{n'}ga ukéfi^{n'} can^{n'}ge é áwaka-múji low in stature, as, they are weak usually. Indian common horse it I do not mean it há: wáqe can^{n'}ge, uma^{n'}éinka fábféi, dúba-ma ceta^{n'} a^{n'}wan^{n'}ga^{n'}éai. Éskana white horse, year three, those who are so far we desire them. Oh that uáwafagika^{n'} étea^{n'}xi xi^{n'}ji, é weúgiúda^{n'} etai. Uqéé^{n'}qti éskana Iúga^{n'}éai you help us may, at least (pl.) if, that good for us may. Very soon oh that. Grandfather 9 fínké íe angújai na^{n'}a^{n'}éakié ka^{n'} a^{n'}éa^{n'}éai.
 the one who our you cause him to hear we hope.
*Duba-ma^{n'}éi said:—*Ji^{n'}écha, a^{n'}baéé edáda^{n'} wíxa tá minke, áda^{n'} O elder brother, to-day what I will ask a favor of you, there-fore wabágeze wídxu euééaéé. Máfadi çatí há. Kí uwíkie-máji éte-ma^{n'} letter I have written to you. I send it to you. Last winter you came hither And I did not talk to you I may, in the least 12 éa^{n'}ja, níkaci^{n'}ga ééma ikágeawáéé-ma uéíkiái tē, íe tē uéíéai tē although, person these those whom I have for friends talked to you the, word the told about the you aná^{n'} tē i^{n'}uda^{n'}qti-ma^{n'}, ji^{n'}écha. Jéniíja tē. I^{n'}wi^{n'}éana tē, ébízé
 I heard when I was very glad, O elder brother. I live by will. You tell it to me, I take it from him tédíhi xi, édi-na^{n'} ani^{n'}ja etéga^{n'}. Kí wíxa te, ehé tē. Can^{n'}ge-ma by the time when, then only I live apt. And I ask a favor of you will, I said it. The horses (pl. ob.) 15 wiwíja-ma wébéihíde-ma háhada^{n'}i, kí edáda^{n'} skige aqai tē éúta^{n'}qti those that are mine I continue at work those by means of which are light. and what heavy goes the very straight aqá-báji éa^{n'}ja, ca^{n'}awácka^{n'} te, ehé éa^{n'}, ga^{n'}awácka^{n'} tá minke. Ji^{n'}écha, they do not think, yet I make an effort will, I said in the past so I will make an effort. O elder brother, can^{n'}ge wáqe ejaí, ca^{n'}uma^{n'}éinka fábféi dúba, sítá^{n'}-ma, éskana a^{n'}wan^{n'}- horse white people their, i. e. year three four, those that are oh that we do.
 18 ga^{n'}éai. Kí Iúga^{n'}éai fínké uqéé^{n'}qti éskana écépaha ka^{n'}bééga^{n'}.
 sire them. And their grand-father the (at. ob.) very soon oh that you show it to him I hope.

Ja'ni-na'paj said:—Ji'ech'a, a'n'ba'e edáda'n wi'n' wíxa cucéacé. Can'go (older I ask I one I I send I brother, to-day what of favor of to you Horse

wačitaⁿ wábečⁱ tē aⁿjú-máji hégá-máji, cañ'ge wiwípa tē Cañ'ge wáqe to work I have them I am very unfortunate, horse my the. Horse white people etaj wacka^{n'}jaŋga waka^{n'}bea. Caŋ'ge-ma máčē pábeiⁿ, dúbá, sátaⁿ 3 their strong I desire them. The horses winter there four six ceta^{n'}-ma é waka^{n'}-bēa. Ēdī xī, maja^{n'} ēaⁿ bēitaⁿ tē uīcāⁿ-be bēcē etēgaⁿ.

those who that I desire them. In that case, land the I work it the up the hill I go apt.

Iiŋgaⁿčai, éskana uqčé'qtei ućúćakié ka^abéŋgaⁿ.
Grandfather, oh that very soon you speak to him about it I hope.

*Mawadaⁿɕiⁿ said:—*Kagéha, aⁿbaɕé'qtei edádaⁿ ɕína édegaⁿ ɛduéhe 6
My friend, this very day what they have begged from you I have joined it

há. Maja^{n'} fan'di ená edádaⁿ añyíxaxai aⁿñíçahaⁿ-na^{n'}i é - naⁿ éé há.
Land in the that what we have done for ourselves we pray to you usually it alone that is it .

Édèga^{n'} edádaⁿ dāxe tē bēí'a-naⁿ-ma^{n'} hā, kagé. Kí ádaⁿ a^{n'}bačé
But what I do the I usually fall to com- O friend. And there- to-day plete

[illegible]

éě hă, áda¹¹ uwíbea cuééažě.
that . there- I tell it to I send it to
is it fore you you.

Je-ux'a^ha said:—Kag'é^ha, aⁿbačé níkaciⁿ'ga čéama wačibaxu tá ama ha;
 My friend, to-day person these they write to will (pl.).
 you on different subjects

ki wijiⁿ/čē ie wiⁿ/ aⁿ/i ge^e ečēgaⁿ ēgaⁿ čisičē ēgaⁿ waiⁿ/čibaxu taⁿ/gataⁿ. 12 and my elder he gave he thought that hav- remem- hav- we write to you we will.
brother word one it to started that ing bered you ing

Ca^{n'} máčadi čati tē'di aⁿwa^{n'}čakié tē, fe tē ágisičē-naⁿ ca^{n'}caⁿ. fe tē
And last winter you came when you spoke to me when, word the I think of it usually always. Word the abčɪn' te é abčɪn' hə. Ca'n' edádaⁿ aŋgɪji ɣɪ'ji, bɛ́ŋgaqti hí kɛ́ údaⁿ, I have the that I have . And what we plant if all stock the (coll. good,

céhi kē' cti, ja^{n'}abe beúgaqti údaⁿ. Ki áma a^{n'}áí 'íacé té uba^{n'}-ctéwaⁿ. 15 apple the too, leaf all good. And the you give you the I have in the least tree (coll. ob.)

máji, ʔa^{n'}be-ctēwa^{n'}-máji, ičadičai wa^ʔ-í-báji, a^{n'}bačé naⁿcta^{n'}i, áji ugei^{n'},
I-not I have not even seen it, agent did not give it to us, to-day he has ceased to walk, an- other sits in (his place).

níkaciⁿ ga ípádíçai aká. Kì íéskā-ma é áwake há Kì íéskā-ma é Iígaⁿ çai Indian agent the (st. And the cattle that I mean And the cattle that Grand-
sub.).

uēŋcakiē ŋi, éskana maja^{n/} gēdi agcābciⁿ abci^{n/} kaⁿbēcgaⁿ. Ga^{n/} caŋ'ge 18 you speak to if, oh that land in the I have my I have it I hope. And horse him about it (pl. in. ob.) own

752 THE ČEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

wína, can'ge uma' činka čábčai' mégaⁿ, dúba mégaⁿ, sátāⁿ mégaⁿ, ééna.
I beg horse year three those of that four those of that five those of that enough.
from you, age, age, age, age, age,

Can'ge i'p'ágčqti ka' bča-máji, can'ge ukč'čai' eti ka' bča-máji; Máhi'jan'ga
Horse very old man I do not want it, horse common too I do not want it; American

3 can'ge-ma eonáqtei waka' bča, maetč' can'ge a'wan'ga'ča-báji. Hécpaiúna the horses those alone I want them, warm (i. e. horse we do not want them. Spanish
(pl. ob.)

can'ge četi pí-báji.
horse those are bad.
too

A'paⁿ-jaŋga said:—Ji'čča, čatí há, Uma'haⁿ maja' čan'di. Kí e'aⁿ O Elder brother, you came hither Omaha land to the. And how

6 aŋčai' ča' cka' aŋčai' waetā' be čatí. Kí "fe wiwíha tč sčai-gā," ecč, ádaⁿ we sat the action we sat you saw us came. And Word my the remember ye it, you there-said, lore

sčé-na' i. Ca' edádaⁿ weččekaxe, maja' áwa'ji, weččekaxe i'čnai kečā' they usually. And what you have done for land strong to bear them up, you make it for we begged in the remem- ber it us, bear them up, us of you past a'sičč-na' ca'ca' i ča'ja, účitaⁿ hégaji ani' égaⁿ, weččeni'at tč, ecč. Ca' we un- think of ally always though, work very you have as, you had failed the, you said. And it to accomplish it for us

9 wáge úckaⁿ aŋga' čai tč uqčč aŋga' čai há. Ca' e'aⁿ ma'ni' tč éga'qti while people deed we desire the soon we desire And how you walk the just so uqčč aŋga' čai há. Ičápaji, čičha gčitā-gā. Maja' agčitaⁿ xi, agčábčai' soon we desire it. Not waiting your own do your own work. Land I work my if, I have my for him to appear, own ka'bčégaⁿ, waqin'ha sagi. Iága'čai činkč gátč na'an'kičā-gā. Ca' edádaⁿ

I hope, paper hard. Grandfather the (st. that thing let him hear it. And what (ob.)

12 wéteqi gč bčúgaqti, éskana aŋga' ča-báji. Ca' níkaci'ga maja' ča' are hard the all, oh that we do not want it. And person ga land (the for us (pl. in. ob.)

wákihiđe-má čti wéčisihi-gā, gacbe čéwakičai-gā. Kí maja' aŋčičitaⁿ those who attend to them too cleanse it of them out of it cause them to go from us. And land I work for myself

tč'di, wéčihide áxidaza' ingāxai-gā. É tí xi, i'ctč edádaⁿ ctč when, tool each with its own kind make for me. That it when, as if what ever comes hither

15 a'ágča-máji, xiúaha-máji'qti, wabčitaⁿ ma'bčai'. Ičádičai amá ená ma'zčskā
I do not suffer, I do not fear unseen danger at all, I work at various tasks I walk. Agent the (pl. only sub.) they money kéditaⁿ ačai' gčai' i égaⁿ, ená wéčihide ačai' gčai' i. Čiskic itčč gčai' from the having it they sit as, only implements having they sit. Čiskic itčč gčai'

All in a pile to place sitting a'wan'ga'ča-báji.

we do not want them.

NOTES.

750, 8. L. gave another reading, Éskana uáwaçagixan^ai xli, é weágiuda^a etal. It is impossible to distinguish between the two readings, either in English or in Čegíha.

750, 11. uwíkie-majl etema^a ča^aja, etc. The insertion of "etema^a" shows that only in one respect did the speaker differ from his friends; he had not conversed with Gen. Hammond. But he and they were of one mind, and when he heard their report of the council with the inspector, he agreed with them in trying to act by his advice.

752, 10. Ičapajl, etc. Reference uncertain. It may be intended for Ičápajl-da^a čičíja géttañ-gā, Do the work for your own wards (the Omahas) without waiting for some one to appear!

752, 14. wečihide ačidaza^a iñgaxai-gā, give me tools as my personal property. Ačidaza^a conveys the idea of separation into homogeneous groups. The speaker wished his agricultural implements to be distinct from those of other Omahas. The general idea of what is recorded in lines 11 to 17, as given at the time, is as follows: "If we become citizens, we desire an equal division of land, horses, and tools. We do not wish them to be kept as common property, or in one place." After saying this, they added: "We need one hundred and fifty span of horses."

TRANSLATION.

Two Crows said:—Elder brother, I did not know about your coming. But after you departed, these Indians, my friends, told me what you had said. I am always thinking of you. Before you left you told us very fully how we ought to live by means of the land.

We express again the hope that if we ought to make an effort by means of such things (?), you will make one of them for us. My friend, I desire horses. As our working horses are low in height, they are usually too weak for the work. When I speak of desiring horses, I do not refer to Indian ponies. We want American horses from three to four years old. If you would only help us to get them they would be advantageous to us. We hope that you will cause the President to hear our words very soon.

Duba-ma^ačín said:—Elder brother, I ask something of you as a favor to-day, therefore I write you a letter. You came here last winter. Though I did not talk to you, these Indians, my friends, did talk to you, and I have heard what they have told about you. So I am very glad, elder brother. I will improve by means of it. By the time that I take from the President (?) what you have told me only then can I improve. I said that I would ask you a favor. My horses, by means of which I continue working, are light, and when the work becomes heavy they can not go very straight. But since I said, "I will persevere," I will do so. O elder brother, we desire American horses that are three, four, or five years old. I hope that you will show this to the President very soon.

Čačín-na^apajl said:—Elder brother, I send to you to-day to ask a favor of you. I am very unfortunate with my working horses. I desire strong American horses. I wish the horses to be three, four, or five years old. In that case, when I work the land, I will be apt to ascend the hill (i. e., improve). I hope that you will speak to the President about this very soon.

Mandan said:—My friend, I am one of those who have begged something from you this very day. We have petitioned to you about only one thing; that is, with reference to our making something for ourselves by working the soil. That is the only thing about which we ask you. But, my friend, I have usually failed to complete what I have undertaken. And so to-day we really think that you have aided us. Domestic animals are the means by which we shall put forth strength, therefore I send to tell you.

Ɔe-uƆa^ha said:—My friend, these Indians write to you to-day. We write to you because we remember how you, our elder brother, gave us some advice before you started home. I have always remembered the words which you spoke to me when you came here last winter. I have kept the words which I received. All things which we have planted have grown up and the plants and trees are in good condition. So are the apple trees; the leaves are all good. I have not taken hold of the other thing which you promised to give us; I have not even seen it; the agent has not given it to us. He has resigned to-day, and another Indian agent is in his place. I refer to the cattle. And when you speak to the President about the cattle, I hope that I may have my own (cattle) in my land. And I beg horses of you. I want horses that are three, four, or five years of age. I do not want very aged horses, nor do I desire Indian ponies. I desire none but American horses. We do not want Kansas horses. And Mexican horses, too, are bad.

Big Elk said:—Elder brother, you came here to the Omaha country. You came to see how we were and what we were doing. You said, "Remember my words," therefore the people have remembered them. And though we have always remembered how we begged you to make our land strong enough to bear us up, you said that you had failed to accomplish it for us because you had so much work. And the ways of the white people which we desire, we wish to have them soon. We desire to imitate your ways before long. Work for us, your wards, without awaiting the appearance of any Omaha (?). If we cultivate our land, we hope that we can have good titles to it. Let the President hear that. We do not desire the many difficult things which we have encountered. Send from our land all those (white employés at the agency) who attend to us. Make them leave our reservation. When we cultivate our land, let us have the personal ownership of the tools which we use.

As the agents stay (among the Indians) solely on account of money, they continue in possession of the annuity money, the agricultural implements, etc. But we do not desire them to keep these implements in one place. (We need one hundred and fifty span of horses.)

WAQPECA TO UNAJIⁿ-SKA.

August 19, 1879.

Ca^{n'} eátaⁿ waqí^{n'}ha gēīēakiēāji ca^{n'} gēīēakiēāji ca^{n'}ca^{n'} há. Cubēē
 And why paper you have not sent yet you have not sent always I will tú minke há. Ca^{n'} a^{n'}ba-waqūbe na^{n'}bá tē ceta^{n'} waqí^{n'}ha gēīēāfē xī, go to you And mysterious day two the so far paper you send it, (=week) cubēē tēinke, cē'ia. Wabágēze uqēē'qteí gīān'kiēā-gā, ēē níze xī. Ca^{n'}ge 3
 I will go to you, yonder. Letter very soon send back hither to this you re. when. Horse me, receive it ēagīna ta^{n'} dāsi i^{n'}teqí iēāxuhē há. Aa^{n'}bēa cubēē tá minke. Nīaci^{n'}ga you asked the I drive difficult I fear the un- I abandon if I will go to you. Person for your (std. it own an. ob.)
 ikāgeāfē agīna'aⁿ ka^{n'}bēa. Ūta^{n'}qti i^{n'}ēi^{n'}wa^{n'}ē iēa-gā: Tatan'ka-māni ē
 I have him for a friend I hear about my own I wish. Very accu- send hither to tell me about Walking Buffalo-bull that rately my own:
 áwake. Ca^{n'} ēēēu ēagēīji tē i^{n'}ca^{n'}-qti-ma^{n'} há. Pañ'ka-ma ceta^{n'} 6
 I mean him. And here you have not the I am well satisfied with it The Ponkas so far returned hither
 wágazu-báji, ēēēu ēanājiⁿ tē tēqí ā, ehē: gīteqíwāfē, gīteqí'qti nāji^{n'}i.
 are not straight, here you stand the diff- I say: troublesome to very difficult they stand.
 cult them, for them

TRANSLATION.

For some reason you have not sent a letter hither; you have never sent a reply I will go to you. If you send a reply in two weeks, I will go yonder to your land. When you receive this, send a letter back very quickly. You have begged for your horse; it is difficult for me to drive it along, and I am apprehensive on this account. I will leave it here when I go to see you. I wish to hear about the man whom I regard as my friend. Send and tell me all about him. I refer to Walking Buffalo-bull. I am very well satisfied for you not to return here. The Ponka matter is not yet settled, and it would be difficult for you to stay here. They continue in great trouble.

TO THE CINCINNATI COMMERCIAL, FROM SEVERAL OMAHAS.

Duba-ma^{n'}ēi^{n'} said:—Kagēha, nīkaci^{n'}ga ēē a^{n'}ga^{n'}in'di, Uma^{n'}haⁿ
 My friend, Indian this to us who are mv., Omaha a^{n'}ga^{n'}in'di, wabágēze wi^{n'} tēāfē tē anā'aⁿ. Wēēigēaⁿ tē a^{n'}ēa^{n'}ēamābe 9 to us who are mv., letter one you sent the I heard it. Mind the you asked me about it hither
 tē uwi^{n'}bēa tá minke. Maja^{n'} ēaⁿ ēēēaⁿ agēābēiⁿ. Maja^{n'} wiwīja.
 the I will tell it to you. Land the this I have my own. Land my own.

Ki nikaciⁿga-ma ꝑé-ma ckaⁿ maⁿꝑiⁿ-ma wajaⁿbe hā, ietā wéjaⁿbz.
 And the people (pl. ob.) these (pl. ob.) those who walk actively (usually) (pl. ob.) I have seen them eyes I have seen them with.

Nikaciⁿga ckaⁿ wiwīa kē agīaⁿbēa kaⁿbēa hāciajāꝑicaⁿ; agīaⁿba-māji.
 Person act my own the I abandon my I wish towards the rear I do not look at mine.

3 Agīdasnu ꝑéaꝑé. Ki wāge ꝑéama wajaⁿbe tē ckaⁿ eⁿꝑiⁿ tē ūdaⁿ inahīn
 I push my own off. And white people these I see them the act how the good really they are ebégaⁿ, éskaⁿ égimaⁿ kaⁿ ebégaⁿ hā. Nikaciⁿga ukéꝑiⁿ ckaⁿ tē

 I think, oh that I do that I hope Indian common act the nāxixīa tē kaⁿbēa-māji hā, hāciajāꝑicaⁿ agīdasnu ꝑéaꝑé, é ūwake. Aⁿba what made the I do not desire towards the rear I push my own, that I meant it. Day people fear to leave camp

6 iéaūꝑé edādaⁿ aⁿꝑāⁿgiūdaⁿ tē uāxigēixide hā. Égiꝑe ckaⁿ ꝑiꝑīa tē throughout what by means of which the I gaze around, in search of it for myself At length deeds (move-ments) your the e- naⁿ iḡiūdaⁿwāꝑé tē jaⁿbe hā. Nikaciⁿga-ma wajaⁿbe tē wietl āꝑi-that only may be good for (one) the I have seen it The people I have seen them the I too I have looked at jaⁿbe: eaⁿ edādaⁿ ūgaxeꝑa iwačkaⁿ eⁿꝑiⁿ tē wietl égimaⁿ ātaⁿhē-myself and what ūgaxeꝑa strong by means of how it is I too I am standing doing that dur- ing,

9 ebégaⁿ hā. Wamúskē uūji, nū uūji, majaⁿqē, waꝑā, wataⁿzi,
 I think it Wheat I have potato onion, cabbage, corn.

hīⁿbēiⁿge, wajaⁿ, ce, naⁿpa, nūꝑe, ḡaⁿqē-jide, tomato, lettuce, sakaꝑide.
 beans, pumpkin, apple, cherry, turnip, beet, tomato, lettuce, watermelon.

Léskā wābēiⁿ, caⁿge, jaⁿꝑinaḡe, caⁿge-wéꝑiⁿ, wajiⁿga-jide. Kagēha, Cow I have them, horse, wagon, harness, chicken. My friend.

12 nikaciⁿga ꝑikāge ꝑé-ma ū tē ugīꝑiqtiaⁿ gēiⁿ aⁿnaⁿaⁿi. Ki wéꝑiꝑeⁿ person your friend these house the very full sitting we hear it. And mind (or plan)

ebégaⁿ waⁿgiꝑēⁿqti eꝑégaⁿi. Ki wagācaⁿ iⁿetē tēgaqti bēé égaⁿ hā.
 I think it all they think it. And traveling as it were very new I go so Maⁿbēiⁿ aⁿꝑāⁿbēaⁿ-mājiⁿ-qti-maⁿ. Ki edādaⁿ aⁿbaꝑé bēꝑiutⁿaⁿ uwibēa tē, I walk I have by no means had enough. And what to-day I have raised I tell to you the,

15 éskana umaⁿꝑiⁿka āji ū, āta bēꝑiutⁿaⁿ kaⁿbēégaⁿ. Kagēha, ꝑikāge amā oh that year an when, be yond I raise I hope. My friend, your friend the (pl. sub.)

ꝑéama ukīꝑaꝑa-bāji hā. Iⁿetē kigēꝑe amā égaⁿi hā. Pahanⁿga ꝑiⁿ these they run unequal distances As if they were chasing they are so Before the one (mv.) they are chasing they are him, their own so gēꝑe amā égaⁿi hā.

 they are chasing they are him, their own so

18 Two Crows said:—Kagēha, nikaciⁿga ꝑiꝑeⁿ-mācē, ié aⁿꝑinaⁿaⁿi -de
 My friend, people the ones like you, word we heard from when you wéꝑéqtiaⁿi. Waꝑiⁿ gē aⁿꝑāⁿnāhiⁿqti. Wéꝑéqti aⁿwaⁿꝑiꝑiḡiḡaⁿ aⁿmaⁿꝑiⁿ we were very glad. Work the we are very willing for We are very glad we work for ourselves we walk (pl. in. ob.) it.

etēwaⁿ, Iiŋaⁿčaiⁿ činké wagáŋaⁿ eja amá subáŋiŋti aⁿsíčē-naⁿi čanⁿdi, even when, Grandfather the st. one servant his the (pl. very suddenly we think usu- ally when, sub.) of him

aⁿčanⁿ xuhe-naⁿi. Aⁿetē uáwagíŋaⁿ-báŋiⁿqti čanⁿká. * * * * * Eškana we fear the un- usually. As if they were not helping us at all. Oh that seen danger

ŋe čanⁿá tšenčē níkaciⁿga áhigiⁿqti unáⁿaⁿwačákičē kaⁿ aⁿčanⁿčai. Eškana 3 word you begged hither people very many you cause them to hear about it we hope. Oh that wawúe anⁿguiⁿhai kaⁿ aⁿčanⁿčai. Eškana majⁿ čanⁿ waŋiⁿha sagiⁿqti lawyer we join them we hope. Oh that land the paper very firm wačáⁿi kaⁿ aⁿčanⁿčai. Eđŋi xi, wáŋe wáŋpa-báŋi-ma aⁿčanⁿxuha-báŋi you give to us we hope. In that event, white people the ones who are not keeping motionless we do not fear unceasing danger etēgaⁿ. Kagéha, ŋe aⁿčanⁿčamaxáŋi caⁿ uwíŋa. Edádaⁿ waŋtá 6 sp. My friend, word you did not ask me yet I tell it to you. What vegetable (or fruit)

aⁿčŋutⁿaⁿi gē weaⁿčŋiⁿwiⁿi tēdi, háhadaⁿqti égaⁿ-naⁿi, čí edádaⁿ eja we raise the (pl. we sell when, very light so usually, again what their own
in. ob.)

gē skíŋeŋti weŋáŋe-naⁿi, úŋiⁿwiⁿ xi aŋiⁿ amá.
the very heavy they make usually, store those who keep (sub.)
(pl. in. ob.)

Big Elk said:—Caⁿ nanⁿde čanⁿdi indádaⁿ iⁿteŋi gē uwíŋa ečéčáŋe. 9
And heart in the what hard for the I tell to you I send to you.
(pl. in. ob.)

Níkaciⁿga ukéŋiⁿ-ma edádaⁿ údaⁿ xiŋáŋe gaⁿčanⁿ améde, ičádičaf amá
Indian the common (pl.) what good to do for themselves they were wishing, but, agent the (pl. sub.)

uwáŋiŋaⁿji amá-na. Kagéha, níkaciⁿga číŋaⁿ-macé-na, účkanⁿ wéteŋi they are the only ones who do aid us. My friend, person only to you and those like yourself, deed hard for us aⁿčanⁿgučŋie étai. Iiŋaⁿčaiⁿ činké edádaⁿ wéteŋi gē wéteŋi-báŋi ečégaⁿqti- 12 we talk to you about can. Grandfather the st. one what hard for the not hard for us he thinks just so them (pl. in. ob.)

naⁿ, wákihičedewakičaf-ma, ičádičaf-ma, iⁿetē wáŋiudaⁿ-bi ečégaⁿ-naⁿ gŋiⁿ usually, the ones whom he causes to watch over us, the agents, as it were that they benefit he thinks un- hesitates
ally

tē. Ádaⁿ níkaciⁿga-ma edádaⁿ xiŋáŋai gē éŋimaⁿ kaⁿbčégaⁿ. Caⁿ majⁿ
the. There-fore the people what they do for themselves the I do that I hope. And land
(pl. in. ob.)

čanⁿdi níkaciⁿga údaⁿqti kaⁿbčanⁿ há; níkaciⁿga ukéŋiⁿ agíŋaⁿbē etēwaⁿ 15 in the person very good I desire him Indian common I look at my own even kaⁿ bčanⁿmáŋi. Majaⁿ čanⁿdi áwaⁿjiⁿqti níkaciⁿga-mácē bčúga iⁿwiⁿčaxaⁿi

I do not wish it. Land in the fully strong enough to bear one up O ye people all you aid me kaⁿbčanⁿ. Níkaciⁿga-mácē, nanⁿde údaⁿ ičanⁿčafē-mácē, waŋgičē, uŋáŋiŋčai

I wish. O ye people, heart good ye who place it, every one, you tell your affairs to one another

xi, uáwačaxaⁿi xi, majaⁿ čanⁿdi aⁿmaⁿčŋiⁿ aŋgaⁿčai. 18
when, you aid us it, land in the we walk we wish.

*Marewafē said:—*Kagēha, waqin'ha tia'fakičē nink'cē, wfbēaha'
My friend, paper you have sent it you who sit, I pray to you hither to me (sing.)

čēačē, cēhe hā. Ėskana in'čēwacka' eka'na, kagēha, waqin'ha tia'fakičē,
I send it I think . Oh that you make an effort you wish it, my friend, paper you send it hither off, and say that for me to me,

3 in'fē-qti-ma'. Cka' fēha a'ča'baha'-etēwa'-bāji ca' qtau'čēqtia'i. Ėskana
I am very glad indeed. Acts your we do not know anything about them yet we love them very Oh that well.

wēuda' etēga' uūwačagixixide ka' a'ča'čai. Ca' nīkaci'ga waqin'ha good for us apt you look around in search of something for us we hope. And person paper wēčēckaxe ti-mā wēčēqtia'i, nān'de gīuda'qtia'i čikāge-ma. Ūeka' you male for those who are very glad, heart very good for them your friends. Deed them have come hither

6 aṅgūmai kē inīawāčē gāča'skā etē ēdīča'a'ji, waqin'gēqtia'i. Inīawāčē our the life sustaining of that size even it is not there, we are destitute of all. Life sustaining (thing)

aṅgūxixide etēwa' a'ča'ča-bāji-na'i. Cka' čēčēha enāqtei inīawāčē hā.
we gaze at a dis- even when we do not find it usually. Act your It alone life sustaining
tance from (an- ob.) (move- ment)

Kagēha, ča'čawagīčai-gā. A'nāha aṅga'čai čga' aṅxīwaha'ē-na' ca'ca'
My friend, pity us. We live we wish as we make a special un- always prayer for ourselves ally

9 a'čai' a'ba ičāugčē.
we are day throughout.

*Jačēn-na'pajī said:—*Maja' čēčandi ūčēwi' ŋi ačē' akā t'čawāčē Land in this store he who keeps it to slaughter us

ga'čaqtia'i. Aṅgā'ča aṅga'ča etēčēwa' Inīga'čai akā-na' uŋa' tē wēteqi has a strong desire. We throw him, we wish notwithstand- Grandfather the nau- he aids the hard for our own, away, ing (sub.) ally him (=as) us

12 hā. Edāda' aṅgēčijūt'a' tē ičtaqti a'čē' ātaca' in'nace-na' ca'ca', āda'
What I raise for myself the most he has more than he snatches un- always, therewantonly me (enough) from me ally fore

čskana uma'činka čē mactē āma tēyāhi xī, čēču naji' in'ga'ča-bāji. Ėskana oh that year this warm the it shall arrive, here to stand we do not wish for Ob that other when, one him.

Inīga'čai činkē unā'a'fakičē ka'bēčga'.
Grandfather the one you cause him to hear about it I hope.

15 *Two Crows said:—*Ga' edāda', kagēha, e'a' a'ma'čē' gē wačāna'a'
And what, O friend, how we walk the (pl. you hear about in. ob.) us

eka'na, āda' aṅ'gui'čēha cūčēa'čē taṅ'gata' hā. Kī maja' čēčuādi ūeka' you wish, there- we tell it to you we will send it to you . And land in this place deed
fore

wēteqi hēga-bāji ēde, uāwaxa' wačēn'gai. Inīga'čai akā nīkaci'ga ukēčē' hard for very but, to help us we have none. Grandfather the Indian common us (sub.)

18 Hūaṅga d'ūba maja' aṅčē'i' čan'di eca' iča'wačū. Kī ukīt'ē wēteqi Winnebago some land we sit in the near to he placed them. And foreigner hard for us hēga-bāji nīkaci'ga eca' wēčē'i' tē. Ča'ge Hūaṅga. akā gēčbāhīwi' very people they sat near to us the. Horse Winnebago the hundred (sub.)

čábčei ⁿ	wéma ⁿ čá ⁿ i,	Uma ⁿ ha ⁿ	čaj	Ki	ičádičai	aká	wébaha ⁿ qtia ⁿ i	éde, three	stole from us,	Omaha	their own.	And	agent	the (sub.)	they knew very well	but,
wéčita ⁿ	etě	ga ⁿ čá-báji-na ⁿ i.	Iřiga ⁿ čaj	činké	ičádičai	aká	uná ⁿ ankičé
to work for us	even	they did not wish usually.	Grandfather	the one who	agent	the (sub.)	to cause him to hear about it
wai ⁿ gagúji	etěwa ⁿ	wabágčeze	etěwa ⁿ	giáxa-báji-na ⁿ i,	ebčéga ⁿ .	Ada ⁿ	3
we commanded them	notwithstanding	letter	soever	they did not make to him usually,	I think it.	There-fore
Iřiga ⁿ čaj	činké	na ⁿ a ⁿ ji-na ⁿ	té há.	Ki	wáqe	amá	edáda ⁿ	ji ⁿ áqteci
Grandfather	the st. one	has not usually heard it	And	white people	the (pl. sub.)	what	very small	even uřipačai	ři,	giteci	hěga-báji-na ⁿ i,	ki	edáda ⁿ	řaŋgá	hěga-báji	uáwagiřapačai
they lose it	it,	hard for them	very usually, and	what	large	very	we lose
Iřiga ⁿ čaj	činké	wéčita ⁿ -báji	wéčá-báji.	Ki	éga ⁿ	wama ⁿ čá ⁿ	ákibčá	ři,
Grandfather	the st. one	does not work for us	we are sad.	And	so	the thief	I attack him in turn,	6
Iřiga ⁿ čaj	aká	úda ⁿ	etěga ⁿ	te	čska ⁿ	enéga ⁿ	ā.	Ki
Grandfather	the (sub.)	the good	he thinks	will	you think it proba-ly	And	I did not attack him in turn	it
úda ⁿ	čska ⁿ bčéga ⁿ	éga ⁿ	ákibčá-máji	čá ⁿ eti.	Ki	Iřiga ⁿ čaj	aká	i ⁿ čita ⁿ ji good	I thought it probable	as	I did not attack him heretofore (not now).	And	Grandfather	the (sub.)	did not work for me
éga ⁿ ,	i ⁿ čá-máji	há.	Ki	edáda ⁿ	wawéci	Húŋaŋga	amá	a ⁿ i
as,	I am sad	And	what	pay	Winnebago	the (pl. sub.)	he shall give it to me	I thought it
čá ⁿ eti.	Eđita ⁿ	a ⁿ i	tatě	ebčéga ⁿ	čá ⁿ ja,	a ⁿ řaji	Iřiga ⁿ čaj	činké.
heretofore (but not now).	From it	he shall give it to me	I think it	though,	he has not given it to me	Grandfather	the st. one.	And
téga ⁿ	ákibčá	i ⁿ ga ⁿ čéga ⁿ	Iřiga ⁿ čaj	aká,	ada ⁿ	wawéci	tě	a ⁿ řaji
in order that (ř)	I assault him in turn	as he wishes for me	Grandfather	the (sub.),	there-fore	pay	the	he has not given it to me
Ca ⁿ	wabágčeze	čan ⁿ i	Iřiga ⁿ čaj	činké	č ⁿ i	hičakičé	ka ⁿ bčéga ⁿ	ře
And	letter	in the (obj.)	Grandfather	the st. one	there	you cause it to reach there	I hope	word those.

NOTES.

756, 1. nikaciⁿga-ma čé-ma, the white people. So, in line 12, nikaciⁿga čikage čé-ma.

756, 11. Four nouns, given without their verbs; a permissible use, but we may also use the full expression: čí caŋge eti wabčeiⁿ, čí jaⁿčinaŋge eti abčeiⁿ, čí caŋge-weⁿ eti abčeiⁿ, čí wajiŋga-jide eti wabčeiⁿ.

756, 15. Kageha, čikage ama čeama, etc. The idea seems to be, "You white people differ among yourselves. All have not the same capacity for improvement; all do not meet with like success. One may lead, the others follow and try to overtake him. Do not then expect all of us Indians to do better than you white people."

757, 2. uawagiřaⁿ-baji-qi čaika. A sentence was omitted after this, as it contained several contradictory readings which the author could not rectify.

757, 17. učakigčai, reciprocal of uřča, possessive of uřča, to tell.

758, 2. Iřigaⁿčaj činké ičádičai aká, etc. Iřigaⁿčaj is the object of unaⁿankičé, and ičádičai is the subject of giáxa-baji-naⁿi. Ičádičai-ma, understood, is the object of wāṅgagaji. Ijiga^učai takes čīŋke, in the next line, because his not hearing was the fault of others; had he been at fault, Two Crows would have said, Ijiga^učai aká na^u·baji-na^u té hā.

759, 5 and 6. uawagiqpačai Ijiga^učai čīŋke, etc. Rather, uāwagiqpačai tē, we lose as,
 Ijiga^učai aká wéčita^u·baji éga^u, wéča·baji (hā).
 Grandfather the does not work for as, we are sad
 (sub.) us

759, 10. a^uiiji Ijiga^učai čīŋke, etc. Suggested reading: a^ui·baji Ijiga^učai aká. Kí piiji téga^u áakibča in'ga^učai éga^u, wawéci tē a^ui·baji tē hā, Ijiga^učai aká, as "ada^u" after "ega^u" is superfluous. If ada^u be retained, read, "áakibča in'ga^učai hā Ijiga^učai aká, áda^u wawéci tē a^ui baji tē hā'.

TRANSLATION.

Duba-ma^učai^u said:—My friend, I have heard that you sent a letter to us Omahas. I will tell you the decision about which you asked me. I regard this land as my own. It is my land. I have seen these (white) people who are very industrious, I have seen them with my own eyes. I wish to abandon my Indian habits. I do not look at them. I push them aside! When I see these white people, I think that what they do is really good, and I hope to do likewise. I do not wish to retain the ways of the wild Indian that made one feel insecure if he did not keep close to the camp. I referred to that when I spoke of pushing my own customs towards the rear. Throughout the day I gaze around in search of something by means of which I may prosper. At length have I observed that your ways alone are apt to prove beneficial for one. I have seen the white people, and I have also looked at myself. I think, "I am doing as they do, and I have limbs for action just as they have." I have sown wheat, I have planted potatoes, onions, cabbage, beans, pumpkins, apple (trees), cherry (trees), turnips, beets, tomatoes, lettuce, and watermelons. I have cattle, horses, a wagon, harness, and chickens.

My friend, we have heard that these people, your friends, have their dwellings very full (of property). And all of them think as I do. It is as if I was going traveling anew. I have by no means had enough of walking. And with reference to the things which I tell you to-day that I have raised, I hope that in another year I may raise still more of them. My friend, these persons, your friends, do not all meet with the same degree of success: it is as if they were chasing one another. It is as if they were chasing one of their own party who moves ahead of them.

Two Crows said:—My friends, as we have heard the words from you and the people who resemble you, we are very glad. We are very willing to do various kinds of work. Even though we continue to work for ourselves with great pleasure, we are filled with apprehension when we suddenly remember the President and his servants. It seems as if they had not been aiding us at all. * * * * We hope that you will cause a great many (white) people to hear the words which you sent hither to beg from us. We hope that we may join the lawyers. We hope that you will give us very good titles to our lands. In that event, we will not be apt to apprehend any trouble from the white people who are restless. My friend, you did not question me about anything, still I will tell you. When we sell any vegetables, fruits, etc., which we have raised, the store-keepers invariably reckon those things as very light; but their things are always reckoned as very heavy (when we wish to buy them).

Big Elk said:—I send to tell you the things which I (in my heart) think are difficult for me. The Indians have been wishing to accomplish what is good for themselves, but the agents have been the only ones who have not aided us. My friend, we can talk to you and only to those persons like yourself about the matters which give us trouble. The President usually thinks that the things which give us trouble are not troublesome to us; he continues to think that the agents whom he employs to watch over us are benefiting us. Therefore I hope to imitate the white people who do various things for themselves. I desire to live as a good man in the land. I do not desire even to look again at my old life as a wild Indian. I wish all of you people to aid me by making the land fully strong enough to bear my weight. O ye people, O ye who have good thoughts in your hearts, we wish to retain our own land, and we beg you to aid us when you confer together about your own affairs (in Congress).

Maxewaçé said:—My friend, you who have sent a letter hither to me, I think and say that I send off (a letter) to petition to you. I am very glad, my friend, because you have sent me a letter, saying that you wished to aid me. We do not know about your ways at all, yet we love them very well. We hope that you will look around in search of something which may be for our good. The Indians who have come hither are very glad because you have sent them a letter; your friends are well pleased. Among our customs there is none of any kind whatever which is life-sustaining; we are destitute of all. Even when we look all around us for something which can support life, we do not find it. Your ways alone can improve us. Friends, pity us! As we wish to live, we are ever making a special prayer for ourselves throughout the day.

gaʔi-naʔpaji said:—He who keeps the store on this reservation has a strong desire to injure us. Notwithstanding we have wished to dismiss him, the President has helped him, and that is hard for us to bear. He is always treating me most wantonly, snatching from me more than enough of what I have raised for myself to pay what I owe him; therefore we do not wish him to remain here after next summer. I hope that you will let the President hear of this.

Two Crows said:—My friend, you wish to hear from us what we are doing and how we are progressing, therefore we will send to you to tell it to you. We have much trouble in this land, but we have no one to help us. The President placed some Winnebago Indians near the land where we dwell. The proximity of these foreigners has been a source of great trouble to our people. The Winnebagos have stolen three hundred horses from us. The agents have known all about our trouble, but they have not shown any desire to act in our behalf. Notwithstanding we have told the agents to inform the President of the matter, I think that they have not even sent him any letters on the subject. For this reason the President has not heard it. But when white men lose even a very small thing, it is always regarded as a great wrong, and as the President does not take any steps to correct our troubles when we lose what is of very great importance, we are displeased. Do you think that the President would consider it good if I returned the injury by stealing from them? Heretofore I did not repay them for their crimes against me, as I thought that it was right not to give blow for blow. (But that is all a thing of the past.) I am displeased because the President does nothing to right my wrongs. I did think heretofore that he would give me damages out of the Winnebago funds. But he has not done so. The President has not given me the damages because he wishes me to repay the Winnebagos with injury for injury. (I am forced to this conclusion.) I hope that you will send those words in a letter to the President.

JE-JE-BALE TO REV. A. L. RIGGS.

October 13, 1879.

- Níkaci^{n'}ga ań'gaŋi^{n'} a^{n'}ŋgŋaha^{n'}i, níkaŋi^{n'}ga-máć. Ata^{n'}geda^{n'}, kagéha, People we who move we thank you O yr. people. At different times, O friend.
- a^{n'}ŋgisiŋć - na^{n'} ca^{n'}ca^{n'}. Ěskana níkaŋi^{n'}ga ƙa'ćetewaŋć^{n'}qti d'úba ƙi^{n'} we remember usu- always. Oh that Indian most pitiful some the (coll. 1)
 you, our own ally
- 3 ƙa'ća'awaŋć^{n'}qti ańga^{n'}ƙai, a^{n'}ba ƙććuadi. Ci wikage ƙć baxúankiŋć, you pity us indeed we wish, day on this. Again my friend this we have caused him to write it,
- kageha. A^{n'}ŋgŋaha^{n'}i. Kí ěskana, Kága, a^{n'}ba ƙaŋiŋć ƙi, a^{n'}ŋgŋaha^{n'}i tć O friend. We thank you. And Oh that. Third day you awake when, we pray to you the son,
- ƙagisiŋć ka^{n'} a^{n'}ƙa^{n'}ƙai. Ańgú, Kága, níkaŋi^{n'}ga ań'gaŋi^{n'}, níkaŋi^{n'}ga wi^{n'} you remember we hope. We, Third Indian we who move, person one her it
- 6 ańgúkiari ƙi, ańgúga ańga^{n'}ƙa-báji. Kí, Kága, gata^{n'}hi tć^{n'}di a^{n'}tć taitć
 we talk to him we, we go beyond him And, Third that far when we shall die son, (unseen)
- a^{n'}ƙań'ŋiŋdaha^{n'}-báji. Ikage-ma-ńćia^{n'}-ma wi^{n'} núa wagíŋa^{n'}ŋaqtia^{n'}i há, we do not know about our solve. Those on the side of his friends one to live he really wishes for them,
 his own
- kagéha. Kí ikage wi^{n'} ƙććinke waŋi^{n'}ha ƙań'á^{n'} tćga^{n'} gáxean'gikiŋaŋ.
 O friend. And his friend one this st. one paper you hear it in order that we have caused him, our own, to make it.
- 9 Ma^{n'}ŋi^{n'}-teaxi wét'ai tć' ěceta^{n'} a^{n'}ba-waŋúbe wi^{n'}ńqtei. Ƙćama Uńji^{n'}-qúde Ma^{n'}ŋi^{n'} teaxi die for us the so far mysterious day just one. This (mv. sub.) Gray coat past (=until now)
- anú agŋai tć wáŋgigiŋć^{n'}qti^{n'}i, ƙa'ćawaŋć^{n'}qti ƙai. Kí e'a^{n'} a^{n'}tć tćga^{n'}-báji the he went he made us very glad by having great pity he And how we die can not (mv. sub.) (=when) talking, for us spoke.
- i^{n'}ta^{n'}; wéagiúda^{n'} etéga^{n'} uáwagiŋaŋ.
 now; we do well (or, it is for our good) apt he has told it to us.

NOTES.

Je-je-baŋe, a Ponka, same as Homna of p. 743, note.
 762, 8. ikage wi^{n'} ƙććinke, the author.

TRANSLATION.

O ye people, we Indians, thank you who are our (friends). O friend, we continue to think of you at different times. On this day we desire that you would treat us with great kindness who are some of the Indians that are in a most pitiful condition (?). We have caused one of our friends to write this. We thank you. O Third son, we hope that when you wake up each day you will remember that we have petitioned to you. We Indians, O Third son, do not wish to break our word when we have talked to a person. Third son, we do not know when the time shall come for us to die. O friend, one who is on the side of his friends really wishes them to live. We have caused this friend to write a letter so that you might hear it. It has just been one week since we lost Maⁿčⁱ-teaⁱ by death. When Gray Coat (Mr. Tibbles) went homeward, he spoke words of pity, and made us very glad by what he said. And now there is no danger of our perishing (as a tribe); he has told us that we ought to prosper.

NUDA^N-AXA TO REV. A. L. RIGGS.

October 14, 1879.

Kagčha, ikágewičai, Wakan'da wáčahaⁿ - máččé, wawluic-máččé,
 O friends, I have you for my friends, God ye who pray to him, ye who are under the protection of the laws, ikágewičé'qti. Ki nřkaciⁿ'ga wiⁿ' Wakan'da činké fe eja té gaqai. Ki é
 I have you for true friends. And person one God the st. word his the has gone (ob.) beyond. And it kaⁿ'bea-máji. Wakan'da fe eja zani'qti bečze. Wakan'da aká aⁿčani'giúdaⁿ 3
 I do not wish it. God word his every one I have taken. God the (sub.) I do well by means of éte té zani'qti iⁿwiⁿ'čai há, ádaⁿ iⁿ'čé-qti-maⁿ'. Áqa-máji kaⁿ'bea. Ůčkaⁿ ought the every one he has told to me there-fore I am very glad. I do not go beyond him I wish. Deed wiⁿ', Maⁿteú-nájiⁿ čiaⁿ'ča gčé té bečze há, ubčaⁿ' há. Čaná'aⁿ té há.
 one, Standing Bear he aban-doned you went back he tho I have taken hold of it. You hear it will Nřkaciⁿ'ga wiⁿ' ečču cakí. Isaⁿ'ga aká ůčkaⁿ wan'gičé'qti ijiⁿ'čé číⁿ' 6 Person one yonder has reached there again, where you are. His younger brother (sub.) deed all his elder brother (my. ob.)
 giúxai. Čaná'aⁿ eté. Čtaⁿ'be xī, "Nřkaciⁿ'ga naxide-čin'ge áhaⁿ," enčgaⁿ made for him. You hear it ought. You see him if, Person disobedient ! you think it eté xī. Égaⁿ wečéčkaⁿ'nai etégaⁿ égaⁿ há, Čaⁿ'ge-hiⁿ-zi-á. Umáha-má ought. So you wish for us apt so O Yellow Horse. The Omaha čéama wiⁿ' wáqčī, čénicka. Teča-čin'ge t'čaⁿ'čé 'ičá-bi, ečé té. T'éáčé 9 these one stunned them, čénicka. Teča-čin'ge to kill me that he spoke of it, you said it. I kill him

764 THE ČEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

‘iáçē, wluçaginá. Gañ’q̄i Na’pewaçē eti t’oíçē ‘iáçē uná tē. Gañ’q̄i I threat- you told them And Dangerous too I kill I threat- you told it the. And ened. about their own.
 Sihi-duba eti t’oíçē ‘iáçē, uná tē. Čéna nikaci’ga çábçē’ uná tē. Gátoga’ Four Legs too I kill I threat- you the. Enough person three you the. In that man-him ened told it told it ner
 3 weçéçaxaí. Maqpi íçábat’u waçičiona.
 you have acted Cloud pressing against you are visible.
 against us.
 •

NOTES.

763, 3. a’çañgiudaⁿ ete tē, etc. W. (an Omaha) read, a’çañ’giúdaⁿ té gē
 fut. the sign (scat-
 in.
 object)

i’wi’çai égaⁿ zani’q̄ti bēizō hā, as he has told me about the things which will be advantageous to me at various future times, I have accepted all.

From line 8 to the end is addressed to Yellow Horse.

763, 9. Teaza-çĩnge t’ea’ç ‘iça-bi, eee tē, etc. G. (an Omaha) reads, Teaza-çĩn’ge t’ea’çē ‘iaw’ça-bi wluçaginá tē hā, You told them (the Omahas) that we had threatened to kill Teaza-çĩnge.

764, 3. Maqpi, etc. That is, “You can not hide your plots. It is just as if you stood in bold relief against the clouds in the sight of all men.”

TRANSLATION.

O friends, I have you (all) for my friends. O ye who pray to God, and O ye lawyers, I have you as real friends. One Indian had transgressed God’s words. I do not desire that. I have accepted all of God’s words. God has told me all that can be advantageous to me, so I am very glad. I do not wish to disobey (him). I received and took hold of one custom (or mode of action) when Standing Bear abandoned you and started back (to Niobrara). You can hear it. One Indian has reached yonder land where you are. It was the younger brother who caused all the trouble for his elder brother (i. e., Yellow Horse induced Standing Bear to act thus). You should hear it. You ought to think, when you see him, “He is a very disobedient man!”

O Yellow Horse, it is probable that you wished him to think thus about us! (?) One of these Omahas hit çenicka. You said that Teaza-çĩnge had threatened to kill me. You told the Omaha that I had threatened to kill him. And you also told that I had threatened to kill Na’pewaçē and Sihi-duba. You told about just three men. In that manner you have acted against us. (But) you are in sight (just as if), you touched the clouds.

JE-JE-BALE TO WAJINGA-DA.

September, 1879.

Ceta ^{n'}	wáŋi'áqtin ^{n'} i.	Waŋtu ⁿ	a ⁿ wa ^{n'} cka ^{n'} i	tcábe	éde	ceta ^{n'}	a ^{n'} ŋi'ái.
So far	they have altogether failed in the work on our account.	Work	we have exerted ourselves	very (hard)	but	so far	we have not finished it.
Cáni-á,	ŋawina	mú'ga ⁿ ,	ŋiní'ga ⁿ	ŋa'ŋŋai-gñ.	Gíwacka ^{n'} i-gñ.	Waŋáté
O Charles,	David	likewise,	your grandfather	pity ye him!	Do ye make an effort for him!	Food cin'gajin'ga	ŋanká	ŋa'ŋkiŋái-gñ.	Níkaci ^{n'} ga	céŋinke,	kagéha,	wibŋaha ⁿ ,	3 child	the ones who	pity ye him through.	Person	that seen st. one.	my friend,	I pray to you,
Wajin'ga-úda ⁿ .	ŋa'ŋŋaŋé	ka ⁿ bŋé'ga ⁿ	há,	níkaci ^{n'} ga	ŋinké.	Ca ^{n'} edáda ⁿ	wi ^{n'}
Good Bird.	You pity him	I hope	person	the (st. ob.).	And	what	one gákéja	waŋácka ⁿ	té	ŋingé.	Usni' é' di hí.	Kí enáqtei	waŋácka ⁿ	ka ⁿ bŋé'ga ⁿ
at that (place)	you make an effort	will	there is none.	Cold	it has reached	And	it only you make an effort
céŋuadi'qti té.	Kí áwaké'ja	waŋácka ⁿ	té	ŋingé.		Ceta ^{n'}	waŋi'ha
Just yonder by the.	And at what place	you make an effort	will	there is none.		So far	paper
tin'ŋakiŋíj.		Ma ^{n'} a-tcéba	igúŋŋa ⁿ	wahŋéage	gñá ^{n'} be	gñá ^{n'} ŋai	é'ga ⁿ ,
you have not sent hither to me.		Mawaŋépa	his wife	lame	to see his own	he wishes	as,
añ'giti ka ⁿ bŋé'ga ⁿ .	Ma ^{n'} ŋi ^{n'} -tcaxi	i'e'áge	t'é také.
he comes for me	I hope.	Ma ^{n'} ŋi ^{n'} tcaxi	old man	will surely die as he reclines.

NOTES.

Wajinga-da is addressed in line 1; Charles and David Le Clerc, in 2 and 3; Rev. A. L. Riggs in 4 and 5; Charles Le Clerc, from 6 to the end. Two sentences (Kí enaqtei, etc.) in 5 and 6 are intended for Wajinga-da.

765, 8. Ma^{n'}ŋi^{n'}-tcaxi, i. e., Jabe-ská or Waŋáŋe. See 476.

TRANSLATION.

They have not yet met with any success in the work which they undertook for us. We have persevered to the utmost in the work, but we have not yet accomplished it. O Charles and David! pity your grandfather! Make an effort in his behalf! Think of his children, and treat him kindly by giving him food for them! I petition to that man near you: My friend, Good Bird, I petition to you. I hope that you will pity him (i. e., Wajinga-da, or else all the Ponkas with him). There is nothing that you can do for them elsewhere. Winter is at hand. I hope that you (O Wajinga-da) will do your best just where you are, as it is the only place where you can do anything. Nothing can be done elsewhere. (Recorded only in English: Crazy Bear's wife, child, and horse were taken from him. Send me soon what news you have to tell. People who are relations hear from one another.) You have not yet sent me a letter. (Recorded only in English: O Charles, my wife wishes to see her Yankton relations.) As she desires to see Mawaŋépa's lame wife, I hope that he may come for me. The aged man, Ma^{n'}ŋi^{n'}-tcaxi, will surely die.

MAⁿTCU-DAʕIⁿ TO WAʕIʕE-ǂACI.

- Wa'ú ʕínkē e'ʕínkē aǂíʕaⁿbēn-qtí-maⁿ. ʕéʕu naǂíⁿ tē'dí u'áǂǂǂí eté.
 Woman the (st. one) that (st. one) I strongly desire (to have) Here she when she does ought.
 Usní hǂǂǂí tē'dí, uǂǂé aǂíʕaⁿbēn wa'ú ʕínkē. Kí e'aⁿ enéǂaⁿ ǂí, uǂǂé/- Cold has not when, soon I desire my own woman the (st. one). And how you think it, very 3 qteí waǂíⁿha ʕaⁿ ían'kíǂǂ-gǂ. Uníʕe ǂí'etē, éskana éǂaⁿqtí eǂáxo soon paper the (st. one) send it hither to me. You are un- even if, oh that just so you act kaⁿbéǂǂaⁿ. Wa'ú ʕínkē íǂíⁿʕaǂíⁿ eí kaⁿbéǂǂaⁿ. ʕíkǂǂe amí ʕéama
 I hope. Woman the (st. one) you bring mine for me I hope. Your friend the (pl. sub.) these wagaⁿze amí máǂé tē uǂǂǂǂǂ ʕa'ǂaⁿwaǂǂí. Uíwa'í tǂí amí wǂǂe amí.
 teacher the winter the throughout pitted us. They will give rations white the (pl. sub.) 6 ʕéama íe awǂǂa kaⁿbēn-mǂǂí, ádaⁿ eǂǂé kaⁿbēn-mǂǂí.
 These word I go be- I do not wish, there- I go back I do not wish.
 yond them fore to you

NOTES.

Maⁿtcu-daʕíⁿ and Waʕíʕe-ǂací were Ponkas who had fled from the Indian Territory with the famous Standing Bear.

Maⁿtcu-daʕíⁿ remained with the Omahas, but Waʕíʕe-ǂací continued his journey till he reached his old home near Niobrara, Nebr.

TRANSLATION.

I have a strong desire to recover my wife, who is now with you. There is no prospect of her suffering from being here. I wish my wife to return soon, before the winter sets in. Send a letter to me very soon, and let me know what you think about it. Even if you are unwilling, I hope that you will do just as (I have said). I hope that you will bring my wife back to me. Your friends, these missionaries, have treated us kindly throughout the winter. The white people will give rations to us. I do not wish to transgress the commands of these (persons), therefore I do not wish to go back to you.

ǂAIHǂE TO CUDE-GAXE.

- Cúde-gǂǂe-ǂ' wamúskē tē wagǂǂe aⁿí-bǂǂí-naⁿí. ʕaaⁿna ǂíǂǂǂí.
 O Smoke-maker! wheat the debt they have not usu- You have they have given it to me ally. abandoned it thought about you.
 Caⁿ ʕéʕu ʕǂǂǂí taté ǂǂǂǂǂǂ, ádaⁿ íǂǂǂ-mǂǂí, aⁿí-bǂǂí ʕaⁿja Caⁿ e'ǂa
 And here you shall have I hesitated from there- I have not they have not And yonder come back fear of failure, fore given it to me spoken, given it to me though, where you are 9 ʕǂǂǂíⁿ tē, Paǂ'ka-máǂé, nǂn'de íǂ'pí-mǂǂí há. Pahan'ǂa eǂǂí tē'dí you sit the, O ye Ponkas, heart not good for me . Before I reached when
 you

uwłbça kəpən' uska'n'ska' taté ebéga'. Ca' Pan'ka amá nán'de wiwłja
 I told it to you the, in shall be straight on I think it. And Ponka the heart my own the, in the part
 (pl. sub.)
 chébe ałıdaxe, nic'qti a'ekaxai. ɕagəf tē é áwake. ɕéɕu gəfı' ɕan'ká a part of them I make it for myself, you cause me great pain. You have gone back it I mean it. Here the ones who sit
 'a' wegaxai tédıhi ɣı, ɕanán'a' taité. Ueka' weɕéeka'na tē nıeta'. 3 how they do for them by the time when, it arrives you shall hear it. Deed you have wished for them the you have dropped it [or, if they should] Nán'de ɕa' ɕıáqai hā.
 Heart the you have been excelled (- left behind or ignored)

NOTES.

Gahige was an Omaha chief. Cude-gaxe was a Ponka, then near Niobrara, Nebr.
 767. 3. Ueka' weɕéeka'na tē nıeta', etc. Explained thus by G.: "You settled on a course of action which you wished the Ponkas to adopt. But they would not act as you desired" (i. e., they would not imitate the behavior of Cude-gaxe. He had settled among the Omahas, promising to remain with them, but he lied and went to the Yanktons, thereby forfeiting everything which he abandoned. The other Ponkas refused to go to the Yanktons, remaining among the Omahas until arrested by the white soldiers).

TRANSLATION.

O Smoke-maker, they have made it a rule not to give me the wheat which was due (you?). They consider that you have abandoned it. I have hesitated through fear of failure on account of your probable return here, so I have not spoken, though they have not given it to me. O ye Ponkas, it makes my heart sad to think of your staying yonder. I think that what I told you when I first went to see you will continue henceforth, without intermission (?). I regard my heart as being part of the Ponkas, so you have hurt me badly. I refer to your starting back to Dakota. Should the white people do anything for these (Ponka) who are here, you shall be informed. You wished the Ponka refugees to adopt a certain course of action, but they have not regarded your wish.

W-ɕ-ɕ-ECA TO UNAJIN-SKÁ.

October 14, 1879.

Céa cubé ka'łbça, bə'á. Waɕıta' waqtá uájı gē ɕıta' ɕıngé Yonder I go to I wished, I have not been able. Work vegetables I have the to work there is (to you) you none
 in. ob.)
 cubé-májı hā. Bə'ıeta' ɣı, cubé ténke hā. Pan'ka amá maja' ɕéɕu 6
 I do not go to you I finish it when, I go to you may (?) Ponka the land here
 (pl. sub.)
 najı' tı amá. Céa eka'ájı najın'-gā hā, Cúde-gaxe-ń'. Cka'ájı najı'ı-gā will be standing. Yonder motionless stand thou ! O Smoke-maker. Motionless stand ye 768 THE ʕEǦIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

hú akíʕa. Pañ'ka amú waʕítaⁿ ʕáʕuhúqtei wáʕietaⁿ aʕaí. Wijiⁿ ʕé t'é.
 I both. Ponka the to work almost to let them they have My elder dead
 (pl. sub.) (pl. sub.) go gone, brother yáxe-sábé. Aⁿ'ba-waʕúbe áma tó'di t'é. Eátaⁿ wabáʕeezo ʕéiaⁿ ʕakiʕáji Black Crow. Mysterious day the on the dead. Why letter you have not sent other one back to me
 3 caⁿ'caⁿ ʕítaⁿqti iⁿwiⁿ'ʕa ʕíʕa-ǵú há, negíha. Maⁿ'teu-naⁿ'ba cetaⁿ' ǵinǵáji, always very correctly to tell it to send back ! O mother's Two Grizzly bears so far has not reme hither brother, covered.
 T'é taté, ebéʕaⁿ.
 He shall die, I think it.

NOTES.

767, 5. kaⁿbəa, bəia, used; but kaⁿbéde (i. e., kaⁿ'bən éde) bəia is better.

767, 5. Waʕítaⁿ, etc. Read, Waʕítaⁿ ǵé, waqtá uáji ǵé, ʕítaⁿ' ʕiǵéǵaⁿ, cubéʕaⁿ.
 Work the vege. I sow the to work as there I go to differ. table (pl. in. ob.), is none you ent kinds, ob.),
 máji há; or, Waʕítaⁿ ǵé', waqtá uáji ǵé', ʕítaⁿ' ʕiǵé há, ádaⁿ cubéʕaⁿ-máji há.
 I not Work the vege. I sow the to work there there- I do not go to differ. table (pl. in. ob.), is none fore you
 ent kinds, ob.),

TRANSLATION.

I have wished to visit you, but I have not been able for want of time. I have not gone to you because there is no one to cultivate the vegetables, etc., which I have planted. When I finish (this work), I will go to (see) you. The Ponkas will remain in this country. O Smoke-maker, remain there where you are! Both of you remain there! The Ponka affair is progressing; they have almost reached a point where the prisoners shall be released (?). My elder brother, Black Crow, is dead. He died last week. O mother's brother, send and tell me just why you have continued to send me no letters. Yellow Smoke has not yet recovered. I think that he must die.

NAⁿZANDAǦI TO T. M. MESSICK.

November 6, 1879.

Caⁿ wagáxe éwibéiⁿ' tē iǕáǵǵé'qti asíʕé. CuǕéʕé taté ebéʕaⁿ, And debt I have for the continually I remember it. I shall send it to you I have you (ob.) thought it, 6 éde majaⁿ' waʕáwa ǵé unaⁿ'etaⁿ tē iǕápahaⁿ-máji. Utaⁿ'nadi uqpaíʕé but land counting the stopping place the I do not know it. At some lone place it be lost
 (pl. in. ob.) (ob.)
 inihé ebéʕaⁿ égaⁿ cuǕéʕa-máji. . . . Caⁿ' maⁿ'zēská' tē ʕaǵít'aⁿ etégaⁿ.
 lest I think it as I have not sent it to you. And money tho you have plenty of you apt. your own
 C'éna. . . . Aⁿ'paⁿ'ha ekaⁿ'na xi iⁿwiⁿ'ʕana iǕaǕé t'é há.
 Enough. Elk skin you desire if you tell it to me you please send hither

770 THE ČEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

caⁿ/caⁿ. Ki wiⁿ/ ɸatí, Teexapa, Tatanⁿ/ka-iⁿyaⁿ/ke. Taⁿ/waⁿgɸaⁿ wiwɸa always. And one you came Beats the Drm.ⁿ Running Buffalo. Nation my own (1), nañkácě, Ithankⁿ/taⁿwiⁿ/ nañkácě wazáni, wigisiɸe-naⁿ/maⁿ/i caⁿ/caⁿ/-qti-maⁿ/i.
 ye who are, Yankton ye who are all, I remember you (pl.) usually I do it always.
 3 Caⁿ/ ɛskana edádaⁿ etéte jínⁿ/ga ɸanáⁿ/aⁿ ɛⁿ/te caⁿ/ luɸa dádaⁿ ɸanáⁿ/aⁿ
 And oh that what soever small ones of you hear it whether and news what you hear it (or if) different sorts ɛⁿ/te iⁿ/wiⁿ/ɸana tɸaɸai kaⁿ/hɛɸgaⁿ.
 whether you tell it to you (pl.) I hope.
 (or if) me send hither

TRANSLATION.

O White Shirt, I hope that when the Dakotas come you will bring the horse to me, your mother's brother. The work is still unfinished. [The Omahas are!] constantly thinking of you, so he says. Those who are working for the Indians are still unsuccessful for want of time. There is a hope that the case may be settled by Christmas. O Walking Elk, I always think of you. O ye, my kindred, I am ever thinking about you. I remember you, too, ye four men. I also think of you, O Little Policeman, and you, too, O Wikuwa. Little Policeman this one, your father's sister (my Yankton wife), is continually weeping, as she has a strong desire to see you. And as to the lodge of the Yankton Smoke-maker (I have spoken as of one lodge)—as we used to sit in one lodge, I think of you. I have a strong desire to see my sister's daughter, Iyawazi. And this Dakota woman, my wife, has a great longing to see her lame daughter, the wife of Mawaɸepa. O friends, I am continually thinking of you four men. One of you, Beats the Drum (?) or Running Buffalo, came to this place. O ye who are my own nation, O all ye Yanktons, I am always remembering you! I hope that you will send to tell me, if you hear news of any kind whatever.

BETSY DICK TO WAČIŦE-XAČI.

November 15, 1879.

Ie ɸé aⁿ/baɸé cuɸéɸě. Zani údaⁿ/qti niⁿ/ ɛteaⁿ/i tē anáⁿ/aⁿ kaⁿ/bɸa.
 Word this to-day I send it to you. All very good you are at least (pl.?). the I hear it I wish.
 6 Négihá, igáɸaⁿ etí caⁿ/ ɸihaⁿ/ga etēwaⁿ/ wináⁿ/aⁿ kaⁿ/bɸa, einⁿ/gajingá
 O mother's his wife too and your potential even I hear from I wish, child
 brother,
 etí zani ɸútaⁿ/qti, ɛskana, úwaɸaginá kaⁿ/hɛɸgaⁿ. Ganⁿ/ɸi, wisaⁿ/ɸaⁿ/, too all very correctly, oh that, you tell it to us I hope. And, my younger brother (f. sp.),
 9 cuɸéwikipé. Canⁿ/ge waaⁿ/ɸe iⁿ/ɸéekaxe té ɸútaⁿ anáⁿ/aⁿ kaⁿ/bɸa, wisaⁿ/ɸaⁿ/.
 I have sent it to you by some one. Horse you promised to pay it to me the cor- rectly I hear it I wish, my younger for my services as a doctor brother (f. sp.).
 Maⁿ/təu-nájiⁿ agí caɸai tē wawfue aká uáwagibɸa ɛde ɸeská uɸɸa-bají Standing Bear he went to you the lawyer the sub. I have told it to him but inter- pre- ter he did not tell it after him (=when (see note) him to you

- té hē, wisaⁿčaⁿ. Gaⁿ-aiaⁿ gaⁿ-adi wabáŋčeze eučéačé gaⁿ čákana hē the my younger No, therefore now letter I send to you an oh that word (fem.), brother (f. sp.).
- tē ádaⁿqti iⁿčéekaxe tčéačé kaⁿbčégaⁿ. Aⁿba hičai tēⁿdi eučéačé.
 the very good you make for me you send it I hope. Day they bathe on the I send it to you.
- Čijinⁿge tčé tē anáⁿaⁿ tē, Čijinⁿčé eti tčéai tē, luča péjiⁿqti anáⁿaⁿ hē. 3
 Your son died the I have the, your elder too they the, news very bad I have heard it (fem.)
- Nānⁿde iⁿpi-máji, wisaⁿčaⁿ, Čaⁿja wéahide Čanájiⁿ gíteqiwačé čé.
 heard bad for me, my younger though at a distance you stand a source of trouble indeed (fem.).
- Aⁿbačéⁿqtei Maⁿteu-májiⁿ hē eja ké anáⁿaⁿ, wabáŋčeze gáwa jaⁿbe xi.
 This very day Standing Bear word his the I have heard, newspaper I saw when.
- Wáŋe bčúga Čaⁿčéai iⁿi tē, nānⁿde iⁿČiⁿndaⁿ. Čaⁿ, wisaⁿčaⁿ, nānⁿde 6
 White all have pitied have the, heart it is good for Yet my younger heard people you (pl.) spoken mine, brother (f. sp.), heart
- iⁿpi-máji axáŋe ačéiⁿ čé. Čijinⁿčé daⁿetēaⁿ, Čiaⁿeka daⁿetēaⁿ, iⁿČaⁿaⁿ-ā, is bad for me I weep I sit indeed, Your elder either, your sister's son or, pray to him for me (fem.).
- čanⁿge tiⁿja. hē tē ečé tē xi, čákana tiaⁿčakičé kaⁿbčégaⁿ. Spafford horse concerning Word the he will say if, oh that you send it hither to me I hope. Spafford
- Woodhull ijanⁿge abčiⁿ Činⁿkečaⁿ iⁿtčé, Čiēwaⁿjaⁿ. MaⁿČiⁿ-toaxi tčé hē. 9 Woodhull his daughter I have the one, in the dead you have caused to me, it. MaⁿČiⁿ-toaxi is dead (fem.).
- Umaⁿhaⁿ eté tū-baji, enáqtei tčé hē aⁿbačéⁿqtei.
 Omaha even have not died, only he is dead (fem.) this very day.

NOTES.

For an account of Betsy Dick, see p. 634.

Wačiqe-ŋači, who was a Ponka, married a Yankton woman.

770, 5. eteaⁿ (used by an Omaha woman) . . . W. (an Omaha man) gave the following as a correct form of the sentence: Zani ádaⁿqti niⁿi Čiⁿte anáⁿaⁿ kaⁿbčé.
 All very good you whether I hear I wish.
 (pl.) are

Perhaps eteaⁿ is sometimes used by females as an equivalent of ečéte.

770, 6. Negiha, i. e., Silas Wood, who was the elder son of Gahige, the chief of the Iñke-sabé (an Omaha) gens.

770, 10. Wawine aka should be wawine Čiñke, as it refers to the object of an action.

771, 9. Spafford's daughter was named, Abiⁿ-suede, Long Wings. Čiēwaⁿjaⁿ, you have caused it, i. e., indirectly. Betsy had to neglect Spafford's daughter while she was attending, as doctor, to some member of the family of Wačiqe-ŋači. See 770, 9.

TRANSLATION.

I send this word to you to-day. I wish to hear about you at least this: that you are all prospering. O mother's brother, I wish to hear from you, his wife, and your potential wife; I hope that you will tell us exactly how all the children are also. O younger brother (i. e., Wačiqe-ŋači), I have sent a message to you by some one. O younger brother, I wish to hear correctly about the horse with which you promised to pay my bill for services as your doctor. I told the lawyer (i. e., Mr. T. H. Tibbles) about it, when he went after Standing Bear, but the interpreter did not tell you. So therefore I now send a letter to you, and I hope that you will send me a very good message. I send this to you on Saturday. I have heard that your son was dead, and that they had killed your elder brother. It is very bad news that I have heard. My heart is sad, younger brother, but your being at a distance is a greater cause of sorrow. On this very day I have heard the words of Standing Bear; I have seen them in a newspaper. All the white people pity you; they have spoken words which have made me glad. Still, younger brother, with a sad heart, I sit weeping. Petition either to your elder brother or to your sister's son with reference to the horse. I hope that you will send me word what he (or she) says. I have lost Spafford Woodhull's daughter, whom I used to have with me, and you are the cause of her death. Maⁿčⁱ-teaⁿi is dead. Not even one adult Omaha has died, only that aged Ponka man has died this very day.

772 THE ČEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

NUDAⁿ-AXA TO CUDE-GAXE.

November 15, 1879.

- Caⁿ čⁱjⁱn'ge t'čⁱai tē wáqe amá čⁱde, čⁱčama Umáha amá bⁱčⁱgaqti
 And your son they the white the (pl. but, these Omaha the (pl. all killed him sub.)
- nān'de gⁱpi-báji, ádaⁿ aⁿbačⁱ hičⁱai tē di uwibⁱča cučⁱčⁱčⁱ. Kⁱ Umáha amá heart are sad, there- to-day they when I tell it to I send to you. And Omaha the (pl.
 fore bathed you sub.)
- 3 učⁱgigⁱčⁱe-naⁿ'i, caⁿ'ge waⁿi tē gⁱčⁱ tēdihi, čⁱ čⁱgaⁿ tat čⁱškaⁿ ečⁱčⁱgaⁿ čⁱde they are sor- usually, horse they the has by the again so shall be they thought but rowful for their relation give to us come back time,
- hebádi účkaⁿ juáji giáxai. Čⁱčama Umáha amá učⁱgigⁱčⁱai tē nān'de before deed inferior made for him. These Omaha the (pl. they are sor- the heart reaching the end him. sub.) rowful for their relation
- iⁿčⁱn'udaⁿ-qti-maⁿ'. Účkaⁿ bⁱčⁱgaqti wágažⁱqti naⁿ'a'-báji, t'čⁱai tē-onaⁿ' mine is very good for me. Deed all very straight they have not they killed the only
 him
- 6 gaⁿ' naⁿ'aⁿ'i. Kⁱ ádaⁿ čⁱčaka ikáge aká nān'de gⁱpi-báji-qtiⁿ'i, čⁱkigaⁿ'qti so they heard. And there- this one his the heart is very sad for him, just like him fore friend (sub.)
- nān'de iⁿ'pi-máji. Nān'de iⁿ'pi-máji tē gaⁿ' čⁱgijaⁿ eté. Eⁿ'aⁿ' čⁱáxe taté heart I am sad. Heart I am sad the so you do ought. How I do shall
 that
- čⁱngé, gaⁿ' nān'de čⁱaⁿ ég ičⁱaⁿ'čⁱčⁱ eté. Waqⁱn'ha aⁿčⁱi ckaⁿ'na xⁱ'eté, there is so heart the so you place it ought. Paper you give you wish even if, none, (cv. ob.) (cv. ob.)
- 9 čⁱgaⁿ'qti ičⁱa-gā.
 just so send hither.

NOTES.

772, 1. čⁱjⁱnge, your son, intended for čⁱhānde, your daughter's husband, i. e., Big Snake, who was murdered by a soldier in the office of the Ponka agent, in Indian Territory.

772, 6. ikage aka, i. e., the author.

TRANSLATION.

The white people have killed your son-in-law, so all the Omahas are sad.

Therefore to-day, Saturday, I send to you to tell you how they feel. The Omahas are usually sorrowful when they hear of the death of a relation. And as the time of the year when Big Snake was accustomed to give away horses came around again they thought that it would surely be so; but before it had arrived the white men had done a bad thing to him (i. e., Big Snake).

As these Omahas are sorrowful on account of their kinsman, it does my heart good (to observe their sympathy). They have not heard a full account of the whole affair, they have heard merely the report of his murder. Therefore this person, his friend, is sorely grieved, and I am just as sad as he. As I am sad, so ought you to be. There is nothing that I can do (to avenge his death), and you ought to consider the matter as I do. Should you wish to send me a letter (which I do not ask for, but which I will be glad to receive), just send it.

ĀEDE-GAHI TO SILAS WOOD.

December 1, 1879.

Ŧé waqíⁿ'ha tíŦaŦé Ŧaⁿ bŦíŦe há. Waqíⁿ'ha Ŧaⁿ Ŧaⁿ'be té nán'de Ŧaⁿ
 This paper you have the I have Paper the I saw it when heart too (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.)
 iⁿ'udaⁿ'qti Ŧaⁿ'be há. Kí aⁿ'baŦé níŦaciⁿ'ga amá bŦúgaqti úŦkaⁿ wíⁿ' ŦŦaí very good for I saw it And to-day people the (pl. all dead one they me (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.)
 édegaⁿ' caⁿ' ŦéŦu anáŦiⁿ té'di 'ŦŦaí Ŧí, iⁿ'udaⁿ-qti-maⁿ' Ŧaⁿ'ja, ŦíŦiⁿ'ge té'di, 3 but yet here I stand when they if, I am doing very well though, you are (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.)
 'ŦŦaí té u'aⁿ'Ŧíngé Ŧaná'aⁿ tégaⁿ waqíⁿ'ha cuŦéŦaŦé, nán'de iⁿ'Ŧiⁿ'pi-máŦi há.
 they the in vain you hear it in order that paper I send to you, heart mine is very sad talk (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.)
 WáŦe amá IŦíga'Ŧaí íŦáđiŦaí ŦŦaⁿ'ba, níŦaciⁿ'ga ŦíŦíŦa-qti-ma wíⁿ' íéskā White the Grandfather agent he too, people those who are really one inter-people (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.)
 gíŦáŦa-gā, aí. . . É gátegaⁿ' uwíŦŦa. Gaⁿ' maⁿ'níⁿ' té Ŧíudaⁿ'-qti-Ŧaⁿ' 6 make him, your said. That that is the I have told And you walk the you are doing very own, (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.) (ob.)
 eŦé, ŦŦaⁿ'baⁿ' a'Ŧaⁿ'baŦi égaⁿ íŦaé té iⁿ'pi-máŦi.
 you a second you do not see so you the it is bad for say time (=more) me (ob.) (ob.) (ob.)
 it, (ob.) (ob.) (ob.)

NOTE.

Čede-gahi wished Silas, who was a full Omaha, to return from the Ponkas in Dakota, and become the Omaha interpreter. Čede-gahi was an Omaha chief.

TRANSLATION.

I have received this letter which you have sent me. I was very glad when I saw it. To-day all the people are talking about one subject, but notwithstanding I am doing very well here, when they talk about the matter it saddens me to think that I am sending you word about it when it can do no good on account of your absence. The white people, including the President and the agent, have said, "Make one of your own people your interpreter." I have told you the substance of what they said. You say that you are prospering where you are, and you speak of not seeing me again, so I am sad.

MIⁿXA'Ė-JINGA TO KE-XREČE (CHARLES MOORE).

December, 1879

- Gaⁿ čéčaⁿ waqiⁿha čaⁿ čéama Umaⁿhaⁿ amá fe čičiⁿ ubč édegaⁿ,
 And this paper the these Omaha the word your I have told them,
 (cv. ob.) (cv. ob.) (pl. sub.) but,
- caⁿ d'úba iⁿjakičégaⁿ cačé tá amá, ána'aⁿ-báji. Ádaⁿ gáčaⁿ waqiⁿha yet some as they have they will go to you, they have not obeyed. There- that paper doubted me
- 3 eučéačč. Kí fe edádaⁿ edéce té ci pí čútaⁿ aná'aⁿ kaⁿ'bča. Íe wiⁿ
 I send it to you. And word what what you the again anew straight I hear it I wish. Word one
 say
- čé iⁿwiⁿ'čana té pí wágazuankičé'qti íča-gū. "Naxíde té ačín'-gū," this you told it to me the anew making it very straight send it lither. Inner ear the keep thou,
 for me
- ecé tečaⁿ é áwake. Íe té anaⁿ'bčiⁿ. É čútaⁿ aná'aⁿ kaⁿ'bča. Edádaⁿ what you said, that I mean it. Word the I forget (I do not understand). That correct I hear it I wish. What in the past
- 6 íuča čingé, caⁿ fe učúwikié-naⁿ-maⁿ gč éskana čútaⁿqti iⁿčéckaxe news none, yet word I have been speaking to you the (pl. oh that very correctly you do for me regularly in. ob.)
- kaⁿ'bčégaⁿ. Íe čičiⁿ asíčé-naⁿ caⁿ'caⁿ, iⁿ'udaⁿ gč. Gaⁿ níkačiⁿ'ga-ma
 I hope. Word your I think un- ally, good for me the (pl. And the people (pl. ob.) of them in. ob.)
- wactaⁿ'be čagčé gaⁿ e'aⁿ čingé, údaⁿqti najiⁿ. Íe čičiⁿ áakihíde anájiⁿ, you saw them you went back still what is there is very good stand. Word your I attend to it I stand,
 the matter none,
- 9 é bóiqe. Caⁿ fe wéčigčaⁿ údaⁿqti winá'aⁿ kaⁿ'bčégaⁿ. Uqčé'qti ci ačúha it I p. no And word decision very good I hear from I hope. Very soon again finally it you
- wažaⁿ'be kaⁿ'bča waqiⁿha.
 I see them I wish paper.

NOTE.

MIⁿHA'Ē-jīŅga was an Omaha, and Ke-ĦreĖe, an Oto.

TRANSLATION.

I have told these Omahas your words (sent in) this letter, but some of them have not obeyed (your wishes), so they will go to your land, as they have doubted me. Therefore I send this letter to you. I wish to hear again, and accurately, the words which you have said. Send again and explain to me this one word that you have told me. I refer to what you said, "Use your hearing." I do not fully grasp its meaning. I wish to hear it accurately. There is no news at all, yet I hope that you will attend to the affairs for me just as I have been speaking to you about them. I am always thinking about your words, which have been advantageous to me at various times. There is nothing the matter with the people whom you saw (here) when you went back to your people. The tribe is still prosperous. I continue to heed your advice; I pursue it. I hope to hear some word, some very good plan from you (when you write). Finally, I wish to see some letters (from you) very soon.

LE-UXA^NHA TO UNAJI^N-SKĀ AND HE-WAN^JIQĀ.

December 12, 1879.

Cinⁿgajinⁿga iⁿ'te taté ebéégaⁿ. Caⁿ' edádaⁿ téqi áakipá. Wawína Child shall die to me I think it. And what difficult I have met it. I beg some-thing from you cuééaⁿai. Hé-waⁿjíĥa ĥiānⁿ'ge eĥaⁿ'ba, aⁿwaⁿ'qpani héga-máji. Caⁿ' caⁿ'ge I send to you (pl.). One Horn your sister she too, I am poor I am very. And horse wiⁿ aniⁿ' éiⁿ'te éskana aⁿ'éú'i 'iĥáĥé kaⁿ'bécégaⁿ. Caⁿ' ie wiwína égaⁿ'qti 3 one you have it if oh that you give it to me promise I hope. And word my just so iⁿ'ééckaxe kaⁿ'bécégaⁿ. Wanⁿ'giĥé'qti wibéahaⁿ'i, ĥiāhaⁿ mégaⁿ, ĥiānⁿ'ge cti.
you do for me I hope. Every one I pray to you (pl.), your broth-ers-in-law likewise, your sisters too.
 Cubéé kaⁿ'bēa té bēi'a. Sidádi t'é-de gisiⁿ' há, miⁿ'jīŅga naⁿ' taⁿ é áwake.
I go to you I wish the I am unable. Yesterday when she re-lived girl grown the her I mean her.
 Axáge-naⁿ caⁿ'caⁿ nānⁿ'de ĥaⁿ'já. Ĥídaⁿ'be gaⁿ'ĥaⁿqi éde á'aⁿ'ji t'é také. 6
I am un- always heart in the. To see you she had a strong desire but she, being she will surely weeping ally die as sho (or unlucky) reclines.
 Caⁿ' e'aⁿ' xī, uqéé'qtei iⁿ'wiⁿ'ĥa tīĥa-gā. Aⁿ'baĥé wawídxu cuéaⁿ'é.
And how If, very soon to tell it to me send hither. To day I write some-thing to you I send to you.

NOTE.

Unajiⁿ-skā and He-waⁿjiča, Ponkas, were at Yankton Agency.

TRANSLATION.

I think that my child shall die. I am in trouble. I send to you (all) to beg something from you. One Horn, I address you and your sister. I am very poor. If you have a horse, I hope that you will promise to give it to me. I hope that you will do for me just according to my words. I petition to every one of you, including your sisters and your brothers-in-law. I am unable to go to you as I have desired. My largest daughter fainted yesterday, but she has revived. I am weeping constantly in my heart. She has a strong desire to see you, but she will surely die (as she reclines) without having her wish gratified. Send very soon to tell me whether my request can be granted. I write something to you and send it to you to day.

NUDAⁿ-AXA TO MISS JOCELYN.

December 3, 1879.

- Aⁿbačé usnⁿqti tēⁿdi indádaⁿ tiaⁿčəčəf uánajiⁿ égaⁿ, aⁿctidēqti-maⁿ
 To-day very cold when what you have sent I stand in it as, I am living very com-
 here to me fortably
- ádaⁿ wibəhahⁿ cučəčəfai, waⁿú-macē. Piⁿqti, kəčəha, údaⁿ ingaxai-gā.
 there-fore I thank you I send it to you O ye women. Anow, O friends, good do ye for me.
 fore (pl.)
- 3 Kəčəha, Wakanⁿda činké indádaⁿ údaⁿ kəčəčəfaiⁿ kē aⁿčisaⁿčəf, ádaⁿ
 O friends, God the st. what good towards the the we turned, there, fore one (ob.)
- wibəhahⁿ-naⁿ-maⁿ. Wəqə amá čəama wačitaⁿ kē wəjaⁿbe. Wakanⁿda
 I have been praying to you White the (pl. these do various the I have seen God regularly. people sub.) kinds of work them.
- akú naⁿbé čickaⁿwakičəf bəčəgaqti wəjaⁿbe, ádaⁿ čgimaⁿ kuⁿbəčəgaⁿ, the hand has caused them to move (rapidly) all I have seen there-fore I do that I hope,
 (sub.)
- 6 agína-naⁿ-maⁿ. Cinⁿgajinⁿga wiwíja wačit sbahaⁿ ádaⁿ cī é gáčinke
 I beg for my own usually. Child my to work knows it there-fore again it that (at ob.)
- uxaⁿadi uwibəhə cučəčə. Wénandeanⁿgičə-naⁿ, ádaⁿ é údaⁿ čskaⁿbəčəgaⁿ.
 apart I tell it to you I send it to you He causes me to feel full, usually, there-fore that good I think it may be.
 as after eating
- Gataⁿadi čgimaⁿ téitⁿ ebčəgaⁿ, ádaⁿ axidaxe čgaⁿ téitⁿ. Aⁿba águdi Just about this time I do that may I think it, there-fore I do it a little for my- many. Day where self
- 9 ctécté waqiⁿha tiaⁿčəkičé wikaⁿbə. Indádaⁿ ekáxe maⁿnⁿ-macē, soever paper you send hither to me I desire for you. What you do O ye who walk, among them I follow I walk.
 it

NOTE.

Miss Jocelyn represented some ladies at the East who had sent clothing for the destitute Ponkas, who were encamped near Decatur, Nebr.

TRANSLATION.

As I am attired to-day, during the very cold weather, in what you have sent to me, I am living very comfortably, therefore I send to you to thank you, O ye women! O friends, do good to me anew! Friends, we have turned towards Wakanda and what is good, therefore I have been thanking (or petitioning) you now and then. I have seen these white men do various kinds of work. Wakanda has caused them to move their hands (rapidly) in working: I have seen it all, therefore I hope to do likewise. I usually beg (of Wakanda) for my own (interests). My child knows how to work, so I send to tell you about him in addition to what I tell about myself. My child usually causes me, as it were, to feel full, as after eating (by what he does for me), therefore I think that what he does is good. I think that I may do likewise just about this time, therefore I may accomplish a little for myself (though I am getting old). I desire you to send me a letter on some day or other, whenever it may suit you. O you who lead industrious lives, I live among you following your example.

WAQPECA TO UNAJI^N-SKA.

December 26, 1879.

Negtha, fe iⁿqapē tē iⁿqēti-maⁿ. Can'ge ahigi wāni iⁿqēti-maⁿ.
 O uncle, word you have the I am very glad. Horse many you have them I am very glad.

Haⁿ gē iⁿqūgē aⁿqēsiⁿai. Cin'gajin'ga wiwā qā'ēwāqā'ē'qti etē qī, Night the (pl. throughout we think of Child my you have great pity on ought,
 in. ob.; you.

qā'ēwāqā'ē'qtiⁿ, qisqē-naⁿ ca'caⁿ. Cubē tā minke, negtha. Caⁿ 3 you have not pitied them at he thinks usq- always. I will go to you, O uncle. Well ataⁿ iⁿudaⁿ tē ētaⁿ uqē'qteī ēgaⁿ. Ninigahi gēba jaⁿ dāxe anājiⁿ how long good for me so long very soon so. Killikinnick ten night I make I stand tēinke. Caⁿ qian'ge ctēwaⁿ wajaⁿbe kaⁿbēa. Ūwāqāginā kaⁿbēgaⁿ.

 will. Well, your sister even I see them I wish. You tell it to them I hope.

Can'geajin'ga wēbēiⁿwiⁿ ēgaⁿ qingē. Wiqgaⁿ akā, Maⁿtcū-naⁿba egaⁿba 6 Colt I sell them as there are none. My grand- the Two Grizzly bears he too father (sub.).

cahī tā aka. Ē'di cupi tēinke. Cetaⁿ giniⁿqtiaⁿi. Qinā'aⁿ qī, qī'qētiaⁿ.
 will arrive there Then I will reach there So far he has not fully He hears if, he is very glad.
 where you are. where you are. recovered. from you

Can'ge, negtha, aⁿqin'ge. Can'ge wāqe ejaqti naⁿbā wābēiⁿ enāqteī.
 Horse, O uncle, I have none. Horse white their very two I have them them only.
 people own

Cin'gajin'ga enāqteī wāqēiⁿ, wāqitaⁿwākiqē-naⁿi. 9 Child they only they have them, they cause them to usually.
 work

TRANSLATION.

O mother's brother, I am delighted at the words which you sent me. I am very glad that you have many horses. We think of you throughout the nights. You ought to pity my children. You have not pitied them at all. They are constantly thinking of you. O mother's brother, I will go to you. When it shall be best for me to go, I shall go very quickly. I shall be here ten days making the killickinnick. I wish to see even your sisters. I hope that you will tell them. As I have sold the colts, there are none (here). My wife's father (Wackaⁿ maⁿ číⁿ) and two Grizzly bears will come to your land. And then I will come, too. My wife's father has not yet fully recovered. He is delighted to hear from you. O mother's brother, I have no horses. I have only two American horses, which are in the possession of my children, who generally use them when they work.

PAHAŅGA-MAⁿ ČÍⁿ TO SILAS WOOD.

January 12, 1880.

- Caⁿ níaciⁿ ga amá čéama waⁿ ígčitaⁿ amá čaná'aⁿ číte, čjá tč'ja
Well people the these they are working the you hear it perhaps, there per-
(pl. sub.) for themselves (pl. sub.) taining to
- údaⁿ qti íčápahaⁿ pí čaⁿ ja, iⁿ ju-máji. Čéčuádi tč' xíxaxai xí, gaⁿ čawáččé.
very good I knew it reached I though, I was unfor- In this place the they do for it, desirable.
there tunate. themselves
- 3 Caⁿ edádaⁿ ačíⁿ gčé ípahaⁿ pí xí, uqpaččéčé ékaⁿ bčá-máji. Waⁿ gíčé Well what they the (pl. I knew it far. when, to lose I did not wish for All have in. ob.) rived there him.
- iⁿ číⁿ gčé ékaⁿ bčá. Čé níaciⁿ ga amá e'aⁿ maⁿ číⁿ i xí, níⁿ ja gaⁿ čai to bring back I wish for This people the how they walk if, to live they wish here to me him (pl. sub.)
- čaⁿ ja, níaciⁿ ga naⁿ bába ačai. E'be učúahé kaⁿ bčá-máji. Údaⁿ qti though, people in two ways they go. Whom I follow him I do not wish. Very good
- 6 éskana wéigčáⁿ čkáxe kaⁿ bčégaⁿ čaⁿ ja, čagčé tatč'ja časíčáččé kaⁿ bčégaⁿ.
oh that decision you make it I hoped though, with reference to your future re- you think of it I hope.
turn here
- Caⁿ e'aⁿ číngé há.
Well what is there is the matter none

NOTES.

PahaŅga-maⁿ číⁿ is the brother of Silas Wood. He dictated this letter after returning from a visit to his brother, who was staying with the Ponkas near Niobrara, Nebr.

778, 3. Caⁿ edadaⁿ ačíⁿ gčé . . . Waⁿ gíčé iⁿ číⁿ gčé ékaⁿ bčá. The author mistook a direct address to himself for an address to Silas. In speaking to the latter the sentences should have been changed thus:

- Caⁿ edádaⁿ aniⁿ gčé íwidahaⁿ pí gčé uqpaččéčáččé wíkaⁿ bčá-máji. Waⁿ gíčé
Well what you have the I knew about I the you lose I do not wish for All (pl. in. you reached (pl. there in. ob.) you.
- wániⁿ (or, iⁿ čaniⁿ) čagčé wíkaⁿ bčá.
you have you have I wish for them for me come back you.

APPENDIX.

Of the notes and errata found in this Appendix all up to page 512 refer to Part I of this volume; the others pertain to Part II.

- 9, 4. For "aci^{he}" read "a^{ci}he."
- 9, 14. For "ciⁿ" read "ciⁿ."
- 10, 8. The ϕ in "eb ϕ egaⁿ" was inverted by mistake.
- 10, 11. For "ica-biamá" read "i ϕ a-biamá."
- 10, 16. For "ciñg^é" read "ciñg^é."
- 10, 18. For "naⁿaⁿxí ϕ a" read "náaⁿxí ϕ a."
- 11, 4. For "Giaⁿ ϕ a," a possessive, read "Giaⁿ ϕ a," a dative of aⁿ ϕ a.
- 11, notes, 1st sentence. Add "The Winter dwelt at a mountain in the far north."
- 20, 4. For "i^é," a form of ϕ i, you, read "i^é," side.
- 21, 14. For "iⁿepacaⁿ+" read "iⁿepa ϕ aⁿ+".
- 23, 8. Jackahi should be rendered "white oak tree."
- 23, 19. For "wí ϕ ijaⁿ" read "wí ϕ ijaⁿ," from ubijaⁿ.
- 25, 2. For "when ye see me" read "on account of what you have done."
- 27, 11, et passim. For "Waná ϕ eiⁿ" read "Wanaⁿ ϕ eiⁿ," and make a like change in every derivative. "Na" refers to fire, etc.; but "naⁿ" to action of the feet, etc.
- 27, 13. For "iⁿ ϕ iⁿ/waⁿji" read "iⁿ ϕ iⁿ/waⁿ ϕ ají."
- 28, 8. Render wase ϕ aⁿ by "quick" instead of "alive."
- 28, 14. For "Mañgelⁿ/i-gā" read "Mañgelⁿ/i-gā."
- 31, 19. For "made" read "kept."
- 32, 12. Render "Egihe" by "downward beneath the surface."
- 33, 15. In "aka-cnaⁿ" the "c" should be inverted.
- 36, 5. For "gacta ϕ ka" read "gacta ϕ kai."
- 38, title. The Omahas have a similar myth about the Raccoon (Mi ϕ a) and the Coyote (Mi ϕ asi).
- 40, 9. "G ϕ iza-bi" read "g ϕ iza-bi."
- 40, 14. The following may be substituted for the translation in the text: wácta ϕ ka deceiving
them
- akégaⁿ.
as he was.
- 43, 11. Change "É'di" to "É'di."
- 47, note on 43, 4. Change the second sentence so as to make it read thus: "The Kansa (Yegáha) uses -be or -bi, and the Osage (Ŧegáha), -de or -di, as a plural ending, where the Omaha and Ponka (Ŧegiha) employ -i."
- 54, 6. For "Ŧexe-ga ϕ u" read "Ŧexiga ϕ u."

782 THE ÇEĞIHA LANGUAGE—MYTHS, STORIES, AND LETTERS.

54, notes, second paragraph, first and second lines. In giving the Çoiwere equivalent of İctinike read "İcteiñ'ke."

63, 14; 493, 8, et passim. For "đéji" read "đéje."

66, between the myth of "Siçemaka" and the Turkey, and the note on 60, 3, insert the following: "See George Miller's version, p. 577."

73, note on 72, 4. Insert comma before "Come."

73, note on 72, 8. Change so as to read thus: "wena'uqtei (Çoiwere, winaq'axe), to go near, etc."

75, 8. For "miçá-ha wa-iñ'-biamá" read "miçá-ha wáíñ' in'-biamá."
raccoon skin robe wore a robe, they say.

75, 10. Though "Çi" was dictated, "Ki" is better, as the women had not seen the tails "again" (çl).

89, 16 and 20. For "nan'de" (wall of a tent, etc.) read "nân'de," heart.

98, 33. For "freezing over" read "forming."

118, 10. Read "Hm'dega^w" and "wágajil-gá."

118, 13 and 14. Render "aki-biama" by "reached there again, they say."

The verb admits of two renderings.

133, 16. For "içá'he" read "iç'a'he."

154, 6. For "atñ'" read "atē'."

158, 8. For "t'çéça-biamá" read "t'çéça-biamá."

157, 18. For "wagigçá-biama" read "wagi-agçá-biama."

170, 14. For "Ja'çéça" read "Ja'çéhá."

176, 17. For "Tüdi" read "Tüdiñ'."

177, 8. For "second" read "third."

181, 8, et passim. For "wat'a" read "wajañ," squash, pumpkin.

194, 20; 195, 6; 196, 2. For "ugidada" read "ugididañ," as the act was performed by pressure, not by thrusting.

227, 1. "çixábajil-qti" should be "without flaying at all" (from "çixabe") instead of "without chasing at all" (which would be "çiqá-bajil-qti," from "çiqē").

226, 14 and 15. "Wahuta'çí" . . . çejañga aka" should be placed in brackets, as it is a modern interpolation.

313, 6. For "a'wasá" read "a'wa'sá." See "iñçé-usa" in the Çegiha-English Dictionary.

338, 7. For "gíçá-bajil-biamá" read "gí'çá-bajil-biamá."

351, line next the bottom. For "Part II" read "the Çegiha-English Dictionary."

370, note on 369, 13. For "Pañ'ka çañ'ká" read "Pañ'ka çañká."

380, 10. For "Názandajil" read "Na'zandáñ," from na'zande.

402, 2. Caçewaçé. His other name was Jahe-jünga. He was the rival of the famous chief Black Bird.

402, 13. Gíañ'habi is better known as Nikuçibçá. He was a famous wakañ man or shaman.

402, 15-17. "Makañ . . . Jaçíñ-ma." Denied by Two Crows and Joseph La Flèche.

404, 2-7. This should be credited to Wabaskaha, instead of Caçewaçé, according to Two Crows and Joseph La Flèche.

410, 8. Read "Wa'ai."

- 410, 16. For "wáŋŋin" read "wáŋŋi."
440, 2. For "łéŋtci" read "łéŋtci." Similar changes in 446, 9 and 10.
448, 43. For "Zande-buŋa" as dictated, read "Zande" according to Two Crows and Joseph La Fleche.
470, 6, ano+. Used when kinship is asserted or understood. See ānā and an in the Čegŋha-English Dictionary.
512, 3. Kagé here is a proper name.
541, 2. For "Wajŋ'agahiga" read "Wajŋ'a-gahiga."
554, 9. et passim. For "ŋa'eti" read "ŋa'eti," when spoken by males.
570, 1. For "ŋa'íŋá" read "ŋa'íŋá."
570, 8. Read thus: "kē u'a'n'hai."
(
the put the frecl.
lig. ob. in.)
ob.)
588, 10. For "kide" read "kide."
593, 12. For "utaⁿ-biamá" (said of leggings) read "uŋaⁿ-biamá."
601, 15, and 602, 1. For "néx-gaŋŋ" read "néxigaŋŋ."
603, 8. For "ŋa'eti" (last word in the line) read "ŋa'eti."
616, 5. Change "(s.)" in two places to "(sing.)."
621, 3. Under "ŋé níná" read "was going, they say."
633, 4. There should be a hyphen after "Uŋaⁿbe."
644, 16. For "jaⁿmaⁿŋiⁿ" read "jaⁿmaⁿŋiⁿŋiⁿ."
653, 11. For "ŋaⁿxi" read "ŋaⁿŋi."
685, 3. For "iⁿŋiⁿkiŋá-gū" read "iⁿŋiⁿkiŋá-gū."
690, 6. For "Wáŋa-náŋin" read "Wáŋa-náŋin."
710, 5. For "tē'eti" read "tē' eti."
(
in
the past
too.)
730, 12. For "Agéŋta" read "Agéŋtaⁿ."

INDEX.

NOTE.—Om. Omaha. P. = Ponka.

Abbreviations	Page.	Page.
Aowage addressed	505	Beaver-woman	243, 253
Gahige to	496	Big Elk killed a male elk, but could not eat meat	465
Icteqabi to	495	the younger chief, led hunting party of Jide-tas to	506	Omahas	417
or Ienuga-najli. See Gahige-jinga, Ma-		to the Cincinnati Commercial	757
teu-jahga, and Ma-teu-waqihl.		See A*pa*-jahga (Om.).
Address to the young men	628	Big Snake arrested	749
Agaha-ma*qi* (Om.), good advice of	445	See W6s'a-jahga.
war chief	450	Big Turtle, dress of	256
(P.), known as Amahe-uqici.	361	his treatment of larger animals	271-273 went to demand his sister	362	his treatment of the Otter	275
the aged, a Ponka	501	how he talked to the Snake-man	287
Agiteitia, Ma-teu-naeba to	479	how he went on the war-path	254
See Wajia-gahiga (P.).		killed by Ictinike	62, 566
Agricultural implements desired by Ponkaas	632	pretended to fear water	275
Alphabet	4	song of	257
Amahe-uqici. See Agaha-ma*qi*.		Big Wolf, Big Turtle's treatment of	273
Animals, how they received names	62	Bird Chief	180
Antithesis	34, 72, 585	Birds requested to devour corn	138
Archaisms	47, 48, 184, 693, 703	Birkett, C. P., Uhang-jaw to	641
Awl, exploit of	274	Black bear, Big Turtle's treatment of	272
invited to war feast	250	Black bears, how the Rabbit killed the	15, 39
A*ba-hebe's account of flight with Ponkaas	400	Black Crow, Ponka chief, wounded	381
A*pa*-jahga (Om.), account of	3	Black man, claimed chief's daughter	115, 130
and others to Inspector J. H.		punished	116, 131
Hammond	738	Bones of old woman covered with a robe	285
texts obtained from	334, 345, 369,	Boy raised by ground-mice, song of	208
402, 405, 406, 409, 425, 462, 468		Brave Dakota and the coward	363
to Inspector J. H. Hammond	752	Buffalo and Grizzly bear	582
See Big Elk.		Coyote changed into a	106
(P.), addressed	484	created by magic	605
news of his death	509	Buffalo-bladder, fate of	272
Wajia-skä to Ma-teu-waqihl and	483	Buffalo-bull, Big Turtle's treatment of	271-273
A*pa*-jahga's brother killed by Dakotas	425	Buffalo-calf, restored to his parents	140
Badger's son, adventures of	294	Buffalo-calf, son of Waha*ciqige	138
eloped with chief's daughter	301	stolen by Ictinike	139
killed four women	302	Buffalo-calves, sons of Waha*ciqige	142
married woman warrior	301	Buffalo hearts and tongues, feast on	473
Bad men, overcome in contests with Hi*pe-agto	172, 173	Buffalo neck, man changed into a	216
slow brothers of Hi*pe-agto	172	Buffalo-woman and calf pursued	158
survivor of, changed into a dog	175	and Corn-woman	147
disguised as a woman	173	deceived by Ictinike	139
married chief's daughter	173	gave birth to twins	142
Battiste Barnaby, Ponka interpreter	485, 520, 642	her son by Waha*ciqige	138
Battiste Deroin. See Deroin, Battiste.		magic power of	138
Battiste, the Pawnee interpreter, Cange-skä to	704	See Waha*ciqige.
Baol, Omaha name for Peter G. Sarpy	417	Buffalo-woman, Aged, killed by her son-in-law	162
Beard-girl	287	tried to kill her son-in-law	161
killed	293	went into sweat lodge	160
killed her people	292	Buffaloes and Coyote	102
pursued her brothers	293	caused to kill one another	142
Beaver killed his son	557	killed a young chief	385
one of the Four Creators	556	went across the great water	142
restored his son to life	557	went to the upper world	142, 144
		Buzzard aided the Orphan	608

	Page.		Page.
Bussard, an Omaha wounded.....	431	Corn-crusher, adventure of.....	273
and Ictinike.....	74	Corn-woman, Buffalo-woman and.....	147
Ictinike disguised as the.....	237	Coyote and Buffalo.....	102
killed by Haxige.....	240, 251	and Gray fox.....	570
song of the.....	230, 245	and Puma.....	99
Caŋewaŋ killed by Pawnee Loups.....	404	and Snake.....	566, 568
leader of Omaha scouts.....	404	cheated Ictinike.....	566
Caŋe-skā, Wata'-naji' to.....	499	how he lost his tail.....	98
Ca-ku-ŋu-ŋa-ki-ta-we, Maŋpiya-ŋaga to.....	644, 665	married chief's daughter.....	102
Catamenia, origin of.....	21, 580	Crabs (sic) Raccoons and.....	310, 313
Ca'ta'-jiŋga to Ma'teu-waŋhi.....	484	Crawfish (rather than Crabs).....	312
to T. L. Gillingham.....	083	Crow aided Ictinike.....	78
See Kictawugu.....		aided the Orphan.....	068
Caŋge-hi'-zi exposed.....	704	Cude-gaze, Gahige to.....	786
to Wē'a-jaŋga.....	519	Nuda'-aza to.....	772
Caŋge-skā, account of.....	3	Pahaŋga-ma'eŋ to.....	779
myths obtained from.....	189, 294	to Louis Roy and Ma'teu-Poŋge.....	722
to Battiste, the Pawnee interpreter.....	704	to Wē'a-jaŋga.....	519
Ma'teu-waŋhi.....	502	Cude-gaze and Ma'teu-waŋhi, gahe-jap'e to.....	475
Qiea-skā.....	490	Cuxa-ma'eŋ died.....	496
Wiruŋra-niŋe.....	648	Cūŋiqowe, Ictaqabi to.....	718
Wiyakoi'.....	720	Customs, Sacred traditions and.....	468
Uhaŋge-ja' to.....	640	Dakota scared to death by ghost.....	362
Cañon made by magic.....	143	by hands of dead Pawnee.....	366
Ceki, Heqaga-sabē to.....	635	story.....	618
Hupeŋa to.....	523	Dak'tas attacked Omahas in 1855.....	462
Maŋpiya-ŋaga to.....	501	battle between Omahas and, in 1846.....	466
message to.....	498	defeated by Omahas and Otos.....	421
Chase, Hiraŋ, Uhaŋge-ja' to.....	638	fought by Omahas in 1847.....	418
Chiefs, Omaha.....	458	fought the Pawnees.....	409
desire to abandon.....	467	killed A'pa'-jaŋga's brother.....	425
hindered war party from starting.....	466	four Omahas.....	465
Chief's daughter claimed by the black man.....	115, 130	many Omahas.....	416
delivered from the water-monster.....	115, 128,	Red Shield.....	466
129, 130		three Omahas.....	431
married a man.....	354	two Omaha women.....	460
married the Coyote.....	102	two Omahas.....	451
married the Orphan.....	116, 131, 343	repulsed by Omahas.....	425
Chief's elder daughter married Ictinike.....	55, 605	stole all the Omaha horses.....	448
married the bad man.....	173	visited by Omahas.....	475, 479, 490, 494, 513
wished to marry Hi'ape-agŋe.....	175	Ponkas.....	518, 519, 522
son and Snake-woman.....	189	Omahas.....	505
and Thunders.....	176	wounded several Omahas.....	431
how taken back.....	367	Danco regulated by the Iŋke-sabē.....	474
younger daughter kind to Hi'ape-agŋe.....	174	Dead Pawnee, hands of.....	363
married Hi'ape-agŋe.....	175	Death of Cuxa-ma'eŋ mentioned.....	496
Chipmunk, Ictinike and.....	549	Edi a-i-naji'.....	511
song of.....	550	Heqaga-jiŋga.....	491
Cl-ŋe-ŋi-ta-we, Ki-wi-gu-ti-dja-ŋi-ci to.....	608	He-santa.....	503
Cincinnati Commercial, from several Omahas.....	755	Iquahabi.....	507
Big Elk.....	757	Logan Fontenelle.....	464
Duba-ma'eŋ.....	755	gahe-jap'e.....	496
Maxowaŋ.....	758	Wacuo.....	495
gaŋeŋ-na'paji'.....	758	Deaths of several Omahas in 1878.....	503, 691, 692
Two Crows.....	756, 758	several Ponkas in 1878.....	509
Civilization desired by Ponkas.....	632	Debts.....	656, 742
Ckape-yiŋe to Battiste Deroin.....	604	Deities above and below ground, invoked.....	234
Clother, G. W., Fred. Merrick to.....	741	Deroin, Battiste, Ckape-yiŋe to.....	664
Colt, Ictinike's hands tied to a.....	98	Lion to.....	710
Comb, adventures of.....	273	Ma'teu-na'ba to.....	667
Communal lodges.....	91	and Ke-xreŋe, Waŋiŋga-sabē to.....	705
See Tents.....		and the Oto chiefs, Lion to.....	663, 670
Conservative spirit among the Omahas.....	486	Ma'teu-na'ba to.....	672
Contractions.....	11, 24, 34, 54, 66, 73, 77, 101, 105, 114, 127, 184,	Dick, Betsy, asked for her pay as doctor.....	771
201, 224, 250, 269, 270, 284, 307, 315, 321, 328,		Heqaga-sabē and Janaga-naji' to.....	633
332, 370, 446, 458, 491, 496, 503, 506, 515, 518,		to Waŋiŋge-ŋeŋi.....	770
519, 603, 604, 648, 650, 661, 666, 675, 681, 694,		Dog, Hi'ape-agŋe changed into a.....	173
697, 709, 712, 713, 718, 719, 745.		stole meat from wedding feast.....	116, 130
Corn raised by Omahas.....	486, 490, 491, 616, 655, 701, 760	Dogs, wonderful.....	114, 137
raised by Ponkas.....	740	Dorion, Paris, killed by Pawnees.....	414

	Page.		Page.
Drum, magic	317, 600	Four days' preparation for marriage	188
Duba-ma'ei, account of	3	days' preparation for war	185
to Hqaga-sabé	676	days' trial of a sweat-lodge	253
Inspector J. H. Hammond	750	deer carried by giant	25
the Cincinnati Commercial	755	disasters threatened	243
Jande-nahyugo	492, 508	eagles killed on different days	66
Jennga-nikagahi	521	experiments of Crawfish	316
Ducks met by Haxige	239, 250, 251	fattest pieces of buffalo meat	474
See Wood-duck		friends of the suitor	338
Ci-qi-da-wi qeacu, Hupega to	686	gourd rattles used	474
Eagle aided the Orphan	608	grass figures	474
excelled by the Wren	581	grizzly bear cubs	46
shot by the Rabbit's son	66	invitations in song	310, 316
Eagles	25, 26	large animals rejected	272, 273
Eduans, Sika'-qega to	482	men sent as scouts	186
or Antoine Roy. See Roy, Antoine.		for Haxige	252
Eight buffalo bulls held down sweat-lodge	160	modes of killing the Big Turtle	276
Elk, carried a woman to subterranean abode	82	noises before release of Otter	276
Ictinike changed into an	69, 73	obstacles overcome	146, 292
Elliptical expressions	34, 54,	pairs of magic moccasins	285
61, (line 15), 77, 114, 137, 224, 307, 639		peaks	240, 242, 281
Esau, Edward, to Joseph Esau	723	places forbidden to twin brothers	218
Eyes closed during the magic crossing of cañon	146	prayers to stones	242
Eyes closed during the magic crossing of large body		pursuers of the Badger's son	301
of thorns	146	requests made by the Rabbit	22
Eyes closed during the magic crossing of stream	142, 145, 203	sacred bags to select from	183
while going through air to upper world	146	scouts	445
Fawn, lament of	358	sisters of Buffalo-woman	160
song of	358	sick man	157
Feast on buffalo hearts and tongues	473	sons born to Hqaga-age's parents	172
Fetish, bag used as a	404	sticks (sic) thrown by Ictinike	550 quill-feathers of a sparrow-hawk used as a	390	stones chosen by sweat-lodge	242
war-club used as a	404	thunder-birds seized by the Twin Brothers	218
Figures of speech	21, 14, 41,	thunder-men	187
61 (line 15), 262 (lines 1 and 15)		times Bear-girl chased children	292
See Antithetic.		buffalo-calf ran around Ictinike	139
Fire-brand, adventure of	272	buffaloes were attacked	354, 355
Fish. See Large fish and Red-tail fish.		buzzard danced	240
Five communal lodges	92	hostiles attacked chiefs	474
plumstones	617	magic drum beaten	55, 609
stages in growth of young Rabbit	47	man ate with Snake-woman	202, 203
Thunder-men	265	man went to spring	202
war-chiefs	460	Orphan attacked Dakotas	344
Flying-squirrel, one of the Four Creators	558	sacred bag waved	404
Fontenelle, Logan, death of	454	shot at grass figures	474
went to Washington	458	stones of sweat lodge were pushed	160
Forbidden places visited by Twin Brothers	217, 218	sweat-bath taken	242, 243
Forest made by magic	293	tree addressed	55, 607
Frog questioned by Snake-man	286	tree hit	218
Four adventures of warriors	186, 187	Two-faces came	215
attacks on water-monster	111, 128	Wahs'eigei overtook Buffalo-woman	128
attempts to surprise water-monsters	239	went to the field	138
bad women	302	went to Inke-sabé keeper	474
birds came to rescue the Orphan	607, 608	wild brother came to tame one	216
birds killed by the Orphan	605	trials of running against the Coyote	106
brothers	82, 224, 292	transformations of young man	286, 287
buffalo bulls	105	villages, people of, killed	168
buffaloes killed by each chief	93	visited	225
met by the Buffalo-calf	180	war chiefs	271, 398
sent to rescue the Buffalo-calf	139, 140	white buffalo cows in a row	142, 146
See White buffalo cow.		men came to Pawnees	342
calls by war-chief	404	wild animals killed by the Puma	308, 309
to animals	82	wives	225
to each guest	271	women sent by the Grizzly bear	95
canoes (magic)	225	wounded	273, 274
captains of police	722	Fourth day, old woman became visible	605
colors of smoke	302, 303	son the successful one	172
Creators	556	time fatal	55, 215, 292, 344, 355, 609
days elapse	186	snake became a woman	202 days in reaching the cave	187	successful	55, 106, 239, 562, 604, 607

	Page.		Page.
Gactagabi, Jabe-aká to	673	Harige, wounded the Water-monsters	239
See Maca'		Harige's brother restored to life	242, 243, 253
Gacndíka', Uha'-jígga to	478	Hauka	250
Gahige (Om.) to Acawage	496	See Harige
Cude-gaxe	766	Hay made	652
Qíka-aká and Jengga-nají'	489	Hayt, Indian Commissioner, referred to	520
Wiyakot'	657	Hobadi-ja' appealed to in song though absent	446
Gahige (P.) arrested	749	Heqaga-jígga died	491
Unají'-aká to	705	Heqaga-nají', He-wa'jígga to	517
Wanita-wage to	512	Heqaga-sabé, Duba-ma'qí' to	676
Gahige-jígga killed by a Dakota	409	Ictagabi to	662
led a hunting party of Omahas	417	to Ceki	635
Waga-nají', and Acawage, Jabe-aká to	505	Kucacá	635, 637
Gahige-wada'ígge, He-wa'jígga to	514	Dr. Potter	636
Games	101, 157	and others to an Omaha	639
Gé-ka'-nají', a chief	458	and Jajánga-nají' to Betay Dick	633
See Standing Hawk		Maca', and Mawata'na, Ictagabi to	690
Ghost, Dakota scared to death by a	363	Heqaka-mani and Icta-ja-ja', Ta'-wa'-gaxe-jígga to	687
how a young man acted the	622	and Tatanáka-íya'ñke, Ma'-ten-na'ba to	659, 669
See Dead Pawnee, and Chief's son		Icta-ja-ja', and Ma'-atceba, Homna to	742
song of a wolf	360	and Pie-waka'-inají', Jají'
sorice	359, 360, 362	na'pají to	713
Giant killed by a louse	577	Heron, John, Spafford Woodhull to	655
the Rabbit	25	He-wa'jígga to Gahige-wada'ígge	514
Gíahabi, a war-chief of the Omahas	494	to Heqaga-nají'	517
used his sacred bag and war club	494	See Jé-uxa'ha
or Níkuéibáa		He-who-drank-much-water	333, 334
Girl abducted by red bird	223, 224	He-who-tied-stones-to-his-ankles	333, 334
splinter changed into a	223, 224	He-xapa, a Ponka refugee	476
God, trust in, advised	488	or Scabby Horn
Grass-snake and Otter, searched for Big Turtle	275	Hill that devoured men	2, 32
detained by Harige	241, 253	Híqpe-agé, adventures of	163
Harige became a	239	See 151 and 155
Grass wisps used at a war feast	269	Homna to Heqaka-mani, Icta-ja-ja', and Ma'-atceba	742
Gray Fox, Coyote and	570	See Jé-je-baie
Gray Hat, or William Wolah. See Jengga-nají'		Horaea	475, 480, 486, 488, 490, 494, 497, 505, 514, 518, 519, 657, 660, 670, 688, 699, 703, 718, 730, 738, 740, 754, 771, 778
Gray Squirrel, adventures of	273, 274, 276	Hubáa' camp of Ponka	381
Green-haired Thunder-man	187	See Wai'-gude
woman	302	Hunting customs	478
Grizzly bear, Buffalo and	582	Huqéa, account of	2
girl changed into a	288	myth obtained from	70
killed by Ictinike	91	to A. B. Meacham	683, 734
the Rabbit's son	46	to Ceki	523
Rabbit and	43	to Ci-qi-da-wi' qacácu	686
Ground cleft by magic	293	to Inspector J. H. Hammond	727
Ground-mice, song of boy raised by the	298	Icibají, history of	384
Gun, magic. See Magic gun		killed a foe	391
Hair of four colors	187, 302	Icibají's fetish	390
Half-Omaha sided with Ponka	401	Ickadabi, a chief, joined Omaha war party	423
slain by his kinsman	461	a name of Louis Sanssouci	458
Hammond, Inspector J. H., A'-pa'-jígga and others to	738	the younger, a Ponka	501
Huqéa to	727	Ictagabi, Ma'-ten-na'ba to	725
Masí-kude to	728	to Acawage	495
Jají'-na'pají to	728, 751	Cúhíqowe	716
referred to	507	Heqaga-sabé	662
several Omahas to	750	Heqaga-sabé, Maca', and Mawata'na	690
See A'-pa'-jígga, Duba-ma'qí', Mawada'qí', Jají'-na'pají, Two Crows, and Jé-uxa'ha		Ma'-ten-wa'qíhi and Acawage	511
Hands of dead Pawnee	363	Icta-ja-ja'. See Heqaka-mani
Dakota scared to death by the	396	Ictama'-be, Jajige-gaxe to	673, 698
Haíga gens had the two sacred tents	468	Ictinike and the Buzzard	74
sacred pole	471, 472	Chipmunk	549
Haígaqenu, Louis Sanssouci to	691	Deserted Children	83
Hapax legomena	14, 41, 238, 496, 675	Elk	70
Harige, adventures of	227, 244	Four Creators	552
killed the Beaver-woman	243, 253	Rabbit	38
Buzzard	240, 251	Turtle	66, 563
made rivers	239	caused the fur on plums	562
rewarded the Wood-duck	251	cheated by the Coyote	566
transformations of	239, 242, 253	claimed the red bird	604

INDEX.

789

	Page.		Page.
Ictinike created fruits and vegetables	551	La Flèche, Joseph, how he lost his goods.....	415 deceived by a tree	68	myths and stories obtained from	15, 32, 116, two women	563	176, 219, 329, 358, 361, 362, 363, 367, 384, 393
identical with Ictinike of the polewre	54	spoken against	616 killed a child	562	to A. B. Meacham	677
by the Orphan	610	to his brother Frank	487
the Rabbit's son	54	Two Crows and others to	740
the Big Turtle	67, 566	Mary, account of	2
magic transformation of, into an elk	69	myths obtained from	107, 131
married the chief's elder daughter	55, 606	Susanne (Om.), account of	2
plotted against the Orphan	606	myth obtained from	65
Raccoons called	315, 316	Susanne (P.), Frank La Flèche to his song of	61	daughter	642
stole the Buffalo calf	133	Lake drained by pelicans	276
the Brothers and Sister	79	Orphan plunged into	606
Coyote and Colt	96	red bird dwelt beneath a	225
first who taught war customs	88	Large fish, man changed into a	286
Turkeys, Turtle, and Elk	60	Legends	317, 324, 334, 345, 355, 609, 613
Woman and Child	559	Letters. See Dakotas, Missouri, Omahas, Otos, Paw-took the form of the Buzzard	54, 237	nees, Ponkas, White people, and Yanktons.
used magic against the Orphan	607	Lion, account of	4
Rabbit's son	55	to Battiste Deroin	710
Igacude (same as the male Winter)	11	and the Oto chiefs	663, 670
Iyuhabi died	507	See Wanla-wage.
Indian Commissioner Hayt cited	520	Listener	333, 334
Industry of Omahas	477, 478, 479, 481, 486, 490, 491,	Long tent constructed for sham fight	473
494, 495, 498, 510, 522, 646, 655, 694, 701, 707, 780		Louse, giant killed by a	577
See Corn, Hay, Potatoes, Vegetables, Wheat.		objected to	157, 174, 606
Inheritance among Omahas	686	Maca, or Gaetagabi. See Ictagabi.
Invitations asked for	688	Mactinge, a Ponka, detected the Pawnees	362
to war feast	254, 256	Macti'-a'-aa to Na'a'abi	494
Inke-sabé gens kept sacred pipes	471	Jenuga-waji'	651
regulated the Hede-watci	(V) 474	Magic arrow	223
Jabe-aki to Gaetagabi	673	bow	114
Gahige-jinga, Waqa-naji', and Aca-		howl	138, 158, 159
wage	505	calling of the animals	82
Wah'-a'	476	canoes	225
Waqa-naji'	477	canon made by	146
Jide-ta' to Aca-wage	506	cap and sword	203
Jinga-nuda', Waqa-naji' to	500	clothing	47, 606
Jocelyn, Miss, Nuda'-aa to	778	club which cleft a bill	83
Ke-qrede, Mi'pa'-s'-junga to	774	could make thunder	183, 186
and Battiste Deroin, Wajijiga-sabé to	705	creation of the Rabbit's son	44
Kioke to Ma'ten-jajiga	478	cup	202
Kictawaga	423	dogs	114, 127
See Ca'ta'-jiga.		drum	57, 606
Kingfisher, one of the Four Creators	568	forest made by	293
Kipazo, a Dakota chief	430	formula used by Wah'-qioige	145, 146
ordered Ponkas to join Dakotas in fighting		ground cleft by	83, 293
Omahas	430	gun	114, 127
Kipazo's son killed Big Elk's brother	430	iron (rod ?)	353
and mutilated	429	morcasins	255, 606
Ki-wi-gu-ti-dja-qi-ci to Ci-qi-qi-ta-we	688	plume, which changed into its owner	159, 161
Kucaca, Heqaga sabé to	635, 637	worn by Hi'qpe-ages	172
Ma'ze-qa'ba, a war chief	450	power of Buffalo-woman	138
to Ma'ten-wajigi	475	Ictinike	607
See Two Crows.		Orphan	605, 606, 609
qe-baha to Wes'-a'-jahga	481	Rabbit	19, 20, 50, 108
La Flèche, Frank (Om.), account of	2	Sigemaka'	59
death of first wife of	488	Wah'-qioige	116, 130
first buffalo hunt of	466	ring	202
myths and stories obtained		song	211
from	9, 13, 22, 79, 96,	stones in sweat-lodge	157
102, 108, 310, 359, 360, 432, 466		sword	114, 128
(P.), Joseph La Flèche to	487	thorns made by	140, 293
mentioned as Mi'xa-aki	376	tree	218, 607
to his daughter Susanne	642	used against Orphan	607
Joseph, account of	1	Rabbit's son	55
a chief	458	See Transformation.
consulted about war party	460	Magicians. See Bad men.

	Page.		Page.
Maggie aided Ictinike.....	78	Meacham, A. B., Mawada'qis to.....	684
Man and Snake-man.....	277	Ta'wa'-gaxe-jinga to.....	717
killed Snake-man.....	287	Te-u'qa'ba to.....	682 married chief's daughter.....	354	Merrick, Fred., to G. W. Clother.....	741 over slain Dakotas.....	452	Messick, T. M., Na'zandaji to.....	768
performed by Omahas.....	452	Middle Chief, a Pawnee chief.....	414
Maqpiya-qaga to Caknu' qakitawo	644, 665	Missioni, letter sent by a.....	664
Ceki	501	Migabu, Ta'wa'-gaxe-jinga to.....	688
Ma'teu-naji	485, 497, 498	Mi'qa'-jinga to Ke'yrebo	774
and others to Wiruyra'-nihe	649	Mi'xa-ska (Om.) to Maza-napi	719
Martin, Waba'qelce changed into a.....	142	Mi'xa-ska (P.), gini-qibge and others to.....	480
Mato-maza , Ma'teu-na'ba to.....	714	or Frank La Fleche.....
Mawada'qis , account of.....	432	Modern interpolations.....	21, 120, 172, 579
how he went alone on the war path.....	99	Morgan Charles P., Omaha interpreter.....	503
myth obtained from.....	684	Mormons aided Omahas.....	417
to A. B. Meacham.....	751	attacked Omahas (dir Hig Kik: denied)....	456
to Inspector J. H. Hammond.....	431	See White people..... wounded by Dakotas.....	733	Muskrat one of the Four Creators.....	557
Mawda'qis 's half-brother killed.....	414	questioned by Snake-man.....	286
lost by fire.....	733	Ma'teu-qa'bae , ga'is-na'paji to.....	726, 732
Mawata'na 's half-brother to Mawada'qis	733	Myths.....	6, 13, 15, 20, 22, 25, 32, 35, 38, 43, 50, 57, 60, 70, 74, 79,
Ta'wa'-gaxe-jinga to.....	733	96, 99, 102, 107, 108, 110, 131, 140, 142, 147, 162, 176, 189, 207,
See Ictaqabi		219, 220, 244, 254, 277, 287, 294, 303, 310, 313, 329, 329, 356,
Maxawa'qis to the Cincinnati Commercial (in a joint letter).....	758	549, 552, 559, 563, 566, 568, 570, 571, 573, 577, 580, 82, 586
Maxawa'qis 's mother killed by Dakotas.....	422	Na'abi , Ma'tis'pasa to.....	394
Maza-napi , Mi'xa-ska (Om.) to.....	719	Namamana to Ma'teu-wajibi	477
Mazi-k-de (Om.) rushed into Ponka ranks.....	382	Name of Nuda'-axa changed.....	372, 373
to Inspector J. H. Hammond.....	728	Names , personal.....	1, 4, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 375, 377, 378,
Ma'tateba . See Heqaka-mani		379, 380, 381, 382, 388, 393, 400, 403, 405, 408, 415,
Ma'te-qabi to Louis Roy.....	739	417, 418, 422, 426, 427, 428, 431, 435, 436, 444, 445,
Ma'ten-da'qis to Wa'qio-qaci	766	446, 452, 454, 456, 470, 479, 482, 486, 499, 493, 496,
Ma'teu-i'e-gage , Cude-gaxe to Louis Roy and.....	732	497, 500, 501, 502, 505, 507, 512, 514, 518, 519, 633, or Padani-apapi , the Yankton chief.....	722	635, 637, 638, 641, 648, 649, 668, 671, 673, 691, 692,
Ma'teu-naji , Maqpiya-qaga to.....	485, 497, 498	698, 700, 706, 718, 719, 723, 728, 743, 764, 771
Ponkas arrested with.....	729	See titles to texts, 368, et passim
Uhang-jas to.....	638	Na'paca , Mary, Le-mi'-wa'u to.....	690
See Standing Bear		Na'ba-wata , origin of name.....	381
Ma'teu-na'ba , account of.....	2	Na'zandaji to James O'Kane.....	744
a chief.....	458	T. M. Messick.....	768
myth obtained from.....	74	Na'ka-bega , Omaha, rushed into Ponka ranks.....	382 to Agiteia	479	Nikuqibga' . See Gia'chabi
Battiste Deroin	667	Ni'daha , ga'is-na'paji to.....	516, 695, 724
and the Oto chiefs.....	672	Nuda'-axa , account of.....	3
Heqaka-mani and Tata'ka-i'pauke	659, 669	myths and stories obtained from.....	25, 35, 38, 43,
Ictaqabi	725	50, 83, 147, 277, 287, 317, 324, 368, 372, 377
Mato-maza	714	to Cude-gaxe	772
Panyi-naqpaol	689	Miss Jocelyn.....	776
Pawnee Joe	652	Rev. A. L. Riggs.....	763
Unaji'-ska	747	Nuda'-axa 's father's war party.....	368
Wes'a'-janga	479	first war party.....	372
Wiyakoi	650, 696, 701, 721, 730	name changed.....	372-373
Ma'ten-si-janga , Te-u'qa'ba to.....	507	Offerings to sacred pole.....	473
Ma'ten-janga , Kleke to.....	478	O'Kane, James, Na'zandaji to.....	744
Wajiba-gahiga (Om.) to.....	504	Old woman gave magic moccasins.....	285
See Aawage and Ma'teu-wajibi		ordered man to kill her.....	285
Ma'teu-wajibi , Ca'ta'-jinga to.....	484	Omaha, adventures of.....	361
Ca'uge-ska to.....	502	captured by Pawnees.....	375
qaxe-qa'ba to.....	475	chiefs named.....	458
Namamana to.....	477	custodians of inheritances.....	688
ga'ho-jap'is to Cude-gaxe and.....	475	dismembered by mistake.....	424
went with his father against Omahas.....	430	historical texts.....	384-467
and Aawage addressed.....	505	horses recovered from Dakotas.....	450
or Qit'-ska	511	stolen by Dakotas.....	448
and Aawage , Ictaqabi to.....	483	killed an Omaha woman (Le-saba-wi'-i).....	291
Ma'ngiqis to ga'ho-jap'is	495	by Pawnees.....	375
Meacham, A. B., Hu'paga to.....	683, 734	women killed by Dakotas.....	480
Joseph La Fleche to.....	677	Omahas aided by Dakotas.....	398
		Mormons.....	417
		Otos	421
		and Dakotas, battle between in 1446.....	408

791

	Page		Page
Omahas and Dakotas, battle between in 1847.....	418	Pawnees mentioned (modern interpolation).....	418
1840-50.....	435	repulsed Ponkas.....	371, 372
1855.....	463	return of a captive.....	412
and Ponkas, first battle be-.....	399	See Pawnee Loups, Pitahawirata, Witahawirata, second battle between.....	406	Republican Ponkas, Towel, Zhikha akkipis, attacked by white people (not Mormons).....	436	Ponka pipe sent by Ponkas to Omaha.....	401, 402 complained of.....	481	Ponkas, four. See Four peaks.....
conservative spirit among.....	400, 401	Pelicans ordered to drain a lake.....	376
defeated Pawnee Loups.....	402	Pellene's pouches sewed by Swains.....	376
Pawnees.....	396	Pentle, adventure of.....	374
insulted by Pawnees.....	397	Phallic origin of fur on plums.....	631
killed by Dakotas.....	408, 400, 431, 431, 466	vegetation.....	631
seven Yanktons.....	457	walnuts.....	638
letters dictated by.....	475, 477, 485, 487, 489, 492,	Pitahawirata, or Witahawirata. See gaéi-maha
494, 502, 504, 506, 508, 510, 512, 516, 516, 521, 523,		Plum, man changed into his.....	159, 161
643, 614, 647, 652, 655, 657, 659, 661, 663, 665, 667-		used by Hi-tup-agen.....	173, 173, 173
670, 672, 673, 676, 677, 682, 691, 693, 695, 696, 698,		Plumstone game instituted by Ukabli.....	617
700, 701, 704, 705, 710, 713, 717, 719-721, 723, 730,		Plural used instead of singular.....	663
732-734, 737, 738, 740, 741, 744, 748, 747, 750, 755,		Ponkas historical texts.....	366, 372, 377
760, 768, 770, 773, 775, 777-779.....		Ponkas asked for stock, etc.....	632
letters sent to.....	516, 633, 635, 637,	deaths among, in 1878.....	632
639, 640, 651, 690, 695, 724, 725, 740, 773, 778, 779		defeated Pawnees.....	632
opposed to transfer to War Department.....	681	desired civilization.....	632
progressive spirit among.....	197, 695, 699, 712, 753, 751	first battle between Omahas and.....	398
several, to Inspector J. H. Hammond.....	735	letters dictated by.....	476, 477, 605
the Cincinnati Commercial.....	738	500, 514, 517, 518, 519, 620, 639, 635, 636, 637, sickness and deaths among.....	603, 509, 648, 650,	638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 673, 690, 705, 707, 722,
657, 660, 691, 692, 693, 696, 670, 677.....		730, 742, 746, 763, 765, 768, 769, 772, 776, visited Pawnees.....	704	sent to.....	470, 523, 603, 638, 642, 662, 673, Ponkas.....	511	670, 690, 705, 707, 729, 725, 729, 737, 745, 747, warned by friendly white men.....	451	750, 765, 766, 767, 769, 776, 773, 776, 777, 779,
wish to have no more chiefs.....	497	potatoes raised by.....	370
wounded by Dakotas.....	431	repul..... Pawnees.....	343
Ordeal: Wah-geige to identify his wife and son.....	140, 142	second ac- tie between Omahas and.....	405
Ordeal of march of war party.....	280	who were arrested in 1878.....	780
Orphan, adventures of.....	580	and Yanktons attacked gaéi-maha and.....
See 56, and Wah-geige.....		Pitahawirata.....	381
aided by Buzzard, Crow, Eagle, and Magpie.....	608	Potatoes raised by Omahas.....	400, 616, 653, 701, 720
a Pawnee legend.....	334	Ponkas.....	370
displeased by Pawnees.....	341	Potter, Dr., Heqaga sahé to.....	636
killed Itotinko.....	609	Primeau, John, John Springer to.....	727 made head chief of Pawnees.....	343	to Rev. A. L. Riggs.....	636
married chief's daughter.....	342	Property given away at death of kindred.....	630 magic power of the.....	605, 606	Pte-wak-sa-injip. See Heqaga-mani.....
used against the.....	607	Pull-the bow, a great archer.....	333, 334
shot the red bird.....	604	Puma adopted as a son.....	303
Old drenched by mistake.....	424	and Coyote.....	99
Olds aided Omahas.....	424	Big Turtle's treatment of.....	272
letters sent to.....	648, 649, 683, 684, 687, 670, 672,	gaéi-maha and Pitahawirata attacked.....	381
673, 698, 699, 700, 706, 710, 716, 728, 732, 774		or Pawnee Loups.....
Older and Grass-snake searched for Big Turtle.....	776	gaéi-ma-paij , account of.....	2
Older enticed Haxiga's brother.....	338	a lieutenant of a war party.....	48
Oxen desired.....	652	in the Mandan dance, gave a horse.....	482
Pahadga ma-ne to Cude-good.....	779	led a war party.....	449
Silba Wax.....	778	made presents to his guests.....	784
Pany-nagpapi, Ma-teu-na-ba to.....	680	myths and stories obtained from.....	57, 60, 142,
Perry, William, Louis Sansonnet to.....	715	207, 227, 303, 313, 328, 413.....
Pawnee agent, gaéi-ma-paij to the.....	685	prepared a war feast.....	449
hands of the dead.....	363	recovered stolen horses.....	450, 451
Joe, Ma-teu-na-ba to.....	682	to Heqaga-mani, Ieta-jasja, and Pte- wak-sa-injip.....	713 killed by Wauce-wede.....	371	Inspector J. H. Hammond.....	728, 751
legend.....	334	Ma-teu-na-ba.....	728, 732
Loup defeated by Omahas.....	402	Nidjaha.....	516, 698, 734
or gaéi-maha		the Cincinnati Commercial.....	784
Pawnees defeated by Omahas.....	396	the Pawnee agent.....	655
Ponkas.....	377	lanjaga saji	510, 516, 522
sought by Dakotas.....	409	wounded by Dakotas.....	431
letters by Quo-ma-ne.....	371	gahe-aggi , Mangleto.....
644, 652, 665, 668, 680, 704, 723

	Page.		Page.
gabe-nap's died	496	Rush, Richard, to Unaji's-akā	736
to Cude-gaxe and Ma'ten-wa'qhi	475	Sacred bag lent to gajē's na'pañi	449
Qiea-akā	490	used against the Pawnee Loupa	404
gode-gahi to Sūha Wood	773	pipea	474
gizi-ēinge to Mi'xa-akā, Qugahunaji's, and Qiea-akā	480	kept by Inke-sabē gens	471
Qiea-akā, Cūge-akā to	490	pole anointed	474
gabe-nap's to	480	kept by Ha'ga gens	471
gizi-ēinge to Mi'xa-akā, Qugahunaji's and	480	offerings to the	473
or Ma'ten-wa'qhi		tent of Weji'ete gens	468
and gunga-naji's, Gahige to	489	tents of Ha'ga gens	471, 472
Qu'e-ma'e' killed many Pawnees	371	traditions and customs	468
Qugahunaji's. See Qiea-akā		Sanssouci, Louis, called Iekadabi, interpreter	458
Rabbit and Black bears	15, 20	to Ha'gacenu	691
Giant	22, 573	William Parry	715
Grizzly bear	43	traded among the Indians	417
Ictinike	38	Sarpy, Peter G., a French trader among the Omaha	417, 452, 460
Sun	13	See Bajai
Turkeys	577	Scabby Horn dying	470
Winter	9	or He-xapa
blown into the air by a giant	23	Scouts sent out from Weji'ete sacred tent	473
how he cured his wound	35	Seven, as a mystic number	397, 408, 414
killed the hill	31, 33	Seven gentes	651, 722
lost his fat	571	grass lodges	93
went to the sun	25	heads, deities with	250
known as Si'emaka's	570	water-monster with	115, 128
made warriors out of his own feces	15, 17	scouts	464
magic power of the	19, 29, 56	Sham fight	474
restored to life	19	long tent constructed for the	473
slain by the Black bears	19	Si'emaka's and the Turkeys	65
Waha'ēige's adventure as a	107	song of	66
See Orphan and Si'emaka's		Si'emaka's adventures as a deer	57
Rabbit's son and Ictinike	50	See Orphan and Rabbit
birth of	44	Siqa-gega to Eduana	482
clothing of	47	Singular instead of plural	672, 716, 718
slaw Grizzly bear	46	Sinte-saxas, a lieutenant of a war party	458
Raccoon, song of	310, 316	Sixth buffalo calf the one to be chosen	161
why he is so fat	572	Sky, belief as to the	29
Raccoons and Crawfish ("Crabs")	310, 313	Small-pox alarm	732
called Ictinike	315, 316	among Omahas	491
Race between aged Buffalo woman and her son-in-law	161	Smoke, different colors of	302, 303
Bad men and Hi'upe-age	173	Snako. See Coyote
He who ties stones to his ankles and a woman	334	Snakes made a strong wind	326
Red bird abducted a girl	223, 224	met by warriors	324
claimed by Ictinike	604	warriors changed into	317
dwelt beneath a lake	225	Snake-man killed	287
gave magic canoes to his brother-in-law	225	man and the	277
really a man	223	Snake woman, chief's son and the	189
shot by the Orphan	604	killed	206
the Brothers and Sister	219	Song about Hebadja's	446
Red-breasted turtle	271, 273, 286	U'bisā	380
Red-haired Thunder-man	187	magic	213
woman	302	of Big Turtle	257
Red Shield killed by Dakotas	466	boy raised by ground-wice	208
Red-tail fish	286	Buzzard	240, 251
Reed, Mr.	431	Chipmunk	550
Republican Pawnees attacked by Omahas and Dakotas	308	Crawfish	312
Republican Pawnees stole horses from Wabaskaba	397	Fawn	358
Same as Zizika aki'etis' and Zizika akia		Ictinike	61
Resurrection of slain warriors by power of their leader	186	Raccoon	310, 316
Riggs, Rev. A. L., John Primeau to	746	Si'emaka's	66
Nuda'axa to	763	Ukiabi	611
je-je-bare to	762	Waha'ēige	140
Rocky Mountain sheep's head fatal to the Winter	12	wolf ghost	360
Roy, Antoine. See Eduana		Splinter changed into a girl	223, 224
Roy, Louis, Ma'e-gahi to	739	Spotted Tail, inquiry about	650
and Ma'ten-pe-age, Cude-gaxe to	732	visited by Omahas	475, 479, 490, 494, 654
		Springer, John, to John Primeau	737
		Standing Hawk	417
		or Gēda's-naji's

Page.	Page.
Stories..... 350, 360, 361, 362, 363, 367, 368, 372, 377, 384, 393, 399, 402, 405, 406, 406, 415, 418, 425, 432, 434, 452, 462, 466, 468, 618, 634	Jaaha-na-jie addressed..... 516 Jaah-na-paji to..... 510, 515, 522 See Heqaga-sab.
Snickers..... 628	Jaaga-gaxe to Ieta-ma'bo..... 673, 698
Suitor and his friends..... 329	Je-je-bate to Rev. A. L. Riggs..... 702
Sun and Moon..... 328	Unaji'-aka..... 709
Swans ordered to sew up pouches of pelicans..... 276	Wajiga-da..... 705
Sweet lodge, preliminary invocations..... 169, 233, 234	See Houma.
Tataaka-tyahke. See Heqaga-mani.	Je-mi'-wa'u to Mary Napeca..... 690
Ta'-wa'-gaxe-jiga to A. B. Moucham..... 717	Jenuga-naji', to his friend, Gray Hat..... 629
Heqaga-mani and Ieta-ja'ja'..... 687	or Acawage. See Qiga-aka.
Mawata'na..... 733	Jenuga-nikagahi, Duba-ma'qie to..... 531
Ma'gabu..... 688	or Jande-nahyaga.
Teowi, nearly exterminated (Jde Big Elk)..... 415	Jenuga-waji', Maeti'-wa'u to..... 651
not exterminated (Jde Joseph La Fleche and Two Crows)..... 413	to Waji'-aka, an Oto..... 700
Tents of skin, occupied by married men..... 91	Je-da-neqaga, account of..... 3
See Communal lodges.	myth obtained from..... 140
Thorns made by magic..... 145, 293	Je-sa'-poke in behalf of Omahas (Jde Big Elk)..... 3
Thunder made by whirling a club..... 183, 188	Je-uxa'ha, account of..... 3
Thunder-birds found..... 218	myth obtained from..... 254
Thunder-man, gift of a, to chief's son..... 185	to A. B. Moucham..... 682 with white hair tells a myth..... 188	Inspector J. H. Hammond..... 781
See Green-haired, Red-haired, Yellow-haired.	Ma'ten-si-jaga..... 597
Thunder-men driven from this earth..... 206	Unaji'-aka and He-wajiga..... 775
who devoured human beings..... 204	Jexuja', a friend of Ielbaji..... 392
Thunders, Chief's son and..... 176	Ubiaka, a head chief of Ponkas..... 375
Toad, man changed into a..... 286	song about..... 390
Traditions. See Sacred traditions.	Uga'thi, messenger from the Wa'-quide..... 383
Transformation of a man into a buffalo neck..... 216	Uqel-naji', Two Crows' elder brother, killed..... 431
large fish..... 286	Uha'-jiga (Om.) to Gaediqua..... 478
red bird..... 223	(P.)..... 514
red-tail fish..... 286	Uha'-na'ba'acted as Omaha head chief..... 458
toad..... 286	killed by Pawnees..... 377
an eddy..... 297	Uha'-jaga wounded by Dakotas..... 427
his plume..... 150, 161	Uha'ge-ja' to Cange aka..... 640
splinter into a girl..... 229, 234	C. P. Birkett..... 641
Ilipqe-agto into a dog..... 173	Hiram Chano..... 638
Ictinike into an elk..... 69	Ma'ten-naji'..... 638
the Coyote into a buffalo..... 106	See Waa'-jaga.
Waha'qeligo into a martin..... 142	Ukiabi killed his son..... 612
warriors into snakes..... 323	Ukiabi, legend of..... 609
Transformations of Haxige..... 230, 242, 243	magic power of..... 612, 617
Ukiabi..... 612, 617	plumstone game instituted by..... 617
See magic.	song of..... 611
Tree, magic..... 218, 607	the author..... 613
Turkeys, Ictinike and the..... 60	Unahu, a prehistoric hero. See Ielbaji.
Rabbit and the..... 577	Unaji'-aka, Ma'ten-na'ba to..... 747
Sidemaka' and the..... 65	Richard Rush to..... 725
Turtle, big. See Big Turtle.	to Gahige (P.)..... 705
red-breasted. See Red-breasted Turtle.	to Waa'-jaga..... 707
Twin Brothers. See Two-faces.	Je-je-bate to..... 709
Two Crows, account of..... 3	Je-uxa'ha to..... 775
and others to Joseph La Fleche..... 740	Wa'paca to..... 729, 745, 765, 767, 777
followed Gahige-jiga..... 417	Underground people, youth and the..... 345
myths and stories obtained from 415, 418, 428, 452	Upper world, buffaloes fled to..... 145, 148
or gaxe-qa'ba..... 750	Vegetables raised by Omahas..... 486, 491, 494, 510, 535, 796
to Inspector J. H. Hammond..... 756, 758	Vegetation, erection of..... 559, 551
the Winnebago agent..... 647	Visiting discouraged..... 703, 729, 732
Two Crows' elder brother, Uqel-naji', killed..... 431	Visiting referred to..... 475-483, 688, 717, 719
grandfather killed by Pawnees..... 399	Wabakaha insulted by a Pawnee..... 397
Two-faces and the Twin Brothers..... 297	organized a war party..... 398
the sight of whom killed a woman..... 215	story of..... 393
Jande-nahyaga, Duba-ma'qie to..... 492, 508	went to recover his horses..... 397
or Jenuga-nikagahi.	Waenue died..... 495
Jaqi-gikidabi, a giant..... 22	Waenue-sede killed a Pawnee..... 371
Ja-saba-wi', Omaha woman, captured by Pawnees..... 377	Wa'iqe-xel, Betsy Dick to..... 770
(?), an Omaha woman, killed by Inde- sede, an Omaha..... 381	Ma'ten-da'qie to..... 766
	Waha'qeligo and the Buffalo woman..... 131, 140, 142
	Wakandagi..... 108, 116
	song of..... 140

	Page.		Page.
Wahaciciga's adventure as a rabbit.....	107	Wes's-jaŋga killed.....	773
See Orphan, Rabbit, and Siemaka'.		yo-haha to.....	461
Wahe'a', Jabe-akā to.....	476	Ma'tcu-na'ba to.....	470
message about.....	506	Unaji'-akā to.....	707
Wai'-jude camp of Ponkas.....	381	Same as Big Snake and Uhaŋge-ja'.
See Hubaa'.		Wheat burnt.....	498, 499, 500, 659, 675
Wai'-qude, rather Wai'-qude.		raised by Omahas.....	477, 479, 481,
Waji'a-gahiga (Om.) to Ma'ten-jaŋga.....	504	491, 493, 522, 646, 651, 653, 701, 707, 760
(P.) addressed.....	476	Whip. See Wegaaspi.
Wanackiŋabi to.....	491	White buffalo cows, four in a row.....	142, 146
or Agitika.		dog claimed by a water-deity.....	357
Wajinga-sabē to Battiste Dorin and Ke-greē.....	705	dogs, four claimed by a water-deity.....	358
Waji'-akā (Om.) to Ma'ten-waŋibi and A'pa'-jaŋga.....		haired Thunder-man.....	187
(P.).....	483	woman.....	302
(Oto), Jenuŋa-waji' to.....	700	Howard, Indian agent.....	647
W-kide-jiŋga, a member of Two Crowa' war party.....	461	horse.....	353
W-nance-jiŋga, a war chief.....	458	Horse. See Caŋge-akā.
wounded.....	448	mule.....	353
Wanackiŋabi to Waji'a-gahiga (P.).....	491	people attacked Omahas.....	406
Wanita-waŋe to Gahige (P.).....	512	letters sent to.....	639, 636, 638, 641, 643, 647, or Lion.		656, 677, 682, 683, 684, 685, 693, 715, 717, 727, 728,
Wanukige, a chief.....	458	734, 738, 741, 744, 746, 750, 755, 762, 763, 768, 770
wounded.....	431	Wind made by snakes.....	336
Waqa-naji', Jabe-akā to.....	477, 505	Winnebagoes stole Omaha horses.....	491, 497, 647, 660, 670
Waŋeŋe to Cahieŋa.....	643	very objectionable to Omahas.....	509, 701
Mr. Provost.....	656, 661	Winter, female, still exists.....	11
Tataŋka-mani.....	739, 745, 765, 767, 777	male, a cannibal.....	12
Unaji'-akā.....	450	killed.....	12
War chiefs, Agaha-na'ŋe and gaŋi'-na'paji'.....	450	made a blizzard.....	12
Waxe-na'ba and Wanace-jiŋga.....	473	Wiruŋra'-niŋe, Caŋge-akā to.....	648
customs.....	449	Maŋpiya-qaga and others to.....	640
feast given by gaŋi'-na'paji'.....	269	Witahawitana, part of Pawnees.....	413
grass wiŋpa used at.....	254-256	or Pitahawitana.
invitations to.....	480	Wiyakol', Caŋge-akā to.....	720
party detained by chiefs.....	404	Gahige to.....	657
of Catewaŋe.....	423	Ma'tcu-na'ba to.....	650, 696, 701, 721, 730
Ickadabi.....	376	Wolf, big. See Big Wolf.
Nuda'-axa.....	371	Wolf ghost, song of the.....	360
Nuda'-axa's father.....	449	Woman carried underground by an elk.....	82
gaŋi'-na'paji'.....	400	See Green-haired, Red-haired, White-haired,
Two Crowa.....	398	Yellow-haired.
Wabaskaha.....	269	Women wounded by Awi, Comb, Corn-crusher, and	273, 274
order of march of.....	277	Pestle.....	773
return of.....	460	Wood, Silas, Pabaŋga-ma'ŋe to.....	773
under five leaders.....	328	gede-gabi to.....	251
Warriors and three Snakes.....	322	Wood-duck rewarded by Haxige.....	655
changed into snakes.....	446	Woodhull, Spafford, to John Heron.....	581
exorted by distant kindred.....	446	Wren, chief of birds.....	355
when absent appended to in song.....	471	Yankton legend.....	624
War tent.....	500	story.....	381
Wata'-naji' to Caga-akā.....	275	Yanktons aided Ponkas.....	714
Jinga-nuda'.....	355	displeased with Omahas.....	490
Water, Big Turtle pretended to fear the.....	238	invited Omahas to visit them.....	650, 656, 657, 659, 661, 669, 687, 688,
Water-deity and child.....	241	690, 696, 701, 713, 714, 719, 730, 721, 722, 730, 733, 742
Water-monster, Haxige's brother taken to den of.....	239	Omahas killed seven.....	457
Water-monsters killed by Haxige.....	375	visited by Omahas.....	404
wounded by Haxige.....	426	visited Omahas.....	749
Wegaaspi, Ponka head chief.....	471	Yellow-haired Thunder-man.....	187
scolded Dakotas though addressing.....	473	woman.....	302
Ponkas.....	749	Yellow Horse. See Caŋge-hi'-ai.
or Whip.....	519	Young chief killed by buffaloes.....	280, 283
Wejicete gens had the war tent.....	473	Young man changed himself into a red-tail fish, etc.....	628
sacred tent resorted to.....	749	Young men, address to.....	315
Welsh, William, or Gray Hat. See Jenuŋa-naji'.	519	Youth and the underground people.....	397
Wes's-jaŋga arrested.....	519	Zisika-akiŋi' or Zisika-akiŋi'.....	See Republican Paw-
Caŋge-hi'-ai to.....			nees.
Cude-gaxe to.....

